The Generall Preface to the Chriſtian Reader.

THe end of teaching is to cauſe others to learn; and to learn, is to know things to be be, what they are. Now, of things to be known, words are notes or marks, leading the minde to the comprehenſion of the things. It cannot be then but a great hinderance to the underſtanding of things, when words which betoken and ſignifie things are not underſtood, and a great furtherance when they be underſtood. Wherefore as it is neceſſary in Grammar Schooles, that children which learn French, Latine, or Greek, have their Dictionaries and Lexicons allowed them, to interpret ſuch hard and ſtrange words, by knowledge whereof things to be learned become more eaſie; and their labours which have compoſed ſuch Books, are much to be commended: So I have wondred, that of ſo many worthy, learned, and godly Divines, which are as willing for their love to the good of the Church, as able for their ſufficiency of gifts, not one, no not one (that I know) have attempted to provide our Chriſtian Scholar ſuch a Chriſtian Dictionary of words, as contain the ſecrets of our heavenly profeſſion and Art. Many have framed and ſet forth Primers and A. B. Cs. for beginners; I mean Catechiſmes, to enter them into the knowledge of God; but not any (as yet) have ſet to their hands, to interpret in our Mother-tongue (in Alphabet order) the chief words of our Science, which being very hard and darkſome, ſound in the ears of our weak Scholars as Latine or Greek words, as indeed many of them are derived from theſe Languages; and this I have eſteemed as no ſmall let to hinder the profiting in knowledge of holy Scriptures amongſt the vulgar; becauſe when in their reading or hearing Scriptures, they meet with ſuch principall words as carry with them the marrow and pith of our holy Religion, they ſtick at them, as at an unknown language. Matthias Flaccius Illyricus (whom I did not look upon, nor upon Enchiridion Marlorati, untill I had welnigh done this work) hath worthily performed this in Latine, by whoſe help it is eaſie for a Divine to do ſome ſuch work in Engliſh: I, the unmeeteſt and unworthieſt of all my Brethren, not one of a thouſand, but the meaneſt of ten thouſand, have attempted this enterpriſe, and performed a poor ſomething, ſufficient onely, to give the more learned ſome occaſion to do ſome more exact thing in this kinde. Therefore for their better encouragement thus to do (beſides the breach of the Ice unto them) I have briefly ſet down before them the great and manifold profits that would ariſe out of ſuch a work, being ſubſtantially done. Firſt of all, thy ſelf being a Miniſter of the Word, it will bring thee this fruit, that thou ſhalt teach with more facility, having ready and at hand, the true and right definition of things. Secondly, the diſtinguiſhing of words of divers acceptions, lying alwayes by thee, will eaſe thee of ſome labour in ſearching, when thou art enforced by occaſion of the Text, to interpret ſuch words. Thirdly, the people committed to thy charge, being by means of ſuch a Book, well acquainted with the chief words which contain any Doctrine, thou ſhalt not need in the courſe of thy Teaching, to be alwayes troubled with the opening of ſuch words; but preſuming upon their knowledge, mayſt the more inſiſt and dwell in the preſſing and urging the doctrine and practiſe of the things ſo well underſtood before. Now as touching the hearers, their growth and proceeding in Chriſtianity, will be greater and more ſpeedy, by the help of ſuch a Dictionary; which having given light unto them, to know the principall words of their Art, the matter of Doctrine contained in theſe words, and raiſed out of them, will be ſooner perceived, and take better impreſſion. Again, the right diſtinguiſhing of things, the one from the other, when the nature and due bounds of every word is declared, would prove ſome preſervative againſt errors and hereſie, which commonly ariſe upon the ignorance of things, while they are ſhuffled confuſedly together, one thing being taken for another; or ſomething being taken to be that it is not. I could ſhew this in ſundry particulars, one in ſtead of all: [Juſtification] this word not rightly underſtood, what errors hath it bred? whileſt ſome take it to be the making of our ſelves juſt, by infuſion of grace in the hearts of the elect. Others, to be nothing elſe but a making of our actions to become juſt and holy; whereas it is an abſolution of a ſinner from his guiltineſſe, and pronouncing him righteous before God, when he beleeves in his Son Chriſt Jeſus. Laſtly, it will provoke Chriſtians more willingly to read Scriptures, when they have at hand a Dictionary, to declare and expound ſuch words as they underſtand not. For, as men adventure to crack that Nut, whoſe kernell by cracking is to be obtained; ſo the Chriſtian is much moved to read, when he hath as it were a Cracker to get him the kernell; that is, a Dictionary to give him the ſenſe of the words which he reads. To conclude, it may prevent ſcruples, which may ariſe in ſome conſcience, through ignorance of words, and their true and fit meanings.

Now a few advertiſements will be requiſite to be added about this my ſimple endevour. Firſt, my care was to put in no words but ſuch as were material, and of ſome moment and uſe. Secondly, if either I have left out ſome materiall words, or not given all the ſignifications of thoſe whereof I have made choyce, or given more then they have, or not ſet down the ſignifications for order, ſo preciſely as ſhould be; let theſe faults (if any ſuch be) be pardoned by thee, till they be ſupplyed by ſome more ſufficient: for whom (as I have ſaid) I do herein but break the Ice. Yet hereof I would have them take knowledge, that ſuch ſignifications as I give, I find them in the Word, but if any word have other or more, it is more then I finde. Thirdly, I would have none to think that my meaning were to give an exact definition of every thing (let him be thought very wiſe and happy that can do this) but ſome true and familiar explanation or deſcription of words to make things that be obſcure, to become ſomewhat plainer to the ignorant. Fourthly, theſe explanations which I do give, may differ in tearms from ſuch explanations, as ye ſhall finde in other mens writings of the ſame words. But I verily truſt, that you ſhall find for the moſt part, an agreement in ſubſtance of truth. Moreover, in citing Scriptures, I have ſometimes noted ſuch places wherein the word which I do interpret is onely named; ſometime the place where the interpretation is found with the word, and ſome places which only have the interpretation, and not the word. I cite few places, becauſe a light given to a word in one place, will clear other places, where that word is uſed in the ſame ſenſe; which the adviſed Reader ſhall diſcern by the circumſtance of the place. Beſides, I have put ſome Eccleſiaſticall words, which be not found in Scripture, in ſo many ſyllables, yet are there for the matter, as [Trinity] and [Sacrament] &c. Again, ſometime ye ſhall finde the word, and ſometime the thing, and ſometime both opened. Finally, my requeſt is, that no Miniſter do by this Book hinder his owne ſearching, it being intended to be a mean rather to whet his diligence to ſearch more narrowly: nor any hearer uſe it to contention, but to edification; not for matter of idle diſpute, but for needfull direction. And if I be longer in the explication of ſome words, then the nature of a Dictionary will bear, or do open ſome words, which (to ſome) may ſeem needleſſe: impute it either unto the weightineſſe of the things, which being dark and important, need opening; or unto the dulneſſe of common capacities, which ſee little in Divine matters; or if ye will, to want of dexterity in my ſelf, who have been but of late acquainted with this Trade. Thus intreating thee (Courteous Reader) to have conſideration of my weakneſſe, and of the newneſſe and ſtrangeneſſe of the work, favourably to pardon wants, which in ſuch a Foreſt of words and things, cannot but be many, I commend thee unto the merciſull goodneſſe and protection of the Almighty.

Thine to do thee good,

Tho. Wilſon.

CHRISTIAN READERS,

SO needfull is the knowledge of God, ſo abſolutely conducing unto mans wel-being, as whereby alone true happineſſe is to be attained, and without which, unſpeakable miſery. The former is implyed in that of our Saviour, This is life eternall that they might know thee the onely true God, and Jeſus Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent. The latter, in that of the Apoſtle, The Lord Jeſus ſhall be revealed from heaven with his mighty Angels in flaming fire, taking vengeance on them that know not God. Both, in that of the Lord by Jeremiah, Let not the wiſe man glory in his wiſdome, neither let the mighty man glory in his might, let not the rich man glory in his riches; but let him that gloryeth, glory in this, that he underſtandeth and knoweth me. Hence it is, that as the Lord doth frequently in Scripture upbraid his people for the want hereof, (as by Iſaiah, The Oxe knoweth his Owner, and the Aſſe his Maſters crib, but Iſrael doth not know, my people doth not conſider; by Jeremiah, My people is fooliſh, they have not known me, they are ſottiſh children, and they have none underſtanding; by Hoſea, My people are deſtroyed for lack of knowledge) ſo he doth as well by his Servants the Prophets and Apoſtles exhort hereunto (ſtore of ſuch Exhortations might be produced) as propound the means whereby to obtain the ſame. Thoſe are ordinarily and eſpecially theſe two; the Book of Gods Works, and the Book of Gods Word; or, the Book of the Creatures, and the Book of the Scriptures; on either of which this Leſſon may be read, and by both profitably learn'd.

That the knowledge of God is needfull. Job. 17. 3. 2 Theſſ. 1. 7, 8. Jer. 9. 23, 24. Iſa 1. 3. Jer. 4. 22. Hoſ. 4. 6. See Deut. 4. 39. & 7. 9. 1 Chr. 1 Chr. 28. 9. Col. 1. 10. The means whereby to attain unto the knowledge of God.

The former is a very large Volume, or rather containeth πολλὰ βιβλία, many Volumes, a whole Library; (which may not unfitly be tearmed Ψυχῆς ἰατρεῖον, * the Medicinary, or Phyſick-ſhop of the minde, which was the inſcription of Simandius, or Oſymandius his Library) Books of all ſorts, the print of their ſeverall leaves being ſo great, that it may be ſeen afar off, and even he that runneth may read therein. Oh! what profitable Leſſons may be learned by the conſideration of Angels, Devils, Men? What by the Heavens, Earth, Waters, Fire, Air? What by Froſt, Snow, Heat, Drough, Moyſture, Night, Day? What by Wind, Rain, Seed-time, Harveſt, Summer, Winter? What by the Sun, Moon, Stars, Fowls, Fiſhes, Beaſts, Creeping things, Graſſe, Corn, Trees, Hearbs, Seeds, Stones, Metals, &c.? Do not ſome of them teach us Humility? Others, Patience, Obedience, Diligence, Sobriety, Love, Thankfulneſſe, &c.? Do not all of them point out unto us the glorious Majeſty of God; his Power, Wiſdome, Goodneſſe, Providence, and other attributes? May not ſomething of God be ſeen in the very meaneſt Creature? Much may, yea ſo much, as to leave the greateſt part of the world without excuſe; but the All of all, that one thing which is neceſſary, the ſaving knowledge of God in Chriſt, is not either taught, or to be learned herein.

1. The Book of the Creatures. *Purch. Pilgr. lib. 6. cap. 1. p. 737. Preſentemque refert qualibet herba Deum.

The latter, divided into the Old and New Teſtament (whereof each admitteth ſeverall ſub-diviſions) though in ſhow of a very ſmall bulk, yet not only teacheth what the former teacheth, and to make a profitable uſe thereof, but plainly (yet briefly) whatſoever is neceſſary to ſalvation. Oh the ſweetneſſe hereof! oh how precious! The Law of thy mouth (ſaith David) is better unto me then thouſands of gold and ſilver. And again, How ſweet are thy words unto my taſte! yea, ſweeter then honey to my mouth. More to be deſired are they then gold, yea then much fine gold; ſweeter alſo then hony, and the hony-combe. What's affirmed of

2. The Book of Gods Word. See Zanch. de Sac. Scrip. Quæſt. 1. Pſal. 119. 72, 103. Pſal. 19. 10.

Prov. 3. 14, 15. of Wiſdome, may be fitly applyed hereunto. The merchandiſe of it, is better then the merchandiſe of ſilver, and the gain thereof, then fine gold. It is more precious then Rubies, and all the things thou canſt deſire are not to be compared unto it.

Arguments commending Gods Word.

What Arguments might not be alledged in commendation hereof?

1. Antiquity. Zanch. de Sac. Script. Quæſt. 4.

Is Antiquity of force? It was for the ſubſtance thereof, from the beginning of the world, firſt inſpired and revealed to Adam, and many other Fathers, and then unto Moſes the firſt Pen-man thereof, who wrote what was before ἀγεγραμμένον. Whatſoever Orpheus, Homer, Solon, Pythagoras, Plato, and other Grecians, Philoſophers, Poets, Hiſtorians, have left in record concerning God, and Divine things, they took all out of the Books of Moſes, yet not without adding and interlacing their own inventions.

2 Authority. Idem Quæſt. 3. 1 Tim. 3. 16. 2 Pet. 1. 21. Pſal. 19. 7. Iſa. 30. 2. Luk. 11. 49. Valer. lib. 1. c. 3. Plutar. in Lycurg. Eraſm. Adag.

Is Authority? It's not onely in reſpect of it ſelf ἀξιόπιστον, deſerving all credit and reſpect, but for that God is the immediate Author, θεόπνευστον. All Scripture (ſaith the Apoſtle Paul) is given by inſpiration of God; for the propheſie came not in old time (or at any time) by the will of man, (ſaith the Apoſtle Peter) but holy men of God ſpake as they were moved by the holy Ghoſt. Hence it is tearmed his law, his mouth, his wiſdome. If the Heathen Cretians, Romanes, Lacedemonians, accepted, received, obeyed the Laws propoſed unto them, as injoyned by Jupiter, the Nymph Ægeria, Apollo, as was pretended; If Pythagoras his Scholars did ſo highly reſpect and admire him, that his αὐτὸς ἔφα, he hath ſaid it, was unto them as a Law; And if the followers of Ariſtotle, Galen, Paracelſus, &c. readily yeeld unto their Opinions, Dictates, Concluſions, Determinations; in what eſteem ſhould the holy Scriptures be with Chriſtians? Again, Thus ſaith the Lord, This is the Word of the Lord; Thus and thus is it written by Moſes, David, Solomon, the Prophets, Evangeliſts, Apoſtles, there muſt be no contradiction.

3. Neceſſity. Pſal. 119. 92. Prov. 29. 18. Iſa. 8. 20. Joh. 5. 39. Jude v. 3. Joſh. 1. 8. 2 Chron. 15. 3. Amos 8. 11.

Is Neceſſity? Unleſſe thy Law had been my delights (ſaith David) I ſhould then have periſhed in mine affliction. Where there is no Viſion (is there any other now?) the people periſh, ſaith Solomon. To the Law, and to the Teſtimony, ſaith Iſaiah. Search the Scriptures, ſaith our Saviour. It was needfull for me (ſaith the Apoſtle Jude) to write unto you, and exhort you, that ye ſhould earneſtly contend for the Faith, which was once delivered to the Saints. The Book of the Law (ſaid the Lord unto Joſhua) ſhall not depart out of thy mouth, but thou ſhalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayſt obſerve to do according to all that is written therein. That was a ſad time, wherein for a long ſeaſon Iſrael was without the true God, and without a teaching Prieſt, and without Law. Oh what a famine, the famine of the Word is!

4. Perfection. Pſal. 19. 7. Rev. 22. 18. Prov. 30. 6.

Is Perfection? The Law of the Lord is perfect, from which, as there is nothing to be taken away, ſo thereunto is nothing to be added. Herein there is no error, falſhood, imperfection, contradiction. Herein nothing that needs to be repealed, becauſe of ſome inconvenience, unneceſſarineſſe; or added, by reaſon of any defect. It teacheth not ſome things onely, but all things neceſſary to be known of God, or our ſelves, for faith or obedience unto ſalvation. Is any delighted with Hiſtory, Poetry, Propheſies, Parables? Any with Arithmetick, Muſick, Logick, Rhetorick? Any with Aſtronomy, Aſtrology, Chronology, Geography? Any with Natural or Moral Philoſophy? with matters of Peace or War, &c. Here's matter for each of them, even the greateſt Scholars, how excellently ſoever qualified for learning, may here find enough (haply in one word, or ſhort ſentence) wherein to exerciſe themſelves, and the utmoſt that is in them.

5. Purity. Gen. 4. 1. & 17. 11. & 45. 4. 1 Sam. 24. 3. Pſal. 50. 1. title.

Is Purity? As the Scripture requireth that neither filthineſſe, nor fooliſh talking, nor jeſting, which are not convenient, ſhould be once named amongſt us; ſo there's neither word nor phraſe therein which juſtly can offend any chaſte ear. Let theſe few inſtances be as ſo many witneſſes. And Adam knew his Wife. Ye ſhall circumciſe the fleſh of your foreskin. Thou wenteſt up to thy Fathers bed, then defiledſt thou it. Saul went in to cover his feet. After he had gone in to Bathſheba.

Let

Let the Husband render unto the Wife due benevolence, and likewise also the Wife unto the Husband. 1 Cor. 7. 3.

Is Certainty, Infallibility, Faithfulneſſe, Truth? Such are the holy Scriptures, ſuch the Word of the Lord, moſt certain, infallible, faithfull, true. The judgements of the Lord are true, ſaith the Pſalmiſt. And, Thy Word is true from the beginning: Thy Word is truth, ſaith our Saviour. The Word of truth, ſaith the Apoſtle. The Scripture muſt be fulfilled. God is not a man that he ſhould lie, neither the Son of man, that he ſhould repent: hath he ſaid, and ſhall he not do it? or hath he ſpoken, and ſhall he not make it good? Heaven and earth ſhall paſſe away, but my words ſhall not paſſe away, ſaith our Saviour. As all the promiſes of God, are in Chriſt Jeſus, yea, and in him, Amen; ſo are alſo his threatnings. As he is faithfull that promiſed, ſo is he alſo having threatned. Both have been, are daily, and ſhall be accompliſhed, according to the Scriptures. 6. Infallibility. Pſal. 19. 9. Pſal. 119. 160. Joh 17. 17. 2 Tim. 2. 15. Mar. 14. 49. Numb. 23. 19. Mat. 24. 35. 2 Cor. 1. 20. Heb. 10. 23.

Is Perſpicuity? The commandement of the Lord is pure, enlightening the eyes, ſaith David. And in the foregoing verſ. The teſtimony of the Lord is ſure, making wiſe the ſimple. And, Thy Word is a lamp unto my feet, and a light unto my path. And, The entrance of thy words giveth light, it giveth underſtanding unto the ſimple. Accordingly Solomon, The commandement is a lamp, and the Law is light, and reproofs of inſtruction are the way of life. Accordingly the Apoſtle Peter, We have a more ſure word of propheſie, whereunto ye do well that ye take heed, as unto a light that ſhineth in a dark place. 7. Perſpicuity. Pſal. 19. 8, 7. Pſal. 119. 108, 130. Prov. 6. 23.

Is efficacy? On whom doth it not work; either for life, as unto the Receivers; or for death, as unto the Rejecters thereof? Doth it not convert the unregenerate, reſtore the regenerate? Do not the plagues, judgements, terrors, wrath, &c. therein mentioned, ſerve to humble thoſe, as the promiſes, comforts, rewards, to refreſh theſe? Not the greateſt Swearer, Drunkard, Adulterer; not the oldeſt Oppreſſor, Extortioner, Perſecuter; not the fierceſt Lyon, proudeſt Peacock, ſubtleſt Fox; not the moſt covetous, licentious, rebellious, injurious, malicious, envious, ambitious, ſuperſtitious, idolatrous, &c. whoſe hard hearts this hammer cannot ſoften, whoſe corruptions this axe cannot pare away. Not the moſt dejected, whom it cannot raiſe up; the moſt ſorrowfull, whom it cannot comfort; the moſt doubtfull, whom it cannot confirm; the moſt weary and laden with ſin, whom it cannot eaſe by ſending them to Chriſt. 8. Efficacy. Pſa. 19. 7. mar.

Is Utility? This containeth the form of ſound words. Is profitable for Doctrine, for Reproof, for Correction, for Inſtruction in righteouſneſſe; that the man of God may be perfect, throughly furniſhed unto all good works. The holy Scriptures are able to make wiſe unto ſalvation, through faith which is in Chriſt Jeſus. Whatſoever things were written afore time, were written for our learning, that we through patience and comfort of the Scriptures, might have hope. Theſe things are written (ſaith the beloved Diſciple) that ye might beleeve that Jeſus is the Chriſt, the Son of God, and that beleeving ye might have life through his name. By this we are regenerated. Of his owne will begat he us, with the Word of Truth. Being born again not of corruptible ſeed, but of incorruptible, by the Word of God which liveth and abideth for ever. By it we are delivered from the bondage of ſin. If ye continue in my word (ſaith our Saviour) ye ſhall know the truth, and the truth ſhall make you free. This maketh happy. Bleſſed is the man that meditateth in the Law of the Lord day and night. This is a word of illumination. A word of reconciliation. A word of life. The inſtrument begetting faith; for faith cometh by hearing, and hearing by the Word of God. A word of ſalvation; for the Goſpel of Chriſt is the power of God unto ſalvation, to every one that beleeveth. Receive with meekneſſe (ſaith the Apoſtle James) the ingraffed Word, which is able to ſave your ſouls. This containeth in it (ſaith one) florem delibatum, the flower and very quinteſſence of ſoul-ſaving wiſdome; that we may ſay of it as the Philoſopher ſometime ſpake concerning the knowledge of the ſoul of man; A ſmall and dim knowledge of it, is to be valued far above a greater meaſure of cleerer inſight in any other ſcience. For the inſpired Scripture is the infallible rule of faith, the unmovable 9. ble ground of hope, the perfect guide of life, the souls storehouse of provision, the spirituall Arsenall of munition, the sacred fuel of devotion, the divine subject of contemplation, the everlasting spring of celestiall consolation. All that's there taught is Truth; All that's there commanded, is Goodnesse; All that's there promised, is Happinesse. This is to the blind, a light; to them that wander, a guide; to them that are in distresse, a comfort; to them that doubt, a counsellour; to the unlearned, a Teacher. This is the only seed whereby we are begotten, the only balme whereby we are refreshed. As the Sun to the world, so is the Word to the Church, the light of our lives, and life of our souls. But for this, we could not but continue in our unregenerate condition, lie under the power of darknesse, be dead in trespasses and sins, live without Christ, being aliens from the Common-wealth of Israel, and strangers from the covenant of promise, having no hope, and without God in the world. This is bread to feed us, drink to quench our thirst, fire to purge us, oyl to soften us, a staffe to uphold us, a treasure to enrich us, a lanthorn to direct us, a guide to conduct us, a weapon to defend us, salt to season us, flaggons of wine and apples to comfort us, a key to direct us to Christ, and a rule according to which we are to walk, the treasury of all happinesse; meat for men, milk for babes. By it there is no error in judgement, which may not be confuted; no corruption in life, which may not be redressed; whereby as all sound Doctrine may be proved, and good Duties warranted, all of us are directed in the performance of the same.

See Eph. 2. 1, 12.

10. Gods providence in continuing and preserving the Scriptures in their purity.

Finally, the All-seeing, ever watchfull, and most gracious providence of God, in the preservation and continuance of the holy Scriptures, in their original integrity and purity, notwithstanding all opposition to the contrary, is no small ground for their commendation. It's well known that the Old Testament was first (for the most part) written in Hebrew, as the New Testament in Greek: And that the Jews on the one part, and not a few of the most learned Grecians on the other, were bitter enemies both unto Christians and Christianity; yet hath it not been found, that either phrase, word, letter, or so much as one point, hath been by them depraved, corrupted. Even yet we have the same Authentick Scriptures, as they were at first inspired by the Holy Ghost. And being the fountains, it must needs be granted of them, that * their waters when drunk at the spring-head, are both sweeter and purer, then when conveyed unto us through the channel of Translations. But most having been, being still ignorant of the Hebrew and Greek, and knowing no other language but their Mother-tongue, Gods goodnesse is even herein conspicuous, that the Scriptures have been and are by the learned daily translated into all languages, Latine, Dutch, French, Spanish, Italian, Welsh, English, &c. that all may make use of them, none pretend ignorance any more, as else they might.

In Job there are some Arabick terms; In Ezra certain Epistles in Syriack; some of Daniel's Visions in Chaldee, as one verse is in Jeremiah, chap. 10. v. 11. Broughton.

The adversaries of the Holy Scriptures both now and heretofore.

It may seem strange (and so it's indeed) that the Holy Scriptures (being of such Antiquity, Authority, Necessity, Perfection, Purity, Infallibility, Perspicuity, efficacy, Utility) should notwithstanding meet with Adversaries. They have met with such, daily do, and those not a few of all sorts, as may thus appear.

1. The Libertines. See Polan. Synt. lib. 1. cap. 32. where he confuteth the Anti-Scripturists.

1. The Frantick and giddy-brain'd Libertines (who tearm themselves Spirituall) denying the Scriptures to be Divine or Authentick (which in contempt they call, The written letter) fly unto the private Revelation of the Spirit, whereon (say they) they are to rest, as being all taught of God.

2. The old Anabaptists.

2. The old Anabaptists acknowledged the Books of the New Testament to be necessary, but upon frivolous grounds, rejected the Books of the Old Testament.

3. The Manicheans, with others.

3. The Manicheans, Marcionites, and some others, rejected the Books of Moses, (as one Ptolemeus also did) and likewise the Prophets.

4. The Sadduces.

4. The Sadduces acknowledged the Books of Moses for Divine, but rejected all the other Prophets (and therefore our Saviour to prove the Resurrection rection of the dead, alledged againſt them onely the words of Moſes) whom Theodorus Biſhop of Mopſueſta denyed to have ever propheſied of Chriſt.

5. The Jewiſh Rabbines (for the moſt part) reject the Book of Job, as if there had never been any ſuch man. 5. The Jewiſh Rabbins.

6. The Nicolaitans and Gnoſticks rejected Davids Pſalms, as humane, or rather profane Songs, not writ by any Divine inſtinct; And Paulus Samoſatenus took ſuch of them as concerned Chriſt out of the Church, as if they had been newly invented. 6. The Nicolaitans and Gnoſticks.

7. Some rejected the Book of Eccleſiaſtes, for that Solomon ſeemed to have made it in his old age, when he was corrupted by the love of women, and placed true happineſſe in bodily pleaſures, thereby making way for the Philoſophy of Epicurus and Ariſtippus. 7. Such as rejected the Book of Eccleſiaſtes.

8. Certain Hereticks rejected the Song of Songs as profane, and not written by the Spirit of God, but through the inſtinct of Cupid, and that nothing elſe is contained therein, but love-ſpeeches of Solomon the King, and the Daughter of Pharaoh his Wife, and that therefore in that whole Book the name of God is not to be found. 8. Such as rejected the Song of Songs.

9. The Propheſie of Daniel is rejected by Porphyrius, as not written by Daniel, but one in Judea, in the time of Antiochus Epiphanes. And that it doth not ſo much foretell what was to come, as relate what was paſt. 9. Such as rejected the propheſie of Dan.

10. There were that rejected all the New Teſtament, as being a ſpirituall doctrine, onely to be written in the heart; and that for being written, it is a killing letter. Others rejected onely the Epiſtle to the Hebrews, the Epiſtle of James, the ſecond of Peter, the ſecond and third of John, with that of Jude, and the Revelation. Some rejected onely ſome parcels thereof, as the laſt chap. of Mark, the Hiſtory of Chriſts weeping over Jeruſalem, Luk. 19. and of his ſweating Agony, and the Apparition of the Angell comforting him, Luk. 22. and the Hiſtory of the Woman taken in adultery, Joh. 8. and the ſeventh verſe of 1 Joh. 5. 10. Such as rejected all the New Teſtam. or onely the Epiſt. to the Hebr. the Epiſt. of James, &c.

11. All Hereticks maintain Opinions contrary to the Scriptures, which yet they pretend to be agreeable thereunto, and goe about to prove thereby. 11. Hereticks of all ſorts.

12. There are who pretend, That the underſtanding or interpreting the Word of God, or knowing of his will, is not imputable to the uſe of ordinary means, (ſuch are the aſſiſtance of Gods Spirit, joyned with the uſe of learning, ſtudy, meditation, rationall inferences, collation of places, conſulting of the Originall languages, and ancient Copies, and Expoſitions of the Fathers of the Church, analogie of received doctrine, together with unbyaſſed affections, and ſincere deſire of finding out the truth; and conſtant prayer for Gods bleſſing on, and co-operation with theſe and the like means) referring the ſame either to the extraordinary gift of the Spirit in propheſying, preaching, or expounding; or to illumination, not propheticall, or ſimply extraordinary, but ſuch as is thought to be promiſed to a new life, the work of the Spirit of God in the heart of every Saint of his, which conſequently ſuperſedes the uſe of all externall Ordinances to ſuch, even of the Word of God it ſelf, contained in the Canon of the Scripture. The Scriptures which they produce in favour of this, are either out of the Old, or out of the New Teſtament. Out of the Old, Pſal. 25. 9, 12, 14. & 111. 10. & 119. 18. Prov. 2. 7. & 3. 32. & 28. 5. Iſa. 35. 8. Ezek. 11. 19. Hag. 2. 5. Joel 2. 28. Out of the New, Joh. 6. 45. & 7. 17. & 8. 31, 32, 43. 1 Cor. 12. 7. Gal. 3. 14. Eph. 1. 17. 1 Joh. 2. 20. & 3. 24. All which are anſwered by Dr. Hammond. 12. Such as are againſt the ordinary means, &c. Dr. Hammond in his Poſtſcri. concerning New light, or Divine illumination.

13. There are, who though they can read, and have the Bible in their houſes, yet ſeldome or never read therein, either in private, or for the edification of their families, but ſpill much precious time upon vile Pamphlets, curious 13. Such as ſeldome or never read the Scriptures.

Dr. Featly's Advertif. to the Reader before Newm. Conc.

curious Arts, profane Stories, lascivious Poems, &c. Whereas they should sequester (if God were in all their thoughts) all their spare time from the necessary duties of their Calling, to the reading, hearing, and meditating upon the Word, which through the Spirit of grace will inlighten their understanding with the knowledge of God, inflame their affections with the love of God, establish their hearts with the promises of God, moderate their joyes with the fear of God, mitigate their affliction with the comforts of God, and regulate all their thoughts, words, and deeds, with the precepts of God.

14. The Papists. Which is proved 1. By their Tenents.

14. The Pontificians or Papists, above all others, do most manifest their enmity hereunto. They teach, That it was not meet all mysteries should be written in Scripture, lest every ordinary person should come to the knowledge of them, and because of the commonnesse of them, contemn them. That the Vulgar Latine is to be preferred before, at least equalled with the Hebrew and Greek. That it is not meet and expedient, that the Bible should be translated into the known languages of the common people. That the holy Scriptures, though truly and Catholickly translated, may not be indifferently read of all men, no not of any other then such as have expresse licence thereunto. That the holy Scripture, even where it seems most plain, is yet so hard and obscure, that it stands in need of a set Interpreter, who may open unto us the meaning of it. That it's an heresie for any to affirm, that the Scriptures should be translated into Vulgar languages. That it's the invention of the Devil, that the people should be permitted to read the Bible. That that curiosity of reading the Scriptures, is not only not necessary for people, but destructive, whereby rather Babylon then Jerusalem is built up: And the reading of the Bible makes rather Heretical Lutherans, then Romane Catholicks. That the Book of Tobit, Judith, the Wisdome of Solomon, Ecclesiasticus, the two Books of the Maccabees, the seven Chapters annexed to Esther, the Stories of Bel and the Dragon, of Susanna, and the Song of the three Children, with the Epistle of Baruch joyned to Jeremiah, are canonicall, and of as firm authority as any part of the Scripture. That though the Scriptures are in themselves perfect, sufficient, authenticall, yet (because they appear not so to us) we are not bound to take them for Scripture, without the authority of the Church; so that in respect of us, the Church hath absolute authority to determine which is Scripture, which n t. That the Scriptures are so hard, doubtfull, and uncertain, that like a leaden rule, or nose of wax, they may be turned every way. That the Scriptures may have divers senses and meanings in the same place; namely, the Literall, Allegoricall, Tropological, and Anagogical. That the sense of the Scriptures must be learned of the Fathers and Pastors of the Church: If the Fathers agree not, the matter must be referred to a General Councel, and if there it be not determined, recourse must be had to the Pope and his Cardinals. That the Scriptures containe not all things necessary to be known concerning faith and manners, not all things necessary to salvation, nor are sufficient without Traditions; yea, that their approved Traditions are of equall authority with the Scriptures. That all Traditions agreed in Councel, and judged Apostolical (by Traditions, they understand Doctrine, Precept, and Ceremonies, with other Usages of the Church, which are not written in the Scriptures) and whatsoever the Church of Rome receiveth as Apostolical, are not to be doubted to be Apostolical indeed: And, that all Apostolical Traditions are of equall authority with the writings of the Apostles: And, are that part of the Word of God which is unwritten, as well as the Scriptures are the part which is written. Baronius proceedeth yet further, and is not ashamed to prefer Tradition before Scripture; saying, Consider of what force and authority Tradition is, seeing that the New Testament is authorized by it: And, the ground or foundation of Scripture is Tradition; and herein doth excell it, because Scripture cannot stand without Tradition; but Tradition can stand without Scripture. Answerable unto their Doctrines are their Practises, nor is their enmity lesse conspicuous by these then by those. They mangle the Scriptures (Satan-like) in their quoting them, by leaving out some words which make against them. Thus Cardinall Hosius, and Bishop Canus, in way of proving that we may beleeve in Saints, alledge the words of Paul to Philemon (Phil. 4. 5.) Gratias ago Deo meo audiens fidem, quod habes in Domino nostro, & in omnes Sanctos: I give thanks to my God, hearing of the faith which which thou haſt in the Lord Jeſus, and in all Saints; leaving out the word charitatem, love, or charity. Thus Cardinall Bellarmine, to prove that inherent righteouſneſſe is the formall cauſe of our juſtification, alledgeth theſe as the words of St. Paul, Tit. 3. 5. Cum apparuit benignitas, & humanitas Salvatoris noſtri Dei, non ex operibus quæ fecimus nos, ſed ſecundum ſuam miſericordiam ſalvos nos fecit, &c. When the bountifulneſſe and love of God our Saviour appeared, not by the works which we had done, but according to his mercy he ſaved us, &c. Yet the Apoſtle ſaith not barely, not by the works which we had done, but not by the works of righteouſneſſe which we had done. So that the Cardinal unrighteouſly leaves out the word righteouſneſſe. They mingle them, by adding ſome words of their own, which are not in the Text. Thus Bernaldus a Prieſt of Conſtance, writing in defence of Gregory the Seventh, his prohibition of Prieſts Marriage, affirms that St. Peter commanded even the Laity (1 Pet. 3. 7.) ut parcant uxoribus ſuis, they ſhould forbear companying with their Wives, leſt their prayers ſhould be interrupted; whereas in St. Peter there are no ſuch words as ut parcant uxoribus, they ſhould forbear companying with their Wives. Thus Biſhop Gardiner to prove the Carnall preſence, alledgeth theſe as the words of Pſal. 11. 5. Eſcam ſe dedit timentibus eum, He gave himſelfe for meat to them that feared him; adding of himſelf, ſe, himſelf, to the Text. They both mangle and mingle, taking away ſome word or words in the Text, and placing ſome of their own in the room. Thus Cardinall Hoſius to prove Satisfaction, alledgeth theſe as the words of St. Paul, Rom. 6. Exhibeamus membra noſtra ſervire juſtitiæ in ſatisfactione, Let us exhibit our members to ſerve juſtice unto ſatisfaction. And Dr. Harding for proof of the ſame point, alledgeth theſe as the words of S. Paul, 2 Cor. 7. 1. Let us cleanſe our ſelves from all filthineſſe of the fleſh and Spirit, making perfect our ſatisfaction in the fear of God. Both of them putting the word ſatisfaction in place of the word ſanctification, uſed by the Apoſtle. Thus Bellarmine in way of proving Purgatory out of Iſa. 4. 4. changeth the words abluerit, laverit, and ardoris, which are in the Vulgar Latine, into purgabit, emendabit, and combuſtionis, thoſe not ſuiting ſo well with fire (which the Papiſts maintain to be found in Purgatory) as theſe do. They pervert them, taking ſome paſſages therein literally which are figuratively to be underſtood; as, This is my body; and ſome figuratively, which are meant literally; as, Here are two ſwords. They willingly, and of ſet purpoſe miſapply them. Thus, where David ſaith, O Lord my God in thee do I put my truſt; and Zacharias, Bleſſed be the Lord God of Iſrael: Bonavenure thus rendreth and applyeth them, O thou good Lady! in thee have I put my truſt; and, Bleſſed be our Lady, the Mother of our Lord God of Iſrael. They ridiculouſly abuſe and wreſt them: Thus they alledge for Peter's Supremacy, Launch into the deep. Couldſt thou not watch one hour with me? Follow me, Peter cut off Malchus his ear. For the Popes omnipotency, Gen. 1. 1, 16. Jer. 1. 10. Alſo theſe, that the ſpirituall man judgeth all things, and himſelf is judged of no man. Lo, two ſwords here. Return thy ſword into his place. Know ye not that we ſhall judge the Angels? Kill and eat. For communicating in one kind. Give us this day our daily bread. And that our Saviour multiplyed loaves, but multiplyed no drink. So in way of proving that Boyes and Wenches may enter into Monaſteries againſt their Parents mindes. Get thee out of thy Countrey, and from thy kindred, and from thy Fathers houſe. Forget thine own people, and thy Fathers houſe. He that loveth Father or Mother more then me, is not worthy of me. Let the dead bury the dead. So in way of proving that ignorant perſons may not read the Scriptures. Give ye not that which is holy to dogs. And that it is lawfull for a man to eat fiſh in Lent, but not fleſh. God for Adams ſin curſed the earth, but not the water. Not to multiply more (though many more might) they have burned the Bible themſelves, have burnt ſome that were detected to have read therein (as William Hunter and others) and not many yeers agoe, one John Murre a Merchant of Aberdeen, for having but a New Teſtament in his Ship, was by the cruelty of the mercileſſe Inquiſitors, deprived both of goods and life.

That thoſe errors and hereſies have been by the Orthodox and learned throughout all ages detected, diſcovered, and the light of the truth (which their their wicked authors and Broachers have every way endeavoured to obſcure and extinguiſh) recovered, is no ſmall demonſtration of Gods love and care of his people, nor can we expreſſe too much thankfulneſſe for the ſame.

The grounds of thoſe errors.

Whence thoſe and the like ſtrange Doctrines, Errors, Hereſies, Blaſphemies (which have been (and yet are) held, upheld, vented, taught, beleeved, entertained) have had, have their original, is queſtionable. That covetouſneſſe in ſome, ambition, pride, vain-glory, ſelf-love, diſcontent in others, have as bitter roots produced thoſe bitter fruits, hath been of old, is even yet experimentally found. Hereunto may be added the perverſneſſe, rebellion, blindneſſe, and propenſity unto error, which are naturally in all the Sons of Adam. But * ignorance, or the not knowing of the Scriptures, may be conceived as the eſpeciall and chief ground hereof. What our Saviour ſaid unto the Sadducees, who denyed the Reſurrection, may be fitly applyed unto thoſe ſwervers from the truth, ye do erre, not knowing the Scriptures. What the Apoſtle ſpeaketh of the Crucifiers of Chriſt, Had they known it, they would not have crucified the Lord of glory, may in charity be ſpoken of many of them; were they ſenſible of the greatneſſe, danger, and nature of their ſin; did they know what diſhonor doth hereby redound unto God, what offence unto the godly, and what wrong and damage unto ſilly ones, voyd of judgement, who wanting the Spirit of diſcerning, are unable to try the ſpirits; they would embrace the truth, forſake their errors, diſclaim their hereſies, be as eager to gain ſouls unto Chriſt, as now they are in compaſſing Sea and Land to make Proſelytes; but as yet theſe things are hid from them, they know not what they doe.

*Ignorance the chief cauſe. Mat. 22, 29. 1 Cor. 2 8.

This is natural in all. 1 Cor. 2. 14. Eph. 4. 17, 18.

This is naturally in all, whileſt they abide in their naturall condition. For the naturall man receiveth not the things of the Spirit of God, for they are fooliſhneſſe unto him; neither can he know them, becauſe they are ſpiritually diſcerned. They walk in the vanity of the minde, having the underſtanding darkened, being alienated from the life of God, through the ignorance that is in them, becauſe of the blindneſſe of their heart. And yet how many are there, even whileſt thus, who are wiſe in their owne eyes, boaſting that they are in the right, they have the truth, they onely? but the wiſdome of this world is fooliſhneſſe with God. He taketh the wiſe in their own craftineſſe. He knoweth the thoughts of the wiſe, that they are vain.

Voluntary and affected in ſome. Joh. 3 18. 2 Theſſ. 2. 10, 11, 12.

This is in ſome voluntary, affected; they are ignorant, and notwithſtanding of all the endevours that are uſed, whether by word or deed for their recovery therefrom, will ſo abide. Light is come into the world, but they love darkneſſe rather then light. May it not be ſaid of ſuch, Becauſe they received not the love of the truth, that they might be ſaved, even for this cauſe God ſhall ſend them ſtrong deluſion, that they ſhould believe a lie, that they all might be damned who beleeved not the truth, but had pleaſure in unrighteouſneſſe?

The holy Scripture the means to prevent and recover from error. Dan. 10. 21. 2 Tim. 1. 13. See Glaſſ. Phil. Sac. p. 236. & 241, &c.

The means whereby to remove, to recover from error, hereſie, ignorance, are acknowledged by moſt to be the holy Scriptures (the Scripture of truth) containing the form of ſound words; but not a few have, do, complain of their obſcurity.

Herein (ſay they) there are many places which ſeem contrary to each other. There are many Words and Phraſes very ambiguous and doubtfull. There are many Words whoſe Significations are not only divers, but contrary.

Unto thoſe it may be anſwered:

Anſwer to them that alledge their obſcurity. Mr. Greenhill his Expoſ. of Ezek. the Epiſt. to all well-wiſhers of truth.

1. That (though all things neceſſary to be known for the attainment of ſalvation, be plainly and perſpicuouſly laid down in the holy Scriptures, as alſo ſuch things as pertain unto true godlineſſe, yet) as in moſt Arts and Sciences there are Difficulties, ſo in Divinity there are Depths. The holy Scriptures have their δυσνόητα. In them are dark ſayings, Pſal. 78. 2. Wonders, Pſa. 119. 18. Riddles, Ezek. 17. 2. Great things, Hoſ. 8. 12. Myſteries, Mat. 13. 11. Parables, Mat. 13. 35. Hidden and manifold wiſdome, 1 Cor. 2. 7. Epheſ. 3. 10. The deep things of God, 1 Cor. 2. 10. Things hard to be uttered, Heb. 5. 12. Hard to be underſtood, 2 Pet. 3. 16. But, are we not hereby led up to conceive there be infinite depths in God, which eternity muſt take us up to ſtudy? Do not they convince us of our incapacity of high things, prevent our undervaluing of divine truth? Hath not God therefore hid ſome truths under the rocks, laid them deep, that ſo there might be digging and ſearching as for treaſures? Do not difficulties quicken and whet endevours? Do not the rocky and knotty things in the Prophets and Apoſtles, ſuffice to exerciſe the greateſt abilities and graces which are ſeated in humane Nature, and keep mens thoughts from ſwelling into a conceit of Omniſciency, making us long to be where we ſhall know as we are known; and in the mean time to pray with David, Open thou our eyes that we may ſee the wonders of thy Law? 1 Cor. 13. 12. Pſal. 119. 18.

2. That if the Goſpel be hid, it is hid to them that are loſt. If ſome things be hard to be underſtood, it's unto them that are unlearned and unſtable; that is, unto them that are unskilfull in the Scriptures, not taught of God, and ſuch as are not ſtedfaſt in the faith, nor perſevere in the reading and ſtudy of the Scriptures, even ſuch as are without the Spirit of God. 2 Cor. 4. 4. 2 Pet. 3. 16.

3. That the Scriptures ſeem obſcure unto us through our own default. For if we come with prejudice to the hearing and reading of them, as if their meaning muſt needs be ſo and ſo, for that ſuch and ſuch have ſo expounded them, though erroneouſly; if with impiety and impenitency, perſevering in our ſins without any true turning unto God; if rather out of cuſtome, then any regard or love of the truth; if without any reſolution to yeeld obedience unto them, or be bettered by them; if we neglect, and without any juſt cauſe, intermit the reading of them; if we are ignorant of the Acceptations of Words, Figures of Speeches, and Proprieties of Phraſes; if we take no notice of the ſcope of the Scriptures; if we know not the difference between the Law and the Goſpel, and the end of either of them; if we interpret them contrary to the analogie of Faith, nor will take pains to compare Scripture with Scripture; if we do not contain our ſelves within the bounds and limits of the Scriptures themſelves; if we contemn and deſpiſe the labours of the learned, who have exerciſed themſelves about the Interpretation of the Scriptures; if we do too much ſtick unto the bare letter, looking after no more, or neglecting the Literall ſenſe, look after the Allegoricall, or Tropologicall ſenſe; whereas haply in that the Spirituall, in this the Literall is moſt agreeable to the place; Finally, if we are not unthankfull to God for the meaſure of knowledge which he hath already beſtowed upon us, and do not pray unto God for the continuance and increaſe thereof in the underſtanding of the Scriptures, it's no wonder that the Scriptures both ſeem and are indeed obſcure unto us. Zanch. de Sac. Scrip. Quæſt. 12.

4. That God of his goodneſſe hath both of old and of late afforded us excelent Helps for our underſtanding of the Scriptures, ſuch are the Concordances of the Bible, Hebrew, Greek, Latine, Engliſh, &c being of very great uſe for the unfolding of difficult texts, by referring to parallel Scriptures, whereby, where, and how often every word in the Bible is ſet down therein, may be readily found; ſuch many ſeverall Treatiſes wherein all the pertinent Scriptures unto any particular head or common place are ſummed up; ſuch thoſe Treatiſes that handle the ſeverall acceptions of Words and Phraſes in Scripture; ſuch they who explain peculiar Subjects diſperſedly contained in the ſeverall parts of Scripture; ſuch the Commentators upon the whole Bible, by their Annotations, Expoſitions, Notes, &c. Such they that have commented upon ſome particular Books or Texts; ſuch they who inſiſt on practicall Divinity, who unfold and reconcile ſuch Scriptures as ſeem oppoſite to one another; who catechetically explain the grounds of Chriſtian Religion, who reſolve Caſes of Conſcience, who confute the Adverſaries of the truth, who cleer ſuch doubts as are propounded out of the Scriptures; thoſe (I ſay) and the like helps are not wanting unto us. See Mr. Wilk. his Eccleſiaſtes, wherein there is a Catalogue of ſuch Books as are of moſt uſe for the underſtanding of the Scriptures.

Amongſt others, the faithfull and painfull Labourers in the Lords Vineyard, this our Author was of ſpecial note, eminent in his time, famous in that Generation. Ordinarily, he preached thrice every Week (above an hundred and fifty Sermons yeerly) often every day. As he was of a ſtrong conſtitution, ſo was he of a good memory, retaining what he had read, and able even on the ſudden to make uſe thereof for the edification of others. As his gifts were Mr. Tho. Wilſon Miniſter of the Word at S. Georges in Canterbury, and one of the ſix Preachers there.

Information was given me of these particulars, by such as were familiarly acquainted with him, being his next neighbors, and living under his Ministery, and his especiall Benefactors.

more then ordinary, so were his tryals, temptations; he had open enemies, false Teachers and Hereticks, against whom he stood stoutly in defence of the truth, detecting and confuting their errors. There were also certain false Brethren, who did privily endevour his ruine, by articling against him unto the then Archbishop Abbot, for his Non-conformity, &c. but by the means of the Lord Wotton (whose Chaplain he then was) he was not questioned for the same. His words, that till Idolatry were publickly tolerated in this land, publick judgements should not seise thereon, have proved too true. As he endevoured the good of his people by Preaching, Expounding, Catechising, Writing, even till he begun to cease to be, so on his Death-bed he was not unmindfull of them, for on Dr. Jackson then present (who was one of the Patrones of his Place, and had then the sole disposall thereof) he laid this charge, that as he would answer unto God on the dreadfull day of Judgement, he should place an able, sufficient Pastour over his people, &c. which the Doctor promised, but withall added, that not one of a thousand could be had, such as he himself was. Besides his diligence and frequency in Preaching, he also wrote many Books; as An Exposition of the Epistle to the Romanes, this Christian Dictionary, A Dialogue about Justification, A Receipt against Heresie, Scripture Riddles, &c. (one I have under his owne hand on the Ten Commandements, and some Sermons on severall Texts, not yet published) In all which, though now dead, he still speaketh.

See Heb. 11. 4.

What his aim and end was in writing and publishing this Dictionary, as also the manifold use and utility hereof, he himself sheweth both in his Generall and Particular Preface; therein as he professeth himself but to have broke the ice (he hath done much more) so he seemeth to invite others to supply what should be found defective herein. This hath been in part performed by Mr. John Bagwell, but is now in this Sixth Edition more fully and largely, by a sixfold Addition, viz.

The Additions in this Impression.

1. Of above four thousand Words, with their severall Acceptations, all wanting in the former Editions: For the Words, I extracted them for the most part out of Newman's Concordance, and what I found not therein, out of the Bible it self, as Altashith, Maschil, Neginoth, Nehiloth, &c. And for the Acceptations, they are taken out of Aynsworth, the Annotations on the Bible, Bernard's Thesaurus Biblicus, Dr. Hammond's Annotations on the New Testament, Leigh's Critica Sacra, Ravanellus his Bibliotheca Sacra, and divers others; of whom I conceived that I might as well make use, as they have of former Writers, especially Ravanellus of Wigandus, and Flaccius Illyricus, and Mr. Bernard of this Work of Mr. Wilson's, as (if need were) might be instanced in many particulars.

2. 2. Of many more Acceptations, of the same Words which are handled by Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bagwell in the former Impressions; for which I also am indebted to the forementioned Authors.

3. 3. Of a great number of hard and difficult Phrases, cleered, and plainly expounded to the capacity and understanding of the meanest Reader: As also, Additions unto the Phrases formerly printed, for their further explanation.

4. 4. Of the proper Names of Men, Women, Cities, Countreys, Rivers, &c. mentioned in the holy Scriptures, with their severall Interpretations (where also if more were of one name, all are mentioned) for which I am beholding unto Robert F. Herrey his first Alphabet of directions to Common places, Buxtorfius his Hebrew Lexicon, Pasor his Etyma Nominum Propriorum, Alstedius his Paratula Theologica, Chytreus his Onomasticon Theologicum, with some others.

5. 5. Of the Nature and properties of such Beasts, Fowls, Fishes, Trees, Plants, Fruits, Herbs, Seeds, Stones, &c. as are mentioned in the Scriptures; extracted out of Bercorius his Reductorium Morale, Wolf. Franzius his Historia Animalium, &c. Geminianus de Similitud. Hieronymus Laureius his Sylva Allegoriarum, Levinus Lemnius de Plantis Sacris, Mouffetus his Theatrum Insectorum, Symsoni Hieroglyphica Animalium Terrestrium, Volatilium, Natatilium, &c. Topsell his History of four-footed Beasts, with divers others.

6. 6. Of the divers Readings set down in the Margents of the Bibles of the last Translation, every of which I compared with the Text it self, and finding the same to be of great great uſe, and very helpfull for the attaining of the true ſenſe and meaning of the Text, I have hereupon inſerted the ſame. Beſides, now and then ſome words are by other words in other texts expreſſed, for the better unfolding of the meaning thereof, as ſome for the ſame purpoſe, backt by ſignificant phraſes.

Let not any think that hereby any wrong is or can be done to our worthy Author, any detriment or prejudice to this his Work; for whatſoever herein is well done will be aſcribed unto him, as who firſt laid the foundation; and the Work it ſelf, how uſefull ſoever before, will now by ſuch as ſhall make uſe of it, be found much more uſefull. Nor is there any thing of the Authors in the former Impreſſions, in this willingly either depraved or omitted. No wrong hereby done either to the Author or his Work.

Nor let any take exception, that a great number of words are here ſet down which ſeem needleſſe, uſeleſſe, or ſo plain that they need no explication; for, Why all Scripture words are ſet down in this Impreſſion.

1. Thoſe words may be found in Concordances, Hebrew, Greek, Latine, Engliſh, &c.

2. No Word is wanting in Complete Dictionaries, of what language ſoever.

3. Thoſe Words are but briefly touched, others more materiall, handled more at large.

4. What are plain unto ſome, are obſcure unto others, till explained.

5. Some have been puzled to finde out what ſome ſuch Words meant, what a Nave, a Spoke, a Tenon, a Rudder-band, a Main ſail, &c. whereof the meaneſt Carpenter, Mariner can readily give information. If ſome have been thus puzled, may not others alſo?

Nor let any be diſcouraged from making uſe of this Dictionary, if upon the peruſall of ſome particular Words, he receive not full ſatisfaction; for as the Interpretation of ſuch Phraſes as are not ſet down in particular, may be eaſily underſtood by the Interpretation of the Words whereof they conſiſt; ſo the Expoſitions of many Words are included in the Phraſes expounded. The meaning of ſome phraſes may be found by the interpretation of the words, as of ſome words by the phraſes.

Nor let any complain of the multiplicity and variety of Interpretations which may be found herein, as if one were enough, and ſo many did but weary and puzle the Reader: For,

1. If thoſe Interpretations be conſonant unto the truth, agreeable to the Scriptures, Store is no ſore. Variety of Interpretations juſtified.

2. All Readers are not of one minde, one approves of this Interpretation, another of that, another of a third.

3. Hereby Gods wiſdome appears in the various diſpenſation of his gifts.

4. Divers places of Scripture are diverſly read; one follows the Text, another the Margent, both which are juſtifiable.

5. Who ſo is ſatisfied with any one Interpretation, needs trouble himſelf no further in the peruſall of more.

Nor let any think it ſtrange, if herein he miſſe ſome Words, and finde others but briefly touched: For, Some words included in others, and why ſome are but briefly handled.

1. I have herein followed the laſt, whereas our Author followeth the Geneva Tranſlation.

2. Many words are included in others, as he, ſhe, they, them, their, &c.

3. The meaning of many Words is apparent by the words prefixed or annexed unto them, or both.

4. Many Words in the Bible are ſupplyed, not being in the Originall, which are therefore printed in a different character.

5. Many Words are alike in ſignification, and that being ſet down in any one of them, it may ſuffice to referre the others thereunto; if any thing be ſet down more then once, it's more then needs, more then was intended.

6. The Words which are miſſing in the Dictionary, may be found in the Suppl.

I know that there are not a few who would not that ſuch Books as this ſhould be publiſhed in Engliſh, or made ſo common for the common people: But, Againſt ſuch who would not have ſuch Books (as this is) in Engliſh.

1. If ſuch Books be printed and publiſhed in other Languages, why may they not alſo be in ours?

2. If Books of all Arts and Sciences (Logick, Rhetorick, Phyſick, Arithmetick, metick, Muſick, Aſtronomy, Geometry, Alchumy, &c.) are daily tranſlated and publiſhed in Engliſh, why not alſo ſuch as this?

3. Is knowledge, or the means of knowledge to be confined only unto the learned? Is there no regard to be had unto the ſimple? Solomon was of another minde in publiſhing his Proverbs, his was, To give ſubtilty to the ſimple, to the young man knowledge and diſcretion. Accordingly he bringeth in Wiſdome, thus crying unto the ſimple, O ye ſimple, underſtand wiſdome. And again, Who ſo is ſimple, let him turn in hither, &c. Paul alſo was of another mind, I would (ſaith he) that ye all ſpake with tongues, but rather that ye propheſied, were indued with ſuch knowledge and underſtanding, that ye might expound and interpret the Scriptures. And doth not the holy Ghoſt by the Word (expounded and explained) intend the making wiſe the ſimple, the giving underſtanding to the ſimple?

Prov. 1.4. Prov. 8.5. Prov. 9.4. 1 Cor. 14.5. Pſal. 19.7. Pſal. 119.130.

4. Though even the Learned may be much holpen hereby (if they pleaſe) both they who being well ſtricken in yeers, finde a decay in their memories, and a diſability to ſtudy, as they who are but Beginners, and have made no great progreſſe in the ſtudy of Divinity; yet this was and is principally intended for the benefit of the unlearned (whether Maſters of families, Lay-preachers (as they are called) or others) which may be unto them not onely a Dictionary for the underſtanding of every Scripture-word, but a Concordance, a Commentary, a whole Library. As herein the Notions, Expoſitions, Interpretations of many learned and worthy Authors are in few words laid open unto the view of all, ſo hereby there's a remedy provided, as well for ſuch as want money to buy thoſe Authors (if they could underſtand them) as for ſuch (who though they had them, and could underſtand them, yet) have little or no time to make uſe of them; yea, as by this erroneous judgements may be reformed, ſo (through Gods bleſſing upon the ſerious and diligent peruſal hereof) errors in judgement may be prevented.

The moſt elaborate works of the moſt learned have been ſleighted by ſome.

I make no queſtion but that not a few of the ſurviving brood of (the long ſince dead) Momus, Zoilus, will carp, kick, ſpurn at this Work, condemn, contemne, diſgrace, and ſleight it, caſting thereon what aſperſions they can (as they have done on the more elaborate Works of others, excelling in piety, and moſt eminent for learning) but (having conſulted with divers Neighbor-Miniſters and others, both godly, and of ſound judgement, both before I undertook it, and all along the doing therof, and been by them not onely encouraged, but by one of them, my dear friend, Mr. John Crawford Miniſter of Halden, much aſſiſted, whoſe (for the moſt part) are the Additions in the Dictionary unto the Words and Phraſes which our Author publiſhed, of the letters S. T. V. W. Y. Z.) I ſhall not be much either troubled or moved.

It's held, that facilè eſt inventis addere, but ſuch as ſhall undertake the like Work, will find it valdè, maximè, difficile.

Quandoq; bonus dormitat Homerus: præſertim opere in magno, in quo fas eſt obrepere ſomnum. Rivet. Cri. Sac. p. 317.

To conclude, ſeeing there are few Books of any bulk, wherein ſome faults, ſome miſtakes may not be found, either through want of judgement in the Authors, miſtake of the Compoſers, or overſight in the Correctors; Sicubi hallucinati ſumus aut aberravimus, vos quicunq; eſtis hæc noſtra lecturi, candidè animadvertite noſtra nobiſcum communicate, & ad placidam emendationem vos nobiſcum accingite. Homines ſumus; humanis erroribus humana detur venia. This is the earneſt deſire and requeſt of

Your Friend and Servant

in the Lord

Andrew Symſon.

To the Christian Reader, studious of the Scriptures.

THou art much bound to blesse God for the great plenty and abundance of excellent Books, which by the hands of his painfull and godly Servants he hath afforded thee, as helps and furtherances to bring thee to the sound knowledge, and right understanding of his sacred Word. But among them all (in my judgement) there is no one in our Native tongue, that doth more oblige thee to true thankfulnesse, then the Book thou now beholdest, in regard of the great necessity, and manifold use of the same; as also the exceeding rich profit and benefit, which by Gods blessing (if thou make the right use of it) thou mayst reap thereby. For beside the multiplicity and great variety of wholesome matter, which thou shalt finde scattered through the whole Work, here thou hast most of the dark words and phrases contained in the Scripture, in Alphabetical order, plainly, briefly (yet fully) and soundly unfolded; and in most places, the corrupt glosses of the Papists upon them, compendiously discovered and confuted. Here thou mayst at one view see the diverse Acceptations and Significations of Words, with the Figures and Tropes denoted, in which the Scripture useth them. By this Book thou shalt be made able to distinguish of Words, which in Scripture are ambiguous, to explain Words and Phrases obscure, and easily to understand such as be hard and unknown. By this Book, if thou be a Minister, thou shalt become Bonus Textuarius (for what is that but to be able to give the true meaning and genuine sense of the Scripture?) and Bonus Textuarius est Bonus Theologus. This Book will make thee a more profitable Teacher: for qui bene distinguit, bene docet. By this Book (whosoever thou be) thou shalt be fortified to shield thy self, and haply others too, from error; as also to see when others doe erre, and to draw them out of error, for error springs from ignorance, that is, from misunderstanding the Scripture, Matth. 22. 29. By this thou shalt be made skilfull to discern the voyce of thy Shepheard Christ Jesus, from the voyce of a stranger, Joh. 10. 3, 5. In a word, by this Book in short space, and with no great labour, thou mayst plentifully abound in all heavenly wisdome and knowledge. So that, as one says of Cicero, Sciat se multum profeciſſe, cui Cicero unice placet: In like manner it may more truely be affirmed of this Book, whosoever he be that delighteth much in it, shall thereby gain infinite benefit. The Author hath been pleased to entitle this Book, A Christian Dictionary; and so it is, for it interprets words. But it may also be worthily called, The Key of the Treasures hid in holy Scriptures, The enemy of Ignorance, The high and ready path to Knowledge, The Discloser of Gods holy Secrets; A Light for Ministers, whereat they may borrow light; A Lanthorn for the people to direct them in the light. And to be short, the way to make all the Lords people to prophesie, as Moses wished. Then Gentle Reader be not without it, let it be continually by thee; yet buy it not for novelty, because it is the first of this kind that ever saw the light, but for the unvaluable worth of it. Sit tibi charus, non quia rarus, sed amatus, quod amabilis; i. amari dignus. Seneca saith, Nova, quamvis non magna miramur: That we make much of new things, though they be not great. Loe, in this Book they both meet together, here is newnesse, and here is goodnesse. This work is new, and it is precious, how then should it not much inamour thee?

Omne tulit punctum, qui miscuit utile dulci.

An Epiſtle to the Reader.

THe holy Scriptures are the inditement and invention of the holy Ghoſt, and therefore full of infinite wiſdome and eloquence, even the wiſdome and eloquence of God. They contain (as one ſaith) Cor & animam Dei, the very heart and (as it were) the ſoul of God. They are the Saints counſellors and comforters in the houſe of their pilgrimage. And therefore it is not onely our duty to read them, but our great priviledge and unſpeakable happineſſe that we have them to read. No man ever drank too much of this water of life, or fed too much of this bread of life. Better want the light of the Sun, then the light of the holy Scriptures.

Gregor. Magnus. Pſal. 119.

But yet it cannot be denyed, but that there are many who ſpider-like ſuck the poyſon of ſin and error out of theſe ſweet and precious flowers. There are many that are unlearned and unſtable, who (as the Apoſtle ſaith) wreſt the Scriptures unto their owne deſtruction. But this muſt not diſſwade nor diſcourage us from reading and ſearching into them. The Bee muſt not refuſe to ſuck ſweetneſſe out of a flower, becauſe a Spider ſucks poyſon out of it. Non debet Ovis pellem ſuam deponere, quia Lupus ea ſe aliquando contegit: We muſt not ceaſe from reading the Scriptures to our owne ſalvation, becauſe ſome men abuſe them to their owne deſtruction. We read that the Devill brings Scripture againſt Chriſt, and yet for all that Chriſt brings Scripture againſt him. Chriſt did not refuſe to uſe it, becauſe the Devill abuſed it, but he confutes him with his own weapon. The reading of the Scriptures is not a cauſe of error, but rather the not reading of them, as Chriſt expreſly ſaith, Mark 12. 24. Chriſt doth not ſay (as the Papiſt) You erre becauſe you know the Scriptures; But, You erre not knowing the Scriptures. The light cannot cauſe darkneſſe, but the abſence of light. The rule doth not make the work go wrong, but the want of it. The armour doth not cauſe a wound, but the abſence of it. Now the Scriptures are the Chriſtian mans rule, light, and ſpiritual armour. The Law of God makes ſimple men wiſe, Pſal. 19. 7. not wiſe men ſimple. It is a ſoul-murdering practiſe of the Papiſts, to deny the reading of the Scriptures to common people, becauſe ſome ſometimes abuſe them. By this Argument they muſt alſo keep learned men from reading them, becauſe many of them do ſometimes wreſt them to their owne deſtruction. Moſt of the hereſies that have been in the Church, have come in by learned men, rather then by ignorant men. Things that are of neceſſary uſe, the ill uſing of them muſt not take away the right uſing of them, but quicken us to uſe them rightly. We muſt not forbear eating and drinking becauſe ſome abuſe their meat to gluttony, and drink to drunkenneſſe; but we muſt labour to eat and drink with ſobriety and temperance. We muſt not refuſe to read the Scriptures (which are more neceſſary then our appointed food) becauſe ſome abuſe them, but we muſt therefore labour to read them with an humble and ſelf-denying heart, with prayer to God that made them, that he would reveal to us the meaning of them, with a Goſpel fear and trembling, leſt we ſhould wrack and torture them, and make them ſpeak what they never meant; And alſo we muſt thankfully and diligently make uſe of all thoſe helps which God hath afforded us for the right underſtanding of them.

Mat. 4. 6. Job 23 12.

Of which ſort there are many in Latin, none that I know in Engliſh of this nature, but this enſuing Treatiſe. A Book of ſingular uſefulneſſe for all Miniſters of the Goſpel, Maſters of families, and private Chriſtians. I may very well call it, A Key of the Bible, becauſe it unlocks to us the rich Treaſury of the holy Scriptures: A Divine Dictionary, teaching us the language of the holy Ghoſt in our own native tongue, and expounding to us the moſt obſcure and difficult Phraſes and Words of the holy Scriptures. The former Book was ſo acceptable unto the Church of Chriſt, that it was five times printed. But this will be far more uſefull and beneficiall, becauſe it doth not onely contain what was in the former Editions, but adds, (to make it a Complete Chriſtian Dictionary) 1. The ſeverall acceptations and ſignifications of above 4000 words and phraſes. 2. All the proper names of the Scripture, with their interpretation. 3. Severall words and phraſes more fully explained. 4. Divers readings. 5. The nature of the Birds, Beaſts, Fiſhes, Precious ſtones, Trees, Hearbs, Seeds, &c. mentioned in the holy Scriptures.

The perfecting of this Work coſt (no doubt) the Reverend Miniſter the Enlarger and Completer thereof, much time and pains. It is very well worthy the publick view; Let me heartily commend it (Chriſtian Reader) to thy diligent peruſall; and the rather, becauſe thereby thou ſhalt come to know the meaning of thoſe Books which will make thee wiſe unto ſalvation.

Your Servant in the work of the Miniſtery

A COMPLETE CHRISTIAN DICTIONARY:

WHEREIN

The ſignification and ſeverall acceptations of all the words mentioned in the HOLY SCRIPTURES of the OLD and NEW-TESTAMENT, are fully opened, expreſſed, and explained.

Alſo, very many hard and difficult Phraſes therein contained, cleered and expounded.

Aaron] The Son of Amram, Exod. 6.20. The name ſignifies a mountain, or of or belonging to a mountain, of הרר or הר a mountain; the mountain of praiſe, or Prince of divine praiſes, from הר a mountain, and רנן, to ſing; conceiving either in the wombe, or in the minde, (that is, to underſtand) of הרה to conceive; a teacher, or teaching.

Aaron, though excellently qualified, admirably endued with gifts, yet entred not upon the Prieſts office without a calling thereunto, Heb. 5.4. Comp. Jer. 23.21. Zac. 13.4,5.

The Arke is termed ארון in the Hebr. Numb. 4.5. which being neer the ſame with אהרן, might put him in mind of his place: That Aaron was to attend the ſervice of Aron the Arke.

Moſes had a ſpirit of Government; Aaron from the ſame ſpirit had a faculty of ſpeech, which Moſes had not, each ſtood in need of the other. Aaron muſt gratifie Moſes by his utterance and promptneſſe of ſpeech; and Moſes muſt fortifie Aaron by the authority of his place, and efficacy of his power. Annot. on Exod. 4. 16.

Heb. 5. 4. & 7. 11. ſeem to be abſolutely contrary, as if Chriſt were called to be a Prieſt as was Aaron, and yet not called to be a Prieſt as was Aaron; but they may be thus reconciled: Chriſt himſelf was called of God to his Miniſteriall office. How? As Aaron was. How he? God gave Aaron inward gifts, Exod. 4. 14. and an outward call by Moſes, who admitted him into his office, Lev. 8. 2. So Chriſt was called of God, Heb. 5. 10. who alſo filled him with inward gifts, Luk. 2. 52, Joh. 3. 34. And was owned into his office by the means of John the Baptiſt, Mat. 3, 2, 3, 11, 15. Joh. 1. 15---37. But on the other ſide, Chriſt was not called to his office under the particular notion of a Prieſt, after the order of Aaron; that is, 1 Chriſt was not of the ſame Tribe with Aaron, Aaron being of Levi, Chriſt of Judah. 2 Chriſt was not to offer Aaronical ſacrifices, but to offer up himſelf. 3 Aaron was a Prieſt but for his life, Chriſt a Prieſt for ever, after the order of Melchiſedec. Theſe with other differences are ſet forth by the Apoſtle, in Heb. ch. 8, 9, 10.

Abaddon] Rev. 9. 11. The King of the locuſts, the Angel of the bottomleſſe pit, whom Paul nameth the Son of perdition, 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. The Deſtroyer, from אבד, to periſh, deſtruction, Prov. 15. 11.

Abagtha] One of the ſeven Chamberlains or Eunuchs, that ſerved in the preſence of Ahaſuerus the King, Eſt. 1. 10. Father of the wine-preſſe, from אב a Father, and גתא a wine-preſſe.

Abana] Stony, or a building, or Father, or I beſeech now. A River of Damaſcus, which Naaman objected was as good as Jordan to cleanſe his leproſie, 2 King. 5. 12.

Abarim] Of the plurall number, for they were many mountains, of which in particular Nebo was one, on which Moſes ſaw Canaan afar off, and then and there by the command of God dyed, Numb. 27. 12. Deut. 32. 29. The word ſignifies, either Paſſing along, becauſe thoſe mountains ran along the Countrey; or, Paſſing over, becauſe over them was ſome rode, from עבר, to paſſe over.

Abaſe] In common uſe it ſignifieth vilifying, but in propriety of the word, a bringing low, or caſting down, of the Gr. word βάσις the bottome, as of a pillar or ſuch like thing. It's ſometime taken properly, for Couching or Lying downe on the ground, as Iſa. 31. 4. Sometime Metaphorically: as 1. To be brought low in ones outward condition, reputation, &c. or inward ſorrow and terrors of heart, Job 40. 11. Eze. 21. 26. Dan. 4. 37. Mat. 23. 12. Phil. 4. 12. 2. To put ones ſelf on mean wayes and things, to ſerve others, as for a Miniſter to take benevolence of others, or to work with his owne hands, that he may preach to this or that people gratis, 2 Cor. 11. 7, 8, 9. Act. 20. 34.

It's ſpoken of God abaſing Man, Dan. 4. 37. Of Man abaſing man, Job 40. 11. Of Man abaſing himſelf, 2 Cor. 11. 7.

Abate] It ſignifieth, to Diminiſh, Aſſwage, Weaken, make Leſs; and is ſpoken of a Price, Lev. 27. 18. of a mans Strength, Deut. 34. 7. of Waters, Gen. 8. 3. of Anger, Judg. 8. 3. of grief, Job 16. 5, 6.

Abba] Father: Thus Chriſt expounds it, Mar. 14. 36. and Paul, Rom. 8. 15. To cry Abba, Father: the doubling of the word joyning to the Syriack [Abba] the Gr. word πατὴρ ſerving to teach, that God is not God of the Jews onely, but of the Gentiles alſo, and will be called upon in all languages, requiring of his people a ſtrong confidence in his fatherly goodneſſe through Chriſt.

The repetition of the ſame word (in ſenſe) ſerveth to ſtir and expreſſe the vehemency which is in fervent prayer, Gal. 4. 6. Pſal. 22. 1. My God, my God, Matth. 25. 11. Lord, Lord open, &c. See Dan. 9. 19. Alſo, it ſheweth the great conſtancy and aſſurance of the faithfull, that he is their Father indeed.

Hebrew and Syriack words, as Abba, Sabbath, Hoſanna, Hallelujah, &c. and ſundry more, are retained, as familiarly known to the Chriſtians, whoſe faith is derived from the Jews, ſo the words alſo. Alſo note, that theſe ſtrange words were not uſed of ſuperſtition, as though more holyneſſe were in the words; as Romaniſts may ſeem for that end to commend the uſe in a ſtrange tongue in their Service.

Abba. It's onely thrice mentioned in the New Teſtament, and in each place the word Father is added by way of explanation. God ſo ſtyled by Chriſt, Mat. 14. 36. So by the Faithfull, Rom. 8. 15. Gal. 4. 6. It's uſually the firſt word that Children ſpeak, and which their Fathers willingly hear. In the Hebrew אב ſignifieth Father, from אבה, to will, acquieſce.

Abda] A ſervant (or in the Syrian tongue, this cloud) from עבד to ſerve, 1 King. 4. 6. Neh. 11. 17.

Abdi] My ſervant. The Father of Kiſh, 2 Chr. 29. 12.

Abdiel] A ſervant of God, or a cloud of Gods ſtore, 1 Chr. 5. 15. Jer. 36. 26.

Abdon] A ſervant, or a cloud of Juſtice. The name of a City, Joſh. 21. 30. The name alſo of one of the Judges, Judg. 12. 13. And the firſtborn of Jehiel, 1 Chron. 8. 30. & 9. 36. And the Son of Micah, 2 Chr. 34. 20. called Achbor, the Son of Michaiah, 2 King. 22. 12.

Abednego] Servant of light, from נגה, to ſhine. Called alſo Azariah, Dan. 1. 7.

Abel] With א in the beginning of the Hebrew word (הֶבֶל or חֶבֶל) ſignifieth vanity, from the root הבל, he was vain; and is the name of Adam his ſecond Son, Gen. 4. 2. But with א in the beginning of the Hebrew word (אבלה) it ſignifieth mourning, from אבל, to lament or mourn. The place where the Ark of God was ſet down by the Levites, 1 Sam. 6. 18. A City beſieged by Joab, 2 Sam. 20. 15. preſerved by the counſell of a wiſe Woman that was therein, Ibid. 22. Smitten by the Forces of Benhadad, 1 King. 15. 20. afterward taken by Tiglath Pileſer, 2 King. 15. 29. Hence Abel-beth-maachah (mourning to the houſe of Maachah, 1 King. 15. 20.) Abel-maim (mourning of waters, 2 Chr. 16. 4.) Abel-meholah (Sorrow of weakneſſe, Judg. 7. 22.) Abel-mizraim (the mourning of the Egyptians, Gen. 50. 11.) Abel-ſhittim, Sorrow of thorns, Num. 33. 43. It ſignifieth alſo a Plain, Judg. 11. 33.

Abez] An egge, dirty; or of linnen. A City in the Tribe of Iſſachar, Joſh. 19. 20.

To abhor] To have a thing in utter deteſtation and loathing. Iſa. 1. 13. I abhor your Sabbaths and New moons, Job 42. 6. I abhor my ſelf. Sometimes Abhorring ſignifies Loathing, in ſhew and profeſſion onely, and not in truth, as Ro. 2. 22. Thou abhorreſt Idols, that is, ſeemeſt to deteſt them. Sometimes alſo Abhorring is applyed to Inanimate things, as Job 9. 31. Mine owne cloaths ſhall abhor me; or, make to be abhorred. This word is ſpoken both of God and Man. Of God abhorring, 1. Idolaters, Lev. 26. 30. Deut. 32. 19. Pſal. 78. 58, 59. & 106. 38.

2. Such

2. Such as live in pleasure, and remember not the affliction of Joseph, Amos 6. 6. 3. The bloody and deceitfull man, Psa. 5. 6. 4. The Heathens manners, Lev. 20. 23. 5. The covetous, Psal. 10. 3. 6. His Ordinances abused, Isa. 1. 13.

Of Man, who abhorreth, I. What he ought not as 1. God himself, Zech. 11. 8. 2. Gods Statutes and Judgements, Lev. 26. 15, 43. 3. Gods People, 1 King. 11. 25. 4. The man that speaketh uprightly, Amos 5. 10. 5. Judgement and Equity, Mic. 3. vers. 9. 6 The Offering of the Lord, 1 Sam. 2. 17. 7. Friends, Job 19. 19. 8. The Afflicted, Psal 22. 24.

II. What he ought; as 1. Idols, Deut. 7. 26. Rom 2. 22. 2. A man his owne self, for his owne evils, adding repentance for the same, Job 42 6. 3. Lying, Psal. 119. 163 4. Evill, Psal. 36. 4. Rom. 12. 9. 5. He that flattereth a wicked man, and saith he is righteous, Pro. 24. 24.

It's also applyed unto such as being grievously afflicted, loath food, Psal. 107. 18. Job 33. 20.

Abi] The Daughter of Zechariah, Mother of Hezekiah 2 King. 18. 2. The word signifieth My father.

Abia, Abiah, Abijah] The Will of the Lord, or, My Father the Lord. The Son of Samuel, 1 Sam. 8 2. The Son of Rehoboam, 1 Chr. 3 10 called also Abijam, 1 King. 14. 31. The Son of Becher, 1 Chr. 7. 8. A Priest, 1 Chr. 24. 10. The name of another Priest, Neh. 10. 7. The Wife of Hezron, 1 Chr. 2. 24. The Daughter of Zechariah, 2 Chr. 29. 1. called also Abi, 2 King. 18. 2. The Son of Jeroboam, 1 King. 14. 1.

Abi-albon] The Father of great Understanding; or, the Father of much Building, or Wrong; one of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 31. called also Abiel, 2 Chr. 11. 32.

Abiam, Abijam] The Father of the Sea. The Son of Rehoboam, 1 King. 14. 31. called also Abijah, 2 Chr. 14. 1.

Abiasaph] A gathering, or consuming Father One of the Sons of Korah, Exod. 6. 24.

Abiathar] Father of the Remnant; or, excellent Father; or, Father of Contemplation. The Son of Ahimelech 1 Sam. 22. 20. called also Ahimelech as his Father Ahimelech, Abiathar, 2 Sam. 8. 17. Also, one of Solomon's Priests, 1 King. 4. 4. who seems not to be the Abiathar already mentioned, for Solomon had thrust him out from being Priest unto the Lord, 1 King. 2 27.

Abib] A green Ear (or Stem) of Corn. From hence the moneth Abib (which answereth to part of March, and part of April, (as we call the moneths) had its denomination, because in those Countreys corn was eared, and began to be ripe in this moneth, Exod. 9 31. And because in this moneth the Children of Israel went out of Ægypt, the yeer (which before began in September, Ex. 23. 16.) had its beginning to the Jews Ecclesiastically in this moneth of Abib; but for the Jubilees and Civill affairs, it began as it had done before, Lev. 25. 8, 9, 10. And because this Release of Israel was a figure of the Churches Redemption by Christ, who reneweth the world, 1 Cor. 5. 7, 8. 2 Cor. 5. 17. and who was to suffer death also in this moneth, Joh. 18. 28, &c. therefore God made it the head and first of the yeer; that by it the Church might be taught to expect the acceptable yeer of the Lord, which Christ preached, Luc. 4. 19. This moneth was also called Nisan.

Abida] The Father of Knowledge: one of the Sons of Midian, the Son of Abraham by Keturah, Gen. 25. 4.

Abidan] Father of Judgement; or, My Father a Judge. Prince of the Tribe of Benjamin, Num. 1. 11. & 2. 24. & 7. 60, 65.

Abide] It signifieth, to Stay or Tarry, Gen. 22. 5. To Dwell, Gen. 29. 19 To Be, Gen. 44. 33. To Joyne or Cleave to, Ruth 2. 8. To Continue, Eccl. 1. 4. To Endure or Passe through without Hurt, Numb. 31. 23. To be sufficient to Bear, Joel 2. 11. To Live, Phil. 1. 24. To remaine Firm and Strong, Gen. 49. 24. To Wait for, Act. 20. 23. See the margin.

To abide in Christ] signifieth,

1. To be in, continue, and remain in Christ by a lively faith, without falling therefrom, by security, pride, or profanenesse, Joh. 15. 4. Abide in me and I in you. This perseverance is wrought by the Spirit of Christ, through the holy Ministery, not without the endevours of the Faithful, Joh. 15. 4, 5, 6.

2. A Beleevers (that cannot lose the habit of faith) actually Adhering to, Contemplating of, Rejoycing in, and Obediently acting communion with Christ; whereby he receiveth actuall quickenings and flowings in of Christs love into the Beleever. For though a Beleever hath influences from Christ, whilest he is asleep, or in some lawfull worldly imployment, in way of maintenance of his habit of spirituall life; (for a Beleevers graces, and spirituall life, are a fluxive habit, as the beams of the Sun are continued by the continual emission of light from the Sun, and the stream is perpetuated by the constant flowing of the fountain;) yet in every serious duty, use of an Ordinance, and act of obedience to God in Christ, a Beleever hath speciall flushings and irradiations of Divine light, life and love; so that the more constant our acting is towards Christ, the more continued is our actuall enjoyment of speciall communion with Christ, Joh. 15. 10. If ye (speaking to the beleeving Disciples, for Judas was gone out, ch. 13. 30.) keep my Commandements, ye shall abide in my love; even as I have kept my Fathers Commandements, and abide in his love. Christ could not be separated from God; but by continuall acting towards God, he had a continuall actuall enjoyment of the shining of his Fathers love; so, proportionably Beleevers.

See, In, and Dwell, House.

To abide in the Word] To persevere in the Doctrine, both in the faith and practise of it unto the end, Joh. 8. 31. 2 Joh. 9.

Abjects] Psal. 35. 15. Men of no fame, Base men, Men viler then the Earth, Job 30. 8. Such as for their wickednesse are, or deserve to be smitten by the Magistrate, as Paul was by the Jews, though without cause, 2 Cor. 11. 24. Such as speak they care not what or how falsely against the people of God, Jer. 18. 18. See Schindler's Pentaglott in נכה.

Abigail] My Fathers joy. The Wife of Nabal, 1 Sam. 25. 3. Also the Daughter of Nahash the Mother of Amasa, 2 Sam. 17. 25.

Abihail] My Fathers strength. The Father of Zuriel, Numb. 3. 35. The Son of Huri, 1 Chr. 5. 14. The Wife of Rehoboam, 2 Chron. 11. 18. The Father of Esther, Esth. 2. 15. The Wife of Abishur, 1 Chr. 2. 29.

Abihu] He is Father, or, My Father himself. The Son of Aaron, Exod. 6. 23.

Abihud] The Father of Praise, or Confession. The Son of Bela, the Son of Benjamin, 1 Chr. 8. 3.

Abilene] The Fathers mansion, or habitation. A Country (neer Libanus) whereof Lysanias was Tetrarch, Luc. 3. 8.

Ability] Aptnesse and strength of Wit and Memory to comprehend and retaine Sciences, beside a great towardnesse, and withall industrious and vigorous bodies and mindes, Dan. 1. 4. And such as had ability. See Might, Mean, Power, Strength, New-heart, Conversion.

Ability is applyed to God, Ephes. 3. 20. To Christ, Heb. 2. 18. To the holy Scriptures, 2 Tim. 3. 15. To the Word of God, Jam. 1. 21. To Man, according to his power in bodily strength, Numb. 13. 30. Ability of estate, Deut. 16. 17. Gifts of minde, 2 Tim. 2. 2. Capacity, Mar. 4. 33. Grace received, Phil. 4. 13.

Abimael] A Father from God; or, My strong Father. The Son of Joctan, Gen. 10. 28.

Abimelech] My Father the King. The King of Gerar, Gen. 20. 2. A King of the Philistims in David's time, otherwise named Achis, Psa. 34. the title. Also the Son of Gideon by his Concubine, Judg. 8. 31.

Abinadab] A Father of a Vow, or, of a Free minde. The Son of Saul, 1 Sam. 31. 2. The Son of Jesse, 1 Sam. 16. 8. The Father of Eleazer, 1 Sam. 7. 1. The Son in law of Solomon, 1 King. 4. 11.

Abinoam] The Beauty of my Father: Barak was his Son, Judg. 4. 6.

Abiram] My high Father; or, A high Father. The Son of Eliab, Numb. 16. 1. The Son of Hiel, 1 King. 16. 34.

Abishag] My Fathers Ignorance, or Error. A Shunamite who cherished David, and ministred unto him when hee was old, 1 King. 1. 4.

Abishai] My Fathers Reward, or Offering. The Son of Zeruiah, and Brother of Joab, 1 Chr. 2. 16.

Abishua] My Father of Salvation. The Son of Phinees, 1 Chr. 6. 4. The Son of Bela, 1 Chr. 8. 4.

Abishur] The Father of a Song, or Wall; or, of Righteousnesse. The Son of Shammai, 1 Chr. 2. 28.

Abital] The Father of the Dew: David's Wife, 2 Sam. 3. 4.

Abitub] The Father of Goodnesse, 1 Chr. 8. 11.

Abiud] My Fathers Strength, or Beauty. The Son of Zerobabel, Mat. 1. 13.

Abner] My Fathers Lamp. The Son of Ner, 1 Sam. 14. 50.

Abolish] signifieth,

1. To make voyd, as the Pharisees and Scribes did the Commandement of God, that they might keep their owne Tradition, Mar. 7. 9.

2. To

2. To make the uſe of a thing to ceaſe, as of meats for the belly, and the belly for meats; for that in the life to come, the belly ſhall not need meat, 1 Cor. 6.13.

3. To do away; ſo Chriſt hath aboliſhed in his fleſh the enmity, even the law of Commandements contained in Ordinances, Eph. 2.15. the hand-writing of Ordinances, Col. 2.14. the Leviticall prieſthood, Heb. 7.11, 12.

4. To Deſtroy, 2 Theſſ. 2.8. 2 Tim. 1.10.

Abominable] Things Deteſtable, Unclean, Filthy, Abhorred, Loathſome; as, things forbidden Ceremonially, Lev. 7.21. & 11.43. & 19.7. Deut. 14.3. Iſa. 65.4. Jer. 16.18.

Things alſo forbidden Morally, as Heatheniſh cuſtomes, Lev. 18.30. Idols, 2 Chr. 15.8. Idolatry, Jer. 44.4. Works of wicked men, Pſal. 14.1. Iniquity, Pſal. 53.1. Scant meaſure, Mic. 6.10. So, men which drink in Iniquity like water, Job 15.16. which profeſſing to know God, in works deny him, Tit. 1.16. Murtherers, Whoremongers, &c. Rev. 21.8.

Abomination] 1. Some accurſed ſpiritual filthyneſſe, which deſerves to be fled from and abhorred of all men, as ominous, fearfull, and unhappy. Deut. 22.5. The man that weareth womans apparell, and the woman that putteth on mans raiment, both are Abomination unto the Lord, Prov. 12.22. The lying lips are an Abomination unto the Lord, Mat. 24.15. and often in Moſes and the Prophets. See Deut. 25.26. It importeth ſuch a vile thing as cauſeth us to turn our eyes from it, that wee cannot abide to look on it.

2. Some thing, which for the uncleanneſſe ſake might not be eaten or toucht, Lev. 11.10, 11.

Abomination is alſo taken, 1. For any impiety or ſin, Iſa. 66.3. Ezek. 16.50. 2. For Idolatry, Jer. 44.4. 3. For that which is hateſull and diſpleaſing, Lev. 11.20. To God, Deut. 27.15. To his Church, 1 King. 11.5, 7. So one to another, Prov. 29.27. 4. For the Abomination of Deſolation, or horrible Idolatry before Chriſt manifeſted, which was a type of Antichriſtianiſme, Dan. 9.27. 5. For that deſtruction of the Temple and Jewiſh policy by the Romans, not long after our Saviours aſcenſion, Mat. 24.15. 6. For Myſticall or Spirituall Abomination, Rev. 17.4. What things are Abominable or Abomination in Gods ſight, Deut. 7.25. & 25.16. & 27.15. Pſal. 5.6. Prov. 3.32. & 11.1. & 12.22. & 15.8. & 16.5. Iſa. 1.13. Luke 16.15.

The horrible Abominations of the Iſraelites, Gods own people, Ezek. 8.6. & 22.2, 3, &c.

The horrible Abominations of the Gentiles, Deut. 12.30. & 18.9. Joſ. 23.12. Rom. 1.29. Col. 3.5, 8. 1 Pet. 4.3.

To caſt Abomination upon one, is, to make him Filthy, Vile, and Unclean, Nah. 3.6.

To work Abomination, is, to bring in Idolatry, or the worſhip of falſe gods, 1 King. 11.7. and, to imitate the cuſtome of the Nations in ſinning, Jer. 32.35.

Abomination of deſolation] That, which all good men deteſt and hold accurſed, by reaſon of the ſhamefull and foul filthyneſſe of it, deſerving and bringing deſolation. And this is meant (as ſome doe think) of the Idols which the Romans not long after Chriſt his aſcenſion, ſet up in the Temple at Jeruſalem, whereupon followed deſolation, that is, the laying waſte and downfall of the Temple, City, and Nation of the Jews. This is the Abomination of deſolation foreſpoken by Dan. 9.17. and after ſpoken by Mat. 24.15. But Mr. Junius (not without great appearance of reaſon) interpreteth [Abomination] of the Army of the Romans, which conſiſted of abominable men, to wit, Infidels, who brought deſolation upon Temple, City and People. A deſolation to be executed by abominable men. (See Luk. 21.20. which expounds Matthew and Mark.)

Abound] ſpoken, 1. Of Earthly bleſſings, Prov. 28.20. 2. Spirituall grace and gifts, 2 Cor. 9.8. as in hope, Rom. 15.13. Conſolation ſuffering for Chriſt, 2 Cor. 1.5. Love, Phil. 1.9. Charitable relieving the poor members of Chriſt, 2 Cor. 8.7. Every good work, 2 Cor. 9.8. 3. Sin, Mat. 24.12. Rom. 5.20.

To abound] To know and feel the force of a thing abundantly and plentifully, Rom. 5.10. Where ſin abounded.

To abound: 1. To be in great meaſure or number. Sin is more then grace, for number of ſubjects on earth, more in operation upon thoſe ſubjects then grace. But the grace of Chriſt is more abundant then ſin: 1. In ſufficiency, to help and cure all; though not in efficiency to all, through the indiſpoſition of the ſubject: 2. In efficiency on the Elect, in whom grace prevaileth over ſin, Rom. 5.20.

2. To be felt and known in great meaſure; ſo where ſin (though leſſe then in ſome other perſon) is more felt by repentance, than in other perſons, grace ſhall abound with comfort, more then ſin did before with ſorrow; godly ſorrow in him, or wicked joy in others, Rom. 5. 20.

More abundantly] With daily and great encreaſe, and profiting in all ſpirituall conſolations and bleſſings which are heaped on the ſheep of Chriſt, who with his life accumulateth and poureth Celeſtiall gifts in all plenty upon his, Joh. 10. 10. Col. 1. 19. Eph. 1. 3.

Abundance of the heart] An heart abounding and ſtored with things good or evill, Mat. 12. 24. Of the abundance of the heart the mouth ſpeaketh.

Abundance] The plentifull converſion of the Jews toward the end of the world. Alſo the encreaſe of moſt excellent grace in them after this generall converſion, Rom. 11, 12. What ſhall their abundance be?

From above, or above] That which is from heaven, Act. 2. 19. Eſay. 6. 11.

2. That which is excellent, and of great account, alſo heavenly and ſpirituall, Gal. 4. 26. Jeruſalem which is from above.

3. Things which belong to the heavenly life, Col. 3. 1. Seek things which be above.

4. Chriſt, Joh. 3. 31.

5. God the Father, Jam. 1. 17.

Above all] One, who hath the chief authority and rule over the Church, Eph. 4. 6. Which is above all, Joh. 3. 31.

Abram] An high Father. The Son of Terah, Gen. 11. 26. whoſe name was changed into Abraham, which ſignifieth, A Father of a great multitude, Gen. 17. 5. It's compounded of אב a Father, רם high, and המון a multitude.

Abraham] A Father of a multitude, and figured Chriſt in the ſacrificing of his ſon (in full purpoſe) for a whole burnt-offering, Gen. 22. 2, 9, 11, 12. which did lively expreſſe the delivering up his onely Son by God, as a ſacrifice for our ſins, and raiſed for our Juſtification, that he might be Lord both of dead and living. Compare theſe places, Gen. 22. with Heb. 11. 19. Joh. 3. 16. 1 Joh. 4. 19.

To doe the works of Abraham] By doing works to prove themſelves the Children of Abraham, as they profeſſed themſelves to be: Joh. 8. 19. Note, Good works make not the Children of Abraham, but witneſſe they are ſo: as good fruits approve the trees to be good, but do not make them ſo.

Abrahams ſeed] Chriſt the Principall and Authour of Salvation, and all the Faithfull by him ſaved, Gen. 22. 17. Act. 3. 25. Gal. 3. 16 29. In Gen. 22. 27. it ſignifies Eſaus poſterity.

To Abrogate] To make void or fruſtrate: to lay away as of no uſe and fruit, or to no end. Thus grace is ſaid to be Abrogate, when righteouſneſſe is ſought by the works of the Law: for then the grace of God in giving Chriſt unto death, to merit righteouſneſſe for beleevers in him, were made vain and of none effect, Gal. 2. 21. Alſo, thus the Law is ſaid to be Abrogate, Eph. 2. 15. See how in the word [Law.] See Law, Ceremonies, Void.

Abſalom] A Father of Peace. David's Son, 2 Sam. 3. 3. Alſo, the Father of Maacah whom Rehoboam marryed, 2 Chr. 11. 20.

Abſence, referred to God] His with-holding ſome ſigne of his favour, or, the ſending ſome judgement. For, as touching his eſſence and power, he is never abſent from his creatures, Pſ. 77. 7. Will the Lord abſent himſelf for ever? Hence comes thoſe phraſes in the Pſalms and elſewhere, of Hiding his face, Turning his back, Departing, Returning, and the like.

To Abſtain from] To Separate, or Eſtrange and turn our minde from a thing with an hatred of it, 1 Pet. 2. 11. Abſtaine from fleſhly luſts, that is, crucifie the wicked deſires of corrupt nature. See to Faſt, to Deny, or, Strives to Forſake, Eſchew, Mortifie; alſo, Temperance, Sobriety.

Abuſe] of Chriſtian Liberty, to be reſtrained, 1 Cor. 8. 9. and of Cloaths, Iſa. 3. 18. Ezek. 7. 20. 1 Pet. 3. 3.

Abuſe is put for to uſe a mans right when it may be with ſcandall taken or given, 1 Cor. 9. 18. To uſe a thing beſide the right uſe thereof, and not as it ought to be, 1 Cor. 7. 31. To commit whoredome with, or mock, Judg. 19. 25.

A C. A C.

Accept] Referred to God; Man. To God, and then it ſignifieth,

1. The acceptation of our perſons when he receives us into favour, and is well pleaſed with us, Eph. 1. 6.

2. The acceptation of our works, when (though defective and imperfect) he approveth graciouſly thereof, through Chriſt, Gen. 4. 4. Pſal. 51. 19. Either of which is without reſpect of perſons, Rom. 2. 11. as who receiveth all ſuch as obey his Word, without regard of perſons, Iſa. 66. 3. 8.

To Man: Taken ſometime in a good ſenſe, ſenſe, as Gen. 32. 20. Dan. 4. 27. Rom. 15. 31. Sometimes in an evil, Job 13. 10. whom God accepteth, them he receiveth into grace and favour, loveth, regardeth, honoreth and highly eſteemeth.

To Accept us] 1. To receive into favour, and to be well pleaſed with our perſons, being before through ſin eſtranged from God, Eph. 1. 6. He hath accepted us freely in his beloved: this is the acceptation of our perſons.

2. To approve graciouſly our imperfect and ſpotted works, by the free forgiveneſſe through Chriſt, of thoſe wants and faults which ſtick unto them, Gen. 4. 7. 1 Pet. 2. 5. Pſal. 51. 19. Then thou ſhalt accept our ſacrifice, &c. This is the acceptation of our works. The word which is tranſlated [Accepted] in that place of Gen. 4. 7. being of divers ſignifications in the Hebr. tongue, hath cauſed that divers diverſly rendred it: Some doe Engliſh it [lifting up,] either of Cains countenance and conſcience which were caſt down, or of honouring of his Sacrifice. Others tranſlate it [remitted] as Hierom, & the Chalde Paraphraſt expounded it, of free forgiveneſſe of ſins upon his repentance. Others Engliſh it by [receive] to wit, a reward and recompence of his amendment, as the old Tranſlation readeth it. And laſtly, by others it is interpreted by accepting, meaning to become gracious and gratefull to God, as Abel's Sacrifice was, ſo he did beleeve as Abel did; as Calvin, and Pareus, and moſt Interpreters doe tranſlate. Howſoever, the ſumme is this, that good works which proceed from true belief, and a pure conſcience by forgiveneſſe of faults, pleaſe God; and with his favour have a bleſſing and free reward given to them.

Acception of perſon, or Reſpect of perſons] Reſpect or favour given to one before another for ſome outward quality, as of Nation, Riches, Kindred, Honour, Friendſhip, and ſuch like. Act. 10. 34. This is the uſe of men, Jam. 2. 1. 9. but not of God. God is no Accepter of perſons. For in every Nation, he that feareth God is accepted, Rom. 2. 11.

2. The favour or reſpect that is given to one before another, becauſe of his virtue or godlineſſe, Act. 10. 35.

There is then no cauſe why any ſhould deny the Eternall Election of God, depending upon his own good pleaſure alone, as the moving cauſe, leſt he be counted an accepter of perſons. See Perſon.

Acceptable] Applyed to a godly mans words and meditation, Pſal. 19. 14. Eccleſ. 12. 10. Time, Pſal. 69. 13. A day, Iſa. 68. 5. A yeer, Iſa. 61. 1. Good counſell, Dan. 4. 27. Gods will, Rom. 12. 1.

The things Acceptable to God, are, Doing of Judgement and Juſtice, Prov. 23. 3. Our preſenting our ſelves to God as we ought, Rom. 12. 1. To ſerve Chriſt, Rom. 14. 18. People won by the Goſpel, and ſanctified by the holy Ghoſt, Rom. 15. 16. Charitableneſſe, 2 Cor. 8. 12. All in Chriſt, Eph. 1. 6. Succouring Gods Miniſters in diſtreſſe, Phil. 4. 18. Praying for men in lawfull authority, 1 Tim. 2. 3. That Children do requite their Parents, 1 Tim. 5. 4. Spirituall ſacrifice by Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Pet. 2. 8. To ſuffer patiently for well doing, 1 Pet. 2. 5.

Acceſſe] A drawing toward, or coming neerer, not of our owne accord, but being of God brought freely to this dignity, Rom. 5. 2. We have acceſſe unto this grace, &c. that is, we may approach into his gracious preſence, being now reconciled to God, having our ſins forgiven unto us, through Chriſt apprehended and laid hold on even by faith, Eph. 2. 18.

Accompliſh] It's put for, To yeeld and condeſcend unto, 1 King. 5. 9. To fulfill, 2 Chr. 36. 22. To perform, Jer. 44. 25. To endure to the end, or finiſh, Luk. 9. 31. To obtain, or bring to paſſe, Prov. 13. 19. To leave nothing undone, Lam. 4. 11.

God doth accompliſh his Word, Joſh. 21. 45. 1 Sam. 3. 19. And that, both in predictions, promiſes, and threats.

One accord] Agreement or conſent of hearts, Phil. 2. 2. Of one accord, Act. 4. 32. that is, of one judgement and will.

Like-minded, Phil. 2. 2. Knit together as one man, Judg. 20. 11. Knit together in Love, Col. 2. 2, 19. Perfectly joyned in the ſame minde, in the ſame judgement, ſpeaking the ſame thing, without diviſion, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

According] ſignifieth, firſt, Likeneſſe, and that diverſly,

1. In Quantity.

2. In Quality, though not in Quantity, Eph. 4. 24.

3. In Proportion, or Relation, Rom. 12. 6.

According to the promiſe of life] To declare to men that promiſe of eternall life made of God in Chriſt, 2 Tim. 2. 1. It noteth the finall cauſe.

According to God] With God, or having God going before us, Joh. 3. 21. That they are wrought according to God:

1. According to his Will in his Word, which which muſt go before us in doing Duties, as a guide or lanthorn.

2. According to his Example.

3. According to the Grace he giveth us.

Secondly, Reaſonableneſſe of a matter, or the reaſon and inducement of ſome action, 2 Pet. 1. 3. and is as much as Becauſe.

In that ſaying of the Apoſtle, Rom. 2. 6. [According to works] the word [According] noteth not the cauſe of that wherewith it is joyned, but the manner thereof: for good works in the order and meaning of attaining ſalvation, have a neceſſary ſtanding, but in the cauſe of ſalvation they are ſhut out.

According, hath relation to the Matter, Numb. 29. 40. To the Manner, Numb. 29. 6. To the Number, Numb. 29. 18.

Account] To be given unto God, Rom. 14. 12. by All, 2 Cor. 5. 10. at the Day of Judgement, 1 Pet. 4. 5. of all their Words, Mat. 12. 36. of all their Works & Thoughts, Eccleſ. 12. 14.

Accurſed] 1. Separate from all humane uſe, and appointed to temporall deſtruction, Joſh. 6. 20. 21. Keep ye from the accurſed thing.

2. Separate from Chriſt, and appointed to eternall deſtruction, Gal. 1. 9. Let him bee accurſed, Rom. 9. 3. I would be accurſed (or ſeparate) from Chriſt for my kinſmen. In theſe words holy Paul maketh no ſuch prayer or wiſh, that he might periſh (for this had been unlawfull and vain too, both againſt the conſtant purpoſe of God, and his own aſſurance, teſtified Rom. 8. 38, 39. Neither was Paul bound to love the Jews ſalvation more then Chriſt and his grace:) but by this manner of ſpeech being conditionall, he bewrayes his deep affection for the Jews his kinſmen, in that (if it could have been) he was ready to have redeemed their eternall deſtruction with his own. Like to that wiſh of David concerning Abſalom, 2 Sam. 18. 33.

3. Execrable, 1 Cor. 12. 3.

This word is applyed, to Place, Joſh. 6. 17. Perſon, Gal. 1. 8. Thing, 1 Chr. 2. 7.

To accuſe] To lay an evill or fault to ones charge: this is done either truely or falſely; ſecretly or openly. Joh. 8. 10. Woman, where are thine Accuſers? Act. 24. 13, 19. Men accuſe God, one man accuſeth another, and Satan accuſeth the Brethren; Alſo, our own thoughts do accuſe us, Rev. 12. Ro. 2. 5.

Accuſer] 1. Some man.

2. Satan, Rev. 12. 9. Who therefore is called the devill, becauſe he is a falſe accuſer, Rev. 12. As contrarily every falſe Accuſer may be called a Devil; and ſo is the Greek Etymologie of the word, 1 Tim. 3. 12.

Aceldama] The field of blood, Act. 1. 19. Of חלי a Field, and דם Blood.

Achaia] A Region of Greece, whereof Corinth was the chief City, 2 Cor. 1. 1. And for that the Romans by means of the Acheans had conquered the Grecians, Gallio is termed the Deputy, not of Greece, but of Achaia, Act. 18. 12. It's alſo taken for the Saints dwelling therein, 2 Cor. 9. 2. It ſeems to be derived from ἀχθ, which ſignifieth Sadneſſe, Grief. Hence Achaicus born in Achaia, 1 Cor. 16. 17.

Achan] Troubling, named alſo Achar, the Troubler of Iſrael, who tranſgreſſed in the thing accurſed, 1 Chr. 2. 7. and was ſtoned in the valley of Achor, (trouble) from whom it had its denomination, Joſh. 7. 26.

Achbor] A mouſe. Father to Baal-hanan, Gen. 36. 38. Alſo the Son of Michaiah, 2 King. 22. 12. called alſo Abdon, 2 Chr. 34. 20.

Achim] Riſing again, or confirming, or revenging, or their brother. The Son of Sadoc, Mat. 1. 14.

Achiſh] It is ſo, or, ſure it is. The King of Gath to whom David fled, 1 Sam. 21. 10. And another King of Gath in the dayes of Solomon, 1 King. 2. 39, 40.

Achſah] Trim, neat, deck'd; or, wantonneſſe, laſciviouſneſſe, diſhoneſty. The Daughter of Caleb, Judg. 1. 12.

Achſaph] A priſoner, ſorcerer, or witch. A City in the Tribe of Aſer, Joſh. 11. 1.

Achzib] A lyer. A City in the Tribe of Judah, Joh. 15. 44.

To acknowledge] To take knowledge of Gods Word, to rule our ſelves by it; Alſo of his providence, what it is that he doth to us either in anger or in mercy. Pro. 3. 6. In all thy wayes acknowledge God.

2. To joyn and adde knowledge unto knowledge, or to encreaſe our knowledge, when we know a truth more certainly and clearly then we were wont to doe, Luk. 1. 4. That thou mayſt acknowledge, &c. Tit. 1. 3.

3. Openly and frankly to utter and ſhew forth our known ſins, or Gods owne perfections, 1 Joh. 1. 6. If we acknowledge our ſins, Pſal. 32. 5. Then I acknowledged my ſins unto thee.

4. To take others for ſuch as they are, loving them, and having them in due account, 1 Theſſ. 5. 12. Acknowledge them that admoniſh you, and have them in ſingular love for their work. Note this generally, that words of knowledge doe many times comprehend affections in them.

It's put for to know and acknowledge,

Gen.

Gen. 38. 26. To take notice of, Deut. 33. 9. To confeſſe, Pſal. 32. 5. To think upon, Prov. 3. 6. To profeſſe to be, Iſa. 61. 9. To take them to be ſo, Jer. 24. 5. To make profeſſion of, Dan. 11. 39. Certainly knowing, to profeſſe that knowledge, Tit. 1. 1. To approve, 2 Cor. 1. 13.

Acts] applyed to God (whoſe acts are righteous, Judg. 5. 11. Mighty, Pſal. 106. 2. Great, Deut. 11. 7. Terrible, Pſal. 145. 6.) To men; but uſually to Kings, Princes, and great perſonages, as of David, Solomon.

A D.

Adadah] The witneſſe of an aſſembly; or, adorned. The name of a City, Joſh. 15. 22.

Adah] An aſſembly of people. The Wife of Lamech, Gen. 4. 23. The Wife of Eſau, Gen. 36. 2.

Adaiah] The witneſſe of the Lord; or, everlaſtingneſſe of God. A Levite, 1 Chr. 6. 41. Ioſiah his Grandfather by the Mother, 2 King. 22. 1. Alſo a Son of Shimhi, 1 Chr. 8. 21. Alſo the Son of Jeroboam, 1 Chr. 9. 12. The Father of Maaſiah, 2 Chr. 23. 1. The Son of Bani, Ezr. 10. 29.

Adalia] Poverty, or drawing water, or any thing greedily. The Son of Haman, Eſth. 9. 8.

Adam] Either the firſt man ſo called, being great parent, root and head of all mankinde, deriving into them as his branches and members, ſin and death, Rom. 5. 12, 13, &c. a body with life, ſenſe, motion, ſubject to naturall operations and affections, 1 Cor. 15. 45. Or elſe, Chriſt Jeſus, the root, head, and beginning of all the elect and beleevers, unto whom he conveyeth in this life, his righteouſneſſe by imputation, and his Spirit or grace by infuſion; and in the life to come, perfect glory both to ſoul and body, which by his quickning ſpirit he cauſeth to be ſpirituall and moſt glorious, free from all naturall infirmities, affections and actions, and filled with immortality and bliſſe, Rom. 5. 14, 15, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 46, 47.

As in the firſt Adam mankinde was made, ſo in the latter Adam it was reſtored: the Elect come from Chriſt by regeneration, as all men from Adam by generation.

The former Adam is called the firſt Adam, and Chriſt the laſt Adam, becauſe the former was a type of the latter, in the forenamed reſpects, Rom. 5. 14. ſo he was formed of clay, touching his body, before Chriſt as concerning the fleſh, was born of the Virgin. Hence it is, that the natural man being before the ſpiritual man, therefore the Saints have firſt naturall bodies in this life, and afterwards at the reſurrection they ſhall have ſpirituall bodies, full of glory, and wholly ruled and moved by the Spirit, not by the ſoul as now they be. For Nature in all things proceedeth from the leſſe perfect unto the more perfect; but the naturall body is more unperfect then is the ſpirituall, therefore the natural body wel fitteth this preſent life, and the ſpiritual will beſeem the future perfection in a life which is heavenly, 1 Cor. 15. 46.

Adam by notation of the word, is red Earth: and it is a name either Proper, as Gen. 2. 7, 17, 19, 20, 22, 23. or Appellative, as Gen. 2. 16. & Gen. 5. 2. noting ſometime the whole humane kinde, and ſometime that particular man ſo called. Alſo the name of a City, Joſh. 3. 16.

Adamah] Earthly, or red. A City deſtroyed with Sodom, called alſo Admah, Gen. 10. 19. Alſo a City in the Tribe of Naphtali, Joſh. 19. 36.

Adamant] A precious ſtone, which is of an exceeding hard temper. In alluſion hereunto it was ſaid unto Ezekiel, As an adamant harder then flint have I made thy forehead, Ezek. 3. 9. that is, I have put an invincible courage into thee, ſo as no force of theirs ſhall be able to prevaile againſt thee. And it is ſaid by Zechariah, They made their hearts as an adamant ſtone, Zech. 7. 12. that is, They wilfully hardened their hearts againſt the counſels given them by the Lord. As it is utterly impierceable, the fire not being able to conſume it, nor the hammer to break it: So their hearts were impenitent; which yet the blood of Chriſt could mollifie, as goats blood the adamant.

Adar] High or eminent.

1. The name of a moneth anſwering to our February.

2. The Son of Iſhmael, Gen. 25. 15.

3. A King of Edom, Gen. 36. 39. named alſo Hadad, 1 Chr. 1. 50.

4. The name of a place, Joſh. 15. 3.

Adbeel] Vapour, or cloud with God. The Son of Iſhmael, Gen. 25. 13.

Addan] Foundation, or ground. A mans name, Ezr. 2. 59.

Adde] 1. To put unto, Rev. 22. 18. If any man ſhall adde to theſe things in this book, &c. Prov. 30. 6. Put nothing to his word, Deut. 12. 32. Men adde to the Word of God, when they put ſomething to the ſervice of God which he hath not commanded for his ſervice: or do make that to be Scripture, putting to it ſomewhat which is falſe, or taking from it ſomewhat which is true. Thus do the Romaniſts, as a man half blind may ſee.

2. To

2. To encreaſe, Gen. 30. 24.

3. To caſt in ſomething as a ſurpluſage and overplus. Mat. 6. 33. All other things ſhall be added, or miniſtred unto you.

4. To inflict ſome heavy judgement; or, to plague one with the increaſe of wrath. Rev. 22. 10. I will adde unto him all the plagues, &c.

To adde nothing to one] Not to afford any the leaſt thing unto that which Paul had already learned from Chriſt by immediate and extraordinary enlightning. Gal. 2. 6 They who ſeemed to be ſomewhat added nothing to me. His meaning is, that other Apoſtles which had been familiar with Chriſt and his Diſciples long afore Paul, (for which matters, they had more account and opinion amongſt men) yet inſtructed him no whit at all either how or what to preach. This is ſpoken againſt ſuch corrupt and cunning Teachers, who commended the other Apoſtles, to diſgrace Paul, when as they cared for neither Paul nor them.

Adder] It's exceeding venemous, and ſo moſt dangerous whoſe poyſon is moſt deadly. Hereof Jacob: Dan ſhall be an adder in the path, &c. Gen. 49. 17. That phrale adders poyſon is under their lips, Pſal. 140. 3. may be applyed both unto Backbiters and Flatterers. So the immoderate drinking of wine ſtingeth like an Adder, Prov. 23. 32. As the Adder ſubtilly ſtoppeth her ears, the one on the earth, the other with her taile, that ſhe may not hear the voyce of the Charmer, Pſal. 58. 5. So the ungodly will not hear Gods Word. Where it's ſaid, Thou ſhalt tread upon the lyon and adder, Pſal. 91. 31. thereby is promiſed preſervation from danger, whether open or hid.

Adiel] Witneſſe, or everlaſtingneſſe of God, or ornament of God, 1 Chr. 4. 36.

Adin] Delicious, or voluptuous, Ezr. 2. 15. So Adina the Son of Shiza, 1 Chr. 11. 42.

Adithaim] An aſſembly, Joſh. 15. 36.

To adjure] 1. To command a thing by interpoſing the authority and name of God or Chriſt, Act. 19. 13. We adjure you by Jeſus.

See Exorciſt, to Swear, Oath.

2. To demand or command an oath of one for more ſafety and certainty, Mar. 5. 7. Where the ſame word is in the Greek, as in the former place of the Acts, to lay the oath of God upon one, Mat. 26. 63.

3. To ſwear earneſtly, or to affirm a matter with a great proteſtation of calling God to witneſſe for the better credit of that we ſay, Mat. 14. 7.

Adlai] Witneſſe to me, 1 Chr. 27. 27.

Adminiſtration] A publick function or charge, 1 Cor. 12. 5. There are diverſities of adminiſtrations.

Admire] They are ſaid:

1. Which doe approve, commend and prayſe any thing as excellent, Mat. 8. 10.

2. Who look upon any thing unuſuall and extraordinary, whereof they know not the cauſe, Gen. 43. 33. Mat. 8. 27. Mar. 12. 17.

3. Who diſlike or diſapprove of any thing as to be condemned, Mar. 6. 6.

4. Who are amazed and aſtoniſhed at the ſight and hearing of any thing, Pſal. 48. 6. Gal. 1. 6.

Admonition] Firſt, A warning by word or ſpeech; when we are wiſely, earneſtly, and lovingly put in minde of ſome duty to be done, or ſome ſin to be left undone, 1 Theſſ. 5. 14. Admoniſh one another.

This is private admonition. Verſ. 12. ſpeaketh of publick admonition. Alſo Tit. 3. 10. Rom. 15. 14.

There are two things required in him that ſhould admoniſh and inſtruct other.

1. Knowledge: That he be not ignorant what, and how, and when, and whom to admoniſh.

2. Goodneſſe: That he be not blameworthy in that wherein he will admoniſh another (that he may edifie by example as well as by words) eſpecially that he have a good charitable minde.

Secondly, A warning by example, 1 Cor. 10. 11. Theſe things came for enſample, and were written to admoniſh us.

Admonition of the Lord] Such inſtruction for warning our mindes, as is drawn out of the Word of the Lord, and is acceptable to him, Eph. 6. 4. Bring up your children in the admonition of the Lord.

Adna] Everlaſting reſt, or pleaſure, Ezr. 10. 30.

Adonijah] A ruling Lord; or, The Lord is the Ruler. David's Son. 2 Sam. 3. 4.

Adoni-bezek] The Lord of thunder. A tyrannicall King. Judg. 1. 6, 7.

Adonikam] The Lord is riſen. Ezr. 2. 13.

Adoniram] The high Lord. The Receiver of Solomon's tributes, 1 King. 4. 6.

Adoni-zedek] The righteouſneſſe of the Lord. A King of Jeruſalem, Joſh. 10. 1.

Adoption] 1. The purpoſe of God eternally decreeing to make ſome his children, Eph. 1. 5. This is the adoption of God's purpoſe.

See Sons of God, Children.

2. A taking or admitting one actually, to be a Son by favour, who is none by nature; and and to adopt is actually to make him for a Son who is the childe of wrath by nature. Rom. 8. 15. Ye have received the Spirit of adoption. Actual adoption, which is all one with effectuall vocation, Rom. 8. 30.

3. The dignity of being Gods people. Rom. 9. 4. To whom pertains the adoption. This is externall adoption.

Spirit of adoption] A speciall gift of the Spirit, certifying us of our adoption, and whereby the elect be actually adopted to be Gods children. Rom. 8. 16. We have received the Spirit of Adoption to cry Abba, Father.

To wait for the adoption] Earnestly to look for the fruition and enjoying of our adoption, in a full restoring at the last day. Rom. 8. 23. We wait for our adoption. This is adoption compleat and perfect; to wit, glorification in heaven.

Adoption is (forense verbum) taken from civil Lawyers, who thus define it: A legitimate act imitating Nature, found out for the solace and comfort of such as want children. This being applyed unto God, is a favour vouchsafed to some of Adams posterity, to be accounted children of God through grace, which by nature were children of wrath. Foundation hereof, Gods love to mankinde, 1 Joh. 3. 1. and his love to his Son Christ, in whom others are beloved, Eph. 1. 6. And so much is this love the greater, because God needed not such a comfort, for he had a Son. Howbeit, having none in our kinde, which was wholly estranged from him in Adam, his mercy moved him both to purpose eternally, and perform in time actually, the adoption of some; to which end his Son was incarnate, and made our Brother, Heb. 2. and by his passion removed sin, the cause of hatred, Col. 2.

3. Sendeth his Word that immortal seed, causeth the promise of adoption to be preached.

4. Giveth his Spirit, Gal. 4. 5,6.

5. It ingendreth faith, whereby the elect are ingraffed into Christ the eldest Son, and so are justified by imputation, and thereupon enter into the adoption of Sons, which whilest they were enemies and unjust they could not be.

6. After this cometh regeneration, or renovation of the heart, giving inherent justice or holyness: whereof followeth

7. The earnest of the Spirit, a certain sense and perswasion of adoption, which yet is not perfect by reason of remaining sin, nor known to others by means of crosses: therefore,

8. Shall be both consummate and fully manifested at the resurrection, Rom. 8. 23. 1 Joh. 3. 2.

To receive the adoption of Sons] To obtain, enjoy and actually possesse the right and liberty of Sons; which is freedome from the tutorship of the Law: as an heir when he comes to full age, hath the fruition of the inheritance, from which (being a childe) he was detained under Governours. Gal. 4. 5. That we may receive the adoption of Sons.

To predestinate unto the adoption] To foreordain or appoint from everlasting, such as shall by an actuall calling believe in Christ, and by such faith be made of favour or adopted to be the Sons of God; for adoption doth here signifie effectuall vocation of Christ. Eph. 1. 5. Having predestinated us to the adoption of children by Jesus Christ. This sentence seemeth to be all one with that in Rom. 8. 30. Whom he predestinated them he called.

Adoraim] The strength of the Sea. A City, 2 Chr. 11. 9.

Adoram, or Hadoram] Their praise. David's Tribute-gatherer, 2 Sam. 20. 24. Also Rehoboam's, 1 King. 12. 18. Also the Son of Jocktan, Gen. 10. 27. and of Tou King of Hamath, 1 Chr. 18. 9.

Adorn] To deck, dresse, garnish, beautifie: Spoken of,

1. An earthly adorning of a place, Luk. 25. 5. or an outward state, Jer. 31. 4.

2. A corporall adorning, Isa. 61. 10. 1 Pet. 3. 3.

3. A moral adorning with virtues, 1 Tim. 2. 9. 1 Pet. 3. 4, 5.

4. A Christian adorning Religion by a good conversation, Tit. 2. 10.

5. A spirituall and heavenly adorning, as the Spouse of Christ, Rev. 21. 2.

Adramelech] The greatnesse, power, or counsell of the King. The Son of Sennacherib, 2 Ki. 19. 37. Also the name of one of the gods of Sepharvaim, 2 King. 17. 31.

Adramyttium] A neat commonalty. A City of Mysia, in a ship of which Paul sailed, Act. 27. 2.

Adria] The Adriaticall Sea, whereon Paul sailed as he went to Rome, Act. 27. 27.

Adriel] The flock of God, 2 Sam. 21. 8.

Advance] To lift up the head, Gen. 40. 13. To promote, Numb. 22. 17. To make high, Deut. 26. 19. To exalt, 1 Sam. 2. 1. To raise up, 1 Sam. 2. 8. To increase in glory, Psal. 49. 16. To set over, Heb. 2. 7.

Advantage] Gain, benefit, or profit, either spiritual or earthly. Phil. 1. 12. Christ is to me advantage. Mat. 16. 26. What will it advantage (or profit) a man to win the world & to lose himself?

Adversary]

Adversary] Either Satan, or the wicked, which be the instruments by whom he worketh, 1 Pet. 5. 8. 1 Tim. 5. 14. 1 Cor. 16. 9.

Such are they that afflict, Exod. 22. 22. Stand against, Numb. 22. 22. Provoke to ill, 1 Sam. 1. 6. Do mischief, 1 King. 11. 14. Abhor others, 1 King. 11. 25. Plot mens ruine, Neh. 4. 11. Reproach and blaspheme, Psal. 74. 10. Would hinder peace, 2 Sam. 19. 22. Craftily pretend friendship to do evill, Ezr. 4. 1, 2. Seek for hurt of another, Psal. 71. 23. Are haters, Psal. 81. 15. Speak against, use words of hatred, and fight against, Psal. 109. 2, 3, 4, 20.

Adultery] 1. Uncleanness about the act of generation between two persons, whereof one at the least is married. Heb. 13. 4. Adulterers God will judge. Joh. 8. 3. A woman taken in adultery.

See To sin against the body; fornication.

2. All manner of uncleanness about desire of sex, together with the occasions, causes, and means thereof, as in the seventh commandement, Exod 20. 14. Thou shalt not commit adultery. A Synecdoche.

Of this sin one may be guilty many ways:

First, of ignorance, Gen. 20. 2.

Secondly, in heart and desire, Gen. 39. 7. Prov. 5. 20.

Thirdly, in looking, Mat. 5. 27, 28.

Fourthly, in using allurements, Pro. 7. 18.

Fiftly, to occasion the sin, Man. 19. 9.

Sixtly, to partake with the adulterer, Psal. 50. 18.

Seventhly, to act the sin, Joh. 8. 4.

3. The immoderate love of pleasures and worldly profits more then God, Jam. 4. 4.

Idolatry which is called spirituall adultery, as corporal adultery is no lesse then covetousnesse a spirituall Idolatry, Col. 3. 5.

Advocate] 1. One that pleadeth for another at any Bar of Justice. This is proper signification.

2. One that pleadeth the cause of beleeving sinners at the Bar of Gods Justice. Christ alone performs this office by the everlasting merit of his death. 1 Joh. 2. 2. We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous. Here fall down the multitude of Advocates set up in the Romish Synagogue, to Christ his great dishonour, who onely is our Advocate, because he alone is our Propitiator or Reconciler. All words which concern Christ his mediation, are to be understood exclusively, shutting out all creatures.

Adullam] Witnesse; or, an ornament to them. A City, Josh. 12. 12.

Adummim] Earthly, red, Josh. 15. 7.

A E.

Aeneas] The proper name of a man, Act. 9. 33. ἀπὸ τοῦ αἶνος, praise-worthy.

Aenon] The name of a Town neer Salim, not far from Jordan where John did baptise, Joh. 3. 23. It signifieth a little fountain, from the root עין, an eye.

A F.

Affection] 1. Passions which affect the minde with some grief or pain, especially when they are strong and vehement. Rom. 7. 5. The affections of sin wrought in us. In the Originall text it is read, the passions of sin.

2. More entire feeling, and hearty love. 2 Cor. 7. 5. His inward affection is more abundant to you.

Affection] 1. Naturall, Rom. 1. 31. as of Parents to Children, Gen. 21. 15, 19. Grand-fathers, Gen. 48. 10. Brethren, Gen. 42. 24.

2. Pious for Religion, Ruth 1. 16.

3. Christian act, Act. 4. 32. Gal. 4. 15.

4. Heavenly, Col. 3. 2.

5. Corrupt and vile, Rom. 1. 26.

6. Inordinate, Col. 3. 5.

It's put for the Minde, Col. 3. 2. the Will, 1 Chr. 29. 3. Unnaturall lusts, Rom. 1. 26. Passions, Gal. 5. 24. Inward and hearty love, 2 Cor. 7. 15.

Affliction] Any trouble, grief, or evill whatsoever, that hapneth either to soul or body, name, goods, or estate, for correction of sin, or for tryal, as it doth to the godly; or for punishment and vengeance, as to the wicked. Rom. 2. 8. Anguish, affliction. Also ch. 5. 3.

Affliction is the evill of punishment, and with respect unto the life to come, is put for externall torments, Rom. 2. 8, 9. With relation unto this life, it's taken either properly, or lesse properly. More properly, and that either largely for any evill of punishment; or more strictly.

1. For oppression, injury, vexation, Gen. 26. 11. Exod. 4. 31.

2. Persecution, Act. 12. 19. Mar. 4. 17. Rev. 7. 10.

3. Extraordinary calamities, Mat. 24. 21.

4. Famine, Jer. 28. 8. and poverty, Isa. 58. 10.

5. Sadnesse and grief of mind, Neh. 2. 2.

6. Marriage troubles and cares, 1 Cor. 7. 28.

Lesse

Leſſe properly, and ſo it's taken for faſting, Ezr. 9. 5. Whence theſe phraſes, To afflict our ſouls, Lev. 16. 29. To afflict our ſelves before God, Ezr. 8. 21.

This is ſpoken of God afflicting Man, Numb. 11. 11.

Of Man afflicting Man, Heb. 11. 37.

Of Man afflicting himſelf, Iſa. 58. 3.

Afflictions of the Goſpel] Perſecutions raiſed againſt Chriſtians for the profeſſion of the Goſpel, 2 Tim. 1. 8.

Affirm] It's ſometime after a bare manner, Rom. 3. 8. Sometime with confidence, Act. 12. 15. and conſtancy, Tit. 3. 8. It's put for to teach, 1 Tim. 1. 7. for to maintain as a truth, Act. 25. 19.

Afraid] of Gods Preſence, Gen. 3. 10. Voyce, Mat. 17. 7. Anger, Deut. 9. 19. Puniſhments on others, 2. Sam. 6. 9. Threatnings, Jer. 36. 16. Divine viſions and dreams, Dan. 4. 5. & 8. 17. Diſpleaſure, Jonah 1. 5. Of our lives, Joſh. 9. 24. Death, Jer. 26. 21. Mocking, Jer. 38. 19. Great mens countenances, Ezek. 2. 6. Evill mens malice and envy, Gen. 31. 31. Perill, Gen. 42. 28. A powerfull enemy, Exod. 14. 10. A glorious countenance, Exod. 34. 30. Ill news, 1 Sam. 28. 20. Ungodly men, 2 King. 22. 5. The majeſty of a King, Neh. 2. 2. authority, Act. 22. 29. Troubles forecaſt, Job 3. 25. A ſpirit, Mar. 6. 49. Deſtruction, Job 5. 21. Angels, Mat. 28. 8. At a miraculous work, Mar. 5. 15. At an heavenly light, Act. 22. 9.

To come after one] To be manifeſted, and to have his Miniſtery or Propheticall office made known in time after the baptiſme and doctrine of John. Mat. 3. 11. He that cometh after me. Chriſt was before John by his Divinity or Godhead, but he was born man, and ſhewed himſelf in his Miniſtry after John, who was born before Jeſus, and began to preach and baptize ſome half yeer or thereabout before him.

After] It's put for according, Act. 15. 1. When, Act. 5. 4. To follow, Act. 20. 30. And noteth order of time, Mat. 3. 11. In growth, Mar. 4. 28. Of things done, Act. 13. 15. Of dignities, 1 Cor. 12. 28.

A G.

Agabus] A locuſt, graſſe-hopper, or lobſter, Alſo, the pleaſantneſſe or joyfulneſſe of the Father; or, from the Syriack, אגבא A Commiſſary, or one who is in office. A Prophet, Act. 11. 28.

Agag] A garret, or upper room. The King of Amalek, 1 Sam. 15. 8.

Again] 1. As before; to wit, when by the preaching of the Law the Spirit wrought ſervile fear in your hearts, Rom. 8. 15. To fear again, Heb. 6. 6. that is, the ſecond time, or any more.

2. Backward; whereas ye ought to have held on forward unto the mark of perfection, ye have ſtept back from Chriſtianiſme, and Judaiſme, Gal. 4. 9. How turn ye again to impotent rudiments? This cannot be meant in the former ſignification (but by an hard Catachreſis) becauſe the Galatians had been converted from Paganiſme, not from Jewiſh Phariſaiſme.

Againſt] It's put for, Toward, Act. 8. 26. Before, Numb. 25. 4. With, Gen. 14. 2. Contrarily, Gal. 2. 7. Over againſt, Act. 20. 15. Adverſary, Mat. 12. 30.

Againſt Chriſt] Haters of Chriſt, and open blaſphemers. Mat. 12. 30. He that is not with me, is againſt me.

This place and that in St. Luk. 9. 50. He that is not againſt us is with us, ſeem to be contradictory, but yet conſidered in the ſame matters, they are propoſitions convertible. The Phariſees were not with Chriſt in affection, but yet in company they were; the other ſpoken of Luk. 9. 49, 50. was not with Chriſt in fellowſhip or company, but yet he was in affection.

Or in the firſt place, and in Luk. 11. 23. we muſt underſtand,

1. A poſitiveneſſe of power in the perſon to doe good.

2. A privation or negation in doing of it.

(i.) He that can, and will not, or doth not do me good, is againſt me.

In the other place, Luk. 9. 50. we muſt underſtand,

1. A poſition or affirmation of power in the perſon to be againſt Chriſt.

2. A negation or privation of abuſing that power.

(i.) He that can be, and yet is not againſt me, he is with me.

They were not againſt Chriſt, which did think reverendly of him, and make open profeſſion of him; but ſuch as reproached him, his doctrine and works, are here ſaid to be againſt him. As appeareth by comparing together the 30, 31 & 32 verſes of the 12 Chap. of St. Matthew.

Againſt thee] Thee onely being privy and conſcious; or offended and ſcandalized. Mat. 18. 15. If thy Brother treſpaſſe againſt thee.

Agat] A precious ſtone, whereby the wearer ſhunneth dangers, hath his ſtrength encreaſed, and becommeth eloquent. Exod. 28. 19.

Age] It's put for time, Job 8. 8. Time apt for conception, Heb. 11. 11. Time of life or dayes, Pſal. 39. 5. Yeers, Joſh. 23. Oldneſſe, Gen. 48. 10.

Ages] ſignifie 1. Times which are, or have been, or be to come, ſucceeding times, Eph. 3. 5. & 2. 7.

2. Men which live in thoſe times, Luk. 1. 48. All ages ſhall call me bleſſed.

Agee] A valley, or deepneſſe. The Father of Shammah, 2 Sam. 23. 11.

Agony] 1. Any fight, conflict, wreſtling, or ſtriſe.

2. The deep ſoul-ſorrow, and extream anguiſh of Chriſt, wreſtling and ſtriving not onely with the terrour of death, but with the infinite juſtice and wrath of God, highly diſpleaſed with our ſins. Luk. 22. 44. And he was in an agony, &c. If any think this agony did ariſe meerly from a fear of naturall death in Chriſt, they think too unworthily of Chriſt his excellent fortitude, of his Fathers infinite juſtice, of mans moſt horrible and execrable ſins.

Agreement] See Communion, One, Unity, Indifferent, Conſent, Like-minded.

Agreement, in puniſhing ſin, Judg. 20. 1. Exalting and ſetting up a good King, 2 Sam. 5. 1. Helping the diſtreſſed, 1 Sam. 11. 7. Setting up the place of Gods worſhip, Ezr. 3. 1. The exerciſes of Religion, Neh. 8. 1. The open profeſſion and performance of the duties of Chriſtianity, Act. 2. 46 & 4. 32.

Agrippa] The ſurname of Herod, who beheaded James, and impriſoned Peter, Act. 12. 1.

So called from the painfull travail of his Mother in childe-birth, for that not his head, but his feet came firſt out; as if he ſhould have been named Ægrippa.

A H.

Ah] Indignation or grief of one exclaiming for injuries and abuſes done againſt him, Eſay 1. 24. Ah, I will eaſe me.

It's alſo of joy and deſire accompliſhed, Pſal. 25. 25. As is Aha, Pſal. 35. 21.

Ahab] The Brothers Father. A wicked King of Iſrael, 1 King. 16. 28, 30.

Aharah] A ſmelling Brother; or, a ſweet ſavouring medow. The Son of Benjamin, 1 Chr. 8. 1.

Aharhe] Another hoſte, or the laſt hoſte. The Son of Harum, 1 Chr. 4. 8.

Ahaziah] An apprehenſion or poſſeſſion of the Lord A wicked King of Iſrael, 1 King. 22. 40.

Ahi] My Brother. The Son of Shamer, 1 Chr. 7. 34. The Son of Abdiel, 1 Chr. 5. 15.

Ahiah] The Lords Brother. One of Solomon's Scribes, 1 King 4. 3. The Son of Ahitub, 1 Sam. 14. 3.

Ahiam] Brother of the Mother. The Son of Sharar, 2 Sam. 23. 33. A Son of Jerahmeel, 1 Chr. 2. 25.

Ahiah] Brother of the Lord. One of David's Worthies, 1 Chr. 11. 36. The Father of Baaſha, 2 King. 9. 9. A Prophet, 1 King. 11. 30.

Ahiezer] Brother of help. A Prince of the Tribe of Dan, Numb. 1. 12. A chief man that came to help David, 1 Chr. 12. 3.

Ahihud] Brother of vanity. The Prince of the Tribe of Aſher, Numb. 34. 27. The Brother of Uzza, 1 Chr. 8. 7.

Ahikam] A Brother ariſing. The Son of Shaphan, Jer. 26. 24.

Ahilud] A Brother born. The Father of Jehoſaphat, David's Recorder, 2 Sam. 8. 16.

Ahimaaz] Brother of counſell. The Father of Ahinoam Saul's Wife, 1 Sam. 14. 50. Alſo, the Son of Zadok, 2 Sam. 15. 27.

Ahiman] A prepared Brother. One of the Sons of Anak, Numb. 13. 22. Alſo, a Porter of the Temple, 1 Chr. 9. 17.

Ahimelech] Brother mine the King. The name of a Prieſt, 1 Sam. 22. 9. called Ahiah, 1 Sam. 14. 3. Alſo, the Son of Abiathar, 2 Sam. 8. 17. called Abimelech, 1 Chr. 18. 16.

Ahimoth] A Brother of death. A Son of Elkanah, 1 Chr. 6. 25.

Ahinadab] A willing Brother. The Son of Iddo, 1 King. 4. 14.

Ahinoam] The Brothers beauty. The name of Saul's Wife, 1 Sam. 14. 50.

Ahio] His Brother. A Son of Abinadab, 2 Sam. 6. 3. A Son of Beriah, 1 Chr. 8. 14. A Son of Jehiel, Ibid. 31. & 9. 37.

Ahira] Brother of iniquity; or, my Brothers friend. A Prince of Naphtali, Numb. 1. 15.

Ahiram] Brother of craft. The Son of Benjamin, Numb. 26. 38.

Ahiſamach] Brother of ſuſtentation. The Father of Aholiab, Exod. 31. 6.

Ahiſhahar] Brother of the morning. The Nephew

Nephew of Benjamin, 1 Chron. 7. 10.

Ahishar] Brother of the Prince. A Ruler of Solomon's houſhold, 1 King. 4. 6.

Ahithophel] Brother of ruine. David's Counſellour, 2 Sam. 15. 12.

Ahitub] Brother of goodneſſe. The Son of Phinehas, the Son of Eli, 1 Sam. 14. 3. The Son of Amariah, 1 Chr. 6. 52. The Son of Huſhim, 1 Chr. 8. 11. A Ruler of the Houſe of God, 1 Chr. 9. 11.

Ahuzza] Poſſeſſion, apprehenſion, collection, viſion. Abimelech's friend, Gen. 26. 26.

A I.

Ai] An heap. A City, Joſh. 7. 2.

Aiah] A vultur, or raven. The Son of Zibeon, Gen. 36. 24. Alſo, the Father of Rizpah, 2 Sam. 3. 7.

Aialon] An oake; or, ſtrength. A City, Joſh. 19. 42. Alſo, a City built by Rehoboam, 2 Chr. 11. 10. Alſo, a valley, Joſh. 10. 12.

Aiath] An hour. A City, Iſa. 10. 28.

Aija] An heap. A City, Neh. 11. 31.

Aiſeleth Shahar] The hinde of the morning. The title of the 22 Pſalm.

Ain] An eye; or, fountaine. A City, Numb. 34. 11.

Air] Properly ſignifieth, that hot and moiſt element between the heaven and the earth, which is heavyer then the fire, lighter then the water and earth; wherein the birds flie, and the evill angels reſide, Eph. 2. 2. But myſtically, the Church, which is enlightned by Chriſt, as the air is by the Sun, Rev. 9. 2.

To beat the air, is, to labor in vain, 1 Cor. 9. 26

To ſpeak unto the air, is, to ſpeak unprofitably, without fruit or edification, 1 Cor. 14. 9.

A K.

Akan] Troubling. The Son of Ezer, Gen. 36. 27.

Akkub] The print or mark of a foot, where any creature hath gone. A Son of Elioenai, 1 Chr. 3. 24. One of the Porters, 9. 17. One that cauſeth the people to underſtand the Law, Neh. 8. 7.

A L.

Alameleth] The Kingdome, or counſell of God. A City, Joſh. 19. 26.

Alamoth] It ſignifieth hid; or, Virgins. Some think that it was a muſicall inſtrument of a cleer or ſhril ſound, which agreeth well with the voyces of Virgins.

Others will have it to be the beginning of a known ſong, 1 Chr. 15. 20. Pſa. 46. 1.

Alemeth] A hiding; or, youth. A City, 1 Chron. 6. 60. called Almon, Joſh. 21. 18. Alſo, the Son of Becher, 1 Chr. 7. 8. Alſo, the Son of Jarah, 1 Chr. 8. 36.

Alexander] A ſtrong helper. Of ἀλέξω to help, and ἀνὴρ a man. The Son of Simon the Cyrenian, Mar. 15. 21. One of the kindred of the High-prieſt, Act. 4. 6. Alexander the Jew, Act. 19. 33, 34. Whether the Copper-ſmith mentioned 2 Tim. 4. 14. who concerning the faith had made ſhipwrack, 1 Tim. 1. 20. is uncertain, but very probable.

Alexandria] The Metropolis of Ægypt, called of old (as ſome think) No, built or re-edified by Alexander the Great, whoſe body by Ptolemeus Lagi was there intombed in gold. It was a Sea town, Act. 28. 11.

Alian] High. A Son of Shobal, 1 Chr. 1. 40. called Aluan, Gen. 36. 23.

Alike] All men are alike: In the frame of the heart, Gen. 8. 21. Common caſualties and events, Eccleſ. 9. 2. Their natural eſtate, Eph. 2. 3. Death, Job 21. 26. It's put for both, Prov. 20. 10. No difference, Rom. 14. 5. After one manner, Pſal. 33. 15. Compared, equalized, Pſal. 27. 15.

Alive] Naturally, Gen. 43. 27. Supernaturally, being raiſed from the dead, Luk. 24. 23. Spiritually, Luk. 15. 24. Opinionatively, Rom. 7. 9. Eternally, Rev. 1. 18.

All] Every one, and then it is put univerſally, and abſolutely, Rom. 5. 12. Death went over all, 2 Cor. 5. 10. We muſt all appear, that is, all and every one.

It ſignifies whole, 1 Chr. 13. 2. 2 Tim. 3. 16.

Exod. 32. 3. compared, 1 Cor. 10. 7.

2. Many, or the moſt, and greateſt part, Phil. 2. 21. 1 Tim. 6. 10. Mat. 3 5. Joh. 10. 8. & 11. 48. and then it is put reſervedly or diſtinctly, for all of one ſort.

3. Some of all, but not the greateſt part, and then it is put indefinitely, 1 Tim. 2. 2. God will have all to be ſaved, Mat. 3. 5. & 4. 24. And he healed all diſeaſes: that is, ſome of all ſorts and kindes, Joh. 6. 45.

4. Every one, and all univerſally, but yet onely conditionally, as 1 Tim. 2. 2. 1 Pet. 3.

Theſe and ſuch like places therefore, are evilly cited in favour of univerſall election, to prove that all and every one were choſen: and that the cauſe of their damnation which doe periſh, is, becauſe they refuſed offered grace, which they might have received if they would.

5. Plentifull and perfect, Rom. 15. 13. All joy, 1 Cor. 13. 2.

All men, ſignifies all the Brethren, or all Chriſtians which knew him, 3 Joh. 12.

There are three ſorts of all men mentioned in the Scripture.

1. All humane reaſonable creatures on earth, Rom. 3. 23. 2 Pet. 3. 9.

2. All Nations, though not all perſons in them, 1 Tim. 2. 4, 6.

3. All godly people, or all that repent and beleeve the Goſpel, Rom. 10. 12.

The firſt is a generality of perſons according to their matter or eſſence; their quality, ſtate, age, ſexe, time, &c.

The ſecond is a generality of perſons, according to their place or countrey, as alſo their kindred.

The third is a generality of perſons, according to their morall and ſpiritual qualities.

The firſt is according to the ſtate of Creation or nature. The ſecond according to the ſtate of outward profeſſion in this world, and of glory in the next.

The firſt is to take away the diſtinction or difference of mens natures in the caſe of ſin, as being common to all ſorts of men.

The ſecond is to take away the difference of Nations, viz. Jews and Gentiles in the caſe of Gods grace, which is offered to both ſorts, and given alſo to, and received of perſons of either ſort of Nation, 2 Pet. 3. 9.

The third is to take away the difference of all worldly reſpect in the caſe of ſalvation, and eternall glory, which is common to all the godly, Act. 10. 34, 35.

This particle [All] is uſed by Scriptures in divers ſorts.

1. Moſt largely, for every one: as Rom. 5. 12. All have ſinned. Alſo, Rom. 3. 23. and elſewhere often.

2. Sometimes it is put reſtrictively, with limitation and determination, to certain perſons there meant, as Rom. 10. 12. God is rich to All, which hath his limitation added, Who call upon him: & Rom. 11. 32. That he might have mercy on all. This is reſtrained, Gal. 3. 22. That the promiſe ſhould be given to all that beleeve. Thus reſtrained [all] in 2 Pet. 3. 9. Would all men come to repentance: that is, all us (Peter and other beleevers) toward whom he is patient.

Likewiſe, where Chriſt is often ſaid to die for [all] take it reſtrictively, ſpoken with reference to the choſen, according to that, Rom. 8. 33. Who ſhall lay ought to the charge of Gods choſen? It is Chriſt which died, roſe again, makes interceſſion for them.

3. It is ſomewhere uſed diſtributively, and ſerves ad ſtollendum diſcrimen nationum, ſexus, conditionis, &c. as 1 Tim. 2. 5, 6. Who will have all to be ſaved: that is, ſome of all degrees, and of all languages, ſome both Jews and Gentiles, as Rom. 10. 12. For there is no difference between Jews and Gentiles; but Act. 10. 35. In every nation, &c. Therefore 1 Joh. 2. 2. Chriſt is ſaid to have made propitiation or atonement for the ſins of the whole world, which is expounded of ſome out of every nation and kindred, people and tongue, Rev. 7. 9. Gal. 3. 26. Ye are all: whether Jews or Gentiles beleeving. All may be underſtood either ſimply or univerſally, for every kinde, or perſon, but it is to be often contracted and limited unto the preſent matter, as 1 Cor. 1. 5. [all knowledge] is meant, not skill in Mathematicks, Phyſick, Metaphyſicks, &c. and in Arts, not in all Grammar, Logick, Rhetorick: but the Apoſtle ſpeaketh of all knowledge and ſpeech needfull for Chriſtians. So 1 Cor. 13. 2. [all faith] contains not every kinde of faith, but perfection of miraculous faith. And again, 1 Cor. 1. 3, 7. Charity ſuffereth all things, &c. it is to be thus reſtrained: all things which may be ſuffered, beleeved, hoped, and endured with truth, and reaſon, and with a good conſcience. See 1 Cor. 8. 1. & 9. 25. & 10. 33. & 15. 22. In all which places all is reſtrained to the preſent matter and thing which is there handled. Alſo 1 Cor. 10. 23. & 1 Cor. 6. 12.

All things] All creatures both reaſonable & unreaſonable, in heaven and in earth, and ſea. Col. 1. 16. All things made by him, Joh 1 3. where it ſignifieth ſuch creatures as have being only.

3. All

2. All reasonable creatures onely, especially men, Prov. 16. 4. God made all things for himself.

3. All persons, men and women, and whatsoever commeth from them, Gal. 3.22. Eph. 1. 10.

4. Those new works which God alone worketh in his elect at their regeneration or new birth. 2 Cor. 5. 18. All things are of God: These things here meant be a Calling to Christ, Faith, Remission of sins, Justification, Hope, Love, Repentance, Peace of conscience, Joy in the holy Ghost, Perseverance in grace.

5. Both the works of grace in the new born Children of God, and the works also of creation and divine government. Rom. 11.36. All things are of him, by him, &c.

6. Publick Ministeriall duties of all sorts, both of Teaching, ministring the Sacraments, Prayer, Censures by word and deed: all which must be directed to the building up and furtherance of the faithfull in godlyness. 2 Cor. 12. 19. We doe all things for your edifying.

7. Private duties (as wel as publick) both of generall and speciall vocations, Ecclesiasticall, Civill; in performance whereof love must govern us, as Paul saith, Do all your things in love. Also matters propounded of their Teachers, 1 Thess. 5. 21.

8. All people both Jews and Gentiles, without difference of Nation, Eph. 3. 9. Who created all things by Jesus Christ.

Generally observe, that [all things] must be interpreted (secundum determinatam materiam) according to the matter handled in the place where it is read; or else to be taken hyperbolically, by an excesse of speech, Gen. 33. 11. Enough of all. And Gen. 50. 7. All is used for a great multitude of them: as Mat. 3. All Judea, for many of them.

Allegory] A sentence consisting of sundry strange and borrowed speeches, which sound one thing, and covertly shew forth another. Gal. 4. 24. Mat. 7. 6. & Mat. 3. 10, 11. afford us examples hereof.

Allegories be either continued Metaphors, whereof many examples are in Scriptures, besides those here named: or a drawing of some words plainly uttered at first, from their naturall and proper meaning, to a strange sense for better instruction of our mindes in some points of faith or manners, as that in Gal. 4. 24. Here a bare history or plain narration of a thing done, is used to shadow a great mystery, even the two Covenants, Legall and Evangelicall, of Works and of Grace. Touching the latter kinde of Allegories, it is a safe thing to tread in the steps of the holy Ghost, not making Allegoricall senses of Scripture, where the Spirit hath made none.

Allon] Oke, or strong. A mans name, 1 Chr. 4. 37. Also a City, Josh. 19. 33.

Allowed of God] Esteemed and judged meet of Gods meer favour, 1 Thess. 2. 4. 2 Cor. 3. 5.

Almes] A relief given to the poor out of a pityfull heart, Mat. 6. 1. When thou givest thy almes, &c. It hath affection of mercy, and effect of succour; the heart touched with pitifulnesse, and a hand reached out to give, if we have wherewithall, See 2 Cor. 8.

Almes must be given, 1. With discretion. 2. Justice. 3. Compassion. 4. Cheerfulness. 5. Simplicity.

Almighty] One of infinite power, able to doe whatsoever he will, and to hinder whatsoever he will not have done, by his respective power; and by his absolute power, able to doe more then he will: such an one is God onely. 2 Cor. 6. 18. Saith the Lord God Almighty. Rom. 9. 19. Who hath resisted his will?

The Papists reason foolishly from Gods Almightynesse, to prove the reall presence of Christs body in the Supper: whereas they should rather prove it his revealed will to have it so, which they can never do. We may assure our selves that God is able to do, and doth whatsoever he is willing to do, but not on the contrary, that he will do whatsoever he can do.

Note further, that if God could do things against his nature, or things contradictory, or against his Word, it would bewray impotency and weaknesse, not omnipotency and almightynesse.

Almodad] The measure of God. The Son of Joktan, Gen. 10. 26.

Almon] Hidden. A City, Josh. 21. 18.

Almon Diblathaim] Hidden in a heap of fig-trees. A place where the Israelites incamped, Numb. 33. 46.

Almond] It flowreth before any other tree, Jer. 1. 11, 12. and pleasant to the eye, whose fruit is most precious.

Almost] A nighnesse, but yet in defect, Psal. 119 87. The perfection of it is, Altogether, Act. 26. 29. Quickly, Psa. 94. 17. margin.

Aloes] The juice of a certain hearb used in medicines. It's precious, Cant. 4. 14. Odoriferous, Psal. 45. 9. Preservative, Joh. 19. 39.

Alone] Either one which is ſafe without enemies, and ſo it is a bleſſing: See Deut. 33. 28. Numb. 23. 9. Pſal. 4. 10. Or elſe, one ſolitary left without friends, and then it is a note of affliction, Pſal. 102. 7. Jam. 1. 1.

Alone; for ſingle without another, Gen. 18. None beſides, Pſal. 86. 10. Solitary, and apart, Mat. 14. 23. Without help and aſſiſtance, Exod. 18. 14. By it ſelf without a concomitant, Jam. 2. 17. Not one moe of that number or company, Joh. 6. 22. Onely, Joh. 17. 20.

Alpha] That which is firſt among the Greek letters, as Omega is that letter which is laſt; whereby is meant that Chriſt is both beginning and ending. Rev. 1. 11. I am Alpha and Omega, the firſt and the laſt.

Alpheus] from אלוף, A Captain. The Father of James, Mat. 10. 3. The Father of Matthew, or Levi, Mar. 2. 14. or, The thouſand, or learned.

Al-ſufficient] One God moſt able to perform all promiſed good things, and to keep away all threatned evils, Gen. 17. 1. I am God all-ſufficient. God is named thus, not onely of his power to goe thorough with all things, but for waſting his enemies at the drowning of the world, Eſay 13. 6. Joel 1. 15.

Altar] The doctrine of free ſalvation by Chriſt crucified: or, the ſacrifice of Chriſt his death, Heb. 13. 10. We have an altar, &c. The meaning of this place is, that ſuch as remain (after due inſtructions) in the obſervations of Legall ſacrifices, ſhall not partake in the ſacrifice of Chriſts death, once offered on the Croſſe. What is this to Popiſh altars, whereon to ſacrifice Chriſt again in an unbloody manner for ſins of the quick in earth, and of the dead in Purgatory? Alſo the worſhip ſpirituall of the New Teſtament, Eſay 19. 10.

2. The ſacrifices and oblations ſlain and offered at the altar. 1 Cor. 9. 13. They which ſerve at the altar, are partakers with the altar.

3. Both the worſhip of the altar, or there performed to God; and alſo God, and Chriſt of whom the Altar was a token, being conſecrate to God, and appointed to be a figure of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 18. Are not they which eat of the ſacrifice partakers with the altar? That is, by that their act of eating of the ſacred things, they all do profeſſe a ſociety in the worſhip of God, yea with God, to whom it was dedicate, and to Chriſt, of whom it was a ſigne.

There were three ſorts of Altars.

1. Religious and lawfull, as for Burnt-offerings, Exod. 29. 38. and the Altar of Incenſe, Exod. chap. 37. verſ. 25

2. Idolatrous and unlawfull being of an idolatrous form, 2 King. 10. and to an idolatrous end; as, to a falſe God, 1 King. 16. 32. To the true God in falſe repreſentations, 1 King. 13. 1, 2. Or to the true God, but ignorantly ſet up to him by Heathen Idolaters, Act. 17. 23.

In the New Teſtament it is taken Properly, Luk. 1. 11. Figuratively, 1 Cor. 9. 13. Myſtically, Rev. 6. 9. Spiritually, Heb. 13. 10.

Altar of Burnt-offering] The brazen Altar ſtanding in the open Court for all to ſee, whereupon the daily ſacrifices figuring Chriſts death and ſufferings were burned, to lead the expectation of his body to be offered for us, and our bodies by him unto God, Exod. 40. 29. Heb. 10. 5, 6, 7. Rom. 12. 11.

To offer or bring our gift to the Altar] To do and perform the duties of godlineſſe, which are unto God as an oblation or ſacrifice. Mat. 5. 22, 23. Therefore if thou ſhalt bring thy gift to the Altar, &c. It is a ſpeech borrowed from thoſe times, when the Temple, and Altars, and Sacrifices were in uſe. Therefore the Papiſts deal abſurdly, that upon theſe words would build their Altars for Maſſes, and their Purgatory: wofull Interpreters of Scriptures.

Altar of Gold] Chriſts mediation for his Church, whereby they and their prayers are preſented to God as ſweet odours, Exod. 40. 2.

To dig down Gods Altars] To overthrow the true worſhip of God, and in ſtead thereof to bring in and ſet up the ſervice of Idols and idolatrous worſhip, Rom. 11. 3. They have digged down thine Altars. A Synecdoche.

To build an Altar] That profeſſion of godlineſſe, and the whole exerciſe of Religion which ſtood in inſtruction, prayer, practiſes, ſacrifices, according to thoſe times, Gen. 7. 20. & 12. 7. & 13. 18.

Altaſhith] Deſtroy not, Pſal. 57. 1.

Altogether] It's put for at once, Exod. 11. 1. Nothing elſe, Numb. 23. 11. Wholly, Pſal. 39. 5. Fully, Act. 26. 29.

Alvah] His riſing up. A Duke of Edom, Gen. 36. 40.

Alvan] Higher, or aloft. A Son of Shobal, Gen. 36. 23.

Alush] A mingling together. A place wherein the Iſraelites encamped, Numb. 33. 13.

Always] To the end of the world, ſo long will Chriſt be preſent with faithfull Paſtors Paſtors to direct and protect them, Mat. 28. v. laſt: Alſo Mat. 26. 10.

2. A very long time, even ſome thouſand years, though not for evermore and without an end, Rom. 11. 10. Bow their backs alwayes. The ſtrength and might both ſpirituall and temporall, as touching power, will, and endevour to doe good; and concerning the Temple, Religion, Order, and Form of the Church and Civill government, was taken away, as the ſtrength of ones back or loins, for an exceeding long time, but not everlaſtingly, for they muſt be graffed into the true Olive, becauſe God is able, and hath promiſed it, Rom. 11. 23, 24, 26, &c. Howbeit, without reſtitution of Iſrael to a Common-wealth, (for ought that I can ſee) though not without being reſtored to the Common-wealth of Iſrael, that is, the Chriſtian Church, from which the Jews have been caſt out now ſixteen hundred years.

It's taken alſo for the time of our life, Deut. 5. 29. At all times and ſeaſons, Job 27. 10. Continually, Exod. 25. 30. Night and day, Mar. 5. 5. Upon all occaſions, Luk. 18. 1. Conſtantly, Gal. 4. 18.

A M.

Am] Exiſtence or ſelf-being, Exod. 3. 14. I am that I am; that is,

1. I have my being from my ſelf, and from no other.

2. Continue for ever and fail not.

3. Am the ſame and change not, and am the cauſe of being to all things that be, both my words that they be performed, and all the creatures that they be not reduced to nothing.

I am] I will be; ſo is the Hebrew, Ehei, that is, I that give being to all things, and to my promiſes, I will be to them indeed what I am and was in promiſes. I will be their deliverer out of Ægypt, and cruel bondage; I will be God manifeſted in the fleſh, their great deliverer from eternall wrath. In a ſmall difference this name is repeated, Rev. 1. 4. & 11. 17. & 16. 5 He which was, which is, and which is to come.

2. Repreſenting or reſembling. Joh. 15. 1. I am that vine; that is, I repreſent, and am like unto a vine.

Amad] People of witneſſe. A City, Joſh. 19 26.

Amal] Labour, or iniquity. The Son of Helem, 1 Chr. 7. 35.

Amalek] A licking, ſmiting, or ſtriking people. The Son of Eliphaz, the Son of Eſau, Gen. 36. 10, 11, 12.

Amam] Mother, or fear of them. A City, Joſh. 15. 26.

Amana] faith, truth; or, a mure. A Hill in Cilicia, Cant. 4. 8.

Amariah] The Lord ſaid; or, the excellency of the Lord. The Father of Ahitub, 2 Chr. 6, 7. A Son of Hebron, 1 Chr. 23. 19. The chief Prieſt, 2 Chr. 19. 11. One that was ſet in truſt to diſtribute the oblations of the Lord, 2 Chr. 31. 15. Of the Sons of Bani, Ezra 10. 42. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 3. The Father of Zechariah, Neh. 11. 4. One that went up with Zerubbabel, Neh. 12. 2. of whom Jehohanan, Ibid. 13.

Amaſa] Sparing the people. The Son of David's Siſter, 1 Chr. 2. 17. Alſo, the Son of Hadlai, 2 Chr. 28. 12.

Amaſai] Strong. A Son of Elkanah, 1 Chr. 6. 25. A chief Captain, Ibid. 12. 18.

Amaſhai] The gift or preſent of the people. The Father of Mahath, 2 Chr. 29. 12. The Son of Azareel, Neh. 11. 13.

Amaſhiah] The ſtrength of the Lord. The Father of Joſhah, 1 Chr. 4. 34.

Amazed] at ſome ſtrange, unſeen, and unheard of great work and judgement of God, Exod. 15. 14, 15. Iſa. 13. 8. Apparent and preſent deſtruction to themſelves, Judg. 20. 41. Unexpected abilities in another, beyond their owne expectation, Job 32. 15. Luk. 2. 48. The working of wonders and miracles, Mat. 12. 22, 23. Rare gifts, Act. 2. 12.

Amaziah] The burden of the Lord. The Son of Jehoaſh, 2 King. 12. 21. The Son of Hilkiah, 1 Chr. 6. 45. An idolatrous Prieſt of Bethel, Amos 7. 10.

Ambaſſadour] 1. Civill, about affairs of the world, ſent from Kings, 2 King. 10. 12. 2 Chr. 35. 21. or ſome State, Joſh. 9. 4.

2. Spirituall, concerning the Kingdome of Chriſt. Such were the Apoſtles, 2 Cor. 5. 20. Eph. 6. 20.

☞ Ambition] See Love, Deſire, Praiſe, Vain-glory.

Ambuſh] By men againſt their enemies, Joſh. 8. 2. 2 Chr. 13. 13. By God againſt his Churches enemies, 2 Chr. 20. 22. 2 King. 3. 20, 22, 23, 24.

Amen] In the end of a ſentence, or prayer, a wiſhing that it may be ſo as we ask, and a truſting that it ſhall be ſo: Gal. 1. 5. To whom be glory for ever, Amen.

2. Vehement aſſeveration (in the beginning of ſpeeches) when a thing is earneſtly and ſtrongly affirmed. Mat. 18. 3. Amen, I ſay ſay unto you, Joh. 6. 26. Alſo, where the word Amen is doubled, he doth much commend and urge the thing ſo uttered, to their attention.

3. Certain, conſtant, or moſt firm, 2 Cor. 1. 20. Yea and Amen.

4. Truth it ſelf, or rather Chriſt himſelf, Rev. 3. 4. Theſe things ſaith Amen.

Amen is ſometimes the title of God himſelf, and of Chriſt, becauſe of his faithfulneſſe and truth in performing all promiſes, Rev. 3. 14. Eſay 65. 16.

☞ Alſo, the word is Hebrew, and is not tranſlated by the Apoſtles into Greek, but is uſed in all Languages, for the honor of the Hebrew tongue, to which it is proper.

2. Of the truth which it ſignifieth. Vide Auguſt. in Tractat. 41. in Johannem.

To amend] To redreſſe and reform faults. It is put for Repentance, Mat. 3. 8. Act. 26. 20. Bring forth fruits worthy of Repentance (or amendment.) Repentance is as the root, Amendment as the fruit. Firſt there muſt be a change of the heart from evill to good, by the gift of repentance put into it of God; and then will follow an amendment and redreſſe of our wayes and manners.

Which is among you] Either, as much as in you is, as in you lieth; or, which doth depend on you. 1 Pet. 5. 2. Feed the flock which is among you. The full meaning is, that the flock committed to their truſt ſhould be greatly cared for, according to that, Act. 20. 28. For, not a Dominion and Kingdome, but a charge and care is committed to Paſtors, 1 Pet. 5. 3. Mat. 20. 25. 1 Tim. 3. 1.

Amorites] It is put either for a diſtinct people, or this one people is generally uſed for all the Heathen (whereof they were the worſt and wickedeſt) which poſſeſſed the land, Gen. 15. 16. Joſ. 2. 10. Amos 2. 9.

The word ſignifieth, bitter people, cruel rebels, great prattlers, or talkative.

Amos] A burthen. A Prophet, Amos 1. 1. Alſo the Son of Naum, Luk. 3. 25.

Amos] Strong, or mighty. The Father of Iſaiah, Iſa. 1. 1.

Amphipolis] A compaſſed City; of ἀμφὶ about, and πόλις a City, Act. 17. 1.

Amplias] Make more, Paul's friend, Rom. 16. 8. derived of amplus, large, great.

Amram] A high people. The Father of Moſes, Aaron, and Miriam, Exod. 6. 20.

Amran] An aſſe; or, clay. The Son of Diſhon, 1 Chr. 1. 41. called Hemdan, Gen. 36. 26.

Amraphel] Speaking deſtruction, or ruine. King of Shinar, Gen. 14. 1.

Anath] An answer, song, affliction, poverty. The Father of Shamgar, Judg. 3. 31.

Anathema] One which is accursed, or an execration, separate and removed from the fellowship of the faithfull: Sometime also from the grace of Christ, and hope of salvation. Anathema Maranatha is one accursed for ever an a day, or eternall execration, 1 Cor. 16. 21. If any love not the Lord Jesus Christ, let him be Anathema Maranatha. Anathema belongs to all obstinate scandalous offenders. Anathema Maranatha belongs onely to blasphemers of the holy Ghost. Gal. 1. 9. Let him be Anathema, accursed. Rom. 9. 2. I could wish to be Anathema for my kinsmen, &c.

Note, that Anathema by use of Scripture, is either that which by separation from profane use, and dedication to God, is become holy and dreadfull: or contrariwise, that which is rejected from God, as accursed and detested.

2. A thing separate from common use, and given unto God to serve for holy uses, as being consecrate thereunto. Luk. 21. 5. And with consecrate things, the word is Anathemata in the Originall, and signifies Donaria, or gifts hanged upon the pillars of the Temple for ornament of the place, and to the honor of God. * It may seem strange that one word should be put not onely in a diverse, but quite contrary signification.

Some think it is because the verb whence it cometh, hath divers acceptations.

Others think the word which signifies things consecrated, in Luk. chap. 21. to be writ with (H) and the word with (E) But I think they both are called thus of separating or setting apart, either to destruction, as the former; or to honorable use, as the latter.

Anathoth] Answers, or songs. A City, Jer. 1. 1. A Son of Becher, 1 Chr. 7. 8.

Ancients of the people] Magistrates, Judges, and Governours of all sorts, which for the most part were chosen out of them which were ancient in years: thence Rulers called Ancients, and to put them in minde of gravity fitting for elder men. Esay 3. 14. The Lord will judge the Ancients of the people.

Ancient] Put for very old men, Job 12. 12. Men of former times, 1 Sam. 24. 13. Governours, Isa. 3. 14. Politicall and Ecclesiasticall, Jer. 29. 1.

And] Or, and sometime But, Gen. 2. 6. or there went up a mist: some read it (But:) the former better. Exod. 21. 15. He that smiteth Father and Mother, &c. for Father or Mother: and is sometime distinctive, and sometime exceptive, but mostly a copulative particle.

And: Because, 1 Cor. 8. 4. Col. 1. 24. Here it is a particle causall, as Mark 9. 49. And every sacrifice, &c.

2. It is a note of similitude, it is used for (But) Psal. 55. 13. and in stead of (For) Psal. 1. 3. Gen. 12. 19. Esay 39. 1. 2 King. 20. 12.

3. Therefore. Mark 10. 26. And they were much more astonished.

Here it is an Illative particle, 1 Cor. 15. 43. Rom. 15. 6. Gen. 31. 44. 2 Sam. 5. 9. 1 Chr. 11. 7.

4. That is to say; or, even. Eph. 1. 3. Blessed be God and the Father, &c. Col. 1. 3. Rev. 21. 22. as it is in 2 Cor. 1. 3. Gen. 13. 15. 1 Chr. 21. 2. 2 Sam. 17. 12. Here it is a particle exegeticall.

5. For the most part it is a copulative particle, to couple words and sentences together: also it is put disjunctively, Eph. 4. 11. Esay 7. 6. And this word noteth passion of minde, and is often used to signifie earnest affections of desire, joy, indignation and the like, Gen. 47. 15. Psal. 2. 6. Act. 23. 3. Mar. 10. 26. 2 Cor. 2. 2. 2 Sam. 24. 3.

☞ 6. It is put exegetically or expositively (by the figure ἐπεξήγησις) for [that is to say] or a note of explication, as Mat. 3. 11. Joh. 3. 5.

7. It is put for an adversative conjunction. But yet, nevertheless, &c. Joh. 7. 30.

Andrew] Very strong, or manly. An Apostle, Luk. 6 1, 14. ἀπὸ τῆς ἀνδρείας.

Andronicus] A victorious man, of ἀνὴρ ἀνδρός, a man, an νίκη victory. A mans name, Rom. 16. 7.

Anem] An answer, or song of them. A City; 1 Chr. 6. 73.

Aner] An answer, or song of the candle, or light. A mans name, Gen. 14. 24. A City, 1 Chr. 6. 70.

Angel] A messenger, or one sent of God. In this generall sense Christ is called the Angel of the Covenant, Mal. 3. 1. The Angel of the Covenant whom ye desire, Judg. 2. 1.

Likewise

Likewiſe in Act. 12. 15. it ſignifies a mortall man ſent as a meſſenger from Peter; for the Church there aſſembled could not be ſo ignorant, that an Angel heavenly could not enter in without having the dore opened, this were very abſurd. Angel likewiſe is put for God, as Gen. 22. 11. (the Angel) for he ſpeaketh as God, verſ. 12. ſweareth by himſelf, and is called Jehovah, which is the proper name of God, verſ. 16. wherefore this Angel was the Son of God, Chriſt himſelf, Gen. 16. 7. & 18. 2.

2. A Miniſter of the Goſpel authorized and ſent by Chriſt to publiſh the higheſt and moſt gladſome meſſage of reconciliation between God and man, Rev. 2. 1. The Angel of the Church of Epheſus, 2 Cor. 8. 20. Any Interpreter of the will of God is called an Angel, Judg. 2. 1. Mal. 2. 7.

3. A created good ſpirit, ſent forth of God to miniſter for the good of the elect, and for the puniſhment of the wicked. Heb. 1. 7. Of the Angels, he ſaith, he makes the Spirits his Meſſengers: alſo verſ. 14. 2 King. 19. 15.

A created wicked ſpirit; for ſuch alſo God ſends as meſſengers to do his will, for probation of the godly, and for plaguing of the ungodly, ſo oft as he pleaſeth. Mat. 25. 41. prepared for the Devill and his Angels, Joh. 1. 8, 9. The Sadduces denyed the being of Angels, ſaying, There were none.

Others held they were but motions. Angels bread, tongues of Angels. See Manna and Tongue.

Angels are deſcribed, Eſay 6. 1. with faces and feet, and wings to cover them, and to flie withall, to ſignifie their reverence to God before whom they miniſter in conſideration of his great majeſty, and their owne weakneſſe compared with him, Job 4. 18. & 15. 15. And alſo their readineſſe to execute Gods Commandements.

Angels deſire to look into them] The greedy deſire of Angels to know the myſtery of Chriſt, as it is in the Goſpel revealed. 1 Pet. 1. 12. Which things the very Angels deſire to look into. This is an alluſion to the Propitiatory or mercy-lid upon the Ark, whereupon two Angels, Cherubins, did abide with their faces one toward another, and their eyes bent down to the Ark-ward, to ſignifie and figure, that in Chriſt (whereof the Ark was a type) all the treaſures of knowledge and wiſdome ſhould be hid, to be manifeſted in the Goſpel; the very Angels coveting more and more to prie into ſuch ſecrets. Such manifold and admirable wiſdome doth the Goſpel contain.

Angel of the Covenant] One ſent with authority to preach reconciliation with God, and to merit it, Mal. 3. 1. 2 Cor. 5. 19.

Becauſe of the Angels] That women ought to uſe a decent habit upon their head in the publick meeting of the Church, in reſpect and for reverence ſake towards the Miniſters of the Word, and of God ſpeaking by them; (as by his meſſengers) who be very often called Angels, both with addition of God, or Jehovah, as Hagg. 1. 13. Mal. 3. 1, 27. Eccleſ. 5. 5. Lev. 27. (where it is given to the high Prieſt) and abſolutely without ſuch addition, as Rev. 2. 3. And here, where the plural number is uſed (Angels) becauſe through the aboundance of gifts in the Primitive Church, divers Churches (as at Corinth, Philippi, and elſewhere) had divers Teachers belonging to one aſſembly. 1 Cor. 11. 12. Therefore a woman ought to have power on her head, becauſe of the Angels. Such as underſtand this of bad ſpirits, do therein not well, without any good reaſon. With ſome more reaſon it may be taken of good Angels, who are preſent with, and Preſident over (as Countreys, ſo) Churches, beholding and liking the good order therein, diſliking all unſeemlyneſſe and diſorder: by the conſideration whereof, it is likely Paul would perſwade women to comely and reverent behaviour, leſt they offended the Angels, but chiefly to ſhew fear to God, ſpeaking in his Ambaſſadors: and to Chriſt, who is elſewhere waited upon by his Angels.

Angel of light] A good and holy Angel: or one which doth counterfeit himſelf to be ſo, and is not, 2 Cor. 11. 14. For Satan himſelf is transformed into an Angel of light.

If I or an Angel] Suppoſe, or put the caſe, that I Paul, or a Celeſtial ſpirit ſhould corrupt the doctrine of ſalvation never ſo little, a curſe ſhould hang over our head, Gal. 1. 8. If I or an Angel from heaven, &c. All Miniſters or others, learn how holily and inviolably the doctrine of the Goſpel is to be kept, ſithence God will ſeverely be revenged upon even the leaſt corruption thereof; therefore all are to beware of this ſin, and by teaching and profeſſing the truth, ſincerely, conſtantly, and throughout, to glorifie God.

Anger] A deſire of being revenged upon the perſon of our Neighbour, either by our words or deeds. Mat. 5. 22. He that is angry with his brother, &c. Here it is taken in ill part.

2. A diſpleaſure, not againſt the perſon, but againſt the ſin of our neighbour, or againſt gainſt our owne ſins. This kinde of anger if it be moderate, and joyned with compaſſion, it is an holy affection. 2 Cor. 7. 11. In that ye were godly ſorry, what anger hath it wrought? Eph. 4. 21. Be angry and ſin not. Here it is taken in good part. In Gen. 4. 5. & 45. 5. Anger is put for grief and diſpleaſure: and in the latter place, Joſeph would have his brethren moderate their ſorrow for their ſin in ſelling him, by conſideration of Gods providence turning it to good.

3. In God, it is his juſt diſpleaſure againſt ſin and ſinners: or the puniſhment which proceeds from him diſpleaſed, Pſal. 2. 12. Leſt he be angry, Pſal. 90 7, 8. God is angry when he doth ſuch works as angry men do: who puniſh and take away ſignes of favour from ſuch as they be angry withall. Anger in the Hebrew, cometh from a word which ſignifieth the Noſe, by which one breatheth: & it importeth anger, which appeareth in the ſnuffing or breathing of the noſe, as Saul is ſaid to breath out threatnings, Act. 9. 1. Pſal. 2. 5.

4. The decree and threatning of God to puniſh men, Pſal. 2. 16. Leſt he be angry.

☞ There are two degrees thereof,

1. A leſſer againſt leſſer ſinners, and ſuch as are repented; this hath an end.

2. A greater againſt great ſins, eſpecially if they be continued and not repented; this turneth into fury, Jer. 10. 24.

Anguiſh] A narrow ſtrait, or perplexity, when one knows not what counſel to take, or which way to turn himſelf. Rom. 8. 35. Shall anguiſh, &c.

Not onely extream pains which accompany ſinners in this life, but eternall torments in hell. Rom. 2. 9. Tribulation and anguiſh upon the ſoul of every one who doth evill.

Anker] Taken properly for the anker of a ſhip, Act. 27. 30. figuratively, for hope, Heb. 6. 19

Aniam] A people, or the ſhip, ſorrow, or ſtrength of people. A Son of Shemida, 1 Chr. 7. 19.

Anim] Anſwerings, ſingings, afflicted, poor. A City, Joſh. 15. 50.

Anna] Mercifull, taking reſt, gracious. The daughter of Phanuel, Luk. 2. 36.

Annas, as Anah] An high Prieſt, Luk. 3. 2.

Anointed] Ordinarily, extraordinarily: Ordinarily, the bodies of men and women, or ſome particular parts thereof. Alive, Ruth 3. 3. 2 Sam. 12. 20. Ezek. 16. 9. Dead, Gen. 50. 2. Kings, 1 Sam. 10. 1. Prophets, 1 King. 19. 16 Prieſts, Exod. 29. 7. Extraordinarily: The Tabernacle, Altar, &c. Exod. 40. 9. Cyrus, Iſa. 45. 1. Chriſt, Pſal. 45. 7. Iſa. 61. 1. The ſick, Jam. 5. 14. All Chriſts faithfull members, 2 Cor. 2. 21. 1 Joh. 2. 20. 27.

Another] ſignifieth either many, or any of many, indefinitely, Joh. 5. 43. & 4. 37. 1 Cor. 12. 8.

It's put for a ſecond, a third, a fourth, 1 Cor. 15. 39. Diverſe, or different, 1 Cor. 12. 9. When one goeth with it immediately together, it noteth a mutuall reciprocation in the thing, Joh. 13. 14, 34. Act. 7. 26.

To anſwer] 1. To reply to ſome queſtion propounded. Luk. 2. 3. Jeſus anſwered them.

2. To witneſſe a thing, Gen. 30. 33. My righteouſneſſe ſhall anſwer for me. Anſwering is for witneſſing both for and againſt one, Eſay 59. 12. Exod. 20. 16.

3. The hearing and granting one prayers, Iſa. 58. 9. Thou ſhalt call, and the Lord ſhall anſwer.

4. The beginning of any ſpeech, when one Queſtion or ſpeech went before. Mat. 11. 25. At that time Jeſus anſwered and ſaid, Mat. 17. 4. Joh. 2. 18.

This is an Hebraiſme, the reaſon whereof is, becauſe ſuch as begin to ſpeak, do either anſwer the neceſſity of the matter, or the deſire of the hearers; ſometime this word anſwer is ſuperfluously added, as Job 9. 2. Mark 11. 13. Dan. 2. 26.

5. The obedience yeelded to Gods commandement, when that is done indeed which was given in charge. Eſay 65. 12. I ſpake, ye would not anſwer; (that is) ye would not obey.

6. Any divine oracle or direction, either by dream or other revelation, as Mat. 2. 11. Heb. 11. 7. Rom. 11. 4. but more eſpecially and properly the oracle of God given in the Tabernacle, from the Mercy-ſeat.

7. Laſtly, ſuch anſwers whereby Converts at their baptiſme witneſſed their faith in Chriſt, 1 Pet. 3. 21.

☞ An anſwer in Logick is made three wayes, viz either

1. By denying the propoſition: or,

2. By granting it: or,

3. By both together; which is called Diſtinction, or Limitation: which is the granting of it in one part or ſenſe, a denying of it in another part or ſenſe.

An anſwer in Law to a preſentment, or accuſation of abſence, is made either

1. By excuſe of [illegible]r: or,

2. By traverſing [illegible]dence of the matter: or,

3. By ſubmiſſion to the mercy of the Judg.

Ant] A ſmall weak creature, yet in the ſummer provideth for the winter, Pro. 30. 25 And that rather of the grain of wheat then of barley, layeth it up ſafely leſt either the winde winds ſhould ſcatter it, or the fowles devour it: and if at any time the rain wet their ſtore, they bring it forth and dry it in the ſun; and leſt the grain ſhould grow and ſo rot in the heap, they firſt bite off the ends of it. Hereunto Solomon ſends us to learn wiſdome, Prov. 6. 6, 7.

Antichriſt] Every one who is an adverſary to Chriſt, fighting againſt his Doctrine by mouth, pen, or ſword. 1 Joh. 2. 18. Ye have heard that Antichriſt ſhall come: Even now are there many Antichriſts.

Antichriſt (if the notation of the word be followed) ſignifies either the vicar of Chriſt, or one in ſtead of Chriſt.

Places where the propoſition (anti) ſignif. for, or in ſtead, Mat. 2. 22. Act. 13. 7. & 18. 12.

Secondly, a falſe Chriſt which boaſteth himſelf to be Chriſt, and is an æmulus of Chriſt, as many have done, according to that prediction, Mat. 24.

Thirdly, one that is an adverſary to Chriſt, whereof ſome be profeſſed to the name of Chriſt, as Turks, Jews, Pagans: ſome ſecret adverſaries covered with the name of Chriſtians, as Papiſts and other Hereticks; among which there is one chief one, not individually or perſonally, but by ſucceſſion and order, having an Univerſality and Kingdome whereof he is head ſucceſſively; and is called the Man of ſin, the Son of perdition, the ſecond Beaſt, the Apoſtata, the King of locuſts, that Antichriſt, who under pretence of preaching Chriſt ſhall bee contrary unto Chriſt, ſo as Chriſt be denyed even then when he is beleeved to be preached, as ſaith Hilary.

That Antichriſt] One ſingular and ſpecial enemy of Chriſt, who pretending himſelf to be Chriſts Vice-gerent, doth in a notable, ſtrange, and diſguiſed manner, impugne and ſtrive againſt his Goſpel and glory. This is now revealed more fully then ever, to be the Papacy (that is) the head and body of that (commonly, but falſely ſo called) Romiſh Catholick Church. 2 Theſſ. 2. 8, 9. 1 Joh. 2. 22. The ſame is that Antichriſt. All the marks of Antichriſt, as they are ſet down, 2 Theſſ. 2. and in the Revelation, do not agree unto any other, ſave to the Biſhop of Rome and his Clergy, who are the Ringleaders of that generall apoſtaſie and defection from the faith, which ſhould reign, and now long hath reigned in the Kingdome of Antichriſt. How therefore be Papiſts deceived, which will have Antichriſt to be one man; a Jew, of the Tribe of Dan, and that he ſhall come but three years and a half before the end of the world, and ſhall kill Henock and Elias, who ſhould return again to live here in the world? with innumerable other fabulous and falſe things, wherewith their eyes being blinded, they cannot perceive themſelves to be Antichriſt, though they do all the parts and offices of Antichriſt.

Antioch] For, or, in ſtead of a chariot, or, waggon. A City in Syria, Act. 11. 22, 26. and in Piſidia, Act. 13. 14. It's derived of ἀντὶ for, or, in ſtead of, and ὄχος, a chariot, or waggon.

Antipas] For, or, againſt all. A faithfull Martyr, Rev. 2. 13.

Antipatris] For, or againſt the Father. A City, Act. 23. 31.

Antothijah] Anſwers, or ſongs of the Lord. The Son of Shaſhak, 1 Chr. 8. 24.

☞ Animall] See Naturall.

Anub] A grape. The Son of Coz, 1 Chr. 4. 8.

Any] See All.

Any man] 1. A generall word belonging to all men good and bad, Luk. 9. 23.

2. A leſſe generall word belonging to one ſort of men, as obſtinate and wilfull perſons in their ignorance and ſins, as 1 Cor 14. 38. Revel. 22.

3. A particular word belonging to ſome one of many, or to many of all.

Not any] None of the elect and beleeving perſons, whom Peter ſevereth, and diſtinctly divideth from theſe ſcoffers, meant verſ. 3. 2 Pet. 3. 9. Not any periſh, not any of us, the godly which fear his Word, and look for his coming, all ſuch he will have ſaved by repentance.

A P.

Ape] Hereof mention is made, 1 King. 10. 22. & 2 Chr. 9. 21. called in Hebrew קוף from יקף of its volubility, not continuing long in one place, but going about. It's a ſubtle, ironicall, ridiculous and unprofitable beaſt; whoſe fleſh is not good for meat, as a ſheep, nor back for burthen as an aſſe, nor commodious to keep an houſe as a dog; termed of the Grecians γελωτοποιὸν, made for laughter: In many parts of its body it reſembleth a mans body; ſtriveth to imitate men in their actions and carriage; but rather the evill then the good. Its deſire to imitate men uſually bringeth it into bondage; for men before it waſhing their eyes, putting on their ſhooes, &c. after their departure it waſheth its eyes with glew or honey left for that that purpoſe, putteth on ſhooes alſo full of glew or ſuch ſtuffe, whereby it's ſoon caught. By hard embracing of its young ones it often killeth them. In its flight it carryeth one in its forepart which it loveth beſt, the other on its back, which it leſſe reſpecteth; but being hardly purſued, it's forced to throw its beloved one, and ſo eſcapeth ſafe with the other. Herein reſembling Parents, who often love that childe beſt who cometh to leaſt good; that childe leſſe, who proveth beſt. It's malicious, harmfull, luſtfull, revengeful. If the young ones want any thing, the male puniſheth the female. By eating hereof the Lyon is cured of his feaver. Flatterers may be fitly compared hereto. And the Devill may fitly be termed Gods Ape, as whom he endevoureth to imitate in what he can.

Apharſites, Apharſathkites, Apherſathites] Dividing, or tearing in pieces, Ezr. 4. 9 & 5. 8.

Aphek] Strength, vigour, or a river. A City, Joſh. 12. 18. Alſo Apheca, Joh. 15. 53.

Aphia] Speaking, or blowing. The Son of Becorath, 1 Sam. 9. 1.

Aphrah] Duſt. A City, Joſh. 18. 23.

Apollo] A Deſtroyer, or deſtroying, ἀπὸ τῦ ἀπολλύειν, from deſtroying, waſting (whence Apollonia a City, Act. 17. 1.) A Jew born in Alexandria, Act. 18. 24. Apollyon ſignifieth the ſame, Rev. 9. 11.

Apoſtaſie] See to Depart, to Fall from grace.

Apoſtle] One that is ſent as a Meſſenger about any affairs. In this large ſenſe, Epaphroditus is called the Apoſtle of the Philippians; being ſent by them unto Paul to carry their benevolence, Phil. 2. 28. Even your Apoſtle, alſo chap. 4. 18. 2 Cor. 8. 23. Rom. 16. 7.

2. A Miniſter immediately ſent from Chriſt to preach the Goſpel in the whole world. Hereof there were at firſt 12. Mat. 10. 1. & 28. 19. Gal. 1. 1. This is the ſtricteſt ſenſe. Paul and Barnabas were added unto the 12 Apoſtles, whoſe charge was to plant Churches by preaching Chriſt.

3. Any Meſſenger or Interpreter of Gods will unto his Church. In this large ſenſe Chriſt is called an Apoſtle, Heb. 3. 1. Conſider the Apoſtle Jeſus Chriſt.

Note: as the Tabernacle was a figure of the publick Aſſemblies; ſo Bezalael and Aholiab, two chief work-men about it, filled with wiſdome and underſtanding, the one to finde out curious works to work in Gold, and to carve in Timber: the other to make the reſt of the parts of the Tabernacle, Exod. 31. 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, &c. did figure the Prophets and Apoſtles of Chriſt as Arch-builders and Maſter-workmen, 1 Cor. 3. 10. upon whoſe foundation the Church is ſaid to be built, Epheſ. 2. 20.

There were two ſorts of Apoſtles.

1. Holy, Eph. 3. 5. who were all of equal authority, 2 Cor. 11. 5. In their election by Chriſt, Act. 1. 2. In their names, all Apoſtles, Mat. 10. 1, 2. In their miſſion, Mat. 28. 19. In Chriſts giving the ſame Spirit, Joh. 20. 22. and the ſame gifts of the Spirit, Act. 2. 3, 4. In the ſame power of binding, looſing, Joh. 20. 23. In Paul's judgement, who being an Apoſtle, did equall himſelf with thoſe, which were accounted chiefeſt, 2 Cor. 11. 5. whoſe office was to preach the Word, Mar. 3. 14. plant Churches, 1 Cor. 3. 6. ordain elders, Act. 14. 23.

2. Falſe Apoſtles, 2 Cor. 11. 13. Rev. 22.

Commandement of the Apoſtles] The Doctrine of Repentance and remiſſion of ſins, committed to the Apoſtles of Chriſt to teach the Church, which in ch. 2. v. 21. is called a Commandement delivered, viz. a written tradition, 2 Pet. 3. 2. The commandement of us the Apoſtles.

Apoſtleſhip] Not only the function of an Apoſtle, but the ability from God, worthily to execute it to the edification of the Church, Rom. 1. 5. By whom we have received grace and Apoſtleſhip: that is, the free gift of being an Apoſtle, and of ability to diſcharge it.

Apparel] Conſidered in reſpect

1. Of perſons, as Mans, Deut. 22. 5. Womans, Ibid. Virgins, 2 Sam. 13. 18. Widows, Gen 38. 14. Harlots, Pro. 7. 10. Chaſte matrones, 1 Tim. 2. 9. Eccleſiaſticall perſons who had both common garments, Lev. 6. 11. and ſuch as they put on in adminiſtration of holy things, Lev. 6. 10. called Prieſts garments, Neh. 7. 72. which being uſed to the true God, were called ſacred or holy garments, glorious and beautifull, Exod. 28. 2. but to Baal and falſe gods, veſtments, 2 King. 10. 22. Civill perſons, and of them, the vulgar and meaner ſort, whoſe apparell is called cloathing, or clothes, covering, Job 24. 7. Exod. 12. 34. Thoſe of better eſteem, whoſe clothes are ſaid to be goodly, deſirable, Gen. 27. 15. Gay, Jam. 2. 2. The higheſt rank, whoſe rayment is ſaid to be royall, Eſt. 6. 8. glorious, Iſa. 63. 1.

2. Of matter, as of skins, Gen. 3. 21. Hair, Mat. 3. 4. Woollen, Levit. 13. 59. Linnen, Deut. 22. 11. Fine linnen and ſilk, Gen. 41, 42. Silk and purple, Prov. 31. 22. Needle-work and wrought gold, Pſal. 45. 13, 14.

3. Of the colour, White, Act. 1.10. Dyed, Ezek. 23. 15. Red, Isa. 63. 2. Blew, Est. 8. 15. Purple, Luk. 16. 19. Scarlet, Dan. 5. 7. Divers colours, Judg. 5. 30.

4. Of time, mourning, 2 Sam. 2. 14. Wedding, Mat. 22. 11.

To appear] To come before one, to be present, to answer unto matters objected. Thus men appear before men.

2. Not onely to be present, but to be enquired into, and laid open, & made manifest to our selves and others, what we have been, and what we have done. 2 Cor. 5. 10. We must all appear. Thus we shall appear before God.

3. To present ones self as an Advocate or Spoaksman, by his intercession to appease God for us, so often as we do any sin of weakness. Heb. 9. 24. He is entred into the heavens to appear in the sight of God for us. Thus Christ daily appears before his Father, for the elect beleevers.

4. To shew a thing that it may be seen. Act. 2. 3. There appeared unto them cloven tongues. Thus things visible and sensible appear to our eyes and senses.

5. To come into Gods presence in his Temple to worship him. Exod. 23. 15, 16. None shall appear before me empty, chap. 34. 23.

☞ 6. To come unto, and be with Christ in glory, Col. 3. 4.

As the appearance of a man] One in shape and form of a man. Dan. 8. 15. stood before me as the appearance of a man: This was Gabriel the Angel. See vers. 16. & chap. 10. vers. 18.

Appearance of evill] That which in it self is not evill, yet beareth a shew of evill, and seemeth to be a sin, 1 Thess. 5. 22. How much more ought Christians to avoyd evill it self, when they must shun the very shadow of sin?

Appearance of Christ] The manifestation of Christ, either at his first coming in the flesh, 2 Tim. 1. 10. or at his second coming in glory, Heb. 9. 28. Tit. 2. 13.

Apelles] The proper name of a man, Rom. 16. 10. It cometh of α & πολὸς or πίλος, black, or swart; not black: or of the Latine word apella, which signifieth circumcised, or dark, from חָפַל; or, the ruler of wrath, from אַף & חָלַל

Apphaim] A countenance, or face. The Father of Ishi, 1 Chr. 2. 30.

Apphia] Bringing forth, or encreasing. A godly woman supposed to be the Wife of Philemon, Philem. 2.

Appii forum] A Town of Italy distant from Rome a dayes journey, where was a great market, Act. 28. 15.

Apple] Put for the fruit of the Apple tree, Cant. 7. 8. That which is made like an apple, Prov. 25. 11. Holy words and promises of Christ, Cant. 2. 5. The Apple tree here is taken for Christ, Cant. 2. 3. and is commended for shadow, Ibid. for sweet fruit, Ibid. for delight some smell, Cant. 7. 8. and for the more variety of fruit, then of any other trees bearing fruit: All to set out Christ.

Applie] we must our hearts to, Wisdome, Psal. 90. 12. Understanding, Prov. 2. 8. Knowledge, Prov. 22. 17. Instruction, Pro. 23. 12. Every good work, Eccles. 8. 9.

To appoint] To decree, will, or purpose a thing certainly from everlasting, 1 Thess. 5. 9. We are appointed not to wrath, but to obtain salvation.

2. To set apart to some office, as Deacons, Act. 2. 4. Which we may appoint, &c.

☞ 3. To determine or allow the good use, or end of an evill, which one doth not allow or appoint, Act. 2. 23.

It's also put for, to Ordain, Psal. 78. 9. Assigne, Numb. 4. 19. Set over, Lev. 26. 16. Command and enjoyn, Mat. 27. 10. Allot, Luk. 3. 13. Promise and dispose, Luk. 22. 29. Set down and name, Act. 28. 23. Chuse, 2 Sam. 15. 15. Lay, settle, Prov. 8. 29. Set or place, Neh. 7. 3. Limit, 1 Sam. 13. 11. Give, Isa. 61. 3.

☞ See to Decree, to Choose, Predestinate, Priest.

One appointed] One prepared as by certain arguments and demonstration: or by nurture and chastisement, Gen. 24. 14.

Apollonia] A City of Macedonia not far from Thessalonica, so named, ἀπὸ τῦ ἀπολλύειν, from destroying, wasting, Act. 17 1.

Apprehend] It's put for, to lead aside, Mar. 7. 33. To take by force, Rev. 19. 20. To attain to, or preach unto, Phil. 3. 12. Whole taken hold of, of Christ, without any defect on Christs part, Ibid.

Approach] It's put for, to goe nigh to, 2 Sam. 11. 20. Marry, Lev. 18. 6. Lie with one, Lev. 18. 19. Commit filthynesse, Lev. 20. 16. Worship God, 2 King. 16. 12. Isa. 58. 2.

To approach to none neer of kin] To marry or take to wife none which are within the degrees expresly forbidden, or by comparison and proportion from them be found unlawfull. Lev. 8. 6. None of you shall approach to any neer of kin to them. Whether Cousen-germanes be of that kin which one may not approach approach unto, it is a queſtion which hath not onely exerciſed the pens of the learned, but the conſciences of the unlearned and weak: for my part, howſoever, I cannot ſee it to be prohibited either expreſly or by analogy, and it ſeemeth to be warranted by that example of Zelophehads Daughters marrying the Uncles ſons by Gods appointment, Numb. 36. 11. Alſo ſundry learned men judge it lawfull, and godly perſons have done it as a thing lawful; yet it were expedient to keep further off, and to launch our ſhip into a channell where there is ſea-room enough; for it is vicinum malo.

To approve] To declare and ſhew himſelf indeed to be ſuch an one as he is taken for, and ſhould be, 2 Cor. 6. 8. In all things we approve our ſelves as the Miniſters of Chriſt.

It ſignifieth alſo, To accept, Eccleſ. 9. 7. Allow, Luk. 11. 48. Like, Amos 4. 5. Commend, Gen. 12. 15. Conſent to, Gen. 34. 22. Incline to, Judg. 9. 3.

As by fire] noteth no true fire, but that which hath reſemblance with fire, that is, to make a thing certainly known like to fire.

2. Equally. Joh. 5. 21. All ſhould honour the Son as they honour the Father. This particle [As] ſignifieth, Firſt, the likeneſſe of a thing, but not the truth of that thing, Matt. 26. 55.

Secondly, the truth of a thing, but not likeneſſe, Joh. 1. 14. Eph. 5. 8.

Thirdly, both the likeneſſe and truth of a thing, Heb. 2. 7.

Fourthly, the quality, but not the equality, Luk. 6. 36. Matt. 22. 39.

3. Becauſe, Joh. 15. 12. & 17. 2.

☞ 4. A Sicut, not of proportion but of condition, Matt. 6. 12. 14.

Note: As is ſometimes a ſure affirmation, Gen. 27. 12. As a deceiver, i. e. a very deceiver or mocker, Neh. 7. 2. 2 Joh. 1. 14.

It's put alſo for While, Act. 20. 9. Like, 1 Pet. 3. 8. According, Mat. 15. 28. For, Mat. 6. 12. With, Luk. 11. 4.

vant of Josiah, 2 King 22. 12. A Simeonite, 1 Chr. 4. 36. A Merarite, 1 Chr. 6. 30. A Shilonite, Ibid. 9. 5.

Asaph] Gathered. The Brother of Heman, 1 Chr. 6. 39. The Father of Joah, 2 King. 18. 18. The Keeper of the Forrest to King Artaxerxes, Neh. 2. 8.

Asareel] The beatitude of God. The Son of Jehaleleel, 1 Chr. 4. 16. Azarael a Priest, Neh. 12. 36.

Asarelah] The Son of Asaph, 1 Chr. 25. 2. The blessednesse of God.

To ascend into heaven] To goe up into heaven bodily and visibly, Act. 1. 9, 10. Eph. 4. 9, 10. When he ascended.

2. To be perfectly indued with light of spirituall understanding. Joh. 3. 13. No man ascended up, &c.

☞ 3. Referred to men, signifieth,

First, to study, seek, and desire the way to heaven, Rev. 8. 4.

Secondly, to go up in soul alone, or both in body and soul to heaven, Psal. 24. 3.

See Translation.

Thirdly, to go up to an higher place or state on earth, Luk. 18. 10.

Ascend] Spoken of God, Gen. 17. 22. Christ, Eph. 4. 10. Gods anger and wrath, Psal. 78. 21, 31. Angels, Gen. 28. 12. The soul out of the body of man, Eccles. 3. 21. Vehement prayer, Exod. 2. 23. The minde to pierce into the heavenly light for spirituall understanding of the mysteries of God, Joh. 3. 13. Vapors, mist, and smoke, Jer. 10. 13. Gen. 2. 6. Stink, Joel 2. 20. Wickednesse, Jonah 1. 2. It signifieth also to grow or Increase, Jer. 46. 7. Vanish away, or come to nothing, Esay 5. 24. Cease or leave off, 1 Sam. 14. 46.

Ascending] Gen. 28. 12. The Angels looking with desire into the mysteries of Christ, 1 Pet. 1. 12. ministring to him, and through him to his people, Mark 1. 13. Heb. 1. 14. now in speciall guarding Jacob from all perils in his journey, see Genes. 32. 1, 2.

Angels ascending and descending] The Angels ministring to Christ in his doing of strange works, and unto the Church for Christ his sake, Joh. 1. 51.

Ascending into heaven, and going down into the deep] That righteousnesse and salvation cannot any more be in us by the works of the Law, then either we are able to climbe up into the heavens to fetch a thing which is there, or to go down to the bottom of the deep seas to fetch something that is there, Rom. 10. 6, 7.

Ascending lamps] Exod. 40. 25. To burn and shine, as vers. 4. representing the seven spirits of Christ, whereby his Word shineth to his Church.

Asenath] A perill, or thing infortunate. Joseph's Wife, Gen. 41. 45.

Aser, or Asher] Happy. The Son of Jacob, Gen. 30. 13.

Ashamed] Abashed, or one that is waxen pale and wan, as when the colour fadeth and withereth: it noteth both disappointment of hope, and confusion or destruction. Psal. 6. 10. Let mine enemies be ashamed, &c. See Joh. 6. 20. & Jer. 48. 1, 20. Esay 1. 29. When we look for help from whence we obtain none, then followeth shame: as Idolaters from their idols, and superstitious forms of worship: which in the evill day being not onely unable to help, but pulling down much hurt and punishment, it caused such persons as trusted therein, to be ashamed of their temerity, impiety and obstinacy, especially if they have been forewarned.

Ashamed we must be, not of Christ, or his Word, Mar. 8. 38. the Gospel, Rom. 1. 16. Affliction for it, Rom. 5. 5. Beleeving in Christ, Rom. 9. 33. Praising a godly man, 2 Cor. 7. 14. Such as suffer for Christ, 2 Tim. 1. 16. Suffering as a Christian, 1 Pet. 4. 16. The testimony of our Lord, 2 Tim. 1. 8. But of sin (of what kinde soever) Rom. 6. 21.

Ashan] Smoke. A City, Josh. 15. 42.

Ashbel] An old fire. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 22.

Ashdod] Robbing of a Countrey; the fire of the beloved, or of the Fathers brother. A City, Josh. 15. 47.

Ashes] A thing vile and brittle, being the remainder of some better matter, as wood or other stuffe consumed by fire, 2 Pet. 2. 6.

2. The frailty and extreme vilenesse of man, being considered in comparison with his Creator, Gen. 18. 27. And behold I am but dust and ashes, Job 13. 12. Your memories may be compared to ashes; that is, they shall be most vile, never to be remembred but with loathing.

To eat ashes] To be cast down into a base and miserable condition, so full of sorrow, as for excessive mourning bread did relish no better then ashes, Psal. 102. 9. I have eaten ashes, &c.

To repent in ashes] To mourn and lament grievously in the sense of some sins against God, and for deserved judgement. Jon. 3. 6. The King of Nineveh sate in ashes, Matt.

Matt. 11. 21. They had repented in ſack-cloth and aſhes. It was the cuſtome of Jews and Gentiles in any deep heavyneſſe, to declare their grief by putting on ſack-cloth, and ſprinkling of aſhes on their heads, or ſitting in them; and after this faſhion Gods people did witneſſe their great abjection and vileneſſe, when by faſting and prayer they extraordinarily humbled themſelves before God to turn away ſome vengeance; which of ſome was done in truth and ſincerity, as Dan. 9. 3. and of others in ſhew onely, and in hypocriſie, as Ahab.

To become like duſt and aſhes, ſignifieth a mans dejected condition, Job 30. 19.

To conſume to aſhes] That the Sacrifice which Chriſt offered of himſelf, prefigured in thoſe of the Law, was moſt gratefull and acceptable unto God, Pſal. 20. 4. And turn thy burnt Sacrifices to aſhes, Lev. 6. 10.

The turning of the ſacrifices to aſhes, was a ſign of acceptation, that it had a ſweet ſmell, as turning of the ſacrifices to our uſe.

Aſtima] The fire of the ſea; or, the offence. The Idols of Hamath, 2 King. 17. 30.

Aſhelon] The fire of infamy. A City of the Philiſtims, 2 Sam. 1. 10.

Aſhenaz] Fire as it were diſtilling, or ſpringing. The Son of Gomer, Gen. 10. 3. Alſo a Countrey, Jer. 5. 27.

Aſhur] 1. The man ſo called, Gen. 10.

2. The poſterity of Aſhur, or Aſſyrians.

3. The Region or Countrey ſo called.

4. The King of Aſhur with his army, Iſa. 10. 5.

Aſia] Full of mire, or dirty, of אסה dirt, ſlime; or of the Syriack word ܐܣܝ he healed; accounted of old the third part of the world, and greater then both the others, Europe and Africa. This was the place of the firſt Men, firſt Religion, firſt Cities, Empires, Arts; where the moſt things mentioned in Scripture were done. The place where Paradiſe was ſeated, the Ark reſted, the Law was given, and whence the Goſpel proceeded. The place which did bear Him in his fleſh, that by his Word beareth up all things.

The word is uſed in the New Teſtament ſometimes for all the Leſſer Aſia, Act. 19. 26, 27. & 27. 2. Sometimes for ſome particular places thereof, Act. 16. 6. Act. 2. 9. & 6 9.

Aſiel] The work of God. The Father of Seraiah, 1 Chr. 4. 35.

To aske] To put a queſtion, Luke 20. 8. I alſo aske you, &c.

2. To move a petition, or to deſire ſomething in prayer, Mat. 7. 7.

When man asketh God, then it's put for to enquire, and aske counſell, Judg. 20. 23. Pray for, and beg of God, 1 Sam. 1. 20. Jam. 1. 7. Say, or tell, 1 King. 3. 5. When of man, then it's put for, to impoſe upon, Gen. 34. 12. Enquire as to learn of another, Deut. 32. 7. Crave, Joſh. 15. 18. Requeſt, 1 King. 2. 16. Demand of, Joh. 9. 21. Learn of, 1 Cor. 14. 35. Propound a queſtion, Matt. 22. 46. When it's ſpoken of Beaſts, it's put for, to learn, Job 12. 7. When it's applyed unto God, it ſheweth his offer both unto Chriſt our head, Pſal. 2. 8. and us his members, Matt. 7. 7. and is his queſtioning of man, Job 38. 3. Luk. 20. 3.

To ask amiſſe] To pray they know not what, nor as they ought, without referring their prayers unto Gods glory, and charity towards their neighbour, Jam. 4. 3. To aske amiſſe.

Aſmabeth] A ſtrong death, the ſtrength of death; or, a Buck-goat. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 31. The Son of Alemeth, 1 Chr. 8. 36.

Aſnapper] A great Noble man, who peopled the Cities of Samaria, Ezr. 4. 10.

Aſpatha] One of Haman's Sons, Eſt. 9. 7.

Aſpe] is a venemous and dangerous creature, having its eyes not in its forehead, but in its temples; ſo that it perſues its adverſary rather by its hearing and ſmelling then by ſeeing; herein reſembling the envyous, who look aſide on others, and upon hear-ſay or unwarrantable ſuſpicion conceive hatred againſt them. Its fellow being kill'd, it furiouſly perſueth its ſlayer, ſetting upon him whether he be alone or with others, without any regard unto its own danger; herein reſembling the wrathfull, who out of a deſire of revenge, expoſe themſelves to any danger. One kinde killeth by thirſt; thus doth Covetouſneſſe: Another by ſleep; thus do the Slothfull ſlay their owne ſouls: A third by blood, the parties ſtung therewith bleeding till they die; and thus do the luxurious deſtroy themſelves by waſhing their bodies. The wicked are ſaid to have the gall of Aſpes within them, Job 20. 14. to ſuck the poyſon of aſpes, Ibid. 16. to have the poyſon of Aſpes under their lips, Rom. 3. 13. Whereby may be perceived that they are malicious, dangerous. But the ſucking child ſhall play on the hole of the Aſpe, Iſa. 11. 8. God will deliver his from the greateſt dangers, and the ungodly when once converted to Chriſt, ſhall harm them no more.

Aſſe] Hereof frequent mention is made in the Scriptures, which ſhew the manifold uſe thereof; as whereon men and women rode, Exod. 4. 20. Numb. 22. 21. Joſh. 15. 8. or were drawn in a chariot, Iſa. 21. 7. which bare burthens, Gen. 42. 26. which was uſed in plowing the grounds, Deut. 22. 10. and grinding of corn in mills, Mat. 18. 6. Luk. 17. 2. The mil-ſtone there ſpoken of, was ſuch (as the Original importeth) as was turned about by an Aſſe. Touching it, God commanded that it ſhould reſt on the Sabbath, Deut. 5. 14. be brought home if found going aſtray, Deut. 22. 3. And forbid his people to covet one anothers Aſſe, Exod. 20. 17. It's a dumb beaſt, 2 Pet. 2. 16. brayeth, Job 6. 5. It's a vile baſe beaſt, of ſmall account; whence that phraſe, To be buried with the buriall of an Aſſe, Jer. 22. 19. Though ſtrong, yet it is a laſie beaſt, Gen. 49. 14, 15. It's unruly and ſullen; hence, a bridle for the Aſſe, Prov. 26. 3. The Prophet hereby upbraideth the peoples ingratitude, Iſa. 1. 3. Chriſt to ſhew his humility rode on an Aſſe, Joh. 12. 15. By this beaſt are ſignified, men ignorant of manners, the immoderate riot of ſtubborn perſons, their impudency and ſhameleſneſſe. Once an Aſſe ſpake, 2 Pet. 2. 16. and once an Aſſes head was ſold at a deare rate, 2 King. 6. 25.

Aſſembly] A place for ſolemn meetings, either Civill or Eccleſiaſticall, Mat. 23. 6. The chief ſeat in Aſſemblies, Iſa. 14. 5. where it ſignifieth ſacred miniſteries and meetings: It is alſo uſed for a multitude of people, Gen. 28. 3. Ezek. 23. 24.

This is done either by command of authority, as Num. 1. 18. 2 Sam. 20. 4, 5. or voluntarily; which is, either lawfully, Judg. 20. 1. or unlawfully, Pſa. 48. 4. Act. 4. 27.

Aſſos] A coming neer to. A City, Act. 20. 13.

Aſſurance] That infallible certainty which an elect ſoule hath by faith of her own ſalvation, and of the promiſe of grace, that it is true, and belongeth to her ſelfe. Heb. 10. 22. Draw neer in aſſurance of faith. Rom. 4. 21. Being aſſured, &c. The Papiſts are enemies to this aſſurance: they grant a probable and conjecturall, but deny infallible aſſurance; becauſe mans will (ſay they) is mutable, whereas our aſſurance depends upon the unchangeable will of God.

2. Charitable perſwaſions of other mens ſalvation. 2 Tim. 1. 5. I am aſſured it is in thee.

Aſſurance is either Corporall, concerning the bodies ſafety, Deut. 28. 66. Spirituall, touching the ſouls ſafety, Heb. 6. 11. Which is of underſtanding, Col. 2. 2. Athaliah] The hour, or time for the Lord. The Mother of Ahaziah, 2 King. 8. 26. The Son of Jeroham, 1 Chr. 8. 26.

Athens] A moſt noble City of Grecia, called Ἀθῆναι, ἀπὸ τῆ Ἀθήνης, of Minerva, the Builder or Patroneſſe thereof, Act. 17. 15.

Athlai] My hour, or time. A mans name, Ezr. 10. 28.

Attai] The ſame. The Son of Jarah, 1 Chr. 2. 35.

To attain] To lay hold on, or receive. Rom. 9. 30. They attained righteouſneſſe; a Metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from a bodily hand apprehending a gift offered, ſo faith apprehends Chriſt as he is given of the Father.

2. To hold out till one come to the mark or goal. Rom. 9. 31. They attained not the law of righteouſneſſe: A metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from ſuch as run in a race, and faint or fail in the middle courſe ere they come to the end; ſo did theſe Jews fail of righteouſneſſe, whereunto they ſtrove (as runners) to come, becauſe they could not exactly keep the Law, and withall contemned the grace of Chriſt, being puffed up with pride of their own good works.

Attalia] Encreaſing, or nouriſhing. A City of Pamphylia, Act. 14. 25. It may ſeem to be thus named of עתליהו an hour, or time to the Lord, of עת and ל the article of the Dative caſe, and יהו which uſeth to be put for יה which ſeems to be abbreviated of the proper name of God יהוה.

His ſoul upon his owne people rebellious againſt him, Jer. 5. 9. & 9. 9. The houſe of Jehu, Hoſ. 1. 4. Spoken of men lawfully in Gods quarrell, Numb. 31. 2. Defence of themſelves by warrant of authority,

Eſt-

Eſt. 8. 13. In a juſt war, Joſh. 10. 13. Unlawfully, in a mans owne private quarrell, Lev. 19. 18. Rom. 12. 19.

Auguſtus] Σεβαστὸς, luckie, worſhipfull, worthy to be reverenced. The ſurname of the Romane Emperours, Luk. 2. 1.

Avim] Wicked, or perverſe. A City, Joſh. 18. 23.

Avith] ſignifieth the ſame. A City, 1 Chr. 1. 46.

Author] The beginner or firſt Inventer and maker of a thing. Heb. 12. 3. Jeſus the Author of our faith.

It's ſpoken of God the Author of peace. 1 Cor. 14. 33. Jeſus Chriſt the Author of our eternall ſalvation. Heb. 5. 9. Faith, Heb. 12. 2. Life, Act. 3. 15. Men, ſuch as be the beginners of any thing, Judg. 6. 9. Ezr. 5. 4. or the head and chief ſtirrer, mover to a thing, Act. 24. 5.

Authority] Good eſtimation and opinion, gotten by wiſdome and well doing.

2. Lawfull power enabling to do ſome publique works. Luke 20. 2. Tell us by what authority thou doſt theſe things. Mat. 20. 25. Luke 7. 8.

3. Majeſty, power and efficacy. Mar. 1. 22. He taught them as one that had authority.

4. Juriſdiction, dominion, or power, both lawfull and unlawfull. 1 Cor. 15. 24. All rule, and all authority, and all power. Some Interpreters do largely conſtrue theſe words, of all good and lawfull degrees, diſtinction of orders, dignities, and authorities in this world, whether Oeconomicall, Politicall, or Eccleſiaſticall: all which ſhall ceaſe at the laſt reſurrection, and be wholly aboliſhed; There ſhall be no more any difference of Husband and Wife, Maſter and Servant, Father and Children, King and Subjects; Doctors, Paſtors ſhall no more bear ſuch office as now they do in the Church: the like is to be ſaid of all Officers and Governours, of all Honours and Powers, which ſerve only for the preſervation of this life, and therefore be temporary. Yea, it may reach unto the principality of the good Angels and their office, ſo far forth as they be our Miniſters to look unto private perſons, or whole States; yea the powers of heaven, to wit, Sun, and Moon, and Stars, and other celeſtiall creatures at the end of the world ſhall loſe their functions which now they have, as to chaſe away darkneſſe, to cheriſh and comfort inferiour bodies, to expell cold, &c. Howbeit (though all this be true, and the place by this generall expoſition may comprehend all lawfull powers and authorities ordained of God) the fitteſt interpretation is to underſtand it more ſtrictly of all rule, authority and power which is contrary to Chriſt; namely of Tyrants, Perſecutors, Hereticks, wicked enemies, yea of Sin, Satan, Death: All which now wreſtle and riſe up in arms (as it were) againſt the Kingdome and glory of Chriſt, at whoſe coming (their ſubſtances ſtill remaining) yet their power and authority ſhall be quite taken away, as they ſhall never be able any more to aſſail and hurt the people of Chriſt: and thus to expound it, I am induced by comparing the verſ. 24. with verſ. 25, 26. where Paul limiteth theſe authorities and powers to the enemies of Chriſt, naming death at the laſt; either for that at the fall of Adam death came in the laſt of all, Satan tempting, man conſenting, ſin acted going before, and death following after as a ſtipend of ſin: or elſe it is ſaid to be laſt, becauſe of his continuance and durance in reſpect of the reſt of the externall enemies of Chriſt, who by raiſing up the bodies of the Saints from bodily death, did ſo overcome death in the laſt place.

It's either Domeſticall, Mar. 13. 34. Politicall, Supreme, 1 Pet. 2. 13. Subordinate, Ibid. 14. or Eccleſiaſticall, humane, and of men, Act. 9. 14. Divine, from God, 1 Cor. 9. 18. Heavenly, in Chriſt, in Word, by Preaching, Mat. 7. 29. Commanding, Mat. 8. 27. as alſo in executing judgement, Joh. 5. 27. Antichriſtian, and ſo Diabolicall, 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. Rev. 13. 2.

A W.

To awake] To come, or get out of ſleep, Mat. 8. 25.

2. To come out of the ſleep of ſin by repentance, as he that comes out of bodily ſleep by awaking. Eph. 5. 14. Awake thou that ſleepeſt, and ariſe from the dead.

3. To be prompt and ready with a watchfull minde to perform good duties, Pſal. 108. 2. I my ſelf will wake right early, Pſal. 139. 18.

4. To miniſter and give preſent ſuccour after it hath been long kept from us, as though God had been aſleep and forgotten us, Pſal. 7. 6. Awake for me, O Lord.

5. To riſe from death as from a ſleep, Pſa. 17. 15. Dan. 12. 2.

It's ſpoken Corporally, of the living, Gen. 28. 16. Of the dead reſtored to life, Joh. 11. 11. Mentally, when the ſpirit is made cheerfull, Pſal. 108. 2. or the minde brought to a ſerious conſideration of that it ſhould think upon, Joel 1. 5. Spiritually, to leave ſin, Rom. 13. 11. It's ſpoken of God figuratively, Pſal. 7. 6. Of Chriſt myſtically, Cant. 2. 7. Of other things alſo improperly, as of the tongue or ſoul, Pſa. 57. 8. Inſtruments of muſick, Pſal. 108. 2. The ſword, Zech. 13. 7. Wood, Hab. 2. 19.

To ſtand in awe] To be moved with the fear of the anger of God, who is wrathfully diſpleaſed with all unjuſt dealers. Pſal. 4. 4. Stand in awe. Some Interpreters thinking this to be ſpoken to the godly Iſraelites, take this to be the meaning, that in their anger againſt wicked perſecuters they ſhould not exceed meaſure, leſt they ſinned; and indeed the tranſlation of the Septuagint is, Be angry and ſin not; which Paul followed, Eph. 4. 26. following not the genuine ſenſe, but the common Greek verſion, as Piſcator judgeth, upon this reaſon, becauſe the courſe and order of David's words ſhew this ſpeech to be directed to the Counſellers and Courtiers of Saul.

A X.

Axe] An inſtrument to hew or cut down trees withall.

2. The Word of God, which (as a ſpirituall Axe) cutteth down ſpirituall wicked men and hypocrites, like rotten and barren trees. This is it which is elſewhere meant by plucking up, deſtroying, hardning, binding, retaining ſins, making the ears heavy, and the heart fat, &c. Mat. 3. 10. Now is the Axe laid to the root of the trees, &c. Some expound this, not of ſpirituall judgements threatned in his Word againſt unrepentant ſinners; but of the power of the Romans, which were the inſtruments of God, to deſtroy utterly the unfaithfull and wicked generation of the Jews, with a worldly deſtruction. The former is the better expoſition.

3. King of Aſſyria, who was as an Axe in the hand of God, to uſe as he would; yet was ſtout, and ſpake proud things againſt God, Eſay 10. 14. 2 King. 19. 22.

Back parts] So much of Gods glory, as in this life we are able to ſee, Exod. 33. 23. Thou ſhalt ſee my back parts, but my face thou ſhalt not ſee; that is, (ſaith Luther) Here we behold God in his Word, and in his creatures, and in the face of Chriſt Jeſus our Mediator: But when this body is diſſolved by death, then we ſhall ſee him face to face, and know him as we are known, 1 Cor. 13. 9, 10, 12.

Back-biters] They which by falſe, or true reports, hurt the credit of their neighbor in his abſence, and behinde his back. Rom. 1. 30. Backbiters. Bad, See Evill.

Backſlider] One that falleth away, revolteth, turneth aſide, goeth backward, forſaketh, departeth from the Faith. And that in heart and affection, 1 King. 11. 9. Rev. 2. 4. Doctrine, Gal. 5. 4. The worſhip of God, Gal. 4. 9. His words, Mat. 10. 33. Life and converſation, Prov. 2. 13. But ſome are thus onely in part, and for a time, as Peter, Manaſſes, &c. Some wholly and finally, 2 Pet. 2. 1, 21. Heb. 3. 12. & 6. 6. & 10. 39.

Badger] It ſleepeth in the day, and cometh abroad in the night; and hence it's called Lucifuga. The Fox in her abſence having laid his excrement at the entry of her den, cauſeth that ſhe forbeareth to enter into it as noyſome, whereupon the Fox maketh uſe of it. The skin was employed for the covering of the Tabernacle, Exod. 36. 19. And of the Ark of Teſtimony, Numb. 4. 5, 6. So the Candleſtick and his lamps, &c. verſ. 8, 10, 11, 14, 25. It was alſo employed for Shooes, Ezek. 16. 10.

Bags which wax not old] Heavenly treaſures which periſh not as earthly goods doe, but endure alwayes, Luk. 12. 33.

To put wages in broken bags] To bee unable to keep what one earns or gets, no more then one can keep what he puts in a bag which wants a bottome, or is ful of rents and holes. Hag. 1. 6. Ye put your wages in a broken bag. It is a proverbiall ſpeech, to ſignifie that ones ſubſtance waſteth ſuddenly, in a moment.

Bahurim] Choice, warlike, valiant. A place in the Tribe of Benjamin, 2 Sam. 3. 16.

Baith] A houſe. City of the Moabites, Iſa. 15. 2

Balak] Covering or deſtroying. The King of Moab, Numb. 22. 2, 5.

Baldneſſe] All tokens of mourning, Iſa. 15. 2. Iſa. 3. 4.

This may be, by a Diſeaſe, Lev. 13. 42.

Age, 2 King. 2. 23. Cutting or ſhaving off, Jer. 16. 6. which in ſome caſes was forbidden, Lev. 21. 5. & 10. 27. Being practiſed of the Heathen, Jer. 9. 26. & 25. 23. & 49 32.

Ballance] Even, Job 31. 6. and juſt, Prov. 16 11. Commanded, Lev. 19 36. as being the Lords, Prov. 16. 11. and wherein he delighteth, Prov. 11. 1. The falſe, Prov. 20. 23. Wicked, Mic. 6. 11. Of deceit, Hoſ. 12. 7. being an abomination to the Lord, Prov. 20. 23.

Balme] A precious healing oyl, which was carryed by Merchants into Ægypt, Gen. 37. 25. Sold in Tyre, Ezek. 37. 17. Sent for a preſent by Jacob, Gen. 43. 11. Uſed by Phyſicians for healing, Jer. 8. 22. Whereof the beſt was in Gilead, Jer. 46. 11. It's put figuratively for means and remedy of recovering a State to her former glory, Jer. 8. 22. & 46. 11. The bark of the Balm tree being pierced with an iron, out of the wound ſo made the oyl iſſueth: If it be not ſophiſticated, being put in water it preſently ſinketh to the bottome. It's moſt odoriferous, preferred before all other odours. It bringeth forth the dead birth, keepeth dead bodies from corruption: Is good againſt the bitings of venemous beaſts.

Band] Put for the reſtraining power of authority, Jer. 5. 5. The means by which people are miſerably kept under, Lev. 26. 13. Iſa. 58. 6. Kindeneſſe of love, Hoſ. 11. 4.

Band: ſpoken of men, 1 Sam. 10. 26. Rovers, 1 Chr. 12. 21. Souldiers, 1 Chr. 7. 4. Locuſts, Prov. 30. 27. Wicked, Pſal. 119, 61.

Bani] Sons. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 36. The Son of Shamir, 1 Chro. 6. 46. The Father of Rehum, Neh. 3. 17. The Father of Uzzi, Ibid. 11. 22.

Banner] Put for a Standard, Iſa. 13. 2. Victory, Pſ. 60. 4. Love, Cant. 2. 4.

Banquet] Gen. 23. & 29. 22. It is a word which cometh of drinking, both in Hebrew and Greek, becauſe large drink is uſed in Banquets. Hereupon it is called, the Banquet of wine, Eſt. 5. 5. & 7. 7. And the King and Haman came to drink with Queen Eſther, that is, to Banquet, Eſt. 7. 1. & 3. 15. Such we call a Bride-ale: a Marriage is ſometime uſed for a Banquet or feaſt, Luk. 14. 8. So the Syriack turneth it.

To be baptized with the holy Ghoſt] To receive the gifts of the holy Ghoſt, which ſometime were in a viſible manner beſtowed in the Primitive Church, before or after baptiſme, Act. 1. 5. Act. 10. 44. & 19. 5.

Baptiſme] is to be two wayes conſidered, either as it is the ſeal of Juſtification, and remiſſion of ſins, Act. 2. 38. or of Sanctification and inherent righteouſneſſe, Rom. 6. 3, 4. but our whole Sanctification is given in this place of Paul, not to Baptiſm, which is but the ſeal of it, but to the death and reſurrection of Chriſt.

Baptiſme, what it is] The Sacrament of our Initiation or firſt entrance into the Covenant of grace: not that then we firſt begin to be of the Covenant, but our being in it, is thereby ſealed and aſſured. Rom. 4. 11. Circumciſion as a ſeal of the righteouſneſſe of faith. It is an error in Popery, to hold, that in Baptiſme we are firſt made partakers of the Covenant, or that naturall concupiſcence is taken away, not onely touching guilt, but touching corruption too, to be no ſinne.

More fully thus: it is the ſolemn dipping into, or waſhing in water at the commandement of Chriſt, in the name of the bleſſed Trinity; by this outward ſigne of waſhing with water, to aſſure us of our entrance into fellowſhip with Chriſt, for our Juſtification, and Sanctification by his death and Spirit, unto eternal ſalvation in heaven, Rom. 6. 23. 1 Cor. 12. 13.

Baptiſme without faith in the party baptized, doth not work Grace, Act. 8. 36, 37. Neither doth it become effectuall by any virtue inherent in the ſigne, or action, or Miniſter, but by the power of Chriſt who is made all things to the true beleevers, even without baptiſme as well as by baptiſme; for Chriſt being a moſt free agent, is not tyed neceſſarily to his own Ordinance, which we have need of, and may not contemn upon pain of damnation, but he may give grace by it, or without it, as he pleaſeth.

Baptiſme of repentance, Act. 19. 4. So called, becauſe repentance with faith was required before the adminiſtration of Baptiſm in all of yeers, Act. 2. 38. 41.

Baptiſme: Dipping into water, or waſhing with water, 1 Pet. 3. 21. Whereof baptiſm, &c.

2. Pouring out, or ſhedding abroad the gifts of the Spirit. Act. 11. 16. Ye ſhall be baptized with the holy Ghoſt, Mat. 3. 11. Act. 1. 5. To baptize with the Spirit, is to beſtow the graces of the Spirit.

3. Miniſtry and doctrin of John, Act. 19. 3. Unto John's baptiſme.

To baptize] To dip into water, or to plunge one into the water.

2. To plunge into afflictions or dangers (as it were into deep waters. Matt. 20. 22. Can ye be baptized with the baptiſme wherewith I am baptized? that is, Can ye ſuffer afflictions?

3. To

3. To ſprinkle or waſh ones body Sacramentally. Thus the Miniſter baptizeth. Mat. 3. 11. I baptize you with water, that is outward Sacramentall waſhing.

4. To waſh the Conſcience ſpiritually, purging it from the guilt and corruption of ſin, by Juſtification and Sanctification, that it neither reign nor be imputed. Thus Chriſt baptized. Mat. 3. 11. Chriſt ſhall baptize you with the holy Ghoſt, and with fire. This is inward ſpirituall waſhing.

Chriſt is ſaid to baptize with the holy Ghoſt generally, becauſe Baptiſme is made effectuall by his holy Spirit: but more eſpecially theſe two wayes both by the extraordinary gifts of his Spirit, which he miraculouſly in a viſible manner poured downe upon his Diſciples on the day of Pentecoſt, Act. 2. 2, 3, 4. and upon others, as Act. 10. on Cornelius, and Act. 19. Alſo by effectuall regeneration of the Spirit in the ordinary Miniſtry of the Church, whereby the Father and the Son, by the Spirit, which proceedeth from them both, doth work effectually to the ſalvation of the elect.

The Miniſter baptizeth by ſprinkling with water, God baptizeth by beſtowing the gifts of his Spirit. The baptiſme of John and Chriſt were all one for Ceremony, Action, Subſtance, and and Effect: difference was in the perſons; Chriſt being man and God, who could from himſelf give the thing betokened in Baptiſme; ſo could not John, to whom did appertain the adminiſtration of the outward ſigne.

Where the Word is truely preached, and Baptiſme purely adminiſtred, we may be ſure there is a Church; there is alſo Chriſt, remiſſion of ſins, the holy Ghoſt, and eternall life; and none of all theſe be where the purity of the Word and Sacraments be not: for Chriſt and his things are no where to be ſought or found, but where he doth manifeſt himſelf in his Word and Sacraments. To ſay there is no Church where theſe be received, is to ſay, it is not day where the Sun ſhineth, or no man where the body is quickened with a ſoul. For Baptiſm is a Symbole and pledge of Chriſt and his benefits, remiſſion of ſins, regeneration, and eternal life, Mark 1. 4. Therefore John ſaith, that he came baptizing, to manifeſt Chriſt to Iſrael, viz. to the loſt ſheep of Iſrael, Joh. 1. 31.

To be baptized in the cloud, and in the ſea] Their communion with Chriſt, ſealed to the Iſraelites, by that extraordinary Sacrament of being under the Cloud, and paſſing through the Sea, as the ſame grace is ſealed to Chriſtians by Baptiſme, 1 Cor. 10. 1, 2, &c. See Exod. 13. 21, 22. Numb. 9. 19, 20, 21, 22.

To be baptized for dead] Not, for the dead, or over the graves of the dead, but as dead even to deſtroy and mortifie ſin, which is the true end of Baptiſme, and neceſſarily proveth the hope of the reſurrection; for it were loſt labour to crucifie ſin if no reſurrection. 1 Cor. 15. 29. Which are baptized for dead.

There is another ſignification, as if waſhing or ablution of dead bodies were here meant: (as Theodoret, Beza,) it is certain that baptizing is put generally for waſhing, Mark 7. 4. And that mortuall ablution was common to Jews out of charity and hope of reſurrection, and Gentiles out of ſuperſtition; yea, and that it was already received of Chriſtians, Act. 9. 37. Now if no reſurrection, this ceremony and labour had been in vain. The opinion of Baptiſme over the graves of Martyrs: alſo that it is underſtood of ſuch as were baptized at the point of death; or, in ſtead of the dead; or upon profeſſion of the Article of the reſurrection of the dead, be not to be liked of; leſſe for mortall ſins, or prayer for the dead. Luther, Epiphan. Ambroſe, Aquinas, Stapleton.

Or thus: Baptized for the dead, 1 Cor. 15. 29. that is, afflicted, perſecuted (as the Apoſtle ſpeaketh of himſelf) every hour ſtanding in jeopardy, &c. as it were daily dying for the hope of the reſurrection of the dead; without wch hope all ſufferings were in vain.

To be baptized into the death of Chriſt] To receive baptiſme as a teſtimony of mortification, and as an inſtrument of the holy Ghoſt, for the extinguiſhing, and the killing of ſin by the death of Chriſt. Rom. 6. 3. Have been baptized into his death.

To be baptized unto John's baptiſme, Act. 19. 3. that is, unto John's doctrine, which was to beleeve in Chriſt Jeſus unto ſalvation, whereof John's Baptiſme was a ſeal.

Baptized unto Moſes, 1 Cor. 10. 2. that is, To be obſervers of the doctrine and law delivered by Moſes, as we by Baptiſme are bound to the doctrine of the Goſpel.

Baptized in the name of the Father, &c. Mat. 28. 19. that is, To be dedicated and conſecrated into it, of the Father, as his Sons: the Son, as his redeemed ones; the holy Ghoſt, as his ſanctified ones.

Baptized into one body, 1 Cor. 12. 13, 27. that is, ingraffed ſpiritually into the myſticall body of Chriſt, which is his Church.

Baptized for the remiſſion of ſins, Act. 2. 38. that is, in witneſſe that our ſins are remitted.

A Bear] The Kingdome of Perſia, called a Bear, for the barbarous and ſavage cruelty exerciſed in it; whence it is ſaid to be like ſilver, as being of leſſe eſteem then the Babyloniſh Monarchy, which is likened to Gold, Dan. 2. 32. This Kingdome is ſaid to raiſe it ſelf, Dan. 7. 5. becauſe, out of ambition and reſtleſſe deſire to rule over others, it united to it ſelf, firſt the Kingdome of the Medes, and then of the Babylonians, forraging into the three coaſts of the habitable world, as Dan. 8. 4. which are termed three ribs in Dan. 7. 5. Like to a Bear.

It's very ſtrong, yet hath a very weak head. In the Winter time, ſleepeth much, and groweth fat. The female is very libidinous, and greatly loveth its young ones, being then moſt fierce, eſpecially, if any ſhould take them from her, Prov. 17. 12. Hoſ. 13. 8. 2 Sam. 17. 8. It loveth lurking places; is wonderfully delighted with honey, being skilfull for the getting thereof to climbe the higheſt trees. Is revengefull, yet being delighted with muſick, doth often let goe his prey. It's ſubtle, ſo entring into its den, that its footſteps are not diſcerned. It drinketh not water as the Dog doth, nor after the manner, as other creatures doe, but doth greedily bite it when hunted: By its breath and vomit it often ſaveth it ſelf from the dogs and Hunters. It preyeth not uſually on any thing that's dead. So that if a man can hold his breath, as if he were dead, it will not harm him. Forty and two children that mocked Eliſha, were torne by two ſhee-bears, 2 King. 2. 24.

To bear] To take away ſins, by ſuffering the puniſhment of them. 2 Pet. 3. 24. He did bear our ſins in his body upon the tree, Eſay 53. 4. He did bear our infirmities, Mat. 8. 17.

2. To ſtay and keep a ſinner from falling, lovingly ſupporting his weaknes by prayers, counſels, and exhortations. Gal. 6. 2. Bear ye one anothers burden, Rom. 15. 1. It is a Metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from a burden or weight ſuſtained by pillars or ſupporters.

It's alſo put for, to Bring forth, as women doe children, Gen. 17. 17. Trees, fruit, Jam. 3. 12. Suſtain, Gen. 36. 7. Bee puniſhed, Numb. 14. 33. Undergoe, for ruling, ordering, deciding, and peaceably keeping the people, Deut. 1. 12. Speak and utter, Deut. 5. 20. Tell, 2 Sam. 18. 19. Be anſwerable in payment, 2 King. 18. 14. Suſtain and ſupport, Pſal. 75. 3. Patiently to diſſemble and hide, Pſal. 89. 50. Jer. 31. 19. Safely to uphold, Pſal. 91. 12. Light upon and receive puniſhment, Prov. 9. 12. Quietly endure, Prov. 18. 14. Undergoe, Ezek. 14. 10. Receiving puniſhment, Ezek. 23. 35, 49. Carry, Mat. 3. 11. Forbear, patiently ſuffering, Luk. 18. 7. Perform, Act. 15. 10. Patiently to tolerate, paſſing by, and pardoning, Rom. 15. 1. Gal. 6. 2. Take into ones hand for good uſe, Rom. 13. 4.

To bear his judgement] To have puniſhment certainly and juſtly laid on him by God, Gal. 5. 10. Judgement or puniſhment for ſin, is often in Scripture compared to a load or burden, heavy and weighty, preſſing down him that beareth it, as many ſheaves preſſe a Cart, or as a weight preſſeth down the ballance. See Eſay 13. 1. and 15. 1. and oftentimes alſo David in the Pſalmes complaineth thereof, eſpecially, Pſal. 38. 4. The reaſon is, becauſe afflictions being grievous in themſelves, Heb. 12. 11. they alſo draw with them the conſcience and remembrance of ſin committed, (as in Joſeph's Brethren) which is an heavyer burden then the pain which cometh of it, as Hebr. 12. 1.

To bear their names before God] That Chriſt alwayes hath in remembrance his Church and all the members of it, ever appearing for their ſakes before God, Exod. 28. 12. Heb. 7. 25, 26. & 9. 24. The ſame thing ſignified by ſetting us a ſeal on his heart, Can. 7. 11. and by ſetting Zerubbabel as a ſignet, Hab. 2. 23.

Beaſt, or beaſts] All wilde creatures which are upon the land. Pſ. 8. 7. And beaſts of the field

2. Some one ravenous or cruel beaſt. Gen. 37. 33. Some evill beaſt hath devoured him.

3. One of bruſiſh underſtanding, having no more reaſon then a beaſt. Pſa. 73. 21. I was a beaſt before thee, &c.

4. Men of bruſiſh and beaſtly qualities, like unto beaſts for fierceneſſe, uncleanneſſe, and obſtinacy. 1 Cor. 15. 32. I have fought with beaſts at Epheſus. Some expound this place literally, that Paul for defence of his life, did encounter with wilde beaſts, as Bears, Lyons, &c. by the ſentence of the Magiſtrate, to ſatisfie the cruelty of the people: for under the Romans, as ſome were caſt to beaſts naked, Daniel by the Perſians, Ignatius by Tyrants; ſo others were condemned to fight armed with Wolves, &c. Howſoever the Text bee taken (figuratively or literally) it ſignifieth the extreme difficulties which Paul did undergoe for the hope of a bleſſed reſurrection, otherwiſe he had loſt his labour in ſtriving. See Act. 19. 9. Tit. 1. 12. A Metaphor.

5. Fierce, ſavage, and unpure Heathens and Nations. Pſa. 80. 13. The wilde beaſt of the field hath eaten it up.

6. Civill Rome, cruelly perſecuting the Saints: alſo eccleſiaſticall Rome, treading in the ſteps of that barbarous cruelty. Rev. 17. 18. The beaſt which thou haſt ſeen was and is not, Rev. 13. 1, 4, 17. In which place it ſignifies Rome, as it is reſtored by the Pope, unto the Idolatry and tyranny of the ſuperſtitious perſecuting Emperours, and made the ſeat of Antichriſt.

7. Empires and Kingdomes raiſed up and maintained after a beaſtly manner, with oppreſſion, cruelty, war and bloudſhed. Dan. 7. 3. 17. And four great beaſts came up, &c.

Beat] put for, to Bruiſe, or bray, Exod. 30. 36. Make thin, Exod. 39. 3. Smite or ſtrike, Deut. 25. 3. Batter, Judg. 8. 17. Get victory, 2 King. 13. 25. Trample upon, overcome, Pſal. 89. 23. Threſh, Ruth 2. 17. Turn, alter, make one thing into another, Iſa. 2. 4.

Beauty] Applyed to the face and countenance, Prov. 6. 25. Attire, Exod. 28. 2. Gray head, Prov. 20. 29. A royall ſeat, Iſa. 13. 19. Princely magnificence, Iſa. 33. 17. Great perſons in a ſtate, 2 Sam. 1. 19. Place of Gods worſhip, 2 Chr. 20. 21. Churches grace in her ſpirituall happineſſe, Ezek. 16. 14.

Beautifull] Applyed to the countenance, Gen. 12. 14. Good works, Eccl. 3. 11. Garments, Iſa. 52. 1. Flocks, 13. 20. A rod, Jer. 48. 17. Jeruſalem, Pſal. 48. 2. A crown, Ezek. 16. 12.

Ezek. 16. 12. The Temple and Houſe of God, Iſa. 64. 11. The feet of faithfull preachers, Rom. 10. 15.

Bebai] Void, or empty. The Father of Zechariah, Ezr. 8. 11.

Becher] The firſt begotten, or firſt fruits. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21. The Son of Ephraim, Numb. 26. 35.

Bechorath] The ſame. The Son of Aphiah, 1 Sam. 9. 1.

Bed] Taken for that wherein they did lie, and ſleep in the night, 1 Sam. 19. 13. A couch on which they reſted in the day time, 2 Sam. 4. 5. That whereon they did eat in ſtead of a table, Eſt. 7. 6. The lawfull uſe of wedlock, Heb. 13. 4. Puniſhment, Rev. 2. 22.

Bedad] Solitary. The Father of Hadad, Gen. 36. 35.

Bedaiah] The onely Lord, or dore-bar of the Lord. The Son of Bani, Ezr. 10. 35.

Bedan] A Judge, or Judicature. The name of a Judge, 1 Sam. 12. 11.

Bee] The Bees have a well ordered Common-wealth, whereof the King is the chief, the reſt are his obedient Subjects. The King is not choſen by voyces, lot, ſucceſſion, but being of more beauty, greatneſſe, mildeneſſe, attaineth this dignity; who though he hath a ſting (as moſt hold) yet uſeth it not: Chuſing rather to rule by gentleneſſe then by force. He overſees the reſt, and encourageth them by his preſence in their work, whereunto he appointeth them. Till he go before, the reſt goe not out of their hive; whom, when old and weak, they help with their wings. He is content with his owne portion, taketh not from the reſt what's their due. The King excepted, all the reſt wear one livery, no ſtrange apparell amongſt them. They are diligent in their work, abroad in gathering, at home in diſpoſing what they have gathered from the trees and flowers. Each provides for its owne cell, and fills it with honey. The Kings cells are higheſt built, thoſe next being for the aged, as his Counſellers; the reſt for the younger and ſtronger. Whileſt the King lives, ſo long the Hive proſpers. Upon his death, troubles ariſe. They are much addicted to cleanneſſe, and neatneſſe. They are courageous in battel againſt their enemies; nor can endure that any of their number ſhould be lazie and idle. They moleſt not any, till moleſted, but then are very revengeful. They are naturally Geometricians, Muſicians. Their Hive being full, they ſend out their young, to provide for themſelves. They delight in ſweetneſſe, and drink of the pureſt fountains; cannot abide bitter hearbs; cannot abide ſuch places as ſmell fat, or of oyntment; are called home by beating on a baſon. In Summer they provide for Winter. The Pſalmiſt complaineth, that his enemies compaſſed him about like Bees, Pſal. 118. 2. And Moſes ſaith, that the Amorites came out againſt the Iſraelites, and chaſed them as Bees doe, Deut. 1. 44. And hereunto the Prophet Iſaiah compareth the Churches enemies, Iſa. 7. 18.

Beer] A well; or declaring, Numb. 21. 16

Beera] The ſame. The Son of Zophah, 1 Chr. 7. 37.

Beerah] The ſame. The Son of Baal, 1 Chr. 5. 6.

Beer-elim] The well of Elim, Iſa. 15. 8.

Beeri] A well explaining, or declaring. An Hittite, Gen. 26. 34. The Father of Hoſea, Hoſ. 1. 1.

Beer-lahai-roi] The well of him that liveth and ſeeth me, Gen. 16. 14.

Beeroth] Wells explaining, or declaring. The name of a City, Joſh. 9. 17.

Beer-sheba] The well of the oath, Gen. 26. 33. A City, Joſh. 19. 2. The utmoſt bounds of the holy land towards the South and Weſt, as Dan was towards the North, 1 Sam. 3. 20.

Before] Applyed to time paſt, or long ſince, Joh. 8. 58. Time, a little before, Mar. 1. 2. The order of time, Gal. 1. 9. The order of dignity, Joh. 1. 15. 27. The order of place, Luk. 22. 47.

Before God, or in his ſight] In his preſence. 2 Cor. 5. 10. We muſt all appear before Chriſt, Rev. 20. 13. I ſaw the dead ſtand before God. It ſignifies before the cloud, a token of Gods preſence, Exod. 18. 12. 2 King. 22. 19. Eph. 1. 4.

2. Sincerely, ſo as God doth allow of us in mercy. Luk. 1. 6. They were both juſt before God: that is, upright, though not perfect. Gen. 7. 1. Noah an upright man.

3. Perfectly, ſo as God may allow of us in his ſtrict juſtice. Pſa. 143. 2. None living ſhall be juſtified before thee, or in thy ſight, Rom. 3. 20.

4. As God can witneſſe. Here it is the form of an oath. Gal. 1. 20. Before God, I lie not; that is, I call God to witneſſe, that this is truth. See God, Gen. 27. 7. it ſignifieth, in his preſence, by his authority and power and for ever: and being done a little before his death, it was with more power, care and reverence, and by his laſt

Will and Teſtament, Gen. 27. 7. 1 Sam. 26. 19. Deut. 33. 1.

Note: All Teachers which make themſelves or others the dore whereby to enter into the Church and Kingdome of God, theſe come before Chriſt. Therefore this concerneth not Moſes and the Prophets, who made not themſelves the dore, but rather ſhewed to the ſheep Chriſt to be the onely dore, by whom we have acceſſe and entrance to God.

Before one] Without him, Joh. 10. 18. All that come before me are theeves; that is to ſay, without me, or not by me, who am the onely dore; or without a calling, not ſent of God; alſo in preſence, Dan. 5. 1. Alſo one being alive and preſent, Gen. 11. 7, 8.

2. Firſt, in order of time. Joh. 8. 58. Before Abraham was, I am. Rom. 16. 7. And were in Chriſt before me.

3. Of greater dignity and more honorable place, though in time he be after me, Joh. 1. 27. 38. Alſo before one, ſignifieth, with one, as a Leader and Protector, Gen. 24. 7, 40. Alſo, free for him to chuſe where he liked, and to poſſeſſe it, Gen. 13. 9. & 20. 35. & 34. 10.

Beg] To crave and expect relief of others, Mar. 10. 46. Act. 3. 3. To ask alms, Joh. 9. 8. To crouch for a peece of ſilver, and a morſell of bread, 1 Sam. 2. 36. To wander abroad for bread, Job 15. 23. This is cauſed by ſloath, Prov. 20. 4. and is a puniſhment for ſin, 1 Sam. 2. 36. Pſal. 109. 10.

Beggerly] Wanting power to enrich with ſpirituall grace, Gal. 4. 9.

To beget] To perform to his childe all things belonging to his education. Gen. 25. 19. Abraham begat Iſaac, &c. See the like in Gen. 50. 2, 3. Alſo in Gen. 3. 16. Conception (by a Synecdoche, the part put for the whole) the whole care of a Mother in bearing, birth, bringing up, is contained.

It's ſpoken alſo of God, in reſpect both of his naturall Son, Heb. 5. 5. and his adopted children, Jam. 1. 18.

Beginning] The time whence any thing hath its firſt being. Gen. 1. 1. In the beginning God created the heavens and the earth. Joh. 1. 1. that is, not from the firſt point or inſtance of the creation, but from before the creation, and therefore eternally. Alſo at the firſt, Prov. 20. 21.

2. That which is chief or moſt excellent: as Prov. 1. 7. The fear of God is the beginning of wiſdome. Pro. 4. 7. Wiſdome is the beginning; that is, their chiefeſt ſtrength.

3. A principle of Religion, or Catechiſing Doctrine. Heb. 6. 1. Leaving the beginning of the doctrine of Chriſt; that is, the plain familiar manner of teaching Chriſt.

4. An entrance into a thing. Gal. 3. 3. Are ye ſo fooliſh, that after ye have begun in the ſpirit, &c.

5. That which is firſt, Exod. 12. 2.

Beginning of my ſtrength] The firſt effect of the ſtrength of my body, Gen. 46. 3. So are all the firſt-born called, Deut. 21. 17.

In or from the beginning] Everlaſtingly, before all time, Joh. 1. 1. 11. See Pro. 8. 22, 23, 24, &c.

2. From the firſt creation of man, Joh. 8. 7. for before the time that man was, Satan could not be a Man-killer.

3. From the time that Marriage was firſt ordained. Matt. 19. 8. From the beginning it was not ſo.

This phraſe or kinde of ſpeech when it is referred either to Gods ordinances or creatures, doth include time, and doth point out the very point of time when ſuch things did begin, as Matt. 19. 8. Joh. 8. 7. But when it is applyed to God, or any perſon in the Deity, then it doth exclude all moments of time, and lead our thoughts back unto eternity, beyond the world, and all ſpace of time, as Joh. 1. 1.. 1 Joh. 1. 1. which places are by Paul and Peter expounded, to note Everlaſtingneſſe, Eph. 1. 4. 1 Pet. 1. 20. Therefore Servetus, Arius, and other Hereticks, which appoint unto Chriſt a beginning in time, and will not have him to be eternal, or more ancient then the world, or then Mary (as Ebion and Cerinthus thought) they do great wrong to the Son of God, who was, and had a being, ere he did appear in his work of creation, or was manifeſted in the wombe of his Mother; he was alwayes (Intus) in the Divinity (as in a boſome) Joh. 1. 18. before he ſhewed himſelf (Extra) in his operations or incarnation.

Begotten] Properly and naturally, Mat. 11. 11. Supernaturally, Heb. 11. 17. Spiritually, 1 Cor. 4. 15. Eternally, Joh. 1. 14. Act. 13. 33.

Beguile] To go beyond, over-reach, defraud, 1 Theſſ. 4. 6. Deceive, 2 Sam. 3. 25. Deal treacherouſly, Iſa. 41. 2. Falſely, Jer. 8. 10. Subtilly, 2 King. 10. 19. Corruptly, Neh. 1. 7. which is done, by words, Gen. 3. 13. 1 King. 22. 20, 21. 2 Cor. 11. 3. Deeds, Gen. 29. 25. Joſh. 9. 22. Words and deeds, 2 Pet. 2. 18.

Behave] Mentioned with wiſely, Pſal. 101. 2. Holily, juſtly, and unblameably, 1 Theſſ. 2. 10.

1 Theſſ. 2. 10. not diſorderly, 2 Theſſ. 3. 7. And ſo in good part. Alſo, with ſtrangely, Deut. 32. 27. Proudly, Iſa. 3. 5. Unſeemly, 1 Cor. 13. 5. Ill in their doings, Mic. 3. 4. Uncomely, 1 Cor. 7. 36. In ill part.

Behemoth] The multitude of earthly beaſts. The Elephant, as ſome think, Job 40. 15.

Behinde] To come after one, alſo that which is done already, Phil. 3. 13, 14.

It's put for After, 2 Sam. 3. 16. Remain, Lev. 25. 51. Backward, Judg. 20. 40. At naught, Pſal. 50. 17. Unexpected, Iſa. 30 21.

To behold] To look upon a thing with our fleſhly and bodily eye, this is the proper ſignification.

2. To think upon a thing, with conſideration and due regard. Rom. 11. 22. Behold therefore the bountifulneſſe and ſeverity of God. Look See.

There's a Beholding bodily, Deut. 3. 17. Mentally, with conſideration, Luk. 20. 17. Deep meditation, Rom. 11. 22. Spiritually, by an holy rapture, Rev. 6. 5, 11. Celeſtially, Mat. 18. 10.

To behold: To conſider diligently: and is referred either to God or men, Rom. 11. 22. Pſal. 10. 14.

Behold] A wonder worthy the beholding, (as ſome think) or (as others think) a thing commonly known, well may be, or ſhould be known. Pſal. 51. 5. Behold I was born, &c.

A note of admiration, Iſa. 7. 14. Joy and gladneſſe, Mat. 21. 5. Obedience, Iſa. 6. 8. Aſſeveration, Gen. 1. 29. Exhortation unto a provident charitable care, Joh. 19. 27. Attention, Mat. 12. 2. Luk. 1. 36. Sadneſſe [illegible]ed, Mat. 1. 20. Certainly, Mat. 23. 38. [illegible].

[illegible] contract of Bebel, which cometh of Babel] A Lord. It was not onely the particular Idol of the Babylonians, but a generall name to the Idols in the Eaſt, agreeing to all the Idols of the Gentiles, as ſome write, Jer. 19. 5. 1 King. 18. 25. It ſignifieth, old, ancient, or nothing.

Bela] Deſtroying. A City, called alſo Belha, 1 Chr. 4. 29. Gen. 14. 2. Alſo, the Son of Beor, Gen. 36. 33. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21. The Son of Aza, 1 Chr. 5. 8.

To Believe] To know the Scriptures to be true, barely and ſpeculatively, Jam. 2. 19. The Devils beleeve and tremble, Exod. 4. 31. Thus the Devils beleeve.

Alſo it ſignifieth to know a thing experimentally, Joh. 17. 21, 23.

2. To aſſent willingly, and with ſome kinde of joy to the truth of the Scripture, when we read of hear it, becauſe it comes from God, and brings glad tidings, Act. 8. 13. He beleeved and did cleave unto Philip. Act. 28. 27. Mat. 13. 20. They received the Word with joy. Thus Hypocrites beleeve.

3. To put confidence in the Doctrine which we know and aſſent unto our ſelves, Mark 16. 16. He that beleeveth ſhall be ſaved. Joh. 3. 18. He that beleeveth in the Son ſhall never be condemned. Thus the regenerate beleeve. Gal. 2. 20. Chriſt loved me, and gave himſelf for me. Papiſts deny application of the Doctrine to be any part of beleef in God.

In holy Scripture, true beleef or faith is put two wayes; firſt, abſolutely, as it is occupyed about the Word of God in generall; or in particular (excepting the Word of promiſe, touching forgiveneſſe of ſins for the merit of Chriſt:) and being conſidered as it is abſolute, ſo there are three things belonging unto it, 1. Knowledge, 2. Aſſent. 3. Perſwaſion, and certainty, as appeareth by Rom. 14. where that which is called beleeving, in verſ. 2. One beleeveth, &c. is in verſ. 14. of the ſame Chapt. expounded by theſe two words of (knowledge and perſwaſion) I know and am perſwaded. Therefore in the language of the Apoſtle, ſuch do truly beleeve as unto knowledge of the thing beleeved, doe joyn aſſent with perſwaſion.

Secondly, true beleef, or faith is put and uſed with relation to the promiſe of ſalvation by Chriſt, as in the Epiſtle to the Romans, Ch. 3. 4. & 5. and often elſewhere; and then it is by Divines called Juſtifying faith, which beſide the three former, hath a fourth thing belonging unto it, and that is confidence (pepoithesis) Eph. 3. 12. Hereof it is plain, that corrupt and falſe is that definition of Bellarm. lib. 1. cap. 5. de Juſtif. defining Faith to be an aſſent only to the Word written, (and to the Word unwritten, Traditions of the Church) unto Apocryphall word, as well as to Canonicall, denying knowledge and full aſſurance to appertain to Faith; ſo as with Papiſts, hee is a Beleever which onely aſſenteth to the doctrine of the Church, though he be ignorant of it, whence ariſeth their implicit faith.

To beleeve, ſignifieth either to begin to beleeve, Rom. 13. 11. or, to grow in beleef, Joh. 2. 11. Here the encreaſe, not the beginning of faith is meant: and in the former place beginnings of faith be compared with the increaſings. So in Joh. 11. 15. That ye may beleeve, i. e. that your faith may bee ſtrengthened and increaſed; for they were Beleevers already.

It's alſo put for, to Credit, Prov. 14. 15.

Truſt,

Truſt, Prov. 26. 25. Be perſwaded thorowly, Pſal. 27. 13. Rely upon, 2 Tim. 1. 12. Put confidence in, 2 Chr. 20. 20. Expect with patience, Iſa. 28. 16. Receive for truth, Iſa. 53. 1. Reſt and relie upon Chriſt for life, and ſalvation, Joh. 3. 15, 16, 36.

Belial] Wicked. Deut. 13. 13. Jud. 19. 22. Men of Belial, or wicked men. The word in the Hebrew noteth extreme wickedneſſe, and moſt miſchievous wicked men, 1 Sam. 1. 16. & 25. 25. Nah. 1. 15. It is alſo applyed to ſpeciall ſins and ſinners, Prov. 19. 28. One without a yoke, or who is not profitable to any, or, without the moſt high.

2. The Devill, that wicked one. 2 Cor. 6. 15. Chriſt with Belial. With Satan, ſaith the Syriack.

Belly] Carnall pleaſures, and all lawful honeſt pleaſures of life being inordinately loved. Phil. 3. 19. Whoſe belly is their God. So are all pleaſures, when men too much love them, and with immoderate affections follow after them, as if all their felicity were placed in enjoying of them.

2. The heart, as in Pſal. 4. 8. Alſo Joh. 7. 38. 8. Out of his belly ſhall flow, &c. an Hebraiſme.

Belly] Put alſo for the place in the body, the reception of meat, Mat. 15. 17. The place of the bowels, Ezek. 3. 3. The place of the Babe till it be brought forth, Luk. 1. 41, 44. The whole man, Tit. 1. 12. And is taken myſtically, Joh. 7. 38. Cant. 5. 14.

☞ To belong, or belonging unto] See My, Own, Your, Peculiar, Proper, God, My God, Power.

Beloved] One moſt dear to God, by a moſt ſpecial love, for whoſe ſake others be loved of God alſo: thus is Chriſt onely beloved, Mat. 3. 17. 1 Pet. 2. 17. Col. 1. 13. Eph. 1. 6. Alſo very dear to his ſervants, Iſa. 5. 1.

This is ſpoken of Chriſt, Mat. 3. 17. The Church, Cant. 5. 1. A wife, Deut. 21. 15. One dear to God, Pſal. 60. 5. Chriſtian Saints, 1 Joh. 4. 7.

Belſhazzar] Without treaſure, or a ſearcher of treaſures. A King of Babylon, Dan. 5. 1. Belſhazzar, the name of Nebuchadnezzar's God, after which he named Daniel, Dan. 4. 8. is of the ſame ſignification.

Ben] A Son, building, or underſtanding. A Levite, 1 Chr. 15. 18.

Benaiah] The Lords building. The Son of Jehoiadah, 2 Sam. 8. 18. The name of another, 1 Chr. 4. 36. And 2 Chr. 31. 13.

Ben-ammi] The Son of my people. The Son of Lot by his ſecond Daughter, Gen. 19. 38.

Beneath] put for the loweſt part of a garment, Exod. 28. 33. Bottome, Exod. 33. 19. Under, Deut. 4. 18. Below, Deut. 4. 39. A valley, Judg. 7. 1. And is applyed to the earth in oppoſition to heaven, Exod. 20. 4. And to hell, Prov. 15. 24.

Vehement ſpirituall care to gain to Chriſt, Gal. 4. 19.

Birthright] ſtood in a right of ſuperiority over the other Brethren, Gen. 4. 7. Conſecrated to God, Exod. 22. 29. Next in honour to Parents, Gen. 49. 3. Had a double portion, Deut. 21. 17. Succeeded in the government of the family and Kingdome, 2 Chr. 21. 3. Adminiſtration of the Prieſthood, Numb. 8. 14, 17.

Biſhop or Biſhops] Any that hath the charge to overſee and provide things neceſſary.

1. It was a name at firſt given to Clerks of the Market, to ſuch as were Overſeers of things to be bought and ſold, as a learned man writeth. And in this large ſignification is noted any man that hath charge and office for any buſineſſe Civill or Eccleſiaſtick: the word in the Greek is Epiſcopos, in Hebrew Pakid. It is the word which is uſed, Numb. 31. 14. 2 King. 11. 16. 2 Chr. 34. 12. for Civill Overſeers: ſo among the Prieſts and Levites, Numb. 4. 16. Neh. 11. 9. & 1 Tim. 3. 1, 2.

2. A ſpirituall Overſeer, or one that hath the charge and overſight of ſouls, by the word to inſtruct and rule them. 1 Tim. 3. 1. If any man deſire the office of a Biſhop, he deſires a worthy work. See Act. 20. 28. The inſpection into, and charge over the flock for doctrine and manners, doth (by Gods commandement) belong to a Biſhop, whereof the Greek name (Epiſcopos) doth admoniſh us. It is the name of a function and office, joyned with care of inſpection and viſiting.

3. Paſtors, Teachers, Elders, even whoſoever had in the Primitive Church any Eccleſiaſticall power, either for doctrine or regiment of the Church, Phil. 1. 1. To the Biſhops and Deacons of Philippi.

4. Chriſt Jeſus, who becauſe he hath chief care, charge, and overſight of the Church, for feeding and ruling it, and he onely hath upon him the charge of ſaving ſouls by his mediation, is therefore (by an excellency) called the Biſhop of our ſouls. 1 Pet. 2. v. laſt, Yee are returned to the Biſhop of your ſouls.

Bitterneſſe] Taken properly for that which is oppoſed to ſweetneſſe, Exod. 15. 23. Improperly, for extreme indignation, the root of wrath, anger, clamour, ill ſpeaking, Eph. 4. 31. which bitterneſſe is the inward offence of the minde with grief and anguiſh. See Hoſ. 12. 14. Deep anguiſh and ſorrowfull heavyneſſe of ſpirit, Job 7. 11. Prov. 14. 10. The higheſt degree of grief, Prov. 17. 25. Deſperate impiety, and deadly poyſon of malice, Act. 8. 23.

Bittern] A kinde of Eagle which keepeth commonly about lakes and fens, and liveth chiefly upon ducks: It loveth ſolitarineſſe. And therefore to make a City to be a poſſeſſion for the Bittern, Iſa. 14. 23. & 34. 11. is, utterly to deſtroy it. See Zeph. 2. 14.

Bizjothiah] Deſpite. A City, Joſh. 15. 28.

Bizjtha] The ſame. A mans name, Eſt. 1. 10.

B L.

Blackneſſe] Afflictions, or Perſecutions, which diminiſh the outward beauty and glory of the Church, Cant. 1. 4. I am black, O Daughters of Jeruſalem.

It's alſo put for a dejected, mournfull, and heavy countenance, Joel 2. 6. Nah. 2. 10. Job complaineth, that his ſkin was black upon him, Job 30. 30. And the Church, our ſkin was black like an oven, Lam. 5. 10. Whereby is noted, their poor and afflicted ſtate, the grievous calamities which they ſuſtained.

See Blackneſſe in Cant.

Blaſphemy] An hurtfull word, or any evill ſpeech.

Albeit the word (Blaſphemy) in the uſuall acception of the word with approved Greek Authors, do ſignifie any evill ſpeech or calumniation, (as Beza notes) yet by a phraſe peculiar unto ſacred Writers, the Penmen of the holy Ghoſt, it importeth alwaies an ungodly ſpeech, which though it be uttered againſt men, yet reacheth and is carryed to the contumely of God himſelfe, Rom. 14. 16. Mat. 9. 3. Tit. 3. 2. And it is twice uſed by Plato in this Eccleſiaſtical ſenſe; firſt, in Alcibiade poſteriore: ſecondly in lib. de repub. ſecundo.

Every reproachfull word tending to the hurt and diſgrace of any other mans name and credit. Tit. 3. 2. Speak evill of no man. In the Originall it is, Blaſpheme no man. Likewiſe, in 1 Pet. 4. 4. Therefore ſpeak they evill of you. This is blaſpheming of men. Mar. 3. 2. And blaſphemies wherewith they blaſpheme.

It's alſo put for ſuch injurious, ſlanderous, and opprobrious words as are uttered unto the reproach of God, Religion, Gods Word, Ordinances, Creatures, Works, Miniſters, &c. As againſt God, Rev. 13. 6. his Name, Rom. 2. 24. his Word, Tit. 2. 5. Chriſt, Act. 26. 11. Us as Chriſtians, Jam. 2. 7. Doctrine, 1 Tim. 6. 1. Rom. 3. 8. Chriſtian liberty, Rom. 14. 16. Teachers, 1 Cor. 4. 13. Chriſtians for abſtaining from evill, 1 Pet. 4. 4. The holy Ghoſt, or his work, Mat. 12. 31.

A more ample deſcription of the ſin againſt the holy Ghoſt, for help of weak tempted Chriſtians.

Blaſphemy againſt the Spirit, it is ſin not in deeds and actions, but in a reproachfull word (Mat. 3. 30.) uttered not out of fear, nor other infirmitie, as Peter did, and ſick and frantick perſons may doe; but out of a malicious hatefull heart, 1 Cor. 16. 22. & Heb. 10. 16, 36. Not by one that is ignorant of Chriſt, as Paul was being a blinde Phariſee; but by one enlightened through the holy Ghoſt with the knowledge of the Goſpell, (Heb. 6. 4.) Not of raſhneſſe, but of ſet purpoſe, purpoſe, to deſpite Chriſt his known Doctrine and works, Heb. 10. 29. Being accompanyed with an Univerſall defection or falling away from the whole truth of God, Heb. 6. 6. Alſo with a generall pollution and filthyneſſe of life, Mat. 12. 45. 2 Pet. 2. 20. Finally, being unremiſſible, becauſe ſuch as commit this ſin, cannot repent, Mat. 12. 32. Heb. 6. 6. How are the Papiſts out of the way touching this point, in that they will have this blaſphemy to have ſix parts or ſignes? whereof the chief is final impenitency, which doth accompany every ſin in the wicked. See their Note on Mat. 12. 45. yea, and teach that it may be forgiven.

Note: when the Scripture ſpeaketh of this ſin, that it is never forgiven, and that it is impoſſible they ſhould repent that commit it: the Papiſts write that it is hardly forgiven and repented of. A moſt abſurd interpretation.

Blaſt] put for fearfulneſſe of heart, 2 Kin. 19. 7. The violent and ſudden force of the wicked mighty ones, Iſa. 25. 4. Gods power, ſtorm or whirl-winde, Job 4. 9.

Blaſting] is a puniſhment for ſin, threatned, Deut. 28. 22. happening upon the fruits of the earth, 2 King. 19. 26. and that by the eaſt-wind, Gen. 41. 6, 23, 27.

Blaſtus] A branch of a tree, or hearb, of βλαστὸς, for which is uſed βλαστάνω to branch out. Herod's Chamberlain, Act. 12. 20.

Blemiſh] Spoken of an hurt, Lev. 29. 19, 20. by which cometh a blemiſh, as lameneſſe, blindneſſe, Deut. 15. 21. A ſpot, Numb. 19. 2. Unſavouredneſſe, Deut. 17. 1. Blot, Prov. 9. 7. are blemiſhes.

To bleſſe] To give thanks, or to prayſe God in a ſolemn manner. Matt. 26. 26. And when he had bleſſed, that is, when he had given thanks, as it is in Luke 22. 19. Cor. 11. 24. And in all places where the Saints are ſaid to bleſſe God, there it is meant of their thankſgiving, and of ſpeaking well of God.

We bleſſe God when we praiſe him; God bleſſeth us, either when he ſendeth good things unto us, or removeth evill things from us, or turneth all to our good: wee bleſſe one another by our mutuall prayers, Eph. 1. 3. Rom. 12. 14.

The Papiſts by bleſſing underſtand not a ſolemn bleſſing, by giving thanks to God, to the conſecrating or preparing the creatures to an holy action; but an operative bleſſing of the bread, making it to be the body of Chriſt ſubſtantially and corporally. See the Annot. on Matt. 26. 26.

This word (bleſſe or bleſſing) when it is ſpoken of God toward men, it ſignifies a plentifull bellowing of good things, earthly or heavenly, Gen. 24. 35. Deut. 28. 2, 3, 4. Pſal. 31. 9. Eph. 1. 3. Gal. 3. 8. But when it is ſpoken of men towards God, it betokeneth prayſe or thankſgiving by word or deed, Deut. 8. 10. Pſa. 103. 1, 2. Luk. 1. 64. & 2. 28. And when it is ſpoken of men toward men, it ſignifieth ſometime ſalvation, as Gen. 47. 7. 1 Sam. 13. 10. Sometime a gift or benevolence, as 1 Sam. 25. 27. 2 Cor. 9. 5. 2 King. 5. 15. Sometime a pronouncing (by way of prayer or propheſie) of good things in the name of God, as Gen. 14. 19, 20. Num. 6. 23. In this ſignification the leſſe is bleſſed of the greater, Heb. 7. 7. Heb. 11. 21. And note further, that the ſolemn bleſſing in Numb. 6. 23, 24, &c. did figure that bleſſing of Chriſt, and laying on of hands, whereof we read, Luk. 24. 50.

Gen. 12. 2. Gen. 22. 17. Heb. 6. 14. Where the promiſe of eternall life is meant, Pſal. 54. 1. Gen. 24. 60.

2. To wiſh and pray for good things to others. Gen. 48. 20. Jacob bleſſed the Sons of Joſeph. Such was the Prieſts bleſſing the people in the Law, and parents bleſſing their children, even their good prayers to God for their welfare: In Miniſters with ſhewing forth Gods promiſes, Numb. 6. 22. Bleſſing put for ſaluting, Gen. 37. 7. Num. 6. 23, 24. for praying and for thankſgiving, Matt. 26. 26. Luk. 22. 19.

3. To increaſe that which is little, and to make it much, as when God is ſaid to have bleſſed the widow of Sarepta, her oyle and meal in her cruſe, 2 King. 17. 16. And when Chriſt bleſſed the five loaves and two fiſhes in the Goſpel, this bleſſing was operative indeed, and wrought a ſenſible multiplication of the Loaves and Fiſhes; ſo was not there a ſenſible mutation of the Bread and Wine into the body and blood of Chriſt, by that bleſſing, Matt. 26.

4. To give good things unto us, and to do us good in proſpering our affairs and labors, Pſal. 67. 1. God be mercifull unto us, and bleſſe us: & verſ. 6. Prov. 10. 22. The bleſſing of the Lord maketh rich. Thus the word Bleſſe is taken in good part.

5. To flatter and pleaſe ones ſelf, and to boaſt of his doings to others. Pſal. 10. 2. The covetous bleſſeth himſelf. Here it is taken in evill part.

6. The contrary; namely, curſing: an Euphemiſmos, when unſeemly things are ſpoken in ſeemly words. Job 1. 5. Leſt my Sons have bleſſed God, (ſo it is in the Originall) that is, blaſphemed. 1 King. 21. 10. He hath bleſt God and the King (ſo it is in the Original) for he hath blaſphemed. Here alſo it is taken in ill part.

This is uſuall in other tongues, as in Greek, Euonyma and Eumenides, good names for worſe, as Furies, &c. old Latines for Nothing would ſay Well; Italians call loathſome diſeaſes Gods diſeaſe.

7. To ſalute or wiſh health unto, Gen. 47. 7. 1 Sam. 13. 10. & 25. 19. In all which places the Originall hath bleſſe.

8. To endow and furniſh one with an heroicall and valiant ſpirit; alſo with extraordinary bodily ſtrength. Judg. 13. 24. The childe (Samſon) grew, and the Lord bleſſed him.

9. To do one good by filling them with earthly and ſpirituall gifts, as Abraham was, Gen. 12. 2. See Rom. 4. 11, 12. & Gen. 13. 2. & 14. 14. & 24. 35.

☞ 10. The work of God in regenerating or converting men from their naturall and habituall corruptions, Act. 3. 26.

Or thus: To bleſſe may be referred,

Firſt, to God, with relation unto Man; and ſo it ſignifieth,

1. To make him bleſſed, happy, proſperous and fortunate, Gen. 12. 2.

2. To encreaſe, multiply, or make fruitfull, Gen. 9. 1.

3. To reward or honour, Gen. 12. 3.

4. To proſper our affairs and labours, Pſal. 67. 1.

5. To endue and furniſh one with an heroicall and valiant ſpirit, Judg 23. 24.

6. To beſtow the gifts and graces of his Spirit, Eph. 1. 3. So unto that ſolemn time of his worſhip, namely, the Seventh day, noting his ſanctifying and ordaining the ſame to an holy uſe, Gen. 2. 3. So with relation unto the creatures, pointing out his care and providence for their preſervation, Gen. 1. 22. & 8. 17.

Secondly, to Chriſt, as it reſpecteth God, noting,

1. His giving thanks, or praiſing God after a ſpeciall manner, Mar. 6. 41.

2. His calling upon God his Father for his mercies on the behalf of others, Mar. 10. 16. As it reſpecteth man; his effectuall and powerfull working on men for their converſion, Act. 3. 26.

Thirdly, to Man, with relation firſt unto God, ſignifying,

1. To praiſe or give him thanks, 2 Cor. 1. verſ. 3.

2. To curſe, 1 King. 21. 10, 13.

Secondly, to himſelf, ſignifying,

To flatter and pleaſe ones ſelfe, and to boaſt of his doings to others, Pſal. 10. 3. Deut. 29. 19. Alſo in good part, when he holdeth himſelf happy in the God of truth; Iſa. 65. 16.

To others, ſignifying,

1. To wiſh and pray for good things to others, Gen. 48. 20.

2. To ſalute, Gen. 47. 7.

3. By way of prayer or propheſie to pronounce good things in the name of the Lord, Numb. 6. 23, 24.

4. To conſecrate, or prepare, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

5. To congratulate or praiſe, Gen. 14. 19.

Fourthly, to other Creatures, noting that thankfulneſſe which they are to render unto God in their ſeverall kindes, Pſal. 103. 20, 21, 22.

Bleſſe and curſe not] Well wiſhing and ſpeaking. Rom. 12. 14. Bleſſe and curſe not. The repetition of this precept, by the contrary, ſhews that this duty cannot be done without difficulty; namely, to an enemy which ſhall curſe us: and alſo that it ought to be done with conſtancy, not once or twice, or by fits, but alwayes as occaſion is offered.

To bleſſe the Cup or Bread] Thankſgiving to God for the gift of his Son, with a requeſt to bleſſe the creatures to ſuch end as God ordained them.

To Bleſſe themſelves] By faith to apply to themſelves the bleſſedneſſe promiſed by Chriſt to Iſaac's ſeed, Gen. 22. 18. Gal. 3. 8. 16.

Bleſſed] All them which be in the eſtate of an happy life, which conſiſts in Gods love and favour. Some be ſuch by nature, as Adam in Paradiſe had naturall happineſſe: Some are bleſſed by grace, as all the godly, even here in this preſent life. Matt. 5. 2, 3, 4. Some are bleſſed by glory, as the glorified Saints in heaven, Rev. 14. 13.

2. It ſignifieth God, Mar. 14. 61. Mat. 26. 63.

They that are ſaid to be bleſſed are,

1. God, 1 Tim. 1. 11.

2. Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Tim. 6. 15. both as he is God, Rom. 9. 5. and as he is Man, Luk. 1. 42.

3. The godly, Gal. 3. 9. Even they, which put their truſt in God, Pſal. 2. 12. which make the Lord their truſt, Pſal. 40. 4. Fear the Lord, and walk in his wayes, Pſal. 128. 1. Are choſen and called, Pſal. 65. 4. Know Jeſus Chriſt, Mat. 16. 17. Beleeve, Gal. 3. 9.

Gal. 3. 9. Sorrow for ſin, Luk. 6. 2. Feel the poverty of ſpirit, Mat. 5. 3. Hope in God, Pſal. 146. 5. Delight in his Commandements, Pſal. 112. 1. Are merciſull, &c. Matt. 5. 3, 5, 6, 7, 8. Keep Gods Commandements, Pſal. 119. 1, 2. Are charitable, Pſal. 41. 1, 2. Are Peace-makers, Mat. 5. 9. Dwell in the Church, Pſal. 84. 4. Are undefiled, Pſal. 119. 1. Avoid the wicked, Pſal. 1. 1. Hear wiſdome, Prov. 8. 34. Endure ſufferings for Chriſt, Mat. 5. 10. and temptations, Jam. 1. 12. Have their part in the firſt reſurrection, Rev. 20. 6. Have the pardon of ſins, Pſal. 32. 1. Have the Lord for their God, Pſal. 144. 15. Such are happy in their death, Rev. 14. 13. In their memory, Prov. 10. 7. At the laſt judgement, Matt. 25. 34.

Fourthly, The children of the juſt, Prov. 10. 7.

Fifthly, ſuch as have outward bleſſings, if they uſe them well, Pſal. 144. 12-15.

Bleſſednesse or felicity] The happy condition of ſuch as are in the favour of God, having their ſins forgiven them by faith in Chriſt. Rom. 4. 6. Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſins are forgiven.

2. The happy eſtate in which the Galatians once took and ſaid themſelves to be, by the coming and preaching of Paul the Apoſtle, Gal. 4. 15.

Bleſſed of the Lord, was a title of honour in thoſe times uſed of many, Gen. 24. 31. & 26. 39. It noteth the fountain of bleſſings and eternall life in heaven, becauſe it is the free benefit of God, it is therefore called bleſſing in the Pſal. 24. 5.

To bleſſe the ſeventh day] To ſanctifie and ordain it to an holy uſe, even for divine worſhip, by meditation of his works and words, and by other godly exerciſes; alſo by ceaſing from ſervile and ſinfull works, Gen. 2. 3. God bleſſed the ſeventh day and hallowed it. The ſacred reſt of a ſeventh day, both in Old and New Teſtament, is of divine inſtitution, Act. 1. 3. & 20. 7. 1 Cor. 16. 2. Revel. 1. 10. Elſe there were not ten but nine Commandements, if it were but a bare policy, or humane conſtitution, or Eccleſiaſticall tradition, as Rhemiſts ſay.

☞ Becauſe to Bleſſe and ſanctifie are ſeverall acts of God, as Gen. 2. 3. & Exod. 20. 11. and to ſanctifie is in God to ordain and dedicate to an holy uſe, in man to uſe a thing according to Gods Ordinance; we may take Gods bleſſing of the ſeventh day to be a beſtowing of honour or priviledge upon that day above other dayes, as freed from ordinary works, and dedicated to his ſervice; as alſo the promiſe of happineſſe to it, and all that ſhall rightly uſe it.

Bleſſing] Gods proſpering of us, and of our affairs and labours, when all have good ſucceſſe, and turn to our good. Pſal. 3. 8. His bleſſing is upon his people.

2. All good things, be they ſpirituall or bodily, earthly or heavenly: they are in Scripture phraſe called Gods bleſſings, even every good from God to Man. Epheſ. 1. 4. Bleſſed be God who hath bleſſed us with all ſpirituall bleſſings. Deut. 28. 2. All theſe bleſſings ſhal come upon thee, bleſſed ſhalt thou be in thy cattle, &c.

3. A gift from man to man. Gen. 33. 11. I pray thee take my bleſſing.

It is alſo taken for almes or benevolence, 2 Cor. 9. 5. Gods favour, Pſal. 3. 8. Such particular bleſſings wherewith the Prieſts were bleſſed, Matt. 22. Subjection, Iſa. 36. 16. Prayers for our enemies, or good words, 1 Pet. 1. 9. A propheticall ſpeech, Gen. 49. 28. That which from God maketh proſperous and fruitfull, Deut. 33. 23. Well wiſhing, Pſal. 109. 17. Good ſucceſſe, Pro. 11. 26. Prayſe, Neh. 9. 5. Praying for a bleſſing, Job 29. 13. The thing promiſed of God, Pſa. 24. 5.

A Bleſſing] Alſo a gift, or a bounteous liberality, Gen. 33. 1. 1 Sam. 25. & 27. & 30. 26.

To bleſſe abundantly] To heap benefits plentifully upon one. Heb. 6. 14. Surely I will bleſſe thee.

Bleſſing of Abraham] The redemption from the curſe of the Law by forgiveneſſe of ſins, and receiving the promiſe of the Spirit (or the adoption of children and ſanctification) through faith in Chriſt, Gen. 28. 4. Gal. 3. 13, 14. 9. 29. Rom. 4. 7, 8, 13. And as Jacob is made heir of this bleſſing, ſo all true Chriſtians be, 1 Pet. 3. 9.

To be a bleſſing] The certainty of Gods bleſſing of Abraham, that he ſhould ſurely be bleſſed and proſper.

2. The excellency and greatneſſe of the bleſſing in that it is ſaid (not) thou ſhalt be bleſſed, but a bleſſing.

3. A publick form and example of bleſſing, as to ſay, God bleſſe thee as Abraham was bleſſed.

4. To be the means and inſtrument of bleſſing to others, to whom Gods gifts ſhould come by him, Gen. 12. 2.

Cup of Bleſſing] Cup of Thankſgiving, which we take with giving of thanks to God for the gift of his Son, 1 Cor. 10. 19.

Rhemiſts on Matt. 15. Sect. 3.

Spirituall Blessings] Such gifts as come from the Spirit of God, and doe belong not to this earthly but to our spirituall celestiall life, Eph. 1. 3.

Blinde] Such as by birth or casualty lack their naturall sight.

2. Such as be ignorant, and lack knowledge, which is the eye of the minde. Rom. 2. 20. A guide to the blinde, Mat. 15. 14. The blinde lead to the blinde. 2 Pet. 1. 9. One which perceiveth earthly things which be near him, but not heavenly, which are out of this world and far off.

There are blinde,

1. Corporally, in visible things. By Birth, Joh. 8. 1, 2, 32. Age, Gen. 48. 10. Gods hand, Gen. 19. 11. Man, 2 King. 25. 7.

2. Mentally, in matters of things here below: Willingly, by a gift, Deut. 16. 19. Unwillingly, by anothers misleading, Deut. 27. 18.

3. Spiritually, in heavenly matters tending to salvation, Psa. 146. 8. and that, by corruption of nature, Act. 26. 18. The devil, 2 Cor. 4. 4. Spirituall darkneſse, 1 Joh. 2. 11. Self-conceit, Rev. 3. 17. Lack of spirituall gifts and graces, 2 Pet. 1. 9. Ignorance and wilfull careleſneſse, as wicked Miniſters, Isa. 42. 19. & 50. 10. A spirituall plague from God, Joh. 12. 40. A veil not taken away, 2 Cor. 3. 14, 15. This last is applyed to ignorant Miniſters, Isa. 50. 10. Deceitfull Teachers, Mat. 23. 16. Ignorant people, Rom. 2. 19. All that know not the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 4. 4. All that live in hatred, 1 Joh. 2. 11. The ſelf-conceited, Rev. 3. 17. Idols, 2 Sam. 5. 6, 8. This spirituall blindneſse conſists in the want of knowledge, or ignorance in the matters of salvation, either in whole, as in the unregenerate, Eph. 4. 18. or in part, as in the regenerate, 1 Cor. 13. 12.

To make blinde] To keep men from seeing the truth, when the light of it is set before them. Psal. 69. 23. Let their eyes be blinded.

2. To increaſe ignorance for the abuſe of former knowledge, as happened to them ſpoken of, 2 Theſſ. 3. 11. & Isa. 6. 10.

Blindneſse] Want of knowledge, or ignorance in matters of salvation, either in whole, as in all naturall men; Eph. 4. 18. Through the ignorance that is in them: or in part, as in men regenerate, who doe ſee and know but in part. 1 Cor. 13. 12. We know in part, we ſee in a glaſſe.

Bloud] Death or slaughter, Pſ. 51. 14. Deliver me from bloud. Mat. 27. 24. I am innocent of the bloud of this man. Gen. 4. 10. Will I require his bloud.

2. Revenge or puniſhment due for the ſhedding of bloud. Mat. 27. 25. His bloud be upon us and upon our children.

Blouds in the plurall number, ſig. ſlaughter with cruelties, as Gen. 4. 10. Pſa. 5. 7. & 52. 6. Eſd. 26. v. laſt. Bloud and fierce ſlaughter.

3. Cruelty. Hab. 2. 12. Woe unto him that buildeth a City with bloud. Iſa. 1. 5. Your hands are full of bloud. It ſignifies oppreſſion of poor, Iſa. 4. 4. & 1. 15.

4. The ſlain man. Joſ. 20. 5. If the avenger of bloud purſue after him.

5. The price of bloud. Act. 1. 13. The field of bloud, that is, purchaſed with the price of bloud.

6. Cauſe of their own deſtruction. Act. 18. 6. Your bloud be upon your own heads, Act. 20. 26.

7. The unpure beginnings of our birth and conception. Joh. 1. 23. Not of bloud, Ezek. 16. 6. In the place of Joh. 1. 13. it is (blouds) in the plurall number; and beſides the beginning of our conception, which is unclean, it reacheth further, and importeth the order of nature, or naturall generation, together with the force of ſtock and kindred, wherein the Jews gloried much: eſpecially, in their long continued ſucceſſion, that they could fetch their pedegree from the Patriarchs, Mat. 3. Unto which John had reſpect, when he ſaith, We are not born Gods children of blouds: as by the will of fleſh and of man he underſtandeth whatſoever in nature is moſt ſtrong and excellent, moſt deſired or deſireable, it no whit conferres or helps to new birth; be it ſtrength, beauty, riches, prudence, morall virtues, good inclinations or good nature (as we ſpeak) or power of wil, our regeneration is not from them in whole or in part, but from God alone, cauſing it (by his Spirit) according to his good pleaſure.

Note further, that when bloud is uſed in the plurall number, it uſually noteth murther or ſlaughter with the guilt following, Gen. 4. 11. 1 Chron. 22. 8. Pſal. 9. 13. and 106. 38. & 61. 16. Sometime it ſignifieth naturall uncleanneſse, as we are born in ſin deſerving death, Ezek. 16. 6, 9. as Joh. 1. 13.

8. The firſt man, of whom all men came as of the firſt ſtock. Act. 17. 26. God hath made of one bloud all mankinde.

9. The juice of the Grape. Gen. 49. 11. And his cloak in the bloud of grapes.

☞ 10. The bloud of Chriſt ſhed for the ſalvation of man, and for a ſatisfaction to God for man, Eph. 1. 7. 1 Joh. 5. 6.

11. Alſo

11. Alſo that precious humour which maintains mans life.

12. The life of man, which is preſerved by bloud.

It's alſo put for the whole man, Gal. 1.16. Man in his naturall or unregenerate condition, 1 Cor. 15. 50. Naturall bloud in the body, Geneſis ch. 9. ver. 4. or, out of the body, 2 Sam. 20. 12. whether by violence, Exod. 22. 3. or infirmity, Matt. 9. 20. Miraculous bloud, Exod. 7. 17. The wine in the Cup, Matt. 26. 28. The true ſpirituall drink, whereby the ſoul of the true Beleever is really nouriſhed to eternall lie, Joh. 6. 55.

Bloud of Chriſt] The death and whole ſufferings of Chriſt, one part of his ſufferings being put for all. Epheſ. 1.7. By whom we have redemption through his bloud. And often in the Romanes and Hebrewes, and throughout Paul's Epiſtles, is the bloud of Chriſt (one part of his ſufferings) put Synecdochically for the whole ſufferings viſible and inviſible. Therefore it is abſurd to ſtick to the Letter, concluding from thence that Chriſts outward viſible ſufferings were ſufficient. For from the Letter of Scripture, it will follow, that if this bloudſhedding was enough, therefore his fleſh might be ſpared, and all the pains felt therein; alſo his ſoul, with the heavyneſſe and ſorrow thereof, whereof there was as great need as of the reſt. For Chriſt ſuffered nothing in vain, and our ſoul having ſinned, yea, and that principally, it was therefore to be redeemed with no leſſe then our bodies, even by the proper ſoul-ſufferings of Chriſt, elſe the acceſſary had been more hardly handled then the principall.

Becauſe the bloudy ſacrifice of the Jews figured Chriſt his death; hence ſo much mention of bloud in the New Teſtament.

Bloud of the Covenant] The bloud of Beaſts ſacrificed under the Law as a ſigne and pledge of the old Covenant; which was adminiſtred in figures, prefiguring or being a type of the bloud of Chriſt, wherewith the new Covenaut is ratified, Exod. 24.8. Then Moſes ſaid, Behold the bloud of the Covenant.

2. The bloud of Chriſt, by which God the Father had agreed and promiſed to ſave us; and for which we promiſe ever to ſerve him, Heb. 10. 29. as Heb. 8. 10. & 10. 16.

To betray innocent bloud] To deliver by Treaſon an innocent perſon unto death. Mat. 27. 4. Betraying the innocent bloud.

A man of bloud] One defiled with much bloud and many ſlaughters, or given thereto, as 2 Sam. 16. 7. Pſa. 26. 9. & 55. 24. & 59. 3. & 139. 19.

To ſprinkle bloud] To give force and power to the bloud of Chriſt from his Godhead, for purging of ſins, Lev. 1. 5, 11, 15. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Act. 20, 28. 2 Cor. 5. 19.

Bloſſome] As properly it's put for budding forth, ſprouting, or branching out, Hab. 3. 17. So is it figuratively for the increaſe and proſpering of Gods people, Iſa. 27. 6.

Blot out] put for, Not to be counted in the number of thoſe in Gods decree to be ſaved, Exod. 32. 32. Make to be forgotten, Deut. 9. 14. Utterly to deſtroy, Deut. 25. 19. To pardon fully and wholly, Pſal. 51. 9. Jer. 18. 23.

To blow upon] To ſcatter and drive away by a violent wind. Hag. 1. 9. I did blow upon it: or, hereby is underſtood Gods deſtroying power, as in Cant. 4. 16. Divine inſpiration.

B O.

Boanerges] The Sons of thunder. James and John the Sons of Zebedee, ſo ſurnamed of our Saviour, Mar. 3. 17.

Boar] A fierce and cruell beaſt ſetting it ſelf againſt its armed purſuers with all its might, nor being wounded doth it flee, but with greater fury ſeeketh revenge. It frequenteth woods, and waſteth the vines, and therefore the Perſecuters of the Church are compared thereunto, Pſa. 80. 13.

Boaſt] Taken 1. in an ill part, for to brag, vaunt, inſult, over-prayſe a mans ſelfe highly, as of power to do miſchief, Pſ. 52. 1. So of riches, Pſal. 49. 6. Men, 1 Cor. 3. 21. The hearts deſire, Pſal. 10. 3. To morrow, Prov. 27. 1. Things above their meaſure, 1 Cor. 10. 13. 14. Ones bargain, Pro. 20. 14. Righteouſneſſe by the Law, Rom. 3. 27. Victory, 2 Chr. 25. 14. Acceptance againſt others, Rom. 11. 18.

2. In good part, as to boaſt in the Lord, Pſal. 34. 2. In the ſpirituall welfare of Gods people, 2 Cor. 7. 4, 14. In the knowledge of God, Jer. 9. 24. In infirmities for Chriſt, 2 Cor. 11. 30. In afflictions for Chriſt, Rom. 5. 3. Of others forwardneſſe to charity, 2 Cor. 9. 2. Of lawfull authority, 2 Cor. 5. 8. Of not being chargeable to the Churches, 2 Cor. 11. 10. Of Gods extraordinary mercies, 2 Cor. 12. 1, 5, 6.

Boaz] In ſtrength. The Father of Obed, 1 Chr. 2. 12. A pillar, 1 King. 7. 21.

Boberu]

Bocheru] First born. The Son of Azel, 1 Chr. 8. 38.

Bochim] The place of weeping. The name of a place, Judg. 2. 1.

Bodie] That part of man which is made of fleſh and bones. 1 Cor. 15. 43. The body is ſown in weakneſſe.

2. The whole man. Rom. 6. 12. Let not ſin reign in your mortall bodies; that is, in your ſelves which be mortall. A Synecdoche, Rom. 12. 1.

3. Pith and ſubſtance. Col. 2. 17. But the body is in Chriſt.

4. The unregenerate part of man. 1 Cor. 9. 27. I beat down my body; that is, the old man.

☞ 5. Chriſt, Luk. 17. 37.

6. A company or ſociety of perſons, united together (as the ſeverall members are in one body) either in one place, or in one kinde of faith and profeſſion, or in like affection, or in all or in any of theſe, 1 Cor. 10. 17. Epheſ. 4. 16. Such a body there is,

1. Of good men, Eph. 4. 12. 16.

2. Of evill men.

3. Of good qualities.

4. Of bad, Rom. 6. 6, &c. which body of ſin is ſo called, becauſe,

Firſt, it is in the poſſeſſion of the body.

Secondly, it is nouriſhed by the body materially.

Thirdly, it is acted by the body inſtrumentally.

Fourthly, it is it ſelf a body exemplary. Sin generall being a corporation or body conſiſting of many and divers ſorts of vices, as a naturall body conſiſting of many members, and a civill body of many perſons.

Fiftly, finally, it tendeth to, and endeth in the pleaſures of the body, Rom. 13. 13. See Old man.

It's alſo taken figuratively, for the ſubſtance of a ſhadow, Col. 2. 17.

Myſtically, for the myſticall body, the Church of Chriſt, Rom. 12. 5. Eph. 2. 16.

Sacramentally, for the ſigne of Chriſts body, Mat. 26. 26.

Repreſentatively, for a body in a viſion, Dan. 10. 6.

Againſt the body] The body not onely to be the inſtrument in committing fornication (as it is in theft, robbery, murther, &c.) but the object of this ſin; whereas other ſins have an object without, which is abuſed, as the thief abuſeth other mens goods; a drunkard, wines; a glutton, meat; a murtherer, the perſon of another: but a fornicator abuſeth his owne body, which alſo contracteth a blemiſh and ſpeciall ſpot, by the act of this ſin. 1 Cor. 6. 10. A fornicator ſinneth againſt his body. Learned Pareus well addeth another cauſe why fornication is ſaid to be againſt the body, becauſe it coupleth the body to an Harlot, as in verſ. 16. whereas theft doth not couple the ſtealer to the things ſtoln, nor murtherer joineth the killer to the perſon ſlain, &c.

☞ The perſon it ſelf that in other ſins hurteth others but corporally and himſelfe ſpiritually, in this ſin hurteth himſelf both in ſoul and in body; and that,

1. Actually, by abuſing his body to this ſin, which is contrary to health and naturall cleanneſſe.

2. Paſſively, by admitting or ſuffering the contagion of another body, which if it be not naturally and materially, yet morally, and formally is unclean.

Without the body] The object of other ſins (beſide fornication) to be put without or externall; as the good name of another is the object of ſlander; proſperity, of envy; goods, of theft, &c. 1 Cor. 6. 18.

Bodily] Subſtantially or perſonally. Col. 2. 8. In him dwelleth the Godhead bodily. Note, God dwelleth in the Saints by the operation of the Spirit, working in them ſundry gifts: but in the man Chriſt, by hypoſtaticall union of the humane nature unto the divine, to become one Chriſt.

Body of Chriſt] The one part of Chriſts manhood, diſtinct from his ſoul. Heb. 10. 5. A body, &c.

2. Whole Chriſt, with all his good things. Mat. 26. 26. 1 Cor. 10. 8. This is my body; that is, a ſacramentall ſigne of me, and of all that is mine. Chriſts body is not made of bread, as Romaniſts dream.

☞ 3. The Sacrament of the Euchariſt, which is a ſigne of the true and very body of Chriſt, and therefore ſo called, to ſhew our neer communion of the one with the other Sacramentally, and of the faithfull with Chriſt himſelfe ſpiritually, Mat. 26. 26. 1 Cor. 10. 16.

4. His Church, which is his whole myſticall body, conſiſting of the faithful onely. Eph. 1. 22. Head to the Church, which is his body. Col. 1. 18. He is the head of the body of the Church. The wicked are not of this body, Eph. 2. 15. 1 Cor. 12. 27. Eph. 5. 23. & 4. 12, 16.

5. Alſo it ſignifies a viſible Congregation which outwardly profeſſe Chriſt, as 1 Cor. 12. 17. Rom. 12. 5.

6. The

6. The manhood of Christ onely. 1 Pet. 2. 24. Who bare our sins in his body.

Paul according to the common speech of men, calling assemblies of many a body, as a company of Citizens in a City, or Students in a Colledge, or Souldiers in a Camp, or Subjects in a Kingdome: in like sort doth he very often call the Church, or company of Christians, a body, as 1 Cor. 12. Eph. 4. 12, 16. Rom. 12. 5. By which comparison the Apostle admonisheth us of three things: First, that in the Church the same gifts are not granted to all men, as in the naturall body the self-same strengths are not granted to every member.

Secondly, That no man ought to thrust himself into another mans calling, for no member of the body taketh upon him the office of another member.

Thirdly, whatsoever bodily members do, they do it all to the common profit: so Christians must refer their actions to the utility of all.

☞ Fourthly, That every member or part of the body hath mutuall respect and benefit of and from the whole body and every part, whereto it hath done or doth any service; and so is recompensed for the good it hath done to others by the good which others do to it, 1 Cor. 12. 26.

The observation of these things in the Church, would have held out all ataxie and confusion, even that Babylonish confusion, and Romish tyranny which grew up to this height by neglect or contempt of these things.

To discern the Lords body] With reverence to use those most holy signes and pledges wherewith we are assured of the Lords body, putting difference between common bread and this bread, which by reason of the use and office of assuring is made holy, and so likewise the wine.

Body of death, and body of sin] Sin being (as it were) a body having many lusts as members annexed to it, and a deadly thing, deserving and leading to death such as serve it. Rom. 7. 24. Who shall deliver me from the body of this death? Rom. 6. 6, 23. The wages of sin is death.

Body of flesh] The humane nature of Christ. Col. 1. 22. That body of his flesh.

2. The old man and masse of coruption. Col. 2. 11. Putting off that sinfull body of the flesh.

Same body] The most strait or near communion and fellowship of beleeving Jewes and Gentiles, which through Christ beleeved in, are become not onely Sons of one Father, joynt heirs of one celestiall inheritance, but members of one and the self-same body mysticall, (to wit, the Church of Christ, under him their head) Eph. 3. 6. That the Gentiles should be fellow heirs of the same body. This was not revealed to the old Prophets (who did very obscurely foretell the vocation of the Gentiles) as touching the time when, the manner how, (to wit) without being circumcised; yet to be one body with the circumcised beleeving Jew. In this knowledge the Apostles and Prophets under the Gospell had the prerogative above the ancient Prophets.

This is my body] That in the Supper of Lord, we are put in remembrance and assured of his body, as it was crucified, and his bloud as it was shed, Mat. 26. 26.

Bohan] In them. The Son of Reuben, Josh. 15. 6.

Boil] Spoken for the foaming of the sea, stirred up by Leviathan, Job 41. 31. And, for inward restlesse affliction, Job 30. 27.

Boldly] In speech, Mar. 8. 32. Action, Gen. 34. 25.

Boldnesse] Courage or liberty of speech or of Action. Act. 4. 13. When they saw the boldnesse of Peter. Act. 28. 31. With all boldnesse.

2. Authority, which made Paul bold and free to command Philemon, vers. 8. of his Ep. to Philemon.

Boldnesse] in the face, Eccl. 8. 1. Speech, 2 Cor. 7. 4. Heart without fear, Phil. 1. 14. Towards men, Act. 28. 31. which is obtained of God by prayer, Act. 4. 29. And towards God, Eph. 3. 12. 1 Joh 3. 21.

Bondage] Slavery and thraldome under some Tyrant outwardly oppressing. Exod. 20. 2. The house of bondage: thus is the land of Ægypt called, because there the Israelites were entreated cruelly like servants and bondmen.

2. Subjection unto the Ceremonial Law, to be obliged and bound to the observance thereof, is called bondage, as Paul terneth the freedome from the same, liberty. Gal. 2. 4. And surely it was no small bondage to be tyed (as the Jews were, till the time of the Gospel) unto Ceremonies and Rites, so many in number, so diverse for variety, so chargeable for cost, so full of painfull labour in performance: but thus it seemed good unto God, for wise and just ends, to train up his people by such means, till the time of reformation came, as the Scripture calleth the dayes under Christ.

Bondage] Corporall, through cruel perſecuters, Exod. 20. 2.

Spirituall, under the Ceremoniall Law, Gal. 2. 4. Sin, Rom. 6. 20. Satan, Eph. 2. 2. Alſo under ſervile fear, Rom. 8. 15. Corruption, Ibid. 21.

Bonds or Bands] The crafty devices and miſchievous plots of wicked men, wherewith (as with bonds) they hold the righteous, Pſal. 116. 16. Thou haſt broken my bonds aſunder. Here it is taken in ill part.

2. Sin, which is a ſpirituall bond to tie men to Satan. Act. 8. 23. Thou art in the bonds of iniquity, that is, held faſt of iniquity, which is like a Bond. Here it is uſed in evill part alſo.

3. Gods Ordinances and Laws, which are (as Bonds) to tie us to our duties, and to faſten us to God. Pſa. 2. 3. Let us break their Bonds. It is the ſpeech of Gods enemies ſcoffingly ſpeaking of Gods Statutes, as of a ſervile and ſhamefull bondage.

Bands were ſignes of ſubjection, Jer. 27. 2, 3, 6, 7. and thus in Pſal. 2. 3. Kings and Nations ſpeak of Gods Doctrine and Laws, refuſing to be ſubject unto, and to ſerve Chriſt, though his yoke be eaſie, Matt. 11. 29. 30.

4. Gods benefits (which are alſo as Bonds and Cords of love to link us to himſelf.) Hoſ. 11. 4. Even with bonds of love. Here it is put in good part.

5. Impriſonment or other afflictions, ſuffered for the name of Chriſt. Act. 26. 29. Except theſe Bonds. Heb. 13. 3. Remember them that are in Bonds.

☞ Peace and godly agreement, which is as a band to joyn men together, as a veſſell made of many parts, by Bands is kept together, Eph. 4. 3.

There are alſo Bands or bonds of afflictions and oppreſſion, Pſal. 116 16. Jer. 2. 20. A covenant, Ezek. 20. 32. An oath, Numb. 30. 2, 10. A vow or promiſe, Numb. 30. 9, 13. Charity, Col. 3. 14. Gods love, Hoſ. 11. 4.

Unto Bonds] So greatly afflicted as he was caſt even into Bonds for Chriſt, 2 Tim. 2. 9. Yet he preached freely to ſuch as were with him and did viſit him.

Bondman] One taken priſoner in war, or bought with money, to ſerve and be at the will of him who took or bought him: this is the proper ſignification.

2. One caſt out of Gods family and inheritance, being ſlave to Satan and ſin, Gal. 4. 24, 25.

Bond-woman] Agar who figured the old Teſtament, and her Son ſuch as be under the works of the Law, Gal. 4. 29.

Bone] Kinſman, Gen. 29. 14. See Judg. 9. 2. 1 Chr. 11. 1. 2 Sam. 19. 12, 13.

Bones] A mans chief bodily ſtrength, or that wherein his chief outward ſtrength lyeth, Iſa. 38. 13. Pſal. 35. 10.

2. His inward ſpirituall courage and comfort of minde. Pſal. 51. 8. That the bones which thou haſt broken may rejoyce: that is to ſay, that ſo much comfort may be reſtored to me, as I have loſt by my fall, Lam. 3. 4. Prov. 14. 13.

Taken alſo for the very bones when the body is waſted, Gen. 50. 25. The dead body, 1 King. 13. 31. A mans whole body, Prov. 15. 30. Pſal. 141. 7. The whole man, body and ſoul, Pſal. 35. 10. & 51. 8. Job 20. 11.

Bone of Bones] The neareſt conjunction that may be, as of Kinſfolks, 2 Sam. 5. 1. Alſo of the husband and wife, Gen. 2. 23. Of Chriſt and his Church, Eph. 5. 30. The two former by naturall conjunctions; the third is myſticall.

Book] The whole Scripture, or ſome part of it, written together in one Volume, Rev. 22. 18. The book of this propheſie. Luk. 4. 17. Hee took the Book. The Book of Scriptures, Pſal. 40. 7.

2. The rehearſall of ones pedegree, or off-ſpring. Mat. 1. 1. The book of the generation, &c.

3. Every mans conſcience or knowledge that he hath of his own doings, good or evil. Rev. 20. 12. Then the Books ſhall be opened. Book of conſcience.

4. Gods providence, or his fore-appointment of all things. Pſal. 139. 6. For in thy Book were all things written. Book of providence.

Alſo, Gods predeſtination unto life, Rev. 21. 27. Evidences for land, Jer. 32. 10. marg. A Chronicle, or Book of records, Eſt. 6. 1. Books of curious arts, Act. 19. 19. The doctrine of the Goſpel, Rev. 10. 9, 10. Gods carefull love and remembrance, Mal. 3. 16.

By the Books] By the propheſie of Jeremy, where the yeers of captivity were mentioned by other Chronicles and records, Dan. 9. 2.

Book of Life] The decree of Gods election, chuſing ſome men freely to life eternall in Chriſt. This is called a Book, becauſe the elect are as certainly known to God, as if he had their names written in a Book. Rev. 21. 27. In the Lambes Book of Life, Phil. 4. 3. Book of Predeſtination, Exodus 32. 32. Iſa. 4. 3.

2. The

☞ 2. The Scriptures, becauſe firſt the way and meanes of eternall life are ſhewed and taught therein, and the precepts of that: ſecondly, the rewards of good life are therein promiſed, and deſcribed to be in eternall life.

Book of Moſes] A Book of the Law of the Lord by the hand of Moſes, Mark 12.16. 2 Chr.34. 14.

Books opened] Acts and deeds wrought and done by the fourth beaſt, brought forth to bee knowne, examined and judged of God, Dan.7. 10. The Books were opened, Rev. 20. 12.

Book of remembrance] A Chroniele or Book of Story, wherein the names and acts of men are remembred. Eſth. 6.1. The King commanded to bring the Book of remembrance, and the Chronicles.

2. The ſpeciall love and care of God, minding ſuch as fear him, in ſuch ſort, as if he had their names before him in a Book. Mal. 3. 16. A Book of remembrance was written before him.

Born] viz. 1. of God, ſo are all the godly, 1 Joh. 5. 18. Joh. 1. 13.

2. Of a woman without man: ſo onely Chriſt, and that miraculouſly, Matth. 1. 23, 25.

3. Of a woman by man, ſo are all men naturally, Job 14. 1.

4. Of the fleſh, ſo all men ſinfully, Joh. 1. 12.

To be born or brought up upon the knees] To take little babes into the boſome, armes, or upon the knees, as the cuſtome and manner of Fathers and Grand-fathers was, out of a delight in the bleſſing of God, Gen. 50. 23.

Firſt-born] Properly, The firſt brought forth before others, Gen. 25. 13. or, The firſt, though no more follow, Mat. 1.25.

Figuratively, A whole Tribe, Jer.31.9. All Iſrael, Exod. 4. 22. All written in heaven, Heb. 12. 23.

Boſome] Lawfull company with a woman, Gen. 16. 5. 2 Sam. 12. 8.

It's alſo taken for the Breaſt, Exod.4. 6,7. Lap, Ruth 4.16. Cloſe by ones ſide, 1 King. 1. 2. Will and pleaſure, Gen. 16. 5. Heart, Job 31. 33. Armes, Pſal. 129. 7. Inward touching with an affectioned feeling, ſo as it may cleave to the heart, Pſal. 79. 12. The place of reſt, Pſal. 74. 11. Large or full content, Luk. 6. 38. Secret and privy, Prov. 21. 14. Heaven, Luk. 16. 21.

In the Boſome of the Father] That Chriſt is privy to all Gods ſecrets (not as a piece cut off from the ſubſtance of the Father) but as one that is in the inward part of his Father, or as one in him. Joh. 1. 18. Which is in the boſome of his Father, &c. Joh. 17. 21. As thou (O Father) art in me, and I in thee.

A threefold moſt neer conjunction of the Father and the Son, is ſignified by this being in his boſome.

Firſt, of perſons in one nature.

Secondly, the infinite love of the Father towards Chriſt his Son.

Thirdly, the communication of his ſecrets to him: for ſeeing he doth exiſt together with his Father in one and the ſame eſſence, he muſt be privy to all his counſels, Matt. 11. 27.

Abrahams boſome] is interpreted by Papiſts in Rhemes Teſtament, to be a part of Hell, called Limbus Patrum, wherein ſuch as dyed before Chriſt his time did reſt, feeling no pain, nor yet any joy and pleaſure (contrary to the 25 verſ. of the 16 chap. of Lukes Goſpell, Now Lazarus is comforted) from whence Chriſt delivered them after his death, when he went down into Hell to harrow it, and to pul ſouls out of it into Heaven; which (they faign) to be ſhut againſt men during the time of the Old Teſtament, contrary unto that Scripture, Eccleſ. 12. 9. The ſpirit returns to God who gave it: and to plain reaſon; for ſuch as were Beleevers in Chriſt to come, they had ſalvation of their ſouls as the end of their faith.

Abrahams boſome: The moſt bleſſed comfortable life, which they (that die in that faith that Abraham did) ſhall enjoy after this life in heaven. Luk. 16. 21. And was carryed by the Angels into Abrahams boſome. Or, it is the ſociety and communion which the faithfull (who beleeve as Abraham did) ſhall have in the Kingdome of heaven. A Metaphor or ſpeech, borrowed of the Eaſtern people, which at the repaſt leaned each on anothers breaſt, or boſome, Joh. 13.23.

Bound] by men with Fetters, 2 Chr. 33. 11. Chains, Act. 28. 20. Bands, or Cords, Gen.39. 20. Judg. 15.13. By Eccleſiaſtical cenſure, Matt.16.19. By Satan, Luk.13.16. By the Spirit, Act.20.22. By the Law, Rom. 7. 2. Conjugall contract, 1 Cor. 7. 27. Vow, Numb. 30. 4. Corruption of nature, Prov. 22. 15. An oath or curſe, Act. 23. 12, 21.

Bountifulneſſe] The infinite clemency of God, and his exceeding great readyneſſe to pleaſure and do good unto men, Rom. 11. 21.

2. The Faith of the Elect ſpringing from Gods

Gods bounty and goodneſſe, and relying thereon. Rom. 11. 21. If thou continue in his bounty. A Metonymie of the cauſe.

A Bow] An inſtrument of war; and ſometime is uſed to ſignifie the whole furniture and force of war. Pſal. 44. 6. I do not truſt in my bow, Gen. 48. 2.

2. The ſtrength of the wicked, which they uſe to the hurting of the godly. Pſal. 7. 12. He hath bent his Bow, and made his arrows ready, Pſal. 11. 2.

3. The tongues of the Miniſters, whence proceed words (like arrowes) to ſtrike the very hearts of men, either for their converſion if they be Elect; or hardening, if they be Reprobate. Rev. 6. 2. He that ſat on him had a Bow.

Bow] Referred to God, ſignifieth,

1. The ſigne of Gods covenant in the cloud, Gen. 9. 13.

2. His power which he exerciſeth over the wicked, Lam. 2. 4. Pſal. 7. 12.

3. His promiſe or Word, Hab. 3. 9.

4. His people, whom he uſeth to fight againſt his enemies, Hoſ. 7. 16. Zech. 9. 13.

5. The powerfull help of God, Hag. 3. 9.

Referred to Man, ſignifieth,

1. That particular inſtrument, out of which arrows are ſhot: whether uſed in hunting, Gen. 27. 3. or in war, 2 King. 9. 24. Whether of ſteel, Job 20 24. or wood.

2. The whole furniture for war, Pſal. 44. 6.

3. The hurtfull wayes and means uſed by the wicked, Pſal. 37. 14. Pſal. 11. 2.

4. The grace and good will of God, whereby the godly are armed againſt their adverſaries, Gen. 49. 24.

5. The tongues of Miniſters, whence proceed words like arrows piercing mens hearts, Rev. 6. 2.

6. Mans worth and excellency, Job 29. 20.

To breake the Bow] To deſtroy and bring to nothing the greateſt ſtrength and power of the enemies of the Church. Pſal. 76. 2. There he brake the Bow, the Sword, &c.

Bow of ſteel or braſſe] Singular and very great ſtrength. Pſal. 18. 34. A Bow of braſſe is broken with my armes.

Deceitfull Bow] Falſe help, which faileth in time of need; or unfaithfull men, in whom there is no truſt. Hoſ. 7. 16. They are as a deceitfull Bow.

To ſhoot with a Bow] To be an Archer, & conſequently a Warriour; for ſhooting with the Bow was uſed in battels with men. Gen. 21. 20. Gen. 49. 23, 24. & 48. 22.

To bow] To bend the body in token of civill reverence. Gen. 23. 12. Then Abraham bowed himſelf before the people of the Land. Gen. 18. 1, 19. that is, He bowed himſelf to the ground. Alſo, the head, Gen. 24. 26. The knee, Gen. 41. 43.

2. To give ear unto our prayers, by granting that we aſk. Pſal. 16. 2. He bowed or inclined his ear.

3. To ſhew ſubmiſſion and religious reverence in the offering up of our prayers. Eph. 3. 14. I bow my knees, &c. For in prayer or other ſerving of God, the worſhippers of God uſed to bow down their bodies in ſigne of reverence and honour. Alſo to kneel ſometimes is to bend the head and knees, or to proſtrate themſelves.

4. To teſtifie by this outward geſture, our inward piety and worſhipping of God; Exo. 4. 13. Or of Idols, Rom. 11. 5.

☞ 5. To bow or ſubmit our thoughts and affections to God and his ſervice, as our inward and ſpirituall knees or parts; and as the bodily parts ſuffice not to ſerve God without theſe powers of the ſoul, ſo theſe ſuffice not (where the body is able to ſerve) without the body. Yet theſe inward Bowings are the beſt, and ought to be the firſt and moſt herein, Micah 6. 6. Epheſ. 3. 14.

To bow the back] To break or diminiſh the ſtrength of the body, minde, and eſtate, Rom. 11. 10. Thou ſhalt bow their backs, or thighes, and loyns; the chief ſtrength lyeth in the loyns or back; the breaking of the back is the ſpoyl of all might, that they ſhould not be able to attain what good things they chuſe and deſire.

To bow himſelf upon the beds head] That old feeble Jacob leaned, and ſtayed himſelfe upon the top of his ſtaffe till he might erect and ſettle his body upon his bed more commodiouſly, Gen. 47. 31. Thus expounded in Heb. 11. 21. How then dote the Papiſts, imagining ſome Image at his beds head, to which he might bow, in favour of their Idolatry?

This bowing of himſelf to God, was with thankfulneſſe, becauſe after other bleſſings, God had given him this aſſurance by Joſeph's promiſe and oath, that he ſhould be carryed to Canaan, the figure of the Kingdome of heaven: Therefore this particular is reported, Heb. 11. 21. as a teſtimony of Jacobs faith. Joſephs bowing, Gen. 48. 12. was in reverence and thankfulneſſe to his Father for adopting his Sons.

To bow under the priſoners] To become more miſerable and ſubmiſſe then priſoners uſe to be to their Lords and Conquerours, and and more vile then dead rotten corps. Isa. 10. 4. They shall bow under the prisoners, and fall under the slain. Some think this fulfilled in 2 King. 18. 4.

To bow himself in the house of Rimmon] In officious sort and civill duty to bend his body that his Lord might lean upon him when he went into the Temple of the Idoll Rimmon to adore; hereof Naaman craveth to be pardoned, of zeal without knowledge, as M. Junius saith, it being no such thing as should trouble his conscience, 2 King. 5. 18. Some read it in the præterperfect-tense, When he had bowed and gone, &c. It no way favoureth Time-servers and Neutrals.

Bowels] The most secret thoughts and cogitations of the minde. Prov. 20. 27. The light of the Lord searcheth all the bowels of the belly. A Metaphor or speech from the body to the minde.

2. The most feeling compassions of the heart. Col. 3. 12. Bowels of mercy; that is, most tender mercies, Luk. 1. 78.

3. Inward deep grief and heavyness. Lam. 1. 20. My bowels are turned within me.

They signifie also, The knots in the belly, Act. 1. 18. Inward affections, 2 Cor. 6. 12. A party truly beloved, Philem. 20. Bodies, Philem. 7. The sympathy between the Saints of God, Phil. 2. 1. The bowels of Gods mercy, and of Christ, Luk. 1. 78. Phil. 1. 8.

Bowles] put for a Cruise of oyl, Zech. 4. 2. Covers, hollow like to bowles, Exod. 25. 29. Cups to drink in, Amos 6. 6. Such as Solomon made upon the top of the Chapiters, 1 King. 7. 41. That which is called the pia mater, Eccles. 12. 6.

Box-tree] It liketh to grow in fruitfull places, Isa. 41. 19. Specially in Libanus, Isa. 60. 13. Where by them, some metaphorically understand, potent and powerfull men. It was used for beautifying the place of Gods Sanctuary, Ibid.

Bozez] Dirt. The name of a rock, 1 Sam. 14. 4.

Bozkath] In poverty. A City, Josh. 15. 39. So Boscath, 2 King. 22. 1.

Bozor] Taking away. Balaam's Father, 2 Pet. 2. 15. called also Beor, Numb. 22. 5.

Bozra] In tribulation. A City, Gen. 36. 33.

B R.

Bramble] A base bred fellow, and of evill condition, Judg. 9. 14, 15.

Branch] A part of a Tree: also mighty men, which are strong and of power, Isa. 9. 14. Also, off-spring, Job 8. 16. Prosperity, or glory, Job 15. 32. True beleevers, Joh. 15. 5.

Branch of the Lord] Christ, whom the Lord brought forth of the royal stock almost dead, (as a branch springeth out of a dead root) Isa. 11. 1. A branch shall grow out of his roots. Jer. 23. 5. & 33. 25. Zech. 3. 8. & 6. 12. The truth of Christs humane nature budding (as a branch) out of the family of David, who was the Son of Jesse.

2. The remainder of the Jewes which should escape out of the Babylonish captivity and banishment, of whom God promiseth to gather a green and flourishing Church. Isa. 4. 2. The branch of the Lord shal be beautiful, &c. Some expound this of Christ; but vers. 4. will not suffer that sense.

Branch of righteousness] Christ that just one, and justifier of the faithfull, which keepeth promise with his people, and executeth righteousness and judgement, Jer. 33. 15.

Brass] put for an Obstinate people, Ezek. 22. 18. Incorrigible shamelessness, Isa. 48. 4. Great strength, Dan. 9. 39. Durableness, Mic. 4. 13.

Brasen Serpent] Christ strong, mighty, able perfectly to deliver his, Joh. 3. 14, 15, 16. The lifting up of this Serpent by Moses signified Gods giving of his Son to death of the Crosse, as it is expounded, Joh. 12. 32, 33. The biting of the Serpent, signifieth the deadly sting of the Devill. And the looking up to the Serpent lift up upon the pearch, signifieth their beleeving in Christ crucified; that so by faith in him, confessing their sins they might be healed to everlasting life.

Breach] For a fracture or bruise, Lev. 24. 20. A cutting off, Judg. 21. 15. A parting, Isa. 7. 6. Altering or not performing, Numb. 14. 34. Bursting in by force or violence, 2 Sam. 6. 8. Breach of promise, the altering of ones purpose, Numb. 14. 34.

To make a breach] To part or cut the Kingdome in two parts, the one (King of Syria) to have the one half, and the King of Israel to have the other half. Isa. 7. 6. Let us make a breach, &c.

Bread] Food made of Corn, as of Wheat or any other Corn to nourish this naturall life. This is materiall bread. In this sense Manna is called Bread, Exod. 16. 4. Psal. 78. 10.

2. All things necessary for this life (by a Synecdoche) as in the Lords prayer, and elsewhere very often in Scripture, as Exod. 23. 25. I will blesse thy bread. Which cometh hence, because (of all necessaries for life) bread is moſt common and moſt needfull. Mat. 4. 4. & 6. 11. Give us this day our daily bread. Prov. 20. 12. Gen. 3. 19. Gen. 28. 20 Bread put for food and rayment, which things Jacob prayed for, and with which all men ought to be content, 1 Tim. 6. 8. Alſo it is uſed for fleſh, Rev. 3. 11. Numb. 28. 2. Lev. 3. 11. & 21. 6. (Bread is uſed for all meat, Gen. 3. 19. & 21. 14.)

3. Chriſt himſelf, who to them that eat him by faith, he is to their ſouls the ſame that bread is to their bodies; bread being no more needfull to our bodies then Chriſt is to our ſouls for ſpirituall ſtrength, comfort, and refreſhing. Joh. 6. 50. I am that bread that came down from heaven. This may be called celeſtiall and ſpirituall bread. A Metaphor.

It's put for heavenly bread, Pſal. 105. 40. Spirituall bread, Jeſus Chriſt, who is true bread, Joh. 6. 32. The bread of God, Ib. 33. The bread of life, Ibid. 35. 48. The living bread, Ibid. 51. Sacramentall bread, 1 Cor. 11. 28. And is ſaid to be of God, and life, which is Chriſt, Joh. 6. 33, 35. Of the day, or daily bread which we daily need, Mat. 6. 11. Of affliction, Iſa. 30. 20. Sorrows, as gotten with much pain and ſorrow, Pſal. 127. 2. Wickedneſſe as gotten wickedly, Prov. 4. 17. Deceit, as deceitfully come by, Prov. 20. 17. Deſire, namely, pleaſant bread, dainty food, Dan. 10. 3. Our owne, as which we get by our own labour, 2 Theſſ. 3. 12. Tears, as which were in ſtead of bread, Pſal. 80. 6. Men, which men uſe to eat, Ezek. 24. 17. Mourners, without comfort received, Hoſ. 9. 4. Sincerity and truth, that is, of purity and integrity, without hypocriſie in our profeſſion, and worſhipping of Chriſt, and believing his Word, 1 Cor. 5. 8. Idleneſſe, that which is eaten without taking pains for, Prov. 31. 27.

Bread broken] Our Communion or fellowſhip which we have with Chriſt crucified, and with all his merits. 1 Cor. 10. 16. The bread which we break, is it not the communion of his body? That is, doth it not ſignifie and ſeal this unto us?

Breaking bread] Participation and fellowſhip in the Lords Supper. Act. 2. 42. And breaking of bread. The Jews made their bread thin, and therefore they did but break it.

2. Participation and fellowſhip in common repaſt, and eating their meat at home. Act. 2. 48. And breaking bread at home, they did eat their meat together, &c.

Common bread] Bread appointed to uſe of common life, and not to holy uſe, 1 Sam. 21. 5.

Bread of Deceit] Subſtance or goods gathered by craft or wile. Prov. 20. 17. The bread of deceit is ſweet to a man.

To eat bread] To celebrate or keep a feaſt, as was wont to be at the offering of Gratulatory Sacrifices. Exod. 18. 12 Came to eat bread with Moſes Father in law. See 1 Sam. 1. 19. 1 Chron. 16. 23. Eccleſ. 10. 19. Dan. 5. 1. Gen. 25. 24.

2. To take meat, or eat ordinarily, Act. 2. 46.

Except the bread which he eat] Either that Potiphar cared for nothing but to eat and drink, leaving all the trouble of his houſe upon Joſeph: or elſe, that he excepted his meat and drink, becauſe the Ægyptians would not eat with the Hebrews, Gen. 39. 6. & 43. 32.

One bread] The union and ſociety of the faithfull, which partake in one bread. 1 Cor. 10. 17. We that are many, are one bread.

Staffe or Stay of Bread] The ſtrength which the bread hath to feed us, by the bleſſing of God. Iſa. 3. 2. Stay or ſtaffe of bread and water, &c. This threatned, Lev. 26. 26. example of it in Hag. 1. 6. Mich. 6. 14, 15.

Their own bread] Bread and other victuals gotten by their owne labour, 2 Theſſ. 3. 12.

Bread of ſorrows] Suſtenance and food either got with ſorrowfull labour as it is enjoyned, Gen. 3. 19. or eaten with grief, as is the faſhion of frugall men and great ſparers, which by parſimony and pains look to grow rich, yet all in vain, without Gods benediction, Pſal. 127. 2.

Shew-bread] Sacred and holy bread, ſet forth and ſhewed upon the Table before the Lord. 1 Sam. 21. 7. Mar. 2. 26. How he eat the Shew-bread.

Note: Shew-bread, or bread of faces, or of propoſition; ſo named, becauſe 12 Cakes in two rowes were ſet upon a Table, before the face, or in the preſence of God, continually, from Sabbath to Sabbath. This Table with the twelve Cakes, ſignifieth, the multitude of the faithfull, preſented unto God in his Church; or the ſpirituall repaſt which the Church hath from, and before God, who feedeth them with Chriſt the bread of life.

Bread of tears] Tears were in ſtead of bread to feed on. Pſal. 80. 6. Thou haſt fed us with the bread of tears. Pſal. 42. 3. Tears have been our bread to eat.

Break] put for, to Cleave aſunder, Exod. 32. 19. or, Crack in pieces, Judg. 7. 19. Strike off, Dan. 8. 7. Take away, Pſ. 105. 16.

Ruſh

Rush in upon, Psal. 106. 29. Transgresse, Jer. 31. 32. Crush, Psal. 74. 13,14. Burst, Mar. 2.22. work much sorrow in the heart, Act. 21. 13. Profane, Psal. 89. 31. Pluck, Exod. 32. 2. Weaken, bring down as it were to nothing, Psal. 10. 15. Not to keep, or to fail, Numb. 30. 2. To make voyd, or of none effect, 1 King. 15. 19. Appear, Cant. 2. 17. Plow, Jer. 4. 3. Remove and take away by force, Jer. 28. 4, 11. Disunite and sever, Zech. 11. 14. Afflict sore, Job 9. 17. Panting, as if it would break, Psa. 119. 20. Disorder, Joel 2. 7.

To break up the fallow ground] To repent and amend, Jer. 4. 3. Mans heart is like to ground untilled and thorny: and repentance is like an Harrow and hook to grub up.

To break in pieces] Utterly to destroy one without hope of recovery (as a vessel of earth or glasse:) which being once broken cannot be made whole. Psal. 2. 9. Thou shalt break them in pieces like a Potters vessell.

To break off sins] To repent and change his life by becoming just and pitifull, whereas he had been unrighteous and cruell, Dan. 4. 27. See ch. 5. 19. Here is no footing and strength for their Popish merits, by almes and works of mercy, which be the meet fruits of repentance, but not meritorious causes of pardon and Gods favour.

Breast-plate] Military; Sacred, Lev. 8. 8. Spirituall, Eph. 6. 14.

Breath] A living soul, by the virtue of the eternal Spirit, inspired into an elementary body, to use it as an instrument. Gen. 2. 7. Psal. 150. 6. Whatsoever hath breath: viz. Let every person which liveth prayse God with the whole soul: Whereas in Gen. 2. 7. it is in the Hebrew, the breath of lives, in the plurall, it doth intimate one spirit or soul to be in man, which hath sundry faculties and operations.

2. The effect of the soul, to wit, power to breath, or to draw in wind, and to puffe it out again. Act. 17. 25. Which giveth life, and breath, and all things.

3. Infirmity and great weakenesse of mans life, which is quenched, by stopping the breath. Isa. 2. 22. Whose breath is in his nostrils.

4. The great easinesse wherewith Divine power worketh upon his creatures in water and land. Psal. 18. 15. At the breath of thy nostrils; as if he should have said, O God, there was no need thou shouldest command, when thou didst but breath upon them, it was enough to make the dry land appear.

It's put also for the soul, Psa. 146. 4. Life, Dan. 5. 23. as being the signe of life, and going along therewith, Act. 17. 25. The Gospel preached, Isa. 11. 4. A King, the Lords anointed, Lam. 4. 20. Being spoken of God, it signifieth his Word, Psal. 33. 6. A blast, storm, or whirlewind sent of him, Psa. 18. 15. His Spirit, Job 33. 4.

Breath of his lips, and rod of his mouth] The Word, or preaching of the Gospell, by which the Spirit of Christ is effectuall and mighty to quicken or convert the elect, and to harden and kill the reprobate with the terrors of the soul; even to consume Antichrist and Heresies, Isa. 11. 5. 2 Thess. 2. 8.

To Breath] put for naturall breathing, as man and beast doe. Infusion of the soule into the body, Gen. 2. 7. Live, Josh 11. 11. Speak, Psal. 27. 12. Threaten and pursue to the utmost strength of life, Act. 9. 1. Divine inspiration, Joh. 20. 22.

Brethren] Sons of the same Father or Mother, as Reuben and Judah, Isaac and Ismael, Jacob and Esau.

2. True beleevers, they that be such indeed, and before God, not in name and profession onely; even Christs whole spirituall kindred, which are knit to him by the bond of faith, and amongst themselves with unfaigned love. Heb. 2. 11. Therefore he is not ashamed to call them Brethren. Col. 4. 9. Matt. 12. 50. Rom. 8. 29. This is an inward spirituall Brotherhood.

3. Ministers of the Word, who for their common function and work-sake are called Brethren, 2 Cor. 8. 23. and elsewhere often.

4 Such as with one minde agree together in any act, good or evill. Gen. 49. 5. Simeon and Levi, Brethren. They were so called here, not for their common parents sake, but for that they did consent in an evill act, the killing and spoiling of the Sichemites. They were companions in a work; and so Brethren in conditions and in nature.

5. Such as partake with us in common nature, being men as we are. Gen. 29. 4. My Brethren, whence be ye?

Also, by one stock, proceeding from the same Ancestours, Gen. 24. 27. By consanguinity, Lev. 10. 4. By affinity, Gen. 13. 8. By Religion, Psal. 122. 8.

Separate from his Brethren] A choyce and chief man separated of God unto excellency above his Brethren, Gen. 49. 26. The Hebrew hath, a Nazarite from his Brethren, for a Nazarite hath his name of Separation, Numb. 6. 2.

Briars and Thorns] Malicious and wicked deeds, such as offend and displease God, as Briars doe sting and prick those which touch them. Isa. 27. 4. Who would set Briars against me, &c. Isa. 5. 6. & 9. 18.

2. Also, it signifies, the Assyrians pricking the Israelites like thorns, Isa. 10. 17.

3. The inordinate or excessive care and love of the world it self, and vanities of it, are unto the growth of godlyness the same that thorns are to the growth of corn, Mat. 13. 7, 22.

Bricks, hewen stones] Houses made of Brick or hewen stone, of Sycomore tree, and houses of Cedar: thus the wicked Jewes boast against God: Wee will restore our ruines, and what God hath wasted, we will even in despight of him repair it, and that more magnificently then before. Isa. 9. 10. Bricks are faln down, &c. Compare it with Mal. 1. 4.

Bride] The Church or company of true beleevers, spiritually joyned in marriage with Christ, as a Bridegroom and Husband. Rev. 21. 9. I will shew thee, the Bride the Lambs wife. Rev. 22. 27. Joh. 3. 29. He that hath the Bride, is the Bridegroom.

Bridegroom] Christ betroathed spiritually, and joyned to the Church, as to his Bride or Spouse, Mat. 25. 5. Mar. 2. 20. While the Bridegroom is with them.

Bridegrooms Friend] One who is joyned with the Bridegroom, to see that all be well done at the keeping of the Wedding. Judges 14. 11. Such were Samsons companions.

2. John Baptist, who by his Ministery and life did greatly further the spirituall Wedding or conjunction between Christ and his Church. Joh. 3. 23. The friend of the Bridegroom rejoyceth greatly, &c. See Luk. 1. 16, 17. Every faithfull Minister which helpeth forward this mysticall marriage is the Bridegrooms friend.

Broken or loosed] Violated, made voyd, or false, as Matt. 17. 19. Joh. 10. 35. or destroyed, as Joh. 7. 23.

Bridle] Figuratively, put for restraining power, Isa. 30. 28. & 37. 29.

Brightnesse] put for great excellency, Isa. 60. 3. Happy prosperity, Isa. 59. 9. Evidently clear and manifest, Isa. 62. 1.

Brimstone] expresseth Gods fierce plague threatned in great desolation, Deut. 29. 23. The same executed, Gen. 10. 24. The plagues in hell, Rev. 20. 10.

Bring] Applyed to God, as Jer. 32. 42. Neh. 9. 15. Heb. 13. 20. Christ, 2 Tim. 1. 10. Grace, Tit. 2. 11. The Ministers of the Gospell, Rom. 10. 15. Man, with relation to God, Lev. 1. 2. With relation unto Man, Gen. 27. 25.

It signifieth also, to Provide, Gen. 27. 20. Bestow, Gen. 2. 22. Account for, Gen. 31. 29. Convoy, Gen. 43. 17. Take into protection, Exod. 19. 4. Present with, 1 Sam. 9. 7.

To bring again, against, back, down, before, forth, forward, hither, home, in, into, neer, nought, nothing, on, out, to, to passe, unto, up, upon, with, &c. See in their severall places, where the meaning is plainly discerned.

Broad way] The way of sin, or a sinfull course of life, such as most men walk in. Matt. 7. 13. Broad is the way that leadeth to destruction.

Brother] One who is born of the same parents, as James the Brother of John, Mat. 10. 2. This is a naturall Brother. Or, of the same Father, though not Mother, as Isaac and Ismael; or of the same Mother, though not Father, whom we may term an Halfe-Brother.

2. One which marryeth our Sister, or our wives Sister: thus was Isaac Laban's Brother, Genes. 24. 29. This is a Legall brother.

3. A near kinsman. Gen. 13. 8. Let us not strive, for we are brethren. Rom. 9. 3. For my brethren that are my kinsmen according to the flesh. Thus Nephewes and Cousin-germanes are called brethren. Thus Christs kinsmen are called his Brethren, Matt. 12. 47. Genes. 29. 5.

4. Every one that knoweth and professeth together with us the same Christian Religion, holding the same God for their Father, and the same Church for their Mother. Rom. 12. 1. I beseech you Brethren. And in most places where Christians are called Brethren. This is a Christian Brother.

It's also put for one of the same stock, in the same Nation, after many generations, Deut. 15. 12. Jer. 9. 34. or in any other Kingdome, Deut. 23. 7. Numb. 20. 15. A companion, Job 30. 29. A neighbour, Lev. 25. 47. Mat. 5. 23. A faithfull friend, 2 Sam. 1. 26. One of the same function and office, 2 Pet. 3. 15. Such as are alike in quality and condition, Prov. 18. 9. A convert to Christ, Act. 9. 17.

Brother is either,

1. By nature or kindred.
2. By Law or affinity: 1 Near, as Gen. 24. 39. 2. far off. or,
3. By Nation, Rom. 9. 3
4. By profession, either

1. Civill.

1. Civill.
2. Religious.

Brotherly fellowship] The ſociety which the Brethren have amongſt themſelves, communicating their gifts for mutuall ſtrength and comfort. 1 Pet. 2. 17. Love brotherly fellowſhip.

Brotherly fellowſhip is the communion of Brethren, when all Gods bleſſings, both inward and outward, as occaſion and need requireth, are communicated by charity, all to the mutuall help one of another. It conſiſts not onely in rejoycing and being merry together (though in a religious manner,) much leſſe in ſuch worldly mirth, as they delight in, which are commonly called Good fellows: but in the right uſe of all good gifts, being applyed to the good of the Brethren abſent from us, as well as preſent with us, according to our opportunities and means.

Brotherly kindneſſe] That inward affection of love, whereby we embrace the Chriſtian Brethren more nearly then we doe all others. 2 Pet. 1. 7. And unto love joyn brotherly kindneſſe.

Note: Love reacheth to all men to whom it may doe good, but Brotherly kindneſſe onely to Chriſtian Brethren. Love is as the Hall, whereinto all comers are received; but Brotherly kindneſſe is as the Parlor, whereinto more near friends and ſpeciall acquaintance are received and admitted.

Bruiſe] It's ſpoken corporally, of the body, Luk. 9. 39. Politically, of the State and Common-wealth overthrown, Jer. 30. 12. Nah. 3. 19. Ethically, of the ill manners of men, Iſa. 1. 6. It's put for, to pierce or cruſh, Gen. 3. 15. Put to deadly grief, Iſa. 53. 10. Commit whoredome, Ezek. 23. 3, 21. Leſſen, weaken, put down, tread under feet, break to pieces, Rom. 16. 20.

Bruiſed] That is, loadned with the feeling of the weight of ſin, and ſtriving to be disburdened and ſet free, Luk. 4. 18.

Bruiſed reed] That is, dejected, afflicted, troubled in Conſcience, Mat. 12. 20.

Bruit] Rumour, fame, or report of a matter. Matt. 9. 26. This bruit, &c. verſ. 31.

Brutiſh] One wanting diſcretion, led with ſenſuality, and without underſtanding, 2 Pet. 2. 12. Jude 10. Prov. 30. 2. Pſ. 49. 11. Applyed to the ignorant of Gods great works, Pſalme 92. 6. Wicked men, that think God neither ſeeth nor regardeth their cruell dealing with Gods people, Ibid. 8. The haters of reproof, Pro. 12. 1. The counſell of ill Counſellors to a King, Iſa. 19. 11. The wiſe men of nations, Idolaters, Jer. 10. 8. Such as are in knowledge, Jer. 10. 14. Paſtors, that have not ſought the Lord, Jer. 10. 21. The cruell enemies of the Church, Jer. 51. 15.

B V.

Buckler] A weapon for defence in time of fight, 1 Chr. 5. 18. Jer. 46. 3.

2. The mighty defence of God, which is a Buckler to them that truſt in him. Pſa. 28. 1. Thou art my buckler (or ſhield). To whom his truth is a Buckler, Pſal. 91. 4.

Bud] Chriſt, in reſpect of his mean eſtate amongſt men. Iſa. 11. 1. A graff or a bud ſhall grow out of his root.

2. The Church of Chriſt, ſpringing up out of the remnant of Iſrael, as a bud out of the earth. Iſa. 4. 2. In that day the bud of the Lord ſhall be beautifull and glorious.

3. It ſignifieth the people of Iſrael with their whole glory and proſperity: it ſhall be for their ſins as a ſlender Bud, or leaf which vaniſheth in the ayr, Iſa. 5. 24. As it is ſpoken properly of trees, and plants, and earth, Cant. 6. 11. Iſa. 61. 11. So it is figuratively of men, Iſa. 27. 6. Ezek. 16. 7. & 29. 21.

Buffet] Properly, to ſmite with the hand. Figuratively, for any correction given, 1 Pet. 2. 20. Any injury offered, 1 Cor. 4. 11.

Buffeting] Some ſhamefull temptation, inward or outward, as a buffeting, to abaſe us. 2 Cor. 12. 7. The Meſſenger of Satan to buffet me.

Buggery] Beſtial uncleanneſſe againſt nature, Lev. 18. 23.

Build] Taken properly, for to ſet up or make a houſe, where none was before, Mat. 7. 26. Figuratively, for to make a thing of a foregoing matter, Gen. 2. 22. marg. Continue gracious favour to one and his ſeed, 1 King. 11. 38. Preſerve the name of a family, Deut. 25. 9. Give a name unto a family, Ruth 4. 11. Embrace men with ſingular favour, Job 22. 23. Preſſe with troubles, Lam. 3. 5. Preſerve and proſper, Pſal. 127. 1. Rule the Church and Common-wealth wel or ill, Jer. 1. 10. Ezek. 13. 10. Rule a family as is fit, Prov. 14. 1. Diſpoſe wiſely and admirably of his works, Amos 9. 6. Settle and ſtabliſh, 1 Sam. 2. 35. Pſal. 89. 4. Encourage (whether by word or deed) unto things unlawfull, Gal. 2. 18. Strengthen and encreaſe others in the faith and knowledge of Chriſt, by preaching, 1 Cor. 3. 10. Cement and knit ſpiritually, Eph. 2. 22.

To build] To ſet up or make an houſe where none was before, Mat. 7. 26.

2. To encreaſe or to enlarge a family and ſtock by multitude of children, Ruth 4. 11. Rachel and Leah did build the houſe of Iſrael.

3. To ſtrengthen and encreaſe others in the knowledge and faith of Chriſt. 1 Cor. 3. I have laid the foundation, and another buildeth thereon, Judg. 20.

4. To proſper and bleſſe the Governour and government of a family. Pſal. 127. 1. Unleſſe the Lord build the houſe, &c.

To build the houſe] To maintain the family, with encreaſe of the good eſtate of it. Pro. 14. 1. A wiſe woman buildeth her houſe.

2. To encreaſe the family in number of children, and largeneſſe of iſſue, Ruth 4. 11. Thus men build the houſe, Gen. 16. 2. & 30.

3. So Rachel and Leah are ſaid to build the houſe of Iſrael, by bearing children; and God promiſed a ſeed to David, under the ſimilitude of building an houſe, 2 Sam. 7. 11, 12, 27.

4. To preſerve and proſper all affairs, private and publick, of family and Kingdom. Pſa. 121. 7. Except God build the houſe: this is the building of the houſe of God.

To be builded] To have children by whom the family is conſerved and propagated, Deut. 25. 9. Ruth 4. 11. 2 Sam. 7. 11, 12, 17. Gen. 16. 2.

Builder] put for Eccleſiaſticall Governours, Act. 4. 11. 1 Pet. 2. 7. Miniſters, 1 Cor. 3. 10. God, Heb. 11. 10.

Builder] One which of nothing maketh ſomething to be. Heb. 10. 11. Whoſe Builder is God.

2. A faithfull Miniſter of the Goſpel, who doth lay the elect upon Chriſt (as Builders do lay one ſtone upon another) 1 Cor. 3. 10. As a skilfull maſter Builder.

3. Any Governour of City and family. Pſal. 127. 1. The Builder buildeth in vain.

Wiſe builder] One who layeth a ſure foundation; that is, one who beleeving the promiſe concerning Chriſt, endevoureth to doe his Commandements, Matt. 7. 24.

Fooliſh builder] One who neglecteth a good foundation, having the knowledge and profeſſion of Chriſt, without faith and repentance, Mat. 7. 16.

Building] Making, framing. Gen. 2. 23. He built a woman of a rib. 2 Cor. 5. 1.

2. Teaching and inſtructing: Hence Miniſters called Builders, 1 Cor. 3. 10. How he buildeth.

Building] A materiall houſe ſet up with hands.

2. The Church and people of God here on earth. 1 Cor. 3. 9. Ye are Gods building.

3. A place of eternall bliſſe and glory. 2 Cor. 5. 1. We have a building of God.

Built together] Chriſtians knit together by the Spirit, and laid as living ſtones upon Chriſt the head-corner ſtone to be an habitation of God. Eph. 2. 22. In whom ye are built together.

Bukki] Void. The Son of Jogli, Numb. 34. 22. of Abiſhua, 1 Chr. 6. 5.

Bukkiah] The diſſipation of the Lord. The Son of Heman, 1 Chr. 25. 4.

Bul] Ancientneſſe. The eight Moneth, anſwering for the moſt part to our October, 1 King. 6. 38.

Bull] Reall, Job 21. 10. Both tame, Gen. 32. 15. and wilde, Iſa. 51. 20. Artificiall, made of braſſe, Jer. 52. 20.

Figuratively, hereby the enemies of the Church are decyphered, Pſal. 22. 12. who bellow as Bulls, Jer. 50. 11. but in time may be as a wilde Bull in a net, Iſa. 51. 20. Its blood did ceremonially ſanctifie to the purifying of the fleſh, Heb. 9. 13. It's a courragious beaſt, ſtrong, durable, after the Cow hath conceived, chaſte, is a lover of ſociety, and loveth to drink clear water. Its horns, hide, fleſh, dung, &c. all uſefull for man, as daily experience ſheweth. See Oxe, Cow.

Buls of Baſan] Properly, fat buls, ſtrong, powerful, and cruel enemies. Pſ. 22. 12. Many young Bulls have encompaſſed me. Baſan abounded with excellent paſture (Deut. 32. 14.) It was Ogs Country, and became the Jews by conqueſt, Deut. 3. 1, 2.

Bunah] Building, or underſtanding. The Son of Jerahmeel, 1 Chr. 2. 25.

Bunni] Building me. A mans name, Neh. 9. 4

Burden] Some heavy thing which doth load or grieve us with the weight of it, Jer. 17. 27. It ſignifies labour and ſervitude, Exod. 2. 11.

2. The Doctrine or Commandements of Chriſt. Mat. 11. 30. My burden is light. So it is to the regenerate, to whom the Commandements of Chriſt are not grievous, becauſe they are led by the Spirit, and have their ſins forgiven them; but to the unregenerate, they are as a grievous burden.

3. Propheſies and foretelling of grievous calamities (as it were) heavy burdens to come upon a people for ſin. Iſa. 13. 1. The burden of Babel. The burden of Ægypt.

4. All heavy and hard things, Pſa. 55. 24. Caſt thy burden upon the Lord. Iſa. 9. 4. Mat. 23. 4. Act. 15. 28.

5. Imperfections and wants which appear in in our duties. Gal. 6. 2. Bear ye one anothers burden; that is, seeing you are all subject to infirmities, support and uphold one another through love. All sins are burthens, Psal. 38. 4. For with their weight they presse us down, Hebr. 12. 1. and are grievous and burdensome to others which know and dislike them.

6. Every trouble or grief, even to the least. Eccles. 12. 5. Grashoppers shall be a burden.

It's also put for legall ceremonies, or humane traditions imposed on mens consciences, Mat. 23. 4. Whatsoever is hurtful, unprofitable, or troublesome to any, 2 Sam. 15. 33. A divine threatning, Jer. 23. 33. Cumbersome, Job 7. 20. Charge, Hos. 8. 10. Act. 15. 28. Hard labour, Mat. 20. 12. Guilt and punishment, Gal. 6. 5. The office of Magistracy, and faithful discharge in judging, Exod. 18. 22. The cumberance and strife troubling and grieving the Magistrates as a burden, Deut. 1. 12. Sin, Heb. 12. 1. A duty imposed, Rev. 2. 24.

To bear his own burden] To give account to God of his own deeds, Gal. 6. 5. It behoveth every one to be much more carefull to get his own works approved of God, then condemn others, because every man must reckon for his own deeds.

Buriall] The putting of a Corps into the grave, to be covered with earth, which is the proceeding of naturall death, Act. 8. 2. 1 Cor. 15. 2, 3. Dead buryed: also preparation of the Corps for burial, Joh. 12. 7.

2. The wasting of sin by mortification, as a dead corps wasteth in the grave. Rom. 6. 3. We are buried with him. This is the proceeding to the death of sin, which is one part of our sanctification, and is effected by the virtue of Christ buried.

The places of Buriall were diverse. A cave, Gen. 25. 11. The way, Gen. 35. 19. City, Judg. 12. 7, 10. House, 1 Sam. 25. 1. Valley, Deut. 34. 6. Under a tree, 1 Sam. 31. 13. Hill, Josh. 24. 33. Garden, Joh. 19. 41. Sepulchre, Neh. 2. 3. The manner, with mourning, Gen. 23. 2. Great and sore lamentation, Act. 8. 2. And that at some time divers dayes together, Gen. 50. 10. The buriall of great persons being with great cost, 2 Chr. 16. 14. and great solemnity, Psal. 50. 2, 3, &c.

To be buried with Christ] To be partakers of Christ his death and burial, for a further mortification of sin. Col. 2. 12. In that ye are buried with him.

Burn] put for fervency of zeal, 2 Cor. 11. 29. Immoderate heat of unresistible lust; when one hath an unconquerable army of unruly and unchaste desires, and thoughts in him, dishonouring him and his body, Rom. 1. 27. 1 Cor. 7. 9. To prove unprofitable and nothing worth, as that which cannot endure fire, but is burnt and consumed, 1 Cor. 3. 15. And is applyed figuratively, to Jealousie, Psal. 79. 5. Wrath, Psal. 89. 46. An oven, Mal. 4. 1. Lips, Prov. 26. 23. A furnace, Dan. 3. 6. Wickedness, Isa. 9. 18. Lusts, Rom. 1. 27.

Bush burning, and not consumed] The Church of Israel afflicted in Ægypt, yet not destroyed, through the good will of God who dwelt in the bush. Exod. 3. 2. Deut. 33. 26. See Gods promise to Israel, Isa. 43. 2. It agreeth with the vision, Gen. 15, 13, 17.

Spirit of burning] An hostile and angry minde, desirous to take out of the way and consume the enemies, sins and persons, which hurt the salvation of Gods elect, and sought to hinder the glory of his mercy. Isa. 4. 4. By the spirit of burning. This is it which elsewhere is called the zeal of the Lord, and the indignation of God, his jealousie, &c. Or an operation of the Spirit (as fire) burning up and taking away the wicked out of the Church, and sins out of the Elect. See Mal. 3. 23. Isa. 1. 25. Matt. 3. 11.

Burnt-offering] A Sacrifice wholly given up to God by fire; therefore by the Greeks called (Holocautoma) that is, an whole burnt-offering, Lev. 1. 2, 9, 13. It cometh of an Hebrew word which signifieth an Ascension, because it went all up in fire burned upon the Altar, Gen. 22. 2.

It was, either of Fowles, for the poorer sort, as the Turtle-dove, or Pigeon, Lev. 1. 14. & 5. 7. or of the Heard, or Flock, Lev. 1. 2, 10. Lambs, Lev. 12. 6. Goats, Lev. 1. 10. Rams, Lev. 16. 3. Bullocks, or Oxen, Numb. 15. 8. Which were to be without blemish, Lev. 1. 3. 10. Mal. 1. 7, 8. And onely Males, Lev. 1. 3, 10. And that to be a sweet savour to the Lord, Lev. 1. 9. And to make an atonement, Lev. 4. 20. Which were to be offered of a free heart, 2 Chr. 29. 31. and with acknowledgement of deserving death, Lev. 1. 4.

To be burnt without the Camp] That Christ should suffer without the City, bearing his reproach, as unworthy to live in the company of men, Heb. 13. 10, 11, 22. The bodies of Beasts were burnt without the camp: wherefore even Jesus suffered without the gate.

2. That

2. That Christians must be ready to bear their reproach, willing for his cause to be cast out of their earthly dwellings, seeking an heavenly and better. Heb. 13. 13,14. Let us therefore go out of the camp, bearing his reproach, for we have here no continuing City.

Bush] In Hebrew, סנה rendred by the Septuagint, βάτος, retained by our Saviour in his answer unto the Sadducees, Mar. 12. 26. and there translated Bush, but in Luk. 6. 44. a bramble bush. And hence Mount סיני Sinai, had its name from the plenty of bushes there growing; or, for that the stones found there, yea, the fragments of stones had thereon the resemblance hereof; or, for that in this mountain was that bush wherein God appeared unto Moses. It's but low, never groweth up unto any just height, is of no esteem, barren, and so full of sharp prickles, that birds without losing their feathers cannot enter thereinto. This did figure out the base and contemptible estate of the Israelites in Ægypt: And though this may soon be burnt, yet would God make choyce to appear out of this, in a flame of fire, which yet should not burn it, Exod. 3. 2. To note, that he could and would preserve and save the Israelites, notwithstanding of all that the Ægyptians endevoured for their destruction. And that he had respect unto the lowly, Psal. 138. 6. will dwell with him, that is of a contrite and humble spirit, Isa. 57. 15. And that he chuseth the base things of the world, and things that are despised, &c. 1 Cor. 1. 28.

Busie-body] One that is idle, 1 Thess. 3. 11. An inordinate walker, Ibid. Wandering from house to house, 1 Tim. 5. 13. A tatler, speaking that he ought not, Ibid. A medler, and curious looker into other mens matters without a calling, 1 Pet. 4. 15.

Business] put for conference, Josh. 2. 14. Faith, Act. 8. 21. Thing or matter, Rom. 16. 2. Trouble, Gal. 6. 17. Charge or office, Act. 3. 6. That which by duty belongeth to one to doe, Gen. 39. 11. Employment, Deut. 24. 5. A mans vocation, and that which appertaineth thereto, Prov. 22. 29. A work Ecclesiasticall, 1 Chr. 26. 30. Office, 2 Chr. 13. 10. Entertainment, 2 Chr. 32. 31. Trade, Psal. 107. 13.

But] Notes opposition of things contrary in that sense in the which things are opposed Joh. 6. 27. Mat. 6. 19, 20. Ephes. 5. 17, 18. It noteth also an exception, Matthew 6. 15. Diversity, Mat. 20. 26. Contrary, Joh. 3. 17.

Butter and honey] Not only such kindes of meat, but all other kindes within the place where Esay lived, were accustomed food wherewith children were usually nourished and educated, Isa. 7. 15. where Immanuel the Son of the Virgin Mary (the Daughter of Abraham and David) is proved to be a very man like us by three signes or properties of humane nature.

1. His like food.
2. Like ignorance for a time;
3. Like discretion after the time of infancy was over. See Luk. 1. 80. & 2. 42, 52.

The word Butter is properly, pressed milk, or that which is so made by churning, Prov. 30. 33. and is (as it hath alwayes been) 2 Sam. 17. 29.) of daily use for nourishment. Figuratively, it's put for plenty, Job 20. 17. & 29. 6. It is smooth and sweet, like the words of flatterers, dissemblers, traitors, Psal. 55. 21.

To buy] To get some commodity by giving the due price of it, Gen. 49. 30. Ruth 4. 5.

2. To obtain or get a thing by our endevour, prayer, or other good means. Prov. 2. 23. Buy the truth. Isa. 55. 1. Come and buy without money.

The things bought, were lands and possessions, 1 King. 21. 2. Mat. 13. 44. Jer. 32. 7. Corn, Gen. 41. 57. Meat and drink, Deut. 2. 28. Rayment, Rev. 3. 18. Sword, Luk. 22. 36. Pearl, Mat. 13. 46. Gold, Rev. 3. 18. Merchandize, Rev. 18. 11. Girdle, Jer. 13. 1. So spices, vessels, oxen, sheep, doves, &c. And that either with money, or by exchange of one commodity for another, 1 King. 21. 2.

Buz] Despising. The Son of Nahor, Gen. 22. 21. A Countrey, Jer. 25. 23.

Buzi] The same. The Father of Ezekiel the Priest, Ezek. 1. 3. So Buzite, Job 32. 2.

B Y.

Cainan] Possessour, or Buyer. The Son of Arphaxad, Luk. 3. 16. The Son of Enos, Luk. 3. 38. or, from קנן he hath builded a nest, The builder of a nest; or, from קון in Pihel, קונן he hath lamented, A mourner.

Cake] 1. Common, used in houses for ordinary bread; whether courser, as of barley, Judg. 7. 13. or finer, as of fine flowre, Gen. 18. 6. of figs, 1 Sam. 30. 12.

2. Sacred, to an holy use, as a Cake of oyled bread at the consecration of the Priest, Exod. 29. 23. Also, Cakes unleavened, tempered with oyl, of wheaten flowre put in a basket, Exod. 29. 2. So for a Meat-offering, Lev. 2. 4. So for a Thanksgiving-offering, Lev. 7. 12. So for a Wave-offering, Lev. 8. 26. So the Shewbread, Lev. 24. 5. So for the Nazarites, Numb. 6. 15. So for an Heave-offering, Numb. 15. 19, 20. So Gedeon's unleavened cakes, Judg. 6. 19.

3. Idolatrous, offered to idols, Jer. 7. 18. & 44. 16.

4. Extraordinary, as the Manna, Num. 11. 18. which lasted but for a time. And, The cake wherewith Elijah was fed, 1 King. 19. 6.

5. Deceitfull, as the Cakes which Tamar made for Amnon, under the colour whereof he ravished her, 2 Sam. 13. 8--14.

Calah] Opportunity. A City, Gen. 10. 11.

Calamity] put for misery, trouble, Prov. 17. 5. Great heavynesse, Prov. 19. 13. Very great affliction, Prov. 27. 10. It hath befalne the godly, 2 Sam. 22. 19. Job 6. 2. Befalleth also the wicked, both in the Church, as such as are given to change, Prov. 24. 21, 22. Such as will not obey Gods Word, Prov. 1. 26. Idolaters, Jer. 18. 17. And out of the Church, as Jer. 48. 16. & 49. 8.

Calamus] A kinde of spice, called the sweet cane, Isa. 43. 24. For which Merchants dealt in the Markets of Tyrus, Ezek. 27. 19. whereof use was made in the Legall worship, Exod. 30. 23. and is taken for the whole outward worship, Jer. 6. 20. It is pleasant in savour, whence it is applyed to the mysticall Spouse, Cant. 4. 14.

Calcol] Nourishing, or consuming all things. A Son of Zerah, 1 Chr. 2. 6.

Caldea] As devils, or as robbers, spoilers. A countrey lying upon the East side of Judea, between Babylon and Arabia, Jer. 50. 10. of which the inhabitants were called Caldeans, Isa. 43. 14. As also Caldees, 2 King. 24. 2. Mingling; or, as Devils.

Caldron] Properly that which is used to seethe meat in, 1 Sam. 2. 14. Figuratively, the City of Jerusalem, Ezek. 11. 7, 11.

Caleb] As a Hart, or a Dog. The Son of Jephunneh, Numb. 13. 6. The Son of Hezron, 1 Chr. 2. 18. The name of a Towne, Ibid. 24.

Calfe] Properly, the young one of a Cow, Job 21. 10. Improperly, a moulten image in form of a calf, Deut. 9. 21. The Idols in Israel, 1 King. 12. 28. The fruits of our lips, the sacrifice of prayse and thanksgiving, Hos. 14. 2. rude and wanton, Psal. 68. 30.

To call] To invite sinners unto repentance, by the outward preaching of the Word, or otherwise by afflictions and benefits, Matth. 20. 16. Many called, few chosen, Prov. 1. 24. I have called, but ye have refused. A common and outward calling, Gal. 5. 13.

There is a diverse calling,

First, In respect of the callers or causes,

1. By God inwardly,

2. By Man outwardly.

Secondly, in respect of matter:

1. To temporall businesse,

2. To

2. To ſpirituall offices in this life,
1. Generall, of godlineſſe, Luk. 19.13.
2. Particular, of Apoſtleſhip, &c.
3. To judgement or account in the end of our life, or of the world, Luk. 19. 15.
4. To glory after death in heaven, Matt. 25. 34.

Thirdly, In reſpect of manner:
1. Outward,
2. Inward.

Fourthly, in reſpect of ſucceſſe:
1. Ineffectuall onely by the outward,
2. Effectuall by both together, this is perfect.

2. To draw effectually the elect unto Chriſt to beleeve in him, by the inward work of the Spirit, through the Word. Rom. 8. 28. To them that are called of his purpoſe. An inward and ſpeciall calling, 2 Theſſ. 2. 14.

3. To appoint and chuſe unto ſome work, and to give fitneſſe thereunto, Exod. 31. 2.

Inward calling is a ſpeciall and free work of Gods Spirit, ſingling and drawing the Elect from among the Reprobates, making them to become that which before they were not, even true beleevers, members of Chriſt, Saints, Sons and Heirs of God. Rom. 8. 30. Whom he predeſtinated, them he called, 1 Cor. 1. 2. Saints by calling, Rom. 4. 17. God calleth thoſe things which be not, as though they were.

Referred to God, it ſignifieth, alſo,

1. To impoſe a name on any thing whereby to diſtinguiſh it from others, Gen. 1. 8 & 5. 2.

2. To appoint and chuſe unto him ſome work, and to give fitneſſe thereunto, Ex. 31. 2. Iſa. 22. 20.

3. To invite ſinners unto repentance, Pro. 1. 24. Act. 3. 39.

4. To ſpeak comfortably to, or acknowledge to be his own, Iſa. 43. 1.

5. To afflict or lay his hand upon any, Hag. 1. 11.

6. To call to an account, Luk. 19. 15.

7. To give being unto, Rom. 4. 17.

8. To warn and exhort, Iſa. 22. 12.

9. To poſſeſſe and make his owne, Iſa. 55. 5.

10. To cauſe to grow, Ezek. 36. 29.

11. To offer the means of ſalvation, Effectually, Rom. 8. 28. Ineffectually, Mat. 22. 14.

12. To count and reckon, Heb. 2. 11.

Man in reſpect of God, and then it ſignifieth,

1. To perform his worſhip and ſervice after a ſolemn & publick manner, Gen. 4. 26

2. To prayſe him, Pſal. 18. 3.

3. To pray unto him, Ibid. 6.

4. To draw nigh unto him, in hypocriſie, Prov. 1. 28. In truth, Pſal. 145. 18.

5. To appeal unto him, 2 Cor. 1. 23.

In reſpect of others, taken ſometime in a bad part:

1. To incite unto Idolatry, Exod. 34. 15.

2. To invocate falſe gods, 1 King. 18. 26.

3. To be exceedingly ambitious and vainglorious, Pſal. 49. 11.

4. To determine contrary to the truth, Iſa. 5. 20.

5. To procure, Prov. 18. 6.

Sometime in a good; as,

1. To ſpeak to, or inquire of, Gen. 24. 57.

2. To invite unto ones houſe, Exod. 2. 20.

3. To acknowledge, Prov. 7. 4.

4. To rejoyce, Zech. 3. 10.

5. To name, Luk. 1. 13.

6. To fetch by ſpeaking to, Exod. 2. 7.

7. Produce for a witneſſe, Deut. 31. 28.

8. To cry aloud unto, 2 Sam. 2. 26.

9. To proclaim, Joel 1. 14.

To call upon God] Sometime both to pray to God and to prayſe; and the whole worſhip of God is contained under the phraſe, becauſe no duty of godlineſſe is more pleaſing to God, nor any ſacrifice taken in better part then prayer, Gen. 4. 26. Alſo 12. 7, 8. See Pſal. 50. 23. & 51. 19.

To call to minde] See to Remember.

To call upon the name of Iehovah] Publickly and ſolemnly (not privately as before in the family of Adam) but in open aſſemblies, after the birth of Sheth. Gen. 4. 26. Then began men to call upon the name of the Lord. Some (as Luther) read, By the name of the Lord they began to be called: but it is all one in ſenſe and ſcope, which is, that Adam obſerving the manners of the world, corrupted much by Cains poſterity, and the worſhip of God alſo, from that time began to gather the godly into a Church (as into a fold) and collected men thither by preaching the Word, holy prayers and exerciſes of Religion, to preſerve them unſpotted of common and groſſe corruptions of the world; thereby getting to themſelves the name and appellation of the Sons of God, Gen. 6. 1.

Such as tranſlate, The name of God began to be profaned, doe erre from the nature of the phraſe: See Gen. 12. 8. & 13. 4. And conſider not, that not a Nown but a Verb follows the Hebrew particle.

To call his Son out of Egypt] That God in the perſon of the Meſſias had now the ſecond cond time begotten a Church: for out of Ægypt the Church came in her head Christ; as the whole body tofore, thence brought forth and delivered, Hoſ. 11.1. Mat. 2.15.

To call to witneſſe] See to Adjure, to Witneſſe, to Teſtifie.

Called] As much as named, or one known by ſuch a name, as Chriſt called Peter, Cephas; & Luk. 1. 60. He ſhall be called John.

2. One partaker of an effectuall vocation, when the mighty God (as it were) by the ſpeaking of a word, doth make one to be that which he is named and called, (to wit) a Saint, and holy, as God the Caller is holy. Rom. 1. 7. Called to be Saints.

3. To be that indeed and truth which one is ſaid and named to be. Iſa. 1. 26. Thou ſhalt be called a faithfull City. Luk. 1. 23. He ſhall be called the Son of the moſt High; that is, be ſo indeed, and declared to the world to be ſo, Rom. 9. 25, 26.

Put alſo for, Reputed, Rom. 7.3. Surnamed, Act. 13. 1. Invited, Gen. 31. 54. Appointed, Act. 16. 10. Named, Gen. 31. 47. Declared, Iſa. 1. 26. Separated, 1 Cor. 1. 1. Prayed, Pſal. 88. 9. Ordained, Heb. 5. 4. Proclaimed, Lam. 1. 21.

Called Chriſtians, Act. 11. 26. or ſtyled themſelves Chriſtians, who were before called Nazarites, and Galileans. The impoſition of this new name was openly and circumſtantially done, in a ſolemn and publick manner. See Mr. Gregor. Notes and obſervations, p. 159.

Called a Nazarene] Chriſt ſo to be named, not of the rite and order of Nazarites; and by vow after the Law, but of the City Nazareth, where he dwelled for a time. Mat. 2.23. He ſhall be called a Nazarene. If Chriſt had been thus called of the rite, then ſhould it have been written by ז, whereas it is in the Syriack written ע. There is a double Nazarite, one by vow, as Samſon the type, another by perfect holineſſe, as Chriſt the truth of the type, and not the type it ſelf; as it muſt be, had he by the order been a Nazarite.

Calling] A lawfull and warrantable eſtate of life. 1 Cor. 7.10. Let every man abide in his calling.

See Office, Magiſtracy, Miniſtery, Man, Vocation.

There is a threefold calling of the Apoſtles by Chriſt:

1. To the knowledge or hearing of him, ſo all we are.

2. To the ſervice or attendance of him, Mat. 4. 18. both in bodily and ſpirituall duties.

3. To the office of preaching, &c. Mat. 10. 1.

2. The eſtate and condition of Chriſtianity. Eph. 4.1. Walk worthy of your calling: alſo the glory of heaven to which we are called, 2 Theſſ. 1. 11.

3. The Action of God tranſlating men into this eſtate. 2 Pet. 1. 10. Make your calling ſure.

Put alſo for, The effect of election, or effectuall calling, 2 Pet. 1.10. Termed an high calling, Phil. 3.14. An holy calling, 2 Tim. 1. 9. An heavenly calling, Heb. 3. 1. which as it proceedeth of Gods grace, Gal. 1.15. ſo it's here accompanyed with holineſſe, 1 Theſ. 4. 7. and hath in the end eternall glory by Chriſt Jeſus, 1 Pet. 5. 10.

Calling upon the name of Jeſus] Either the whole worſhip of God, by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole; or elſe it ſignifies prayer unto Chriſt, for neceſſary graces. Act. 9. 14. To binde all that call on thy name. Act. 7. 59. Stephen called on God, and ſaid, Lord Jeſus receive my ſpirit. (Gen. 12.7, 8. Gen. 13.4, 18. & 26. 29. Calling put for Prayer.

Calneh] All wee. A place in the land of Shinar, Gen. 10. 10.

Calno] Altogether himſelfe. A place, Iſa. 10. 9.

Calvary] The place of a skull, Luk. 23.33.

Camel] Hereof frequent mention is made in Scripture. There are three kindes of them.

The firſt called Hugiun, of huge ſtature and ſtrength, able to carry a thouſand pound weight.

The ſecond called Becheti, with two bunches on the back, fit for carriage, and to ride upon, of which they have onely in Aſia.

The third called Raguahill, meagre and ſmall, able to travell (for they are not uſed to burthens) above an hundred miles in a day, Purcas Pilg. lib. 6. cap. 1. Sect. 2. p. 705.

They will not drink of cleer water, but of ſlimy and muddy, and therefore ſtamp in it with their feet. They will indure their thirſt for divers dayes together, but when they come to drink, they ſuck in above meaſure. They couple together in ſecret, and abhor inceſtuous copulation. They are docible, and being high are taught to kneel down that their burthens may be put upon them; nor will they carry more then uſuall, nor goe further then their accuſtomed baiting place. Though miſts and rain may obſcure the way from the Rider, yet do they goe on without all ſtaggering. Its hair is profitable for garments, Mat. 3. 4. They live long in the ſoil where they are bred; not ſo, being removed from thence. How great it is, is implyed, implyed, Matt. 23. 24. & 19. 24. Being weary in their journey, not threats or blows, but pleasant songs incite them to goe on. They are of an hot constitution, and their milk wholesome. A little meat serves their turn. They have many ventricles for the better digestion of their food. If any of their number be sick, the rest sympathize therewith. Horses flee from them. Of them Abraham had store, Gen. 24. 35. Job more, Job 1. 3. The Midianites had Camels without number, Judg. 7. 12. on whose necks they put ornaments, Judg. 8. 21. This though chewing the cud, yet not dividing the hoof, was reckoned unclean, Lev. 11. 4.

Camelion] Hereof mention is made, Lev. 11. 30. It's of a changeable colour, able at one time to look two severall wayes, upon two severall objects. It will fast a whole yeer together. In stead of nostrils and ears it hath certain passages in those places, whereby it smelleth and heareth. It hath a certain moysture in its back parts, wherewith flies are delighted to their owne destruction. It alwayes gapes, as if it lived onely of the air. Its enemies are the Crow, Hawk, and Serpent. The Crow being poysoned thereby, is recovered by eating a bay-leaf. The Hawk that is a destroyer of others, is not able to resist it. Against the Serpent it defendeth it self by holding a broad strong stalk in its mouth; and observing the Serpent sleeping, out of his mouth he casteth a thred like a Spiders, at the end whereof hangeth a drop of poyson as bright as any pearl, which touching the Serpent, he immediately dieth. It's a most fearfull creature, and changeth it selfe into any colour, save white and red. It hath a snout like a sow, and goeth most slowly. Hereunto Sycophants, Flatterers, Tyrants may be fitly resembled.

Camon] Cummin. A place, Judg. 10. 5.

Campe] Men gathered together for war, 1 Sam. 4. 5, 7. People living abroad in tents, as the Israelites did, Numb. 1. 52.

Camphire] A kinde of precious odoriferous gum, Cant. 1. 14. or, the Cypresse tree.

Can] See Able, Power, Free-will.

Cana] A nest, or possession; or zeal, emulation. The name of a City in Galilee, Joh. 2. 1. Of another, Josh. 19. 28.

Canaan] A Merchant. Either a man so named, Gen. 10. 16. or his posterity, the Canaanites, Gen. 9. 22, 25.

2. Canaan, a Land so called of the first inhabitant, Gen. 10. after named Israel of Jacob, till the division of the ten Tribes: and then the two other Tribes, the Kingdome of Judah, after the Captivity named Jews, now Israelites.

Canaanite] Zealous, Luk. 6. 15.

Candace] Having forgiveneſſe, or a clean possession. A common name of the Æthiopian Queens, Act. 8. 27.

Candle] A materiall light, shining in the darkneſſe of the night, Luk. 15. 8.

2. The light of knowledge, or the Word of God rightly known, serving as a Candle to shew us our duties and our sins, and to direct both our selves and others. Mat. 5. 15. No man lighteth a Candle to put it under a bushel, but on a candlestick.

3. Gladneſſe and joy, by benefits or deliverances out of trouble. Psal. 18. 28. God will light my Candle. Prov. 13. 9.

4. The eye, Mat. 6. 22.

5. The soul, Prov. 20. 27.

6. Christ himself, 1 King. 1. 36. & 15. 4. Rev. 21. 23.

7. Any thing that may cheer our hearts, 1 King. 11. 36.

The Word and Scripture of God is the onely and al-sufficient Candle and Candlelight of the Church, 2 Tim. 3. 16, 17. It teacheth all truth of salvation, it convicts all errour, it instructs in all righteous works, it reproves all sins. The Church and Doctors are but the Candlestick, nor that neither, except they bear out this light.

Also, Gods Ministers shining with the light of knowledge and integrity of life, Joh. 3. 35. A good Prince, 2 Sam. 21. 17. The bounty or truth of God shining upon the house of David, or Kingdome of Judah, 1 King. 15. 4. Gods gracious presence accompanying his owne children, Job 29. 3. The Glory of the Church under the Gospel, Psal. 132. 17. Prosperity, Job 18. 6. One succeeding in government, 1 King. 11. 36. Means of light, Rev. 22. 5. and discovery of that which was hid, Zeph. 1. 12.

Candlestick] A frame of wood, iron, or brasse, or other metall, wherein to stick a Candle being lighted, to give light to them who are in the house.

2. Some particular Churches or company of men, professing Christ, and bearing out the truth of the Gospel in their doctrine and lives, as the Candle is set forth and shewed by the Candlestick. Rev. 1. 20. The seven Candlesticks which thou sawest, are the seven Churches: The Church holds forth the Lanthorn of the world, as Psal. 119. 105.

Also, the Ministery of the Word or Gospel of Christ, Rev. 2. 5. Those faithfull Teachers, extraordinary Prophets, or excellent lent

lent Witneſſes, carrying the lights, Rev. 11. 4. There were Candleſticks, 1. Common, Dan. 5. 5. 2. Sacred, Exod. 25. 31. being of pure gold, 2 Chr. 13. 11. 3. Myſticall, Zech. 4. 2. Rev. 1. 12.

Canker-worm] A graſſe-worm or flie that hurteth hearbs and corn, eating them up. They are numerous, Nah. 3. 15. And after they have ſpoyled, quickly fly away, Ibid. 16. The land of Judea was plagued by them, Joel 1. 4.

Canneh] A wall. The name of a Countrey, Ezek. 27. 23.

Cannot] Either not to be able for want of power: or may not in right and equity, Gen. 29. 8. and in the latter ſenſe it is uſed, Gen. 34. 14. & 43. 32. & 44. 26.

Capernaum] The field of repentance; or of כפר a village, and נחם comfort, The village of conſolation. A City, Mat. 8. 5. called Chriſts City, Mat. 9. 1.

Caphtor] An apple, or violet. A Country, Deut. 2. 23.

Cappadocia] A Region in Aſia, called in Hebrew Caphtor, a bowle, or other thing very round: It's compounded of כפף he bowed, and חור he ſearched.

Captain] Taken for,

1. The head of a family or Tribe, Numb. 2. v. 3.

2. The Generall or Ruler of the Army, Gen. 26. 26.

3. Chriſt, Heb. 2. 10.

4. The Governour of a Province, Hag. 1. 1.

5. The King or Prince of the people, 1 Sam. 9. 16.

6. The great God, 2 Chr. 13. 12.

7. A chief Watch-man, Jer. 37. 13.

8. The chief Marſhall, Gen. 37. 36.

An inferiour Officer ſet over a greater or leſſer number, Deut. 1. 15. 1 Sam. 22. 2.

Captive] One taken priſoner, and held in bonds. Captivity is the eſtate of ſuch perſons. 1 King. 8. 26, 47, 48. In the Land of their enemies which led them away captive.

2. One who is bound or become priſoner to Satan and ſin. So are the regenerate in part, and the unregenerate wholly, Rom. 7. 23. 2 Tim. 2. 26. In which they are held Captives at his pleaſure.

3. One who is captive by Jeſus Chriſt, Eph. 4. 11. and by the Word of the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 10. 5.

Captivity] Corporall, Deut. 28. 27. 48. Spirituall, Rom. 7. 23. It's put for Captives, Pſa. 14. 7. The miſerable ſtate of ſuch as be Captives, Iſa. 5. 13. A very deep, afflicted, downcaſt eſtate, Job 42. 10. Such as have made others to be their Captives, Judg. 5. 12. A forcible ſubjection to Chriſt by the Word, 2 Cor. 10. 5.

Captivity captive] A multitude of priſoners, which in David the type, were the Philiſtims and other enemies of the people of Iſrael: but in the time of Chriſt (the truth of that type) they were ſin, death, grave, devil, hell and damnation, (ſpirituall enemies) which held others captives, and by Chriſt themſelves are ſubdued, Pſal. 68. 18. (how Captivity is put for Captives, ſee Pſ. 14. 7.) It ſetteth forth David's victories by four effects:

1. Demonſtration of divine Majeſty.
2. Captivation of his conquered enemies.
3. Spoyling of them.
4. The collection of Rebels to the people of God. See the application of this to Chriſt, Eph. 4. 11. where the Apoſtle changing the words, retaineth the ſenſe, putting giving of gifts for receiving; becauſe Chriſt received gifts to this end, to give them to his members; ſee Joh. 1. 16. Captivity is put for a company of Captives, Numb. 21. 1. Deut. 21. 10.

Captivity of Sion] The Church and people of God, (meant by Sion the moſt eminent place in Jeruſalem, where the Temple was built, and God worſhipped) being captives and priſoners in Babylon, Pſal. 126. 1. When the Lord turned again the captivity of Sion.

Carbuncle] A precious ſtone, which is in colour like hot burning coals, Exod. 28. 17. Hereby the glory of the Church is ſet down, Iſa. 54 12.

Carcas] The covering of the Lamb, one of Ahaſuerus his Chamberlains, Eſt. 1. 10.

Carchemiſh] A Lamb; or taken away. A City neer unto Euphrates, 2 Chr. 35. 20.

Care] A taking thought to pleaſe God in our own perſons, by doing his wil. 2 Cor. 7. 11. Yea what care?

2. A thought-taking and ſtudy for the welfare of others. 2 Cor. 8. 6. The ſame care for you. Phil. 2. 20. Who will care for your matters.

3. A taking thought for the things of this life. Which when it is moderate without diſtruſt of God, it is good and commendable; if it be otherwiſe, it is evill, and forbid. Mat. 6. 34. Care not for to morrow.

4. An eſtimation or thinking worthily of a perſon, or a matter, Act. 18. 17.

5. A taking heavily or grievouſly of a matter, as if it were a great evill, 1 Cor. 7. 21. Act. 18. 17.

It's alſo taken for, Reſpect, Mar. 12. 14. Regard, Luk. 10. 14. Value or eſteem, 2 Sam.

18. 3. Care may be referred to God, in generall, in respect of all his creatures, Mat. 6. 26, 30. In particular, in respect of the godly, 1 Pet. 5. 7. To Man, implying in generall, an applying of his minde to think on some object (which application may be fitly termed, a regarding of it, Mar. 12. 14.) But more particularly, an earnest and vehement intention of the minde, carefulnesse, or such a care which doth as it were divide the heart asunder, as the original word μεριμνα derived (as it seemeth) παρὰ τὸ μερίζειν ἢ νῦν importeth. Hereof are two kindes, lawfull, with relation unto God, 1 Cor. 7. 32. 2 Cor. 7. 11. Unto others, as 1 Cor. 12. 25. 2 Cor. 7. 12. & 8. 16. Also, a circumspect walking and carriage of our selves in respect of both, Tit. 3. 8.

Unlawfull; being, 1. Such as are not in any case warrantable, Rom. 13. 14. Matt. 6. 31. 1 King. 21. 4.

2. Such as are in their owne nature warrantable, but through abuse become unwarrantable; as, for one to be so diligent in his particular calling, as to be careless of Gods worship. See Mat. 13. 22. Luk. 10. 41.

Carmel] Knowledge of circumcision. A City, Josh. 15. 55.

Carmi] My vine; or, knowledge of waters. The Father of Achan, Josh. 7. 1. The Son of Reuben, Gen. 46. 9.

Carnall] A frail and transitory thing, which vanisheth at the coming of Christ. Heb. 7. 16. After the law of the carnall Commandement. Thus he calleth the Leviticall Law.

2. One wholly infected with sin. Joh. 3. 6. That which is born of the flesh, is flesh, or carnall; that is, fleshly and sinfull.

3. One, who hath more sin then grace; more flesh then spirit. 1 Cor. 3. 1. But as unto carnall men, even as unto Babes, &c.

4. One who is but in part corrupted by sin, yet having more grace then sin. Rom. 7. 14. The law is spirituall, but I am carnall.

5. Such as minde the things of the flesh, 1 Cor. 3. 3.

6. Wordly things, 1 Cor. 9. 11.

7. Such things as are humane and natural, 2 Cor. 10. 4.

Carpenter] Christ used this trade before he did shew himselfe in the Ministery, Mar. 6. 3. It's applyed spiritually, Zech. 1. 20, 21.

Carpus] Fruit. A mans name, 2 Tim. 3. 14.

Carry] put for, To protect and safely keep, Isa. 46. 3, 4. Make to ride, 1 Chr. 13. 7. Steal away, Job 21. 18. Lead or drive, Num. 24. 22. To be tenderly affected, Isa. 40. 11.

Carshena] A lamb sleeping. One of Ahasuerus's Princes, Est. 1. 14.

Cart-rope] See Cords.

Casiphia] Desire. A place, Ezr. 8. 17.

Cassia] A sweet shrub bearing a spice like Cinamon, being both precious and odoriferous, whose use was most frequent of old, Ezek. 27. 19. which may be distinguished into,

1. Common, wherewith the garments of great ones were perfumed, Psal. 45. 8.

2. Sacred, used for the making of the holy ointment, Exod. 30. 24, 25.

Cassunim] Hope of life, or pardoned. The Son of Mizraim, of whom came the Philistins, Gen. 10. 14.

To cast thy burthen] Psal. 55. 22. or Care, 1 Pet. 5. 7. signifieth,

1. To trust or depend on God, Psa. 37. 3.

2. To delight in God.

3. To commit our cause to God by prayer.

4. To use all lawfull means of our good, or to doe good.

5. To be thankfull for the meanes that God sends.

6. To wait with patience and hope on God for good successe.

7. To forbear to offend God by any ill course, and to do all that may please him. See Psa. 37. 3, 4, &c.

To cast off] Referred to God. See to Deliver up, to Forsake, to Depart, to Reprobate, to Harden.

Referred to Man, it's taken sometime in a good sense, Rom. 13. 12. (So to cast away, Isa. 30. 22. Ezek. 20. 7.) Sometime in a bad, Hos. 8. 3. Amos 1. 11. 2 Chr. 11. 14. Joel 1. 7.

To cast is put for, to Reproach, Mat. 27. 44. Bring untimely fruit, Exod. 23. 26. Disregard, or contemptuously neglect, Psa. 50. 17. Melt, make, or frame, Exod. 25. 12.

Not to cast out] To hold most dear, to regard and embrace lovingly as for his own for ever, Joh. 6. 37. His special love, and perseverance in the same by the faithful, is noted in this phrase. To cast out, is, to excommunicate, Joh. 9. 35.

The other words annexed to cast, as to cast down, Josh. 10. 11. Up, Isa. 57. 14. Forth, Psa. 144. 6. Aside, Act. 4. 11. Into, Mat. 5. 30. Upon, Luk. 12. 31. plainly shew the meaning of the places.

Castles] Dwelling houses, so named of being fair and high, built in a row or order, Gen. 25. 16.

Castor] A bever. The signe of a ship wherein Paul sailed, Act. 28. 11.

The

The Poets faign, that Caſtor and Pollux were twins, whom Jupiter begat on Leda, in the form of a Swan, who when they came to age ſcoured the Sea of Pirates, and therefore were counted gods of the Sea.

Catch] ſpoken of fire, Exod. 22.6. of the Benjamites in taking them wives of the daughters of Shiloh, Judg. 21.21. The wicked who endevour to enſnare the poor, Pſal. 10.9. but are themſelves enſnared, Pſal. 35. 8. The extortioner, Pſal. 109. 11. Lyons, whereby the Princes of Iſrael are underſtood, Ezek. 19. 1. & 3. 6. The treacherous dealer, Hab. 1. 15. The Devil, Mat. 13. 19. The Phariſees and Herodians, Mar. 12. 13. Hunters, Lev. 17. 13. The wolfe (whereby may be underſtood the enemies of the Church, whether falſe Teachers or others) Joh. 10. 13. It ſignifieth, to lay hold on, 1 King. 20 33. Apprehend, vanquiſh, overcome, 2 King. 7. 12. Entrap, Luk. 11. 54. Convert ſouls, Luk. 5. 10.

Catechiſe] ſignifieth properly to teach the principles of Religion by way of queſtion and anſwer, Heb. 5. 12. & 6. 1. which is the duty both of Miniſters, Gal. 6 6. Act. 18. 29. & 22. 3. 1 Cor. 3. 2. and of Parents, Deut. 4. 10. & 6 7. It's tranſlated Train up, Prov. 22. 6. Inſtruct, Luk. 1. 4. Inform, Act. 21. 24. Teach, 1 Cor. 14. 19.

Caterpillar] An hurtfull worm, eating the leaves, buds, flowers, fruit, of trees, herbs, corn. It maketh webs as Spiders, wherein it wrappeth it ſelf the whole winter, reſerving its peſtiferous ſeed, for it caſteth certain egges from it, whence in the ſpring ſpringeth a brood of many Caterpillars. It's of divers colours, gliſtereth in the night. It's ſoft and rough, Jer. 51. 27. It's ſaid to be transformed into a Butterflie. The Caterpillars are ſaid to eat one anothers egs, unleſſe they be carefully wrapped up. They are a judgement inflicted for ſin, 1 King. 8. 37 Joel 1. 4. Pſal. 105. 34.

Catholick] ſignifieth Univerſall, or Generall; that which concerns not one perſon, or place, or people, but reacheth unto all people of all places, times, ages, ſexe, and conditions. Thus the Church of Chriſt in our Creed, is intituled Catholick. And the Epiſtles of James, Peter, and John be ſo called, [The Epiſtle Catholick of James, &c] Becauſe they were ſent not to one Church, as that to Corinth, to Philippi, &c. or to one perſon, as to Philemon, to Titus, &c. but to all Jews beleevers, every where diſperſed: or to all [beleeving] both Jews and Gentiles, in the world. How this Title can agree with the Romane Church, being but a particular Church (if ſhe were as ſound as ſhe is rotten) let reaſonable men judge. To ſay, the Romiſh Catholick Church, is as much as to ſay, the whole Engliſh-Britiſh Nation, which were an abſurd ſpeech.

Cabe] for Dwelling, Gen. 19 30. Burial place, Gen. 23. 19. Joh. 11. 38 ſhelter in time of diſtreſſe, Joſh. 19 16. 1 King. 18. 4. Judg. 6. 2. Pſal. 142. 1. Heb. 11 38.

Cabillation ſo ged, or falſe accuſation] Falſe and unjuſt accuſation, and malicious invention to trouble a man. Luk. 19. 8. If I have taken from any man by forged Cavillation. Zacheus being a Publican or Collector of Tribute, and having wronged many, under pretence and colour of the Weal-publick; did therefore charge all ſuch for enemies unto the Common-wealth, whoſoever found fault with his robberies and harms. This was his forged Cavillation. A ſpeech borrowed from ſuch as told out, who tranſported figs from Athens (contrary to a Law made in that behalf) to ſcrape ſome money from ſuch as (being accuſed by them) were found guilty.

Cauſe] Suit, action, controverſie, Iſa. 1. 23. The widows cauſe comes not before them, Pſa. 43. 1. Exod. 22. 9. & 23. 3.

2. The matter or crime wherewith one is charged. Act. 25. 27. And not to ſhew the Cauſes which are laid againſt him.

It's alſo put for, A reaſon, 1 Sam. 17. 29. Sake or reſpect, 2 Cor. 7. 12.

To cauſe one to ſin] See Offence, Offend, Sin.

Cedar] A tall, Amos 2. 9. Goodly, Pſa. 18. 10. Excellent tree, Cant. 5. 15. whereof the choyce grew in Libanus, Judg. 9. 15. uſed for the building of magnificent houſes, as David's, 2 Chr. 2. 3. Solomon's, 1 King. 7. 2. Jehoiakim's, Jer. 22. 14, 15. So for covering the porch of judgement, 1 King. 7. 7. For maſts of ſhips, Ezek. 27 5. For cheſts, Ibid 24. Uſed alſo for the building both of the firſt Temple, 1 King. 5. 6. and of the ſecond Ezra 3. 7. And in cleanſing the Leper Lev 14. 4. & the burning of the red heifer, Numb. 19. 6. Uſed alſo for the making of idols, Iſa. 44. 14. They are choyce durable, goodly trees, called, the Cedars of God, Pſal. 80. 11 marg. Unto whoſe height the height of the Amorite is reſembled, Amos 2 9. Thereunto Zerubbabel, or Chriſt, of whom he was a type, Ezek. 17. 22. By the Cedars of Libanus, the powerfull and proud may be underſtood Iſa. 2 13. Zech. 11. 1, 2. 2 Chr. 25 18 Ezek. 31. 3. Hereunto alſo the felicity of the faithfull is compared, Pſal. 92. 13. Num. 24. 6. Hereunto are oppoſed, in reſpect of its greatneſſe, the Hyſop, 1 King. 4. 33. its worth, the Sycamore, Iſa. 9 9. Both, the bramble, Judg. 9. 15. The Cedar is pleaſant in ſhow, being alwayes green. Its ſmell driveth away Serpents, refreſheth men, neither moth nor worm can corrupt it, nor age conſume it. Dead bodies being put into Cedar and anointed with its juice, are preſerved from corruption; but it conſumeth and corrupteth living fleſh. It's ſaid of the fruit thereof, that about the kernels, it's ſowre, about the outſide, ſweet, in the midle, temperate, between both.

Cedron] Mad, black, or ſad. A brook, Joh. 18. 1. called alſo Kidron, 1 King. 15. 13.

Cenchrea] Millet, or pulſe. The name of a place, Rom. 16. 1.

Cenſer] An inſtrument of pure gold, 1 King. 7. 50. Uſed in the ſervice of the Sanctuary:

1. To put fire in, and that on the fire of the Altar, Lev. 16. 12.

3. For the High-prieſt to carry into the vail, and moſt holy place, Lev. 16. 12, 13. To prevent death, Ibid. and make an atonement, Numb. 16. 46.

Centurion] A Captain ſet over an hundred ſouldiers, Act. 10. 1. Mat. 8. 5.

Cephirah] A little lyon ſſe. A place, Ezr. 2. 25.

Cephas] A ſtone, or ſtock, Joh. 1. 42. Note, that the Hebrew Cephas, and the Greek Petros, and Rupes or Saxum in Latine, be all one in ſignification: Alſo, that this name was put upon Peter the Apoſtle, not for this cauſe, to teach that Peter ſhould be the rock and foundation on which the Chriſtian Church muſt be builded; as the Papiſts groſſly ſuppoſe, who to that end expound thoſe words in Matt. 16 18. And I ſay alſo unto thee that thou art Peter, and upon this rock will I build my Church, and the gates of hell ſhall not prevail againſt it, of the perſon of Peter, which are neceſſarily to be underſtood of his worthy confeſſion of faith which he had made, upon which the Church indeed was to be founded, even upon Chriſt whom he confeſſed: there being laid of God none other fundamentall Stone then he, 1 Cor. 3. 11. But he was called Cephas therefore, that by this new name (as a token) Chriſt might ſeal and aſſure unto him the better that promiſe which is hid and couched under the impoſition of this name; to wit, that he ſhould be ſtable and firm in faith, like a Rock which cannot be removed out of his place; which promiſe was in part fulfilled before, but more fully after Chriſt his death and Aſcenſion into heaven. See Act 9. 8. 9.

Ceremonies] See Bondage, Law, Indifferent, Figure, Ordinance, Day, Abrogate.

Ceremoniall Law] The law of carnall commandements, and Ordinances of Divine ſervice, Heb. 9. 1. impoſed till the time of Reformation, Ibid. 10 and till the Seed came, Gal. 3. 19. who aboliſhed it, Col. 2. 14. which ſtood in weak and beggerly rudiments, Gal 4. 9. Meats, drinks, and divers waſhings, Heb. 9. 10. Ceremonies, rites, and carnall ordinances, Ibid. A worldly ſanctuary, Ibid. Gifts and Sacrifices which could not make perfect, as appertaining to the conſcience, Ibid. 9. All which were examples and ſhadowes, Heb 8. 5. Figures, Heb. 9. 9. Patterns of heavenly things, Ibid. 23. A Schoolmaſter to bring to Chriſt. Gal. 3. 24. A yoke not able to be born, Act. 15. 10. The partition wall between the Jew and the Gentile, Eph. 2. 14. The enmity, Ibid. 15. The handwriting of Ordinances againſt us, Col. 2. 14.

Certain] 1. Aſſured or true, ſtedfaſt. Sure without fail, change, contradiction or wavering, Numb. 14. 30. Neh. 2. 23. Joſh. 3. 10. Deut.

Deut. 10. 14. Mal. 3. 6. Heb. 7. 7. Heb. 10. 23. Gen. 41. 32.

2. An indefinite term.

3. One parabolically set forth, without name, to signifie many others named.

4. One prophesied or told.

Certainty] See Assurance, Faith, Sure, Knowledge.

1. Of persons, this certainty is all one with our Faith.

2. Of things, this is all one with Truth, or the true existence and being of them.

Certifie] To make known, reveal, or give notice of, Ezr. 4. 16. Est 2. 22.

Cesar] A surname received from Julius Cesar, by all the Romane Emperours, and accordingly given unto them, as to Augustus, Luk. 2. 1. Tiberius, Luk. 3. 1. Claudius, Act. 11. 28. Nero, Phil. 4. 22. Sometime he is so named without any other addition, as Mat. 22. 17. Luk. 20. 22. Julius was thus named, either for that he was cut out of his Mothers wombe, or from his hair (Cæsaries) wherewith he was born.

Cesarea] A bush of hair. A City surnamed Stratonis, Act. 9. 30. Another surnamed Philippi, Mat. 16. 13. Another, being the head City of Cappadocia, Act. 18. 22.

C H.

Chaffe] A reprobate, like to Chaffe for his vileness, unconstancy, and barrenness. Mat. 3. 12. Whose fan is in his hand, and he will thorowly purge his floor, &c.

2. False Prophets with their false Doctrine, Jer. 23. 28. What is the Chaffe, &c.

It's put for that which is vain, of no effect or purpose. Such as are the enterprises of the ungodly, Isa. 33. 11. Hypocrites, in respect of their vileness, inconstancy, and barrenness; which are not indeed what outwardly they seem to be, as the chaffe in the heap may seem to be full of wheat, or supposed to be, but is not, Luk. 3. 17. Isaiah compareth the Churches enemies hereunto, Isa. 17. 13. Daniel speaketh the like of Nebuchadnezar's image, Dan. 2. 35.

Chain] A coller of silver or iron, to wear about ones neck, either for ornament, Gen. 41. 42. or punishment, Jer. 52. 11.

2. The grace of heavenly wisdome, which is as a chain to deck and adorn one withall, Prov. 1. 9.

3. The crosse or afflictions for the Gospell. 2 Tim. 1. 16. He was not ashamed of my chain. Whereof one end was tyed to the right hand of the Prisoner, and the other to the left of a Souldier.

4. Pride of the wicked, which they wear as their chief ornament, Psa. 73. 6.

Great affliction and strait handling, Lam. 3. 7. Gods laws and ordinances, Ezek. 16. 11. The laws of Christs Kingdome, being of a binding power to subdue, Psa. 2 3. & 149. 8. The power of God holding down the wicked angels and men, together with their own guilty consciences vexing and daily tormenting them, Jude 6. Hereby also the pride of the wicked is set forth, Psal. 73. 6.

To binde in chains] Victory and dominion which the Church should get over the greatest enemies, even Kings and Princes, not by a temporall sword (as some think) but by force of that spirituall sword ruling both high and low, according to the Word, without adding or taking away, as in Psal. 149. 8. To binde their Kings in chains, &c. The laws of Christs Kingdome are like Bands, Fetters, and Chains, to subdue and hold in his obedience.

Everlasting chains] The power of God holding down the wicked angels and men.

2. Their own guilty consciences vexing and tormenting as heavy chains: which are called (Everlasting) because their torment there shall never have an end, nor their tormentors (devils and consciences) shall never be weary. Jude 6. Reserved in everlasting chains under darknesse.

Chair] put for a seat to sit in, Mat. 21. 12. The place for one in authority to sit in, Job 29. 7. An assembly or meeting together, Psal. 1. 1. The authority and office of teaching, Mat. 23. 1.

Chair of Moses] The doctrine which God delivered to Moses, and was taught by them that succeeded him in the office of teaching. Mat. 23. 1. The Scribes and Pharisees sit in Moses chair; hear them: that is to say, so long as they teach Moses Doctrine, obey them. Papists are herein deceived, interpreting this of place and succession of persons, and not of truth of Doctrine.

Note: Moses Chair signifieth Moses Doctrine, as Peters Rock signifieth Peters Faith and Confession.

Chalcedony] A gem, or precious stone, Rev. 21. 19. It's said to be bred of long continuing rain. To be found by the reflexion of the full moon. To be of a pale colour. Of such solidity, that it wil not admit of an incision or outward impression.

Chalcol] Nourishing. The Son of Mahol, 1 King. 4. 31.

Chamber] Some secret place in an house.

Mat. 6.6. Enter into thy chamber.

2. The protection of God. Isa. 26. 20. Enter into thy chamber, viz. rest quietly on Gods promises by faith, and in his gracious protection.

It's put also for, A lodging, Judg. 15. 1. A feasting room, Luk. 22. 12. A Bride-chamber, Psal. 19. 5. A place of Christian meeting, Act. 20. 8. The places of the stars, Job 9. 9. The cloud, Psal. 104. 13.

Chambering] Unclean and wanton behaviour. Rom. 13. 13. Not in chambering and wantonnesse.

Chamois] Deut. 14. 5. In Hebrew it is זמר, which Buxtorf. translateth Camelo-pardalis. A beast engendred of a Camel, and of a female Libard or Panther, whose tongue is nigh three foot long, and therewith he wil so speedily gather in his meat, that the eyes of a man will fail to behold his haste. And moveth both his right and left foot together; whom if any come to see, it doth as it were on purpose turn it self about to shew its soft hairs and beautifull colour. Munster rendreth it Alce, which is a wilde beast, in fashion and skin like a fallow-deer, but greater, and hath no joynts in the legs, and therefore doth never lie down but lean to trees. The German Translation, Rupicapra. A wilde goat.

Chance] Such occurrences and events as doe fall out to men beyond their skill and counsell, through Gods providence, but to us by hap or chance, Luk. 10. 31.

Change] put for Sedition, affecting alteration and novelties, Prov. 24. 21. Diversities, Judg. 14. 12, 13. The day of Death or Resurrection, Job 14. 14. Crosses or calamities, Psal. 55. 19.

To change] signifieth, To Disanull, Dan. 6. 8. Put one for another, Lev. 27. 10. Take away, Act. 6. 14. Turn, Job 17. 12. Alter, Jer. 13. 23. Translate, 1 Cor. 15. 5. To be otherwise then before, Dan. 3. 27. Undoe or make voyd, Dan. 3. 28. Attain a better condition then before, Psal. 102. 26.

To change times and seasons] Either, to distinguish Moneths, Dayes, and Years ordinarily, or extraordinarily, to turn Winter into Summer, and Summer into Winter, or to alter times contrary to the course of nature, as to cause the Sun to stand or go back, as in Josuah and Hezekiah's time: or to dispose of marriage and life in generall, shortening mans life after the flood: or particularly, as Moses and Josiah, Dan. 7. 25.

To be changed] To be translated from mortality and corruption, to immortality and incorruption on a sudden, 1 Cor. 15. 51.

Channels] put properly for the effusion of waters, 1 Sam. 22. 16. and where they run, Isa. 27. 12.

Figuratively, for laws of Covenant, Isa. 8. 7.

A Chariot] A carriage wherein were fighting men of war. Judg. 1. 19. Because they had chariots of iron.

2. Captains and strength. 2 King. 2. 22. Chariots of Israel.

3. Angels. 2 King. 6. 17. Mountain was full of chariots. Hereof Angels be called Cherubims, between which and the Hebrew word which signifies chariot, there is great affinity, Psal. 104. 3. 1 Chr. 28. 18.

It's put also for the chief strength and stay of a land, such as are Gods Prophets, 2 King. 2. 12. & 13. 14. Humane or worldly things wherein men repose their confidence, Psal. 20. 7. The clouds, Psal. 104. 3. Dignity and greatnesse of place, Isa. 22. 18. As there were chariots of war, 1 King. 20. 21. so there were chariots of state in time of peace, for Kings, 2 King. 9. 16. Princes, 2 Sam. 15. 1. Nobles, Act. 8. 28.

Charge] Commandement. Mat. 9. 30. Jesus gave them charge. 2 Tim. 4. 1. Gen. 26. 11.

2. Cost. 2 Thess. 2. 8. Because we would not be chargeable to others.

3. Government or function. 1 King. 2. 3. And take heed to the charge of the Lord thy God.

It's taken also for Gods Ordinance, Ezek. 48. 11. Office or function, Numb. 3. 31. Imputed, 2 Tim. 4. 16. Also, for to interdict, Gen. 28. 6. Adjure, 1 Sam. 14. 27. Inhibit and threaten, Mat. 7. 30. Intreat very earnestly, 1 Tim. 5. 21. Denounce and contest with, 1 Tim. 6. 13. Command with a denuntiation, 1 Tim. 6. 17.

Charity] That affection of love which moves us to hold our neighbors dear, and to desire and seek their good in every thing which is dear unto them, and that for Christ his sake, according to the will of God, 1 Cor. 13. 4, 5, 6, 7. where you have the properties of Charity at large described.

The habit of Charity infused, is not the justification of a sinner before God: First, because one virtue cannot be our whole righteousnesse: Secondly, because it is a fruit of justification.

Whereas Charity is said, Rom. 13. 10. to be the fulfilling of the Law, it is to be understood of perfect and compleat Charity, which is contained in all parts and precepts of the Law, as appeareth by Rom. 13. 9. but it will not follow in any good consequence, that because perfect Charity is commanded in the whole Law, therefore it is performed perfectly perfectly by the Saints: for as our knowledge is in part, ſo is our Charity: we can love no further then we know.

Note alſo that Charity is put not alwayes for the affection of love, but for the actions and duties of love, as 1 Tim. 1. 5. according to that in 1 Joh. 3. Let us love not in word but in deed and truth: See alſo Jam. 2. 15, 16.

Charran] A ſinging, or calling out, or the heat of wrath, burning anger, from חרה, he burnt with wrath, was kindled with anger. A City of Meſopotamia, whither Abraham went to dwell, and where his Father died, Act. 7. 2. called alſo Haran, Gen. 11. 31.

Chaſe] Referred to God, who chaſed the Kings of the Amorites that beſieged Gibeon, Joſh. 10. 10. that is, ſo ſubdued them that they were put to flight. Who promiſed that his people ſhould thus deal with their enemies, Lev. 26. 7. and through whom they thus doe, Deut. 32. 30. Joſh. 23. 10. Joſh. 11. 8. Judg. 20. 43. 1 Sam. 17. 53. who at ſome time employeth his Angel for this purpoſe, Pſal. 35. 5. He ſo chaſeth his enemies, as the Hunters doe the Roe, Iſa. 13. 14. and as the chaffe of the mountains before the wind, Iſa. 17. 13. Chaſeth them out of the world (taketh their lives from them) Job 18. 18. that they are chaſed away as a viſion in the night, Job 20. 8. their remembrance is forgotten. The Churches enemies, Lev. 26. 36. of whom, Deut. 1. 44. Lam. 3. 52. Enemies one againſt another, Judg. 9. 40. The word implyeth alſo to reject, repell, ſhun, give no reſpect unto, diſdain, &c. Heb. 13. 28.

Chaſte] One born with ſome naturall impediment. This is naturall chaſtity.

2. One gelded or made chaſte by the art of man. This is artificiall chaſtity.

3. One fitted by God for the gift of continency. This is Chriſtian chaſtity, Mat. 19. 22. See Geld.

To chaſten] To correct in love for our profit, as a Father doth his childe. Heb. 12. 6. Whom the Lord loveth he chaſtiſeth.

Alſo it ſignifies to beat or ſtrike on the face to the making of a bloudy wound: as wreſtlers uſe to doe to maſter their mates. Laſtly, to maſter and keep under the body of ſin within us by beating and wounding it, through abſtinence from thoſe things which is naturally deſired, 1 Cor. 9. 17.

Referred to God, with relation unto his enemies, Pſal. 94. 10. his own people whom he correcteth in love, Rev. 3. 19. for their inſtruction, Pſal. 94. 12. to prevent their condemnation, 1 Cor. 11. 32. & to make them happy, Job 5. 17.

Referred to Parents, with relation unto their children, Deut. 8. 5. & 21. 18.

Magiſtrates, with relation unto Offenders, Deut. 22. 18.

It's alſo taken for to humble ones ſelfe before God by faſting and prayer, Dan. 10. 12.

Chaſtity] An abſtinence and forbearing, not from marriage, but from all ſtrange and roving luſts, about the deſire of Sexe. Tit. 2. 5. To be wiſe, chaſte, &c.

Chebar] Strength or power. A river, Ezek. 1. 1.

Chedorlaomer] A generation of bondage. King of Elam, Gen. 14. 1.

To cheer] is, To make glad, Pſal. 45. 8. Speak friendly, and to the heart, Ruth 2. 13. Revive the ſpirit, Iſa. 57. 15. Comfort, 2 Sam. 10. 2. Make to rejoyce, 2 Chr. 20. 27. Make merry, Eccleſ. 10. 19.

Cheerfulneſſe] A readineſſe and willingneſſe of minde in the doing of any good thing. Rom. 12. 18. He that ſheweth mercy, with cheerfulneſſe. 2 Cor. 9. 7. God loves a cheerfull giver.

Cheerfulneſſe in giving, either generally, by all Chriſtians, as 2 Cor. 9. 7. or particularly by Deacons (the Stewards of the common alms of the Church, as Rom. 12. 8.) doth contain hilarity, or gladneſſe of heart, gentleneſſe in words, pleaſantneſſe in countenance; alſo it ariſeth from reſpect 1. of God, who loveth a cheerfull giver.

2. Of the poor, who being afflicted, have need of being heartned by cheerfull giving, the contrary adding grief to grief.

3. Of the common condition of mankind, all being ſubject to the ſame miſeries, and as we would be done to, ſo muſt we doe to others.

Laſtly, of our ſelves, whoſe works of mercy cannot pleaſe God, nor profit us, if they be ſevered from willing cheerfulneſſe.

Chelal] As night. One of the Sons of Pahath-moab, Ezra 10. 30.

Chelub] A basket. The Brother of Shuah, 1 Chr. 4. 11. The Father of Ezra, 1 Chr. 27. 26.

Chelubai] He altogether againſt me. The Son of Hezron, 1 Chr. 2. 9. called alſo Caleb, verſ. 18.

Chelluh] All. One of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 35.

Chemarims] The name of Baals Prieſts, 2 King. 23. 5. Hoſ. 10. 5. Zeph. 1. 4.

Chemoſh] As ſtroking; or, as taking away. The god of the Ammonites, Judg. 11. 24. The god of the Moabites, 1 King. 11. 33.

Chenaanah] A Merchanteſſe; or broken in pieces; pieces. The Father of Zedekiah the falſe Prieſt, 1 King. 22. 11. A Son of Bilhan, 1 Chro. 7. 10.

Chenani] My pillar, foundation; or, a haſting. A Levite, Neh. 9. 4.

Chenaniah] My pillar, or foundation of the Lord. The chief of the Levites for Song, 1 Chr. 15. 22, 27.

Chephar] A little lyon-eſſe. A City, Joſh 18. 24.

Cheran] Anger. The Son of Diſhon, Gen. 36. 26.

Cherethims] Souldiers, Ezek. 15. 16. called Cherethites, 2 Sam. 2. 18. which were of David's guard. The Philiſtims are ſo named, 1 Sam. 30. 14, 16.

Cherith] Slaying. A brook, 1 King. 17. 3.

Cherub] As a Maſter, Childe; or, as fighting. The name of a place, Ezr. 2. 59. To ride upon Cherub, 2 Sam. 22. 11, 15. To uſe the miniſtration of the Angels.

Cherubims] As maſters, fighters, or children. Properly, Images of men with wings and comely faces, ſo as young men have; or any figure of Man, Oxe, or Bird: See Ezek. 1. 9, 10. But improperly it noteth Angels repreſented by ſuch winged ſhapes at the Ark of the Covenant, whereunto Moſes had relation; Gen. 3. 24. And he placed Cherubims: for theſe were known to the people, but inviſible Angels were not.

Cheſalon] Truſt. Which is mount Jearim, Joſh. 15. 10.

Cheſed] As a devill. The Son of Nahor, Gen. 22. 22.

Cheſil] Fooliſhneſſe. A City, Joſh. 15. 30.

Cheſnut] Hereof mention is made, Ezek. 31. 8. whereby (as by the Cedar and Fir trees) the greatneſſe of the Aſſyrian is ſet out. It's a very great, thick, and high tree, and delighteth in ſhadowy places and mountains, whoſe ſituation is towards the North. Its wood is ſolid and ſtrong for the building of houſes. Being cut down, the root quickly ſhooteth up in ſeverall branches. And as its wood is good for charcoal, and its fruit nouriſheth reaſonably well, ſo both its bark and leaves are medicinable.

Cheſulloth] Fearfulneſſe. A City, Joſh. 19. 18.

Chezib] A place, Gen. 38. 5.

Chide] is properly by words, Judg. 8. 1. when ſpoken of God, it noteth his fatherly chaſtiſement, Pſal. 103. 9.

Chidon] A dart. A mans name, 1 Chron. 13. 9. called Nachon, 2 Sam. 6. 6.

Chief] Taken for,

1. The principall perſon of an houſe, family, congregation, tribe, army, &c. Numb. 3. 30. Deut. 1. 15. 1 Sam 14. 38.

2. The greateſt in office, rule, or authority, 1 Chr. 26. 10.

3. Firſt or moſt forward, Ezra 9. 2.

4. Moſt marvellous or wonderfull, Job 40. 19.

5. Familiar or intimate, Prov. 16. 28.

6. The moſt eminent or greateſt in reputation, 2 Cor. 12. 11.

7. The moſt excellent of all others, Cant. 5. 10.

8. Beſt, or deareſt, Prov. 16. 28.

Chiefeſt of theſe three] Charity doth excell Faith and Hope in three reſpects:

1. For continuance, becauſe it remaineth in heaven, where the other two graces depart; ſeeing there the things beleeved and hoped for are fully enjoyed. Thus Chryſoſtom 1 Cor. Hom. 34. Faith and Hope paſſe away at the end of life, Charity continueth, therefore is greateſt. So Aug. de Doct. Chriſt. lib. 1. c. 39. Charity ſhall continue in heaven, more encreaſed, and more certain.

2. The fruit of Charity reacheth to the Saints with whom we live; but the benefit of Faith and Hope reſteth in the beleeving and hoping perſon; thus M. Beza.

3. The object of Charity is larger, even God, Chriſt, Angels, Saints; whereas our Faith and Hope looks only to God in Chriſt. In theſe reſpects it is chiefeſt: and not as Papiſts affirm, becauſe it juſtifieth us before God as well, or rather then Faith: Whereas Faith it ſelf juſtifieth not, but in regard of Chriſt our Juſtice, whom it apprehendeth: and ſo cannot love, which being a conſequent and fruit of Juſtification, cannot be any cauſe thereof, it ſurely ſerveth as a ſigne onely to know a juſtified perſon: as 1 Joh. 3. 14. Hereby we know we live, becauſe we love the Brethren. Thus is James to be underſtood, ch. 2. 24. By works a man is juſtified, viz. declared to be juſt before men.

A Childe] may be taken diverſly, viz. for one,

Firſt, Young in years, ſo infants.

Secondly, Young in grace, ſo all newly regenerated, 1 Pet. 2. 2.

Thirdly, Young in underſtanding, ſo fools, 1 Cor. 14. 20.

Fourthly, Young in ſtrength, ſo are old men and decrepit.

Fifthly, Young in pride, malice, envy, or hurtfulneſſe, 1 Cor. 14. 20. Mat. 18. 20. Mat. 18. 34. So are the godly.

Children of God] The Elect before their new birth, becauſe God hath purpoſed to make make them his children, which by nature are not ſo; they are therefore called his children, as if they were already; as in Joh. 10. 16. They are called ſheep, whom God before appointed to call to the fold. Joh. 11. 52. To gather together into one fold the children of God. Children by grace of election.

2. Such Elect, as being begotten anew by the immortall ſeed of the Word, doe bear Gods image in holineſſe, endevouring in all things to doe their Fathers will. Luk. 6. 24. And you ſhall be the children of the moſt Higheſt. Eph. 4. 24. 1 Pet. 1. 14, 15. Children by grace of regeneration.

3. The holy and elect Angels, which are the children of God by creation. Job 1. 6. The children of God came and ſtood before the Lord.

Note: Some underſtand Job to ſpeak of the children of God aſſembled to hear the Word, not without ſhew of reaſon, becauſe ſuch an unholy creature as Satan, could not enter into heaven, where the Angels ſtand and miniſter to God.

There be children of God by vocation onely, Iſa. 1. 2. Alſo by divine election and regeneration, Joh. 1. 12. Rom. 1. 16, 17.

Again, the word Children or Sons, is put ſometime for the elect only: as in Joh. 8. The Son abideth in the houſe for ever. Sometime for the whole body of the Church, conſiſting of good and evill: as Exod. 4. Iſrael is my firſt born childe. And ſometime for the wicked alone, and hypocrites, which be the greater number, as in Iſa. 1. 2. & in Mat. 8. The children of the Kingdome ſhall be caſt out.

Childe] A young man, Gen. 21. 14.

Childe is a word that ſignifieth; Firſt, the nature or kindred of man. Secondly, the age of the perſon.

It's put alſo for, One that knoweth or ſuſpecteth his owne inſufficiency in the diſcharge of weighty buſineſſes, Jer. 1. 6. One that is no more able to help himſelf out of diſtreſſe then a childe new born, Hoſ. 11. 1. Chriſt, the holy childe, Act. 4. 30. It's ſpoken of the fruit of the wombe not brought forth, Gen. 16. 11. Of one newly born, Mar. 9. 21. Of a lad or boy of ſome yeers, Gen. 21. 14, 15. Of children of both ſexes, Prov. 22. 6.

Childe of perdition] A loſt perſon appointed to deſtruction, and running headlong thereunto. So is Judas called, in Joh. 17 12. None of them is loſt, but the childe of perdition. See Act. 1. 16. & 4. 27, 28. Judas not onely deſtroyed, but ordained to deſtruction in Gods eternall counſell.

Childe of promiſe] One that is born by virtue of Gods promiſe, and not by ordinary courſe of generation, as Iſaac was. Rom. 9. 8. The children of the promiſe are counted for the ſeed.

Note: That all the elect which be born anew by faith in the promiſe of grace, they are the children of the promiſe, to whom alone belongeth the promiſe of Chriſt, Gal. 4. 28.

Childe of wrath, of death, of hell] One guilty of, and through deſert of ſin, ſubject to wrath, death, and hell, Eph. 2. 3. 2 Sam. 2. 5. Mat. 23. 15.

Children] Young ones, as Infants or others which be of tender years. Mar. 10. 13. Forbid not children to come unto me. Alſo, men who be unskilfull and ignorant, like children, Iſa. 3. 4. & Eccl. 10. 16. 1 Cor. 14. 20.

2. All inferiours which love and obey their ſuperiours, as Fathers. Prov. 4. 1. My children hearken. Thus in Hebrew their ſervants were called children, Gen. 18. 7. And often elſewhere.

3. All truly humbled Chriſtians. Mat. 18. 3, 4. And become as children.

4. Such as take themſelves to be very weak and unable to do great things, Jer. 1. 6.

5. Rude as yet, and weak in underſtanding, Gal. 4. 3.

6. Such as deſcend and come of the Kings linage and ſtock, and belong to his family, Mat. 17. 27.

7. A Preacher and Miniſter of the Goſpel like a childe, being weak, ſimple, and unarmed, far from worldly wiſdome and power. Jer. 1. 6.

8. Magiſtrates and Rulers appointed of God, and being the images of his power, Pſal. 82. 6.

9. The godly; as Firſt, begotten of the Word and grace of God, and bearing the image of his holineſſe, Luk. 6. 35.

Secondly, as unable, unwilling, and unskilfull to hurt.

10. Chriſt is the Childe of God, Act. 4. 27, 30. So called,

Firſt, for his eternall deſcent from his Father as God.

Secondly, for his humane nature.

1. As united to the Divine.

2. As full of grace and holineſſe like to God.

3. For his lovelineſſe and tractability, meekneſſe and humbleneſſe, and harmleſneſs.

11. The Jewiſh Nation, Iſa. 1. 1. Matt. 8. 12.

12. The wicked, as children of the Devil, deriving deriving their wickednesse from him, and therein resembling him, Mat. 13. 38.

Put also for, People of one Nation, 2 Chr. 13. 18. Jer. 7. 30. Qualified and conditioned as children, 1 Cor. 14. 20. Learners, Psal. 34. 11. Weaklings, without strength, 2 King. 19. 3. A friendly and familiar compellation, Joh. 21. 5. That which is dear, Jer. 15. 7. By way of relation the Jews are termed the children of Abraham, Joh. 8. 37, 39. Jacob, Psal. 105. 6. Israel, Exod. 1. 1. Also, they who are of the faith, Gal. 3. 7. Christ Gods holy childe, Act. 4. 30. The godly, the children of the Lord, Deut. 14. 1. Of God, Mat. 5. 9. Of the Bride-chamber, Mat. 9 15. Of wisdome, Mat. 11. 19. Of light, Luk. 16. 8. Of the resurrection, Luk. 20. 36. Of the promise, Rom. 9. 8. Of the living God, Ibid. 26. Of the light and of the day, 1 Thess. 5. 5. Obedient children, 1 Pet. 1. 14. Magistrates the children of the most High, Psal. 82. 6. The ungodly, rebellious, Isa. 30. 1. Lying, Ibid. 9. Backsliding, Jer. 3. 14. Sottish, Jer. 4. 22. Strange, Hos. 5. 7. children. Children of transgression, Isa. 57. 4. Of whoredomes, Hos. 2. 4. Iniquity, Hos. 10. 9. Of this world, Luk. 16. 8. Of disobedience and wrath, &c. Eph. 2, 2, 3. Reprobates, children of the wicked one, Matt. 13. 38. Of the devill, 1 Joh. 3. 10. Curst children, 2 Pet. 2. 14. The Disciples or followers of the Prophets; the children of the Prophets, Act. 3. 25. So the Church in the Canticles termeth false Brethren, false Prophets and Deceivers, &c. her Mothers children, Cant. 1. 6. So Job his Despisers, Children of fools, yea of base men, Job 30. 8.

Children of Abraham] Them that came of Abraham's loyns, though they did not beleeve. Joh. 8. 37. Mat. 3. 9. To raise up children unto Abraham.

2. Them that beleeve and live as Abraham did, treading in the steps of his faith and love; such be the children of Abraham, though they be no Jews but Gentiles, Gal. 3. 7. They which are of faith, the same are the children of Abraham, Joh. 8. 37. If you were Abrahams children, ye would doe the works of Abraham, Rom. 4. 11, 12.

These are of 3 sorts.

1. Some followed him in descent or kindred, but not in goodnesse, as Joh. 8. 37.

2. Some in his faith or goodnesse, not in kindred, Mat. 3. 9. Gal. 3. 7.

3. Some in both, as Joh. 1. 47. Also Isaac, Jacob, David.

4. Some in neither, as the Heathen and all wicked people.

Children of the day and of the light] All such as are enlightned by the Spirit, to the sound and distinct knowledge of God in Christ, through the Gospel. 1 Thess. 5. 5. Ye are the children of the light and of the day; that is, such as know God soundly.

Children of the Devill] Such as bear the image of the Devill, and resemble him in malice and subtilty, as children do their father, in all things doing his will. Joh. 8. 44. Ye are of your father the devill, and his will ye will doe. Act. 13. 10. O thou childe of the Devil, full of all subtilty.

Children of Disobedience] Disobedient children which are given to disobedience. Eph. 5. 6. The wrath of God cometh upon the children of disobedience.

Children of the East] Eastern people dwelling in Mesopotamia, which lay Eastward from Canaan, Gen. 29. 1. Job 1. 3.

Children of the Flesh] Such as are born by naturall generation, as Ismael was of Abraham. Rom. 9. 8. Which are the children of the flesh.

Children of Fornication] Either bastards, to wit, children begotten in fornication; or Idolaters, which imitate others in false worship. Hos. 2. 4. They are the children of fornication.

Generation of Gods children] The succession and race of the godly, continuing successively from age to age, by the mercifull providence of God preserving them, Psal. 73. 15.

Children of Israel] The Israelites which sprung and came out of Jacob, who was called Israel. Exod. 14. 1. Speak to the children of Israel.

Little children] Lowly persons, which be little in their owne eyes, like unto children. Mat. 18. 4. Whosoever shall receive one such little childe.

Children in maliciousnesse] Such as be like little children voyd of malice, and unharmfull. 1 Cor. 14. 20. But as concerning maliciousnesse, be ye children.

Children of the Night and Darknesse] Such as remain in ignorance and sin. 1 Thess. 5. 5. Ye are not children of the night, neither of darknesse.

Children of wisdome] Wise children; that is, all the godly which are taught, having wisdome from above, and are studious of that true wisdome revealed in the Word, loving and practising it. Luk. 7. 35. Wisdome is justified of her children.

Chileab] All; or, the restraint of the Father. Davids son, 2 Sam. 3. 3. called Daniel, 1 Ch. 3. 1.

Chilion]

Chilion] Wasted, perfect; or, all like a dove. The Son of Elimelech, Ruth 1.2.

Chilmad] As teaching. A countrey, Ezek. 27.23.

Chimham] As they, or like to them. The Son of Barzillai, 2 Sam. 19.37. A place, Jer. 41.17.

Chinnereth] A harp. A place, Numb. 34.11.

Chios] An Island, Act. 20.15. or χῖος as if it were χέος a confused heap, or χεῖος of χέω open.

Chisleu] Hope, or his fear. The nineth moneth, answering to part of November and December.

Chisloth-tabor] Fears, or trust of election, or purity. A City, Josh. 19.12.

Chittim] Wasters, consumers; a crown, or gold. A countrey, Ezek. 27.6.

Chiun] Amos 5.26. that is, Hercules, who in the Ægyptian language was called Chon, by whom the planet of the Sun may be understood.

Chor-ashan] A river-smoke. A place, 1 Sam. 30.30.

Chorazin] This secret, or here is a mystery; or, a Cryer, from כרז to proclaim. The name of a City, Mat. 11.21.

Choice] The best, the fairest; because men use to chuse the best things, Gen. 23.6.

Chosen] Of Men, from amongst others, to some work, service, or office, Exod. 15.4. 2 Sam. 6.1. 1 King. 12.21. Of God, outwardly to some office, Psal. 106.23. Luk. 6.13. Joh. 6.70. To be externally his people, Isa. 43.20. & 44.1. Inwardly, called The chosen of God, 1 Pet. 2.4. In the Lord, Eph. 1.4. For time, from the beginning of the world, Ibid. Number, few, Mat. 20.16. End, to salvation, 2 Thess. 2.13. Obedience, 1 Pet. 1.2. Such are; The predestinate to be conformable to the image of Christ Jesus, Rom. 8.29. Called, Rev. 17.14. Sanctified, Jude 1. Justified, Rom. 8.30. Preserved, 1 Pet. 1.15. Glorified, Rom. 8.30.

Chozeba] Men lyars, or men that be lyars. A place, 1 Chr. 4.22.

Christ] One anointed with materiall oyl, by the commandement of God; as the High-priests, Prophets, and some Kings were under the Law, 1 Sam. 16.13. Isa. 45.1.

2. One anointed of GOD with the Holy Ghost and power; that is, with special gifts above measure, and authority to execute for us men the office of a perfect Mediator with God; that is, of a Priest, Prophet, and King. Act. 10.38. Him hath God anointed with the Holy Ghost and with power. And vers. 36. Papists rob him of all his offices, especially of his Priesthood, by the abominable order of sacrificing Priests, and Priesthood; as, of his Kingly office, by giving laws, which should binde the conscience; and of his Prophetship, by unwritten Traditions. Christ also signifieth the Doctrine concerning Christ, Eph. 4.9. Act. 8.35.

3. The whole mysticall body of the Church, comprehending both head and elect members. 1 Cor. 12.12. As all the body is one, and hath many members, even so is Christ. Here (Christ) by a Synecdoche of the chief part for the whole, is put to signifie the holy Catholick Church, that mysticall body, consisting of head and members, whether Jews or beleeving Gentiles, as Gal. 3. Also the visible Church, Joh. 15.6.

4. Christ in his Messengers and Ministers, or any of his true members, that is, any true Christian or godly person, Mar. 6.41. Mat. 10.40, 41, &c. & 25.40, 45. Act. 9.5. Rev. 11.8. Luk. 10.16. Eph. 4.21.

5. Some false Prophet or Teacher, either usurping and taking on him the name of Christ Jesus, Mat. 24.24. Or else coming in the name and under the title thereof, Matt. 24.5.

6. Christianity or the Doctrine concerning Christ. Act. 8.35. Eph. 4.20.

7. The example of Christ, as Rom. 13.14. Christianity and the profession of Christ, Rom. 16.9. 1 Cor. 4.15. Gal. 6.15.

8. The Spirit and spirituall graces and gifts of Christ, Rom. 8.10. 1 Cor. 13.3, 5. Gal. 2.20. & 4.19.

9. The name or fame and honor of Christ gotten by his resurrection: for that day was Christs new honour begotten, not his person or nature, Act. 13.33. & 3.16. Eph. 1.23.

It's put also for his whole person, Mat. 16.16. Luk. 2.11. The inward union, conjunction, ingrafting, insition, or fellowship with Christ, Gal. 3.27. The Church visible, Rom. 16.17. his righteousnesse, and sanctification, Rom. 13.14.

As Christ Jesus] In stead and place of Christ, whose Minister and Ambassador Paul was, Gal. 4.14.

To put on Christ] To be through faith spiritually cloathed and covered with Christ his perfect innocency and holinesse of nature and actions (as with a garment) to become holy and unblameable before God, without spot or wrinkle, as Eph. 5.27. Of this our most near mysticall conjunction with Christ, Baptisme is a Sacrament or pledge, not to work it by force of the Sacramentall action; but to confirm, encreaſe and continue it according to the Ordinance and promiſe of Chriſt, faith being the inward inſtrument to knit unto Chriſt. Gal. 3.27. All ye that are baptized into Chriſt, have put on Chriſt.

2. Not onely our incorporation into, and poſſeſſion of Chriſt, to be covered with the long white robe of his righteouſneſſe, but to be decked and adorned alſo with the gifts and fruits of Sanctification, as with rich jewels and ornaments, ſuch as be reckoned up, Gal. 5.22,23. Col. 3. 10, 11. eſpecially, with charity, ſobriety, chaſtity and peace. Rom. 13. 14. Put on the Lord Jeſus Chriſt. This place would rather be expounded of the works of Sanctification, (becauſe of the oppoſition between the vices named in verſ. 13. and the putting on of Chriſt) then of putting on Chriſt to Juſtification, whereof Paul doth not purpoſely intreat here, but of ſanctity and holineſſe of life.

Chriſts things, not their own] The glory of Chriſt, not their owne glory and gain, Phil. 2.21.

Chriſt to be made to us wiſdome, righteouſneſſe, ſanctification and redemption] Chriſt to be given to the faithful, not empty, but with moſt large treaſures of wiſdome, wiping out and curing our fooliſhnes; which floweth out of his Propheticall function: of righteouſneſſe and ſanctification, by juſtifying us through his obedience active and paſſive, and by ſanctifying us to a new life through his Spirit; which benefits ſpring from his Sacerdotall office: Laſtly, of redemption by a perfect freedome from all ſin and miſery, and reſtoring to life eternall; which cometh from his Regal office, and is named laſt, becauſe it is in the laſt place conferred after all the reſt.

Mr. Downam in his Summe of Sacred Divinity, Book. 2. chap. 9. underſtandeth by Wiſdome, our Illumination in the knowledge and faith of God, by the Word preached.

2. By Righteouſneſſe, our Juſtification or Acceptation before God by Chriſts righteovſneſſe imputed.

3. By Sanctification, Regeneration or holineſſe of life by the holy Spirit infuſed into us.

4. By Redemption, our totall and perfect happineſſe both privative and poſitive conferred on us.

Or thus, Chriſt is by his grace in us, the Author to us,

Firſt, of our Regeneration or Reformation again into the image of God. Eph. 4.24. which in a generall word is called Holineſſe.

1. In the minde and mouth, Wiſdome.
2. In the heart and life:
   1. Toward men; Righteouſneſſe.
   2. Towards God, Sanctification or piety

Secondly, of our Redemption from all enemies and evils, Luk. 1.74. This is our happineſs by Chriſt.

Works of Chriſt] The duty which was done to Chriſt being bound and poor in the perſon of Paul, Phil. 2. 30. & 4. 18. which expounds the former Text.

Chriſtall] It's bred of water, which through the force of cold and earthy dryneſſe, after the ſpace of many yeers, is turned into this hardneſſe. It's of a watery colour, Rev. 4. 6. Very cleer, Rev. 21. 11. Of great worth, Job 28. 17. By attraction of the Sun beams it ſetteth on fire dry ſtraw. If being beat, it be drunk, it filleth the dugs with milk. It alſo aſſwageth thirſt, and is good againſt the colick and paſſion of the bowels, being worn about one.

Chriſtians] Perſons ſpiritually anointed to be members and worſhippers of Chriſt. Act. 11. 26. The Diſciples of Antioch were firſt called Chriſtians. 1 Joh. 2, 20. Ye have an oint-ment. This is the beſt and ancient name, Jam. 2.7. The Jeſuits renounce the name of Chriſt, as they do the Doctrine of Chriſt.

What a Chriſtian is.

A Chriſtian is one, who being ſometime both moſt baſe and profane, a vaſſall to Satan, and ſervant to ſin, through Adam's ſin, and his owne, Eph. 2.3. Children of wrath; is anointed now, and endowed through grace, with faith and the holy Ghoſt, that he may become a Prieſt and a King unto God, to ſerve him in righteouſneſſe and true holyneſſe all his dayes, as a perſon dedicate to Chriſt, Rom. 5. 6,7,8. 1 Pet. 2. 9. Ye are a royall Prieſthood.

Or thus: A Chriſtian is one whom Chriſt hath loved and waſhed in his blood, making him a King and Prieſt unto God, Rev. 1. 5.

A man hath paſſive Chriſtianity by his Baptiſme in the name of Chriſt, Rom. 6. 3,4. Verball, by profeſſing Chriſt, Luk. 6. 46. But active, reall, and true Chriſtianity onely by beleeving in Chriſt for ſalvation, Act. 11. 26. and living to and for Chriſt by ſanctification, and to the praiſe of God and profit of mankinde, after the rule and example of Chriſt, Mat. 7. 23. Luk. 6. 46. 2 Cor. 5. 17. wch kinde of imitation hath alwaies been the reaſon of denomination given to profeſſions in Law, Phyſick, War, &c. I. B. See to Follow, Faith.

A name derived from Christ, and first imposed on the Disciples in Antioch; or, who then professedly called themselves by this name, Act. 11. 26. which were indeed spiritually anointed to be members and worshippers of Christ, and accordingly in their lives and conversation conformed themselves after the rule and example of Christ, as we also should, 2 Cor. 5. 17. 1 Joh. 2. 6. Thus are we to be altogether as Paul was, and not almost onely, as Agrippa, Act. 26. 28, 29. Yea, who so thus suffereth, or as a Christian, needs not be ashamed, but must glorifie God on this behalf, 1 Pet. 4. 16.

Chronicles] A brief note of things done, with the time expressed. 2 King. 24. 5. Are they not written in the Book of Chronicles?

Chrysolite] A precious stone, Rev. 21. 20. shining with a golden colour quite through; but more gloriously in the morning.

Chrysoprasus] A precious stone, Rev. 21. 20. It's of a green colour mixed with a golden brightness.

Chub] Blotting out. Hereby is meant Arabia, Ezek. 30. 5.

Chun] Making ready. A City, 1 Chr. 18. 8.

Church] A company of men, selected, gathered, and called out of the world by the doctrine of the Gospel, to know and worship the true God in Christ according to his Word. 1 Cor. 1. 2. To the Church of God at Corinth. Rev. 2. 3. Hear what the Spirit saith to the Churches. This is the visible Church which is not alwayes eminent and glorious to the eyes of flesh, as our Papists do avouch too confidently; the Church being like the Moon, subject to mutations, Rev. 12. 1.

2. The whole company of the Elect, which in all ages and places, have or do, or shall beleeve in Christ, through the calling of God the Father, by the operation of the holy Spirit. This is the invisible Catholick Church. Col. 1. 18. He is the Head of the body, the Church: which comprehends the faithfull of all times, countreys, conditions, years and sex. How then can the Romish Church, which began but since Christs time, be the Catholick?

3. The faithful of some one family. Phil. 2. And to the Church that is in thy house.

Of this Church understand these following places, Cant. 4. 12. Rev. 3. 12. Heb. 11. 10. Rev. 12. 27. Cant. 5. 2. & 6. 8. 2 Cor. 6. 16. Mat. 7. 25. & 16. 18. 1 Tim. 3. 15. Rom. 1. 7. 1 Cor. 1. 2. & 9, 10.

4. The lawful Governours of the Church, to whom the censures of the Church doe of right belong. Mat. 18. 17. If he will not hear them, tell it to the Church. This is the Church representative.

5. A materiall Temple. 1 Cor. 14. 34. Let women keep silence in the Churches: 1 Cor. 11. 18.

It is put also for, All those that shall be saved, Heb. 12. 23. The professors of Christ, Act. 8. 1. The faithfull of some one Province, 2 Thess. 1. 1. Some notable assembly of the faithfull partaking together in the Word and Sacraments, 1 Cor. 14. 4. A multitude of any (whether good or bad) meeting together, Act. 19. 32, 39.

Before the Church] In the sight, presence, and knowledge of that Church and company of Christian professors, where John the Apostle then lived, when he wrote this Epistle. Joh. 3. 6. Which have witnessed thy love before the Church.

Chusa] Saying, or prophecying, of חזה he saw. The Husband of Joanna, Luk. 8. 3.

C I.

Cilicia] Touching. The name of a country in Asia neer the sea, whereof Tharsus was. The birth-place of Paul, Act. 21. 39.

Cinamon] Exod. 30. 23. A spice, being the rinde of a low shrub, two cubits in height, dry, hot, odoriferous. It groweth amongst briars, thorns, bushes, and other trees, so that its not without difficulty gathered; the stalks also being folded one within another, of a saffron or black colour. When it is broken, a certain smoak issueth therefrom in the manner of a cloud. It smelleth best, when dry. It's not to be gathered either before the rising, or after the setting of the sun, but onely in the day time. Hereof read Prov. 7. 17. Cant. 4. 14. Rev. 18. 13.

Cinereth] As a Candle. A City, Josh. 19. 35.

To circumcise] To cut off, or to pare away the foreskin of the flesh, to witnesse thereby an entrance into the Covenant of mercy with God, for forgivenesse of sin, and newnesse of life, Gen. 17. 10, 11. This is to circumcise Sacramentally.

2. To mortifie and subdue the flesh, with the lusts thereof. Jer. 4. 4. Be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the foreskin of your hearts. This is to circumcise spiritually; and thus much is meant in all places where circumcision of the heart is called for: even a correcting of sinfull nature, and the corrupt desires thereof.

3. To have the fore-skin of the flesh cut or pared away, with this opinion of obtaining ighteousnesse and eternall life, by circumcision, being yet in force as some Jews thought. Gal. 5. 2. If ye be circumcised Christ shall profit you nothing. There be two reasons given in Scripture, why circumcision could not justifie sinners: One, because Christ is the end of the Law for righteousnesse to the beleevers, Rom. 10. 5. The second, because Abraham was in order of time justified long before he was circumcised, Rom. 4. 10. 11. And these reasons are strong against Justification by all works of the law universally; for a man must first be justified ere he can doe a good work: also the perfect righteousnesse commanded in the Law, is no where inherent or subjective, but in the manhood of Christ, who imputeth it to all such as beleeve in him, without any works required thereunto, but onely that faith which worketh by love, Gal. 5. 6.

The outward or sacramentall circumcision by man, was unavailable without the inward and spirituall, by God, Rom. 2. 29.

Men of circumcised ears, lips, and hearts] Such as have the inward spirituall effect and grace of circumcision, together with the signe: as on the other side, uncircumcised lips, ears, and hearts, be affirmed of such as have the outward signe onely, without the signified grace, Act. 7. 51.

Circumcision] A person circumcised, or a Jew; as uncircumcision signifieth a person uncircumcised, a Gentile, Rom. 2. 28. & Rom. 15. 8. where Christ is called the Minister of circumcision: that is, of a people circumcised, and in Covenant with God; to wit, of the Jews, Gal. 2. 7, 9. Tit. 1. 10.

2. The whole legall ceremonious worship of God, by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole, Act. 15. 1. Except ye be circumcised ye cannot be saved, Gal. 5. 6.

3. Those which be truely godly persons, spiritually circumcised in their heart, forsaking their owne corrupt reason and will. Phil. 3. 3. We are the circumcision which worship God in the spirit. This is circumcision made without hands, of the heart, and in the Spirit, not in the Letter, Rom. 2. 29.

4. The cutting off of the foreskin of the flesh, Exod. 4. 26.

5. The Sacrament of Circumcision, Joh. 7. 22, 23.

6. The Doctrine of observing the Ceremoniall law, Gal. 5. 11.

7. The Covenant, Rom. 4. 10.

Circumcision assured to the Jews (as Baptisme to us) their engrafting into Christ, and therefore the forgivenesse of the guilt, fault, and punishment of their sins, yea the putting off the sinfull body of the flesh: at a word, it signified and sealed their regeneration, justification, and sanctification through Christ. See Gen. 17. 10. Rom. 4. 11. Col. 2. 11. Deut. 30. 6. This Sacrament being set upon the shamefullest part of the body, where lust rageth most, did lively represent the whole naughtinesse of our nature, that it is pardoned through Christ: and that by him the Elect are sanctified from their foulest and most unclean offence.

Note: As Circumcision to the Jews was not their righteousnesse, but a seal of it; so is Baptisme to us.

Circumcision made without hands] Sanctification or renewing of the minde, which because Christ alone worketh inwardly by his Spirit, thence called Circumcision of Christ, and without hands, as Jewish Circumcision was not, Col. 2. 11.

What Circumcision is?

Circumcision is a Sacrament of the Old Testament, signifying and sealing up to the people of the Jews, their entrance into Covenant with God, for the remission of their sins, and mortification of their lusts, by faith in Christ to come. Rom. 4. 11. He received the signe of Circumcision, Genes. 17. 10, 11, 12.

Cis] Hard, of קשה he was hard, or קש stubble, straw, of קשש he gathered stubble, straw. The Father of Saul, Act. 13. 21. named also Kish, 1 Sam. 9. 1.

Cistern] Taken, 1. for a vessel or place wherein to keep water, Isa. 36. 16.

2. The heart, out of which the head draweth the powers of life, Eccl. 12. 6.

3. The vain confidence or inventions of men contrary to Gods Word, Jer. 2. 13.

4. Ones owne lawfull wife, Prov. 5. 15. Drink waters out of thine owne Cistern; that is, Enjoy thou the lawfull pleasures and contentments of thine own wife.

City] A place compassed with walls for people to dwell in. Mat. 9. 25. And Jesus went to all Cities and Towns. Gen. 19. 25. And overthrew those Cities and inhabitants.

2. The people which dwel in such a place. Act. 19. 29. And the whole City was full of confusion. A Metonymie. Isa. 14. 31.

3. The Church of God upon earth. Cant. 3. 2, 3. The Watch-men which went about the City.

4. Heaven, Heb. 11. 16. He hath prepared for them a City, Eph. 2. 19. A Metaphor.

5. Publick administration and government, Psal. 127. 1.

The

6. The rich mans wealth (or any thing wherein a man puts his truſt) Prov. 10. 15.

Cities take their denomination ſometime from the founders, ſometime from the places where built, ſometimes from the cauſes why they were built, &c. And according to the quality of the inhabitants: Some are well ſpoken of; as, A City of righteouſneſſe, A faithfull City, Iſa. 1.26. Some contrarily, as, The oppreſſing City, Zeph. 3. 1.

City of God] Jeruſalem, whither the people of God, Citizens of Gods Church came to worſhip him, according to his law. Pſal. 46. 4. Whoſe ſtreams make glad the City of God. Pſal. 47. 1. 8. Pſal. 47. 1, 8. Hence called the City of the great King, viz. of God, who was ſolemnly worſhipped there: and holy City, becauſe it was the ſeat (as it were) of divine worſhip, Matt. 5. 35. & 27. 53.

City of the living God] The Church or company of the Elect, beleevers which live not after the laws, manners, cuſtomes of this wherein they be ſojourners: but after the laws and ordinances of God ſet down in his Word, Heb. 12 22.

A City of righteouſneſſe] A people which loveth and practiſeth righteous and faithful dealing, in adminiſtration of Juſtice doing that which is juſt, and in commerce, or bargains imbracing fidelity and equity with incorruption. Iſa. 1.26. A City of righteouſneſſe, a faithfull City.

They cannot goe into the City] Such extreme folly to be in ſome inconſiderate perſons (whoſe danger he ſhewed in verſ. 8, 9, 10, 11. by four excellent ſimilitudes) as they cannot rightly move one foot or direct themſelves the high way into their own City, Eccl. 10. 15.

C L.

To clap hands] To rejoyce and be glad, whereof clapping of hands is a ſigne. Pſal. 98. 8. Let the flouds clap their hands, and let the hills rejoyce. Proſopopeia.

13. Sadneſs, diſeaſes and grief, Eccl. 12. 2.

14. Smoak, Levit. 26. 13. Obſcurity, Job 3. 5.

Cloud covered the tent] Exod. 40. 34. Gods preſence with approbation, and liking to dwell in his Tent amongſt his people: but when Gods preſence was with diſpleaſure for ſins, it was ſignified by ſmoak filling the Temple, Iſa. 6. 4. Rev. 15. 8. Smoak was a ſigne of anger.

Clouds without water] Hypocrites which make make a fair ſhew, and yet are empty and barren of all goodneſſe, Jude 12.

Cloud of witneſſes] An heap or great number of witneſſes or holy examples, Heb. 12. 2.

Here is an alluſion to the Cloud that did in the day time guide Iſrael through the Wilderneſſe. As that bright Cloud did lead them to the Land of Canaan, ſo ſhould the examples of the faithfull, lead us to the heavenly Canaan: and this honour we confeſſe to belong to the Saints departed, as Auguſtine ſaith, Honorandi propter imitationem, non adorandi propter religionem. Not to be religiouſly adored, but godlily imitated. They alſo are reverently to be eſteemed and remembred, and God is to be praiſed for them, but no prayers to be made unto them to be our interceſſours to God; for they doe not know our deſires and affairs particularly. Iſa. 63. 16. Job 14. 20. 2 King. 22. 20. Si tanti Patriarchæ, & rex tam pius fuerunt ignari noſtrarum rerum, quanto magis cæteri mortui? ſaith Aug. in lib. de cura p. o mortuis. That they generally pray for our deliverance, we have warrant for it in Rev. 6. 10. alſo that they thank God for their own and our redemption, Rev. 4. 9, 10. & 5. 9, 12, 13, 14.

C O.

Coal] put for, 1. Conſuming judgements, Pſal. 140. 10.

2. Good turnes inflaming the affections, Prov. 25. 22. Rom. 12. 20.

3. A Son, 2 Sam. 14. 7. It's kindled by another coal, as a contentious man kindleth ſtrife, Prov. 26. 21. Coals are profitable for Smiths, Iſa. 44. 12. & 54. 16. To warm us, Joh. 18. 18. To bake bread, Iſa. 44. 19. and broil fiſh, Joh. 21. 9. To preſerve and continue a fire, 2 Sam. 14. 7. Love or jealouſie is compared unto coals of fire, Cant. 8. 6. Thereby alſo are repreſented things exceeding hurtfull, Pſal. 18. 13, 14. Hab. 3. 5. Ezek. 24. 11. Prov. 6. 28, 29. Of all, the coals of Juniper, are moſt hot, and laſt longeſt, Pſal. 120. 4.

Coat] is either Civill, or Sacred. Civill, being either ſpeciall, as that mentioned, Iſa. 22. 21. A notable ſigne or mark of dignity: Or common, of which our Saviour meant, when he willed his Diſciples not to have two coats a piece, Luk. 9. 3. intimating, that they were to avoyd what might hinder them in the execution of their office. And having two, to impart unto him that had none, Luk. 3. 11. intimating, that of their goods they were to be liberall to the poor. And if any would ſue them at the Law, and take away their coat, to let them have their cloak alſo, Mat. 5. 40. Luk. 6. 29. intimating, that they were patiently to bear with injuries, be free from revenge. Sacred, as the Prieſts broidered coat, Exod. 28. 4. Lev. 16. 4. The Spouſes myſticall coat, Cant. 5. 3. Of coats, ſome were of one kinde, fathion, ſome of another; our Saviours was without ſeam, Joh. 19. 23.

Cockatrice] A ſerpent, of all others the moſt dangerous, both to man and beaſt. It's bred (according to ſome) of the egge of an old cock hatched by a toad or ſnake. On its head it hath riſings adorned with whitiſh ſpots, in the manner of a diadem; and in going lifteth up on high the former part of its body, as if it went upright. It's ſo venemous, that neither beaſts nor fowls dare touch its dead body, whereof if any ſhould eat, they die ſuddenly, as alſo of any creature by it poyſoned. It infecteth the ayre, trees, plants, hearbs, what not? It killeth by its breath, by its ſight. Such is the force of its poyſon, that the hand of him who toucheth it with a ſtaff is incurably infected; and if an horſe do but touch it, the rider dieth. It poyſoneth all other ſerpents, who ſeeing it, or hearing its hiſſing, flee ſpeedily away. It loveth not the light, but darkneſſe. Some ſay, that by ſeeing it ſelfe, it dieth; the Weaſell killeth it, eſpecially having eaten rue or hearb-a-grace, and then dyeth, as Chriſt by death vanquiſhed death. The Cock is alſo its enemy.

By Cockatrices may be underſtood, grievous enemies, Jer. 8. 17. Iſa. 14. 29.

To ſting like a Cockatrice, Prov. 23. 32. mar. is, to bring moſt pernicious and dangerous evils.

By the Cockatrice egges may be underſtood, the extreme malice of the wicked, Iſa. 59. 5.

By the Childes putting his hand on the Cockatrice Den, Iſa. 11. 8. is meant, either that the wicked after their converſion ſhall not be harmfull as before; or, that the godly ſhal be preſerved in the greateſt dangers.

Cock] Hereof all the Evangeliſts make mention, where they mention Peters deniall, Mat. 26. 74. Mar. 14. 30. Luk. 22. 60. Joh. 18. 27. It's a proud fowl, and carryeth himſelf ſtately. It's much dejected when vanquiſhed by another; when victorious, triumpheth: When it goeth in at any place, it ſtoopeth, be the entrance never ſo high. It's of an hot nature, libidinous, jealous, careful and watchfull of its young ones, for whom it will fight againſt kites, ſnakes, &c. Upon the ſight whereof it giveth them warning by his voyce to look to themſelves. It naturally knoweth the approach of the day, and thereof giveth warning once and again; which time is termed the Cock-crowing, Mar. 13. 35. Hereby it inciteth men to riſe to work, as Gods Miniſters muſt call men to repent, in reſpect of the approaching day of Judgement. And as the Cock put Peter in minde of his fall, ſo muſt Miniſters their people of their ſins. And as the Cock before it croweth rouſeth it ſelfe, and clappeth with his wings, ſo muſt Gods Miniſters, being to preach unto others, firſt ſtir up, reform themſelves; manifeſt by their works, what their doctrine calleth for. They ſeem to be called ἀλέκτορες, as if it were ἀπολέκτορες, as calling men and women from their beds. The Cock-crowing awaketh the ſleeper, warneth the carefull, terrifieth the thief, comforteth and gladdeth the ſick, them that are in pain, travellers, mariners, &c. It's alſo ſaid to foreſee tempeſts and change of weather. Travellers carrying a Cock along with them, are preſerved from Lyons and Baſilisks. It's alſo laborious and induſtrious, and valorous in fight, doing what it can to obtain the victory. Its brain taken in drink is ſaid to be good againſt the biting of ſerpents. Its crowing is more vehement and ſhrill at firſt (moſt being then aſleep) then neer day, or when it's day light, when good husbands are awake: even when it feedeth, with the one eye it looks upward, to prevent the hawk, kite, &c. As the Cock preferred a barley corn before a pearl, ſo do worldlings their mammon before heaven.

Cold] Such as be ſcarce indifferent, but meer careleſſe in matters of God, and of their owne ſalvation. Rev. 3. 15. I would ye were either hot or cold.

Cold put for, 1. That ſeaſon of the yeer wherein it's uſually cold, Gen. 8. 22.

The star, Mat. 2. 9. The light, Joh. 3. 19. The winde, Job 1. 19. A voyce, Mar. 9. 7. Floods, Mat. 7. 25. Luk. 6. 48. A vessell, Act. 11. 5. Peace, Mat. 10. 13. Faith, Gal. 3. 23. Good, Rom. 3. 8. Blessings, Deut. 33. 16. The day of Judgment, Mat. 24. 14. Apostasie, 2 Thess. 2. 3. The Kingdome of God, Luk. 11. 2. The marriage of the Lamb, Rev. 19. 7. Time, Luk. 22. 7. Joh. 4. 23. Wickednesse, Lam. 1. 22. Jonah 1. 2. This word is also used both in inciting and counselling unto wickednesse, Gen. 19. 32. In inviting unto the participation of kindnesses, Numb. 10. 29. In rebuking or railing, 2 Sam. 16. 7. In provoking one another, 2 King. 14. 8. as to set forth some strange extraordinary matter, Judg. 4. 22. Rev. 6. 3. It's also put for happen, or befall, Prov. 26. 2. Return, Act. 1. 11. Ready prest, Psal. 40. 7. Arise, Numb. 24. 17. To be manifest, Rom. 7. 9.

To come out] To forsake all fellowship with the ungodly in their wicked manners, but especially with Idolaters and idolatry. 2 Cor. 6. 17. Come out from amongst them, and separate your selves. Rev. 18. 4. Come out of her my people. This is a spirituall separation only, when the bodily and locall separation cannot be had.

To come into the world] To be born of a woman, and by naturall birth from his mother to enter into this world, Joh. 1 9. Thus expounded by Christ, in Joh. 18. 37. For this cause was I born, and for this cause came I into the world.

He cometh] He shall come, after the manner of the Prophets, which for certainty use the present time when they speak of things to come, Jude 14.

Coming of Antichrist] His effectuall and mighty presence and working for some great hurt unto others. 1 Joh. 2. 18. Ye have heard that Antichrist shall come.

Note: Gods coming to men is to be taken according to the sense of men, when they perceive his divine presence and majesty so, as they plainly know they have to do with God, and are not deceived by their owne fancies, or Satans delusions, Gen. 20. 3.

Coming of Christ from the Father] Christ his being born Man, that he might live here, and do the work of a Mediator, by his obeying of the Law, and suffering the shamefull death of the Crosse, Joh. 15. 27, 28. I am come out from the Father, 1 Tim. 1. 15. This is a coming in infirmity and weaknesse.

Coming of Christ to the Father] His leaving the world, and going up to his Father. Joh. 17. 13. And now Father I come to thee. This is a coming in glory: As also his coming at the last day will be glorious.

Coming of Christ to us] The presence of his Spirit to convert us, that our hearts may be made his dwelling place, Rev. 3. 20. I will come in to him, Eph. 3. 17. Also the time of his coming, 1 Thes. 2. 13.

2. Giving new tokens of his spirituall presence, by comforting and strengthening us, and increasing his grace in us. Joh. 14. 18. I will not leave you fatherlesse, but will come unto you. Also vers. 23, 28. This is a coming in mercy and favour.

3. Executing his judgements against sin and sinners. Rev. 2. 15. Repent, or I will come unto thee, and fight against them. This is a coming in wrath.

4. The manifestation of him and his coming, Mat. 10. 23. Or his coming with wisdome to teach, power to work, and mercy to redeem.

Coming of Christ to us is threefold.

1. In nature, as Man; or God incarnate.
2. In grace, as the Saviour of Men.
3. In glory, as the Judge of Men.

Note that Christs coming is,

1. In shadows or ceremonies of the Law, and types of the Fathers, but not in the shape assumed.

2. In shape of a man assumed, but not in person, Josh. 5. 13. Exod. 3. 2. Dan. 3. 25.

3. In the person of another man, not his owne nature humane, 1 Pet. 3. 19.

4. In substance of his owne taken of the Virgin Mary, Joh. 1. 11, 15. 1 Joh. 5. 20. or to be incarnate.

Christs coming to us is distinguished by the manner thereof, or by 3 figures or parts of his journey from heaven.

First, he was in Leo, i. e. in the Law, thundring as a Lion that none could endure his voyce, Exod. 20. 10. then a Law-giver or Counsellour.

2. In Virgo, or in his incarnation or birth of the Virgin Mary, Mat. 1. 25. Speaking to us mildely, and by the way of mercy increating us, and his Father for us: Here he was a Mediateur.

3. In Libra, to weigh our works as in a ballance at the last day, Dan. 5. 27. & 7. 13, 14. Here he will be a Judge. Or according to the times:

1. Past,

1. Paſt, 2. Preſent, 3. To come. Or, according to the ends and faſhions of the ends. 1. Ad homines, 2. In homines, 3. Contra homines, Bernard. Serm. 3. de Advent. Dom. that is:

1. Ad homines, per ſui incarnationem, & noſtri redemptionem.

2. In homines, per Spiritus S. infuſionem, & noſtram regenerationem.

3 Contra homines, per gloriæ & poteſtatis ſuæ demonſtrationem, per bonorum glorificationem, & malorum condemnationem.

Coming of his Kingdome] The erecting, and enlarging, eſtabliſhing, and continuing of Gods Kingdome here on earth, Matt. 6. 10.

Our coming to Chriſt] Our beleeving in him. Joh. 6. 36. He that cometh to me ſhall never hunger, &c. Faith, as it is the mouth, hand, and eye; ſo it is alſo the foot of the ſoul, whereby we come unto Chriſt.

We come to God the Father by repentance of our ſins, and to God the Son by faith in him for the remiſſion of ſins, Mar. 1. 15. Act. 20. 21. Matt. 11. 28, 29. Mr. Downham in his Spirituall warfare.

Coming of Satan] His ſetting upon Chriſt with great power and ſubtilty. Joh. 14. 30. The Prince of this world comes and hath nought in me.

Comelineſſe] That which hath in it gravity and modeſty, and ſtirreth up to godlineſſe. 1 Cor. 14. 40. Let all things be done in comelineſſe.

1. Externall, applyed to a perſon, 1 Sam. 16. 18. Well going, Prov. 30. 29. The whole body, Dan. 10. 8. Some parts of the body, 1 Cor. 12. 24. The outward ſtate of a man, Iſa. 53. 2. The glory of a Kingdome, Ezek. 16. 14. The proportion of Leviathan or the Whale, Job 41. 12. A woman, Jer. 6. 2. Good, Eccleſ. 5. 18. marg. To give thanks, Pſal. 33. 1. & 147. 1.

2. Spirituall or myſticall, ſpoken of the Spouſe, Cant. 1. 5. Cheeks, Cant. 1. 10. Countenance, Cant. 2. 14. Speech, Cant. 4. 3. Jeruſalem, Cant. 6. 4. The excellent and pleaſant fruits of the appearance of Chriſt, Iſa. 4. 2.

Comfort] God, and he,

1. The Father, 2 Cor. 1. 3, 4.

2. The Son, Joh. 14. 16. 1 Joh. 2. 1, 2.

3. The holy Ghoſt, Joh. 14. 16, 26. & 16. 7.

2. Man.

1. A good comforter, 2 Cor. 1. 4. 1 Theſ. 4. 18.

2. A bad one, Job 14. 4.

The holy Scriptures, Rom. 15. 3. 1 Cor. 14. 3. Gods good creatures, Judg. 19. 5, 8. Gods Miniſters, 2 Cor. 1. 4. A good conſcience, Job 16. 10. The Church, Iſa. 66. 11. Chriſtians, 1 Theſſ. 5. 18.

It's taken properly for the ſtrengthening and encouraging of one in miſery, that he may not faint, 2 Cor. 13. 11.

Improperly, 1. For worldly goods, Luk. 6. 24.

2. Great joy, Act. 20. 12.

3. An aſſent or ſubmiſſion unto, or juſtifying, Ezek. 14. 22.

4. Allurement, Iſa. 66. 13.

5. Removall or appeaſing of grief, Gen. 38. 35.

6. Deliverance from trouble, Pſal. 71. 21.

7. Eternall life, Mat. 5. 4. Luk 6. 25.

8. Exhortation, 1 Theſſ. 5. 11. marg.

Command] To enjoyn, require, appoint, and ſend with power and authority, Pſal. 42. 8. & 148. 5. Act. 1. 2. Forbidden by commandement, Gen. 2. 16.

2. To order, decree, execute, as Iſa. 10. 6 2 Sam. 16. 11. Jer. 34. 22. God commandeth ſomething by his manifeſt will revealed in his Word, either univerſall to all, or ſingularly pertaining to ſome; or by his hidden will and ſecret providence.

Alſo to command, is effectually to procure a thing to be done, Gen. 50. 16.

This word comprehendeth, inſtruction, prediction, exhortation, conſolation, Mat. 11. 1. compared with chap. 10. 6, 17, 26, 40. Gen. 49. 33.

It's referred, firſt, To God, whoſe command extendeth to the earth, Pſal. 33. 9. Heavens, Pſal. 68. 5. His people, Exod. 34. 11. The adverſaries of the Church, Lam. 1. 17. Creatures, 2 Chr. 7. 13. Clouds, Iſa. 5. 6. Serpents, Amos 9. 3. Foul ſpirits, Mark 1. 27. And ſignifieth, 1. His authority and power over his creatures, Pſal. 148. 5.

2. His will and readyneſſe to help his owne children in their diſtreſſe, Pſal. 42. 8.

3. To enjoyn, appoint, charge, order or decree, Jer. 44. 22.

4. To require, or crave due obedience unto his laws, Deut. 11. 22.

5. To procure, or work, Pſal. 44. 4.

6. To give power, Job 36. 10.

7. Impoſe, Neh. 9. 14.

8. To reſtrain, Iſa. 5. 6.

9. To ſtabliſh, Pſal. 33. 9.

Gods commands are either common to all, as, To fear him, love him, &c. or particular to ſome, according to their callings and places.

Secondly, To Man, as parents their children, dren, Gen. 18. 19. & 50. 16. Maſters their ſervants, Gen. 42. 25. Governors their officers, Joſh. 1. 11. Kings their ſubjects, 2 Chr. 14. 4. Paſtors their people, 2 Theſſ. 3. 4, 6. It alſo ſignifieth bidding, or word, Job 39. 27.

To command a bleſſing] The ſending it effectually, Gen. 50. 16. Lev. 25. 21. Deut. 28. 23.

Commandement] Something given in charge: or the knowledge of the Law: or the Doctrine of Chriſt, Rom. 7. 8, 9. John 12. 50. Or, the whole Word, whereof no part but either directly or indirectly requireth ſomething, which is not in our choyce to doe, or not to doe, Pſal. 19. 8.

Note: That there be two ſorts of Commandements, one common to all, as to love God, and to practiſe righteouſneſſe, &c. Another particular to ſome onely, according to ſome particular gift and calling of God, as to ſell all, and give to the poor, and to live unmarried, &c. This latter the Fathers call a counſell, being indeed a precept.

Commandements are, 1. Of men, Iſa. 29. 13. Lawful, Gen. 45. 21. Unlawful, Act. 4. 18.

2. Of God, Mat. 15. 6. Naturall, Rom. 2. 14, 15. Morall, Exod. 20. Ceremoniall, Heb. 7. 16. Politicall, Exod. 21. 1, 31. Num. 27. 11. Of tryall onely, Gen. 22. 2. Jer. 35. 2, 5. Mat. 19. 21.

To commend] To praiſe another for virtues; and commit them of truſt to be pleaſured, Rom. 16. 1.

Alſo, To put in truſt with, Luk. 23. 46. To commit to, Act. 20. 32. To extoll, or prayſe, 2 Cor. 3. 1. & 10. 18. To make acceptable, 1 Cor. 8. 8. 2 Cor. 4. 2.

To commit] ſignifieth, 1. To entruſt to ones fidelity and care, 2 Tim. 2. 2.

2. To leave or reſigne ones ſelf, Pſa. 10. 14.

3. To put over, or leave a cauſe, 1 Pet. 2. 23.

4. To act or doe, as Sin, Lev. 4. 35. Treſpaſſe, Lev. 5. 7. Abomination, Lev. 20. 13. Lewdneſſe, Judg. 20. 6. Iniquity, Pſ. 106. 6. Whoredome, Lev. 20. 5. Fornication, 2 Chr. 21. 11. Falſehood, Hoſ. 7. 1. Adultery, Mat. 5. 27. Sacriledge, Rom. 2. 22. Evils, Jer. 2. 13. Villany, Jer. 29. 23. Tranſgreſſion, Ezek. 18. 22. Murther, Mar. 15. 7. Offence, 2 Cor. 11. 7.

5. To recommend, Pſal. 35. 1.

6. To credit with the diſpoſall of, Pſal. 37. 5. Prov. 16. 3.

7. To truſt or relie upon, Joh. 2. 24.

8. To bequeath or referre, Joh. 5. 22.

9. To commit unto ones charge, Gen. 39. 8. 22.

10. To give or enjoyn, 1 Tim. 1. 18.

11. To impriſon, Act. 8. 3.

12. To give charge of, Jer. 40. 7.

To commit the Goſpel] By authority and commandement to charge and enjoyn the preaching and publiſhing of the Goſpel to Jews and Gentiles two ſeveral people, but one Goſpel to be declared to both. Gal. 2. 7. The Goſpel of uncircumciſion was committed to mee. 1 Tim. 6. 20. The doctrine of Chriſt, as a gage, or pledge is delivered to Miniſters.

That which is committed to one] A gage, ſtake, or pledge put in truſt to be kept ſure and ſafe, either on Gods part to men: thus is the Doctrine of the Goſpel committed to the credit and truſt of Paſtors, 1 Tim. 6. 20. 2 Tim. 1. 14.

2. On our part to God, as the Saints by faith and hope, truſt God with their ſalvation. 2 Tim. 1. 13. He is able to keep what I have committed to him.

The ſouls and bodies of men, the naturall gifts and the artificiall qualities and ſpirituall graces thereof, are committed by God to men, to keep them for the ſervice of God.

Common] That which is common for the uſe of it, and not in poſſeſſion. Act. 4. 34. They had all things common, and gave to every man as he had need.

2. Unclean, polluted, unholy, and profane, Mat. 15. 11. Act. 10. 14. The word in the originall Text, is Coinon, and Coinoun, common, or to make common. Meats forbid by Levitical Law, be therefore called common, becauſe the profane Gentiles commonly eat thoſe meats which the Jews being an holy people, might not eat.

3. That which is uſuall and ordinary, as a common death, Numb. 16. 29. Common bread, 1 Sam. 21. 4. A common evill, Eccl. 6. 1. Common things, Jer. 31. 5. Common temptation, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

4. That which belongeth to all Gods children, as faith, Tit. 1. 4. Salvation, Jude 3. who have therein an equall intereſt.

5. Defiled, Mar. 7. 2.

6. Moderate, 1 Cor. 10. 13.

7. Unhallowed, free from the holy uſe, 1 Sam. 21. 4.

8. Profane, Jer. 31. 5.

Common hands] Unwaſhen hands, Mar. 7. 2.

Common ſalvation] That ſafety and freedome from ſin and eternall death, purchaſed by Chriſt: which is called common ſalvation, becauſe all the faithfull have equall intereſt in it. Jude 2. To write unto you of the common.

common Salvation: that is, (ſaith the Bible note) of the things which belong unto the ſalvation of us all.

Common-wealth] Civill ſociety ruled by the ſame Laws. And one common government tending to the weal and good of all the members of that body Politick.

2. The Church and people of Iſrael ſet apart for God by an holy Covenant, Eph. 2. 12.

Communicate] 1. To make knowne, Gal. 2. 2.

2. To give, beſtow, impart, Gal. 6. 6. Phil. 4. 14.

3. To diſtribute, 1 Tim. 6. 18.

4. To relieve the neceſſities of others, Heb. 13. 16.

To communicate] See Saints neceſſity, Alms, to Give, Bountifulneſſe.

Communication] Speech or talk, whereby we make our private thoughts common to others, Eph. 4. 29.

Good communication ſignifies ſuch talk as is wholeſome and bringeth benefits to others.

To commune] To talk together of ſome matter. Gen. 34. 6. To commune with him. Commonly in ſecret, 1 Sam. 18. 22. & 19. 3.

To queſtion, 1 King. 10. 2. Dan. 1. 19. To meditate within a mans ſelf as if he were conferring with another, Pſal. 4. 4. & 77. 6. It's ſpoken of God, Gen. 18. 33. Exod. 31. 18.

Communion] A fellowſhip or agreement, when divers join and partake together in one thing. 2 Cor. 6. 14, 16. What communion? what fellowſhip? what agreement?

2. A Sacrament or Sacred ſigne of our ſpirituall fellowſhip with Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 16. It is a ſacramentall Metonymie.

3. Agreement, 2 Cor. 6. 14. It's ſpoken of man with man, 1 Joh. 1. 7. Of man with God the Father and Son, 1 Joh. 1. 3. and holy Ghoſt, 2 Cor. 13. 13. Of the body and blood of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 16.

Communion with Chriſt] Our fellowſhip and partaking ſpiritually, and indeed, with Chriſt himſelf and all his merits, by faith, unto ſalvation. 1 Cor. 10. 16. The bread which we break, is it not the communion of his body? No wicked have communion with Chriſt (whatſoever our Papiſts affirm) otherwiſe then Sacramentally, by profeſſion, or in the opinion of the Church.

We have communion with Chriſt,

1. By Election in him.
2. By our kindred with his humanity.
3. By our participation of his Spirit.

Communion with God] God being one with him, or being united to him, as a childe to the father. 1 John 1. 3. If ye walk in the light, ye have communion with God.

Our communion with God is,

1. To ſee him in his works.
2. To hear him in his Word.
3. To ſpeak to him in prayer and praiſe.
4. To walk with him in meditation of his preſence.

Communion of Saints] The fellowſhip which the Saints have with Chriſt and all his benefits by faith, and among themſelves by love, which makes all their gifts touching the uſe, common to every one. 1 Joh. 1. 4. That ye may have communion with us, and that alſo our communion may be with the Father, and with his Son Jeſus Chriſt. The Papiſts do untruely reſtrain this communion to ſociety with their Church, which is no true Church.

This communion is both Active and Paſſive, that is, it conſiſteth both of doing good, and again receiving good, one to and from another.

There be divers ſorts of it, of which ſee ſome, Act. 4. 32.

1. In doctrine or belief. Gal. 2. 9. Act. 2. 42. Phil. 3. 16. Rom. 15. 5, 6. 1 Cor. 1. 10.
2. In exhortation, Heb. 10. 24, 25.
3. In conſolation, Eph. 5. 19. 1 Theſ. 4 18.
4. In humility or ſubmiſſion, Rom. 12. 10. Eph. 5. 21.
5. In love, Rom. 12, 10. Col. 2. 14.
6. In pity, Rom. 12. 16.
7. In prayer, Eph. 6. 18, 19. Jam. 5. 14, 16.
8. In helping and relieving one another, Act. 2. 42. & 4. 32, 34, 35. Rom. 15. 26. 2 Cor. 8. 4. Gal. 6. 10. Heb. 13. 16.

Communion of the Spirit] The fellowſhip which the faithfull have in the ſame graces and works of the Spirit. Phil. 2. 1. If any fellowſhip of the Spirit. 2 Cor. 13. 13. The communion of the holy Ghoſt be with you all.

2. The fellowſhip which all the godly have by means of the ſame graces of the Spirit, with God the Father and the Son, and ſo conſequently with the Spirit, as 1 Cor. 6. 17. Joh. 17. 21, 22, 23. 1 Cor. 12. 27. & 6. 15, 17, 19. 1 Joh. 1. & 2 Cor. 13. 13. Where the fellowſhip of the holy Ghoſt with the godly (not the fellowſhip of him with the Father and the Son, nor of one godly man with another) is meant: for 1. It is ſaid, be with you. 2. Becauſe the grace of Chriſt, and love of the Father is with them.

To company] To keep fellowſhip and be familiar familiar with, Act. 1. 21. & 10. 28. 1 Cor. 5. 9, 11. 2 Theſſ. 3. 14. The words, Nations, Iſhmaelites, Prophets, Horſes, Armies, Prieſts, People, &c. added unto Company, make known the meaning of the ſeveral phraſes.

Companion] Taken 1. for a familiar friend, Judg. 15. 2.

2. Fiſhers, Job 41. 6.

3. Counterfeit Teachers, Hirelings, and falſe Prophets, which in their pride advance themſelves to be companions to Chriſt in office of Teaching, Cant. 1. 7.

4. To uſe the company of, or to be converſant with, Pſal. 119. 63. Prov. 13. 20. Iſa. 1. 23.

5. A confederate, or bound by ſome ſpecial covenant, Mal. 2. 14.

6. A Co-partner or fellow in any condition, as travell, Act. 19. 29. Labour, Phil. 2. 25. Sufferings, Heb. 10. 33. Tribulation, Rev. 1. 9. Office or counſell, Ezr. 4. 7.

To compaſſe] put for, 1. To crowne, Pſal. 5. 12.

2. To ſtand round about, Pſal. 7. 7.

3. To offer large ſacrifice, Pſa. 26. 6.

4. Every way to cauſe joy, Pſal. 32. 7.

5. To beſiege round, Luk. 19. 43.

6. Clothed, Heb. 5. 2.

7. Plentifully furniſhed, Heb. 12. 7.

A woman ſhall compaſſe a man] Either that the Church of God (which is compared to a woman or barren widow, as Iſa. 54. 1.) though ſhe were ſpoyled of her own children for her rebellions, yet as a widow or barren woman ſhould compaſſe a man, and have ſons and daughters elſewhere: Or elſe that a Virgin ſhould conceive and bear a man in her wombe, which is a ſtrange thing in earth, one to be born of a woman without a man. Jer. 31. 22. See Geneva's notes and Trem.

Compaſſion] Suffering together, when two or three feel the ſame grief: and properly, it is that motherly compaſſion, pitifulneſſe, feeling, and grieving for the miſery of her childe, Iſa. 49. 15. This is naturall compaſſion.

2. (Being referred to God) The mercifull nature of God, infinitely inclined to pity and ſuccour the miſeries of his creature, namely, of his elect. Pſal. 103. 13. The Lord hath compaſſion on them that fear him. 2 Cor. 1. 4. God of all compaſſions. This is divine compaſſion.

3. (Being referred to men) The natural pity or fellow-feeling which Chriſtians have of each others miſery, as if they ſuffered together. Luk. 10. 33. When he ſaw him he had compaſſion on him. Heb. 13. 2. Remember them that are in bonds, as if your ſelves were in bonds. This is Chriſtian compaſſion.

As the Lord is full of compaſſion, Pſ. 86 15. and it's according to the multitude of his mercies, Lam. 3. 22. abſolute and free, Rom. 9. 15. So it's diverſly made known; as, by multiplying a Nation, Deut. 13. 17. By reducing a people from baniſhment, Deu. 30. 3. By giving them favour in the eyes of them that led them away captive, 1 King. 8. 50. By delivering them from their enemies, 2 King. 13. 23. By ſending his Meſſengers or Miniſters unto them, 2 Chr. 36. 15. By forgiving their iniquities, Pſal. 78. 38. So Chriſt did ſympathize with others in their miſery, Mat. 9. 36. & 14. 14. Mar. 1. 41. & 5. 19. & 9. 22, 25. Heb. 5. 2. So the primitive Chriſtians did, Heb. 10. 34. All ſhould, 1 Pet. 3. 8.

To compell] To enforce or offer bodily violence. Luk. 14. 23. Compell them to come in. 2 Chr. 21. 11.

2. With vehement and earneſt perſwaſions to overcome one. Luk. 24. 29. They compelled him, ſaying. 1 Sam. 28. 23.

3. By ones example, credit, and authority to draw others to do as he doth. Gal. 2. 14. Why compelleſt thou the Gentiles?

4. By pretext of publick authority and power to drive and conſtrain ſome to doe ſomewhat which is not equall and reaſonable. Mat. 5. 41. If any compell thee to goe a mile, &c. Of the originall word Angareuo came the Latine word Angari, who among the Perſians (as Eraſmus and Budæus noteth) were ſuch as Poſts be here in England, ſaving that the Perſian Angari were not limited to ſtages and ſtations as ours be; alſo they might take either men, or ſhips, or horſes for diſpatch of publick buſineſſe, to bear burdens, or to run in haſte about errands and meſſages. Theſe under colour of their office, and in the name of the Prince, would wrong and vex men; whereupon, by a Synecdoche, any unjuſt vexation by ſhew of authority, is here meant.

5. Through neceſſity to thruſt one upon a buſineſſe, Lev. 25. 39. 2 Cor. 12. 11.

6. To ſtrive by all means to draw one unto God, Luk. 14. 23.

To complain] Taken for, 1. To murmur or grudge, Numb. 11. 1. Jude 16.

2. To make known ones grief, Judg. 21. 22.

3. To lament or make moan becauſe of ſin, Lam. 3. 39. This is at ſome time very great, Job 23. 1. Pſal. 55. 2. Pſal. 102. 1. & 142. 2.

& 142.2. at ſome time forged, Act. 25. 7.

Compleat] Full, whole, or perfect. Epheſ. 6. 11. Put on the compleat or whole armor, &c.

To comprehend] To reach unto a thing, to lay hold on it, to perceive, or acknowledge. Joh. 1. 5, 10. They comprehended it not. Phil. 3. 12. That I may comprehend that, &c.

2. To contain or hold all, Iſa. 40.8. This is the primary ſignification.

3. To be concluded, fulfilled, contained, Rom. 13. 9.

To be comprehended of Chriſt] To be laid hold on by Chriſt, ſhewing us the way to heaven, and giving ſtrength to walk in it. Phil. 3.12. I am comprehended of Chriſt.

Conceal] To keep hid, not to utter, divulge, or make knowne, Deut. 13. 8. Spoken of God, Prov. 25. 2. Of a prudent man, Prov. 12. 23.

Conceit] To be wiſe in a mans owne conceit, is to think too high of himſelf, to exalt and prefer himſelfe above others, prohibited, Rom. 12. 16. Dangerous, Prov. 26. 5, 12.16. and 28. 11.

Conceibe] Be capable to have, or have children, Numb. 5. 28. Deviſe or reſolve, Jer. 49. 30. Applyed to miſchief, Job 15.35. Iſa. 59. 4. To chaffe, Iſa. 33.11. Spoken of women, Gen. 4. 1. & 25. 21. 1 Sam. 1. 20. Cattell, Gen. 31. 10. A virgin, Iſa. 7. 14. Luſt, Jam. 1. 15. So, there's both a natural, a ſupernaturall, and a ſinfull conception.

Conceibed in ſin] That his ſin (to wit, originall ſin) was conceived and born with him, Pſal. 52. 7. Eph. 2. 3.

Conciſion] Thoſe falſe Teachers (whom he called Dogs for barking againſt the truth of the Goſpel) to be of the circumciſed Jews, who boaſting of circumciſion and the law, made a conciſion, or a rent and ſchiſm, cutting themſelves and others from the Church, whileſt they aſcribed ſalvation unto circumciſion and works of Moſes law. Phil. 3. 2. Beware of Dogs, beware of conciſion. Paul writeth thus by an elegant alluſion unto circumciſion.

Conclude] Taken for, 1. To determine and reſolve, Act. 21.25.

2. To infer, hold for certain, or be undoubtedly perſwaded of, Rom. 3.28.

3. To finiſh or end, Eccl. 12. 13.

4. To encloſe or ſhut up together, Gal. 3.22

Concord] Agreement of heart and affections, when being many we have one heart and the ſame love. 2 Cor. 6. 17. What concord, &c. 1 Cor. 1. 10.

It's to be in an houſe, Prov. 17. 1. Among Brethren, Pſal. 133. 1. In politick affaires, 2 Sam. 19. 14. Iſa. 11, 13. Act. 12.20. In eccleſiaſtical, Joſh. 22.12. Ezr. 3.1. Acts 15.25. In religious duties, Deut. 31. 12. Neh. 8. 1. Acts 1.14. In charitableneſſe, Acts 4. 32. In a ſpirituall condition, Iſa. 11.6, 7, 8. & 65.25. Jer. 32. 39. Yea, there is concord even in evil, Acts 18. 12. & 19.29. Rev. 17.13.

Concubines] Women, which were as it were Half-wives, as the Hebrew word ſignifies, 1 Kings 11.3. And three hundred Concubines.

Note: The Hebrew Pilegeſh, in Greek Pallakis, Pellex in Latine, ſignifieth a Concubine, which is an Half-wife; ſhe was a Wife for the bed, & therein differing from a whore; but not for honor and government of the family, as Solomons Wives were Princeſſes, but his Concubines not ſo, 1 Kings 11. 3. Alſo, children of Concubines had ordinarily no inheritance, but gifts of their father, as Gen. 25.5, 6. Such were Agar, Keturah, Bilhah, Zilphah, and others. And were employed to ſervile works, 2 Sam. 15. 16.

Concupiſcence] The pravity and naughtines of our nature, luſting after things forbidden of God. Jam. 1.14. But every man is tempted when he is drawn away by his own concupiſcence. This is our originall Concupiſcence, which is the fountain and root of all wicked luſts and deſires, and of all ſins whatſoever, being it ſelf alſo a ſin properly, even after Baptiſme, in the regenerate; contrary to the Papiſts, who deny this. See Rom. 7.7. Alſo, Rom. 7. 14, 15, 16, 17, &c.

2. Evill deſires and motions ſpringing from the root of this natural concupiſcence, whether they be conſented to or not. Rom. 7.8. Wrought in me all manner of concupiſcence. This is Actuall concupiſcence, which is either unvoluntary, as the firſt motions before conſent of will; or voluntary, when conſent of will cometh to the motion. Both the one and the other, be properly ſin, becauſe they be the tranſgreſſion of the Law, hindering that perfect love of God and of our Neighbor, commanded in the Law, and drawing us to things contrary to the Law, Rom. 7. 15, 16, 17, 22, 23, &c.

Condemnation, or condemning] The pronouncing of the ſentence of puniſhment upon any malefactor by ſome Judge. John 8. 10. Hath no man condemned thee? This may be done either juſtly or unjuſtly, Pro. 17. 15.

Note: Chriſt being no civil judge would not condemn the woman (taken in adultery) to civill puniſhment. But if ſhe had been been for her adultery condemned, he would not have acquitted her, becauſe therein he ſhould have been contrary to his Father, and others by impunity of the offendour might have been drawn to like lewdneſſe.

2. A pronouncing of ſinners guilty, and adjudging them to puniſhment upon the conviction of a fault. Rom. 8. 34. God juſtifieth, who ſhall condemn? Rom. 8. 1. There is no condemnation to them which are in Chriſt; that is, they are freed from the damnatory ſentence of the Law, pronouncing a curſe to every ſin: Alſo the cauſe and matter of damnation, Joh. 3. 19.

3. The puniſhment it ſelfe, whereunto one is adjudged and condemned. 1 Cor. 11. 32. Becauſe we ſhould not be condemned with the world.

4. The aboliſhing a thing, and utterly taking it away, as if it were not. Rom. 8. 3. Condemned ſin in the fleſh. 1 Pet. 4. 6.

5. Pronouncing of a ſentence or cenſure, uncharitably, or raſhly, of other mens perſons and doings. Luk. 6. 37. Condemn not, and ye ſhall not be condemned, Rom. 14. 4.

6. The convicting or reproof of ones wickedneſſe and fault, by the good example of another, or by words. Thus the Ninevites ſhall condemn the obſtinate Jews, Mat. 12. 41, 42. Rom. 2. 27. Shall condemn thee, &c. Thus Paul condemned not Peters perſon eternally, but his ſinfull fact in diſſembling, Gal. 2. 11.

Referred to God, it ſignifyeth his abhorring, diſliking and puniſhing the wicked, 1 Kings 8. 32. Prov. 12. 2.

To Chriſt, his taking away and aboliſhing of ſin by his death, Rom. 8. 3.

To Men, ſignifying alſo, To teſtifie or bear witneſſe againſt, Mat. 12. 41. Convince, Job 9. 20. Judge, Luk. 6. 37.

To a mans ſelfe, by judging another, Rom. 2. 1.

To our own hearts, 1 Joh. 3. 21.

Note: That in all civill Courts, there were alwaies preſent,

1. The ſupreme Judge, whoſe leave was craved for the tryall of actions.

2. The Witneſſes, who were at leaſt two, Deut. 19. 15, 19.

3. The Notaries, whereof the one ſtood on the right hand, to write the ſentence of abſolution, and what was ſpoken in defence of the party; the other on the left hand, to the contrary end.

4. The Officers, who carryed up and down their ſtaves and whips, to execute what the Judges determined.

5. The Pleader ſtood on the right hand, whether he pleaded for or againſt the party, Pſal. 119. 31. Zech. 3. 1. Hereunto alluſion is made, 1 Joh. 2. 1.

The manner of ſentencing perſons varyed in moſt Countreys.

The Jews by a ſimple pronunciation of Sentence, (as, Thou N. art juſt, Thou N. art guilty) both abſolved and condemned them.

The Romanes gave ſentence by caſting in tables into a certain box or urn prepared for the purpoſe: If they abſolved any, they wrote the letter A. in the table, it being the firſt letter of Abſolvo; if they condemned any, the letter C. the firſt of Condemno.

Among the Grecians, Condemnation was ſignified by giving a black ſtone; Abſolution, by giving a white ſtone. To this laſt, there ſeemeth to be an alluſion, Rev. 2. 17. To him that overcometh I will give a white ſtone; that is, I will abſolve and acquit him in the day of Judgement. See Goodwyn's Moſes and Aaron, lib. 5. p. 231.

Great condemnation] More ſevere puniſhment to belong to ſevere arrogant cenſurers of others mens faults, neglecting their own. Jam. 3. 1. We ſhall receive greater condemnation. Mark here, that there is difference of puniſhments, as there is an inequality of faults.

2. Whereas he takes himſelf into the number of proud reprehenders, (Wee) It is firſt to ſhew, that he would not ſet a Law to others, to which he would not binde himſelfe: And ſecondly, becauſe no man is wholly free from this diſeaſe of judging others: unto whoſe arrogancy the Apoſtle in verſ. 13. oppoſeth meekneſſe of wiſdome.

Confederacy] A league or agreement between perſons or people at peace together, Obad. 7. Taken in good part, Gen. 14. 13. Iſa. 7. 2. In ill, Pſal. 83. 5. Acts 23. 21.

It is either of peace for traffique ſake, or of amity; alſo, for mutuall offence and defence: the former may be made even with Infidels, and thoſe of a contrary Religion, as between Abraham and Abimelech, between Iſraelites and Kenites: the latter may not be contracted, but with Chriſtian Princes. Obad. 7. The men of thy Confederacy, Iſa. 8. 18.

To confeſſe] To acknowledge us as his own: Thus Chriſt will confeſſe the faithful at the day of Judgement. Luk. 12. 8. Him ſhall the Son of man confeſſe before the Angels.

2. To teſtifie or bear witneſſe of one, plainly and ſincerely. Joh. 1. 10. John confeſſed and denyed not, ſaying, I am not that Chriſt.

Luk. 12. 8. He that confesseth me before men. Thus we confesse Christ.

3. To utter and speak forth ones prayse, or to give thanks. Heb. 13. 15. Offer to God the calves of your lips, confessing his Name; that is, acknowledge his benefits and give him thanks for them. And in the Psalms very often, to confesse God is put for to prayse God, Psa. 6. 5. Isa. 12. 1.

This duty of confessing God, was figured by the shaking of things offered to and fro before the Lord, which signified the shaking of our lips in confessing and giving of thanks; as appeareth by the words of Hosea, and by Heb. 13. 15, 16.

4. Frankly and boldly to tell forth what we hold and beleeve in matter of Religion. Rom. 10. 10. With the mouth man confesseth to Salvation.

5. To lay open our sins and offences, either unto God in private or publick confessions; or to our Neighbour whom we have wronged; or to some godly persons, at whose hands we look to receive comfort, being cast down by some grievous sin: or finally, to the whole Congregation, when our fault is publick. 1 Joh. 1. 9. We confesse our sins. Psal. 32. 5. I said I will confesse my sins. Matt. 3. 6. Jam. 5. 16.

6. To acknowledge a crime before a Judg. Josh. 7. 19. Confesse what thou hast done.

Touching Popish confessing of our particular sins, distinctly for number and circumstances every year in the ears of a Massing-Priest, upon necessity of salvation, there is no one word in all the Book of God. For it is a meer device invented for the advancement of the apostatical See of Rome.

2. Confession of evill things, viz. our sins;

1. To God, as him whom we have offended, who knoweth our sins, can pardon us, or else will punish us if we refuse to confesse, Psal. 32. 5, 6. 1 Joh. 1. 9.

2. To our Neighbor hurt by us, who else complaining to God, shall have him to revenge his quarrell: and thus man can and must forgive so much of the offence as is done against him; if his adversary repent, and confesse, and seek pardon, Luk. 17. 4. Mat. 5. 23, 24.

3. To the Minister of God, or to some godly person, that pitying the sinners case, can and will give him spirituall advice against his sin, pray for him, and by his authority pronounce absolution to him. For if the Physitian be sought for health, and the Lawyer consulted with for wealth, shall the Minister be neglected in case of salvation? Job 53. 23, &c.

Referred to Christ. In respect of himselfe, signifying his profession or testimony which he gave unto the truth, 1 Tim. 6. 13. In respect of us, his acknowledgement of us as his owne, Rev. 3. 5.

Referred to Man. In respect of God, signifying,

1. To set forth his prayse and be thankful to him.

2. To pray unto him, Rom. 10. 10, 13.

In respect of Christ, signifying our reall and true acknowledgement of Christ to be the Son of God, the Saviour of the world, 1 Joh. 4 15.

In respect of our selves, signifying the acknowledging and laying open of our sins, whether in publick, Neh. 9. 2, 3. or private, Dan. 9. 20. Whereunto we are encouraged, Prov. 28. 13. 1 Joh. 1. 9.

In respect of others, either when we doe plainly and sincerely bear witnesse unto the truth, Joh. 1. 10. or acknowledge the wrongs and injuries which we have done them, Jam. 5. 16. Or, make known our sins to Gods Ministers, to testifie our repentance, and receive spirituall instruction from them, Mat. 3. 6. It must be also to Magistrates when called thereunto, Josh. 7. 19.

To confesse and deny not] To make a most plain and sincere confession. Joh. 1. 20. The affirming of a thing joyned with a contrary negation, and a repetition (as it is here) argueth the ingenuity and evidence of the speaker, to teach us that in maintenance of the truth, especially when Gods glory is called into question, whether it appertain to us, we cannot deal too plainly.

To confesse Judah] To praise him, Gen. 49. 8. Meaning that his Brethren should acknowledge the dignity of the first born in respect of government, and that Christ the King should come of him, 1 Chr. 5. 2. Heb. 7. 14.

Confession] Profession, or declaration either of the truth of Doctrine, or of the Innocency of his person. 1 Tim. 6. 13. Who before Pontius Pilate witnessed a good confession.

2. Invocation or prayer unto God by Christ, and all other works of Religion. Rom. 10. 10. With the mouth man confesseth to salvation. This is expounded of prayer, v. 13.

It must not be verball, Exod. 9. 27. Enforced, 2 Sam. 15. 24. Desperate, Mat. 27. 3. Confession to God, is of, A man himselfe, Psal. 32. 5. A Father for his children, Job 1. 5. A Magistrate for those under his authority, Neh. 1. 6. Dan. 9. 10. Exod. 30. 3. A

Ministers

Miniſters for their people, Luk. 26. 40. And muſt be with knowledge of ſin, Jer. 2. 23. Conſideration of that which is done, Jer. 8. 6. Humiliation, 2 Chr. 7. 14. Accepting of puniſhment for ſin, Lev. 26. 41. A particularizing of ſins, Lev. 5. 5. 1 Sam. 12. 19. Prayer, Exod. 32. 32. Faith, Dan. 9. 14. Forſaking of ſin, Prov. 28. 13.

Confidence] A ſetled perſwaſion with boldneſſe, without fear, or wavering. It's put for ſuccour, 2 King. 18. 19. Hope, Job 4. 6. That whereupon one reſteth and truſteth unto, Jer. 48. 13. Safety, Ezek. 28. 26. Perſwaſion, 2 Cor. 2. 3. Aſſurance, 2 Cor. 8. 22. Reſolution, or a reſolved purpoſe, 2 Cor. 10. 2. Setled reſolution, Eph. 3. 12. Boldneſſe or liberty, Phil. 1. 20. Undauntedneſſe, Heb. 3. 6. Free profeſſion, Heb. 10. 35.

Confidence, muſt not be put in fine gold, Job 31. 24. Men, Pſa. 118. 8. Princes, Ib. 9. The ſtrength of a City, Prov. 21. 22. An unfaithfull man, Prov. 25. 19. Ægypt, Jer. 2. 37. Bethel, Jer. 48. 13. A guide, Mic. 7. 5. The fleſh, Phil. 3. 3. (Such confidence ſhall be rooted out, Job 18. 14. is puniſhable, Job 31. 28. Argueth ones folly, Prov. 14 16. is deceitfull, Prov. 25. 19. is rejected of God, Jer. 2. 37.) but it muſt be put in the Lord, Pſal. 65. 5. Pro. 3. 26. 2 Theſſ. 3. 4. 1 Joh. 3. 21. Wee may alſo upon good grounds have confidence, be well perſwaded and aſſured of Gods children, 2 Cor. 2. 3. & 7. 16. & 8. 22. Gal. 5. 10. Philem. 21. There's a ſelfe-confidence without ground, Pro. 14. 16. Rom. 2. 19.

Confident] Bold in an holy aſſurance of Gods love in Chriſt, promiſed in the Goſpel. 2 Cor. 5. 6, 8. We are alwayes confident.

Confirm] To ſtrengthen or make ſtrong. 1 Pet. 5. 10. Confirm and ſtrengthen you.

2. To perfect or finiſh a thing. Pſal. 68. 28. Confirm (O GOD) the thing that thou haſt wrought in us.

3. To perform ſome word or promiſe. 1 Cor. 1. 6. The teſtimony of Jeſus hath been confirmed in you; that is, truely performed unto you, by beſtowing the gifts of the holy Ghoſt which were promiſed before.

Taken for, 1. To ratifie, or make ſure, Ruth 4. 7.

2. To fill up, or back, 1 King. 1. 14.

3. To ſtrengthen, or make ſtrong, Iſa. 35. 3.

4. To perfect or finiſh, Pſal. 68. 28.

5. To refreſh, Pſal. 68. 9.

6. To approve or aſſent unto, Deut. 27. 26.

7. To ſetele or eſtabliſh, 1 Chr. 14. 2.

8. To renew or make known, 2 Cor. 2. 8.

9. To perform, Pſal. 105. 10.

10. To encourage, or make more conſtant, Act. 15. 32.

11. To ſettle, 1 King. 14. 5.

12. To make good, Rom. 15. 8.

13. To prove ſoundly, Act. 9. 22.

14. To aſſure, 2 Sam. 7. 24.

Confirmation] is a work of the Spirit, ſtrengthening faint and weak mindes in faith and obedience unto the end. 1 Pet. 5. 10. The God of all grace confirm and ſtrengthen you. God confirmeth, as Author or efficient cauſe of ſtrength : the Word, Sacraments and Miniſters confirm as inſtruments and helps. Luke 22. 32. Being converted, confirm thy Brethren. A man confirmes himſelf when he takes heart to him in a good cauſe, upon hope of Gods help, 1 Cor. 16. 13. Example in David, 1 Sam. 37. 34, 45. No ground in Scripture for the popiſh Sacrament of Confirmation, which is a device of their own brain.

To confirm the promiſes of God] To make it evidently appear unto men, that God who promiſed to ſend his Son unto the Jews, was faithfull and true, becauſe in fulneſſe of time he did ſend him, Rom. 15. 8. The promiſes of God are in themſelves moſt firm and ſtable, as heaven and earth, ſo they be unmovable and conſtant : they are ſaid to be confirmed in reſpect of men ; whoſe faith being weak and full of doubts, had need to be holpen and ſtrengthened : not Gods promiſes, but mens unbeleef is feeble. Alſo note further, that the utmoſt and remote end of Chriſt his coming into the world, in reſpect of God, is to have the glory of his truth; but the neereſt end in regard of men, is their ſalvation.

To confound] 1. To put one unto ſhame by ſome publick puniſhment, and ſometimes quite and utterly to deſtroy and root one out. Pſal. 31. 1. I have put my truſt in thee, let me not be confounded. Pſal. 22. 5. They truſted in thee and were not confounded; that is, they were not forſaken and put to utter rebuke and ſhame before men.

2. To deſtroy or break to pieces, Jer. 1. 17.

3. To amaze, aſtoniſh, or trouble in minde, Act. 2. 6.

4. To trouble, terrifie, or put to ſilence, Act. 9. 22.

5. To diſorder or mingle together, Gen. 11. 7. Act. 19. 32.

6. To overthrow with a conſumption, Pſal. 71. 13.

7. To put to rebuke, Pſal. 22. 5.

8. To make aſhamed, 1 Cor. 1. 27.

9. To make haſte, 1 Pet. 2. 6. compared with Iſa. 28. 16.

Confuſion] Affection of ſhame, which appears in the countenance, by bluſhing or changing of the colour. Dan. 9. 7. Unto us confuſion of face, or open ſhame, &c.

2. The caſting down of the conſcience before God and man for ſome ſin. Pſ. 119. 6. Then ſhall no confuſion come unto me.

3. Perverting of order and peace: or diſorder. 1 Cor. 14. 33. God is not the Author of confuſion.

4. Deſtruction, Pſal. 31. 4.

5. Overthrow, 1 Sam. 20. 30.

6. An evill deſerving confuſion and deſtruction, Lev. 18. 23. & 20. 12.

7. Reproach and diſhonour, Jer. 3. 25.

8. Tumultuous concourſe without due order, Act. 19. 29.

9. Tumult and unquietneſſe, Jam. 3. 16.

Congregation] A multitude or an aſſembly met together, whether, 1. Of a whole Nation, as of all the Children of Iſrael, Exod. 16. 1. (whereof ſome were elders, Lev. 4. 15. Renowned, Numb. 1. 16. Chief, Num. 4. 34. Rulers, Exod. 16. 22. Famous, Num. 16. 2. & 26. 9. Chief Fathers, Ibid. 31. 16. The reſt, ſuch as were under them, termed, The Congregation of the Lord, Numb. 16 3. who though they were by themſelves accounted holy, Ib. yet are they called an evill generation, Numb. 14. 35.) So of Judah, 2 Chr. 30. 25.

Or, 2. of an aſſembly and ſacred meeting in one place to worſhip God, Neh. 8. 2. Acts 13 43. The Church, Pſal. 74. 2, 19. The Saints, Pſal. 89. 5. The righteous, Pſa. 1. 5.

Or, 3. of the meeting of the wicked, as hypocrites, Job 15. 34. Evill doers, Pſal. 26. 5.

Or, 4. of Magiſtrates, Pſal. 82. 1.

Or, 5. of the dead, Prov. 21. 16. Whereby may be underſtood, that he ſhall then leave his wandering, when death ſhall ſeiſe on him.

By the Mount of the Congregation, Iſa. 14. 13. underſtand, Gods owne ſeat, alluding unto Mount Sion where God was worſhipped.

Coniah], The ſtrength or ſtability of the Lord. The Son of Jehoiakim, Jer. 22. 24. called Jeconiah, 1 Chr. 3. 16.

Conaniah] The ſame. A Levite, 2 Chro. 31. 12, 13.

Conie] Legally unclean, Lev. 11. 5. Commended for its wiſdome, Pro. 30. 24, 26. For which the rock is a refuge, Pſa. 104. 18. Their young (as it's ſaid) ſee not till they be nine dayes old, neither will their Dam willingly ſuckle them, untill ſhe hath been with the Buck. The female loveth procreation, and having young will not couple, for which the male killeth them (if not warily prevented) to provoke the female to copulation. It's a melancholy creature, a Lover of darkneſſe, and therefore diggeth holes in the ground, whither it runneth, when hunted. They are very fruitfull, and by undermining, have brought Cities to ruine.

Conquerour] Worldly, Iſa. 14. 16, 17. Spirituall, Rom. 8. 37. Jeſus Chriſt, Joh. 16. 33. The Saints, 1 Joh. 2. 13, 14.

Conſcience] 1. The knowledge of our duties, Rom. 2. 15.

2. The knowledge of our owne doings, whether good or evill; or the witneſſes of our owne mindes and ſoules, either for or againſt our ſelves, Acts 23. 1. Heb. 13. 18.

3. The peace of conſcience, or a godly courſe of life leading thereunto, Acts 24. 16.

The guilt and terrour of conſcience ſummoning men over to the day of Judgement, to anſwer for our ſins, and to receive puniſhment for them, Heb. 10. 18.

What Conſcience is?

It is a faculty of mans ſoul, taking knowledg and bearing witneſs of a mans thoughts, words and works, excuſing them when they be good, and accuſing them when they be evill. Rom. 2. 15. Their conſcience bearing them witneſſe, and their thoughts accuſing or excuſing. If the Conſcience be not deceived, but bear a true witneſſe, then it is no erroneous Conſcience, yet may be an evill Conſcience, if it be not ſanctified as well as enlightened.

Note: Conſcience, it is a particular knowledge which we have with us of our owne deeds good or evill, ariſing out of the generall knowledge of the minde, which ſhews us what is good or evill, and Conſcience telleth us when we have done the one or the other.

There are two kindes hereof:

1. Good, 1 Tim. 1. 5. Termed, A conſcience voyd of offence, Act. 24. 16. A conſcience bearing one witneſſe in the holy Ghoſt, Rom. 9. 1. Pure, 1 Tim. 3. 9. Purged from dead works, Heb. 9. 14. Conſcience of ſins, Heb. 10. 2. Serving to excuſe, when we have done well; to accuſe when amiſſe, Rom. 2. 15. Being at ſome time quiet, at ſome time ſtirring and troubled. 2 Evil, Heb. 10. 22. Being either drowſie, ſecure or ſeared, 1 Tim. 4. 2. A defiled conſcience, Tit. 1. 15. This alſo is at ſome time quiet, at ſome time ſtirring; It accuſeth where it ſhould excuſe; excuſeth, when accuſe. The conſcience alſo, even of the beſt, is now and then erroneous or doubtfull.

Clear conſcience] A Conſcience kept without without offence and ſpot. Acts 24. 6. To have a clear conſcience.

Good conſcience] A Conſcience, which obeyeth ſuch light and direction, as it doth think and take to be true and ſound light and direction. Acts 23. 1. In all good Conſcience.

Pure conſcience] A Conſcience not troubled and polluted with notorious and groſſe crimes, 2 Tim. 1.3.

2. A Conſcience purged and made free from the guilt and horror of death, by faith in the blood of Chriſt. Heb. 9. 14. Purge your conſcience from dead works. Act. 15. 9. Your hearts purified by faith. Out of faith and ſerious purpoſe of living godlily, and pleaſing God, doth ſpring a pure conſcience.

For conſcience ſake] For fear of God, leſt by diſobedience to authority in good things, or reſiſting them in evill things commanded by them, we offend God, and ſo hurt our conſcience; which being wounded, proves as an Hang-man or Tormenter. Rom. 13. 5. Not onely for wrath but for conſcience ſake. Some expound this (as Chryſoſtome and others) of the Conſcience which we ought to make not onely of Gods Commandement, charging us to be ſubject to the higher powers, but of the good benefits which we reap by our Governours, towards whom we are bound in Conſcience to be thankfull, ſeeing it is a matter of conſcience, not to grieve or deſpiſe our benefactors. Both theſe interpretations may well (as ſubordinate) ſtand together. They are deceived, which conclude from hence, that men or their civill conſtitutions doe ſimply and of themſelves binde the Conſcience, (which is Gods owne prerogative, being the onely Law-giver, who obligeth Conſcience abſolutely upon pain of eternall wrath:) Much more erroneous is that opinion of Popiſh Divines, that Decrees and Traditions humane in Eccleſiaſticall things, tie Conſcience as Gods Word doth. To obey lawfull Magiſtrates, we are bound by a double neceſſity: (for it is no indifferent matter as if we might chooſe) one is, to avoyd the puniſhments both of Rulers and God, for ſtubbornneſſe and contempt; the other is to preſerve our Conſcience unſpotted and unwounded: for we cannot rebell againſt authority, and be refractary and ſeditious, but there will a double care, or torture rather, afflict the Conſcience: the firſt is, becauſe we caſt away Gods Ordinance, even the government appointed by him, which is as much as gyant-like to fight againſt heaven. The ſecond is, for that we have with great ingratitude and injuſtice ſtriven againſt that power which deſerveth well at the hands of all mankinde.

Seared or burned conſcience] A Conſcience quite extinct and cut off, or utterly hardened. 1 Tim. 4.2. And have their conſcience burned with an hot iron; that is, having loſt all ſenſe and feeling of conſcience, as a tooth or other part of the body, that is burned with an hot iron to dead it.

To conſecrate] To ſanctifie, to dedicate unto God, or to ſeparate and ſet one apart to execute ſome holy function, (Prieſt, Levite, Nazarite,) Exod. 29. 1. When thou conſecrateſt them to my Prieſts, thus thou ſhalt doe. Num. 6.18. & 8. 13. The conſecration is by doing ſome ceremonies appointed of God for ſuch a purpoſe, as to fit him for a ſacred function. (It ſignifieth primarily to fill the hand, Exod. 28. 41. or to profit.)

Conſecration of Bread and Wine is a ſacred action of the Church, wherein by rehearſing and expounding the inſtitution of Chriſt, alſo by ſolemn prayers and thankſgiving, the creatures are changed from a common uſe into a Sacrament of Chriſt his body and blood; a mutation in quality and uſe without any change of ſubſtances.

Conſecrate] To hallow, Numb. 3. 13. Devote, Lev. 27. 21. Separate or ſet apart for an holy uſe unto the Lord, Exod. 13. 12. as were the Levites, Numb. 8. 13. The Nazarites, Numb. 6. 3. The firſt born, Exo. 13. 2. The Prieſts, Exod. 29. 9. Exod. 30. 7. The ſacrifices, 2 Chr. 29. 33. Certain feaſts, Ezra. 3. 5. Places, 1 King. 8. 64. There was a conſecration ſacred, by Gods appointment, Numb. 6. 7. Idolatrous, by Man, of his owne head, Judg. 17. 5, 12. 1 King. 13. 33.

Conſent] An unanimous agreement, whether in good, 1 Sam. 11. 7. Zeph. 3. 9. or evil, Deut. 13. 8. Pſal. 83. 5. Prov. 1. 10. Luk. 14. 18. Pſal. 50. 18. Act. 8. 1.

See Like-minded, Communion, One, Union, Agreement.

To conſider] To bend the minde to think upon and obſerve any thing. Job 1. 8. Haſt thou conſidered my ſervant Job? Job 2. 3. Pro. 31. 16. Iſa. 5. Mat. 6. Heb. 3. 1.

2. To take heed and give ear unto, Pſal. 66. 19. Dan. 9.

It ſignifieth alſo, to See, or take notice of, Exod. 33. 13. View, mark, or obſerve, Lev. 13. 13. Study or apply ones minde to a thing, Deut. 32. 29. Take advice or reſolution, Judg. 18. 14. Remember, call to minde, or think on, 1 Sam. 12. 24. Regard, Lam. 1. 11. Be wary, Gal. 6. 1. Think, 2 Cor. 10. 7. Acknowledge and know, Deut. 8. 5. Be wiſe, Prov. 5. 6. Ponder, Prov. 24. 12. Know what to doe, Judg. 18. 14. Obſerve and be intent upon, Heb. 10. 24. Set minde and heart upon, Hag. 1. 5, 7. Fix ſettledly the eyes upon, Act. 11. 6. Muſe and meditate, Dan. 8. 5. Say in heart, Hoſ. 7. 2. This muſt be done diligently, Prov. 23. 1. Narrowly, Iſa. 14. 16. Perfectly, Jer. 23. 20. In heart, Deut. 4. 39. Wiſely, Pſal. 64. 9.

To conſider a field] is, To be wary, circumſpect and carefull, leſt in buying thereof, either buyer or ſeller ſhould be deceived, Prov. 31. 16.

To conſider himſelf] To ſet his heart to muſe upon his owne frailty, how eaſily he may fall, being tempted to any ſin. Gal. 6. 1. Conſidering your ſelves, leſt ye alſo be tempted.

To conſider one another] Lovingly and mutually to regard and think upon our common infirmities, with care how to cover and cure them by Chriſtian exhortations Heb. 10. 24.

To conſider ones wayes in his heart] To bend their mindes very diligently to mark their owne courſe of life, what ſins they lived in without repentance, and what corrections for the ſame they had received of God. Hag. 1. 5, 7. Conſider your owne wayes in your hearts.

To conſider the poor; is, To judge wiſely of, prudently attend unto, or skilfully carry ones ſelf towards them, Pſal. 41. 1.

Conſolation or comfort] That inward ſpirituall refreſhing and ſtrengthening of the heart, by the conſideration & feeling of Gods merciful promiſes in Chriſt. Pſ. 119. 50. Thy promiſes have comforted me in my troubles. 2 Cor. 1. 4. God comforteth us in all our troubles: and verſ. 5. Our conſolation aboundeth through Chriſt. Rom. 1. 11, 12. Where conſolation and ſtrengthening are put the one for the other. The holy Ghoſt being the worker of comfort, is therefore called, The comforter, by an excellency. The promiſes of the Word, are the grounds of comfort: our beleeving hearts are the ſeat of comfort: Godly Miniſters and the faithful, are the Helpers of our comfort. Joh. 16. 7. I will ſend the Comforter. 1 Theſ. 4. 18. Comfort your ſelves one another with theſe words. 2 Cor. 7. 7.

It's alſo put for the means working comfort, Iſa. 66. 11. Reward, Luk. 6. 24. Spirituall joy and encouragement, 2 Cor. 1. 5, 6, 7. The matter of comfort, 2 Cor. 7. 7. Chriſt and his benefits, Luk. 2. 15. See Comfort.

Conſpiracy] 1. Of Subjects againſt their Prince, 2 Sam. 15. 12.

2. Servants againſt their Maſter, 2 King. 12. 20.

3. One traitor againſt another, 2 King. 15. 10, 15.

4. An inferiour King againſt his Superiour, 1 King. 17. 4.

5. Of a people againſt the Lord, Jer. 11. 9.

6. Of falſe Prophets againſt the people, Ezek. 22. 25.

7. Of more then forty Jews againſt Paul, Act. 23. 12, 13.

8. Of Joſeph's brethren againſt him, Gen. 37. 18.

9. Of ſuch as would have hindered Nehemiah in his work, Neh. 4. 8. Amos falſely accuſed of conſpiracy againſt the King, Amos 7. 10.

Conſtancy] Continuance in a good thing to the end. Pſal. 8. 3. Eph. 6. 18. With all conſtancy or perſeverance.

Conſtrain] By importunity, Luk. 24. 29. Example, Gal. 2. 14. Doctrine, Gal. 6. 12. Love, 2 Cor. 5. 14. Earneſt preſſing, Gen. 19. 3. Neceſſity, Act. 28. 19.

Conſult] To adviſe with, Pſal. 83. 3. Think with, Neh. 5. 7. Ask counſell, Ezek. 21. 21. Deviſe or plot, Pſal. 62. 4. Take counſell, Dan. 6. 7.

Conſume] 1. To beſtow or ſpend, Jam. 4. 3.

2. To decay, wear away, or be wearyed, Pſa. 31. 9.

3. To be brought to nothing, or vaniſh away, Job 7. 9.

4. So to eat or lick up a thing as nothing be left, 1 King. 18. 38.

5. To be cut off, Pſal. 119. 139. marg.

6. To make to paſſe away, Pſ. 78. 33.

7. To trouble, Pſa. 90. 7.

8. To melt away, Jer. 6. 29.

9. To cruſh (or root out) Eſt. 9. 24. mar.

10. To devour, Heb. 12. 29.

11. To burn up, Luk. 9. 54.

12. To waſte, deſtroy, and bring to utter ruine and deſolation, Exod. 32. 10. This the Lord bringeth to paſſe by famine, Gen. 41. 30. The locuſt, Deut. 28. 38. Fire, Ezek. 19. 12. Peſtilence, Deut. 28. 21. Drought, Gen. 31. 40. Death, Num. 17. 13. One another, Gal. 5. 15. and other judgements, Lev. 26. 16.

Conſumption decreed] Not onely a thing leſſened, cut off, and diminiſhed, but withal, a thing definitely appointed and determined before, as if the ſentence were already given. Iſa. 10. 22, 23. The conſumption decreed ſhall overflow with righteouſneſſe. So Rom. 9. 27, 28.

The

The meaning of Iſaiah firſt, and afterward of Paul, is all one, though the words ſomewhat differ; Paul following the verſion of the Septuagint; namely to declare that the diminiſhing and rejection of the Jews, which God would bring to paſſe both temporally in Chaldea, and ſpiritually under Chriſt, (whom few Jews received) did depend upon the purpoſe and predeſtination of God; not that the Jews had not through their ſins deſerved to be extenuated and rejected, but becauſe all theſe things were appointed by the decree or ſentence of election and reprobation. For it is a ſure rule, That God doth nothing in time which was not decreed to be ſo done before all time; therefore they grievouſly erre, which rent the decree of God and his execution aſunder, and make his Antecedent and Conſequent wil (which are ſubordinate) to be repugnant.

To contemn] See to Deſpiſe, to Kick, not to Hear. There is a difference between Contemning, and thinking ill of one.

We contemn things not as they be bad or wicked, or hurtfull, but as they be baſe, low, unworthy of our love, unable either to doe good to us, or to hurt us, becauſe they are weak. We think ill of them, hate them, fear them, and ſhun them, not as they be weak and unable to help or harm, but as they be wicked, and ſo willing, and apt or able to hurt us.

God by the wicked, Pſal. 10. 13. As alſo his counſell, Pſal. 107. 11. A vile perſon, by the godly, Pſal. 15. 4.

What if the ſword contemn even the rod, Ezek. 21. 13. that is, ſcorn to reſt in an affliction onely of my people, but ſhall at once cut them off.

Contempt] cometh 1. From God upon men for ſin, Job 12. 21. Pſal. 107. 40.

2. From wicked men, Prov. 18. 3.

3. Through eaſe and pride, Pſa. 123. 4.

Contend] put for Reaſoning, Job 31. 13. Sharp and bitter ſtriving, Neh. 13. 25. To plead, Job 9. 3. Diſpute, Act 11. 2. It's ſpoken of God for his people againſt their enemies, Iſa. 49. 25. Of the godly, for the truth, Jude 3. and reformation, Neh. 13. 11. 17. 25. Of the wicked againſt the godly, Iſa. 41. 11, 12 Jer. 18. 19.

To contend earneſtly for the Faith] To maintain the Apoſtolicall doctrine with all their might, withſtanding Hereticks which would impugne and corrupt it, by ſound teaching, and example of godly living. Jude v. 3. That you ſhould earneſtly contend, &c. This Jude ſpeaks to the Church, and not to Magiſtrates, which then were averſe from Chriſt. So that here is no colour for ſeditious and tumultuous courſes by weapons and armour, (other then that mentioned, Eph. 6.) to fight and ſtrive with others.

To be content] To be well pleaſed and apaid with the condition of life, and portion of goods which we have. Heb. 13. 5. Be content with thoſe things ye have. 1 Tim. 6. 6, 8. Alſo, To give conſent and approve of what's propounded, whether evill, Gen. 37. 27. or good, Exod. 2. 21. When the minde is pleaſed with ſuch things as God hath thought fit and meet for us, this is contentment; ſo as withall, we be ready to undergoe a meaner and hard eſtate, if God will, ever judging our preſent condition beſt for us. The word in the originall ſignifieth a ſufficiency of good.

Continency] is a ſpeciall gift of God, whereby one is enabled to keep himſelf chaſte without the help of marriage, 1 Cor. 7. 5. Incontinency is the contrary.

Contract, Eſpouſing or Betroathing] is a free promiſe and mutuall agreement of lawfull marriage by conſent of Parents, before meet witneſſes, between one man and woman, in words of the preſent time. Mat. 1. 18. Mary was betroathed to Joſeph. This is no Ceremonial, but a morall duty; for the very Heathens by light of Nature knew and practiſed it; whereof came the difference amongſt them between Sponſalia and Nuptiæ, that is, Eſpouſals and Marriages. Such alſo is the proceeding between Chriſt and his Church; firſt they are eſpouſed in earth, then marryed in heaven. See Exod. 22. 16. Deut. 21. 23. 2 Sam. 3. 14. Hoſ. 2. 19.

Continually] Moſt conſtantly, and with an invincible minde, Dan. 6. 20.

2. Upon all neceſſities and juſt occcaſions, 1 Theſ. 5. 17. Rom. 12. 12. And without fainting or wearineſſe, Luk. 18. 1 2 King. 4. 9.

3. Every day once or twice, though not every hour of the day, as Numb. 28. 4, 6. 1 Theſ. 5. 17. 2 Sam. 9. 7.

4. Without ceaſing any day or hour or minute, Gen. 6. 5.

Put alſo for the ſpace of time being, Gen. 8. 5. During life, 2 Chr. 12. 15. Conſtantly, Pſal. 119. 44.

Continue] To abide, Gen. 40. 4. Ruth 2. 7. 2 Sam. 6. 11. Remain, Lev. 12. 4. Stay, Judg. 5. 17. Dwell, Ruth 1. 2. Perſevere, 1 Sam. 12. 14. Joh. 8. 31. Be ſetled, 2 Sam. 7. 29. Lodge, Job 17. 2. marg. Draw out at length, Pſal. 36. 10. marg. Go on, Neh. 5. 16. Job 27. 1. Stand faſt, Act. 13. 41. Endure, Endure, Mat. 10. 22. Tarry, Joh. 21. 23. Prolong, Job 15. 29. We muſt continue in following the Lord, 1 Sam. 12. 14. Chriſts word, Joh. 8. 31. The love of Chriſt, Joh. 15. 4, 9. The Apoſtles doctrine, Act. 2. 42. Fellowſhip, and one accord, Ib. 46. Prayer, Luk. 18. 1. The grace of God, Act. 13. 43. Faith, Act. 14. 22. Goodneſſe, Rom. 11. 22. One ſpirit, Phil. 1. 27. The Lord, Phil. 4. 1. What we have learned, and are aſſured of, 2 Tim. 3. 14. The perfect law of liberty, Jam. 1. 25.

Contrition] The bruiſing of a ſinners heart (as it were) to duſt powder through unfaigned and deep grief, conceived of Gods diſpleaſure for ſin. Pſal. 51. 17. A broken and contrite heart, thou wilt not deſpiſe. This is Evangelicall Contrition, and is a work of grace, the beginning of renewed repentance, as 2 Cor. 7. 10. Godly ſorrow cauſeth Repentance unto Salvation.

Papiſts erre, in teaching legall contrition or ſorrow, ſtirred up by the threatnings of the Law, to be a work of grace and part of repentance; whereas rather it is a part of the torment of hell: yet accidentally turneth to the good of the Elect, by making them more fit to receive grace, being humbled by the Law.

Controverſie] 1. Between man and man in civill matters, Deut. 25. 1, 2, 3. Alſo, about matter of Religion, profitable, as that in Act. 15. Unprofitable, Rom. 14. 1. 1 Tim. 1. 4. & 6. 4, 5. 2 Tim. 2. 23.

2. Between the Church and the enemies thereof, Iſa. 34. 8.

3. Between God and men, Jer. 25. 31. Hoſ. 4. 1. Mic. 6. 2.

It's put for diſagreement, Deut. 17. 8. An accuſation and denyall thereof, Deut. 19. 17. A plea, ſtriſe, or contradiction, Deut. 25. 1. A doubtfull diſputation, Rom. 14. 1. Juſt matter for God to proceed againſt man, Hoſ. 4. 1. Judging the cauſe, Iſa. 34. 8.

Convenient] 1. That which is fit and meet, neither too much nor too little, Prov. 30. 8.

2. Beſt or ſafeſt, Jer. 40. 5.

3. Seaſonable, 1 Cor. 16. 12.

4. Equall and juſt, Philem. 8.

Converſation] Not one work, or two, or a few actions, but the whole courſe of our life, with every degree & ſtep of it from the time of our effectuall calling, and ſo forwards unto the end of our race. This courſe is termed an honeſt converſation, 1 Pet. 2. 12. Have your converſation honeſt. But our courſe from the time of our birth, untill the time of ſuch calling, it is termed a vain converſation, 1 Pet. 1. 18. Redeemed from your vain converſation.

2. Manners, outward behaviour towards men, Heb. 13. 5. Phil. 3. 20.

Converſion] The turning, or totall change of an elect ſinner from ſin to God: and in this ſignification is comprehended, both faith and repentance, even the whole work of grace. Pſal. 51. 14. And ſinners ſhall be converted to thee. This is Paſſive converſion, wherein we ſuffer God to work upon us, but our ſelves by our Naturall power, work nothing, unleſſe it be to hinder the work of Grace, what we may.

2. A turning from ſome particular ſin or ſins, whereby we have offended God or man. Luk. 22. 32. When thou art converted. Jer. 31. 18. Convert thou me, and I ſhall be converted. This is an active converſion, performed by men already regenerate, who being already renewed by grace, doe work together with his Grace; converting grace being accompanyed with aſſiſting and ſupporting grace.

God converteth a Sinner by putting grace of repentance into his ſoul. A Sinner converteth himſelfe, when he endevoureth his own converſion, diligently and conſtantly uſing all good means, publick and private.

A Convert] One that being out of the Church, is brought into the Church, Eph. 2. 12, 13. Or being in the Church is turned from ſinfull wayes, that he is a new creature, 2 Cor. 5. 17. Is changed into the ſame image from glory to glory, 2 Cor. 3. 18. Hath Chriſt formed in him, Gal. 4. 19. Obeyed from the heart, Rom. 6. 17. and is turned to ſerve the true and living God, 1 Theſſ. 1. 9.

To convert] Spoken of God, as the Author, Jer. 31. 18. The Word, as the inſtrument, Pſal. 19. 7. Miniſters as Gods inſtruments to preach the Word, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Gal. 4. 19. Particular Chriſtians, uſing private admonitions and exhortations, Jam. 5. 20. Of men themſelves, making uſe of the grace wrought in them, Jer. 3. 19. 2 Tim. 2. 26.

Convince] To confute, or by good reaſon & argument to put to ſilence, Job 32. 12. Act. 28. 28. Thus the Law convinceth, Jam. 2. 9. As whereby the conſcience is forced to acknowledge its errour, Joh. 8. 9. To reprove, Joh. 18. 8. See mar. Both may be underſtood, Tit. 1. 9.

Coos] Top, Act. 21. 1. The name of an Iſland in the Ægean Sea, κῶς, for κῆος which cometh of κάω, that is, σχίζω I cleave, or of κάω I deſire to lie.

Copy] That which is written out of the originall of the Law, Deut. 17. 18. Josh. 8. 32. A letter, Ezr. 4. 11, 23. A writing or decree, Est. 3. 14. Proverbs of Solomon, Prov. 25. 1.

Coz] A measure used amongst the Jews, of the same quantity with the Homer, Ezek. 45. 14. containing ten Ephahs, Ezek. 45. 11. that is, forty five gallons, or five bushels and five gallons. Goodwyn's Moses and Aaron, p. 321.

Cozall] Hereof mention is made, Job 28. 18. Ezek. 27. 16. It groweth like a shrub or bush, and whilest it is in the Sea, is of colour greenish, and covered with mosse, but taken out it waxeth hard as a stone, and when it is dressed, is red and smooth.

Cozban] A gift, or an offering. Mar. 7. 11. If a man say to his Parents, Corban, that is, By the gift which is offered by me, &c.

Or, the treasury of the Temple, where the money offered for the worship of God was kept, Mat. 27. 6. A Syriack word.

The meaning of these words, Mar. 7. 11. If a man shall say to his Father or Mother, It is Corban, &c.) is this: But ye say, whosoever shall say to his father or mother, Content your selves my parents, I have vowed and consecrated unto God, that part of my substance which might have been beneficiall and helpfull unto you, and now I may not alienate or revoke it.

Cords] Authority, Rule, Government, good Laws and Commandements. Psal. 2. 3. And cast their cords from us; that is, the Doctrine and Discipline of Christ, whereby he ties us to him. The doctrine of Faith, Repentance, Mortification, Denyall of our selves, and bearing the Crosse, be these Cords.

2. Strength, might and policy, whereby the wicked tie the godly, as Oxen are tyed with cords and bands. Psal. 129. The Lord hath cut the cords of the wicked.

Cords of vanity] Worldly vanities of pleasures, profit, preferment, by which as by cords, the Devill fastening them on mens mindes and affections, withdraweth them from God and his laws, and the way to heaven, (to which else they would betake themselves) and draweth them along pleasantly in the way of wickednesse to a place of wretchednesse. See Prov. 7. 21, 22. and 2 Tim. 2. 26.

For this word (Of) is here expositive, and is no more but (As) in these words, Vanity as Cords.

2. Deceitfull allurements, provocations, and occasions of sinning. Isa. 5. 18. Woe unto them that draw Iniquity with cords of vanity. The same is also meant by Cart-ropes, viz. such idle pretences as the more men draw on sin, the more it is excused, as in Adam, Gen. 3. 8, 9, 10.

3. The lamentable issues, events, and effects which follow upon sin, Pro. 5. 22.

4. The marrow of the sinews are expressed by the silver cord, Eccles. 12. 6.

Note: Strong and efficacious excuses to entice men to sin, and to detain them in it: some are drawn of sin, which offend of weakness and ignorance. Others do draw sin to them, as ropes draw a cart after, which sin of purpose and malicious obstinacy.

Cords of man, and bands of Love] Most singular and sweet clemency and kindnesse of God, to pull us peaceably to our duty. Hos. 11. 4. I led them with cords of a man, &c.

Coze] Bald, Jude, 11. or, Ice. See Korah.

Coziander] is a very stinking hearb, and hurtfull to the body. The seed well prepared is medicinable and usefull for many purposes, but unprepared is very dangerous. Unto this seed Manna was like, Exod. 16. 31. not in colour, but roundnesse.

Cozinth] The name of a City in Achaia, to whose inhabitants Paul wrote two Epistles. It signifieth (according to one) fulnesse, or an ornament. According to Chytreus, the Maids flower, κόρης ἄνθος. According to Calepine it's denominated from Corinthus the builder. According to Pasor, of κόρης a young man, and ἰουθὸς the soft and tender hair that first appeareth, as if the forementioned Corinthus had been called, A little bearded young man.

Cormorant] Hereof mention is, Lev. 11. 17. & Deut. 14 17. It's more addicted to the water then the Duck, and can stay long under the water. It's of an hot constitution, and a great devourer. About the beginning of the spring it builds on trees, neer the sea. Whilst it's in the water, it foreseeth the approaching tempest, and thereupon speedily making a great noyse it goeth to the shore. In the winter it's most fat, as which then moveth but a little; in the summer (when there is most plenty) waxeth lean, in respect of its frequent motion.

Corn] Laid up in Cities, Gen. 41. 48. In stacks, Exod. 22. 6. Standing corn, Ibid. In green ears, Lev. 2. 14. Beaten out, Ib. 16. Parched, Lev. 23. 14. Old, Josh. 5. 11. In an heap, Ruth 3. 7. In shocks, Job 5. 26. Corn of heaven, Psal. 78. 24. Corn on the floor, Isa. 21. 10. Corn wasted, Joel 1. 10. Withered, Ibid. 17.

Cornelius] Of an horn. A religious Centurion, Act. 10. 1. It may ſeem to be derived of κέρας, as if it were κέρας τῦ ἡλίυ, the beam of the ſun. He ſeems to have deſcended of the noble family of the Cornelii at Rome.

Corner] put for an hid place, or in ſecret, Act. 26. 26. Alſo for the outſide or utmoſt part, Lev. 19 9, 27.

Corner ſtone] Properly, the head or main ſtone which ſuſtains the building; and figuratively Chriſt, on whom the Church relyeth and ſtayeth, being the ſtrength and foundation of it. As the houſes both of Judah and Iſrael were united in David the King, as a type; ſo the Church of the Jews and Gentiles is built on Chriſt, as an houſe leaneth on the Corner-ſtone. Pſal. 118. 22. This ſtone refuſed of the builders, is made the Head or Corner-ſtone.

Cornet] An inſtrument of muſick, uſed piouſly, Pſal. 98. 6. Idolatrouſly, Dan. 3. 5. & 7. 10. Civilly, Hoſ. 5. 8.

Correction] Of God, Job 5. 17. Prov. 3. 12. Ibid. 11. Jer. 2. 30. Jer. 5. 3. & 7. 28. Zeph. 3. 2. who eſtabliſheth ſome for correction, Hab. 1. 12.

Of Man, as Maſters of families, Prov. 29. 19. Fathers and Mothers, Heb. 12 9. Pro. 23. 13. And this by words, Prov. 29. 19. The ſtocks, Pro. 7. 22. The rod, Prov. 22. 15.

Note, that this word ſignifieth a rod, Job 37. 13. marg. and inſtruction, Jer. 7. 28. marg. And the word 2 Tim. 3. 16. ſignifieth, A correction of manners, or a reſtitution of things decayed, or faln, to their former good condition.

Corrupt] Fooliſh, unwiſe, Pſal. 14. 3. They are all corrupt; that is, they have not underſtanding to perceive the things which God offereth and doth to them.

2. Rotten and unſavory. Eph. 4. 29. No corrupt communication: that is, filthy in its ſelf, and hurtfull to others.

Corrupt or rotten talk: In this phraſe there is a Metaphor or ſimilitude: That as the mouth abhorreth rotten and filthy meat, ſo the ear of a good man loatheth lewd and wicked words.

Loathſome, Job 7. 5. Deceitfull, Dan. 2. 9. Stinking, Pſal. 38. 5. Abominable, Pſal. 53. 1, 3.

To corrupt] To live otherwiſe then we ſhould, by doing any manner of ſin, or leaving undone good duties. Deut. 4. 14. That ye corrupt not your ſelves. Pſal. 14. 1. Alſo to deal deceitfully with a thing, 2 Cor. 2. 27.

2. To defile or deſtroy. 1 Cor. 15. 33. Evil words corrupt good manners.

Note: Man corrupteth himſelf by ſin, Gen. 6. 12. and God corrupteth man by deſtroying for ſin, Gen. 19. 13, 14. The word Engliſhed deſtroying, in the originall ſignifieth corrupting.

It's put alſo for, to Reprove, Mal. 2. 3. Conſume, Mat. 6. 19. Deal treacherouſly with, 2 Cor. 2. 17. & 7. 2. Break, Mal. 2. 8. Cauſe to diſſemble, Dan. 11. 32. Make guilty with foul ſin, Dan. 4. 16. Diſſolve, or make diſſolute, Pſal. 73. 8. Entice and allure, Dan. 11. 17.

Corrupt children] Such as know nothing but how to corrupt themſelves, their ways, their life and actions, their neighbours, by evill counſell and examples, waxing every day worſe then other, being corrupt more and more, and corrupting all the formerly mentioned perſons and things. Iſa. 1. 4. Children corrupt, or corrupters.

Corruption] Rottenneſſe, ſuch as the body feels in the grave. Pſal. 16. 10. Thou wilt not ſuffer thy holy One to ſee corruption. 1 Cor. 15. 42. It is ſown in corruption, or a body ſubject to corruption, 1 Cor. 15. 50.

2. That vicious and naughty quality of ſin, ſpiritually waſting the ſoul, being contrary unto that integrity and ſoundneſſe in which we were created. Eph. 4. 22. Caſt off the old man which is corrupt through luſt.

3. Alſo it ſignifieth a pit wherein bodies doe corrupt, Pſa. 55. 23. & 57. 6. & 94. 13.

It's put alſo for waſting the body, Deut. 10. 8. Idolatry, 2 King. 23. 15. Sinfull abuſe, Rom. 8. 21. Man polluted with ſin, 1 Cor. 15. 50. Deſerved puniſhment, Gal. 6. 8. Sinfull courſes, 2 Pet. 1. 4. Sinfulneſs, 2 Pet. 2. 12, 19.

There's 1. A corporall corruption, 1 Cor. 15. 42.

2. A ſpirituall, through ſin, Pſal. 14. 1. whereby, the earth, Gen. 6. 11. our actions, Ezek. 20. 44. words, Eph. 4. 29. mindes, 1 Tim. 6. 5. all are defiled.

Cosam] Divining, Luk. 3. 28. of קסם he divined. The name of a man.

Covenant] A league or agreement between two or more parties, being at variance, Gen. 21. 32. Thus made they a Covenant at Beerſheba. This is a Civill Covenant.

The word Covenant is called in Hebrew Birth, which hath the ſignification of friendly parting, and of explaining the conditions of agreement: For at the making of ſolemne Covenants, beaſts were killed and parted aſunder, and the Covenant-makers went between the parts, Gen. 15. 9, 10, 17. Jer. 34. 18. Hereupon is the phraſe of cutting a Covenant, Pſal. 50. 5. & 83. 6, and 89. 4. The Apoſtles Apoſtles in Greek call it Diathekee, a Teſtament, a Teſtamentall Covenant, or diſpoſing of things by will at ones death, Heb. 7. 8. Jer. 31. 31. 1 Cor. 11. 25.

2. Our promiſe made unto God, for our yeelding obedience to his will. Neh. 9. 38. We make a ſure covenant. Or for performing duties to men, 1 Sam. 18. 3.

3. A league or agreement which God hath made with men for ſalvation, Jer. 32. 40. I will make an everlaſting covenant with them. This is a Religious covenant.

4. The Word of God which contains the articles of our covenant and agreement between God and man. Pſal. 25. 10, 14. To ſuch as keep his covenants and his teſtimonies. Ex. 19. 5. And keep my covenant.

5. The promiſe whereby marryed perſons binde themſelves each unto others, for the pure uſe of wedlock, Mal. 2. 14. This is called the Covenant of God, Prov. 2. 17. becauſe God is the Author of it: it is alſo made in his preſence, and by invocation of his name, to perform duties commanded by him. This is a Marriage-Covenant. A mixt Covenant; partly Civill, and partly Religious.

6. Circumciſion, which is the ſigne of the Covenant. Gen. 17. 13. My covenant ſhall be in your fleſh; that is, the ſigne of the Covenant, ver. 10.

7. The Tables of the Covenant. Rom. 9. 4. And the covenants; that is, the Tables wherein the articles of the Covenant were contained.

1. Gods with Man, made with particular perſons, Gen. 3. 15. & 6. 17, 18. & 15. 18. Exod. 34. 27. Numb. 18. 19. Mal. 1. 5, 8. Numb. 25. 12, 13. 2 Chr. 21. 7. With Chriſt, Iſa. 42. 6. & 49. 8. With all mankinde, Gen. 9. 9. With all Iſrael, Deu. 4. 13. & 26. 18. With his Church, Hoſ. 2. 19. His Elect, Iſa. 55. 3. His faithfull, Iſa. 61. 8. Jer. 31. 31. Heb. 8. 9, 10. & 10. 16. This is the everlaſting covenant, Gen. 17. 7. The covenant of peace, Iſa. 54. 10.

2. Mans with God, Joſh. 24. 25. 2 King. 11. 17. Neh 9. 38.

3. Of Man with Man, being both unlawfull, as with Gods enemies, Exod. 23. 32. 1 King. 20. 34. 2 Chr. 18. 3. And lawful; and this is either more generall, as being between two or more perſons being at variance, Gen. 21. 32. Or more ſpeciall, as between Husbands and Wives, Mal. 2. 4.

4. Of Man with Death and Hell, Iſa. 28. 15.

This word is taken alſo for the whole covenant in ſubſtance and accidents thereto, Heb. 15. 13. A part of the covenant, the promiſe to Abraham, Gen. 12. 3. & 22. 18. Mans duties under this covenant, Deut. 4. 13. & 17. 2. 2 King. 8. 12. The two Tables in which the Commandements were written, Rom. 9. 4. Gods people, worſhip, and holy ordinances, Dan. 11. 18. The thing commanded to be done, Gen. 17. 14. Deu. 29. 2. A Teſtament, Gal. 3. 15.

Covenant-breakers] Such as be unmindfull of promiſes and bargains. Rom. 1. 30. Covenant-breakers.

Book of the Covenant] The Writing which did contain the articles and conditions both on Gods part what he promiſed to doe to the people, and on the peoples part what duties they were to perform to God, according to the tenour of the Covenant. Exod. 24. 7. After he took the book of the Covenant and read it.

Covenant with death and hell] Agreement with them. So do wicked men imagine, Iſa. 28. 15.

Againſt the holy Covenant] That the minde of Antiochus Epiphanes ſhall be exaſperated againſt God, againſt his people, againſt the Tables of the Covenant, againſt the Law and the whole worſhip of God. Dan. 11. 28.

Covenant of works] is a league touching the ſaving of ſome, on condition of their perfect obedience. This was made with Angels and Adam before their fall: and ſince that time it is propounded in the Scriptures, to convince us of ſin, and to prepare us for Chriſt. Rom. 3. 20. Gal. 3. 24. The Law is our School-maſter to Chriſt. Lev. 18. 5. The man that doth theſe things ſhall live.

Covenant of Grace] is an agreement concerning men, to be freely ſaved through faith in Chriſt. Gal. 3. 11. The juſt ſhall live by faith. Joh. 3. 16. God ſo loved the world. Jer. 31. 33, 34. This Covenant is either Old or New, in divers reſpects and circumſtances, being one for ſubſtance.

Old Covenant] This was given or publiſhed by Moſes, and made with the Jews onely, till Chriſts Reſurrection, being placed in Ceremonies, which in time for Oldneſſe vaniſheth away. Hence called Old, Hebr. 9. 13.

New Covenant] is made with Chriſtian people, publiſhed by Chriſt moſt clearly, wherein more perſons are renewed, and more graces beſtowed, being alwayes to endure one and the ſame. Hence it is called New, Heb. 9. 13. Jer. 31. 31. I will make a new Covenant with the houſe of Iſrael.

Covenant of Levi] The agreement which God hath made with the Levites, to bleſſe them with peace and life, if their duties be performed in their place. Mal. 2. 8. Ye have broken the Covenant of Levi, verſ. 5.

A mans Covenant] An agreement amongſt men, and touching the affairs and matters of men. Gal. 3. 15. Though it be but a mans covenant. Note: if ſuch a Covenant or appointment of men muſt ſtand firm and ratified, without abolition, or addition; much leſſe ought the covenant and agreement which God hath made, touching giving eternall life freely by his Son through faith, to be violated and made fruſtrate by the adding of Circumciſion to Baptiſme, and righteouſneſſe by works, unto the righteouſneſſe of faith, as a ſupplement without which no ſalvation can be had.

To confirm the Covenant with many] To ſtrengthen numbers of the Elect in the covenant of grace, which Chriſt did by his Propheticall, Prieſtly and Kingly office. Dan. 9. 27. He ſhall confirm the Covenant with many. See Rom. 5. 15. By the preaching and the mighty works which the Apoſtles did, there were innumerable both Jews and Gentiles, through Chriſt his Spirit, converted to the faith and ſtabliſhed therein, as in the Hiſtory of the Acts is manifeſt: after which the Sacrifice ceaſed, through the ſiege of Veſpaſian, which hindered all means of oblations, as Dan. 9. in the latter end of verſ. 27. foretold.

Covenant of peace] An agreement which God hath made with his Church, to give it reconciliation by Chriſt, life, happineſſe, and all good, Zach. 6. 15.

Covenant of Salt] See Salt.

Cover] To eaſe nature, Judg. 3. 24. Hide, Prov. 12. 16. Preſerve, Pſal. 91. 4. Cloath, Iſa. 61. 10. Grow over, Prov. 30. 31. Cloſe, Exod. 29. 13. Stop, Prov. 10. 11. Keep cloſe, Ibid. Blot out, Neh. 4. 5. Vail, 1 Cor. 11. 6, 7. Forgive, Pſal. 32. 1.

To cover the feet] To doe ones eaſement, or to goe to ſtool. Judg. 3. 24. Surely he hath covered his feet. 1 Sam. 24. 4. An unhoneſt thing uttered in honeſt words.

Covering] The roof of an houſe, a veil, or ought elſe which ſerves for defence, or keeping cloſe.

2. The Husband who is called the covering of his Wife, in reſpect of his duty towards her, by protecting her, and of his authority over her in governing her: for the veil and covering which women did wear was a ſigne of their ſubjection, 1 Cor. 11. 6, 7. Gen. 20. 16.

3. Stopping or making dumb & ſilent. Pro. 12. 6. Iniquity ſhall cover the mouth of the wicked.

4. The Ceremonies of the Law, which being too much reſpected, do hinder us from Chriſt himſelf, Iſa. 25. 7.

5. The ignorance of mens mindes, Iſa. 25. 7. 2 Cor. 3. 16.

Covering of ſins] The forgiveneſſe of ſins for the death of Chriſt, which is as a mantle to cover them from the eye of Gods juſtice, Pſal. 32. 1. Bleſſed is the man whoſe ſins are, &c.

2. Concealing, keeping cloſe or ſecret, when we doe not tell a thing abroad. Prov. 10. 12. Love covereth a multitude of ſins, which by a charitable private reproof are hid and covered from the puniſhment of God, and ſhame of men.

Covering for the Tent] Properly, a certain large cloathing made of Rams and Badgers skins ſowed together, to hide and preſerve the Tabernacle and things within it, againſt all injury of the weather: but Typically it figured the ſafety of the whole Church, and every member ſitting under the ſhadow and protection of the moſt High, as David ſingeth, Pſal. 27. 5. And Iſaiah alluding to this ceremony, ſaith, Iſa. 4. 5, 6. Exod. 26. 14. Thou ſhalt make a covering for the tent, &c. The board or pillars to uphold the Tabernacle, Exod. 26. 15, 19. ſignifieth, that the Church for the miniſtery of it, is the pillar of truth, 1 Tim. 3. 17. and all the gifts of all members in the Church, are for the upholding of the whole body, 1 Cor. 12. 4, 5. The Tabernacle having a covering both without and within, Exod. 26. 14. & 27. 7. This ſignified the outward and inward condition of Gods Church, as Solomon doth reſemble it Cant. 1. 5.

Note: This covering with Rams skins, beſides the ſafety of the Church covered and hid from the injuries of the world, doth ſignifie the heavenly graces wherewith Chriſt, and his Church in him are adorned; alſo their uniting together by the Spirit through faith and love.

To deſtroy the covering and the veil] To take away from the Jews the hardneſſe of their ſtubborn heart, their ignorance and blindneſſe of minde, which was as a covering and veil before their face, that they could not ſee Chriſt the end of the Law, Iſa. 25. 7. 2 Cor. 3. 16.

Covert] A thicket for wilde beaſts, Job 38. 40. That which may hide one, Job 40. 21. A ſhadow, Pſal. 61. 4. A ſhelter, or refuge, Iſa. 4. 6. & 32. 2. A place under which which ſuch were, as waited their courſes about the Temple on the Sabbath day, 2 Kin. 16. 18.

To covet] To love or deſire mony or earthly goods (for themſelves) either our owne or others, Joſh. 7. 21. 1 Tim. 6. 9, 10. The deſire of money is the root of all evill. 10. Commandement.

2. To deſire ſpirituall bleſſings, or heavenly glory. 1 Cor. 12. 31. Covet after the beſt things. Phil. 1. 23. I covet to be looſed and to be, &c. This is a good covetouſneſſe, when ſpirituall bleſſings, or celeſtiall bleſſedneſſe, is even greedily and eagerly deſired. Other things we may deſire, no further or otherwiſe then as helps to theſe.

To turn aſide after lucre, 1 Sam. 8. 3. To be greedy of gain, 1 Tim. 3. 3. To love ſilver, and not to be ſatisfied therewith, Eccl. 5. 10. To love to ſay, Give ye, Hoſ. 4. 18 To enlarge deſire, Hab. 2. 5. To ſerve mammon, Mat. 6. 24. To minde earthly things, Phil. 3. 19. To love wages of unrighteouſneſſe, 2 Pet. 2. 14. This may be conſidered according to the matter or thing coveted, as our neighbours Wife, Houſe, Land, Servants, Cattel, &c.

Cobetouſneſſe] Deſire of having more, or the inordinate love of money. Heb. 13. 5. Let your converſation be without covetouſneſſe. This is called Idolatry, Col. 3. 5. Eph. 5. 5. Becauſe the covetous man not onely prefers his treaſure before God, but doth place his life in his ſubſtance, Luk. 12. 15, 16, &c.

It's condemned in all ſorts of people, Kings, Magiſtrates, Prieſts, &c. And they which are addicted hereunto are hated of God, Pſal. 10. 3. Contemners of the Word, Luk. 16. 14. Cruell, Prov. 12. 10. Mic. 2. 2. Zeph. 3. 3. Miſerable, Job 20. 15, 19, 20. Iſa. 10. 1. Vain, Job 27. 10. Pſal. 49. 17. Prov. 23. 6. Idolaters, Col. 3. 5. Such as are guilty of this vice, have their name of בצע, which, as it ſignifieth to be given unto covetouſneſſe, ſo alſo to be wounded, Joel 2. 8. For not onely they hurt others, whoſe lives they would take away, Prov. 1. 19. but pierce themſelves thorow with many ſorrows, 1 Tim. 6. 10. This conſiſts partly in getting, whether unjuſtly or unhoneſtly, by violence or ſecret conveyance; partly in keeping, when he that ſhould give, either giveth not all, or giveth too little, or giveth out of ſeaſon, or giveth with great difficulty.

Councell] A company of men aſſembled into a certain place, to conſult or take advice of publick matters. Act. 22. 30. And all the councell to come together, Act. 23. 1.

2. The place where men are met together for common conſultation. Act. 24. 20. Whiles I ſtood in the Councell.

3. The judgement which ſtood and conſiſted of twenty three Judges, who had the hearing and deciding of the weightyeſt matters of life and death. Mat. 5. 22. Shall be worthy to be puniſhed by the Councell: A work deviſed by Councell, Iſa. 5. 19.

Counſell] The wiſdome and direction of Gods Spirit and Word, governing our courſe of life, Pſal. 73. 25. Thou wilt guide me by thy counſell, Pſal. 16. 7.

Counſell, properly is of the inferiour to his ſuperiour, or of an equall. Superiours in authority counſell not, but command. All know that the intreaty of ſuch is a commandement. Therefore God being higheſt of all, his counſels be precepts. Popiſh counſels be meer forgeries, and humane devices.

2. An action of the whole and holy Trinity, deliberating and determining before the world of all things which ſhould be, or not be; eſpecially of the ſalvation of Angels and men. Eph. 1. 11. He worketh all things after the counſell of his owne will. This counſell dependeth upon Gods will, as the ſupreme and onely moving cauſe, and not upon foreſeen faith or works, Rom. 9. 17, 18. Alſo a work decreed in Gods Counſell, Iſa. 5. 19.

3. Advice taken about things to be done. Prov. 20. 18. Eſtabliſh thy thoughts by counſell. And by counſell make war. Exod. 18. 17. This kinde of counſell is either good or evill, ſubtle or carnall.

4. The beginning and firſt degree of ſin: to wit, evill luſts and deſires. Pſal. 1. 1. Bleſſed is the man that hath not walked in the counſell of the ungodly.

5. Knowledge or underſtanding, or thoughts of a man, 1 Cor. 4. 5.

Referred unto God, it ſignifieth alſo his Decree, Act. 2. 23. & 4. 28. His revealed wil, Act. 20. 27. His Word decreed, Iſa. 5. 19.

Referred to Man, it ſignifieth alſo ſetled hope in God, and reſolved purpoſe to go to God, Pſal. 14. 6. And mans counſell is either Good, 2 Sam. 17. 14. Wiſe, Prov. 24. 6. Hearty, Prov. 27. 9. or Evill, Iſa. 7. 5. Wicked, Ezek. 11. 2. Raſh, fooliſh, 2 Chr. 10. 8, 10. Crafty, Pſ. 83. 3. Secret, Pſal. 64. 2.

To aſk counſell] See To enquire of the Prieſt.

Counſels of old] The Decrees long agoe foretold and uttered by the Prophets. Iſa. 25. 1. Thy counſels of old are faithfulneſſe and truth: that is, they be moſt ſteddy and conſtant, taking their due effect.

Counſell of peace] The doctrine of reconciliation & peace with God by Chriſt being preached both to Jews and Gentiles, Zec. 6. 13.

Counſellor] One who giveth all ſound advice, as Chriſt doth by the doctrine of Scriptures; which therefore be called our Counſellors, or men of our counſell, Pſal. 119. 14. Iſa. 9. 6. Counſellor. Chriſt beareth this name, becauſe he is to counſell us in our doubts, and reſolve us in our difficulties.

Chriſt is called Counſellor, Iſa. 9. 6. both becauſe by him being his Fathers wiſdome, the world was made and ordered, as Prov. 8. 14. And alſo by the preaching of the Goſpel he giveth counſell and wiſdome to the Elect, to perceive and ſee how to attain to everlaſting life: See Luk. 7. 30. Act. 2. 40.

Chriſt by his authority over us, may and doth command us as our Lord, and condemn us as our Judge: but by his love towards us, and knowledge of what is beſt for us, he doth counſel and adviſe us, Rev. 3. 18.

2. He commandeth things to be done by us as good, but he counſelleth us to receive good things offered to us, Rev. 3. 17.

It's alſo put for Counſellors of State, Ezr. 7. 14. Dan. 3. 2, 27. and for Gods Word, Pſa. 119. 24.

Count] See Imputation.

Countenance] Love, liking, favour, or disfavour, witneſſed by the countenance. Gen. 31. 5. I ſee your Fathers countenance is not towards me as it was wont.

2. Gods favour witneſſed and ſhewed forth in his graces and benefits. Pſal. 4. 6. Lift up the light of thy countenance.

3. Gods diſpleaſure, witneſſed by withdrawing the ſigne of his favour, or by ſending ſome judgements. Pſal. 13. 1. How long wilt thou hide thy countenance from me? Becauſe men by their countenance bewray their anger or love: hence it is, that being attributed to God, it ſignifies his diſpleaſure, or his gracious favour.

4. The face or look of a man. Pſal. 104. 15. Oyl to make the countenance cheerfull.

5. Brightneſſe, ſolemnity, feſtivity and alacrity, expreſſed in the entertainment of his gueſts. Dan. 5. 6. The Kings countenance was changed.

Mans countenance bewrayeth his Hatred, Gen. 4 5. Grief, Neh. 2. 2, 3. Pride, Pſal. 10. 4. Fierceneſſe, Dan. 8. 23. Anger, Prov. 25. 23. So on the contrary.

Light of Gods countenance] See Light.

Countrey] A Region or Land where the people dwell. Heb. 11. 9. As in a ſtrange Countrey, v. 15. With the inhabitants of a Countrey, 2 Sam. 15. 23.

2. A certain compaſſe of ground without a City. Mark 16. 12. As they walked into the Countrey.

3. Heaven, where the Saints ſhal dwel for ever. Heb. 11. 16. They deſired an heavenly Country.

Courage] Valour and ſtrength of minde, a good heart, being wiſely bold and confident in a good cauſe. Joſh. 1. 7, 8. Be of good courage.

Courſe] put for Diſtribution or Diviſion, 1 Chr. 27. 1, 2. Higher or lower ſtation, Judg. 5. 20. Changeable troops, 1 Chron. 23. 8. Violence and daſhing out, Jer. 23. 10. Luſt, Jer. 8. 6. Frame or order, Pſal. 82. 5. An alotted time for doing a duty, Act. 13. 35. The time of life, 2 Tim. 4. 7. A journey, Act. 21. 7. One after another, 1 Cor. 14. 27. The faſhion and manner of life; Eph. 2. 2. The parts of life, or our being in what we doe, during the time or ſpace of our living, Jam. 3. 6.

Courſe of nature] That courſe or race, which after we are born is preſcribed us to run and follow. Jam. 3. 6. It ſetteth on fire the courſe of nature. Herein James ſeems to allude unto a wheel, which with his violent ſwiftneſſe and motion doth conceive and fire, or waxeth wondrous hot.

Court] The firſt entrance into an houſe, an yard or comming in. 1 King. 7. 12. The Court-yard or open places of the Tabernacle and Temple. There was an inward Court, and an outward, 1 King. 7. 12. One for the Prieſts, another for the people, called, The great Court, 2 Chr. 4. 9. 2 King. 22. 5.

2. The rooms and places of the Temple, into which Gods people might aſſemble for publick worſhip, and hearing the Law, Pſal. 84. 2. My ſoul fainteth for the Courts of the Lord, Pſal. 116. 19.

3. All thoſe ſeverall ſpaces and diſtances of ground which were in the Temple before ye came to the Holy of Holyes, or to the moſt holy place: of theſe ſpaces of Courts there were ſix in number; every Court was twelve ſteps, one above another, and of every one there was a ſeverall uſe, 2 Chr. 4. 9. And he made the Court of the Prieſts, 1 King. 6. 36.

4. That ſpace of ground which was within the utmoſt Rails, being called, The firſt or the utter Court. Rev. 11. 2. But the Court which is without the Temple, mete it not. Into this Court, becauſe the Heathen and profane people might come to ſee and hear, therefore it ſignifies in the former Scripture, Rev. 11. 2. All Infidels and ſtrangers from Chriſt.

There

There were 1. Civill, Eſt. 4. 11. Neh. 3. 25.
2. Eccleſiaſticall, Mar. 14. 54.
3. Myſticall, Rev. 11. 2.
4. Sacred Courts, as of the Tabernacle, Exod. 27. 9. Of the Temple, 2 King. 21. 5.

Courteous] 1 Pet. 3. 8. Courteſie comprehendeth,
1. A willing ſaluting of thoſe Chriſtians we meet.
2. A converſation voyd of harſhneſſe, ſullenneſſe, ſcornfulneſſe, &c.
3. In matters of offence, it makes the faireſt interpretations, and forgives heartily, and cheerfully, Eph. 4. 32.
4. In entertainment it is free, hearty, loving, Act. 28. 7.
5. In hearing others ſpeak it is patient and willing, Act. 24. 4.
6. In giving honor, it preferreth others almoſt of all ſorts.
7. In moderating authority over inferiours, ſo as to be better towards them then they can require. Byfeild on 1 Pet. 3 8. p. 685.

He could not] He would not, he could do no great works there, for their unbeleef ſake. Mar. 6. 5, 6. He was not able, or it was not in his power. Joh. 5. 19. The Son could (or can) do nothing of himſelf.

Cow] A beaſt every way profitable, her calves, milk, fleſh, hide, hair, dung, &c. all being uſefull for man. It was accounted among the clean beaſts uſed in ſacrifice, and was typicall, eſpecially, the red heifer or young Cow, Numb. 19. 2. See Deut. 21. 3. 1 Sam. 16. 2.

Cox] A thorne, or ſummer. The Father of Anub, 1 Chr. 4. 8.

Cozbi] A lyar. The Daughter of Zur, Numb. 25. 15.

C R.

Craft] Trade or occupation. Act. 18. 3. For that was their craft. Here it is taken in good part.
2. Deceit, guile, and fraud. Eph. 4. 14. By the deceit of men, and with craftineſſe. Here it is taken in ill part.

Crane] Hereof mention is made, Iſa. 38. 14. where it's ſaid to chatter, and Jer. 8. 7. to obſerve the time of its coming. It's eaſily tamed, and taught to leap, dance, &c. It's moſt tender of its young ones, loveth both to feed and fly in company of its own kinde. In their flying they uſe this order: The moſt experienced amongſt them flyeth foremoſt, as their Captain: In the middle follow the young and leſſe skilfull; in the rear, ſuch as are ſtrong and skilfull: If their Leader wax weary or hoarſe, another takes his place. They fly high, that they may ſee the place whither they fly; when they fly ſwiftly, it's to avoid a tempeſt, and in their flying they make a noyſe, that they may not ſtray one from another. In the night ſome of them watch by turns, holding little ſtones in one of their feet, that they may be kept awake. When ſeeking warmer places, they fly over the ſea, they fly in a triangular form. In ſummer they return to the places which they left in winter. To prevent the danger of Eagles, they take little ſtones in their mouths, that they may make no noyſe. When they fly not in order, they foreſee a tempeſt. If any of their company be wanting, by making a continuall noyſe, they recall them. The juice of the vine is deadly unto them. They ſometimes fight together, and will rather become a prey to the Hunters, then agree one with another. But others ſay, that though at ſome time they are eager in fight, yet they are quickly reconciled.

Create] To make ſomething of nothing, Gen. 1. 1. As the firſt matter, Gen. 1. 2. and the forms of all things, Gen. 1. 21, 27. Alſo Angels and Souls. God created heaven and earth. Heb. 11. 2. The things we ſee were made of things which did not appear.
2. To give and work grace where it is not. Eph. 2. 10. Created unto good works. Here is an alluſion to our firſt Creation, as 2 Cor. 5. 5.
3. To reſtore grace, as touching the feeling and fruit of it. Pſal. 51. 10. Create in me a clean heart.
4. To be the Author and worker of a thing. Iſa. 45. 7. I make peace and create evill. I the Lord doe all theſe things. To create is to produce a thing from no being to a being, which is proper to God; who calleth things that are not, as if they were, by his Almightyneſſe.
5. To make fit for a buſineſſe, Iſa. 54. 16.
6. To make effectuall, Iſa. 57. 19.
7. To cauſe, Iſa. 45. 7.
8. To make, form, and give life, Pſal. 102. 18. & 104. 30.

The Etymologie or reaſon of this name given to Regeneration, is the likeneſſe of this to that in many reſpects, and in this laſt a greater work then the firſt, becauſe 1. It needs more time. 2. Hath more impediments. 3. Hath more means. 4. Needed the coming down of God from heaven.

Creation] The act of the Creator in making all things at firſt, 2 Pet. 3. 4. The whole workmanſhip of the world, Rom. 1. 20. or every creature, Rom. 8. 22.

Faithfull Creator] God, who ſafely and faithfully keepeth them whom he hath once made and taken charge of. 1 Pet. 4. 19. As to a faithfull Creator.

Creature] The whole frame of heaven and earth made out of nothing, and ſometime ſome particular work of God. Rom. 8. 20. Becauſe the creature is ſubject to vanity. Alſo v. 21,22,23. it is put for one particular work or thing created, Rom. 8. 39.

2. All men, whether Jews or Gentiles. Mar. 16. 15. Preach the Goſpel to every creature.

3. All ſorts of men.

4. A regenerate perſon, 2 Co. 5. 17. Eph. 2. 10

5. Any Office, Authority or employment which God hath appointed, 1 Pet. 2. 13. 1 Tim. 4. 34.

6. That which hath life, Gen. 1. 20, 21.

7. A ſanctified perſon, 2 Cor. 5. 17.

The diſtribution of Creatures is divers; ſome in Heaven above, ſome beneath in the earth, and ſome in the waters under the earth, Exod. 20. 4. Again, Creatures are either viſible or inviſible, Col. 1. 16. Moreover, ſome creatures have a being onely; as Heaven and Earth; Meteors in the one, and Metals in the other: or a being and life alſo; as Plants, and Beaſts, which with life have ſenſes joyned: or Being, Life, and light of underſtanding and reaſon, as Angels and Men, Joh. 1. 3, 4, 5. All theſe creatures made of nothing, immediately or mediately; alſo the ſeverall forms of every creature (and not the matter onely) were made by the word of God out of nothing. (God ſaid) Gen. 1. 3.

And laſtly, both matter and form, bodies ſimple and compound, were made by Gods Almightyneſſe, without tool or inſtrument, paſſion or motion, or change, and that ſuddenly, and in a moment by his infinite power, as eaſily as the ſpeaking of a word: which ſerveth greatly both for eſtabliſhment of our faith in God, and for amendment of our life. How much are we bound to truſt and depend upon, and alſo to fear and obey ſuch an omnipotent Creator, ſo full of wiſdome and goodneſſe?

Creatio eſt productio entis, or as Aquinas ſaith, Eſt productio rei ſecundum totam ſubſtantiam ex nihilo.

The Hebrew word (Bara) which is Engliſhed (Create) beſide the primary and moſt proper ſignification, which is to bring creatures from no being to a being, it is in Scripture applyed unto ſundry other operations of God; as 1. to Naturall generation, Pſa. 104. 29. Iſa. 54. 16. Amos 4. 13. Create for Procreate.

2. Unto events, good or evill, eſpecially great and univerſall, Jer. 31. 22. Iſa. 4. 5. & 45. 7. & 46. 11. & 59. 19. Create put here for effecting, conſerving or continuing a thing.

3. Unto regeneration, as Pſal. 51. 12. Eph. 2. 10. Create for renuing, or continuing in the ſtate of Grace.

New Creature] That quality of holyneſſe, created in the hearts of the Elect at their firſt converſion to God. 2 Cor. 5. 17. He that is in Chriſt let him be a New Creature. This is called the New man, and Spirit, and Law of the minde.

2. The divine action of creating the heart anew, Gal. 6. 5.

Creſcens] Growing or increaſing. The name of a man, 2 Tim. 4. 10.

Crete] Given to the fleſh. The name of an Iſland, Tit. 1. 5. whoſe inhabitants were called Cretes, Act. 2. 11. & Cretians, Tit. 1. 12. It was called ἑκατόμπολις, from the hundred Cities which were therein. It was formerly called Cureta, from the inhabitants the Curetes, but by a Syncope, Creta.

Crie] put for, A loud lamentation, Gen. 27. 34. A loud extention of the voyce, Eccl. 9. 17. A grievous and dolefull complaint, Exod. 22. 23. Prayer, with fervency, whether by voyce, Jer. 11. 14. or without, Exod. 14. 15. Rom. 8. 15. A dreadfull ſound, or voyce, Numb. 16. 34. See Cry.

Criſpus] Curled or criſped. The name of a man the chief Ruler of the Synagogue, Act. 18. 8.

Crooked] That which is contrary to ſtraight or to right, Eccl. 7. 17.

2. All ſwerving from the ſtraight and right line of Gods Word, Pſal. 119. 3. Surely they work no iniquity, or crooked thing, for ſo it is in the Originall.

Croſſe] That tree or wood whereon Chriſt died, being made in form of a Croſſe. Mat. 27. 32. They made Simeon of Cyrene to bear his Croſſe. Come down from the Croſſe. The Papiſts without all reaſon adore the Reliques of it, and attribute virtue to it, being but a Creature, if it were extant.

2. The whole paſſion of Chriſt, from the Cradle to his Death, but eſpecially his ſufferings upon the Tree. Heb. 12. 3. Who for the joy was ſet before him, endured the Croſſe. Metonymie, Eph. 2. 16.

3. The Doctrine of the Goſpel, that is, of free ſalvation by Chriſt crucified, 1 Cor. 1. 18.

The

The preaching of the Croſſe to us that be ſaved, is the power of God. Alſo verſ. 17. Gal. 5. 11. & 6. 12. Where the Doctrine which ſetteth forth righteouſneſſe by Chriſt crucified, is called the Croſſe.

4. The preaching of Chriſt crucified. Gal. 6. 11. They would not ſuffer perſecution for the Croſſe of Chriſt.

5. Every grievous or painfull thing ſent of God, either to our mindes or bodies. Mat. 19. 19, 38. Take up thy croſſe and follow me. Metaphor. This is the generall Croſſe common to all men, as they be men.

6. Such afflictions as the faithfull ſuffer for Chriſt, and for righteouſneſſe. Gal. 6. 14. God forbid that I ſhould rejoyce but in the croſſe of Chriſt. This is a ſpeciall Croſſe peculiar to Chriſtians.

To take up his Croſſe] Not to bear and ſuffer, (for ſo Malefactors doe) nor to pull the croſſe to us which doth not belong to us, ſo buſie medlers doe, and raſh-headed Chriſtians; but to undergoe with quietneſſe and cheerfulneſſe of minde, ſuch afflictions as it pleaſeth God by his providence to put upon and to allot unto every one. Mat. 16. 24. Let him take up his croſſe and follow me.

Crown] A round Garland ſet upon the head, in token of victory: or that which Princes wear upon their head at their Coronation. 2 Tim. 2. 5. He is not crowned unleſſe he ſtrive lawfully.

2. Kingly or royall dignity and power. Pſal. 132. 18. But on him his crown ſhall flouriſh. Metonymie.

3. Whatſoever excellency or glory wee have in us or without, Rev. 4. 10. They caſt their crowns before his throne, Lam. 5. 16. The crown of our head is falln, Job 19. 9.

4. That which either bringeth or encreaſeth our renown, comfort, and glory before men. 1 Theſſ. 2. 19, 20. Ye are our crown of rejoycing, ye are our glory and joy. Prov. 12. 4.

It's put alſo for a board, Exod. 25. 11, 25. A place for the High-prieſt, Exod. 29. 6. Holy anointing oyl, Lev. 21. 12. Matter of honour and praiſe, Job 31. 36. Reward, Rev. 3. 11. A ſigne of victory, Rev. 6. 2. A grace, or procurement of eſteem, Pro. 12. 4. & 14. 24. An ample and glorious Kingdom, Pſal. 21. 4. An ornament, Pro. 16. 31. Glorious, Prov. 4. 9. Comfort and renowne, Prov. 17. 6.

There's mention of a crown of gold, Exo. 25. 11. An holy crown, Exod. 29. 6. A crown of gold with precious ſtones, 2 Sam. 12. 30. A crown royall, Eſt. 1. 11. A great crown of gold, Eſt. 8. 15. A crown of glory, Prov. 4. 9. & 16, 31. A crown of pride, Iſa. 28. 1. A beautifull crown, Ezek. 16. 12. A crown of thorns, Mat. 27. 29. A corruptible crown, 1 Cor. 9. 25. A crown of rejoycing, 2 Theſſ. 2. 19. A crown of righteouſneſſe, 2 Tim. 4. 8. A crown of life, Jam. 1. 12. A crown of twelve ſtars, Rev. 12. 1. A myſticall crown, Cant. 3. 11. Rev. 14. 14.

Crown of glory] The moſt excellent glory which the Saints have in heaven for ever, ſhadowed unto us by a Kingly crown, which of all earthly things is moſt glorious. 1 Pet. 5. 4. Ye ſhall receive an incorruptible crown of glory.

2. A glorious and honorable thing. Prov. 16. 31. Age is a crown of glory.

To crown with glory and worſhip] To exalt and lift up the man Chriſt into celeſtiall glory, to be above Angels and men, as head of the Church, full of majeſty, after he had been a little time humbled to the death of the Croſſe. Pſal. 8. 5. And crowned him with glory and worſhip. Heb. 2. 7.

Crown of gold] A moſt ample and glorious Kingdome, ſuch as David had over Gods people. Pſal. 21. 4. Thou haſt ſet a crown of gold upon his head.

My crown] That I Paul for your ſake ſhal be crowned of God, with the commendation of faithfulneſſe, and rewards of bleſſedneſſe, when he ſhall ſay to me, Thou good and faithfull ſervant, &c. 1 Theſſ. 2. 19.

To crown us with compaſſion] To make us famous and glorious by mercifull deliverances, as if he would ſet a crown upon our head. Pſal. 103. 4. He crowneth us with compaſſion.

Crown of pride] The moſt proud Kingdome of Iſrael, whoſe people were puffed up and waxed exceeding proud thorow proſperity and peace, wherewith they were made drunk, as it were, forgetting God and themſelves like drunken perſons which are fit for nothing. Iſa. 28. 1, 2. Woe be to the crown of pride, the drunkards of Ephraim.

Crown of righteouſneſſe] Eternall life which is given as a free reward to ſuch as lead a righteous life, which the God who is moſt righteous, hath promiſed, and will alſo perform. 2 Tim. 4. 8. Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteouſneſſe. Rom. 6. 16, 23. This is alſo called, The crown of life, Jam. 1. 12. Rev. 2. 10. Becauſe in the life eternall, there ſhall be honour and glory unſpeakable; whereunto good works are the way, but are not the cauſe. Hence the Papiſts do corruptly gather the merit of works. See their Annotations on the second to Timothy, ch. 4. verſ. 8.

Crown of thornes] A Crowne made of Thorns ſet upon Chriſts head in deriſion, and to encreaſe his pain. Matt. 27. 29. They put a crown of thorns on his head.

To crown the yeat] To make one year (for outward bleſſings) ſo far exceed and excell another, as a crowned King excelleth his Subjects. Pſal. 65. 11. Thou crowneſt the year with thy goodneſſe.

To crucifie] To faſten one to the Croſſe, there to languiſh till death. Mat. 27. 35. Crucified him.

2. To mortifie or kill ſinfull luſts by little and little. Gal. 5. 24. Have crucified the fleſh.

3. To lay open Chriſt unto the ſcorn and mock of the world. Heb. 6. 6. Crucifie Chriſt.

4. To deſpiſe the world, and to be deſpiſed and ſet at nought by the world, Gal. 6. 14.

It's put alſo for dead, or ſubdued, to make to die, Rom. 6. 6. Offer as a ſacrifice for ſin, 1 Cor. 1. 13 23. Feel the virtue of Chriſt crucified, Gal. 2. 20.

To be crucified with Chriſt] To obtain this by faith in Chriſt, that, that death of his Croſſe which hath merited reconciliation, ſhould be effectuall to mortifie and ſubdue the concupiſcences of the fleſh. Gal. 2. 20. I am crucified with Chriſt.

A Chriſtian by earneſt and devout meditation of the death of the Son of God, joyned with the curſe of God, groweth unto an inward true loathing of thoſe his ſins which were ſo dearly ranſomed, with care and watchfulneſſe not to offend ſo gracious a Saviour; which is our being crucified with Chriſt.

To be crucified among you] Chriſt crucified, by the moſt plain and evident preaching of Paul, to be in ſuch ſort ſet forth to the Galatians, as if they had ſeen him die among them, they could not have had a more lively portraiture or image of his death. After this plain and clear ſort is Chriſt his paſſion repreſented in the Sacrament of the Supper, Gal. 3. 1. Before whoſe eyes Jeſus hath been crucified among you. Therefore no ſuch obſcurity and hardneſſe is to be found in the writings of holy Scriptures, as Romaniſts pretend: neither ought Papiſts to trouble themſelves with Crucifixes to remember Chriſt, or profane perſons to ſcorn plain and ſimple preaching, without wiſdome of words.

Cruell] Applyed to anger and wrath, Gen. 49. 7. Prov. 27. 4. Bondage, Exo. 6. 9. Venome, Deut. 32. 33. Hatred, Pſa. 25. 19. The ſtrange woman, Prov. 5. 9. The tender mercies of the wicked, Prov. 12. 10. A meſſenger, Prov. 17. 11. Jealouſie, Cant. 8. 6. The day of the Lord, Iſa. 13. 9. The Nation ſent againſt the Lords people, Jer. 50 42. The unrighteous, Pſal. 71. 4.

Crum] The leaſt and loweſt degree, or meaſure of Gods grace. Mat. 15. 17. The whelps eat the crums, &c.

Cry] Moſt earneſt deſires in prayer, ariſing from the feeling or fear of ſome miſery. Pſal. 40. 1. He heard my cry. Exod. 14. 25. Wherefore didſt thou cry unto me?

2. Loud and boiſterous ſpeech or roaring. Eph. 4. 31. Put away crying from you. Alſo, injuries which cauſe cries, Iſa. 5. 7.

3. Weeping & vehement ſorrow or mourning. Rev. 21. 4. There ſhall be no more crying.

4. Grievous and bitter complaints, ſuch as the poor make in their great diſtreſſes. Jam. 5. 4. The cries of them are entred into the ears of the Lord.

5. The voyce of any diſtreſſed perſon lifted up to God or man for help, Pſalme 119. 145.

To cry] To ſigh in prayer, or with great earneſtneſſe to deſire good things. Pſa. 22. 2. O my God I cry by day, Rom. 8. 15. This is our crying to God: Alſo, to utter a clear and chearfull voyce in the prayſes of God, Iſa. 12. 6.

2. To reprove ſin earneſtly, and to call ſinners to repentance, with great vehemency of voyce. Iſa. 58. Cry aloud and ſpare not.

3. To crave, demand, or procure vengeance from Divine juſtice. Gen. 18. 20. The cry of Sodom is great. Deut. 24. 15. Jam. 5. 4. Gen. 4. 10.

4. To make others cry, by ſtirring up earneſt groans, Gal. 4. 6. See Rom. 8. 16. 26.

5. To utter aloud the Lords prayſes with ſhouting, Iſa. 12. 6.

Cryer] A publick Miniſter, appointed and ſent to proclaim (as a Cryer) the coming of the Meſſiah to work our Redemption. Such an one was John Baptiſt, Matt. 3. 3. The voyce of a Cryer, Joh. 1. 23.

C U.

Cubit] 1. The common, which was the meaſure from the elbow to the fingers end, containing a foot and a half, or half a yard, called the cubit of a man, Deut. 3. 11.

2. An holy cubit, which was a full yard, containing two of the common cubits, as appeareth by comparing 1 King. 7. 13. with 2 Chr. 3. 15.

as

3. The Kings cubit, which was three fingers longer then the common cubit.

4. The Geometricall cubit, containing six common cubits, and according to these cubits it's thought that Noah's Ark was built. Goodwyn's Moses and Aaron, lib. 6. p. 318.

Cuckow] Mentioned, Lev. 11. 16. Deut. 14. 15. It's of all fowls the most unprofitable, foolish, fearfull, cold, weak and unthankfull. It thinks its own voyce most melodious. It shunneth the company of all, as being afraid of every one. Not being able (by reason of its coldnesse) to hatch egs, nor if it could, by reason of its weaknesse to defend its young ones, from other fowls; it therefore layeth egs in the nests of other birds, where there are egs most like unto its own, where they are hatched, and its young ones provided for. But they, when grown up, devour their preservers, the birds that hatched and fed them.

Cucumber] Mentioned, Numb. 11. 5. Isa. 1. 8. Taken in meats it is good for the stomach and bowels, but it yeeldeth small nourishment and evill. The Israelites fed thereon in Ægypt, and in Judea they had gardens thereof, wherein were lodges for Watchmen, which when the fruit was taken away, were left desolate, whereby the Prophet signified the desolation of Jerusalem.

Cummin] It's very medicinable and profitable against many diseases, but being too much used, decayeth the naturall complexion and lively colour. God instructeth the Husband-man both how to sow it, and how to beat out the seed with a rod, Isa. 28. 25, 26, 27. Our Saviour in Mat. 23. 23. taxeth the hypocrisie of the Scribes and Pharisees, who would seem to make conscience in paying the tythe of Cummin, &c. the smallest things, in the mean time omitting the weightyer things in the Law; or their covetousnesse in exacting the tythe of the smallest things, in the mean time passing over judgement, and the love of God, Luk. 11. 42.

Cup] A kinde of Pot, Mater, or Goblet, whereby of old time they did measure a portion of drink to each person in the family. Luk. 22. 17. And he took the Cup.

2. The wine contained in the Cup: Also the blood, whereof the wine was a pledge. Mat. 26. 27, 28. He took the Cup and said: This is my blood.

3. The Crosse or portion of affliction, measured and distributed to every one of the faithfull. Mat. 20. 23. Ye shall indeed drink of my cup. v. 22.

4. Death joyned with the wrath and curse of God, Mat. 26. 36. Father, let this cup passe from me. Joh. 18. 11.

5. Punishment or pain inflicted upon sinners in great measure and fearfull manner. Psal. 11. 6. This is the portion of their cup. Psal. 75. 8. Jer. 25. 17. Often in the Prophets and Psalms it is used for Gods wrath and fury against the wicked: namely, against Romish Rebels, Rev. 16. 19.

6. A great portion of joy given to the faithfull. Psal. 23. 5. And my cup runneth over.

7. A Lot, a Condition, or happy estate. Psal. 16. 5. The Lord is the portion of my cup.

There's mention of, A cup of blessing, 1 Cor. 10. 16 of the Lord, 1 Cor. 11. 27. of Devils, 1 Cor. 10. 21. Salvation, Psal. 116. 13. Consolation, Jer. 16. 7. Fury, trembling, Isa. 51. 17. Astonishment, Ezek. 23. 33. Gods wrath, Nah. 3. 11. Rev. 14. 9, 10.

Golden cup] The Titles of the Catholick Church, of Peters Chair, and Christs Vicar, out of which (as it were) out of a Cup of Gold, Popish Prelates have offered unto Kings and Nations their abominable errours and Idolatries. Rev. 17. 4. Having a Cup of gold in her hand.

6. Year, Numb. 14. 34. Ezek. 4. 6. One day ſhall be for a year, &c. Gen. 27. 46.

7. Judgement. 1 Cor. 4. 3. Or of mans day. So it is in the Originall, for Judgement.

8. The time of ones affliction. Pſa. 116. 2. In that my day, Obad. 12. Pſ. 37. 12. Job 28. 20. Jer. 50. 27. Ezek. 25. 29. Iſa. 9. 4. Hoſ. 1. 11. Pſal. 137. 7. 1 Sam. 26. 10.

9. Judaicall feaſts and feſtivals appointed by the Law of God, as the Jewiſh Sabbath, Pentecoſt, Eaſter, feaſts of Tabernacles, or Expiation, of Trumpets, New Moons: Theſe dayes ſome weak beleevers amongſt the Jews did ſtill obſerve and keep, through ignorance of their liberty, purchaſed by the Paſſion of our Lord. Rom. 14. 5. One man eſteemeth one day above another, &c. Such as expound this of choyce of dayes, for abſtinence and faſting, do much miſſe of the Apoſtles meaning and drift (howſoever ſome Fathers favour that Expoſition, as Ambroſe, Origen, Chryſoſtome, Anſelme, &c.) For the Apoſtle laboureth to compound the Controverſie between beleeving Jews and Gentiles, as is apparent by ver. 2. Alſo of ſuch choyce of dayes for meat, we read of none in the Apoſtles time, or longer after: Neither would he ſay that ſuch did eat to the Lord, as by their owne invention obſerved dayes for abſtinence.

10. A time of opportunity, whether by day or by night, to doe any thing therein, whether good or evill, 1 Sam. 26. 8.

11. The New Teſtament in compariſon of the Old, which is dark with ſhadows: ſo ſome underſtand, Rom. 13. 12.

12. The time of proſperity.

13. Any time of good opportunity, or opportunity to do good, Joh. 9. 4.

It's alſo put for, The time preſent, 1 Sam. 6. 13. The time of Gods judgement, Pſal. 37. 13. The time of life, Joh. 8. 56. Shortly, Job 23. 14. Any time, Gen. 2. 17. A while, 1 Sam. 9. 27. Suddenly, and in a moment, Rev. 18. 8. The time or continuance of ones reign, 1 King. 14. 20. The day of death or judgement, Luk. 21. 34.

It may be conſidered alſo by way of relation, as, The dayes of heaven, Deut. 11. 21. for, The time of the heavens continuance, The day of wrath, Rom. 2. 5. for, The time of puniſhment, Length of dayes, Pſa. 91. 16. for Long life. Day of viſitation, Iſa. 1. 3. for, The time of Gods judgements to be inflicted; or according to, 1 Pet. 2. 12. The day of mercy. All day long, Rom. 10. 21. for, Alwayes, or upon every occaſion. There's alſo mention of a day of battel, a day of tribulation, &c. which are eaſy to be underſtood.

Dayes alſo are termed Good, Evill, Great, Holy, according to the matter whereunto they have relation, as any may perceive.

Day by day, or daily offerings] Our continuall and daily prayers, and our ſet worſhip of God, acceptable to him by Chriſt, who was figured by the Lamb offered up every day in the morning and evening. Num. 28. 3. Offer daily two Lambs without ſpot. See the practiſe of Elias, 1 King. 18. 36. Dan. 9. 21. Cornelius, Act. 10. 23. for daily ſet prayers.

Day of darkneſſe] Times of affliction and trouble, or ſharp and hard times, Joel 2. 2. A day of darkneſſe, and of blackneſſe.

5. The time of his ſecond coming to judgment in glory and majeſty. Luk. 17. 24. So ſhall the Son of man be in his day. 2 Pet. 3. 10. The day of the Lord ſhall come. This is called, The Day of Wrath, Condemnation and Deſtruction, in reſpect of the wicked. Rom. 2. 5. 2 Pet. 5. 7. A day of Redemption and Delivering in reſpect of the godly, who are then to be ſet free from all kinde of evils. Luk. 21. 28. A day of Revelation, in reſpect of all Men and Angels, who ſhall be then revealed and manifeſted what they be, and what they have done. A day of Judgement, 2 Pet. 2. 9. becauſe therein all perſons are to be tryed and adjudged unto that condition and ſtate unto which they muſt ſtick for ever.

Finally, That day, by an excellency being the Laſt day, and Great day, full of Glory to Chriſt, of joy to the Good, of Sorrow to the wicked, Joh. 6. 36. 2 Pet. 3. 11. After which there ſhall be no ſucceſſion of Dayes and Nights, but one perpetuall Day for the Righteous, and one perpetuall Night for the Sinners and Ungodly.

The Lords day] The firſt Day of the week, being the firſt day of the Creation, called commonly Sunday, Rev. 1. 10. I was raviſhed in the ſpirit on the Lords day; ſo called, for that our Lord riſing from death on that day, brought forth the light of a new and eternall world. It is alſo kept for Remembrance of the Myſtery of our Lords reſurrection, on which day, for that end ſolemn aſſemblies were kept by the faithfull, 1 Cor. 16. 2. Act. 20. 7. By our Lords appointment. Act. 1. 3. Papiſts erre, in making the conſtitution of this day to be a meer Tradition of the Church, without any authority of Scripture.

Day of the Lord] A time appointed by the Lord, wherein to aſſemble the Heathens to execute his judgements againſt the Edomites, Obad. verſ. 15. For the Day of the Lord is near.

Day of Midian] The time when the Midianites were by Gedeon marvellouſly confounded founded and deſtroyed, when the people of Iſrael were ſo freed from very great diſtreſſes, as yet their joy was not laſting, Iſa. 9. 4. Judg. 7. 22. Iſa. 10. 25. This renowned victory twice by Iſaiah reported, is an example of Gods goodneſs and might, in delivering his.

To day and to morrow] Time that now is, and the time to come, even the whole time of his office. Luk. 13. 32. I will heal ſtill to day and to morrow.

Note. As to day is for the time preſent, and to morrow for all time to come, ſo yeſterday, and the day before are uſed for all time paſt, Gen. 31. 2, 5. Exod. 4. 10. & 5. 7, 14

Day and night] Perpetually, for ever and without any end. Rev. 14. 11. They ſhall have no reſt day or night. Iſa. 27. 3.

2. Continually, without ceaſing, ſo long as this world laſts. Rev. 12. 10. Which accuſeth them before our God day and night.

Not in the day time onely, but in the night alſo, even every day, Luk. 2. 37.

At one day] Very ſhortly, and at one inſtant. Rev. 18. 8 The plague ſhall come at one day; that is, ſuddenly, and in a moment, 1 Pet. 3. 10.

Good days] Of theſe there are four ſorts.

1. The time or day of naturall life.

2. Of a ſpirituall life, which is bleſſed without with temporall, and feaſted within with ſpirituall goodneſſe, Pſal. 112. 1, &c. & 144. 9, &c. Eccl. 1. 2. & 2. 12, 13.

3. Of death to the godly, Ec. 7. 2. Rev. 14. 13.

4. Of judgement, Luk. 6. 23.

One day as 1000 years] That with God there is no place for ſuch diſtance of time, ſhorter or longer, as it is w^th^ men, 2 Pet. 2. 8.

Such as draw this to prove the continuance of the world to be but 6000. years, according to the number of the dayes in the Week, do willingly dote.

Day of ſalvation] Time of the Goſpell, wherein the glad tydings of Salvation are publiſhed and offered. 2 Cor. 6. 2. This is the day of ſalvation.

Day of ſlaughter] A day appointed for a ſolemn feaſt, where beaſts were ſlaughtered by the Jews for ſacrifice. Jam. 5. 5. As in a day of ſlaughter.

Day of temptation] All the time wherein God tryed his people. Pſal. 95. 8. In the day of temptation in the wilderneſſe.

Day ſtar, See Star.

This day] Every day, or the day preſent which now is. Mat. 6. 11. Give us this day. Teach us, from day to day to depend upon God for things of this life.

2. Shortly, ere it be long. Joſh. 23. 14. This day I enter the way of all the earth.

To day] The whole ſeaſon of our calling to God, even all the time of this life, wherein God offereth us grace, and calleth us to him. Pſa. 95. 7. To day if you will hear his voyce. By this men are warned to hear the Word with conſtancy all their life long, becauſe it is full day ſo long as they live here.

Day of viſitation] The time wherein God of his great mercy ſhall convert a ſinner. 1 Pet. 2. 12. May glorifie God in the day of viſitation. Luk. 19. 44.

Dayes] The ſhort time of mans life, who is a creature (as it were) of a dayes continuance. Pſ. 90. 9. Our dayes are ſpent in thine anger. Gen. 47. 9. It ſignifieth Yeares, Gen. 25. 1.

2. The time and ſpace wherein any thing continueth. Pſal. 90. 10, 12, & 16. Comfort us according to the dayes wherein thou afflicted us.

3. Events good or evill, eſtates, calamities that at any time befall men, Pſal. 37. 18. Pſal. 31. 15. Pſal. 119. 84. Iſa. 7. 17. In this place of Iſa. the word Dayes ſignifieth the ſtate of time, and thereby the unhappy ſtate or miſeries of times, by a Metonymie of the Subject, and Synecdoche.

Ancient of Dayes] The eternall God, who hath neither beginning of dayes, nor end of years. Dan. 7. 19. The ancient of dayes. This is a poor ground whereon to build their contumely offered to God, in ſetting him out by the picture of a gray headed man, as if he could wax old, with whom a thouſand years is as one day.

1290 Dayes] Three years ſeven months and thirteen dayes, when Religion reſtored to the Jews by Judas Maccabeus, it ſhould be ratified by the publick Edict of Antiochus. Dan. 12. 11. There ſhall be a thouſand two hundred ninety dayes. See 1 Mac. 11. 33. But the condition of the afflicted Jews, is in ver. 12. promiſed to be yet more happy after 45 days, when their freedome from tyranny ſhould come, 2 Macc. 6. 16.

To come into dayes] To grow in years, or to be aged. Gen. 24. 1. & 18. 11. The like phraſe the Evangeliſt uſeth of ſome gone forward in days for very old, Luk. 1. 7, 8.

At the end of dayes] At the end of the yeare, Gen. 41. 3. A full yeare of dayes, Gen. 41. 1. 2 Sam. 14. 28. Becauſe of certain dayes that begin the year, beſide the moneths and dayes are often uſed for years, Lev. 25. 29.

Evill dayes] Times full of ſins and troubles, or troubleſome and ſinfull times. Eph. 5. 16. For the dayes are evill. Gen. 47. 6.

Dayes be called evill, not effectively, becauſe they make men evill; nor eſſentially, as if a day in its owne nature were evill; but accidentally, in regard of the evill actions and events which doe happen to us in the day: In which ſenſe Chriſt ſpeaks, Mat. 6.34. Sufficient for the day is the evill thereof, viz. the affliction, grief, and hurts that every day brings with it.

Fulneſſe of dayes] Not onely long life and great age: but a willingneſſe to die without deſiring long life on earth. Gen. 25. 8.

Good dayes] A bleſſed and happy life, wherein many good things befall us. 1 Pet. 3. 10. If any man love to ſee good dayes. Pſal. 34. 12.

Laſt dayes, or latter dayes and times] At length, a long while after, or hereafter in time to come. Gen. 49. 1. Gather them that I may tell them what is to come in the laſt dayes, viz. after they ſhall enter into Canaan, ſome good time hence, Deut. 4. 30. Alſo, Jer. 23. 20. In the laſt dayes, viz. when the time of your Captivity in Babylon, ſhall have an end, Jer. 30. 24.

2. The times next going before the finall and generall judgement, 1 Tim. 4. 1. 2 Tim. 3. 1. & 2 Pet. 3. 3.

3. The whole time wherein the Goſpel is preached, to wit, between the firſt and ſecond coming of Chriſt, called by Paul, Fulneſſe of time, as in Iſa. 2. 12. Mic. 4. 1, 2. Jer. 48. & 49. Ezek. 38. Hoſ. 3. 5. Joel 2. 28, 29. Act. 2. 17. Heb. 1. 2. 2 Joh. 2. 18. 1 Cor. 10, 11. The reaſon why the times between Chriſts firſt and ſecond coming are called laſt dayes, is, becauſe in theſe dayes all figures, types, propheſies, were to be fulfilled.

Secondly, becauſe the form of the Church conſtituted by Chriſt and his Apoſtles, was not to be any more changed, as it had been till the flood. 2. In the vocation of Abraham. 3. In the deliverance out of Ægypt. 4. In the return out of Babylon, &c.

Ten dayes] A ſmall and ſhort ſpace of time (as it were) for ten dayes long. Rev. 2. 10. Ye ſhall have tribulation ten dayes, that is, a few dayes. A definite and certain number, put for an indefinite and uncertain.

Three dayes and three nights] Not three full or whole dayes and nights; for it is cleer by the Evangeliſts that it was not ſo: but a part here is uſed for the whole naturall day, which the Jews began at evening, and the night being joyned as an appendix to the day; ſo as the firſt day on which Chriſt was crucified, muſt be reckoned with the precedent night, and to the laſt night, muſt be added the ſubſequent day, Matth. 12. 40.

Daily] put for every day, Exod. 5. 19. Neh. 5. 18. Meet and neceſſary, Matt. 6. 11. Upon every occaſion, Iſa. 58. 2. Continually, 2 Cor. 11. 28. Alwayes, Prov. 8. 30. from day to day, Jer. 7. 25. or, day by day, 1 King. 18. 36. Frequent and uſuall, Act. 6. 1.

Daily bread] That which is ſufficient and neceſſary for our nature, or bread ſufficient for every day, Mat. 6. 11. The Syriack reads it (Bread of our neceſſity) that is, meet and neceſſary food. The Papiſts doe erre, when they expound this of the Sacrament of the Altar.

D E.

Deacon] A Steward of the Church treaſure, being appointed to look unto the poor, and to miniſter unto every one of them as he had need, 1 Tim. 3. 8. Phil. 1. 1. To the Biſhops and to the Deacons. Of their Office and Election, read Act. 6 1, 2, &c. Of their ſeverall kindes, ſee Rom. 12. 8.

Sometimes to the Miniſters of the Goſpel, 1 Cor. 3. 5. Both ordinary and extraordinary, Col. 1. 23, 25. 2 Cor. 3. 6. 1 Tim. 4. 6. Act. 1. 15, 17. Col. 1. 7. Sometimes to every Worſhipper of Chriſt, Joh. 12. 26. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Dead] One whoſe ſoul is ſeparated from his body, either by naturall or violent death. 1 Pet. 4. 6. The Goſpell was preached to the dead; that is, ſuch as were naturally dead when this was written of Peter, but were alive when the Goſpel was preached to them.

2. One whoſe ſoul and body is ſeparated from Gods grace and Spirit, Luk. 9. 60. Let the dead bury their dead, Rev. 3. 2. 1 Tim. 5. 6.

3. One very neer to death. Gen. 20. 3. Thou art but dead. Job 27. 15. His remnant ſhall be buried in death; that is, before they be wholly dead, while life is in them, they ſhall be buryed.

4. Such as have no being at all, but are extinct both body and ſoul. Mat. 22. 32. God is not God of the dead, viz. of ſuch as be utterly periſhed (as Sadduces thought, according to whoſe ſenſe Chriſt ſpeaks) but of ſuch as are are alive in ſoul, and ſhall alſo in their bodies (which be now dead) live again; of theſe he is God.

5. Such as were like dead perſons, as the Jews in Babylon, of whom no more hope that they ſhould live in their owne Land, then that a man dead and put in the grave, ſhould riſe to life. Iſa. 26. 19. Thy dead ſhall live.

6. Things without life, which Wizards and Soothſayers abuſed to their ſuperſtitious divination. Iſa. 8. 19. From the living, (Gods Prophets which were alive) to the dead.

Put alſo for, The place of the dead, Luk. 24. 5. The ſtate of the dead, Rom. 8. 11. The reſurrection of the dead, 1 Cor. 15. 29. Subject to death, 2 Cor. 5. 14. The miſerably afflicted, held as dead, as without hope of recovery, Iſa. 26. 19. 2 Tim. 2. 11. Idols, Pſal. 106. 28.

There are dead corporally (as all of us muſt be:) Dead ſpiritually, The unregenerate who are dead in ſin, Eph. 2. 1. The regenerate to ſin, Rom. 6. 2, 11. To the Law, Rom. 7. 4.

Dead to the Law] That the Law of Moſes after faith in Chriſt, hath not power to work and increaſe ſin and condemnation, as it doth before our converſion to Chriſt, Rom. 7. 4.

Dead while ſhe liveth] A wanton Widow, ſpiritually dead in ſoul; whileſt in the world ſhe liveth naturally, 1 Tim. 5. 6.

Dead to ſin] A mortified perſon, one in whom the death of Chriſt hath broken the force of ſin, that it cannot reign. Rom. 6. 2. How can they which be dead to ſin, &c. Where the vigor and force of ſin, (which is the life of ſin) is cruſhed and extinct, there ſin cannot bring forth ſuch bitter fruits, as it wont before Sanctification to doe; therefore even as men which have ſo loſt their bodily ſtrength as it cannot be recovered, are ſaid to be dead while they live: ſo though ſin ſtill live in the godlyeſt, yet they are dead to ſin, becauſe the power and old ſtrength of ſin is ſore abated, and leſſened daily.

Dead in treſpaſſes and ſins] All unregenerate, naturall and unmortified men: even all the elect, as they be and ſtick in the corruption of their nature. Theſe are dead in ſin:

Firſt, becauſe through guilt of ſin they are voyd of true life, and worthy of death.

Secondly, becauſe they are under the power of their ſinfull luſts, (as one that is drowned in the water) having no more power to do any duty of a godly life, then a dead man hath to do the duties of naturall life. Eph. 2. 2. Being dead in treſpaſſes and ſins, you were quickened. Eph. 4. 14. Ye were ſtrangers from a godly life.

Twice dead] To be lyable and ſubject to a twofold death, one which at their birth was due to them for their natural corruption: another, which afterward they drew on themſelves by actuall defection, Jude 13.

Dead works] All manner of ſins, Originall, Actuall, in thought, word, and deed. Heb. 9. 14. Purge your conſciences from dead works. Heb. 6. 2. Sins are thus called:

Firſt, becauſe they come from perſons ſpiritually dead.

Secondly, they deſerve eternall death, and lead thereunto without forgiveneſſe. What becomes of veniall ſins if all be deadly? If every ſin, even the leaſt, is a work of death, and in ſtrict juſtice be worthy of deſtruction eternall, then no ſin is ſo light and veniall, as can be done away without the merit of Chriſts death, onely by an aſperſion of holy water, or kiſſing the Pax, &c.

Deaf] Naturally, Lev. 19. 14. Spiritually, Iſa. 35. 5. Wilfully, Iſa. 42. 19. & 58. 4.

Deal] Such deal well, who deal kindely and truly, Gen. 24. 29. Gently, 2 Sam. 18. 5. Couragiouſly, 2 Chr. 19. 11. Bountifully, Pſa. 119. 17. Prudently, Iſa. 52. 13. Graciouſly, Gen. 33. 11. Faithfully, 2 King. 12. 15. Wiſely, 2 Chron. 11. 23. Such ill, who deal falſly, Gen. 21. 23. Deceitfully, Exod. 8. 21. Fooliſhly, Pſal. 105. 25. Unjuſtly, Iſa. 26. 16. Treacherouſly, Jer. 12. 1. Furiouſly, Ezek. 23. 25. Hatefully, Ezek. 23. 29. Corruptly, Neh. 1. 7.

Death] A ſeparation of ſoul from body. Heb. 9. 27. After death cometh judgement. This death is either naturall or violent, and is called a bodily and worldly death.

2. A ſeparation of ſoul and body from Gods favour in this world. Luk. 1. 79. And ſit in the ſhadow of death. This is ſpirituall Death.

The ſpiritual death by ſin in this life, begetteth the firſt death, which is natural in the end of our life; alſo the ſecond death which endureth eternally after this life ended firſt in ſoul, and then in the whole man.

3. A ſeparation of the whole man from Gods heavenly preſence and glory for ever. Rom. 6. 23. The wages of ſin is death, Rev. 20. 6. They ſhall never ſee the ſecond death. This is eternal death.

4. A deadly thing. 2 King. 4. 40. Death is in the Pot, that is, a deadly thing is there. Rom. 7. 23. Sin is there called the body of death, becauſe it is a deadly thing.

5. All calamities and miſeries, not only of the world to come, but of this life, which be as the Harbengers, and forerunners of death. Gen. 2. 17. Thou ſhalt die the death; that is, thou ſhalt become ſubject to death, and to all evils that bring us to death. 2 Cor. 1. 10. Great death put for great dangers.

In Gen. 2. 17. all ſorts of death, firſt and ſecond, corporall and ſpirituall, temporall and eternall, be meant, with the cauſes, ſignes, antecedents, conſequents, effects whatſoever; as ſickneſſe, pain, ſorrow, &c.

6. Deſtruction and overthrow. Hoſ. 13. 14. O death, I will be thy death; that is, thy deſtroyer and aboliſher, thy overthrow.

7. Peſtilence or Plague, which is a deadly ſickneſſe bringing death. Rev. 6. 8. His name that ſate thereon, is Death.

8. The perill or hazard of preſent death. 2 Cor. 11. 23. In death often, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 31.

9. Things which being once created and living, are now periſhed and dead. Job 28. 22. Deſtruction and death, ſay, &c.

It's alſo put for the putting to death, Act. 8. 1. or procuring it, Act. 22. 4. A plague, Exod. 10. 17. Evil mens power, which may put to death, 2 Cor. 4. 11. Affliction and calamity ſuffered for the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 4. 12. Damnation, 2 Cor. 7. 10. Grievous diſeaſes, Jer. 16. 4.

Death, 1 Corporall, is common to all, Pſa 89. 48. brought in by ſin, Rom. 5. 12. occaſioned often through worldly ſorrow, 2 Cor. 7. 10. and through age, infirmities, weakneſſe, 2 King. 13. 14. And is both Natural, Gen. 49. 33. & 50. 26. as elſewhere often; and Violent, by Water, Gen. 7. 11. Peſtilence, Numb. 14. 37. Gen. 19. 24. Lyons, Serpents, Bears, Wormes, &c. At ſome times lingering, Iſa. 38. 12. At other times ſudden, Act. 5. 5, 10. Unto the wicked terrible, Heb. 9. 27. Unto the godly comfortable, Eccl. 7. 1. Prov. 14. 32. Whereof Chriſt is the death or deſtroyer, Hoſ. 13. 14. Having taken away its ſting, 1 Cor. 15. 57. and aboliſhed the ſame, 2 Tim. 1. 10.

2. Spirituall, of Beleevers, unto ſin, Rom. 6. 2. Unto the law, Gal. 2. 19. Unto the world, Gal. 6. 14. Of the unbeleeving, being a ſeparation of the whole man in body and ſoul from the gracious fellowſhip of God, Mat. 4. 16. Eph. 2. 1. 1 Tim. 5. 6. In which reſpect ſins are termed dead works, Heb. 6. 2.

3. Eternall, The perpetual ſeparation of the whole man from Gods heavenly preſence and glory, to be tormented for ever with the devil and his Angels, which is the condition of the Reprobates, after the judgment of the laſt day, and is termed the ſecond death, Rev. 2. 11.

No bands untill their death] The conſtant proſperity of the wicked living in a continual tenor of welfare till they die, even like a web of cloth, made even of ſtrong thread, without knots or ſnurles. Pſa. 73. 4. There are no bands in their death.

To die for the Lord, Act. 21. 13. is, To ſuffer martyrdome for Chriſt.

To die in the Lord, Rev. 14. 13. is all one with to die in the faith of Chriſt, or to die in the death of the righteous, Numb. 23. 10. Pſa. 37. 37.

Thy dead ſhall live, Iſa. 26. 19. the Jews in Babylon, that were as dead perſons, of whom there was no hope that they ſhould returne to their owne land, ſhould again flouriſh therein.

The firſt born of death, Job 18. 13. for a moſt heavy and grievous ſickneſſe.

God is not the God of the dead, Mat. 22. 32. that is, of ſuch as have no being at all, but are extinct, both body and ſoul; the one really, the other in Gods account, as of the reprobate.

The miniſtration of death] 2 Cor. 3. 7. The law, whoſe proper nature it is for ſin to denounce againſt men Gods wrath, damnation, and eternal death.

Heavy to death, and ſorrowes of Death] His moſt mortal and deadly heavyneſſe and ſorrows, or a death ful of bodily griefs and ſoul torments. Act. 2. 24. Hee looſed the ſorrows of death. Mat. 26. 38. My ſoul is heavy to death. Out of theſe ſorrows and death, ſprings all true life and joy.

Second death] Eternal death and damnation of ſoul and body in hell, as the firſt Death is the diſſolution of the ſoul and body. Rev. 2. 11. He that overcommeth ſhall not be hurt of the ſecond death.

Shadow of death] Death ſhadowiſh and darkſome, full of diſcomfort and heavyneſſe. Job 24. 7. But the morning is even to them as the ſhadow of death. Luk. 1. 79. Pſal. 23. 4. Iſa. 9. 2, 3.

Or, a fearfull and dangerous place, where there is as it were preſent death.

Soul heavy to death] A ſoul as heavy and ſorrowfull as theirs is which muſt die and be tormented for ever. Hee ſpeaks here not of corporall death, but eternall. Mat. 26. 38.

The ſorrows of death, Pſal. 18. 4. for great perils and troubles accompanying the ſame.

To ſwallow up death in victory] To conquer for ever the ſecond death, that it no more doe rule and domineer over ſuch as be admitted to Chriſts ſpirituall banquet, Iſa. 25. 8. This was fulfilled when the Jews after their long divorce from Chriſt for their unbeliefſake, being long dead in their infidelity, were again reſtored and raiſed to the life of grace, as Paul prophelied of them, Rom. 11. 15.

To ſee, or taſte of death] To die or depart this world. Luk. 2. 26. I ſhould not ſee death.

Debate] Striſe, or variance; when men of contrary deſires and opinions, differ and fall out amongſt themſelves. Rom. 1. 29. Debate, &c.

Debir] An oratour, or word. A City, whereof the name was before Kiriath-ſepher, Joſh. 15. 15. and Kiriath-ſannah, Ibid. 49. Alſo, a King of Eglon, Joſh. 10. 3.

Deborah] A word; or a Bee. The name of Rebeccaes Nurſe, Gen. 35. 8. And of a Propheteſſe who judged Iſrael, Judg. 4. 6.

Debt] A ſum of money which we owe to another, or that which is any way due to another.

2. Sin, which is called a debt, becauſe for ſin we do owe unto the juſtice of God eternal death, and unto our Neighbour whom we wrong by our ſin, we doe owe the recompence of the wrong done to him. Mat. 6. 12. Forgive us our ſins.

3. Creditour, 2 King. 4. 7. marg. It is properly that which is owing to a Creditour.

Debtor] One which oweth duty to another, by virtue of ſome calling. Thus Miniſters and Princes are Debters, Rom. 1. 14. I am debtor both to the wiſe and unwiſe.

2. Such one as by law of Charity, oweth relief to others. Thus the rich are debtors to the poor. Rom. 15. 27. And their debtors are they.

3. One who is beholden to another for ſome benefit received, Rom. 8. 12. We are debtors to the Spirit, becauſe the Spirit doth regenerate us, and dwell in us, and witneſſeth our adoption to us, comforting us: for theſe benefits we are Debters to the Spirit, being bound to be led and ruled by the good motions thereof.

4. One who is a Treſpaſſer and Offender of us, either in word or deed. Mat. 6. 12. As we forgive our Debters.

5. One that oweth the things of this world to another, Luk. 7. 41. & 16. 5, 6. One bound to fulfill the Law, Gal. 5. 3.

Or thus, Debtor by Office, Rom. 1. 14. By Bond or Obligation, Gal. 5. 3. By Duty, Rom. 8. 12. By the Law of Charity, Rom. 15. 27. By treſpaſſing or offending, whether God, or our Neighbour, Mat. 6. 12.

Debtor to the whole Law] Such a one as bindeth himſelf to the exact and perfect keeping of the Law in every point, becauſe he will be juſtified by the works of the Law, and not by faith in Chriſt, Gal. 5. 3.

Decay] To be ready to vaniſh, and wax old, Heb. 8. 13. To waſte, Job 14. 10. To diminiſh, Ezek. 5. 11. To dry up and fade, Job 13. 11, 18.

Decapolis] Often Cities. The name of a Countrey ſituated towards the Eaſt of Judea, wherein there were ſo many Cities, Mat. 4. 25. Mar. 5. 20.

Deceit] Subtilty, craft, or cunning, when men hide their evill meanings by ſome colourable words or deeds, that they may more eaſily hurt and entrap others. Rom. 1. 29. Murder, Debate, Deceit, Prov. 25. 24. Hee that hateth, will counterfeit with his lips, but his heart layeth up deceit.

Deceit or guile cometh of a word in Hebrew (as the learned obſerve) which ſignifieth to heave, or caſt, or ſhoot with a Bow: and as warpen Bowes do caſt and ſhoot awry, and deceive the Archer, Pſ. 78. 57. ſo Impoſtors or men of Deceit do firſt lift up a man with vain hope, that being diſappointed, he may have the more heavy overthrow: ſee 1 Chr. 12. 17. Gen. 29. 25. ſo in Jer. 37. 9. the lifting up of the ſoul is put for Deceiving.

Put alſo for, Deceitfull perſons, Jer. 9. 6. That which is gotten by deceit, Jer. 5. 27. Deceivable thoughts, dreams and lies of falſe Teachers, Jer. 23. 20. Or of their owne hearts, Jer. 8. 5. Iſa. 30. 10. Devices to catch, Pſal. 38. 12. It's both inward, Prov. 12. 20. and outward, and that both in word, Pſa. 34. 13. Diſcovering it ſelf by broaching new, ſtrange, and falſe opinions, 2 Cor. 11. 13. 2 Cor. 4. 2. Flattery, Pſal. 12. 2, 3. Lying, Mic. 6. 12. And deed, as by falſe weights and ballances, Mic. 6. 10, 11. Fraudulent performance of ones vows, Mal. 1. 14. all ſubtle dealing to oppreſſe others, Mat. 26. 4. Bribery, Job 15. 35. Uſury, Prov. 29. 13.

Deceitfulneſſe of ſin] The guilefull craftineſſe of ſin, entrapping us by fair flattering ſhews, and ſundry wily ſleights, Rom. 7. 11. Heb. 3. 13. Leſt any of you be hardened by the deceitfulneſſe ceitfulneſſe of ſin. So Eph. 4. 22. Deceitfull luſts; becauſe ſinfull luſts do deceive naturall men with ſhews and falſe appearances.

Deceitfull tongue] A tongue which uttereth falſe and guilfull words, to deceive others, Prov. 21. 6.

Man of Deceit] An Impoſtor or deceitful perſon, Pſa. 43. 1. Pſal. 7. 7. By Man of Deceit is noted the ſecret ſinner; as by Man of Blood, the open and violent Treſpaſſer.

Not deceived] Not immediately ſeduced by the Devil as Eve was; ſhe was alſo in the tranſgreſſion firſt; for Adam tranſgreſſed but after Eve, and by her ſuggeſtion, 1 Tim. 2. 14. They erre which extenuate or excuſe Adam by his conjugall benevolence to his Wife, it is againſt Gen. 3. 17.

To ſport with their owne Deceivings] To pleaſe themſelves with mocking the Church of God, and deceiving the faithfull, into whoſe publick meetings they crouded themſelves as true members of Chriſt, being indeed ſpots and blots, 2 Pet. 2. 13. Jude v. 12.

Decent] That which of its own nature brings ſome dignity and comelineſſe to divine actions; as a Table and a Table-cloth at the Communion, a Pulpit and Pulpit-cloth to a Sermon.

See Comelyneſſe. 1 Cor. 14. 40.

Deck] To gild, Rev. 17. 4. marg. Beautifie, Iſa. 60. 13. Garniſh, Mat. 12. 44. Adorn, Luk. 21. 5. Spoken of the proſperous eſtate of Jeruſalem through Gods bleſſing, Iſa. Ezek. 16. 11, 13. Of the high places which the people idolatrouſly decked, Ezek. 16. 16. Of the Bridegroom, Iſa. 61. 10. Of the adulterous bed, Prov. 7. 16. Of Idolaters, Ezek. 23. 40. Hoſ. 2. 13. Of God, who decketh himſelf with majeſty, and excellency, &c. Job 40. 10.

To declare] To make known things which before were unknown to us. Joh. 17. 26. I have declared thy Name to them.

2. To cauſe ſomething which was but meanly and weakly known, to be better and more cleerly known to us. 1 Cor. 15. 1. I declare to you the Goſpel. Joh. 17. 26. And I will declare it, viz. more and more reveal, and manifeſt it more effectually and fully, that their faith in me, which is little and weak, may grow till it be great and ſtrong.

To declare ſin is to glory in it without ſhame, as the Sodomites did, Iſa. 3. 9.

Spoken of God, Iſa. 48. 3. Chriſt, Pſa. 2. 3. The heavens, Pſal. 19. 1. The fiſhes of the ſea, Job 12. 8. The works of God, Pſal. 75. 1. Good men, Pſal. 119. 13. Bad men, Iſa. 3. 9. ſignifying, to Tell, Shew, Publiſh, Manifeſt, Make known, &c. As in the places alledged, and ſundry others may appear.

Decline] put for, Bending to a ſide, Ex. 23. 2. To turn back, Pſal. 44. 18. To goe downe, Pſal. 102. 11. & 109. 23.

Decree] Gods purpoſe and determination concerning all perſons and things. This is his generall Decree: See Counſell. Of which Decree, Election is part, which hath in it two things, foreknowledge, or purpoſe, or good pleaſure, whereby God knoweth ſome as his owne: Secondly, predeſtination whereby he hath fore-ordained them to be conformed to his Son in grace and glory, Rom. 8. 29. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Eph. 1. 4.

2. His particular purpoſe of ſending ſome ſpecial bleſſing or puniſhment. Zeph. 2. 2. Before the Decree come forth. This is a ſpecial Decree.

3. Determination of the Church, touching things to be done, or not to be done. Act. 16. 4. And they delivered them the Decrees to keep. Theſe be Eccleſiaſticall Decrees.

4. Purpoſes and thoughts of Princes, publiſhed unto their people, touching matters of war and peace. Iſa. 8. 10. Pronounce a Decree. Theſe be Civill Decrees.

5. Statutes and Ordinances for the adminiſtring of juſtice between man and man. Prov. 31. 5. Leſt he drink and forget the Decree.

Spoken of God touching Chriſt, Pſal. 2. 7. The rain, Job 28. 26. The heavens of heavens, &c. Pſal. 148. 6. The ſea, Pro. 8. 29. Jer. 5. 22. The puniſhing of the ungodly, Zeph. 2. 2.

Man, generall, in reſpect of all, 2 Chron. 30. 5. Jonah 3. 7. Particular, in reſpect of ſome, being either lawfull, and that Civil, Luk. 2. 1. Which muſt be juſt, Prov. 8. 15. Eccleſiaſtical, Act. 16. 4. Religious, tending to the worſhip and ſervice of God, though publiſhed by Heathen, Ezr. 6. 3, 4, 5, 8. & 7. 13. Eſt. 8. 14. Dan. 3. 29. & 6. 26. Jonah 3. 7. Or unlawful, being unjuſt, Iſa. 10. 1, Eſt. 3. 15. Haſty, Dan. 2. 15. Idolatrous, 2 King. 17. 8. Dan. 3. 10.

It's put for, To profane and turn to a common and unholy uſe, 2 King. 23. 8. To pierce, Ezek. 28. 7. Carnally to abuſe a woman, Gen. 34. 5. To deſtroy, 1 Cor. 3. 17.

Defraud] To oppreſſe or over-reach one in a matter, 1 Theſſ. 4. 6. marg. To put beſide, deprive of, or diſappoint any of their right, 1 Sam. 12. 3. To keep back by fraud, Jam. 5. 4. To deny what he oweth, or to reſtore what he hath borrowed, or is intruſted withall; but doth deceitfully convert to his owne uſe what belongeth to another. To retain from, or either by fraud or force to take what's anothers, Mar. 10. 19. 1 Cor. 6. 7, 8. Not to perform ones duty, though of ability to diſcharge it, 1 Cor. 7. 1. To wrong, entrap, deceive, or beguile, 2 Cor. 7. 2.

Good degree] Credit, eſtimation, dignity, liberty, and boldneſſe or freedome to ſuch as doe their duty well, as Deacons: Theſe may leſſe fear reproach, and more unfearfully and freely diſcharge their office, then they which have been unfaithfull and deſerved reproach and ſhame by uſing them ill; ſuch ſhall be alwayes in bondage and dread of being hit in the teeth with their faults. 1 Tim. 3. 13. They purchaſe a good degree and liberty, &c. Papiſts abuſe and corrupt this place, when out of it they teach, That a Deacon doing well, gets a good decree of Prieſthood; meaning, when they have played their part at the Maſſe, and miniſtred there to the Prieſt: then they are fit afterwards to be made Prieſts. This is a plain mocking of Scriptures; for Deacons by Chriſts ordinance were to take care of the poor, and to diſtribute the publick almes; as in Acts 6. appeareth.

Alſo, it was not Pauls meaning, that a Deacon ſhould be a Miniſter, for which every Deacon is not fit; one may be meet to miniſter for the poor as a Deacon, and far unmeet to miniſter in the Church as a Paſtor: Alſo, the Maſs is ſcarce ſo ancient as S. Pauls time; Paul little knew alſo what Popiſh Deacons meant.

Laſtly, the text it ſelfe expounds degree to be liberty or boldneſſe in doing his office, with a more quiet conſcience before God,

God, and without diſcredit before the Church, which is a fruit of a lively faith in Chriſt. Indeed Mr. Beza confeſſeth that by ancient canons it was provided, that ſuch as approved themſelves faithfull in inferior charges, were advanced to the greater; but that muſt be underſtood, where fitneſſe and ability did concur.

Dehabites] Of generation. They were of them which hindered the building of the Temple, Ezra 4. 9.

Dekar] Force. One of Solomon's officers, 1 King 4 9.

Delaiah] The poor of the Lord. The Son of Elioenai, 1 Chr. 3. 24. A Levite, 1 Chr. 24. 18.

Delight] Referred, 1. To God in reſpect of Chriſt our head, Prov. 8. 30. Us, his members, Pro. 11. 20. The worſhip which is by us performed; as Obedience, 1 Sam. 15. 22. Prayer, Prov. 15. 8. And the good which is by him done unto us, Jer. 9. 24. Mic. 7. 18.

2. To Man; and that both lawfull and unlawfull. Lawfull, naturall and religious. Naturall, Pſal. 37. 11. Prov. 29. 17. Eccleſ. 2. 8. Religious; in reſpect of God, Job 22. 26. Pſal. 37. 4. Gods children, 1 Sam. 19. 2. Pſal. 16. 3. Gods ordinances; as, his law, Pſal. 1, 2. His will, Pſal. 40. 8. His commandements, Pſal. 112. 1. His ſtatutes, Pſa. 119. 16. His teſtimonies, Ibid. 24. His Sabbath, Iſa. 58. 13.

Unlawfull, firſt, when the delight he ſeemeth to have in God is hypocriticall, Iſa. 58. 2.

Secondly, when the delight he ſeemeth to have in Gods children is but pretended or treacherous, 1 Sam. 18. 22.

Thirdly, when the delights which indeed he hath are ſinful; as, in Lies, Pſal. 62. 4. War, Pſal. 68. 30. Scorning, Prov. 1. 22. Frowardneſſe of the wicked, Prov. 2. 14. Abominations, Iſa 66. 3. So, to be a lover of pleaſures (though in themſelves lawful) more then a lover of God, 2 Tim. 3. 4.

Deliver] Referred, I. To God, both in reſpect of the godly, and of the ungodly. Of the godly, in reſpect of Satan, Col. 1. 13. Evill, Mat. 6. 13. Sin, Pſal. 39. 8. Fears, Pſ. 34. 4. Perſecution, 2 Tim. 3. 11. Diſtreſſes, Pſal. 107. 6. Troubles, Pſal. 25. 22. Enemies; whether mediately or immediately, Judg. 10. 12. Temptations, 2 Pet. 2, 9. Of the ungodly, whom he giveth unto the hands of their enemies to be conſumed, Deu. 7. 16. Judg. 4. 7.

II. Chriſt, through whom we are delivered from the body of death, Rom. 7. 24, 35. This preſent evill world, Gal. 1. 4. The wrath to come, 1 Theſſ. 1. 10. Death, Heb. 2. 15.

III. Man, ſignifying; 1. To commit to ones truſt, Exod. 22. 7.

2. Free or keep ſafe, Numb. 35. 25.

3. Give or yeeld, Deut. 23. 15.

4. Reſcue, Deut. 25. 11.

5. Reſtore, 2 Sam. 3. 14.

6. Preſerve or keep, Job 22. 30.

7. Teach or inſtruct, 1 Cor. 15. 3.

To deliver from an evill work] To preſerve and free one from committing any thing unworthy his calling. 2 Tim. 4. 18. The Lord will deliver me from every evill work.

Deliver from, ſignifieth, 1. To bring one out of an evill preſent; this is the proper ſenſe, Pſal. 34. 19. Luk. 1, 74.

2. Improperly, and by a Liptote, to keep or preſerve one from an evill imminent or to come, Luk. 1. 74. Rom. 7. 24. That is, from the danger or meanes of preſent or of future evill, Mat. 6. 13. compared with Joh. 17. 15.

To deliver unto the Judge] To overcome and caſt his Adverſary, and by the ſentence of the Judge to commit him to priſon, Mat. 5. 25.

To deliver up the Kingdome to God] That the Kingdome and Regiment of Chriſt over his Church militant (ſuch as now it is by execution of his Prophetſhip, in the adminiſtration of his Word and Sacraments: and of his Prieſthood, by his Sacrifice and interceſſion: and of his kingly function, by the keyes committed unto his Miniſters) it ſhall ceaſe, that God may be all in all, 1 Cor. 15. 24.

To deliver ones ſoul] To acquit and diſcharge ones ſelf from partaking in the guilt and dangers of other mens ſins. Ezek. 3. 21. If thou admoniſh the wicked, thou ſhalt deliver thine owne ſoule, 1 Tim. 4. 6.

To deliver one up to a reprobate minde] Three things; firſt, a withdrawing of his grace, that it ſhould not ſtay nor uphold them.

Secondly, a willing permiſſion or ſuffering them to fall, and miniſtring occaſion.

Thirdly, a giving them up to be ruled by their luſts, and by the Devill, as a Judge giveth up a Malefactour unto the hands of the Executioner. Thus was Judas delivered up to Satan. Rom. 1. 18. God delivered them up to a reprobate minde. And ver. 24.

To deliver up to Satan] To ſhut out juſtly (according to the Word) offenſive livers, by the the ſentence of excommunication. 1 Cor. 5. 5. That ye deliver him to Satan. 1 Tim. 1. 20. Whom I delivered up to Satan. Such as be worthily thruſt out from the private fellowſhip of the Saints, and the publick participation in holy things, are thereby declared to be under the power of Satan, and to appertain no more unto the Kingdome of Chriſt, till they repent. See Matt. 18. 17, 23.

To deliver up, or to] ſignifieth,

1. To ſurrender or give back the right or poſſeſſion, or both, of a thing to the Lord thereof.

2. To reſigne or give over our right of a thing to a Succeſſor.

3. To commit a thing to the care, and cuſtody, and uſe of others, for the Maſters benefit, Luk. 19. 13.

4. To bring one by falſe and perfidious means into the hands of his enemies, or to betray him, Mat. 26. 15, 16, 25.

5. To appoint or put a guilty perſon into the hands or power of the Executioner, or officer of Juſtice, to be puniſhed by him; or, at leaſt, to permit the Executioner to take hold of him, and not to hinder the Officer, nor ſuccour the guilty, 1 Cor. 5. 5. 1 Tim. 1. 20. Rom. 1. 24, 26.

Referred, 1. To God, in reſpect of Chriſt, Rom. 8. 32. In reſpect of Reprobates, Rom. 1. 24.

2. To Chriſt: who ſhall deliver up the Kingdome to God the Father, even that regiment which as King, Prieſt, and Prophet, he now hath over his Church militant, that God may be all in all, 1 Cor. 15. 24.

3. To Man, ſignifying, To betray, or by falſe and perfidious means to bring one into the hands of his enemies, Mat. 10. 17. Act. 3. 13.

Deliverance from blood] Freedome from the fault and puniſhment of the ſin of murther. Pſal. 51. 14. Deliver me from blood.

2. Freedome from the Tyranny and power of ſin and Satan. Matt. 6. 13. Deliver us from evill.

3. Freedome from eternall vengeance. 1 Theſſ. 1. 10. Which delivereth us from the wrath to come. This is done by a continuall act of grace, preſerving the beleevers in their holy faith, as Peter ſpeaks, Chap. 1. ver. 5.

4. Freedome and ſafety from outward dangers and enemies. Pſal. 25. 22. Deliver Iſrael O God from all his troubles. 2 Tim. 4. 17.

To be delivered] To begin to be delivered, and ſo by degrees to be preſerved and ſaved, till at laſt their deliverance be perfected in the generall reſurrection, Dan. 12. 12.

To be delivered into the form of doctrine] To have the impreſſion or print of ſaving knowledge made in our hearts, by the doctrine of Grace) which is like a form or a mold) tranſformed and altering the Elect into the likeneſſe of Chriſt, Rom. 6 17.

Deliverer] A near kinſman, or one next of kin, to whom it did belong to redeem ſuch Land or Inheritance as had been ſold by a party which was a kinſman, and become unable and unſufficient to redeem and buy it again; according to the Law, Lev. 25. 25. whereof ye have the practiſe in Ruth 4. 3, 4, 5, &c.

2. One that ſetteth at liberty and enfreeth (not poſſeſſions and lands, but) his people, being by the righteous judgements of God for ſin under the bondage of Satan, Rom. 11. 26. Iſa. 59. 20. This Deliverer or Redeemer, is the Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who was a kinſman and nearer of bloud to the Jews, (of whom he came according to the fleſh, Rom. 9. 3.) by which right he and he alone is the goel or deliverer of his people from their ſins. For the uſe and profit which Gods people ought to make of Gods deliverances, ſpirituall and bodily; it is twofold: Firſt, to truſt in, and ſtay upon God with a firm faith. Secondly, to repent and amend our lives. See Iſa. 10. 20, 21. Luk. 1. 74, 75. Tit. 3. 14, 15.

By the words, for, from, in, into, of, out of, to, unto, up to, which are frequently joyned with this word, the various uſe thereof may be obſerved.

Delphon] Regarding poverty. A Son of Haman, Eſt. 9. 7.

Demas] The common ſort; or favouring the people, popular. A profeſſor, but who fell away, Col. 4. 14. 2 Tim. 4. 10. Philem. v. 24.

Demetrius] Belonging to corn; of δημήτηρ, ἠρος, and contracted δημητρὸς, called Ceres, as if it had been γῆ μήτηρ, the Mother of earth, as the Heathen named the goddeſſe of corn. A man of good report, 3 Joh. 12. A wicked man, Act. 19. 24.

To deny] Referred 1. to Chriſt, who will deny them (that is, not acknowledge them for his owne) that now deny him, Matt. 10. 33. who yet cannot deny himſelf, but is faithfull and conſtant in his word and promiſes, 2 Tim. 2. 13.

2. To Man, and that 1. in a good ſenſe, Tit. 2. 12. Denying ungodlyneſſe and worldly luſts; that is, renouncing them, and abſtaining therefrom, Luk. 8. 45. So is ſelf-denyal, Luk. 9. 23. that is, to forſake the motions of our own corrupt nature and will. 2. In a bad ſenſe; and that in reſpect of God, Joſh. 24. 27. Leſt ye deny your God, that is, forſaking the true God, cleave unto other gods, Job 31. 28. I ſhould have denyed the God that is above; that is, eſteemed and relyed more on thoſe outward things, then on God, ſo Tit. 1. 16. In reſpect of Chriſt, in word, and that either for a time, or of infirmity, Mat. 26. 70. or, for ever, and of maliciouſneſſe, 1 Joh. 2. 22. 2 Pet. 2. 1. In deed, Act. 3. 14. In reſpect of other things, as the Sadduces denyed the reſurrection, Luk. 20. 27. Such as provide not for their families, deny the faith, 1 Tim. 5. 8. Such as having the form of godlyneſſe deny the power thereof, 2 Tim. 3. 5.

To deny Chriſt] To renounce him and his Goſpel, either in our profeſſion or lives, either for a time, and of infirmity, as Peter; or for ever, and of maliciouſneſſe, as Julian the Apoſtate did. Matt. 10. 33. Whoſoever ſhall deny me before men. 2 Pet. 2. 1. Even denying the Lord, Tit. 1. 16.

Chriſt is denyed many wayes, or in divers reſpects; Peter denyed him as his Maſter on earth, or his acquaintance with him: Arius his Divinity, Apollinaris his Humanity.

Juſticiaries deny him as Jeſus to ſave them: others, as Chriſt to teach them, and will not hear him.

Others deny him as their Lord to govern them, and will not live according to his Laws, nor be ruled by him.

To deny himſelf] To be unconſtant and mutable in keeping of his word and promiſe. 2 Tim. 2. 13. God cannot deny himſelf, that is, his truth.

To deny our ſelves] To forſake the motions of our own corrupt reaſon and will. Luk. 9. 23. If any man will come after me, let him deny himſelf; and Luk. 14. 26. When that which is pleaſing to our corrupt nature, and hindreth us in the courſe of godlineſſe, is loathed and eſchewed: This is the denyal of our ſelves, which is the very ſame with mortifying of the Old-man, and crucifying the fleſh. Hereof a notable example in Heb. 11. 24, 25.

To deny our ſelves in evill, belongeth properly to privative holineſſe; i. e. Abſtinence from, and omiſſion of evill in general, but particularly, not to truſt our own wits nor love our own wills.

To deny us] Not to acknowledg us as his owne, but to caſt us out as Reprobates. 2 Tim. 2. 12. If we deny him, he will deny us.

Den] Made uſe of by men in diſtreſſe, Judg. 6. 2. Heb. 11. 38. Beaſts, Job 37. 8. Lions, Job 38. 40. Pſal. 104. 22. Cockatrice, Iſa. 11. 8. Robbers, Jer. 7. 11. Dragons, Jer. 9. 11. It's ſpoken of the Temple abuſed, Mat. 21. 13. By that phraſe, Shall be for dens for ever, Iſa. 32. 14. we may underſtand a very grievous deſolation.

Depart] Taken both in a good and in a bad ſenſe.

Good: for 1. To die, Luk. 2. 29.

2. To remove or goe from a place, Gen. 12. 4.

3. To renounce or forſake, Job 28. 28. Prov. 3. 7.

4. To ſeparate from, or leave the company of the ungodly, Numb. 16. 26.

Bad: for 1. To forſake the Lord, and rely on men, Jer. 17. 5.

2. To fall from the true worſhip of God through idolatry, Ezek. 6. 9.

3. To fal from the true doctrine of God, or the profeſſion of the true Chriſtian faith, 1 Tim. 4. 1. Heb. 3. 12.

Depart, being referred to God] His leaving or going from us, by the preſence of his favours, when he withdrawes his benefits or protection, ſpiritually or bodily; for as touching his eſſence and power, he never departs from his creatures. Pſal. 71. 12, 18. Depart not, or goe not far from us, O Lord. Gods departing, is either in part, or wholly: either for a certain time, or for ever.

To depart being referred to Men] To leave one by going out of his ſight. Gen. 31. 49. When ye ſhall be departed one from another.

2. To leave off and goe from the ſervice and practiſe of ſin. 2 Tim. 2. 19. Let every one depart from iniquity.

3. To forſake and goe from the fellowſhip of the wicked, ſometimes touching their perſons, when God commands, or our vocation will ſuffer, as well as from their ſins, Numb. 16. 27. Depart from the Tents of theſe wicked men. Pſal. 6. 8.

4. To fall from the true doctrine of God, or from the profeſſion of the true Chriſtian faith. 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. Except there come a departing firſt. 1 Tim. 4. 1. In the latter times ſome ſhall depart from the faith.

Note: Howſoever ſome underſtand this departing of the people to be falling away from under the Romane Empire, which well agreeth with the event; yet beſide that, the Apoſtle himſelf telleth us, that this departure is a generall falling from the true doctrine which muſt be begun; and yet ſome ſtretch it to that time when the Son of perdition dition ſhall be diſcloſed, which is enough for fulfilling of the propheſie, 2 Thes. 2. Even of the Ancients ſome, as namely, Primaſius, Chryſoſtome, Theodoret, do expound it of a ſpiritual departure.

Not to depart from God] So firmly and conſtantly to cleave unto God and his worſhip, as never wholly and finally to leave him, Jer. 32. 40. A notable place for the perſeverance of the Saints in grace to their end. If God will alwaies love and embrace them, and make them to cleave and adhere perpetually to him (as Auguſtine expounds this place according to Scriptures) then how can that doctrine in Popery, of falling away from the grace of God, be true? See Pſal. 37. 24. Joh. 10, 27, 28, 29. 1 Pet. 1. 1, 5. 1 Joh. 2. 19. Luk. 22. 21, 32. Joh. 17. 9, 11, 12.

To be deprived] To be excluded or ſhut out. Heb. 4. 1. Leſt ye be deprived. The word properly ſignifies, to wax faint in running of a race, and to give over ere we come to the goal: in which ſenſe all men through ſin are deprived of Gods eternall glory; that is, they can never attain that goal of heavenly bliſſe, without Chriſt and his righteouſneſſe imputed by faith. Rom. 3. 22. All have ſinned, and are deprived of the glory of God.

Depth, or deep] Some extreme miſery, and grievous danger, Pſal. 131. 1. Out of the deep have I called unto thee, O God.

2. Deſtruction or torment eternally ſuffered in the deep pit of hell. Rom. 10. 6. Who ſhall goe into the deep?

3. The loweſt and nethermoſt parts of the world. Iſa. 7. 11. Aſk it either in the depth beneath, &c.

4. The moſt hidden thoughts of God or men, Prov. 12. 4. Rom. 11. 33. O the depth of the wiſdome of God! &c.

5. The firſt matter of things, the formleſſe maſſe of earth and water confuſed at the firſt. Gen. 1. 2. Darkneſſe was upon the deep.

Depth and height] Heaven on high, and earth beneath. Iſa. 7. 11. and 8. 21, 22.

2. The excellency and perfection of a thing. Eph. 3. 18.

Spoken alſo of the ſea or waters, Pſal. 33. 7. Of the earth or nethermoſt parts of the world, Iſa. 7. 11. Of hell, Prov. 9. 18. Of mans heart, Iſa. 29. 15. See Deep, depths

Deep things of God] Things ſecret, hid, and kept cloſe (as it were) in the breaſt of God, till they be revealed to us by the Spirit and Word of God. 1 Cor. 2. 10. The Spirit ſearcheth the deep things of God.

Deepneſſe of riches] Riches unſearchable and moſt profound. Rom. 11. 33. O the depth of his riches.

Deep waters] Great dangers which threaten death, like deep waters which overwhelm a man. Pſal. 69. 2. I am come into the deep waters; that is, deadly dangers.

2. The moſt ſecret and moſt inward thoughts and counſels of mans heart. Pro. 20. 5. Counſell in the heart of man is like deep waters.

Deputy] The word ſignifieth one next ſupplying the place of the chiefeſt. A Viceroy, 1 King. 22. 47. Ruler of a Province, Eſt. 8. 9. before whom cauſes were argued, Act. 19. 38. We read of one good Deputy, Act. 13. 7. Another, who was luke-warm, Act. 18. 12, 14, 19.

Derbe] Incloſed in; or a prick, or ſting. The name of a City, Act. 14. 20.

Deriſion] Referred, 1. To God, who derideth the enemies of Chriſt, Pſal. 2. 4. Of his Church, Pſal. 59. 8. Of his Word, Prov. 1. 26.

2. To the ungodly; whether proud, Pſal. 119. 51. Or others, Jews or Gentiles, old or young, learned or unlearned, baſe or of high repute. By them even the very beſt have been derided. The Church, Pſa. 44. 13. David, Pſal. 119. 51. Jeremiah, Jer. 20. 7. Chriſt, Mat. 9. 24. Luk. 23. 11. & 16. 14. Luk. 23. 35. Paul, Act. 17. 18, 32. So others who were thus tryed, Heb. 11. 36.

Deſert] A wilderneſſe, or a forſaken place, barren and voyd of Inhabitants. Ex. 19. 2. They came into the deſert of Sinai, and camped in the wilderneſſe.

A place of wilde beaſts, Iſa. 13. 21. A dry land, Jer. 50. 12. The Gentiles unconverted, Iſa. 35. 1. A place not wholly unfrequented, but leſſe frequented then others, Mat. 14. 13. The South, Pſal. 75. 6. See Wilderneſſe.

Deſcend, or come down] Referred, 1. To God, ſignifieth as well the eſpeciall notice which he taketh of the ungodly to puniſh them, Gen. 18. 21. as of his owne children to help and ſuccour them, Exod. 3. 8.

2. To Chriſt; ſignifieth, either his firſt coming in humiliation, to aſſume our nature, Joh. 3. 13. Or his ſecond in exaltation, to judge the quick and the dead, 1 Theſſ. 4. 16.

3. To the holy Ghoſt; ſignifieth, as well that his viſible extraordinary coming down on Chriſt at his baptiſme in the likeneſſe of a dove, for John's inſtruction, the hearers confirmation, and the manifeſtation of the perſon of Chriſt, Luk. 3. 22. as the beſtow-ing of his gifts on the faithfull, Jam. 3. 15. compared with 1 Cor. 12. 8.

4. To the Angels; ſignifieth their obedience unto God, in the execution of their office, for the good of his Saints, Heb. 1. 14. Mat. 28. 2.

5. To Man; ſignifieth, 1. To go from an higher to a lower place, Gen. 12. 10. 2. To be brought low, or decreaſe in riches and dignity, Deut. 28. 43.

To aſcend and deſcend] To miniſter or do the office of ſervants; as in a great family, where ſome ſervants deſcend or goe down ſteps with diſhes in their hands, or other things; and others do aſcend or come up the ſtairs with cups, &c. Such is the palace of heaven, where Chriſt ſitteth as Lord and chief Houſholder, giving commandements for the continual government of the Church, his family, having the Angels as his miniſters and ſervants to execute his will. Joh. 1. v. laſt, Angels aſcending and deſcending.

To deſcend into the lower parts of the earth] To humble himſelf being true God, to take upon him our nature, and here on earth in the form of a ſervant to walk and dwell among us. Eph. 4. 9. He alſo deſcended into the lower parts of the earth. The oppoſition of his aſcending up on high, far above all heavens (which containeth his exaltation in glory) doth ſhew that this (deſcending into the lower, &c.) muſt ſignifie his humiliation, and debaſing his Godhead in the fleſh, to work our redemption, and not that locall deſcenſion of his ſoul into hell, which the Papiſts abſurdly from hence would collect. Let all true Chriſtians make juſt account to deſcend firſt, and be humbled by afflictions, as they deſire to aſcend into celeſtiall glory, for there muſt be a conformity between head and members, both in ſuffering and reigning, Rom. 8. 17. 2 Tim. 2. 11, 12.

Deſcending] Coming down from above, or from ſome high place to a lower.

2. Some viſible ſigne of Gods preſence, and eſpecially the aſſuming of our nature in the perſon of his Son, that he might dwel viſibly amongſt us, Joh. 3. 13. No man hath aſcended up into heaven, but he that deſcended from heaven, Joh. 1. 14. Eph. 4. 9, 10.

3. The examining of a cauſe, or the entring into judgement with good adviſe and conſideration. Gen. 18. 21. I will deſcend (or goe down) now and ſee, &c.

4. Sending down from heaven. Pſa. 7. 16. His cruelty ſhall deſcend or fall upon, &c.

5. Coming, without reſpect of place, high or low. John 4. 47. Hee ſought to deſcend or goe down, &c.

6. In the deſcending of Chriſt from heaven there be three things contained.

1. The Incarnation of the Word.

2. The Conception of his Manhood.

3. His extreme humiliation. Joh. 6. 38. is all one in ſenſe with Joh. 1. 14. & 1 Tim. 3. 16. Heb. 2. 16. Neither his manhood came down, as touching the ſubſtance, being born of a Virgin in earth: nor his Godhead could deſcend, being infinite, filling all places, but aſſuming our nature into the fellowſhip of his perſon, is his deſcending.

To deſcend into hell] To goe down into the grave, and there to be ſhut up under the power of death. Gen. 37. 35. Surely I will deſcend (or go down) into hell or grave. Pſal. 16. 7.

2. To be oppreſſed with ſorrow extreme and deadly, of the minde or body, Gen. 42. 28.

Deſcenſion into hell, what it is.

The extreme humiliation and abaſement of Chriſt in his manhood, under the power of death and the grave, being kept there as a priſoner in bands untill the third day. Act. 10. 40. 1 Cor. 15. 4. He was buried and roſe the third day. Chriſt his locall going into hel, to draw out thence the ſouls of Patriarchs, &c. is a meer Popiſh dream.

By Chriſts deſcending into hell, ſome underſtand, his ſouls departure out of the body, and ſo going to the place of ſouls.

Deſire] Lawfull appetite after a lawfull thing. Gen. 3. 16. Thy deſire ſhall be to thine husband.

2. Unlawfull luſting after things lawful, or after things forbidden. 1 Tim. 6. 10. The deſire of money is the root of all evill.

3. The longing of a faithfull ſoul, either for ſome bodily or ſpirituall good thing, whereof it feels a want. Pſa. 145. 19. He will fulfill the deſires of them that fear him.

Taken alſo, 1. for Will, Geneſ. 3. 16. & 4. 7.

2. Demand or requeſt, 2 Chr. 9. 12.

3. Affection or love, Deut. 21. 11.

4. Hope or expectation, 1 Sam. 9. 20.

5. The endevours and ſtudies of the wicked, Pſal. 112. 10.

6. Luſts or evill concupiſcence, Eph. 2. 3.

7. Greedy luſting after, 1 Tim. 6. 10.

8. Fervent wiſhes, Pſal. 145. 19.

9. That which is greatly deſired, 1 Sam. 9. 20. Prov. 13. 12. Heb. 2. 8.

10. A mans wife, Ezek. 24. 16, 18.

11. The Temple of Jeruſalem, Ezekiel 24. 21.

12. Moſt

12. Moſt tender affection, as that in women, Dan. 11. 37.

Bread of deſires] Dan. 10. 3. that is, pleaſant bread, or bread to be deſired.

To deſire with deſire] Heartily and earneſtly to deſire a thing, Luk. 22. 15.

Hearts deſire] The unfained good will of the ſoul, truly deſiring the Jews ſalvation, Rom. 10. 1.

His deſire ſhall be to thee] That the will of Abel ſhould be ſubject to Cain, as to his elder brother, by the order of nature, and by the ready diſpoſition of Abels heart. Gen. 4. 7. And his deſire ſhall be to thee. That this is the true meaning, appeareth by the like phraſe, which teacheth the ſubjection of the woman to her husband, Gen. 3. 16. 2. Alſo becauſe properly ſin hath no deſire to the ſoul, but the ſoul to it. 3. Becauſe Cain had no ſuch dominion over ſin, as he had over his brother. Laſtly, the Pronoun relatives (his and him) being the maſculine gender in the original tongue, cannot be referred unto (Sin) the antecedent, which in the Hebrew is of the feminine gender: and therefore fooliſhly do Popiſh writers wreſt this place to prove the natural power of our will to ſubdue ſin: whereas, were it underſtood of Sin, it would ſhew what Cain ought to do, not what he were able by his free-will to do; for exhortations declare our duty, and not our ability.

Note: Things which are eſteemed and had in price, are called things of deſire, as garments of deſire, Gen. 27. 15. and bread of deſire, Dan. 10. 3. Alſo a man of deſires, Dan. 9. 23.

Deſire of all Nations] Such elect ones, as God out of all peoples, nations, and languages had choſen in Chriſt from everlaſting, according to his good pleaſure. Hag. 2. 8. The deſire of all Nations ſhall come.

Or, By the deſire of all Nations, Chriſt may be underſtood, whom all good men (of what nation ſoever) have deſired from the beginning, as their onely Saviour.

Deſire of women] The moſt tender affection and love in Mothers, ſuch as in 2 Sam. 1. 26. Dan. 11. 37.

Deſolate] Left alone, heavy and comfortleſſe, or one without husband and children. Pſal. 25. 16. For I am deſolate and poor. Mat. 23. 38. Gal. 4. 27. 1 Tim. 5. 5.

Deſolate baileys, holes, &c.] That in all places high and low, townes and fields, obſcure and famous, the enemy ſhould reſt and abide. Iſa. 7. 19. In all deſolate valleys, &c.

Deſolation] The laying of a thing waſte, being brought to utter ruine, whereof follows diſcomfort and heavyneſſe. Iſa. 6. 12. And there be a deſolation in the midſt of the Land.

2. Eternall ruine, when impenitent ſinners at the end of their dayes are turned into the deep and uncomfortable pit of hell. Pſal. 73. 16. And caſteth them down into deſolation.

Deſolation and deſolation] Ezek. 35. 3. marg. that is, moſt deſolate, as it's rendred in the Text.

Sudden deſolation] Unlooked for, and moſt dreadfull judgement, hurling down and laying waſte all things, like a mighty fierce ſtorm of hail, or ſuddain riſing of waters, bearing down all before it. Prov. 1. 27. When your fear comes like ſudden deſolation, Job 30. 14.

Deſpair] Want of hope; it is either in opinion, as when godly men think themſelves to be without hope, in a pang of temptation, as David did: Or, in truth, as in wicked men, who alwayes want hope, and ſometimes profeſſe the want of it, as Cain. 2 Cor. 4. 8. We deſpair not. Act. 27. We deſpaired, or all hope was taken away. Deſpair is contrary to hope, as unbeleef and diffidence is unto faith.

2. There is a double Deſperation.

First, of the means, or grace.

Secondly, of the end, which is glory or ſalvation.

3. Want of care, or the contempt of all good means, either to doe or to receive good. This is of all others the worſt.

4. A godly diffidence of our own ſufficiency to do good or reſiſt evill; and of our deſert to receive it of other. This is a way to godly confidence.

To deſpiſe, when it is ſpoken of men] To ſet at nought, and lightly to account of any thing, or perſon. Tit. 2. v. laſt. Mar. 9. 12. 1 Theſſ. 5. 26. Rom. 14. 3.

2. To neglect the uſe of a thing. In this ſenſe the wicked are ſaid to deſpiſe the bounty and patience of God. Alſo the Word of God. Rom. 2. 4. Deſpiſeſt thou the bounty of God? Act. 13. 41. Behold ye deſpiſers, Prov. 1. 30. When men make no uſe or profit of Gods Word, chaſtiſements or benefits thereby they declare how they deſpiſe them, holding them as vain things. Thus children are ſaid to deſpiſe the counſell of their parents when they do not follow it.

3. To give juſt occaſion of contempt, 1 Tim. 4. 12.

The wicked vilifie, diſeſteem, contemne, neglect, abhor, ſet at naught, make ſmall account of, deſpiſe God, 1 Sam. 2. 30. The Lord, Prov. 14. 2. His Word, Iſa. 5. 24. His Oath, Ezek. 17. 19. Judgements, Ibid. 20. 13. Statutes, Ibid. 24. Holy things, Ib. 22. 8. His Law, Amos 2. 4. His Name, Mal. 1. 6. Wiſdome, Prov. 1. 7. The means of grace, Rom. 2. 4. The wayes of God, Prov. 19. 16. His counſell, Luk. 7. 30. His reproof, Prov. 1. 30. The Lord Jeſus Chriſt, Luk. 23. 11. Iſa. 53. 3. The people of God, Lam. 1. 8. Government and ſoveraign authority, 2 Pet. 2. 10. Jude 8. 1 Sam. 10. 27. Husband, 1 Chr. 15. 29. Parents, Prov. 20. 20. & 13. 17. His own ſoul, Prov. 15. 32. The Children of God, whether Miniſters, 1 Cor. 4. 10. Or others, 2 Tim. 3. 3.

To deſpiſe, referred to God] His accounting us vile in his owne ſight, or making us vile in the eyes of men. 1 Sam. 2. 30. I will honor him that honoreth me, and him that deſpiſeth me, will I deſpiſe. Pſal. 53. 5.

Not to deſpiſe] To eſteem highly of a thing, and to value it at a great rate. Pſal. 51. 17. A contrite heart (O Lord) thou wilt not deſpiſe. Heb. 12. 5. In theſe places leſſe is ſpoken then is meant.

Deſpiteſull] Doers of wrong, contumelious, injurious, ſuch as over-burden others with reproaches, injuries, and manifold injuries; ſuch as inſult over others, reproaching them in an inſolent manner; fierce perſons, wronging, ſcorning, railing, oppreſſing others; in heart and minde they think baſely of others, Ezek. 25. 15. & 36. 5. In countenance look diſdainfully at them, Eſt. 3. 5, 6. With their tongues they ſpeak reproachfully of them, to them; in deed they are as injurious unto them as poſſible, Rom. 1. 30. Nor are they onely deſpiteful unto others, ſome of them do deſpite even unto the Spirit of grace, Heb. 10. 29.

To deſtroy] To pull down and make waſte a building or houſe, making it even with the ground, not leaving a ſtone upon a ſtone, as it is written, Luk. 21. 6. A ſtone ſhall not be left upon a ſtone that ſhall not be thrown down.

2. To take away a thing quite, ſo as it be no more. In this ſenſe Chriſt is ſaid to deſtroy ſin, Rom. 6. 6. That the body of ſin might be deſtroyed. For at length (to wit) at our death, ſin ſhall be quite taken out of our nature, 2 Tim. 2. 18.

3. To bring men unto a remedyleſſe downfall and miſery, both in body and ſoul. In this ſenſe God deſtroyeth the wicked. Pſal. 37. 38. The tranſgreſſors ſhall be deſtroyed. To caſt into hell, 2 Theſſ. 2. 8.

4. To take puniſhment upon the wicked, by death, as Magiſtrates do. Pſal. 101. 8. Betimes will I deſtroy the wicked of the Land, and cut off the workers of iniquity.

5. To hazard the ſalvation of our Brother, by giving offence, or by laying a ſtumbling block before him. Rom. 14. 15. Deſtroy not him with thy meat for whom Chriſt dyed. To edifie doth ſignifie either to turn and bring unto the faith of the Goſpel, ſuch as were ſtrangers from it: or elſe, to ſtrengthen in the faith ſuch as already do beleeve, endevouring to make them wiſer to God, and better lived; and by law of Contraries, to deſtroy doth imply as much as to keep from coming to Chriſtian Religion, or to drive from it (as much as lyeth in us) ſuch as already have embraced Chriſt, by the ſcandalous uſe of things indifferent.

6. To execute the finall judgement upon evill ſpirits. Mat. 1. 24. Art thou come to deſtroy us? To make guilty, or to condemn as guilty: and becauſe deſtruction and deſolation abideth, or is due to ſuch as be found guilty and damned for crimes, therefore is this word uſed for deſolating, aboliſhing, and deſtroying. As Pſal. 5. 10. Ezek. 6. 6. Joel 1. 18. Pſal. 34. 22, 23. & 68. 22. & 69. 6.

It ſignifieth alſo, to pull or throw down, Exod. 34. 15. Ruine or make waſte, Numb. 21. 2. Take vengeance on, or fearfully puniſh, whether in ſoul or body, here or hereafter, 1 Cor. 3. 17. Vanquiſh or overthrow, Heb. 2. 14. Propheſie deſtruction, Ezek. 43. 3. Utterly take away and conſume, Gen. 6. 7. Corrupt, Rev. 11. 18. marg. Make guilty, Pſal. 5. 10. marg. Make void, Mat. 5. 17. Make utterly waſte, Luk. 21. 6. Preached againſt, Gal. 1. 22. Puniſh eternally, Mat. 10. 28. Kill with the ſword, 1 Sam. 15. 6. Make fruſtrate, Job 14. 19.

Deſtruction] Temporall death. Pſa. 90. 3. Thou turneſt man to deſtruction.

2. The caſting down of a perſon, or place, or people, in ſuch ſort, as they be never able to riſe again, like to an old ruinous houſe, which being faln down, cannot be built again. Hoſ. 13. 9. O Iſrael, deſtruction is of thy ſelf. 2 Pet. 3. 7. Pſal. 36. 12. There they are faln that work iniquity, and ſhall not be able to riſe.

3. A ſnare or trap, ſuch as Fowlers and Hunters ſpread. Exod. 22. 33. It ſhall be thy deſtruction.

It's put alſo for Damnation, 2 Pet. 2. 1, 3.

Hell,

Hell, Mat. 7. 13. Corporall and temporall punishment which disableth for ever, 2 Chr. 26. 16. A fearfull downfall, Prov. 16, 18. & 18. 12. Ones overthrow and death, 2 Chr. 22. 4, 7. Utter rooting out, Est. 8. 6. comp. with 3. 13. & 7. 4. The taming and mortifying of the flesh, 1 Cor. 5. 5. Anguish of spirit, Rom. 3. 16. Desolation and utter consumption, Psal. 73. 18, 19. A stinging or biting plague, Psal. 91. 6. Mischievous practises, Psal. 35. 17. Corrupting and painful diseases working death, 1 Sam. 5. 9. Psal. 107. 20. Cut off, Hos. 4. 6. marg.

Destruction of the flesh] The taming or mortifying our corrupt nature. Thus Beza taketh it; the leanness and wasting of the body through great heavyness and affliction of minde for sin: Thus Piscator expoundeth it, 1 Cor. 5. 5. Unto the destruction of the flesh.

To destroy is to prophesie destruction, Ezek. 43. 3. as to divide is to foretell a division, Gen. 49. 7.

Determine] Referred first to God, signifieth,

1. To counsell, 2 Chr. 25. 16. marg.
2. To appoint a set time, Job 14. 5.
3. To conclude, resolve upon, Isa. 10. 23.
4. To cut out, or accurately and precisely to determine, Dan. 9. 24.
5. To decree and fore-ordain, Act. 4. 28.

Secondly, to Man; signifieth,

1. To purpose, 1 Sam. 20. 7.
2. To resolve, 1 Sam. 25. 17.
3. To settle, 2 Sam. 13. 32. marg.
4. To conclude, 2 Chr. 2. 1.
5. To enact, set down and define, Act. 19. 39.
6. To appoint, Act. 11. 29. & 15. 2.

Deu-el] Know God. The Father of Eliasaph, Numb. 1. 14.

Device] A thought, counsel, or purpose of doing something. Psal. 33. 10. Thou bringest to nought the devises of the people.

2. The event that doth follow upon a mans devices. Prov. 1. 31. They shall be filled with their own devices; that is, with the fruit of their devices, or with that which comes of their own purposes and plots.

Referred first to an Artificer, Exod. 31. 4. & 35. 32, 35.

Secondly, to the wicked, whether crafty, Job 5. 12. Proud, Psal. 10. 2. Numerous, Psal. 33. 10. Persecuters, Psal. 35. 4. Haters of the godly, Ibid. 20. Or the like, whose devices are wicked, Psal. 37. 7. Hurtfull, Psal. 35. 4. Deceitfull, Ibid. 20. who being filled with their owne devices, Prov. 1. 31. devise devices against the godly, Isa. 32. 7. Jer. 18. 11, 18. Who devise froward things, Prov. 16. 30. Mischief, Ezek. 11. 2. Iniquity, Mic. 2. 1. Evil, Jer. 48. 2. To take away the lives of the godly, Psal. 31. 13. Spoken of the tongue, Psa. 52. 2. Of the heart, Pro. 6. 18.

Thirdly, to the godly, who devise good, Prov. 14. 22. and liberal things, Isa. 32. 8.

Fourthly, to God; signifieth, in his wisdome to forecast and appoint, 2 Sam. 14. 14. Jer. 51. 12. Lam. 2. 17.

Fifthly, to Satan, 2 Cor. 2. 11. whose instruments cunningly devise fables to seduce souls, 2 Pet 1. 6.

Debill] A Calumniator, or Accuser, which accuseth us before God day and night, Rev. 12. 9, 10.

2. One who is like the devill, of a devillish quality. Joh. 6. 70. Have I not chosen twelve, and one of you is a devil? that is, the childe of the Devill, as like him as a childe is like the father; also idols, Deut. 32. 17. 1 Cor. 10. 20, 21.

3. A wicked spirit, the Prince and Captain of the rest. Mat. 25. 41. Prepared for the Devill and his Angels. Devill in Hebrew is named of a Word which signifieth a Waster, in opposition to God Almighty, Psal. 106. 36.

Devill and his Angels] One wicked spirit, who of his malicious accusing God unto Hevah, when he tempted her, Gen. 3. 3, 4. was called the Devill, and Accuser or Calumniator: as an head and Captain of all unclean spirits, is here mentioned in the singular number, as elsewhere often, having his Angels joyned to him, as seduced by him, and inferiour to him; like as all good Angels and elect men and women are subject to Christ as their head. Mat. 25. 41. Prepared for the Devill and his Angels. This principall devil is called in Scripture Satan, also Beelzebub, who was chief of Devils.

Note: The wicked Spirits have divers names given them in holy Scripture, either to signifie their nature as Spirits, or their office, as Angels of sending forth as messengers; or their malice against God and men; as Satan, Spirituall wickednesses, Devill, Dragon, Old Serpent; or their great might, as principalities, dominions, powers; or their effects, as unclean spirit, deaf and dumb spirit, father of lies, murtherer, &c. Other operations and works, as Tempter. The use of all which, is to stir up the true Christian to hate him and his works, also to be watchful, given to sobriety and prayer, 1 Pet. 5. 8.

To cast out Devils] To drive or thrust out of mens bodies and mindes by his divine power, the devils which personally dwelt there (as in their houſe or hold) Mat. 8.31. & 9. 33, 34.

To command devils] By his voyce effectually to bid them depart, from any whom they poſſeſt and vexed, Luk. 8. 29.

Condemnation of the Devil] The ſame puniſhment which is inflicted upon the Devill. 1 Tim. 3. 6. Leſt being proud he fall into the condemnation or judgement of the Devill: that is, by means of pride and high mindedneſſe be caſt into hell fire, in manner as the Devil is: by which to my ſeeming it is plain, what the ſin of the Devils was, namely an ambitious affecting, aſpiring unto, and arrogating divinity to themſelves, not content with their owne condition; unto which very ſin the Devill afterward by the Serpent tempted Eve. Miniſters being young men and young Scholars, by preſumption and pride, are in no ſmall danger of eternall deſtruction.

Seven devils] Many devils, a number certain put for an uncertain. Luk. 8. 2. Out of whom went ſeven devils.

To be partaker of the table of devils] Not to eat the devils, or take their ſubſtance into our bodies: but to have the ſpirit of devils, and to be moved by them. So to be partakers of the Altar, is to be incorporate into that Religion which was uſed at the Altar; likewiſe, to be partakers of the body of Chriſt, is not to eat it, and take his fleſh into our ſtomachs, but to be one ſpirit with him, by which we live to God, 1 Cor. 10. 21.

To devour] To eat without chewing, and to ſwallow downe whole, Geneſ. 41. 21, 24.

2. With eruel fierceneſſe to tear and ſpoyl ſpiritually mens ſouls and bodies, as a Lion devours the ſilly Lamb. 1 Pet. 5. 8. Seeking whom he may devour. A Metaphor. Gal. 5. 15.

3. To ſpoyl and undoe one in his outward eſtate, without pity. Thus mighty men oppreſſe and devour the poor, as great Fiſh and Beaſts devour and eat up the ſmall. Jer. 51. 3.

4. To waſte and ſpend riotouſly. Luk. 15. 30. He hath devoured thy goods with Harlots.

5. To apply and take to our own uſe that which was given and appointed once to Gods ſervice, or to keep back in our hands that which was due to him. Prov. 20. 25. It is deſtruction to a man to devour that which is ſanctified.

6. To deceive and defraud others of that which is theirs, by cunning pretences and ſhifts. Mat. 23. 14. Ye devour widows houſes, under colour of long prayers.

7. To prey upon, and eat up, Gen. 37. 20.

8. To deſtroy, conſume, or bring to bodily death, 2 Sam. 18. 8.

9. To make deſolate, or bring to confuſion, Hoſ. 13. 18.

To devour much fleſh] In beaſtly and ſavage manner to ſubdue and conſume moſt great nations, and many people, as wilde ravenous beaſts eat up and devour fleſh of other beaſts whom they catch as their prey. Dan. 7. 5. Ariſe and devour much fleſh. This was verified of the Kingdome of Perſia, whoſe three ribs in his teeth, Luther expounds of his three chief Kings, Cyrus, Darius, and Xerxes: but Junius of the three quarters and coaſts of the world. See ch. 8. 4.

To devour with whole mouth] To conſume and eat up, as wilde ſavage beaſts uſe to doe, inhumanely and without any ſparing. Iſa. 9. 2. They ſhall devour Iſrael with whole mouth.

Devout] One truely religious, who hath vowed and bound himſelf to the true worſhip of the true God, abhorring idolatry. Act. 10. 2. Cornelius a devout man.

2. A ſuperſtitious perſon, which ſeemeth religious, and is not, but is given to will-worſhip. Act. 13. 40. The Jews ſtirred up devout women againſt Paul.

Deuteronomie] A ſecond law, becauſe the law which God gave in Mount Sinai is rehearſed (as if it were a new Law) in this book of Deuteronomy, which is a commentary or expoſition of the Moral law, or ten Commandements.

Dew] A water, or ſmall rain, which ſoftly dropping and falling upon the ground every morning, doth keep it moiſt, and make it fruitfull, Cant. 5. 2. And by reſemblance or likeneſſe, it doth ſignifie and ſet forth the things following.

1. Dew, as it is a means to make the earth fruitfull, ſo it cannot be given but of God, Jer. 4. 22. And the withholding of it is a curſe, 2 Sam. 1. 21.

2. The fruitfulneſſe of good Doctrine, and of the Word of God. Deut. 32. 2. My ſpeech ſhall ſtill as the dew. A Metaphor. It ſignifieth both the Doctrine and Graces of the Goſpell, and the Spirit of Chriſt upon men. Iſa. 45. 8. & 26. 19. Hoſ. 14. 6, 7. Pſal. 133. 3.

3. The profit and commodity which comes of Brotherly love, or of the Communion of Saints. Pſal. 133. 3. As the dew of Hermon.

4. Inno-

4. Innumerable multitudes of the elect, plentifully gathered into the Church of Christ, as the dew that drops from heaven, Psal. 110. 3.

5. The short continuance, or sudden vanishing of the goodnesse which is in Hypocrites. Hos. 6. 4. Your goodnesse goeth away as the morning dew.

6. Christs spirituall blessings, or afflictions endured for his Church, Cant. 5. 2.

7. Great refreshment, Isa. 18. 4.

8. Gods reviving power, Isa. 26. 19.

9. The heavenly influences of the Sun, Moon, Stars, &c. whereby the ground fructifyeth, Gen. 27. 28. Hereunto the Word is compared, in respect of its fruitfulnesse, Deut. 32. 2. The invading, assaulting, or falling upon an enemy, in respect of the suddennesse thereof, or danger every way, 2 Sam. 17. 12. Brotherly love in respect of the profit and utility ensuing thereupon, Psal. 133. 3. The Kings favour, Prov. 19. 12. The goodnesse of the Jews, as which did not continue, Hos. 6. 4. Gods blessing in respect of the profit thereof, Hos. 14. 5. The Churches pious labour among the Gentiles, Mic. 5. 7.

As the dew of hearbs] That as the dew of heaven bringeth forth hearbs and fruit, out of the seed corrupted in the earth: so the lives and souls of the Jews should be quickened of God wonderfully; which was fulfilled at the deliverance both from the Babylonians, and shall be also in their restoring by the Gospel, where their raising up shall be as life from the dead. Isa. 26. 19. Thy dew shall be as the dew of hearbs. Rom. 11. 15.

D I.

Diadem] An ornament of Kings which they wore on their heads, whereunto Job resembleth his righteousnesse, Job 29. 14. The removall whereof from the Prince of Israel, signifieth his removall from the Kingdome, Ezek. 21. 26.

By a royall diadem in the hand of God, is signified, the happy condition of his people, Isa. 62. 3. as by the Lords being for a diadem of beauty unto them, their advancement, Isa. 28. 5.

Diall] Of the diall of Ahaz, mention is made, 2 King. 20. 11. & Isa. 38. 8. This could neither be Equinoctiall, Verticall, Meridionall, nor Horizontall, but Polar which followeth the Zodiack, and the houres are contracted upon the South-side of the Equinoctial in the Winter, and enlarged upon the North-side in the Summer. In this the houres were unequally divided for Summer and Winter, or else they behoved to have two Dials, one for Summer and another for Winter. The form of it was Hemispheriall, or an half-circle. The miracle seems to have been wrought in the Summer time, at the longest day, when it was drawn back from the eleventh hour to the sixth, which is one hour after the Sun-rising. Hereof see Weemes his 3. Vol. in his Exposition of the Judicial laws of Moses, pag. 90. 91.

Diamond] Hereof mention is made, Jer. 17. 1. Where in the Hebrew it is שמיר a most hard and durable stone. And in Exod. 28. 18. & 39. 11. And in Ezek. 28. 13. where the Hebrew is יהלום of חלם, for that it bruiseth and breaketh in pieces all other stones. Buxtorf. lex. See Adamant.

Diana] A Latin word, of dies the day. In the Greek it is Ἄρτεμις, the name of an idol, or fained goddesse, whom the Pagans fained to be the goddesse of Hunting; being the daughter of Jupiter by Latona, who continually exercised her selfe in hunting wilde beasts, and for her chaste life was honoured for a goddesse, taken also for the moon. It's derived of ἄρτιμις, whole, safe, sound; which yet seemeth to be of ἄρτι perfect, or as ἄτμητος not cut. Her the Ephesians extolled with this commendation, Great is Diana of the Ephesians, Act. 19. 28. Ἄρτεμις is rendred by Chytreus, venusta, seu perfecta, & concinna; beautifull, perfect, handsome, of ἄρω or ἀρτίζω.

Diblaim] A cluster of figs, or paste of dry figs. The father of Gomer, Hos. 1. 3.

Diblath & Diblathaim] The same. Cities, Ezek. 6. 14. Jer. 48. 22.

Dibon] Abundance of knowledge; or an abounding Son. The name of a place, Num. 21. 30.

Dibon-gad] The abundance of an happy Son; or, the abundance of understanding; or, of the building of happinesse. The name of a place, Num. 33. 45.

Dibri] An oratour; or, my word. The father of Shelomith, Numb. 24. 11.

Didymus] A twin: so Thomas was called, Joh. 11. 16.

Die] put for, Neer to death, Gen. 48. 21. To consume, or to be in present danger to die, Numb. 17. 12. 1 Cor. 15. 31. Subject to die, 1 Cor. 15. 22. See the words Dead. Death.

Dig] signifieth, To cast up earth, Deut. 23. 13. Trench about, Job 11. 18. Overthrow, pluck down or destroy, Rom. 3. 11.

compared with 1 King. 19. 14. Seek, look for, Job 3. 21. Work or labour for ones living, Luk. 16. 3. Buy, Gen. 50. 5. Break into houſes, Job 24. 16. Make way to enter, Ezek. 8. 8. Caſt about, deviſe, and plot, Prov. 16. 27. Diligently ſearch and lay wait, Pſal. 35. 7. Amos 9. 2. Contrive danger, Job 6. 27.

To dig a pit] To caſt about, to deviſe and plot the hurt of others. Pſal. 7. 15. He hath made a pit, and digged it, and himſelf is faln into it. Thus men dig.

2. To prepare and ſend deſtruction upon ſinners. Pſal. 94. 13. Till the pit be digged up for the wicked. Thus God digs.

To divine] To tell things to come, as a Soothſayer, by the help of an evill ſpirit.

2. To diviſe and finde out ways and means how to know that which is hard to be known. Gen. 44. 5. Know ye not that ſuch a man as I can divine?

Note: Such as expound this of Divination,

on, they offer violence unto, and wreſt the words both in ver. 5, & 15. and before 30. 27. Alſo they unjuſtly burthen Joſeph with a great fault; as if he would attribute to himſelf, and glory, as if he had not received from God the gift of knowing things ſecret, which he did not before Pharaoh, being new come out of priſon, ch. 41. 16. The plain meaning then agreeing to the words is, that by this deviſe, Joſeph could try and finde out the crafty and deceitfull wiles, whereby they ſought to delude him.

Spirit of Divination] One that by a devilliſh ſpirit ſtudyeth to withdraw others from the worſhip of God, and true holineſſe of life. Lev. 20. 6. 27. If a man or woman have a ſpirit of Divination.

Diviner or Soothſayer] One which by a devilliſh ſpirit that is in him, doth propheſie and tell before what things ſhall come after. Deut. 18. 10. Let none be found among you that is a Diviner. Iſa. 8. 19. Gen. 41. 8. Ezek. 21. 21. Conſulting by divination.

Bill of divorce] A writing, or Letter which the husband gave unto his wife, to witneſſe that he had refuſed her, and willingly put away or turned her off from being any more his wife. Deut. 24. 1. Let him write her a Bill of divorce, and put it into her hand. The Jews did not this by precept from God, but by permiſſion from Moſes, who allowed ſuch a Letter of divorce for the ſafety of ſuch wives as had cruell and hard-hearted husbands, as it is written, Mat. 19. 8. Moſes ſuffered you for the hardneſſe of your hearts to put away your Wives, but from the beginning it was not ſo. Therefore ſuch Jewiſh divorce was evill morally, but not civilly. Divorce for Adultery allowed by Chriſt, Mat. 5. 33. alſo 19. 5. The Papiſts hold, that the bond of marriage (being an holy Sacrament, as they ſay) cannot upon any cauſe be broken, but is inviolable till death: and therefore, if Adultery be committed by either party, they allow a divorce (a thoro) from bed onely, and do not give leave to the innocent party to marry again. See their Annotation in Rhem. Teſtament, on ver. 18. of the 16 chap. of Luke.

Dizahab] Where much gold is. A place, Deut. 1. 1.

Doctor] One who teacheth others, and cauſeth them to learn any knowledge. This is the generall ſignification.

2. One who ſoundly teacheth the doctrine of Chriſt, skilfully confuting errors, which be contrary to it. Epheſ. 4. 11. Paſtors and Doctors (or Teachers.)

3. One who teacheth effectually and within, making us beleeve that we learn and know of him. Matt. 23. 6. For one is your Doctor, even Chriſt. Iſa. 54. 13. All thy children ſhall be taught of the Lord. Jer. 31. 33.

4. One that ambitiouſly affecteth the honour of a teacher and guide. Mat. 23. 10. Be not many Doctors. Rom. 2. 19. Thou perſwadeſt thy ſelf that thou art a guide to the blinde; that is, one that can goe before others as a guide or a Teacher. This honor the Phariſees willingly took to themſelves, being unworthy of it, Matt. 5. 14.

There were Jewiſh Doctors, Luk. 2. 46. Chriſtian, Eph. 4. 11. Sound, faithfull and good, 1 Cor. 4. 2. 17. Eph. 6. 21. 1 Tim. 4. 6. Falſe and deceitful, 2 Pet. 2. 1. 1 Joh. 4. 1.

4. The act of Teaching. Mar. 3. 2. And ſaid to them in his Doctrine; that is, whiles he was teaching them, or in the act of teaching he ſaid.

It's put alſo for that truth of the Goſpell which is taught and profeſſed in general, Tit. 2. 10. 2 Joh. 9, 10. Manner of teaching, with the matter alſo, Mat. 7. 28. Diſcipline, Pro. 4. 2. The matter taught, Mat. 16. 12. Underſtanding of the law taught, Iſa. 29. 24. Grounds of divine worſhip, Mat. 15. 9. Speech of inſtruction and information, Heb. 6. 1, 2. Evangelicall truth, methodically taught, called, The form of Doctrine, Rom. 6. 17.

Doctrine of Chriſt] Such doctrine as hath Chriſt for the author, matter, and ſcope or end. Heb. 6. 1. The beginning of the doctrine of Chriſt; that is, which cometh from Chriſt, teacheth teacheth Chriſt, and leadeth unto Chriſt. No other Doctrine, ſignifieth, no diverſe Doctrine from that which Paul taught, 1 Tim. 1.3.

Doctrine of devils] Such erroneous opinions as come from the Devil as author, and keepeth them which receive it, faſt in his ſnares. 1 Tim. 4. 1. They ſhall give heed to doctrines of devils.

Form of doctrine] The doctrine of the Goſpel, which is like a form, mould, or ſtamp, changing the Elect into the Image and likeneſſe of it ſelf, by imprinting in their hearts (through the holy Ghoſt) thoſe very graces of faith, hope, love and obedience, which it teacheth and requireth. Rom. 6.17. Ye have obeyed the form of doctrine, &c.

Doctrine of godlineſſe] That doctrine of Grace, which doth teach us the way how to worſhip God aright, and maketh us his true worſhippers; that is, godly perſons. 1 Tim. 6. 3. The Doctrine which is according to godlineſſe.

Doctrines of men] Such opinions and doctrines as have none other than men for the authors of them, without any ground out of the Word. Col. 2. 22. After the doctrines of men. Theſe are called the precepts of men, Mat. 15.9. Strange doctrines, Heb. 12.9. and a winde of doctrine, Eph. 4.14. being like boates toſſed up and down with contrary winds.

Doctrine uncorrupt, wholeſome, ſound] Such doctrine as is not mixed with leaven of error, but is in it ſelf pure, and makes them which received it to be ſound in the faith, and of uncorrupt and pure manners, and to be ſaved in ſoul and body, Tit. 1. 9. Alſo 2. 7, 8. With uncorrupt doctrine. 1 Tim. 1.10. 2 Tim. 1. 13. & 2. 17. Hee compared falſe doctrine to a Gangrene, which killeth.

Dodai or Dodo] 2 Sam. 27. 4. Beloved: an Ahohite, 1 Chr. 17. 4.

Dodanim] Beloved. The Son of Javan, Gen. 10. 4.

Dodavah] Love. The Father of Eliezer, 2 Chr. 20. 37.

Dodo] His Uncle. The Father of Puah, Judg. 10. 1. Alſo a Bethlemite, 1 Chr. 11. 26.

To doe] To provide, labour and prepare, Gen. 30. 30.

It may be referred, I. To God, ſignifying,

1. The execution of his judgements, whether in juſtice on the ungodly, Exod. 9. 5. or in mercy on his owne children, Pſa. 39. 9.

2. The gracious deliverances which he affordeth his own children, Pſal. 109. 21. Iſa. 37. 32.

3. The accompliſhment of his decrees, Iſa. 46. 11. Dan. 9. 19.

4. To requite or recompenſe in the ſame kinde, Numb. 33. 56.

5. To proſper, Deut. 30. 5.

6. The courſes which he taketh, or means which he uſeth for the good of his own people, Hoſ. 6. 4.

7. To help and ſhew favour, Pſa. 109. 21.

8. To ſend puniſhment or affliction, Amos 3. 6.

9. To put out, or forgive, 1 Chr. 21. 8.

10. To bring upon, 2 Sam. 3. 9.

II. To Chriſt, ſignifying,

1. His obedience and conformity unto his Fathers will, Joh. 8. 29. & 14. 31.

2. His granting of what in prayer ſhall be requeſted of him, Joh. 14. 14.

3. The ſeverall actions which were by him performed for the advancement of Gods glory, and ſalvation of mankinde, Act. 1. 1.

III. To Man, ſignifying, To execute or perform, Pſal. 15. 7. Follow in practiſe, Phil. 4. 9. Keep, Gal. 5. 3. Obſerve, Deut. 5. 27. Take in hand, Deut. 29. 9. Fulfill, 1 King. 5. 8. Speak, 1 Joh. 1. 6. Act or practiſe, 3 Joh. 11. Commit, 2 Sam. 12. 9. Pleaſure, benefit, profit, Gal. 6. 10. Work, Exod. 15. 11. Mans doing is taken ſometime in a good ſenſe, as Gen. 18. 19. Lev. 18. 4. & 25. 18. Deut. 28. 15. & 32. 46. Pſa. 103. 21. & 143. 10 Iſa. 1. 17. Mic. 6. 8. Act. 26. 20. Sometime in an evill, as Gen. 19. 7. Deut. 17. 13. & 25. 16. Pſal. 119. 3. Jer. 4. 22. and ſo in other particulars. The former is done without wearineſſe, Gal. 6. 9. Partiality, 1 Tim. 5. 21. Murmuring or diſputing, Phil. 2. 14. Done juſtly, Mic. 6. 8. With good courage and ſtrength, 2 Chron. 28. 10, 20. Heartily, Col. 3. 23. The latter wickedly, 1 Sam. 12. 25. Dan. 12. 10. Fooliſhly, Gen. 31. 28. Raſhly, Act. 19. 36.

To doe evill] To ſend ſome puniſhment or evill affliction. Amos 3. 6. Is there any evill in the City, and the Lord hath not done it? Thus God doth evill.

2. To offend God in ſome ſinfull deed, through weakneſſe. 2 Sam. 12. 9. Wherefore haſt thou done evill in his ſight? Thus godly men doe evill.

3. To live wickedly, fulfilling the luſts of ſin with pleaſure and greedineſſe. 3 Joh. 11. He that doth evill hath not ſeen God. Thus ungodly men do evill, Joh. 3. 20.

To doe faithfully] To doe as becomes a faithfull and beleeving perſon, namely to entertain, harbour, and bring on their way the brethren, ſuch eſpecially as be ſtrangers, 3 John 5.

To doe good] To proſper and bleſſe. Gen. 32. 9. I will do thee good.

2. To lead a godly life. 3 Joh. 11. Hee that doth good is of God.

3. To diſtribute or communicate unto the neceſſities of the Saints. Gal. 6. 10. Doe good to all. Here it is more ſtrictly taken, but it is uſed more largely in 3 Joh. 11. He that doth good is of God, but he that doth evill hath not ſeen God. And often elſewhere it ſignifieth the performance of duties, of the firſt and ſecond Table.

To doe well] To offer ſacrifices, and doe all outward good works of a lively faith in Chriſt, out of a pure heart, and a good conſcience. Gen. 4. 6. If thou doſt well, &c. Thus Abel worſhipped God by faith in the promiſes without Hypocriſie, and that made his work good, and himſelf a well-doer; whereas Cain was an evill-doer, and his work evill, 1 Joh. 3. 12. (though he did the thing which God commanded) becauſe he wanted confidence in Chriſt, and was an hypocrite.

To doe the will of God] To beleeve the promiſes of mercy: For this is the will of God, Joh. 6. 40. And to endevour the keeping of his Commandements and Laws. Mat. 7. 21. He that doth the will of my Father. This is Evangelicall doing, according to which, all the godly be doers of the will of God, is by faith to be in the fear of God; and to ſuch the will and doctrine of God ſhall be further revealed, Joh. 7. 17.

2. Perfectly to keep the Morall law, or ten Commandements, without failing in any point; either for matter, matter, and meaſure of doing, or end. Rom. 2. 13. The doers of the Law ſhall be juſtified. This is legal doing, which is to be found onely in the man Chriſt, and the holy Angels.

Doing] The execution and fulfilling of Gods decrees and counſels. Pſal. 11. 35. Our God is in heaven, he doth whatſoever he will. Iſa. 45. 7. I doe all theſe things.

2. The performance of Gods precepts, either by endevour, or in perfection. Pſal. 15. 7. He that doth theſe things, &c. Gal. 3. 2. He that doth theſe things ſhall live.

3. The working of ſome evill works. 3 Joh. 11. He that doth evill, &c.

Doeg] Carefull. The chief Heard-man of Saul, to whom he bewrayed where David was, 1 Sam. 21. 7. & 22. 9.

Dog] A creature vile and baſe, whoſe property is to ſnarl, bite and brawl, loving eaſe, and greedy after meat.

2. A deſpiſed and abject perſon, which is of vile account. 1 Sam. 17. 44. Am I a dog? 2 King. 8. 13. Is thy ſervant a dog? 2 Sam. 3. 8.

2. The Gentiles which were ſtrangers from Chriſt. Matt. 15. 26. I may not take the childrens bread, and give it to dogs.

4. Falſe Prophets and Teachers, who (like dogs) impudently bark againſt the truth, and ſhameleſly rail againſt the true Teachers. Phi. 2. 2. Beware of dogs.

5. Contemners of the Word, to wit, ſuch filthy unclean lives, as deſperately hate and ſcorn all good admonition, and their admoniſhers. Mat. 7. 6. Give not holy things to dogs. 2 Pet. 2. 22.

9. An whore, which letteth out her body for hire. Deut. 23. 28. Thou ſhalt not bring the price of a dog into the Houſe of God.

7. Negligent, covetous, and unfaithfull Miniſters, which ſeek their owne things, and not the things of Chriſt. Iſa. 56. 10, 11. Theſe greedy dogs can never have enough, they look every one to their owne wayes, &c. Dumb and greedy Dogs be careleſſe and covetous Shepheards, which minde not the ſafety of the flock, but the benefit of the fleece.

8. The Devill, the Prince of this world, Pſal. 22. 20. Or, it may be meant of the malicious Jews, or both.

This Beaſt is well known, and thereof there are diverſe kindes, and for diverſe uſes: as, for hunting, fowling, keeping the houſe, merryment, &c. It hath many excellent properties. It is watchfull both by day and night, and by its barking diſcovereth thieves, ſtrangers, beaſts. It loveth its Maſter, & them in the family. It's docible, and may be taught to turn the ſpit, draw water, fetch and carry, &c. It can finde the way home though many miles diſtant, and is not forgetfull, either of any wrong done, or kindneſs ſhewed unto it. It's very loving unto its young ones, which ſee not till they be nine or ten dayes old. Some bark much, bite ſeldome, the moſt fearfull; others bark ſeldome, but bite ſore, the moſt valorous. By night they are afraid of the moon, whereat they often bark, though to no purpoſe. The older they grow, they wax the more laſie: Having eat too much they eat graſſe, and ſo by vomiting purge themſelves. They are ſubject to madneſſe, and uſually when they then bite man or beaſt they die. They doe moſt eagerly behold and admire all holy actions. Being weary by running, they relieve themſelves by tumbling. They will not eat the fleſh of one another, though never ſo hungry, never ſo well prepared. Being beaten ten of their Maſters, they lie down, humble themſelves, are more obedient, and love them the more. They know their voyce, and are thereby directed. They by their ſent will follow and finde out their Maſter (as alſo their game) fight for him, not forſake them if ſlain, detect the murtherer, and revenge his death. When they hunt, it's for their glory (which they affect) their Maſters gain. It's an unclean beaſt, Deut. 23. 18. Libidinous, envyous againſt others of its owne kinde, licketh up what it vomiteth. Two of them ſtriving for a bone, and a third taking it from both, pointeth out, That when two ſtrive for a place, whether in the Church or Common-wealth, uſually a third carryeth it. And as the dog runneth after the ſtone, and biteth it, not after him that threw it, ſo the wicked look not unto God from whom troubles come, but rage againſt the inſtruments whom God employeth. When they drink, they lap of the water with their tongues, Judg. 7. 5. They wait at the Table, and feed on the bones and crums that fall therefrom, Mat. 15. 27.

A living dog better, &c.] That it is beſt to enjoy things which be preſent, and not with expectation of future good things to deceive themſelves, Eccl. 9. 4, 5. The ſaying and opinion of Epicures, like to that in Iſa. 22. 13. 1 Cor. 15. 32. Let us eat and drink, &c. whoſe affections and faſhions by imitation Solomon expreſſeth, Eccl. 10. 7, 8, 9.

Dominion] Rule, Lordſhip, and power, either moderate, of a lawfull Lord. Jude 25. To God onely be dominion. Or immoderate and and hurtfull, of unlawfull Lords or Tyrants. Rom. 6. 14. Sin ſhall not have dominion over you.

It's put alſo for the government it ſelfe, Jude 8. The extent of ones rule, Jer. 34. 1. Kingdome, Pſal. 114. 1. The Countrey or Kingdome, over which a King ruleth, Dan. 6. 26. It's aſcribed to God, Pſal. 145. 13. Chriſt, Pſa. 72. 8. Men in generall, Gen. 1. 28. Pſal. 8. 6. In ſpeciall, 1 King. 9. 19. Dan. 6. 9. Mat. 20. 25. The Law, Rom. 7. 1. Sin, Rom. 6. 14. Death, Rom. 6. 9.

To deſpiſe dominion] To ſet at naught and have in vile account, not the perſons of governours, but government ſelfe, even the very order which God is Author of, they ſpare not to ſpeak ill of it; as doe at this day the Anabaptiſts, Libertines, Davidiſts, and Academici, with others, Jude 8. Whereas Michael would not uſe a railing word againſt the impure Spirit, theſe men reproach the holy Ordinance of God.

Doꝛe] That whereby an ordinary entrance into, and paſſage out of a houſe is made.

2. Chriſt, by whom an entrance is made into the Church of God, as by a dore one entreth into an houſe. Joh. 10. 1, 9. I am the dore, if any man enter, &c.

3. Opportunity or occaſion of doing much good. 1 Cor. 16. 9. A great dore and effectuall is opened unto me; that is, a very large occaſion of profiting many.

4. Our hearts, which are as dores, whereby entrance is given to Chriſt, to come into us, and to dwell with us. Rev. 3. 20. I ſtand at the dore. Pſal. 24. 7.

5. Neer at hand, Gen. 4. 7. Mar. 13. 29.

6. Good opportunity and occaſion, 1 Cor. 16. 9.

7. Means of revelation, Rev. 4. 1. There's the dore of life, the mothers wombe, Job 3. 10. The dore of defence or protection, Jer. 49. 31. The dore of grace and regeneration, Rev. 3. 8. The dore of admiſſion into Church-office, Joh. 10. 1. The dore of gifts, as of knowledge, Prov. 8. 34. Faith, Act. 14. 27. Hope, Hoſ. 2. 15. Utterance, Col. 4. 3. The dore of the lips, Pſal. 141. 3. The dore of death and judgment. Jam. 5. 9. The dore of the heart, Rev. 3. 20. The dore of heaven or glory, Luk. 13. 25.

Doꝛe of faith] The doctrine of the Goſpel, by which (as by a dore) we enter into God, and he entreth into us. Act. 14. 27. God hath opened the dore of faith unto the Gentiles.

Doꝛe of hope] The firſt entrance into the hoped for inheritance and bleſſings of God. Hoſ. 2. 15. And the valley of Achor for the dore of hope. This Achor was the valley into which the Iſraelites firſt came, being once gotten over Jordan, when they went to take poſſeſſion of Canaan, Joſh. 7. 16.

Doꝛe of my lips] The lips which are as a dore, by which our words paſſe out. This dore is opened by two keys; one of benefits, the other of the ſpirit: The lock which ſhuts it is the fear of God. Pſal. 141. 3. Keep the dore of my lips. Pſal. 15. 15. Open thou my lips, O Lord, &c.

Doꝛe of utterance] An open and free mouth to preach the Goſpel, Col. 4. 3.

Doꝛes] put properly, for common dores, as 1 Sam. 21. 13. Act. 5. 23. Sacred, 1 King. 6. 31. Ezek. 41. 23, 24, 25. Figuratively, for lips, Mic. 7. 6. Paſſages between hills, Zech. 11. 1.

Dophkah] A knocking. A place, Num. 33. 12.

Doꝛ] Generation. The name of a place, Joſh. 11. 2.

Dorcas] A Doe, or Roe-buck. A virtuous woman, Act. 9. 36.

Dote] ſignifieth,

1. To be fooliſh, mad, Jer. 50. 36.

2. Extremely to luſt after, Ezek. 23. 5, 7, 12, &c.

3. To rage, be faint, weak, peeviſh, as they which are diſeaſed, 1 Tim. 6. 4.

Dothan] The law, or cuſtome. A place, Gen. 37. 17.

Double] Great meaſure. Rev. 18. 6. Give her double according to her works.

Double. 1. The number of two is properly meant hereby.

2. The repeating of the ſame thing, or ſpeaking the ſame twice, which is done to ſhew, 1. The certainty, 2. The celerity thereof, Gen. 41. 32.

3. The greatneſſe of the matter, Gen. 2. 19.

3. Any indefinite number more then one, or meaſure more than little.

4. Uncertain, or of divers thoughts, Jam. 1. 8. & 4. 8.

5. Falſe or lying, or ſpeaking a thing to one perſon or at one time; & again denying it, or ſpeaking the contrary to others, or at other times.

It's alſo put for ſufficient, Iſa. 40. 2. Much or great, 1 Tim. 5. 17. As much more as another had, 2 King. 2. 9. An hypocrite who hath a double heart, Pſa. 12. 2. Or lyer, who is double-tongued, 1 Tim. 3. 8.

Double honour] Much and great honour. 1 Tim. 5. 17. Let Elders which rule well be had in double honour; that is, in ſingular love and reputation, 1 Theſſ. 5. 13. and larger maintenance, as appeareth by 1 Tim. 5. 18.

Double minded] A minde that goes two wayes, a wavering unſtable minde. Jam. 4. 8. Purge your hearts, ye double minded.

Double portion] Two parts, or twice ſo much as double portion. De. 21. 17. Two parts.

Double ſpirit] A great portion of the Spirit, or of ſpirituall gifts. 2 King. 2. 9. Let thy Spirit be doubled upon me.

Doubting] The miſtruſt of heart about the providence and promiſes of God, when the ſoul doth not reſt quiet and ſurely in God, but ſticketh and ſtaggers, hanging as it were between two. Rom. 4. 20. Abraham doubted not through unbeleef. Mat. 14. 31. Why doubt ye, O ye of little faith? Doubting in wicked men comes from want of faith, and meer infidelity: but in the godly it comes from weakneſſe of faith.

2. Wavering and uncertainty of minde. 1 Tim. 2. 8. Lift up pure hands without doubting. Jam. 1. 6.

3. Perplexity and anxiety of mind, when one is ſo ſtraitned, as he cannot ſee which way to turn him, or what to do. 2 Cor. 1. 8. We altogether doubted, even of life. 2 Cor. 4. 8. We are in doubt.

4. To be afraid of, Gal. 4. 20.

5. To miſtruſt, Act. 5. 24.

6. To ſtagger or hang in ſuſpenſe, Rom. 4. 20.

7. To deſpair as it were. 2 Cor. 1. 8.

8. To ſtudy or muſe on a thing, Act. 10. 17.

Dove] A creature of a very meek and harmleſſe nature; alſo fruitfull, by meanes of often breeding, Mat. 10. 16.

2. The holy ghoſt which is like a Dove for meekneſſe and innocency, Mat. 3. 26. It is written, the holy Ghoſt came down from heaven like a Dove, Joh. 1. 32. To ſhew it was no material Dove, but an appearance or ſhew of one, (much leſſe was the Spirit converted into a Dove) wherein he did pleaſe to manifeſt himſelf for that time and purpoſe, afterward vaniſhing. Alſo, the Dove is ſaid to abide upon Chriſt in a twofold reſpect; firſt, of his humanity, becauſe the Spirit was perpetually preſent with it, to fill it with graces perfectly, both for number and meaſure. Secondly, in reſpect of his Deity or God-head, becauſe the Spirit which is the third Perſon, is eternally joyned with Chriſt the ſecond Perſon, by or in a moſt marvellous unity of one and the ſelf-ſame eſſence and nature.

3. Holy Church or company of beleevers, which is chaſte and ſincere, full of ſpiritual beauty, like a Dove, reſting ſafe in a rock. Cant. 2. 5. My dove, &c. A Metaphor.

This is that Fowl, which being ſent out of the Ark, returned with an Olive leaf in her mouth, as a ſigne of the ceaſing deluge, and peace made between God and men, Gen. 8. 11 Hereunto the Church is compared, Can. 1. 15. And Chriſt commands his to be innocent as Doves, Mat. 10. 16. And the Pſalmiſt wiſheth unto himſelf the wings of a dove, that he might the more ſwiftly flee from his troubles, Pſal. 55. 7. It's gentle, fearful, ſimple, peaceable, having little or no gall. It's not noyſome or harmfull to other beaſts or fowles. It was both lawfull to eat it, and likewiſe to offer it in ſacrifice. It feedeth not on carion, but picketh up the pureſt ſeed or grane, and loveth neatneſſe, and the pure waters. It teacheth its young ones to keep their neſt clean, and loveth the white colour. Many ſeek its deſtruction, from which yet it ſaveth it ſelf by its ſwift flying, but if it loyter, then the Hawk eaſily ſeiſeth on it. Its feathers are of divers colours, Pſal. 68. 13. and therein it doth as it were take pride; whoſe beauty in the ſun-ſhine appears more then otherwiſe. It's of a quick and piercing ſight, and can diſcern one kinde of hawk from another, and accordingly avoyd them. The male and female love each other, and keep fidelity each toward other, and if any falling out be between them, they are quickly reconciled, manifeſting the ſame, by their embracing each other. It loveth mens dwelling houſes, and to be in their company; and being carryed from home, will return many miles to their own houſes; of whom therefore ſome make uſe, by tying Letters about their necks, which their friends at home untye, and read, and are thereby acquainted with their minde. It quickly forgets injuries done unto it, as the ſpoyling of its neſt, taking away its young, &c. It's very fruitfull, having young ones almoſt every moneth. It's carefull to feed both its own young ones, and others too ſtanding in need. It mourneth ſometime, Iſa. 38. 14. It feedeth not on blood. It uſually hath two young ones, whom it nouriſheth together in one neſt, nor is the male leſſe carefull of them then the female, each by turn ſitting on the egs, providing meat, &c. Being conſcious of its owne weakneſſe, it flyeth to the holes of the rocks, when in danger, Jer. 48. 28. Amongſt fowls it onely grieveth not at the loſſe of its young ones, or when taken away. In drinking it lifteth not up its head till it have enough. The male when old cannot couple with the female, but kiſſeth it. There ſhould be ſtrong love even in a weak body. It harms none either with its beak or claws, and by its dung recompenſeth the harm it doth in eating up the corn. As Noahs dove could finde no reſt till ſhe returned to the Ark, ſo neither is ſound reſt to be found but in the Church. יונה a dove, cometh of the root יגה he oppreſſed; which ſeemeth to imply, that the dove hath many enemies that oppreſſe it. The Church, Gods dove, is daily in danger to be oppreſſed.

Like a deceitfull dove] The Iſraelites to hold on their folly and ſottiſhneſſe, with great credulity and ſimpleneſſe, calling for help to ſuch as were their enemies, and would become their ſnare. Hoſ. 7. 11. Ephraim is like a deceived Dove without a heart.

Note. A Dove is commended for fecundity, or plentifull increaſe: alſo for ſimplicity and innocency: wherein the Dove is a figure or type of the Church, which beſide her increaſe is alſo innocent, being expoſed to injuries on all ſides, yet ſuffering all without any revenge.

Eyes of a dove] Gracious, chaſte, and moſt ſingle, like to the eyes of a Dove. Can. 1. 15. Thine eyes are like the eyes of a dove.

Doung] Taken 1. for filth and excrement, whether of Man, Iſa. 36. 12. Bird, 2 King. 6. 25. or Beaſt, Ezek. 4. 15.

2. The loathſome and ſtinking end of the wicked, Job 20. 7. Pſal. 83. 10.

3. That which is odious and deteſtable, as the carkaſſes of the dead, Jer. 8. 2. & 9 22.

4. Any thing whatſoever a man may ſeem to glory in without Chriſt, Phil. 3. 8.

5. Contempt with loathing, Mal. 2. 3.

Doung-hill] put for, 1. A place for filth, Ezr. 6. 11. Iſa. 25. 10.

2. The loweſt eſtate and baſeſt condition that may be, 1 Sam. 2. 8. Pſa. 113. 7.

3. Filthy rags, Lam. 4. 5.

Dowry] A gift of the man unto the woman or her parents, before and in reſpect of marriage, Gen. 34. 12. See the Law hereof, Exo. 22. 16, 17.

D R.

Dragon] A fierce and cruell Beaſt, full of ſtrength, and very terrible for his force and power. Pſal. 148. 7. Ye Dragons and depths.

2. The Devill who is called a great and red Dragon in reſpect of his exceeding ſtrength, and bloody cruelty againſt the Saints: which muſt ſerve, to make us watchful and fervent in prayer againſt his grievous aſſaults. Rev. 12. 3. 9. And the great Dragon the old Serpent. A Metaphor.

3. The greateſt evils and enemies which may befall and beſet us in this life. Pſa. 91. 13. The young Lyon and the Dragon thou ſhalt tread under thy feet; that is, Thou ſhalt overcome even thy ſtrongeſt enemies. The King of Babel for cruelty likened to a Dragon, Jer. 51. 34. Alſo, Ezek. 29. 3. And Antichriſt, Rev. 13. 4.

4. Tyrants, Pſal. 74. 13.

5. The whale, Ezek. 32. 2. marg.

Its biting is venemous, and fiſhes bitten thereby, die. It's afraid of a naked man, ſetteth upon him, if cloathed. It's recorded of one Dragon, that being dead, eight pair of Oxen could ſcarcely move him from his place: Of another, that he was 120 foot long; and of a third, that being killed, a whole childe was found in his belly, whom he had devoured; as in others a whole Hart, or Bull. Being tamed, it's not harmfull, but very familiar. It's of a pleaſant aſpect.

Their bodies are medicinable againſt diſeaſes and poyſon. They are delighted with mens ſongs. They have three rowes of teeth, great eyes and piercing, and hear well. There are ſome which being hungry turn themſelves toward the Weſt, and gaping wide, with the force of their breath, draw birds that fly over their heads into their throats. Some have wings, and no feet, others both, and ſome neither. There's enmity between them and the Eagles, both on the earth and in the air; alſo between them and the Elephants; when they would doe moſt harm, they eat moſt poyſonable hearbs. They kill alſo with their tail. Some of them have an infectious breath, and ſeldome ſleep. They have their venome in their tongue and gall. They are alſo very ſubtile, for thirſting after the Elephants blood, it getteth up on a tree, and from thence leapeth on his back, taketh hold of his trunk, &c. not leaving him till it kill him.

Habitation of Dragons] Forſaken and deſolate Cities. Jer. 51.37. Babel ſhall be as an habitation or dwelling place for dragons; that is, without an inhabitant.

It's alſo ſpoken of evill, Pſal. 5. 4. Of ſin, even in the regenerate, Rom. 7. 17. But in them hath no reſt, no quiet habitation. They daily oppoſe it, and by degrees maſter and keep it under, that it cannot domineer, either exerciſe its force and power as it doth in the children of diſobedience.

To dwell in God] To be joyned conſtantly unto God, which is by faith as by an inſtrument: Charity is but a witneſſe of our ſociety with God 1 Joh. 4. 16. He that dwelleth in God dwelleth in love.

To dwell in ſeeled houſes] To reſt wholly in their own private affaires and pleaſures of this life, contrary to the duty of godly perſons, who ought to preſer piety and Gods ſervice before their owne, either commodities or comforts. Hag. 1. 4. Is it time for you to dwell in your ſeeled houſes?

Dwelling of the Spirit in us, or of Chriſt in his members] Three things.

1. That his preſence is effectual and mighty, to poſſeſſe and govern the faithfull, which are his Temples, having dominion over them, inwardly enlightening to know, and powerfully guiding to doe the known will of God.

2. That his preſence is continuall, not as of a gueſt, who lodgeth for a night in an Inne, and is gone next day; nor as a ſojourner that ſitteth, but as an Owner and Poſſeſſor to abide for ever, as in Joh. 14.

Thirdly, the manner of his preſence; not by infiniteneſſe of power, as he is preſent to all creatures to ſuſtaine them, but by his grace and healthfull effects, uniting to Chriſt, regenerating to be his lively members witneſſing our adoption, &c. Rom. 8. 9. Eph. 3. 17.

Dwelling, habitation, or manſion, is a name given to the Tabernacle which Moſes made and God dwelt in, 1 Sam. 2. 32, 29. & afterward to Solomons Temple, 2 Chr. 36. 15. and Heaven it ſelf is alſo thus called, Deut. 26. 15. where there be many manſions, Joh. 14. 2. Alſo the Tent which Moſes made, and Solomons houſe was thus called, 2 Chr. 29. 6. The Temple is called the habitation of his glory, becauſe Gods glory filled the Tabernacle, when God firſt took poſſeſſion of it, Exod. 40. 34, 35. Pſal. 26. 8. and elſewhere, the habitation of Jehovah, Lev. 17. 4. and of his Name, Pſal. 74. 7.

Dwelling in Tents] ſignifieth, either the keeping at home, as Gen. 25. 27. Jude 5. 24. or his being with his ſheep-folds; for ſhepheards dwell in Tents, Iſa. 38. 12. And ſuch was Jacobs trade and his childrens, Gen. 46. 34. Or elſe thirdly, his pilgrimage in the land, Heb. 11. 9. Hereupon Jacobs Tents are uſed for the ſtate of the Common-wealth of Iſrael, Numb. 24. 5.

To be in light, or to dwell in the light] ſignifieth, God can endure no falſhood, hypocriſie, lies.

To dwell in the clouds] ſignifieth, That God is inacceſſible to us: Alſo the cloud is a token of Gods preſence, 1 Joh. 1. 7.

1 Tim.

1 Tim. 6. 16. 1 Kings 8. 12. Levit. 16. 2.

To dwell together] The ſociety and converſation of man and wife, for the performance of marriage duties, Matt. 1. 18. Before they came to dwell together, 1 Pet. 3. 5.

2. To pitch his Tabernacle as ye would ſay, to make a ſhort abode here, as they which live in Tabernacles or boothes, doe not tarry long in one place. Joh. 1. 14. He dwelt amongſt us: that is, not onely in our nature, but in the preſence of us the Apoſtles and other Jews, he did a while for a time converſe.

D Y.

To dye] To give up the ghoſt, Gen. 5. 20. And he dyed.

2. To be continually in the danger of death. 1 Cor. 15. 31. I dye daily.

3. To become guilty or worthy of death. Alſo to be in fear and danger continually of dying, when the Judge ſhall call for him. Alſo to begin to dye and become ſubject to mortality or death. So Adam dyed as ſoon as he had taſted the forbidden fruit, Gen. 2. 17. the meſſengers of death beginning then to ſeiſe on him.

To dye the death] Certainty of dying. Gen. 2. 17. Thou ſhalt dye the death. Doubling of the verb noteth certainty, ſpeedyneſſe, and fearfulneſſe of death. See the like, Gen. 2. 16. & 3. 16. and often elſewhere; an Hebraiſme, Gen. 11. 3.

To dye the death of the righteous] To have a death like to the death of the righteous; or to have an end like unto his. Numb. 23. 10. That I might die the death of the righteous, and my end be like his.

To dye in Adam] To be ſubject to death, by the guilt of Adams diſobedience. 1 Cor. 15. 22. In Adam all die.

To dye for the Lord] To give our lives for the teſtimony of Jeſus, as Martyrs doe. Act. 21. 13. I am ready to dye for the Name of the Lord Jeſus. Thus dyed James, Act. 12. 2. and Antipas, Rev. 2. 13.

To dye in the Lord] To yeeld up our ſpirits in the faith of Chriſt, under hope of Salvation by him, with repentance for all our ſins. Rev. 14. 13. Bleſſed are they which dye in the Lord. This is to fall aſleep in Chriſt, 1 Theſſ. 4. 13.

To dye to the Lord] ſignif. theſe 4 things.

1. To acknowledge, that as we have life by his giving, ſo death cometh by his ſending.

2. With cheerfull patience to ſubmit our ſelves to all diſeaſes, and to death it ſelf.

3. As in our life, ſo in our death, to deſire that God may be glorified of us, being very carefull that nothing be ſpoken or done to diſhonour him.

4. To give up our ghoſt in good confidence that Chriſt will ſave our ſouls preſently at their diſſolution, and raiſe up our bodies to life at the laſt day.

Note: That living to the Lord and dying to the Lord, are joyned together; ſuch life, ſuch death.

To dye to our ſelves] In our death to be forſaken, without any to care for us, or to reſpect us. Rom. 14. 7. None of us dye to our ſelves. Thus ungodly men die, who as they acknowledged not, nor truſted in any God whiles they lived, ſo they have no God to look to them to ſave them in their death, when they periſh as forſaken bond-men. But thus the godly do not die: for the Lord whoſe they are, and whom they faithfully ſerved in their life, doth preſerve them ſafe both in their life and death, alſo will raiſe them from death to life.

To dye in ſin] To periſh by impenitency, or to goe into everlaſting death through continuance in ſin. Joh. 8. 24. Ye ſhall die in your ſins. Thus ſhall all they dye, which beleeve not in the onely begotten Son of God.

To dye to ſin] To break the force of ſin, and every day to weaken it ſomething. Rom. 6. 2. How can they which are dead to ſin live therein? Thus the godly die even while they live.

Dying] The miſerable eſtate and condition in which the faithfull, but eſpecially the Miniſters of the Word be in this life. 2 Cor. 4. 10. We bear about in our bodies the dying of the Lord Jeſus.

See Death, To die.

Eagle] A bird, the King of birds, whereof Pliny mentioneth divers kindes, unto which it is common, to be gathered together to a dead Carion, through the ſmell or ſent of it: alſo to fly aloft, and to carry their young upon their wings in a tender care of them, &c. Job 39. 31, 32, 33, 34.

2. Beleevers, which upon the wings of a lively faith ſoar aloft, and mount up to Chriſt Jeſus, whoſe crucified fleſh hath a ſweet ſavour, that attracteth and draweth them to him, as the ſavour of the dead carkaſſe can cauſe the Eagles to reſort unto it. Luk. 17. 37. Where the carkaſſe is, there will the Eagles reſort.

Or thus: If there be ſuch wit in Birds (as Eagles) that they will come ſo far to one carkaſſe; a great ſhame it is to beleevers, not to be gathered to the Authour of life, by whom they are truly fed unto an everlaſting life.

Theſe ſenſes and collections be not contrary, but divers; and may well ſtand together.

Or thus: as Eagles aſſemble to the Carion, ſo the Beleever ſhall be perfectly joyned to Chriſt in deſpight of Satan, according to that, 1 Theſ. 4. 17. And ſo they ſhall be ever with the Lord: When the Son of man ſhall come to judge the world, all the faithfull ſhall be gathered to him. An Allegory.

Hereunto (in reſpect of its ſwiftneſſe) the dayes of man are compared, Job 9. 26. So alſo the perſecutors of the Church, Lam. 4. 19. So riches, Prov. 23. 5.

Hereunto (in reſpect of its tender affection) the Lord himſelf is compared, Deut. 32. 11. So in reſpect of its ſtrength and unwearyedneſſe, Exod. 19. 4.

Hereunto (in reſpect of its wit or skill) Beleevers, Mat. 24. 28. As alſo the godly, in reſpect of its long life, Pſal. 103. 5.

It's of great courage, as which dare ſet upon Harts, and ſuch great beaſts. It's of no leſſe ſubtilty in taking them; for, having filled its wings with ſand and duſt, it ſitteth on their horns, and by its wings ſhaketh the ſame into their eyes, whereby they become an eaſie prey. It flyeth very high (whence that phraſe, The way of an Eagle in the air,) Prov. 30. 19.) yet in the twinkling of an eye ſeiſeth on the prey, whether in the ſea or on the ground. It buildeth its neſt very high, Job 39. 27. (where ſeverall other properties are ſet down) Jer. 49. 16. Obad. 4. It goeth forth to prey about noon-tide, when men are gone home out of the fields. It's of a ſharp and quick ſight (though it hath a little eye) and can both a great way off diſcern its prey, and behold the ſun with open eyes. Such of her young ones as doe not thus look upon the ſun, but either wink or have watery eyes, they reject as unnaturall. It liveth very long, nor dieth of age or ſickneſſe, but of hunger, as moſt hold, for the longer it liveth its bill groweth more hooked, and waxeth more hard, whereby at the length it cannot feed. When it walketh it pulleth in its clawes, that when it preyeth they may be the more uſefull; nor doth it prey on Gnats or ſmall Birds, but on Geeſe, Hares, Harts, Serpents, dead carkaſſes. It's ſaid of it, that it preſerveth its neſt from poyſon, by having therein a precious ſtone named Aetites (without which it is thought the Eagle cannot lay her egs) and keepeth it clean by the frequent uſe of the herb Maiden-hair. Unleſſe it be very hungry it devoureth not the whole prey, but having taken its ſhare, gives the reſt unto the birds which follow it; but if either it want a prey, or the prey is not ſufficient for it ſelf, it preyeth on them. As the Eagles feathers or quils are ſaid to conſume other quils or feathers laid neer them; ſo Church-goods bring ruine upon mens eſtates, as Uſury alſo doth. It's ſaid to be free from lightening, which may be thus conceived, for that it flyeth high, and can ſpeedily goe unto other places where there is no lightening. Between the Eagle and Dragon there is a naturall antipathy and ſtrife, each ſeeking the others deſtruction. The Eagle ſeeketh to kill it, and the Dragon breaketh all the Eagles eggs that it can finde, and hearing the noyſe of the Eagle in the air ſpeedeth to his den, and there hideth himſelf. Having three young ones, it caſteth off, flingeth away one, which another bird named Fulica, taketh care of, and bringeth up. To provoke its young ones to fly, fly, it flyeth often over them, and being come to maturity, and not thus provoked, it beats them with its bill, and gives them no food, so inforcing them hereunto. Being exceeding hot and dry, it soon waxeth angry, nor keepeth it society with others, but shunneth it. Some Eagles prey in the air, some in sea (wherein from on high they can perceive the smallest fish) some on the land. They prey in places remote or far from their nest.

Eagles wings] The mercifull providence of God, saving and protecting his people from dangers. Exod 19.4. I carryed you upon Eagles wings Eagles fly aloft, and carry their young on their wings, to put them out of danger; which signifieth Gods loving providence, procuring the safety of the Church, and of every member of it. A Metaphor.

2. Swiftnesse, speedynesse, and by sudden flight vanishing away. Prov.23.5. Riches take wings like an Eagle and fly into heaven.

Great Eagle] The most mighty and rich King of Babel; to wit, Nebuchadnezzar, Ezek. 17.3. so expounded in ver. 12. of this chap. A Metaphor.

Thy youth is renewed like the Eagles.

1. The Eagle casteth her feathers yeerly, and new grow up, whereby she seemeth fresh and young, flyeth high, and liveth long. Compare Isa. 40.3. Aynsw.

2. The Eagle by casting her feathers and her beak, seems to receive a new youthfulnesse. Hall.

3. The Rabbins held, that the Eagle being ten yeers old, flyeth to the element of Fire, whence (its feathers being burnt off) it falleth into the sea, and getteth new feathers, and that it doth thus every tenth yeer, till it be an hundred yeers old.

4. Some hold, that when the Eagle waxeth old it becommeth heavy, and its eyes and feathers putrefie, but that by washing it self in a certain fountain, it becometh as when it was young.

5. Some hold, that its beak being grown long and hard, whereby it is hindred from feeding, it flyeth against a rock, and breaketh it off, and thereupon can feed as before.

6. Others thus; The Lord will renew thy strength; so that thou mayst be compared with the most lusty and strong youth of Eagles, and that both in the vigour of thy minde, and the strength, celerity, and agility of thy body. Franzii Hist. Animal. part. 2. cap. 1. de Aquila.

Ear] The instrument of hearing.

2. The understanding which comes by hearing. Deut.26. A Metonymie. Rev.2.11. He that hath ears to hear, &c.

3. Service, obedience, or perpetual subjection. Ps.40.6. Mine ears hast thou opened; that is, thou hast framed me to thy perpetuall service, Exod. 21.6.

Referred 1. To God, importing as well his infinite knowledge of all things, Ps.94.9. As his readynesse to hear the prayers of such as call upon him in truth, Psa.34.15. Ps.18.6.

2. To Man; taken both properly, Exod. 21.6. and figuratively for men, Job 29.11. Of ears, some are good, as the attentive ear, Neh. 1.6, 11. The opened ears, Psa. 40.6. The hearing ear, Pro. 20.12. The obedient ear, Prov. 25.12. The blessed ear, Mat.13.16. Others bad, as the stopped ears, Pro. 21.13. The ears turned away from hearing the law, Prov. 28.9. The heavy ears, Isa. 6.10. The uncircumcised ears, Jer. 6.10. The deaf ears, Mic. 7.16. The dull ears, Mat. 13.15. The itching ears, 2 Tim. 4.3. In Eccles. 12.4. the ears are tearmed, The daughters of musick, as which both receive words, Job 4.12.& 42.5. & try them, Job 12.11. & 34.3.

Gods ear] Either his infinite knowledge (as if he heard all things) or his readynesse to hear and to grant our requests. Psal.94.9. He that made the ear, shall he not hear? Ps.116.2. He hath inclined his ear unto me. A Metaphor.

Early] Implying care, fear, willingnesse, readynesse, alacrity, earnest endevour and desire to attain, is put for Speedily, Psa. 90.14. Hastily, Prov. 27.14.

Earnest] Something given to binde a bargain; as a shilling to binde the payment of an hundred pounds.

Note. It is in Hebrew Erabon; hence the Greek Arrhabon is borrowed, and it signifieth a pledge, pawn, or earnest.

2. A pledge or pawn. Gen. 38.17,18. What is the earnest (or pledge) that I shall give thee?

3. An hostage given in war. All these are (as an earnest) to confirm and assure a thing, 2 King. 14.14.

Earnest expectation] A looking after something with great greedynesse, and unwearyed continuance. Rom. 8.19. The earnest expectation of the Creature, &c. Here is a Prosopopeia, or fiction of persons: there is a person put upon the unreasonable Creature, of one who expecteth and looketh after some man or matter, as it were with heads and necks stretched out, to behold and spy that which they eagerly desire to see and enjoy: so the Creature (as a woman in travel) Rom. 8.22. fervently coveteth it own restauration, by a naturall instinct which is put of God into the Creature, whereby it is moved secretly to covet and attend the end for which it was made; which is that perfect estate wherein it was made of God, and from which by mans sin it fell, and unto which still it tendeth by a naturall inclination, even as heavy things naturally tend downward, and light things upward.

Earnest of the Spirit] The gift of the Spirit which is like an earnest in a bargain: for the first fruits or the saving gifts of the Spirit, to wit, Faith, Hope, Love, and Repentance do in such sort assure the godly of having their full happinesse in heaven at last, as he that hath received an earnest is sure to have the full summe paid him, or the full bargain accomplished, Ephes. 1. 14. Also, 2 Cor. 1. 22. And hath given the Earnest of the Spirit. In this sense the Apostle in the aforesaid places useth the similitude of a Seal, which also serveth to confirm a promise, and therefore fit to signifie the assurance which the Spirit of adoption doth give the faithfull of their inheritance in heaven, in due time to be seen and enjoyed of them.

Earnestly] Taken in a bad sense, Mic. 7. 3. In a good, being put for,

1. Diligence and fervency which is to be shewed in well-doing, Neh. 3. 20. In prayer, Luk. 22. 44. Act. 12. 5. marg. Jam. 5. 17. In defence of truth, Jude 3.

2. Attentive and heedful beholding, Luk. 22. 56. Act. 1. 12. & 23. 1.

3. Vehement desire, 1 Cor. 12. 31. 2 Cor. 5. 2. In Jer. 11. 7. & 31. 20. it's spoken of God, I earnestly protested, I doe earnestly remember him; but according to the Originall it is, In protesting I protested, remembring, doe remember.

Earth] Dry land, Gen. 1. Psal. 24. 1. The earth is the Lords. Also it signifieth that matter whereof all terrestriall and celestiall bodies were made, Gen. 1. 2.

2. Land and Sea, and all that is in them, Gen. 2. 1. Thus God created both heaven and earth. Psal. 124. 8. Which made heaven and earth. Also by a Synecdoche Earth is put for all things created. And for the water which covered the earth, being dryed by a strong East wind, Gen. 8. 1.

3. The inhabitants or people which dwel on the earth. Psal. 101. 1. Sing unto the Lord all the earth. Gen. 6. 11. Gen. 9. 13. by a Metonymie of the place containing, being put for the persons contained in it, as Josh. 23. 14. Isa. 24. 19, 20. See Isa. 11. 5, 9. for the elect on the earth.

4. Earthly minded persons. Psal. 10. 18. That earthly man (or man of the earth) cause to fear no more: the wicked and impenitent which be on the earth, Isa. 11. 4.

5. That which is frail and weak. 2 Cor. 4. 7. We have this treasure in vessels of Earth, or Earthly: signifying thereby, frail and weak men, to whom the treasure of the Gospel was committed, to be by preaching scattered abroad. It signifieth the Elect, Isa. 11. 10.

6. The increase or fruit which cometh out of the earth. Gen. 3. 17. In sorrow thou shalt eat of it (that is, the Earth) all the days of thy life. Metonymie.

7. A Region, Land, or Countrey, Matt. 9. 26. Mar. 15. 33. Luk. 4. 25. In all which places the word Englished Land is Earth in the Originall, by a Synecdoche.

8. Onely the Land of Israel, Rom. 9. 28.

9. That which is vain and vile, savouring nothing of heaven, Joh. 3. 31.

10. A similitude or comparison taken from the earth, or earthly things, Joh. 3. 12.

11. The waters which covered the earth whilest Noah was in the Ark, Gen. 8. 1.

12. The ground, Gen. 43. 26.

13. Countreys bordering or lying neer, 2 Chr. 9. 23.

14. A certain quantity or portion of earth, Numb. 16. 32.

15. The wicked and impenitent which be on the earth, Isa. 11. 4.

16. The false Church, Rev. 14. 3. & 16. 2.

17. Affection of love receiving Gods Word, and in nourishing it as the Earth doth the seed, Mar. 4. 5.

18. All nations, Psal. 67. 2. and lands, Psal. 100. 1.

19. As heaven is put for the highest place, so is the earth for the lowest, Psal. 148. 13. Hence that phrase, Rev. 13. 11. I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; that is, being of a low and base originall.

20. The grave, Psal. 44. 25.

21. Gods Church here upon earth, Isa. 49. 8. & 51. 16.

22. A multitude of enemies, Psa. 46. 6.

The earth to be as brasse, Lev. 26. 19. that is, which cánot be plowed, or through drought or some such like cause, doth not fructifie.

Earth empty] That the land of Judah and Israel should lack both inhabitants and treasure, Isa. 24. 1.

Earth, and the plenty thereof] The whole frame of the world, and all creatures which be contained in heaven, earth, and seas abundantly, as stars, beasts, fowles and fishes, and whatsoever springs out of the earth for mans use, 1 Cor. 10. 26. Fulnesse of the earth, as Isa. 5. 3.

A man of the earth, Psal. 10. 18. that is, an an earthly-minded-man, who being of the earth is earthly, and ſpeaketh of the earth, Joh. 3. 31.

To fill wells with earth] Prefigured the corruption of the clear Doctrine of the Goſpell, with earthly gloſſes and traditions, Gen. 26. 15.

Earth mourneth] The people to be ſorrowfull, and through heavyneſſe to pine away. Iſa. 24. 4. Earth mourneth: and in the next verſe the earth is ſaid to be defiled, namely by the wickedneſſe of the perſons which tread thereon.

A ladder ſet upon the earth, Gen. 28. 12. as the Ladder repreſenteth Chriſt the Son of man, on whom the Angels of God aſcend and deſcend, Joh. 1. 51. and in Gen. 28. 12. is applyed in ſpeciall to Jacob, and his journey; ſo the earth ſignifies his humane nature and converſing with men, and the heavens ſignifies his divine nature and mediation for men with God, Joh. 16. 28. Heb. 9. 24.

To return to his earth, Pſal. 146. 4. that is, To die.

Earthly, or earthly] 1. That which hath its originall of the earth, as the creatures on earth, Pſal. 148. 7. and the body of man, 2 Cor. 5. 1.

2. That which is earthly, or ſavoureth of the corruption of the world, as earthly wiſdome, Jam. 3. 15. Earthly members, Col. 3. 5. Things on the earth, Col. 3. 2. Earthly things, Phil. 3. 19. Earthly ſpeeches, Joh. 3. 31.

3. That which is naturall, Joh. 3. 12.

Earth-quake] The ſhaking and trembling of the earth, Job 9. 6. Pſal. 18. 8. & 60. 2. & 77. 18. Joel 2. 10. & 3. 16. Yet, not of the whole earth, but of ſome parts thereof, eſpecially Mountains, Pſal. 68. 9. & 114. 4. 6. Zech. 14. 4. and Iſlands, Rev. 6. 14. & 16. 20. comp. with 18. Whereof the efficient cauſe is either ſupernaturall (and that either principall, God, Exod. 19. 18. Pſal. 29. 6. & 104. 32. or inſtrumentall; the Angels, Mat. 28. 2.) or natural, namely, Wind ſhut up within the pores or bowels of the earth, wch ſtriving to break out from thence ſhaketh the ground. This the Lord doth to ſhew his power and majeſty, Exod. 19. 18. 1 King. 19. 11. His anger and diſpleaſure againſt ſin, Amos 1. 1. Zech. 14. 1. His powerfull aſſiſtance to his Church, Act. 16. 25, 26. Both, Pſal. 77. 19. And it ſets out the triumphing power of Jeſus Chriſt, Matt. 28. 2. This produceth a diſcovering of the channels of waters, and foundations of the world, Pſal. 18. 15. The removall of Mountains from one place to another, Zech. 14. 4. Rev. 6. 12, 14. The cleaving of the rocks, and opening of the graves, Matt. 27. 51, 52, 54. and gates, Act. 16. 25. The deſtruction of many, Rev. 11. 13. Fear and trembling, 1 Sam. 14. 15 Act. 16. 26, 29. Famine and peſtilence, Mat. 24. 7. Mar. 13. 8. Luk. 21. 11. A preparation of men unto faith and repentance, Act. 16. 26, 29, 30. Rev. 11. 13. It's put for fearfull diſturbances, great alterations and overthrow, Rev. 6. 12. & 16. 18. Or a great change, Heb. 12. 6.

Eaſe] A ſtubborn reſting and continuing in an evill and ſinfull courſe, with pleaſure and delight in it. Prov. 1. 32. The eaſe of the fooles ſlayeth them. Iſa. 32. 9. Pſal. 123. 4.

It's put alſo, for reſt or quietneſs, Deut. 28. 65. Security and careleſneſſe, Job 12. 5. Jer. 48. 11. Ezek. 23. 42. Amos 6. 1. marg. Zech. 1. 15. Voyd of any trouble or diſquietneſſe, Luk. 12. 19. Job 16. 12. & 21. 23. To ſit down, Deut. 23. 13. marg. Without any great labour, Judg. 20. 43. To leſſen, 2 Chro. 10. 4, 9. To mitigate or aſſwage, Job 7. 13. To proſper every way, Jerem. 46. 27.

His ſoul ſhall dwell at eaſe, Pſal. 25. 13. that is, ſhall lodge in goodneſſe, marg. Other men be eaſed, 2 Cor. 8. 13. that is, pay no contribution for the poor Saints.

To be eaſed of his enemies] To comfort him in the juſt puniſhment of his own people, become (through their Idolatry and Apoſtaſie) enemies to their God. I wil eaſe me of mine enemies; that is, I will quiet and cheer my ſelf when my wrath is ſatisfied and fulfilled in their puniſhment, Iſa. 1. 24.

Eaſie] That which may well be borne, or which we may uſe with none or little incumbrance and burthen to us. Mat. 11. 30. My yoke is eaſie; to wit, unto the regenerate. See Yoke.

There is a Facility or eaſineſſe twofold.

1. Of perſons, when they be acceſſible, affable, exorable; it is the ſame with Kindneſſe.

2. Of their works or things to be done, which conſiſteth of two parts.

Firſt, in the fitneſſe, multitude, power, preſence, conjunction of the meanes or cauſes.

Secondly, in the paucity, impotency, abſence, diſunion of the counter-cauſes or impediments.

Eaſt] Eaſtern people which dwelt in Syria and Meſopotamia, as the Philiſtines dwelt in the West, Isa. 2. 6. They are full of the East, or above the East, excelling them in superstition and Art-magick, whereunto they are given exceedingly.

It's the first of the fourth quarter of heaven, where the Sun begins to rise, Deut. 4. 47. Psal. 113. 3. and hereunto Idolaters in their worship turn themselves, Ezek 8. 16. It's put not onely for men dwelling in that coast, Isa. 2. 6. Ezek. 25. 4, 10. but for the Countreys there, Jer. 49. 28. Dan. 11. 44. Mr. Gregory in his Notes and observations on Zech. 6. 12. & 3 8. as he readeth the Texts, thus, Behold the man whose name is the East. And, I will bring forth my servant the East. (Whereas in our Translation the words are thus rendred, Behold the man whose name is the Branch. And, I will bring forth my servant the Branch) So he layeth down this ground, which he termeth New; That the speciall presence of God ever was and is in that part of the heaven of heavens which answereth to the Equinoctiall East of the Holy land, p. 72. And, that Adam worshipped God in Paradise toward the East, and so did the whole world til Abrahams time, p. 79. And, that the great atonement but once a yeer to be made by the highest and most holy man, and in the most holy place, was performed toward the East, quite contrary to all other manner of addressement in their devotion, Lev. 16. 15. p. 80. And, that the man Christ came down to us from the very same Eastern part, p. 81. For the proof whereof, he translateth Mic. 5. 2. thus; And his goings forth are out of the East from the dayes of old, p. 83. And that he ascended unto heaven by the Eastern part, &c. p. 87. And that therefore prayer is to be made toward the East, p. 89, 90.

East Countrey] Land of the East part of Arabia, Gen. 25. 6. Hereupon mention is made of the Land of the East, Job. 1. 3. And Job himself was in likelyhood the Son of one of these Sons or Nephews of Abraham by Keturah.

To eat] To chew meat with the teeth, to make it fit to enter the stomach. This is naturall eating.

2. To receive and take part of all sorts of meats, even such as were forbidden by Moses. This Peter did among the Gentiles at Antioch, to confirm by his example that Christian liberty from the yoke of Moses Law, which the Doctrine of the Gospel taught and set forth; but afterwards when some Jews came thither from James (that is, from Jerusalem) he overthrew that he had established by his teaching and example, in that he applyed himselfe as a temporizing dissembler (in that one act) unto the Jewish custome, being with the Jews, Gal. 2. 12. Before certain came from James, he did eat with the Gentiles. Note, that by this latter act and deed of his he gave occasion to think, that the Ceremonies of the Law were necessarily to be kept of all that would be saved; whereas by his former eating indifferently all kindes of of meats with the beleeving Gentiles, he had built them up in the abrogation of those Ceremonies, so destroyed he what once he built: such imperfection is even in the best men.

3. To live by Bribery, or gifts given by wicked people for the impunity of their sins, this is to eat the sins of the people, Hos. 4. 8.

A sin whereof Ministers by their flattery or evil silence at mens sins, and Magistrates by not punishing, and much more by upholding mens sins are guilty too often.

To eat all things] Not to pamper the belly by gluttony and excesse, but indifferently without choyce to use meats forbid by Moses law, as well as such which were allowed, upon knowledge of their liberty purchased by the passion of our Lord, from such Legall and Ceremoniall observantes. Rom. 14. One beleveth that he may eat all things.

To eat] is taken also for,

1. To enjoy, Isa. 1. 19.

2. Beleeve, or by faith partake of, Joh. 6. 56.

3. Consume, Nah. 3. 15.

4. Communicate or be partakers with Christ of his graces and comforts, Cant. 5. 1.

5. Devour, destroy, or overthrow, Numb. 24. 8.

6. Partake of idolatrous sacrifices, Num. 25. 2.

7. Dine or sup, 1 Sam. 9. 19.

8. Live upon, Hos. 4. 8. be familiar with, 1 Cor. 5. 11.

9. Receive the Word, Isa. 55. 1, and that understandingly, with power and effectualnesse thereof, Jer. 15. 16. Ezek. 3. 1, 2, 3. Rev. 10. 19.

10. Enjoy felicity, Rev. 2. 20. Doe the will of God earnestly and with great desire, as an hungry man willingly eats his meat, Joh. 4. 32.

11. Feed cheerfully and plentifully, Ruth 3. 3, 7.

12. Live a merry life, Eccles. 8. 15. Isa. 65. 13.

13. Give ones self to pleasure, lead a dissolute or riotous life, Isa. 22. 13. Mat. 24. 38.

14. Live, Eccl. 5. 17.

15. Live by eating, 1 King. 17. 15.

16. Live

16. Live at the charges of the Church, 1 Cor. 9. 4. By the words following this word Eat, the meaning of a great number of phrases will plainly appear.

Not to eat blood of Beasts] Not to proane or dishonour holy things by imploying them to common use, for blood was for expiation in sacrifices. Gen. 9.4. Lev. 19.16. Lev. 17. 11, 12.

2. To be very carefull not to shed mans blood to satisfie our lust, Gen 9.4,5. Deut. 12. 13.

The law which forbiddeth eating of the fat, Lev. 3. 17. & 7.13,14,15. hath the same signification, which the blood before did signifie, as touching our honouring holy things.

Not to eat unclean Beasts and Birds] That nothing is lawfull for us (no not for common use) unlesse it be sanctified by the Word and prayer, Lev. 11. 1,2,3,4, &c. untill ver. 12. comp. with 1 Tim. 4. 5.

2. That we ought not to be carryed away with strange doctrines and manners of the Heathen, but to have our hearts established in the Lord with grace, Heb. 13. 9. Lev. 20. 25, 26.

To eat bread] To feed, or to eat meat. Mar. 3. 20. They could not so much as eat bread; that is, take their meat and repast.

To eat butter and honey] To be nourished and brought up with such sustenance as is fit for an infant to feed on til he came to age and discretion. Isa. 7. 15, 16. Butter and honey shal he eat: this must not be understood of the Son of the Virgin (Immanuel, ver. 14.) but of the young Son of Isaiah, Shear-Jashub, v. 3. whom God had given as a signe of deliverance of Juda from the Syrians and Israelites, who both perished in so short a time as this Childe could grow up: for both those Kings perished within the fourth yeer of the reign of Ahaz, whereas Immanuel was born long time after, 2 King. 15. 30. & 16. 9.

2. To have such plenty as there should be none of the richer especially, to whom to sell; such a number should be exported captives to Babylon, and so few inhabitants left in Judah. Isa. 7. 22. Butter and honey shall every one eat that is left in the land.

To eat as a canker] To overthrow the faith of others, as a gangrene doth overthrow a body by eating part after part. 2 Tim. 2. 17, 18.

To eat Christ] To receive him by beleeving in him, as meat is received into the stomach by eating, so Christ is received into the soul by beleeving. Joh. 6. 35. He that beleeveth in me shall never hunger more, and he that beleeveth in me shall never thirst. This is spirituall eating. Thus is the flesh of Christ eaten, when we doe by faith beleeve that it was given for us, and is the price of our sins to God. The Capernaicall and Papistical eating of Christ, is both absurd and abominable; for so Infidels and wicked men, yea very Mice and Rats may eat him, and have eternal life by him, if his very flesh were corporally present in the place where the Sacrament is administred.

To eat and drink] To live and be safe, Exod. 24. 11. They saw God, and did eat and drink.

2. To live voluptuously, being given to the pleasures of this life. 1 Cor. 15. 32. Gen. 25. 34.

To eat up Gods people] To exercise wrong and cruelty towards the godly? Psal. 14. 4. They eat up my people like bread, even as usually and willingly as they eat bread, they doe oppresse the godly.

To eat herbs] To feed upon pease, beans, and all manner of pulse, or the vilest meats that were, rather than to eat meats forbidden by the Law; such was the weakness of beleeving Jews, Rom. 14. 2.

To eat our own judgement] To procure judgement to our selves by our eating unworthily the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 30. He that eateth this bread unworthily, eateth his own judgement; that is, he is cause of punishment to himself by eating unduely.

To eat and live for ever] To eat the tree of life, on a purpose and hope to recover that life eternall which he had worthily lost by his eating of the tree of Knowledge, Gen. 3. 22.

Note, that Adam should not have lived for ever, though he had eaten; (for by sin he was destitute of the force and fruit of the Tree, which should have conserved naturall and continued spirituall life, on condition of his obedience) but the vain confidence and presumption of Adam is here noted, such as hypocrites have to get salvation (ex opere operato) by the bare action, or receiving of the Sacrament.

To eat a rowl, or a book] To receive, and (after a sort) to draw and take in both the argument or matter, and also the gift of prophesie. Ezek. 3. 1. Son of man eat this rowle.

2. To study and learn the Scripture, till one know the points of Doctrine, and have the power thereof in the heart. Rev. 10. 9. Take the book and eat it up.

Eaten] for Burnt, Isa. 3. 14. marg. To have greedily ſinned, Ezek. 18. 2. To be tranſported with an holy heat of ſpirit, Joh. 2. 17.

Eater] Man that eateth, Nah. 3. 12. A Lion, Judg. 14. 14.

E B.

Ebal] A heap of ancientneſſe. The Son of Shobal, Gen. 36. 23. The Son of Joektan, 1 Chr. 1. 22. Alſo, the name of a Mount, Deut. 11. 29.

Ebed] A Servant. The Father of Gaal, Judg. 9. 26. The Son of Jonathan, Ezr. 8. 6.

Ebed melech] A Servant of the King. An Eunuch unto Zedekiah, Jer. 38. 7, 8.

Eben ezer] The ſtone of help. A place, 1 Sam. 4. 1.

Eber] Paſſing, paſſage; or anger. The Son of Salah, Gen. 10. 24. or Shelah, 1 Chro. 1. 18. Alſo, his poſterity, Numb. 24. 24.

Ebiaſaph] A Father bringing into one, or a gathering Father. The Son of Elkanah, 1 Chr. 6. 23. The Son of Korah, 1 Chr. 9. 19.

Ebony] A kinde of tree, whereof the wood is as black as jet within, and beareth no leaves nor fruit, Ezek. 27. 15. There are 2 kindes of it, and therefore the word is put in the plurall number. Tremel.

Ebronah] Going over, or paſſing from one place to another; or, being angry. A place, Numb. 33, 34.

E D.

Ed] Witneſſe. The name of an Altar, Joſh. 22. 24.

Edar] A flock. A place, Gen. 35. 21.

Eden] Either pleaſure; then it is a Noun appellative: or the name of a place and Region (wherein ſtood Paradiſe) called ſo upon the great delights and pleaſures which abounded in Eden. Gen. 2. 8. Eaſtward in Eden. Hereof is mention in Scriptures, 2 King. 10. 12. & Iſa. 37. 12. Ezek. 21. 24. & 28. 13. where Eden is termed the garden of God: Alſo, Gen. 4. 15. & 13. 10. & Iſa. 51. 3. which plainly ſheweth, that ſithence Eden is the proper name of a Region in Babylon, of Chaldea and other Regions bordering upon it, (as Nod, Gen. 16.) It is plain therefore that they are deceived which imagine Paradiſe ſituate in Eden, to be the whole world, or in the ayr, under the Equinoctiall zone or circle; or to contain Armenia, Syria, Ægypt, and Aſſyria in it: or reſtrain it to a fruitfull field in Babylon, or confine it to Syria onely: whereas how Paradiſe and the Region of Eden were bounded, cannot certainly by any ſtories ſacred or profane, be underſtood, as Paræus thinketh. Sure it is, that Moſes writeth of Eden as a place in his time wel known of him and the Jews, and in Gen. 2. doth by ſome floods and other circumſtances deſcribe and determine it. Eaſtward it was, but how large, whether yet defaced wholly, or when, as it is no matter of faith, ſo no certainty to be had, but with much uncertainty; Auguſt. Præſtat dubitare de occultis, quam litigare de incertis.

It's alſo the proper name of a man, the Son of Joah, 2 Chr. 29. 12.

Eder] A flock. The Son of Muſhi, 1 Chr. 23. 23. Alſo the name of a City, Joſh. 15. 21.

Edification] Either the action of one, who ſeeketh by inſtruction to build up others in godlineſſe, or the event and fruit of ſuch an action, Eph. 4. 12, 16. For the edification of the body of Chriſt. 1 Tim. 1. 4. Alſo all our Chriſtian duties which we owe to our Brethren, 2 Cor. 12. 19.

Edifie] To build, or to make an houſe.

2. To doe all manner of duties, either to bring our neighbour unto Chriſt; or if he be won, that he may grow from faith to faith; for the faithfull they are Gods houſe and building, his Temple and ſtones of the new Jeruſalem; and the furthering of theſe in Chriſtianity, is edifying and building of them up. 1 Theſſ. 5. 11. Edifie one another. Rom. 15. 2. Eph. 4. 12. A Metaphor.

Figuratively, it's put for, To inſtruct, 1 Cor. 8. 1. Make up perfection as a building, Jude 20. Confirm the weak in faith, 1 Cor. 10. 23. Embolden, 1 Cor. 8. 10. mar. To build up others in godlyneſſe is the end of propheſying, 1 Cor. 14. 3. which effect is accordingly wrought thereby, Ibid. 4. To this end we muſt ſeek to excell in ſpirituall gifts, Ibid. 12. Yea, in every thing to aim hereat, hereat, Ibid. 26. Which however all things doe not, 1 Cor. 10. 23. Yet charity doth, 1 Cor. 8. 1. The authority committed to Gods Miniſters doth, 2 Cor. 10. 8. Eph. 4. 12. Chriſtian communication doth, Ib. 29. Fables and endleſſe genealogies doe not, 1 Tim. 1. 4.

Edom] Earthly, blood, or red.

1. The colour of red, in the Hebrew tongue, Gen. 29. 25.

4. The choſen out of all the Nations upon earth, Tit. 1. 1. As whom the Lord hath in his eternall counſell choſen in Chriſt to the obtaining of ſalvation to the praiſe of his grace, as alſo at ſome time in their life doth ſelect and ſeparate them from out of the world, and worldly courſes to the profeſſion of ſincerity, having ſanctified them by the Spirit, of whom ſome are eminent for birth or place, 2 Joh. 1. 13.

Elect Angels] Certain Angels choſen from amongſt the reſt to eternall life, 1 Tim. 5. 21. I charge thee before God and the Elect Angels.

Gods elect] Such men and women, as are freely choſen of God in Chriſt Jeſus unto everlaſting ſalvation, without reſpect of faith or works, foreſeen onely, becauſe God would ſhew them mercy, Titus 1. 2. According to the faith of Gods Elect, Rom. 9. 9, 10.

2. Chriſt, whom alone God elected and choſe to be the Meſſiah and Saviour, Luke 23. 35.

Elect, or choſen in the Lord] One which is a ſelected and choyſe perſon, of chief and excellent godlineſſe, declaring Election from all eternity, Rom. 16. 13.

Elect Lady] Some excellent and honourable Dame. 2 Joh. 1. To the Elect Lady. In this ſenſe Theophilus is called moſt Noble, Luk. 1. 3. being a chief and principall perſon, renowned as well for piety and good works, as for birth and nobility.

Election] A chooſing of ſome out of many, as if out of a great heap of flowers, or hearbs, gold, or precious ſtones, or other things, ye would gather the chief. Now where ſome are choſen, others are refuſed, and where ſome be refuſed, all be not choſen. They erre who hold election unto life to be common: or to depend on foreſeen faith or works, for it is moſt free.

2. The chooſing of ſome to obtain ſalvation by Chriſt, according to the good pleaſure of God. Rom. 9. 11. Election of Grace. This hath two acts, 1. of the end, called the decree: 2. of the means, called the execution of the decree.

3. The chooſing or appointing ſome unto publick functions, by voyces, or by a common conſent. Act. 14. 23. When they had ordained Elders by election in every Church. Joh. 6. 70.

4. The Elect themſelves. Rom. 11. 7. The election hath obtained it. The company of elected Jews are here meant.

Election is Gods eternall decree, freely chooſing as ſome Angels, ſo alſo a certain number out of loſt mankinde, to obtain ſalvation by faith in Jeſus Chriſt, unto the praiſe of his glorious grace, Rom. 9. 11. Act. 13. 48. Eph. 1. 4, 5.

Election of grace] Free election, or that election which comes from the free mercy and favour of God. Rom. 11. 5. According to the election of grace. If election be of grace, then it is not of works; for then grace were no more grace, ſaith the Apoſtle; and that is no way free, which is not free every way, ſaith Auguſtine.

To make election ſure] To confirm that decree of our election (which is firmly purpoſed on Gods part) to our owne hearts, which is done by the fruits of the Spirit in us rehearſed before, 2 Pet. 1. 5, 6, 7. For theſe graces ſhew a mans faith and juſtification, and this ſhews our calling: and calling cometh from election, as Paul teacheth. Rom. 8. 9. 2 Pet. 1. 10. Making your calling and election ſure.

E M.

To embalm] To ſeaſon a dead body with Spices, to preſerve it from ſavouring, Gen. 50. 2. Theſe ſpices were the fruits of certain hearbs and trees, pleaſant in ſavour and taſte, as Ginger, Pepper, Nutmegs. The uſe of this Embalming was Civill, for honors ſake; Phyſicall, againſt putrefaction; Myſticall, to be a token of the incorruption to come in heaven.

Emerald] A precious ſtone, in greenneſſe exceeding the green hearbs, very bright, wherein (being poliſhed) one may ſee himſelf as in a glaſſe; which being hanged about the neck, is good againſt the falling ſickneſſe, and is both reſtorative for the memory, and comfortable to the ſight. Hereof read Exod. 28. 18. & 39. 11. Ezek. 28. 13. Rev. 4. 3. & 21. 19.

Emerod] A diſeaſe of blood (wherewith the Lord plagued the Philiſtines) iſſuing out of the heads of veins in the fundament, 1 Sam. 5. 6, 9. Put alſo for the images repreſenting them, 1 Sam. 6. 5, 17.

Emims] Fears, or fearfull; or, the Iſle of waters. A people whom Chedorlaomer ſmote, Gen. 14. 5. Giants great and tall, Deut. 2. 10. In compariſon of whom others were termed Graſſe-hoppers, Numb. 13. 33.

Emmaus] Fearing counſell, or abject people. A village, Luk. 24. 13. It ſeems to be derived of מעון which ſignifieth a caſtle or bulwark, of the root עון, ה in the beginning being heemantick.

Emor] An aſſe. The Father of Sichem, Act. 7. 16. Or, being originally Hebrew חמור, it's derived of the root חמר to be troubled, to be all miry or dirty.

Emori] A rebell. The Son of Canaan, Gen. 10. 16.

Empty] Voyd, or one which hath nothing that good is. Luk. 1. 53. The rich he will ſend empty away.

Emulation] A ſtrife who ſhould goe before other in receiving favours and honours. Gal. 5. 20. Debate, emulation. Here it is taken in ill part. There is an example of it in Mar. 9. 33.

2. A ſtrife between two or more perſons, who ſhould goe before and excell other in doing good. An example hereof we have in Rom. 11. 14.

E N.

Enam] A fountain, or well, or the eyes of them. A City, Joſh. 15. 34.

Enan] A cloud. The Father of Ahira, Numb. 1. 15.

Encampe] Taken 1. Properly, ſo enemies uſe to encamp againſt a City which they beſiege, 2 Sam. 11. 11. So people in journeying, to pitch their tents in the moſt commodious places, as neer fountains or wells of water, Gen. 15. 27. which was done orderly, Num. 2. 17.

II. Improperly, for, 1. To abide in a certain place, Gen. 33. 18. though but for a ſmall time, Nah. 3. 17.

2. To uſe means for the deſtruction of a place, Iſa. 29. 3.

3. To protect or watch over, Pſal. 34. 7. Zech. 9. 8.

4. To perſecute and proſecute one after an hoſtile way, Job 19. 12.

Encourage] It's all one with ſtrengthen, comfort, ſpeak comfortably unto. Moſes was to encourage Joshua, Deut. 1. 38. David's Messenger Joab, 2 Sam. 11. 25. and Josiah encouraged the Priests to the service of the House of the Lord, 2 Chr. 35. 2. As Hezekiah commanded to give the portion of the Priests and the Levites, that they might be encouraged in the Law of the Lord, 2 Chr. 31. 4. David in his deepest distresse encouraged himself in the Lord, 1 Sam. 30. 6.

End [Tearm, conclusion or last end of a thing; also scope or mark, Rom. 6. 22. And the end everlasting life, 1 Pet. 4. 7. End of things is at hand, Phil. 3. 19. 1 Pet. 1. 9.

2. Payment, or reward. Rom. 6. 21. The end of those things is death. Phil 3. 19.

3. Perfection and complement. 1 Tim. 1. 5. The end of the Commandements is love. See Rom. 13. 10. 1 Cor. 10. 11. Here it signifies both limit and perfection, Dan. 11. 38.

4. Sum, Eccles. 12. 13. Let us hear the end of all.

5. End of times, signifies a short time, Dan. 11. 38.

6. Day of Judgement, when this world (as it is) shall end, Mat. 24. 3, 6.

7. That for whose cause a thing is appointed and done. Rom. 10. 4. Christ is the end of the Law for righteousnesse. The end or cause for which the Law was given, is to justifie. This it cannot doe through our sin, Rom. 8. 3. but Christ by fulfilling the Law is become righteousnesse to beleevers; and so is the end of the Law: also Christ is the end or scope whereat the Law and Prophets aimed, the perfection and consummation of the Law, in that he fulfilled it. As touching shadowes of the Law, Christ is the end of the Law in the first signification; but as touching the Doctrine and obedience of the Law, he is the end thereof in the third and seventh significations, an end by determining shadowes, and fulfilling duties.

8. The intention or purpose of him that doth or speaketh any thing, because this tendeth or aimeth to some end.

The intention of a thing, and the thing intended differ much: the first is an act of the minde, the second the matter of that act without; the first goeth before, the second followeth. The end of a thing and the effect thereof, are in effect or meaning but one thing, and differ but in this. The end is an effect, but yet onely intended or purposed and not done; the effect is the very thing done and perfected that was before intended.

9. The first degree or beginning of any destruction or desolation of a thing, though long before it be throughly done, Dan. 9. 24.

10. The last part or degree or perfection of our redemption from sin, and of Christs work to deserve it, 1 Cor. 15. 24.

It's put also for the accomplishment, Dan. 8. 17. Ever, Joh. 13. 1. The time of life unto death, Psal. 39. 5. Effect, Rom. 6. 21. Scope and drift, Rom. 10. 4. Finishing, Heb. 6. 16. Dissolution, 1 Pet. 4. 7. The period of life, Num. 23. 10. Destruction, Ps. 73. 17. Dayes fulfilled, Lam. 4. 18. Extremity, utmost limit or bounds, Deut. 13. 7. Term of time fully out, Exod. 12. 41. At length, Jer. 31. 17. Conclusion, Eccles. 12. 13. Purpose. Amos 5. 18. Perfection and complement, 1 Tim. 1. 5.

It may be referred, I. Unto Christ, both in respect of himself, who is eternall, Rev. 21. 6. and of the Law, whereof he is the end, or perfection and complement, by determining shadowes, fulfilling duties, and becoming righteousnesse to Beleevers, which the Law could not doe, Rom. 10. 4.

II. Unto Man, in respect of his words, Commanding, Genesis chap. 49. vers. 33. Prophesying, 1 Sam. 10. 13. Praying, 2 Chr. 7. 1. Informing, 2 Sam. 11. 19. In respect of his works, slaying, Josh. 8. 24. Dividing, Josh. 19. 49. Offering, 1 Sam. 13. 10. Eating, 1 King. 1. 41. Building, 1 King. 3. 1. In respect of his prosperous estate, Lam. 4. 18. In respect of his death, Gen. 6. 13. Psal. 37. 37.

III. Unto Time, considered both absolutely (signifying the day of Judgement, Mat. 24. 6. Tearmed the end of the world, vers. 3. and the end of all things, 1 Pet. 4. 7.) and with addition of Yeers, 1 King. 2. 39. Moneths, Dan. 4. 29. Dayes, Ibid. 34. Sabbath, Mat. 28. 1. and such like.

IV. Unto place, whether generall, as Rom. 10. 18. or speciall, 2 King. 21. 16.

V. Unto Sin, both in respect of the commission thereof, Ezek. 21. 25. and payment or reward, Rom. 6. 21.

VI. Unto faith, 1 Pet. 1. 9. Salvation being the mark or scope whereat faith aimeth, as the effect or reward ensuing thereupon.

VII. Unto the Commandements, whereof love is the end, or the perfection, scope and complement, 1 Tim. 1. 5.

Endeavour] A setting or bending of our minde earnestly to doe some duty. Act. 24. 16. I endevour in all things to keep a clear conscience. Phil. 3. 13. And endevour my self to that which is before. This is all which the Gospel requireth of the Beleevers to endevour vour (not abſolutely to have) holineſſe of life.

4. To abide, eſteem, approve, or favour, 2 Tim. 4. 3.

IV. To the Creatures; as the Sun, & Moon. Pſal. 72. 5. 7. which doe not of themſelves ſubſiſt, but through Gods powerfull providence.

Eneglaim] A well; or, the eye of calves. The name of a place, Ezek. 47. 10.

Enemy] A perſon, who out of an hatred toward us, ſeeketh to hurt by word or deed, either ſecretly or openly. This word is both applyed to Satan and men. Luk. 6. 35. Love your enemies, doe well to them that hate you. Mat. 13. 25. The enemy came and ſowed tares. This is a true reall enemy. It ſignifieth that which fighteth againſt God and his Word, or works of grace; thus Satan, Sin, and Death be enemies, 1 Cor. 15. 26.

2. A ſuppoſed adverſary, which in truth neither hateth nor hurteth us, but in our opinion onely. 1 King. 21. 20. Haſt thou found me out, O my enemy? Thus godly Miniſters and good men be enemies to impenitent ſinners, whom they reprove. Gal. 4. 16. Am I become your enemy, becauſe I tell you the truth? This is an imaginary enemy.

Enemies] All men as they are born into this world, corrupt and infected with ſin, which had made a ſeparation between us and God; God for ſin hating men, and men through ſin hating God. Rom. 5. 8. If when we were enemies we were reconciled to God. This enmity was mutuall; not our evill actions and qualities onely, but for and through them our perſons were hated of God before our converſion. For reconciliation is of our perſons being alienated by ſin, and eſtranged from God, Iſa. 59. 3. Eph. 2. 3.

There are enemies both publick and private, enemies to God, Chriſt, the Church, particular Chriſtians.

En gannim] The well of gardens; or, the eye of protections. A City, Joſh. 21. 29.

2. The putting into men the light of reaſon at their firſt creation, Joh. 1. 9.

3. There is a threefold light imparted to men. Firſt, of reaſon, common to all men by creation, of which Joh. 1. 4, 8. The ſecond of knowledge, or ſpeculative underſtanding of ſcriptures, common to hypocrites, with Gods Children; of which Heb. 6. 4. The third is the light of faith peculiar to the Elect, who ſee Chriſt and know him truly unto eternall life, of which, Eph. 4. 8. elſewhere often.

It's put alſo for, To clear the ſight, 1 Sam. 14. 29. Turn affliction into joy, or make comfortable, Pſal. 22. 28. Give light, Pſal. 97. 4. It's either Naturall, Gen. 1. 15. 1 Sam. 14. 27.

En-mishpat] The well of judgement. The name of a place, Gen. 14. 7.

Enmity] Bitter and unreconcilable hatred and diviſion. Gen. 3. 15. I will put enmity. Rom. 8. 7. The wiſdome of the fleſh is enmity with God.

2. The cauſe of enmity; to wit, tranſgreſſion of the Law. Eph. 3. 16. Having ſlain enmity.

3. The Ceremoniall law betwixt the Iews and us, Eph. 2. 15.

Enoch] Taught, or dedicate, of חנך. The Son of Cain, Gen. 4. 17. A City ſo named, Ibid. The Son of Jared, Gen. 5. 18. Henoch, who was the Son of Midian, 1 Chron. 1. 33. is of the ſame ſignification.

Enon] A cloud, or his well, or eye. A village, Joh. 3. 23.

Enoſh] Man, in his miſerable and wretched condition, wherein he fell, after he had ſinned, of אנש to be ſorrowfull, miſerable, wretched. The Son of Seth, Gen. 4. 26.

Enough] It's a word of contentment, Gen. 33. 9. and is put for ſufficient, 2 Sam. 24. 16. Filled, Pro. 28. 19. Plenty, Luk. 15. 17.

To enquire of God] To ſeek judgement of God; or, as the Chaldee hath it, to ſeek doctrine from the face of the Lord, which was done by Moſes, bringing their matters to God. Exod. 18. 15, 19. See Num. 27. 5, 6. & ch. 15. 33, 34, 35. For doubtfull things they uſed to enquire of the Lord by his Prophets, 1 Sam. 9. 9. Hereupon Moſes told the Judges appointed under him, that the Judgement was Gods, Deut. 1. 17.

This enquiring of God, was either immediately, Jer. 21. 2. or mediately, as by Moſes, Exod. 18. 15. The Prophet and Seer, 1 Sam. 9. 9. 2 Chr. 34. 21. The High-prieſt, 1 Sam. 22. 15. Before the Altar, 2 Chr. 21. 30. By the Ephod, 1 Sam. 23. 9, 10. By Urim, Num. 27. 21. which was in the Prieſts breaſt-plate, Exod. 28. 30. Or at the Ark, 1 Chr. 13. 13. And was for things preſent, Geneſ. 25. 22. 1 Sam. 9. 6, 8. For the event and iſſue of things taken in hand, 1 Sam. 30. 8. 1 Chr. 14. 10. So, for direction, Jer. 21. 2. Warrant, 1 Chron. 14. 14. Information, 2 Sam. 21. 2.

To enquire of the Prieſt and the Judge] To ask counſell in doubtfull caſes and hard controverſies, either civill, which pertain to the Politick Magiſtrate, as about Murthers, &c. or Eccleſiaſticall, the cognizance whereof belongeth to the Prieſts, as about Leproſie, Jealouſie, &c. for deciſion of ſuch as reſort for advice and determination unto the Prieſts, and Levites, or Judge, who were to pronounce Sentence, not ex ſcrinio pectoris, but ex ſententia Legis, by the ſentence of the Law. Deut. 17. 8, 9. Thou ſhalt come to the Prieſt, and to the Judge. That this particle and is not copulative, but diſjunctive, ſevering the two Officers according to the diverſities of cauſes and pleas to be handled, appears plainly by ver. 12. And that the judgement of the Prieſt muſt be hearkened unto, no further then it was grounded upon the Law of God, is manifeſt by ver. 11. How this will help the tranſcendent power of the High-prieſt of Rome, or his blending and confounding of Civill and Eccleſiaſtical functions, I ſee not.

Enrich] In goods, 1 Sam. 17. 25. Ezek. 27. 33. In gifts and graces, 1 Cor. 1. 5. 2 Cor. 9. 11.

Ethan] Strength. An Ezrahite, 1 King. 4. 31. The Son of Zimmah, 1 Chr. 6. 42. The Son of Kiſhi, Ibid. 44.

Ethanim] Strong, or valiant. The ſeventh moneth, being part of September and October, 1 King. 8. 2.

Eth baal] Unto an image. The King of the Zidonians, 1 King. 16. 31.

Ether] Talk. A City, Joſh. 15. 42.

Ethiopia] Whoſe face is burnt, of αἴθω & ὄψ. In Hebrew it is Cuſh, which ſignifieth black, or blackneſſe. In many places of Scripture wherein Ethiopia is mentioned, not the further Ethiopia is meant, but a Countrey in Arabia neer unto Egypt, the Red Sea, and Paleſtina, as Gen. 2. 13. 2 King. 19. 9. Iſa. 20. 3, &c.

Ethnan] A gift. The Son of Helah, 1 Chr. 4. 7.

Ethni] Strong, or giving; or, of an aſſe. The Son of Zerah, 1 Chr. 6. 41.

E V.

Evangeliſt] One, who bringeth or telleth good news.

2. A Miniſter of the Goſpel joyned unto the Apoſtles (as aſſiſtant, not as equall in degree) in preaching glad tydings of ſalvation, and eſtabliſhing Churches. Eph. 4. 11. Some to be Evangeliſts. 1 Tim. 1. 3. 2 Tim. 4. 5. Tit. 1. 5. Of this ſort were, Timothy, Titus, Silvanus, Apollos.

3. One who wrote the hiſtory of Chriſts life and death. Thus were there onely four, Matthew, Mark, Luke and John.

Note: If the Apoſtles being 12, with the Evangeliſts being many, were unable to ſuffice the whole, how ſhall one Pope be ſufficient for all the world?

Eubulus] Prudent, wiſe, or of good counſell. One who ſaluted Timothy, 2 Tim. 4. 21.

Eve] Living, or giving life. The Wife of Adam, Gen. 4. 1. She was ſo named, for that ſhe was the Mother of all living, Gen. 3. 20.

Even] That is, 2 Cor. 1. 3. Bleſſed be God, even the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt.

It's firſt a word of Interpretation, and is as much as, that is to ſay, 2 Cor. 1. 3.

2. A word of Diminution, and ſignifieth, Almoſt, Pſal. 107. 18. Phil. 2. 27.

3. A word of Extenſion, and ſignifieth as Altogether, 2 Cor. 10. 13, 14. Ezek. 20. 11, 13, 21.

4. A word of Conjunction, and is as much as Alſo, Rom. 8. 22.

Evening] The ſpace between the declination of the day, and the very beginning of the night, Exod. 12. 6. The twylight, Prov. 7. 9. When it beginneth to be dark, Neh. 13. 19. The going down of the Sun, Deut. 16. 6.

16. 6. About which is the time of leaving off work, Ruth 2. 17. The evening and the morning were the first day, &c. Gen. 1. 5, 8, &c.

For ever] Without any end, eternally. Luk. 1. 33. And shall reign for ever, and of his Kingdome shall be no end. 1 Thess. 4. 17. Wee shall ever be with the Lord. Psal. 45. 2.

2. For a long time. Psal. 132. 12. Their Sons shall sit upon thy throne for ever. And v. 14. 1 Sam. 13. 13. Psal. 110. 4. Gen. 19. 15. And in all those places where for ever is applyed to the Ceremoniall law of Moses, which vanished at Christs coming: yet it is said to be ordained for ever, because it was to endure a long season: some 2000 years, till the death of Christ upon the Crosse, Exod. 12. 14. 24. Col. 2. 14, 17.

3. Till the yeer of Jubile, which might happen to be a great while. Exod. 21. 6. And shall serve him for ever.

4. Till the end of mans life. Exod. 19. 9. That they may beleeve thee for ever, Deut. 15. 17.

It's put also for the durance of a Kingdome, State, place, family, 1 Chr. 23. 25. Psa. 132. 12. That which dureth till the day of Judgement, as Christs Office of Mediator, Heb. 5. 6.

Every one] This word put in some places, rather then all (to which it is equivalent) because it shews in good things and persons:

1. That God hath a speciall care of their good.

2. And they ought to have so of themselvs.

In evil persons and matters:

1. That God doth consider every evill act and person, as exactly and particularly, as if there were but that one in the world.

2. That every one must particularly and severally examine himself, Gal. 6. 4.

3. That every man shall be left alone to answer for his owne faults, and also to suffer for them, Gal. 5. 6.

Everlasting] One who is without beginning or end. 1 Tim. 1. 7. To the King everlasting. Psal. 90. 2. Thou art God from everlasting to everlasting. Rev. 1. 8. In this sense is Gods purpose called eternall, Eph. 3. 10. He is absolutely eternall in himself, and cause of eternity in others.

2. That which shall never have end, though it had a beginning; as everlasting glory, fire, pain, life, judgement, Mat. 25. 46. Heb. 6. 2.

3. That which did continue for a long time, though not alwayes, Gen. 17. 8. Exod. 40. 15.

1. Some things have a beginning, but no end: as Angels and mens souls.

2. Some have an end, but no beginning, as Gods decrees or predestination.

3. Some have both, as this world, and the inferiour creatures, 2 Pet. 3. 10. 1 John 2. 17.

4. Onely one thing, which is God, hath neither beginning nor ending of himself, and yet is the α and ω; the beginning, that by which all other things are, and the end, for which they are, Rom. 11. 34. Junius.

5. Long lasting is also sometimes understood by this word Everlasting; as, Psal. 24. 7, 9.

From everlasting to everlasting] God to be without beginning, and without end, in respect of his owne eternall being; and in respect of his people, to be their God from everlasting by predestination, and unto everlasting by glorification, Psal. 90. 2. Even from everlasting to everlasting, thou art our God.

Everlasting Gospell] The Doctrine of grace, which God himselfe delivered from the beginning, to continue to the end, without altering or perishing; whereas all other doctrines invented by men, fall away, Rev. 14. 6.

Evermore] signifieth, Perpetually, for ever, Psal. 16. 11. Daily, continually, Psal. 105. 4.

Evi] Unjust. A place, Josh. 13. 21.

Evidence] A deed or writing for the assurance of a purchase, Jer. 32. 10, 11. A convincing demonstration, as the word ἔλεγχος importeth, Heb. 11. 1.

Evill] Afflictions and dangers, and whatsoever losses and harms sent from God, Amos 3. 6. There is no Evill in the City, Isa. 45. 7. This is an evill of punishment, or a penall evill, 2 King. 22. 20. Isa. 9. 12, 14, 21. Deut. 31. 17. Psal. 58. 4. Gen. 44. 29.

2. Injuries and wrongs done to us from men. Prov. 17. 13. He that rewards evill for good, Prov. 20. 22. Or that which is unprofitable, 1 Cor. 13. 6.

3. Sin and iniquity. Matt. 6. 13. Deliver us from evill. Rom. 7. 15. The evill which I hate, that I doe. Isa. 5. 20. This is evill of fault or crime, or a morall evill. See Isa. 13. 11.

4. Satan, who by an excellency is called the Evill one. Luk. 11. 4. This is the Prince of evill, 2 Thess. 3. 7. In Rom. 14. 20. it signifies hurtfull to man, and sinfull against God.

5. Sinfull. Mat. 7. 11. If you which are evil.

6. A corrupt conſcience, or wicked cuſtom. Mat. 5. 37. comes of evill.

It's alſo taken for the cauſe of evil, 1 Sam. 25. 28. & 29. 6. The evill effects thereof, Gen. 3. 5, 22. The corruption of nature, Rom. 7. 5. That which is contrary to good, Pſal. 37. 27. and to well-doing, Iſa. 1. 16. The plague, Pſal. 91. 10. Any kinde of affliction, 1 Sam. 6. 9. Tryall, Job 2. 10, 11. Some injury, 1 Sam. 26. 18. Hurt, Gen. 50. 15. Dammage or miſchief, Prov. 17. 13. 1 Pet. 3. 9. Danger, Prov. 22. 3. Diſgrace, 2 Sam. 13. 16. Deſtruction, Eſt. 8. 6. Hurtfull or unprofitable, Iſa 7. 15. Troubleſome, Perplexed, Exod. 5. 19. It's applyed to Angels, Spirits, Men, with relation unto their imaginations, communications, actions, &c. And as every ſin is evill, ſo in particular Idolatry, Jer. 2. 13. In ſome evill is more predominant, unruly, greater then in others.

That evill one] The Devill, or Satan, who is ſo called, for that he is in his own nature corrupt, and moſt evill, being the Head and Captain of all evill perſons (Devils and men) and the Inſpirer and furtherer of evill purpoſes and works, Joh. 17. 15. Matt. 5. 37. & 6. 13, 19. & 1 Joh. 2. 13. Evil or good ſignifieth not any thing at all againſt it, but reſting in the will of God, Gen. 24. 50. & Gen. 31. 24.

The devil is evil, not in ſubſtance or perſon, but in nature or quality; Not by creation from God, but by voluntary departure from God and goodneſſe: Evill he is originally and perfectly, but not infinitely; to all eternity, but not from all eternity.

The like we may ſay of evill men, except in their originality of evill. The regenerate are evill, but not perfectly, nor from eternity, nor to eternity.

To ſee evill] To know it, and feel it, to perceive it experimentally, 2 King. 22. 20. Thou ſhalt not ſee the evill. If the Saints departed do not know the eſtate of the Church in earth; much leſſe do they know the thoughts and prayers of man. The ſelf-ſame concluſion doth Auguſtine make from Iſa. 63. 26 Abraham is ignorant of us, Iſrael doth not know us. Hence is farther gathered, that the dead do not know what is done here in earth. Likewiſe, the Angelicall Doctor (as Papiſts do call Thomas Aquinas) upon Job 14. 21. collecteth, that dead perſons know not ſenſible things, much leſſe ſpirituall and inſenſible ſecrets of the heart. Indeed the godly departed doe generally thank God for their owne and our redemption, Rev. 5. 8, 9, 13. Alſo, in generall; out of their perfect love, they deſire a finall deliverance of the Church from her warfare, with the deſtruction of the enemies thereof; but to ſay, that in particular they know our wants, and doe make interceſſion for particular men, this is Popiſh hereſie, flat againſt Scriptures. Very evill, ſignifies, very much diſpleaſing; as to be good in ones eyes is much to pleaſe or content, Gen. 21. 11. & 20. 15.

Evil Spirit to depart] To remove (by the muſick of David) thoſe mad, furious, melancholick fits, which came from the evill ſpirit ſent upon Saul by God, 1 Sam. 16. 4.

Evil-merodach] Fooles paſſing over bitterneſſe, or, the grinding bitterneſſe of a fool; or, a fool bitterly beaten, or ground to powder. King of Babylon, 2 King. 25. 27. Jer. 52. 31.

Eunice] Good, or joyfull victory. The Mother of Timothy, 2 Tim. 1. 5.

Eunuch] A gelded man, whereof our Saviour Chriſt maketh three ſorts, Matt. 19. 12. Iſa. 56. 3, 4.

1. Eunuch by nature, ſo born.

2. By neceſſity, being ſo made of men.

3. By the gift of Continency from God. Theſe may live unmarryed, without hurt to their ſalvation; all other beſide theſe are called to marriage: See Matt. 19. 16. 1 Cor. 7. 9.

2. A noble or mighty man, of great authority with Princes; ſuch a one was Potiphar, Gen. 37. 36. Potiphar an Eunuch of Pharaoh, and his chief Steward. Act. 17. 27. Gelded men were uſed for Chamberlaines in Kings Courts to keep the women, Eſt. 2. 3. & 4. 4.

Euodias] A good ſmell. A worthy woman among the Philippians, Phil. 4. 2.

Euphrates] Fruitfull. It's taken literally for the River Perath, Gen. 2. 14. Myſtically, for Spirituall Babylon, Rev. 9. 14. & 16. 12.

Euroclydon] The North-eaſt wind, Act. 27. 14.

Eutychus] Happy or fortunate. A young man whom Paul raiſed from death to life, Act. 20. 9.

E X.

Exact] To require or take, Deut. 15. 2. And that without any pity, Neh. 5. 7, 11. To prevail over, or oppreſſe, Pſal. 89. 22. To vex or grieve, Iſa. 58. 3. marg. To puniſh, Job 11. 6.

To exalt] To think ones ſelf righteous, deſpiſing others, as the Phariſee. Luk. 18. 14. He that exalteth himſelf. Alſo, to receive the adoption adoption of Sons, which is an excellent dignity, Jam. 1. 9.

2. To lift up and preferre himſelf above his betters, as they that did ſtrive for the uppermoſt ſeat at Feaſts, Luk. 14. 11.

3. To honour and advance one unto renown and credit. Luk. 14. 11.

Signifieth alſo to glorifie or advance into the higheſt dignity, Act. 5. 31. And to ſet forth ones praiſe, Pſal. 99. 5. Alſo to advance, promote, bring to honour, &c.

To exalt himſelf] To lift and advance himſelfe above all greatneſſe and honour which is in earth, whether it be ſubordinate Magiſtrates, who in Pſal. 82. are called Gods, or ſupreme Rulers, whom the Grecians call Sebaſmata; yea, to call in and tranſlate to himſelf the glory peculiar unto the true God of heaven. 2 Theſſ. 2. 4. Who exalteth himſelf above all that is called God. This propheſie is verified in the Pope of Rome, beſide whom never any affirmed, that at his pleaſure he could open and lock heaven, and had full right to ſend whole chariots and cart-loads of ſoules unto hell, and to tranſlate Empires and Kingdomes at his pleaſure; C. Si Papa diſtinct. 42. avouching of himſelf, that he hath authority in heaven, earth, hell, and purgatory; ſuffering his Paraſites to call him the Lord God, and Gods Vicegerent and ſupreme Divinity upon earth. Stapleton Præfat. ad Gregor. 13. And ſetting his feet in the necks of Emperors and Kings (earthly Gods) giving them leave to hold his ſtirrop, to goe bare-head leading his Palfrey; to make them his footſtool, exacting unto himſelf a triple Crown, and alſo adoration, as his own creatures have confeſſed.

Paul writeth not that he extolleth himſelf above all that is God, or that he ſhews himſelf the onely true God: but above all which is called God, ſhewing himſelf as if he were God; therefore it is a meer imagination of them who think that the Antichriſt ſhall make himſelfe to be a true God indeed, and ſhall worſhip no God; whereas onely by his tyrannicall, lawleſſe, and godleſſe behaviour, in uſurping, in commanding, doing and undoing, and diſpenſing, binding againſt all Laws divine and humane, he ſhall bear himſelf as God.

Examination] A diligent and narrow ſearch and tryall of a mans life, whether he be in Chriſt, and with what imperfections and wants he holds the graces of Chriſt. 2 Cor. 13. 6. Examine your ſelves, know ye not your ſelves, &c. 1 Cor. 11. 28. This is our private examination of our ſelves.

2. Diligent ſearch and tryall of others, whether they be ſuch as they profeſſe, and would ſeem to be. Rev. 2. 2. Thou haſt examined them that ſay they are Apoſtles, and are not. This is publick examination of others by lawfull Governours.

3. Taking knowledge of, and near looking into our hearts, our works, and cauſes. Pſal. 26. 2. Examine my reins, and Pſal. 139. 23. This is our Gods examination of us men.

4. An enquiring into our ſpiritual ſtate, whether joyned with, or tending in a purpoſe, and ſome performance of amendment, 2 Cor. 11. 28. Or rather a preparing of our ſelves by repentance wrought out of examination.

Referred to God, it ſignifieth the exact notice which he taketh of us, Pſal. 26. 2.

Referred unto man, it's both private and publick.

Private, being the diligent ſearch, or exact tryall which we take of our ſpirituall condition, whether or not we be in the faith, 2 Cor. 13. 5. to be eſpecially performed before our participation of the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 11. 28.

Publick, being either the tryall of thoſe which are ſuſpected to be unſound in Religion, by Church Governours, Rev. 2. 2. Or, of thoſe which are detected of enormities, by the Civil Magiſtrate; which is ſometime both unjuſtly and with rigour, Luk. 23. 14. Act. 22. 24.

Due examination cannot be without knowledge; how unfit then are moſt to examine themſelves before they partake of the Lords Supper, who yet ſcorn to be examined by their Miniſters?

Example] A type or ſigne for us to look upon for our admonition, to be warned by it. 1 Cor. 10. 11. Theſe things came unto them for examples. Signes to warn us to fly ſuch ſins, leſt we have like plagues.

2. A pattern or ſampler for us to look upon for imitation, to be followed of us. Joh. 13. 15. For I have given you an example. Phil. 3. 7. & 1 Pet. 2. 21.

As was Chriſt of humility, Joh. 13. 15. Charity, Eph. 5. 2. Patience, 1 Pet. 2. 21. And Paſtors ought to be unto their flocks, 1 Pet. 5. 3.

Good examples are for imitation; bad, for evitation, 1 Cor. 10. 6.

Exceed] It ever importeth in that whereto it is applyed (whether praiſable or diſpraiſable) praiſable) ſomething over and above that which is common and ordinary, 1 Sam. 20. 41. 1 King. 10. 23. Matt. 5. 20. Job 36. 9.

Excell] To have preheminence, Gen. 49. 4. To be mighty, Pſal. 103. 20. mar. To be of more worth and power, Iſa. 10. 10. To abound, and have in great meaſure, 1 Cor. 14. 12. To ſurpaſſe, be above, greater, 1 King. 4. 30. Prov. 31. 29. To be preferred before, Eccl. 2. 13.

Excellency] put for the palaces of Jacob, Amos 6. 8. The Lord himſelf, Amos 7. 8. Jacob's pride, Nahum 2. 2.

Excellency of dignity] One moſt excellent in dignity and might, and preheminence. Gen. 49. 3. The excellency of dignity.

Excellency of dignity and ſtrength] ſignifieth the dignity of Prieſthood and government, or Kingdome, Gen. 49. 3. That firſt born were Prieſts and Governours, ſee Gen. 25. 31.

Excellent] put for precious, Pſal. 36. 8. marg. Glorious, magnificent, Pſal. 76. 4. Cool, Prov. 17. 27. marg. Abundant, Prov. 12. 26. marg. Very great, Dan. 4. 36. Eminent and worthy, Pſal. 16. 3. Far above, Heb. 1. comp. with Phil. 2, 9.

Except] implyeth a condition, Gen. 32. 26. Rev. 2. 5. A cauſe, Dan. 6. 5. Matt. 5. 32. A ſigne, Eſt. 4. 11. Mat. 18. 3. An excluſion, Joh. 6. 44. Act. 8. 1.

Exceſſe] That which is too much in any thing, when one goes beyond, or paſſeth due meaſure and bounds. Eph. 5. 18. In wine is exceſſe. 1 Pet. 4. 3. Exceſſe in eating and drinking. Verſ. 4. Exceſſe of riot. Of Exceſſe cometh diſſoluteneſſe and filthyneſſe of manners.

Exchange] To alter or alienate, Ezek. 48. 14. To put one for another, Lev. 27. 32. To put out money for gain, Mat. 25. 27.

To excommunicate] To blot out ones name from amongſt Gods people, or to caſt one out from the viſible outward Communion of the Saints, Joh. 9. 22. He ſhould be excommunicated out of the Synagogue, Joh. 12. 42.

Note, that the Jews had three kindes and degrees of Excommunication.

The firſt called by a word which ſignifieth Removing, when one was removed from the Eccleſiaſticall aſſemblies.

Secondly, if he amended not, then he was anathema, excommunicate with a great curſe.

Thirdly, if he perſiſted obſtinate, then he was made Anathema Maranatha, accurſed till the Lord come; that is, for ever.

An excommunicate thing] A thing ſeparate from common uſe, and applyed unto holy uſes, upon paine of a curſe unto him that ſhould convert it unto his own uſe, as in Joſh. 7. 1. A treſpaſſe in the excommunicate thing.

Excommunication is a ſolemne and fearfull publick cenſure of the Church, cutting off lawfully, according to the Word of God, and caſting out of their publick ſociety and private fellowſhip, ſuch members as publickly offend in ſome grievous crime, or be obſtinate contemners of the lawfull admonitions of the Church for private faults; that by ſuch ſhame they may be driven to repentance, and others by their example kept from infection of ſin, Mat. 18. 15. 1 Cor. 5. 5, 6, 7. 2 Theſ. 3. 14. which places plainly ſhew what Excommunication is, who are to execute it, upon whom, for what matters, to what end, and how long. The abuſe of Excommunication in Popery, is manifold and moſt groſſe, eſpecially herein, that being a ſpirituall cenſure, they apply it to the depoſition of Kings, and alienation of ſubjects from their oath of Allegiance, and other temporall matters.

To exclude] To ſhut Paul the Apoſtle out from the love of the Galatians, that they (the falſe Apoſtles) might be loved, Gal. 4. 13.

Execration, See Curſe.

Execrable] Things or perſons accurſed, and appointed to be deſtroyed. Joſh. 6. 18. Beware of the execrable thing, leſt you make your ſelves execrable.

Execute] To doe, perform, accompliſh, 1 King. 6. 12. To perform as one in office; whether Civill, Jer. 7. 5. or Eccleſiaſticall, Numb. 5. 30. To bring as God doth his judgements on men, Ezek. 5. 8.

Exerciſe] Bodily recreation, or moving the parts of the body for the preſervation of health.

2. Outward auſtereneſſe of life, in watching, faſting, &c. 1 Tim. 4. 8. Bodily exerciſe profiteth little; that is, whereby one exerciſeth his body to abſtinence in Ceremonies.

3. The practiſe of godlineſſe, and ſtudying the Scriptures, 1 Tim. 4. 7. Exerciſe thy ſelf to godlineſſe, Pſal. 1. 2.

To exerciſe] ſignifieth,

1. Earneſtly to endevour, ſtudy, ſtrive, Act. 24. 16. 1 Tim. 4. 7.

2. To accuſtome or frequent, Eze. 22. 29. 2 Pet. 2. 14.

3. To execute, employ, or uſe, Rev. 13. 12.

To exhort] To quicken and ſtir up faine and and dull Christians unto the duties of godlinesse, by reasons out of the Word. Heb. 3. 13. Exhort one another whilest it is called to day. This is one part of the publick Ministery, 1 Cor. 14. 3. Tit. 2. ult. The same word in the Original, signifies, to beseech, Rom. 12. 1. 2 Cor. 6. 1.

2. To perform the whole work of the Ministery. Act. 13. 15. If ye have any Word of Exhortation, speak on. Synecdoche. Exhortation, which is but one action of the Ministery, put for the whole duty of a Teacher.

And accordingly Exhortation is put for doctrine, 1 Thess. 2. 3. To exhort or quicken and stir up others unto goodnesse, are both Ministers, Tit. 2. 15. and people, Heb. 3. 13. to employ themselves.

Exodus] A departing out. Thus is the second Book of Moses termed, for the passage of Israel out of Egypt, whereof that book containeth the story.

Exorcist] One, who by a speciall gift of God, did cast forth foul spirits out of the bodies of those which were possessed with them. This gift was in the primitive Church, and lasted but for a time; for the practise of this gift, see Act. 16. 18.

2. Such as usurped and counterfeited this gift, but had it not. Act. 19. 13. Certain Exorcists took upon them to name the Lord Jesus. Such be the Exorcists of the Romish Church; meer Juglers.

Expectation] A looking for help, or succour, Psal. 9. 18. Psal. 62. 5. Hope, Pro. 10. 28. That wherein one trusteth, Isa. 20. 5, 6. Zec. 9. 5. Suspence, Luk. 3. 15. mar. Machinations or contrivements of enemies, Act. 12. 11. A looking for, or after, Rom. 8. 19. Waiting, Heb. 10. 13.

Expedient] that is, Profitable, Joh. 11. 50. The Originall word there used importeth such a kind of profit, as reboundeth to community, to the profit of the Church. The same word is also used, Joh. 16. 7. & 18. 14. See 1 Cor. 6. 12. marg.

Expell] To drive out, Josh. 23. 5. Judg. 1. 20. To cast or thrust out, Judg. 11. 7.

Expetience] Long proof and tryal upon sight and observation, Gen. 30. 27. Rom. 5. 4. Had great experience; that is, seen much, Eccl. 1. 16. marg.

Expert] Cunning, skilfull, Cant. 3. 8. Destroyer, Jer. 50. 9. marg. To have knowledge of, Act. 26. 3.

Expired] It's spoken of yeers, days, and time, and signifieth, fulfilled, and accomplished, ended, 1 Chron. 17. 11. 2 Chron. 36. 10. Act. 7. 30. Rev. 20. 7.

Expiation Feast] That the Church assemblies, Ministers and people offending in their daily service, are every day purged through Christ. Lev. 23. 27, 28. There shall be a Feast of Expiation or atonement. The service of this Feast day was by the anointed Priest, to purge the holy place, by putting blood upon the horns of the Altar seven times, Lev. 16. 17, 18, 19. Which signified, that every assembly is acceptable to God, onely through the blood of Christ by remission of sins, Heb. 9. 23, 24. Also, the blood of a slain Goat being brought within the veil, must be sprinkled upon the Mercy-seat, Eastward, with the finger of the High-priest, Lev. 16. 15. which signified that even heaven it selfe is defiled by our sins, untill it be made clean with the blood and obedience of Christ, as the Apostle insinuateth to the Hebrews, chap. 9, 12, 13.

Expound] To unfold, make plain, finde out the sense and meaning, Judg. 14. 18. To clear that which is darkly spoken, Mar. 4. 34. To lay plainly open, Luk. 24. 27. To rehearse, or relate, Act. 11. 4. To make known, Act. 18. 26.

Extoll] is all one with Praise, blesse, magnifie, exalt, Psal. 68. 4. & 145. 1. Dan. 4. 37.

Extortioner] One that wringeth and wresteth from others, more then right, under the colour of an office, taking above his appointed fee. 1 Cor. 6. 10. Extortioners shall not inherit the Kingdome of heaven.

E T.

Eye] referred I. to God; signifieth,

1. The knowledge which God hath of all things. Prov. 15. 3. His eye is in every place to behold good and evill. Psal. 11. 4. His eyes will consider, his eye-lids will try the children of men. Metaphor. Job 34. 21. Heb. 4. 13.

2. Gods mercifull and watchfull providence. Psal. 34. 15. His eye is over the righteous. Metaphor.

3. The object of his Providence and Delight; that is, some speciall person greatly regarded of him. Zech. 2. 8. He that toucheth you, toucheth the apple of mine eye.

4. His love, approbation and acceptance, Jer. 24. 6. 2 Chr. 14. 2.

5. His presence, 2 Chr. 21. 6.

6. His displeasure, Amos 9. 4.

7. Himself, or his sight. Psal. 90. 4. A thousand yeers in thy sight, or in thine eyes; that is, before thee.

II. To Christ, Rev. 1. 14. signifieth as well that he is of moſt quick, ſharp, and piercing ſight, as that he is full of anger, wrath and judgement againſt his enemies; who alone furniſheth with eye-ſalve wherewith to anoint our eyes that we may ſee, even beſtoweth upon us the ſpirit of light and true wiſdome, which doth open and illuminate the eyes of our ſoul, being before utterly blinde, Rev. 3. 18.

that

III. To Man, conſidered both in generall and in particular.

In generall; ſignifieth,

1. The whole man; by Synecdoche, Rev. 1. 7.

2. That member of the body, whoſe faculty it is to ſee lightſome things, and to direct our way, Eccl. 1. 8.

3. The whole face or viſage, Pſal. 6. 7.

4. The colour or appearance, Numb. 11. 7. marg.

5. A guide to direct, Job 29. 15. I was an eye to the blinde; that is, a guide to the ignorant to ſhew them right and wrong.

In particular; being both externall and internall.

Externall; as, Exod. 21. 24. Eye for eye. Whereof ſome are deprived, being born blinde, Joh. 9. 1, 2. as others through age, Gen. 48. 10. 1 King. 14. 4. and by Gods hand, Gen. 19. 11. 2 King. 6. 18. Act. 13. 11. Others have blemiſhes therein, Lev. 21. 20. Gen. 29. 17.

Internall; Conceit and opinion, Deut. 12, 8. Intentions of minde, Pſal. 10. 8. Care to know, and rightly to judge, Prov. 20. 8. The underſtanding or the judgement of the mind, which is as the eye of the ſoul, Eph. 1. 18. An evill affection appearing and expreſſed by the eye, Mat. 5. 21. Job 31. 1. It's alſo put for, Things moſt dear, Gal. 4. 14. Expectation, 1 King. 1. 20. Will and pleaſure, Gen. 19. 8. Life and converſation, Mat. 7. 3. The effects of the Eyes are either good, as in the godly, who have a bountifull eye, Prov. 22. 9. A ſingle eye, Matt. 6. 22. Opened eyes, Epheſ. 1. 18, &c. or evill, as in the wicked, tearmed an Evill eye, Prov. 23. 6. Lofty eyes, Prov. 30. 13. Wanton eyes, Iſa. 3. 16. Cloſed eyes, Act. 28. 27. Darkened eyes, Rom. 11. 10. Eyes full of adultery, 2 Pet. 2. 14, &c.

To darken the eyes] To make dim (not the eyes of the body) but the minde, which is the eye of the ſoul, that they might not underſtand what to chooſe and deſire for their good. Pſal. 69. 22. Darken their eyes, &c. that is, deprive them of underſtanding and diſcretion, that as blinde men grope in the dark, ſo they may be blockiſh, in the noonſhine and clear light of truth ſhining round about them; a judgement before threatned, and now inflicted upon the rebellious Jews, for their malice againſt Chriſt and his Word; to fear all men from ſhutting their eyes againſt the manifeſt will, and glory of Chriſt. Eyes and ears ſignifie ſight or preſence; alſo audience or hearing, Gen. 23. 10, 18.

Eye-ſervice] Duty and ſervice done to pleaſe, onely while the Maſter is in ſight, being ſloathfull and careleſſe in the abſence of their Maſters. Epheſ. 6. 6. Not with eye-ſervice as men-pleaſers.

Eyes like a flame of fire] The wiſdome of Chriſt piercing (like fire) into the deepeſt ſecrets and moſt hidden things. And his feet like Braſſe, ſignifieth the ſtableneſſe of his counſell and works, Dan. 10. 6. Rev. 1. 13, 14, 15.

Eyes of a fool] Raſh medling and fond gazing of fooliſh men, after things unprofitable, and unneceſſary, letting goe things more needfull. Prov. 17. 24. The eyes of a fool are in the corners of the world.

To have God before our eyes] To reſpect God, that we may fear him, and truſt in him, Pſ. 10.

To open the eyes] To reſtore the faculty of ſeeing, or to make them ſee which were born blinde, Joh. 9. 10. Mat. 20. 33. That our eyes may be opened. Or, to make ſuch to ſee, as were for a time made blinde, 2 King. 6. 20.

2. To give uſe of ſeeing to ſuch as have the faculty. Gen. 21. 19. Then God opened her eyes that ſhe ſaw the well. Num. 22. 31. Or to cauſe one acknowledge what he ſaw before, Luk. 24. 3. Gen. 21. 10.

3. To give experimentall knowledge of a thing. Gen. 3. 7. And their eyes were opened, &c. God opened the eyes both of body and mind, giving them ſight and conſcience of their outward ſhamefull nakedneſſe, and their inward ſouls impurity, which in the act of ſinning they ſaw not.

Plucking out of the eye] A readyneſſe out of entire love to part (for Paul's ſake) from a thing moſt dear to them. Hyperbole. Gal. 4. 15. Ye would have plucked out your own eyes.

Pure eyes] The infinite holineſſe and juſtice of God, which cannot look upon any ſin without extreme hatred and loathing of it. Hab. 1. 13. Thou art of pure eyes.

To have eyes and not ſee, ears and not hear] To hear and ſee Gods Works and Words with the ſenſe of the body, but without without the assent of the minde, taking no profit to amendment of life, but being rather more dulled and blinded by them. Isa. 6. 10. Matt. 13. 15. Rom. 11. 8. Act. 28. 26, 27.

Which eye hath not seen] That which doth exceed all naturall capacity of men; to wit, the mystery of the Gospel, Isa. 64. 4. 1 Cor. 2. 9.

Single eye] A minde enlightened unto a lively faith in Christ Jesus. Mat. 6 22. If thine eye be single, all the body is full of light; that is, when the heart is indued with a pure and sincere faith, it enlightens and directs the whole man in all Christian wayes, as a good Eye directs the whole body.

After the sight of the eyes] According to the manner of men by outward appearance. Isa. 11. 3. He shall not judge after the sight of the eyes, &c. that is, his understanding shall be so quick and perfect, as Hypocrites with their outward works and words shall not deceive Christ, who seeth what is within man, Joh. 2. 24. Act. 1. v. last. Joh. 21. 15, 16, 17. He is the Searcher of the heart.

To wink with the eyes] To refuse to see that truth, which (if men would) they cannot but see. Matt. 13. 15. They winked with their eyes.

Eyes of the wise] The circumspection and prudence of wise men, espying and finding out all things, both good and hurtfull, that the one may be followed, and the other eschewed. Eccl. 2. 4. The eyes of the wise are in his head. As eyes set aloft in the head, are as watch-men to look out for the weal of the whole body, so is wisdome unto the man that is wise: it looks out and tryeth all things, that he may doe the good, and refuse the contrary.

E Z.

Ezbai] The Father of Naarai, 1 Chro. 11. 37.

F A.

Fables] A Tale not true, but likely; or a faigned device.

2. All vain, false, and curious Doctrines, Speculations and Questions, which have in them no profit to edification. 1 Tim. 1. 4. Give not heed to Fables. Tit. 1. 14. & 3. 9.

3. Opinions which have a shew of truth, and wisdome, 2 Pet. 1. 16.

As those are by false Teachers cunningly devised, 2 Pet. 1. 16. So many turning away their ears from the truth, shall be (daily are) turned unto them, 2 Tim. 4. 4.

Face] That part of mans body, which (being on high) is most apparent to be seen, and doth best bewray our favour or displeasure towards others: Lastly, by which one man is known and discerned from another, as touching his person. Gal. 1. 21. I was unknown by face unto the Churches. Also, it signifies a mans self, as Eccl. 8. 1.

2. The appearance and outward shew or countenance (as it were) of every thing. Mat. 16. 3. Ye can discern the face of the skie.

3. The invisible nature of God, or the most perfect divine essence and majesty discovered. Exod. 33. 23. My face ye cannot see; that is, my Majesty and Essence in the brightnesse and full glory ye cannot see, and abide it discovered.

4. The favour, countenance, and good will of God. Dan. 9. 17. Cauſe thy face to ſhine upon thy Sanctuary. Alſo, it compreheends all benefits and deliverances, whereby God doth witneſſe his favour to his people. Pſal. 80. 3. Cauſe thy face to ſhine, that we may be ſaved.

5. The place of Gods worſhip, whence his face and favour is to be perceived in the Doctrine of grace, ſoundly taught and applyed, Gen. 4. 14. I ſhall be baniſhed from thy face. Hereof David complains, 1 Sam. 26. 19. Jonas 1. 3.

Note. Gods face in the Old Teſtament, were the pillar of Fire, the Cloud, the Mercy-ſeat, Sacrifices, Circumciſion, the Paſſeover, the Law, and Prophets: and in the New Teſtament, his face is, Baptiſme, the Lords Supper, the Word preached, publick prayer, &c. For by theſe God is manifeſted to his people, to be their God and Father through Chriſt, as a man is known by his face who he is.

Note further, that as men by their face ſhew forth pleaſure or diſpleaſure, favour or wrath: ſo face is uſed in Scripture for Gods anger, Pſal. 34. 16. Lev. 20. 6. Gen. 32. 20. Lam. 4. 16. Jer. 3. 12. Pſa. 21. 9. Face of God in Gen. 33. 10. ſignifieth, a countenance honorable and comfortable.

6. Service before God, or in the preſence of God. Mat. 18. 10. Their Angels alwayes behold the face of my Father; that is, do ſervice in his preſence. Pſa. 51. 11. Caſt me not out from thy face; that is, from doing ſervice before thee as a King, as thou didſt caſt out Saul, who was King before me, &c.

7. Some externall thing objected to our eyes, which can make a perſon to become gracefull to us, Gen. 19. 21. 2 King. 3. 14. Gen. 33. 10.

It may be conſidered both in general and in particular.

In generall; it ſignifieth, The appearance and outward ſhew or countenance (as it were) of every thing, as the face of the Deep, Gen. 1. 2. Earth, Gen. 4. 14. Ground, Gen. 2. 6. Waters, Gen. 7. 18. Wilderneſſe, Exo. 16. 14. Countrey, 2 Sam. 18. 8. Field, 2 King. 9. 37. World, Job 37. 12. Gate, Ezek. 40. 15. Houſe, Ezek. 41. 14. Porch, Ibid. 25. Skie, Matt. 16. 3.

In particular; being referred I. to God (beſide the above mentioned acceptions) it ſignifieth,

1. His diſpleaſure or anger againſt the wicked, Pſal. 34. 17.

2. His preſence, 2 King. 13. 23. mar. Gen. 4. 14. compar. with v. 16. Pſa. 68. 1. marg.

3. The full and perfect knowledge which we ſhall have of him, 1 Cor. 13. 12.

4. His glorious perfection, Exo. 33. 20, 23.

II. To Chriſt, it ſignifieth,

1. His appearing in the ſtate of humiliation, Iſa. 50. 6. Mat. 11. 10.

2. The excellency of his perſon, 2 Cor. 4. 6. which unto the godly is comfortable Rev. 10. 1. unto the wicked, terrible, Rev. 20. 11.

III. To Man, (beſide the former acceptations) it ſignifieth,

1. A mans ſelf, Gen. 48. 11.

2. The ſoul, heart, or conſcience, Pſal. 27. 8. marg.

3. The countenance, Luk. 9. 53. bewraying either pleaſure, Gen. 33. 10. or diſpleaſure, Gen. 35. 1.

4. The whole head, 1 King. 19. 13. & 20. 38.

5. The ſight, view, and preſence, Numb. 19. 3.

6. The outward ſhew or appearance, 2 Cor. 5. 12. marg.

7. Eyes, Jer. 4. 30. marg.

8. The likeneſſe of the face, Ezek. 1. 10.

9. The way on which the face is going, Gen. 46. 28.

10. Openly, Gal. 2. 11. and that with diſreſpect, Hoſ. 5. 5.

To hide his face] Not to take knowledge of us, and of our ſins, with diſlike and meaning to puniſh them. Pſa. 51. 10. Hide thy face from my ſins; that is, look not upon them to puniſh them.

2. To withdraw his countenance, and ſhew forth his diſpleaſure in ſome judgement and affliction. Pſal. 27. 9. Hide not thy face from me.

This phraſe of hiding the face, is contrary to the lifting up of the light of Gods face, Pſal. 4. 6. and importeth trouble and grief; it is cauſed by ſin, and is the cauſe of many adverſities and diſcomforts, Deut. 31. 17, 18. Iſa. 59. 2. Ezr. 39. 23, 24, 26. Therefore the Prophet David complains and prays againſt it, as Pſ. 30. 7. Pſ. 104. 29. & 88. 14. & 69. 17. & 102. 2. & 143. 6. & 27. 6.

Before ones face] In ones ſight, or before himſelf, ſeeming wiſe to himſelf, or in his own opinion, Iſa. 5. 21.

Face to face] Familiarly, and plainly, Deut. 5. 4. The Lord talked with you face to face, Exod. 33. 11. Whereas God ſpoke to other Prophets by dreams, viſions, revelations, Num. 12. 6, 8. yet he ſpake to Moſes face to face, as one man ſpeaketh with another, Exo. 33. 11. that is, manifeſtly, Deu. 30. Gen. 33. 30.

2. Perfectly,

2. Perfectly and fully. 1 Cor. 13. 12. Then ſhall we ſee face to face.

Faces like flames] Countenances red and bluſhing for ſhame, full of confuſion. Iſa. 13. 8. Their faces ſhall be as flames. It is here ſaid they ſhould be amazed every one at his neighbour, becauſe being of noble courage and animoſity, verſ. 2. they ſhould wonder to ſee themſelves ſo timorous and cowardly. This is ſpoken of the Babylonians, at what time the Perſians and Medes (which had ſerved them) ſhould Lord-like conquer and rule over them.

To accept ones face] To ſhew one favour, and to grant his requeſt, Gen. 32. 20. & 19. 21.

To fall upon the face] To adore and worſhip God, groveling upon the ground, Joſh. 7. 6. And fell to the earth upon his face, Matt. 17. 6.

To appeaſe ones face] To pacifie ones anger, which appeareth in the face as favour doth, Gen. 32. 20. See the like in Lev. 20, 6. Pſal. 21. 10.

Face of Jeſus Chriſt] The knowledge which we have of God, by, and through our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, who is the lively expreſſe Image of his Father. 2 Cor. 4. 6. In the face of Jeſus Chriſt, Col. 1. 15. Who is the image of the inviſible God.

To ſeek Gods face] To ask counſell of God in things doubtfull and diſtreſſefull, and to pray unto God in caſes dangerous. Pſal. 27. 8. Seek ye my face; thy face Lord will I ſeek. 1 King. 10. 24. 2 Sam. 21. 1. Hoſ. 5. 15. So Pſa. 105. 3.

To ſet ones face] is, to fix his affections and actions without declining to any other way, Gen. 31. 21. Such a phraſe is in Jer. 50. 5. & Luk. 9. 51, 53.

To ſhew his face] To reveal, lay open, or make known unto us, his moſt bright & glorious majeſty: this he doth to no man. Ex. 32. 20. & v. 18. Shew me thy glory; and God anſwered; Thou canſt not ſee my face.

2. To manifeſt his favour: thus he doth continually to his Saints. Pſal. 80. 19. Shew us thy face and we ſhall be whole. Pſ. 4. 6.

Fade] It's all one with Wither, vaniſh, decay, languiſh, conſume, periſh, wax old, wear away. And is ſpoken of Strangers, or the Sons of the Stranger, 2 Sam. 22. 46. Pſal. 18. 45. A leaf, Iſa. 64. 6. Pſ. 1. 3. mar. Jer. 8. 13. Iſa. 1. 30. Ezek. 47. 12. A flower, Iſa. 40. 7. Beauty, Iſa. 28. 1. 4. The earth and world, Iſa. 24. 4. The rich, Jam. 1. 11. But neither the inheritance, nor the crown which the Lord beſtoweth upon his, fade away, 1 Pet. 1. 4. & 5. 4. where the Apoſtle (as ſome think) alludeth to a flower called Amarantus, which being a long time hung up in the houſe, yet ſtill is freſh and green.

Fail] put for, to goe forth, Gen. 42. 28. marg. To be wanting, Gen. 47. 15, 16. To conſume away, Deut. 28. 32, 65. To leave, Deut. 31. 6. Joſh. 1. 5. compared with Heb. 13. 5. Ceaſed to be, Joſh. 3. 16. Not to be performed, or come to paſſe, Joſh. 21. 45. & 23. 14. To leave off, 1 Sam 2. 16. To faint, or be diſmayed, 1 Sam. 17. 32. To be cut off, 1 Sam. 3. 29. marg. 1 King. 2. 4. marg. To be diminiſhed, 1 King. 17. 14, 16. To neglect, Ezr. 4. 22. To fall, Eſt. 6. 10. marg. To paſſe, Eſt. 9. 27. marg. To lie, Pſal. 89. 33 marg. To periſh, Pſal. 142. 4. marg. To forſake, Pſal. 40. 12. marg. To be conſumed, Prov. 22. 8. marg. To be emptyed, Iſa. 19. 3. marg. To lie or deceive, Iſa. 58. 11. To fail totally, or to die, Luk. 16. 9. To fall from, Heb. 12. 15. marg.

Fain] To counterfeit, 1 Sam. 21. 13. 2 Sam. 14. 2. Act another perſon, 1 King. 14. 6. Play the hypocrite, Luk. 20. 20. Deceive, Pſal. 17. 1. marg.

Faint] put for, to be weary, Gen. 25. 29, 30. Tyred through travell, Deut. 25. 18. Spent or decayed in ſtrength, 1 Sam. 30. 10. Weak, Iſa. 1. 5. & 13. 7. Languiſhing, failing, Jer. 18. 8. Sorrowfull, ſad, heavy, Lam. 1. 22. To be tender, Deut. 20. 3. marg. Melt, Ibid. 8. marg. So Joh. 2. 9, 24. To be ſlack, remiſſe, carry ones ſelf weakly or negligently, Prov. 24. 10. Fail, Lam. 2. 19. To be wrinkled, darkened, drawn together through fear, Ezek. 21. 7. To have a longing deſire, Pſal. 84. 2. To be afraid, or want courage, Iſa. 10. 18. To ſink as a man under a burthen, or to be as it were broken in ſunder, Mat. 15. 32. Mar. 8. 3. Gal. 6. 9. Heb. 12. 3, 5. To ſhrink back, as cowards in war, or to wax laſie, leave off, give over, Luk. 18. 1. Hereof there may be divers cauſes, as wearineſſe, faſting, hunger, thirſt, travel, labour, fear, hunger, thirſt, ſickneſſe, exceſſe of joy, &c.

Fair] Beautifull, or one of good favour, goodly to ſee to, Job 42. 15. Dan. 1. 4.

2. The Church, which is fair, beautyfull, and glorious within, Cant. 4. 1. Thou art fair my love; Fair ſhe is, for ſhe hath the perfect holineſs of Chriſt her husband imputed unto her by faith, that ſhe might be without ſpot or wrinkle, Eph. 5. 27. Alſo ſhe hath the Spirit of ſanctification, to begin holyneſſe in her ſelf, 1 Pet. 1. 2. 2 Cor. 6. 11. So as ſhe is fair, both imputatively and inchoatively, and at length ſhall be fair perfectly; and all this ſpiritually. For outwardly ſhe is black, afflicted, croſſed and perſecuted in the world, Cant. 1. 4.

Fair to God] One exceeding fair, or having divine beauty and godlyneſſe, Act. 7. 20. It is in the Hebrew, Exod. 2. 2. good or goodly, meaning in form or beauty, Gen. 24. 16.

Faith] Truth and conſtancy in words and promiſes, when that is performed in deed, which in words was ſpoken and promiſed. Rom. 3. 3. Shall our unbeleef make the faith of God of no effect? Pſal. 25. 10. Pſal. 86. 15. And in all other places where God is commended for mercy and truth. The word in the Originall ſignifies Faith, Gal. 5. 22. Mat. 23. 23.

2. The doctrine of Faith, or the Goſpel which we doe beleeve. Gal. 1. 22. He now preacheth the Faith, which before he deſtroyed. 1 Tim. 1. 19. & 3. 9. Jude 5. 1 Tim. 4. 1. & 3. 9. A Metonymie of the adjunct for the ſubject.

3. Things promiſed, or the accompliſhment of Gods promiſes made in the Old Teſtament. Gal. 3. 23. We were ſhut up unto that which afterwards ſhall be revealed.

4. A naked knowledge of God, joyned with an outward profeſſion of his Religion and Faith. Jam. 2. 17, 24. Faith, if it hath no works, is dead. This is Hiſtorical, or Dogmaticall faith, as Divines call it.

5. A certain and ſure perſwaſion of ſome wondrous and ſtrange effects and works to be done by the power of God. 1 Cor. 13. 2. If I had all faith. Matt. 17. 20. This is an active miraculous faith, which laſted but for a while.

6. The knowledge and joyfull aſſent of the minde, yeelded to Gods promiſes for a time, till affliction come. Luk. 8. 13. Which for a while beleeve, but in time of temptation fall away. Act. 18. 13. This is temporary faith.

7. A firm and conſtant apprehenſion of Chriſt and all his merits, as they are promiſed and offered in the Word and Sacraments. Rom. 1. 17. The juſt ſhall live by faith. Gal. 3. 11, 14. And in all thoſe places of Scripture, where righteouſneſſe, juſtification, life eternall, and ſalvation are attributed to it. This is juſtifying or ſaving faith, becauſe it enables the elect ſoul, to receive Chriſts perfect juſtice unto ſalvation in heaven. This faith once had, is never utterly loſt, as Papiſts fancy; neither doth it juſtifie ſinners as an inherent quality, as the Heretick Bertius affirmed, becauſe one good quality is not a perfect conformity with the Law.

This is tearmed, Rom. 5. 1. Faith whereby we are juſtified. Eph. 2. 8. Faith through which we are ſaved. 1 Tim. 1. 5. Faith unfained. Gal. 5. 6. Faith which worketh by love. Tit. 1. 1. The faith of Gods elect. Act. 15. 9. Faith that purifieth the heart. 2 Pet. 1. 1. Precious faith. This increaſeth by degrees, Rom. 1. 17. being in ſome ſtrong and great, Luk. 7. 9. in others, weak and ſmall, Matt. 14. 31.

8. Fidelity and faithfulneſſe in doing duties to others, without fraud and deceit. Tit. 2. 10. That they may ſhew all good faith; that is, faithfulneſſe.

9. Hope. 1 Pet. 1. 5. We are kept through faith unto ſalvation. Yet this properly belongs to hope, which is a certain expectation of ſalvation promiſed. A Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect.

10. A confidence of obtaining ſome earthly and bodily good thing, after a miraculous ſort. Act. 14. 9. When he ſaw that he had faith to be healed. This is a paſſive miraculous faith.

11. A firm knowledge and aſſurance of that liberty which Chriſtians have in things indifferent. Rom. 14. 1, 14, 22, 23. Whatſoever is not of faith, is ſin.

12. Fervent ſtudy, deſire, and zeal to practiſe and maintain Chriſtian Religion and Doctrine. Rom. 1. 8. Your Faith is publiſhed throughout all the world. Alſo fame and report of faith, 1 Theſſ. 1. 8.

13. Righteouſneſſe or Juſtice. Pſ. 119. 75. Thou haſt afflicted me in faith, or in righteouſneſſe, and juſtly. So it is in the Originall.

14. A promiſe or vow. 1 Tim. 5. 12. They have forſaken their firſt faith. See the word Firſt.

15. Conſtancy and faithfulneſſe in performing duty; or inconſtancy and unfaithfulneſſe, indifferently. 1 Sam. 26. 23. The Lord will reward every man according to his righteouſneſſe and faith, or faithfulueſſe.

16. Chriſt being apprehended by Faith. Rom. 9. 32. Alſo, Rom. 3. 28. A man is juſtified by faith. So it is put and taken in the Treatiſe of Juſtification, whereſoever Faith is written without expreſſe mention of Chriſt: the righteouſneſſe of Chriſt received by Faith, Rom. 1. 11. Heb. 10. 36, 37, 38, 39.

17. A belief of Gods promiſe, and Chriſts power, as to juſtifie by his mercy, ſo to ſanctifie by his Spirit, Joh. 7. 38, 39. Col. 2. 12. Heb. 11. 33.

18. The belief of eternall life or ſalvation, 1 Pet. 1. 8, 9. Heb. 11. 5, 6, 24, 25, 26.

19. The truth of Religion, or the Word of of God, Rom. 12. 6. Metonymia objecti pro Actione: the truth being the proper and immediate object of our faith.

20. A teſtimony of the truth, or being of a thing elſe not to be known, or very hardly, Heb. 11. 13.

It ſignifieth alſo, 1. The Doctrine of Faith, or one of the firſt grounds of Chriſtian Religion, Heb. 6. 1.

2. The manifeſtation of the Doctrine of the remiſſion of ſins, and life everlaſting by Chriſt exhibited in the fleſh through the preaching of the Goſpell, Gal. 3. 23.

3. The knowledge of God in Chriſt, or of the myſteries of Faith, which is not in all alike, but in ſome leſſer, in others more, Rom. 12. 3.

4. A conſtant and ſincere profeſſion of the Doctrine of the Goſpel, Act. 14. 22.

5. The manifeſtation or demonſtration of ones faith, Luk. 5. 20.

6. The conſcience confirmed by the Doctrine of the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 1. 24.

7. A certain and [illegible] knowledge of the Doctrine of the Goſpel, Act. 11. 24.

8. An earneſt ſtudy and endevour after piety, Luk. 18. 8.

9. Integrity of life, faithfulneſſe and conſtancy in word and deed, 2 Tim. 2. 22.

10. An aſſured confidence, or ſound perſwaſion to obtain a thing, Act. 14. 9.

11. That faith which is common to all, not proper to the elect, being either extraordinary or ordinary.

Extraordinary (commonly called a miraculous faith) which is a belief, that ſome extraordinary and miraculous thing ſhall fall out; given but at ſome ſpeciall times, to ſome ſpeciall perſons, on ſome ſpeciall occaſions, Mat. 7. 20.

Ordinary, being either that which reſteth onely in the minde of a man, or elſe draweth and moveth the will alſo. The former hiſtoricall or dogmaticall faith, becauſe thereby credence is yeelded to the Hiſtory of Gods Word; that is, all things which are written therein are beleeved to be true, Jam. 2. 14, 19. The latter temporary faith, whereby ſuch an aſſent of the minde is given to the Goſpell, and to the gracious promiſes thereof, as the heart is affected with them, and rejoyceth in them for a ſeaſon, 2 Tim. 2. 18. Such was that of Simon Magus, Act. 8. 13. This is hypocriticall and deceitfull. Though it may appear both to him that hath it, and others to be ſound and good, yet is it naught, as by the unprofitableneſſe thereof will in the end moſt manifeſtly appear, to the great diſcomfort of him that hath relyed thereon.

To be of the faith] To be a true beleever in Chriſt, as Abraham was, or to apprehend Chriſt by faith. Gal. 3. 7. They which are of the faith; alſo, v. 9.

Before faith came] Before the time of the Goſpel, and the reall exhibiting of that righteouſneſſe taught therein, giving us to wit, the whole externall diſpenſation of the Ceremoniall Law was temporary, and to ceaſe at the time of the revelation of Chriſt by the Goſpel. Gal. 3. 23. But before faith came, we were kept under the Law.

Dead faith] A fruitleſſe and unworking faith. Jam. 2. 26. Faith without works is dead; like a dead man, a barren wombe, a withered tree.

Faith of the Elect] That faith which is proper to the elect, Tit. 1. 1. Act. 13. 34, 48. which none can have but the elect and choſen children of God.

From faith to faith] From one degree of faith to another; as, from a little and weak faith, to a great and ſtrong one; or, by faith alone, and not by works. Rom. 1. 17. Revealed from faith to faith. For true lively faith encreaſeth daily, alſo righteouſneſſe before God beginneth and continueth by faith.

Note. A Chriſtian man is juſtified by faith, not only at that time when he firſt beleeveth, but his whole and continuall juſtification is by faith; and therefore that diſtinction of the Papiſts of Juſtification, firſt, which is by faith, and the ſecond which is by faith and works, is contrary to the Scripture.

Firſt faith] The vow of Baptiſme, or faith of Chriſtianity, which young widows (who were laſcivious wantons) did make voyd by marrying Infidels; ſo as they renounced Chriſtianity, and followed Satan.

Others do expound this Firſt faith of the promiſe and fidelity which young widows gave to the Church, to doe ſervice to the poor; which upon their marriage to another Husband they did fruſtrate. 1 Tim. 5. 12. Making voyd their Firſt faith. Papiſts doe interpret Firſt Faith to be a vow of Chaſtity, without any ground from the Text.

Faith great or little] The degrees of Faith, as men beleeve in Chriſt more or leſſe ſtrongly. Luk. 7. 9. I have not found ſo great faith. Matt. 14. 31. O thou of little faith. This little faith is adjoyned with much doubting.

Faith of him] That faith which relyeth upon Chriſt alone, Eph. 3. 12.

Houſhold of faith] The beleevers dwelling ling together in the visible Church, as in one house or family, under the same Lord and Laws, being partakers all of the same immunities. Gal. 6. 10. Namely, to the houshold of faith.

Faith of Jesus Christ] That faith which is had toward his Word, and relyeth upon him and his promise, Jam. 1. 1.

Like faith] The gift of faith (which is the effect of Gods just promises) to be in all the Saints (not equall of one measure) but of like property and power for receiving Christ, who is the common object of faith, 2 Pet. 1. 1.

Measure of faith] A certain degree or portion (not a fulnesse and perfection) of the knowledge of the Doctrine of Christ, and of justifying faith, which followeth that knowledge; also of such gifts (ordinary and extraordinary) which at that time Christians received together with faith: of all these, God had given to each a certain portion, to some more, to some lesse, and fewer gifts; to some greater, to some weaker knowledge and faith. Rom. 12. 3. As God hath divided to every one the measure of faith. This condemneth the arrogancy (as of others, so chiefly) of the Pope, challenging all to himself alone.

The gifts which follow faith, are called faith, either because faith is that gift by which other gifts are obtained, or because they are given to such as have faith.

Precious faith] An excellent faith, being a most worthy gift, whereby we may attain very worthy and precious things. 2 Pet. 1. 1. To you which have obtained like precious faith.

To teach according to the proportion of faith] signifieth, to teach according to the proportion of the gifts received by faith; not ambiguously, Rom. 12. 6. Where two things; first, the revelation and knowledge of the truth, with the gift of interpreting Scriptures, according to which every Minister is to proceed in his teaching and exhortations, affirming nothing but what he certainly understandeth by the gift and inspiration of God, forbearing to speak things doubtfull, or too high for him. This would have cut off all abuses in Doctrine and Religion by mens owne principles. Secondly, the axiomes, invention, and heads of Faith and Religion, contained in plain testimonies of Scripture, in the Apostolicall Creed, the Decalogue or ten Commandements, the Lords Prayer, which we ought to make the rule and square of all Interpretation, Doctrine and Exhortation; yea, of all questions and disputations in matters of salvation, holding every thing for true which agreeth to this; and all that for false, which differeth from it. Rom. 12. 6. Let us prophesie according to the proportion of faith. Both senses and expositions aforegoing as they are godly and true; so yet most of our new Writers, Calvin, Beza, Paræus, Faius, Gualter, &c. and Tertullian, doe like the latter as fittest, both because the former, of not exceeding the measure of our knowledge and gifts, was said in the third verse, and in the beginning of the sixt, it had been an idle repetition to say the same again: also for that a measure is one thing, and a proportion is another thing, between two things compared together; whereas a measure is of one and the same thing measured. Then they are deceived which interpret this proportion of faith, either of the merit of faith, as Haymo; or, after the capacity of faith, as if every man should receive so much grace as the receiver hath faith, as Theophylact; or of reasoning against faith, as Bellarmine; or of a rule without writing, according to which all Scriptures should be tryed, as the Rhemists note; whereas, the Scriptures themselves are the Canon and rule of faith.

To stand by faith] To be ingrafted into, or to have place in the true Olive (the body and Church of Christ) by means of faith knitting us to Christ, the root of the Olive, the head of his body. Rom. 11. 20. Thou standest by faith. That this is the meaning, appeareth by the opposition between faith and unbeleef; which as it is laid down for the proper cause of the destruction of the Jews which are broken off: so is faith mentioned as the true cause of the free incision & grafting in of the Gentiles. Also standing is expounded by grafting, Rom. 11. 17. Lastly, being compared with other Scriptures, which teach us to be made the Sons of God by faith, Joh. 1. 12. & Gal. 3. 24. 26. Eph. 1. 5, 8. and all those places which affirm our Justification to be by faith, or that we live by faith, or have Christ dwelling in our hearts by faith, &c. These and such like, do teach, that we have no place in Gods Church (which is the true Olive) no part in Christ or his merits, but through faith. Every one is made a Christian by such faith as he hath: The hypocrite by profession of faith in the mouth, true Christians by the gift of a lively faith in the heart. Therefore Papists erre which affirm of Baptisme, that it (before and without faith) by the very Word, said or uttered, uttered, and washing done, regenerateth, engraffeth into Christ, justifieth, &c. Of which graces, Baptisme is but an externall pledge, and an effectuall seal to resemble and ratifie them to us; and to testifie our engraffing into Christ Jesus, that all his gifts may be ours.

Faith fail not] That his faith should not perish and utterly be extinguished, but remain firm in his heart, although it should fail in the mouth: as one of the Fathers saith, the gift and habit of faith failed not in Peters heart, when the confession of faith failed in his tongue. Luk. 22. 32. But I have prayed for thee that thy faith fail not. Note: it is not promised Peter that he should not fall, but that he should not lie still when he hath fallen.

Faith unfaigned] Sincere, without hypocrisie and counterfeiting. 1 Tim. 1. 5. And of faith unfaigned.

Faithfull] One who keepeth his word and standeth to his promise. 1 Joh. 1. 9. God is faithfull. 1 Cor. 1. 9. 1 Cor. 10. 13. Isa. 11. 4.

2. One who beleeveth the promises of Christ. Eph. 1. 1. To the faithfull in Christ Jesus. True Christians are called Faithfull, because they should beleeve without doubting, whatsoever is said to them of Christ in his Word.

3. One who faithfully and truely performs his office and charge that he is put in trust with. 1 Tim. 3. 11. Faithfull in all things. Col. 4. 9. 1 Pet. 5. 12. Silvanus a faithfull brother to you.

4. That which is firm, sure, certain and constant, 2 Sam. 7. 16. Deut. 28. 59. Faithful plagues for durable. Psal. 93. 5. & 3. 7.

Referred I. To God; signifieth,

1. That he is true in his Word, 1 Joh. 1. 9.

2. That he is true and constant in keeping and performing his promises, 2 Tim. 2. 13. Heb. 10. 23. & 11. 11.

3. That he faileth not them that put their trust in him, 1 Cor. 10. 13. 1 Pet. 4. 19.

II. To Christ, of whom it is said, that he cannot deny himself, 2 Tim. 2. 13. Tearmed, a faithfull High-priest, Heb. 2. 17. as through whom alone reconciliation was made for the sins of the people. So, a faithfull witnesse, Rev. 1. 5. as who sincerely testified all his Fathers will.

III. To Gods Word, Psal. 119. 86. Tit. 1. 9. Rev. 22. 6. So named, as being sure, firm, and constant.

IV. To the Sun and Moon, Psal. 89. 37. as being faithfull witnesses of Gods unfailable power and providence.

V. To Man, both with relation to God and others.

To God, 1. In performing all his promises, purposes and vows made unto him, when in distresse either inward or outward, Psal. 78. 37. compared with vers. 34, 35, 36.

2. In performing his worship constantly and sincerely, according to his own will, Hos. 11. 12.

3. In the conscionable employment of his gifts and graces, Matt. 25. 21.

4. In a constant and diligent care to further the cause of God and his Church, 1 Pet. 5. 12. Col. 1. 7. Rev. 2. 13.

To others; in the sincere, diligent, and carefull discharge of the duties of his calling, for the good of others, Numb. 12. 7. 1 Sam. 22. 14. 2 King. 12. 15. & 22. 7. Neh. 7. 2. Dan. 6. 4. Col. 4. 7. Thus are Judges to be, 2 Chron. 19. 9. Treasurers, Neh. 13. 13. Ambassadors, Prov. 13. 17. Witnesses, Prov. 14. 5. Servants, Mat. 25. 21. Stewards, 1 Cor. 4. 2. Work-men, 2 King. 34. 12. Kings, 2 Chr. 31. 12. Ministers, Col. 1. 7. And so others, as Husbands and Wives, Parents and Children, Masters and Servants, &c. ought to be right, honest, true, trusty, faithfull, each to over.

Fall] Every sin, especially, when the will doth consent unto it: for that is, as if one should stumble and take a fall. Psal. 37. 24. Though he fall, he shall not be cast off. Jam. 4. 2. In many things we sin all. In the Originall Greek Text, it is thus, We stumble or fall. Also the word Englished Offence in Rom. 5. 16, 17, 18. in the Originall Text signifies Fall. A Metaphor.

2. A particular departing or going from the Doctrine and profession of Christ, unto some Heresie or Idolatry; after the example of Hymeneus, Philetus, Alexander, and other apostates. Rev. 9. 1. I saw a star which was faln from heaven into the earth. 1 Cor. 10. 12. Let him that standeth take heed lest he fall. 2 Thes. 2. 3. 1 Tim. 4. 1.

3. Any adversity or danger. Prov. 24. 16. A just man falleth seven times a day, and riseth again; that is, Many are the dangers and troubles of the righteous, but the Lord delivereth them out of all.

4. Decay or worldly ruine, Rev. 17. 2. Babylon is faln, is faln; that is, Rome is decayed in credit of her Doctrine and Religion, in authority, riches, power and jurisdiction, and in all these she hasteneth to an utter and finall ruine and downfall. Also in all those places which speak of worldly downdownfals, Pſal. 20.8. Lam.1.14. Rev.17.10. Prov. 17. 18. Iſa. 21. 9.

5. Periſhing for ever, or everlaſting deſtruction. Luk. 2. 34. He is appointed for the fall and riſing again of many in Iſrael.

To fall] ſignifieth alſo to Die, Gen. 14. 10. Pſal. 91. 7.

2. To dwell, Gen. 25. though here ſome tranſlate this word to Die, but the Greek, as alſo the Chaldee Paraphraſt interpret it of Dwelling, and ſo is the plain text in the Promiſe, Gen. 16. 12. And to make to fall, is, to divide by lot an inheritance to dwell in, Joſh. 13. 4. Pſal. 78. 55.

Taken alſo, 1. Properly, as Gen. 49. 17. 2 Sam. 17. 2. 2 King. 2.13. Amos 9.9.

2. for, To decay, Amos 9.11.

3. To periſh by a violent death, Exod. 32. 28.

4. To befall, Pſal. 16. 6.

5. To decay in credit and reputation, Eſt. 6. 13.

6. To fail, 1 Sam. 3. 19.

7. To take hold or ſeiſe on one, Rom. 15. 3.

8. To come and ruſh upon one after an unuſuall manner, Act. 10. 44.

9. To come to ones ears, or be accepted, Jer. 42. 2. marg.

10. To fall down proſtrate in token of ſubjection or reverence; which is either meerly Civill, as 1 Sam. 25. 23. or Religious; being either lawfull, as which is performed to God alone, Gen. 17. 3. or unlawfull, as when it's done to an Image, Dan. 3. 5. Men, Act. 10. 25,26. Angels, Rev. 22. 8,9

11. To embrace, Gen. 45. 14.

12. To depart from the Doctrine and profeſſion of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 12. This may be either ſecret or publick, in part or in whole, for a longer or ſhorter continuance.

13. To fly or revolt, Jer. 21. 9.

14. To be afflicted, Pſal. 37. 24. Prov. 24. 16.

15. To happen or ſucceed, Ruth 3. 18.

The words, away, down, from, into, out, upon, &c. joyned hereunto, plainly ſhew the meaning of ſuch places of Scripture, where they are ſo ſet down.

The fall of man] is the defection of our firſt parents in their voluntary diſobedience to Gods commandement, whence followed upon themſelves and all their poſterity, loſſe of Gods favour and image, with corruption of nature, and deſert of all miſery, Rom. 5. 12,13,14,15, &c. compared with Gen. 3. 1, 2, 3, 4, &c.

To fall from grace] To leave and forſake that good way and courſe which men had once taken for the obtaining of grace. Gal. 5. 4. Ye are faln from grace: Such as have once ſaving grace, and be juſtified through faith, do not fall utterly and wholly from it; but ſundry which had entred a good courſe to get this grace, do afterwards leave it, and this is to fall from grace in that place of Paul to the Galatians. They erre, which think ſaving grace may be wholly loſt for a time, or finally, and for ever.

There is a falling from God either ſecret, when the heart by diſtruſt is withdrawn; or open, when men do blaſpheme the truth, and rail at the Doctrine of God, as the Jews, Act. 19. Alſo, there is a temporary calling or defection of ſuch as do repent; or a final, of ſuch as dye in their apoſtaſie, as in Julian: Again, there is a partiall defection from ſome part of Doctrine or Obedience, as in David, Peter, &c. and a totall, when the foundation of the faith is denyed. Laſtly, ſome fall from God in their firſt yeers, following their ſuperſtitious Anceſtors, as many born of Popiſh parents; and others fall in their middle age, after their enlightening with the truth, as ſundry inconſtant Proteſtants which run back to Popery.

Falling away] An univerſall forſaking or departing from the whole Doctrine of Chriſt, after it is once known by the enlightning of the Spirit, with a malicious deſpite of it, becauſe it is the truth of God. Heb. 6.6. If they fall away, & 3.12.& 10.29. This is the ſin of totall apoſtaſie, whereof read more, 2 Pet. 2. 20. 1 Joh. 5. 16. See Blaſphemy of the Spirit.

Falling away from the faith] A generall departure from, and a forſaking of the profeſſion of the Doctrine of Chriſt, or true Chriſtian faith, 1 Tim. 4. 1. This is alſo foreſpoken in 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. This Apoſtaſie happened under Antichriſt.

Fallow-deer] The Originall יחמור in Deut. 14. 5. & 1 King. 4. 23. is by ſome interpreted Bubalus, a Buffe or wilde Oxe (which is ſo fierce and ſtrong that it cannot be tamed, unleſſe an iron prick be thruſt into its noſe) but by others, Dama, a Fallow-deer, Doe, or Buck. Ariſtotle writeth hereof, that its blood doth not congeal as the blood of others doth. It's alſo affirmed hereof, that if an arrow or dart ſhot by the Hunter ſtick in any part of its body, it hath recourſe unto the hearb Dictamum or Dictamus, which draweth it out. What places it frequenteth, how fearfull, how ſwift, how well ſighted, how cunning to eſcape the Hunters, how revengefull full when it hath opportunity, how choyce its flesh is for taste and nourishment, I leave to the relation of Hunters.

False] That which is voyd of truth, being unsound and counterfeit; as false ballance, false weights, false heart, false doctrine, false wayes. Psal. 119. False witnesse. Matt. 27. 59. They sought false witnesse.

False Apostles] Such as say they are Apostles, and are not, being broachers of lies and errours, under the name of true Apostles of Christ, 2 Cor. 11. 3. Revel. 2. 2.

False ballance] Deceitfull weights, which beguile those that trust the truth of them. Prov. 11. 1. A false ballance is an abomination to the Lord.

False brethren] Certain hypocrites which faigned themselves willing to further (together with the Apostles and sincere Pastors) the pure doctrine of the Gospell, and under this pretence of piety, craftily, not being observed at first, were brought into the company of Christian professors. Gal. 2. 4. Because of false brethren unawares brought in.

False Christ] One that professeth himself to be Christ, and is not. Mat. 24. 24. There shall arise false Christs. This did one Dositheus, of whom Theophylact makes mention; and one Theudas an Egyptian, spoken of in the Acts 5. 36. And after that, one Manes, and David George, head of the Libertines. (Of Theudas, Josephus writes) And one Hacket an English man: all these named themselves Christ; so did one John Moore at London, in the third yeer of Queen Elizabeth, and two other at Oxford, in the 6. year of Henry 3. as Holinshed reporteth.

False matter] A lying speech or word of untruth, which may endanger another mans life. Exod. 23. 7. Thou shalt keep thy selfe far from a false matter.

False Prophet] One that is a Teacher of lyes, wresting the Scripture for his belly and filthy lucre, or for vain-glory sake. Mat. 7. 15. Beware of false Prophets. Rom. 16. 18. Tit. 1. 11. 1 Tim. 6. 3, 4, 5.

False wayes] Whatsoever opinion or action swarves from the Word of God. Psa. 119. 128. I hate all false wayes.

Falshood] Against God, Isa. 59. 13. and this also by idolatry, Jer. 10. 14. Jer. 13. 25. Against Christ, Mat. 24. 24. Against a mans self, 2 Sam. 18. 13. Others, Hos. 7. 1. And this, by using falshood in their answers, Job 21. 34. By false witnesses, Psal. 27. 12. False wayes, Psal. 119. 128. False ballance, Prov. 11. 1. False swearers, Mal. 3. 5. False Prophets, Mat. 24. 11. False Apostles, 2 Cor. 11. 13. False brethren, Gal. 2. 4. False accusers, Tit. 2. 3. False Teachers, 2 Pet. 2. 1. A false gift, Prov. 25. 14.

Fame] It's the rumour, noyse, report, tydings, bruit and common talk of a thing, whether to a good or evill end, for ones renown and prayse, or otherwise. A good fame or report is gotten by wisdome and greatnesse, 1 King. 4. 31. & 10. 1, 6. Valiant acts, 1 Chr. 14. 17. High advancement, and prosperous therein, Est. 9. 4. Working wonders and miracles, Mat. 4. 24. Luk. 4. 37. & 7. 17. Faith and obedience, Rom. 1 8. & 16. 19. Heb. 11. 1. Suffering for Christ, Phil. 1. 13.

Familiars] Such as should be peaceable, men of ones peace, Jer. 20. 10. marg. but are only so in shew, in substance adversaries, Job 19. 14. Psal. 41. 9.

Familiar Spirits] אבות of אוב, which signifieth a bottle, Job 32. 19. Because Magicians who are possessed with an evill spirit, speak with hollow voyces, as out of a bottle, and (as some say) with swollen bellies: whereupon the Greek version usually called them ἐγγαστρίμυθοι, as speaking out of the belly, Lev. 19. 31. But the holy Ghost in Act. 16. 16. expoundeth it more fully, the Spirit of Python (or of divination) meaning, of the Devill, whose answers were given to the Heathen by these means, the chief whereof was called Pythius Apollo, and his Temple Pythion, and his Feast Pythia, kept to his honour, who was faigned to kill the serpent Python.

This was Saul's sin, that he sought to a woman which had a familiar spirit, the voyce whereof he heard, 1 Sam. 28. 7--15. for which transgression the Lord killed him, 1 Chr. 10. 13. and hath threatned to cut off all from among his people, that doe enquire of such, Lev. 20. 6. See Aynsworth on Deut. 18. 11.

Family] An houshold consisting of persons of divers sexes, ages, stature, strengths, &c. Also kindred, Genes. 24. 4. & 38. 40, 41.

2. Christian Church consisting of beleeving Jewes and Gentiles, among whom, some were weak like Babes, other strong like men, Eph. 3. 15. Gal. 6. 10. Of this family, one part is in heaven, the other is in earth: Hence Church Triumphant and Militant.

It's used also for such as are of one blood or kindred, Numb. 36. 8.

2. A whole Tribe, Judg. 18. 2.

3. Severall kindes, Gen. 8. 19. marg.

Faumine] Scarcity of bread even unto hunger; or extreme want of victuals. Gen. 26. 1. There was a famine in the land.

2. Scarcity and want of heavenly bread, which is the Word of God. Amos 8. 11. I will send a famine of the hearing of the Word.

Corporall famine is a sore evil, Lam. 5. 10. One of Gods three arrowes, 2 Sam. 24. 13. occasioned through sin, Amos 4. 6. produceth fearfull effects, Gen. 47. 13. & 41. 30. Deut. 32. 24. & 28. 53, 54. Isa. 9. 5. & 8 21. & 5. 13. Lam. 4. 9, 10. Hos. 4 3. Joel 1. 11. Which God brings by taking away his blessing from the earth, Hos. 2. 6. not prospering mens labours and fruits of the earth, Joel 1. 17. Hab. 3. 17. Hag. 1. 6. Sending that which destroyeth, Joel 1. 4.

Spirituall comes of the contempt of the Word, oppression, &c. Amos 8. 4. 11. as also through the wickednesse of Ministers, 1 Sam. 3. 1. compar. with ch. 2. 12, &c.

Famous men] put for men of names, 1 Chr. 5. 24. having a great name, a name spread abroad, men of renown, renowned, openly made known.

Fan] Gods Word preached, whereby (as by a fan) the good are severed from the bad. Mat. 3. 12. Whose Fan is in his hand. A Metaphor.

Used also for that wherewith Corn is winnowed, Isa. 30. 24. and for the enemies of the Church, Jer. 15. 7.

To fan] Figuratively, is, To disperse, scatter, Jer. 49. 36. Luk. 22. 31.

As Fanners, is put for enemies to those, who have been enemies to Gods people, Jer. 51. 2.

Fare] Payment for passage, Jonah 1. 3.

Farewell] The Originall χαίρω, 2 Cor. 13. 11. signifieth properly, to rejoyce, but is rendred also farewell. It was used both at meeting and parting of friends.

Far] By the words annexed hereunto (whether relating unto place, time, condition, &c.) the meaning hereof is plainly to be seen.

Farthing] Mat. 5. 26. It was a Romane coyn of brasse, weighing a grain of barley, and consisted of two mites, Mar. 12. 42. It valued of ours c ¼.

Fashion] Pattern, Exod. 26. 30. 2 King. 16. 10. Ordinance, 1 King. 6. 38. mar. Manner, Mar. 2. 12. Form, Luk. 9. 29. The externall figure without substance, habit, vesture, or cloathing, 1 Cor. 7. 31. The outward shew or countenance, Jam. 1. 11.

To fashion] To form, Exod. 32. 4. To make, Job 10. 8. To frame or fit, Isa. 44. 12. To mould, Isa. 45. 9. To make conformable, Phil. 3. 21.

Fasting] A totall or whole abstinence from meats, drinks, and all other pleasures of this life for a certain time, to witnesse our unfaigned humiliation for sin, to tame the flesh, and to help our fervency in prayer, either for preventing some judgement to come, or turning away some judgement present. It is either private or publick. Est. 4. 16. Act. 10. 30. Mar. 2. 19. Jonas 3. 4, 5. This is bodily fasting, which is no work commanded in the Law simply for it self, much lesse a meritorious work: neither doth Christian fasting consist in forbidding of certain meats at certain times limited, that is rather a Civill fast.

2. An abstinence or freedome from vices, as covetousnesse, oppression, cruelty, incontinency, lying, &c. Isa. 58. 6. Is not this the fast that I have chosen, to loose the bands of wickednesse, to take off the heavy burthen? This is Spirituall fasting.

3. Abstinence from all manner of meat or sustenance for many dayes together, without being any whit hungry. Mat. 4. 1. He fasted forty dayes and forty nights: Thus Moses fasted, and Elias. This is miraculous fasting, which served the more to commend the Doctrine of the Law and Gospell, to shew it to be no vulgar thing, but given of God. The apish imitation of this fast by the Papists, is ridiculous, and joyned with grosse superstition, in as much as they forbear flesh in Lent, as a work of Religion and salvation; contrary to the Scriptures, which teach, that meats defile not a man.

4. Hunger. Mat. 15. 32. I will not send them away fasting; that is, hungry, 2 Cor. 11. 27. This is a necessary and compelled fast, which the Saints of God doe overcome by patience.

Or thus: Fasting is taken either properly or figuratively.

Properly, either Common or Religious.

Common, being either ordinary or extraordinary.

Ordinary, through the want of food, 2 Cor. 11. 27.

Extraordinary, which cometh of worldly grief, occasioned through some one or other great trouble or judgement, either past, present, or to come.

Past, 1 Sam. 13. 13.

Present, 2 Sam. 12. 16.

To come, or threatned, 1 King. 21. 7.

Religious, being either sincere or hypocritical.

Sincere

Sincere, which is the afflicting of the body, or abſtinence from food, proceeding from a contrite and broken heart, grieving at ſins committed againſt God, and earneſtly calling upon him for the forgiveneſſe thereof, and removall of his judgements due thereunto; which is either miraculous and impoſſible, or naturall and poſſible.

Miraculous, as Exod. 34. 28. which unto humane nature, without the eſpeciall help of God, is wholly impoſſible.

Naturall, which for a time may be endured; which is either more tolerable, namely, when not ſo much as appetite deſireth, but ſo much onely of meat and drink is taken as may preſerve nature, Luk. 2. 37. or leſſe tolerable, which by the courſe of nature could not be long endured, as that of 1 Sam. 14. 28.

Hypocriticall, when either without reſpect to any occaſion of Faſting, ſet times, weekly, monthly, or quarterly, are appointed to faſt, Luk. 18. 12. or, when men place Religion and holineſſe therein, making the very outward act of Faſting a part of Gods worſhip, whereby to merit at his hands, Iſa. 58. 3. or when men faſt to be ſeen of men, Mat. 6. 16. or when men (making difference between meats for conſcience ſake) abſtain from one kind, and glut themſelves with another, and yet count this a faſt, 1 Tim. 4. 3. or, when men faſt, but in the mean time doe not abſtain from ſin, Iſa. 58. 4. or, when they faſt not unto God, Zech. 7. 5.

Figuratively, 1. For abſtinence from ſin, as covetouſneſſe, oppreſſion, &c. Iſa. 58. 6.

2. Repentance, or contrition, as is implyed, Lev. 23. 29. where to afflict the ſoul, ſignifieth as wel their outward act of Faſting, as their inward contrition.

3. All ſuch croſſes and troubles as the godly doe here undergoe, Mat. 9. 15.

Or thus: there is a Phyſicall, Politick, Inforced, Morall, Spirituall, Extraordinary, Hypocriticall, Superſtitious, Hereticall, and Religious faſt. Of which ſee Dr. Gouge his Whole Armour of God, on Eph. 6. 18. Sect. 100. p. 218. When the mighty are overthrown in battell, 1 Sam. 31. 13. 2 Sam. 1. 12, 17. When publick aid is begged of God, Eſt. 4. 16. When Gods hand is upon the creatures, Joel 1. 14. & 2. 15. When God threatneth preſent deſtruction, Jonah 3. 5. When a publick reformation of ſtate is ſought, 1 Sam. 7. 6. Neh. 9. 4. When we perceive Gods promiſe for his Churches deliverance, and doe crave his mercy for her, Dan. 9. 2, 3. When God puniſheth us or ours for ſin, 2 Sam. 12. 16. At the news of an invading enemy, 2 Chr. 20. 3. For ſome inſtrument raiſed up to help the Church in great danger, Eſt. 4. 16. At the loſſe of a victory, and yet again to proſecute the war, Judg. 20. 26. At the Churches calamity and ſeeking favour for her, Neh. 1. 4. Upon theſe I ſay, and the like occaſions, it is time to faſt.

To ſanctifie a faſt] To call men unto a publick repentance. Joel 2. 15. Sanctifie a faſt. The power to command this, is in the lawfull Chriſtian Magiſtrate (where ſuch a one is) upon the advice and good direction of Gods Miniſters, who are to execute and perform, what hath been religiouſly and adviſedly by ſuperiours enjoyned.

Faſten] Taken properly for to put, ſet, or adde to, Exod. 28. 14, 25. & 39. 31. To tie, binde, or nail to, 1 Sam. 31. 10. To drive with force, Judg. 4. 21. Figuratively, for ſtedfaſtly and intentively to behold, Luk. 4. 20. To invade, or wrap about, Act. 28. 3.

Fat] in Scripture hath a proper acceptation, as Lev. 3. & Gen. 4. 4. Alſo metaphorically, in a borrowed ſenſe, it is put for that which in every thing is moſt excellent and beſt: as the fat of Oyl, the fat of Wine, Num. 18. 12. Alſo the fat of the Earth, Gen. 45. 18. and fat of Wheat, Pſal. 147. 8.

Note further, that whereas the fat of Sacrifices was wont to be wholly conſumed with fire (neither the bringer nor offerer was to have it:) this did ſignifie, as our moſt delightfull and excellent things (which we conſecrate to God, preferring his glory before our own lives:) ſo the excellent reward which the Saints receive from God, onely by the merits of his Son.

It is put alſo, 1. for rich or proſperous, Pſal. 22. 29.

2. Strong or luſty, Pſal. 78. 31.
3. Mighty and powerfull, Iſa. 10. 16.
4. The earths fruitfulneſſe, Gen. 49. 20.
5. Wanton or unruly, Deut. 32. 15.
6. Senſeleſſe, hard, unyeelding, Iſa. 6. 10.
7. Puffed up with proſperity, and careleſſe of ſpirituall good, Pſal. 119. 70.
8. Spirituall graces, Iſa. 25. 6.
9. Cheerfull, Pſal. 92. 14.
10. To have plenty, Prov. 13. 4. & 28. 25.
11. Fruitfull, Numb. 13. 20.

Fat bread] Plenteouſneſſe of the earth, and abundance of all pleaſant things belonging to this preſent life. Gen. 49. 20. Concerning Aſher, his Bread ſhall be fat.

Fat heart] Senſeleſſe, hard, unyeelding heart, without feeling of Gods mercies or judgements, Pſal. 119. 17. Their heart is fat as brawn. Deut. 32. 15. A Metaphor, Iſa. 6. 10. Mat. 13. 14, 15. Mar. 4. 12. Luk. 8. 10. Act. 28. 26, 27.

Fat of the land] The chiefeſt and choyceſt commodities and fruits. Gen. 45. 18. You ſhall eat the fat of the land. A Metonymie.

Fat men] Men full of wealth and might. Iſa. 10. 6. The Lord of Hoſts ſhall ſend leanneſſe amongſt his fat men. Judg. 3. 29. Pſal. 78. 31.

2. Full of ſpirituall vigour and livelyneſſe. Pſal. 92. 10. They ſhall be fat and flouriſhing.

3. Kings, Princes, and Potentates of the Earth. Pſal. 22. 29. They that be fat in the earth ſhall worſhip.

Fat wheat] The fineſt and beſt of the wheat. Pſal. 81. 16. He ſhall feed them with the fat of wheat.

Fatneſſe] Swelling pride, Pſal. 73. 7. Their eyes ſtand out for fatneſſe; that is, ſo puft up with pride, that they can neither ſee and know themſelves, nor conſider others. A Metaphor.

Abundance of manifold bleſſings, Pſal. 63. 5. Heavenly pleaſures and bleſſings, Pſal. 36. 8.

Fatneſſes] Sundry ſorts of plenty and Fat things, Gen. 27. 28. whereby is meant (as before) the beſt of every thing, and ſpirituall graces, Iſa. 25. 6. The land of Canaan, the figure of all bleſſedneſſe, is called therefore the fat land, Neh. 9. 25. 35.

2. Delicates, or delightfull things. Job 36. 61. That which reſts upon thy Table hath been full of fatneſſe.

Fatneſſe of the earth] Great abundance of corn and wine, which comes from the fatneſſe of the earth. Gen. 27. 39. The fatneſſe of the earth ſhall be thy dwelling place. Gen. 4. A Metonymie of the cauſe.

Fatneſſe of Gods houſe] The manifold and plentifull ſpirituall bleſſings of God. Pſa. 36. 8. They ſhall be ſatisfied with the fatneſſe of thine houſe.

Marrow and fatneſſe] Tranquillity and joy of minde. Pſa. 63. 5. My ſoul ſhall be filled with marrow and fatneſſe.

Father] One that begetteth children by ordinary and naturall generation. Gen. 22. 7. My Father, Exod. 20. 12. This is a Father by nature, as Abraham was to Iſaac, and Iſaac to Jacob.

2. A Grand-father, and generally any Anceſtor or Progenitor. Exod. 2. 18. And when they came to Reuell their father. Gen. 20. 12. She is the daughter of my father. Ezek. 20. 18. Walk not in the ſteps of your Fathers; that is, doe not as your fore-fathers did, Heb. 3. 9. This is a Father by precedency of time. Thus Jacob called Abraham his Father, Gen. 31. 42. who is alſo called the father of Levi, Heb. 7. as Nahor is of Laban.

3. An aged man, or one full of years. 1 Tim. 5. 1. Rebuke not an Elder, but exhort him as a father. This is a father by age.

4. One who is in ſtead of a Father, performing the love, care, and duty of a father, by inſtructing, ruling, protecting. Thus all ſuperiours are fathers to their inferiours. 2 King. 5. 13. Father, if the Prophet, &c. and in Iſa. 49. 23. Kings and Magiſtrates are called Nurſing-fathers. Alſo Miniſters are called Fathers. Prov. 4. 1. Hear O children, your fathers inſtruction. This is ſpoken in the perſon of a Miniſter, who is a Father to the people: the reaſon is rendred. 1 Cor. 4. 15. Becauſe they beget men by the Goſpell. Theſe be Fathers by office.

5. Author or Inventer of any thing. Gen. 4. 20. Jabal was the Father of them that dwell in Tents. Joh. 8. 44. Father of lies. Jam. 1. 17. Father of lights.

6. A benefactor and preſerver. Gen. 45. 8. God hath made me a Father to Pharaoh, Job 29. 16. Pſal. 68. 5.

7. One that is the originall or head and chief beginner of any Nation or people. Gen. 22. 21. And Kemuel the father of Aram. 1 Chr. 8. 6. Theſe were the chief fathers of them that inhabited Geba. Gen. 36. 43. Eſau was the father of the Edomites; that is, Author and root of that people, Gen. 10. 21.

8. One that is inward with us, or very nearly joyned to us. Job 17. 14. I ſaid to corruption, Thou art my father.

9. All the perſons of the Trinity, even the whole Godhead. Mat. 6. 9. Our father which art in heaven. Here Father is put eſſentially.

10. The firſt perſon of the bleſſed Trinity, begetting the Son, and ſending forth the holy Ghoſt. Mat. 28. 19. And baptized them in the name of the Father. Eph. 1. 3. God the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Here Father is put perſonally.

God is in Scripture called Father with reference, firſt, to Chriſt whoſe manhood is the Son of God, by the perfect ſanctification of it in the wombe of the Virgin, and by perſonall union to the Godhead, Luk. 1. 32. In regard as he is God by an unſpeakable, eternall, and wonderfull generation, communicating the whole Divine ſubſtance to him, he is the Son of God, Joh. 1. 14.

Secondly, unto the creatures, and that four wayes; wayes; by ſimilitude: 1. of ſtep, or print, or track, (veſtigii) ſo of all creatures he is Father, having imprinted ſome track or ſtep of his Majeſty in the leaſt of them.

2. Of Image, ſo he is Father of all men, having framed them in Adam to the likeneſſe of himſelfe, in wiſdome, righteouſneſſe, and holineſſe.

3. Of grace: ſo he is Father of the Elect beleevers in earth, Joh. 1. 12.

4. Of glory, ſo he is Father of Angels, and bleſſed ſpirits of men in heaven, Job 1. 6.

Alſo note that here in the world he doth all offices of Father to his adopted children.

1. By begetting them ſpiritually.

2. By feeding them with the fleſh of his Son, in the Word and Sacraments.

3. By cloathing them with the long white robe of his Sons imputed holineſſe, adorning them with the garment of holineſſe inherent, Gal. 3. 27. Rom. 13. 14.

4. By chaſtiſing them, Heb. 12. 5, 6, 7.

5. By providing them an inheritance, keeping and protecting them to it, 1 Pet. 1. 4.

Father is put for Fathers by change of number, Exod. 3. 6. Act. 7. 32. So Tree for Trees, Gen. 3. 2. as Parable, Pſa. 78. 2. is expounded Parables, Mat. 13. 35. Heart, Pſal. 95. 8. for Hearts, Heb. 3. 8. Work, Pſa. 95. 9. for works, Heb. 3. 9.

God is a Father, firſt to Chriſt. God is a Father to Chriſt by nature, or generation, to Chriſtians by adoption or grace; to all men and all things by generation. D. Boyr.

God is a Father to men, not naturally or properly as he is to Chriſt, Job 3. 16. yet a Father to us by likeneſſe of that he doth to us, with that our naturall parents do for us: viz.

1. By giving to us our ſubſtance, beginning, and being. 1. Of body, Pſal. 100. 2. Luk. 3. 38. Mal. 10. 2. Of ſoul, Heb. 12. 9. or both together, Act. 17. 28, 29. Mal. 2. 10. Deut. 32. 6.

2. By preſerving us, Mat. 6. 26. Pſ. 68. 5. Luk. 11. 7, 10, 11.

3. By regenerating us, and giving us, not onely the means, motions, and directions of godlineſſe, but the minde alſo, 1 Joh. 5. 20. and ſo he maketh us his Image, as the childe carryeth the likeneſſe of his naturall father, Mat. 5. 45, 48. & 12. 50. Joh. 8. 42. Gal. 4. 15. As contrarily to do wickedly, is to become the childe of Satan, Joh. 8. 38, 44. Act. 13. 10.

4. By forbearing and forgiving us our ſins, Mal. 3. 17.

5. By the gift of eternall life, Matth. 25. 34. Joh. 20. 17.

Or thus. Referred I. To God,

1. By way of generation, naturall: ſo he is the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt, 2 Cor. 1. 3. Spirituall, either in reſpect of beneficence and benediction, ſo was he the Father of the Iſraelites, Deut. 32. 6. or regeneration and adoption; ſo is he the Father of the Elect, 1 Joh. 3. 1.

2. By way of creation; ſo is he the Father of all the creatures, Mal. 2. 10.

3. By way of preſervation, Pſal. 68. 5.

II. To Chriſt, in reſpect of us to whom he is the author and fountain of life, Iſa. 9. 6.

III. To Man, in reſpect,

1. Of generation, Gen. 22. 7.

2. Succeſſion; ſo Grand-fathers, Great-grand-fathers, &c. are tearmed Fathers, 1 Cor. 10. 1.

3. Propagation, Deut. 32. 8.

4. Adoption, Eſt. 2. 7.

5. Invention, Gen. 4. 20.

6. Imitation, Rom. 6. 16.

7. Office, whether in the Church, 1 Theſ. 2. 11. or Common-wealth, Gen. 45. 8. 2 King. 5. 13. Job 29. 16. Iſa. 49. 23.

8. Suppoſition, Joh. 6. 42.

9. Age, 1 Tim. 1. 5.

IV. To Satan, who is the ungodlies Father, whom they mainly reſemble, whoſe will they performe, and by whom they are led into all miſchief, Joh. 8. 44. Tearmed alſo the Father of lies, Ibid. as from whom falſhood had its originall.

Thy Father is an Amorite] One that is degenerate and grown out of kinde, being of the childe of Abraham become as bad as an Heathen, Ezek. 16. 3, 4, 5.

Everlaſting Father] One who is in himſelfe abſolutely Eternall, and the Author and purchaſer of Eternity to others, giving eternall good things to his people, Iſa. 9. 6. Everlaſting Father. Thus is Chriſt Jeſus a Father of Eternity; himſelf everlaſting, and making others to be ſo.

Father of glory] Moſt glorious Father, or one full of glory. Eph. 1. 17. The Father of glory.

Which is in God the Father] A people which by faith ſtay upon God through Chriſt, by whoſe power they were called out of darkneſſe unto God, 1 Theſſ. 1. 1.

To go or to be gathered to their Fathers] By dying, to be joyned unto their forefathers in the eſtate of the dead, both in reſpect of their bodies, being put into the Sepulchres of their Fathers; and of their ſouls, being companions with them of the ſame eternall bliſſe. Gen. 15. 15. Thou ſhalt be gathered to thy Fathers in peace. 2 King. 22.22. I will gather thee unto thy Fathers.

To turn the hearts of Fathers to their children] To invite them by his preaching of Christ, to faith, repentance and charity in the band of peace, Mal. 4. 6. At the comming of Christ the Jews were far from keeping unity of Spirit in band of peace, being rent with schisms and factions.

Father of many Nations and of the faithfull] Abraham, who is thus called,

First, becauſe he was unto his posterity and seed a rare example of faith and justification.

Secondly, a worthy restorer of Religion.

Thirdly, the Father of the Messiah.

Fourthly, having the promises of eternall life given him, both for himself and others.

Fifthly, into whose bosome, beleevers of all Nations shall be gathered.

Father of mercies] One who is himself most mercifull, and the author of mercies and compassions in others. So is God alone. Blessed be the Father of mercies, and God of all comfort.

The Father of spirits] The maker and giver of souls. Heb. 12. 9. Be in subjection to the Father of spirits. Also, it signifies a deliverer of souls from sin, a spiritual restorer, a governour of thoughts. See the like phrase in Numb. 16. 24. Psal. 33. 15. Zech. 12. 1.

Without Father and Mother] One, whose Parents were not manifested and known. Heb. 7. 3. Without father, without mother. Such was Melchisedech, who so long out-lived those of his time, as his Parents were worn out of knowledge, and be un-mentioned in the Holy Story.

Note: In four things is Melchisedech a type and figure of Christ.

First, in respect of the name Melchisedech, which by interpretation is, King of righteousnesse; so was Christ, Psa. 45. 6, 7.

Secondly, becauſe he was King of Salem, that is, of peace.

Thirdly, becauſe Melchisedech was together both a King and a Priest; so was Christ.

Fourthly, becauſe the progeny of Melchisedech is not related in sacred Story; as if they were without beginning or end: so is Jesus Christ an eternal Priest, Ps. 110. 4. Whereas Papists make Melchisedech in offering bread and wine to Abraham, to be a type of the Sacrifice which Christ, and after him, other Priests should offer of the body and blood of Jesus to God his Father; this is fabulous and false: for, first, the word in the Hebrew, which Papists in favour of the Sacrifice of the Altar, do translate (Offerens or Sacrificans offering) doth signifie proferens, videlicet, bringing forth; & so not only Tertullian and Epiphanius, but even Cajetan a Cardinal doth expound it, in Gen. 1. 14. and Andradius likewise, Defens. fidei Tridentinæ, lib. 4. Secondly, if we say that he did offer, yet he offered nothing but Bread and Wine, which our Adversaries say, do not continue after consecration: Thirdly, this Bread and Wine served not as a Sacrifice to God, but only as a bodily refection for Abraham and his souldiers, which were hungry, as Joseph. lib. 1. cap. 11. affirms. And thus Andradius confesseth, that his souldiers were refreshed with bread and wine of Melchisedech: Such as these be the best props of Popish Masse, like rotten posts that fall asunder as soon as they be but touched.

Your Father] God, who is a Father of the beleeving Apostles, and all other the faithful.

1. Becauſe they are begotten by the immortall seed of the Word.

And 2. are the members of his Son.

3. And are adopted by him.

4. Bearing his Image.

5. And are partakers of his fatherly love and benefits. Joh. 20. 17. I ascend to my Father, and to your Father.

Fault] The guilt of Adam's disobedience imputed unto us. Rom. 5. 16. The fault came by one offence.

2. Some sin done in our owne persons. Psa. 19. 22. Who knoweth his faults?

Favour] A good and comely countenance. Prov. 31. 30. Favour is deceitfull.

2. Credit and respect, gotten by well-doing, Gen. 39. 21. Prov. 22. 1. Loving favor is better then gold.

3. Gods good will, gracious liking or acceptance through Christ, Psal. 5. 12. Psal. 30. 5.

4. Approbation, Eccl. 9. 11.

To favour] To be well pleased with, Psal. 41. 11. To take pity on, Psal. 109. 2. To be well affected to, 2 Sam. 20. 11. To be good in ones eyes, 1 Sam. 29. 6. marg. To like or approve of, Psal. 35. 27. To have mercy, or be gracious unto, Psal. 102. 13.

The favour of God] His gracious accepting of us, and mereifull readyneſse to do us good. Psal. 51. 18. Be favourable to Sion.

The favour of men] Their good liking towards us, and readyneſse to doe us good, and not hurt. Gen. 33. 10. If I have found favour or grace in thy sight. Act. 24. 27. And Felix willing to get favour of the Jews, left Paul bound.

Fear]

F E.

Fear] A certaine naturall affection, whereby men are ſtricken, by reaſon of ſome dangerous and hurtfull evill, either true or imagined. Gen. 31. 11. I fear him. Joſh. 2. 9. 11. Mat. 14. 30. & 28. 4. This is naturall fear, in it ſelf neither good nor evill: It was in the man Chriſt, Heb. 5. 7. It becomes evil through our diſtruſt mixt with it, and by immoderation.

2. The free voluntary reverence which Inferiours ſhew to their Superiours, for the Lords ſake, making them carefull to obey, and loath to offend. Eph. 5. 33. Ye wives fear your husbands. Rom. 13. 7. Fear, to whom fear belongeth. Eph. 6. 5.

3. The thing or danger feared. Prov. 1. 20. When their fear cometh; that is, when that which they fear cometh. Pſal. 53. 5. They fear where no fear is; that is, no cauſe of fear, nothing to be feared. A Metonymie. Iſa. 8. 13.

4. The perſon which is feared. In this ſenſe God is called the fear of Iſaac, Gen. 31. 42, 53. But Jacob ſware by the fear of his father Iſaac: either becauſe God had ſtricken Iſaac with a fear when he would have given away the bleſſing to Eſau: or, becauſe of the reverence and fear which Iſaac yeelded unto God: or for both theſe cauſes is God called the fear of Iſaac. A Metonymie. So Pſal. 76. 11. Fear is put for the fearfull God, to whom all fear is due, as Iſa. 8. 12, 13. Mal. 6. 1. Gen. 31. 42. & 32. 9.

5. An holy affection of the heart, awing us, and making us loath to diſpleaſe God by ſin, in reſpect of his great goodneſſe and mercies, and for a love we bear to righteouſneſſe. Pſa. 130. 4. There is mercy with thee that thou mayſt be feared. Ex. 20. 25. This is filiall or childe-like fear: Gods children are commanded thus to fear, and are often commended for ſo fearing, Job 1. 1. Act. 10. 2. The fruit and force of this fear is, to reſtrain from vice, and conſtrain unto well-doing, for deſire to glorifie God. See examples of Joſeph, Gen. 39. & Neh. 1. A ſpirituall fear: and thus in Rom. 11. 20. the word Fear ſignifieth an awe leſt they ſhould ſin, not of fear leſt they ſhould fall away; and is oppoſed not to aſſurance, but to preſumption: as in this word ſo uſed in Luk. 1. 74, 95.

This childe-like fear may well ſtand with certainty of ſalvation, ſo cannot ſervile and perplexed fear.

6. A terrour in the heart of wicked men, dreading God as a Judge, being loath to offend him by ſin in reſpect of his puniſhments, and not from a hatred of wickedneſſe. Thus Felix feared, Act 24. 24. This is ſervile and ſlaviſh fear; Gods children are forbidden this fear. Exod. 20. 20. Moſes ſaid to the people, Fear not. Yet through Gods merciſull goodneſſe it proves a preparative unto faith, as a briſtle draws in the threed. Act. 2. 37. Rom. 8. 15. Joh. 1. 16.

7. The whole worſhip of God. Deut. 6. 13. Thou ſhalt fear the Lord. Act. 10. 35. In every Nation he that feareth God, Pſal. 112. 1. & 128. 1. and elſewhere very often, by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole. For where Gods fear is truly planted, there will follow the whole worſhip of God.

8. Dreadfull works of Gods juſtice, which ſtrike men with fear. Pſa. 90. 11. Who knoweth the power of thy wrath or anger, according to thy fear? Thus Tremellius reads it. It is a Metonymie of the effect for the cauſe.

9. The Law of God which is called Fear, (as God himſelf is) for that it was given with fearfull majeſty, and worketh in men the fear and reverence of God, Pſal. 19 9. See Exod. 20. 18, 19, 20. Deut. 5. 24, 29. It ſignifies alſo a holy ſeverity, whereby ſinners are reduced into the way, when they grow ſecure, and other meanes will not help, Jude v. 23. Alſo it ſignifieth that whole Doctrine of God, which teacheth and worketh the fear and reverence of God, Pſal. 19. 9.

It's alſo put for Religion, Job 4. 6. and for the thing feared, Prov. 1. 26.

Fear is either unlawfull or lawfull.

Unlawfull, 1. Slaviſh, when men do rather abſtain from ſin in reſpect of the puniſhments enſuing thereupon, then out of an unfaigned hatred thereof. A fear upon the apprehenſion of Gods juſtice and wrath againſt ſin, puniſhments and plagues for ſin, 1 Sam. 12. 18. 1 King. 17. 41. Dan. 5. 6. Act. 24. 25. Which is to be avoyded, Exod. 20. 20. Luk. 1. 74. 2 Tim. 1. 7. 1 John 4. 18.

2. Falſe, or without cauſe. Geneſ. 42. 18. 2 King. 7. 6, 7, 15. Prov. 28. 1. Which ariſeth from a falſe conceit, Gen. 50. 15. Luk. 19. 21. and is threatned as a puniſhment, Lev. 26. 17, 36, 37.

3. Diſtruſtfull, 1 Pet. 3. 14. Rev. 2. 10.

4. Prepoſterous, as the fear of man, Matt. 10. 28. Prov. 29. 25. againſt which the Lord armed his Prophets, Jer. 1. 8. Ezek. 1. v. 6.

5. Superſtitious, as the fear of the ſignes of heaven, Jer. 10. 2. Iſa. 29. 13.

6. Idolatrous, Iſa. 8. 12. which is to be avoyded, Judg. 6. 10. 2 King. 17. 36, 37, 38.

7. Diabolicall, Jam. 2. 29.

8. Naturall, when joyned with diſtruſt or diffidence, which is found not onely in the wicked, Iſa. 7. 4. Mat. 28. 4. but even in the godly at ſome times, Judg. 6. 27. 1 Sam. 21. 10. Exod. 2. 14. This is to be avoyded, Numb. 14. 9. 2 King. 6. 16. and was by Nehemiah reſiſted, Neh. 6. 11.

Lawfull, 1. Divine fear, ariſing upon the apprehenſion of Gods preſence, 1 Sam. 4. 7. and of his works, Jonah 1. 16. Luk. 1. 65. & 7. 16.

2. Filiall fear, or the fear of God as our Father, Prov. 1. 7. Whereby we are as well reſtrained from evill, Prov. 3. 7. as incited unto wel-doing, Eccl. 12. 13. and whereof God alone is the Author, Jer. 32. 39, 40. A duty required of every one, Pſal. 33. 8. Early, 1 King. 18. 13. Onely, Luk. 12. 5. Continually, Prov. 23. 17. With confidence, Pſ. 115. 11. Joyfulneſſe, Pſa. 119. 74. Thankfulneſſe, Rev. 19. 5.

Sometimes the wicked fear the godly, Gen. 21. 22, 23. Exod. 14. 24, 25. 1 Sam. 18. 29. mar. 11. 18. Which is the work of God, Deut. 2. 25. & 11. 25. 1 Chr. 14. 17. 2 Chr. 17. 10. And ſometime the wicked fear one another, Iſa. 7. 2. Jer. 22. 25. 1 Sam. 3. 11. & 28. 5.

Fear not their fear] Fear not that whereof they are afraid; to wit, their Idols. Iſa. 8. 12. Fear not their fear; or (as Tremellius tranſlates it) Fear not with their fear; that is, with a diſtruſtfull fear, which withdraweth the heart from God and his promiſes.

Fear of God was upon them] A great terror and fear ſent into their hearts by God to reſtrain and ſtay them from doing any harm to Jacob. Gen. 35. 5. And the fear of God was upon the Cities that were round about them; Iſa. 2. 10.

In the place of Iſa. 2. 10. the Army of the Babylonians is called [the fear of the Lord, and the glory of his majeſty] becauſe it ſhould be fearful for power, and glorious for victory; yet being but an inſtrument of divine vengeance upon the wicked Jews, therefore it is ſtyled the fear and glory, not of Babylon, but of the Lord.

Fear of the Jews] ſignifieth that dread wherewith they were feared paſſively, not actively, for fear which they did fear, Joh. 7. 13. & 20. 19.

To judge in the fear of God] ſignifieth either that the fear of God ſhall be the object of Chriſts judgement, who ſhall look into the hearts of men, and ſhall ſee in whom is the fear of God and true piety, and in whom not, but a ſhew: or that the fear of God ſhall be the rule after which he ſhall judge moſt acts; abſolving them which truely fear God, and condemning others, Iſa. 11. 3.

To meditate fear] To think upon dangerous things, which breed fear. Iſa. 33. 18. Thine heart ſhall meditate fear.

Without fear] Securely and impudently, without all reverence of God or men, Jude v. 12.

Fearfull] Applyed to God, Exo. 15. 11. To the place of Gods preſence, Gen. 28. 17. To ſights, Luk. 21. 11. To man, Deut. 20. 8. Mar. 4. 40. How fearfull the eſtate of the fearfull and unbeleeving is, ſee Iſa. 33. 14. Rev. 21. 8.

Feaſt] Solemn and abundant fare, kept upon ſome eſpeciall occaſion to remember ſome great mercy of God, and therewith to cheer the heart. Gen. 21. 8. Abraham made a great feaſt that ſame day that Iſaac was weaned. Neh. 10. 12. Gen. 29. 22. And made a feaſt.

2. The day or whole time wherein ſuch ſolemn feaſts are kept. Act. 18. 21. I muſt needs keep the feaſt. Joh. 7. 8. Lev. 23. 4. The whole ſpace of eight dayes, wherein their feaſts laſted.

3. A good conſcience, which of Solomon is called a continuall feaſt, becauſe of the great and conſtant peace and joy which it breedeth. Prov. 15. 15. A good conſcience is a continuall feaſt. A Metaphor.

The Jews had three feaſts which were of moſt reckoning and ſolemnity, becauſe in them every male muſt appear, and none come empty, Exod. 23. 14, 15, 16, 17. Deut. 16. 16, 17.

4. The whole time of the celebration of the Paſſeover, Mat. 26. 5.

Feaſts were 1. Heathen, Gen. 29. 22. & 40. 20. Eſt. 1. 3, 5. & 2. 18. Dan. 5. 1.

II. Jewiſh, being either voluntary or injoyned. Voluntary, lawfull or unlawfull. Lawfull, Judg. 21. 19. Unlawfull, 1 King. 12. 32. Injoyned, being either weekly, as the Sabbath, Exod. 20. 8. Monethly, as the new moons, Numb. 28. 11. Yeerly, as the Paſſover, Lev. 23. 5. Pentecoſt, Ibid. 15. Feaſt of trumpets, Ibid. 24. Atonement, Ibid. 26. Tabernacles, Ibid. 33. Purim, Eſt. 9. 32. Dedication, Joh. 10. 22. Every ſeventh yeer, or Sabbath of yeers, Lev. 25.4. or every fiftyeth, or seven Sabbaths of yeers, Ibid. 8.

or

III. Christian, whether abolished, as the Love-feasts, Jude v. 12. or continued, as the Lords day celebrated in remembrance of the Resurrection of our Lord Jesus Christ, who rose thereon, Mat. 28. 1. tearmed the Lords day, Rev. 1. 10. and the first day of the week, 1 Cor. 16. 2. We read also of Idolatrous feasts set up and kept in honour of Idols, Ex. 32. 6. Numb. 25. 2. Judg. 9. 27. & 16. 23. Psal. 106. 14. 1 King. 12. 32. 1 Cor. 8. 10. Of Spirituall feasts, Prov. 9. 2. Cant. 5. 1. Isa. 25. 6. Mat. 22. 4. Luk. 14. 16. Of charitable feasts, whereunto Christ exhorteth, Luk. 14. 13. Of religious feasts, made to rejoyce upon some deliverance, Est. 8. 17. & 9. 22. or kept upon some gracious favour promised and bestowed, 1 King. 3. 15. or upon recovery from sickness and other afflictions, Job 42. 11. And of a Celestiall feast with Christ in heaven, Revel. 19. 9. There have been feasts at the entertainment of guests, Gen. 18. 5. & 19. 3. & 26. 30. & 43. 14. Luk. 5. 29. Joh. 12. 2. At a marriage, Joh. 2. 1. Judg. 14. 17. At circumcision or weaning of a childe, Gen. 21. 8. In harvest time, Ruth 3. 7. At sheep-sheering, 1 Sam. 25. 36. Those if moderate are not to be disallowed, but discommendable if excessive, Judg. 19. 6, 8. Est. 1. 4. or unseasonable, out of time, Isa. 22. 12, 13. or for the manner, without religious thoughts and speeches, Isa. 5. 21. or spent in vain pleasure, Isa. 5. 12. or with eating and drinking immoderately, 1 Sam. 25. 36. 1 King. 20. 12, 16. or with dancing, Mar. 6. 21, 22. and riot, Amos 6. 4, 5, 6, 7. Onely Pharaoh and Herod celebrated (by feasting) the memoriall of their nativity, but at the one, the Baker was hanged, Gen. 40. 20, 22. at the other John the Baptist beheaded, Mar. 6. 21, 27. That the memoriall of our Saviours nativity ought to be the daily and continuall meditation of every Christian soul, who will not acknowledge? but that a day is yeerly to be set apart for the commemoration thereof, is no where expressed or commanded in Scripture: How those dayes have been spent in gluttony, drunkennesse, gaming, riot, to the dishonor of God, abuse of the creatures, and Christian religion, who knoweth not? But if any will yet observe such a day, let him observe it unto the Lord, Rom. 14. 6.

To bless the feast of meat] signifies, not the putting or conveying a nature or substance into the meat, but a prayer to God to make it wholsome to the guests, 1 Sam. 9. 13. So to bless the bread or cup in the Lords Supper, 1 Cor. 10. 16 is not to change their maker into a new substance, as Papists ignorantly teach; but to thank God for redemption by Christ, and by prayer to consecrate the creatures to be the Sacrament of Christ, and a mean of our soul-food.

A feast of fat things, &c.] The rich graces of the Spirit, which God bountifully bestoweth on the Saints by the preaching of the Gospel, Isa. 25. 6. See Isa. 55. 1.

Feasts of love] Banquets kept in the publick meetings of the Church, to testifie and to nourish brotherly love. Jude 12. These are as spots in your feasts of love. These grew to such abuse, as the Apostle Paul abolished them, 1 Cor. 11.

Feathers] Spoken of the Ostrich, Job 39. 13. Of the Dove, Psal. 68. 13. Of God, Psal. 91. 4. Of the Eagle, Ezek. 17. 3. Put for Filth, Lev. 1. 16. marg. Protection, Psal. 91. 4. Ample dominions and mighty power, Ezek. 17. 3, 7.

Feeble] put for Weak, Gen. 30. 42. Strengthlesse, or unable to resist or defend themselves, Deut. 25. 18. Without help, or want of courage, 2 Sam. 4. 1. Of small or no strength, Prov. 30. 26. Not money, Isa. 16. 14. marg. Abject, faln, Zech. 12. 8. mar. It's to be understood sometime of outward infirmities which are incident to the body, sometime of the inward, as 1 Thess. 5. 14.

To feed] To nourish by ministring meat to the body, common to men and beasts. This is naturall feeding. In Psal. 23. 1. it comprehends all the duties of a good Shepheard, feeding, guiding, observing and defending his flock. This title is attributed to God and to Christ, feeding the Church, as Ezek. 34. 12, 14, 15. Isa. 40. 11. Also unto Kings, John 10. 11. Psal. 78. 70, 71. 2 Sam. 15. 2.

2. To teach others by wholsome Doctrine, and to rule them with godly discipline. Joh. 21. 16. Feed my sheep. Mat. 28. 18. Goe teach all Nations. This is Ecclesiastical feeding, peculiar to Gods Church. It is far from the Popes supremacy, which is a tyrannizing, not a teaching. A Metaphor.

3. To rule or govern politically, Psal. 78 71, 72. He brought David to feed his people, and so he fed them, 2 Sam. 5. 2. Mat. 2. 6. This is a Politicall feeding.

4. To strengthen and comfort the soul inwardly. Psal. 28. 9. Feed them also. Spirituall feeding.

5. To correct, chastise, tame, and take down, Hos. 4. 16.

Referred I. to God.

1. In reſpect of his Church, which he ſuſtaineth and nouriſheth both inwardly and outwardly, Gen. 48. 15. Pſal. 28. 9.

2. In reſpect of the ungodly, whom hee meeteth withall in judgement, Ezek. 34. 16. Hoſ. 4. 16.

3. In reſpect of the Creatures, Mat. 6. 26. Pſal. 145. 15. who can, and at ſome time feedeth his own extraordinarily, Ex. 16. 32. 1 King. 17. 6, 14, 15.

II. To Chriſt, who is the Shepheard of his Church, Iſa. 40. 11. and feedeth them with the bread of life, which is himſelf, Joh. 6. 35.

III. To Man; (beſide the former acceptions) taken for,

1. To give to eat, Gen. 25. 30.

2. Feeding, guiding, preſerving, defending, Gen. 30. 31.

3. To keep, Gen. 37. 12.

4. To afflict grievouſly, 1 King. 22. 27.

5. To live, Lam. 4. 5.

6. To pamper ſenſually, Jude v. 12.

7. To delight, Prov. 15. 14.

IV. To the enemies of the Church, whom the Lord uſeth at ſome times for the chaſtiſement of his people, Jer. 6. 3.

V. To ſuch as looke for help in vaine, Hoſ. 12. 1.

VI. To falſe Teachers, which feed themſelves, not their flocks, Ezek. 34. 2, 3.

VII. To Gods bleſſings, ordinary, Hoſ. 9. 2. extraordinary, 1 King. 17. 4.

VIII. To the creatures living quietly together, Iſa. 11. 7. & 65. 25.

To feed and eat ſtraw] To uſe that common food which for beaſts in the Creation was appointed, Gen. 1. 30. and not longer to devour men. Iſa. 11. 7. Cow, Bear, and Lyon ſhall feed and eat ſtraw. Here is deſcribed the unity and innocency of men converted by the Goſpell of Chriſt, as alſo the great reſtoring of mans decayed moſt corrupt nature, in verſ. 6, 7, 8, 9.

Feel] To touch or handle, Gen. 27. 12. Judg. 16. 26. To know, Job 20. 20. marg. Eccleſ. 12. 5. marg. To ſearch as a blinde man doth his way by feeling, Act. 17. 27. To ſympathize, Heb. 4. 15. To underſtand or perceive, Pſal. 58. 9. He ſpeaketh to the wicked of their ſudden deſtruction. The meaning ſeemeth to be this: Ere men ſhall perceive (or feel) the pricking of your thorns of the bramble, God will as with a whirlewind deſtroy every of them. The Hebrew סִיר is uſed both for a thorn and a pot, wherefore ſome here tranſlate pots, yet yeelding the ſame ſenſe. Aynſworth on the place.

Paſt feeling] Eph. 4. 19. Either thus, ſuch as have renounced all labour and care, who neither can nor will work any more; or ſuch whoſe minde through the cuſtome of ſin is ſo hardened, that for the time they feel no remorſe nor grief of conſcience.

Feet] That member which is loweſt in the body, bearing it up, being the inſtrument of motion, and carrying the body from place to place. Joh. 13. 5. He waſhed the Apoſtles feet.

2. Approaching and coming of ſuch as preach reconcilement with God, or the Preachers ſo approaching. Rom. 10. 15. How beautifull are the feet, &c. If there be beauty in their feet, how much more in the whole perſon?

3. The whole man, or the man himſelf. Rom. 3. 15. Their feet are ſwift to ſhed blood; that is, they themſelves are ready and forward to ſlaughter. Pſal. 119. 105. Thy Word is a lantern to my feet; that is, to my ſelf. Pſa. 73. 2. There be innumerable examples of this ſignification in the Pſalms, and elſewhere in the Scripture. It is a Synecdoche of the part for the whole.

4. The Apoſtles and other ſincere Preachers of the Word. Rom. 10. 15. How beautifull are their feet?

5. The will, and the affections, deſires, care and endevours, which are the beginning of our actions, as the feet are the inſtrument of motion, and doe carry our minde hither and thither, as our body is carryed by our feet. Eccl. 4. 17. Look well unto thy feet, when thou entereſt into the houſe of God. Pſa. 17. 5. That my foot do not ſlide, Pſa. 16. 12. Prov. 4. 27. A Metaphor.

6. The daily ſlips and ſins that come of frailty. Joh. 13. 10. He that is waſhed, hath no need ſave to waſh his feet. The meaning is, ſuch as be once waſhed from their ſins by faith in the blood of Chriſt unto Juſtification, and by his Spirit unto newneſſe of life or Sanctification, ſuch have no need but to waſh their feet, that is, their daily faults which they fall into of weakneſſe: which are to be waſhed by lamenting that we have committed them, by asking of God pardon for them, beleeving that we ſhall obtain it through Chriſt; craving the government of the holy Spirit, to become more heedfull of ſin for hereafter.

7. Chriſts humanity or Manhood, the which is ſubject to his Godhead, as our feet be to our head; alſo to Chriſt, as he is man, all things are put under, as the footſtool to the foot.

foot. Pſal. 8. 6. Thou ſhalt put all things under his feet.

Referred I. to God, ſignifie his ſtrength and power, or irreſiſtible force and preſence, Hab. 3. 5.

II. To Chriſt, either properly, Pſal. 22. 16. or his power and omnipotency, Eph. 1. 22.

III. To Man; put for, Weak, Contemptible, Iſa. 26. 6. The common people, Iſa. 7. 20. An helper or ſuccourer, Job 29. 15. Power or rule, Pſa. 47. 3. Below, under, or in ſubjection to one, Pſal. 8. 6.

To dip the foot in oyl] To have oyl in ſuch abundance, as one may waſh or dip his foot in it, Deut. 33. 24.

To fall at ones feet] To become a ſuppliant to any. 1 Sam. 25. 24. She fell at his feet.

To lick the duſt of feet] Moſt ſubmiſſe reverence and extreme adoration, Iſa. 49. 25. Pſal. 99. 5.

At ones feet] Since my coming, or by my travell and ſervice, Gen. 30. 36. So the Foot is uſed to ſignifie laborious ſervice, Deut. 11. 10. and the coming or preſence of any, Hab. 3. 5.

Path of thy feet] Every action of our life, either outward or inward. Prov. 4. 26. Ponder the path of thy feet.

Feet of the poor] The weak and feeble means (not hands, but feet even of the poor) to pul down and deſtroy the proud and lofty enemies of his Church. Iſa. 26. 5, 6. The feet of the poor ſhall tread them down.

Foot of pride] The cruelty and violence of proud men. Pſa. 36. 11. Let not the foot of pride come againſt me.

To ſit at ones feet] To be ones Scholar or daily hearer. Act. 22. 3. At the foot of Gamaliel, & Deut. 33. 3. The reaſon hereof is, becauſe hearers ſate on forms at the feet of their Teachers, ſpeaking to them out of a chair or higher place.

To tread under ones feet] So to cruſh and conquer Satan and his inſtruments (Hereticks and Schiſmaticks eſpecially) as they ſhould never have power to recover themſelves. This Chriſt did perfectly in himſelf at his reſurrection from the dead, but in reſpect of his members, it ſhall not be fully done till the laſt reſurrection, when the victory of the Saints ſhall be conſummate. Rom. 16. 20. The God of peace ſhall tread Satan under your feet ſhortly. This [ſhortly] ſome refer unto the day of judgement, of which Paul ſaith it is at hand; others unto the time of Paul's comming to Rome, when he would confirm the beleeving Romans, as the ſeducers ſhould not be able to hurt their faith and ſalvation: But it is beſt to think, that he comforteth them with a promiſe of a quick and ſpeedy victory; there is in theſe words a plain alluſion to the promiſe, Gen. 3.

Waſhing one anothers feet] All mutuall duties and works of love. Joh. 13. 14. Ye ought to waſh one anothers feet. By this (One) all helps and ſervices towards our Neighbour are meant.

Felix] Happy or proſperous. The Romane Governour, Act. 23. 26.

Fellows] All true beleeving Chriſtians, whom Chriſt hath taken into fellowſhip of himſelf and his mercies. Pſa. 45. 7. With oyl of gladneſſe above his fellows.

Alſo a Companion, 2 Cor. 8. 19. It's often uſed in contempt, Gen. 19. 9. 1 Sam. 21. 15. & 25. 21. & 29. 4. 1 King. 22. 27. John 9. 29. Act. 18. 23.

Fellow priſoner] Either one which is partaker with another of his dangers, or which is held with another in the ſame priſon, Rom. 16. 7.

Fellowſhip] with God, 1 Joh. 1. 3. Chriſt, 1 Cor. 1. 9. the Devill, 1 Cor. 10. 20. the ungodly, Eph. 5. 11. Gods children, Gal. 2 9. in labouring, 1 Theſſ. 3. 2. ſuffering, Col. 4. 10. inheriting, Epheſ. 3. 6. helping, 2 Cor. 8. 23. 2 Joh. 8.

Fenced] Fortified, made ſtrong and ſafe, walled about. It's put for, Filled, 2 Sam. 23. 7. marg. Hedged, Job 10. 11. marg.

Ferret] Mentioned among the creeping things upon the earth, which were unclean, Lev. 11. 30. It's well known and ordinary, eſpecially with Warreners, who muzzle its mouth that it may not kil the Coneys, which under ground it hunteth, and driveth into their nets. Its hair ſticketh ſo faſt and cloſe to its skin that it can hardly be pulled out. It's theeviſh (called therefore fur or furunculus) and carryeth what proviſion it can to its den, providing ſtore of clean grain in the ſummer for its winter proviſion. If the male fear want, he hindereth the female from feeding; who therefore in ſecret provideth for her ſelfe. It's very ſtrong and fierce, tearmed Viverra, as which by force draweth alone, pulleth what it can. Within its den it's fierce, but without gentle. It bringeth forth many young ones at a time, which thereafter are blinde (as it's ſaid) the ſpace of thirty dayes. It ſucketh the blood of the beaſt that it biteth, but eateth not of their fleſh. It's an enemy to all others except its own kinde.

Fervent] Earneſt. Jam. 5. 5. 16. Prayer availeth much if it be fervent. Unto fervent prayer there is required, on the one ſide a diſtinct distinct knowledge, joyned with good feeling of our sins and miseries, and on the other side, a certain beleef to speed, coupled with zeal of his glory, earnest desire of Gods truth and mercy to be manifested in granting of prayers.

It's spoken of Spirit, Act. 18.25. Rom. 12.11. Minde, 2 Cor. 7.7. Prayer, Jam. 5.16. Charity, 1 Pet. 4.8. Elements, 2 Pet. 3.10. The originall ζέων in Act. 18.25. & Rom. 12.11. signifieth seething hot, of ζέω to boyl, because when liquor boyleth, it makes a hissing noyse. The Originall ζῆλος in 2 Cor. 7.7. importeth, the extreme heat of their affections for and towards Paul, burning in their love to him, their desire of him, and joy in him. The word ἐνεργουμένη in Jam. 5.16. signifieth working, yea such a working which hath efficacy to the bringing forth the being of that which it worketh, such a working that notes the most lively activity that can be, an actuall and effectuall force. The word ἐκτενὴς in 1 Pet. 4.8. is rendred fervent, by a Metaphor of running a race, but stretched out, according to its notation. It signifieth such a Charity as is vehement, swift, serious, earnest, liberall, large, cordiall, durable.

Festus] Festivall or joyfull. The surname of Portius, who succeeded Felix, Act. 24.27.

Fetters] Taken properly for shackles put on prisoners, whether of brasse, 2 Sam.3.34. or iron, Psal. 149.8.

Figuratively, for spirituall means of restraint from sin, and to bring the greatest under the Gospel, Ibid.

Fever] A disease wherewith the Lord threatned to smite the disobedient, Deut. 28.22. There are divers kindes thereof, Quotidian, Tertian, Quartane; &c. It's common to most, dangerous to all, deadly to many.

Few] A small number. Mat. 15.34. A few fishes. It is used here absolutely.

2. A very great number, yet but a few in comparison of a far greater. Matt. 20.16. Many called, few chosen. Mat.7.14. Few there are that finde it. It is put here comparatively. Also, for men of number, 1 Chr.16.19.mar. Short, Job 14.1. marg. Numerable, Job 16.22. marg.

F I.

Fidelity] Truth in performing of our just promises, and in standing to lawfull bargains and covenants. Mat. 13.23. Mercy and fidelity, or faith. Tit. 2.10.

Field] Taken 1. properly, Psal. 103 15.

2. For ones inheritance, house, land, &c. 1 King. 2.26.

3. A countrey, Psal.78.12. or territories of a City.

4. Ground or land about a Town, City, or habitation, Gen.4.8. & 24.63.

5. Any place abroad, Gen. 25.27.

6. Distinct particular bounded grounds, Isa. 5.5.

7. The world, Mat. 13.38.

Fierce] Applyed to mans anger, Gen. 49.7. Some mans countenance, Deut.28.50. Words, 2 Sam. 19.49. Gods wrath, 2 Chr. 28.11. Lions, Job 4.10. People, Isa.33.19. One possessed, Mat. 8.28. Wolves in the evening, Hab. 1.8. Windes, Jam. 3.4. Put for sharp, Hab. 1.8. marg.

Fiery] Spoken of Serpents, Numb.21.6. Law, Deut. 33.2. Oven, Psal. 21.9. Flying serpent, Isa.14.29. Furnace, Dan.3.6. Flame, Dan. 7.9. Stream, Ibid. 10. Darts, Eph. 6.16. Indignation, Heb. 10.27. Tryall, 1 Pet. 4.12.

Fig-tree] Hereof there is often mention made in Scripture. It hath a milky or fat oily humour, is very fruitfull, bearing three or four times a yeer. Is excellent for nourishment as begetting strength and vigour, for which cause before Pythagoras's time the Wrestlers fed thereon. The wood of the Egyptian fig-tree being put in water straightway sinketh, but once wet, swimmeth on the top. It becommeth barren both through the defect of the forementioned humour, which the Husband-man helpeth by dung and sweet water; and through the abundance thereof, which is holpen by letting out so much as is superfluous. The Indian fig-tree hath large leaves, quickly groweth up, from whence a glutinous string issuing and touching the ground, taketh root, and groweth up, so that in a short time it becometh a grove or wood, under the shadow whereof, Shepheards and Travellers may repose themselves. There are some wilde fig-trees which never bear, which being planted neer the bearing fig-trees, that the wind may passe through those to these, they become the more fruitful. It's of a tender nature, and cannot well endure the cold. It's said hereof, that if a fierce Bull be tyed hereunto, straightway he becometh gentle. It's many wayes medicinable. See 2 King. 20.7. Cakes were wont to be made of figs, 1 Sam.30.12. 1 Chr.12.40. Some are good, some naught, Jer. 24.2. It casteth its untimely fruit, Rev.6.13. Figs are not to be gathered of thistles, Luk.6.44.

For

For a man to dwell under his fig-tree, 1 King. 4. 25. is, peaceably and without disturbance to enjoy his own.

Fig-trees with leaves] Hypocrites, which have appearance of holineſſe without fruits of good life, Mat. 21. 19.

2. All unprofitable and unfruitfull hearers, Luk. 13. 7.

Fight] Referred 1. to God, who doth fight with his power for his Church, Exod. 14. 14. 2 Chr. 32. 8. To whom his people cry, that he may ſo doe, Pſal. 35. 1. againſt whom who ſo fighteth ſhall not proſper, 2 Chr. 13. 12. againſt whom we ſhould be carefull not to fight, Act. 5. 39. & 23. 9.

2. To Chriſt, who fighteth with the ſword of his mouth, Rev. 2. 16. in righteouſneſſe, Rev. 19. 11.

3. To Satan and his angels, who are adverſaries to Chriſt, Rev. 11. 7. & 12. 7.

4. To the wicked, who fight againſt Chriſt, Rev. 17. 14. The Church, Exod. 17. 8. 1 Sam. 4. 10. The wicked, 1 King. 20. 1. One another, Judg. 7. 22. 1 Sam. 14. 20. 2 Chr. 20. 23.

5. To the godly, who may corporally fight for the defence of their bodies, wives, children, &c. and muſt ſpiritually againſt the enemies of their ſoul, 1 Cor. 9. 26. 2 Cor. 10. 3, 4. 1 Tim. 6. 12. 2 Tim. 4. 7.

Fightings] put for Brawlings, Jam. 4. 1. m.

Figure] 1. Properly, and generally the proportion or faſhion of any thing, Lu. 9. 29.

2. Improperly, the relation or reſemblance that one thing hath with another, Act. 7. 44.

3. An Allegory or Figurative ſpeech, Gal. 4. 24. 1 Cor. 4. 6.

4. A planet or ſome other fixed Star, to which the ſuperſtitious Jews gave worſhip, having reſembled the deity thereto, Act. 7. 43.

5. Any thing ſo far as it is like to any other thing, eſpecially to come, and is the ſame with a type or ſimilitude.

6. Any Rhetoriſme, (for all Rhetorick conſiſteth of figures) by Synecdoche Partis or Speciei, is called a Figure, becauſe Metaphors and Allegories are the moſt uſuall figures.

Fill] Taken 1. for, To fil full, Gen. 21. 19.

2. To finiſh or accompliſh, Col. 1. 24.

3. To beſtow or impart largely, yet in meaſure, Luk. 1. 53.

4. To cover or overcaſt, Pſal. 83. 16.

5. To confirm or ſtrengthen, Zech. 9. 13.

6. To conſecrate, Exod. 28. 41. marg.

7. To make drunk, or abundantly moyſten, Iſa. 43. 24. marg.

Filled] Perfection, when there is no want. Luk. 2. 40. He was filled with wiſdome. This ſenſe the word filled hath, whereſoever it is ſpoken of Chriſt, or of the eſtate of the life to come.

2. A great and rich portion or meaſure of any thing, though there be great want, Luk. 1. 53. He hath filled the hungry with good things. Pſ. 107. 9.

Filthineſſe] The ſecret and uncomely parts of the body (as they are called of the Apoſtle) being naked or bare. Exod. 20. verſ. laſt. That thy filthineſſe be not diſcovered thereon.

2. Every ſin which is called filthyneſſe, becauſe it defileth man ſpiritually, and ought to be loathed as a filthy thing in Gods ſight. 1 Pet. 2. 1. Lay away all filthineſſe. 2 Cor. 7. 1. Jam. 1. 21. 2 Pet. 2. 20. Matt. 15. 18. That which cometh out of a man defileth a man. It ſignifies the ſin of Idolatry in Iſa. 44.

3. Shame and ignorance, which follows ſin and ſinners. Ezek. 16. 36. Thy filthyneſſe diſcovered.

Filthy] One who weltereth (as it were a Swine in mire) in the defilement of ſin, taking his full pleaſure in it. Rev. 22. 11. Let him that is filthy, be filthy ſtill. Stinking, Pſal. 14. 3. marg. Gluttenous, raw, Zeph. 3. 1. marg.

Filthy lucre] Gain gotten or kept by ſin. Tit. 1. 11. Teaching what they ought not for filthy lucre. 1 Pet. 5. 3.

Finde] The having that given us which we want and deſire of God. Mat. 7. 7. Seek and you ſhall finde. Thus do we finde God and good things.

2. The bringing home of a ſinner, by giving faith and repentance. Rom. 10. 20. I am found of them that ſeek me not. Thus God findeth us.

3. Alſo to finde doth ſignifie to performe and accompliſh. Iſa. 58. 13. Not finding their own pleaſures; that is, not doing or performing them, ſo Rom. 7. 18. Or, to finde, is to get, to obtain, Rom. 4. 1. Mat. 11. 29. Gen. 6. 8. Or, to finde importeth to invent, to deviſe new miſchiefs: as the Apoſtle ſpeaks of inventers and finders out of evill things, Rom. 1. 30. It is alſo to prepare or build, Pſal. 132. 4. Act. 7. 46. Alſo to come upon one, Pſal. 116. 2. 1 Chr. 10. 3. Alſo to obtain, 2 Tim. 1. 18.

It ſignifieth alſo, 1. To receive or get, Gen. 26. 12. marg.

2. To hurt or wound unto death, Deut. 19. 5. marg.

3. To invent or deviſe a thing, Gen. 36. 24.

4. To know experimentally, or by tryal, Rev. 2. 2.

5. To

5. To evince or make known, Gen. 44. 16.
6. To come or ſeiſe on, Deut. 4. 30. mar.
7. To perform or accompliſh, Iſa. 58 13.

It's put alſo for, To happen upon without ſeeking, Gen. 37. 15. Numb. 15. 33. 2 King. 22. 8. Be, Deut. 17. 2. Are, Gen. 19. 15. mar. Underſtand, Judg. 14. 18. Meditate or bethink, 2 Sam. 7. 27. To meet with, 1 King. 20. 36. & 21. 20. Diſcover, Dan 6. 4. Have, Neh. 5. 8. Obſerve, Mat. 8. 10. Take, Matt. 26. 43. Turn unto, or light upon, Luk. 4. 17. Chuſe, Act. 13. 22. Know, Neh. 9 8.

Finger] Referred 1. to God, ſignifieth the holy Ghoſt (which is as the finger and power whereby all great works are wrought) Luk. 21. 20. If I caſt out devils by the finger of God. Mat. 12. 28. Exod. 8. 16. A Metaphor. Alſo his works, Exod. 8. 19.

2. To Man, ſignifieth as a member of the hand, Lev. 4. 6, 25. ſo the leaſt degree of his power, 1 King. 12. 20. or ſtrength, Matt. 23. 4.

Finiſh] is all one with, Bring to paſſe, perform, fulfill, perfect, end fully; alſo to reſtrain, Dan. 9. 24.

To finiſh ſayings] To make an end of ſpeaking. Mat. 26. 1. When Jeſus had finiſhed thoſe ſayings.

To finiſh tranſgreſſions] The ſpecial benefit of remiſſion of ſins, and eternall righteouſneſſe conveyed unto the faithfull by Chriſt, unto their perfect ſalvation in heaven. Dan. 9. 24. To finiſh tranſgreſſions, &c. Theſe two benefits of taking away ſin, and conferring righteouſneſſe perfect and perpetuall, Chriſt performeth by two means: firſt, by Evangelicall preaching, (ſealing of the viſion and propheſie:) and ſecondly, by his prieſthood and ſacrifice of himſelf (the anointing of the moſt Holy.) See Dan. 9. 24. the whole verſe compared with 2 Cor. 3. Heb. 8, 9, & 10. chap.

To finiſh tranſgreſſions, or to aboliſh ſin, is Chriſts office and act, Tit. 2. 13, 14. 1 Joh. 3. 8. But here it is taken but for the beginning or firſt act of it, at Chriſts firſt coming. The ſecond degree is after that untill the end of the world. And the third or laſt degree of finiſhing ſin is to every particular man that is godly, in death, Rom. 6. 7. and to all the godly in the laſt day, 1 Cor. 1. 30. & 15. 24, 25, 27, 28. Heb. 4. 3, 9, 11.

To finiſh his good work] To make an end of what is begun, bringing it on by degrees to perfection, and giving grace of perſeverance. Phil. 1. 6. will finiſh (or perform) it.

To finiſh his works] To doe his works (morall and miraculous) in ſuch abſolute perfection, as there was no manner of defect or want. Joh. 5. 36. The works which he hath given me to finiſh.

It is finiſhed] Whatſoever was propheſied or figured under the Law, touching the ſufferings of Chriſt, is now ended, Joh. 19. 30.

Fire] That Element, whoſe property is to burn, and give light, which we commonly call Fire, the uſe whereof, is not onely for heat and light, but for trying and purging metals.

2. Chriſt, who in regard of his mighty operation in purging the Elect, and ſeparating them from the droſſe of their corruption, is compared to fire. Mal. 3. 2. He is like a purging fire, and Fullers ſope.

3. The holy Ghoſt, which is as a fiery quality enlightning and cleanſing the heart. Mat. 3. 11. With the holy Ghoſt and with fire; that is, which is like unto fire, Mat. 9. 49.

4. The Word of God trying and examining mens Doctrines. 1 Cor. 3. 13. Every mans work ſhall be revealed by fire; that is, As by the fire it is known what gold is currant, and what is counterfeit; ſo by the light of the Word, it ſhall be manifeſted what Doctrine is built upon the foundation, what not. Are not Papiſts wiſe builders, who would found their Purgatory fire on this Text? Which ſpeaks of the fire of the Spirit and the Word, and of tribulations of this life, not of the fire of Purgatory, or the laſt judgement after this life, as Lactantius and Ambroſe thought.

5. The Word of God; to wit, the Goſpel preached, which in another reſpect is likened unto fire, becauſe of the trouble it kindleth and raiſeth among the wicked which reſiſt it (as if fire were caſt amongſt them.) Luk. 12. 49. I am come to ſet fire on the earth.

6. Afflictions great and dangerous, which ſerve to try and purge us as gold is tryed in the fire. Pſa. 66. 12. We went through fire and water. 1 Pet. 4. 12. Think it not ſtrange concerning the fiery tryall.

7. Extreme and moſt ſharp pain, appointed for the wicked in hell. Mar. 9. 34. Where the fire never goeth out: that is, moſt grievous pain which never ſhall have end.

8. Gods burning diſpleaſure and wrath, as the cauſe of all puniſhment and pain to the wicked. Heb. 12. ver. laſt, Iſa. 66. 15. Pſal. 88. Pſal. 18. 8. A conſuming fire went out of his mouth.

9. Lightening and thunder, Pſal. 148. 8. Fire and hail, Pſa. 105. 32.

10. Angels or Spirits incorporeall, Pſal. 104. 4.

104. 4. Hebr. 1. 7. Pſalme 29. verſ. 7.

11. Holy zeal againſt ſin for the glory of God, Act. 2. 3. Luk. 12. 49.

12. Fire of the common nature, but conſecrate to the ſervice of God in the uſe of ſacrifices, Lev. 6. 12, 13. Lev. 10. 1.

13. Fire conſecrated, but not aright, Lev. 10. 1.

14. A miraculous fire kindled by the Lord in mercy, to ſhew his preſence and allowance of the Sacrifices of his ſervants, Lev. 9. 24. Judg. 13. 20. as alſo to comfort and help, Pſa. 105. 39.

15. A miraculous fire kindled and ſent by God in juſtice upon ſinners, Lev. 10. 2. Gen. 19. 24.

16. A miraculous fire ſent upon the Apoſtles, to repreſent the preſence of Gods Spirit with them, and the zeal that ſhould be in them, Act. 2. 3.

17. A miraculous fire that ſhall be ſent at the laſt day to conſume the world, 2 Pet. 3. 7, 12. Pſal. 50. 3.

Taken either properly or figuratively.

Properly, being either ordinary or extraordinary.

Ordinary, as Act. 28. 2.

Extraordinary, which either hath been already, ſhall be hereafter; or both hath been, is, and ſhall be.

That which hath been already, as the fire which was in the Buſh, Exod. 3. 2. and the Pillar of fire, Exod. 13. 21. both ſignes of Gods extraordinary preſence. That which came down from heaven upon the Altar of Burnt-offering, 1 Chro. 21. 6. a token of Gods good will. That which conſumed the two Captains with their Fifties, 2 King. 1. 14. an expreſſion of Gods power. That which was rained on Sodom and Gomorrah, Gen. 19. 24. a declaration of the ſeverity of his juſtice, and hatred againſt ſin. That which was conſecrated to God in the uſe of ſacrifices, Lev. 6. 12, 13. which at ſome times was not aright, Lev. 10. 1.

Shall be hereafter; as that wherewith the Whore ſhall be burnt, Rev. 17. 16. and that which ſhall be on the Day of God, 2 Pet. 3. 12.

Hath been, is, and ſhall be; as lightening and thunder, Pſal. 18. 14. Fire and hail, Pſa. 148. 8.

Figuratively, being put for God, Deu. 4. 24. The Church of God prevailing againſt the enemies thereof, Obad. 18. Extreme zeal and diſpleaſure againſt ſin, whether in God, Pſal. 18. 8. or in Chriſt, God-man, Luk. 12. 49. Falſe doctrine, Rev. 9. 17. The ſpeech of the ungodly, Prov. 16. 27. The wiſdome of hypocrites, Iſa. 50. 11. The proſperity of the wicked, Job 18. 5. War, Jer. 48. 45. Extreme grief, trouble, and pain; whether externall, Pſal. 66. 12. internall, Pſal. 39. 3. or eternal, Mar. 9. 44.

To anſwer by fire] To ſend down fire from heaven (as an anſwer) to the prayers which were made to God for it. 1 Kin. 18. 21. And then the God that anſwereth by fire, let him be God.

The buſh burning with fire and not conſuming] The eſtate of the militant Church here on earth, mightily preſerved by Gods defence, amidſt many great dangers and afflictions. Exod. 3. 2. The buſh burned with fire, yet not conſumed. It was a figure both of Moſes and the Iſraelites affliction in Egypt without harm. See Deut. 4. 20.

Cloud and fire on the Tabernacle day and night] Exod. 40. 3, 8. Gods guidance and protection of the people while they travelled in the Wilderneſſe; which grace the generations following remembred to the prayſe of God, Neh. 9. 19. Pſal. 78. 14. & 105. 39. Hereby was figured the guiding and defence of the Church by Chriſt under the Goſpel, whereof it is written, Iſa. 4. 5.

Coals of fire] Divine plague or judgement hanging over the malicious: Thus the Scripture phraſe ſignifies in Pſal. 18. 13. & 120. 4. the wrath of God. And that it ought thus to be expounded, appeareth further by comparing Rom. 12. 20. with Prov. 25. 22. Thou ſhalt heap coals of fire on his head, and God will reward thee; that is, God ſhall puniſh thine enemy, and reward thee. Some underſtand this heaping of coals, of kindling upon our enemies, fervent and burning charity by our beneficence, which ſo pricketh his conſcience, that he ſhall be forced to love us. Others thus, that we by our kindneſſe and benefits ſhall either ſo mollifie him, as that he will repent and embrace us friendly, ſhaking out of his heart cankred malice, as one would ſhake hot coals from his head: or elſe if he continue ſtill in his malice, he ſhall be ſet on fire with the teſtimony of his conſcience, and ſo be conſumed with the flame of Gods wrath; and this indeed is both a fit and a more full ſenſe.

Conſuming fire] The infinite wrath of God againſt faithleſſe and unrepentant ſinners. Heb. 12. 29. Our God is a conſuming fire. And often in the Prophets the wicked are likened to ſtubble, and Gods wrath to fire, which as eaſily and fiercely deſtroyeth wicked men as the fire doth conſume ſtubble.

Day and fire] Light of truth, one thing being expreſſed by two words. For as the truth of the Goſpell is day and light to reveal ſound and unſound doctrine; ſo it is fire, either to try if it be gold or ſtubble: or to make it glitter if it be gold, or to conſume it if it be ſtubble, 1 Cor. 3. 13. Very fooliſhly here the Papiſts would build their pelting Purgatory, which hath here nor elſewhere any ground to ſet foot on.

Fiery flying ſerpents] Properly, ſuch ſerpents as ſtung the Iſraelites to death, mentioned Numb. 21. 6.

Improperly, Hezekiah, like ſuch a ſerpent morally and ſpeedily wounding the Philiſtines his enemies, Iſa. 14. 29.

A fiery Law] That fire, out of which God uttered all things which he would have done of us, or not done, according to his law. Deut. 33. 2. At his right hand did ſtand a fiery law.

Fiery tongues] The operations and effects of the holy Ghoſt, expelling darkneſſe, and illuminating the minde with divine knowledge like to fire, and framing the tongue to tell forth the glory and works of God, Act. 2. 3.

Flames of fire] The piercing knowledge of Chriſt ſearching and piercing into all things, even the moſt ſecret thoughts of the heart. Rev. 1. 14. His eyes were like a flame of fire.

The holy Ghoſt and with fire] The holy Ghoſt, which is like fire, of a fiery quality, enlightening and purging our ſouls. Matt. 3. 11. He ſhall baptize you with the holy Ghoſt and with fire.

To paſſe or goe through the fire] To offer up, or to ſacrifice one as a burnt-offering: as Iſrael did their children to the Idol Moloch, 2 King. 21. 6. And he cauſed his ſons to paſſe through the fire. Lev. 20. 2, 3.

2. To purge or purifie metall by fire, that it may be meet for the Lords uſe. Num. 31. 33. All that will abide the fire, ye ſhall make paſſe through the fire, and it ſhall be clean.

3. To endure affliction, or to abide the tryall of the Croſſe. Pſal. 66. 12. We did paſſe through fire and water, and thou broughtſt us to a wealthy place.

Pillar of fire] A token of Gods viſible preſence, ſerving to guide the people of Iſrael in the night ſeaſon, through the wilderneſſe. Exod. 13. 31. By night in a pillar of fire.

Strange fire] Common fire, ſuch as was not ſent down from heaven. Lev. 10. 1. And offered ſtrange fire before the Lord. Unto which by alluſion, ſtrange worſhip, and ſtrange doctrines are likened.

Firebrand] A piece of wood almoſt burnt, conſuming it ſelfe, ready to be quite extinct.

2. The two Kings of Iſrael and Aſſyria, which threatned Judah, as if they would deſtroy it themſelves, being ſhortly (for all their brags) to fall and periſh. Iſa. 7. 4. Fear not theſe firebrands.

3. One in danger of deſtruction, Amos 4. 11.

Firkin] Joh. 2. 6. It was a meaſure in uſe among the Athenians. It was of the ſame quantity with Cadus, and Cadus was equall to the Hebrew bath, ſo that it contained four gallons and an half: Goodwyn, Moſes and Aaron p. 323.

Firmament] The whole cope of heaven, (or the orbs of the heavens) with the ayr; which becauſe it is ſpread over the earth, as ſilver and gold being beaten with hammers, is ſpread into ſheets, or plates and leaves: hence it is called of the Hebrews by a word which ſignifies firm expanſion or out-ſpreading; and being faſt and firm (though it be ſoft and liquid) thence it is of Latines, and of us in Engliſh called a firmament, Pſal. 19. 1. Alſo in Gen. 1. 6. under [Firmament] Moſes comprehendeth the three heavens, whereof Scripture makes mention. Firſt, the Air, with the three Regions which be next us. Secondly, the Skie or firmament where the ſtars be fixed. And thirdly, the Heaven of the bleſſed: And together therewith, were made the Angels, the inhabitants of thoſe higheſt heavens, by the name whereof, the holy Angels be ſometimes named, Job 15. 15. and being creatures, and made within the ſix dayes, and yet created neither the day before, nor any of the other dayes following, they muſt be created the ſecond, when the higheſt heaven their habitation was framed: for by Job 38. 4. they appear to be made before the third day, when earth was made dry land.

Note further, that Moſes ſpeech of the Firmament is threefold, or of three faſhions: ſometimes the whole compaſſe and ſpace above us, with all the bodies in it, be ſo called, as Gen. 1. 8. Secondly, it ſignifies the ſuperiour part, that wherein the ſtars be fixed, Gen. 1. 14. Thirdly, the inferiour part alone, namely the middle region of the air, where the clouds be, as Gen. 1. 6. The reaſon is, becauſe every part of the firmament is no leſſe the firmament then the whole outſtretched body of the heavens.

Firma-

Firmament] A thing ſpread abroad, according to the Hebrew, or faſt thing, according to the Greek, for the heavens are ſtretched out as a curtain, and ſpread out as a tent to dwell in, Pſal. 104. 2. Iſa. 40.22. The skies are alſo firm and faſt, and as a molten looking-glaſſe, Job 37. 18. Prov. 8. 28. Theſe tell Gods glory, and ſhew his handy-work, Pſal. 19. 2. for in the heavens he buildeth his ſtories (or ſpheres) Amos 9. 6. and planckereth his lofts in the waters, Pſal. 104. 3. and ſtretcheth out the North over the empty place, Job 26. 7. And in viſions of Gods glory the firmament is mentioned, Ezek. 1. & 10. And as his power is ſhewed in making the earth, ſo is his prudency in ſtretching out the heavens, Jer. 10. 12. Pſa. 136. 5. There's an upper firmament, where the ſun, moon, and ſtars are ſet, Gen. 1. 16, 17. and a lower, which is the air, wherein winds, clouds, and fowls do fly. Aynſworth on Gen. 1, 6. & 8.

Firm] put for Sure, ſetled, Joſh. 3. 17. Strong, unmovable, Job 41. 23. Fat, Pſal. 73. 4. marg. Certain, undoubted, unchangeable, Dan. 6. 7. Solid, ſtable, durable, Heb. 3. 6. As a pillar ſtandeth ſure and firm on its baſe or foundation; ſo muſt not we waver in our profeſſion, but continue conſtant, and perſevere therein even unto the end.

Fir-tree] Taken properly, figuratively. Properly, for a tree ſo named, which is great, high, and long, very ſtraight, and plain beneath, without joynts, and green both in ſummer and winter, Hoſ. 14. 8. from out of the bark whereof is gathered a fair liquid rozen, and dry white gum, taken by the common ſort for frankincenſe. It commonly groweth upon mountains, as on Mount Lebanon, 2 King. 19. 23. Iſa. 37. 24. and Senir, Ezek. 27. 5. The fruit is like to the Pine-apple, goodly in ſhew, but worth nothing. Thereof muſicall inſtruments were made, 2 Sam. 6. 5. Thereof houſes built, wherewith they were alſo adorned, 1 King. 9. 11. comp. with 1 King. 5. 5, 8, 10. & 6. 15. 34. The boards thereof uſed for ſhips, as the trees for maſts, Ezek. 27. 5. Thereon the Stork buildeth her neſt, Pſal. 104. 17.

Figuratively, 1. For the common people, Zech. 11. 2. 2. Great ones, Iſa. 60. 13.

First] That which is afore other, in reſpect of time: and then it is a word of order, and hath reference to ſecond, third, fourth, &c. Matt. 10. 1. The firſt is Simon called Peter; that is, he was firſt called to be an Apoſtle, 1 Cor. 15. 47. The firſt man is of the earth, the ſecond man, &c. 1 Cor. 12. 28. Note: how ſubſtantially doth this prove the power of Peter in power and dignity over his fellow Apoſtles: by this reaſon James muſt be Primate, becauſe he is named firſt, Gal. 2. 9.

2. That which is chief or more excellent, Rom. 3. 2. The word which is here tranſlated Chiefly, in the Originall it ſignifies Firſt. And ſo it is alſo in Luk. 19. 47. Act. 28. 2. where the Firſt of the Jews and of the people, is put for the Chief of the Jews and of the people. So Luk. 15. 22. Here it is a word of dignity and honour, Rom. 1 8. Dan. 6. 2. 3.

3. The greateſt, and then it is a word of power & authority. Rev. 1. 5. The firſt begotten of the dead, & that Prince of the Kings of the earth.

A thing may be ſaid to be firſt, 1. In number, Gen. 8. 5, 13. 2. In order, Matt. 28. 1. 3. In dignity, Dan. 6. 2. 4. By creation, 1 Cor. 15. 47. 5. By generation, Gen. 49. 3. 6. Birth, Luk. 2. 7. 7. In time, Heb. 9. 1.

First Adam] That man named Adam, firſt of that name, and firſt in reſpect of the ſecond Adam (having brought in ſin and death:) as the ſecond Adam ſignifies Chriſt, who deſtroyed theſe works of the firſt Adam, and became authour of righteouſneſſe and life to his members. 1 Cor. 15. 45. The firſt man Adam was made a living ſoul. See Adam in the letter A.

First-born] The principall or chief, Pſal. 73. 50. & 89. 27. Amongſt the Jews the firſt-born had three prerogatives: Firſt, a double portion of goods, Deut. 21. 17. Secondly, the government or chiefty over brethren, 2 Chr. 21. 3. Thirdly, the Prieſthood; for the firſt-born uſually miniſtred to God, and after thoſe, the Tribe of Levi miniſtred in their ſtead, Num. 8. 14, 15, 16, 17. Mal. 2. 5, 6, 7. & 3. 3. Numb. 3. 40, 41, 45. & 8. 13. This honour is peculiar unto Chriſt, who is ſaid to be firſt-born of every Creature, and the firſt-born among the dead, that in all things he might have the preheminence, Col. 1. 15, 18. To be worſhipped therefore of all the Angels, Heb. 1. 6. And Prince of the Kings of the earth, Rev. 1. 5.

First-born, or first-begotten] The firſt Male-childe that was born to a man, though there were none other born after it. Gen. 49. 3. Reuben my firſt born. Deut. 21. 17. 2 Chr. 21. 2, 3, 4. Mat. 1. 25. Amongſt the Jews, the firſt-born had a twofold prerogative above his brethren: One was, a double portion in his Fathers ſubſtance; the other was, preheminence and rule over his brethren. The Apoſtle alluding to this cuſtome of the Jews, called Chriſt the firſt begotten of all Creatures, Col. 1. 15. and firſt begotten of the dead, ver. 18. becauſe he was begotten (as he was the Son of God) before things were created; and being the chief heir of the world, he had chief rule amongst all his brethren; which being once dead, shall after rise to eternall life, Heb. 1. 2.

Note. First-fruits were offered to sanctifie all the rest: also to teach us, that we are to consecrate our best things and persons unto God: compare Exod. 13. 2. with Pro. 3. 4.

Note: The first-born, besides the two forenamed prerogatives, were also peculiarly consecrated and given to God, Exod. 22. 29. and were next in honour to the parents, Gen. 49. 3. succeeded them in government of Family or Kingdome, 2 Chro. 21. 3. And in the administration of the Priesthood, and in the service of God, Numb. 8. 14. 20, 27. And first-born is used for one dearly beloved of his Father, Exod. 4. 22. and for one higher then his brethren, Psal. 89. 20. Rom. 8. 20. Heb. 12. 20. Lastly, it figured Christ, and true Christians.

Christ is the first begotten of all that are begotten:

First, as God, two wayes; 1. By his eternity, before all created things, coming by generation one from another. 2. By his dignity and supremacy above them.

Secondly, as man, not in time, yet three wayes: 1. By his incarnation and birth, being the first that ever was, and the last that ever shall be so miraculous. 2. By his Resurrection, which was as a new birth to him out of the belly of the earth; and this is the cause virtually of all other persons rising from death.

3. By his exaltation into heaven, where he as heir of all things and elder brother to the Church or godly, reigneth over them, and they all both under him and by him.

First-born] Jacob, Gen. 27. 19. So he was not properly, yet so he was in mystery and spiritually, as John Baptist was Elias, Matt. 11. 14. and we Gentiles are of the Circumcision, Phil. 3. 3. Rom. 2. 28. and the children of promise are counted for the seed, Rom. 9. 8. Gal. 4. 28.

The first-born of the dead] Christ, the first-born among them which rise from the dead to go into life everlasting, Col. 1. 18.

The first-born of the poor] The most needy, weak, and beggerly Jews shall feed (that is) under Hezekiah as a shepherd, shall rest and enjoy good things, Isa. 14. 30. A Metaphor. For, as the first-born by the Law were to excell their brethren in wealth, as having a double portion; so these poor in misery should exceed other miserable persons.

To sanctifie the first-born] That Christ the first begotten of all creatures; that is, begotten afore any creature in respect of his Godhead; and according to his manhood, the first-born of his mother, Col. 1. 15. Matt. 1. 25. was consecrated the Prince of our salvation, or the Author and finisher of our faith, Heb. 2. 10. & 12. 2.

2. That Christians by the Spirit of adoption, as it were by the first-fruits of the Spirit, are assured that all they doe, and themselves, are acceptable to God, till they obtain full redemption, Rom. 8. 23.

3. That the first kindnesses and favours of God to any Nation, Countrey or Family, seal up his love to all the rest, 1 Cor. 16. 15. Rom. 11. 16. Exod. 13. 1, 2. Sanctifie to me the first-born, Exod. 22. 29. & 34. 19. Deut. 15. 19.

First faith] Vow in baptisme, whereby we are bound to professe the Christian faith: or that promise which younger Widows made to the Church to remain such, that they might serve the poor, 1 Tim. 5. 11, 12.

The first of the feast] Matt. 26. 17. signifieth the First day of the feast, as Mar. 14. 12. expounds it. So, first of the moneth, Exod. 40. 17. signifieth the First day of it.

First fruits] That small portion of fruits which was first gathered to offer unto God. Exod. 22. 29. & 24. 26. The first ripe fruits of thy Land, thou shalt bring to the Lord, Numb. 15. 20, 21.

2. Christ raised from the dead, by his owne resurrection, sanctifying all the beleevers to a blessed Resurrection, as the first fruits under the Law did sanctifie the whole masse and heap of other fruits. 1 Cor. 15. 20. The first fruits of them that sleep. Also as in order of time, the first fruits under the Law were reaped and cut down before the crop; so the Resurrection of Christ shall go before, & by the force thereof, the rising of beleevers again shal follow at the last Judgment: unbeleevers rise again, not by virtue of Christ the Mediatour, with whom they have no communion; but by force of Gods curse denounced against Adam, Gen. 2. Thou shalt die the death. The death here threatned, being principally that which is eternall, the wicked by a generall power of God must rise again to suffer as their sin deserveth.

3. An holy kinde of offering, taken out of the residue of men (as first fruits were taken out of the rest.) Jam. 1. 18. As the first fruits of his creatures.

4. A certain measure of the speciall and saving graces of the Spirit; as Faith, Hope, Love,

Love, &c. which therefore are likened to the firſt fruits, becauſe the having of theſe graces gives hope of enjoying heavenly bliſſe and joyes in due time: even as the Iſraelites, by the offering up of their firſt fruits to God, were raiſed up to a good hope, to enjoy the whole crop in due ſeaſon. Rom. 8. 23. We alſo which have received the firſt fruits of the Spirit, doe wait for the redemption of our bodies.

5. The fore-fathers, or firſt fathers of the Jews, as Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob Rom. 11. 16. If the firſt fruits be holy, ſo is the whole lump.

6. One who preventeth others in beleeving, being converted to Chriſt before others, Rom. 16. 5. 1 Cor. 16. 15.

Hereby being abſolutely put, Abraham, Iſaac, Jacob, with the reſt of the Patriarchs are underſtood, Rom. 11. 16. as by the firſt fruits of the Spirit, a certain meaſure of the ſaving graces thereof. Rom. 8. 23. The firſt fruits of Achaia; ſuch as were converted to Chriſt before others. 1 Cor. 16. 5. The firſt fruits of them that ſleep, Chriſt. Rom. 15. 20. The firſt fruits of the creatures; the regenerate taken out of the reſidue of men, Jam. 1. 18. tearmed, Rev. 14. 4. The firſt fruits unto God, and unto the Lamb.

Firſt heavens and firſt earth] Heavens and earth conſidered in that corrupt eſtate wherein now they are through our ſin, before that perfect reſtoring and change which ſhall be at the great and laſt day. Rev. 21. 1. Firſt heaven, and firſt earth.

Firſt love] Former affection of love, which being decayed, needed refreſhing, Rev. 2. 5.

Firſt reſurrection] Sanctification, whereby the elect ariſe from the death of ſin, to walk in newneſſe of life. Rev. 12. 6. Bleſſed and holy is he that hath part in the firſt reſurrection. Rom. 6. 4. Chriſt hath raiſed us from the dead, to walk in a new life. Mr. Brightman expounds the firſt reſurrection, of the calling of the Jews again unto the faith; which is after a ſort a raiſing them from the dead. This expoſition in ſubſtance is one with the former, becauſe the calling of the Jews will be the quickning of them by grace.

The firſt day of the Sabbath] The firſt day of the week, called in Scripture the Lords day, and with us Sunday. Joh. 20. 1. The firſt day of the Sabbath. So it is read in the Original, 1 Cor. 16.

The firſt of his ſtrength] The man-childe which is firſt begotten when his Parents were in their beſt ſtrength and vigour. Deut. 21. 17. For he is the firſt of his ſtrength. Gen. 49. 3. He is called the beginning of ſtrength.

Firſt things] Sins, and their effects of ſorrow and miſery. Rev. 21. 4. There ſhall be no more crying, nor death, nor ſorrow, nor pain, for the Firſt things are paſt.

Firſt works] Former actions which they were wont to doe while they heartily loved the Goſpel, Rev. 2. 5.

To give firſt] To give before, Rom. 15. 35. Who hath given him firſt. This place is diligently to be obſerved againſt ſuch as would have foreſeen faith and works the moving cauſes of election: and our actual and preſent works proceeding of faith, to be meritorious cauſes of ſalvation: whereas all creatures, even angels as well as men, are debtors to God, of whoſe free gift they hold all they have: he being debtor to none, of whom he takes nothing, nor takes ought from, therfore cannot be obnoxious and injurious to any.

Fiſh] Taken properly, which may be diverſly diſtinguiſhed; as,

1. From their quantity, ſome being ſmall, Mat. 15. 34. ſome great, Joh. 2. 11.

2. From the places where they are; as, In the ſea, Gen. 1. 26. In the river, Exod. 7. 18, 21. In ponds, Iſa. 19. 10. In pools, Cant. 7. 4. In brooks, Iſa. 9. 8.

3. From the divers wayes whereby they are caught; as, with nets, Mat. 13. 47. Joh. 21. 8. Angles, Iſa. 19. 18. Hooks, Mat. 17. 27. Spears, Job 41. 7.

4. From the manner of dreſſing it for food; as, by broiling it, Joh. 21. 9. Boiling, Baking, &c.

5. From their adjunct; ſome have, ſome have not fins and ſcales, Lev. 11. 9, 10. They are very numerous, Gen. 1. 20, 21. Numb. 11. 12. Pſal. 104. 25. Ezek. 47. 10. Gen. 48. 16. but know not the time when they ſhall be caught, Eccl. 9. 12. Prey one upon another, Hab. 1. 14. Of which even Solomon himſelf wrote, 1 King. 4. 33.

Figuratively, for a great multitude of people, Ezek. 29. 4, 5. Spirituall fiſh in ſpirituall waters, Matt. 13. 48.

Fiſhers] Such as make benefit unto themſelves by fiſhing. Iſa. 19. 8. The Fiſhers ſhall mourn; that is, the Ægyptians ſhall be ſorry, when that the river Nilus is dryed up, wherein they were wont to fiſh to their commodity.

2. The Armies of the Chaldeans, purſuing the Jews to deſtruction, like as Fiſhers take fiſhes in their net. Jer. 16. 16. I will ſend out many Fiſhers to take them.

Fiſhers of men] Miniſters of Chriſt, who by the Word (as by a net or hook) do draw men (as fiſhes) to Gods Church and Kingdome. Mat. 4. 16. I will make you fiſhers of men.

Fiſt] Properly, the hand, either cloſed up to ſmite, Exod. 21. 18. or, to hold faſt, Prov. 30. 4.

Figuratively, violence and wrong, Iſa. 58. 4.

Fit] is all one with meet, apt, convenient, expedient, profitable, ready, prepared. A fit man, for a man of opportunity, Lev. 16. 21. marg. Fitted, or made up, Rom. 9. 22. marg. Fitly, put for upon his wheels, Prov. 25. 11. Fitly ſet, put for ſitting in fulneſſe; that is, fitly placed and ſet as a precious ſtone in the foyl of a ring, Cant. 5. 12. marg.

Fitches] 1. The word קצח in Iſa. 28. 25, 27. is rendred by Tremellius, Melanthium, by Montanus, Nigella, by Buxtorf. both wayes. An hearb called Gith, of ſweet ſavour, and good againſt rheums. The ſeed is leſſe then Cummin, and black.

2. The word כסמים in Ezek. 4. 9. is rendred by Tremellius, Zeam; by Montanus in the text, Speltas; in the marg. Viciam. By Buxt. both wayes, Spelt, a tare; or, according to ſome, a kinde of wheat. The ſame word in Exod. 9. 32. is tranſlated rye.

Fixed] That is, prepared, Pſa. 57. 7. mar. Truſteth, is eſtabliſhed, Pſal. 108. 1. & 112. 7. Set or placed, Luk. 16. 26.

F L.

Flaggons of wine] The moſt comfortable promiſes of Gods mercies for ſalvation, which are as wholeſome wine abundantly drawn out of Chriſts cellar, which is his Word. Cant. 2. 5. Stay me with flaggons; that is, the plentifull comforts of the Word, and the rich graces of the Spirit, poured into my heart for my ſtrengthening.

Flame] ſignifies uſually great afflictions from the hand of God, Iſa. 30. 30. Lam. 2. 3. becauſe that flame is ſaid to burn up mountains and trees, Pſal. 83. 5. Joel 1. 19.

Put alſo for fire, Pſa. 106. 18. Iſa. 5. 24. The burning heat of the ſun, Joel. 1. 19.

To flatter] To ſpeak pleaſing or falſe words, with a minde onely to pleaſe and beguile, for our own profit. Prov. 18. 23. He that reproves findes more favour at laſt then he that flattereth, Prov. 26. 22.

It may be conſidered with reſpect unto ones ſelf, others.

Ones ſelf, Pſal. 36. 2. He flattereth himſelf in his owne eyes; that is, he alloweth, liketh, and praiſeth himſelf.

Others; God. Pſal. 78. 6. But they flattered him with their mouth; that is, went about by fair words and ſpeeches to deceive him, as it were; neither unfaignedly confeſſing their offences, nor rightly glorifying his majeſty. Our neighbour, and that by ſecret enemies, Pſal. 5. 9. & 12. 2. The ſtrange woman, or whore, Prov. 2. 16. & 7. 21. Falſe Prophets and Teachers, Ezek. 12. 24. & 1 Theſſ. 2. 5. Whence cometh much evill, Pro. 26. 28. & 29. 5.

Smoaking flax] Weak Chriſtians (like to flax) which hath neither heat nor flame, and yeeldeth forth but ſmoak onely: even ſuch as be infirm and weak Chriſtians, who have no more but an unfaigned deſire to beleeve and repent; as it were a ſpark ready to die. Mat. 12. 20. Smoaking flax ſhall he not quench. Iſa. 42. 3. Bruiſed reed hath the ſame ſignification.

Flea] A vile and baſe creature ſo called.

2. A mean and contemptible perſon. 2 Sam. 24. 15. After whom doſt thou purſue, after a dead dog, or after a flea? that is, an abject or baſe perſon.

Flee] Taken for 1. To run away, Gen. 16. 8.

2. To refuſe, or eſchew, 2 Tim. 2. 22.

3. To eſcape or avoyd, Mat. 3. 7.

4. To faign flight, or ſeem to flee, Judg. 20. 32.

5. To paſſe away, or vaniſh, Job 14. 2.

6. To be ſpeedily gone from a place, 2 King. 9. 3.

7. To be in fear and terrour, as one that fleeth from his enemies, Prov. 28. 1.

8. To ſeek unto, or relie upon, Iſa. 10. 3.

Fleſh] The body conſiſting of ſundry members. Rom. 2. 28. Which is outward in the fleſh; that is, in the body, 2 Cor. 5. 5. 2 Cor. 7. 1. Gal. 2. 20. Pſal. 79. 2. The fleſh of thy Saints unto the beaſts of the earth.

2. A wife. Gen. 2. 23. This is fleſh of my fleſh. Eph. 5. 31. Who ever hated his own fleſh? In Matt. 19. 5. (Fleſh) is put for (Perſon) Shall be one fleſh. Eph. 5. 31. Joh. 1. 13.

3. One of our kinde, a neighbour which is like unto our ſelf, even every man and woman. Prov. 11. 17. He that hateth his owne fleſh, is cruel. Iſa. 58. 7. Turn not thy face from thine own fleſh; that is, from him that hath a common nature with thee.

4. Conſanguinity, or neerneſſe of blood. Rom. 9. 3. My kinſmen according to the fleſh. Rom. 11. 14. If I might provoke them of my fleſh; that is, my kindred which were born of the ſame fleſh or Anceſtors.

5. The whole man, conſiſting of body and ſoul. Gen. 6. 12, 13. All fleſh had corrupted his way upon earth. 1 Pet. 3. 18. Chriſt was put to death concerning the fleſh; that is, concerning his manhood; for his body was dead naturally, naturally, and his ſoul felt the ſorrows of death ſpiritually, Act. 2. 28. Luk. 3. 6. 1 Pet. 2. 24. & Mat. 24. 22. And elſewhere often is Fleſh put to ſignifie the whole humane nature, Rom. 1. 3. & 8. 5. as it is ſimply conſidered, without ſinfull corruption: but together with all other properties and infirmities of a man.

6. Mankinde, being weak and feeble, either to help himſelf or others. Jer. 17. 5. Curſed be he that maketh fleſh his arm; that is, which placeth his ſtrength and ſafety in weak and vain man. Iſa. 40. 6. Pſal. 78. 39. Joel 2. 28. In theſe and many other places Fleſh doth ſignifie our whole kinde, as it is wrapt in great imbecillity and frailty.

7. The quality of corruption, which is not ſinfull, but the effect of ſin, accompanying our bodies in this life. 1 Cor. 15. 50. Fleſh and blood ſhall not inherit eternall life, neither corruption inherit incorruption; that is to ſay, our corruptible bodies cannot come to heaven. That which ſhall inherit Heaven, muſt be as incorrupt fleſh, a body without corruption.

8. What thing ſoever belongs to this preſent life. 1 Cor. 7. 18. Such ſhall have trouble in the fleſh: Thus Beza expoundeth it. Alſo, it ſignifies the eſtate of this preſent life, Phil. 1. 24. To abide in the fleſh is more needfull for you, Gal. 4. 14.

9. Whatſoever is in man reputed moſt excellent and glorious without the grace of Chriſt; as nobility, birth, wiſdome, wit, underſtanding and reaſon. Matt. 16. 17. Fleſh and blood hath not revealed this unto thee. Joh. 1. 13, 14. Born not of fleſh and blood, John 3. Phil. 3.

10. All that in Religion which is outward, and to be ſeen with the eye, as morall works or ceremonies. Rom. 4. 1. What hath Abraham gotten according to the fleſh? This word [Fleſh] in the ſecond verſe, is expounded to be the works of Abraham, which did not juſtifie him before God. Thus Beza and Piſcator interpret the place. See Gal. 6. 12. & 3. 3. where Fleſh ſignifies the Ceremonies of Moſes Law; and whatſoever it is which is without is noted by this word, Phil. 3. 3. Unbelief, and all motions of the ſoule which be evill, all wicked deſires, all our words and works done without grace: how good, holy, or ſpirituall ſoever they ſeem to be, and ſhew for: alſo, our learning, doctrine, preaching, prayers, and what elſe ſoever cometh not of the Spirit of Chriſt, is called Fleſh in the phraſe of Scripture.

11. The whole nature of man, as it cometh into the world, corrupt and vile, infected by ſin; or that part of man which is unregenerate. Joh. 3. 6. That which is born of the fleſh, is fleſh. Rom. 7. 5. When we were in the fleſh. Rom. 8. 8. They that are in the fleſh. Gal. 5. 13. that is, in the corruption of ſinfull nature; and in all other places, where the word Fleſh is applyed to men unregenerate, it ſignifies the whole corruption and naughtineſſe of our nature, raging and reigning both in the reaſon and will: but in thoſe places of Scripture, where Fleſh is attributed to new born perſons and is ſet againſt the Spirit, as in Gal. 5. 17, 19. 24. Rom. 7. 18. 25. In all theſe (I ſay), and ſuch like texts, the word Fleſh ſignifies the remainder of naturall corruption, even ſo much of that vicious quality of ſin, as ſtill ſticketh behinde in regenerate perſons, and is unmortified. The reaſon and cauſe why ſin is noted out by the name of Fleſh, it is becauſe through the Fleſh (to wit, our ſeed) or through carnall generation, ſin is conveyed into the whole man, ſoul and body. Alſo, for that the fleſh or body is the inſtrument to execute the luſts of our naturall concupiſcence, Rom. 6. 13. Thus Piſcator and Peter Martyr do judge. Illyricus adds another reaſon, to wit; becauſe man, as he is ſinfull, tends wholly unto carnall things. By this we ſee how ſuch are deceived, who will have onely the inferiour part of the ſoul (as will and affections) meant by Fleſh.

12. Common or ordinary courſe of nature. Gal. 4. 29. He that was born after the fleſh. Thus was Iſmael born of Agar, after the manner of other men.

13. The inferiour or unreaſonable part of the ſoul, as it is corrupt by ſin, to wit, the ſinfull will and affections. Eph. 2. 3. In fulfilling the will of the fleſh; that is, the deſires of our corrupt will.

14. Every living Creature, reaſonable and unreaſonable. Pſa. 136. 25. Which giveth food to all fleſh. Gen. 6. & 7. Lev. 17.

15. Authority, dignity, wealth, worſhip, corporall converſation. 2 Cor. 5. 16. We know no man after the fleſh.

16. Outward appearance. Joh. 8. Ye judge according to the fleſh.

17. A glorified perſon, whoſe body and ſoul is perfectly bleſſed. Job 19. 26. And ſhall ſee him in the fleſh.

18. The ſecret parts of man or woman. Lev. 15. 2. Whoſoever hath an iſſue from his fleſh. In all the places following, fleſh is put for the member of generation, Gen. 17. 13. Ez. 16. 26. & 23. 20.

It's taken alſo 1. for beaſts and fowls, Gen. 6. 19.

2. The company of the faithfull called unto the knowledge of God, Joel 2. 28.

3. An outward, humble, and laborious converſation, Heb. 5. 7.

4. The body of Chriſt, Joh. 6. 51.

5. Vain confidence, Jer. 17. 5.

6. The filthyneſſe of idolatry, Ez. 23. 20.

7. The weakneſſe and frailty of mans nature, Gen. 6. 3.

8. A type of the reſurrection, Ez. 37. 6.

9. The conjunction of male and female, Eph. 5. 31.

10. Chriſts humane nature, Rom. 8. 3.

11. The skin, Pſal. 102. 5. marg.

12. That red, ſoft, and tender part of the body of every living creature, Gen. 2. 21.

13. The naughtyneſſe and e wdneſſe of licentious livers, 2 Pet. 2. 10.

14. This preſent life, with all ſuch things as belong thereunto, 1 Cor. 7. 28.

15. That which is mans food, Gen. 9. 4. Deut. 12. 15.

16. The head, Job 4. 15.

17. Weak mortall man, Eph. 6. 12.

18. Mans naturall ſtrength, Gal. 3. 3.

19. Mans naturall judgement and capacity as man, Mat. 16. 17. Joh. 8. 15. Rom. 6. 19. 1 Cor. 1. 26. 2 Cor. 1. 17.

20. Slaughter (or beaſts ſlain) 1 Sam. 25. 11. marg.

According to the fleſh] As concerning, or for ſo much as toucheth the body and outward things which Maſters have in their power; for the Conſcience, that is onely in Gods power. Eph. 6. 5. Obey your Maſters according to the fleſh.

Fleſh and blood] The whole humane nature, ſuch as it is in reſpect of corruption, conſidered without the grace of regeneration. Mat. 16. 17. Fleſh and blood hath not revealed this; that is, humane nature, as it is corrupt and ſinfull, hath not taught it thee: or ſuch as it is in it ſelf, without reſpect to ſin and corruption, Heb. 2. 14.

2. Mortall men as they are weak and feeble. Eph. 6. 12. We wreſtle not againſt fleſh and blood. Gal. 1. 16. I communicated not with fleſh and blood; that is, with any man in the world.

3. An humane living body ſubject to rottenneſſe, 1 Cor. 15. 50.

The fleſh of Chriſt] Whole Chriſt, both God-head and Man-hood in one perſon, with all his benefits. Joh. 6. 55. My fleſh is meat indeed; that is, my ſelf being beleeved on. A Synecdoche.

2. The Manhood of Chriſt, as it is conſidered apart from his God-head or divine nature. Joh. 6. 63. The fleſh profiteth nothing; that is to ſay, the humane nature of Chriſt is not profitable to us of it ſelfe, but as the God-head dwelleth in it, giving life to it, and quickning us by it. Thus Mr. Tindal and the Bible-note expound this place. Auguſtine and Chryſoſtome expound it of underſtanding the words carnally, and not ſpiritually. The former is the better. Which ſenſe alſo Auguſtine alloweth: But Mr. Beza underſtandeth Fleſh generally of all fleſh, or corporeal meat, and not ſpecially of Chriſt his fleſh, becauſe he ſaith not my fleſh, but fleſh indefinitely.

To be condemned in the fleſh] To have the wicked naughtyneſſe of our nature mortified and ſubdued. 1 Pet. 4. 6. That they might be condemned according to men in the fleſh, 1 Cor. 5.

To crucifie the fleſh] To weaken the ſtrength and power of naturall corruption. The death of Chriſt doth this by merit, and the Spirit doth it by the efficacy of his grace, and the Saints by godly endevour ſtirring up that grace. Gal. 5. 24. They that are Chriſts have crucified the fleſh, Rom. 8. 12, 13, 14.

Deſtruction of the fleſh] The taming and making lean the body, the vitall juyce or moyſture being dryed up, by heavyneſſe of the heart for ſin. 1 Cor. 5. 5. He be delivered unto Satan for the deſtruction of the fleſh. Thus Piſcator expoundeth this place.

To eat the fleſh and drink the blood of Chriſt] All manner of participation with Chriſt in the Word, by the faith of the promiſes, as well as by Sacraments, Joh. 6. 35.

Fleſh of fleſh, or to be one fleſh] Natural conjunction, ſuch as is between husband and wife, or between kinſmen. 2 Sam. 6. 2. He is fleſh of our fleſh. Gen. 2. 23. This is fleſh of my fleſh. Mat. 19. 5. They twain ſhall be one fleſh; that is, as one man moſt nearly coupled; or, one perſon, as before.

Man and Wife are ſaid to be one fleſh:

1. For the undividable ſociety of life.

2. For the conjugal copulation and unity of the whole.

3. For the generation of one fleſh; that is to ſay, one childe.

4. For the mutuall right which each hath unto the body of the other, 1 Cor. 7. 4. Gen. 2. 24.

Note further, that this phraſe, to be one fleſh and bone, as it peculiarly noteth the moſt neer conjunction of man and wife, by natural and wedlock marriage; ſo of Chriſt to his Church by by ſpirituall marriage: ſo it importeth at large, and commonly any conſanguinity or kindred whatſoever, as in Labans ſpeech to Jacob, Gen. 29. 14. Thou art my bone and my fleſh: and in Davids words to the Elders of Iſrael, 2 Sam. 19. 12. Are ye not my bone, and my fleſh? and in their words to him, 1 Chr. 11. 1. Behold, we are thy bone and thy fleſh. Woman was of Adams fleſh, both originally: 2. and by communion of nature: 3. and by right of marriage, Gen. 2. 23.

2. Spirituall union and conjunction, ſuch as is between Chriſt and his members. Eph. 5. 30. We are members of his body, of his fleſh, and of his bones; that is, moſt ſtraightly coupled to Chriſt by the ſpirituall band of our faith.

Heart of fleſh] A tender and ſoft heart, yeelding unto the Word of God, and eaſily receiving the impreſſion of grace. Ez. 11. 19. I will give you an heart of fleſh, which is ſet againſt a ſtony heart, that is, hard and hardened, not yeelding to God. Such an heart Joſiah had, 2 King. 22. 19. and David prayed for it, Pſal. 51. 17, 18.

Holy fleſh] Fleſh to be offered in Sacrifice, Hag. 2. 13.

Such holy fleſh and meats as were aſſigned to the Prieſt to eat, might not be eaten of any Prieſt as was unclean, nor of any ſtrangers, or of hyred ſervants: which ſignified and figured, that they which ſerve in the Miniſtery, ſhould live by it, and that things appointed to that purpoſe ſhould not be converted to other uſes, 1 Cor. 9. 13.

The infirmity of the fleſh] The weakneſſe of our underſtanding, being more carnall then ſpirituall, and having in it more ignorance then knowledge. Rom. 6. 9. I ſpeak after the manner of a man, becauſe of the infirmity of your fleſh.

2. The croſſe or afflictions, which make one outwardly infirm and weak. Gal. 4. 13. Paul being conſidered according to the outward man, was weak.

To be in the fleſh] To be a meer naturall man, unregenerate, drowned in the luſts of ſin, and a ſervant of ſin, Rom. 7. 5. When we were in the fleſh, Rom. 8.

To ſow in the fleſh] To apply a mans care and labour to heap unto himſelf carnall and earthly things, which belong to the cheriſhing of this mortal fleſh or body. Gal. 6. 8. He that ſows to the fleſh, of the fleſh ſhall reap corruption.

Uncircumciſion of the fleſh] Fleſh or naturall corruption, which is an abominable thing, Col. 2. 13. Uncircumciſed ones were in times paſt abominable to God and his people; as David in deteſtation of Goliah, tearmed him that uncircumciſed Philiſtin.

To walk after the fleſh] To follow the motions of corrupt nature, in the guiding of our life and manners. Rom. 8. 1. Which walk not after the fleſh, v. 12.

To walk in the fleſh] To live in this frail body untill we be taken up into heaven. 2 Cor. 10. 3. Though we walk in the fleſh. Alſo, to live in the fleſh hath the ſame ſignification, Phil. 1. 22. Col. 2. 20.

Fleſhly] put for frail and mortal, 2 Chr. 32. 8. Soft, tractable, docible, Ezek. 11. 19. & 36. 26. 2 Cor. 3. 3.

A Flie] Herewith God plagued the Ægyptians, Pſal. 78. 45. Put for enemies, by whom God would puniſh his people, Iſa. 7. 18.

To hiſſe for Flie and Bee] To call unto him to fight againſt Ahaz: and Judahs enemies, as Ægyptians, Philiſtins, Idumeans, Chaldeans, &c. compared to Flies and Bees for their number, ſwiftneſſe, ſtrength and warlike skill, Iſa. 7. 18.

To flie] put for, To be greedy upon, 1 Sam. 15. 19. Aſcend, Job 5. 7. Vaniſh, or paſſe away ſpeedily, Job 20. 8. To make great haſte, Pſ. 143. 9. To be ſwift, Zec. 5. 1, 2.

Flint] A moſt firm and hard ſtone. Ezek. 3. 9. As an adamant, harder then flint, have I made thy forehead; that is, powerfully confirmed and ſtrengthened thee; upon which ground take the words of the Prophet, The Lord God will help me, therefore ſhall I not be confounded; therefore have I ſet my face like a flint, and I know that I ſhall not be aſhamed, Iſa. 50. 7. Their horſe hoofs ſhall be counted like flint; that is, hard and durable. The bringing water out of the flint, Deut. 8. 15. and turning the flint into a fountain of waters, Pſal. 114. 8. argue Gods power for the good and preſervation of his own. Man having found out the uſe of flint, for the houſe, in kindling fire; abroad, for the diſcharge of his piece, &c. may be ſaid, To put forth his hand upon the flint, Job 28. 9. marg.

Flock] A great company of Sheep gathered together into one paſture, Jer. 49. 29. or Goats, Gen. 38. 17.

2. The whole Church of Chriſt upon earth. Cant. 1. 7. Get thee forth by the ſteps of the flock. A Metaphor. Luk. 12. 32.

3. Some particular Church, Act. 20. 20. Take heed to the flock, 1 Pet. 5. 2.

Flood] The overflowing of waters, as Noah's flood, Gen. 6. Pſal. 93. 3, 4.

2. Extreme dangers and violent troubles ſtirred up by wicked men againſt Gods children, or ſuch great evils as be otherwiſe ſent of God. Pſa. 42. 7. All thy floods and waves are gone over me. Rev. 12. 15. The Serpent caſt waters (like a flood) out of his mouth. Pſa. 69. 15, Pſa. 18. 4.

3. Mighty Kings and People, who for ſtrength and power are like unto a flood. Iſa. 59. 19. For the enemy ſhall come like a flood. A Metaphor, Pſal. 93. 3.

4. Great ſtore, rich plenty of good things bodily and ſpirituall. Iſa. 41. 18. I will open the floods on the tops of the hils. Joh. 7. 38. Out of his belly ſhall flow floods (or rivers) of waters of life. A Metaphor.

5. The red ſea, Pſal. 66. 6.

6. Spirituall bleſſings, Iſa. 44. 3.

Floore] The viſible Church as it contains good and bad, (like wheat and chaffe in a Barn floore) Mat. 3. 21. He hath his fan in his hand, and will purge his floor. A Metaph.

It's put alſo for the Barn floore, Hoſ. 9. called the Threſhing floore, Dan. 2. 35. and the Corn floore, Hoſ. 9. 1. and the floore of a Houſe, 1 King. 6. 15, 16, 30.

Flouriſhing] The outward frail eſtate and ſhort proſperity of wicked men. Pſa. 37. 35. I have ſeen the wicked ſtrong and flouriſhing (or ſpreading) like a green Bay tree. Pſ. 103. 15. As a flower of the field, ſo flouriſheth he.

2. The happy proſperity of the godly. Prov. 14. 11. The tabernacle of the juſt ſhall flouriſh.

3. Spiritual livelyneſſe and vigour. Pſal. 92. 14. They ſhall be fat and flouriſhing.

Flowing] Plentifull increaſe either of earthly bleſſings, or of ſpirituall graces. Joh. 7. 38. Out of his belly ſhall flow the water of life. Pſal. 23. 4. My cup doth flow (or run over.)

It's put alſo for, To encreaſe greatly, Pſal. 147. 18. To run over, Joſh. 4. 18. To abound plentifully, Exod. 3. 8. Lev. 20. 24. Job 20. 28. Jer. 3. 18. And for much gathering together to a place, Iſa. 2. 2. & 60. 5. Jer. 51. 44.

Flower] Frail and vaniſhing men, which flouriſh for a while, and ſuddenly vaniſh like a flower that withereth in a day, Iſa. 40. 8. The graſſe withereth, and the flower fadeth. Metaphor.

2. Riches, proſperity, and all good things of this life. Jam. 1. 10. For as the flower of the graſſe, he ſhall vaniſh away. That is, his riches and plenty of worldly goods ſhall fade as a flower fadeth.

3. The prayers and thankſgiving of the faithfull Chriſtians, whereof the flower offered in the Law was a ſhadow and type, Lev. 7. 12.

It's put alſo as properly, Pſal. 103. 15. ſo for the likeneſſe and reſemblance of a flower, Exod. 37. 19. 1 King. 7. 26. For mans moſt lively, luſty, and flouriſhing time, 1 Sam. 2. 33. The proſperity of the ungodly, Job 15. 33. The fit time for marriage, 1 Cor. 7. 36. A womans ſeparation and uncleanneſſe, Lev. 15. 24, 33.

Flute] A muſicall inſtrument, Dan. 3. 5. The word there uſed is משרוקיתא, which cometh of the root שרק, to hiſſe or whiſtle; for ſuch a ſound doth this inſtrument make.

F O.

Fold] A ſheep-coat, or ſheep-houſe, to keep them ſafe from the cruelty of Wolves, or other wilde beaſts.

2. The inviſible Catholick Church of Chriſt, conſiſting of beleeving Jewes and Gentiles. Joh. 10. 16. I have other ſheep, which are not of this fold. The elect are gathered into the Church, as ſheep into a fold, by the Miniſtery of the Paſtors. A Metaphor.

3. A ſafe place for Gods people, Jer. 23. 3. Ezek. 34. 14.

To follow] To come after one which goeth before. 1 Sam. 25. 27. Let it be given them that follow my Lord, Matt. 4. 19. As ſervants follow and goe after their Maſters. Alſo, to accompany others, Mar. 9. 38. Luk. 9. 49.

2. To imitate or doe as another gives us an example. Matt. 10. 38. He that takes up his Croſſe and follows me. 1 Cor. 11. 1. Be ye followers of me, as I am of Chriſt.

3. To beleeve and obey. Joh. 10. 27. My ſheep hear my voyce, and follow me. 1 King. 18. 11. 2 Pet. 1. 16. And in all places where men are ſaid to follow ſtrange gods: it doth ſignifie, to put truſt in them, and relie upon them, yeelding them ſervice.

4. To endevour and ſtrive towards the obtaining of ſomething. Phil. 3. 12. I follow, & v. 14. I follow hard; which is expounded in v. 13. I endevour.

The word in the Originall tongue, is affirmed either of a thing, or of a perſon: When it is referred to a thing, then it ſignifies a deſire with with indevour to obtain that thing, and is put in good part, as in Rom. 9. 30, 31. But being applyed to a person, it is then put in ill part, for persecuting, and desire to hurt, as Rom. 12. 14.

5. To die with one, Joh. 13. 36. Thou canst not follow me now; that is, die with me.

Being referred unto Man, I. In respect of Christ, it signifieth,

1. Corporally to attend upon him, Mat. 8. 23.

It's put also for, To practise what we hear and learn, Joh. 10. 27. To walk after, Ezek. 13. 3. marg. To be led away with, Ruth 3. 10. To keep company with, 1 Sam. 30. 21. To be like, Prov. 12. 11. To go with one, 1 Cor. 10. 4. marg.

To follow Christ] signifieth, first corporall attendance on Christ his person while he lived, Mat. 8. 28. & 9. 9.

Secondly, to become his Disciple for to be after imployed in the Ministery of the Gospel, Joh. 1. 43. and so all the Apostles.

Thirdly, to deny our selves, to take up the Crosse of Christ, to rest and depend on him by a true faith in life and death, Matt. 16. 24.

Food for Corn, Gen. 44. 25.

It's put also for all that sustenance, by which man liveth, Exod. 21. 10. Deu. 10. 18. 1 Sam. 14. 28. Psal. 136. 25. Act. 14. 17. 1 Tim. 6. 8.

Fool or foolish] An Idiot, or one destitute of wit, of little or no capacity and discretion.

Fool is named after a word in Hebrew (Nabal) which hath the signification of fading, dying, or falling away (as doth a leaf or flower, Isa. 40. 8. 1 Pet. 1. 1, 24.) This name is given to a foolish man, as having lost the juyce and sap of wisdome, reason, honesty, and godlinesse, being faln from grace, and without the gift of God, as a dead carkasse, and therefore ignoble, and of vile esteem, opposed to the noble man, Isa. 32. 5.

A fool is also named אויל in respect of his rashnesse and headynesse, Psal. 38. 5. Prov. 12. 15. and כסיל in respect of his inconstancy, fickleness, and mutability, Psal. 49. 11.

The Apostle in Greek turneth it, Imprudent, or without understanding, Rom. 10. 19. from Deut. 32. 21.

2. A sinner and wicked man, who despising the wisdome of the Word, follows his owne lusts, and the sinfull vain customes of this wicked world. In this sense, the word is used throughout the Proverbs of Solomon. Also, Psal. 14. 1. The fool hath said in his heart: and often elsewhere, as Psal. 73. 3. I fretted at the foolish, to see the prosperity of the wicked: thus expounded, Psal. 5. 5.

3. A covetous worldling. Luk. 12. 20. O fool, this night shall thy soul be taken from thee, 1 Sam. 25. 25. It is put for an Idolater in Rom. 1. 22. They became fools.

4. A man that is unprovident without foresight. Mat. 7. 26. He that heareth these words and doth them not, shall be like unto a fool which built his house, &c.

5. One who (though he be godly) yet hath much ignorance and unbeleef remaining in him. Luk. 24. 15. O ye fools and slow of heart to beleeve. It is also put for all unbeleevers, which wholly want faith, Mat. 25. 2. Five were fools.

6. One possessed with naturall ignorance from his birth. In which sense, all men, yea young infants, naturally be fools. Tit. 3. 3. We were fools, or unwise.

7. A name or word of reproach. Mat. 5. 22. Whosoever shall say, Fool. A Synecdoche. Every word of disgrace, as Knave, Asse, &c. is understood by this one.

8. One which doth see and acknowledge his owne spiritual foolishnesse, 1 Cor. 3. 18. Let him be a fool that he may be wise; that is, saith Musculus, let him be a beleever.

9. One accounted a fool by the world. 1 Cor. 4. 10. We are fools for Christ.

10. One spiritually bewitched, having the eyes of his minde so held and hood-winkt by the policy of Satan and his instruments, false Teachers, as not to see manifest errors and blasphemies, but to apprehend them for the sound truth. Gal. 3. 1. O ye foolish Galatians, who hath bewitched you.

It's put also for 1. One that is wise in his owne conceit, Rom. 1. 22.

2. One

2. One wholly voyd of faith, Mat. 25. 2. 3. Every unregenerate perſon, Tit. 3. 3. Such are fools indeed, who are full of words, Eccl. 10. 14. Pratlers, Prov. 10. 8, 10. Atheiſts in their hearts, Pſal. 14. 1. & 53. 1. Hypocriticall blinde guides, Mat. 23. 17. For outward cleanneſſe, being filthy within, Luk. 11. 40. Slow to beleeve the truth, Luk. 24. 25. Idolaters, and ſuch as think themſelves wiſe in preſcribing a worſhip to God, Rom. 1. 22. Falſe Prophets, Hoſ. 9. 7. Poſſeſſed with naturall ignorance, Tit. 3. 3. Enticed by an adulterous woman, Pro. 7. 22. Selfe-wiſe, Prov. 26. 12. Haſty in words, Prov. 29. 20. Sloathfull, Eccleſ. 4. 5. Raſh and unadviſed before God, Eccl. 5. 1. Deſpiſers of wiſdome, and haters of knowledge, Prov. 1. 7, 22. Evill doers, Pſal. 107. 17. Alſo the ſecure wealthy worldling, Luk. 12. 20. He that uttereth all his minde, Prov. 29. 11. Such as underſtand not the works of the Lord, Pſal. 92. 6. Such as beleeve not his reſurrection, 1 Cor. 15. 36. He that feedeth on fooliſhneſſe, Pro. 15. 14. Whoſe heart is at his left hand, Eccl. 10. 1. Such a one as truſteth in his owne heart, Prov. 28. 26. He that makes a mock of ſin, Prov. 14. 9. He that dealeth fooliſhly, Pſal. 75. 4. Such as get riches unjuſtly, Jer. 17. 11. One that committeth filthyneſs, 2 Sam. 13. 13. Such as ſuffer anger to reſt in the heart, Eccl. 7. 9. He that hideth hatred with deceitfull lips, and uttereth a ſlander, Prov. 10. 18. That holds it an abomination to depart from evil, Prov. 13. 19. Such as be wicked, and will not depart from evill, Ibid. & 26. 10. Such as will be medling with ſtrife.

Folly in Iſrael] ſignifieth, a filthy, wicked, ignominious act and deed, done to the reproach of God, and ſcandall of his Church, Gen. 34. 7. Deut. 21. 21. Joſh. 7. 15. Judg. 20. 6.

Fooliſh queſtions] Queſtions or doubts moved about things curious and unprofitable. 2 Tim. 2. 23. Put away fooliſh queſtions.

Fooliſh things] Such things as the world eſteemeth for fooliſh. 1 Cor. 1. 27. God hath choſen fooliſh things to confound the wiſe.

Vain-glorious fools] Mad-boaſting people, (of Halal) a word which ſignifies to extoll, praiſe, glorifie, which when it is of ones ſelf, and immoderate, it proveth dotage, folly, and madneſſe, Pſa. 5. 5. Hence is the word uſed for mad, wood, raving with folly, Eccleſ. 2, 2, 12. & 7. 9. & 10. 13. Iſa. 44. 25.

Fooliſh words] Such words as be voyd of reaſon and godlyneſſe, having in them no edification. Eph. 5. 4. Neither filthyneſſe nor fooliſh talking.

Fooliſhneſſe or folly] All naughtineſſe whatſoever generally. Prov. 22. 15. Fooliſhneſſe is bound up in the heart of a childe.

2. Some particular hainous ſin, as Inceſt, idolatry, and ſuch like, 2 Sam. 13. 12. Commit not this folly, Joſh. 7. 15.

3. That which men doe account abſurd and fooliſh. 1 Cor. 2. 1, 23. We preach Chriſt crucified, unto the Grecians fooliſhneſſe.

4. That which is indeed and truth moſt fooliſh and abſurd. 1 Cor. 2. 19. The wiſdome of the world is fooliſhneſſe with God.

5. It ſignifieth a ſhameleſſe impudency in open profeſſing, excuſing, and defending wickedneſſe, Iſa. 9. 17.

There is a threefold fooliſhneſſe, whereof the firſt onely is properly ſo called as being ſeated in the minde; the other figuratively or metonymically, viz.

1. Mentall, ſo are erroneous thoughts, 1 Cor. 3. 19, 20. Prov. 22. 25.

2. Vocall or Verball, ſo are all impertinent, ſophiſticall, unprofitable, unreaſonable and abſurd ſpeeches, Eph. 5. 4. Job 2. 10. Prov. 15. 2. Iſa. 9. 17.

3. Actuall or reall. So is every wicked work, and the whole life and courſe of wicked men, if we compare their poor gains with their infinite loſſes and eternall undoings, Mat. 16. 20. and conſider their oppoſition againſt the wiſdome, will, and power of God, Luk. 20. 18. and the vanity of all their earthly expectations, Luk. 12. 20. See alſo Wiſd. 5. 3, 4, 5, &c.

Accordingly, fornication, Gen. 34. 7. Taking of the accurſed thing, Joſh. 7. 15. Uncleanneſſe, Judg. 20. 6. Inceſt, 2 Sam. 13. 12. are tearmed folly or fooliſhneſſe. So in 1 Cor. 3. 19. The wiſdome of the world is tearmed fooliſhneſſe with God, or imaginary; as unto the Greeks the preaching of Chriſt crucified, 1 Cor. 1. 23.

Foot] put 1. properly, Gen. 8. 9.

2. For an artificial foot, Exod. 30. 16.

3. For the perſon, Prov. 1. 15.

4. For the affection of of the heart, Pſal. 26. 12. Eccl. 5. 1.

5. For doing, Iſa. 58. 13.

Foot-ſteps] put for good converſation and behaviour, Pſal. 89. 51. and for the miraculous work of Gods divine providence for Iſrael in drying up the Red ſea, and covering again the way of the peoples paſſage, ſo as it could not be known, Pſal. 77. 19.

Foot-ſtool] put for a low place, Jam. 2. 3. It is ſpoken of God, 2 Chr. 28. 2. and thus, the Temple or Ark in it, 1 Chr. 28. 2. The Sanctuary or Ark, Pſal. 99. 5. Iſa. 60. 13. The Earth; Iſa. 66. 1. Mat. 5. 35. The enemies of Chriſt, Pſa. 110. 1. Mat. 22. 44. are called.

Sanctuary

1. Earth, which is ſubject to God, and put under his will and power, as a ſtool under our foot. Iſa. 66. 1. Heaven is my ſeat, and the earth is my footſtool. A Metaphor.

2. The Temple of God, or the Ark where God promiſeth to hear his people. Pſal. 96. 5. Fall down before his foot-ſtoole. Lam. 2. 1. See Bible-note in Geneva Tranſlation.

3. Rebellious ſinners ſubdued under Chriſt, by the power and decree of God the Father, either voluntarily, as the Elect, or violently, as the Reprobates; yea, and Devils alſo made ſubject to him, and caſt down to everlaſting ruine, Pſal. 110. 1. ſee Rom. 14. 11. & 16. 20. Eph. 1. 21, 22. Phil. 2. 10. Rev. 20. 10.

For] An efficient originall cauſe of a thing, Rom. 8. 2. Rom. 3. 23. And elſewhere very often, this word (For) is a cauſall particle, Luk. 19. 44. Therefore, the Papiſts do dote, when they doe hereupon gather that love and works be the meritorious cauſe of forgiveneſſe of ſins: whereas, the forgiving much debt, is laid down as the cauſe of much love, v. 42. 38.

Note: Theſe words for and becauſe, be generall notes ſetting forth the coherence and knitting of one thing with another in what ſort ſoever.

2. A ſigne, or a conſequent of a thing, Luk. 7. 47. Many ſins are forgiven her; for ſhe loved much. Here this particle [For] noteth the conſequent, and that which followeth forgiveneſſe of ſin; to wit, the earneſt love of Chriſt: and doth not note the cauſe why her ſins were forgiven her, which was her faith in Chriſt. Matt. 25. 34, 35. Come ye bleſſed of my Father, For when I was hungry: Here likewiſe the particle [For] noteth not the cauſe, but the ſignes and tokens of bleſſed perſons, or the fruit by which they were diſcerned and known. Here it is a particle redditive, rendring the reaſon of the foregoing ſentence, Rev. 14. 13. Rom. 4. 2, 3. & 10. 16. For Elias ſaith, &c. is not to be underſtood, that therefore the Jews beleeved not, becauſe Elias foretold it, but he foretold it becauſe they were not to beleeve.

3. In behalfe of another, or in ones ſtead, to ones benefit or good: as to ſuffer for the Goſpel, or for the name of Chriſt, to die for the brethren; and Chriſt dyed for us, and ſuch like. Whereof all do note the impulſive cauſe, Mar. 10. 45. Matt. 17. 27.

4. The finall cauſe or end, as Rom. 11. 36. All things for him; that is, his owne glory is the end to which all things, both made of him, and governed by him, are referred and diſpoſed. Prov. 16. 4. God made all things for himſelf. 1 Cor. 11. 15. Heb. 11. 2.

5. In the ſtead, or place, or lieu, as in caſes of permutation by contracts, &c. Gen. 29. 20. Jacob ſerved ſeven yeers for Rachel, viz. to enjoy her as his Wife, in ſtead of his ſeven yeers ſervice, Gen. 23. 13. Heb. 12. 16.

6. The reaſon or proof of a matter not well before underſtood, or beleeved: the proofs or arguments are of many ſorts, and as well from effects to prove the cauſes being duties, or reprove them being ſins, as contrarily, Mat. 16. 24, 25, 26. 1 Sam. 2. 25.

7. It is taken actively for the effect of a thing on any others, Mar. 10. 20. Joh. 17. 19. 2 Theſſ. 1. 5.

8. It's taken paſſively for the event or paſſive effect of a thing to be received, 2 Theſſ. 1. 5. Heb. 12. 2.

9. For is taken as a note of the object, toward which the thing ſpoken of hath relation, Rom. 8. 10.

Forbear] put for, To ceaſe, Exod. 23. 5. marg. Deut. 23. 22. To leave off, 1 Sam. 23. 13. 1 King. 22. 6. To hold ones peace, 2 Chr. 25. 16. To protract, Neh. 9. 30. marg. To defer or delay, Prov. 24. 11. To go back, Jer. 40. 4. To ſuffer or tarry, Jer. 44. 22. Not to hear, Ezek. 2. 5. & 3. 27. To be ſilent, Ezek. 24. 17. marg. To let alone, Zec. 11. 12. To ceaſe from, 1 Cor. 9. 6. To ſupport, Eph. 4. 2. To moderate, Eph. 6. 9. mar. To be patient, Rom. 2. 4.

Forbid] To enjoin ſilence, Numb. 11. 28. To hinder both by words and with force, Mar. 9. 39. Luk. 6. 29. Act. 24. 23.

God forbid] A form of denyall, with a loathing of the thing objected, Rom. 3. 31. alſo 6. 2. This is uſuall with Paul ſo often as he judgeth cavils unworthy of a direct refutation. Μὴ γένοιτο, Let it not be.

Force] Violence, Gen. 31. 31. Vigour, ſtrength, or moyſture, Deut. 34. 7. marg. Strength, Jer. 23. 10. Amos 2. 14. Validity, Heb. 9. 17.

God of forces] The true God the God of Iſrael, of infinite ſtrength, in whoſe ſeat Antiochus ſhould honour a ſtrange god, never known to his predeceſſors, even Jupiter Olympius, of whom you may read in the ſecond of Mac. 6.

Fore-knowledge] A bare fore-ſight of things to come, or to be done hereafter; which in God is ever joyned with his counſell

ſell or determination. Act. 2,23. Being delivered by the determinate counſell and fore-knowledge of God.

2. Gods eternall love or good pleaſure. Rom. 8.29. Whom we knew before, &c. Rom. 2. 1 Pet. 1.2. Elect according to the fore-knowledge of God.

Fore-knowledge, purpoſe, good pleaſure of God, be indifferently uſed and put one for another in Scriptures, where it is uſuall by knowledge to ſignifie approbation, embracing with favour, when God ſpeaks of his Creature, as Pſal. 1.6. Mat. 7.23. Joh. 12.18. 2 Tim. 2.19. Rom. 8.29. & 11. 2. Rom. 9.11. Eph. 1.11. In this kinde of knowledge, which is the efficient of approbation, and ever joyned with his good pleaſure, there is contained the effectuall will of God, to conferre grace to perſons ſo known. Iſa. 53.6. & 22.16. 8. Rom. 4.17. 2 Tim. 1.9. Titus 3.4,5. Deut. 7.6,7,8. & 8. 17,18.

Such as ſever Gods will from his fore-knowledge, or do make his fore-knowledge of things, the higheſt cauſe of their exiſtence, (whereas God fore-knoweth what things ſhall be, becauſe he hath firſt decreed they ſhall be) or which will have fore-knowledge of faith and works, to be cauſes of Election; they are deceived.

Fore-ordained] 1 Pet. 1.20. The word in the Originall is properly foreſeen.

Now there are three kindes of foreſight.

1. That bare knowledge of things, and this reacheth to all things that ever ſhal be.

2. That knowledge of approbation, God knowing man above others, with his ſpeciall favour: this reacheth onely to the elect.

3. When God is ſaid to know things, as a Judge doth in giving ſentence. In this laſt ſenſe the word is here taken, and therefore well rendred fore-ordained; to note ſuch a foreſight, as had a determination and ſtatute in it. Byfeild on Peter, ip. 149.150.

Foreskin of the fleſh] Gen. 17.11. Of the heart, Deut. 10.16. Jer. 4.4.

To forget] To let things ſlip out of minde. This is the generall ſignification.

2. To let God, his Word, and benefits ſlip out of minde, whereof followeth diſobedience, neglect of Gods worſhip, and wicked contempt of God, as a fruit and conſequent of ſuch forgetfulneſſe. Judg. 3.7. They did wickedly and forgot the Lord. Pſ. 78.42. Thus men forget God; the wicked wholly, the godly in part.

4. To caſt off one, to ceaſe to love, care, and provide for him. Pſa. 77.9. Hath God forgotten to be mercifull? Iſa. 49.15,16. Thus God forgets the wicked; and the godly do ſometime think that they are thus forgotten, yet are not ſo. Pſal. 137.5. If I forget thee (O Jeruſalem) that is, if I ceaſe to love thee.

4. To deferre or put off the puniſhment of the wicked; and to remove puniſhment from the godly. Pſal. 74.23. Forget not the voyce of the enemy. Amos 8.7. I will not for ever forget any of their works; that is, I will not alway defer to puniſh them, though it may ſeem I have forgotten, Jer. 32.

To forget] See alſo to Remember.

1. To loſe the memory or thought of a thing paſt, or of the knowledge thereof.

And this is either by naturall defect, or by accident, or voluntary, by thinking too little and ſeldome thereof, or too much of other matters.

2. Not to eſteem, but to paſſe by a matter as not worthy our remembrance, Phil. 3.15. Gen. 41.51.

3. To leave undone or unuſed any thing good, as Jam. 1.24,25.

4. To be freed or delivered from evils, or evill, Gen. 41.51.

Referred to Man; ſignifieth,

1. Not to be moved at, troubled with, but freed from danger and grief, Gen. 41.51.

2. To ceaſe to love, pity, or take care of, Iſa. 49.15.

And with relation to God, To neglect true Religion, not keep his Commandements, not call to minde his mercies, not call upon him, not truſt in him, &c. Jer. 2.32.

Referred to God; it's ſometime to be underſtood of his caſting off a people, Jer. 23.39. God is not forgetfull of us, Iſa. 49.15. We muſt not forget him, Deut. 6.12. His covenant, Deut. 4.23. His works, Pſal. 78.7. His benefits, Pſal. 103.2. His word, ſtatutes, precepts, laws, commandements, Pſalm 119. verſ. 16, 83, 141, 153, 176. Prov. 3.1. & 4.5. What we hear out of his Word, Jam. 1.25. His grace of converſion, 2 Pet. 1.9. His Church, Pſal. 137.5. His fatherly correction in love and comfort therein, Heb. 12.5. Our faults, Deut. 9.7. Jer. 44.9. Jam. 1.24. Hoſpitality, Heb. 13.2. Mercy to the poor, Heb. 13.16. The enemies of Gods people to puniſh them, Deut. 25.19.

To forget that which is behinde] Not to think upon, or minde that which one hath done or ſuffered for Chriſt or his Goſpel, looking forward to things which are to be done hereafter. Phil. 3.15. I forget that which is behind.

To

To forget thy fathers house] To renounce and abandon all carnall and worldly affections which spring from inbred corruption, and whatsoever may hinder our faith and love unto Christ. Psal. 45. 11. Forget thine owne people, and thy fathers house.

To forget his labour] Not to be moved nor troubled with remembrance of calamities past. Gen. 41.51. God hath made me forget all my labours.

Land of forgetfulnesse] The place and estate of the dead, who forget the living, and the living them. Psal. 88.12. And thy righteousnesse in the Land of forgetfulnesse, or oblivion.

Forgivenesse] The pardoning of our sins done against God, as if one should crosse a Debt-book. Psal. 32. 1. Whose sins are forgiven. In the Hebrew it cometh of a word which signifieth, to lift up, or take away: it hath reference to Christ, who bare and took away the sins of the world, Joh. 1. 29.

2. A forbearing to revenge trespasses done against us, being ready to take unto favour such as wrong us, upon their repentance. Mat. 18. 35. Except ye forgive from your hearts. Col. 3. 13.

3. A releasing of the censure of Excommunication, which power belonged to the Church, 1 Cor. 5. 10.

Whose sins the Lord forgiveth, he covereth, Psal. 32. 2. Blotteth out, Neh. 4. 5. Spareth, Neh. 13. 22. Layeth them not to their charge, Act. 7. 60. Imputeth them not, Rom. 4. 8. Maketh no mention of them, Ezek. 33. 16. Remembreth them no more, Heb. 8. 12.

Form] Favour, beauty, outward dignity, and glory. Isa. 53. 1. He hath no form.

2. Substance, or essence. Heb. 1. 3. The engraved form of his person.

3. Vain shew, 2 Tim. 3. 5.

4. Nature and properties, Phil. 2. 7.

5. A pattern or rule, 2 Tim. 1. 13.

6. Shape or likenesse, Mar. 16. 12.

7. Face or visage, Job 4. 16. God the Former of all things, Jer. 10. 26.

Fair in form and countenance] signifieth for body or personage, also for beauty of colour; both together make perfect beauty, Gen. 29. 17. the like is said of Esther, Est. 2. 7. and of Joseph, Gen. 39. 6.

Form of God] God himself, or one who is God, and that truly and in very deed, of the same substance and glory that God is. Phil. 2. 6. Who being in the form of God. Form, Nature, or Substance, be all one in this argument.

By form, some understand condition, divine and humane, majesty and infirmity, which doth necessarily follow substance, as a shadow doth the body.

Form of a servant] A very man, one having the true nature of a man, being like a man in all things (sin excepted) Phil. 2. 7. He took the form of a servant, and was made like to a man; that is, he took the substance, nature, properties, affections and infirmities of a man, all except sin, Heb. 3. 17. & 4. 15.

Form of wholesome words] Some short and rude description of Christian doctrine delivered in writing, to be a pattern for Timothy, or a rule to direct his teaching. 2 Tim. 1. 13. Hold fast the form of sound words. It is a Metaphor from Painters, who being to draw a picture, doe first make a draught or portraiture of it, before they expresse it in lively colours.

Formed] Fashioned, framed; Christ is said to be formed in us, either when the lively faith of Christ is at our new birth engendered in us, or is renued after some great fall. Gal. 4. 9. Till Christ be formed in you.

The Apostle Paul signifies hereby some knowledge of Christ to remain in the Galatians, yet such as was rude and unformed, which he did covet by this Epistle written to them, to bring to a more perfect form.

Former] Spoken of manner, 2 King. 17. 34. Persons, Neh. 5. 15. Time, Job 8. 8. Things, Eccles. 1. 11. Whatsoever was before, Psal. 79. 8. & 89. 49. Isa. 65. 16. Zech. 14. 8.

Fornace] Taken I. properly, Prov. 17. 3. & 27. 21.

II. Figuratively, 1. For heavy and cruell bondage, Deut. 4. 20. Jer. 12. 4.

2. The place where God will sore afflict his people, Ezek. 22. 18, 19, 22.

3. A place of torment, Dan. 3. 6, 22.

4. Hell torments, Mat. 13. 42.

Fornication] The uncleanesse of unmarried persons, about generation, Gal. 5. 19. The works of the flesh are manifest: adultery, fornication, &c.

2. All uncleanesse that way, by whomsoever, married or unmarried or howsoever, 1 Cor. 6. 8, 9. He that committeth fornication, sinneth against his owne body. This is bodily fornication. A Synecdoche: See Mat. 5. 32. Fornication put for Adultery.

3. Idolatry, or strange worship, which is spirituall fornication: wherein the faith plight with God (as with an husband) to worſhip him onely after his owne will, is violated and broken. Ezek. 16. 15. Thou haſt poured out thy fornications; and elſewhere very often, in this and other Prophets: as Jer. 3. 9. Judah hath committed fornication with ſtocks and ſtones.

4. The uncleanneſſe of marryed perſons, or adultery, Mat. 5. 32.

5. Inceſt, 1 Cor. 5. 1.

To commit fornication] To exereiſe Merchandiſe, and by the gain thereof to proſper, (as Harlots grow rich by the lucre which cometh of the proſtitution of their bodies) A Metaphor, Iſa. 23. 17. And ſhall commit fornication. Elſewhere this phraſe importeth either Idolatry, Rev. 17. 2. or Adultery, Inceſt, or any bodily uncleanneſſe. 1 Cor. 5. 1.

Forrainer] put for one, not an Iſraelite, Exod. 12. 45. Deut. 15. 3. An heathen, not a Chriſtian, Eph. 2. 19. One living a life contrary to the vain converſation of the world, 1 Pet. 2. 11.

Forreſt] Mighty men and valiant Souldiers, ſtrong as trees in a Forreſt, wherein the King of Aſſyria gloryed, Iſa. 10. 18. And the glory of his forreſt.

Put alſo for, A plentifull place of wood, Iſa. 44. 14. The place of wilde beaſts, Jer. 5. 6. Lebanon, where Solomon built a goodly houſe, 1 King. 7. 2. The building in Jeruſalem, Jerem. 21. v. 14. Deſolation, Hoſea 2. 12.

To forſake, referred to God] Not to withdraw his eſſence or power from his creature, (for they be every where preſent) but his grace and bleſſing, which is done diverſly, in reſpect of them whom he doth forſake. 2 Chr. 15. 2. If you forſake him, he will forſake you. This is the generall ſignification.

2. Wholly, and for ever, to take away from men all ſuch graces as he had given them, leaving them altogether to Satan, and their owne luſt. This is called a giving up, or delivering up to vile affections, Rom. 1. 24. Thus God forſakes wicked men, and Hypocrites. Thus did he forſake Cain, and Judas, and Saul, 1 Sam. 16. 4. The Spirit of the Lord departed from Saul, 2 Sam. 7. 15. And thus will not God forſake his people. 1 Sam. 12. 22. The Lord will not forſake his people for his name ſake.

3. To take away ſome particular grace, and that for a time onely. Thus was David forſaken, having loſt (after his grievous ſin) cleanneſſe of heart, peace and joy of conſcience, freedome of Spirit, ſtableneſſe of minde, &c. Pſal. 51. 10, &c.

4. To take away the knowledge, feeling, fruit, and working of his graces for a ſeaſon. Thus was Peter forſaken, Matt. 26. and againſt this forſaking David prayeth in Pſal. 119. 8. Forſake me not overlong.

5. To withdraw for a time, or for ever, his bleſſings and good ſucceſſe from our labours, and his temporall protection from our perſons, both our ſelves and ours. Heb. 13. 5. I will not fail thee, nor forſake thee. Pſ. 22. 1, Why haſt thou forſaken me?

6. To withdraw and take away his Word, his worſhip and miniſtery. Lam. 2. 7. The Lord hath forſaken his altar; that is, he hath cauſed his worſhip to ceaſe, he hath taken away his Law, his Prophets, his Viſions, his Sabbaths, as verſ. 7, 9. This is Gods forſaking man.

7. When he doth for a long time viſit his Church, not withdrawing his judgements, Lam. 5. 20.

Referred to men] To withdraw our heart from God, when we ceaſe to put our truſt in his promiſes and providence, and to obey his Commandements. Deut. 32. 15. Iſrael forſook the ſtrong God that made them. Pſal. 119. 53. I am afraid of the wicked, becauſe they forſake thy Law. Heb. 13. 12. Pſal. 119. 118. Hebr. 10. 39.

2. To depart from the ſervice of the true God, to the ſervice of ſtrange Gods. This is a branch and fruit of the former forſaking. Judg. 2. 11, 12. They ſerved Baalim, and forſook the Lord God of their Fathers. This is mans forſaking of God. Iſa. 1. 4.

3. To deny our help and aid to others in their neceſſities and dangers. 2 Tim. 4. 16. No man aſſiſted me, but all forſook me. Thus man forſaketh man.

A forſaking all for Chriſt] A ſetled and well-governed purpoſe and affection, to leave all outward good things of this life, & life it ſelf, for the love of Chriſt his Goſpel; and to leave them indeed actually, when occaſion ſerves. Luk. 14. 33. He that forſaketh not all that he hath, cannot be my Diſciple. Mar. 10. 29. Thus the Chriſtian man forſaketh all, firſt in affection and deſire, then in effect and deed, if need be, and occaſion ſerve thereunto, as then it doth, when we cannot hold life and earthly things, without denying Chriſt and his Word.

To forſake Father and Mother] Not to deny honour, love, obedience, ſuccour, and thankfulneſſe to parents, (this were unnaturall, and to be worſe then Infidels, yea then beaſts:) but to leave the family and houſe of parents, that he may dwell together with his his wife, and with her begin and erect a new houſhold, Gen. 2. 24. Mat. 19.

Note: as touching reverence, obedience, and ſuccour, we owe more to parents than to wives; but in reſpect of houſhold ſociety and cohabitation, the man is more bound to the wife.

Chriſt is forſaken, either by denying himſelf flatly: or in turning from his Commandements.

Fortitude] Courage, when adverſities are born, and duties done with a valiant and ſtout minde. Iſa. 11. 12. The Spirit of fortitude ſhall reſt upon him.

2. Divine might upholding and ſtrengthning us. Pſal. 18. 1. The Lord is my fortitude or ſtrength.

Fortreſſe] A ſtrong hold, or place of defence: ſuch is Gods providence to them that truſt in him. Pſal. 18. 2. The Lord is my fortreſſe. A Metaphor.

Fortunatus] Lucky or fortunate. The name of a godly man, 1 Cor. 16. 17.

Fortune] Chance, when ſome things fall out beſide our purpoſe, and whereof we can give no reaſon. This is called fortune, or chance: but in reſpect of God, who knoweth all things, and ordereth them moſt wiſely, to juſt and due ends, there is no chance nor fortune. Eccl. 9. 11. Time and chance cometh to them all. Luk. 10. 21. And it fortuned or chanced. Chriſtians muſt alwaies beware how they do commonly uſe this word (Fortune and Chance) in their mouths, or attribute ought to it, ſetting it up againſt Gods providence, which ordereth all things, both good and evill, great and ſmall.

I give this ſignification of Fortune, onely to ſhew how far it may be allowed; namely, ſo far, as that in ſuch things (as in regard of our foreſight happen accidentally to us) we doe yet acknowledge a divine providence, ordering all events moſt wiſely and righteouſly.

Fowle] Of fowles, ſome were clean, Gen. 8. 20. Some unclean, Lev. 20. 25. Some that did creep, going upon all four, Lev. 11. 20. Feathered, Pſal. 78. 27. Winged, Deut. 4. 17. Of the heaven, Jer. 7. 33. Of the air, Matt. 6. 26. Of the mountain, Iſa. 18. 6.

To found] 1. To decree firmly, to appoint, and ſo conſequently to fit and perfect. Pſal. 8. 2. Thou haſt founded ſtrength. Mat. 21. 16. Eſt. 1. 8. The King hath founded, Pſal. 21. 2.

2. To build ſurely, to eſtabliſh and confirme. Pſal. 24. 2. He hath founded it upon the Seas.

Foundation] The ground-work, which upholds the whole building, as the foundation of an Houſe, of a Caſtle, or of a Fort, Tower, &c.

2. Chriſt, who in reſpect of his perſon and office, is the onely foundation and rock of his Church, to ſupport and bear it up againſt Hell-gates; he being the firm foundation or corner-ſtone. 1 Cor. 3. 11. Other foundation can no man lay, then Jeſus Chriſt. 1 Pet. 2. 4, 5, 6. Behold, I lay in Sion a chief corner-ſtone, and precious. Chriſt is the foundation of foundations.

3. The Apoſtles and Prophets, who in reſpect of their doctrine are as a ſubordinate or ſecond foundation, laying the elect upon Chriſt, the onely ſure foundation. Eph. 2. 20. Built upon the foundation of the Prophets and Apoſtles. Theſe be ſuch foundations, as that themſelves alſo be lively ſtones, built upon that foundation, Chriſt. All be equally foundations, not Peter more than the reſt. A Metaphor.

4. The doctrine of Chriſt, taught in an eaſie and ſhort manner: or the ſum of Chriſtian doctrine. Heb. 6. 1. Not laying again the foundation, &c.

5. The unmoveable ſtrength and firmneſſe of Gods elect, being grounded upon his eternall love. 2 Tim. 2. 19. But the foundation of God remaineth ſure. As a foundation ſtayeth an houſe, ſo upon the decree of election, the godly are ſtayed.

6. Princes and Rulers of the earth, upon whom the Common-wealth reſteth, as the houſe doth upon the foundation. Pſal. 82. 6. All the foundations of the earth were moved. Or elſe expound it thus: All things from the higheſt to the loweſt, are out of order.

7. The bottome of the waters, or bowels of the earth, or loweſt parts of the world. Pſa. 18. 15. The foundations of the world were diſcovered.

8. The great mountains and higheſt hils, which ſeem to bear up the heavens upon their tops. Pſal. 18. 7. The foundation of the heavens moved and ſhook. Thus it is read in Tremellius, according to the Originall.

9. The ſincerity of the heart, or the integrity of life which conſiſteth in doing the will of God toward God and man, is the foundation of our faith, and hope of happineſſe to come, and of happineſſe it ſelfe, Mat. 7. 24, 25. Luk. 6. 47, 48. 1 Tim. 6. 19. & 1, 19. 2 Pet. 1. 10. 1 Joh. 3. 21, 22, 23.

10. The firſt ſound preaching of Chriſt in a place, Rom. 15. 20.

11. The ground of assurance, 1 Tim. 6. 19.

12. Gods decree concerning the salvation of his elect, 2 Tim. 2. 19.

13. Firm unchangeablenesse, Heb. 11. 10. Where's implyed, that the estate of the elect in heaven, and their glory there is not subject to corruption, or the least alteration. So, there's a corporal, spiritual, eternal, and a foundation by way of resemblance.

Fountain] A Spring, from whence waters, brooks, or rivers doe spring, or an head-water. Gen. 7. 11. The fountains were broken up.

2. The originall, beginning, or first cause of every good thing, which concerns true life. Psal. 36. 9. With thee is the well (or fountain) of life.

3. The Word of God, or the Scriptures of Moses and the Prophets, whence (as from a fountain) doth spring and flow forth rivers of wholesome doctrines, giving life to such as receive them. Jer. 2. 13. They have forsaken me the fountain of living waters, and digged pits that hold none. A Metaphor.

4. Christ Jesus, whose bloodshed is an ever running fountain, to wash beleevers from all uncleanneſse of sin. Zach. 13. 1. In that day there shall be a fountain opened to the house of David, for sin and uncleanneſse. This is an allusion to their water of separation and sin, Numb. 19. 9, 19.

5. The Spirit of God, with his healthful and saving gifts, derived unto, and flowing upon the Church and every true member of it, to cheer, and refresh it. Joel 3. 18. A fountain shall come forth of the house of the Lord. Ezek. 47. 1. Rev. 22. 1.

6. Our possessions and goods whence our livelyhood ariseth, as waters spring out of a fountain. Prov. 5. 10. Let thy fountain flow forth, &c.

7. Eyes, which (as a spring or fountain) send forth teares (as a witnesse of hearts grief,) Jerem. 9. 1. Mine eyes a fountain of teares.

It's put also, 1. for God, Jer. 2. 13.

2. The Church of God, Psal. 68. 26.

3. The exceeding rich love of God in Christ, continually ministring to the faithfull new supply of healthfull graces, Joh. 4. 14.

4. An issue of blood, Lev. 20. 18.

5. Ones lawfull wife, Prov. 5. 18.

6. Holy precepts and instructions, Prov. 13. 14.

7. The liver, Eccl. 12. 6.

8. Prosperity, or outward blessings, Hos. 13. 14.

9. False Teachers, 2 Pet. 2. 17.

10. The Ministers of the Gospel, Rev. 8. 10.

Fourth generation] The space of foure hundred years, being ended and expired, Gen. 15. 16.

Fox] Every thing that hurteth the inheritance or vineyard of the Church, be it false doctrine or corrupt manners. Cant. 2. 15. Take away the foxes.

2. False Prophets, which craftily undermine the safety and state of Religion, and of the Church. Ezek. 13. 4. O Israel, thy Prophets are as foxes in the waste places.

3. All crafty and guilefull persons, which with their craft and cunning seek to deceive and hurt others. Luk. 13. 32. Tell that fox.

4. A subtle and crafty beast, so called, Judg. 15. 4.

5. Subtle, but yet very weak meanes, Neh. 4. 3.

It's a crafty, wary, deceitful, subtle, cruel, strong smelling, quick smelling beast. By laying their dung in the entrance of the Badgers den, they obtain it for their owne use. And for that the Wolfe is their enemy, they lay the hearb Sea-onyon at the mouth of their den; wherewith the Wolfe is so terrified, that it will not come nigh the place either where it groweth or lyeth. In their dens they have many passages in and out, that they may the better prevent danger. They die, if they eat any thing where Bitter Almonds or Aloes are, unlesse they drink presently. When sick, they eat the gum of Pine-trees, whereby they are not onely cured, but their dayes lengthened. When they are pursued by Hunters, they make urine, and strike their tails wet therewith on the dogs faces. Some having been taken in a gin by the leg, have bit it off, and so escaped; as others have faigned themselves dead, till they have been taken out, and then run away. All beasts are his enemies (except the Crow, who assisteth him against the Hawk and Serpents, with whom he is at peace) against whom he useth strength, courage, and policy. Being hungry, it faigneth it selfe dead, on whom the fowles lighting for prey, he snatcheth and devoureth them. By licking the face of the Hedge-hog, or turning it on its back, he maketh it to unfold it self, and then killeth it. Having put his tail in the water, the fishes approaching thereunto, become wrapt therein, which drawing out, he eateth. The Wasps its enemies (having hid all his body, excepting his tail, whereon they light) by rubbing his tail against a tree, he killeth, and then then eateth. Where there are many foxes, there are but a few Hares. It alwaies halteth, its right ſhank being ſhorter then its left; nor doth it goe ſtraight forward, but turneth and windeth. It preyeth rather on tame then wilde Creatures. Its breath is ſtrong and ſtinking. It preyeth on dead corps, Pſ. 63. 10. Though never ſo tame, yet it ſeiſeth on what cometh within its reach, that it can maſter. The young ones not finding milk in their dams dugs, bite and tear her. Being to goe over ice, they liſten, whether they can hear any noyſe under it; which if they doe, they forbear, as fearing that it will not bear them. Its fat, marrow, lungs, &c. are uſeful in phyſick, its skin good furre.

Little foxes] All occaſions and appearances of evils. Cant. 2. 15. Theſe little foxes.

To be a portion for foxes] To be caſt out upon the Mountains without buriall, that foxes and beaſts may feed upon them. Pſal. 63. 10. They ſhall be the portion for foxes.

F R.

Frame of the heart] The inward ſecret thoughts, inclinations, and purpoſes of the ſoul; as it is expounded by Moſes himſelf. Gen. 6. 5. The whole frame; that is, the thoughts of mans heart are evil continually. According to the tranſlation of Tremellius it ſhould thus be read: Not paſſively, for that frame of the heart framed of God; but actively, for that which the heart of man frameth to it ſelf, and imagineth.

Frame is alſo ſpoken of mans work which he formeth, Rom. 9. 20. and of the matter and form of our nature and condition Pſal. 103. 14.

To frame] To be able, Judg. 12. 6. To make, Iſa. 29. 16. To deviſe, invent, Jer. 18. 11. To give, Hoſ. 5. 4. marg. To forge, Pſal. 50. 19. & 94. 20. To joyn together, Eph. 2. 21.

Frankincenſe] A precious and odoriferous gum, iſſuing from a tree in Arabia (Iſa. 60. 6. Jer. 6. 20.) of a tender bark, like unto the laurell in leaves and bark, growing on high hils, Cant. 4. 6. and delighting in a fertile ſoyl. The gum which of it owne accord iſſueth therefrom in the beginning of the Summer, is white and good, but that which iſſueth therefrom in the Harveſt, by cutting the bark, is red and worſe. That is beſt, which being chewed, melteth not, nor ſticketh to the teeth, but being put in the fire, ſtraightway burneth and ſmoaketh; which the rozen which is like unto it, doth not, but melteth upon the fire, nor giveth a good ſmell. The gum iſſuing from a young tree is white, but from an old more efficacious and odoriferous. The Arabians place Religion about it, none being permitted to make an inciſion in the tree, but their Prieſts, and they kept from women. And it being brought in at one gate into the City, muſt at the ſame be carryed out, and not ſold to Merchants til tythed by their Prieſts, and that not by weight, but meaſure. It was uſed for the perfuming of garments, Cant. 3. 6. and appointed for the worſhip of God, Lev. 5. 11. Numb. 5. 15. which was laid up in a certain chamber, Neh. 13. 5. Overſeers being appointed to look to it, 1 Chr. 9. 29. It was offered in gift unto Chriſt, Matt. 2. 11. It was abuſed by Idolaters, and is uſed in myſticall Babylon, Rev. 18. 13.

Free] Such as be bond-men, but are exempt from the yoak of ſlavery, 1 Cor. 7. 22.

2. Beleevers, whom Chriſt hath ſet free, and delivered from the curſe & rigour of the Law, and not onely from the yoak of Legall Ceremonies; but alſo from the tyranny of ſin by his death and Spirit, ſo as they are no more under the bondage of ſin (though ſin be ſtill in them) nor need fear the condemnation due to it; alſo they ſerve God with a free ingenuous ſpirit, as children their father. Rom. 7. 6. He that is dead is free from ſin. Rom. 7. 6. Free from ſin; that is, from the dominion of ſin, verſ. 14. Rom. 8. 2. Free from ſin and death; that is, from the condemnation due to it, as verſ. 1. Pſ. 51. 11. Joh. 8. 38. This freedome is wholly of grace, not at all of nature; See Will. And it is wrought by Chriſt as authour: and by the Goſpel as inſtrument, Joh. 8. 36. & 32.

Beleevers are free, and not free; therefore they cry both, Who ſhall free me from ſin? Rom. 7. 24. and alſo they triumphantly ſay, Chriſt hath freed me from the Law of ſin, Rom. 8. 2. They are freed wholly from the guilt and puniſhment of ſin, but from corruption of ſin they are freed in part onely, ſo far as that it do not reign over them.

Taken alſo for, 1. A free man, Exod. 21. 2.

2. To be freed or preſerved from, Numb. 5. 19.

3. Exempted from paying taxes or tribute, 1 Sam. 17. 25. Matt. 17. 26.

4. Liberall, 2 Chr. 29. 31.

5. Exempt from the yoak of ſlavery, or ſubjection, Job 3. 19.

6. Making free, freeing, or freely given, Pſal. 51. 12.

Free among the dead] One ſeparate from the living, left for dead. Pſal. 88. 5. Free among the dead, like to the ſlain which lay in the grave.

To have free courſe and be glorified] ſignifieth the free preaching of the Goſpell without any interruption, and effectually to work in the hearts of men true godlineſſe, whereby the Word is made glorious, and the beleevers of it alſo, partly in this life, and perfectly in the world to come, 2 Theſſ. 3. 1.

Freely give] That is, abſolutely, without reſpect of reward in the giver to receive it, or of merit in the receiver to give or ſhew it. Mat. 10. 8. This is to be underſtood of dona infuſa onely, or gifts of God that are miraculous, as to Heal, &c. But it is not to be extended to dona acquiſita, or works of our owne labour in getting them, or uſing them; as the knowledge of Preaching is not had, nor the act of it uſed, without great ſtudy, labour, and coſt. This, as it is not given freely, ſo without recompence it may not be juſtly uſed, and therefore doth Chriſt well adde verſ. 10. Dignus eſt operarius mercede ſua.

Free from all men] One that is not beholden unto other men to live at their coſt. 1 Cor. 9. 19. Though I be free from all men.

The Lords free-man] A true Chriſtian, who though he be bound and ſervant unto man, is yet ſet free by the Lord Jeſus, from the ſervitude of Satan and ſin, 1 Cor. 7. 22.

Freely juſtified] ſignifieth, not without our Saviours ſuffering and ſatisfying to God for our ſins, but without our own, Rom. 3. 24. Which place doth not exclude preparatory and inſtrumentall cauſes of Juſtification or Salvation, as repentance, regeneration, hearing, beleeving, &c. Nor the other duties of thankfulneſſe, Luk. 13. 35. Matt. 5. 20. Mar. 1. 15. Rom. 5. 1. But onely the meritorious cauſe thereof, which is only Chriſts death, or paſſion for us.

2. The Godly doe freely and willingly their duties.

3. God doth freely beſtow thoſe graces on us, by which we are enabled to doe that which is our duty.

Fret] is all one with grieve, chafe, vex, make angry, ſad, 1 Sam. 3. 6. Pſal. 37. 1. Iſa. 8. 21.

Friend] One whom we doe intirely love above others, and uſe more familiarly and privately then we doe others, as David did Jonathan. Prov. 18. 24. A friend is neerer then a brother.

2. One to whom God imparteth his minde and ſecrets, ſo familiarly and fully as one friend doth to another. Gen. 18. 17. Shall I hide this thing from Abraham? Hence it is that James 2. 29. calleth Abraham the Friend of God: alſo the Apoſtles are called Chriſts friends, Joh. 15. 15. You I have called Friends, becauſe what I heard of my Father, I have made known to you. Whereas Jeſus, Mat. 22. 12. calleth him Friend who had not on a wedding garment: alſo in Matt. 26. 50. doth ſo tearm Judas the Traitor, we are to take it for a word of ordinary ſalutation, howſoever it may and is of ſome judged to be ſpoken by an Ironie or Antiphraſis, meaning the contrary to that which the word ſoundeth; or that he is called ſo, becauſe he appeareth to others (to be Chriſts Friend) or was ſo taken and accounted of himſelfe (though falſly, being an Hypocrite:) Howbeit, being ſpoken in the perſon of him who made the feaſt, the beſt way is to take it for an uſuall compellation, and that Chriſt following the like courteous faſhion of appellation, and friendly greeting, did ſo ſalute Judas, which yet left a ſting behind it in his Conſcience, who knew himſelf to be nothing leſſe then that which he was called.

Put alſo for a moſt holy man, 2 Chr. 20. 7. Countrey-men, Act. 27. 3. A loving neighbour, Luk. 11. 5. Such as in common account are ſo, Mar. 5. 19. A tearm of ordinary and uſual compellation, whether a friend or foe, Matt. 20. 13. & 22. 12. & 26. 50. The Hebrew רעה a friend, cometh of רעה to feed, and implyeth familiarity, ſociety, and fidelity, Exod. 33. 11. 2 Sam. 16. 17. Prov. 17. 17. Joh. 19. 12. Thou art not Cæſars friend; not faithfull, not a well-wiſher to him, not one that endevoureth for his quiet and ſafety.

Of friends there be divers kindes.

1. God hath friends, thoſe are the faithfull, Jam. 2. 23.

2. Chriſt, Joh. 15. 14.

3. The world, Jam. 4. 4.

4. The wicked, Eſt. 5. 10.

5. The Children of God, 3 Joh. 14. But often their friends become their foes, Job 6. 27. Pſal. 41. 9. Lam. 1. 2.

Friendſhip of the world] The love and unmeaſurable deſire of carnall and worldly things. Jam. 4. 4. The friendſhip or the amity of the world is enmity with God.

Frog] It's bred of putrid clayie water, liveth for the moſt part in the waters, abound more in moiſt yeers then in dry; do alwaies make a croaking noyſe, but eſpecially when they they couple together; are forerunners of the Spring. At the ſight of a burning light they are ſaid to be ſilent. By their croaking they foreſhew rain or change of weather. Some people feed of them. The young ones kill and devour the old ones. Their ſound proceedeth not from their breaſt, is conceived onely in their mouth. By them God plagued the Ægyptians, Exod. 8. 6. They delight in pools, ponds, and flaſhes of water, and feed on mud. It liveth both in the water and on the land. They are enemies to Bees, whoſe ſtings they feel not. They have ſhining eyes, eſpecially by night, and fly away by leaping. They nouriſh not their young ones, as other creatures doe, whileſt they perceive no body, they make a great noyſe, but upon the view of any, leave off. By the three frogs which came out of the mouth of the Dragon, the Popes Emiſſaries may be underſtood, whom he ſendeth forth to ſeduce the world, Rev. 16. 13.

From good to bad] ſignifies either good or bad, Gen. 32. 24. This is to be underſtood reſpectively to this end for which Laban purſued him, as to carry Jacob back again into his ſervitude: ſo in Pſal. 29.

Froward] Pſal. 18. 26. compared with 2 Sam. 22. 27. Wreathed, Prov. 8. 8. marg. Churliſh, haſty, ſoon angry, naughty, wicked. It is applyed to generation, Deut. 32. 20. Heart, Pſ. 101. 4. Things, Pro. 2. 12. Paths, Ib. 15. Mouth, Pro. 4. 24. Tongue, Pro. 10. 31. Way, Prov. 21. 8. Such are an abomination to the Lord, Prov. 3. 32. Their counſell is carryed headlong, Job 5. 13. Snares are in their way, Prov. 22. 5. and they ſow ſtrife, Prov. 16. 28.

Froward maſters in 1 Pet. 2. 18. are ſuch as are bitter to their ſervants, hard to pleaſe, that are apt to finde fault, that uſe their ſervants hardly in words or deeds, but chiefly ſuch as are cholerick and paſſionate and peeviſh in their carriage towards their ſervants. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 18. pag. 494.

Frozen in their dregs] Stubborn ſinners, which obſtinately ſtick in their ſins, mocking both God and Man. Zeph. 1. 12. I will viſit them that be frozen in their dregs. Jer. 48. 11.

Fruit] The encreaſe which cometh of the Land; of Trees, of Cattle, and of other Creatures. Deut. 28. 4. Bleſſed ſhall be the fruit of thy ground, and of thy Cattle. Any profit which cometh of a thing, Iſa. 27. 9.

2. The Converſion of men to God, by the miniſtery of his ſervants. Joh. 15. 16. I have appointed that ye go and bring forth fruit; & verſ. 2. 3. Hee that abideth in mee bringeth forth fruit. In this ſenſe, the Goſpell was fruitfull in all the world, Col. 1. 9. Converſion of ſinners to the faith, is as delightfull to God, as ſweet fruit is to men. A Metaphor.

3. All, and every one of Gods graces and works in his Children, becauſe they come from his Spirit, (as fruit from a tree) and do ſo pleaſe him, as good fruit is pleaſing to us. Gal. 5. 22. The fruits of the Spirit, are love, peace, joy, &c. Phil. 1. 11. Filled with the fruits of righteouſneſſe. A Metaphor.

All the ſpiritual fruits of the ſanctifying Spirit, are ſummarily comprehended by Paul Eph. 5. 9. in theſe three things.

1. Goodneſſe, which is that quality contrary unto malice or naughtyneſſe, whereby a Sinner is evill in himſelf.

2. Righteouſneſſe, which is ſet againſt that vice of injuſtice, whereby one proveth hurtfull to others, through deceit, covetouſneſſe, oppreſſion, and violence.

3. Truth, which is oppoſed unto errors, lies, hereſies, hypocriſie, both in common affairs, and in matter of Religion, to the beguiling of our ſelves, other men, and God alſo, as lyers doe ſuppoſe.

4. The due recompence and merit of our evil works. Mic. 7. 13. For the fruits of their inventions. Prov. 1. 31. They ſhall eat the fruit of their works. Alſo, blaſphemous boaſting. Iſa. 10. 12, 13.

5. Falſe doctrine, the proper fruit of a falſe Prophet. Mat. 7. 16. By their fruits ye ſhall know them.

6. The profit and commodity that comes of well doing. Prov. 31. 31. Give her of the fruit of her hands. Rom. 6. 22. Ye have your fruit in holineſſe.

7. Any godly deed tending to the ſpirituall profit of others. Phil. 4. 17. I deſire the fruit, &c.

Put alſo 1. for Children, Pſal. 21. 10. which are tearmed, the fruit of the wombe, Gen. 30. 2.

2. A proſperous and flouriſhing condition, 2 King. 19. 30. Jer. 12. 2.

3. The rain, Pſal. 104. 13.

4. The works of men, whether good, Luk. 3. 8. or evill, Mat. 7. 16.

5. Whatſoever is moſt excellent and ſingular in man, Amos 2. 9.

6. Increaſe and continuance in grace, Joh. 15. 5.

7. Charitable almes, Rom. 15. 28.

8. The evidence of grace in true Chriſtians, Phil. 4. 17.

9. The profit by afflictions, Heb. 12. 11.

10. The

10. The effects of wiſdome from above, Jam. 3. 17. and benefit of righteouſneſſe, verſ. 18.

11. Conſolation, Iſa. 57. 19.

12. The words of the mouth, good, wiſe, and profitable, Prov. 12. 14.

13. Thanksgiving, Heb. 13. 15.

14. Beleevers through the Goſpel preached, Iſa. 27. 6. Joh. 4. 36.

15. Bread, Jer. 11. 19. marg.

16. Strength, Job 31. 39.

Fruit of their deeds] Such reward as the mercifull God ſhould freely for his promiſe ſake render to the juſt, for their godly works. Iſa. 3. 10. Eat the fruit of their doings. A Metaphor.

To fill with fruit] To increaſe the Church with multitude of beleevers, when the preaching of the Goſpel ſhall come to them, Iſa. 27. 6. Joh. 15.

To gather fruit] To convert elect ſinners to Chriſt by preaching the Goſpel, who are dear to God, as fruit to our [illegible] Joh. 4. 36.

Fruit of the lips] The conſolations which flow from the words of God ſpoken by the Miniſters, and beleeved on by the people. Iſa. 57. 19. I create the fruit of the lips.

Fruit of the mouth] Either ſpeech it ſelfe, or the reward which comes of good or evill ſpeech. Prov. 12. 14. A man ſhall be filled with good things by the fruit of his mouth.

Fruits of righteouſneſſe] Good works done by juſtified and righteous perſons. Phil. 1. 11. Abounding with the fruits of righteouſneſſe.

To count the fruit uncircumciſed] That all meats through our ſins are unclean to us; but through faith in Chriſt they are bleſt and ſanctified by prayer and thankſgiving. Lev. 19. 23. The fruit of the Land ſhall be uncircumciſed. 1 Tim. 4 4. Tit. 1. 15.

Fruit of the wombe] Children. Deut. 28. 4. Bleſſed ſhall be the fruit of thy wombe, Pſal. 127. 3. and 132. 11. Gen. 30. 2. & in Deut. 28. 4. Children be called the fruit of the body, being derived from the body of their parents, as fruit ſprings from a tree. Alſo delightfull unto them, as fruit is to our mouth.

Fruits worthy of repentance] A good and juſt life, meet for ſuch as have repentance. Matt. 3. 8. Bring forth fruits worthy of repentance.

Fruitfull] Profitable: as unfaithfull ſignifies unprofitable. Tit. 3. 14. Col. 1. 6. And is fruitfull.

2. Abundant. Col. 1. 10. Fruitful in good works.

To be or make fruitfulll, is all one with, to breed, bear, bring forth, bud, bloſſome, flouriſh, multiply, flow with, ſpread forth, &c.

Fruitfull fields] Rich Princes and Rulers in the Kingdome of Aſſyria, which in one night with his mighty Army, like a foreſt, were deſtroyed, Iſa. 19. 18.

Fruitfulneſſe of Canaan] Figured, the bountifull reward which the godly ſhall finde of their labours in the heavenly Country which we ſeek, Heb. 11. 14, 16. Alſo it ſignified the graces of the Goſpel, Ezek. 34. 37 Zach. 8. 12. Pſal. 67. 7.

Fruſtrate] is all one with, To be in vain, make voyd, diſappoint, make of no effect, to no purpoſe, bring to nought, not ſtand, purpoſe altered, broken in ones purpoſe, &c.

F V.

Fugitive] A vagabond, Gen. 4 12. One faln away, 2 King. 25. 11. marg.

Full] The proud, and ſuch as be ſwoln with high conceit of their owne ſufficiencie and worth, ſo as they feel no need of Chriſt. Luk. 6. 26. Woe unto them that are full. Revel. 3. 17. affords us an example hereof.

2. Much, or abundantly rich and plentifull. Act. 6. 5. Stephen full of the holy Ghoſt, and of faith; that is, indued with a great portion of faith. In Luk. 1. 28. it would not be read (full of grace,) but (freely beloved,) as the Greek word ſignifies, and Chryſoſtome expounds it.

3. That which is perfect or hath no want, 2 Joh. 8. That we may receive a full reward, that is, a perfect reward, Joh. 15. 11. Joh. 1. 14.

4. Sincere and ſound. Col. 4. 32. That ye may ſtand full in all the will of God.

5. To be wearied with, Iſa. 1. 11.

6. Fruitfull, 1 Sam. 2. 5.

7. To be filled, Ezek. 9. 9. marg.

Full of faith and fortitude] ſignifies power to doe miracles, Act. 6. 8.

Full of his glory] Plentifull documents and proofes of divine glory; both of his bounty in bleſſing, and of his juſtice in chaſtiſing his people. Iſa. 6. 3. The whole earth (Judea eſpecially) is full of his glory.

Fulneſſe] Such a meaſure of perfection where nothing is lacking. Joh. 1. 17. Of his fulneſſe we all receive. Col. 1. 10. and ſometimes it ſignifies onely a large and plentiful portion of any thing, whereof the Scripture hath hath innumerable examples; as, Fulneſſe of the earth, &c. Whereas fulneſſe of the holy Ghoſt, of Grace, of Faith is attributed to other beſide Chriſt; as to John Baptiſt, Luk. 1. 15. to Stephen, Act. 6. 8. It is with a threefold difference:

1. That Grace and the Spirit be in others by participation, as the Moon hath her light from the Sun, Rivers their water from the Fountain, the Eye her ſight from the Soul: But in Chriſt it is originally, naturally, and of himſelf.

2. In Chriſt they be infinite and above meaſure, Joh. 3. 34. But in the Saints by meaſure, according to the gift of God, Eph. 4. 16. The Moon is full of light, but the Sun more full; rivers be full of waters, but the ſea more full.

3. The Saints cannot derive their graces to others; whereas the gifts of the Spirit be in Chriſt as an head and fountain, to impart them to his members, as it is written, Joh. 1. 16. This was ſhadowed out by the oyntment poured on Aaron the High-prieſts head ſo plentifully, as it ran down his beard, to the skirts of his cloaths.

It's ſpoken both of the Jews, Rom. 11. 12. and Gentiles, Ibid. 25. ſignifying their converſion to Chriſt in great number, and plentifull fruition of grace.

It's ſpoken alſo of the Godly, who with Dorcas are full of good works, Act. 9. 36. and draw neer with a true heart in full aſſurance of faith, Heb. 10. 22.

Of the Ungodly, who abound in all impiety, curſing, Pſal. 10. 7. Bribes, Pſal. 26. 10. Cruelty, Iſa. 1. 15. Deceit, Jer. 5. 27. Violence, Mic. 6. 12. Hypocriſie, Matt. 23. 28. Envy, murther, &c. Rom. 1. 29.

Fulneſſe of bread] Exceſſe in eating, or gluttony. Ezek. 16. 49. Pride, fulneſſe of bread.

Fulneſſe of Chriſt] The Church, which being Chriſt his body, he eſteems himſelfe an unperfect Head without it, though in himſelf he be filled with all good things, and doth fill and work all in all men, Eph. 1. 23.

Note: The word Chriſt is put either ſingularly, and then it ſignifies the perſon of the Mediatour alone, conſidered apart from his members; or it is uſed collectively, and ſignifieth the whole Church, conſiſting of head and members, as in 1 Cor. 12. 12, 13. Gal. 3. 16. Eph. 1. 23.

Alſo note, that this phraſe of the fulneſſe of Chriſt, doth elſewhere ſignifie Chriſt himſelf, filling and perfecting all his Members; cauſing them ſtill to grow in grace, till they come to their appointed fulneſſe in heaven. Eph. 4. 13. To the meaſure of the age of the fulneſſe of Chriſt.

Fulneſſe of the Gentiles] The whole number of the elect Gentiles, called and brought home to Chriſt, Rom. 11. 25. Till the fulneſſe of the Gentiles be come in.

Fulneſſe of God] Such a meaſure of perfection as God hath appointed to every one of the elect through Chriſt, Eph. 4. 13. & 3. 19. That ye may be filled with all the fulneſſe of God.

Fulneſſe of the Godhead] The whole and moſt perfect Godhead. Col. 2. 9. In whom dwelleth all the fulneſſe of the Godhead bodily; that is, ſubſtantially.

Fulneſſe of the bleſſing of the Goſpel] A rich and plentiful bleſſing of knowledge and comfort, by the doctrine of the Goſpel. Rom. 15. 25. With fulneſſe (or aboundance) of the bleſſing of the Goſpel of Chriſt.

Fulneſſe of Jews and of Gentiles] Not onely that Jews and Gentiles ſhall be converted to Chriſt by the Goſpel, in great multitudes, but alſo be enriched abundantly with the graces of the Goſpel, Rom. 11. 12. Where fulneſſe of the Jews being ſet againſt their fall and diminiſhing, doth require this ſenſe, Rom. 11. 25, 26.

Full ſilver] For as much money as the thing is worth. Silver is named for all money, and [Full] for full weight, Gen. 23. 9, 16.

Fulneſſe of time] That time fully ended and come, which God in his counſel had ſet. Gal. 4. 4. At the fulneſſe of time; ſo as Chriſt could come neither ſooner nor later then he did come.

Full wickedneſſe] Wickedneſſe come and grown up to the greateſt meaſure, being now ripe for vengeance. Gen. 15. 16. When the wickedneſſe of the Amorite was full.

Fulfilling, being referred to God] The performance of his threatnings, promiſes or propheſies. Matt. 26. 54. How then ſhould the Scriptures be fulfilled? & 27. 35. Alſo in thoſe places, where God is ſaid to fulfil the deſires of the righteous, by giving promiſed bleſſings.

2. Referred to Chriſt] The perfect keeping of the Word, as by Chriſt onely. Mat. 3. 15. It behoveth us to fulfill all righteouſneſſe.

3. To Men] An earneſt deſire, with anſwerable endevour to fulfill the Law. Pſal. 119. 112. I have applyed my heart to fulfill thy Statutes.

4. Supplying ſomething that is wanting, or encreasing that which is little. Phil. 2. 2. Fulfill my joy; that is, add something to my joy. Joh. 17. 13. My joy fulfilled in them. Col. 1. 9.

5. Truely and indeed performing a thing. Gal. 6. 2. Fulfill ye the Law of Christ, that is, the law of Love, which is fulfilled of such as doe indeed love their Christian brothers, even as Christ commanded, and for conscience of his Commandements.

6. To perform the speech of another, or the truth of a matter even in evill things, or to have done according as it was foretold it would come to passe, though not as a man ought; i.e. to doe as God hath said men would doe, but not as he hath said they should doe. So is the place to be taken, Act. 13. 27, 29. and for good things, Joh. 19. 36, 37.

7. To end or determinate a thing, Act. 13. 25.

8. To perform ones owne promise, made (especially) in good things. Joh. 18. 9. That the saying might be fulfilled which he spake. Of them which thou gavest me, have I lost none. Act. 13. 33. God hath fulfilled the same unto their children, &c.

It signifieth also, 1. To perform or accomplish; being in this sense referred as wel unto God, Act. 3. 18. & 13. [33. as unto Man, Jer. 44. 25.

2. To perform what God requireth in his Law, Rom. 13. 8.

3. To grant or consent unto, Psal. 20. 5.

4. To perfect, doe, or finish, Exod. 5. 13.

5. To fill or repleniſh, Eph. 4. 10. marg.

6. To execute, or satisfie, Eph. 2. 3.

7. To keep the Law, or perform Gods will perfectly, Mat. 3. 15.

8. Sincerely to obey, 1 Chro. 22. 13.

9. To make good, 1 King. 2. 27.

10. To come to passe, Mat. 1. 22.

11. To make up the measure, Matt. 23. 32 1 Thess. 2. 16.

To fulfill the lusts of the flesh] To order the course and actions of this life, according to those sinfull motions, desires and affections which arise out of the foul Fountain of naturall corruption, Gal. 5. 16. Eph. 2. 3.

To fulfill the measure of our Fathers] To go on, to doe as our Fathers did before us, following their wayes, til we be as evil as they. Matt. 23. 32. Fulfill the measure of your Fathers.

To fulfill all things] To inrich and repleniſh his Church with gifts and benefits which belong to eternall life in heaven. Eph. 4. 10. That he might fulfill all things. Hence the heretical Ubiquitaries do sophistically and falsely conclude, that the body of Christ is infinitely extended, locally filling all places: Whereas, the meaning of these words wil appear to be, as is before set down, by comparing hem with Psal 68. 18, 19. and with the two next verses in this present chapter; beside that, of their opinion it wil follow, that the body of Christ (which is but a creature, and circumscribed as other naturall bodies be) shall be made a God, whose property is to fill heaven and earth, and to be infinite.

Fullers sope, and Refiners fire] The good and wholsome effect which should follow the preaching of John Baptist, and of Christ, towards the godly, who should thereby be made more pure and bright in faith and piety, as metals are purged from drosse by the Refiners fire, and things scoured by Fullers sope, Mal. 3. 2, 3. This latter verse expounding the former: The effects hurtfull, which by the default of the wicked are to come to them by the Gospel, are set down, vers. 5, 6.

Furie, referred to God] is an extended os great wrath of God against a great and obstinate sinner, and that for his sins onely; who having no repentance of them, nor prayer to God for pardon, there is consequently no merit or mediation of Christ used for him to pacifie Gods anger, Jer. 10. 24. See Judgement.

It's also of Man, Isa. 51. 13. Dan. 3, 13. and is the excesse of anger, madnesse, Isa. 42. 25. & 66. 15. Jer. 36. 7. It's put for a great plague, Jer. 7. 20. Ezek. 16. 42. A vehement zeal in the cause of God, Jer. 6. 11. A mad rage of wrathfull displeasure, Dan. 3. 19.

Furlong] It is often mentioned in the New Testament, not at all in the Old. It contained One hundred twenty five paces, which is the eight part of our mile. Goodwyn p. 3. 19. Hereof read Luk. 24. 13. Joh. 6. 19. & 11. 18.

Furnace] Most sharp afflictions, whereby Christians are reproved and known to themselves, and others, what they be, as gold is tryed in the furnace. Deut. 4. 20. The Lord hath taken you, and brought you out of the iron furnace. 1 Pet. 1. 7. See Fornace.

Furnish] To bestow or give, Deut. 15. 14. To order, Psal. 78. 19. marg. To provide, Isa. 65. 11. To make instruments, Jer. 46. 19. marg. To make ready with provision, Prov. 9. 2. To have store, Matt. 22. 10.

22. 10. To perfect, 2 Tim. 3. 17. marg.

Furniture] belonging to Camels, Gen. 31. 34. the Tabernacle, Exod. 31. 7. the Table, Ibid. 8. the Altar, Ibid. 9. the Candleſtick, Exod. 35. 14. Put for veſſels, Nah. 2. 9. marg.

Furrow] Properly, that which is made by the plough, Hoſ. 10. 4.

Thoſe mentioned Act. 14. 13. were uſed for an idolatrous uſe, and to an idolatrous end, and ſo unlawfull.

Garlick] An hearb commonly known, good againſt infection; whereon the Iſraelites fed in Ægypt, Numb. 11. 5.

Garment] That wherewith one is cloathed. Mat. 27. 37. They divided his garments. 1 Tim. 6. 8.

2. Chriſt with his perfect righteouſneſſe, imputed, which, as a garment or long white Robe, doth hide the ſpirituall nakedneſſe, and decketh or adorns the ſoule with ſpirituall beauty. This is that wedding garment ſpoken of in Mat. 22. 11. And to this doe thoſe exhortations belong, where we are willed to put on Chriſt; except Rom. 13. 14. where it ſignifieth the fruits of ſanctification.

3. The grace of ſanctification. Rev. 3. 4. Which have not defiled their garments. Hither doe thoſe exhortations appertain, which bid us put on the new man, Eph. 4. 24. And to put on mercy, meekneſſe, humbleneſſe, &c. as in Col. 3. 9, 10, 11. The holy garments, goodly and beautifull, which for glory and comelineſſe were put upon the Prieſt at his conſecration, and which afterward he did wear in the courſe of his Miniſtery (as the Tunicle, Robe, Girdle, Miter, Crown:) theſe ſignified, firſt the glory of Chriſt, adorned with all the gifts of the Spirit, as Pſa. 45. 9. And ſecondly, the beauty and glory of true Chriſtians, in and through Chriſt, as in the former Pſal. v. 9. See Zach. 3. 4. & Iſa. 61. 3. & 62. 3, 5.

4. The nature or attributes of God; truth, juſtice, holineſſe or purity, Dan. 7. 9.

5. The glory or majeſty of God, Pſal. 104. 1, 2.

6. The glory of the Saints in heaven, Iſa. 61. 3. & 62. 3. 2 Cor. 5. 2. 1 Cor. 15. 53.

10. Outward converſation, Rev. 3. 4. & 16. 15.

Garments are for an ornament, for defence both againſt heat and cold, and to cover our nakedneſſe. As there were ſeverall ſorts of garments, Holy, Common; Mens, Womens; Gladſome, Sorrowfull, &c. ſo accordingly ſome were made of Woollen, ſome of Linnen, &c. ſome White, Blue, Violet, Purple, Party-coloured, &c.

Changes of garments] ſignifies, Robes or upper garments which were uſed in thoſe Countreys, often to be ſhifted by putting off or on, as we doe our cloaks or gownes, Gen. 45. 22. Such were given for honor or reward, Judg. 14. 12, 19. In Rev. 6. 11. white robes are given to the ſouls under the Altar. So Rev. 7. 9, 14.

Garment ſpotted by the fleſh] Obſtinate ſinners, their perſons, ſins, and ſocieties. Jude 23. Hate the garments ſpotted by the fleſh. It is a ſpeech borrowed from the cuſtome of the Jews, which did ſhun and eſchew ſuch as were legally unclean; yea, even their garments: to teach Chriſtians how to abhor offenſive wicked perſons, and their company.

Garments white as ſnow] The moſt uncorrupt juſtice and abſolute power of God, for finiſhing his judgements. Dan. 7. 9. His garment white as wool. All the types and figurative ſpeeches of fiery flames, and fiery ſtreams, and the reſt in verſ. 9, 10. do tend to ſhadow unto us the moſt mighty, conſtant, and juſt judgements of God, piercing (as fire) through all, and conſuming all that ariſe againſt him.

Garmite] Bones; or after the Syrian, My couſe, 1 Chr. 4. 19.

Garner] A ſtore-houſe wherein to lay up Corn or other things. A Corn-houſe, Joel 1. 17.

2. Heaven, whereunto the faithfull are gathered in the end of the world, as wheat after harveſt is gathered into a Garner. Mat. 3. 12. And gather his wheat into his garner. A Metaphor.

Garniſh] To cover, 2 Chro. 3. 6. marg. To deck or beautifie, Job 26. 13. To fit, prepare, make ready, Matt. 12. 44. Luk. 11. 25.

Garriſons] Souldiers put in ſtrong places for defence againſt enemies, Ezek. 26. 11. 2 Cor. 11. 32. or placed by Conquerors to hold the people in ſubjection, 2 Sam. 8. 6. 1 Chr. 18. 13. 2 Sam. 23. 14.

Gaſhmu, or Geſhem] Rain. An Arabian, Neh. 6. 2, 6.

Gatam] Their bellowing. The Son of Eliphaz, Gen. 36. 11.

Gate] That which gives us entry or paſſe into a houſe or City. Judg. 16. 3. And Sampſon tooke the dores of the Gates of the City.

2. A place before the gate where Magiſtrates did publickly meet, for hearing and determining cauſes. Gen. 34. 20. Hamor and Sechem his Son went unto the gate of the City. Gen. 23. 10. And very often elſewhere; as in the Prophets.

3. A City, by a Synecdoche of the part for the whole. Gen. 24. 60. And thy ſeed poſſeſſe the gates of his enemies: as Pſal. 87. 2. Gen. 23. 17.

4. Juriſdiction or power. In Deut. 5. 14. Nor the ſtranger within thy gates. Becauſe ſeats of Judgement were erected in the gates for the adminiſtring of juſtice: Hence they ſignifie juriſdiction and government. Amos 5. 12. They oppreſſe the poor in the gate; that is, in publick judgement which was exerciſed in the gate.

Alſo ſtrength and power is ſignified by Gate; becauſe of old time, the chief fortifications of Cities conſiſted in their gates, where their munitions and defences were placed. Hence comes that phraſe of the gates of hell, being put for the whole power and policy of Satan, even whatſoever by counſell or force he is able to doe. Mat. 16. 18. The gates of hell ſhall not prevail againſt them.

5. That godly converſation, whereby an entrance (as by a gate) is miniſtred into the Kingdome of heaven. Matt. 7. 13. Narrow is the gate that leadeth to life. 2 Pet. 1. 11.

6. The Judges and Princes which ſate in the gate to exerciſe judgement. Iſa. 3. 26. Then ſhall her gates mourn and lament; that is, the Governors and Rulers, Jer. 14. 2. Iſa. 14. 31.

7. A place for the preaching and hearing of Gods Word. Iſa. 29. 21. Lay a ſnare for him that reproveth in the gate; that is, for the Prophets which did there reveal Gods will unto the people.

8. All the inhabitants of a City, Ruth 3. 11. marg.

Gates of braſſe] The ſtrongeſt helps and defences. Pſal. 107. 16. He hath broken gates of braſſe.

Broad gate, Narrow gate] The entrance and paſſage to deſtruction to be very eaſie, but very hard to life and glory. Mat. 7. 13, 24. Broad is the gate, and narrow is the way.

Gate of death] Death it ſelf, or grievous dangers threatning death, Pſal. 9. 13. & 107. 18. This phraſe noteth not onely deadly perill, but that it is preſent, as being now at the very dore and gate thereof, Gen. 4. 7. Judg. 5. 18.

It ſignifieth alſo power, ſtrength, and juriſdiction which death hath (ever reigning, as the Apoſtle ſaith, Rom. 5. 14.) becauſe Magiſtrates ſate and judgements were executed at the gates of the City, Deut. 22. Job 31. 21. Amos 5. 10, 15.

In other Scriptures, Gates of death and hell do note their perill, ſtrength and horrour, Pſal. 107. 17. Iſa. 38. 10. Mat. 16. 18. Job 38. 17.

According to ſome, they ſignifie the depths of the Sea; according to others, the cauſes of death; according to moſt, ſubterraneal caves, wherein darkneſſe as it were reſideth, and whither the ſun-beams are not admitted, Pſal. 9. 13.

The gates of hell] Matt. 16. 18. that is, the devill with all his adherents, together with all their ſtrength, force, and cunning.

Gate of heaven, or houſe of God] A place worthy and fit to be conſecrate and ſet apart for prayer, and the ſervice of God. Gen. 28. 17. It is the houſe of God, and the gate of Heaven.

The gates of the Land] Nah. 3. 13. that is, The entrance or paſſages leading thereunto.

To open the gates] Literally, the dores of the City and the Temple, for the people to come in without controll: but ſpiritually to make entrance by the miniſtery of the Word and faith, that Chriſt may come into the hearts of the elect, and they again may flock freely into the Lords Aſſemblies, Iſa. 26. 2. Pſal. 24. 7. Rev. 3. 20. The gate of the Tabernacle was very coſtly and glorious, as in Exod. 26. 36, 37. to ſhadow and ſignifie the glorious hearts of the elect, ſo made by Faith to receive Chriſt that glorious King, as is taught in Pſa. 24.

To praiſe one in the gates] To commend one publickly in the open meetings amongſt the Elders. Prov. 31. 31. Her works praiſe her in the gates.

Gates of righteouſneſſe] The Temple, which is call'd the gate of righteouſneſſe; either becauſe onely juſt and righteous perſons were to enter there to worſhip the righteous righteous God; or elſe, becauſe by the doctrine and religion there taught, an entrance was made to come unto God, and to attain true righteouſneſſe. Pſa. 118. 19, 20. Open unto me the gates of righteouſneſſe; that is, the gates of Gods Sanctuary, which were opened by the Prieſts and Levites, for men to come in (to ſerve the Lord) which were clean and juſt, Iſa. 26. 2. & 2 Chr. 23. 19.

The gates of the Rivers] Nah. 2. 6. that is, The bridges, or the wall of Nineveh.

Gates of Sion] The open aſſemblies of the Church, where the publick miniſtery is exerciſed. Pſal. 9. 14. Within the gates of the daughter of Sion.

The gates of the daughter of Sion] which mean the publick places where Gods people came together at Sion gates, Pſal. 9. 14. where God ſate, v. 11. and which he loveth moſt. Pſal. 87. 2.

By ſitting in the gate of the King, Dan. 2. 49. is meant the chief principality and dignity in the Kings palace or court, to have free acceſſe to the King.

Gath] A wine-preſſe. A City, Joſh. 11. 22. 1 Chr. 18. 1.

Gath-hepher] The place where Jonah was born, or of his abode, 2 King. 14. 25.

Gath-rimmon] A high wine-preſſe. A City, Joſh. 19. 45. & 21. 25.

To gather] To bring or binde together things which are ſcattered, Lev. 19. 9. 2 Cor. 8. 15.

2. To collect for the poor, when the gifts of many doe meet together to help one. 1 Cor. 16. 1, 2. Concerning the gathering for the Saints.

3. To bring elect ſinners (like ſtragling ſheep) into the fold of the Church, that they may at length meet altogether in heaven. Eph. 4. 12. For the gathering of the Saints. Alſo to call the Reprobate by the outward miniſtery, Mat. 23. 37. How often would I have gathered thee, and thou wouldeſt not? Alſo, to joyn all elect Jews and Gentiles in one body, under one head Jeſus Chriſt, as many little ſums are collected into one, Eph. 1. 10.

4. To deſtroy and overthrow. Pſal. 26. 9. Gather not my ſoul with the ſinners.

5. To ſearch and examine our hearts, provoking our ſelves unto repentance. Zeph. 2. 1. Gather your ſelves, &c.

Note. This word ſometime ſignifieth, taken away, Jer. 16. 5. Iſa. 4. 1. and death, Iſa. 57. 1. 1 Sam. 15. 6. Ezek. 34. 29. and ſometimes it is expreſſed to whom they be gathered, as to their fathers, to their people, to the grave, 1 King. 22. 20. Numb. 20. 24, 26. and what is gathered, the ſoul, as Pſal. 26. 8. the ghoſt or the ſpirit, Pſal. 104. 28. Contrariwiſe, gathering is ſometime uſed for gracious receiving, or ſuccouring, as Pſal. 27. 9. Tet the Lord would gather me; that is, receive and ſuccour me.

6. To receive gratiouſly, Iſa. 54. 7.

7. To further and advance, Mat. 12. 30.

8. To get together, or be poſſeſſed of, Gen. 12. 5.

9. A Miniſteriall calling or office, with fit gifts for worthy diſcharge of it, Rom. 12. 6. 1 Tim. 4. 14. Eph. 4. 11. He gave gifts to men, &c.

Referred I. to God, with relation unto all in generall, Eccl. 3. 13. & 5. 19. 1 Cor. 7. 7. Unto his owne in particular. Thoſe being externall, theſe internall or ſpirituall. Theſe are of divers ſorts; as, 1. Chriſt, Joh. 4. 10.

2. The holy Ghoſt and his miraculous gifts, Act. 8, 20. & 11. 17.

3. The gift by grace, or free gift unto juſtification, Rom. 5. 15, 16. or gift of righteouſneſſe, Ibid. 17.

4. Eternall life, Rom. 6. 23.

5. The gift of propheſie, 1 Cor. 13. 2.

6. Faith, Eph. 2. 8.

7. To ſuffer for Chriſt, &c. Phil. 1. 29.

Whereof ſome are peculiar unto ſome onely, Eph. 3. 7. others belonging unto all the godly, 2 Pet. 1. 1. Jude 3. Though every good gift and every perfect gift is of God, Jam. 1. 17. yet is he pleaſed ſeverally to diſtribute the ſame, Rom. 12. 6. 1 Pet. 4. 10.

Herein Gods gifts differ from Mens, that as they are freely given, ſo are they without repentance, Rom. 11. 29. Thoſe being the beſt gifts we muſt earneſtly covet, 1 Cor. 12. 31. and deſire ſpirituall gifts, 1 Cor. 14. 1. yea, be zealous of them, Ibid. 12.

II. To Chriſt, who immediately after his glorious aſcenſion, ſent down his Spirit upon men in the miraculous gifts thereof, and fitted thoſe whom he called to the Miniſtery with anſwerable gifts for the worthy diſcharge thereof, Eph. 4. 7, 8, 11.

III. To the holy Ghoſt; whoſe gifts were poured out on the Gentiles, Act. 10. 45. and through whom there are diverſities of gifts, 1 Cor. 12. 4, 8. which are gifts or diſtributions (Heb. 2. 4. marg.) of the holy Ghoſt.

IV. To Man; being either unlawful or lawful.

Unlawfull; with relation both unto God and Man.

Unto God; when 1. the offerer thinketh that thereby he hath liberty to ſin, Pro. 7. 14. 2. When he thinketh he may both ſerve God, and offer gifts unto Idols, Ezek. 20. 26, 31, 39. 3. When he is not in charity, at peace with others, Mat. 5. 23.

Unto

Unto Man, with relation both unto the Giver and the Receiver.

The Giver; 1. when the gift is falſe, or a gift of fallhood (as whereby the Giver would deceive or wrong the Receiver) Prov. 25. 14. marg.

2. When it's not given in love or good will, but as a bribe, Deut. 16. 19.

3. When given upon by-reſpects, and for ſelf-ends, 2 Sam. 19. 42. Prov. 18. 16.

The Receiver; when againſt conſcience and equity he is wrought and brought by gifts to doe that which elſe he would not have done, Exod. 23. 8. Prov. 17. 23. Prov. 21. 14.

Lawfull; with relation both unto God and Man.

Unto God, both voluntary and injoyned.

Voluntary, as Exod. 36. 3. Lev. 22. 21, 23. Ezr. 3. 5. & 7. 16. Pſal. 119. 108.

Injoyned; as, Lev. 23. 38. Numb. 18. 29.

Unto Man; ſo the word may be taken for Reward, Dan. 5. 17. Marriage-portion, Ex. 34. 12. An inheritance or poſſeſſion, Ezek. 46. 16, 17. Portions, Gen. 25. 6. Tribute, 1 Sam. 8. 2. Charitable liberality, Eſt. 9. 22. 2 Cor. 8. 4. and liberall diſtribution, ch. 9. 9. 13, 14. That which a man is able to give, Deut. 16. 17.

Gifts and calling of God] The gift of calling, by Hendiadis: or by Gifts, underſtand the good things given according to election of grace, as in v. 28. and by calling, that effectuall work of the Spirit, whereby God hath called many Jews, and decreed to call many more to his Kingdome, by drawing them to Chriſt. The gifts and calling of God are without repentance, Rom. 11. 29. The gifts and calling proper to the Elect, are ſaid to be without repentance, not in the nature of the things which are mutable, (God alone being abſolutely unmutable:) nor becauſe the Saints might not, or deſerve not to loſe them wholly; but becauſe there is no change with God, who ſo conferreth them, as he alſo preſerves them without any alteration of his purpoſe, or grief for that which he hath done, 1 Sam. 15. 29. Numb. 23. 19. In all which places, Repentance is uſed to ſignifie change or mutation of Gods decree, which is more firm then heaven and earth; as even Lyra, Haimo, and other Popiſh Authors expound. Here is then in this text ſtrong ground for the doctrine of perſeverance in grace, and a cheek to the Popiſh erroneous opinion of doubting of ſalvation, and of loſing the grace of a juſtifying faith; whereby they croſſe the Oracle of the Spirit, affirming ſuch gifts to be without repentance. God give the Papiſts true repentance, ſuch as belongs to him.

Gift good and perfect] Firm and ſolid, ſuch as be thoſe ſpirituall graces in Chriſt, communicated to beleevers, which are here oppoſed to worldly goods, which though they come from the Fountain of Gods bounty, yet are fading and vaniſhing away. Jam. 1. 17. Every good and perfect gift.

The gift of ones hand] That which is in ones power to give, or the giving after ones ability. Deut. 16. 17. Every man ſhall give according to the gift of his hand.

To neglect a gift] To ſuffer it to lie idle and unprofitable (as a ſword that ruſteth in a ſheath) 1 Tim. 4. 14. Neglect or deſpiſe not the gift in thee. He neglecteth his gift, which doth not diligently and faithfully exerciſe his talent to the utmoſt of his power, with ſincere deſire of glorifying God and benefitting the Church, without hiding them ſloathfully, or converting them ambitiouſly, to gain thereby preferment and wealth.

Gihon] A breaſt; or, valley of grace; a river. Gen. 2. 13. A City, or Town, 1 King. 1. 33.

Gilalai] A wheel, or marble. A mans name, Neh. 12. 36.

Gilboa] A revolving, or ſearching out. A Mountain, 2 Sam. 1. 21.

Gilead] The heap of witneſſe. The Son of Machir, Numb. 26. 29. Hence Gileadites, Num. 26. 29. A Mount, Gen. 31. 21. A land, Num. 32. 2. or Countrey, Joſh. 22. 9. wherein there were thirty Cities, Judg. 10. 4.

Gilgal] A wheel, or revolution. A City, ſo called, for that the people being there circumciſed, they rolled away the reproach of Ægypt from off them, Joſh. 5. 7, 9.

Giloh] A rejoycing, or diſcovering. A City, Joſh. 15. 51. whence the Citizens were called Gilonites, 2 Sam. 15. 12.

Gimzo] That bulruſh. A City, 2 Chron. 28. 18.

Gin] Taken properly, Amos 3. 5.

Figuratively, for a ſnare unto ſuch as are godleſſe and rebellious, Iſa. 8. 14.

Ginath] A garden. The Father of Tibni, 1 King. 16. 21.

Ginnetho] The ſame. A Prieſt, called alſo Ginnethon, Neh. 12. 4, 16.

To gird] To binde and reſtrain the wicked from attempting evil, Pſal. 76. 10.

2. To compaſſe and environ men (as with a girdle) either with ſorrow and ſackcloth, Joel 2. 13. or with joy and gladneſſe, as Pſa. 30. 12. & 65. 13. or with ſtrength, Pſ. 18. 39.

3. To

3. To tie about, Levi. 8. 7.

4. To gather ſtrength, heart, and ſpirit, Job 38. 3.

5. To put on cloſe, 1 King. 20. 11.

6. To tuck up, Luk. 17. 8.

7. To reſtrain luſts, Luk. 12. 35.

8. To binde, Joh. 21. 18.

It's joyned with a Girdle, Pſal. 109. 19. an Ephod, 1 Sam. 2. 18. Sack-cloth, 2 Sam. 3. 31. a Sword, 2 Sam. 21. 16. Dagger, Judg. 3. 16. Weapon, Deut. 1. 41. Garment, 2 Sam. 20. 8. Strength, 2 Sam. 22. 40. Gladneſſe, Pſal. 30. 11. Power, Pſal. 65. 6. Gold, Dan. 10. 5. Towel, Joh. 13. 5. Harneſſe, 1 King. 20. 11.

Your loynes girt] The tucking up, or keeping ſhort our wicked luſts by mortification: or, an utter abſtaining from all things which hinder the Chriſtian traveller in his journey toward Jeruſalem which is above, 1 Pet. 1. 13. Luk. 12. 35. Let your loynes be girt about. It is a ſpeech borrowed from the common uſage of the Eaſt Countreys, where men did wear long garments, and could not travel unleſſe their cloaths were girt and tuckt up: So it ſignifies the exerciſe and practiſe of mortification and repentance. And by lamps burning, is meant, the ſound and clear light of Gods Word, to guide repentance in the works and fruits of it.

Girdle] That which keeps a Souldiers armour faſt to his body, 1 King. 2. 5.

Put alſo for ſtrength, Iſa. 23. 10. marg. Power and authority in government, Iſa. 22. 21. Gods people, Jer. 13. 11.

Of Girdles, three ſorts:

1. Sacred, Exod. 28. 38. & 29. 9.

2. Myſticall, Rev. 1. 13. & 15. 6.

3. Common, Prov. 31. 24. Act. 21. 11. They were made of needle-work, Exod. 28. 39. Of linnen, Jer. 13. 1. Of leather, Mat. 3. 4. Of gold, Rev. 15. 6.

There is no more girdle] Both glory and power to be taken away from Tyre, Iſa. 23. 10. A girdle was uſed not onely for ornament, but for ſtrength. See Job 12. 18, 21. & 38. 3. & 40. 2. Iſa. 11. 5.

Girdle of truth] Integrity or ſoundneſſe of a good conſcience. Eph. 6. 14. Your loyns girded about with truth.

Girle] Properly a little Maid-childe which playeth in the ſtreet, Zech. 8. 5. On ſuch a prevailing enemy taketh no pity, but ſelleth them for a very little, Joel 3. 3.

Giſpa] Coming hither. One ſet over the Nethenims, Neh. 11. 21.

Gitta-hepher] Digging a wine-preſſe. A place, Joſh. 19. 13.

Gittaim] A wine-preſſe. A City, 2 Sam. 4. 3.

Gittites] Wine-preſſes. A people, Joſh. 13. 3.

To give] To elect, or in his decree of election to give. Joh. 6. 36, 37. All that the Father giveth me, &c. 2 Tim. 1. 9.

2. Actually to beſtow, and frankly, Pſal. 2. 8. Joh. 3. 16. That he gave his Son. Joh. 17. 2, 6, 9.

3. To conſecrate and offer up, 2 Cor. 8. 5. Theſe gave themſelves to the Lord, Exod. 22. 4.

4. To diſtribute the common almes amongſt the needy and poor Chriſtians. This belonged to the office of Deacons in the primitive Church by Chriſts appointment. Rom. 12. 8. He that giveth with ſimplicity. Alſo, to put, or ſet, Pſal. 4. 7. & 8. 1. 40, 3. Alſo, to grant, permit and ſuffer, Pſal. 16. 9. & 55. 23. & 66. 9. It ſignifies likewiſe to ſell for money, Gen. 23. 9.

It may be referred I. to God, and that both in reſpect of Chriſt, Man, and the Creatures.

Chriſt; ſignifying, 1. The power and authority which he did communicate unto him both before and after his reſurrection; Before, as Joh. 5. 26, 27. Eph. 1. 22. After, as Mat. 28. 18.

2. The work about which he did here imploy him, Joh. 17. 4.

3. His liberality towards him; generall, Pſal. 2. 8. particular, Joh. 17. 6.

4. The death and ſufferings which he had fore-ordained him to undergoe, Joh. 18. 11.

5. Power to give eternall life unto the elect, Joh. 17. 2.

6. The revelation of hidden things which God gave unto him, Rev. 1. 1.

Man; with relation both unto the godly and ungodly; and that both in general and in particular.

In generall: So he giveth unto every man according to his wayes, 1 King. 8. 39. according to the fruit of his doings, Jer. 17. 10. according to their works, Rev. 2. 23. So unto all their daily bread, meat, drink, raiment, &c. Mat. 6. 11. Gen. 1. 29. & 9. 3.

In particular, unto the godly, as their daily bread, Luk. 11. 3. and many other bleſſings and benefits plentifully recorded in the Scriptures: So, whatſoever we ſhall ask him in the name of Chriſt, he will give it us, Joh. 16. 23. To them he giveth Paſtors, Jer. 3. 15. To them a new heart, Ezek. 36. 26. To them his owne Son, Joh. 3. 16. To them his Spirit, Luk. 11. 13. Rom. 5. 5. 1 Theſſ. 4. 8. To them a Kingdome, Luk. 12. 32.

Unto the ungodly, to whom he giveth according ding to their deeds, according to the wickedneſſe of their endevours, after the work of their hands, Pſal. 28. 4. Pſal. 78. 46, 50, 62. Pſal. 106. 41. Pſal. 81. 12. Ezek. 39. 23. Iſa. 3. 4. Jer. 9. 15. Rom. 1. 24. Them he puniſheth externally, in their bodies, goods, reputation, &c. internally, in their ſouls and conſciences, as they ſhall be eternally both in ſoul and body. This is the portion of their cup, Pſal. 11. 6. This is the gift which they may expect from the Lord.

The Creatures, who doe all wait upon God, that he may give them their meat in due ſeaſon, Pſ. 104. 27. & 145. 15. Matt. 6. 26.

II. To Chriſt, who giveth reſt unto his, Matt. 11. 28. The keys of the Kingdome of heaven unto his Miniſters, that by their cenſures and doctrine they may either open the gates thereof to the faithull and penitent, or ſhut them upon the impenitent, diſobedient unbeleevers, Mat. 16. 19. A mouth, and wiſdome, whereby to ſilence all their adverſaries, Luk. 21. 15. Himſelf, Joh. 6. 51. Peace, Joh. 14. 27. Eternall life, Joh. 10. 28.

III. To Man, and that 1. with relation unto God, ſignifying, To conſecrate, or offer up, 2 Cor. 8. 5. Prov. 23. 26.

2. With relation unto others; ſignifying, To beget, Gen. 30. 1. or Impart, Rom. 12. 8. marg. Diſtribute, Eph. 4. 28. marg. Send, 1 King. 17. 14. marg. Deliver or compaſſe, Prov. 4. 9. marg. Cauſe to poſſeſſe, Jer. 3. 18. marg. Lift up, or offer, 2 Chron. 30. 24. marg. Communicate, Mat. 10. 8. To be liberall, Prov. 21. 26. Lend, Mat. 25. 8. Aſſigne or make over, Deut. 3. 12, 13. Intruſt with, Luk. 19. 15. Obtain, 1 Joh. 5. 16. Beſtow in marriage, Deut. 7. 3. Furniſh, Luk. 22. 5. Yeeld, Jam. 5. 18. Put in ones minde, Mar. 13. 11. Diſtribute, Mat. 24. 45. Put in, Luk. 19. 23. Make that a thing may be ſo, 1 Cor. 7. 25. Eph. 6. 19. Caſt, Act. 1. 26. Frame, Hoſ. 5. 4. marg. Expoſe, Prov. 5. 9. Deliver, Gen. 3. 6. Mat. 14. 8.

To gibe up] Readily to preſent and conſecrate our ſelves to God to do him ſervice, (as ſacrifices under the Law were wont to be preſented before the Altar.) Rom. 12. 1. That ye give up your bodies.

2. To leave ſome to be plagued by their owne luſts, Rom. 1. 24.

To gibe us] To put into us, 1 Theſſ. 4. 8.

To be given for us] To die, Tit. 2. 14. Note: though this word given ſimply uſed and alone, doth ſignifie a free beſtowing of good things; yet being joyned with other words, as Rom. 11. 5. it noteth a clean contrary ſignification to that which is natural to it.

Given up] for, Shut up, Lam. 2. 7. marg.

Given to wine] or, not ready to quarrell and offer wrong, as in wine, 1 Tim. 3. 3. marg.

He hath given] That he will or ſhall give hereafter. Ro. 11. 8. He hath given them the ſpirit of ſlumber: a propheticall phraſe uttering things to come, and to be done in the præterperfect time, to note thereby the certainty of the thing, as if it were already done: ſo infallible be Gods predictions.

To gibe a Commandement] is, To command, preſcribe, enjoyn, Joh. 13. 34. 1 Theſ. 4. v. 2.

Gibe ear] that is, attend, hear, Pſal. 86. 1.

Gibe the hand] A ſigne of friendſhip and good will, 2 King. 10. 15. Of conſent, Ezr. 10. 19. Of a covenant agreed upon, Ezek. 17. 18. Of ſubmiſſion, 1 Chr. 29. 24. mar. Of ſubjection or yeelding, 2 Chr. 30. 8. marg. Jer. 50. 15.

Gibe place] To yeeld, Eph. 4. 27. Remit, deſiſt, Rom. 12. 19.

Gibe goodly words] that is, Be eloquent, well ſpoken, have a good grace in uttering a matter, Gen. 49. 21.

Gibe ſentence] that is, utter judgement, Jer. 4. 12. marg.

Gibe ones ſtrength to women] Prov. 31. 3. is, by whoring to waſte and conſume the ſtrength.

Gibe thanks] that is, Confeſſe, Heb. 13. 15. marg.

Gizonite] Shaving. Haſham ſo named, 1 Ch. 11. 34.

G L.

Glad, gladneſſe] See Joy, Joyfull, Rejoyce.

Glaſſe] A mirrour, wherein women, Iſa. 3. 23. and men behold their naturall (I may add, yet not add unto the Text, their unnaturall, artificiall, painted, patched) faces. Jam. 1. 23. Hereunto the skie is compared, Job 37. 18. Some were brazen, Exod. 38. 8. marg. In Rev. 4. 6. & 15. 2. it is taken myſtically. There is alſo mentioned pure gold, like unto clear (as it were) tranſparent glaſſe, Rev. 21. 18, 21.

Now we ſee through a glaſſe darkly, 1 Cor. 13. 12. that is, All the knowledge that we have of God is dim and dark; as a man that looks in a glaſſe ſees there but the image, and reſemblance, and repreſentation of the thing ſeen, and not the thing it ſelf.

Beholding as in a glaſſe the glory of the Lord, 2 Cor. 3. 18. that is, As a glaſſe which is ſet againſt the ſun receives the beams thereof, ſo doe doe we take in glory from God, in one degree after another.

Gleam] is of ears of Corn, Lev. 23. 22. Grapes, Isa. 17.6. allowed for the use of the poor, Lev. 29.10.

Taken properly for gathering of ears of corn scattered, Ruth 2. 3,7.

Figuratively, for killing one after another, Judg. 20. 45. for searching for the remainders of the Jews escaped in the first destruction, as the Vine-gatherer when he hath pulled off the most remarkable clusters, goes over the tree again, and gleans those branches that remained. Jer. 6. 9. Is not the gleaning of the grapes of Ephraim better then the vintage of Abiezer? Judg. 8. 2. that is, the Ephraimites chasing and executing the Midianites, is much more then all that which we followers of Abiezer have done in joyning the batttel, and routing these enemies.

Glede] An unclean fowle, Deut. 14. 13. It hath a soft both voyce and flying; a great body, but small courage. It cannot indure cold, so that its coming is a sure signe that the Winter is past. It flyeth so swiftly that it catcheth flesh thrown up in the air, before it fall to the ground. When it watcheth for a prey, it seemeth not to move it self at all in the air. It's alwayes hungry, and though fearfull to set on wilde fowls, yet it is bold in preying on them that are tame, and oftentimes, for a long while together, flyeth about before it can catch them. If its young ones wax fat, it beateth them with its bil, whereby they become lean. They feed on carion, or such fowls as they kill. Oyntment would kil them. Whileſt young, it feedeth on flies and worms, but when old is ravenous.

Glister] Shine, spoken of stones, 1 Chro. 29. 2. Sword, Job 20. 25. Raiment, Luk. 9. 29. Spear, Job 39. 23.

Glory] is a singular and high opinion which one conceiveth of the excellency and worthynesse of another. The Hebrew word put for glory, signifies a weightines or gravity, which the Apostle seemeth to respect 2 Cor. 4. 17. It is put for,

1. Praise increased and abundantly published, Luk. 2. 14. Glory be to God on high Mat. 6. 13. Rom. 11. 36. To him be glory for ever: and elsewhere often.

2. Exceeding shining brightnesse. 2 Cor. 3. 7. For the glory of his countenance.

3. Earthly pomp and majesty, serving to make Kings glorious and renowned before men. Mat. 6. 26. Solomon in all his glory was not like one of these.

4. The mercy of God. Eph. 3. 16. That he may grant you according to the riches of his glory; that is, according to his rich mercy.

5. The Ark of the Covenant, which was a witnesse of the glorious presence of God, who did there hear the prayers of his people, and give forth his Oracles: whence the Temple was called the house or habitation of glory, Psal. 26. 8. Rom. 9. 4. The adoption and the glory. 1 Sam. 4. 22.

6. Riches, authority, sumptuous buildings and garments, &c. which because they are glorified and praised of men, and make their possessours glorious before men, are therefore called [Glory] in the phrase of Scripture. Psal. 49. 16. When the glory of his House is encreased. Est. 1. 4. To shew his glory. That which is glorious, and whereof men doe glory, Isa. 8. 7. & 10. 16. Psal. 108. 1. Gen. 31. 1.

Note. Because glory ariseth upon riches; hence it is that riches and glory are joyned together, in Prov. 3. 16. & 8. 1. Eccl. 6. 2. Glory hath the name of Weightynesse (as Paul mentioneth weight of glory, 2 Cor. 4. 17.) and Abraham is said to be weighty when he was rich, Gen. 13. 2. & in Isa. 16. 6. Glory is in Greek called Riches.

7. The soul of man, and his tongue, which are his most glorious parts. Gen. 49. 6. My glory be thou not joyned with their assembly. Psal. 16. 8. and so is my glory also; that is, my tongue, which is the instrument wherewith men glorifie God, Act. 2. 26. Psal. 30. 12. & 57. 9. Because the tongue is the glory of man by speech, if it be good, and the contrary if it be evill: It is therefore called (his glory.)

8. An ornament, that which adorneth and honoureth one. 1 Cor. 11. 8. The man is the glory of God, but the woman is the glory of the man.

9. An honest name or good report. Psal. 7. 5. And lay my glory (or honour) in the dust. Also, it signifieth the contentment which Paul the Apostle had, to have preached the Gospel to the Corinthians, without taking any thing of them for his pains, 1 Cor. 9. 15.

10. Goodnesse, or the work of Gods mercy in defending and blessing his people, which turns to his glory. Psal. 90. 17. Thy glory upon their children.

11. Dignity, excellency, 1 Cor. 15. 44. There is one glory of the Sun, another of the Moon.

In this place Glory doth comprehend the properties, several conditions, actions, uses, effects, and whatsoever other qualities by the gift gift of God is proper to every creature in heaven and earth, tending to beautifie, deck, and adorn each creature, or to distinguish it from other, 1 Cor. 15. 40,41. And in v. 43. it signifies the clarity, beauty and brightnesse of glorified bodies, which shall shine so gloriously after their resurrection, as Moses face did by the glory which God put upon it, at his coming down from the Mount to the people; or as the garments of Christ did shine at his transfiguration in the Mount Tabor, Matt. 17. 2.

12. Worship and renown. Psal. 3. 3. Thou art my buckler and my glory. Luk. 2. 32. The glory of his people.

13. Grace of regeneration, or the renewing of Gods glorious Image. 2 Cor. 3. 18. From glory to glory; that is, from one measure of grace to another. This is Sanctification. As Grace is sometime put for Glory, so on the other side, Glory doth signifie Grace, as the way to Glory, and wherein God is glorified, by his free giving and continuing it.

15. A glorious victory by overcoming ones self. Psa. 73. 24. And afterward receive me into glory.

16. Peace and everlasting prosperity, Hag. 2. 10.

17. God himself, who is the glory or grace, and matter of praise to all men, Psal. 106. 20. Rom. 1. 23.

18. The tongue or speech of a man well used: because so it is the glory of man above other creatures, Psal. 57. 10.

19. Any good man or matter, which is or may be the means of glory to God or man, and the matter whereof or wherein to glory or rejoyce, 1 Thess. 2. 20.

20. Honour, Psal. 22. 9. marg.

21. All that by which in the heavenly Creatures God is set forth, Psal. 96. 7.

22. The Army of a great King. Isa. 8. 7.

23. That by which glory is gotten, that is, Gods goodnesse and works of mercy, to be spoken of, Psal. 90. 16. So his power and might, Joh. 11. 40.

24. That which is contrary to dishonour, 1 Cor. 15. 43.

25. With glory, or gloriously, or honourably, Psal. 73. 24.

26. The perfection which God required, Rom. 3. 23. and found in Christ, Isa. 40. 5.

27. Mans authority under God, as in his stead; or, that which setteth forth the dignity and excellency of man, 1 Cor. 11. 7.

28. The divine essence and very deity, Exod. 33. 18.

29. The doctrine and miracles of Christ, Joh. 1. verse. 14. & chap. 2. verse. 11.

30. Some admirable evidence of Gods presence, 2 King. 8. 11.

31. The incomprehensible excellency of God, Rom. 1. 23.

32. Matter of glorying, 1 Thess. 2. 20.

33. Heaven, 1 Tim. 3. 16. and felicity there, Rom. 5. 2. Luk. 24. 26.

Father of glory, and God of glory] The true God, who alone is truely glorious, and the Authour of all glory to his creatures. Eph. 1. 17. The Father of glory. Act. 7. 2. That God of glory appeared to our Fathers; that is, God full of glory and majesty.

Glory of the Forrest and fields] signifieth the mighty, noble, and valiant Souldiers in the Army of Assyria. Isa. 10. 18.

Glory of God] The God-head or divine essence. Exod. 33. 18. Shew me thy glory.

2. The doctrine and miracles of Christ, which were signes and tokens of his divine power and majesty. Joh. 1. 14. We saw his glory. Joh. 2. 11. A Metonymie of the efficient cause.

3. The manifestation of Gods omnipotency and goodnesse. Joh. 11. 40. If thou didst beleeve thou shalt see the glory of God; that is, Gods might and mercy manifested in the raising of thy dead brother.

4. The glorious and most admirable presence of God, witnessed by some visible token. 2 King. 8. 11. The glory of the Lord filled the house of the Lord. This glory was a visible cloud, full of light and brightnesse, as a token of Gods wonderfull presence, 1 Sam. 4. 22. Luk. 2 9. And in this sense it is written, that Christ shall come unto Judgement with glory. Also, the Ark of the Covenant being a Testimony of Gods glorious presence, and to shew how much he esteemed the people of the Jews, is therefore called glory, Rom. 9. 4, 15. and 4. 21, 22.

5. Religion or worship of God. Rom. 1. 23. They turned the glory of the incorruptible God, into the similitude of corruptible man.

6. The celebrating or setting forth of his praise. Joh. 11. 4. This sickness is not to death, but for the glory of God. Rom. 3. 7.

7. The perfect righteousnesse of the man Christ, the free imputing whereof unto beleevers turneth greatly to Gods glory. Isa. 40. 5. The glory of the Lord shall be revealed. In this sense are expounded those words of the Apostle, Romans 3. v. 23. All have sinned, and are deprived of the glory of God.

8. Felicity in heaven, or life eternall, which consists in the participation of Gods glory, glory, Luk. 24.26. Rom. 5. 2. And rejoyce under the hope of the glory of God.

Glory of his grace] Glorious & renowned grace. Eph. 1.5. The praise of the glory of his grace.

To give glory to God] To acknowledge God the searcher of all hearts, and just avenger of all wickedneſſe, by confeſſing plainly what thou haſt done. Joſh. 7.19. My Son, give glory to the Lord of Iſrael.

2. To beleeve and praiſe the truth of God, that he is ſuch an one, as keeps promiſe, and is able to perform that which he hath promiſed. Rom. 4. 20. And gave glory to God.

3. To confeſſe God the Authour of every good work. Joh. 9. 24. Give glory to God, this man is a ſinner. The glory of God is two ways to be conſidered: either as it is abſolute in himſelfe, which none can conceive as it is, (therefore Moſes muſt ſee but the back parts of God) Exod. 34. 22, 23. nor change it, to cauſe it not to be what it is, for it is unchangeable, as himſelfe is. Mal. 3.6. I change not, ſaith Jehovah. Or elſe with reference unto us, to wit, that worſhip and honour which reaſonable creatures yeeld to their Creator. This may be conceived, for it is revealed in the word; alſo, it may be changed (without diminution to God) though not without contumely and reproach to him; and that two wayes, either by giving divine honour to ſuch things as by nature are no Gods, as the Romans and Ægyptians did to men and beaſts. Secondly, by repreſenting and worſhipping God by Images and ſimilitudes of creatures.

To the glory of God] Either the end for which duties are to be done, that God may be glorified, or elſe the fruit of Chriſt his love toward the elect, which walk in the ſteps of his charity: which is, to be made immortall as God is, and partakers of his heavenly glory. Rom. 15.7. To the glory of God.

Glory and joy] Matter or cauſe of glorying and rejoycing. 1 Theſ. 2. 20. Ye are our glory and joy.

The glory of the man] ſignifieth that the woman was created of God, that by her ſubjection to the man ſhe might make him more renowned and glorious, 1 Cor. 11.7.

Glory and pomp] Noble and rich men with their nobility and abundance. Iſa. 5.14. Their glory and pomp ſhall deſcend.

God of glory] Act. 7.2. Lord of glory, 1 Cor. 2.8. Eyes of glory, Iſa. 3.8. It is an Hebraiſme, glory for glorious, the abſtract for the concrete; and ſignifies, full of majeſty and glory, therefore great heed to be taken not to offend and provoke him.

Received into glory] Chriſt gloriouſly taken up, and into heavenly glory, 1 Tim. 3.16.

Riches of his glory] The unmeaſurable and marvellous great mercies of God, wherein conſiſteth his chiefeſt glory. Rom. 6. 23. To declare the riches of his glory.

Spirit of glory] That glory or renown, whereby the Spirit doth beautifie conſtant Chriſtians, which ſuffer reproach for Chriſt, 1 Pet. 4.14. For the Spirit of glory and of God reſteth upon you.

Their glory] Him, to wit, God or Chriſt, who is authour and matter of their glory, Pſal. 106. 20. Luk. 6. 32.

Upon all the glory] Upon all the elect and faithful people in all places, whom God ſhould glorifie by communion with himſelf. Iſa. 4. 5. Upon all the glory ſhall be a defence.

To glory] 1. To boaſt either proudly and vainly, Jer. 9. 23. which is unlawfull; or like a vain and proud man, but driven thereto by neceſſity. 2 Cor. 12.11. I am become a fool in glorying, ye have compelled me; which is lawfull.

2. To reſt and rejoyce in Chriſt onely, as the onely mean and meritorious cauſe of all peace and happineſſe from God, Jer. 9. 24. 1 Cor. 1. 31. 2 Cor. 10. 17.

3. To reſt in and be ſatisfied with our owne worthyneſſe, as if we could thereby purchaſe Gods favour. 1 Cor. 1. 29. That no fleſh ſhould glory in his preſence. This is unlawful.

4. To rejoyce and ſpeak boldly of our own or other mens innocency againſt the calumniation of adverſaries, 2 Cor. 1. 12. & 12.1,5.

5. To rejoyce and ſpeak confidently of our future happineſſe through Chriſt, ſatisfying for us, & ſanctifying us to his ſervice, Rom. 8.31,33,34. 1 Cor. 15. 55. Rom. 5.3.

To glory concerning God] To rejoyce and triumph inwardly in our hearts, becauſe we have the great God to be our Father through Chriſt. Rom. 5.11. We glory concerning God, through Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Thus it is to be read after the Originall.

To glory in God] To attribute all good things unto God with prayſe and thankſgiving. 1 Cor. 1. 31. He that glorieth, let him glory in the Lord. Jer. 9. 23. This place ſhews what it is to glory in the Lord: to confeſſe and prayſe his mercifulneſſe, righteouſneſſe, and judgement.

Glorifie] To make glorious. Rom. 8.30. Whom he juſtified, them alſo he glorified. Thus God glorifies the elect, by adorning them with gifts of grace in this world, and celeſtial glory in the world to come.

2. To make known ones fame and glory.

Mat.

Mat. 5. 16. That they may ſee your work and glorifie your Father which is in heaven. Thus the elect glorifie God, when they greatly praiſe and thank him, confeſſe and honour him, both in words and deeds, Rom. 15. 6.

God the Father is glorified in Chriſt the Mediatour, whileſt his truth and mighty power appeareth in the effects of Chriſt his death, to wit, his victory over ſin, death, and hell, and Satan; and in his glorious return from death, according as God had promiſed to doe in Pſal. 2. & 16. and in the Prophets: but Chriſt the Son is glorified of his Father, as touching his humane nature, by the ſuſtaining it againſt the gates of hell in his agony and paſſion on the Croſſe; by making a meritorious ſacrifice to expiate and purge ſin, and reconcile mankinde; alſo raiſing it glorioufly the third day, and by his aſcenſion into heaven, and his ſitting as Lord over all, and head of his Church, as touching his Godhead and divine nature, by reſtoring thereto (after a ſort) his incomprehenſible eternall glory which was hid and obſcured in the time of his humiliation) and manifeſting it to the world more and more; that as he was indeed ever the true Son of God, ſo he might be known and declared to be of men.

It's ſpoken I. of God glorifying his owne Son, Joh. 13. 32. His owne Name, Joh. 12. 28. His owne Houſe, Iſa. 60. 7. Men, Jer. 30. 19.

II. Of the Son glorifying the Father, Joh. 17. 1.

III. Of the holy Ghoſt glorifying the Son, Joh. 16. 14.

IV. Of Man glorifying God, 1 Pet. 2. 12. Which he doth

1. By knowledge, when we conceive of God after a glorious manner.

2. By acknowledgement, when in words or works we aſcribe excellency unto God, and acknowledge his glory; and we thus doe, when in words we magnifie God, and ſpeak of his prayſes, and confeſſe that he is worthy to receive honour, and glory, and might, and majeſty, Pſal. 86. 9. Rev. 4. 11. When we confeſſe, that all the glory we have above other men in gifts or dignity, is given us of God, 1 Chr. 29. 11, 12. And thus we make God the Father of glory, as he is called, Eph. 1. 17. When we care not to abaſe our ſelves in the acknowledgement of our owne vileneſſe, that God may be magnified in any of his attributes or ordinances by it, Jer. 13. 16. Mal. 2. 2. When the prayſe of God, or the advancement of his Kingdome, is made the end of all our actions, 1 Cor. 10. 31. When we beleeve Gods promiſes, and wait for the performance of them, though we ſee no means likely for their accompliſhment, Rom. 4. 20. When we publickly acknowledge true Religion, or any ſpeciall truth of God, when it is generally oppoſed by moſt, Luk. 23. 47. When we ſuffer for God, 1 Pet. 4 16. When on the Sabbath we devote our ſelves onely to Gods work, Iſa. 58. 13. When we give thanks unto God, for benefits or deliverances, Pſal. 113. 4. Luk. 17. 18. When we love, prayſe, admire, and eſteem of Chriſt above all, Joh. 1. 14. & 11. 4.

3. By effect, when we make others to glorifie God, conceiving more glorioufly of him; or in praiſing God and his wayes, 2 Cor. 9. 13. Phil. 1. 10. Iſa. 61. 3. Eph. 1. 7. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 12. p. 406, 407.

Glorification is an action of God, freely, without our deſert, yet for the merit of Chriſt, making glorious, or endowing with glory all the elect, both men and women, here in this life, by ſanctification begun, and in the next world by ſanctification perfect, firſt, in their ſoul at death, afterward in the whole man, at the reſurrection, to the praiſe of his owne grace, and their eternall comfort. Rom. 8. And whom he juſtifyeth them he glorifyeth. Luk. 16. 22. 1 Cor. 15. 42, 43, 44.

Glorious] Full of brightneſſe and majeſty. 2 Cor. 3. 9. If the miniſtration was glorious.

It's ſpoken of God and his attributes, of Chriſt and his Goſpel, and of divers things which the carefull reader of the Scriptures may plainly obſerve.

Glorious majeſty] Venerable or prayſeworthy glory, Pſal. 8. 1. The Hebrew word Hoda is general for any laudable grace or virtue, which one is celebrated, reverenced and commended for.

Glutton] A devourer of meat, one given to the appetite, Prov. 23. 2. Riotous, Prov. 28. 7. A riotous eater of fleſh, Prov. 23. 20. Who ſhall come to poverty, Ibid. 21.

Gluttony] Properly and ſtrictly, Night-revellings, untimely riotous ſuppers and feaſts; but more largely, All unhoneſt and exceſſive feaſts, made to glut and pamper the belly, to the loading of the body, the dulling of the minde, the engendring of diſeaſes, waſting time and ſubſtance: and finally, making men leſſe fit and willing to exerciſe charity to men, or piety toward God, Rom. 13. 13.

G N.

Gnash] An expreſſion of rage, Job 16.9. Pſ. 35.16. & 37. 12. & 112.10. Lam.2. 16. Act. 7.54.

Gnat] Mat. 23. 24. Which ſtrain at a gnat and ſwallow a camell; that is, are obſervant and ſuperſtitious in the ſmalleſt things, negligent and careleſſe in thoſe of greateſt moment. As the Bee in ſweetneſſe, ſo it delighteth in ſowrneſſe.

In ſome Countreys Gnats have been ſo troubleſome, that the inhabitants have been inforced to remove their habitations, but every they are more then enough. They love the Candle-light, but are thereby burnt.

Gnaw] through hunger, Zeph. 3. 3. for ſorrow, Rev. 16. 10.

Gnidus] A rage. An Iſle by which Paul ſailed when he went to Rome, Act. 27. 7.

G O.

Goads and Nails] ſignifieth the Word of God, which is like goads and nails, both for touching men with a feeling of their ſins, quickning them unto godlineſſe: and alſo for ſtaying and ſtrengthening men in the faith, Eccl. 12. 11, 12.

Goat] A creature ſo called, being naturally very noyſome unto ſheep.

2. All unbeleevers, and wicked perſons, which are like to Goats, becauſe they are not onely out of the fold of the holy Catholick Church, but are hurtfull and troubleſome to the flock of Chriſt, Ezek. 34. 18. Matt. 25. 32, 33. And the goats on his left.

The Ceremony of the Live and Scape Goat, in Lev. 16. 20, 21. it ſignified the inviſible ſufferings of Chriſts ſoul to be ſo great, as his Godhead which dwels in light inacceſſible, muſt give to his humanity ſufficient ſtrength to endure them, being of all others not to be endured. See Joh. 7. 34, 35. & Joh. 13. 33.

There is no beaſt more venereous then this, yeelding ſeed at ſeaven days after it is kidned, ſome ſay, ſeaven weeks, and coupleth with its Mother, Siſter, &c. which many other beaſts doe not. Some affirm, that Goats take breath through their ears; nor is there any beaſt that heareth ſo perfectly and ſure as the Goat. Their skins are uſed by ſome for garments, Heb. 11. 37. They were charitably holpen by thoſe beaſts who were cruelly put to death by wretched men. Its blood ſcoureth ruſty iron better then a file; it alſo ſofteneth an adamant ſtone, which no fire is able to melt, nor iron to break. The Loadſtone being rubbed with garlick loſeth its virtue in drawing iron to it, but being dipped in Goats blood, it recovereth it. It loveth mountains and high places, whither when perſued, it flyeth, and there hanging on rocks, deceiveth the dogs. It loveth not to come behinde either Cattle or Sheep, but goeth alwayes before. Its biting the trees is found very prejudiciall to their growth. Honey is deadly to it. When it eateth of the Sea-holme it ſtandeth amazed; nor moveth it ſelf till freed by the Goat-herd. They are ſubject to the falling-ſickneſſe, as are they who feed on their fleſh. In the time of their coupling their ſmell is ſtinking and unſavory. Bows have been made of their horns, which have been uſed againſt themſelves. They are neither profitable for War, nor for the Plough. When the Owners are milking it, it often throweth down the pale and ſpilleth the milk. They are ſubject to wandring, nor continue they long in one place. They in ſome places bring forth young ones twice a yeer. They have given ſuck to the Wolves young whelps, by whom (when grown up) they have been devoured. When one of them is taken, the reſt ſtand ſtill, gazing thereat.

By the He-goat, Dan. 8. 5. Alexander the Great the King of Grecia is underſtood, Ib. 21.

Goath] His touching; or, his roaring. A place, Jer. 31. 39.

Gob] Graſhoppers. A City, 2 Sam. 21. 18, 19.

God] A moſt powerfull ſpirituall ſubſtance, the mighty Maker and Governour of the world. Gen. 1. 13. Then God ſaid. Joh. 4. 24. God is a Spirit. And whereſoever God is abſolutely uſed.

2. Kings, Princes, and all other lawful Magiſtrates, becauſe they repreſent the Image of his power, and executing his judgements, Pſal. 82. 1, 6. I have ſaid, Ye are Gods, 2 Chro. 19. 6. Here it is uſed in the plurall number.

3. One which interpreteth and declareth the minde of God to another. Thus is Moſes called Aarons God, and Pharaohs God. Exo. 4. 16. And thou ſhalt be to him as God. & 7. 1. I have made thee Pharaohs God. Here it is uſed with an addition; as Paraohs God, Aarons God.

4. God is put eſſentially for all the three perſons, even for the whole Deity, Joh. 4. 24. or perſonally, for ſome one perſon of the Trinity. Eph. 1. 3. Bleſſed be God the Father of our Lord Jeſus Chriſt. Rom. 9. 5. Chriſt is God

God bleſſed for ever. Joh. 11. Where God is put for the Father and the Spirit.

5. This name is given (but yet improperly) to Angels, 1 Sam. 28. 13

6. Improperly and falſely to men, either bad or good, which are not Gods, but onely in the opinion of ſeduced men, Act. 14. 11, 12. 1 Cor. 8. 5.

7. More falſely, to the Images or Idols of men, 1 Cor. 8. 4. Act. 17. 29.

8. Moſt falſely and impiouſly, this name is uſurped by Satan, and ſo it is Ironically attributed to him by St. Paul, 2 Cor. 4. 4. In whom the God of this world hath blinded the mindes of them which beleeve not, leſt the light of the glorious Goſpel of Chriſt, which is the Image of God, ſhould ſhine unto them. To ſhew the wicked what kinde of God they ſerve. See World.

9. Any thing that a man adoreth and eſteemeth in ſtead of God, or more then God, is that mans God, in the phraſe of Scripture, (Phil. 3. 19. Whoſe end is deſtruction, whoſe God is their belly, and whoſe glory is in their ſhame, who minde earthly things) and of St. Auguſtine. See Bucanus; Loc. com. loco 1. q. 13.

Or thus: The word God is ſometime uſed ſingularly, אלה, Job 3. 4. & 4. 9, 17. And in a ſhorter form, אל, Gen. 14. 18. So termed from his ſtrength or might) and אלה hath affinity with אָלָה he adjured; for, by oath and execration men entred into Covenant with God, Deut. 29. 12, 14, 19. Neh. 10. 29. Eccl. 8. 2. but is moſt uſed in the form plurall, אלהים, which ſignifieth, the Almighties; or, Almighty power, as having reference unto all the three perſons of the Deity. See Aynſworth on Gen. 1. 1.

It it taken either properly or improperly.

Properly, and that either eſſentially or perſonally.

Eſſentially, and ſo it is taken indefinitely for the whole Trinity, as Matt. 4. 7, 10. Joh. 4. 24.

Perſonally, 1. For the Father, Eph. 1. 3.

2. The Son, Rom. 9. 5. Joh. 1. 1. Tit. 1. 3, & 2. 10.

3. The Holy Ghoſt, Act. 5. 3, 4.

Improperly, 1. For an imaginary God, an Idol, Exod. 22. 20. Judg. 11. 24. Dan. 4. 8. Jonah 1. 5.

2. The Ark the ſigne of Gods preſence, 1 Sam. 4. 7. & 6. 20. 1 Chron. 13. 8, 10. Pſal. 42. 3.

3. Gods Subſtitutes here on earth, Kings, Princes, and Magiſtrates, Exod. 22. 28. Pſal. 82. 1. 6. & 138. 1.

4. A choſen inſtrument in ſome great ſervice, Exod. 4. 16.

5. Satan, 2 Cor. 4. 4.

6. The belly of the wicked, Rom. 16. 18. Phil. 3. 19.

7. The man of ſin, 2 Theſſ. 2. 3, 4.

After God] According to the Image and likeneſſe of God, in righteouſneſſe and holineſſe of truth. Eph. 4. 23. Which after God is created in, &c.

Againſt all is called God] ſignifieth, againſt the true and higheſt God, and againſt Kings, Princes, Magiſtrates, which in Scripture be called Gods; but eſpecially above that God which Idolaters worſhip, till he have got to be abſolute Commander in the Church of God, making himſelfe head of it, 2 Theſſ. 2. v. 4.

Before God] The place where Sacrifices were offered to God before the building of the Tabernacle. Exod. 18. 12. Eat bread before God.

2. A place in the Tabernacle neer unto the Ark, where God appeared, Deut. 12. 17. & 27. 7.

To beleeve God and Moſes] To give credit unto that which God, or Moſes from God ſpeaketh. Exod. 14. 31. The people beleeved the Lord and his ſervant Moſes. Beleeve Moſes; not in Moſes.

To be a follower of God] To ſtudy to be like unto God in ſuch ſpirituall graces as be parts of his image. Eph. 5. 2. Be followers of God.

To be for the people to God-ward] To be as Judge to hear and determine ſuch hard cauſes as could not otherwiſe be ended, but by asking counſell from God. Exod. 18. 19. Be thou for the people to God-ward.

God is one] God to be conſtant, and alwayes like himſelf, as Mal. 3. 6. Therefore he is ever offended with tranſgreſſors, now no leſſe then of old, ſo as none can be juſtified by the Law. Gal. 3. 31. But God is one.

Many Gods] Many Idols which were reputed Gods. 1 Cor. 8. 5. There be many Gods, and many Lords. Thus Paul ſpeaketh according to the opinion of the Heathens, who fancy unto themſelves a multitude of gods; whereas in truth, there is but one God, and one Lord.

My God] God to be his peculiar, or proper to himſelf, who is a common God to all his children, Rom. 1. 18. Joh. 20. 28. They be words ful of confidence & aſſurance in the true God, proceeding from a lively ſenſe of his goodneſſe; alſo upon enjoying ſome ſpeciall good thing, which others have not. Paul calleth God his God, both by a ſingular grace, Rom. 1. 8. and by ſingular obligation, Rom. 1. 9.

To be of God in Jeſus Chriſt] ſignifieth, that whatſoever we are in the ſtate and condition of our new birth, we are it by the grace of God in Jeſus Chriſt, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

One God] Such a God as in eſſence is one, and in his will alſo, being alwayes conſtant and like himſelf. Rom. 3. 24. One God which juſtifieth, &c. viz. keeping one courſe in juſtifying both Jews and Gentiles.

Onely true God] God who is the true and very God, to be ſo one, as he is the onely God, and none other, without whom there is no God; and this God is in Scripture taught to be three in perſons, the Father, the Son, and the holy Ghoſt; for the unity of Divine eſſence is not deſtroyed by trinity of Perſons. Joh. 17. 3. This is eternall life to know thee the onely true God, &c.

Whereas Arians take advantage from this place for their errour, to prove Chriſt not to be true God, becauſe the Father is the onely God: Let it be marked,

1. That the Text ſaith not, that the Father onely is God.

2. That it will as well follow that the Father is not Lord, becauſe it is written, 1 Cor. 4. 8. There is one Lord, even Chriſt; as that Chriſt ſhould not be God, becauſe the Father is called one God, and God onely.

3. This particle [onely] excludeth not the other two perſons, but all Gods, in opinion, as Heatheniſh Idols; or by office, as Magiſtrates.

4. As [onely] comprehendeth both Paul and Barnabas, 1 Cor. 9. 6. So here [onely] includes Chriſt, who is the ſame God with the Father.

Laſtly, Chryſoſtomes reading of this Text may well be received; to wit, that this is eternall life to know thee, and Chriſt whom thou haſt ſent, to be the onely true God.

Finally, whereas the firſt verſe ſaith that Chriſt had glory with his Father afore the world, it proves him both to be a perſon diſtinct from the Father, and to be his eternall Son, even God from everlaſting. Note, that (Elohim) the name of God in Hebrew in form plurall, is uſually joyned with a verb ſingular, as Elohim bara, God created; but in ſome other few places it is coupled with a word plurall, not without myſtery of the Trinity, to teach unity of eſſence in plurality of perſons, Gen. 20. 13. Alſo, Gen. 35. 7. & 2 Sam. 7. 23. In which, though the plurall number be joyned, yet a plurality of Gods is no way intended: one Scripture muſt clear another.

God not to be in ones thought] ſignifieth, To think and beleeve that God careth not for him, in matters, either to reward the good, or to puniſh the bad, Pſal. 10. 4, 5, 9, 11, 13.

Thy God] Either thine by profeſſion of him, Iſa. 7. 11. Or in truth alſo, Exod. 20. 2.

This form of ſpeech importeth the Covenant made by God with Abraham, Gen. 17. I will be thy God, and the God of thy ſeed after thee. In the enjoying of this Covenant, ſtandeth true happineſſe and eternall felicity, as Pſal. 33. 12.

A God in Gen. 28. 21. is to be the author of ones welfare and ſalvation.

A Goddeſſe] As Idolaters had their Mengods, ſo had they their Women-goddeſſes, as the Zidonians, 1 King. 11. 5. and the Epheſians, Act. 19. 27.

Godhead] The eſſence and nature of God. Col. 2. 9. In Chriſt dwelleth the fulneſſe of the Godhead bodily; that is, the true nature of God is in him truly and for ever.

The firſt name whereby God is called in holy Scripture is Elohim, and it is in the plurall number, to ſignifie the myſtery of the Trinity in unity of the Godhead; and therefore it is joyned commonly with other words, ſometime of the ſingular number, and of the plurall, ſometime indifferently, as Elohim; that is, God he went, 1 Chr. 17. 21. and Elohim, they went, 2 Sam. 5. 23. It may be derived either from El, which ſignifies mighty, and ſo by increaſe of the word the ſignification is increaſed, moſt mighty, or almighty; or, from Alah, to adjure, becauſe of the covenant, oath, and execration, wherewith men are bound to God, according to that in Deut. 29. 12, 14, 19. Neh. 10. 29. Eccl. 8. 2. This honorable name God hath given unto Angels, Pſal. 8. 5. and unto Magiſtrates, Pſal. 82. 1. 5. becauſe he hath communicated his word and power to them in a ſpecial manner, Joh. 10. 34, 35. 2 Chr. 19. 6. The Heb. uſe to note excellent things, by adding the name of God, as Mountains of God; that is, high and mighty Mounts. Cedars of God, Pſal. 80. 10. Mount of God, Pſal. 68. 15. River of God, Pſal. 65. 9. Wreſtlings of God, Gen. 30. 4. Harps of God, Rev. 15. 2. And ſundry the like.

Gods] The three perſons of the Trinity, in unity of eſſence. Gen. 1. 1. Gods made the world. So the Hebrew Text readeth in the plurall plurall number. Angels alſo and Magiſtrates are thus called, Pſal. 82. 1. Pſal. 8. 5.

2. The three perſons of the Godhead, each whereof is God of himſelf: unto equality with the three perſons, Adam was tempted and aſpired, Gen. 3. 5, 22.

Spoken alſo of Images, Gen. 31. 30, 32. & 35. 2. Falſe and imaginary gods, Ex. 12. 12. 2 Chr. 7. 29. A falſe repreſentation of the true God, Exod. 32. 8, 31. 2 Chron. 13. 8. Molten-gods, Exod. 34. 17. Satanicall apparitions, 1 Sam. 28. 13. Magiſtrates, Exod. 22. 28. Pſal. 82. 1, 6. The Sun, Moon, or any of the hoſt of heaven, Deut. 17. 3.

My Gods] ſignifieth the Teraphims, which were images, whereby he worſhipped his gods, Gen. 31. 30. The Scriptures uſe to call thoſe things gods, which repreſent God and his preſence to men, Exo. 32. 4. 1 King. 12. 28.

Godlie] One that hath obtained mercy, goodneſſe, piety, grace, and benignity from the Lord; and is again (after Gods example) pious, kinde, gracious and mercifull to others, Pſal. 4. 4. Act. 13. 35. The Hebrew word is Chaſid. See Neh. 13. 14. Pſal. 12. 1. The Greks tranſlate it Hoſios, Holy.

It's applyed to Man, Pſal. 12. 1. Seed, Mal. 2. 15. Sincerity, 2 Cor. 1. 12. Manner or ſort, 2 Cor. 7. 9, 11. 3 Joh. 6. Sorrow, 2 Cor. 7. 10. Jealouſie, 2 Cor. 11. 2. Fear, Heb. 12. 28.

Godly ſorrow] A grief for ſin, becauſe it is ſin, and contrary to Gods will and glory. This is called godly, becauſe it cometh from God, is agreeable to his will, and profiteth us unto repentance towards God. 2 Cor. 7. 10. Godly ſorrow cauſeth repentance.

After a godly ſort] As is meet and worthy them who profeſſe the name of God, and do beleeve Gods Word, affirming that he who receiveth his (Diſciples) receiveth him, 3 Joh. 6.

Godlineſſe] is an honeſt love of God, out of a pure heart, a good conſcience, and faith unfaigned, ſtirring us up to glorifie God, and to doe good to his people. Thus Mr. Deering defines it.

It's taken for 1. The ſervice and worſhip of God, the true God, both inward and outward, as it is commanded in the Word. Act. 3. 12. As if by our godlineſſe we had done this. 2 Tim. 3. 5.

2. The inward ſpiritual worſhip of God, when he alone is truſted, and feared, and loved above all. 2 Pet. 3. 11. What manner of perſons ought you to be for godlineſſe? 1 Tim. 4. 1. Godlineſſe is profitable to all things. Tit. 2. 12.

3. The whole duty of man, both towards God and his neighbour. 1 Tim. 6. 6. Godlineſſe is great gain. Tit. 1. 12.

4. A Chriſtian faith, or Religion of Chriſt. 1 Tim. 3. 16. Great is the myſtery of godlineſſe.

5. Godly deeds. 1 Tim. 2. 2. In all godlineſſe and honeſty; that is, honeſt and godly works.

6. Duties to Parents and kindred. 1 Tim. 5. 4. Let them learn to ſhew godlineſſe to their own houſe.

Goe] ſignifieth, To depart, paſſe over, paſſe or remove from one place to another, be gone, Gen. 42. 33. Joſh. 22. 9. Lam. 4. 15. To liſt up the feet, Gen. 29. 1. marg. To return, Gal. 1. 18. marg. To draw neer, approach, or come to, Rev. 10. 1. To publiſh or ſpread abroad, Mat. 4. 24. To fly, Gen. 31. 21. To walk, Jude 11. To die, Pſ. 39. 13. To paſſe, Rev. 9. 12. or, paſſe away, Rev. 21. 1. To turn from, 1 King. 9. 6. But the words joyned hereunto, as, aſide, aſtray, away, back, down, forth, forward, in, or into, in peaces neer, not, out, to, up, &c. point out the meaning of many places where this word is uſed.

To goe backward] To ſeparate and eſtrange themſelves ſo from God, as to run into a way quite contrary to that which God ſhewed them in his word, Iſa. 1. 4. They are gone backward. Gen. 16. 2. ſa modeſt phraſe, Judg. 15. 1.

To goe in to one] To have to doe with one about generation, Gen. 29. 21. Amos 2. 7. A man will go in to a maid. An unſeemly action expreſſed by a ſeemly term, Pſal. 51. 1. Iſa. 8. 3. Knowing is uſed in like ſenſe, Gen. 4. 1.

To goe in and out] To adminiſter, execute, and performe publick duties, in the time both of war and peace, with great truſt and diligence. Numb. 27. 17. Who may goe in and out before them. Deut. 31. 2. 2 Chr. 1. 10.

2. To doe private duties well and faithfully, Deut. 28. 6. Pſal. 121. 8. The Lord ſhall preſerve thy going out, and thy coming in.

3. To live ſafely. Joh. 10. 9. He ſhall be ſaved, and ſhall goe in and out. It often ſignifieth, to converſe, or trade, Jer. 17. 19, 20, 25. & 25. 4.

They goe down to hell] ſignifieth, To depart out of this life, into the common place and ſtate of death, whereunto all muſt goe, Gen. 37. 35. As heaven is not onely the place of good Angels, and holy men, but generally it is put for all above us, as the air, ſphears, &c. where the fowles fly, and the ſun and ſtars run their courſe: ſo Hell, Sheol in Hebrew, in Greek Hades, the one of craving ſo called, the other of Adam by change of letters, doth ſignifie not onely the place of torment, or a grave digged and made with hands, but the common place or ſtate of death. See more in Hell.

To goe onward] Exod. 40.36. that is, to journey, marg.

To goe to his own place] Act. 1.25. is, To goe to hell; or, to periſh for ever.

To goe up] Iſa. 10. 4. that is, Was lifted up, marg.

Gog] The roof of a houſe. The Son of Shemaiah, 1 Chr. 5.4. A people, Ezek. 38. 2, 3, &c.

By Gog and Magog ſome underſtand, the Kings of Syria, and Aſia, and the adjacent Nations. Some the Goths, &c. Chytr. Onomaſt.

Golan] A paſſing over. A City, Deut. 4. 43.

Gold] A kinde of metal pure and precious, highly eſteemed for the great worth and uſe of it. Hag. 2. 9. Silver is mine, and gold is mine. Gen. 2. 11.

2. The precious gifts and merits of Chriſt; to wit, his wiſdome, riches, ſanctification and redemption. Rev. 3.18. Come, buy of me gold.

3. The moſt pure graces of the Spirit; to wit, faith, hope, and love. Pſal. 45. 19. Her cloathing is of broydered gold. A Metaph.

4. Pure and ſound doctrine agreeable to the Word. 1 Cor. 3. 12. But if a man build upon this foundation, Gold, Silver, &c. A Metaphor.

5. Moſt coſtly gifts and preſents of all kinds and ſorts. Pſal. 72. 15. To him ſhall they give of the gold of Sheba. Iſa. 60. 17. For braſſe will I bring gold. A Synecdoche.

6. The moſt excellent glory of the heavenly life. Rev. 21. 21. The ſtreet of the City is pure gold.

Fine gold] ſignifieth, moſt pure and precious gold, Pſal. 19. 10.

Gold of Uphaz] Girdles made of moſt pure and precious gold, ſuch as is to be had in Ophir, Dan. 4. 5. Jer. 10.9. Whereof read in 1 King. 9.28. A Metonymie.

Golden] put for 1. that which is of gold, Eſt. 4. 11. Iſa. 13. 12.

2. That which is compared to, or like to gold, Eccl. 12. 6. Zech. 4. 12.

3. An exactor of gold, Iſa. 14. 4.

4. Alluring means, Jer. 51. 7.

Gold-ſmith] Some of that trade commended, Neh. 3. 8, 31, 32. Some diſcommended, Iſa. 40. 19. & 41. 7. & 46. 6.

Golgotha] The place of a skull. The place where Chriſt was crucifyed, Mar. 15.22.

Goliath] A Captivity, or paſſing over. A Gyant ſlain by David, 1 Sam. 17.50. put alſo for his Brother, 2 Sam. 21. 19.

Gomer] Conſuming, a conſumer, or wanting; is put for,

1. The Son of Japhet, Gen. 10. 2.

2. The people that came of him, Ezek. 38. 6.

3. The daughter of Diblaim, Hoſ. 1. 3.

Gomorrah] A rebellious people. A City, Gen. 13. 10. The Jews tearmed the people hereof, as who walked in their wayes, Iſa. 1. 10.

Good, being referred unto things] That which all men deſire, as being pleaſurable unto them. Pſal. 4. 7. Who will ſhew us any good? Here it ſignifies the chief good, even true felicity, which all men ſeem to deſire.

2. Proſperity, and every thing that is proſperous. Lam. 38. Evill and good proceeds from God. Iſa. 45. 7. I create good and evill.

3. That which is expedient, behovefull, or convenient. 1 Cor. 7. 1. It is not good for man to touch a woman. Gen. 2. 18. It is not good for man to be alone. And elſewhere very often good is put for commodious and profitable. Moſes in Gen. 2. 18. ſpeaks of the good of our kinde, which could not be multiplyed by a ſolitary man. But Paul 1 Cor. 7. 1. ſpeaks of a perſonall good, which a ſolitary man enjoyeth, being freed from many worldly incumbrances. For Adam (or other men) to be alone and ſolitary, without a companion, and the ſociety of a woman, had been not good, but incommodious, both for man himſelf, who had lacked a fellow to live, and ſweetly to converſe withall: and for mankinde, which could not by one alone be increaſed; for the Church, which was to be gathered out of our kind being multiplyed; and for the glory of God, who was to be honored in the ſending of his Son made of a woman: alſo, in the juſt puniſhment of the reprobate, and moſt free ſalvation of the elect, Gen. 1. 4. See 1 Cor. 7. 35. where the comely or expedient expreſſeth good, in verſ. 1. Alſo, as evill is put for grievous, and diſpleaſing: ſo is good uſed for pleaſing, Gen. 48. 17. & 16. 9.

4. That which is virtuous and morally honeſt, righteous and juſt. Pſal. 37. 27. Flee from evill and doe good. Pſal. 14. 1. There is none that doth good.

5. That which is commendable or praiſeworthy, worthy. Mat. 26. 10. She hath done a good work upon me. 2 Tim. 4. 7. A good fight. 1 Tim. 9. 13. A good confeſſion.

6. That which lacks nothing to the perfection of being. Gen. 1. 38. And loe, all was very good.

7. That which is healthfull, wholeſome, and available to our ſalvation. Rom. 8. 28. All things work together for good to them that love God. Eph. 4. 29. But that which is good to edifying. 1 Tim. 4. 6. Heb. 6. 5.

8. That which is ſufficient. 2 Chron. 30. 22. He ſpake to the Levites that had good knowledge.

9. Cheerful, ſolemne, and joyfull. 1 Sam. 25. 8. We come in a good ſeaſon.

10. That which is lawfull to be uſed. 1 Tim. 4. 4. Every creature of God is good. Alſo that which is profitable to edifie others, and pleaſing to God, Rom. 14. 21.

11. That which is ſweet and grateful. Gen. 3. 6. When ſhe ſaw that the fruit was good. 2 Chr. 18. 7. He doth not propheſie good unto me. Alſo, that which is better, Rom. 14. 21.

12. The benefits of God, both for this life and the life to come. Pſal. 103. 5. Which fils thy mouth with good things.

13. Chriſtian liberty, or the doctrine of our freedome from the bondage of the Ceremonial Law, given to the Jews. Rom. 14. 16.

14. That which is agreeable to the Will of God, Eccl. 2. 10.

15. That which is profitable, commodious, Eph. 2. 3.

16. Delight, Ibid. 24.

17. Fruitful, Gen. 41. 24.

18. Uſeful and to be eſteemed, Deut. 6. 11.

19. Helpful, Eſt. 2. 8.

20. Joyfull, Eſt. 9. 22.

21. That which is oppoſite to evill, Pſal. 37. 27.

22. Great, Gen. 25. 8.

23. Approving, Act. 23. 1. or cleering, Heb. 13. 18.

24. Not to be found fault with, Iſa. 39. 8.

15. Eaſily wrought upon, or fitted to receive, or apt for fruitfulneſſe, Luk. 8. 15.

26. Comfort, Eccl. 4. 8.

27. Pleaſant, Pſal. 133. 1.

28. A bleſſing, Prov. 19. 8.

29. Riches of all ſorts, Gen. 24. 10. & 45. 18.

30. Sweet, Prov. 24. 13.

31. The fruits of the earth, Iſa. 1. 19.

32. A thing of worth, praiſe-worthy, Joh. 1. 46.

33. Fat. Lev. 27. 33.

Good, when it is referred unto perſons] One, who is holy of himſelf, or moſt holy or perfectly holy, being authour of all holineſſe in others. Mar. 10. 18. There is none good but one, which is God. Hoſ. 8. 3. Good put for God himſelfe.

God is ſaid to be with good men; either inwardly by his grace, directing and aſſiſting in doing all duties, ſtrengthening and comforting in fears and doubtfull caſes, and dangers; or outwardly, by his mercifull providence, protecting their perſons, and proſpering their enterpriſes and works.

He is good eſſentially, abſolutely, fully, compleatly, unſpeakably, perpetually. God in himſelfe, in his attributes, ordinances, &c.

2. A godly man, who is unperfectly good, doing good to many. Act. 11. 24. Barnabas was a good man: thus all regenerate perſons be good. Tearmed godly and merciful, Mic. 7. 2. marg.

3. It's put for fair, Gen. 24. 16. marg. Pleaſing, Deut. 6. 18. Eſt. 1. 21. marg. Ones ſelf, Job 5. 27. marg.

Good age] A life full of yeers, accompanyed with health of body, and ſpirituall proſperity unto the end of our dayes. Gen. 25. 8. Abraham died in a good age. Gen. 15. 15.

Good conſcience] A power in mans ſoul, giving teſtimony of mens actions and eſtate before God, according to the light of knowledge which it hath. Such a good conſcience may be in a man unregenerate. Act. 23. 1. I have in all good conſcience ſerved God untill this day. This Paul ſpeaketh of himſelf, being a Phariſee. 1 Tim. 1. 19. Having faith and a good conſcience. When one followeth the light of knowledge that ſhineth in his conſcience, and doth according unto it: ſuch a one is ſaid in Scripture phraſe to have a good conſcience, and to ſerve God in good conſcience, though he be but a naturall man, and lack ſaving knowledge. This conſcience is good morally.

2. A power of the ſoul, inlightened with ſaving knowledge of Gods truth, and ſanctified by the Spirit, to give teſtimony truly both of our good eſtate before God for eternall life, and of all our doings in this life; excuſing and comforting us when we have done wel, checking and accuſing us when we have done evil. Heb. 13. 18. Pray for us, for we are aſſured we have a good Conſcience. And Act. 24. 16. it is called, A clear and unſpotted conſcience. This good conſcience onely regenerate men have, and it is ſupernaturally good, or good ſpiritually.

Good countenance] ſignifieth, faire and goodly uſage, Gen. 24. 16. & 26. 7. and 12. 11.

Good and evil] That which is both honeſt and profitable, alſo that which is wicked and hurtfull, even every thing which either may pleaſe or diſpleaſe God or our neighbour. Rom. 12. 9. Abhor that which is evil, and cleave to that which is good.

To call evil good, and good evil] To invert and change both the nature and names of things; as, to tearm drunkenneſſe, mirth, or good fellowſhip; covetouſneſſe, good thrift; prodigality, liberality; pride, handſomeneſſe, or neatneſſe, &c. Iſa. 5. 20. Woe to them which call, &c.

Good eye] A mercifull and liberall eye. Prov. 22. 9. He that hath a good eye.

A good heart] A ſoul framed by God unto goodneſſe, being made able to love this good Word of God, and to deſire and endevour to obey it. Luk. 8. 15. An honeſt and good heart.

Good hope] A ſure expectation of good things in heaven. 2 Theſ. 2. 16. And good hope through grace.

A good name] A favourable report given us of good men; in reſpect of our weldoing. Prov. 22. A good name is better then riches.

Good things] Remiſſion of ſins, atonement with God, eternall life. Rom. 10. 15. Which brings glad tydings of good things.

2. That which is profitable to our ſelves and others, Eph. 4. 28.

Good Word of God] The will of God revealed in Scriptures, which teacheth a good life, and promiſeth good things, and makes us good, being good in it ſelfe: and therefore it is called, the good Word of God, Heb. 6. 4. And have taſted of the good Word of God.

Good works]. Such things as God hath commanded to be done; even all good thoughts, counſels, deſires, words, and deeds which come from a regenerate man, and are according to the will of God revealed in his Law. Eph. 2. 10. Created to good works.

Unto a good work it is required that the ground or beginning of it be good; to wit, a pure heart, faith unfaigned, and a good conſcience.

2. That the thing done be good, being commanded of God, by his Law.

3. The end good, being referred to Gods glory.

Works of Popery deviſed by men are no good works, Mat. 15.

It ſignifieth ſpecially the duties of Preachers; which be four, 2 Tim. 17. 18.

Goodly] Applyed 1. to Man; his perſon, 1 Sam. 8. 16. 2 Sam. 23. 21. His countenance, Gen. 39. 6. His words, Gen. 49. 21. His raiment, Gen. 27. 15.

2. To heritage, Pſal. 16. 6.

3. To houſes, Deut. 8. 12. Caſtles, Numb. 31. 10. Cities, Deut. 6. 10. Tents, Numb. 24. 5. So ſtones, pearls, price, horſe, images, cedar, &c.

Goodneſſe, when it is referred to God] That property in God, whereby he is in himſelfe moſt good, and communicateth his good things to others. Pſal. 34. 8. Taſte and ſee how good the Lord is.

2. His gracious kindneſſe, whereby he is beneficial to his creatures. This is uncreated goodneſſe. Rom. 11. 22. Behold the goodneſſe, &c.

3. The benefits which come from Gods goodneſſe. Exod. 18. 9. He rejoyced at all the goodneſſe. This is created goodneſſe.

4. His moſt infinite holineſſe and juſtice. Luk. 18. 19. None good ſave God onely. Uncreated goodneſſe.

5. Gods free liberality and bountifulneſſe to us, Neh. 9. 25. Zech. 9. 17. Rom. 2. 4.

6. That of God wherewith his people are ſatisfied, Pſal. 65. 4. Jer. 31. 14.

Being referred to men] That quality whereby men become beneficiall and helpfull to others, after Gods example. Gal. 5. 22. The fruit of the Spirit is goodneſſe. This is created goodneſſe.

2. That unperfect agreement of all our faculties and powers with Gods will, or integrity of heart and manners. Act. 11. 24. A good man. Rom. 15. 24. All good manners and Chriſtian virtues, meant here, namely a charitable opinion.

3. A perfect goodneſſe or integrity, which God gave to the firſt man, and yet doth require of all men. Rom. 3. 12. There is none good, no not one.

4. Good in opinion, and not indeed.

5. Good in temporall eſtate, or as we ſay, a perſon of good eſtate or place, a man happy in this world, Matt. 22. 10. and therefore riches are called goods. This is temporall goodneſſe.

6. Whatſoever is beſt in man, Pſal. 16. 2.

7. The ſhew of good, Hoſ. 6. 4.

Gopher] Wood, Gen. 6. 14. The Scripture mentioneth not this word any other where. A kinde of Cedar, Buxtorf. So the Chaldee Paraph. But גפרית ſignifieth Sulphur or Brimſtone, Gen. 19. 24. Whereupon ſome

ſome think theſe to be Turpentine trees, which bear ſulphury berries, and the wood is known to be fit for ſuch an uſe as the making of the Ark. Aynſw.

Goſhen] A drawing neer. A parcell of Ægypt, where Iſrael was appointed by Pharaoh to dwell, Gen. 45. 10. Alſo, a City, Joſh. 10. 41.

Goſpel] The Hiſtory and Narration of the things which Chriſt ſpake and did; as the Goſpel according to Mark, Matthew, &c. Mar. 1. 1. The beginning of the Goſpel of Chriſt.

Thus the Goſpel is onely the New Teſtament. But the tydings of ſalvation is ſhewed alſo in the Old.

The matter of the Goſpel in generall is the reconciliation between God and man, with the means and manner thereof.

The parts whereof are on Gods part to us-ward.

1. The grace of Regeneration, aboliſhing ſin, renewing holineſſe.

2. The grace of Remiſſion, aboliſhing guilt and puniſhment.

This (with the meanes of it by Chriſts Spirit and merits) is Gods Goſpel and new Covenant with us, Jer. 31. 32.

2. The glad and joyfull tydings of remiſſion of ſins, and eternall Salvation by faith in Chriſt already come. Mar. 1. 15. Beleeve the Goſpel. Luk. 2. 10. I bring you tydings of great joy, &c. Gal. 3. 8. And elſewhere often it ſignifies that doctrine which teacheth the true way how to attain perfect righteouſneſſe and eternall life; namely, by beleeving in the Son of God. Hence called Goſpel, as one would ſay, a Good-ſpel, or Gods-ſpel, Gal. 1. 6, 7. & in Gal. 3. 8. The Goſpel ſignifieth the doctrine or promiſe of free reconciliation by faith in Chriſt to come, according to that is written, Gen. 12. 3.

3. The whole doctrine of the Word, both of Law and Grace. Mar. 1. 14. Teaching the Goſpel of the Kingdome of God.

4. The preaching or publiſhing the Doctrine and promiſe of grace. Rom. 1. 9. I ſerve God in the Goſpel of his Son; that is, in declaring and preaching the doctrine of his Son, Phil. 4. 15. 1 Theſſ. 2. 4. 1 Tim. 1. 11.

5. Errour or falſe doctrine delivered under the name of the Goſpel, and with as great readyneſſe and reverence received as the Goſpel; and yet is a Goſpel but in opinion, or a Goſpel that is not a Goſpel, Gal. 1. 6, 7.

6. The Covenant and promiſe made with Abraham, Gal. 3. 8.

7. As by an excellency it is reſtrained to ſignifie the moſt joyfull meſſage of ſalvation, Luk. 2. 10. Rom. 10. 5. So the word is taken for glad dyings in generall, Iſa. 52. 7. Jer. 20. 15.

Concerning the Goſpel, they are enemies] Jews to be enemies, becauſe they would not admit and beleeve the doctrine of grace, but perſecuted it, and the teachers of it, Rom. 11. 28.

Faith of the Goſpel] That faith which is yeelded to the doctrine taught in the Goſpel, reſting thereon, and looking onely thereunto. Phil. 1. 27. Through the faith of the Goſpel.

The Goſpel of the glory of God] A glorious doctrine, entreating of the moſt excellent glory of God, and at laſt, tranſlating the beleevers of it into eternall glory. 1 Tim. 1. 11. According to the glorious Goſpell of the bleſſed God.

Goſpel of God] The doctrine or promiſe, whereof God is author and giver. Rom. 1. 1. To preach the Goſpel of God.

The Goſpel of the grace of God] That doctrine which certifieth us of Gods favour and love, reſtored in Chriſt, for the free pardon of all our ſins, and full reconciliation with God. Act. 20. 24. To teſtifie the Goſpel of the grace of God.

Goſpel of Jeſus Chriſt] The doctrine of ſalvation by Chriſt, not as it is in books; but as preached, beleeved, and practiſed. Rom. 1. 16. Not aſhamed of the Goſpel.

Goſpel of the Kingdome] A doctrine which bringeth us to Chriſt, that he may reign as King in us. Mat. 4. 23. Preaching the Goſpel of the Kingdome.

Our Goſpel] The Goſpel which wee preach, or, our preaching of it, 1 Theſ. 1. 5.

Pauls Goſpel] That doctrine of life, whereof Paul was a Miniſter, to ſpread and publiſh it unto mankinde. Rom. 2. 16. According to my Goſpel.

Goſpel of peace] The meſſage or doctrine of peace and reconciliation with God by Chriſt, which alone (being beleeved) is able to pacifie the Conſcience. Eph. 16. 15. Your feet ſhod with the Goſpel of peace, 2 Cor. 5. 19.

Goſpel of ſalvation] A doctrine which bringeth us to be partakers truely of that ſalvation which God hath promiſed, Chriſt purchaſed, the Word offereth. Eph. 1. 13. Even the Goſpel of your ſalvation.

Goſpell of the Son of God] An heavenly doctrine which hath the Son of God for Author, matter, and ſcope of it. Rom. 1. 9. In the Goſpel of his Son.

Truth of the Gospel] That most pure and sound doctrine of Christ. Gal. 2. 5. That the truth of the Gospel might continue with you.

Government] Such as are in authority, 2 Pet. 2. 10.

Government upon his shoulders] That Christ shall be subject to no creature; but from his Father shall receive authority and power over all things in his Church, and without it, Isa. 9. 6. compared with Matth. 28. 18. Eph. 1. 12.

Governor] One set over others to rule them (as a civill Magistrate) in the things of this life. Mat. 27. 11. Jesus stood afore the Governor. 1 Pet. 2. 14.

As, of a House, 1 King. 18. 3. of a City, 1 King. 22. 26. of a Tribe, Hag. 1. 1. of a Countrey, 2 Chr. 9. 14. of a People, Ezr. 6. 7. of a Feast, Joh. 2. 8.

2. One placed over others, to rule them in the things of God. 1 Cor. 12. 28. Helpers, Governours.

Gourd] It's an hearb, which after the manner of the vine, spreadeth it self, coupling it self by certain strings to other hearbs or trees growing neer it. It hath white flowers, which it shutteth forth, especially towards night; but unlesse the branches thereof be kept from the ground, laid on poles, sticks, or such like; though it may flowre, yet will it not fructifie, but consumeth away. Its fruit is first soft, full of juice and seed, but by degrees waxeth hard. In a hot ground it fructifieth most, as being of a cold and moist nature. It quickly groweth up, and quickly decreaseth. It's not unwholsome for food, very good for many diseases. Jonah was refreshed by the shadow hereof, Jonah 4. 6.

The wilde gourd is very bitter, yet medicinable; when it groweth alone, it's for the most part venemous and deadly, not so altogether when it groweth amongst other hearbs. Hereof see 2 King. 4. 39.

Gozan] A fleece of wool, or a passing over. A river, 2 King. 17. 6. A City, 2 King. 19. 12.

G R.

Grace] is the free good will of God, whereby he counteth us dear in Christ Jesus, forgiveth us our sins, and giveth us the holy Ghost, and upright life, and eternall felicity. Thus Peter Martyr defineth it.

Grace is taken 1. in Scripture, first, for the love or liberality of God to man. Secondly, for the faithfulnesse of man to God or man. Thirdly, for the acceptation of man with God or man. Fourthly, for the quality or comelinesse for which he is accepted.

2. In common Writers it is taken particularly for three Sisters, called the three Graces, and historically, for any woman of that name.

It's put 1. for the free and eternal favour and good will of God, which is the Well-spring of all the benefits that wee have. 2 Tim. 1. 9. But according to his owne purpose and grace. Rom. 11. 6. If of grace, not of works, &c. This is grace of Election, which makes us gracious and acceptable unto God. And by this grace, we are so often in Scriptures said to be justified and saved, Rom. 3. 4, 5. Act. 13. 43.

2. Faith, with all the healthfull and saving effects and fruits thereof: which are called Grace, because they are freely given us. Heb. 12. 15. No man fall away from the grace of God. 1 Pet. 5. 12. This is grace freely given, which Popish Sophisters do wickedly confound with that grace whereby we are freely beloved.

3. Free imputation of Christs righteousnesse. Rom. 5. 15. The grace of God hath abounded unto many. Also, vers. 17, 20, 21. In all which places, by Grace is meant, the righteousnesse of Christ, freely imputed to beleevers. This is the grace of Justification, which Papists confound with grace of Sanctification.

4. The work of the Spirit, renewing our souls to the Image of God, and continually guiding and strengthening them to the obedience of his Will. Rom. 6. 14. Te are under grace. Also, vers. 23. 2 Cor. 12. 9. My grace is sufficient for thee. This is the grace of Sanctification, which is freely given, as a witnesse of Gods favour in electing and justifying us.

5. That happy and blessed condition into which we are admitted, and wherein we are kept by the good will and free favour of God. Rom. 5. 2. We have this accesse into this grace wherein we stand.

6. The gifts of the holy Spirit freely bestowed upon us. 2 Pet. 3. 18. But grow in grace. 1 Pet. 5. 10. and elsewhere often, as Joh. 1. 16. This also is grace, freely given, but doth not make us gratefull to God.

7. The Spiritual or Evangelical worship of God. Heb. 13. 9. It is good the heart be established by grace.

8. Some

8. Some godly comfort and inſtruction to cauſe others to profit in godlineſſe. Eph. 4. 29. That it may miniſter grace to the Hearers.

9. Almes or works of mercy to the poor. 2 Cor. 8. 4. That we would receive the grace.

10. The bountiful liberality of God, enabling us to give to the poor. 2 Cor. 9. 8. God is able to make all grace abound towards you.

11. Favour or liking with men. Gen. 19. 19. Thy ſervant have found grace in thy ſight. And elſewhere often, as Gen. 6. 8.

12. The effectuall preſence of the holy Ghoſt. Act. 14. 26. From whence they had been commended to the grace of God. 1 Cor. 15. 10. The grace of God, &c.

Note. Popiſh Sophiſters wreſt this place in favour of free will, as if our will by naturall ſtrength did concur with grace, to bring forth a good work, which ſhould be partly of the efficacy of grace; partly from power of nature; therefore they corruptly tranſlate the words [Grace of God with me] leaving out the article ἡ, which is with me: and neglecting the ſcope of the Apoſtle, attributing all to grace, and to the efficacy of the Spirit, which being preſent with him, made him labour, and to be what he was, and doe whatſoever he did, himſelfe being but an inſtrument and ſervant unto the grace of God, from whence flowes whatſoever is in man good and pleaſing to God, it being impoſſible any freedome towards good to be in our will, till it be freed by Grace from ſlavery of ſin; and ſo far forth as it is free, it willeth, deſireth, and worketh good things. Gods grace and Spirit working both the deſire and deed, Phil. 2. 13.

13. Afflictions and bands, ſuffered for Chriſt. Phil. 1. 7. You are all partakers of my Grace. This was a free and peculiar gift, verſ. 29.

14. The benefit and gift of heavenly wiſdome. 2 Cor. 1. 12. Not by fleſhly wiſdome, but by the grace of God, &c. that is, by the wiſdome freely given me of God.

15. Generally, any benefit beſtowed upon us. 2 Cor. 8. 1. Of the grace of God beſtowed upon the Churches.

16. Elegance of ſpeech, which made Chriſt gracious and amiable to all. Pſal. 45. 4. Full of grace are thy lips. Luk. 4. 22. Words full of grace.

Our ordinary acceptation of this word Grace, in the Engliſh tongue, when we ſpeak of actions or affairs, is to ſignifie, either, 1. for ornament of the body, as a garment, ring, jewel, &c. which we call the grace of the perſon, & this commonly is a ſubſtance: or 2. ſome comelineſs of the action or ſpeech, as order, timelyneſſe and acommodation to the perſons, place, time, and occaſion; this alſo we call the grace of the work, &c. and this is but the quality thereof.

17. The perſwaſion, fruits, and feeling of Gods good will increaſed in us. Rom. 1. 7. Grace and peace from God the Father.

18. Eternall glory in heaven, 1 Pet. 1. 7. As they which are the heirs of the grace of Chriſt; 1 Pet. 1. 12. Alſo it comprehends the benefit of this preſent life, which is common to both.

19. Acceptation with God and men. Luk. 2. 22. Jeſus increaſed in grace (or favour) with God and man. Iſa. 4. 6. God gives grace to the humble; that is, makes them accepted and favoured.

20. The grace or calling of Apoſtleſhip, freely committed to Paul, Rom. 12. 13. Alſo, both his Apoſtleſhip and converſion to Chriſt, Rom. 15. 15.

21. The thankfulneſſe or gratefulneſſe of man to God or man, for any gift or grace, Eph. 5. 20.

22. Outward Chriſtian profeſſion, 1 Pet. 5. 12. Heb. 12. 15.

23. The Doctrine of the Goſpel, Tit. 2. 11.

24. Heavenly wiſdome, 2 Cor. 1. 12.

25. Good and comfortable Teaching, Pſal. 45. 2.

26. Free and undue, Rom. 11. 6.

27. Free forgievneſſe, Joh. 1. 17.

To finde grace] To have proof of Gods mercy and free favour, in preſerving and bleſſing us. Gen. 6. 8. And Noah found grace in the eyes of the Lord.

2. To have men gracious and favourable unto us, to do us good, or to forbear to doe us evil. Gen. 23. 10. If I have now found grace in thy ſight.

Gift of grace] A free gift, ſuch as was the calling of Paul, a Phariſee and a perſecutor unto the Apoſtleſhip, and all the graces which he had to diſcharge, Eph. 3. 7.

Grace for grace] A lively faith, as one grace; afterwards, eternall life, as another grace. Joh. 1. 16. And grace for grace: or, grace of the New Teſtament for the grace of the Old Teſtament; permanent grace for ſhadowiſh: Theophylact.

Or thus: Grace upon grace; that is, one grace of the Spirit after another; the Spirit of Chriſt daily pouring new graces upon us, and all freely. This is the beſt expoſition.

Or

Or thus: Grace, even grace thus freely given, without merits. Like phraſe in Job 2. 4. Amos 3. 15.

Or thus: Grace and favour ſhewed to us, for the love and favour which God bears his Son.

Or thus: Grace conveyed into us, from the fulneſſe of grace in Chriſt.

Note. Grace in the firſt place noteth theſe two things:

1. The gracious favour of God embracing his Elect by Chriſt: This is the grace of Juſtification.

2. The gift of the Spirit dwelling in the Elect, and daily renewing them: This is grace of Sanctification.

In the latter place [for grace] is oppoſed unto the merit of works, and is as much as gratis, freely.

Grace in Chriſt] The favour or free love wherewith God doth imbrace his Elect for Chriſt, 2 Tim. 2. 1.

Grace no more grace] Grace to loſe the nature of grace, whoſe property is to be every way free and undue; whereas, if election came of works foreſeen, then it ſhould be due to works, and ſo grace were deſtroyed. Rom. 11. 6. Elſe where grace no more grace.

Spirit of grace and prayer] Two effects or gifts of the holy Spirit; to wit, firſt, a ſenſe or feeling of the favour of God, being become truly propitious to us; and ſecondly, deprecation or ſupplication, that God would turn away his wrath, grant full pardon, and continue favourable, the Spirit ſtirring up ſecret ſighs and groanes in the heart for theſe purpoſes, Zach. 12. 10. Rom. 8. 26.

Grace and truth] The free forgiveneſſe of ſins in Chriſt, unto a full reconciliation with God, and the fulfilling of all the ſhadows of the Law. Joh. 1. 14, 17. But grace and truth came by Jeſus Chriſt.

Note. This ſenſe which is here given, appeareth to be the true and onely fit ſenſe, by comparing verſ. 14. with verſ. 17. wherein grace and truth be ſet againſt the Law, which threatned malediction and wrath to all tranſgreſſors of it, and contained ceremonies or ſhadows of things to be performed by Chriſt, who by taking away the curſe in his death on the Croſſe, to the reconciliation of ſinners with God, together with the renovation of their mindes by the Spirit, and in that his ſacrifice of himſelf fully accompliſhing the Legall ceremonies, is thence worthily ſaid to have come to us men full of grace and truth. Unleſſe (with learned Mr. Rollock) in the firſt place we will underſtand all the glorious properties of the Godhead, and in ſpecial, his true knowledge and divine wiſdome, which he ſhewed forth in his miracles and doctrine (in ſuch wiſe as he was thereby known to his Diſciples, to be the onely begotten Son of God) and in verſ. 17. by Grace and Truth, with the ſame Authour and others, take the free remiſſion of ſins by the death of Chriſt, and the cleer and manifeſt knowledge of God in Chriſt, without legall ſhadows to be meant. Let the learned judge.

Gracious] It's ſpoken of a wiſe mans mouth, Eccl. 10. 12. Of a woman, Prov. 11. 16. Of the inhabitants of Lebanon, Jer. 22. 23. Of Chriſts words, Luk. 4. 22. Of God, 1 Pet. 2. 3. implying,

1. That he is free, and doth what he doth freely, without reſpect of merit or deſert in men.

2. That he is kinde to his very enemies, as the word is applyed, Luk. 6. 35.

3. That he is courteous and kinde in a ſpeciall manner, Eph. 4. 32.

4. That he is bountifull and liberal, and giveth plentifully, Rom. 1. 5.

5. That he is gentle, and eaſie to be entreated; whence his yoke is ſaid to be eaſie, Matt. 11. 30.

6. That he ſtands not upon reſpect of perſons; and thus he regards the poor, Pſa. 68. 10. and will not diſdain to teach ſinners his way, Pſal. 25. 8.

7. That he is ſweet; that is, wonderfull comfortable, pleaſing and filling with delight.

8. That being gracious, he accepted of the Gentiles to favour, when the Jews were cut off, Rom. 11. 22.

In all thoſe the Original word (though diverſly rendred) is the ſame. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 3. p. 238, 239.

Grafting] A joyning of a ſience or graff ſo neerly and firmly in a ſtock, as that it become one with it.

2. The uniting or joyning the Elect unto Chriſt, moſt neerly, by the Spirit and Faith, Rom. 6. 5. And the Word is ſaid to be graffed in them. Jam. 1. 21. Receive with meekneſſe the Word graffed in you.

There be two ſorts of graffs and plants: one graffed into Chriſt by profeſſion of mouth onely: the other, by the faith of heart alſo, Matt. 7. 21. Rom. 2. 28, 29. 2 Tim. 3. 5. The former may be broken off, Rom. 11. 17. The latter cannot periſh, Rom. 11. 20.

Grain]

Grain] A ſmall meaſure or portion of any gift. Mat. 13. 31. If ye have faith like the grain of Muſtard-ſeed; that is, the leaſt degree of a lively faith, if it be but a true deſire to beleeve, in a truely touched and humbled heart. A ſtone, Amos 9. 9. marg.

Grant] To give, 1 Chr. 21. 22. marg. To fulfill, Pſal. 20. 4. To give one his hearts deſire, Pſal. 21. 2. To accept one concerning a thing, Gen. 19. 21. To afford, conſent, further, yeeld unto, &c.

Grapes] The fruit and works of mens lives, which if they be good, they be likened to ſweet and good grapes: if they be wicked works, then they are compared unto wilde and ſowre grapes: if notoriouſly wicked, then they are called grapes of Sodome, grapes of gall, and poyſoned grapes. Iſa. 5. 2. It brought forth wilde grapes. And verſ. 4. Deut. 32. 52. Their vine exceedeth the vine of Sodome, their grapes are grapes of gall; becauſe they did offend and provoke God, as ſowre grapes offend our taſte.

Graſſe] That which is frail, and of ſhort continuance, fading like the graſſe, Pſ. 90. 5. In the morning he flouriſheth like the graſſe, Pſal. 103. 15.

Graſſehopper] A devouring creature, Amos 7. 1. Might be eaten, Lev. 11. 22. The great ones in the cold encamp in hedges, but when the ſun ariſeth, fly away, Nah. 3. 17. In the midſt of the heat, when the air is moſt pure, the cleerer it ſingeth. But the males onely ſing, ſo do not the females. They uſually die there where they firſt begin to live.

Grave] A burying place, Geneſ. 50. 5. Death, Job 3. 22.

Gravity] A ſeemly moderation of geſture, words, countenance and actions, according to the dignity of mans perſon, age, ſex, calling. Tit. 2. 2, 7. With gravity and integrity.

Gray-hound] It is reaſonably ſented to finde out, ſpeedy and quick of foot to follow, fierce and ſtrong to take and overcome, and yet ſilent, coming upon his prey at unawares. It goeth well, or is comely in going, Prov. 30. 31.

Great] One that is in authority and power above others. Matt. 20. 19. He ſhall be great among you.

2. One who is authour of much people. Gen. 48. 19. He ſhall alſo be great.

3. Ambitious or vain-glorious, and ſeemingly, not truely great, Luk. 22. 24.

It's applyed to many things, upon the reading whereof the meaning will ſoon be perceived.

Father greater then I] Joh. 14. 28. Not in ſubſtance, or eſſence, or nature Divine, as Phil. 2. 6. Joh. 5. 18. & 12. 23. but in reſpect of his humane nature: as all the Fathers of the Weſt Church expound.

2. In reſpect alſo of the order of the Perſons, the Father being in order (not in time) before the Son. So ſome Greek Writers doe expound it.

3. In reſpect of his Fathers glory, to the advancement of which, Chriſt his Son (humbling himſelfe) referred all his labors and his ſufferings of diſhonor in himſelfe. So as his owne glory was not the utmoſt end wherein his Apoſtles ſhould, or himſelfe did determine their endevours, but the pleaſure and praiſe of the Father, Joh. 5. 30, 36. & 8. 28, 29, 49, 50. & 14. 10, 24, 31. Phil. 2. 11. (who reciprocally honoured his Son, Matt. 3. 17. & 17. 5. Joh. 5. 36, 37. & 8. 18. 2 Pet. 1. 16, 17.) For love boaſteth not her ſelf, nor ſeeketh her owne things, 1 Cor. 13. 4, 5.

Greatneſſe] put for majeſty, power, glory, Deut. 32. 3. Extent and largeneſſe, Dan. 7. 27.

Grecia] A great and famous Countrey in Europe, containing, Attica, Bœotia, Phocis, Epirus, Ætolia, Macedonia, &c. being once the fountain and nurſe of proweſſe and learning, Dan. 11. 2.

Grecians] 1. Such as were born and dwelt in Greece.

2. All people of the world which were not Jews.

3. Such as being Greeks by Nation, were Jews by profeſſion, Joh. 14. 12. 20. Rom. 1. 3. Col. 3. 11.

With greedineſs] With eager and hot ſtrife to excell one another in ſinning, as if men ſtrove for a prize or a garland. Eph. 4. 19. To work all uncleanneſſe with greedineſſe.

Green] 1. Flouriſhing and proſperous, Pſa. 37. 35. Like the green Bay-tree.

2. The colour of green, Eſt. 1. 6.

3. Tough, Judg. 16. 7, 8.

4. Not ripe, Cant. 2. 13.

5. Innocent and guiltleſſe perſons, Luk. 23. 31.

Green tree] An innocent and unguilty perſon. Luk. 23. 31. If this be done to the green tree, what will be done to the dry? that is, if God give the Jews leave to crucifie me, who deſerve not this puniſhment, what grievous judgements will fall upon impenitent ſinners, who are like dry ſticks, apt and meet to burn in the fire of Gods wrath? In the Originall it is Wood (for Tree) by a Synecdoche, and Moyſt for Green, by a Metonymie.

Grief] It's all one with anguiſh, ſorrow, vexation, heavyneſſe, grievance, and that diverſly occaſioned.

To grieve the Spirit of God] To vex, diſpleaſe, and make ſad. Eph. 4. 30. Grieve not that holy Spirit of God, that is to ſay, doe nothing againſt that light ſet up in your conſcience by the Word and Spirit; for this will grieve the Spirit, and make him unwilling to abide in you: as a gueſt hath no pleaſure at all there to remain, where he is deſpiſed and grieved, Iſa. 7. 13. & 63. 20. Pſal. 78. 40.

More grievouſly to afflict] To ſend calamities upon the ten Tribes, more heavy then the former. Iſa. 9. 1. Afterward he did more grievouſly afflict her, &c. A compariſon between the affliction from Tiglath-Pileſer, when part of Iſrael was carryed into Aſſyria; and from Salmanaſer, when wholly they departed. See 2 King. 15. 29. & 2 King. 17. Nepthali and Zabulon are only named in Iſa. 9. becauſe there began both calamity by the Aſſyrians, and deliverance ſpirituall by the preaching of the Goſpel. Mat. 4. 15. The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nepthali, by the way of the Sea, beyond Jordan, Galilee of the Gentiles.

Grievouſneſſe] Unrighteous decrees and laws, which work moleſtation and grief to the Subjects which live under them. A Metonymie of the effect. Iſa. 10. 1. Woe unto them that write grievouſneſſe.

Grinde] put for 1. To grinde meal, Iſa. 47. 2.

2. To chew meat, Eccl. 12. 4.

3. The act of adultery, Job 32. 10.

4. Mercileſſe dealing, Iſa. 3. 15.

5. To cruſh in pieces, Mat. 21. 44.

Groaning] An expreſſion of an inward depth of grief and pain, or vehement deſire of the heart, Judg. 2. 18. Job 23. 2. Pſa. 6. 6. & 102. 20. Joh. 11. 38. Rom. 8. 26.

Groves] Places where Idolaters worſhipped, 2 King. 17. 16. 2 Chro. 33. 3. Where they had their Altars, 2 Chr. 34. 7. Images, 2 Chron. 33. 19. 1 King. 15. 13. Prophets, 1 King. 18. 19.

Of Groves, ſome were Natural, Ex. 34. 13. ſome Artificial, 2 King. 23. 6.

Grow] put for Coming forth out of the earth, as graſſe, trees, plants, Gen. 2. 5. Increaſe in body, Gen. 21. 8. To become rich, Gen. 26. 13. Multiplying of people, Act. 7. 17. The effectuall work of the Word, Act. 12. 24. & 19. 20. Increaſe outward, Gen. 48. 16. Spiritual, Eph. 4. 15. Inlarged, Dan. 4. 22. Draweth, Judg. 19. 9.

Grudge] To bewail, lament, groan, grieve at a thing. The word στενάζω is rendred in Mar. 7. 34. Sigh. Rom. 8. 23. 2 Cor. 5. 2, 4. Groan, Heb. 13. 17. Grieve, Jam. 5. 9. Grudge, as thoſe that have a great burthen. We muſt give, not grudgingly, 2 Cor. 9. 7 that is, not being ſorrowfull, ſad, vexed, troubled thereat, as the word λύπη implyeth. We muſt uſe hoſpitality without grudging, 1 Pet. 4. 9. that is, without murmuring, as the word γογγυσμὸς is rendred, Joh. 7. 12. Act. 6. 1. Phil. 2. 14.

G U.

Guard] put for ſouldiers attending upon the King, 1 King. 14. 27, 28. His keepers, 1 Sam. 28. 2. A watch or ſafeguard, Neh. 4. 22. Ezek. 38. 7.

Gudgodah] The happineſſe of felicity. A place, Deut. 10. 7.

Gueſt] One that is bidden to ones Table, or reſorteth to a place, there to lodge or Inn, Luk. 19. 7. Mat. 22. 10.

Guide] One that ſheweth another his way, Gen. 46. 28.

2. Teachers, who are called guides, becauſe they goe before the flock as guides, to ſhew them the way to ſalvation. Rom. 2. 19. And perſwadeſt thy ſelfe that thou art a guide to the blinde.

3. An husband, Prov. 2. 17.

4. One going before for a direction, Act. 1. 16.

5. God, Pſal. 48. 14. Jer. 3. 4.

To guide] Effectually to move and ſtir the heart toward God. 2 Theſ. 3. 5. The Lord guide your hearts to love.

It's all one with Direct, Gen. 46. 28. Be eyes to others, Job 29. 15. And is ſpoken of God, Pſal. 48. 14. who with his eye, Pſal. 32. 8. and counſel, Pſal. 73. 24. guideth the meek, Pſal. 25. 9. his people, Pſal. 78. 52. the merciful, Iſa. 58. 7, 11. into all truth, Joh. 16. 13. into his love, 2 Theſ. 3. 5. into the way of peace, Luk. 1. 79. and into the patient waiting for Chriſt, 2 Theſ. 3. 5.

Guile] A ſubtle invention or device to deceive another by, when one thing is done, and another pretended. 1 Pet. 2. 1. Lay aſide all guile. This is guile in practiſe and action.

2. Deceitfull ſpeech, tending to deceive, when one thing is done, and another thing meant. 1 Pet. 2. 22. In whoſe mouth there was no guile. This is guile in words and promiſes.

3. Inward

3. Inward hypocriſie and unſoundneſſe of heart. Pſal. 32. 2. In whoſe ſpirit there is no guile. This is guile in thoughts and purpoſes.

Taken in a good ſenſe, 2 Cor. 12. 6. In a bad ſenſe, for hypocriſie, Pſal. 17. 2. Hoſ. 11.12. Fraud and falſehood in opinion; either in the matter, when the doctrin is ſtrange and falſe, 2 Cor. 11. 13. Or, when good doctrine is handled corruptly and deceitfully, for wicked ends, 2 Cor. 4. 2. 1 Theſſ. 2. 3. Deceit in words, and ſo flattery is guile, Pſal. 12. 2, 3. and lying is guile, Mic. 6.12. Zeph. 3. 13. Deceit in works, Mic. 6. 10, 11. Mal. 1. 14. and ſo all lying in wait to ſeek occaſion againſt others, and all ſubtle dealing to oppreſſe others, is guile, Mat. 26. 4. Mar. 14. 1. 2 Cor. 11. 12, 13. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2.1. p. 205. 206.

Guilty] Faulty, or culpable, in a matter whereof one is accuſed by another, or by his owne conſcience, Gen. 42. 21. Exod. 34. 7. Rom. 3. 19.

To be guilty of all] To be a tranſgreſſor againſt God, whoſe Law commandeth one duty as well as another, and forbiddeth one ſin as well as another, not that men can be perfect, but we muſt ſtrive toward it, by baulking no duty, nor bearing with any fault in our ſelves. Jam. 2. 10. He that faileth in one point of the Law, is guilty of all. This ſentence detecteth the hypocriſie of ſuch as did cull and chooſe ſuch precepts of the Law to keep, as they liſted, ſoothing themſelves, as if they had performed excellent obedience, by doing things which croſſed not their fancy and affection, neglecting in the mean ſpace ſome other work commanded in the Law, as needfull as any which they performed: as if a Judge which had acquitted one notorious malefactor, ſhould pleaſe himſelfe becauſe he had puniſhed another.

Note further, that one becomes guilty of all, by wilful breach of one; becauſe, as one ſtring or voyce out of tune ſpoyles the whole harmony in muſick: ſo one ſin contemptuouſly committed, marreth the harmony of our obedience. Alſo, he can in truth keep no Commandement out of love to the Law, which obſtinately lyeth in any one ſin. Laſtly, that divine Majeſty which gave the Law, is violated in breach of one precept; ſo as the other in the whole of the Law be not tranſgreſſed (totum legis) yet the whole Law (tota lex) is broken in hurting that authority whereby it was given; yet this will not prove all ſins equall.

To be guilty of the body and blood of Chriſt] To kill Chriſt, and be culpable of his death, as was properly Judas, which betrayed him, the Jews, which condemned him, and Souldiers, which pierced him, and ſhed his innocent blood; but figuratively, yet truely, all that unworthily eat and drink the Lords Supper, wicked men, hypocrites, and negligent Chriſtians, become partakers of this great ſin of crucifying Chriſt, ſome more, and ſome leſſe, by abuſing the holy Sacrament, 1 Cor. 11. 27.

Or thus: He is held guilty of violating and profaning the ſacred Signe and Seale, whereby the body and blood of our Lord is repreſented, and withall aſſured unto us.

Guiltyneſſe] Worthyneſſe, or deſerving of puniſhment, which neceſſarily doth follow every ſin. Mat. 5. 22. Which ſhall be guilty of puniſhment; that is, ſhal be worthy, Rom. 3. 10. Alſo, a ſin or ſhamefull crime, making us guilty of puniſhment, Gen. 26. 10. or, both ſin and puniſhment.

Haile] An impreſſion gendred in the air, of a cold and moyſt vapour. The neerer the earth it is engendred, the thicker, the colder, the ſharper it is, and falleth moſt commonly in the day time. That which is engendred in the higher clouds, through the heat of the air diſſolveth, and ſo is leſſer. It is uſually in the Summer, for that the heat being then in the air, is beat back into the innermoſt parts of the cloud, where it cauſeth haile. Sometimes, the dew falling on the earth, through the cold North-wind being drawn together, becomes as hail. Herewith God puniſhed Ægypt, Exod. 9. 23, 24. their vines and cattle, Pſal. 78. 47, 48. To ſtrike hands] To promiſe. Prov. 6. 1. If thou haſt ſtricken hand with the ſtranger.

To turn to the right hand, or left hand] To know what he was further to doe, or to reſolve ſomewhere elſe, or ſome other way, Gen. 24. 49.

To turne his hand upon Jeruſalem] To work again, and by his power to be effectuall for the reſtoring of Jeruſalem unto the purity of Religion and Juſtice from which it was faln, as once his might had been effectual for ſetling of it, and making it to be the ſeat of Religion, the Kingdome of Juſtice and doctrine. Iſa. 1. 25. I will turn my hand upon thee to purge thee purely, &c.

Note. This work of purgation, or reſtitution of Jeruſalem, was to be effected by puniſhments, which were as purging fire, or ſcowring ſope, to ſeparate the bad from the good, and a ſcourge to drive the elect ſinners to repentance.

Handle] put for, To play skilfully, Gen. 4. 21. To write well, Judg. 5. 14. To uſe cunningly, 2 Chr. 25. 5. To expound, Jer. 2. 8. 2 Cor. 4. 2. To touch, Col. 2. 21.

1 Joh. 1. 1. To underſtand and bring about, Prov. 16. 20. Abuſed, Mar. 12. 4.

Hand-maid] Maid-ſervant, or bond-woman. Compare Gen. 16. 1. with Joel 2. 29. Act. 2. 18. Gal. 4. 22.

Put alſo for Woman-kinde, Act. 2. 18. and for one ſpeaking lowly of her ſelfe to another, Ruth 3. 9. 1 Sam. 1. 18. 1 King. 1. 17. Luk. 1. 38, 48.

Hand-writing] The Morall Law of God, which becauſe it is not fulfilled of us, accuſeth us, and ſheweth us to be guilty, as if our owne hand-writing were brought againſt us. Col. 2. 14. He hath taken away the hand-writing. Others think, that by Hand-writing is meant the Ceremonial Law, conſiſting in Rites, Ceremonies, Sacrifices, and Obligations; the innocent beaſts which were ſlain in Sacrifices, and all other oblations for ſin, witneſſing (as a Hand-writing) how guilty and worthy we were to die through deſert of ſin. This is the better expoſition; becauſe it is tearmed, the Hand-writing of Rites or Ordinances. In Col. 2. 14. & Eph. 2. 17. it is called, the Law of the Commandements, which ſtands in Rites and Ceremonies. A Metaphor.

Hanes] Baniſhment of grace. A City, Iſa. 30. 4.

To hang] 1. To put in a high place out of the way, Pſal. 137. 3.

2. To put to death on a Tree or Gibbet, Mat. 27. 5.

3. To depend or relie on the wiſdome, authority, or favour of another, Mat. 22. 40.

Every one that feareth the Lord, Pſal. 128. 1, 2. Such as would on Gods behalf ſet themſelves againſt Babylon, Pſal. 137. 8, 9. They whom God bleſſeth, and whoſe God is the Lord, Pſal. 144. 15. and have him for their help, Pſal. 146. 5. They that finde wiſdome, and get underſtanding, Pro. 3. 13. 18. Have mercy on the poor, Prov. 14. 21. Truſt in the Lord, Pro. 16. 20. Fear alway, Prov. 28. 14. Keep the Law, Prov. 29. 18. Doe what Chriſt commands, Joh. 13. 17. Condemn not themſelves in that they allow, Rom. 14. 22. Endure, Jam. 5. 11. Suffer for righteouſneſſe ſake, 1 Pet. 3. 14. Are reproached for the name of Chriſt, 1 Pet. 4. 14.

Hara] A hill; or, a ſhewing forth. The name of a place, 1 Chr. 5. 26. Hence Harite, 2 Sam. 23. 11. 1 Chr. 11. 34, 35.

Haradah] A place, Numb. 33. 24, 25.

Haran] with ה. The Son of Terah, Gen. 11. 26, 27, 28, 29, 31. Alſo, the Son of Shimei, 1 Chr. 23. 9. But with ה it ſignifieth anger, or being angry. The Son of Caleb by Ephah his Concubine, 1 Chron. 2. 46. Alſo the place where Terah dwelt, Gen. 11. 31. and where Laban dwelt, Gen. 27. 43. called Charran, Act. 7. 2. Alſo, a City, or Country, 2 King. 19. 12. Iſa. 37. 12. Ezek. 27. 23.

Harbonah] Deſtruction; or, his ſword now. One of King Ahaſuerus his Chamberlains, Eſt. 1. 10. & 7. 9.

Hard] Taken I. Properly, as when ſpoken of the nether mil-ſtone, Job 41. 24. A rock, Jer. 5. 3. A flint, Ezek. 3. 9.

II. Improperly, 1. For difficult, Gen. 18. 14. So hard cauſes, Exod. 18. 26. Hard queſtions, 1 King. 10. 1. A hard thing, 2 King. 2. 10. Hard labour, Gen. 35. 16. Hard ſentences, Dan. 5. 12.

2. Grievous, as bondage, Exod. 1. 14. Deut. 26. 6. Iſa. 14. 3. Things, Pſal. 60. 3. Wrath, Pſal. 88. 7.

3. Irkſome, Deut. 15. 18.

4. Strong, powerful, 2 Sam. 3. 29.

5. Rough, ſharp, unpleaſant, troublous, dangerous, Prov. 13. 15.

7. Unknowne, not to be underſtood, Ezek. 3. 5, 6.

8. Severe, auſtere, rigorous, churliſh, miſerable, Mat. 25. 24.

Hardening] The whole execution of Gods

Gods eternall purpoſe, for the juſt deſtruction of the reprobate. Rom. 9. 19. Whom he will he hardeneth.

Note. This muſt not be ſo taken, as though God did begin to harden mans heart which was not infected before: for, what is hardneſſe elſe, then reſiſtance of Gods commandement? which who ſo thinks to be the work of God, becauſe of this ſaying (He hardeneth whom he will) let him behold the firſt beginning of mans corruption, and mark well the Commandement of God; the diſobedience whereof, made the heart to offend; and then let him truly confeſſe, that whatſoever puniſhment befalleth him, ſithence the firſt corruption, he ſuffereth it righteouſly and deſervedly. For God is ſaid to harden his heart whom he doth not mollifie. So, he is ſaid to reject him, whom he doth not call, and to blinde them whom he doth not enlighten. Thus far Auguſt. de Prædeſtinat. & Gratia, cap. 4.

Yet note further, that after this withdrawing of Grace, this alſo followeth thereupon, that God doth rightly miniſter occaſions of ſin in the wicked and reprobate, and marvellouſly inclineth the hearts of men, not onely to good, but alſo to evill; as the ſame Aug. affirmeth in his book de lib. Arb. & Gratia cap. It appeareth ſufficiently by holy Scripture, as Rom. 1. 2 Theſſ. &c. that God works in the hearts of men, to bend, incline, and bow their wils whereunto him liſteth; either to good, according to the riches of his mercy; or, to wickedneſſe, according to their owne deſert; by his judgement ſometime manifeſt, and ſometime ſecret, but alwayes juſt, for there is no iniquity with God. Therefore, when we read in Scriptures, that men were hardned, &c. let us not doubt but their ſinfull deſerving were ſuch before, as that they did well deſerve the puniſhment which followed. Yet God is no cauſe of wickedneſſe, ſimply and properly, as one who droppeth ſin into the heart (as liquor is poured into a veſſel) for men themſelves are more then enough the true and natural cauſe of ſin.

God is ſaid to harden,

1. When he doth not mollifie by grace, or grant grace of Converſion. Liptote vel æquipollens.

2. When he doth withdraw his former grace given, whereby men are mollified; as the ſun from wax, and raine from the earth.

3. When he doth permit in juſtice, Satan, or the World, or a mans owne ſelfe, to harden the heart, Rom. 1. 24, 26. 2 Theſſ. 2. 10.

4. When he doth diſcover by way of tryal the wickedneſſe of mans heart, as the Sun by ſhining diſcovers the nature of clay to be hard, but doth not cauſe it, for then it ſhould alſo harden wax; or raiſe the ſtench of a dunghill, but is no cauſe of it.

Hardneſſe] That brawny part of the foot, and in the ball of the hand which taketh away ſenſe and feeling.

2. The obſtinacy in ſin, joyned with ſenſeleſneſſe of heart, being without fear of God, Rom. 2. 5.

3. Unpleaſantneſſe or harſhneſſe of words or matter to be heard, Joh. 6. 60.

4. Difficulty or darkneſſe in words, or hardneſſe to underſtand them, 2 Pet. 3. 16.

5. Difficulty or labour in duties to be done, Joh. 6. 60.

6. Difficulty in ſome happineſſe to be had, Mat. 19. 23. See Eaſe.

7. Painfulneſſe or difficulty in removing ſome danger, Act. 9. 5.

8. Strictneſſe or exactneſſe in taking of accounts, or in other dealings, Mat. 25. 24.

9. Strength or cunning, 2 Sam. 3. 39.

10. Miſery, as a hard end, a hard eſtate.

11. Danger, or a courſe tending to ſome evill end, or miſchief, Act. 9. 5.

Hard ſaying] Simple ſpeech, grievous and unpleaſant to the ear, as hard things be to the touch and ſenſe of feeling, John 6. 60.

Hare] Reckoned among unclean beaſts, Lev. 11. 6. Deut. 14. 7. It's very ſwift, every part thereof being compoſed for celerity; and more eaſily runneth up the hill then down. Its eyes are ſhut when it watcheth, open when it ſleepeth. It excelleth, as in ſeeing, ſo in hearing; which to ſignifie, the Ægyptians pictured a Hare. It reſteth in the day, goeth abroad in the night; nor ſeedeth nigh home, but further off; thereby to exerciſe it ſelfe, and to conceal the place of its abode. It never drinketh, but contenteth it ſelfe with the dew, and ſleepeth much. It's very libidinous, and no leſſe fruitful. God ſuffering harmleſſe beaſts to multiply in great number, not ſo the unprofitable and hurtfull. When through idleneſs it waxeth fat, or when being perſued by the Fox, it lingreth in the way, as not thinking that the Fox, (which now and then on purpoſe maketh a ſtand) will perſue it any further, or can overtake it, it becometh an eaſie prey. So alſo ſuffering the Weaſell to play with it, when wearyed, it is ſtrangled ſtrangled thereby. That by intercourſe it's male and female is affirmed by ſome, denyed by others. It's very fearfull, and therefore frequenteth ſolitary places. It's alſo in its kind ſubtle; for in the Winter its form is in ploughed grounds, about the approach of Harveſt, in vineyards; when the grapes begin to ripen, it removeth thence. Alſo, in going and returning to its form, it uſeth many windings and turnings, and ſhunneth briars and thorns, leſt by its hair ſticking thereon, it ſhould be diſcovered; nor hath the female all her young ones in one place, leſt all might bee endangered at one time. When perſued, it hath no ſafeguard for it ſelfe, but flight. It's profitable for food, raiment, medicine, delight. If a Hare croſſe ones way when in a journey, it's counted ominous. It's not to be wondred at, that ſuch doe not proſper which give credit hereunto.

Hareph] Winter; or reproach. The Father of Beth-gader, 1 Chr. 2. 51.

Hareth] Liberty. A Forreſt, 1 Sam. 22. 5.

Harhaiah] Heat, or anger of the Lord. The Father of Uzziel, Neh. 3. 8.

Harhas] Anger, or the heat of confidence. The Father of Tikuah, 2 King. 22. 14. called alſo Haſrah, 2 Chr. 34. 22.

Harhur] Made warm; or, the heat of liberty. His Children returned from the Captivity, Ezr. 2. 51.

Harim] Deſtroyed; or, dedicated to God. A Prieſt, unto whom the third lot fell, 1 Chr. 28. 4. Another, Ezr. 10. 21. A third, Ezr. 10. 31. A fourth, Neh. 3. 11. See Neh. 10. 5, 27. & 12. 15. whether thoſe were not others then the former.

Hariph, or Jora] His Children returned from the Captivity, Nehem. 7. 24. marg. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 19.

Harlot] One which forſaketh her lawfull Husband, and followeth a ſtranger, which is not her owne Husband, for generation ſake, Gen. 38. 15.

2. One which forſakes the true God and his pure worſhip, to joyn unto Idols, and to embrace falſe Religions. Iſa. 1. 21. The faithfull City become an Harlot; that is, like an Harlot, leaving God her Husband, to cleave to falſe gods, as Jeruſalem did in the dayes of Uzzia, Manaſſes, Ammon, &c. Ezek. 16. 15. 35. So Nineveh, Nah. 3. 4. So Rome, or Antichriſt, or the Antichriſtian Church, Rev. 17. 1. 5, 15, 16.

Harlots are alſo (according to ſome) put for Superſtitious idolatries, and impure worſhip, Hoſ. 4. 14. And Tyrus is called an Harlot in reſpect of the great commerce therein, merchandiſe bought and ſold there, Iſ. 23. 16. And ſo her committing fornication with all the Kingdomes of the world, verſ. 17. put for her trading with them.

By Harlots alſo may be underſtood, Great ſinners, Mat. 21. 31, 32.

Harlots are in Scripture ſet forth under the names of Strange women, Prov. 23. 27, 33. Strangers, Prov. 7. 5. Fooliſh women, Prov. 9. 13. Such, whoſe hearts are ſnares and nets, and their hands bands, Eccl. 7. 26. Evill women, Prov. 6. 24.

The word זונה in Joſh. 2. 1. (which the Septuagint render by πόρνη, as it's alſo by Paul, Heb. 11. 31. and by James, Jam. 2. 25. and we by Harlot) may be tranſlated Hoſpita an Hoſteſſe, Caupona a Victualler. Buxtorf. in Rad. זנה. Tremelius renders it by both, Meretrix, Caupona. Rahab being a Victualler, and ſo more liable unto temptation this way then others, yeelded unto the temptation, proſtituting her ſelfe, and with the ſale of her victuals, ſelling her body for gain; but ſhe repented, was joyned to the Church, is commended for her faith, Heb. 11. 31. and of her came Chriſt, according to the fleſh, Matt. 1. 5, 6, &c.

Harm] Hurt, detriment, damage, Gen. 31. 52. Sin, Lev. 5. 16. Wrong, injury, 1 Sam. 26. 21. Evill, trouble, miſchief, 2 Sam. 20. 6. Evil thing, 2 King. 4. 41. marg.

Harmleſs] Simple, Rom. 16. 19. marg. ſincere, Phil. 2. 15. marg. Sine cera. For honey, the purer it is, and the more without wax, is the pleaſanter. ἀκέραιος, Mat. 10. 16. of α privat. and κέρας a horn, as having no power to do hurt: or of α privat. & κεράω to mingle, as without mixture of deceit or guile. ἄκακος, Heb. 7. 26. Free from all malice, guile, fraud, or will to doe hurt.

Harnepher] The anger of a bull; or, anger increaſing. The Son of Zophah, 1 Chr. 7. 36.

Harneſs] Taken in generall for, All kinde of furniture for defence of the body (whether of Man or Horſes) againſt the enemy, with all manner of inſtruments for war, 2 Chr. 9. 24. Jer. 46. 4.

In particular, for a Coat of fence. A Brigantine, an Habergeon, 1 King. 22. 34.

The Children of Iſrael went up harneſſed out of the land of Ægypt, Exod. 13. 18. that is, were marſhalled by five in a rank. The word in Hebrew hath the name of five, either of the harneſſe girded under the fift rib (as the Chaldee tranſlateth it girded) or of marching five in a row. Thus God led out his people with an high hand, Exod. 14. 8. and trained them for future wars to conquer Canaan,

to

Numb. 1. 3. & 14. 3, 9, &c. Aynſworth on Exod. 13. 18.

Harod] Fear. A place, Judg. 7. 1. Whence Harodites, 2 Sam. 23. 25.

Haroe] 1 Chr. 2. 52. called alſo Reaiah (1 Chr. 4. 2.) The Son of Shobal.

Haroſheth] Workmanſhip; or, a wood. A City wherein Siſera dwelt, Judg. 4. 2, 13. 16.

Harp] Taken I. properly, for a muſical inſtrument, whereof Jubal was the Inventer, Gen. 4. 21.

Uſed lawfully, 1. in ſetting forth the Lords praiſes, Pſal. 33. 2. & 43. 4. & 147. 7. & 149. 3. as in many other places in the Pſalms. Accordingly uſe was made of them when the Ark was fetcht from Kiriathjearim, 2 Sam. 6. 5. 1 Chron. 13. 8. 1 Chr. 15. 16, 21, 28. and ſet in the tent that David had pitched for it, 1 Chr. 16. 5. And ſome were by him ſeparated to propheſie with Harps, 1 Chr. 25. 1, 6. So by Solomon at the Dedication of the Temple, 2 Chr. 5. 12. So by Jehoſaphat upon the overthrow of his enemies, 2 Chr. 20. 28. So by Hezekiah in the Houſe of the Lord, according to the commandement of the Lord, 2 Chr. 29. 25. So by Nehemiah at the Dedication of the Wall of Jeruſalem, Nehem. 12. 27.

2. In expreſſing great joy and gladneſſe, Gen. 31. 27. but this not always, Job 30. 31. Pſal. 137. 2. occaſion may be offered when the joy of the Harp ſhall ceaſe, Iſa. 24. 8. and the ſound of the Harp ſhall be heard no more, Ezek. 26. 13.

3. For the allaying melancholy paſſions, cheering and reviving the ſpirits, 1 Sam. 16. 16.

Hart] Allowed to be eaten by all, Deut. 12. 15, 22. & 14. 5. & 15. 22. Whereof, accordingly Solomon made daily uſe in his houſe, 1 King. 4. 23. It's very ſwift, Pſ. 18. 34. Beinſt ſtung by a Serpent, it is cured by eating the hearb Elaphoſcum, or wilde parſnip. By his breath he draweth Serpents out of their hole; who therefore is termed by Grammarians ἔλαφος, from ἐλαύνει τοὺς ὄφεις, driving away Serpents. Being wounded with a dart, it eateth Ditany, and moſt carefully avoydeth the Sun beams, leſt they wrankle the freſh wound. The Brocard is tearmed the Shield-bearer to the reſt; for being hunted, he runneth on ſtill in the ſight of the dogs, whileſt the other hide themſelves in hollow places; whence it cometh to paſſe, that they are preſerved, he chaſed unto death. In paſſing through a River, the ſtrongeſt entreth firſt, and the weak laſt, leaning one upon another, that the violence of the flood being broken by the ſtronger, way may be made for the weaker, wherein they uſe their feet as oars, their horns as ſails. They are much taken with muſick, and ſtand ſtill at every ſtrange ſight or noyſe. A Raven is ſaid to live nine ages of a Man, and a Hart four ages of a Raven. It feedeth and bringeth forth neer high roads, that by reaſon of the going by of paſſengers, it may be ſafe from wilde beaſts. Having caſt their horns, they keep themſelves out of ſight till they grow again; and being grown, try their ſtrength by running at a tree. Being in danger, and ſeeing no way to eſcape from the dogs, it runneth to the Hunters for help. It's ſaid to be without gall. Having eat Serpents, it becometh exceeding thirſty, Pſal. 42. 1. yet knoweth by the inſtinct of nature, that if it drink preſently it muſt needs die; therefore, though in the mean time it pant after the water, it deſiſteth from drinking. When the wind bloweth (leſt the dogs ſhould ſmell it) it goeth againſt the wind. The Hart is moſt loving unto the Hinde, as the Husband ſhould be to the Wife, Prov. 5. 19.

Harveſt] The time of the year wherein corn and other fruits are reaped, Gen. 8. 22.

2. A great number of people, prepared and very ready to hear the Word of God. Matt. 9. 37. The harveſt is great, the Labourers are few. Example hereof in the Samaritans, Joh. 4. 35, 36.

Hashupha] Spent, or made bare. A Nethenim, Neh. 7. 46.

Hatrah] Wanting (called also Harhas, 2 King. 22. 14.) The Father of Tikvath, 2 Chr. 34. 22.

Hattenaah] His Sons built the Fish-gate, Neh. 3. 3.

To haste] put for, To pant, Eccl. 1. 5. marg. To flie away, Cant. 8. 14.

It is properly spoken of them, that without any tarrying, swiftly and speedily goe any whither, or about any thing, Gen. 43. 30. Josh. 4. 10. Judg. 13. 10. 1 Sam. 4. 14. & 17. 48. & 23. 26. & 25. 34. Hence Haste thee, or Make haste, is a word of command or advice unto one whom we would have speedily to goe any whither, Gen. 19. 22. & 45. 9. 13. 1 Sam. 9. 12. & 20. 38. Luk. 19. 5.

Taken improperly, it's spoken of them who speedily doe any thing, whether men and women, as Gen. 24. 20, 46. Exod. 10. 16. & 12. 11, 33. & 34. 8. or, of God himself, who is said to make haste, when he speedily doth any thing on the behalf of the godly, Psal. 22. 19. & 38. 22. & 40. 13. or against his and their enemies, Isa. 5. 19. Mal. 3. 5. There's an haste unto good, Psal. 119. 60. an haste also unto evill, Job 31. 5. Pro. 1. 16. Psal. 106. 13. marg.

It's also spoken of them which inconsiderately, imprudently, rashly speak, or do any thing, Eccl. 5. 2. Prov. 25. 8.

So of them who violently and furiously rush upon their enemies, as the Chaldeans, who are therefore termed an hasty Nation, Hab. 1. 6.

It's spoken of affliction, Jer. 38. 16. Of the day of calamity, Deut. 32. 35. and of the increase of Children, Isa. 49. 17.

It's put also for, To fly unto unlawfull means, out of impatience and through infidelity, whence shame and confusion, Isa. 28. 16. compared with Rom. 9. 33. & 10. 11. To hasten is put also for, To give gifts, Psal. 16. 4 marg.

Hatach] Smiting. One of King Ahasuerus's Chamberlains, Est. 4. 5.

Hatch] Taken properly, as of the great Owle, Isa. 34. 15. Partridge, Jer. 17. 11.

Improperly, for the wickeds conceiving mischief, and bringing forth iniquity, Isa. 59. 4, 5.

To hate, referred to God] signifieth,

1. Not to love some in his eternal counsell, but to passe by them, and not to choose them. Rom. 9. 13. Esau have I hated; that is, I have decreed not to love him. This hating hath not foreseen sin, but Gods will for the proper cause of it; yet God decrees none to destruction, but for sin.

2. To abhor actually, and to revenge sins ſins already committed. Iſa. 1. 13. I hate your ſolemn feaſts. Pſal. 45. 8. Thou art a God which hateſt wickedneſſe. God doth not actually hate his creature, but in regard of ſin inherent, or acted and already done.

Referred to men] 1. To deſire revenge, or to wiſh evill, out of a rooted and ſetled malice. Thus Cain hated Abel, 1 Joh. 3. 13. and Ahab hated the Lords Prophet Micaiah, 1 King. 22. 8. And wicked men doe thus hate the righteous. Pſal. 34. 21. They that hate the righteous ſhall periſh. This is a hatred of perſons, not of ſins in them; a malicious hatred, of which in 1 Joh. 3. 15. He that hateth his brother, is a manſlayer.

2. To deteſt ſin, becauſe it is the breach of Gods Law. Rom. 7. 15. What I hate, that do I. Judg. 23. Thus the righteous hate even the garment ſpotted with ſin and corruption. They hate ſin in themſelves, and others; pitying the perſons of others. This is an hatred of ſin, and not of their perſons which do ſin. This is a charitable hatred.

3. To love leſſe one then another. Luk. 14. 26. And hate not father and mother, wife and children; yea, and his own life, ye cannot be my diſciples. Joh. 12. 15. Mat. 10. 39. Gen. 29. 31. Deut. 21. 15. Mat. 6. 24. Theſe are comparative, not ſimple ſpeeches.

4. To do the actions or works of perſons which do hate others, Lev. 19. 17. Prov. 13. 24. He that ſpareth correction, hateth his childe; that is, he doth as hatefull perſons would do, who keep back from others that which ſhould doe them good.

5. To neglect one. Luk. 16. 13. He will hate the one, and love the other.

6. To eſchew and fly from. Joh. 3. 20. He that doth evill, hateth the light.

7. To ſlight and deſpiſe, Prov. 14. 20. & 25. 17.

8. Not to wiſh well unto, Eph. 5. 29.

9. Not to be merciſull unto, Rom. 9. 13.

10. Not to praiſe, or approve, Pro. 11. 15.

11. To refuſe, ſhun, deteſt, Prov. 15. 27.

12. To be an enemy unto, Deut. 7. 17. & 19. 4, 6, 11. Unkindly deal with one, Gen. 26. 27. Yea, cruelly, Ezek. 23. 29. with a reſolution to deſtroy them, Deut. 1. 27. & 9. 28.

To hate with a perfect hatred] Neither to love the vices for the perſons ſake, nor to hate the perſons for the vices ſake. Pſal. 139. 22. I hate them with a perfect hatred, as if they were mine enemies. Or it may ſignifie, to hate unfaignedly, and from the heart.

Haters of God] All wicked diſobedient ſinners, which by their breaking willingly the Commandements of God, ſhew they hate God. Some ſee this in themſelves, ſuch as doe commit that unpardonable ſin; others do not ſo much as ſuſpect it: theſe are ſecret haters of God, the others be open & known (at leaſt to themſelves) haters. Rom. 1. 30. Haters of God.

Hath] The good uſing thoſe graces which we have. Mat. 13. 12. Whoſoever hath, &c.

2. A ſeeming to have. Luk. 8. 8. From him ſhall be taken that which he ſeemeth that he hath. Mat. 13. 12. From him ſhal be taken even that he hath.

All he hath] His inheritance and whole ſubſtance, Gen. 24. 36. Herein Iſaac was a figure of Chriſt, whom his Father made heir of all things, Heb. 1. 2. and of true Chriſtians, who with him inherit all, Rev. 2. 17.

Hathath] Fear. The Son of Othniel, 1 Chr. 4. 13.

Hatipha] Robbery. His Children returned from the Captivity, Ezr. 2. 54.

Hatita] A bending of ſin. His Children alſo returned, Ezr. 2. 42.

Hatred] Rooted or grounded malice, when the heart is poſſeſſed with deſire of revenge upon true or ſuppoſed wrongs done to us. Prov. 26. 26. Hatred may be covered with deceit.

2. Sins, the cauſe of hatred. Eph. 2. 16. And ſlew hatred thereby. A Metonymie of the effect.

3. Strife and diſſenſion which followes hatred. Pro. 15. 17. Then an Oxe with hatred. A Metonymie of the cauſe.

4. The object of hatred, or the thing hated, Eccl. 9. 1, 6.

Hatred is either lawfull; as, to hate ſin and ſinners, as ſinners, Pſal. 101. 3. & 119. 104, 128. & 139. 21. Or unlawfull; as, to hate God, Rom. 1. 30. 2 Chr. 19. 2. the righteous Pſal. 34. 21. ones Neighbour, Deut. 9. 11. Wife, Deut. 24. 3. Enemy, Matt. 5. 43. Knowledge, Prov. 1. 22. the Good, Mic. 3. 2.

Hats, or Turbants] Dan. 3. 21. marg. An ornament for the head, ſuch as the Turks wear at this day.

Hatticon] Middle, between the middle; or, preparation. A place, Ezek. 47. 16.

Hattil] An howling for ſin. His Children returned from the Captivity, Ezr. 2. 57.

Hattuſh] Forſaking ſin. The Son of Semaiah, 1 Chr. 3. 22. Of the Sons of David, Ezr. 8. 2. The Son of Haſhabniah, Neh. 3. 10. who ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 4.

Have ſignifieth, To get, obtain, Mat. 5, 46. Be partaker of, Joh. 8. 12. Poſſeſſe[illegible]. 3. 16. Be addicted unto a thing, Exod. 20. 3. Subject to one to be ruled and governed by him, Rom. 8. 9. 1 Cor. 7. 40. Know, underſtand, 1 Cor. 2. 16. Contain, Heb. 9. 4. Retain, Rom. 15. 4. Phil. 1. 7. Keep, Luk. 19. 20. Sustain, Phil. 1. 30. Suffer, Joh. 16. 33. Be able, 2 Cor. 8. 12. Eph. 4. 28.

Having damnation, 1 Tim. 5. 12. that is, Deserving to be greatly reproved, who also (if they repent not) shall be everlastingly damned.

Having a desire, Phil. 1. 23. that is, Greatly, earnestly, vehemently desiring.

To have ought against any, Mat. 5. 23. is, In respect of some wrong done by him, to exercise enmity against him; or, to be grievously angry with him for the wrong he hath done us, and thereof question him, Rev. 2. 4.

To have sin, Joh. 15. 22. that is, To be a sinner, or to have sinned.

To have sorrow, Joh. 16. 22. that is, To be afflicted and affected with grief.

Haven] Taken properly for the place or harbour desired in a Sea-voyage, Psa. 107. 30. Such as was the Fair havens, being a place in Creta, Act. 27. 8. though not commodious to winter in, Ibid. 12.

Improperly, for a Countrey bordering on the sea, Gen. 49. 13. Ezek. 25. 16. marg.

Haughty] High, lofty, proud, upon whom the Lords eyes are to bring them down, 2 Sam. 22. 28. Spoken of the Spirit, Prov. 16. 18. Heart, Prov. 18. 12. The daughters of Sion, Isa. 3. 16. Scorner, Pro. 21. 24. People, Isa. 24. 4.

Havilah] Grieving; or, speaking to him. A Countrey, Gen. 2. 11. & 25. 18. 2 Sam. 15. 7. Also, the Son of Cush, Gen. 10. 7. The Son of Jocktan, 1 Chr. 1. 23.

Haunt] Frequent, repair to, 1 Sam. 23. 22. & 30. 31.

Havock] Waste, destroy, Act. 8. 3.

Havoth-iair] Townes of Light. Small Townes in Gilead, Numb. 32. 41.

Hauran] A hole, liberty, or whiteneſſe. A place, Ezek. 47. 16.

Hawke] An unclean fowle, which was not to be eaten, Lev. 11. 16. Deut. 14. 15. It onely amongst all the fowls flyeth straight upright, and so cometh down to the ground. Whilest it's able to bring profit and delight to its Owner, it's fed, dieted, lookt to, when disabled, cast off. Its outward bulk is not answerable to its inward courage. When its young ones are able to fly, it gives them no meat, beats them with its [illegible] and thrusts them out of the nest. It [illegible] be kept either too lean, or too fat. Though made tame, yet ceaseth it not to be ravenous. It feedeth on the flesh, not on the heart of fowles. Bread (which prolongeth the life of other fowles) brings death to it. Having caught a Sparrow (being of a hot temper) it keepeth the same at its breast all night, whereby it's defended from the cold, and in token of thankfulnesse, in the morning dismisseth it unhurt. It's of quick sight, and very swift, and strong withall. If it misseth its prey, it's so vexed that it returneth not to its Owner. Towards winter it flyeth unto warm places, Job 39. 26. Finding it self (through age and the weight of its feathers) unwieldy, and not well able to fly, the South wind blowing, it warmeth it selfe by the Sun beams, whereby its pores being opened, her old feathers fall off, and new grow in the place. Its main strength is in the beak, breast, and clawes. Between the Hawk and the Hen there's no small difference. The Hen whilest alive, is not regarded, but when killed and made ready: on the contrary, the Hawke when dead, is thrown on the dunghil, whilest alive, in high esteem.

Hay, Wood, and Stubble] Corrupt, false, and vain doctrine, 1 Cor. 3. 12.

Hazael] Seeing God. King of Syria, 1 King. 19. 15.

Hazaiah] Seeing the Lord. The Son of Adaiah, Neh. 11. 5.

Hazar-gaddah] His imprisoned kid; or, felicity. A City, Josh. 15. 27.

Hazar-hatticon] The middle village, Ezek. 47. 16. marg.

Hazar-maveth] The Son of Jokian, Gen. 10. 26.

Hazar-shuall] A City, Josh. 15. 28. & 19. 3.

Hazar-susah] The hay-ponch, or entry of an house. A City, Josh. 19. 5.

Hazel-elponi] The shadow of the countenance. The daughter of Etam, 1 Chr. 4. 3.

Hazzerim] Porches. A place, Deut. 2. 23.

Hazeroth] Palaces. A place, Numbers 11. 35.

Hazer-susim] A City, 1 Chr. 4. 31.

Hazezon-tamar] Drawing neer bitternesse. A place where the Amorites dwelled, Gen. 14. 7.

Haziel] Seeing God. The Son of Shimei, 1 Chr. 23. 9.

Hazo] Seeing, or prophesying. The Son of Nahor, Gen. 22. 22.

Hazor] Hay, Josh. 11. 1, 10.

Hazubah]

Hazubah] The Son of Zerubbabel, 1 Chr. 3. 20.

Hazard] Act. 15. 26. is all one with Jeopard, Adventure, Expose unto danger, &c.

H E.

He] Not alwayes a certain particular man, but a succession of men in Regiment, to wit, the Antichristian Popes of Rome. 2 Thess. 2. 6. That he might be revealed: Or, an whole Empire, as the Roman Empire, in v. 7. Till he be taken away, the which was done in the East by Mahomet, and the Saracens and Turks his followers: and in the West, by Boniface the third Bishop of Rome, and his successors, especially by Gregory the seventh.

Head] That member of the body which is placed highest, and is the seat of reason, memory, imagination, and senses, being more excellent then other members, and calling for the preservation of the rest, 1 Cor. 11. 4, 5, 6.

2. One that hath rule and preheminence over others. Thus God is the head of Christ, as Mediatour; and Christ the onely spiritual head of his Church, and the husband the head of his wife, because he is the more worthy sex, and her Lord and Ruler, Eph. 5. 23. 1 Cor. 11. 3. The Prince is the head of his people. Exod. 6. 14. & 18. 25. Heads over the people: because of the Soveraignty and power over them: the first is a spirituall, the second is œconomicall, the third a politicall head or governour. The Pope is so far from being head of the Church, as he is no sound member of the holy Catholick, or of the whole Church, being the head of that Apostasie and falling from the Faith, 2 Thess. 2. 3, 4, 5.

Note. If the Pope were head of the Church, then should he be her Spouse: also, when he dieth, she should be headlesse: also, have Monsters, Magicians, and villains to be her head: and lastly, in a Schisme should have three heads at once.

Head doth argue two things: First, superiority or preheminence: Secondly, a duty to look out, and care for the safety and welfare of the inferiour members. It pleaseth God to annex and knit duties to such dignities as he giveth: so that his owne Son which was crowned with glory to be head of his Church, had it joyned with this charge to instruct it as a Prophet, to make Expiatory sacrifice, as a Priest, and as a King to govern and protect it. Let not servants think much to be as their Lord is.

It also signifieth a chief or mother City: as Damascus is the head of Aram, or Syria, Isa. 7. 8.

3. A chief or principall member in any society. Thus is a Pastour a head, in respect of his flock. 1 Cor. 12. 21. The head cannot say unto the foot. Isa. 9. 15. The honorable man is the head.

4. The chief vigour and force. Gen. 3. 15. He shall break thine head. That wherein thy chief strength and power consisteth; to wit, sin and death, 1 Joh. 3. 8.

5. The whole man, or the man himselfe. Prov. 10. 6. Blessings are upon the heads of the righteous. In this sense it is threatned to the wicked, that their sin shall be upon their head; that is, upon themselves, wholly to overwhelme and cover them from top to toe.

There's a naturall head, Gen. 48. 14. an œconomicall head, Eph. 5. 23. a Politicall head, Deut. 28. 13. Isa. 9. 15. Mysticall and spiritual, Eph. 4. 15. Col. 1. 18. Celestiall, 1 Cor. 11. 3.

This word is also put for the beginning, Gen. 2. 10. Isa. 51. 20. The top, Isa. 28. 4. The corner stone, Act. 4. 11. Life, Dan. 1. 10. Christ, 1 Cor. 11. 3, 4. Sensible apprehension, Rom. 12. 20.

To break the head and bruise the heel] To give unto Satan a mortall wound; abolishing sin and death, by the sacrifice of himself on the Crosse, and by his resurrection; whereas Christ should be hurt in his heel (in his humility) by buffetings, scourgings, and crucifying for a time; for his hurt should not be but temporary and recoverable, Gen. 3. 15. It is a speech alluding to the nature and condition of a Serpent, which creeping on the earth, hath no further power then to lift up his head, that he may bite the heel: So Satans malice and power is limited to hurt Christ externally, not mortally. Also, the might and life of the Serpent lying in his head: the bruising him in the head, signifies the spoyling his chief strength, and a ful conqueſt over him: as is declared by Paul, Col. 2. 14, 15. Heb. 2. 14. 1 Joh. 3. 8.

Head of gold] The Babylonish Monarchie under Nebuchodonosor, the same called great, compared to an [Head] for the antiquity and priority of that Kingdome, and for the wisdome of that Nation. It is compared to Gold, because of the great riches, abundance of Gold, and flourishing peace, Dan. 2. 38.

To lift up the head] ſignifies, To promote, to honour, Gen. 40. 13. Jer. 52. 31. and ſometimes Head is uſed for Summe, and it meaneth to take the ſum, or to reckon, Exod. 30. 12. It is uſed in a quite contrary ſenſe, for taking away ones head, in Numb. 25. 5.

To ſhake the head] noteth contempt, 2 King. 19. 23. Job 16. 4. Pſal. 22. 8. Alſo, amazement, Jer. 18. 16.

Heady] Raſh, unadviſed, haſty, carryed headlong, doing things without conſideration, 2 Tim. 3. 4. The word there uſed προπετὴς is adverbially rendred in Act. 19. 36. Raſhly. The metaphor is taken from young birds, who adventuring to flie before they are fledged, fall to the ground and miſcarry. Leigh Annot.

To heal] To cure ſickneſſes bodily by medicines, as Phyſicians doe: or, without them, miraculouſly, as Chriſt did. Mat. 4. 24. And he healed them. Mar. 2. 3, 4. & 3. 17.

2. To remedy the hurts and wounds of Common-wealths, Iſa. 3. 7.

3. To cure by forgiveneſſe and repentance, wounds and ſins of the ſoul, Iſa. 61. 1. Luk. 4. 18. Iſa. 6. 10.

4. To cure ſlightly, falſly, deceitfully, the impenitent, Jer. 6. 14. There's then a corporall, a ſpirituall, a politicall, and a ſinfull healing.

To heap] ſignifieth, 1. To ſtore up, or lay up together, as men which will gather treaſure into one place. Rom. 2. 5. Heapeſt up wrath againſt the day of wrath.

2. To comfort, ſtrengthen, or inſult over; ſpoken of words, Job 16. 4.

3. To gather together, as the covetous doth gold or ſilver, Job 27. 16.

4. To provoke greatly, Job 36. 13.

5. To caſt upon, Rom. 12. 20.

6. To caſt up, or make an heap, Hab. 1. 10.

7. To treaſure up, Jam. 5. 3.

To hear] To grant and fulfill our deſires. Joh. 9. 31. God heareth not ſinners; but if any man be a worſhipper of God, him heareth he. And often in the Pſalms and elſewhere. Thus God heareth our prayers: and his not granting, is his not hearing.

2. To liſten unto the words of God onely with the outward ſenſe of the ear. Mat. 13. 19. They hear the Word, and underſtand it not. Thus all wicked men which be within the Church hear the Word. Alſo, it ſignifies to know, Rom. 10. 3, 4.

3. To yeeld willing aſſent in our minds to the Word of God, with a firm purpoſe to obey. Joh. 8. 47. He that is of God, heareth Gods Word. 1 Joh. 4. 6. Joh. 10. 27. My ſheep hear my voyce and follow me. Thus good children hear Gods Word.

4. To ſubmit ones ſelf to Chriſt, as to an heavenly and perfect Schoolemaſter, Mat. 17. 5. To be his diſciples.

Note. Chriſt onely to be heard as Lord and Son of God: others as ſervants hear him; that is, be content, either foretelling his comming as Prophets, or as Apoſtles preaching him to be come.

5. To beleeve and give credit to that we hear. Joh. 9. 27. I have told you, and you have not heard it. 1 Tim. 4. v. laſt. Thou ſhalt ſave them that hear thee.

6. Barely to underſtand and know. Jer. 5. 21. They have ears and hear not.

7. To underſtand, 1 King. 2. 9.

8. To judge and determine, 2 Sam. 15. 3.

9. To delight in hearing, 2 Sam. 19. 35.

10. To receive, Job 34. 2.

11. To regard, or have reſpect to, Job 35. 13. Joh. 9. 31.

12. To obey, Iſa. 55. 3.

13. To be told, Jer. 38. 25.

14. To make profitable, and to be anſwerable, Hoſ. 2. 21.

15. To obſerve the things heard with fruit, Deut. 29. 4.

16. To be taught, Joh. 6. 45.

17. To learn, Joh. 8. 26, 40. compared with verſ. 28.

18. To underſtand, 1 Cor. 14. 2. marg.

19. To approve, Iſa. 33. 15. 1 Joh. 4. 5.

20. To embrace ones doctrine with a ready and ſincere minde, Mat. 17. 5.

It's ſpoken of God, as taking exact notice of a thing, Lam. 3. 61. Zeph. 2. 8. Mal. 3. 16. and either being gracious unto one, Judg. 9. 7. or puniſhing, Judg. 11. 10. marg. Alſo, when he taketh upon him the defence of his owne, and puniſheth the wicked, 1 King. 8. 32.

To hear, and not underſtand, &c.] By the juſt judgement of God to be made blind and hardened, as a puniſhment of former rebellion, Iſa. 6. 9, 10. When men by hearing are not profited and led to obedience of that which they hear, then is this judgement fulfilled in part: but if careleſſe diſobedience grow to contempt, that the heart be obdurate and made more blinde by inſtruction, as it hapned to the obſtinate Jews in the Prophets time and Chriſts, then in a greater meaſure it is accompliſhed, and one of the greateſt curſes, Mar. 4. 12. Luk. 8. 10. Mat. 13. 14, 15. Act. 28. 26. Rom. 11. 8. Job 12. 40.

Hearing] ſignifieth the word or matter heard, or preached, Rom. 10. 16. Alſo fame or ſound, Mar. 1. 18. Luk. 4. 37.

Hearing of Faith] Doctrine or preaching of faith which men hear, and by hearing receive. Gal. 3. 5. Or by hearing of faith. Rom. 10. 16. In Greek it is, who hath beleeved the hearing of us? Likewiſe M. Tremelius out of Hebrew tranſlates Iſa. 53. 1.

Hearken] put 1. for, To liſten, Act. 12. 13. as to underſtand, Act. 15. 13.

2. Obey, Gen. 3. 17. & 21. 12. 1 Sam. 25. 35.

3. Grant a petition, Deut. 10. 10.

Heart] The fleſhy part of mans body, which is the ſeat of affections.

2. The whole man, by a Synecdoche of the part. Pſal. 45. 1. My heart will utter forth a good matter, I will intreat, &c. Judg. 19. 5.

3. Soul, with the faculties of underſtanding, reaſon, judgement, will, &c. Becauſe the ſoul keeps reſidence in the Heart, and there ſhews it ſelfe moſt preſent (as it were) in her chair of State. Hence it is, that Heart is put for the Soul, with her faculties. Prov. 23. 26. My Son, give me thy heart. Mat. 15. 19. Out of the heart proceedeth evill thoughts. Pſal. 51. 10. Create in me a clean heart, verſ. 17. 1 Pet. 3. 15. Pſal. 26. 6. & 73. 13. Rom. 10. 8, 9, 10.

4. Will and affections onely, which are ſeated in the heart: thus it ſignifieth, when heart and ſoul be named together. Mat. 22. 37. With all thy heart, with all thy ſoul.

5. The affection and meaning. Exod. 23. 9. Ye know the heart of a ſtranger. Alſo, purpoſe and imagination, Iſa. 10. 7.

6. Underſtanding. Rom. 2. 15. Which ſhew the effect of the Law written in their hearts.

7. The middle part of any thing. Exod. 15. 8. In the heart of the Sea. Ezek. 27. 4.

Note. That heart and hand joyned together in Scripture, ſignifieth thoughts and actions, as Gen. 20. Pſal. 24. 26.

8. Purpoſe and imagination, Iſa. 7. 10.

9. The conſcience, 2 Sam. 24. 10. 1 Joh. 3. 20.

10. The minde, Pſal. 28. 3. 1 Sam. 25. 31. Rev. 18. 7.

11. The ſoul, Prov. 4. 23. Jam. 1. 26.

12. The grave, Mat. 12. 40.

13. Within, 2 Cor. 5. 12.

14. The memory, Deut. 4. 39.

15. The will, Act. 4. 32.

This word is alſo ſpoken both of God and the Creatures.

The properties of the heart; whether good, as willing, underſtanding, perfect, right, tender, prepared, faithfull, pure, clean, honeſt, true, &c. or bad, as obſtinate, deceived, wicked, double, froward, proud, haughty, rebellious, uncircumciſed, whoriſh, ſtony, impenitent, &c. may eaſily be apprehended of every Reader.

Hearts deſire] Unfaigned and earneſt deſire. Rom. 10. 1. My hearts deſire is, that Iſrael might be ſaved.

The heart of the earth] The grave. Mat. 12. 40. The Son of man ſhall be three days in the heart of the earth.

Fleſhy heart] An heart made ſoft and tractable by the Spirit of God. Ezek. 36. 26. I will give you an heart of fleſh. See Fleſh.

From the heart] ſignifies, Willingneſſe, without compulſion.

2. Singleneſſe, without hypocriſie.

3. Cheerfulneſſe and alacrity, without ſad penſiveneſſe. Rom. 6. 17. Ye have obeyed from the heart.

A man after Gods heart] Such a man as is liked and loved of God for his uprightneſſe of life, 1 Sam. 13. 14.

Hard heart] Diſobedient and unyeelding heart. Heb 3. 13. Leſt your heart be made hard through deceitfulneſſe of ſin. This is the brazen forehead, the iron ſinew, the ſtony heart, the heart of adamant, which nothing can bow, nor break; neither promiſes nor threatnings, bleſſings nor afflictions. It is called Rom. 2. 5. An heart that cannot repent. Unto which eſtate men come by long cuſtome of ſin. This hard heart comes by the judgement of God. Secondly, by the malice of Satan. Thirdly, by the perverſe will of man. An hard heart is either partiall or totall, temporary or finall, John 12. 40. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Act. 28. 27.

To harden the heart] To leave one in his naturall hardneſſe, not ſoftning his heart, but as a juſt Judge, delivering him to Satan to be more hardened. Thus God hardened Pharaoh's heart, Exod. 9. 12.

2. To inſpire blinde thoughts, and to make hard. Thus Satan, 2 Cor. 4. 4.

3. To follow his owne luſts ſtubbornly. Thus Pharaoh hardened himſelf, Exod. 8. 15.

Honeſt heart] Such a heart which ſtudyeth inwardly to be indeed that which outwardly it ſeems to others; or a firm reſolution of the Soule, to doe and practiſe the good things which the Word teacheth. Luk. 8. 15. They which hear the Word with an honeſt heart.

To knit the heart to God] To cauſe one to love God with a ſincere and conſtant motion of the ſoul. Pſal. 86. 13. Knit my heart to thee, that I may fear thy name.

A large heart] A very wiſe and prudent heart, able to comprehend many and great things. 1 King. 4. 29. God gave Solomon a large heart, &c.

A mans heart] An abject, broken, and fearfull heart, in compariſon of a Lyon-like ſpirit wherewith it exalted it ſelfe. Dan. 7. 4. A mans heart was given it.

The heart to be moved] Either properly the beating of the heart, or elſe withall the fear which coming from infidelity and diſtruſt of Gods promiſes and help, doth ſhake the heart, as leaves are ſhaken with a violent wind, Iſa. 7. 2.

One heart and one way] Agreement and conſent both in Religion, and in affection, Jer. 32. 39.

A pricked heart] A heart deeply wounded with bitter ſorrow and grief for ſins done againſt God. Act. 2. 37. They were pricked in heart.

A pure and clean heart] A ſoul purged from the guilt and puniſhment of ſin by Juſtification; and from the power of ſin by Sanctification. Mat. 5. 8. Bleſſed are the pure in heart, for they ſhall ſee God. Pſal. 51. 10. Create in me a clean heart. Pſal. 73. 1.

To ſay in the heart] To have doubtfull and perplexed thoughts about ſalvation. Rom. 10. 6. Say not in your heart.

2. To ſet down a thing inwardly, or within ones ſelf. Pſal. 14. 1. The foole hath ſaid in his heart. Not to be taken, as if any how wicked, fooliſh, or mad ſoever, did indeed think and reſolve that there was no God (for the notion of a God that there is one, is more deeply and ſurely printed and ſetled into mans ſoul, then that ever it can be blotted out; no people being ſo barbarous but have acknowledged it) but impudent ſinners would fain have it ſo, and gladly would think it is ſo; yea, and live ſo ſecurely, as if there were no God, forgetting his power, juſtice, and providence; going on in a wicked race without regard of theſe, as the verſes following (which deſcribe their courſe of life) doe expound it plainly.

3. To purpoſe certainly, Gen. 8. 21.

Sincerity of heart] ſignifies, not an abſolute perfection of heart, but ſimplicity without fraud or hypocriſie, Gen. 20. 5.

Singleneſſe of heart] Godly ſimplicity and uprightneſſe of minde, when in doing duties even to men, yet Gods will and glory is chiefly lookt unto and reſpected. Eph. 6. 6. In ſingleneſſe of heart, not with eye-ſervice, &c.

Note. The heart is the ſeat of wiſdome, knowledge and underſtanding, Eccl. 7. 27. Prov. 7. 7.

To be ſory in his heart] ſignifieth, To be greatly and earneſtly grieved, Gen. 6. 6.

To ſpeak to ones heart] To give kinde and comfortable words, which may cheer the minde which is ſad and heavy. Gen. 34. 3. He ſpake to the heart of the maid. So it is tranſlated by Tremel. Alſo, Gen. 50. 51. Iſa. 40. 1.

To ſteal away the heart] To goe away privily by ſtealth (as it were) without the knowledge of Laban. Gen. 31. 20. Jacob ſtole away the heart of Laban.

2. To intice and allure the love and good will of others unto us. 2 Sam. 15. 6. He ſtole the hearts of the people.

With all thy heart] Perfection. Mat. 22. 37. Love the Lord thy God with all thy heart. This is a Legall ſentence, requiring perfection of love, which is found in Chriſt only, and in the Saints which be in heaven.

2. Sincerity. Hezekiah and David ſerved God with all their heart, & Pſa. 119. 2. This is an Evangelicall ſentence, requiring but uprightneſſe of love, which is found in all the Saints on earth.

With the whole heart] Without hypocriſie and faigning, even ſincerity. Jer. 3. 10. Judah hath not returned to me with her whole heart, but faignedly.

To write the Law in the heart] To engrave and print naturally the difference of good and evill in mans underſtanding. Rom. 2. 15. Which ſhew the effect of the Law written in their hearts.

2. To renew ſupernaturally the Soule unto the Image of God, to reſemble him in righteouſneſſe and true holineſſe. Jer. 31. 33. I will write my Law in their hearts.

Hearth] Taken properly, Iſa. 30. 14. Jer. 36. 22.

Figuratively, The bones of him that is grievouſly afflicted are ſaid to be burnt as an hearth, Pſal. 102. 3. and of the Governours of Judah, it is ſaid, That like a hearth of fire among the wood, they ſhould devour all the people round about, Zech. 12. 6.

Heat] Taken properly, for, The heat of the weather, burning of the Sun, the great heat that iſſueth out of the fire, as that which cometh out of the mouth of a furnace, or oven, 1 Sam. 11. 11. 2 Sam. 4. 5. Pſal. 19. 6. Iſa. 44. 16. Dan. 3. 22. So for warmth of the body, 1 King. 1. 2. Eccl. 4. 11.

Figuratively,

Figuratively, 1. for vehement dryth, or dryneſſe within the body, Job 30. 30.

2. Fervour of affection, Ezek. 3.14.

3. Wrath and indignation, Deut. 29.24.

4. Dry weather, Luk. 12. 55.

5. Fire, Act. 28. 3.

6. Noon-tide, Gen. 18. 1.

7. Moſt grievous affliction, Iſa. 25. 4, 5.

Heath] is a ſhrub well known, and groweth in hungry and barren places, as both experience teacheth, and the Prophet declareth, Jer. 17. 6. It's good for fuel, for Cattel to feed upon, and is alſo profitable in Phyſick.

Heathen] People and Nations which were not of the Iſraelites, Lev. 25.44. 2 King. 16. 3. Gal. 1. 16. after whoſe example the Iſraelites walked, 2 King. 17. 8, 11, 15. They were enemies to Gods people, Nehem. 5. 9. Pſal. 2. 1. Whom God drove out, Pſa. 44.2. but juſtifieth by faith, Gal. 3.8. Such are ſet forth by Infidels, 1 Tim. 5. 8. Unbeleevers, 1 Cor. 6.6. Tents of wickedneſſe, Pſal. 84. 10. Meſech and Kedar, Pſal. 120. 5. Families which call not on the name of the Lord, Jer. 10. 25. Gentiles, Gal. 2.15. Without Chriſt, aliens from the Common-wealth of Iſrael, &c. Eph. 2.12. Uncircumciſed, 1 Sam. 14.6. Yea, ſuch Chriſtians as walk diſorderly, and after admonition ſo perſiſt, are to be reputed for ſuch, Mat. 18. 17.

Heaven] God who dwelleth and reigneth in heaven. Luk. 15.21. Father, I have ſinned againſt heaven, and againſt thee. Luk. 20.4. Was it from heaven, or of men? This is uncreated heaven, Dan. 4. 26. Mat. 21. 25. A Metonymie.

2. The ſeat and manſion of bleſſed Angels and godly men. Mat. 5. 19. Great is your glory in heaven. Act. 3. 21. This is the heaven of the bleſſed, called the third heaven.

3. The viſible Church on earth. Rev. 12.7. There was a great battel in heaven. And very often it is thus taken in the Revelation, as the attentive Reader may well perceive. This is heaven on earth. See the Dictionary upon the Revelation in the word Heaven.

4. The Spheres or Orbs, and the elementary Region. Pſal. 19. 1. The heavens declare the glory of God. Heavens are named by the Hebrews, of their thin, fine and ſubtle ſubſtance.

5. The air next unto us. Mat. 9.26. The birds of heaven labour not. & 13. 32. The birds of heaven build their neſts in the branches, &c. This is the airy Heaven, called the Skie.

6. Heavenly creatures, or the Angels which alwayes abide in heaven. Job 15.15. The heavens are not clear in his ſight. Mat. 6.10. As it is in heaven. Theſe be the inhabitants of heaven.

7. Some exceeding great height. Deut. 1. 28. The Cities are walled up to heaven; that is, had very high wals.

8. Perfect ſalvation and bleſſedneſſe in heaven. Rom. 10. 6. Who ſhall aſcend to heaven? that is, who ſhall tell us by what way to come to ſalvation, and whether we ſhall be ſaved there or no. All this outſpread, or firmament ſpread over the face of the earth, God calleth Heaven, Gen. 1. 8. The place above, where the ſun and ſtars be, is called Heavens, Gen. 1. 17. And the higheſt place where the Angels dwell, and where God himſelfe is ſaid to ſit, and have his throne, is likewiſe tearmed heaven, Mat. 6.9. & 24. 36. which is by the Apoſtle named the third heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2. So other Scriptures mention the birds of heaven, Pſal. 8. 8. The winds of heaven, Dan. 7.2. The clouds of heaven, Dan. 7. 13. The dew of heaven, Dan. 4. 12. As heaven is not onely the dwelling place of the Angels and Saints, but generally all places above us, where the clouds, winds, birds, and ſtarres bee: So Hell, though by cuſtome of our ſpeech it be uſually taken for the place of devils and damned reprobates, yet the word is more large, and ſignifies all places beneath; in wch large ſenſe it may anſwer the Heb. word Sheol, which is a deep place, and is beneath, as heaven is above, Job 11. 8. Prov. 9.18. Pſa. 86.12. Deut. 32.22. Iſa. 14. 9. It cometh of Shaal, to crave, ask, require, becauſe it requireth all men to come to it, and is never ſatisfied, Pſal. 89. 48. Prov. 30.15. & 27.20. It is a place or eſtate which all men even the beſt come unto, for Jacob made account to goe thither, Gen. 37. 35. and Job deſired to be there, Job 14.13. & 17. 13. And our Lord Chriſt was there, as Pſal. 16. 9. Act. 2. 31. ſheweth: and Solomon ſaith, All goe thither, Eccl. 9. 10.

9. The uppermoſt region of the air, where the Meteors be. Gen. 19. 23. Rained fire and brimſtone from heaven.

10. A great height, Deut. 1. 28.

11. The heavenly Saints and Angels, Job 15. 15.

12. That ſpiritual Kingdome, glory, and happineſſe, wherein God with his holy Angels and bleſſed Spirits liveth and reigneth, Pſal. 103.19. & 115. 16. Illyric. Clav.

13. The meteors gendred in the air, as, for the clouds, Jam. 5. 18.

14. The

14. The ſun, moon, and ſtars, Pſal. 148. 1. compar. with v. 3. which in 1 Cor. 15. 40. are called celeſtiall bodies.

15. All places above us, Dan. 9. 12. Pſal. 19. 6. & 78. 26. Whence ſnow, Iſa. 55. 10. Winds and froſts come, Job 38. 29.

16. An high ſtate of great dignity, Iſa. 14. 12.

17. The circuit and circumference of it, Iſa. 40. 12.

All things in heaven and earth] The faithfull Jews, which beleeving on Chriſt to come, (being now triumphant in heaven (touching their ſouls) with their head:) and both beleeving Jews and Gentiles, yet militant on earth, Eph. 1. 10. It is rightly applyed to the good Angels, who being void of ſin needed no reconciliation, neither are they the members of Chriſt, but ſervants to him, and to his Church.

Heaven of braſſe] An heaven which poureth not down the rain to make the earth fruitfull. Deut. 28. 23. The heaven above thee ſhall be braſſe. 1 King. 8. 35. There ſhall be unfruitfulneſſe and great barrenneſſe.

The dayes of heaven] The perpetuity and continuall durance of heaven, even as long as heaven endureth. Pſal. 89. 29. And his throne as the days of heaven.

From one end of heaven to the other] The whole compaſſe of the world; even to the utmoſt and furthermoſt, or moſt remote parts of the world. Pſal. 19. 6. His going out is from the end of heaven, &c.

God of heaven] So called, becauſe hee made the heaven and earth, Jer. 11.

2. Becauſe he dwelleth in heaven, he giveth viſible tokens of his preſence.

3. Becauſe in the heavens his glory, greatneſſe, and power are moſt ſet forth, Dan. 2. 22.

Heaven and earth] The world, as Act. 17. 24. or the univerſall and whole fabrick of the world, divided into theſe two great parts, heaven and earth, (as Auguſtine calleth them) which by a Synecdoche, doe more largely ſignifie all things therein contained, even from the cope of heaven unto the center of the earth. Gen. 1. 1. God created heaven and earth. Thus Paul expounds Moſes, Col. 1. 16. Alſo, heaven and earth in innumerable Scriptures, as Gen. 2. 1, 4. & 14. 24. & Exod. 20. 5, 6. & Pſal. 124. v. laſt. Act. 4. 24. & 14, 15, &c. alluding to Moſes, doe plainly ſhew the meaning to be this; alſo our Creed.

Heaven of heavens] The Firmament, which doth comprehend in it all the inferiour heavens. 1 King. 8. 27. The heavens cannot contain him.

The hoaſt of heaven] All celeſtial creatures, Angels and Stars. Gen. 2. 1. He made heaven, and the hoaſt thereof.

2. The Stars onely. Jer. 33. 22. As the hoaſt of heaven cannot be numbred.

In heaven] That glorious divine Majeſty, manifeſted fully in heaven, and from thence expreſſed mightily in his manifold works upon earth. Matt. 6. 9. Our Father which art in heaven. Matt. 5. 48. As your Father which is in heaven. Iſa. 66. 1. Rom. 1. 18. Pſal. 50. 6.

2. The holy Angels which be in heaven, Matt. 6. 11.

To be lifted above the heavens] To be moſt highly praiſed and glorified, for the works of his great power and majeſty. Pſal. 108. Exalt thy ſelfe (O God) above the heavens.

Opening the heavens] The cleaving and parting of the heavens viſibly, as the eye (through ſome quickneſſe added to it) might pierce above the ſtars and planets to ſee the heavenly glory. Luk. 3. 2. The heaven was opened. So expounded by Mark 1. 10. He ſaw the heavens cloven, or rent. Thus alſo we may take that place in Act. 7. 56. There was a miracle wrought both in the heavens, which were changed by diviſion, and in his eyes, which were endowed with extraordinary quickneſſe, that they might reach ſo high.

Secondly, ſenſible manifeſtation of divine glory. Joh. 1. verſ. laſt, Ye ſhall ſee heaven opened. Where Chriſt promiſeth to his Diſciples, that he ſhould give them ſtrange and wondrous tokens of his divine Majeſty, to confirm their faith in him, that he was the Son of God, the King of Iſrael, as Nathaniel had a little before confeſſed; which is to be extended not to any one time or marvellous act, but to all his mighty works done by the miniſtery of his Angels, ſerving him as their Lord and Prince, even to his laſt returning, or ſecond coming in the clouds in the glory of his Father, and his own glory; and waited on by innumerable Angels, Mat. 25. 31. Or as ſome expound this place of John, of the acceſſe we have to heaven and through Chriſt, that having him our Advocate, nothing ſhall hinder the beleevers from beholding God in heaven.

To ride upon the heavens] To make known and ſhew forth his divine Majeſty and omnipotency, Pſal. 68. 4.

The third heaven] 2 Cor. 12. This is expounded three wayes.

1. Of the place, that Paul was in the higheſt heaven, called for the pleaſure thereof, Paradiſe.

2. Of the heavenly manner of his taking up thither; not onely by ſeeing things earthly with bodily eyes, nor onely by ſeeing ſpiritually with the minde or ſoul, the images or ſhapes of heavenly things; but alſo with minde, or body, or both, ſeeing immediately the heavenly things themſelves, and that in heaven; for he is ſure of one of theſe laſt.

3. Of the heavenly matters or objects which Saint Paul ſaw; that is, the higheſt matters, and that in the higheſt heaven, for they were ſuch as he durſt not or could not utter.

Heavy] Spoken of Moſes his hands, Ex. 17. 12. The hand of God, 1 Sam. 5. 11. Abſalom's hair, 2 Sam. 14. 26. A yoke, 1 King. 12. 4. Tydings, 1 King. 14. 6. Bondage, Neh. 5. 18. Burden, Pſal. 38. 4. Heart, Pro. 25. 20. Stone, Prov. 27. 3. Ears, Iſa. 6. 10. Tranſgreſſions, Iſa. 24. 20. Carriages, Iſa. 46. 1. Chain, Lam. 3. 7. Eyes, Matt. 26. 43. A fools wrath, Prov. 27. 3. And put for, Wanted ſtrength, Exod. 17. 12. Above ones ability, Exod. 18. 18. Unwieldy, 1 Sam. 4. 18. Grievous, 1 Sam. 5. 6, 11. Weighty, 2 Sam. 14. 26. Burthenſome, 1 King. 12. 4. Sad, 1 King. 21. 4. Afflicted, Prov. 25. 20. Dull, Iſa. 6. 10. Drowſie, Mat. 26. 43.

Heber] (of whom the Heberites, Numb. 26. 45. A companion, or partaker. The Son of Beriah, Gen. 46. 17. The husband of Jael, Judg. 4. 21. The Father of Socho, 1 Chr. 4. 18. A Gadite, 1 Chr. 5. 11, 13. The Son of Shaſhak, 1 Chr. 8. 22, 25. The Son of Salą, Luk. 3. 35.

Hebrews] ſignifie the people which came of Heber the fourth from Shem, in whoſe family the ancient language of the world called Hebrew by his name, continued; and about the birth of his Son hapned that diviſion in the reſt of the languages of the world, whereof he was called Peleg, or Phaleg, i. e. Diviſion. See Gen. 11.

This name is derived, 1. as ſome think, from Abrahams name, Hebræi quaſi Abrahæi.

2. As others, from Heber ſignifying Beyond, and ſo from their owne paſſing from Ægypt.

3. As others think, from [Ever] a preposition in Hebrew, from Abrahams fact, viz. His paſſing from Ur in Chaldee into Canaan. Bend. Aretius in Iſagoge ſua in Hebræos.

This name is put to diſtinguiſh the Jews, one ſort called Grecians, from reading the Bible in the Greek, and the other Hebrews from reading it in the Hebrew, Act. 6. 1.

An Hebrew of the Hebrews, is one born of an Hebrew Father and Mother, Phil. 3. 5.

Hebron] Fellowſhip. A City called Arbah, Gen. 35. 27. The Son of Kohath, Num. 3. 19. Of whom the family of the Hebronites, Ibid. 27. The Son of Mereſha, 1 Chr. 2. 42.

Hedge] A cloſure or fence, ſet up for ſafeguard of Vineyards, Corn-fields, Orchards, &c.

2. Gods protection, and whatſoever he giveth us belonging unto our defence; as, good Magiſtrates, good Laws, godly Miniſters, true Diſcipline, valiant and skilfull Warriors, &c. Job 1. 10. Thou haſt made an hedge about him, and about his houſe. Iſa. 5. 2. And he hedged it. A Metaphor.

3. A ſtop and hinderance to ones purpoſes and endevours. Hoſ. 2. 6. I will ſtop thy way with thorns, and make an hedge.

4. The means of ſafety, Ezek. 13. 5.

5. Magiſtracy ordained to ſuppreſſe oppreſſion and wrongs, Ezek. 22. 30.

9. Reſtraint, Job 3. 23. with 19. 8. Lam. 3. 7.

7. Old conſtitutions of laws and policies, Eccl. 10. 8.

Heed] Whereunto we muſt give heed, and that diligent, Joſh. 22. 5. Good, Joſh. 23. 11. According to Gods Word, Pſal. 119. 9. With one accord, Act. 8. 6. Earneſt, Heb. 2. 1. Which Jehu did not, 2 King. 10. 31. nor Jeremiah's enemies, Jer. 18. 18. Whereunto we muſt not give heed, Prov. 17. 4. Act. 8. 10. 1 Tim. 1. 4. & 4. 1. Tit. 1. 14.

Heel] Taken properly, for the heel of the foot, Gen. 25. 26. & 49. 17.

Figuratively, 1. For the humanity of Chriſt, Gen. 3. 15. Or his ways wherein he did walk, being here on earth.

2. The firſt motions of ones wayes, Job 13. 27.

3. Wayes, works, or doings, Pſal. 49. 5. Jer. 13. 22.

4. Deſpitefull practiſe, Pſal. 41. 9.

Thou ſhalt bruiſe his heel, Gen. 3. 15. that is, proſecute, perſecute by all means, vex and trouble him.

To lift up the heel, Pſal. 41. 9. is, for an Inferiour to ſet himſelfe againſt his Superiour, or Beneſactour; as if an Horſe ſhould with his heels ſtrike his Maſter whom he ſhould ſerve.

The grin ſhall take him by the heel, Job 18. 9. that is, he ſhall on the ſudden fall into ſuch troubles troubles and calamities, as out of which he ſhall not be able to rid himſelf.

And thy heels made bare, Jer. 13. 22. that is, expoſed to ſhame, ignominy, and contempt; as they were whom the Conqueror led into captivity, with their feet bare, to diſgrace them the more.

Hegai, or Hege] Sighing, or ſpeech. One of Ahaſuerus his Chamberlaines, Eſt. 2. 3, 8, 15.

Heifer] Taken 1. properly, for a young Cow of three yeers old, Gen. 15. 9. Jer. 48. 34. Uſed as for food when dead, ſo both for treading out the corn, and ploughing the ground whileſt alive, Hoſ. 10. 11. As alſo, for Sacrifice unto the Lord, Deut. 21. 3, &c. 1 Sam. 16. 2. Hereunto Ægypt, Jer. 46. 20. Iſrael, Hoſ. 4. 16. Ephraim, Hoſ. 10. 11. The Babylonians, Jer. 50. 11. Moab, Iſa. 15. 5. are compared.

2. Figuratively, for a mans Wife, Judg. 14. 18.

A red Heifer, without ſpot] Chriſt ſtrong and perfect, ſubject to no commandement of man, but conſecrate of the Father to himſelfe, and by him ſeparate to his office, Numb. 19. 2. Bring a red Heifer without ſpot, on which never came yoake. Hitherto tended the reproving of his Mother, Luk. 2. 49. Joh. 2.

Height] Spoken of the Creator, Eph. 3. 18. Of men, 1 Sam. 16. 7. & 17. 4. Amos 2. 9. Of other Creatures, as the Heaven, Job 22. 12. Clouds, Iſa. 14. 14. Mountains, Iſa. 37. 24. Starres, Job 22. 12. Cedars, Amos 2. 9. So of Trees, Houſes, &c. It's put for things high and marvellous, which be above and over us, Rom. 8. 39.

Heinous crime] Job 31. 11. A miſchief, villany, a wicked act, accurſed deed, a thing deteſtable, unlawfull, diſhoneſt.

Heir] One that ſucceedeth into the inheritance and poſſeſſions of another, after his death, Gal. 4. 1. So was Iſaac heir to Abraham, and Solomon to David, Gen. 21. 10. Under Iſaac's inheritance is figured and ſignified heavenly bleſſings in Chriſt, and life everlaſting, Gal. 3. 18, 19. & 4. 7. 1 Pet. 1. 4. See Prov. 30. 23. Jer. 49. 1.

2. One partaker of the goods of his heavenly Father freely, becauſe he is an adopted childe. Rom. 8, 17. If we be children, we are alſo heirs. This is an heavenly heir, an heir through Chriſt of God, Gal. 4. 7. Promiſe, Heb. 6. 17. The grace of life, 1 Pet. 3. 7. The Kingdome, Jam. 2. 5. Salvation, Heb. 1. 14. Righteouſneſſe, Heb. 11. 7. The world (to come) Rom. 4. 13. All things, Heb. 1. 2.

3. One that is Lord of all, Heb. 1. 2.

The ſubjection of the Nations to the Son of God, is called Chriſts inheritance, Pſal. 2. 8. As the like manner of ſpeech importeth, Iſa. 14. 2. Lev. 25. 46. Zech. 2. 9.

Heir of the world] Chriſt, who had all the people of the world for his Children. Heb. 1. 2. Whom he hath made heir of all things.

2. Abraham, to whom God gave the Land of Canaan to be his inheritance, as a pledge and type of heavenly glory; yea, and all the faithfull to be his Children. Rom. 4. 13, 17.

Helah] The Wife of Aſher, 1 Chr. 4. 5.

Helam] The army of the Mother. A place, 2 Sam. 10. 16.

Helbath] Milk fat; or, grief in that. A place, Judg. 1. 31.

Helbon] The ſame. A place, Ezek. 27. 18.

Heldai] The world; or, ruſtineſs. A Netophathite, 1 Chr. 27. 15. One that returned from the Captivity, Zech. 6. 10.

Heleb] The ſame. The Son of Baanah, 2 Sam. 23. 29.

Heled] The Son of Baanah, 1 Chron. 11. 30.

Helek] A part, or portion. The Son of Gilead, of whom the family of the Helekites, Numb. 26. 30.

Helem] Dreaming; or, Healing. The name of a man, 1 Chron. 7. 35. Alſo Zech. 6. 14.

Heleph] A changing, or paſſing over. A place, Joſh. 19. 33.

Helez] Armed; or, ſet free. A Pakite, 2 Sam. 23. 16. The Son of Azariah, 1 Chr. 2. 39. A Pelonite, 1 Chr. 11. 27. who was the Captain of the ſeventh month, Ib. 27. 10.

Heli] Aſcending, or climbing up, from the root עלה he aſcended, Luk. 3. 23.

Helkah] A dart, or portion. A City, Joſh. 21. 31.

Helkai] The ſame. A chief Prieſt, Neh. 12. 15.

Helkath] A portion, or dividing. A place, Joſh. 19. 25.

Helkath-hazzurim] The field of ſtrong men. A place, 2 Sam. 2. 16.

Helkiah] The gentleneſſe, or portion of the Lord. The Father of Eliakim, 2 King. 18. 18.

Hell] The place appointed for the torment of the reprobate after this life. Luk. 16. 23. And being in hell torments. It ſignifies both grave and hell in Iſa. 5. 14.

2. Moſt deep and deadly ſorrows, like to the ſorrows of hell. Pſa. 18. 5. The ſorrows of hell compaſſed me, and got hold upon me. Pſal. 86. 12. & 30. 3. 116.

3. Satan the Prince of hell, with the whole army of wicked ſpirits, Jam. 3. 6. Matt. 16. 18. The gates of hell ſhall not prevaile; that is, the ſtrongeſt aſſaults of Satan. A Metonymie. Or, hereby may be underſtood Satans Kingdome leading to hell.

4. The grave, and the eſtate of the dead therein. Pſal. 16. 10. Thou ſhalt not leave my ſoule in hell. Act. 2. 31. And in innumerable places in the Old Teſtament, the word Hell is uſed in this ſignification. As Gen. 42. 38. Job 14. 13. & 17. 13. Iſa. 14. 9, 15. Hab. 2. 5. Rev. 20. 13, 14. & 6. 8. See the word Heaven.

5. The belly of the Whale, wherein Jonas was ſhut up (as in a grave) and felt ſorrows like the ſorrows of death. Jonas 2. 2. Out of the belly of hell cryed I.

Note. The word Hell in Hebrew properly, and in the firſt place ſignifieth Grave, or the eſtate of the dead, though they were juſt: And in the ſecond place, the hell of the damned, more rarely: And in a number of Scriptures it is put for trouble and anguiſh in this life. Wherefore the Jeſuits do lie when they ſay it always noteth the place of torments.

It's alſo put for inſupportable, helliſh, Pſal. 18. 5. & 116. 3. Perdition, Prov. 5. 5. Mat. 23. 15. Low places, Deut. 32. 22. Job 11. 8. Very great evils, afflictions, perils, grief, anguiſh of minde, &c. 2 Sam. 22. 6. Pſal. 18. 5. & 116. 3.

Hell fire] The whole extreme pain of the damned in hell, Mat. 5. 22. called damnation of hell, Mat. 23. 33. How ſhould ye eſcape damnation of hell? Fire being a moſt terrible Element, is fitteſt to expreſſe the dreadfull ſtate of ſuch as be in hell.

To leave the ſoul in hell] That Chriſt being dead, he ſhould not continue in the grave, and rot there as other men doe, Pſal. 16. 10. That no more, or other thing is meant, appeareth firſt, becauſe my ſoule is often in the Pſalms put for me, or my life, Pſa. 3. 2. & 11. 1. & 17. 3. Alſo, by Hell, the eſtate of the dead is noted, yea, though they were godly and in joyes, Gen. 37. 11. Pſal. 26. 6. Laſtly, by application of this Text, Act. 2. where that is affirmed to have befaln to David, Act. 2. 29. which is denyed to Chriſt, Act. 2. 23. Therefore, whither Chriſts ſoul came and remained not, there David's came, and was left: but David's ſoul was not left in the place of torment, no more then Lazarus was, Luk. 16. 20. Chriſt therefore came not thither in ſoul.

Finally, where Chriſts ſoul came, there it remained till the reſurrection, as appeareth by looſing the ſorrows of death, Act. 2. 24. Whereof the not leaving of his ſoul in hell, is given as a reaſon, Act. 2. 25. but Chriſts ſoul was in Paradiſe the day that he ſuffered, as was the theeves with him, Luk. 23. 43. And Paradiſe is heaven, 2 Cor. 12. 2, 4. which a Fryer denyed, affirming by Paradiſe in Luke to be meant Hell, leſt he ſhould be forced to confeſſe, that Chriſt in his ſoule went to heaven, as his body went into the earth.

Helm] The ſtern or rudder of a ſhip, Act. 27. 40. Jam. 3. 4.

Helmet] Artificiall, being a defence for the head againſt an enemie, 1 Sam. 17. 5, 38. Spirituall, named the helmet of Salvation, Iſa. 59. 17. Eph. 6. 17. and the hope of Salvation, 1 Theſſ. 5. 8.

Helmet of Salbation] That helmet which is ſalvation, or ſalvation by Chriſt our Saviour, who is like a helmet; as a breaſtplate of righteouſneſſe, ſhield of faith, that is, righteouſneſſe, which is like a breaſtplate; faith which is as a ſhield; and the ſword of the Spirit, viz. the ſword the word of God, which the ſpirit or ſoul of man uſeth, and by which Gods Spirit is effectual. Eph. 6. 17. And take the helmet of ſalvation.

Helon] A window, or grief. The Father of Eliab, Numb. 1. 9.

Help] put for means to help, Job 31. 21. Succour, Pſal. 33. 20. & 40. 17. Safety, Ex. 18. 7. Pſal. 3. 2. Remedy, Act. 27. 17.

To help] put for, Took part with, Eſt. 9. 3. Raiſed up, Pſal. 116. 6. Bearing up, Pſal. 118. 13. Put to their hands, Iſa. 41. 6. Further, Zech. 1. 15. Act. 18. 27.

Helper] The Miniſter of the Word, who is a helper of the faith and joy of Gods people. 2 Cor. 1. 14. Helpers of your joy. Act. 8. 27. Helped them much that beleeved.

2. Deacons which were helpfull to the poor of the Primitive Church, by the juſt and wiſe diſtributing of the Church treaſure. 1 Cor. 12. 18. Helpers, Governours.

3. A wife, who is called an helper, becauſe of her aiding and furthering her husband by counſel and pains. Gen. 2. 18. I will make him an help. A wife is an helper after the fall, as a remedy of infirmity: but before and after, ſhe helpeth in generation. Secondly, in government of family. Thirdly, in prayer.

4. God, the ſoveraigne helper of his people, and Authour of help from others. Pſal. 12. 1. O Lord help, for there is not a righteous man left. Pſal. 63. 7. Becauſe thou haſt been my helper.

5. Such as aſſiſt others, either in good, 1 Chron. 12. 1, 18. or in evill, Pſal. 83. 8. Ezek. 30. 8.

6. Chriſtians furthering the Miniſtery, Rom. 16. 3.

Hemam] Their trouble; or, a tumult. The Son of Lotan, Gen. 36. 22. called alſo Homam, 1 Chr. 1. 39.

Heman] Much; or, making an uproar. A wiſe man, 1 King. 4. 31. A ſinger, the Son of Joel, 1 Chr. 6. 33. & 15. 17.

Hemath] Anger, heat, or a wall. A place, 1 Chr. 2. 55.

Hemdan] Deſire; or, heat of judgement. The Son of Diſhon, Gen. 36. 26.

Hemlock] An evill, dangerous, hurtful, and venemous hearb, inſomuch as that whoſoever taketh of it, dyeth; except he drink good old wine after it, which ſurmounteth, overcometh the poyſon, and healeth the perſon; but being mingled together, the ſtrength of the poyſon is augmented, and then it killeth out of hand. Such as is this weed, bitter and deadly: So is odious and loathſome corruption, which is compared hereunto, Hoſ. 10. 4. Amos 6. 12.

Hen] The Son of Zephaniah, Zech. 6. 14.

Hen] A well known home-bred fowle. Till its young ones be hatched, it faſteth whole dayes, and when it riſeth, ſtayeth but a little while from the neſt. It pulleth off the feathers from its breaſt, that the heat may the better paſſe into the egges. It's then fearleſſe, keeping the neſt, though much company be preſent. Its young ones being brought forth, it changeth its voyce, and clucketh. It's more carefull for their preſervation then its owne. It ſeeketh food for them, and teacheth them to pick, ſcrape, feed. It ſheltreth them under its wings, whereby not onely they are kept warm, but kept ſafe alſo; when any danger is neer, it calleth them together, and will rather endanger its owne life then they ſhould miſcarry. It's very fertile, & both whilſt alive and when dead it's profitable for the uſe of man. It's ſaid, that the bones thereof when dead conſume gold. Not onely doth it tend the Chickens, but if it hath ſit on Duck egges, it's carefull alſo of the Ducklings, as if they were her owne Chickens. Hereunto Chriſt is compared, Mat. 23. 37. Luk. 13. 34.

Hena] A troubling. A City, Iſa. 37. 13.

Henadad] Grace of the beloved, Ezr. 3. 9. The Father of Bavai, Neh. 3. 18. The Father of Binnui, Ibid. 24.

Hence] implyeth the removall of perſons or things from one place to another, Exod. 11. 1. & 33. 1. Joſh. 4. 3. Gen. 50. 25. Yea, even out of this world, Pſal. 39. 13. Alſo, this world, Joh. 18. 36. and hell, Luk. 16. 26. It noteth alſo a time coming, Act. 1. 5.

Hence-forth, Hence-forward] They point out all the time following from that preſent time, Eph. 4. 14. 2 Cor. 5. 15.

Henoch] Taught, or dedicate. The Son of Midian, 1 Chr. 1. 33.

Hepher] A digger, or delver. Of him the family of the Hepherites, Numb. 26. 32. The Father of Zelophehad, Ibid. 33. The Son of Aſhur, by his Wife Naamah, 1 Chr. 4. 6. A Mecharathite, one of David's Worthies, Ibid. 11. 36. A Countrey, 1 King. 4. 10. Joſh. 12. 17.

Heph-zibah] My pleaſure; or, delight in her. The Mother of Manaſſeh, 2 King. 21. 1. The true Church thus called, Iſa. 62. 4.

Herauld] A publiſher and ſetter forth of the Kings minde, כרוזא from כרז he proclaimed, Dan. 3. 4.

Herb] Appointed for mans meat before the fall, Gen. 1. 30. and after, Gen. 3. 18. Hereof there are divers kinds, all uſeful, Pſa. 104. 14. Præſentemque Deum quælibet herba notat. Even by the ſmalleſt, the meaneſt herb we may learn ſomewhat of God.

Herd] A flock, drove, or company, whether of Cattle, Gen. 47. 18. or of Swine in particular, Matt. 8. 30. Hereof ſome were kept in the field, 1 Sam. 11. 5. 1 Chr. 27. 29. Some in the ſtals, Hab. 3. 17. Over them Herd-men were appointed, whereof Amos was one, Amos 7. 14.

Here] pointeth out the place about which the ſpeech is, Gen. 19. 12. Num. 22. 8. Ruth 2. 8.

Hereafter] noteth the time following from that preſent time, whether ſooner or later.

Hereby] pointeth out ſomewhat by which a thing may be known, 1 Joh. 2. 3, 5. & 3. 16, 19, 24.

Herein] pointeth out ſomewhat whereunto the matter ſpoken of hath relation, Gen. 34. 22. 2 Chr. 16. 9. Joh. 15. 8.

Heres] The Sun; or, an earthen pot. A Mount, Judg. 1. 35.

Hereſh] A Carpenter. A mans name, 1 Chr. 9. 15.

Heretofore] pointeth out the time paſt, before time, former time, Exod. 4. 10. & 5. 7, 8, 14.

Hereſie] Any manner of Sect, or way of worſhipping worshipping Gods. Act. 24. 14. That way that you call heresie. Thus Christian Religion is called heresie by prophane men, Act. 5. 17. & 15. 5.

2. Some opinion in matter of faith, repugnant and contrary to the Word of God; being of some chosen out to themselves, and wilfully maintained. Gal. 5. 20. The works of the flesh be heresie. 1 Cor. 11. 19. There must be heresies. Papists erre which account such opinions for heresies as are not condemned, but rather taught in the Word, which is the onely rule of saving truth.

Note, that Heresies are compared in Scripture to Whores, because they are stored with cunning pranks, and a thousand enticements to make men ill advised to swerve from the right way, Rev. 17. 12. & 14. 3, 4. As on the contrary, simplicity of faith is called Virginity, 2 Cor. 11. 2.

3. Sects and contentions, heresies of a lower degree, 1 Cor. 11. 19. Gal. 5. 20. Some are tearmed damnable heresies, (contrary to sound doctrine, 1 Tim. 1. 10. as, the doctrine of devils, 1 Tim. 4. 1. The mystery of iniquity, 2 Thess. 2. 7. The doctrine of Balaam, and Nicolaitans, Rev. 2. 14, 15.) 2 Pet. 2. 1.

Heretick] A person wilfully and stifly maintaining false opinions against the Scriptures, after due admonition. Tit. 3. 10. A man that is an Heretick, after one or two admonitions, avoid.

There be three things required to an heretick: First, that it be an errour about some Article of Christian faith. Secondly, that it be contrary to the evidence and cleer truth of holy Scripture, soundly and generally held by the holy Catholick Church of God in the earth. That it be stoutly and obstinately maintained after conviction, and lawfull admonition.

Heritage, or inheritance] A certain portion of lands, or possessions, descending from father to childe, after the death of the father, Luk. 12. 13.

2. God himselfe, whose favour and communion is the heritage and portion of the Saints. Psal. 19. 5. The Lord is the portion of mine inheritance. Also v. 6. Psal. 119. 57. Because the Levites under the Law were maintained by the oblations offered unto God; hence it is that God is called their inheritance, Deut. 18. 20. I will be your inheritance, and your part. Deut. 10. 9.

3. The people of Israel, whom God loved and respected (as a man doth his heritage which he hath purchased) Deut. 4. 20. The Lord hath brought you out of Ægypt to be an inheritance to himself. Deut. 22. 89.

4. The Church consisting of Jews and Gentiles. Psal. 2. 8. The heathen for thine inheritance. Eph. 1. 11. 1 Pet. 5. 3.

5. The statutes and Word of God, which godly persons do account and reckon of, as their heritage and portion. Psal. 119. 11. Thy testimonies have I taken as my heritage for ever.

6. The kingdome of heaven is called an inheritance, because it is freely given unto beleevers, as unto Sons and Heirs by grace of adoption. Psal. 16. 6. I have a goodly heritage. Mat. 25. 34 Take the inheritance prepared.

7. Children. Psal. 127. 3. Children are the inheritance of the Lord.

8. The right which the seed, viz. the children of faithfull Abraham have, that God should be their God, and blesse them eternally as he blessed Abraham. Gal. 3. 18. If the inheritance be of the Law, &c. That is, the right to blessednesse by form of the Covenant, cannot be had by the works of the Law as done by us, because it cometh freely by gift, and by virtue of a promise; now merit of works and free gift are contrary, and can by no means stand together, as Rom. 1. 14. Rom. 11. 6. Rom. 4. 4. Favour and debt are diametrically repugnant, even as far at odds as may be. Works and faith which meet and agree well enough (like good friends) in a Christian conversation, can by no meanes stand together in the justification of a sinner before God; here they be irreconcileable enemies.

9. Canaan, Exod. 15. 17. 1 Sam. 26. 19. Psal. 111. 6.

10. An alotted punishment, Job 20. 29. & 27. 13.

11. Assurance of Gods goodnesse, Ps. 16. 6.

12. The right to blessednesse, Gal. 3. 18.

13. A blessing, Psal. 61. 5. & 127. 3.

14. The rejected Jews to bring them again, or the Gentiles to be called, Isa. 49. 8.

15. Christian people, 1 Pet. 5. 3.

See Inheritance.

Hermas] Mercury; or, gain. One whom Paul greeteth, Rom. 16. 4. So Hermes, Ibid.

Hermogenes] Begotten by Mercury. A man who forsook Paul, 2 Tim. 1. 15.

Hermon] Dedicated to God; or, destruction. A mountain, Deut. 3. 8. called Sirion, Ib. 9. and Sihon, Ibid. 4. 48. said to rejoice in the name of the Lord, Psal. 89. 12. Whereof this may be the meaning, that as the North and the South are created by him, so Tabor that is in the West, and Hermon towards the East, doe rejoyce in him, and acknowledge his power. Christian unity is compared unto the comfortable dew that falls upon and from the fruitfull mountain of Hermon into the fields of Bashan, Psal. 133. 3. From hence Hermonites, Psal. 42. 6.

Herod] The mount of pride. But with this Pasor findes fault. There were divers of this name.

1. Herod the Askelonite, or Herod the Great, who caused the young Children to be slain, Mat. 2. 1, 16.

2. Herod Antipas, who was Tetrarch of Galilee, Luk. 3. 1. and Son of Herod the Great; he first imprisoned, then beheaded John the Baptist, for Herodias his Brother Philip's Wife, Mat. 14. 3, 10. Who thereafter, as Josephus relateth, was much damnified by the Arabians, and with Herodias banished into Lyons in France.

3. Herod Agrippa the Son of Aristobulus, who slew James, and put Peter in prison, and died miserably, Act. 12. 1, 2, 3, 4, 23.

4. The Son of the former Herod, surnamed Agrippa the younger, before whom Paul preached, and pleaded, Act. 25. 13. & 26. 1.

Herodians] They took their name from Herod, who had his leaven of false doctrine, Mar. 8. 15. & joyned with Christs enemies to entrap him, Mat. 22, 16. Mar. 3. 16 & 12. 13. who they were is not agreed on by Interpreters.

1. Some number them among Hereticks, making their heresie to consist in two things: First, in that they took Herod the Great for the promised Messias, because in his reign he being a stranger, the scepter was departed from Judah, which was the promised time of the Messiah his coming. Secondly, they honoured him with superstitious solemnities annually performed upon his birth-day.

2. Others, that they were certain flatterers in Herod's Court, varying and changing many points of their Religion with Herod their King, (which consisted in part of Judaisme, and partly of Paganisme, that being in their opinion the leaven of Herod, Mar. 8. 15.)

3. Others, that they were his Courtiers, and houshold servants.

4. But saith Goodwyn in his Moses and Aaron, p. 74. I incline to St. Hierom, whose opinion is, that the Herodians were those who stood stifly for tribute to be paid to Cæsar, and that in the behalf of Herod; whom it concerned to further Cæsars tribute, not onely in way of thankfulnesse (having at first received his Crown from him) but in way of policy, to prevent a possible deposing or disceptring; for it was in Cæsar's power to take away the Crown again when he pleased.

Herodias] The daughter of Aristobulus, whom Herod the Tetrarch married, being his Brothers Wife, Mat. 14. 3, 4. Mar. 6. 17, 18.

Herodion] Juno her Song: of Ἥρα Juno, & ᾠδὴ Song. Paul's Kinsman, Rom. 16. 11.

Heron] Reckoned among the uncleane fowles which were not to be eaten, Lev. 11. 19. Deut. 14. 18. Though it buildeth in woods, yet it daily haunteth the waters, where it preyeth on fish (whom the smell of its feet, draweth within its reach) especially Eels. It flyeth very high, whereby it both foretelleth and avoydeth the tempest. It's so lustfull, that out of an immoderate desire of copulation, blood springeth from its eyes. It's very ravenous, and hath an harsh voyce, like an Asse. When the Hawk persueth it, and is ready to seise on it, it dungeth thereon, whereby the wings of the Hawke putrefie; or letteth fall a stinking fish, after which while the Hawke looketh, the Heron escapeth.

Heseb] One of Solomon's Officers, 1 King. 4. 10.

Heshbon] A number, or thought. A City, Numb. 21. 26. Or, Countrey, Josh. 13. 17.

Heshmon] A hasty message. A City, Josh. 15. 27.

Heth] Fear, or astonied. The Son of Canaan, Gen. 10. 15. Of whom the Hittites, Gen. 23. 3.

Hethlon] A house to be feared. A place, Ezek. 48. 1.

To hew] put for, To cut, Deut. 12. 3. Square, Exod. 20. 25. To make and frame, Prov. 9. 1. Jer. 2. 13. Came from, or brought out of, Isa. 51. 1. Also for, Threatning judgements, Hos. 6. 5. Judgement executed, Mat. 3. 10.

Hezeki] The Son of Elpaal, 1 Chron. 8. 17, 18.

Hezekiah, or Ezekias] The Lords gentleness. A godly King of Judah, 2 King. 16. 20. The Son of Neariah, 1 Chr. 3. 23. See Ezr. 2. 16.

Hezion] King of Syria, 1 King. 15. 18.

Hezir] A hog; or, converted. To him the seventeenth lot, 1 Chron. 24. 15. One that sealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 20.

Hezrai] An entry; or hay. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 35.

Hezro] The same with the former, 1 Chr. 11. 37.

Hezron] The arrow of joy; or, division of a Song. The Son of Reuben. Gen. 49. 9. Of whom the Hezronites, Numb. 26. 6. The Son of Pharez, Ruth 4. 18. The name of a place, Josh. 15. 3.

Hiddai]

H I.

Hiddai] A praiſe; or, a cry. One of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 30.

Hiddekel] A ſharp voice. A river, Gen. 2. 14. Dan. 10. 4. which is held to be Tigris.

Hidden man] The inward man, or new man, ſo much in a man as is regenerate by grace, which is called hidden, for that the world knoweth not the children of God. Alſo, becauſe the children of God are Chriſtians in ſecret, in the heart; and it is ſet as contrary to outward. 1 Pet. 3. 4. Let the hidden man of the heart. Rom. 7. 21. Rom. 2. 29.

Hidden ones] The godly, of whom the world taketh ſmall notice. Whom the Lord covereth, and who are hidden in the day of his wrath, Pſal. 83. 3.

Hidden treaſure] The Goſpel or doctrine of grace, which is hid from the underſtanding of naturall men, Matt. 13. 44. The Kingdome of God is a treaſure hid in the field. Rev. 2. 7. Hidden Manna. 1 Cor. 2. 7. Hidden wiſdome.

Note. There is a double hiding of the Goſpel; one is wicked, when the knowledge and prayſes of Chriſt be ſmothered in a mans owne breaſt, and not uttered to edifying of others; as David ſaith, he will not hide it, Pſal. 40. 10. and as the evill ſervant hid his Talent, Matt. 25. 18. There is a lawfull hiding, when it is ſtored in the memory (as a treaſure in a cheſt) or in a heart, and there kept ſafe for fear of loſing, or being ſpoyled of it by Satan and evill luſts; and alſo for future uſe. Thus David endevoured to hide it in his heart, Pſal. 119. 11. Thus alſo Mary and the Shepheards, Luk. 2. And all good hearers keep the Goſpel in the midſt of their hearts (the ſafeſt place) as they are commanded, Prov. 4. 21.

To hide] To conceal and keep any thing from ſight and knowledge of others, that it may be ſecret and ſafe, 1 Sam. 20. 2.

2. To keep our ſins in ſilence, either not at all confeſſed, or not confeſſed unfainedly. Prov. 28. 13. He that hideth his ſins ſhall not proſper. Job 3. 33. Pſal. 32. 3, 4. Thus men hide their ſins.

3. To cover ſin by free forgiveneſſe. Pſal. 51. 9. Pſal. 32. 1. Hide thy face from my ſins. Thus God hideth ſin.

4. To protect and keep ſafe. Pſal. 27. 5. In time of my troubles he hath hid me. Thus God hideth us, as a Hen her young under her feathers.

5. To put ones ſelfe under the promiſes and protection of God, by a true faith, repenting him of his ſins. Prov. 27. 12. A wiſe man ſeeth the plague coming, and hideth himſelfe. Prov. 22. 3. Thus the godly hide themſelves under the wings of Gods providence.

6. To ſuppreſſe the word, or to ſtore it up, Pſal. 40. 10.

7. It ſignifieth to turn away, Gen. 3. 8. This hiding was in conſcience of his owne infirmity, and of Gods Majeſty, [which cauſed Moſes to tremble, Act. 7. 32. Elias to cover his face, 1 King. 19. 13. Iſa. 6. 2.

8. Not to make known, Gen. 19. 17.

9. Shew favour, Deut. 31. 17.

10. To cover, Job 14. 13. Pſal. 51. 9.

11. To put ones ſelfe under the protection of God, Prov. 27. 12.

12. To keep out of ſight, 2 Chr. 18. 24.

Holineſſe

Holineſſe to the Lord, graven upon the Mitre, which was to be on Aaron's forehead, Exod. 28. 36, 37, 38. imported, that the High-prieſt (who was a type of Chriſt) and all that belonged to him, were conſecrate to God. Hereunto alluſion is made, Zech. 14. 20, 21. where is ſignified, that the things and actions of the Gentiles which were to be converted unto God, were to be conſecrated unto him.

There are four ſorts of holineſſe.

1. Independent and unlimited, viz. the holineſſe of God.

2. Independent and limited, viz. the holineſſe of Chriſt; for the holineſſe of his Divine nature is independent, and the holineſſe of his Humane nature is limited, for it is finite.

3. Dependent and unlimited, and ſuch is the holineſſe of the Scriptures: Dependent it is, for it is of God; unlimited it is, for it entreats of all kindes of holineſſe whatſoever.

4. Dependent and limited, and ſuch is the holineſſe in Man and Angels. Byfield on 1 Pet. 1. 15.

Hereunto may be added, that there's an holineſſe by way of relation, as of Time, Places, Leviticall Ordinances, &c.

Beauty of his holineſſe] The holy Temple of God, and the aſſembly of the Saints therein, Pſal. 29. 2.

Habitation of his holineſſe] The Land of Canaan, which the moſt holy God promiſed to his holy people, by whoſe reſidence, but chiefly by the ſpeciall providence of God there, it was ſanctified. Exod. 15. 11. Thou wilt bring them into the habitation of holineſſe.

Her hire ſhall be holineſs to the Lord] That the people of Tyrus, being by the Goſpel converted to Chriſt, ſhall conſecrate all her riches (as the hire and gain of her Merchandiſe, which in that City was exceeding copious and great) unto the worſhip of Chriſt, and comfort of his members, by works of Charity, Iſa. 23. 18. See this in part fulfilled in Act. 21. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, &c.

Holy] That which is ſevered from earth and earthlineſſe.

2. That which is pure, clean, and unpolluted, ſeparate from ſin and corruption. Such are the godly here unperfectly, and ſuch they ſhall be in heaven moſt perfectly. 1 Pet. 1. 16. Be ye holy. Eph. 1. 4. That we ſhould be holy without blame.

3. One who is infinitely pure and righteous, ſo is God onely. Lev. 11. 44. For I am holy. & 19. 2.

4. One who is conſecrated or ſet apart of God, to be the Meſſiah and Mediatour for mankinde, having for that purpoſe all the bounty of his Father poured on him. Pſal. 16. 10. Thou wilt not ſuffer thy holy one to ſee corruption. Luk. 4. 34. I know who thou art, even the holy one of God. Such an one is Chriſt onely, who being both properly God and (as man) conceived of the holy Ghoſt, without ſinne, ordained to be the Sacrifice for ſin, and to ſanctifie and make all his people holy. In theſe reſpects, he is often worthily in Scripture called that holy one. Act. 3. 14. Ye have denyed that holy one. 1 Joh. 2. 20. Alſo, he is termed the holy of holyeſt, or moſt holy. Dan. 9. 24. And to anoint the moſt holy.

5. One who is not onely moſt holy in himſelfe, but doth immediately by his virtue and working, renew and make holy others, continually ſtirring them up unto holy duties. Thus is the Spirit, the third perſon in the Trinity, called Holy. Mat. 28. 19. And the holy Ghoſt. Eph. 4. 30. Grieve not the holy Spirit of God. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Unto ſanctification of the Spirit.

9. The whole Church of Chriſt, his myſticall body, even all his choſen and peculiar people; who becauſe they have in the midſt of them God, his Word, and Sacraments, to ſanctifie them, and Chriſt his holineſſe imputed to them, and the Spirit of Chriſt within them to purifie them, and doe endevour to lead a holy life: in theſe regards it is called the holy Church, and holy people. 1 Cor. 1. 2. Unto the Church of God, ſanctified by Chriſt, Saints by calling. Deut. 14. 24. Thou art an holy people to the Lord.

7. Things and perſons which are ſet apart by Gods Ordinance to holy uſes and offices. Thus Jeruſalem, and the Temple, and the Prieſts, and the Altar, and the Sacrifices, and the Shew-bread, and the Fire, and Incenſe, Veſſels, Garments, Tithes, and whatſoever was dedicated as ſacred unto God, was called Holy, 1 Sam. 24. 4. Hag. 1. 12. Lev. 21. 6, 12. Matt. 24. 15. Set in the holy place.

8. A perſon ſeparate from Jews and Pagans by the grace of Gods Covenant, 1 Cor. 7. 14. Ezr. 9. 2.

This Epithet Holy is applyed,

1. To God, Joſh. 24. 19. 1 Sam. 6. 20. Pſal. 99. 9. Iſa. 5. 16. who is holy,

1. By nature, being voyd of all corruption or change.

2. By adminiſtration, and ſo his holineſſe is his juſtice, in diſtributing rewards to the good, and punishments to the evill.

to

3. By conception, for the Lord doth conceive the Idea or pattern of the holinesse of all the reasonable creatures. He conceiveth first the holinesse that is fit for the creature, and then works it in them. Byfield 1 Pet. 1. 15.

I say, to God 1. the Father, Joh. 17. 11.

2. The Son, called, The holy one, Act. 3. 14. The holy one of God, Mar. 1. 24. Gods holy childe, Act. 4. 27, 30. He as God is essentially holy, and as Man altogether free from sin, Luk. 1. 35. And such an High-priest became us, Heb. 7. 26.

3. The holy Ghost, Mat. 28. 19. Act. 5. 3. And as God is holy, so his Arm, Psal. 98. 1. Name, Psal. 103. 1. Covenant, Luk. 1. 72. Promise, Psal. 105. 42. Commandements and Law, 2 Pet. 2. 21. Rom. 7. 12. Word, 2 Tim. 3. 15. Works, Psal. 145. 17. House, 2 Chr. 30. 27. Temple, 1 Cor. 3. 17. are said to be holy.

II. To the Angels, Matt. 25. 31. tearmed Saints, Deut. 33. 2. The Saints of God, Job 15. 15. The Saints of Christ, 1 Thess. 3. 13. compared with 2 Thess. 1. 7. Ten thousand of his Saints, Jude 14.

III. To Men, namely, them whom God embraceth with his favour and free love, Psal. 16. 3. compared with Act. 2. 27. Them whom God hath peculiarly sanctified and ordained for the undertaking of some great work or office, as the Priests and Levites, Exod. 22. 37. Lev. 21. 6, 7. and specially Aaron, and so the High-priest, Num. 16. 5, 7. Psal. 106. 16. On whose Mitre was graven, Holinesse to the Lord, Exod. 28. 36. The Prophets and Apostles, 2 King. 4. 9. Luk. 1. 70. Eph. 3. 5. 2 Pet. 1. 21. The Martyrs, Rev. 17. 6. & 18. 24. Them that are in Covenent with God, Deut. 33. 3. 1 Cor. 7. 14. Rom. 11. 16. Them whom God hath chosen unto life everlasting, Rev. 11. 18. & 20. 6. 2 Thess. 1. 10. Them that are members of the Church militant, the faithfull living here on earth, Prov. 9. 10. Isa. 4. 3. Col. 1. 12. Heb. 3. 1. 1 Pet. 3. 5. Them who are members of the Church triumphant, the faithfull who are dead, Mat. 27. 52. Rev. 19. 8. All the faithfull who lived from the beginning of the world, Eph. 3. 18.

They are holy 1. by separation, as who are separated of God from the fellowship of the wicked and profane, Exod. 23. 31. Lev. Lev. 11. 44. Deut. 7. 6. Who are therefore tearmed, The Saints of the Lord, Psal. 34. 9. Col. 1. 26. The Saints of Christ, Act. 9. 13. Saints in Christ Jesus, Phil. 4. 21. An holy nation, 1 Pet. 2. 9. An holy people unto the Lord, Deut. 14. 21. The holy people, Isa. 62. 12. The people of his holinesse, Isa. 63. 18. The Saints of the most High, Dan. 7. 27. The holy seed, Ezr. 9. 2. An holy priesthood, 1 Pet. 2. 5. An holy Temple, 1 Cor. 3. 17. City, Rev. 11. 2.

2. By imputation of the holinesse of Christ, 1 Cor. 1. 30.

3. By inchoation of holinesse here in this life, to be perfected in the life to come, 1 Cor. 7. 34. 2 Thess. 2. 10. 1 Pet. 1. 15, 16. Rev. 22. 11. Eph. 1. 4. & 5. 27. Col. 1. 22.

IV. To Persons and Beasts consecrate to God, as, the first born male, Luk. 2. 13. The Nazarite, Numb. 6. 8. The Priest, &c.

So to Dayes, Places, Ordinances, Vessels, &c.

So to Faith, Jude 23. Conversation, 2 Pet. 3. 11. Chaste kisse, Rom. 16. 16.

To be holy] To keep himselfe from eating or touching ought which is ceremonially unclean, Lev. 11. 44.

Children holy] 1 Cor. 7. 14.

1. Civilly, by means of being born in matrimony, i. e. legitimate.

2. Pure, truely or in common estimation; and that by their adherence to them that are holy. 1. And immediately, their parents; and this seemeth the right sense of this text. 2. Mediately, the whole Church, with which holy company to keep company is a locall or externall holinesse: So Peter Martyr.

3. Effectually and truly,

1. By godly education under one or other, or both their parents.

2. By heavenly inspiration from God upon them, and that by virtue of Gods general Covenant of grace made to the Church or godly, and the desendants or children thereof.

4. Or by possibility of holinesse through Gods grace promised, and by promise of that grace.

Holy ground] A place sanctified by the presence and apparition of God (for the time of his presence) who makes heaven, earth, and places where his glory is revealed, to be as holy and reverently respected, Exod 3.

Holy, holy, holy] One most holy by far, or exceeding infinitely in holinesse, all holy things and persons; the redoubling or twice repeating of the adjective Holy, noteth the higheſt degree of holinesse, Isa. 6. 3. Such an ingemination, see Ezek. 21. 32.

By the triplication of Holy, the three persons persons of the Trinity by some be noted not unfitly, though not so firmly as to convince an Antitrinitarian.

Holy of holies, or holyest of all] Some thing, person, or place which was more holy then others, Heb. 9. 13. Which is called the holyest of all. It was in the Sanctuary, whither the High-priest entred once a yeare, as a figure and type of heaven, as in Heb. 9. 2,3.

Holy of holies, or holinesse of holinesse] Most holy, not onely sanctified it self, but sanctifying the gifts which were put upon it, Exod. 29. 37. And so this Altar was greater then the Sacrifices, Mat. 23.19. Herein it was a figure of Christ the Holy of holies, Dan. 9. 24. Heb. 13. 10, 15. Hee sanctified himself for the Church.

Holy one of Israel] God, or Jehovah, who because he is in himselfe most pure, and declared his purity and wrath against the sins of Israel, by word, miracles, punishment; also, for that he was the sanctifier of that whole people outwardly to be the people of God, and of his elect amongst them by inward sanctity, thence is he called the holy one of Israel, Isa. 1.4.

Holy place] The Land or Countrey of Judea, called the holy Land, and an holy Nation in comparison of other Nations and Lands; as Jerusalem is called the holy City, being more holy then the Countrey of Palestine, Matt. 4. 5. and the Sanctuary is called holy, because it was more holy then the City, &c. Mat. 24. 15. When ye shall see the abomination of desolation, (that is, the Army of the Romans) set in the holy place. Luk. 21. 20.

2. Any place consecrated, or otherwise, where God is served, and either sheweth or promiseth his presence, Exod. 3. 5.

3. Heaven it selfe, or the place of glory for God himselfe, his Angels and Saints, Exod. 25. 40. Wisd. 9. 8. Heb. 8. 5. & 9. 24. 1 King. 9. 30, 39.

4. The Court, Exod. 29. 30. Lev. 10. 13.

5. The middle place between the Court and the Oracle, Exod. 16. 33.

6. The most holy, Lev. 16. 2.

7. The Temple, Act. 6. 13.

Homan, or Heman] Their trouble, or a tumult. The Son of Lotan, 1 Chr. 1. 29.

Home] Noteth the place of ones residence, house, countrey, &c. Gen. 43. 16, 26. Josh. 2. 18. Ruth 1. 21. Also, this world, 2 Cor. 5. 6. And one dead or departed out of this world, Eccl. 12. 5.

Homer] is so called from חמר, Chamor, an Asse; because this measure contained so much grain or corn as an Asse could well bear. It contained ten Ephahs, Ezek. 45. 11. that is, forty five Gallons, or five Bushels and five Gallons. Goodwyn's Moses & Aaron, p. 521.

Honest] Venerable, Phil. 4. 8. marg. A seemly, grave, modest, and gracious carriage, ἐυσχήμων, good, fair, καλὸς, 1 Pet. 2. 12. And such is our conversation, when accompanyed with harmlesse discretion, gentlenesse, sobriety, fidelity, profitableness. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 12.

Honesty] All kinde of duties which men are mutually to practise one towards another, without doing any uncomely or wicked thing. 1 Tim. 2. 3. In all godlinesse and honesty.

2. Carefull covering, or comely garments. 1 Cor. 12. 23. Put wee more honesty on.

Honestly] Decently, comely, as is beseeming the children of the day, and more particularly it comprehendeth those three adverbs in Tit. 2.12. That we should live soberly, righteously, and godlily. Rom. 13. 13. Let us walk honestly, as in the day.

Honour] is a testification or witnesse of our good opinion which we conceive of the virtue or dignity, gifts or authority of others, being declared and shewed forth by externall signs: these signs be sundry & many, as praise, verses, funeral orations and duties, veiling of the bonnet, bowing of the body, relief and maintenance where it is due and needfull, giving the upper hand, rising to one, and such like; which yet must not be given either out of time, or place, or measure, but according to the proportion of graces and worthinesse. To deny due and competent honour to superiours, or equals, or inferiours, (for who is without some gifts and dignity?) is not onely incivility, but injustice. Men may lawfully seek honour, and stand upon their honour, so it be without ambition, and contention, desiring onely so much honour, and from whom, and when it should, and as it is due for order and comelinesse sake.

It's put for, 1. All that respect which we owe to our Governours of all sorts, which more particularly doth consist in reverence, love, obedience and thankfulnesse, as in the fifth Commmandement. 1 Pet. 2.17. Honour the King. Exod. 20. 12. Honour thy Father and Mother.

2. Reverence to Magistrates. Rom. 13. 7. Honour to whom honour, &c.

3. Obedience to Parents, Eph. 6. 1, 2.

4. Honest

4. Honeſt care and regard of others which are our inferiours. 1 Pet. 3. 6. Give honour to your wives. This is done by bearing with their weakneſſe, and providing things meet for them, according to our degree and eſtate.

5. Help and aid, which (by way of thankfulneſſe) we do perform to our Parents or others. Mat. 15. 6. Though he honour not father and mother. 1 Tim. 5. 3, 17.

6. Eſtimation. 1 Cor. 12. 26. If one member be had in honour. It alſo ſignifies riches, and wealth, which beget eſtimation and honour, by a Metonymie. Gen. 31. 1. All his honour.

7. Comelineſſe, beauty, and dignity. 1 Cor. 12. 24. And hath given more honour to that part that lacked. A more comely and ſeemly covering.

8. Inward reverence, and all outward private duties of kindneſſe and love. Rom. 12. 10. In giving honour goe one before another. Act. 28. 10. 1 Pet. 2. 17. Honour all men.

9. An earneſt care to preſerve from ſinful uncleanneſſe, as fornication, drunkenneſſe, gluttony, riot, and ſuch like. 1 Theſſ. 4. 4. How to keep his veſſel in honour.

10. Some publick function or calling, either in Church and Common-wealth, given to ſuch men as for their virtue deſerved to be hononred and preferred. Heb. 4. 5. No man takes this honour unto himſelf but he that is called. Thus we may well underſtand that place of 2 Pet. 1. 17. For he received of God the Father honour; that is, an honorable function, with ample and honorable gifts to be the reconciler of mankinde, Joh. 8. 54.

11. Plentifull praiſes which we yeeld to God, when we confeſſe and acknowledge his divine properties, and that of him cometh all good things, and that he alone is to be called upon and worſhipped. Rev. 4. 13. Praiſe and honour, glory and power be unto him that ſitteth upon the Throne. And in the Pſalmes very often: As alſo elſewhere in Scripture.

12. The glorious and bleſſed eſtate of the Saints in heaven, or that exceeding great praiſe which they ſhall there have with God. Rom. 2. 10. Unto every one that doth good ſhall be glory and honour.

13. A name and prayſe, Exod. 14. 17.

14. A place of dignity, Numb. 22. 37. Pſal. 49. 20.

15. Renown, or ſoul, Pſal. 7. 5.

16. Preferment, or advancement, Prov. 15. 33. & 26. 1.

17. Glory and prayſe, Joh. 5. 41. 44.

18. Great account, Col. 3. 23.

19. That which is contrary to filthy debaſement, 1 Theſſ. 4. 4.

20. Honourable uſe, 2 Tim. 2. 21.

21. Kinde favours and courteſies, Act. 28. 10.

22. Every kinde of duty towards our neighbour, 1 Pet. 2. 17.

23. An honourable reward or gift in token of thankfulneſſe, Judg. 13. 17. Act. 28. 10.

24. Praiſe and commendation, 2 Pet. 1. 17. Prov. 4. 8. & 13. 18. & 27. 18.

25. Earthly pomp and magnificence, Rev. 21. 24, 26.

To honour] put for, To celebrate ones funerall, 2 Chr. 32. 33. Shew high reſpect unto, Eſt. 6. 6. Countenance on, 1 Sam. 17. 30. Lev. 19. 15. Advance, Prov. 26. 8. Give reverend reſpect to, Lev. 19. 32.

We muſt honour God, 1 Sam. 2. 30. Pro. 3. 9. Mal. 1. 6. Rev. 4. 9. Chriſt, Joh. 5. 23. Rev. 5. 12, 13. Them that fear God, Pſal. 15. 4. Magiſtrates, 1 Pet. 2. 17. All men, Ibid. Gods Miniſters, Phil. 2. 29. marg. 1 Tim. 5. 17. Parents, Exod. 20. 12. Eph. 6. 2. Maſters, Mal. 1. 6. 1 Tim. 6. 1. Husbands, Eſt. 1. 20. Them that are old, Lev. 19. 32. Our deceaſed friends, 2 Sam. 10. 3. Such as are deſerving, 2 Chro. 32. 33. Widows that are widows indeed, 1 Tim. 5. 3. Muſt not honour, either falſe gods, Dan. 11. 38. our ſelves, Heb. 5. 4. nor others, for by-reſpects, Numb. 22. 17.

To honour another man] To countenance one by preſence and keeping company, 1 Sam. 15. 30.

To crown Chriſt with honour] To advance Chriſt to the office of King and Prieſt, fulfilling him with moſt excellent gifts, raiſing him from the dead, making all things ſubject unto him, having lifted him up to ſit at his right hand in the higheſt heavens. Heb. 2. 7. Thou crowneſt him with glory and honour.

To honour Chriſt] To beleeve in him, and confeſſe him to be the Meſſiah. Joh. 5. 23. All men ſhould honour the Son as they honour the Father.

To honour the Father] By words and works to praiſe and magnifie God his Father. Thus Chriſt honoured his Father, by Doctrine, Miracle, Praiſes, Prayer, and godly life. Joh. 8. 49. But I honour my Father: How God honoureth his Son, ſee before.

In giving honour to goe before others] To offer honour and reverent reſpect before it be deſired and looked for, and by ſuch example example of modesty to provoke others to doe the like. Rom. 12. 11. In giving honour go one before another.

To honor God] Truly from the heart, to worship, fear, and love him, and above all things to trust in him. 1 Sam. 2. 3. I will honour him which honoureth me.

To honour with the lips] Outwardly with the mouth and gesture, without true faith and love to worship God. Mat. 15. 8. Ye honour me with the lips.

To honour man before God] To bear with the wickednesse of men to the reproach and dishonour of God. 1 Sam. 2. 29. And honourest thy children above me.

To honour us] To poure his benefits upon us, and to blesse us with favour before God and men. 1 Sam. 2. 30. I will honour him.

Honourable] Spoken 1. of Persons, as of Men, Neh. 3. 10. Isa. 5. 13. Women, Psal. 45. 9. Act. 13. 50. The Prophet, 1 Sam. 6. 9. Great mens Sons, Gen. 34. 19. Princes, 1 Sam. 22. 14. Singular worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 19, 23. A Martiall Commander, 2 King. 5. 1. Merchants and Traffiquers, Isa. 23. 8.

2. Of Things, as Gods works, Psal. 111. 4. Law, Isa. 42. 21. Sabbath, Isa. 58. 13. Marriage, Heb. 13. 4.

Hony] Properly taken, was sold as a merchandise with other things, Ezek. 27. 17. and used for food, 1 Sam. 14. 29. Matt. 3. 4. Luk. 24. 42. And for offerings both common, Gen. 43. 11. 1 King. 14. 3. and sacred, Lev. 2. 12. Wherewith wafers were made, Ex. 16. 13.

Figuratively, it's put for sweet fruit, Deut. 32. 13. Any thing dainty and sweet, Prov. 25. 16. Comfortable and sweet words of grace, Cant. 4. 11. The fruit and grace of the Word, Cant. 5. 1. Which in sweetnesse exceedeth the honey, Psal. 119. 103. Psal. 19. 10. Wisdome, Prov. 24. 13.

Hony, and hony-combe] Not onely the most fine and delicate hony, but all things which be delightful and pleasant to the taste: And lastly, the pleasant objects of all the other senses, by a Synecdoche, Psal. 19. 10, 11. Prov. 27. 7. Because nothing is generally so precious and pleasant, as gold and honey. Thence it is, that comparisons be taken from these (rather then other things which be of more price and delight then they) to expresse the very great worth and sweetnesse of the Word of God, Psal. 119. 103, 127.

Hoods] The attire wherewith womens heads were covered, Isa. 3. 23.

Hoof] Spoken of horses, Judg. 5. 22. of a bullock, Psal. 69. 31. or other beast, Deut. 14. 6. By chewing the cud, and parting the hoof (both which are in the bullock) the clean beast was discerned from the unclean, Deut. 14. 6, 7, 8. Lev. 11. 3, &c.

There shall not an hoof be left behinde, Exod. 10. 26. that is, not any of the Cattle belonging to the Israelites shall be left in Ægypt.

I will make thy hoofs brasse, Mic. 4. 13. that is, give thee power and strength to vanquish thine enemies.

Hook] put for that whereon a thing is hanged or fastened to, Exod. 38. 19, 28. A fishing hook, Mat. 17. 27. An hook to prune with, Isa. 2. 4. & 18. 5. An instrument of peace and profit, Mic. 4. 3. Gods instruments of displeasure, Isa. 18. 5. Gods restraining power and means, Isa. 37. 29. Ezek. 38. 4.

Hope] (to wit Christian) is a certain and undoubted expectation or looking for of all promised good things which be to come, but namely of heavenly blessednesse, being freely given us of God, and grounded upon his infinite mercies, and Christ his merits alone.

Note, hope in common use of speech, signifieth, a likelyhood of things to come; but in Scripture, and in things of salvation, it noteth an undoubted certainty.

Definition of Hope.

1. The genus is an act, and that act, expectation or thought.
2. The form, or quality, sure, or certain.
3. The subject, the godly.
4. The object, a thing. 1 Good. 2 Great. 3 Future. 4 Hard. 5 Yet possible. 6 Promised. 7 Proper to us.

Faith considereth things as true; Hope as hard yet possible, and proper to us; Charity as good.

Faith respecteth the word, or Verbum rei: Hope Rem verbi.

It's put for 1. an assured expectation of all promised good things of this life; especially, of heavenly glory. 1 Cor. 15. 19. If in this life onely we have hope in Christ, &c. Rom. 5. 2. We rejoyce under the hope of the glory of God. Christians build their hope upon the alone mercies of God in Christ; Papists upon Gods grace and their own merits.

2. The good thing which is hoped for, Col. 1. 4, 5. Tit. 2. 13. Looking for the blessed hope. Rom. 8. 24. Hope that is seen is no hope. And in all places where it is written. The hope of the wicked shall perish. A Metonymie. See Gal. 4. 5. & 5. 5. Eph. 1. 18.

3. Faith.

3. Faith. 1 Pet. 3. 15. To them which aske a reaſon of the hope.

4. Whole Religion. Eph. 1. 18. That ye may know what is the hope of your vocation. Pſal. 39. 7.

5. Chriſt Jeſus the Meſſiah, who is called The hope of Iſrael, in reſpect of the Fathers, which looked for his promiſed coming, Act. 26. 6. & 28. 20. For the hope of Iſraels ſake I am bound with this Chain: And he is the matter and ground of our hope, 1 Tim. 1. v. 1.

6. God himſelf. Pſal. 142. 5. Thou art my hope and my portion; that is, my God in whom I hope.

7. Some mighty King or people: Iſa. 20. 5. They ſhall be aſhamed of Æthiopia their hope, or their expectation.

8. The fruit of our hope, 1 Cor. 15. 19.

9. The matter or ground of hope, Prov. 19. 18. Lam. 3. 29. Hoſ. 2. 15.

10. A certain perſwaſion, 2 Cor. 1. 7. & 3. 12. Confidence, or truſt, Job 31. 24. 2 Cor. 5. 11. & 10. 15. & 13. 6. There's an hope that periſheth, Job 8. 13. And there's a lively hope, 1 Pet. 1. 3.

To abound in hope] Both to hope for all things needfull for body and ſoul, and that in a great degree of hope, with much and large expectation; alſo, with certainty of hope to enjoy life eternall in the end. Rom. 15. 13. Fill ye with all joy and peace, that ye may abound.

The hope of God] That God which worketh hope by his Spirit, and nouriſheth hope by his promiſes, and doth fulfil it by offering and giving the good things promiſed. Rom. 15. 13. Now the God of hope fill you with all joy.

He is called the God of hope both objective, becauſe he is the onely object of our hope, 1 Tim. 6. 17. and effective, becauſe God only is the worker and giver of hope to his children, 1 Pet. 1. 4.

To have hope in this life] To place the fruit of our hope in this preſent world, ſo as our faith and hope ſhall have no further reſpect, nor be ſtretched beyond the bounds of this bodily life. 1 Cor. 15. 19. If in this life onely we hope in Chriſt.

Hoping for nothing again] Either not deſpairing of having their owne which they lend to a poor man, and therefore forbearing to gratifie him; or lending out of charity, with meer affection to his brothers profit, which borroweth, without minding or expecting his owne, in caſe he be unable to repay: or, not to look for more then is lent, but being content with the principall out of courtene. Luk. 6. 35. And lend hoping for nothing. Which ſenſe ſoever we follow, it condemneth uſury, and commends to Chriſtians free lending, as a work of mercy.

In hope, above hope] In hope of God, and above the hope of man. In deſperate things Gods children hope well. Rom. 4. 18. Which Abraham above hope beleeved under hope. Above hope of man, and under the hope of God; who can raiſe up the dead, and call things which are not as if they were.

Lively hope] Either the good things hoped for; which are durable and ever-living, or that unmoveable and certain expectation of Gods promiſes. 1 Pet. 1. 3. Which hath begot us to a lively hope.

To be ſaved by hope] Certainly to look for ſalvation promiſed, as if we now enjoyed it, and by hope to poſſeſſe it. Rom. 8. 24. We are ſaved by hope. The Apoſtle here meaneth, that our ſalvation is not yet compleat, and is not that we ſhall have in the heavens: hope put for that which is hoped for, even perfect ſalvation.

Hophni] A fiſt, or little fiſt. One of the Sons of Eli, 1 Sam. 1. 3. & 2. 34. & 4. 4, 11, 17.

2. To encreaſe the power and dignity of his people, Pſal. 75. 10. Pſal. 148. 14. 1 Sam. 2. 1.

Ten horns] Ten Kings of Syria, called Seleucidæ. Dan. 7. 24. Ten horns are ten Kings: from the beginning of the Kingdome and reign of the Seleuci Kings of Syria, there are reckoned juſt ten Kings, 1 Seleucus Nicanor, 2 Seleucus Soter, 3 Antiochus Theos, 4 Seleucus Calinicus, 5 Ptolemeus Euergetes, 6 Seleucus Ceraunius, 7 Antiochus Magnus, 8 Ptolemeus Philopater, 9 Seleucus Philopater, 10 Antiochus Epiphanes. A moſt glorious name of a moſt impure infamous man, who exceeded all the reſt in beaſtlineſſe and cruelty. Under whom (more then all the reſt) the Saints of the high One, that is, the Church of the Jews was ſoreſt oppreſſed, being torn and butchered with their iron teeth, and nails of braſſe, Dan. 7. 19. See the hiſtory of Maccabees. Dan. 7. 22. Full of blood and blaſphemies. Dan. 7. 25.

Hornet] This ſmall creature the Lord uſed as an inſtrument wherewith to plague the enemies of his people, Exod. 23. 28. Deut. 27. 20. Joſh. 24. 12. They live as the Waſps, have a King or Captain, and peſtilent ſtings as the Bees, wherewith the 27th. ſtinging, killeth man or beaſt. They make hollow places in the earth for their neſt, which as they increaſe in number, they inlarge. In their holes ſomewhat like honey is found, but ſcarce as a drop. Not providing food for themſelves in the Summer, they faſt or die in the Winter. By them (upon the prayers of a godly Biſhop) a Chriſtian City beſieged by Sapores King of Perſia, was delivered; for the Elephants and beaſts being ſtung therewith, waxed unruly, and ſo the whole Army fled. What ever little bird or beaſt they kill (as one of them ſtung a Sparrow to death) they bring home a part thereof for their fellows and young ones. They keep watch about Bee-hives, and getting upon their backs make uſe of them as a chariot, whereon they ride, and having deprived them of all their food, cruelly kill them. In the Indies they are very troubleſome, being both of a devouring and defiling nature. To them the Gray or Brock is a deadly enemy, entring into their holes, and deſtroying both their brood and neſts.

Hornaim] Angers, or ragings. A City of the Moabites, Iſa. 15. 5.

Hornite] Anger. Sanballat ſo entituled, Neh. 2. 10.

Horrible] Burning, Pſal. 11. 6. marg. Filthy, Jer. 23. 14. marg. Of noyſe, Pſal. 40. 2. marg.

It's ſpoken 1. of falſe Prophets, wicked Prieſts, and fooliſh people affected to them, Jer. 5. 30. & 23. 14.

2. Of people forſaking God and fallen to Idolatry, Jer. 18. 13, 14, 15.

3. Of ſpiritual whoredome in Iſrael, Hoſ. 6. 10.

4. Of a tempeſt upon the wicked, Pſal. 11. 6.

5. Of a pit, Pſal. 40. 2.

Horrour] A quivering, ſhaking, or quaking through amazement or fear, befalling upon a mans very troubled condition at the preſent, Pſal. 55. 5. Ezek. 7. 18. When evil to come is foretold, Gen. 15. 12. and upon the deſperate ſinning of others, Pſalm 119. 53.

Horſe] A well known beaſt, uſefull for war, journey, carriage, and to draw chariots, &c. The more couragious it is, the deeper it putteth its noſtrils in the water whileſt it drinketh. Though whileſt young it's very untractable, yet afterward being broke, it proveth of ſingular uſe. As it's of a great body, ſo is it for great labour. Being to drink, it uſually with its feet troubleth the waters, that they become muddy. To reſtrain its fierceneſſe, a bridle, to remedy its lazineſſe, a ſpur muſt be uſed. It's a jealous beaſt, and the Mare having conceived, will not take horſe till it have foaled, and then not ſoon after. It's apt to be taught, and obey its Rider. It's fierce and warlike. Whoſe deſcription we have in Job 39. 22--28. It's proud and ſtately, eſpecially when bravely garniſhed. It's much taken with Muſick. It's very libidinous. Delighteth in the plains. Is much ſubject to ſickneſſes of all ſorts. It's very laborious, eſpecially when ſtrong and well kept. It's very faithfull unto his Rider. It's an enemy to Bears, Camels, Elephants, &c. As horſes carry wares and merchandizes into divers Lands; and thither onely whither their Owner leadeth them; who muſt goe or run, they to whom they carry them, reſting at home, who in their journey are often troubled with dogs, whoſe barking notwithſtanding they weigh not: So Gods Miniſters carry the Goſpel to others, &c. with whom Chriſt is alwayes preſent, even he that ſitteth on the white horſe, Rev. 19. 11, 12. His commands onely they muſt obey (as Bucephalus would ſuffer no other ſave Alexander to get on his back) not be the devils hacknies. Before it obey its Rider, it muſt be taught. That horſe proves moſt ſerviceable, which after his labours is well lookt to, fed, let reſt. A bad horſe is not bettered by a golden bridle, nor is a noble horſe to be employed in drudgery. A free horſe needeth not the ſpur, is often dulled thereby. When young, and luſty, and able to travell, it's much ſet by, but when old and lazy, employed in drudgery work.

The Sybarites having taught their horſes to dance at the ſound of a pipe, the Crotoniates when they were to fight with them, brought Pipers along with them, whoſe ſounding made the horſes dance, and betray both themſelves and Riders.

It's a lively beaſt, knoweth its Owner, wil fight for him, (as it's ſaid of ſome) and lament for him when dead. For horſes there was trading at Tyre, Ezek. 27. 14. and they are one ſort of the merchandize of myſticall Babylon, Rev. 18. 13. They ſerve to bear burthens, Ezr. 2. 66. Neh. 7. 68. To draw chariots, 2 King. 23. 11. Cant. 1. 9. Zech. 6. 2, 3, 6. To carry men, Eccl. 10. 7. Jer. 17. 25. 2 King. 14. 20. To ſerve in war, Exod. 14. 9, 17. Deut. 20. 1. Judg. 5. 22. Iſa. 5. 28. Jer. 4. 29. Prov. 21. 31. Hence to ride, Pſal. 45. 4. may be taken for to undertake war againſt the Churches enemies; and harneſſe the horſes, Jer. 46. 4. for, To prepare to battle.

Horſes are put for Horſe-men, or Men of War, 2 King. 6. 17. Jer. 12. 5. Ezek. 39. 12. Power and ſtrength, Zech. 12. 4. Jer. 51. 21. Zech. 10. 5. Humane aid or help, Iſa. 2. 7. Zech. 9. 10. Pſal. 20. 7. & 33. 17. Iſa. 30. 16. & 31. 1.

Horſleech] A blood-ſucker, who is never ſatisfied therewith, but ſtill deſireth more, Prov. 30. 15.

Horſe-men] put for the ſtrength and ſtay of a Land, 2 Kin. 13. 14. Uſed in war, 2 Sam. 1. 6. Uſed alſo for defence, Ezr. 8. 22. Act. 23. 23.

Hoſa, or Hoſah] truſting, or having ſure confidence. A City, Joſh. 19. 29. A Porter, 1 Chr. 16. 38. One of the children of Merari, 1 Chr. 26. 10, 11, 16.

Hoſanna] Heard; or, he obeying. A mans name, 1 Chr. 3. 18.

Hoſanna] Save I pray thee, or keep, or preſerve I beſeech thee; or, give ſalvation. Spoken to Chriſt, Mat. 21. 9, 15. Mar. 11. 9, 10. Joh. 12. 13.

Hoſea] Salvation, or Saviour. A Prophet, Hoſ. 1. 1. called Oſee, Rom. 9. 25.

Hoſhaiah] The ſalvation of the Lord. The name of a man, Neh. 12. 32. The Father of Jezaniah, Jer. 42. 1. The Father of Azariah, Jer. 43. 2.

Hoſhea] Salvation, or Saviour. The Son of Nun, Deut. 32. 44. The Son of Elah, 2 King. 15. 30. The Son of Azaziah, 1 Chr. 27. 20. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 23.

Hoſpitality]

Hoſpitality] A love of ſtrangers, and a readineſſe to give them lodging and other kinde entertainment, Rom. 12. 20. Heb. 13. 2. or a ſuccouring of many, Rom. 16. 2.

Hoſtage] A pledge delivered into the hand or cuſtody of another to aſſure the performance of what is concluded and agreed on by both parties, 2 King. 14. 14.

Hoſte] put for any ordinary multitude; and ſo by a great hoſte, a great multitude is to be underſtood, Exod. 14. 4, 17, 24, 28 Alſo for the camp of Iſrael in the wilderneſſe, Exod. 16. 13. And for the number under one ſtandard, Numb. 2. 4, 6, 8.

By the hoſte of heaven, the Angels, Luk. 2. 13. the Sun, Moon, and Stars, Pſal. 33. 6. All of them, Neh. 9. 6. are to be underſtood, as alſo the godly or members of the Church, Dan. 8. 10, 11.

By the hoſte of the heavens and the earth, All the creatures may be underſtood, Gen. 2. 1. whether Angels, Pſal. 103. 21. who are called Gods hoſte, Gen. 32. 2. or, the Locuſts, &c. tearmed Gods great Army, Joel 2. 25.

Hoſte of God] A company of holy Angels, attending and waiting upon God, as an Army of Souldiers upon their Generall, Gen. 32. 2. This is the hoſte of God. Alſo it ſignifieth Gods people, and Church Militant in earth, of which hoſte God himſelfe is Prince and Captain. See Dan. 8. 24. 11.

2. All creatures, in heaven and in earth, viſible and inviſible, which fulfill the will of God readily and mightily, as a ſtrong Army. Gen. 2. 1. And all the hoſte of them. Angels then were created within the ſix dayes.

Note: All creatures ſtand ready in battle array, preſt to doe the will of God, as an Army ſet in Martiall order. Creatures are likened to an hoſte for three things: 1 their multitude, 2 their order, 3 their obedience to God their great Generall and Commander.

Hot] Spoken of the Sun, Exod. 16. 21. Gods wrath, Exod. 22. 24. His diſpleaſure, Deut. 9. 19. His anger, Judg. 2. 19. The heart, Deut. 19. 6. Bread, Joſh. 9. 12. 1 Sam. 21. 6. Thunderbolts, Pſal. 78. 48. Coals, Prov. 6. 28. Braſſe, Ezek. 24. 11. Furnace, Dan. 3. 22. Oven, Hoſ. 7. 7. Iron, 1 Tim. 4. 2. put for, Burned, Pſal. 39. 3.

Hotham] A ſeale. The Son of Heber, 1 Chr. 7. 32.

Hothan] An Aroerite, 1 Chr. 11. 44.

Hothir] Excelling; or, remaining. The Son of Heman, 1 Chr. 25. 4.

To hough] That is, cut the ſinews, Joſh. 11. 6. 9. 2 Sam. 8. 4.

Hour] The 12. part of an artificial day. Joh. 11. 9. There be 12 hours in the day: and often elſewhere.

2. A ſpeciall time prefixed of God in his counſell, for ſome particular work, which cannot prevent that time, nor be deferred, Joh. 2. 4. Matt. 26. 45.

3. Torment ſpirituall felt in the ſoul, by apprehenſion of the fierce wrath of God due to the ſins of the elect; for at this time Chriſt was not touched, nor troubled in his body. Joh. 12. 27. Save me from this hour.

It's alſo put for a ſet and certain time, Mat. 24. 36. Such a time of the day, Act. 10. 30. A ſhort ſpace of time, Rev. 18. 10, 19. Time, with the occaſion of doing or ſuffering ſomething, Mat. 10. 19. Rom. 13. 19. Hence ones hour is taken for a preciſe or determined time, Joh. 16. 21. Luk. 22. 53. Great trouble or danger, both inward and outward, Mar. 14. 35. Joh. 12. 27.

The hours among the Jews were of two ſorts; ſome leſſer, others greater. They began the account of their leſſer hours, from ſix a clock in the morning, and ſo our 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6. was their 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Thoſe were tearmed, Hours of the day, Joh. 11. 9. Their greater were four, tearmed, Hours of the Temple, or Hours of prayer, Act. 3. 1.

The firſt began at ſix of the clock in the morning, and held till nine; called the third, hour, Mat. 20. 3.

The ſecond ended at twelve, called the ſixth hour, Ibid. 5.

The third, at three in the afternooon, called the nineth, Ibid.

The fourth, at ſix of the night, called the eleventh hour, Ibid. 6. which our Saviour ſo calleth (though among the common people, it either was called, or ſhould have been called by proportion with the reſt, the twelfth hour) to intimate unto us, that though God in his mercy accept labourers into his vineyards eleven hours of the day, yet he seldome calleth any at the twelfth, for that is rather an hour to discharge servants, then to admit new. Goodwyn, p. 101, 102.

It signifieth also a certain definite and determinate time, or time definitely, or the twelfth part of an artificial day. See Joh. 11. 9. & 7. 50. Act. 2. 15. or, on a sudden, and in a moment, Rev. 18. 19.

The houſe of Jacob, or of Iſrael] The people of Iſrael, or the Nation of the Iſraelites, Exod. 19. 3. Alſo, the whole Church of Chriſt, even all Gods people, both to Jews and Gentiles. Pſal. 115. 12. He will bleſſe the houſe of Iſrael. Luk. 1. 27. He ſhall rule over the houſe of Jacob for ever.

To joyn houſe to houſe] To have continuall and inſatiate deſire and care how to increaſe goods, and wax richer, Iſa. 5. 8. He giveth to wit, that ſuch and ſo great was the covetouſneſſe of this people, as if each had deſired to ingroſſe the whole Countrey into their owne lands, that they might dwel alone, without companion, as made enemies to humane ſociety, and communion of men.

Houſe of the King] The Kings houſhold, or whole company, or Court, Hoſ. 5. 1. Thus called for the likeneſſe of it to a houſe:

For 1. the King, Jeroboam the Son of Joas, was the foundation or floor.

2. His children as the ſide-wals.

3. The Kings Councell as the pillars.

4. The Nobles, Peers, Dukes, and Captains, as the beams and rafters.

5. The Judges and the Fathers of the Law, as the ſtandards.

6. The Courtiers, Attendants, and Officers, as the Arras hangings and utenſils of the houſe. D. Loe in Ser. in Hoſ. 5. 1.

To make houſes] To build a houſe where none was.

2. To eſtabliſh, increaſe, and proſper ones family and poſterity. Exod. 1. 22. He made them houſes; namely, the Iſraelites, by increaſing their children.

Houſe of prayer] The place appointed to aſſemble in, for the publick worſhip of God: Whereof, becauſe prayer is a chief part, therefore the place of divine worſhip, is called the houſe of Prayer, as the people aſſembled in that place are called the houſe of God. Matt. 21. 13. My houſe ſhall be called the houſe of Prayer. The Papiſts idly and fooliſhly wreſt theſe words, thereby to prove that Temples are made for ſacrifice: Others as fooliſhly abuſe it, to ſhut out preaching. The beſt way is, not to ſever what God hath joyned.

Houſe built upon a rock] Every beleeving Chriſtian, who relies by faith upon the Rock Chriſt, and declares the truth of his faith, by his ready obedience to the Word. Mat. 7. 24. I will liken him to a wiſe man who hath built his houſe upon a rock.

Houſe built upon the ſand] Every unbeleeving and diſobedient perſon, who relyeth upon men, and not upon Chriſt, and ſerves his luſts and not God. Mat. 7. 25. Which hath built his houſe upon the ſand.

Houſhold] Friends, Rom. 16. 10, 11. mar. The dwellers together in an houſe, as of Abraham's, Gen. 18. 19. Jacob's, Gen. 35. 2. David's, 2 Sam. 6. 20. Cornelius his, Act. 10. 2. All which (as every houſholder ſhould be) were careſull for the ſpirituall good of their families.

Houſhold of God] The Church of God, or company of beleevers, thence called the houſhold of Faith, Eph. 2. 6. Gal. 6. 10.

How] A queſtion ſometime of one deſirous to learn, as Luk. 1. 34. Sometime of one admiring and wondering at a thing as new and ſtrange, as Joh. 4. 9. Sometime of one diſtruſting the thing as unpoſſible, Joh. 6. 52. 1 Cor. 15. 35. How are the dead raiſed? as who ſhould ſay, it is impoſſible that bodies once dead ſhould return the ſame to live again. There is an how of docility, and alſo an how of infidelity.

It's ſpoken alſo to note reproof, Judg. 16. 15. Sorrow, 2 Sam. 1. 15. Eſt. 8. 6. A putting off with diſlike, Gen. 39. 9. 1 Chr. 13. 12. Pſal. 137. 4. Deſire, Luk. 12. 50. Often alſo it interrogateth not of the manner, but either denyeth, accuſeth, reproveth, convinceth, Exod. 6. 12. Deut. 7. 17. Judg. 16. 15. Pſal. 11. 1. & 73. 11. & 137. 4. But by the words annexed hereunto, and circumſtances conſidered, the acceptions hereof are plainly to be ſeen, notwithſtanding 1 Sam. 8. 9. marg.

Howbeit] It noteth an exception from that before, 2 Sam. 23. 19. 1 King. 2. 15. Act. 7. 48. Joh. 7. 13.

How long] It noteth continuance of time, with diſlike moſt commonly, Exod. 10. 3, 7. & 16. 28.

The continuance of time, wherein ones chaſtiſements ſpirituall, as Iſa. 6. 11. or, bodily, Pſal. 13. 1, 2. ſhall laſt before they be removed away.

Howl] Spoken of the wicked in their calamity, Isa. 13. 6. & 15. 2. & 16. 7. Of others also upon Gods fearfull anger, Jer. 4. 8. Ezek. 21. 12. and judgement, Zech. 11. 3. A duty called for, Ezek. 21. 12. Joel 1. 5, 11, 13.

H V.

Hukok] An ingraver, Scribe, or Lawyer. A City, 1 Chr. 6. 75.

Hul] Sorrow, infirmity; or, sand. The Son of Aram, Gen. 10. 23.

Huldah] The world, circle of the world; or, West. A Propheteſſe, 2 King. 22. 14.

Humane Creatures] All civil Magiſtrates; who therefore be ſtyled humane creatures, becauſe howſoever they be appointed of God, yet, their kindes number, and order are not ſo of God laid out, but that man may make more or fewer, of greater authority or leſſe, as occaſions of places, times, and diſpoſition of the people require. 1 Pet. 2. 13. Submit your ſelf to every humane creature. So it is read in the Originall, word for word; and not ordinances of men, as our Tranſlations render it.

Note. Magiſtracy is an humane ordinance or creature, three wayes.

1. Subjectively, becauſe man is the ſubject by whom it is exerciſed.

2. Objectively, becauſe humane affairs are the object or thing about which it is converſant.

3. In reſpect of the end, becauſe it is appointed, and doth ſerve for the great good of men.

Moreover, howſoever divers forms of governmsent be found out by men, (every King in his Kingdome, for neceſſity of his eſtate, may create new officers and honours) yet the originall inſtitution of Rulers and Magiſtrates is from God, who hath ordained Civil powers as well as Eccleſiaſtical, Rom. 13. 1. Joh. 10. 34.

Humanity conſiſts 1. in civill and courteous behaviour, both for words and geſture.

In kindeneſſe, and ſhewing of courteſie and pity.

Humble] One lowly minded, eſteeming others better then himſelf, aſcribing all unto God, being little in his owne account, even as a weaned childe. Mat. 18. 4. Whoſoever ſhall humble themſelves as this little childe. Pſal. 131. 1, 2.

The originall ταπεινὸς, is ſometimes oppoſed to the rich, Jam. 1. 9. Sometime to the proud, Jam. 4. 6. and ſignifieth not ſo much a low ſtate or condition, as an humble minde. It's tranſlated Lowly, Matt. 11. 29. Them of low degree, Luk. 1. 52. Men of low eſtate, Rom. 12. 16. Thoſe that are caſt down, 2 Cor. 7. 6. Baſe, 2 Cor. 10. 1. One of low degree, Jam. 1. 9. That hath low eyes, Job 22. 29. mar. Afflicted, Pſal. 9. 12. mar. & 10. 12. marg.

To humble] To put reproach upon us, and caſt us down from our dignity. Luk. 14. 11. He that exalteth himſelf ſhall be humbled. Thus God humbles in wrath. Herod and Nebuchadnezzar thus humbled.

2. To take down our courage, and height of our pride, and to make us humble and meek, that we may have confidence, not in our ſelves, but in God. Thus God humbled Paul and Manaſſes in mercy. And thus the godly by their endevour humble themſelves. 2 Chr. 12. 7. They humbled themſelves. Mich. 6. 8.

3. To ſubmit and yeeld unto our ſuperiour. Gen. 16. 9. Humble thy ſelfe under her hand.

4. To defloure or defile one with conſent, or by force. Deut. 22. 24. Becauſe he hath humbled his neighbours wife. Deut. 21. 14. Jud. 19. 24. 2 Sam. 13. 11, 12. Ezek. 22. 10.

5. To become lowly in our owne eyes, and ſo carry our ſelves, Matt. 18. 4. & 23. 12.

6. To uſe meanes to procure favour, Prov. 6. 3.

7. To lay by ſtate for a time, Jer. 13. 18.

8. To afflict and try, Deut. 8. 2, 16.

9. To ſhew repentance, 2 Chr. 7. 14. & 12. 6. & 32. 26.

10. To work grief and ſorrow, 2 Cor. 12. 21.

Of men humbling themſelves:

Some doe it worldly, Pſal. 10. 10. Pro. 6. 3. Some hypocritically, 1 King. 21. 29. 2 Chron. 12. 6. Jonah 3. 6. Some virtuouſly, Mat. 18. 4. Jam. 4. 10. 1 Pet. 5. 6. Some repentantly in ſincerity, Pſal. 35. 13. 2 Chr. 32. 26. 2 Chr. 34. 27. Job 42. 6.

Chriſt humbled himſelf] His incarnation, in that he would be man, and a ſervant, ſubject to death, even the death of the Croſſe, he being equall to God. Phil. 2. 5, 6, 7, 8. He humbled himſelf.

Gods humbling or abaſing himſelfe] His gracious loving care, which he vouchſafeth to have of us moſt vile worms, and moſt grievous ſinners, himſelf being ſo glorious and holy. Pſal. 113. 6. Who abaſeth himſelf to behold things in heaven and earth.

Humbleneſſe]

Humbleneſſe of minde] Col. 3. 12. is not fillyneſſe, careleſſe diſregard of a mans ſelf, will-worſhip, complementall courteſie, counterfeit ſubmiſſiveneſſe, &c. but inwardly hath in it a ſight, and ſenſe, and digeſted opinion of our own great unworthyneſſe, a tender ſenſe of temptations, a hatred of hypocriſie, a willingneſſe to ſuffer afflictions, and a contentation in ſome meaſure, in what eſtate ſoever it pleaſeth God to bring a man to. And outwardly towards God, it keeps a man lowly in the uſe of the means, and hath a continued fear and awefulneſſe of Gods preſence, and ſtands not at it to be counted vile for the ſervice of God. And in carriage towards men, it is not affected in words or geſtures, is not cenſorious, arrogant, contentious, &c. but makes a man go before in giving honour, and not to think much to equall himſelfe with them of the lower ſort, &c. Byfield on Coloſ. 3. 12. p. 80.

Humiliation] The low eſtate and condition which Chriſt did undergoe for the ſalvation of man, Act. 8. 33. The originall word ταπείνωσις, is rendred by low eſtate, Luk. 1. 48. Vile, Phil. 1. 21. Lowneſſe, Jam. 1. 10. It ſignifieth a vile and abject condition, ſuch as of baſe ſervants. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Humility] Lowlyneſſe and modeſty of minde. Prov. 22. 4. The reward of humility, &c.

2. A low, poor, and mean eſtate. Luk. 1. 48. He hath looked upon the humility and poor eſtate of his ſervant. There is humility of heart, and of condition: both meet together in the Virgin Mary, in Chriſt, in Paul, and in other Apoſtles.

3. Baſeneſſe of an abject minde, eaſily yeelding upon perſwaſion, to leave Chriſt, and to depend upon Angels, and alſo to adore them, as means of ſalvation, Col. 2. 18, 23. Here it is uſed in evill part. And it is done by men, when they acknowledging themſelves no other then ſervants, yet humble themſelves beneath them by voluntary devotion.

Humtah] A City, Joſh. 15. 54.

Hundred] put both for a number certain and definite, Gen. 11. 10. & 17. 17. & 21. 5. & 50. 22. and for a number great and indefinite, Lev. 26. 8. Prov. 17. 10. Eccl. 6. 3. & 8. 12. Iſa. 65. 20. Amos 5. 3.

Hunger] Earneſt deſire of food upon ſome want being felt. Mat. 4. 1, 2. He was afterwards an hungry.

2. Vehement deſire after Chriſt his righteouſneſſe, forgiveneſſe of ſins, and grace of his Spirit out of a want and extreme need which we feel of them. Matt. 5. 6. Bleſſed are they that hunger after righteouſneſſe. Luk. 1. 53. Thou filleſt the hungry with good things.

3. Any kinde of danger. Pſal. 33. 19. To preſerve them againſt hunger, or in famine.

To hunger no more] To be ſatisfied & fully contented. Joh. 6. 35. He that comes to mee ſhall hunger no more; that is, in me, and in me alone, he ſhall finde that which ſhall give him full contentment, and ſatisfaction to his ſoul.

To hunger and thirſt] To be in any kind of neceſſity, either of Diet, or of Lodging, Surgery, Phyſick, &c. Alſo, to give drink and to feed, ſignifies all duties of humanity, which for charity ſake we muſt afford an enemy, if he be in want, ſo as we maintain him not againſt God, or his Countrey. Rom. 12. 20. If thine enemy hunger, &c.

Hungry] put for want of food, with deſire thereto, 2 Sam. 17. 29. 2 King. 7. 12. Mat. 4. 1, 2. The earneſt deſire of the ſoule after good things, Luk. 1. 53. Feeling corporall wants, Pſal. 107. 36. The appetite longing for meat, Iſa. 29. 8. Act. 10. 10. 1 Cor. 11. 21.

Hunt] Taken properly with relation unto wilde beaſts, Gen. 27. 3, 5. Job 38. 39. or, fowles, 1 Sam. 26. 20.

Figuratively, for 1. To lie in wait to deſtroy, 1 Sam. 24. 12.

2. To perſue, Pſal. 140. 11.

3. To ſeek & labor by all means, Pr. 6. 26.

4. To follow and throughly to look to, Lam. 4. 18.

5. To put mens ſouls in danger of periſhing, Ezek. 13. 18.

To hunt after ones ſoul] To lie in wait to deſtroy one by taking away his life. 1 Sam. 24. 12. Thou hunteſt after my ſoul to take it.

2. To put mens ſouls in danger and peril of periſhing everlaſtingly, either by keeping away good doctrine, or teaching falſe. Ezek. 13. 18. Will ye hunt the ſouls of my people, that ye may preſerve your owne ſouls alive? Thus Tremellius reads it.

Hunter] One which followeth wilde beaſts to catch them, and take their lives from them, by ſnares, dogs, or otherwiſe. Such an one was Eſau.

2. A great ſpoyler or robber, which by might oppreſſeth other men. Such an one was Nimrod. Gen. 10. 8, 9. Nimrod a mighty hunter before God.

2. The Chaldeans and Babylonians, which God would ſend in fury to vex and hunt rebellious rebellious enemies. Jer. 16. 16. I will send out many hunters.

Snare of the hunter] Any great danger whatsoever. Psal. 91. 3. He will deliver thee from the snare of the hunter.

Huppam] Their chamber, or bank. Of whom came the Huphamites, Numb. 26. 39.

Huppah] A chamber, cover, or bank. One of Aaron's posterity, to whom the thirteenth lot, 1 Chr. 24. 13.

Huppim] A chamber covered; or, the seashore. The Son of Benjamin, Gen. 46. 21. The Son of Ir, or Iri, 1 Chr. 7. 7, 12.

Hur] Liberty; or, Prince; or, whiteneſſe; white. One that ſtayed up Moſes his hands in prayer, Exod. 17. 12. The Father of Uri, Exod. 31. 2. A King of Midian, Numb. 31. 8. The Son of Caleb, 1 Chr. 2. 19. The Father of Rephaiah, Nehem. 3. 9. See 1 King. 4. 8.

Hurai] One of David's Worthies, 1 Chr. 11. 32.

Huram, or Hiram] Their liberty, whiteneſſe, or holes. The Son of Bela, 1 Chr. 5. 8. A King of Tyre, 2 Chr. 2. 3. A cunning workman, Ibid. 4. 11.

Huri] Being angry, liberty, whiteneſſe; or a hole. The Son of Abihail, 1 Chr. 5. 14.

Hurle] Taken properly, Numb. 35. 20. 1 Chr. 12. 2.

Figuratively, for inflicting judgements, Job 27. 21.

To hurt] 1. To diminiſh or impair the eſſence, [or eſſentiall properties or being of a thing.

So God cannot be hurt by any ſinfull act of man, Job 35. 6. Nor profited by the contrary, Job 22. 3. & 35. 7.

2. To diminiſh the outward or accidential good things of one, as his good name or honour, his ſervants and ſervice, rights, &c. So God may be and is hurted, and that daily, Rom. 2. 23, 24. Mal. 3. 8, 9.

3. To ſhame, 1 Sam. 25. 7. 15.

Hurtfull] Applyed to Jeruſalem, Ezr. 4. 15. The ſword, Pſal. 144. 10. Luſts, 1 Tim. 6. 9.

Husband] Taken 1. properly, for one that hath a wife, Jer. 6. 11. who is her Lord, Gen. 18. 12. the covering of her eyes, Gen. 20. 16. her guide, Prov. 2. 17. her head, Eph. 5. 23. The good man, Pro. 7. 19. Mat. 20. 11. Mar. 14. 14. Who is to love his Wife, Eph. 5. 25, 28, 33. to give her honour, 1 Pet. 3. 7. to bear with her as the weaker veſſel, Ibid. inſtruct her in matters of Religion, 1 Cor. 14. 35. pray for her, Gen. 25. 21. comfort her, 1 Sam. 1. 8. cheer her up, Deut. 24. 5. praiſe her, Prov. 31. 28. provide for her, &c.

2. Figuratively, ſo God is the husband of the Church, Iſa. 54. 5. Jer. 31. 1, 4, 20. Hoſ. 2. 2, 7, 16. So Chriſt, 2 Cor. 11. 2. So a married land, or a land that hath an husband, is put for a fruitfull land, Iſa. 62. 4.

Husbands brother] One which is a naturall brother, begotten of the ſelfe ſame parents, Deut. 25. 5. Her husbands brother ſhall take her to wife. That this muſt be underſtood of a brother by nature, is evident by theſe reaſons.

Firſt, by an example of two Sons of Judah before the Law, Gen. 38. 8.

Secondly, by the words of Naomi to her daughters in law widows. Ruth 1. 11. Are there any mo Sons in my wombe, that they may be your husbands? Whereby it is plain, that ſhe took the Law to mean naturall brethren. This therefore is a ſpeciall exception from the generall Law againſt marrying ones brothers Wife, Lev. 18. 16. The end of the Law, Deut. 25. 5, 6, &c. was to ſignifie the birth of Chriſt, that it ſhould never die.

Husbandman] It ſignifieth properly, a Tiller of land, one by whom the earth is dreſſed, Heb. 6. 7. One that doth the work of the field, for tillage of the ground, 1 Chron. 27. 26.

But figuratively, both God the Father, Joh. 15. 1. and principall Church-men, or Miniſters; Mat. 21. 33--41. Mar. 12. 2, &c. Luk. 20. 9, 10, 14, 16. See Zech. 13. 5. O utinam!

Husbandry] All manner of work and ſervants belonging to a family, and ſo ſervants and tillage of all ſorts, Gen. 26. 14. The like is ſaid of Job, ch. 1. 3.

Hereof none have cauſe to be aſhamed, for even the moſt honorable, Adam, Gen. 3. 23. Noah, Gen. 9. 20. Saul, 1 Sam. 11. 5. Eliſha, 1 King. 19. 19. with many others, were Husbandmen. And in them prudence, knowledge, diſcretion, Iſa. 28. 24--29. Diligence, Pro. 13. 4. Induſtry, Prov. 12. 11. & 24. 27. & 28. 19. 2 Tim. 2. 6. Patience, Jam. 5. 7. are very requiſite, of abſolute neceſſity.

It's taken properly, as 2 Chr. 26. 10.

Spiritually alſo, for Gods people, 1 Cor. 3. 9.

Hushah] Haſting; or, holding peace. The Son of Ezer, 1 Chr. 4. 4.

Hushai] A meaning; or, haſting. A friend of Davids, 2 Sam. 15. 32, 37. The Father of Baanah, 1 King. 4. 16.

Husham] Their haſting; or, their ſilence. The third King that reigned in Edom, Gen. 36. 34.

Hushathite] Haſting; holding peace; or, ſenſuality. A kindred deſcended of Hushah, 1 Chr. 4. 4. & 27. 11.

Hushim]

Hushim] The same with the former. The Son of Dan, Gen. 46. 23. The Son of Aher, 1 Chron. 7. 12. The wife of Shaharaim, 1 Chr. 8. 8.

Husk] The cod of a bean, peaſe, or any ſuch thing. Spoken of the vine, Num. 6. 4. Of corn, 2 King. 4. 42. The prodigall Son being in want and hungry, would have filled his belly therewith, Luk. 15. 16.

Huz] Counſell; or, wood. The Son of Nahor, Gen. 22. 21.

Huzoth] Streets; or, populous, Numb. 22. 39.

Huzzab] Molten. A Queen of the Aſſyrians, Nahum 2. 7. marg.

H Y.

Hymeneus] A wedding ſong. An enemy unto Paul, 1 Tim. 1. 20.

Hymne] A Song made in the praiſe of God, Col. 3. 16. Pſalms, hymns, and ſpirituall Songs.

Pſalms contain exhortations to manners or holy life.

Hymnes contain prayſes to God in the commemoration of his benefits.

Songs contain doctrine of the chief good, or mans eternall felicity. Byfield on Col. 3. 16. p. 101.

Hypocriſie] The cloaking of infidelity and ſinne, with appearance and ſhew of faith and repentance. Mat. 23. 28. But within ye are full of hypocriſie, 2 Tim. 3. 5. Having a ſhew of godlineſſe, denying the power of it.

2. Falſe doctrine, which is called hypocriſie, becauſe it hath the ſhew and reſemblance of truth. Luk. 12. 1. Beware of the leaven of the Phariſees, which is hypocriſie.

3. The leaven; that is, the doctrine of the Phariſees, Luk. 12. 1. as alſo of falſe Teachers, who are ſaid to ſpeak lies in hypocriſie, 1 Tim. 4. 2.

To ſpeak lies in hypocriſie] In the uttering of falſhood and errors, to cover them with religious and holy pretences. 1 Tim. 4. 2. Speaking lies in hypocriſie.

This cannot agree unto thoſe old Hereticks, the Manichees, Encratites, and Marcionites, which aſcribed the inſtitution of Marriage, and the Creation and Procreation of mankind to Satan, and affirmed of certain meats, that they were of the Devil: as the Manichees, who ſaid that Fleſh, Egs, Milk, and Wine were the gall of the Prince of darkneſſe, and that the Devill made fleſh of the ſtinking matter of evill. Likewiſe Marcion the Heretick held, that they which did eat fleſh, did as if they eat and devoured ſouls, Auguſt. Hæreſ. 42.

Theſe ſpeak falſhood in open blaſphemy. But the Papiſts that doe not in expreſs downright tearms, abſolutely condemn Meats and Marriage, to be unclean, but affirming all Creatures in their owne nature to be pure and good, yet under pretence of holineſſe, religion, chaſtity, purity, faſting, prayer, by Laws and Decrees forbid Marriage and Meats to ſome men at all times; are they of whom the Spirit ſpeaketh evidently, that they utter their falſe doctrine in hypocriſie; and therefore had need to be deſcribed by theſe notes, and the Church to be forewarned of them, by this propheſie of St. Paul.

Hypocrite] One who aſſumeth to take upon him the perſon of another, as Players upon a ſtage uſe to doe, where a Begger beareth the perſon of a King.

Note. Of hypocrites, ſome be more groſſe, Matt. 22. 5. Some more ſecret, ſuch as know not themſelves, through their ſelf-love.

2. He that maketh ſemblance and ſhew, to be that which he is not in deed, and in truth; outwardly appearing righteous, and being inwardly full of iniquity, like graves or painted tombes, Mat. 23. 27. Woe to you Scribes, Phariſees, Hypocrites; for ye are like unto whited ſepulchres, which indeed appear beautifull outward, but are within full of dead mens bones, and of all uncleanneſſe, Matt. 6. 2. Therefore, when thou doſt thine almes, do not ſound a trumpet before thee, as the hypocrites doe, in the Synagogues, and in the ſtreets, that they may have glory of men; verily, I ſay unto you, they have their reward, Mat. 6. 5.

Hypocrites be cloſe diſſemblers, which outwardly cover and cloak their wickedneſſe, wherewith inwardly they be defiled. The Greek word (from whence our Engliſh word is borrowed) ſignifieth, an under-judgement, that is, diſſimulation.

Such may be diſcovered by theſe notes.

1. They ſay, and doe not, Mat. 23. 3.

2. They require much of others, and plead for great things to be done by others, which they doe not themſelves, Ibid. 4.

3. What they doe, is to be ſeen of men, Ibid. 5. & Mat. 6. 1, &c.

4. They affect greatneſſe in the reſpects and entertainments of others, Ibid. 6--12.

5. They doe duties of Religion of purpoſe to hide ſome foul ſin, Ib. 14.

6. They are curious and ſtrict in ſmall matters, matters, and neglect the greater duties, Ib. 23. 24.

7. They are carefull to avoyd outward faults, but make no conſcience of the inward foulneſſe of the heart, Ibid. 25. 27.

8. The commend and magnifie the godly abſent, or of former ages; but hate and abuſe the godly preſent, and of their owne times, Ibid. 29.-36.

9. They ſerve God outwardly, but their hearts are carried away with vile diſtractions, Iſa. 28. 13.

10. They pray onely in the time of ſickneſſe and danger, when they are forced to it, but ſhew no love of prayer, or delight in God in time of proſperity, or deliverance, Job 27. 8, 9.

11. They judge others ſeverally for ſmaller faults, being in the mean time themſelves guilty of greater crimes, Mat. 7. 5.

12. They are over-much juſt, making ſins where God makes none, Luk. 13. 15.

13. Being convinced in their owne conſcience, yet doe not they confeſſe it, nor yeeld, though they know the truth, Luk. 12. 56, 57, &c. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 1. p. 210.

14. The ſeeming good they doe is out of oſtentation, and ambition, Matt. 6. 1, 2, 5, 16.

15. They are cruell, Pſal. 35. 16. Prov. 11. 9. Mat. 23. 34.

16. They are for the moſt part covetous, Mat. 23. 14. Job 12. 6. Act. 8. 18.

Hyſop] An hearb, whoſe naturall property is to open and cleanſe the body, Exod. 12. 22.

2. The blood of the eternall ſacrifice of Chriſt, cleanſing from all ſin ſuch as by faith lay hold on it. Pſal. 51. 7. Purge me with hyſop, and I ſhall be clean. 1 Joh. 1. 7. The blood of Chriſt purgeth us from all our ſins. A Metaphor.

Hereof mention is made, Exod. 12. 22. Heb. 9. 19. It grew out of walls, 1 King. 4. 33.

The Jews write that there were four ſorts of hyſop, and that this ſpoken of in the Law, was ſuch as men uſed to eat of, and ſeaſon pottage with; and the bunch ſpoken of was three ſtalks of hyſop bound together.

This hearb was uſed to ſprinkle with, in other ſervices and purifications. See Exod. 24. 6, 8. Lev. 14. 4. Numb. 19. 6, 18. and ſignified the inſtrument whereby the blood of Chriſt is ſprinkled upon, and applyed unto our hearts; which is, the preaching of faith, Act. 15. 9. Rom. 10. 14--17. Gal. 3. 2. 1 Pet. 1. 2. Pſal. 51. 7. Heb. 9. 14. Aynſworth on Exod. 12. 22.

I.

Jacint] Hereof mention is made, Rev. 9. 17. & 21. 20. A precious ſtone, of a violet or purple colour, not unlike the Amethyſt. It's neither too dark nor too bright, but of a mean between both; though it be very hard, yet therein the Adamant maketh an impreſſion. According as is the air, cloudy or cleer, ſo is its colour. It expels melancholy, comforts, makes us ſhun ſuſpicions, ſtrengtheneth the members and ſinews; is good againſt drunkenneſſe, hath a ſweet ſavour, giveth a wholeſome taſte, and is good againſt poyſon. The neerer it is in colour and ſubſtance unto the Saphire, it is ſo much the better. Hereof there are ſeveral kindes, but all precious and uſefull. If that were true which is written of it, that through it we become ſo acceptable, as we obtain ſuch things as we ask, who would not ſell all and buy one?

Jacob] A ſupplanter, or deceiver; the heel, or the footſtep. Gen. 25. 26. Hoſ. 12. 3. The younger Son of Iſaac, brother to Eſau, the Father of the Patriarchs, called alſo Iſrael, Rom. 9. 13.

2. The whole poſterity of Jacob, even the whole Nation of the Jews, and the Church of God conſiſting onely of them till the death of Chriſt. Obad. 10. For thy cruelty againſt thy brother Jacob. Rom. 11. 26, 14. Iſa. 59. & 27. 6. & Iſa. 14. 1. It ſignifieth ſuch Jews as were held Captive in Babylon.

3. The Son of Mattan, Mat. 1. 15.

Generation of Jacob] A multitude of men coming of Jacob, not by carnall deſcent, but by ſpirituall birth born from above; for Jacobs poſterity is twofold, ſpirituall and carnall, Rom. 9. 8. Pſal. 24. 6. This is the generation of Jacob, of them which ſeek God: this is meant of the ſpirituall poſterity. As Aaron is put for his poſterity, the Aaronites, 1 Chro. 12. 27. & 27. 12. Alſo David is put for his children, 1 Chron. 4. 31. So Gods people (the poſterity of Jacob) are called both Jacob and Iſrael very often in in Scripture. Jacob is a name of Infirmity, for he ſtrove for the birth-right, but obtained it not when he took his brother by the heel in the wombe, and thereupon was called Jacob, Gen. 25. 22, 26. But Iſrael is a name of power and principality; for after he had wreſtled with the Angel, behaved himſelfe princely, wept, prayed, and prevailed; his name was thereby changed from Jacob to Iſrael, that is, a prince and prevailer with God, Gen. 32. 24, 26, 28. Hoſ. 12. 3, 4. Therefore is the name Iſrael given to all Gods people, even the Gentiles alſo, which have Jacobs faith, Gal. 6. 16.

Houſe of Jacob] Poſterity and people which come of Jacob, to wit, the Iſraelites, Iſ. 2. 5.

Idle] Him that may work and will not, but ceaſeth to labour, through love of eaſe. Exod. 5. 17. Ye are too idle.

2. One that is unoccupyed, becauſe he lacks work. Mat. 20. 3, 6. Why ſtand ye here all day idle? Becauſe no man hath hired us. The former are idle voluntarily, but theſe latter neceſſarily.

3. Unprofitable, and which tendeth not unto edification, Mat. 12. 36.

Idleneſſe] The ſin of Sodome, Ezek. 16. 49 The decay of a houſe, Eccl. 10. 18.

Idol] Any image or viſible repreſentation of falſe or true God, though it be not worſhipped, nor made with any intention of worſhip. 1 Joh. 5. 21. Keep your ſelves from Idols. 2 Cor. 6. 16. What agreement hath the Temple of God with Idols? Deut. 4. 15. doth manifeſt the truth of this. For the Image which the Jews made of the true God, is condemned of God himſelf, Exod. 32. 8. and they that made it were puniſhed as Idolaters. 1 Cor. 10. 7. Neither be ye Idolaters, as were ſome of them, with whom God was not well pleaſed. 1 Cor. 10. 5. Finally, in the forenamed place of Deut. 4. 15. the onely making of an Image of God is preciſely forbidden; and learned Divines both affirm and prove, that both Scriptures and Fathers have indifferently uſed the word Idol and Image, for one and the ſelf-ſame thing. Witneſſe that one place of Tertullian (among many) upon thoſe words of 1 Joh. 5. 21. John (ſaith he) doth not write thus, Keep your ſelves from Idolatry; that is, from the ſervice of them: but from Idols; that is, from the very Image of them. It is therefore a dotage in Popery, to diſtinguiſh between Idol and Image, and to make the picture of a falſe god onely, to be an Idol.

Note: Papiſts call Idols which repreſent things which never were in being, or repreſenteth them in nature of a God: and Images, which repreſent things that had a true being, in whom they worſhip (as they ſay) the thing repreſented.

Alſo note, that Idol in Greek ſignifieth a figure or repreſentation, whence cometh the diminutive Idolon, which ſignifieth, a little form or faſhion: and therefore every little repreſentation or figure muſt be called an Idol. Tertull. lib. de Idololat. cap. 3. Images, which they call Idols, Tully 1. de Finibus.

2. Devils, Iſa. 19. 3.

They are ſet forth by abominations, lovers, ſilver, gold, ſtaffe, ciſterns that will hold no water, other gods, ſtrange gods, gods of gold, ſilver, braſſe, &c. vanities, &c. They are moſt vain, 2 King. 19. 18. Iſa. 37. 19. & 41. 22, 23, 29. Voyd of ſenſe and motion, neither ſpeaking, ſeeing, hearing, ſmelling, handling, walking, Pſal. 115. 5, 6, 7. They are of no power or efficacy, leſſe then nothing, Iſa. 41. 24. Nothing in the world, 1 Cor. 8. 4. & 10. 19. namely, with relation (not unto the matter thereof, which is gold, ſilver, &c. or object thereof, things in heaven or earth) unto their efficacy. Hence they are named אלילים, nothings, lies, vanities. Nor can they ſave or deliver their worſhippers in the time of trouble, Deut. 32. 37, 38. 1 Sam. 12. 21. Iſa. 45. 20. Hoſ. 8. 5. nor themſelves from theeves, Gen. 31. 19, 30. Judg. 18. 17, 18, 24. from enemies, Iſa. 46. 1, 2. Jer. 48. 7. & 49. 3. Hoſ. 10. 6. Iſa. 37. 19. They are not profitable, Hab. 2. 18. They muſt periſh, Iſa. 1. 31. & 2. 18. Jer. 8. 11, 15. They are hurtfull and pernicious, Exod. 23. 33. Deut. 7. 16. Joſh. 23. 13. Judg. 2. 3. They are filthy, abominable, deteſtable, &c.

Idol is nothing] The falſe and faigned gods of the Heathen. 1 Cor. 8. 4. An Idol is nothing. Gen. 31. 19, 30. An Idol to be as an empty and vain dream; not in reſpect of the matter whereof it is made, (for that is ſomething) or of the externall form, but in reſpect of the internall form which doth counterfeit and falſifie true things, making them ſeem to be what they are not. Alſo, in reſpect of the vain minde of the Idolater, who wickedly imagineth ſome divinity to be in the Idol, whereas there is but one true God in the world. Therefore worthily is an Idol ſaid to be nothing, being a falſe and lying ſigne,

ſigne, a very fiction, being nothing for ſignification, though ſomething for ſubſtance, a piece of wood, ſtone, &c. 1 Cor. 8. 4. An Idol ought to repreſent either God, which it cannot, he being unlike to any mortal thing: or Gods, which are none, for there is but one God.

Idolater] An Idol-worſhipper, who being forgetfull of God, Deut. 8. 19. and eſtranged from him, Ezek. 14. 15. loveth, ſerveth, walketh after, ſeeketh to, and worſhippeth Idols, Jer. 8. 2. inflameth himſelf with them, Iſa. 57. 5. is mad upon them, Jer. 50. 38. truſteth in them, Pſal. 115. 8. goeth a whoring after them, Ezek. 6. 9. ſetteth them up in his heart, Ezek. 14. 3, 4, 7. asketh counſell at them, Hoſ. 4. 12. lifteth up his eyes to them, Ezek. 18. 6, 12, 15. prayeth unto them, Iſa. 44. 17. his heart going after them, Ezek. 20. 16.

Idolatry] The worſhip or adoration of an Image, or of God, before, and by an Image. 1 Cor. 10. 7. Neither be Idolaters as they were. Deut. 5. 9. Thou ſhalt neither bow to them, nor ſerve them.

2. The making of any Image or likeneſſe of God, or of any creature in heaven or earth, for a religious end. Deut. 5. 8. Thou ſhalt not make to thy ſelfe any graven Image, or likeneſſe, &c. Gal. 5. 20. Idolatry, witchcraft, &c. 1 Cor. 6. 9. All worſhip of falſe gods, and falſe worſhip of the true God, is Idolatry.

3. All humane inventions thruſt into divine ſervice. Deut. 12. 32. Whatſoever I command you, that doe, put nothing thereto.

4. Setting the heart inordinately upon any creature, by fearing, loving, truſting in it more then in God, and above him. Thus is covetouſneſſe called Idolatry, Col. 3. 5. and Wantons make their belly their God, Phil. 3. 19. Eph. 5. 5. Here an Idolater is one addicted and bent to the ſervice of Idols.

5. The immoderate love unto, and diſtruſtfull care for the things of the world. Col. 3. 5. And covetouſneſſe, which is Idolatry.

Idumea] Red, earthy; or, bloody. A part of Arabia the ſtony; thus called from Edom or Eſau the Son of Iſaac, Gen. 25. 30.

J E.

Jealous] One grieved with ſuſpicion of diſhoneſty in the married yoke-fellow, with deſire of revenge. Thus are men jealous, and thus alſo is God ſaid to be jealous, when the marriage between him and his Church is violated and broken. Deut. 5. 9. For I the Lord thy God am a jealous God; that is, ſo grieved with Idolatry, that I ſtudy to revenge it.

2. One which ſeemeth to be much grieved for others, but it is out of a love to himſelfe, for his owne commodity ſake. Gal. 4. 17. They are jealous over you amiſſe. This he writeth of the falſe Apoſtles, who for their owne gain and credit did love the Galatians. Here jealous is taken in evill part, by a Metaphor or ſpeech borrowed from Wooers, who can abide no corrivals or companions in their love.

3. One which loveth others truely, not for lucre and glory to himſelfe, but for the benefit of the perſons loved. 2 Cor. 11. 2. I am jealous over you. Thus Paul and all godly Miniſters are jealous over their flock: here jealous is taken in good part.

Jealouſie] Grief for ſuſpicion of diſhoneſty in married yoke-fellows, Husbands or Wives. Numb. 5. 14. If he be moved with jealouſie, and be jealous of his wife.

2. An earneſt love of others, in reſpect of their welfare and good, joyned with great grief for their hurt. 2 Cor. 11. 2. With a godly jealouſie.

2. Hot diſpleaſure, and indignation of God. Pſal. 79. 5. Shall thy jealouſie burn like fire? 1 Cor. 10. 22.

Jehovah] An eternall selfe-being, one that hath his essence of himselfe, from everlasting: and is the cause of existence or being to all things and creatures, which are of him, by him, and for him. Exod. 6.3. But by my name Jehovah, was I not known to them. Act. 17.28. Rom. 11.v.last. The eternall God hath his being of himself, and gave being to all his creatures, promises and works. This word (Jehovah) is attributed to God the Son, and God the Father, Zech. 3.2. This is one of Gods chiefest names: the force of it is opened, Rev. 1.4,8. he giveth being to his promises and threatnings.

This word יהוה cometh of הוה, he was, and is the proper name of the onely true God, Exod. 15.3. Psal. 83.18. Isa. 42.8. & 48.2. Amos 5.8. & 9.6. which is tearmed his memoriall, Exod. 3.15. Hos. 12.5.

It signifieth, 1. That God hath his essence and existence of himselfe, Isa. 42.35, 36, 38.

2. That God giveth essence and existence unto all created things, Amos 5.8.

3. That God is true in his promises and threatnings, and maketh them really to be in their time, Exod. 6.2, 3, 6, 8, 29. Ezek. 6.13. & 7.27. & 11.10, 12. & 14.7, 8. It consists of four letters, י, ה, ו, ה, as for the most part it doth in all languages. Thus the Persians name is Σοφυ; the Arabians, Alla; the Assyrians, Adad; the Ægyptians, Θωυθ or Θωθ; the Grecians, Θεὸς; the Latines, Deus; the French, Dieu; the Spaniards, Dios; the Italians, Idio; the Germans, English, and Scots, Gott.

Hereof some yeeld this reason, for that the number of foure is a perfect number, and so hereby the perfection of God is noted.

Others, that God is he who created all things consisting of four elements.

Ravanell. Biblioth. Paraphrastically it is thus rendred, The blessed God said unto Moses, Say unto them, I who have been, and I the same now, and I the same to be, &c. or, I who am, and am to be, hath sent me unto you. Hence David, the Lord reigneth, (there's the time present) Psal. 97.1. The Lord King for ever and ever, Psal. 10.16. (there's the time past) The Lord shall reign for ever, (there's the time to come) Psal. 146.10. It implyes, that he is the first without beginning, and the last without end.

This the ancient Hebrews had in such reverence that they abstained from pronouncing it. It was by them styled, The great name, the glorious name, the appropriated name, the name separated or unfolded, &c. And in stead thereof they read אדני, Adonai.

The Septuagint render it by Κύριος; the Christian Church by Lord. Buxtorf. Lexic. in הוה. It differeth from Adonai, Lord; which is Gods name of his sustentation and dominion, whereas Jehovah is his name of existing and being; to which agreeth that name Ehieh, I am, (or will be) Exod. 3.14. and Jehovih, Gen. 15.2. and Jah, Exod. 15.2. Howbeit, the Greek version turneth Jehovah Lord, as well as Adonai: & the New Testament often followeth the same; as, The Lord said to my Lord, Mat. 22.44. for that which is in Hebrew, Jehovah said unto my Lord, Psal. 110.1. Many times they use God in stead of this name Jehovah, as 2 Sam. 7.3. comp. with 1 Chr. 17.2. 2 King. 11.10. comp. with 2 Chr. 23.9. Deut. 4.3. comp. with Matt. 4.4. Gen. 15.6. comp. with Rom. 4.13. Isa. 8.18. comp. with Heb. 2.13. Aynsworth on Gen. 2.4.

This name denoting his giving of being unto (that is, the performance of) his word and promises; in this respect it is said, Exo. 6.3. By my name Jehovah was I not known unto them: for they were sustained by faith in Gods Almighty power, without receiving the thing promised, Act. 7.5. Heb. 11.9,10. but now their children should receive the promise, and so have full knowledge and experience of Gods power and goodnesse, and of the efficacy of that his name Jehovah, which therefore they sung to his praise, upon their full deliverance from the Ægyptians, Exod. 15.3. So upon performance of further promises or judgements, he saith, They shall know him to be Jehovah, Isa. 49.23. & 52.6. & 60.16. Ezek. 28.22, 23, 24, 26. Aynsworth on Exod. 6.3.

The force of this name the Holy Ghost openeth by, He that is, that was, and will be, or is to come, Rev. 1.4, 8. & 4.8. & 11.17. & 16.5. And the form of the Hebrew name implyeth so much, Je being a signe of the time to come, Jeheveh he will be; Ho of the the time present, Hoveh he that is; and Vah of the time past, Havah he was.

Of this the Gentiles named the greatest god, Jove, and Jupiter, that is, Jah pater, of the ſhorter name Jah, mentioned, Pſal. 68. 5. And Varro (the learneſt of the Romanes) thought Jove to be the God of the Jews. Aynſworth on Pſal. 83. 19.

Jehovah Jireh] ſignifieth, the Lord will ſee, or provide, to note the ſpeciall providence of God in diſtreſſes: alſo, here the Scripture ſpeaketh figuratively (as it uſeth to doe in all Sacramentall things) becauſe it was a ſigne of Gods providence: ſo Altar is called Jehovah Niſſi, Exod. 17. 15. and Ieruſalem is called Iehovah Shamma.

Jesui] One of the Children of Ashur, of whom the family of the Jesuites, Numb. 26. 44.

Jesurun, or Jeshurun] That is, (as the Chaldee explains it) Israel; the Greek, beloved: So in Deut. 33.5, 26. where the Chaldee again translates it Israel; the Greek, beloved. And in Isa. 44. 2. Thou Jesurun, whom I have chosen; the Chaldee saith, Thou Israel; the Greek, Thou beloved Israel. It hath the name of Jasher, righteousnesse, as being a righteous people by calling, having Laws right and equall, if they had walked in them. Or, it may be derived of Shor, which is, to look, or see, because this people saw the glory of God at the giving of the Law. The same word Shor is also a bullock, which some think Moses here alludeth unto, as if Israel were waxed like a fat bullock which kicked. Aynsworth on Deut. 32. 15.

Jesus] A Saviour, one that saveth his people from their sins. Mat. 1. 21. He shall be called Jesus. It is a name of his benefits; to wit, salvation had by Christ. Also, it signifies the doctrine concerning Jesus, Act. 8.35. Thirdly, it signifies Josua, who brought Gods people into the promised Land, and was therein a type of Christ, Heb. 4. 8.

I. Some meer man called Jesus; as,

1. Josua, Heb. 4. 8. Act. 7. 45.
2. Jesus the Son of Iosedeck, Zach. 3. 1. Hag. 1. 12.
3. Jesus the Son of Sirach.

Jew inward] One, who is a Jew in truth, though he be not so by name or Nation. Rom. 2. 29. He is a Iew which is one within; that is to say, one who professeth himself to be one of Gods people, and is so indeed, and before God, in spirit and in heart, being faithfull and holy.

Jew outward] He that is a Jew by Nation, name, and profession onely. Rom. 2. 28. A Iew which is one outward.

Jews by nature] Such as were born Jews, by naturall generation coming of Jewish parents, who were Gods people. In this sense they are called naturall branches, Rom. 11. because they descended by birth of the holy Patriarchs, with whom God had made a covenant to take them for his people. Gal. 2. We who are Jews by nature.

Neither Jew nor Grecian] That God hath no regard of these circumstances and externall qualities, whether one be born a Jew or a Gentile, be free or bond, &c. But acknowledgeth for his children all which beleeve in his Son. Gal. 3. 28. There is neither Jew nor Grecian, &c.

Jewell] Taken 1. properly, for a precious and costly ornament, whether of gold or silver, Gen. 24. 53. Exod. 3. 22. Cunningly wrought, Numb. 31. 51. which the Jews offered unto the Lord, for the work of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and for all the service thereof, Exod. 35. 22. Which the Philistims returned with the Ark for a Trespasse-offering, 1 Sam. 6. 8. Wherewith the enemies that came against Jehosaphat were adorned, 2 Chr. 20. 25. Illuminated] Heb. 10. 32. that is, inlightened with the knowledge of Christ, having your eyes opened, and your mindes illustrated with the beams of divine light. Some here understand Baptisme, as also in Heb. 6. v. 4.

Illyricum] A making merry. A Countrey bordering upon Epirus, and nigh unto Italy. It was thus named from Illyricus the Son of Cadmus, who was so called ἀπὸ τῆς λύρας, of the harp. Hence Lyricen, Lyricus, an Harper. One that playeth on or singeth to the harp, Rom. 15. 19.

I M.

Image] Any shape or portraiture, drawn by Art, to represent something by it, for civill use: as Cæsar's Image was made to represent Cæsar. Matt. 22. 20. Whose Image or superscription is this? This is an artificiall Image made for civill respects; as, to distinguish Coins, or beautifie houses, and it is lawfull.

2. Some shape or picture made to the likenesse of God, or of some other creature, for divine worships sake. Exod. 20. 4. Thou shalt make thee no graven Image. Deut. 4. 15. This is a diabolicall Image, being made for Religion sake, and is unlawfull. Where such Images be, there is no Religion (saith a Father). The Scripture saith, that God spake with a voyce, but shewed no Image to his people of himself, Deut. 4.

3. All mens devices, commanded as Gods service, Exod. 20. 4. This is also superstition.

4. Our likenesse and resemblance of God in righteousnesse and true holinesse. After this Image Adam was created. Gen. 1. 26. Let us make man after our Image: And unto this are all the Elect restored again by Christ, Eph. 4. 24. This is a spirituall or celestiall Image; this likenesse shall be perfect at the day of resurrection, when Christ shall be manifest by his coming; then the godly shal see him as he is, and be like him, Psa. 17. last, 1 Joh. 3. 2.

5. Our likenesse and resemblance with God, in respect of rule and authority. 1 Cor. 11. 7. The man is the Image and glory of God. Hitherto of accidentary Images.

6. A reall, essentiall, true and lively expressing of the very substance of another: in this signification is Christ said to be the Image of God his Father, Col. 1. 15. Heb. 1. 3. Also, the Law is said, not to be the very Image of the things, Heb. 10. 1. And it is written of us, that As we have born the Image of the earthly, so we shall bear the Image of the heavenly man. 1 Cor. 15. 49. And the Revelation of St. John speaketh of the Image of the Beast, which all men shall adore, Rev. 14. 9. In all which places is meant the very things and substances themselves, or the solid and true existence of the things. These be essentiall Images, which have the substance of the things whereof they be called Images.

7. Any manner of resemblance whatsoever, lawfull or unlawfull, lively or painted, true or imaginary. Gen. 5. 3. He begat a childe in his own likenesse, after his own Image. Psal. 73. 20. Thou shalt make their Image despised. Where the word Image signifieth an imaginary vanishing shadow, to set forth the lightnesse and inconstancy of all earthly things, which seem and make shew to be the true goods and felicity it selfe, yet are nothing but a shadow or vain likenesse thereof: therefore by the Apostle are called a shape, fashion, or figure, 1 Cor. 7. 31. Rom. 12. 2.

It's taken 1. Essentially, as Christ is the Image of his Father, Heb. 1. 3. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Col. 1. 15.

2. Accidentally, respecting qualities spirituall and heavenly, Gen. 1. 26, 27.

3. Existentially, for the substance of the things whereof they be Images, Heb. 10. 1. 1 Cor. 15. 49.

4. Mystically, Rev. 13. 14, 15. & 14. 9, 11. & 15. 2. & 16. 2. & 19. 20. & 20. 4.

5. Representatively, by Gods ordinance, in rule and authority, 1 Cor. 7. 6.

6. Civilly, Mat. 22. 20.

7. Imaginarily, as in apparition, a vanishing shadow, Job 4. 16.

8. Figuratively, for mens persons walking in a vain shadow, Psal. 39. 6. or, for their transitory estate, Psal. 73. 20.

9. Idolatrously, when an Image is made either ther of the falſe God, as of Baal, 2 King. 3. 2. Rom. 11. 4. or, of the true God, which is forbidden, Exod. 20. 4. Deut. 16. 22. or, of the creatures, to worſhip them, Deut. 4. 16, 17, 18. where the ſame is alſo forbidden.

Of Images there were greater and leſſer, ſome carved, molten, graven, of gold, ſilver, wood, &c.

Image of God] Chriſt, in whom God is to be ſeen and beheld, as touching his ſubſtance and glorious properties; as a man is to be known by his image or picture. 2 Cor. 4. 4. Which is the image of God. This is a conſubſtantiall image, reſpecting eſſence and ſubſtance.

2. Dominion and perfect holineſſe. Gen. 1. 27. In the image of God created he him. This image is accidentall, reſpecting qualities.

3. Authority and power, which by Gods ordinance the man hath over his wife. 1 Cor. 11. 7. He is the image of God.

Gods image is in Man, and in Chriſt.

In Man, 1. by Creation; and ſo it is in all men even worſt men, in as much as there is in them an aptitude to know and conceive of God, &c.

2. By Re-creation; and ſo it is in holy men, that doe actually and habitually conceive of God, &c. but this is unperfectly.

3. By ſimilitude of glory; and ſo the bleſſed in heaven conceive of, and reſemble God, and that (in compariſon of the two former) perfectly.

Chriſt is the image of God, 1. in operation; becauſe it is he that worketh Gods image in us.

2. In apparition, becauſe he appeared for God to the Fathers in the old Law.

3. In Perſon; and that in both natures, both as God and Man.

For, the moſt perfect image of God is, Chriſt-God; the perfect image of God, is Chriſt-man. The unperfect image of God, is Man. He is the perfect image of God, as he is God, Phil. 2. 6. Heb. 1. 4. and this image is an infinite image, like the thing reſembled; and this image is the ſame in number, not in ſpecie onely, with the thing reſembled.

He is alſo the image of God as he is Man, 1 Tim. 3. 16. and that,

1. As the God-head dwels in Chriſt bodily; in reſpect of the unutterable preſence of the divine nature.

2. As by his miracles and great works he manifeſted his Divine nature, and ſhewed God in the world.

3. As his Humane nature is qualified with knowledge, righteouſneſſe, purity, and other gifts. For if man be Gods image in reſpect of this, Chriſt is ſo much more.

Chriſt then as he is God, is not onely the image of the inviſible image of God; but as man, he is the viſible image of the inviſible God. Byfield on Col. 1. 15. p. 110, 111.

How Chriſt is the image of God, how the Angels are Gods image, and how Man is Gods image, ſee further in Byfield on Col. 3. 10. p. 68, 69, 70.

Imagination] put for, The whole fiction. Whatſoever the heart firſt imagineth, formeth, purpoſeth, Gen. 6. 5. 1 Chr. 28. 9. Luk. 1. 51. For ſtubbornneſſe, Deut. 29. 19. marg. For reaſoning or the reluctancy of the underſtanding and will, 2 Cor. 10. 5. marg. For purpoſe, deſire, Gen. 6. 5. marg. For the will, 1 Chr. 29. 18.

Imagine] put for, To meditate, Pſal. 2. 1. marg. Intend, Pſal. 21. 11. Taken ſometime in good part, 1 Chr. 29. 18. But uſually in ill part, Gen. 11. 6. Pſal. 10. 2. Act. 4. 15. Being joyned with reproof, Job 6. 26. Wrongfully, Ibid. 21. 27. A vain thing, Pſal. 2. 1. Act. 4. 25. Deceit, Pſal. 38. 12. Miſchief, Pſal. 62. 3. Evill againſt the Lord, Nah. 1. 9, 11. Zach. 7. 10. & 8. 17. Devices, Pſal. 10. 2. A miſchievous device, Pſal. 21. 11.

To imbalme] Gen. 50. 1. This was done with Balme, Myrrhe, and other ſpices, that the dead bodies might not ſtink or putrefie, Joh. 19. 39, 40. So laying them as in a bed of ſweet odours, 2 Chr. 13. 14. And thus the ſolemnity at his buriall, was to do him honour at his death, 2 Chr. 32. 33. and to ſweeten his body for buriall in Canaan, beſide further myſterie of reſurrection and incorruption.

Imbrace] It's put for, Taking between ones arms in friendly meeting, Gen. 33. 4. or, departing, Act. 20. 1. To catch hold of, Job 24. 8. To receive with love, Prov. 4. 8. Heb. 11. 13. The act of uncleanneſſe, Prov. 5. 20. To conceive in the wombe, 2 King. 4. 16. The fruition and comfort of Chriſt ſpiritually, Cant. 2. 6. & 8. 3. To take reſt and eaſe, Lam. 4. 5.

Imbroiderer] Between the cunning Workman, mentioned Exod. 26. 1. marg. and the Imbroiderer, mentioned Exod. 35. 35. the Hebrew Doctors put this difference. Whereſoever it is ſaid in the Law, The work of the Imbroiderer; that is, when the figures which are made in the weaving are ſeen but on the one ſide; but The work of the cunning workman, that is, when the figures are ſeen on both ſides, before and after. Aynſworth on Exod. 26. 1.

26. 1. Imbroiderer, or Weaver with tinſell work. The imbroidery or cunnning workmanſhip was in the weaving; for of all the Prieſts garments, none was made of needlework, but of woven-work, Exod. 39. 22. 27.

Imlah] A repleniſhing; or, circumciſion. The Father of Micaiah, 1 King. 22. 8, 9. called Jimlah, in 2 Chr. 18. 7.

Immah] The Father of Kore, 2 Chron. 31. 14.

Immanuel] The ſtrong God with us, or God made fleſh, Iſa. 7. 14. Matt. 1. 23. Joh. 1. 14. The union of two natures in one perſon of our Redeemer, is noted in this word Immanuel. Alſo, his office is noted to be Mediator between God and Man, and Authour of all ſalvation for body and ſoule, both temporall and eternall, Iſa. 8 10.

Immediately] It's all one with, Forthwith, incontinently, in that very hour, in that very time, and is ſpoken of time, Mat. 24. 29. Of what may happen without interpoſition of any thing between, Mar. 4. 5. Luk. 5. 13. Act. 3. 7. Gal. 1. 16.

Immer] Saying, or ſpeaking; or, after the Syrian, a Lamb. The Father of Meſhillemith, 1 Chr. 9. 12. One to whom the ſixteenth lot befell, 1 Chr. 24. 14. A Prieſt, Ezr. 2. 36, 37. Another, who could not ſhew his pedegree, Ibid. 59. The Father of Hanani, and Zebadiah, Ezr. 10. 20. The Father of Zadok, Neh. 3. 29. The Father of Paſhur, Jer. 20. 1.

Immortall] That which is not capable of death, or ſubject to die.

2. An ever-during Nature, which is ſo of it ſelf, without poſſibility of periſhing or dying. 1 Tim. 1. 17. To God, immortall, onely wiſe. Thus is God onely immortall.

3. That, which being once dead, ſhall riſe again never to dye more, as mens bodies. 1 Cor. 15. 53. Mortality muſt put on Immortality.

4. That which ſhall never have end, though it have a beginning; as Angels, and mens ſouls; of which though it be not in expreſſe words ſaid in Scripture, that they be Immortall, yet innumerable places by good conſequence prove them to be ſo, as 1 Cor. 15. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 1. Luk. 16. 22, 23, 24, &c.

Some thing may be called Immortall foure wayes.

Firſt, that which ſimply and every way is incorruptible, as God, 1 Tim. 1. 16.

Secondly, that which is incorruptible according to the ſubſtance and perfection of nature, either being ſevered wholly, or not derived at all out of any matter, which is uſually the root of corruption. Thus Angels and Souls be immortall.

Thirdly, that which in its owne nature is corruptible, yet by ſpeciall divine ordinance is preſerved from corruption. Thus bodies of Saints in heaven, and of reprobates in hell after the reſurrection, be immortall; the one by Grace, the other by Juſtice.

Fourthly, that which ſo hath poſſibility to corrupt and die, that it might not actually corrupt by the Creators gift, and upon ſuppoſition of not ſinning: ſo Adams body before the Fall was immortall, that is, had power not to dye; as after his Fall it was under neceſſity of death, and could not but dye.

Immortality] Such an eſtate and condition, wherein death hath no place nor power. 1 Cor. 15. 54. When mortall hath put on immortality, then death ſhall be ſwallowed up into victory.

Immutable] Spoken of God, Heb. 6. 18. and of his Counſell, Ibid. 17. who is the ſame for ever, Pſal. 102. 27. changeth not, Mal. 3. 6. is unchangeable, Heb. 7. 24. with whom no ſhadow of turning, Jam. 1. 17.

Imna] The Son of Helem, 1 Chr. 7. 35.

Imnah] The Son of Aſher, Ibid. 7. 30.

Impart] The Originall μεταδίδωμι, is rendred in Rom. 12. 8. by give, in Epheſ. 4. marg. by diſtribute. It's ſpoken of a work of Charity, Luk. 3. 11. of a duty by office, Rom. 1. 11. 1 Theſ. 2. 8.

Impediment] Had an impediment in his ſpeech, Mar. 7. 32. that is, did ſtammer, ſtutter, could not ſpeak well, but with much difficulty pronounce his words. The Originall μογιλάλος, is uſually taken for a trifler, vain-talker. Leigh Annot.

Impenitent] That cannot, or knoweth not how to repent, Rom. 2. 5.

Imperious] Ezek. 16. 30. bearing rule or ſway, having the dominion or power in her owne hand, being in the exerciſe thereof obſtinate, head-hardy.

Implacable] Rom. 1. 31. Unappeaſable, whoſe malice admits no tearms of truce, much leſſe of hearty reconcilement, haters of peace, wholly for war. Such as will never be reconciled, or pacified, when they are once moved, or have taken any quarrell in hand; intractable, without friendſhip or peace, who being once offended, will never be reconciled again, will admit of no league, covenant.

Implead] Act. 19. 38. The Originall ἐγκαλέω, ſignifieth properly, To call one into Law, to enter action or ſuit againſt him in ſome open Court, to indite him, to accuſe him with ſome evil, and charge him with ſome crime before a Judge, as Act. 23. 28, 29. & 26. 7. Rom. 8. 33.

Importunity] Continuance or conſtancy in prayer, when we pray and faint not. Luk. 11. 8. Yet doubtleſſe becauſe of his importunity, he will give him what he needeth. Example of this importunity is in Luk. 18. 2, 3, 4, &c. The poor widow.

Impoſed] Heb. 9. 10. The Originall ἐπίκειμαι, is rendred in Luk. 5. 1. preſſed, Luk. 23. 23. To be inſtant, Joh. 11. 38. To lie upon, 1 Cor. 9. 16. or lie on, Act. 27. 20. It noteth ſuch an impoſition as is with preſſure.

Impoſition of hands, or laying on of hands] Putting on of hands, which is an ancient ceremony uſed of the Jews in two caſes, one in conſecrating publick Sacrifices, as alſo Prieſts and Levites, to declare ſuch to be offered to God. Lev. 4. 4. And ſecondly, in ſolemne benedictions and prayers. Gen. 48. 14, 17, 20. Jacob put his hands upon Manaſſes and Ephraim, and prayed for them. It was continued under the Goſpel by Chriſt and his Apoſtles in time of prayer, and beſtowing ſpirituall graces. Alſo, in time of admitting Church officers, Miniſters, and Deacons. Mat. 19. 15. Chriſt put his hands on little children, and prayed. Act. 6. 6. The Apoſtles prayed, and laid their hands on the Deacons. Act. 8. 17, 18. Then they laid their hands on them, and they received the holy Ghoſt; and by a Metonymie of the ſigne, it doth ſignifie the whole Miniſtery of the Church, and the order of Church-government. Heb. 6. 2. The doctrine of Baptiſme, and Impoſition of hands. Touching the Papiſts Impoſition of hands, in the Sacrament of Order (as they call it) there is no ground for it in the whole Scripture.

Impoſſible] 1. That which cannot be done or brought to paſſe, through the want of ſtrength and power, Exod. 8. 18. Pſal. 139. 6. Jer. 13. 23. Mat. 7. 18. Therefore, what is with men unpoſſible, with God is poſſible, Mat. 19. 26. For with God nothing ſhall be impoſſible, Luk. 1. 37. Unto him all things are poſſible, Mar. 14. 36. And there is nothing impoſſible unto a Beleever, Mat. 17. 20. but all things are poſſible, Mar. 9. 23.

2. That which is not voluntary, or what one may doe, but will not, Gen. 34. 14. Pſal. 101. 4. Mat. 16. 3. comp. with Luk. 12. 56.

3. That which cometh not eaſily to paſſe, or very rarely, Matth. 5. 14. Mar. 9. 29, 39. Joh. 7. 7. And ſo that may be ſaid to be impoſſible, which cannot be done without great difficulty and danger, Joſh. 15. 63. & 17. 12. 2 Sam. 17. 17. which through danger none durſt undertake. That alſo which is unuſuall, Gal. 4. 15. Gen. 43. 22. Iſa. 49. 15. Joh. 5. 19.

4. Which cannot be done by reaſon of immutability of Gods counſell and decree, Gen. 19. 22. And ſo it was not poſſibly that the Cup ſhould paſſe from Chriſt, Mat. 26. 39. 42. It is not poſſible that the Elect ſhould be deceived, Mat. 24. 24. And, without faith it is impoſſible to pleaſe God, Heb. 11. 6.

5. That which cannot in any wiſe and abſolutely be, or befall, Act. 2. 24. 2 Tim. 2. 13. Heb. 6. 18.

6. That which is not convenient, juſt, or lawfull to be done, or which ought not to be done, Mat. 9. 15. Act. 10. 47. & 25. 11. 1 Cor. 10. 21. & 12. 21. 2 Cor. 13. 8. Gen. 34. 14. Numb. 22. 18. & 24. 13. And ſo that is impoſſible which is not expedient or profitable, 1 Cor. 3. 1. Which cannot be done without great trouble, and no leſſe detriment, Luk. 11. 7. Joh. 6. 60. Gal. 4. 15. Which cannot be done without the breach of Gods commandement, Gen. 19. 22.

Impotent] Joſh. 5. 3. 7. Act. 4. 9. The Originall ἀσθενὴς, is alſo rendred in Matth. 25. 39. ſick. Mat. 26. 41. weak. Act. 5. 16. ſick folks. Rom. 5. 6. without ſtrength. 1 Cor. 1. 27. the weak things. 1 Cor. 12. 22. feeble. 1 Theſſ. 5. 14. feeble minded.

It ſignifieth one that is of ſmall ſtrength, or ſtrengthleſſe, as the Greek word (derived of ἀ privat. & σθένω, ſtrength) importeth. Sometime it ſignifieth that which is ſo weak that it hath no ſtrength, 1 Cor. 15. 43. Rom. 5. 6. & 8. 3. Heb. 7. 18. The Law could bring nothing to perfection, Ibid. 19. And the Originall ἀσθενέω, ſignifieth, to be ſick, weak, languiſh, Mat. 10. 8. Mar. 6. 56. to be diſeaſed, Joh. 6. 2.

Impotent in his feet, Act. 14. 8. ἀδύνατος τοῖς ποσὶν, who being a creeple, could not uſe his feet, ſtand, walk, run, leap, &c.

Impoteriſh] is all one with make poor, thruſt out of poſſeſſion, Jer. 5. 17.

Impudent] One that hardeneth his face, Prov. 21. 29. hath an whoriſh forehead, Jerem. 3. 3. refuſeth to be aſhamed, Ibid. cannot bluſh, is not aſhamed, Jer.

Jer. 6. 15. See Prov. 7. 13. Ezek. 2. 4. & 3. 7.

Impute] put for, To ſuſpect, 1 Sam. 22. 15. To lay to ones charge, 2 Sam. 19. 19. To profit, be acceptable, Jer. 7. 18. To be held guilty, Lev. 17. 4. To take one thing for another, Numb. 18. 27. Gen. 15. 6. Rom. 4. 22. To aſcribe, Pſa. 32. 2. 2 Cor. 5. 19.

Imputation] Accounting, reckoning and allowing ſome things to others, of favour; as Merchants, who doe not put the debt in their reckoning which they will forgive. Whatſoever cometh of Imputation, proceedeth of the meer mercy, and of him that imputeth; and is not given in reward, after proportion of duty or debt. For no man imputeth to another that which is duly owing unto him.

2. An action of God, freely accounting the righteouſneſſe of Chriſt to be his righteouſneſſe who beleeves in Chriſt. Rom. 4. 3, 4. And it was imputed (or accounted) to him for righteouſneſſe. In Rom. 4. this word [Imputed] derided by Popiſh Hereticks, is ſeven times repeated in the doctrine of Juſtification, and is joyned unto Faith; without which there is no imputation of Chriſts Juſtice to us, Rom. 4. 23. Our ſins and puniſhments were imputed to Chriſt (who bare our ſins in his body, and was made ſin for us, 1 Pet. 2. verſ. laſt.) And his righteouſneſſe with the merit thereof (even eternall bliſſe) is imputed and accounted to all beleevers; whence ariſeth juſtification of a ſinner before God. 2 Cor. 5. v. laſt. He that knew no ſin was made ſin for us, that we might be made the righteouſneſſe of God in him. Not our righteouſneſſe, but the righteouſneſſe of God; not in us, but in him (ſaith an ancient Father.)

The Papiſts ſcoffing at this moſt neceſſary and divine action of imputing righteouſneſſe so faith apprehending Chriſt, calling it in their Notes printed at Rhemes, a New-no-juſtice, an untrue imputation, an imaginary thing, a putative righteouſneſſe, a fantaſticall apprehenſion: In theſe and ſuch like taunts, they utter ſo many blaſphemies againſt heaven, and all to maintain and eſtabliſh their owne righteouſneſſe of Works, done after faith.

To impute (as ſome deſcribe it) is to aſcribe or account unto another that which he hath not, or that which he did not; and not to impute, it ſignifieth, not to account or aſcribe and lay to one that which he hath or doth. According to this interpretation, God in juſtifying elect ſinners, imputeth to his own Son ſins and miſeries which he never had or did. And unto ſinners he imputeth, or accounteth not (but forgiveth) ſins and puniſhment, which they had and did; and imputeth righteouſneſſe (even the whole obedience of Chriſt) which they have not of their own, yet ſo accounteth it to them, as if by themſelves it had been done, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Rom. 4. 5. Rom. 3. 24. & 4. 6. & 15. 19. Iſa. 53. 12.

Note. Imputation being properly uſed, noteth a righteouſneſſe by grace and acceptation; but improperly, when it is joyned with other words, as Rom. 4. 4. 1 Cor. 4. 1. then it ſignifieth deſert and debt, quite contrary to his naturall ſignification, even as the word Profane ſoundeth a foul and damnable thing, but not ſo in Matt. 22. 5.

There is a double imputation.

I. Of ſin, and this threefold.

1. Of Adams ſin unto us his poſterity, Rom. 5. 13, 14, 15, 16, 17, 18, 19. 1 Cor. 15. 22.

2. Of his and ours together unto Chriſt, 2 Cor. 5. 21. 1 Pet. 2. 24.

3. Of every mans to and for himſelfe, Act. 7. 59.

II. Of righteouſneſſe, threefold.

1. Of Chriſts paſſive obedience or ſatiſfaction to his Father for mankinde, 2 Cor. 5. 21. Rom. 3. 22, 24, 25, 26, 28. & 4. 3, 4, 22. & 5. 15, 17, &c. 1 Cor. 15. 22. to which ſome adde the Active righteouſneſſe of Chriſt.

But this is made a queſtion.

This is imputed to penitent ſinners.

2. Of one mans goodneſſe or holineſſe to another, which ſeemeth probable by theſe places (beſides the common opinion of the Fathers) Matth. 9. 2. 1 Cor. 7. 14. Gen. 18. 26, 28, 29, &c. Gen. 39. 5. 23. Act. 28. 34.

Yet this is onely for this life. Elſe it ſhall be as Luk. 17. 34, 35.

3. Of every mans owne to himſelfe, Gen. 15. 6. Jam. 2. 23. Pſa. 106. 31.

Imrah] A rebell, waxing bitter; or changing. The Son of Zophah, 1 Chr. 7. 36.

Imri] Saying, or ſpeaking, exalting, or bitter; or after the Syrian, a Lamb. The Son of Bani, 1 Chr. 9. 4. The Father of Zaccur, Neh. 3. 2.

I N.

In] By, or through. 1 Cor. 14. 2. Speak in the Spirit; that is, by the inſpiration of the Spirit. 1 Cor. 15. 22. In Chriſt all ſhall be made alive; that is, by Chriſt. 2 Cor. 3. 16. In him; that is, by him, or by his virtue we live, Act. 17. 28.

2. Againſt. Gen. 4. 23. I have ſlain a man in my wound; that is, againſt my ſelfe, and to my own hurt.

3. To. 1 Theſ. 4. 7. God hath called you in holineſſe; that is, unto holineſſe. Eph. 2. 10. Created of God in good works; that is, unto good workes. Jam. 5. 3. and very often elſewhere.

4. Out of. Exod. 31. 4. To work in gold, in ſilver, and in braſſe.

5. Of, or concerning. Rom. 5. 12. We rejoyce in the Lord; that is, concerning the Lord.

6. With, or together with. Matt. 16. 27. The Son of man ſhall come in the glory of his Father; that is, together with his owne and his Fathers glory.

7. As. Mat. 19. 41. He that ſhal receive a Prophet in the name of a Prophet; that is, as a Prophet, becauſe he is ſo.

8. From. Col. 3. 16. Sing in your hearts; from your hearts, or heartily.

9. Before. Joh. 1. 1. In the beginning was the Word; that is, before the beginning.

10. For. 1 Cor. 1. 4. I thank God for the grace given you in Chriſt; that is, for and by Chriſt, Eph. 1. 1.

11. Upon. Joh. 14. 1. Ye beleeve in God, beleeve alſo in me; that is, upon me.

12. After. Exod. 2. 23. Numb. 28. 26. Mar. 13. 24. with Matth. 24. 29. Dan. 2. 24.

This prepoſition In, is 1. The note of an action, or prefixed unto an action of the Creator, or creature, Deut. 2. 7. & 14. 29. Judg. 3. 22. 2 Chron. 20. 32. Col. 2. 7. & 4. 12.

2. Of the adjunct and manner, Gen. 3. 16. 19. Exod. 15. 6. Numb. 12. 5, 6.

3. Of the agent, or efficient, Judg. 9. 24. Pſal. 36. 9. Prov. 16. 15.

4. Of gathering together, Rom. 8. 1. & 12. 4, 5. 1 Cor. 1. 30.

5. Of propinquity of time and place, 2 Chr. 20. 5, 14. & 30. 12, 25. & 34. 42. Col. 1. 6, 18, 27.

6. Of condition and ſtate, Gen. 19. 15. 2 Chr. 18. 3. Pſal. 1. 1. Phil. 1. 22.

7. Of diſtinction, Gen. 2. 10. Deut. 19. 3. Mar. 15. 38.

8. Of the effect or term into which, Pſal. 7. 6. & 4. 8. 1 Joh. 3. 10. & 4. 9.

9. Of the end, 1 Cor. 8. 6.

10. Of the inſtrument, Gen. 40. 17. & 44. 5. 2 Cor. 13. 3.

11. Of the place, Gen. 3. 8. 2 King. 1. 2. Pſal. 77. 18, 19. Act. 4. 24.

12. Of the object in which, unto which, and againſt which, Geneſ. 7. 22. & 12. 3. Pſal. 1. 2. & 2. 12. 1 Cor. 16. 13. Gal. 5. 10.

13. Of power, ſubjection, calling, or commiſſion, Gen. 16. 6. Rom. 7. 23.

14. Of ſimilitude, Pſal. 39. 6. Rom. 8. 3.

15. Of the ſubject, Gen. 9. 13, 14. Gen. 17. 7, 13. Gal. 4. 19. Col. 3. 16.

16. Of time, Gen. 10. 25. & 15. 18. Pſa. 1. 3. 2 Tim. 3. 1.

17. Of the bearer and ſuſtainer, Gen. 8. 11. Exod. 4. 20. Pſal. 75. 8.

18. The matter in which, Gen. 49. 11. Exod. 12. 22.

19. Preſence, Gen. 39. 21. Matth. 21. 42. 1 Cor. 1. 29.

20. Of the ſeat, or ſituation, and ſo it is rendered upon Numb. 16. 4, 22. Judg. 16. 19.

Babes in Chriſt] Such as be babes or infants in reſpect of growth in Chriſtianity, 1 Cor. 3. 1.

To beleeve in Chriſt] To put our whole confidence in him for ſalvation, by which he is proved to be God, Joh. 14. 1.

In Chriſt] As touching Chriſt and Chriſtianity. Gal. 6. 15. For in Chriſt Jeſus, neither circumciſion availeth any thing. 1 Cor. 4. 15. I have begotten you in Chriſt.

2. In the preaching and publiſhing the doctrine of Chriſt. Rom. 16. 9. Salute Urbanus our fellow helper in Chriſt; that is, in the matters of Chriſt.

3. A member of Chriſt, one linked unto and graffed into Chriſt by faith. Rom. 8. 1. To them which are in Chriſt.

4. Chriſt to be an head, who himſelfe hath all ſpirituall gifts moſt fully, not in meaſure given him: which he doth communicate to all his members, Eph. 1. 3.

Churches in Chriſt] Chriſtian Churches, Gal. 1. 21. 1 Theſ. 2. 14. So, Brethren in Chriſt, Saints in Chriſt, and in Chriſt before me, that is, a Chriſtian before me; and conſolation in Chriſt, Phil. 2. 1.

In the Lord] For the Lords ſake, or in his cauſe, Rom. 16. 12.

2. A beleever or faithful perſon. Rom. 16. 13. Rufus choſen in the Lord. It is the force of faith to incorporate into Chriſt, that a choſen perſon may be in him, as a branch in the tree.

In love] Charity and love to God and men, to be the ſpring and beginning of an holy and unblameable life, Eph. 1. 4.

In ſins and treſpaſſes] One covered and overwhelmed in ſin, as one that is drowned in the water. Eph. 2. 1. Dead in treſpaſſes and ſins.

In the Spirit] Spirituall, regenerate by the Spirit unto a new life. Rom. 8. 9. Ye are in the Spirit.

In Spirit and truth] Spiritually and truly, by the unfaigned and true motion of a ſanctified heart. Joh. 4. 24. Worſhip him in ſpirit and in truth.

In thee] In Chriſt, which ſhall be born of thee Abraham according to the fleſh, as Mat. 1. 1. Son of David, Son of Abraham. Gal. 3. 8 In thee ſhall all Nations be bleſſed. See v. 14. that the bleſſing of Abraham (firſt promiſed to Abraham) might come to the Gentiles through Jeſus Chriſt: where note a double fruit by the obedience and death of Chriſt to beleevers.

1. Deliverance from the curſe of the Law.

2. The bleſſing promiſed to Abraham; that is, Life eternall.

In them] By their faith, confeſſion, preathing, good life, and miracles wrought by the Apoſtles, who by all theſe means gain glory and praiſe to Chriſt. But much more after his reſurrection, when the holy Ghoſt was viſibly and plentifully poured on them. Joh. 17. 10. I am glorified in them.

Inable] 1 Tim. 1. 12. The originall ἐνδυναμόω, ſignifieth alſo, To increaſe in ſtrength, Act. 9. 22. To be ſtrong, Rom. 4. 20. To ſtrengthen, 2 Tim. 4. 17. To be made ſtrong, Heb. 11. 34.

It ſignifieth not to increaſe weak force, or uphold them being decayed, but to beſtow ſtrength on him who hath no will or deſire to it, but is rather wholly ſet on the contrary.

In as much] is all one with, As much as, In ſo much as, For ſo much as, and denoteth the reaſon of a thing, Deut. 19. 6. Ruth 3. 10. Mat. 25. 40, 45.

Incenſe] A perfume, which was a conſection of ſweet ſpices, made after the art of the Apothecary, pure and holy; and was by the Prieſts burned upon the golden Altar every morning before the Lord, Exod. 30. 34, 35.

2. The prayers of the Saints, acceptable to God, through Chriſts mediation. Pſal. 141. 2. Rev. 8. 3. A Metaphor.

3. Whereas none might make this perfume, Exod. 30. 37, 38. it ſignifies that holy things muſt not either of neceſſity or pleaſure be turned to private uſe.

Incenſe ſhall be offered, and a pure offering] That in the dayes of Chriſt (whereof this is a prediction) the ſpirituall worſhip of God ſhould be every where among the Gentiles lawfully eſtabliſhed and practiſed, Mal. 1. 11. Had the Papiſts conſidered how uſuall it is with the Prophets under legall types and ſhadows to teach and foretel Evangelicall worſhip and graces, they would not ſo groſſely from this pure oblation here mentioned, have collected their moſt impure Maſſe, whoſe marrow bones cannot be found either in New or Old Teſtameent, as being like a Beggers cloak patched together by ſundry Popes in the corrupteſt times. With as good reaſon, may Incenſe, Levites, Ark, Tabernacle, &c. and all other Ceremonies of the Law be brought in, as Prieſts, Altars, and Sacrifice of the Maſſe.

Incenſed] Iſa. 41. 11. & 45. 24. that is, inraged, kindled, inflamed with wrath.

Inchanter] An obſerver of fortunes. One that curiouſly ſearcheth, obſerveth, and telleth ſignes of good or evill luck, which are learned by experience. As if one ſhould ſay: Becauſe the morſell of bread is faln out of my mouth, or my ſtaffe out of my hand, I will not goe to ſuch a place this day, for if I goe I ſhall not ſpeed with my buſineſſe. Becauſe a Fox paſſed on my right hand, I will not goe out of my houſe this day, for if I goe, ſome deceitfull man will meet with me. And ſo if men hear the chattering of a Bird, and ſay, it ſhall be ſo or not ſo, it is good to doe ſuch a thing, or naught to doe ſuch a thing, &c. Aynſworth on Deut. 18. 10.

One that with legerdemaine deceiveth or deludeth the eye-ſight, Jer. 27. 9. ſo did the Magicians of Ægypt, Exod. 7. 11. Their inchantments were ſecret ſleights, jugglings. The word hath the ſignification of ſecret and cloſe conveyance, or of gliſtering like the flame of a fire or ſword, (as Gen. 3. 24.) wherewith mens eyes are dazled. The miracles done by Moſes were in truth, but theirs by ſleight or ſorcery. Idem on Exod. 7. 11.

This ſin was common among the Heathens, practiſed of the wiſeſt, Numb. 24. 1. 1 King. 20. 33. and is ſpread into Iſrael, 2 King. 17. 17. 2 Chron. 33. 6. Yet was it plainly forbidden in Gods law, Deut. 18. 10. Lev. 19. 26. But their practiſes are ridiculous, unprofitable, to no purpoſe, Num. 23. 23. Iſa. 47. 12. The Serpent which is not charmed, will bite and ſting the Paſſenger, Eccl. 10. 11. The Inchanter doth what he can to bite and ſting Gods people, but in vain.

Incomprehenſible] One greater then heaven and earth, whom the world cannot contain, nor mens wit conceive him as he is, Pſal. 145. 3.

Incontinency] An unableneſſe to keep himſelf chaſte in ſingle life, or in the eſtate of marriage. 1 Cor. 7. 5. Leſt Satan tempt you to incontinency.

Incorruptible God] God to be of himſelf free from all corruption and change, whereas the ſouls of men and Angels be incorruptible; but that is by the will of God, and not originally, as God is from himſelfe, Rom. 1. 23.

Incorruptible Crown] Immortall and never periſhing glory.

Incorruption] The quality of bodies after the reſurrection, being no more ſubject to rottenneſſe and corruption. 1 Cor. 15. 35. Till corruption put on incorruption. 1 Cor. 15. 50. An incorruptible nature or eſtate.

Increaſe] put for the profit which cometh of the earth, Deut. 32. 13. Prov. 14. 4. Increment and overplus, as is mentioned with uſury, Lev. 25. 36, 37. Multiplication, Num. 32. 14. Growth, Eph. 4. 16.

The increaſe of God, Col. 2. 19. that is, in the graces of God, till it come to a full ſtature.

This increaſe of the Church is,

1. In the number of parts or members, ſome being daily added to the Church.

2. In the powerfull uſe of the meanes of ſalvation.

3. In grace; as knowledge, and the like.

4. In practiſe of holy duties.

5. In the ſtrength of Chriſt, and it is the increaſing of God.

Firſt, in reſpect of kinde, it is not a thriving in eſtate, or temporall things, but in the things of God.

Secondly, as he is the efficient cauſe of it, God onely is the authour of all holy increaſe.

Thirdly, in regard of the worth of the matter, it is a Divine thing to increaſe.

Fourthly, in reſpect of the end, it tends to Gods glory. Byfield on Col. 2. 19.

To increaſe] To be of greater eſtimation and authority among men. Joh. 3. 30. He muſt increaſe. Alſo Chriſt increaſeth, when the knowledge, faith, and love of him is more and more kindled in the heart.

2. To have his deity, majeſty, power and grace, more and more manifeſted, Luk. 2. v. laſt.

3. To profit in faith and godlineſſe, Col. 1. 10.

4. To add more, Judg. 9. 29. Hoſ. 12. 1.

5. To multiply, 1 Chr. 27. 23. or augment, Pſal. 44. 12.

6. To make greater, Ezr. 10. 10.

7. To grow, Pſal. 73. 12. 1 Theſſ. 3. 12.

8. To ſtrengthen and enlarge, Luk. 17. 5.

9. To make profitable and fruitfull, 1 Cor. 3. 6, 7.

10. To ſwell up, Gen. 7. 17.

11. To be more and more manifeſt, Luk. 2. 52.

Incredible] Taken for that which is impoſſible, ſo was the reſurrection from the dead judged of ſome, Act. 26. 8.

Incurable] It's ſpoken of a Diſeaſe, 2 Chr. 21. 18. Wound, Job 34. 6. Bruiſe, Jer. 30. 12. Sorrow, Ibid. 15.

It's put either for that which cannot be healed, 2 Chr. 21. 18. or for that which is very hardly to be cured, Jer. 30. 12.

Indanger] is, To expoſe ones ſelfe to perill or danger, Dan. 1. 10.

Indebted] Luk. 11. 4. that is, Hath wronged; offended, ſinned againſt us; for what elſe is ſin, but a certain debt, whereby we binde our ſelves, and muſt one day give an account for, unleſſe it be blotted out with the tears of true repentance. Glaſſ. Philolog. ſac. p. 298.

Indeed] is all one with, Truely, verily, aſſuredly, certainly, Gen. 17. 19. Mat. 3. 11. Luk. 24. 34.

India] In Hebrew Hodu; that is, a praiſing, or confeſſing; or comely, or fair. A large Countrey, and a rich, containing the third part of Aſia, whereof mention is made, Eſt. 1. 1. & 8. 9. It was given by the Romans unto Eumenes, together with the Countries of the Medes and Lydians, being before that time in ſubjection unto Antiochus.

Indifferent] Something which is neither commanded of God, nor forbid, but of a middle nature; being in it ſelfe neither good nor evill, and may be changed according to circumſtances of time, and perſons, and places: as, to eat this or that meat, to wear this or that apparell, to have religious meetings at ſuch a time, in ſuch a place, and divers other things which belong to the outward adminiſtration of the Word and Sacraments. Wherein yet nothing muſt be appointed to be done contrary to order, comelineſſe, or edification. See Rom. 14. 1 Cor. 14. throughout. Where though this word Indifferent be not found at all, yet the matter it ſelfe ſignified by it, and the rules to direct us about things things that be indifferent, are there to be found.

Learned Divines affirm (as Illyricus and others) that things indifferent, that be of a middle nature, ceaſe to be ſuch, when any of theſe conditions following are annexed unto them:

1. Compulſion.
2. Opinion of worſhip, neceſſity or merit.
3. Scandall and offence.
4. Entrance, and occaſion of abuſe, or Idolatry.
5. Any hindrance to truth or edification, or obſcuring and darkening of religion and piety by them, though they ſhould containe no other evill in them.

A conformity and through agreement amongſt all Chriſtian Churches, in outward Rites and Ceremonies, is neither neceſſary nor poſſible, becauſe of the great differences of places, people, and times.

Things indifferent muſt be,

1. Expedient as well as lawfull, 1 Cor. 6. 12.
2. Muſt make for peace, Rom. 14. 19.
3. Not offend, nor be a ſtumbling block to the weak, Rom. 14. 21. 1 Cor. 8. 9, 13.
4. Done decently and in order, 1 Cor. 14. 40. that is, agreeable to the pure worſhip of God, without confuſion.
5. To edifie, 1 Cor. 10. 23. Rom. 14. 19.
6. In charity, Rom. 14. 15.
7. To Gods glory, 1 Cor. 10. 31.

Indignation] put for Envy, Act. 5. 17. Plague and puniſhment, Iſa. 26. 20. Jer. 10. 10. Ezek. 21. 31. Godly anger and heat of ſpirit, Jer. 15. 17.

Staffe of indignation] The Aſſyrians, whom God in his anger againſt Iſrael and Judah, would ſtrengthen, and by the ſecret motion of his providence, ſtir up and direct to execute his vengeance upon thoſe hypocriticall people, againſt whom for their counterfeit worſhip and other ſins his wrath was kindled, therefore called the people of his anger. Iſa. 10. 5, 6. Though the Staffe of mine indignation be in their hand. Or, the Aſſyrians, as Tremellius expounds it, may be termed the ſtaff of his indignation, becauſe God would puniſh their pride and cruelty, when by them (as a ſtaffe or rod) he hath chaſtiſed his children; as Fathers caſt the rod in the fire, when therewith they have corrected their Sons. This ſenſe may well ſtand with that which follows in v. 7.

Inditing] Heb. Boyleth, or bubleth up. Pſal. 45. 1. Boyleth as in a frying-pan; that is, hath ſtudyed and prepared by fervent meditation. A ſimilitude taken from the Mincah, or meat-offering in the Law, which was dreſſed in the frying-pan, Heb. 7. 9. and there boyled in oyl, being made of fine flower unleavened, mingled with oyl, Lev. 2. 5. and after was preſented to the Lord, by the Prieſt, Ib. 8. Here the matter of this Pſa. is as the Mincah or oblation, which with the oyl, the grace of the Spirit, was boyled and prepared in the Prophets heart, and now preſented. This word is not elſewhere read in the Scripture. Aynſworth on Pſal. 45. 2.

Indued] To beſtow upon, Gen. 30. 20. To be knowing, 2 Chr. 2. 12, 13. To be cloathed with, or have on as a garment, Luk. 24. 49. Underſtanding, Jam. 3. 13.

Induſtrious] 1 King. 11. 28. that is, did work, marg. or, was meet, apt for work.

Inexcuſable] Ἀναπολόγητος, Without apology, Rom. 2. 1. Without excuſe, Rom. 1. 20. Thou canſt not pretend any excuſe why Gods judgements ſhould not as wel ſeiſe upon thee as upon others.

Infallible proofes] Act. 1. 3. Τεκμήριον, ſignifieth a certain and undoubted ſigne, (as to ſpeak, walk, eat, drink, are evident ſignes of life; the Apoſtles ſeeing and handling Chriſt with their hands, evident ſignes of his true and naturall body; the prints of the nails in his hands and feet, and of the ſpear in his ſide, evident ſignes that the ſame body which was crucified, roſe again, &c.) of τέρμα, the end, for that it putteth an end to the controverſie.

Infamous] Ezek. 22. 5. Polluted of name, marg. One of bad report, ill ſpoken of, of an evill fame, Prov. 25. 10. Ezek. 36. 3. Who is taken up in the lips of talkers, and whoſe reproach is not wiped away.

Infant] A childe which cannot ſpeak, being young and yet in the ſwathing cloaths; ſuch an one, if he die at this age, either before or after baptiſme (ſo there be no contempt of the Sacrament) he is ſaved by the Covenant of grace, made to parents and their children, Gen. 17. 17.

A new born babe, 1 Pet. 2. 2. or, one not yet born, Job. 3. 16.

Inferiour] Lower, Job 12. 3. mar. Heb. 2. 7. comp. with marg. Not of ſuch ſtate, power, magnificence, Dan. 2. 39. Come behinde, 2 Cor. 12. 13.

Infidell] One that is no Chriſtian, but an Heathen. 1 Tim. 5. 8. He is worſe then an Infidell. He that is without, 1 Tim. 3. 7. See Unbeleever.

Infidelity] A privation or utter abſence of of faith: a totall diſtruſt in Gods promiſe. See Unbelief. 2 Cor. 4. 4.

Infinite] That which is abſolutely unbounded and unlimited, having no meaſure at all, either for time or greatneſſe. So is God onely. Of whoſe underſtanding there is no number, Pſal. 147. 5. marg. See Incomprehenſible.

Infirmity, or weakneſſe] Outward bodily feebleneſſe. 1 Tim. 5. 23. Uſe a little wine for thine often infirmities. Thus is ſickneſſe called, becauſe it makes infirm and feeble. A Metonymie.

2. Some ſpiritual weakneſſe of the godly, in their knowledge and faith, or in their life and manners. Rom. 6. 19. Becauſe of the infirmity of the fleſh. Rom. 14. 1. Matt. 26. 41. Thus is ſin called, becauſe it makes the ſoul weak to doe good, and withſtand evill. A Metonymie. Rom. 15. 1. Errors in faith not againſt the foundation, and ſcandals or fals in manners, are likened to ſickneſſes, which all men uſe to pity and ſuccour; ſo ought we one another.

3. A privation and want of all ſtrength, as touching godlineſſe. Rom. 5. 8. When we were infirme (or of no ſtrength) Chriſt dyed for us; that is, that naturall imbecillity, which we all bring with us into the world, which Paul calls ungodlineſſe, Rom. 5. 6.

4. Afflictions, reproaches, perſecutions. 2 Cor. 12. 10. Therefore I take pleaſure in infirmities. Alſo, it ſignifies inward tentations, fears, diſtruſts, &c. 2 Cor. 12. which ſhew how weak we are and infirme.

5. A vile, contemptible, and abject eſtate. Gal. 4. 13. Through infirmity of the fleſh I preached the Goſpel unto you. 1 Cor. 2. 22.

6. Unableneſſe to free from ſinne and death. Heb. 7. 18. Becauſe of the weakneſſe thereof.

7. The care to cure them, or the curing of infirmity.

So Chriſt took ours on himſelfe, not our individuall infirmities and ſickneſſes, but the regard and care to heal them: or elſe we may ſay, the equivalent of them in another pain, Matt. 8. 17. See this ſo interpreted, Iſa. 53. 4, 5, 6.

Or thus. It's taken 1. Corporally, for that which happeneth to the body, as for ſickneſſe, weakneſſe, grief, Prov. 18. 14. Luk. 13. 11. Mat. 8. 17. For afflictions, reproaches, perſecutions, 2 Cor. 12. 10. & 11. 30. For a mean, outward, deſpiſed eſtate, Gal. 4. 13.

2. Spiritually, Pſal. 77. 10. For defects and weakneſſe in graces, Rom. 8. 26. Frailties and ſlips, Rom. 15. 1. Meanes to help our infirmities in temptations, Pſal. 77. 10, 11, 12.

Inflaming your ſelves with Idols] (or, among the oaks, Iſa. 57. 5. marg.) That is, coupling together, conceiving, committing Idolatry.

Inflammation] Levit. 13. 28. or ſkar, print, character, as the Greek and Chaldee tranſlate, a burning boyl, verſ. 23. Aynſworth on Lev. 13. 28.

Influences] Job. 38. 31. Some read, The delicacies of the Pleiades; ſome, the delights; ſome, the delicate fruits, which they interpret to be the flowers or fruits which bud and bloſſome in the Spring. Some hereby underſtand their light and ſplendour, and therefore tearm them ſhining ſtars. No queſtion but the ſtars have a great force in the variety of weather and ſeaſons, and by two kindes of them the Spring and Winter are ſet forth in this ver. whereof the ſum is this: Art thou able to keep off the pleaſantneſſe of the Spring, when the Pleiades rule, or the bitter ſtorms of Winter, which Orion then brings forth? Large Annot. on the place. So Beza. Canſt thou alter the ſeaſons of the yeer, &c. Hall.

Inform] To tell, ſhew, ſignifie, Deut. 17. 10. To inſtruct, teach, declare, make to underſtand, Dan. 9. 22. To ſignifie, report, or make known by way of complaint, Act. 21. 21, 24. & 24. 1.

Infolding] Catching, Ezek. 1. 4. marg.

Ingathering] Exod. 23. 16. to wit, of the fruits of the land. This feaſt was at the reſolution or end of the yeer, Exod. 34. 22. It began on the 15 day of the ſeventh moneth September, and laſted 7 dayes, called, The feaſt of Tabernacles, Lev. 23. 34. Deut. 16. 13.

Ingraffed] Jam. 1. 21. That which is not naturall, but planted, or ſet in by Art.

Inhabit] To abide, Zech. 14. 10, 11. mar. To dwell in a land, Num. 35. 34. Village, Iſa. 42. 11. Houſes, Iſa. 65. 21. Cities, Amos 9. 14.

Hence Inhabitant, a dweller, one that reſideth, abideth, or is ſetled in a place, or remainder, Jer. 51. 35. marg.

Inherit] The land of Canaan, Gen. 15. 8. The children of the ſtrangers, Lev. 25. 46. Tithes, Numb. 18. 24. That which a man hath, Deut. 21. 16. But one portion, Joſ. 17. 14. In the Fathers houſe, Judg. 11. 2. The throne of glory, 1 Sam. 2. 8. The earth, Pſal. 25. 13. Sion and Judah, Pſal. 69. 36. All nations, Pſal. 82. 8. The labour of the people, Pſal. 105. 44. Glory, Prov. 3. 35.

Subſtance,

Subſtance, Pro. 8. 21. The wind, Pro. 11. 29. Folly, Ib. 14. 18. Deſolate heritages, Iſa. 49. 8. The Gentiles, Iſa. 54. 3. Gods holy mountain, Iſa. 57, 13. The land, Iſa. 6. 21. Fields, Jer. 8. 10. The inheritance, Jer. 12. 14. Gad, Jer. 49. 1. Judah, Zech. 2. 12. which the Lord is ſaid to inherit. Everlaſting life, Mat. 19. 29. The Kingdome, Mat. 25. 34. Eternall life, Mar. 10. 17. The Kingdome of God, 1 Cor. 6. 9. Incorruption, 1 Cor. 15. 50. The promiſe, Heb. 6. 12. A bleſſing, 1 Pet. 3. 9. All things, Rev. 21. 7.

It's put for, To poſſeſſe by right of inheritance, as a Son his Fathers lands, Prov. 13. 22. & 19. 14. To get poſſeſſion of, with ſoveraignty and dominion, Pſal. 82. 8. Iſa. 54. 3. To come into, Luk. 18. 18. 1 Cor. 6. 9. Led away with, Jer. 16. 19.

Inheritance] Poſſeſſion or land of Canaan, Pſal. 79. 1. Exod. 15. 17.

2. The people of the land, 2 Sam. 20. 19. Jer. 50. 11. Pſal. 28. 9.

3. Nations ſubject to Chriſt as their Lord and King, Pſal. 2. 8.

4. Any thing which is dear and precious, as the doctrine of the Word was to David, Pſal. 119.

5. Kingdome of glory in heaven, freely given to the Saints as to Sons by grace of adoption, Mat. 25. 34. 1 Pet. 1. 4.

6. A portion of ground ſain to children by the death of their Father. Luk. 12. 13. To divide the inheritance with me.

7. A portion of land, Joſh. 17. 4. Numb. 26. 53, 54.

8. The thing inherited, Numb. 27. 7.

9. Poſſeſſion, Numb. 34. 2.

10. Hereditary, Deut. 4. 20.

11. Gods people, 2 Sam. 20. 19. Pſal. 78. 71. & 94. 14. Iſa. 19. 25.

It's taken literally, Numb. 16. 14.

Figuratively, as before.

Spiritually, Deut. 10. 9. Joſh. 18. 7.

Typically, Exod. 15. 17. Pſal. 91. 1.

Celeſtially, called Eternall, Heb. 9. 15. Incorruptible, undefiled, that fadeth not away, reſerved for us, 1 Pet. 1. 3.

See Heritage.

Iniquity] That which is writhen or crooked, ſwerving from the ſtraight line of Gods Word. It is put either largely for any ſin; and thus even our Birth-ſin is iniquity, Pſa. 51. 5. I was born in iniquity: Or more ſtrictly, it is put for ſome hainous and groſſe offence. Pſalm 119. 3. They work no iniquity. Pſalm 90. 8. Thou haſt ſet our iniquities. Exod. 20. 5. Viſiting the iniquities of the Fathers.

2. Workers of iniquity, or wicked men. Job 5. 16. Iniquity ſhall ſtop her mouth.

3. The puniſhment due to iniquity. Lev. 5. 1. He ſhall bear his iniquity: and very often elſewhere; as Gen. 19. 15. 2 King. 7. 6. Pſal. 40. 12. So whoredome is put for the puniſhment of whoredome, Numb. 14. 33.

Iniquity cometh of an Hebrew word Aven, which originally ſignifieth pain, or ſorrow; and it is of large uſe, noting, all ſinfull and unjuſt affections, actions, or endevours, which cauſe pain or ſorrow, or be painfully done: and it is applyed ſometime in ſpeciall to Idolatry, joined with Images, 1 Sam. 15. 22. Hence Bethaven, an Idols houſe, or place of Iniquity, Hoſ. 4. 15. & 10. 5. becauſe Jeroboam had there ſet up falſe worſhip, 1 King. 12. 29.

It's put alſo for originall corruption, Pſa. 51. 2. and for ſin in generall, Mat. 7. 23.

To draw iniquity] To ſin, (not of ignorance, infirmity, and by violent temptation, for theſe are rather drawn to iniquity, but) willingly, and of their owne malicious heart and purpoſe, putting their necks as freely in the yoke of ſin, as Oxen which draw a waggon. Iſa. 5. 18. Woe to them which draw iniquity.

Worker of iniquity] [One which walketh after the luſts of corrupt nature, wholly following them as guides, in all and every action of life, Mat. 7. 23.

To injure] Gal. 4. 12. To doe wrong, to deal unjuſtly with another, violently to oppreſſe him.

Injurious] 1 Tim. 1. 13. ὑβριστὴς, deſpightfull, Rom. 1. 30. Injurious and contumelious both in word and deed, and that in a petulant and inſolent manner. A ſin having its ſeat in the heart, by thinking baſely of others; in the countenance, by looking diſdainfully at them; in the tongue, ſpeaking reproachfully both of and unto them; in the hand, by offering them wrong.

Injuſtice] Job 16. 17. That which is not warrantable by the Word of God, but is againſt law, equity, conſcience.

Inne] The place of lodging for Travellers, Gen. 42. 27. & 43. 21. Exod. 4. 24. and for ſuch as are in diſtreſſe, Luk. 10. 34.

Inner] Houſe, 1 King. 6. 27. Court, Ib. 7. 12. Chamber, 1 King. 20. 30. Parlours, 1 Chro. 28. 11. Dores, 2 Chro. 4. 22. Part, Ibid. 29. 16. Gate, Ezek. 8. 3. Temple, Ezek. 41. 15. Priſon, Act. 16. 24. Man, Eph. 3. 16. tearmed Rom. 7. 22. The inward man, the regenerate part. Inner; that is, which is farther in, more inward, within another.

Innocency]

Innocency] A meer voydneſſe of fault, and freedome from all ſin. In this eſtate Adam was created. This is perfect innocency by creation.

2. A certain meaſure of this eſtate in all regenerate perſons, who indevour to ſerve God in innocency of life, having alſo Chriſts innocency imputed to them. Pſalm 26. 6, 11. I will waſh my hands in innocency. This is innocency of a perſon reſtored.

3. Uprightneſſe in ſome ſpeciall or particular cauſe. Pſal. 7. 8. According to the innocency that is in me; that is, innocency of cauſe, when one is cleer and free of ſome fault, whereof he is accuſed; Or, unworthily accuſed where one deſerves prayſe, Dan. 6. 22.

Innocent] One which doth no hurt nor harm unto any others. Mat. 10. 16. Be Innocent as doves; that is, be ſimple and upright, without guile or malice.

2. One that is free from ſome one particular fault, or crime; or one that is guiltleſſe in this or that thing. Gen. 24. 8. If the woman will not follow thee, thou ſhalt be Innocent, or diſcharged of thine Oath. Jon. 1. 4. Lay not upon us Innocent blood. Exod. 23. 7. Gen. 10. 5.

3. A juſt and righteous perſon, which liveth uprightly. Job 4. 7. Who ever periſhed being innocent?

4. One that is free from puniſhment, or one unpuniſhed. Prov. 11. 21. Though the wicked joyn hand in hand, yet they ſhall not be innocent. 1 Ki. 2. 9. But thou ſhalt not count him innocent; that is, thou ſhalt not free him from puniſhment. Alſo, Exod. 34. 7. Not making the wicked innocent.

5. Harmleſſe, with relation unto ſuch as would or doe wrong them, Prov. 1. 11. Jer. 2. 34.

There are three cauſes of mans innocency.

1. Ignorance or want of skill to doe ill. Matt. 18. 3. 1 Cor. 3. 18. Rev. 3. 24. Mat. 10. 16.

2. Impotency, or want of power and meanes to perform ill, where perhaps the skill and will is to doe it, Eccl. 31. 10. Luk. 19. 47, 48.

Temperantia in ſenectute non eſt temperantia ſed impotentia.

3. Unwillingneſs or want of will to doe ill, as Eccl. 31. 8, 9, 10. This is beſt tryed when a man hath means, knowledge, and occſion to doe the contrary, as Gen. 39. 8, 9, 10. Rom. 7. 20. 1 Cor. 14. 20.

The other ſorts of Innocency may be happy to a man, but this ſort onely is virtuous and acceptable to God.

There is alſo one innocency of the Act, another of the Affect.

Innocent 1. in perſon. Thus was Adam by creation. Thus Chriſt. Not ſo now here any before God, Job 15. 14. & 14. 4. Pſal. 14. 3. Eccl. 7. 20. Jam. 3. 2.

2. In a cauſe, Deut. 27. 25. Pſal. 7. 8.

3. In opinion and conceit, Prov. 30. 12. Jer. 2. 35. Mat. 27. 24. Luk. 18. 9.

4. In account unjuſtly, which is forbidden, 1 King. 2. 9.

Innocent hands] ſignifie a righteous life, or actions rightly framed, free from wrong, deceit, blood and violence, Pſal. 24. 4. He which hath innocent hands, &c.

Innumerable] Not number, Job 21. 33. Which cannot be numbred, Pſal. 40. 12. Pſa. 104. 25. Jer. 46. 23. אין מספר, without number, ἀναρίθμητος, Heb. 11. 12. The word innumerable in Luk. 12. 1. & Heb. 12. 22. is in the Originall μυριάς, which properly ſignifieth ten thouſand, but by a Synecdoche it's taken for a very exceeding great multitude.

Inordinate affection] Col. 3. 5. The paſſion of luſt which boyled within, provoking the body and minde to uncleanneſſe. The originall word πάθος, notes internall uncleanneſs, eſpecially the burning and flaming of luſt, though it never come to actions, or the daily paſſions of luſt, which ariſe out of ſuch a ſoftneſſe or effeminateneſſe of minde, as is carryed and fired with every occaſion or temptation; and this is the luſt of concupiſcence, 1 Theſſ. 4. 5. Byfield on Col. 3. 5. p. 33.

Inquiſition] to be made for the diſcovery of a falſe Witneſſe, Deut. 19. 18. and for Treaſon, Eſt. 2. 23. as the Lord will for blood, Pſal. 9. 12.

Inſcription] Act. 17. 23. That which is written or graved on a thing, as here on an Altar.

Inſpiration] Job 32. 8. 2 Tim. 3. 16. Hereby may be underſtood the holy Ghoſt, or the gift or power of the holy Ghoſt, 2 Pet. 1. 21.

To inſpire] ſignifies, To blow into, Gen. 2. 7. This ſheweth mans ſoul not to be of the earth, as his body was, but of nothing, by the inſufflation of God, and ſo differing from the ſpirit of beaſts, Eccl. 3. 21. This word is uſed alſo, when Chriſt to make men new creatures, inſpired his Apoſtles with the holy Ghoſt, Joh. 20. 21.

To be inſtant] 1. To be earneſt or zealouſly lously affected in the work we have in hand as 2 Tim. 4. 2. Rom. 12. 12. Rejoycing in hope, patient in tribulation, continuing instant in prayer.

2. To intreat greatly.

3. To do a thing with speed or presently, Eccl. 9. 19.

Instruct, Instruction] The Originall παιδεία, of παῖς a childe, noteth out such a discipline as befitteth a lad or young childe. It is translated nurture, Eph. 6. 4. but it signifieth also correction as well as instruction, Heb. 12. 7. 2 Tim. 3. 16. And to nurture children, is as well to correct them, as to instruct them. The Hebrew word מוסר is of the same signification with παιδεία, namely correction, instruction, as יסר, whence it is derived, of the same with παιδεύω, to correct, instruct. Buxtorf. Lex. Leigh Crit. sac. God instructeth, Deut. 4. 36. Isa. 28. 26. Deut. 32. 10. Isa. 8. 11. Job 33. 16. The Spirit instructeth, Neh. 9. 20. The Prophets, Apostles, Ministers instruct, Psal. 32. 8. Dan. 11. 33. 2 King. 12. 2. 1 Chr. 15. 22. 2 Tim. 2. 25. Rom. 2. 20. 1 Cor. 4. 15. The Law instructeth, Rom. 2. 18. The Scriptures instruct, 2 Tim. 3. 16. Corrections also are instructions, Psal. 16. 7. Jer. 31. 19. The Godly instruct and receive instruction, Job 4. 3. Act. 18. 25. Instruction also may be had even from the Wicked, Prov. 34. 22. The Church instructeth, Cant. 8. 2. Instruction is either unlawfull, as Prov. 16. 22. Mat. 14. 8. or lawfull; and this either civill, Gen. 4. 22. or religious, Mat. 13. 52. Hereof we must take fast hold, Prov. 4. 13. hear it, Prov. 8. 33. keep it, Prov. 19. 17. love it, Prov. 12. 1. apply the heart to it, Prov. 23. 12. receive it, Prov. 24. 32. Which yet some despise, Prov. 1. 7. hate, Prov. 5. 12. refuse, Prov. 13. 18.

Instrument] A weapon, vessell, toole, whether of iron, Num. 35. 16. Musick, 2 Chr. 5. 13. Eccl. 2. 8. Dan. 6. 18. Of the tent used about the service of God there, Exod. 25. 9. Called holy, Numb. 31. 6. Of war and chariots, 1 Sam. 8. 12. 1 Chron. 12. 33. Of the threshing floore, 1 Chron. 21. 23. Isa. 28. 27.

There's mention also made of the instruments of cruelty, Gen. 49. 5. The instruments of the Church, Isa. 32. 7. and the instruments of unrighteousnesse, Rom. 6. 13. It's put for means of government, Zech. 11. 15. and for spirituall arms or weapons, our inward and outward parts against sin and Satan, 1 Cor. 6. 13.

Insurrection] put for rebellion, or lifting up ones self, Ezr. 4. 19. mar. Commotion or tumult, Psal. 64. 2. Sedition, Mar. 15. 7. Act. 18. 12.

Intangle] Mat. 22. 15. The originall word παγιδεύω, signifieth properly, to lay snares, allure, tole, take or hold as in a net, the Metaphor being derived of snares which Hunters lay.

Intangled] Perplexed, not knowing what to doe, Exod. 14. 3. Wandering or straying they know not whither, as cattle peplexed for want of pasture, Joel 1. 18. In Gal. 7. 5. the Apostle alludeth to oxen, who are tyed to the yoke, their necks being prest and kept under. Let us not return like willing slaves to our chariots again. The originall word ἐμπλέκεσθαι, in 2 Pet. 2. 20. rendred intangled, is spoken of them, which (like hens or pigeons, having hairs or feathers wrapped about their feet, are hindred from going) are by trifling lets and snares hindred from their Christian course. The Septuagint in Prov. 28. 18. use it for, to fall, because such beasts or fowles which are so hampered, cannot stand, which may very fitly be applyed unto Apostates.

Integrity] Innocency, honesty, uprightnesse, soundnesse. A note of the godly, 1 King. 9. 4. Job 2. 3. Psal. 26. 1, 11. Prov. 20. 7. In Gen. 20. 5. it's taken for truth, simplicity, sincerity.

Intend] To be willing, Act. 12. 4. To be or stay, Act. 20. 13. To purpose or resolve, Josh. 22. 33. To take the course, 2 Chron. 28. 13. To say, or think, Exod. 2. 14.

Intent] is all one with End, 2 Sam. 17. 14. 2 King. 10. 19. Cause, reason, or ground, Joh. 13. 28. Act. 9. 21. & 10. 29.

Intercession, or request] The request which the death of Christ maketh for Beleevers after they have sinned, that their sins may be pardoned for his merit, and their imperfect obedience accepted; or, it is the merits of Christs death coming between our sins and Gods justice, to appease it, as an Advocate that pleads for his Client. 1 Joh. 2. 2, 3. Rom. 8. 3, 4. And maketh request for us. Heb. 9. 24. He appears in heaven for us. Christ is our Intercessour four wayes. First, by appearing for us in the sight of God, Heb. 9. 24. Secondly, by the force of his Sacrifice once offered, to make full satisfaction to Gods justice, Heb. 10. 12, 14. Thirdly, by his constant will; that for the merit of that sacrifice, God would be pacified towards the Elect, Heb. 10. 10. Lastly, by the assent and agreement of the Father resting in this will of his Son for us, Joh. 11. 42. Matt. 17. 6. Popiſh interceſſion of the Virgin Mary, and other Saints, doth diſhonour Chriſt the onely Interceſſour. The Spirit maketh requeſt, by cauſing the faithfull to make requeſts; ſtirring up cries and grones in their hearts, Rom. 8. 26. 15. being compared with Gal. 4. 6. The continuall interceſſion of Chriſt, and his prayers made in the dayes of his fleſh, were figured by the bels of gold in Aarons skirts.

2. The requeſt which we make one for another, in the name of our Interceſſour Chriſt, either for good things to be given, or evil things to be removed from us. 1 Tim. 2. 2, 3. Prayers, Interceſſions, and giving of thanks, &c. Theſe be charitable, mutuall Prayers of the godly while they live together.

3. The complaints of the Prophets with grief, accuſing the ſins of the people to God, Rom. 11. 3, 4.

As interceſſion is made of Chriſt for all ſuch as ſhall be ſaved, Rom. 8. 39. Heb. 7. 25. ſo is there of man for men alive, Gen. 17. 18. & 18. 23. Jer. 7. 16. & 27. 18. 1 Tim. 2. 1. and to men, Jer. 36. 25. Of the holy Ghoſt in his elect Saints, Rom. 8. 26, 27.

Intermedle] Prov. 14. 10. Partake of, have any dealing with.

Intermiſſion] Lam. 3. 49. Reſting, pauſing, ceaſing, breaking off, giving over for a time.

Intereſt] Increaſe of gain taken for the lending of money upon fore-agreement and compact. Prov. 28. 8. He which increaſeth his riches by Uſury and intereſt, &c. Here the word Intereſt is taken in ill part. For the word in a good ſenſe ſignifieth that benefit which a mercifull and free lender taketh for his own indemnity, to repair ſuch loſſe whereof the borrower by his default, was an effectuall cauſe, by the keeping of money borrowed in his hand, longer then he ought, to the certain damage of the Lender.

Interpret] To diſſolve, Dan. 5. 16. marg. To ſhew a thing, Job 33. 23. To expound, teach, declare, make known the meaning, give the ſenſe, and make to underſtand, &c.

Interpretation] A tranſlating or turning out of one tongue into another. 1 Cor. 14. 13, 26. If any ſpeak with ſtrange tongues, let him pray that he may interpret.

2. An opening or declaring dark Scriptures or Propheſies. 2 Pet. 1. 20. No Propheſie is of private interpretation. Scriptures muſt be interpreted by Scriptures: and the light of them begged of God, as containing things which he onely can reveal.

3. Expounding viſions or dreams, Gen. 40. 8. Are not interpretations of God?

4. A teaching and ſpeaking ſomething evidently and plainly. Job 33. 23. If there be an Interpreter with him.

5. The meaning and ſenſe, Dan. 4. 18, 19. & 5. 15.

Interpreters] ſignifie Soothſayers and wiſe men of Ægypt, Gen. 40. 8.

Intreat] To uſe kindely, Gen. 12. 16. To ſpeak on ones behalf, Gen. 23. 8. To pray, Gen. 25. 21. Exod. 8. 8. To deſire or be earneſt with, Ruth. 1. 16. To intercede, 1 Sam. 2. 25. To hear, grant, accept of, Gen. 25. 21. 2 Sam. 21. 14. & 24. 25. Ezr. 8. 23. To ſpeak kindely and humbly unto, Job 19. 16, 17. To ſeek, Prov. 19. 6. To beſeech, Luk. 15. 28. To give good words, 1 Cor. 4. 13.

Intruding] Col. 2. 18. It implyeth their vain-glorious ſelf-ſeeking, and ſignifieth, To take poſſeſſion, advance, go proudly, and ſearch hidden things with deep inſight. Byfield on Col. 2. 18. p. 80.

Invade] To cut in pieces, Hab. 3. 16. mar. To ſet violently and forcibly upon, 1 Sam. 23. 27. & 27. 8. The invaders of Gods people were the Amalekites, 1 Sam. 30. 1. The Moabites, 2 King. 13. 20. The Philiſtins, 2 Chr. 38. 18. The Ammonites, Aſſyrians, Midianites, and others.

Invent] To deviſe, finde out by thinking, Amos 6. 5. Taken in good part, 2 Cor. 26. 15. In a bad, Rom. 1. 30.

Inventions] put for ſinfull practiſes, Pſa. 99. 8. Idolatrous acts, Pſal. 106. 39. Things invented, or contrivances, Prov. 8. 12. Crooked devices, Eccl. 7. 29.

Inviron] Joſh. 7. 9. That is, encompaſſe, compaſſe about.

Inviſible] By nature God is inviſible, 1 Tim. 1. 17. Elſe we might ſee him.

By will or grace he is ſeen in his works, Rom. 1. 20. Act. 17. 27. Tit. 2. 11.

Invite] is to bid, or call, as men doe gueſts to a feaſt; and is,

1. Corporally, and that either friendly, Gen. 29. 22. 1 Sam. 9. 24. Joh. 2. 2. or falſely, 2 Sam. 13. 23. Eſt. 5. 12.

Joy] Gladneſſe. A ſweet motion of the Soul,

Soul, in regard of ſome preſent or hoped for good. This good, if it be worldly, then is the joy but naturall and worldly: if it be heavenly good, or tending and leading thereto, then is the joy ſpirituall and heavenly. Pſal. 51. 12. Reſtore me to the joy of thy ſalvation. Rom. 5. 3. We rejoyce in tribulation. Joh. 15. 11. That your joy may be full.

2. The matter or cauſe of joy. 1 Theſ. 2. 20. Ye are our crowne and joy. Job 3. 22. Pſa. 48. 2.

3. The moſt comfortable and full happineſſe of heaven. Mat. 25. 21, 23. Enter into thy Maſters joy. See Enter.

4. A godly boaſting and glorying. 1 Cor. 9. 15. Leſt any man ſhould make my joy (or rejoycing) vain.

5. Thoſe good things either earthly or ſpirituall, for the which we uſe to rejoyce. Joh. 16. 22. And your joy none ſhall take from you. 2 Cor. 7. 30. Rom. 15. 13. The God of hope fill you with all joy; that is, with every good gift, whereof ye may rejoyce plentifully and abundantly, Jam. 1. 2. and elſewhere often. A Metonymie of the cauſe.

6. That cheerfulneſſe and alacrity which wee ſhew forth towards our Neighbour. Galat. 5. 22. The fruit of the Spirit, is joy, peace, &c.

7. Joyfull ſpeech, or ſongs of thankſgiving and prayſe. Pſal. 126. 2. And our tongue with joy. A Metonymie of the cauſe for the effect. For prayſe cometh of joy, as joy cometh of good things, Neh. 12. 13.

8. The having or poſſeſſing of any good thing from whence joy ſpringeth. Joh. 3. 29. This my joy is fulfilled. Joh. 15. 11. And that my joy may remain in you.

Of Joy or Gladneſſe, there are divers ſorts.

I. Naturall, Pſal. 113. 9. Prov. 23. 24. Eccl. 2. 10. Joh. 16. 22.

II. Worldly, Job 29. 13. Iſa. 9. 3.

III. Hypocriticall, Job 20. 5. Mat. 13. 20.

IV. Spirituall, Pſal. 51. 12. Rom. 5. 3, 11. & 14. 17. Gal. 5. 22. Phil. 1. 25. 1 Theſſ. 1. v. 6.

V. Eccleſiaſticall, in and about the externall worſhip and means thrreof, Ezr. 3. 12, 13. Lam. 5. 15.

VI. Ungodly, Prov. 15. 21. Ezek. 36. 5. Hoſ. 9. 1.

VII. Mixt, partly worldly, partly ſpirituall, 1 Chron. 12. 40. Eſt. 9. 22. Luk. 10. 17.

VIII. Heavenly, Matt. 25. 21, 23. Luk. 15. 7, 10. Joh. 16. 21.

It's put alſo 1. for that which is hoped for, Ezek. 36. 5. Heb. 12. 2.

2. The object of joy, or that which gladdeth, namely proſperity, Job 20. 5. A merry life, Eccl. 8. 15.

3. Cheerfulneſſe, and a ready endevour, 2 Cor. 8. 2.

4. A reſting or relying upon, Iſa. 8. 6.

This is ſpoken of God, Jeſus Chriſt, the holy Ghoſt, Angels, Beleevers, &c.

Of Joyes, ſome are 1. Unnaturall, Job 3. 22.

2. Some ſenſuall; ſuch are the joyes Epicures conceive in the pleaſures and ſports of this life, Job 21. 12. Eccl. 11. 9.

3. Fantaſticall; when men rejoyce in meer conceits and fancies, without any ground, as ſome doe when very ſick.

4. Diabolicall; when men rejoyce in ſin, rejoyce in the miſery of Gods people, Ezek. 25. 6. And when (through the illuſion of Satan to keep them in ſecurity) their hearts are tickled with a great deale of joy.

5. Spirituall; being either temporary, which the wicked may feel in the hearing of the Word, Matth. 13. 20. or eternall, as which being now in the hearts of Gods children, ſhall never either totally or finally be loſt. How this laſt kind may be diſcerned from all other joyes, is ſhewed by Mr. Byfield on 1 Pet. 1. 8. p. 73. See Rejoyce.

All joy and peace] Solid and perfect joy, which alwayes remains, being never taken from them: and by peace is meant tranquillity and reſt in their owne conſcience by forgiveneſſe of ſins, and concord with their brethren, that there be no longer variance and diſſenſion amongſt them. Of which two gifts, Joy and Peace, the true cauſe is the righteouſneſſe of faith. Rom. 15. 13. Fill you with all joy and peace through beleeving. In this clauſe Paul alludeth unto the former ſaying, Rom. 14. 17. The Kingdome of God is righteouſneſſe, joy, and peace in the holy Ghoſt.

Joy darkened] Turning of mirth into heavyneſſe, as the air in the evening waxeth dark. Iſa. 24. 11. All joy is darkened.

Joy of God] Comfort of minde, ariſing from Gods goodneſſe, manifeſted in ſome outward or inward deliverance. Pſal. 51. 12. Reſtore to me the joy of thy ſalvation; that is, thy deliverances were wont to make me glad, let it be ſo again with me.

Joy in harveſt] Mirth mingled with labour and ſweat, hardly gotten, and dear bought joy, ſuch as Souldiers have of the ſpoil after a battel. Iſa. 9. 3. According to the joy of harveſt, &c.

To hear of joy and gladneſſe] To be made joyfull and glad, by hearing and beleeving the glad tydings of forgiveneſſe of ſins: For joy comes from faith, and faith by hearing. Pſal. 51. 8. Make me to hear of joy and gladneſſe.

Joy in the holy Ghoſt] A gladſome, ſweet and comfortable motion of the heart, ſtirred up by the Spirit of adoption, upon the feeling of Gods love in Chriſt, to eternal life; and upon the tokens of that love, both in earthly and ſpirituall bleſſings. Rom. 14. 17. The Kingdome of God is righteouſneſſe, peace, and joy in the holy Ghoſt. This is called Chriſts joy, John 15. 11. And glorious joy, Piet. 1. 8. becauſe it is part of the Kingdome of heaven.

Joy in the Lord] That true inward comfort which faithfull hearts feel, becauſe the Lord is their mercifull Father in Chriſt Jeſus. Phil. 4. 4. Joy in the Lord. Rom. 5. 11.

Joy of the Lord] Divine joy, which cometh from the Lord, and is placed in him, Neh. 8. 10. The joy of the Lord ſhall make you ſtrong. Likewiſe joy of the Spirit, 1 Theſ. 1. 6. ſuch as is mentioned, Act. 5. 41. & 1 Pet. 4. 13.

My joy] That gladneſſe and comfort which the Apoſtles received from Chriſt, the ſole author, cauſe, and pledge of their joy. Joh. 17. 13. That my joy might be fulfilled; viz. (be truely and abundantly ſhed into their heart) in them. In our ſelves nothing but perturbation and dreadfull terrour; in and from Chriſt, all peace and tranquillity flow-eth.

To joy in tribulation] To have occaſion and matter of true comfort and cheerfulneſſe of our heart from afflictions, becauſe they are pledges of Gods love, and tryals of faith and patience. Rom. 5. 3. We joy in tribulations.

Joyfull] Spoken of the Iſraelites, 1 King. 8. 66. The Jews, Ezr. 6. 22. Haman, Eſt. 5. 9. Voyce, Job 3. 7. Them that love Gods name, Pſal. 5. 11. The ſoul, Pſal. 35. 9. Lips, Pſa. 63. 5. Noiſe, Pſal. 66. 1. Sound, Pſa. 89. 15. Field, Pſal. 96. 12. Hils, Pſal. 98. 8. A Mother, Pſal. 113. 9. The children of Zion, Pſal. 149. 2. Saints, Ibid. 5. The earth, Iſa. 49. 13. This muſt not be onely in proſperity, Eccleſ. 7. 14. but even in adverſity, 2 Cor. 7. 4.

Joyn] Spoken 1. Materially, of things; as of houſe to houſe, Iſa. 5. 8.

2. Perſonally; as, in marriage, Gen. 29. 34. in affinity, 2 Chron. 18. 1. in aide one to another, Exod. 1. 10. 2 Chron. 20. 36. Prov. 11. 21. in war one againſt another, 1 Sam. 4. 2.

3. Mentally, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

4. Carnally, 1 Cor. 6. 16.

5. Idolatrouſly, Pſal. 106. 28. Hoſ. 4. 17.

6. Spiritually, by becoming viſible members of the Church, entring into covenant with God, and in fellowſhip one with another, Jer. 50. 5. Ezek. 37. 17. Act. 9. 26. Zech. 2. 11. 1 Cor. 6. 17.

And is taken for Helping, Exod. 1. 10. Aſſociate, Dan. 11. 6. Company with as man and Wife, Mat. 19. 6. Eph. 3. 31. Be nigh unto, Act. 8. 29. Be numbred or reckoned with, Job 3. 6. Knit as one, Matth. 19. 6. Commit fornication, 1 Cor. 6. 16.

This Sacramentall Metonymie whereby [Is] noteth to ſignifie and repreſent, or whereby the ſigne and thing ſignified be put one for the other, it is ſo frequent in Scripture, as it may be reckoned among plain and uſuall ſpeeches: as Gen. 17. 10. Circumciſion called the Covenant, expounded in verſ. 11. the ſigne thereof. See the like touching the Paſchall Lamb, Exod. 12. 11. & 13. 9. In the ſame ſenſe the Sabbath is the Covenant of the Lord, Exod. 31. 13, 16. The Ark is God, Pſal. 89. 7. The cover of the Ark is the propitiatory or Mercy-ſeat, Lev. 4. 31. The Rock is Chriſt, 1 Cor. 10. 3. The Dove is the holy Spirit, Matth. 3. 16. Baptiſme is the waſhing away of ſin, Act. 22. 16. The Bread, the Communion of his body, &c. 1 Cor. 10. 16, 17. How can the Papiſts affirm that this is an unuſuall phraſe?

2. Leads or brings unto. Rom. 7. 7. Is the Law of ſin; that is, doth it bring unto, or lead to ſin? Rom. 16. 23. The gift of God is eternall life; that is, holineſſe (which is Gods free gift) leadeth unto eternall life, as a way leadeth to a City, Rom. 8. 6. Wiſdome of the Spirit is life and peace, Joh. 17. 3.

3. Bring forth, cauſeth, meriteth, or deſerveth. Rom. 8. 6. The wiſdome of the fleſh is death; that is, not onely leads unto, but deſerveth death eternall.

4. Ought to be, or let him be. 1 Tim. 3. 2. Heb. 13. 4. Marriage is honourable, &c. Matt. 5. 13, 14. Ye are the ſalt of the earth, the light of the world, (for ſo ye ought to be): This is no rare thing, but uſuall in Scripture, to put the Indicative mood for the Imperative, and the deed done, or fact, for the right whereby it ſhould be done, as Mal. 2. 5. 1 Tim. 3. 15. Rom. 14. 6, 7. where regarding, giving of thanks, living, be put for, ought to regard, to give thanks, ought to live: and ſo often elſe where ſpeaketh.

5. The exiſtence of a thing, Heb. 11. 6. for ſome things are ſaid to be nothing, 1 Cor. 8. 4. & 10. 19.

6. Per enallagem modorum, or per Syllepſin conjunctionis, it is put ſometime for an Objection or Prolepſis (as though it be) not for a propoſition or affirmation, that the thing indeed is ſo. See Joh. 10. 17. Rom. 6. 16.

7. Not the ſenſe onely, but the ſum, yea the end or uſe, yea the perfection of a thing, as Mat. 7. 12. Luk. 6. 31.

8. The Identity or ſelf-ſameneſſe of one thing under divers names, and againſt the diverſity of perſons, when one onely is meant, Mat. 11. 3. Luk. 24. 39. Joh. 9. 37. Act. 17. 3.

Isaac] ſignifies, Laughter, joy, which is reaped ſpiritually by faith in Chriſt, Gen. 17. & 21. 5, 6. when it is ſaid Abraham bleſſed Iſaac, the meaning is, that Abraham applyed and confirmed to Iſaac, the promiſe made to himſelfe, Gen. 12. 2. & 14. 19. & 17. 19. & 25. 11. and ſo Iſaac commended to Jacob the bleſſing of Abraham, Gen. 28. 3, 4. and by this bleſſing, the righteouſneſſe of faith is implyed to Abrahams ſeed, Gal. 3. 8, 9.

Isaiah] (ſometime Eſay, or Eſaias) The health or ſalvation of the Lord. A Prophet, 2 King. 20. 1. 2 Chr. 26. 22. The Son of Amos, Iſa. 1. 1.

One that betrayed Chriſt, Mat. 26. 25. Iudas of Galilee, Act. 5. 37. One in Damaſcus, in whoſe houſe Saul was, Act. 9. 11. Iudas ſurnamed Barſabas, Act. 15. 22.

Jude] The ſame: called alſo Iudas, the Brother of James, Luk. 6. 16. Jude 1.

Judea] The ſame. A Countrey, Matth. 3. 1. Act. 2. 9. Sometimes taken for the whole Land of the twelve Tribes, ſometime for Iudah and Benjamin onely, according to the ſeparation of Galilee, Samaria, and other Countreys.

A Judge] A chief Governour, or Soveraigne Ruler, who hath all the world in his diſpoſition, and under his power. So is God alone. Gen. 18. 25. Should not the Iudge of the world doe juſtly? In his Church he judgeth the controverſies of Faith, by the voyce and ſentence of Scripture.

2. A Deputy Governour, as it were Gods Lieutenant, in the government of the whole world. So is Chriſt, as Mediatour, and he alone. 2 Tim. 4. 1. I charge thee before Chriſt, the Iudge of quick and dead. Joh. 5. 22.

3. A Governour, that hath general rule by Gods appointment, over ſome one people or Nation, to preſerve and govern it. Judg. 3. 26. God raiſed them up Iudges.

4. A perſon appointed over criminall cauſes and civill controverſies, to end and determine them by his ſentence. 2 Chr. 19. 5. He ſets Iudges in the Land. Deut. 16. 18. Iudges ſhalt thou make thee in all thy Cities. Luk. 12. 14. Who is to hear the cauſes between parties, Deut. 1. 16. To weigh actions, Ibid. 17. and, To execute judgement between man and man, Ezek. 18. 8. They muſt be well qualified, Deut. 1. 13, 15. Ex. 18. 21. 2 Chr. 1, 2. Ezr. 7. 25. Pſ. 2. 10. be righteous, 2 Tim. 4. 8. not unrighteous, Zeph. 3. 3. Luk. 18. 6. They are called gods, Exod. 21. 6. Pſal. 82. 1, 6. and are to be honoured, Exod. 22. 28. Act. 23. 5. God ſometimes extraordinarily raiſed up Judges, Judg. 2. 18. Act. 13. 20. with whom he was, Judg. 2. 18. who went out to war, Judg. 3. 10. by whom he delivered his people, Judg. 3. 9, 31. who upheld true Religion, Judg. 2. 19. and were means of peace to Iſrael, after their victories gotten, Judg. 3. 11, 30. & 5. 31. & 8. 28.

Judges of evill thoughts] Such as think not rightly in their preferring one before another, but intend evill therein. Jam. 2. 4. And are become Iudges of evill thoughts. This ſhews what reſpect of perſons is not to be uſed; namely, firſt, that which puts a falſe difference for a true: ſecondly, that wherein no mean is obſerved: thirdly, that whereof there is no good end, but carnall and corrupt, as to curry favour with great and rich men. Otherwiſe, as there be of God ſundry degrees appointed among men, who in dignity excell one another, ſo they are in their ſeverall places to be eſteemed, that we may witneſſe how we reverence Gods ordinance and gifts.

To judge after the ſight of the eyes, or after the hearing of the ears] ſignifies, to give ſentence of all men, not by the geſtures, actions, words, profeſſions, or reports, or by any thing which appears in outward ſhew, but according to the ſincerity of the heart, Iſa. 11. 3.

To judge] referred 1. to God; ſignifieth,

1. To rule and govern. Pſal. 67. 4. God ſhall judge the earth with righteouſneſſe. Pſal. 9. 4, 8. Heb. 10. 30. The Lord ſhall judge his people.

2. To

2. To correct, chastise, or to punish, which is one act of divine government. Psal. 51.4. That thou mayst be pure when thou judgest. Heb. 13.4. Adulterers God judge.

Note. This word judge, when it respecteth the godly, meaneth sometime chastisement and affliction for sin, 1 Cor. 11.31. and sometime deliverance out of affliction, 1 Sam. 24.15. 2 Sam. 18.19. both may be implyed, Gen. 30. 6.

3. To pronounce a righteous and true sentence upon all things and persons; which is also another act of government. Rom. 2. 16. At that day when God shall judge the world.

4. To give defence and preservation against malicious unjust oppressors. Psal. 7.8. Judge me according to my righteousnesse. See vers. 10. which seemeth thus to expound the word. Psal. 43. 1. Iudge me (O Lord) defend and deliver me. This is also one part of government: it contains, 1 Examination of the cause, 2 Giving of sentence, 3 And execution by delivering the oppressed. See 2 Sam. 18. 19, 31. Judg. 3. 10.

5. To inquire into, try, and discerne things and persons. Psal. 7. 11. comp. with vers. 9. Psal. 11. 4, 5. The Lords throne is in heaven, his eyes consider and try, &c. Also to debate, argue, discusse, or dispute a thing, and afterward to judge and lay the blame where it is, Gen. 31. 37.

6. To keep authority over, Psal. 82. 1.

7. To recompense, Ezek. 7. 3, 8.

II. To men; signifieth,

1. To rule and govern any people. Judg. 4. 4. Debora judged Israel.

2. Truely to understand and discern all things as they be. 1 Cor. 2.15. The spirituall man judgeth all things. 1 Cor. 14. 29. Let two or three speak, and let the other judge; that is, discern what is spoken.

3. To utter an upright and unpartiall sentence of other men and their doings. Joh. 7. 24. Iudge a righteous judgement, and not according to appearance.

4. Rashly and curiously, without any cause or calling, to carp at, and censure other men and their actions. Mat. 7. 1. Iudge not, and ye shall not be judged. Rom. 14. 3, 4, 13. Let no man judge his brother; that is, rashly determine of him, and of his final estate; for that belongs to God onely.

5. To approve and allow the last sentence of the great judgement. 1 Cor. 6. 2. The Saints shall judge the world and the Angels.

6. To hear, try, and determine civill causes between a man and his neighbour. 1 Cor. 6. 2. Are ye unworthy to judge the least matters? Exod. 18. 13. Moses sate to judge the people.

7. To condemne, or to pronounce a judiciall sentence, true or false, 1 King. 4. 28. Psal. 82. 1.

8. To accuse, and by a good example to testifie against others. Mat. 12. 41, 42. The men of Nineveh shall rise in judgement against this generation. Rom. 2. 27.

9. To declare by deeds, and pronounce sentence against ones self. Act. 13. 46. You judge your selves unworthy of life.

10. To use judgement and consideration in the ordering of our life, and actions thereof, that none of them be offensive and hurtfull to the weak Christian. Rom. 14. 13. But judge this rather, that ye put not a stumbling block, &c. When we examine our own doings, and ponder them so judiciously, & discreetly, as we may direct them without any offence: this is it which is meant here by judging.

11. To plead for, Ezek. 23. 37. marg. As Magistrates in Civill and Politicall government, so under the Law of Moses, the Priests were Judges, Lev. 10. 10. Deut. 17. 8, 9. 2 Chr. 19. 8. as the Priests and Elders in Christs time, Luk. 22. 66. Act. 4. 5, 6. And the Apostles, Act. 15. 19, 20. 1 Cor. 5. 3.

The Scripture (in controverfies of faith) is a Judge and judgeth; that is, giveth sentence, Joh. 12. 48. & Joh. 5. 45, 46. where Christ provoketh to Moses as a Judge between him and the Pharisees. Also, God himself and Christ are said to judge, Joh. 5. 24, 27, 30. Lastly, the true Church of Christ, and every true member of it, hath power of judging, 1 Cor. 2. 15. 1 Cor. 10. 15.

But there is great difference between these Judges and their judgements; for God is the supreme Judge and Generall, infallible. Also (being the first verity essentially, and therefore to be beleeved for himself:) the Scripture which is Gods voyce and word, is also a most certain undeceivable Judge, but subordinate; whose sentence for God himselfe, who is truth it selfe, is to be received without contradiction or appellation, as absolute and definitive: but the Church, Councels provinciall or œcumenicall, Doctors, Pastors, the faithful, be inferiour Judges, and give judgement assentive, by judgement of approbation (not of determination) it being their office to receive, repeat, approve, publish the judgement and testimony which Christ hath already given by his Prophets and Apostles.

The Pope is so far from being Soveraign,

as

as he is no Judge at all, being a party and guilty.

To be judged] To be punished. Mat. 7. 1. Ye shall not be judged.

2. To be rashly censured, or lightly esteemed, as one of lesse worth then others. 1 Cor. 4. 3. I passe little to be judged, &c.

3. To be called to an account and sifted. Rom. 3. 4. When thou art judged.

4. To be tryed, and have his cause known, either to be acquitted or condemned. Act. 25. 10. Where I ought to be judged.

5. To take esteem, and count to be, Act. 16. 15.

6. To proceed against, Act. 24. 6.

7. To be accused and sentenced, Rom. 2. 12.

8. Truely discerned, 1 Cor. 2. 15.

9. Determined, 1 Cor. 5. 3.

10. Condemned, 1 Cor. 6. 2. & 10. 29.

11. Punished, 1 Cor. 11. 31, 32.

12. Sentence pronounced, either of absolution or condemnation, Jam. 2. 12.

The wicked are judged already, Joh. 3. 18.

1 In Gods decree.

2 In Gods Word.

3 In their own consciences.

4 In inchoation or part.

Yet shall be again in the last day, Matt. 25. 32, 40, 46. & 16. 27.

1 By publick and finall sentence, 1 Cor. 4. v. 5.

2 By raising up of their bodies, 1 Joh. 5. 28.

3. By their totall and eternall perdition of souls and bodies together in hell, Matth. 25. 46.

Judgement] Government of the world. Joh. 5. 22. He hath committed all judgement unto the Son. Psal. 9. 7. He hath set a throne of judgement. Also, government of his chosen people, Isa. 11. 3, 4. The greatest part consisteth in absolving them from sin, and preserving safe to life eternall, inspiring all his graces into them, that he may live in them, and they in him.

2. Chastisement. 1 Cor. 11. 29. Eats his owne judgement. 1 Pet. 4. 17. Iudgement begins at Gods house. Isa. 5. 16.

3. The mercifull moderation or measure which God keeps in chastising his children. Jer. 10. 24. Correct me, but with judgement.

4. Solemne divine action of the last day. Eccl. 12. 14. God will bring every work to judgement. This judgement hath in it three things; first, an equity in all things and persons: secondly, a laying them open: thirdly, pronouncing an upright sentence, Matt. 25. 31, &c.

5. The just statutes and commandements of God. Psal. 119. 7. 20. When I shall learn the judgements of thy righteousnesse. Psal. 19. 9. Laws and Rites for humane duties, are called Judgements: 1 by them God judgeth of every ones works: 2 and executes his judgements: 3 and by them we must frame all our judgements of our selves and others, and deal accordingly.

6. The Spirit of justice and wisdome, enabling to know and discern right and wrong, good and evill. Psal. 72. 1. Give thy judgements to the King.

7. Wrath, vengeance, and punishment executed upon the wicked. Matt. 5. 22. Shall be culpable of judgement. And very often elsewhere, Psal. 33. 5.

8. The punishment inflicted upon Christ for our sins. Act. 8. 33. In his humility his judgement hath been exalted. As by his humility is meant the grave and bands of death, Christ being most abased, when he lay as one oppressed of death in his prison of the grave: so by Judgement, both the hand and counsell of God most justly afflicting his Son our Surety, in his fierce anger, and that miserable condition which in his life and death he did undergoe for sinners.

9. That great power and authority which God gave unto Christ the Mediatour, to determine and doe that which is righteous and just. Joh. 9. 39. I am come unto judgement into this world. Joh. 16. 11.

10. A setled estate, when Religion was committed to the Gentiles, superstition being cast out. Matt. 12. 18. He shall shew judgement to the Gentiles.

11. Equity or righteous dealings. Luk. 11. 42. And passe over judgement. Gen. 18. 19. Isa. 1. 17. Seek judgement, releeve the oppressed.

12. Amendment, or reformation of the world. Joh. 12. 31. Now is the judgement of this world.

13. The way and course which God holdeth in governing all and every thing. Rom. 11. 33. How unsearchable are his judgements?

14. Sentence. 2 Pet. 2. 11. Give not railing judgement. Also, a plain and open testimony, Phil. 1. 28. 2 Thes. 1. 5.

15. Sentence of damnation and absolution. Jude 15. To give judgement against all men.

16. Courts and places of Judgement. 1 Cor. 6. 4. If ye have judgements, &c.

17. A power and faculty to diſcern things which differ. Phil. 1. 6. And in all judgement. Which ſignifies both the perceiving, and diſcerning the things perceived.

18. A right ſentence given of men, and of their actions in Courts of Judgement, publickly or privately, 2 Chro. 19. 6. Pſal. 82.2. Give juſt judgement. Alſo, cauſe or right, Iſa. 10. 2.

19. Inſtruments of Gods vengeance. Ezek. 14. 21. When I ſend my four judgements, &c.

20. Famous examples of Gods vengeance. Pſal. 84. 21. They ſhall be glad becauſe of thy judgements.

21. The wrath, vengeance, and puniſhment upon the wicked, Mat. 5. 22.

2. Rectitude by adminiſtration, in bringing confuſed things into order, Iſa. 4. 4. Joh. 9. 39. & 16. 11.

23. The reward of the godly, at the laſt day, 2 Theſſ. 1. 5.

24. Sentence and opinion, 1 Cor. 1. 10.

25. Advice (not counſell) 1 Cor. 7. 25.

Spirit of judgement] That Spirit by which God judgeth and puniſheth the wicked, alſo ſaveth and maintaineth the elect: or it ſignifies a mind deſirous to execute judgment and right in delivering his people from the power of their enemies, Iſa. 4.4. By the ſpirit of judgement, Iſa. 1. 27.

Such Laws as were annexed to the ten Commandements for puniſhing offenders civilly, have this title prefixed, Theſe are the Iudgements which thou ſhalt ſet before them, Exo. 21. 1.

Judith] Praiſing, or confeſſing. The Daughter of Beeri, Gen. 26. 34.

Julia] Full of ſoft cotton, or full of hairs. The name of a woman, Rom. 16. 15.

Julius] The ſame. A Centurion, Act. 27. 1, 3.

Junia] Of Juno, or of the moneth June, as being therein born. A kinſman of Pauls, Rom. 16. 7.

Juniper] A tree, whoſe leaves are little, ſmall, and hard, growing along the ſtalks and branches, and are alwayes green, without falling off in winter. The fruit is round little berries, which are green at the firſt, and afterward black, of a good ſavour, and ſweet in taſte, which at length wax bitter. At the ſame time it hath berries both ripe and unripe, great and ſmall together. The bark, leaves, fruit, gum, iſſuing therefrom, are profitable in phyſick. Under this tree the Prophet ſate and ſlept, 1 King. 19. 4, 5. Iob maketh mention of ſome who made uſe of Juniper roots for their meat, Job 30. 4. Fire being covered with the aſhes hereof, will continue for the ſpace of a whole yeer. See Pſal. 120. 4.

Jupiter] Act. 14. 12, 13. & 19. 35. as if it were Iuvans pater, the Helping father. Ζεὺς, The proper name of a faigned god or Idol among the Gentiles; ſo named of ζέω to boil, or be ſeething hot; or, of δεύω, to water; or, of ζὴν, as being the Authour of life. He is ſaid to be Son to Saturn and Ops, and born at the ſame birth with Iuno. Some think that of Iehovah, the Gentiles named the greateſt god Iove and Iupiter; that is, Iah father, of the ſhorteſt name Iah, mentioned Pſal. 68. 5. and Varro (the learnedeſt of the Romans) thought Iove to be the God of the Jews. Ainſworth on Pſal. 83. 19.

Ivory] Elephants teeth, 2 Chr. 9. 21. mar. Hereof Solomon made a throne, 1 King. 10. 18. Ahab an houſe, 1 King. 22. 39. We read alſo of Ivory palaces, Pſal. 45. 8. A Tower of Ivory, Cant. 7. 4. Benches of Ivory, Ezek. 27. 7. Beds of Ivory, Amos 6. 4. Veſſels of Ivory, Rev. 18. 12.

Juriſdiction] Luk. 23. 7. That is, power, rule, authority.

Jury] Luk. 23. 5. Joh. 7. 1. That is, Iudea.

Juſhabhesed] A dwelling place, the ſeat of mercy, or the changing of mercy. The Son of Pedaiah, 1 Chr. 3. 20.

Juſt] One who is righteous by the imputation of Chriſts righteous. Rom. 1. 17. The juſt ſhall live by faith.

2. One who dealeth juſtly in his particular vocation, as a Magiſtrate, &c. Luk. 23. 50. A good man and a juſt.

3. One who endevoureth to live uprightly in his generall calling, as a Chriſtian walking in the righteous Statutes of God. Luk. 1. 6. They were both juſt before God. Job 1. 1.

4. One who in his life and death anſwers the perfect juſtice of the Law of God. 1 Pet. 3. 18. He dyed, the juſt for the unjuſt.

5. One that is exceeding faithfull, keeping his word or promiſe. 1 Joh. 1. 9. He is faithfull and juſt to forgive us our ſins.

6. One who is eſſentially juſt, and infinitely the cauſe of juſtice in all his creatures. Exod. 9. 37. The Lord is juſt, &c.

7. One who thinketh himſelfe righteous, and is not. Luk. 18. 9. Certain truſted that they were juſt.

This is ſpoken I. of God, who is juſt in the mids of his people, Deut. 32. 4. Iſa. 45. 21. Zeph. 3. 5. In his doings, Neh. 9. 3. In his promiſes, 1 Joh. 1. 9. who hath beſtowed on men men a juſt Law, Rom. 7. 12. That they may doe juſt things, Phil. 4. 8. uſe juſt ballances, &c. Lev. 19. 36. that they may eſcape juſt damnation, Rom. 3. 8.

II. Of Chriſt, Iſa. 53. 11. Mat. 27. 19, 24. and of his judgement, Joh. 5. 30.

III. Of Man; 1. Opinionatively, in his owne conceit, Prov. 18. 17. Mat. 9. 13. Luk. 18. 9.

2. Really, and in truth, and that both in a cauſe, Iſa. 26. 7. & 29. 21. and in perſon, but none exactly ſo before God, Job 9. 2. Eccleſ. 7. 20. Rom. 2. 13. yet of him ſo reputed and called, Gen. 6. 9. Job 1. 1. Luk. 1. 6.

To be juſt over-much] To be deceived by appearance and pretence of Juſtice, and ſo to exceed a mediocrity or mean in our actions, whereupon may enſue very great danger. Eccl. 7. 19. Be not thou juſt overmuch. Wherefore ſhouldſt thou be deſolate? Examples of ſuch as to their hurt have tranſgreſſed the bounds of Juſtice, under pretence of dealing juſtly, or of not partaking in injuſtice; we have the man mentioned 1 Ki. 20. 35, 36. who becauſe he would not ſeem unjuſt, by ſmiting an innocent and godly Prophet (though commanded of God ſo to doe), was devoured by a Lion. Such a thing was that which Saul did, when he ſpared the fatteſt of the flock for to ſacrifice unto God, 1 Sam. 15. 9. So Timothy by too much abſtinence from wine (thinking by ſuch auſterity to have reduced the riotous Epheſians to temperance) had almoſt overthrown the eſtate of his body, 1 Tim. 5. 23. See 2 Cor. 2. 6, 7, 8, 9, 10, 11. The Corinthians were too ſevere toward the inceſtuous man. Serranus thinks that in this ſentence of Eccleſiaſtes, is condemned a too great and ſurly boldneſſe of ſuch, who under pretence of juſtice and wiſdome, doe proudly judge of the judgements of God, ſpeaking evill of his works, becauſe of ſome diſorder which appeareth in them: whereof Solomon hath ſpoken in verſ. 17. Tremellius and Junius ſay, that the precept of Solomon calleth upon men to temper and moderate their judgement of themſelves, that they neither attribute too much to their owne diſcretion, nor yet too much debaſe and deject themſelves. The Note of Geneva Bible is, that it forbids to boaſt much of our own juſtice and wiſdome. The firſt expoſition fitteth beſt both the phraſe and circumſtances. For (to be juſt overmuch) joyned with theſe words (Wherefore ſhouldſt thou be deſolate?) import a dangerous exceſſe in Juſtice.

Some underſtand the words not of perſonall but politicall Juſtice, that it bee not too ſevere, but tempered with clemency.

The words may be taken for a caution and direction to moderate our zeal with prudence, leſt it bring danger upon us, Matth. 10. 16. Large Annot.

Juſtice] Referred I. to God; ſignifieth,

1. That divine property, whereby God being moſt juſt in himſelfe, rendreth right to every creature, infinitely rewarding and loving the good; extremely hating and puniſhing the wicked. Gen. 18. 25. Shall not the Judge of all the world doe juſt (or right?)

2. Gods merciſull benefits and protection. Iſa. 59. 9. Neither doth juſtice come neer to us.

3. Fidelity, or truth, in keeping his promiſe made unto us, touching redemption by Chriſt. Rom. 3. 26. That he may be juſt.

Alſo Juſtice or Righteouſneſſe, ſignifieth, that imputed holineſſe of Chriſt, Phil. 3. 9. Alſo the fruit and reward of juſtice, mercies, and benefits, is ſometime meant by it: as Jude v. 5, 11. Dan. 4. 22. Pſal. 112. 9.

1. An eſſentiall property of God; Actus immanens.

2. A work of God ſo called, whereby he governeth the world, defending and rewarding the good; Actus emanans.

3. The truth of God, or his fidelity in performing his promiſes, 1 Joh. 1. 9.

4. His commandement or precept of righteouſneſſe given to man to keep, Jam. 1. 2.

5. The effects of his active juſtice in men, viz. their deliverances and rewards.

6. The working of inherent righteouſneſſe or ſanctification in us, Pſal. 4. 1. Rom. 1. 17. Iſa. 53. 11.

7. The juſtification of us by the righteouſneſſe of Chriſt imputed to us, Rom. 3. 26.

II. To Chriſt; ſignifieth,

1. The ſufferings of Chriſt for us, by which he perfectly ſatisfied Gods juſtice, and ſo was juſt toward the Godhead by the paſſion of his Manhood. This muſt be conſidered as it was in him his office to ſatisfie, Rom. 3. 26. 1 Cor. 1. 30. This is Chriſts juſtice paſſive from God.

2. The ſufferings of Chriſt and his ſatisfaction to the Father for us, not as it was performed by him (for ſo it is his juſtice) but as it is derived to us by his imputation of it to us, and as it is received of us by faith, and retained with us by hope and charity. So it is our juſtice or righteouſneſſe paſſive before God.

III. To Men; ſignifieth,

1. That politicall virtue peculiar to Magiſtrates, which diſpoſeth them to do right to every man, rendring prayſe to whom prayſe, and vengeance to whom vengeance belongeth. Job 29. 14. I put on juſtice. Rom. 13. 2, 3. 1 Pet. 2. 15, 16. This is diſtributive juſtice, Luk. 18. 3.

2. The morall virtue which moveth men to give to others their due, and unto deal rightly in matter of bargain and contracts. Gen. 18. 16. He will teach his ſervants to doe juſtice. This is commutative juſtice.

3. That grace infuſed into all Gods children, conforming them in part unto the will of God, both in their nature and actions. Eph. 4. 24. Created in juſtice (or righteouſneſſe). See Righteouſneſſe.

4. That ſtate of perfect holineſſe which Adam received of God in his creation, for himſelfe and his poſterity. This no man now hath in this life.

5. The eſtate of holineſſe hereafter in heaven.

Gods juſtice] ſignifieth two things;

1. A juſt reward of my labours from the hand of God.

2. Juſt dealing in me, who ſhall be ſeen to keep nothing but mine owne, Gen. 30. 33.

Juſtification] Forgiveneſſe of ſins by the ſufferings of Chriſt, and the imputation of juſtice by his obedience, to the beleever. Ro. 5. 16. The gift is of many offences unto juſtification. verſ. 18. The benefit abounded toward all men to the juſtification of life. Here Juſtification is very ſtrictly uſed.

2. Whatſoever we have from Chriſt, either by imputation of Faith, or by ſanctification of the Spirit effectually renewing us. Tit. 3 7. That we being juſtified by his grace. In this ſignification we find the word [juſtifying] uſed, Rom. 8. 30. Whom he called, them he juſtified. Here Juſtification is uſed largely for Sanctification alſo.

If it be ſo, then is there no place for Juſtification in that place, Rom. 8. 30. Therefore Vocation there being for that which is effectuall, containeth, or ſignifieth, Sanctification; after which followeth Juſtification.

3. Juſtification is put for the teſtification or proof of our Juſtification; for ſo muſt that place be underſtood, Rom. 4. 25. ſeeing Chriſts reſurrection doth but confirm it, not cauſe it.

4. It may ſignifie, as privatively the acquitting of the guilty perſon, upon his repentance and faith, Rom. 4. 5. & 5. 16. ſo alſo poſitively, the commending verbally, and rewarding actually of a godly perſon for any godly act; and ſo may we underſtand our Saviour, Matth. 12. 37. and St. James, Jam. 2. 23, 24, 25.

5. There is a Juſtification by works of true righteouſneſſe, but yet not perfect, and therefore the Juſtification thereby is not to be truſted wholly unto; not at all without the privative Juſtification, viz. by remiſſion of ſins. See Pſal. 143. 2. & 32. 1, 2. and Rom. 4. 1, 2, 3, 5. He that is truely ſanctified by Chriſts Spirit, and beleeveth the merits of his death for remiſſion of ſins, hath a full and perfect Juſtification.

Juſtification is an action of God, freely, of his own mercy and favour abſolving a beleeving ſinner from the whole curſe due to his ſins, and accounting him perfectly juſt in his ſight, unto eternall life in heaven, through the perfect obedience and ſufferings of Chriſt imputed to his faith, unto the everlaſting praiſe and glory of Gods juſtice, mercy, and truth, Rom. 3. 24, 25. & 4. 5. & 5. 19. 2 Cor. 5. 19. Rom. 4. 4.

The efficient cauſe of Juſtification is the grace of God; the materiall, is Chriſt our Redeemer; the formall, imputation of our ſins to him, and his juſtice to us; the helping, inſtrumentall cauſe, is faith within, and the Goſpel without, Rom. 5. 9. 1 Tim. 2. 6. The finall cauſe is Gods glory, the utmoſt, our ſalvation the neereſt end thereof.

Juſtification before God, is not known in all Scripture, to be uſed for the infuſion of the habit of juſtice into the ſouls of the elect, at their firſt converſion, of unjuſt to make them habitually juſt. This is Popiſh and rotten Divinity, which wil have Juſtification to be underſtood of, and to ſignifie inherent juſtice, as Sanctification ſignifieth inherent ſanctity.

Juſtifie] To abſolve and quit one that is accuſed, from the crime wherewith he is charged, and to pronounce him innocent. Prov. 17. 15. He that condemneth the righteous, and juſtifieth the wicked. Matth. 12. 37. Iſa. 5. 23.

2. To abſolve and acquit a ſinner which beleeves, from the guilt and puniſhment of all his ſins, and to pronounce him righteous before the tribunall Seat of God, through the imputation of Chriſts righteouſneſſe to his faith. In this ſenſe we are

ſaid

ſaid to be juſtified by faith, and not by works. Rom. 3. 28. Therefore we conclude, a man is juſtified by faith, without works of the Law. Rom. 8. 33. And often elſewhere, both in the Epiſtle and others, [juſtifying] is put for our [abſolving] from ſin, and being pronounced juſt before God his Judgement-ſeat. See Act. 13. 39. Iſa. 53. 11. The oppoſition between juſtifying and condemning, doth confirm this, Rom. 8. 33, 34. Rom. 2. 12, 13. St. Paul ſearcheth the cauſes of Juſtification, and St. James ſeeks the effects, by which it may be found and proved. Paul intreateth of Juſtification before God, James of that which is before men.

3. To declare and manifeſt him to be juſt, which is ſo already. Jam. 2. 21. Was not Abraham our Father juſtified by works? 1 Tim. 3. 16.

4. To commend and acknowledge a thing or perſon to be juſt and good. Luk. 7. 35. Wiſdome is juſtified of her children. & 10. 39. He willing to juſtifie himſelfe.

5. To over-match, overcome, and exceed others in evill, ſo as others may ſeem to be juſt, in compariſon of them. Ezek. 16. 51. Thou haſt exceeded them in thine abominations, and haſt juſtified them in all thy abominations. Jer. 3. 6.

6. To be more juſt, or leſſe unjuſt. Jer. 3. 11. Iſrael hath juſtified her ſelf more than Judah.

7. To exempt one, and to make him utterly and wholly free from any thing. Rom. 6. 7. He that is dead is juſtified from ſin; that is, freed from ſin, as ſome Tranſlations have it.

8. To endevour to make himſelfe more juſt, or to profit and perſevere in righteouſneſſe. Rev. 22. 12. He that is juſt, let him ſtill be juſtified. Thus it is read in the Originall Greek Text. Here it is uſed of that inchoate and unperfect righteouſneſſe, which is inherent in the regenerate.

In all the Old Teſtament, it cannot be found, that the word which ſignifieth [juſtifying] is ever uſed in the Originall Hebrew tongue, otherwiſe then for [abſolving] a perſon accuſed. Neither in the New Teſtament, when our [juſtification] before God is ſpoken of, hath it any other meaning; and ever found (in this Argument) to ſignifie, of one evill and unjuſt, to make him juſt and good.

Note. There is a juſtification in opinion onely, as that Lawyer in Luk. 10. juſtified himſelfe: and the Phariſees in Luk. 16. 15. Secondly, there is another juſtification in truth and very deed, even before God; and this is twofold:

1. Legall, by perfect keeping of the Law, which could give righteouſneſſe and life eternall to the doers, could any be found that by his owne ſtrength could fulfill it, Rom. 2. 13. & 10. 5.

2. Evangelicall; to wit, the perfect righteouſneſſe which was in the Man Chriſt, being imputed to the beleever, Rom. 5. 1.

Three reaſons out of Rom. 4. why a man cannot be ſaid to be juſtified by a righteouſneſſe habituall infuſed, or inherent, as Papiſts underſtand the phraſe in Rom. 4, 5.

Firſt then, it ſhould not be written, that faith was accounted for righteouſneſſe, but an infuſed habit was imputed: whereas he ſaith not this latter, but the former, verſ. 5.

Secondly, then Paul would not ſay that righteouſneſſe is imputed without the works of the Law, in verſ. 6. The elect are juſtified being ſinners and wicked, Rom. 4. 5. Therefore the thing for which they be juſtified, cannot be their owne inherent juſtice, Phil. 3. 9. For habituall righteouſneſſe, or inherent juſtice, it is a work of the Law, and ſticketh in the juſtified perſon. But what ſo ſticketh, and is inherent, cannot be ſaid to be imputed, which is underſtood of ſomething without, and which we have not in us.

Thirdly, ſuch as be juſtified by infuſed juſtice, of them it cannot be affirmed, that their ſins are covered, forgiven, and not imputed. For habituall juſtice expelleth and takes away all ſin, and hideth it not; whereas a wicked man is juſtified by hiding and remitting his ſins, verſ. 7. Add to theſe, that inherent Juſtice is all one with Sanctification, which may not be confounded with Juſtification.

The Doctrine of Juſtification by Faith only, without the Works of the Law, is not onely grounded on Scripture, Gal. 2. 28. Rom. 13. 28. but found Antiquity hath ſubſcribed to this truth. The beleever (ſaith Ambroſe on 1 Cor. 1.) is ſaved by Faith alone, without Works, receiving gratis the remiſſion of ſins. Again, they are freely juſtified, working nothing, nor making recompence, but juſtified ſola Fide, by Faith alone, through the gift of God. Ambroſe in Rom. 3. 9. Again, he ſaith in Rom. 4. Abraham was juſtified not by the Works of the Law, but Fide ſola, by Faith alone.

The Apoſtle (ſaith Origen) teacheth the Juſtification ſolius Fidei, of Faith alone, to be be ſufficient. In Rom. lib. 3. Thus the Theef and the Publican, and ſinfull woman, in Luk. 7. were juſtified, ſaith Origen. Alſo Baſil (ſola fide) by faith alone in Chriſt, a ſinner is juſtified. This one thing (ſaith Chryſoſt.) I earneſtly affirm, that fides ſola, faith alone by it ſelfe made the Theef ſafe, and that no works, per ſe, by themſelves, have ever juſtified the workers.

Hierom on Rom. 4. God juſtifieth the wicked converting, per ſolam fidem, and not by works, which he had not: And again, to the Sons of Abraham, faith alone is imputed for righteonſneſſe.

Athanaſius ad Galat. Faith alone hath in it the power of Juſtifying. In all which ſentences, Faith alone doth not exclude the Grace of God, the Merits of Chriſt, and the Word and Sacraments, but Humane works and merits.

To Juſtifie is fourfold.

1. Falſely, and vain-glorioufly; when a man juſtifieth himſelf, Luk. 10. 29. & 16. 15.

2. Politickly, in the publick courſe of Juſtice; either rightly, Deut. 25. 1. or unjuſtly, Prov. 17. 15. Iſa. 5. 23.

3. Legally, by a mans owne righteouſneſſe, according to the Law. So the Jews ſought to be juſtified, Rom. 9. 31. & 10. 3. but thus none can be juſtified, Pſa. 143. 2. Rom. 3. 20. Gal. 2. 16. Thus none attain to the righteouſneſſe of God, Rom. 9. 31. & 10. 3. yea, them that ſeek thus to be juſtified, Chriſt profiteth nothing, and they are faln from grace, Gal. 5. 4.

4. Evangelically, Rom. 5. 1. Thus are all beleevers, Act. 13. 39. Rom. 3. 22, 26. and they are ſaid to be juſtified by Chriſt, Gal. 2. 16. by grace freely, through Jeſus Chriſt, Rom. 3. 24. Tit. 3. 7. by faith, Rom. 5. 1. Gal. 3. 8. by his blood, Rom. 5. 9. by his knowledge, Iſa. 53. 11.

This act is ſpoken 1. of Man juſtifying man; that is, doth abſolve, clear, acquit, and that publickly, as a Judge in Court, Deut. 25. 1. Prov. 17. 15. Privately, as a private perſon, Job 33. 32.

2. Of Man juſtifying God, Luk. 7. 29. namely, in beleeving and thankfully acknowledging righteouſneſſe to him, and praiſing him for the performance of his promiſes.

3. Of Chriſt juſtifying Man, Iſa. 53. 11. namely, by acquitting him before God, from the guilt and puniſhment of ſin.

4. Of Chriſt juſtified in the Spirit; that is, his divine power gave him approbation, 1 Tim. 3. 16.

5. Of the children of wiſdom, juſtifying it; that is, exhibiting honor due unto it, Mat. 11. 19.

6. Of God juſtifying Man; which is, not to impute ſin, to cover it, and to forgive the ſinner in Chriſt, Rom. 8. 33.

To be juſtified in the Law] To deſire, or to be willing to be, (as did ſome Galatians) or to glory and boaſt of being juſtified by the obſervation and works of the Law (as the Phariſee did, in Luk. 18.) Gal. 5. 4. Whoſoever are juſtified by the Law, &c.

The nature and force of the Law, is to kill, and to be a Miniſter of wrath and eternall death to all which break it, (as all men doe, both before and after grace received,) ſo far off it is from power to juſtifie and to give life. Alſo in the phraſe and language of Paul, to be juſtified by Works, is, to have ſuch perfect obedience and holineſſe, as may deſerve the teſtimony of righteouſneſſe, before the Tribunall ſeat of God.

Note. When we are ſaid to be juſtified by Faith, and to attain righteouſneſſe by or through Faith, underſtand it inſtrumentally: but where it is written, Faith is accounted for righteouſneſſe, take it to be ſpoken correlatively, with reference to Chriſts merit, which is our juſtice.

To juſtifie the wicked] To abſolve a wicked man from his guilt, and pronounce him juſt, ſo as he beleeve in Chriſt. After which, he remaineth not wicked, but is now accounted juſt with God, by imputation of Chriſt his juſtice unto him, and worketh juſt things towards men, by inchoate and unperfect ſanctification. Rom. 4. 5. To him which beleeveth in God, who juſtifieth the wicked.

The declaration, confirmation, and conſummation of the free imputation of the perfect righteouſneſſe in Chriſt, it is attributed in Scripture unto the Reſurrection of our Saviour Chriſt, Rom. 4. 25. becauſe it is the perfection of all his ſufferings. For, whatſoever his ſufferings were for continuance, greatneſſe, and multitude; yet had he not riſen again, the redemption of mankinde had ſtill been imperfect; whereas in that after death, he did again reſtore his body to life; this ſheweth him to be a full conqueror of all our ſpiritual enemies.

Juſtly] That is, rightfully, righteouſly, agreeable to equity, Mic. 6. 8. Luk. 23. 41. 1 Theſſ. 2. 10.

Juſtus] Juſt, or virtuous. The ſurname of Joſeph, called Barſabas, Act. 1. 23. One who worſhipped God, into whoſe houſe Paul entred, Act. 18. 7. One Jesus, mentioned Col. 4. 11.

Juttah] Turning away. A City, Josh. 21. 16.

I Z.

Izhar] Clearnesse, oyle; or, pertaining to none. The Son of Kohath, Exod. 6. 18. Of him the family of the Izeharites, Num. 3. 27. or Izharites, 1 Chr. 24. 22.

Izrahiah] The Lord ariseth; or, the clearnesse of the Lord. The Son of Uzzi, 1 Chr. 7. 3.

Izrahite] Shamuth thus named, 1 Chr. 27. 8.

Izreel] The seed of God; or, the dropping down of Gods friendship; or, the sprinkling upon the shepherd of God. A City, Josh. 19. 18.

Izri] To him befel the fourth lot, 1 Chr. 25. 11.

Izrites, or Jezerites] Numb. 26. 49. A fastening; or, a making of earth; or, tribulation; or, making narrow; or, sorrowfull.

K A.

Kab] A measure, containing twenty four egges; it held proportion with our quart. The least measure mentioned in Scripture, is the fourth part of a Kab, 2 King. 6. 25. The Rabbins have a proverb, that Ten kabs of speech descended into the world, and the women took away nine of them. Goodwyn Moses and Aaron, p. 321. Others hold, that it contained about three of our wine quarts.

Kabzeel] The congregation of God. A City, Josh. 15. 21.

Kadesh] Holinesse. A City called En-mishpat, Gen. 14. 7. Where were the waters of strife, Ezek. 47. 19. and where the Israelites abode many dayes, Deut. 1. 46.

Kadesh-barnea] Holinesse of an inconstant Son; or holinesse of corn; or, holinesse of troubled cleannesse. A place, Num. 32. 8.

Kadmiel] God of ancientnesse, or God of rising. A Levite, Ezr. 2. 40. The Father of Jeshua, Neh. 12. 24.

Kadmonites] Ancients, or Chief. A people, Gen. 15. 19.

Kain] A possession, or possessed. The Son of Adam, Gen. 4. 5. See Cain.

Kainan] A buyer, or Owner, Gen. 5. 9. See Cainan.

Kallai] Light, rosting by fire; or, my voyce. Of Sallai, Neh. 12. 20.

Kanah] Of reeds. A River, Josh. 16. 8.

Karrah, or Carrah] Bald. The Father of Johanan, 2 King. 25. 23.

5. To perform indeed, or to keep in effect the Law of God; and this two wayes: 1 by our selves, so we should, but doe not perfectly, Psal. 119. 4, 5. 2 by another for us, which other is onely Christ, Gal. 3. 12, 13.

6. To beware of an evill, to avoyd it, or keep our selves from it, Luk. 12. 15.

7. To possesse and enjoy as our own.

8. To hide, Psal. 17. 8.

9. To

9. To doe, Josh. 22.5. 1 Chr. 4.10.marg.
10. To hold fast, 1 Cor. 15. 2. marg.
11. To save, Joh. 17. 15.
12. To beget, uphold, nourish, Mal. 2. 7.
13. To retain the memory of, 2 Sam. 18. 18.
14. To observe or celebrate, Exod.12.14. Matt. 26. 18.

To keep from evill] To minister sufficient strength and aid unto the weak Apostles, (and all other feeble Christians) to withstand the manifold and dangerous temptations of Satan: that though he assault often and fiercely, yet he might never wholly and finally overcome them, but in the end give them a perfect victory over him, after long enduring the combate with him. Joh. 17. 15. But shouldst keep them from the evill.

To keep the Faith] To hold fast without losing both the gift and doctrine of Faith. 2 Tim. 4. 7. I have kept the faith.

To keep house] Psal. 113. 9. that is, To dwell in an house, Ib. marg.

To keep the Law] To desire and take care how to perform and doe according to our power, things commanded. 1 Joh. 2. 3. If we keep his commandment. Psal. 119. 4, 5, 8. These be Evangelicall sentences, and speak of Evangelicall keeping.

2. To perform fully and perfectly all the things required in the Law. Matt.19.17. He that will enter into life, let him keep the Commandements. This is impossible to be done, through our weakness, Rom. 8. 3. Christ onely since mans fall hath done this Legall keeping.

To keep the Word] To beleeve the promises of Grace, and to endevour to doe the words of the Commandement. Luk. 11. 28. Blessed are they that hear the Word of God, and keep it. Rev. 2. 26. He that keepeth my Word to the end: Evangelicall keeping.

Keepers] put for, Watch-men, 2 King. 11. 5. Dore-keepers, 2 King. 22. 4. Such as have the custody of any thing committed to them, 1 Chr. 15. 24. Cant. 5. 7. & 8. 11. Jer. 4. 17. Abiders within, Tit. 2. 5.

Keepers of the house] signifie, A mans arms, which are given to man of God, to be the keepers of the whole body, both for attracting good things to it, and repelling evill things from it. These in old age tremble and shake, Eccl. 12. 3. So by strong men, the thighes by which a man goeth straight and strong. These in old age bow for weakness, Ibid. So by grinders, the teeth whereby meat is chewed (as corn is ground by the mil-stone) which in old age are lost, and loose, and so feeble, as it makes old men eat little and seldome, Ib. So by lookers out at the window, the eyes which are dimmed and darkened in old age, as the teeth be dulled and made blunt, Ib. Kettle] A veſſell wherein the Sacrifice was boyled, 1 Sam. 2. 14.

Keturah] Smelling ſweet, perfuming; or, contended for. The Wife of Abraham, Gen. 25. 1.

Key] An inſtrument made to open or ſhut the lock of a Dore, or of a Gate. Judg. 3. 25. They took the key and opened them.

2. Great authority and power to command in the things that belong to this life. Iſa. 22. 22. I will lay upon the ſhoulders of Eliakim the keys of the houſe of David. A ſpeech borowed. For Keys were a ſigne of Government. Hereby was ſhadowed and repreſented, the exceeding great authority and power which Chriſt exerciſeth in his Church, by commanding, forbidding, puniſhing, hardening, calling, &c. See Rev. 3. 7. Which hath the Key of David.

The power and right of the Keys, is,

I. In the Lord or Maſter, who hath an abſolute and ſupreme power of opening and ſhutting. Hence Chriſt is ſaid to have,

1. The key of the houſe of David; that is, the whole power of adminiſtration and government in the Church, and ſo an abſolute and ſupreme power, as the abſolute Maſter and ſupreme Lord of his Church, Rev. 3. 7. where alluſion ſeemeth to be made to Iſa. 22. 22.

2. The keys of hell, and of death, Rev. 1. 18. or, of the bottomleſſe pit, Rev. 20. 1. Which laſt Key is ſaid to have been given unto the ſtar that fell from heaven unto the earth, Rev. 9. 1. namely, to Antichriſt, becauſe he arrogateth power unto himſelfe to open and ſhut hell at his pleaſure.

II. In the Servants, to whom their Lord and Maſter hath committed them; and that,

1. In the Steward; in which reſpect the Key of the houſe of David is ſaid to be laid upon the ſhoulder of Eliakim, Iſa. 22. 22. as who was (as the chief Officer) to take care of the houſe of David; that is, the Kingdome of Judah. And the Keys of the Kingdome of heaven; that is, the Miniſterial power of governing the Church, are given of Chriſt unto his Miniſters, Matth. 26. 19. not unto Peter alone, but unto all the reſt, Joh. 20. 23. which they exerciſe through the Miniſtery of the Goſpel committed unto them; namely, the preaching of the Word, and Eccleſiaſticall diſcipline; for by theſe two they open and ſhut heaven, binde and looſe, remit and retain ſins, not by a proper and abſolute authority (for that's of God alone) but as in the name, and by the authority of Chriſt, they pronounce unto beleevers and penitent ſinners, the mercy of God, and that their ſins are pardoned; but unto the unbeleeving and impenitent, the wrath of God, and that their ſins are not pardoned, and conſequently, that thoſe are, theſe are not true members of the Church.

2. In the Porter; to which power alluſion is made, Luk. 11. 52. where, by the Key of Knowledge, the power, right, and gift of teaching and interpreting the Scriptures, given of Chriſt unto his faithfull Miniſters, that in the right uſe of them, they may bring men unto the knowledge of God, and conſequently life eternall is underſtood. This Key the Lawyers are ſaid to have taken away, Luk. 11. 52. as who did arrogate to themſelves the knowledge of the Law, and gift of teaching and interpreting the Scriptures; or, who did by their falſe and erroneous gloſſes and interpretations, corrupt the whole doctrine of the Law.

Key of knowledge] The gift and ability to interpret Scriptures, whereby an entrance is made to the knowledge thereof, as by a Key an entrance is made into an houſe. The ſenſe of Scriptures is as it were lockt up, till it be opened by wiſe and ſound Interpretation, which is the Key of Knowledge. Luk. 11. 52. Ye have taken away the Key of Knowledge.

The Key (ſaith St. Chryſoſtome) is the opening of Scripture, whereby the gate of truth is opened. The Key is the expoſition of the Law (ſaith Tertullian.) Opening the Scripture is the Key (ſaith Hieron.)

Keys of the Kingdome] The Miniſtery of the Goſpel, even the whole power thereof, which was equally committed to Peter and the reſt of the Apoſtles; and after them to the Miniſters of the Church, unto whom it belongs, by the commiſſion of Chriſt, to open and ſhut, to binde and looſe, to retain and remit ſins; alſo, to teach, to reprove, to exhort. Matt. 16. 19. To thee I give the Keys of the Kingdome: and verſ. 19. & 18. 18. Tell it unto the Church. Rom. 1. 16. The Goſpel is the power of God to ſalvation.

Suppoſe that the Popes were Peters Succeſſors, ceſſors, yet theſe Keys were unjuſtly tyed to their girdles, which doe not teach knowledge.

Keys of the Kingdome are twofold:

1. Key of knowledge.

2. Key of power and government.

Papiſts falſely imagine theſe Keys to be tyed onely to Peters girdle.

Note. Keys by a borrowed ſpeech ſignifies, power and authority by the Miniſtery of the Word, either to give entrance into the Kingdome of heaven to beleevers, or to caſt out obſtinate refuſers.

The power of the Church (ſignified by the Keys) is occupyed either about doctrine, or diſcipline. Touching doctrine, neither any in the Church, nor the whole Church have authority to enjoyn an article of faith, beſide, without, or contrary to the Word, or to appoint the worſhip of God, Deut. 4. 2. & 12. 32. alſo, Prov. 30.6. But to do theſe three things about the Scripture: firſt, to diſcern Canonicall books from uncanonicall: ſecondly, to interpret the Scripture by the Scripture, and to defend the right ſenſe againſt errors: thirdly, to expound them openly, according to the analogy of faith, Rom. 12. 6. 2 Pet. 1. 20.

Concerning Diſcipline, the Churches power is either in making Laws about Adiaphora, which binde in caſe of ſcandall; or in correcting errors in faith, or ſins in manners; 1 by Admonition, 2 Suſpenſion, 3 Excommunication, 1 Tim. 5.20. 2 Theſ. 3.14. Matt. 18.17. 1 Cor. 5. 4, 5.

Note. Becauſe by theſe meanes penitents have an entrance into the Church, which often is called the Kingdome of heaven; Hence are they tearmed Keys.

Keys of the bottomleſſe pit] Power and government over the deepeſt darkneſſe of hel. Rev. 9. 1. And to him was given the Key of the bottomleſſe pit. See Dictionary on the Revelation.

Keziah] As pleaſant as Caſſiah; or, fine ſpices. The name of Jobs ſecond daughter, Job 42. 14.

Keziz] A valley, Joſh. 18. 21.

K I.

Kibzoth-hattaavah] The graves of luſt. A manſion, Numb. 11. 34.

Kibzaim] Congregations. A City, Joſh. 21. 22.

Kick] Spurn, wince, fling: and by a Metaphor, Not obey, ſtubbornly refuſe, Deu. 32.15. 1 Sam. 2. 29.

To kick] To reſiſt God ſpeaking in his Word, ſtubbornly to diſobey it, Deut. 32.15. Here be in this verſe two apt ſimilitudes to expreſſe their contempt of Gods commandements in their great proſperity; one from a Horſe, which being ſore travelled, is ſoon ruled, a childe may bridle or ride him; but being fed fat in good paſture, and living in eaſe, will not know, but kicks againſt his Owner: The other, from an Oxe, which being laboured, and uſed to the yoak, and tyred, one may eaſily handle him; but being pamper'd and grown full of fleſh, having collops in the flank, is ſturdy and refractary, refuſing the yoke, and ſtrouting the neck: ſo Iſraelites, who in their adverſity ſought God, in proſperity forſook their ſtrong Maker and Redeemer, going after Idols and ſtrange Gods.

Kick againſt the pricks] A proverbiall ſpeech of them, who ſtriving to reſiſt one more powerfull, even God; not onely profit nothing by their contumacy, but do very much harm themſelves, Act. 9. 5. & 26. 14. The ſimilitude is taken from Oxen, who being pricked with a goad, kick and wince, but are forced notwithſtanding to goe on in their work.

Kid] An ordinary meat, and moſt uſuall to ſet before friends, Judg. 6.19. & 13, 15, 19. & 15. 1. 1 Sam. 16. 20. Luk. 15. 22. and a preſent ſent to them, 1 Sam. 16. 20. Uſed alſo in Sacrifices, Lev. 4. 23, 28. & 23. 19. Numb. 7. 87.

It's put for a young one of the goats, Numb. 7. 16, 87. An harmleſſe creature, Iſa. 11. 6. Young and tender Chriſtians, Cant. 1. 8.

Thou ſhalt not ſeethe a kid in his Mothers milk, Exod. 23. 19. & 34. 26. & Deut. 14. 21. The words are by the Chaldee rendred thus, Thou ſhalt not eat fleſh with milk: So by Arabick Edition of Erpenius, and not much differently by another, Thou ſhalt not ſeethe or dreſſe fleſh with milk; and by the Hieruſalem Targum, thus, It is not lawfull for you, O my people, the houſe of Iſrael, to ſeethe or to eat fleſh and milk mixt together; this ſenſe may ſeem to have a ground from the like prohibition of Linſey-woolſey garments, and the ſowing of a field with mingled ſeed, Lev. 19. 19. Beſide the preſent obſervation of the Jews, who have practiſed this ſenſe of the Text immemorially, for ought we yet know. Gregory's Notes on Exod. 23. 19. p. 91.

In the Mothers milk; either as affecting exceſſively the pleaſing of the palate with too much curioſity, becauſe uſually fleſh is boyled in water, not in milk; or it may be, the meat meat of a Kid ſo young, that it is (in reſpect of the late yeaning of it) rather moyſt like milk, then any firm or ſolid fleſh, and ſo not wholeſome, as that which is of more age; Or this may have reference to the Paſchal Sacrifice, which was to be taken from the goats, as well as from the ſheep, Exod. 12. 5. Large Annot.

The intendment of this Law ſeemeth to be either againſt cruelty, according to another prohibition, of taking the dam with the young, Deut. 22. 6, 7. Or againſt mixtures of meats, as elſewhere God forbiddeth mixtures in garments, in ſowing of fields, and the like, Lev. 19. 19. Aynſworth on the place.

But ſeeing the precepts of the Law (thoſe of this kinde eſpecially) are ſtill ſet downe with a reflexion upon the Heathen rites, and not thoſe onely of ſimple idolatry, but moſt of all ſuch as were complicated with magicall and unreaſonable ſuperſtition; It is certain that this muſt reſpect to ſome idolatrous rite of the Heathen, who (as ſome think) did ſeethe a Kid in milk at the time of In-gathering of fruits, hoping by this to propitiate their gods. See Mr. Gregorie's Notes on this place, p. 91.

Kidneys] put for, 1. Thoſe two naturall parts in the body, in man or beaſt, Lev. 3. 4. Iſa. 34. 6. being the inſtruments of ſeed for generation, and were burnt upon the Altar, Exod. 29. 13. to ſignifie mortification of luſts, Col. 3. 5.

2. The kernels of wheat, Deut. 32. 14.

3. The inmoſt affection and deſires, Pſal. 7. 10. & 139. 13.

Kidron] Making black, or ſad. A brook, 2 Sam. 15. 23. Jer. 31. 40.

Kill] To cut off the head, Iſa. 29. 1. marg. To ſacrifice, Mar. 14. 12. marg. To ſlay, murther, put to death, &c.

This is ſpoken 1. of God, Gen. 18. 25. Lam. 2. 21. who hath many wayes to kill and take away life.

2. Of Man, ſpoken moſt uſually in evill part, 2 Sam. 12. 7. 1 King. 21. 19. yet ſometime in good part, 1 Sam. 17. 25, 26, 27.

3. Of Wrath, Job 5. 2.

4. Of the deſire of the ſlothfull, Prov. 21. 25.

5. Of the letter, 2 Cor. 3. 6. Being,

1. Corporally, and that lawfully, Deut. 13. 9. Unlawfully, 2 Sam. 13. 18. 1 King. 16. 7.

2. Spiritually, 2 Cor. 3. 6.

Kinah] A poſſeſſion, a buying, a birds neſt, or bewailing. A City, Joſh. 15. 22.

Kind] Spoken of Trees, Gen. 1. verſ. 11. Herb, 12. Every living thing which the waters brought forth, and every winged fowle, 21. The living creature, cattel, creeping thing, and beaſts of the earth, 24. Inſtruments of all manner of ſervice, 1 Chr. 28. 14. Sellers of ware, Neh. 13. 20. Riches, Ezek. 27. 12. Taken for Nature, Jam. 3. 7. marg.

Kinde] Courteous, gentle, favourable.

Spoken of God, Luk. 6. 35. whoſe kindeneſſe is marvellous, Pſal. 31. 21. merciſull, Pſal. 117. 2. & 119. 76. great, Neh. 9. 17. Joel 2. 13. everlaſting, Iſa. 54. 8.

Man, 2 Chr. 10. 7.

Charity, 1 Cor. 13. 4.

Kindneſſe] Readineſſe and facility in doing good: it is that virtue, whereby a good man becomes beneficiall and profitable every way to ſuch, to whom he can be helpfull. 2 Cor. 6. 6. By kindneſſe, &c.

2. The benignity of God, readily doing good to his creatures. Rom. 2. 4. The riches of his kindneſſe. Compare Luk. 6. 35. with Mat. 5. 45.

Kindle] ſignifieth properly, To make a fire to burn, Exod. 35. 3. Act. 28. 2.

Figuratively, To ſtir up, Prov. 26. 21. To begin to be made hot, Luk. 12. 49.

Kine] Taken properly, Deut. 7. 13. & 32. 14. 1 Sam. 6. 7.

Figuratively, for wicked men, Amos 4. 1.

Kindred] See Generation, Poſterity, Brethren.

Firſt, neerneſſe of blood, which is twofold. 1. Aſcending, as of Father, Mother, &c. 2. Deſcending, as of children, nephews, &c. 3. Collaterall, as Brethren, Siſters, Uncle, &c.

King] Any Ruler or Governour of others. Gen. 36. 31. Theſe are the Kings that reigned in Edom. Judg. 17. 6. In thoſe days there was no King in Iſrael; that is, no ordinary Magiſtrate. They had no Ruler at all.

2. A perſon that hath chief rule and power under God in his Kingdome over his peoples lives and goods, to govern them according to good and wholeſome Laws, and the reaſonable cuſtomes of that Countrey where he reigns. Prov. 8. 15. By me Kings reign. 1 King. 4. 1. King Solomon was King over all Iſrael. This is a politicall King, and is ſet up either by lawfull election, ſucceſſion, or conqueſt. Alſo a Kingdome, Dan. 7. 10.

3. The Soveraign Emperour and Ruler over the whole world. Pſal. 24. 10. Who is the King of Glory? This is a cœleſtial and univeruniverſall King over the world. And thus God the Father, Son, and Spirit be King. 1 Tim. 1. 17. Now to the King everlaſting.

4. A perſon, that hath ſpirituall rule (even over the conſcience) to appoint Laws to his Church, to ſave and deſtroy, to command and forbid, upon pain of eternal death: finally, to protect againſt all enemies, and to bleſſe with good things of all ſorts. Pſ. 2. 6. I have ſet my King upon Sion. Pſal. 110. 1, 2. Pſal. 45. 1, 5, 6. This is a ſpirituall King over the Church: and ſuch a one is Chriſt the Mediatour; and he alone in a peculiar ſort, who is called the King of peace and righteouſneſſe, a King of Kings, the King of Iſrael, and the King of glory. The Lord of the Kings of the earth, the head of his Church, which is his body, having all things ſubject to him, Eph. 2.

5. A beleeving perſon, even every true Chriſtian, which hath power from the Spirit of Chriſt (as a King) to ſubdue and to keep under the rebellious motions and luſts of his corrupt reaſon and will, and is by faith partaker of Chriſts royall dignity and glory, being with him heir annexed of an heavenly Kingdome. Rev. 1. 6. And hath made us Kings and Prieſts unto God. 1 Pet. 2. 9. Ye are a Kingly Prieſthood. Thus are all the faithfull Kings.

There are four ſorts of Kings.

I. Heavenly; ſo is God, Pſal. 44. 4.

II. Spirituall; 1. Jeſus Chriſt, Pſal. 2. 6. Cant. 1. 4. Mat. 21. 5. 2. Chriſts true members, Rev. 1. 6. & 5. 10.

III. Diabolicall, Rev. 9. 11.

IV. Earthly, 1 King. 4. 34. Pſal. 89. 27. Rev. 18. 3, 9. and that of Cities, Gen. 14. 18. Nations, Gen. 14. 1, 9. Some one Kingdome or Land, 1 King. 20. 21, 22. 2 King. 18. 5. Many Kingdomes, 2 Chron. 32. 4. Iſa. 36. 4. Dan. 2. 37.

2. Of Men alſo, lawfully, 2 Chr. 23. 1, 11. & 26. 1. Unlawfully, Judg. 9. 6. 2 Sam. 2 9. 1 King. 12. 19, 20.

3. Of ones ſelf, 1 King. 1. 5.

Firſt King] Alexander the great, King of Grecia, who firſt of all Grecian Kings got Judea, Dan. 8. 21. He is called a great horn, ver. 8. and the breaking of this horn, verſ. 22. is the death of Alexander, who dyed at the age of 32 years. The four Kingdoms which ſtood up after Alexander's death, were 1 Macedon, 2 Aſia, 3 Syria, and 4 Ægypt. Theſe ſtood up not equall to Alexander in power, whoſe might was ſuch, as with his preſence, nay with his fame he conquered, verſ. 5.

King of Kings] A very potent and mighty King which ruleth over many people with exceeding great command and power, Ezr. 7. 12. Dan. 2. 38. An Hebraiſme like that, Servant of Servants, for a moſt vile and abject Bond-man, Gen. 9. 25. and Holy of Holy, for Moſt holy, Exod. 26. 33. See Deut. 10. 17.

2. One of infinite power, which hath Soveraignty and chief rule over Kings and people, and all creatures. So is Chriſt intituled, Rev. 19.

King of the North] Antiochus Theos, King of Syria, who marryed one Berenice, daughter to Ptolemeus Philadelphus, ſecond King of Ægypt, after Lagus his Son; forſaking his owne lawfull Wife Laodice, of whom he had begotten two children, that he might make way to the Marriage with Berenice the Daughter of the King of the North, and by that means ſettle a peace and league between the ſaid two Kingdomes; yet failed of his purpoſe, becauſe God had otherwiſe purpoſed. Dan. 11. 6. The Kings daughter of the South, ſhall come to the King of the North. See ch. 2. 43. The arm which could not with power uphold the King of Syria, was his new Wife naughtily come by, and made weak by God.

King of the South] Ptolemeus Son of Lagus, King of Ægypt, which was South-ward in reſpect of Judea, Dan. 11. 5. The King of the South ſhall be ſtrong.

This is to be noted, that Daniel doth ſharply touch and wring thoſe Kings onely which afflicted the Jews; whereof after Alexander's death, Ptolemeus was the firſt, who by guile took Jeruſalem, and led many of them priſoners: as Joſephus lib. 12. Antiq. cap. 1.

Kings ſhall ſtand up in Perſia] Thoſe three Kings which ſucceeded in Perſia, after Darius the Mede, whoſe names were, 1 Cyrus, 2 Cambyſes Son of Cyrus, 3 Darius Hiſtaſpes: The fourth ſpoken of here, which came after the other three, was Xerxes, who at firſt was a terrour to the Grecians, to whom afterward he proved a laughing-ſtock, and a ſcorn, Dan. 11. 2, 3, 4. In the third ver. the mighty King is Alexander the great King of Macedony, who ſpoyled the Perſian King, and deſtroyed his people, as in Dan. 2. 24. & 7. 6. was propheſied: but after Alexander's Monarchy narchy had flouriſhed ſeven years, it was divided between 1 Nicanor, 2 Caſſander, 3 Antigonus, 4 Ptolemy; whereof Nicanor Seleucus obtained Babylon in the Eaſt: Caſſander got Macedony in the Weſt: Antigonus poſſeſſed himſelfe of Aſia the leſſe, in the North: and Ptolemy Son of Lagus, of Ægypt in the South. Thus was Alexanders Kingdome parted toward the four Winds of Heaven, among others than his owne poſterity.

With the Kings of Perſia] Cambyſes with the chief Rulers and Counſellors of the Kingdome. Dan. 10. 13. With the Kings of Perſia.

Kingdome] put for, 1. Soveraignty, and chief rule, 1 Chr. 29. 11. Pſal. 22. 28. & 103. 19.

2. Heaven, Mat. 26. 29. 2 Tim. 4. 18.

3. Right to be King, 1 Sam. 20. 31.

4. Power of rule, 1 Sam. 18. 8. 2 Sam. 3. 10. Luk. 19. 5.

There's the Kingdome 1. of God, being of his power, Pſal. 103. 19. of his grace, Mat. 6. 10. 33. of his glory, Luk. 22. 16. 1 Cor. 6. 9. called Heavenly, 2 Tim. 4. 18.

2. Of Chriſt, Mat. 16. 28. Col. 1. 13. which is not of this world, Joh. 18. 36. and whereof there is no end, Luk. 1. 33.

3. Of Heaven, put for the viſible Church, Mat. 5. 19, 20. & 13. 47. The Evangelicall Miniſtery, Matth. 13. 24, 25. The time of grace under Jeſus Chriſt, Matth. 3. 2. The ſtate of grace, and newneſſe of life, Matth. 13. 31. The celeſtiall place of glory, Matt. 5. 10.

4. Of Prieſts, being the ſociety of a faithfull people in the ſtate of grace, having through grace a Kingly rule over themſelves, to offer up ſpirituall ſacrifices unto God, Ex. 19. 6. 1 Pet. 2. 9.

5. Of Men; called the Kingdomes of the World, Iſa. 23. 17. Matth. 4. 8. of the Earth, Jerem. 24. 9. & 34. 1, 17. of the Heathen, Hag. 2. 22. of the Lands, 2 Chr. 17. 10.

A Kingdome of Prieſts] The ſociety of all the faithfull which beleeve in Chriſt, of whoſe royall and Prieſtly dignity they are made partakers of through grace, as 1 Pet. 2. 9. Rev. 1. 6. Exod. 19. 6. Ye ſhall be a Kingdome of Prieſts.

Concerning the Kingdome] About the account, affairs, and adminiſtration of the Kingdome of Babylon, which was committed to Daniel. Dan. 6. 4. Concerning the Kingdome.

Kingdome of Chriſt] His regiment and rule, which he (as Mediatour) hath and exerciſeth over the Church, inwardly by his Spirit, and outwardly by his Word, to the gathering of the elect unto himſelfe, and to the deſtruction of the wicked. Joh. 18. 36. My Kingdome is not of this world. Luk. 1. 33. Of his Kingdome there is no end. This Kingdome of Chriſt our Mediatour, is ſpirituall and eternall; therefore both Jews, Papiſts, and all other, who dream or deal, as if Chriſt his Kingdome were worldly in outward power and pomp, are exceedingly deceived.

Glory of Kingdomes] Babylon in Iſaiah's time to have been more glorious and excellent for power, riches, &c. then other Kingdomes, Iſa. 13. 19. Babylon, the head of the Chaldees, moſt excellent in the whole world, ſaith Pliny. Yet this place for ſin ſhould be laid utterly waſte like Sodom, and become as an horrid deſert or wilderneſſe, without inhabitants, ſave wilde beaſts, and ſtrange fowles, as Ochim, and Oſtriches, and Satyres, Hobgoblins, as one would ſay. This deſolation began neer 200. years after Iſaiah propheſied it.

Kingdome of God] His powerfull government, generally over the whole world, and every particular in it, even unto the Sparrows on the houſe top, and hairs of our head; which he preſerveth and diſpoſeth of according to his owne will and royall decree. Pſal. 145. 13. Thy Kingdome is an everlaſting Kingdome. Matth. 10. 30. This is his Kingdome of power: whereunto men, devils, and all creatures whatſoever are ſubject.

2. His ſpeciall gracious government and rule over the Elect, whoſe hearts he enlighteneth and guideth by his Spirit, effectually moving them to beleeve his promiſes, and doe his will. Matth. 6. 33. Seek the Kingdome of God. Joh. 3. 3. Except ye be born again, ye cannot ſee the Kingdome of God. Rom. 14. 17. The Kingdome of God is righteouſneſſe, and peace, and joy in the holy Ghoſt. Luk. 17. 21. The Kingdome of God is in you. This is the Kingdome of Grace.

3. His glorious and bleſſed eſtate, wherein he reigneth with millions of Saints for ever and ever, full of heavenly majeſty and felicity. 1 Cor. 6. 9. Know ye not that the unrighteous ſhall not inherit the Kingdome of God? This is the Kingdome of glory.

4. A temporall and earthly Soveraignty which the Apoſtles and ſome other at firſt erroneouſly thought that Chriſt ſhould have over the Jews, and the Jews by his means over the Romanes, and all other Nations, Nations, Matthew 20. 20. Luk. 19. 11 Act. 1. 6.

5. The beginning or repreſentation of the Kingdome of Gods glory in heaven, by ſome glorious work of God on earth, as in our Saviours transfiguration, Mar. 9. 1. Luk. 9. 27.

6. or 2. Derivatively, the high eſtate of happineſſe which the godly in heaven poſſeſſe under God, and by his gift.

Kingdome of heaven] The viſible Church here on Earth, as it conſiſteth both of good and bad Chriſtians. Which is therefore called the Kingdome of heaven, becauſe the way to the bleſſed Kingdome is taught therein, and Chriſt (that heavenly King) ruleth over it, and we muſt be firſt members thereof, before we can be members of that which is in heaven. Matt. 13. 47. The Kingdome of heaven is like unto a Net caſt into the Sea. Matt. 5. 19, 20. Is the leaſt in the Kingdome of heaven; that is, in the Church of Chriſt on earth.

2. The Doctrine of the Word, and the Preachers thereof, becauſe by them we are called to the Kingdome of heaven. Matth. 13. 24. The Kingdome of heaven is like unto a man that went to ſow his ſeed. And verſ. 25. The Kingdome of heaven is like unto a Merchant man.

3. The time of Grace under the Meſſiah, exhibited and ſent into the world, to preach and work the redemption of mankinde in his owne perſon. Mat. 3. 3. The Kingdome of heaven is at hand.

4. The eſtate of grace, wherein the elect have their ſins forgiven them, being juſtified by faith in Chriſt, and are led by the Spirit of Chriſt to live purely. Mat. 13. 31. The Kingdome of heaven is like unto a grain of Muſtard-ſeed. The Kingdome of heaven (ſaith one) is nothing but a newneſſe of life, by the which God doth reſtore us to the hope of an everlaſting bleſſedneſſe.

5. The bleſſed life and everlaſting felicity which the Saints ſhall enter into after this mortall life is ended. Matth. 5. 10. For theirs is the Kingdome of heaven. 1 Pet. 1. 5, 6.

For the Kingdome of heaven] Not the merit of eternall life, but for the edification of the Church, and to have care of the things which belong unto the Lord, and to attend upon the Lord without diſtraction, Matt. 19. 16. 1 Cor. 7. 34, 35.

Kingdome, power, and glory] The eternal royall decree of God, touching the government of all things in the world: his Power is, that might divine, whereby he doth execute and adminiſter his royal decrees: Glory is, that exceeding great prayſe which redoundeth unto him, by ſuch adminiſtration. Mat. 6. 13. Thine is the Kingdome, and the Power, and the glory.

To number ones Kingdome] To account and determine the time certainly and perfectly, how long his dominion ſhall endure, and his people be kept captives. Dan. 5. 26. God hath numbred thy Kingdome, and finiſhed it.

To poſſeſſe the Kingdome for ever] To reign eternally with Chriſt their King in heavenly glory. Dan. 7. 18. They ſhall poſſeſſe the Kingdome for ever.

Prince of the Kingdome of Perſia] Cambyſes Son of Cyrus, who (in his Fathers abſence, being imployed in War abroad) ruled his Fathers Kingdome, and interrupted the Jews, that they could not repaire the ruines of the City and Temple of Jeruſalem, Dan. 10. 13.

Kinsfolk] Such as are of kindred, of kin each to other, being of the ſame Family, Tribe, Linage, Country, &c. 1 King. 16. 11. Job 19. 14. Luk. 2. 44. & 21. 16. Put alſo for acquaintance, 2 King. 10. 11. marg.

A holy kiſſe] A pure and chaſte kiſſe, as a ſigne and token of Chriſtian and Brotherly love. 1 Cor. 16. 20. Salute ye one another with a holy kiſſe. A kiſſe of dilection, Rom. 16. 16. Kiſſing is a token of love and reverence. This cuſtome grew from the Hebrews, Gen. 27. 26.

There be five kindes of Kiſſes in Scripture:

1. One a flattering kiſſe; ſuch was Abſalom's, who would take the people to him, and kiſſe them.

2. A diſſembling kiſſe; Joab's kiſſe, when he kiſſed Abner, and killed him.

3. A treacherous betraying kiſſe; Judas kiſſe, who had treaſon in his lips.

4. An unchaſte kiſſe, ſuch as the Harlot giveth the young man, Prov. 7. 5.

5. An holy kiſſe, called of Peter, the kiſſe of love, which in the Primitive Church, the Chriſtians uſed in their aſſemblies, in their generall prayers, and ſpecially in receiving the holy Communion; which uſe was taken from the Patriarchs; but it is not neceſſary to retain it now, it fitted thoſe times well enough.

Kiſſing was uſed both at the meeting and parting of friends, Gen. 31. 28. & 29. 11. & 31. 55. Ruth 1. 14. Exod. 4. 27.

Kite] A known ravenous bird, in Hebrew named Aiah, of her manner of flying, which is as if ſhe did ſwim, and by the bowing of her taile, ſeemeth to have taught how to govern ſhips by a rudder, ſhe hath a ſharp eye-ſight, Job 28. 7. Aynſworth on Lev. 11. 14.

23. To hear, to underſtand, Act. 24. 22.

24. To acknowledge with due reſpect, 1 Theſſ. 5. 12.

25. To regard to know, 1 Sam. 25. 11.

26. To have as ones owne, Pſal. 50. 11.

27. To chooſe ones ſelf, Amos 3. 2.

28. To conſider and ſeriouſly ponder, Pſal. 90. 11. Hoſ. 2. 8. and to lay to heart, Hoſ. 7. 9.

29. To know effectually, Joh. 17. 3.

30. Full aſſurance of underſtanding, Joh. 4. 42. 1 Cor. 13. 12.

31. To commit, 2 Cor. 5. 21.

32. To take notice of with care, Gen. 39. 6.

It's ſpoken 1. of God, who knoweth all his works, Act. 15. 18. The hearts of all the children of men, Luk. 16. 15. 1 Joh. 3. 20. our down-ſitting or up-riſing, our thoughts, our words, Pſal. 139. 2, 4. Them that are his, 2 Tim. 2. 19. and how to deliver them, &c. 2 Pet. 2. 9.

2. Of Chriſt, who knoweth all things, Joh. 21. 17.

3. Of Devils, Mar. 1. 34. Act. 19. 15.

4. Of Men, who know things,

1. Naturally, Mat. 24. 32. Luk. 11. 13. Jude 10. and by ſeeing, hearing, experience, &c.

2. Extraordinarily, by the information of the holy Spirit, Act. 20. 29. 2 Pet. 1. 14.

3. By the force of conſcience, 2 Sam. 19. 20. Eccl. 7. 22.

[illegible] divine light and teaching, 1 Kin. [illegible] Chr. 29. 17. Job 13. [illegible] ccl. 9. 5.

[illegible] being referred to Man, [illegible] both for knowledge and [illegible] th the minde, and for knowledge and regard with affections, Hoſ. 2. 8. Exod. 1. 8.

To know God or Chriſt] Barely and nakedly to underſtand that there is a God and a Chriſt, and that Jeſus is he. Luk. 12. 47. He that knoweth his Maſters will, and doth it not. Mar. 1. 24. I know thee what thou art, even that holy one of God. 1 Joh. 2. 4. Rom. 1. 21. Thus wicked men and devils know God. The Gentiles knew God and his creatures, as Rom. 1. 19. but not by the Scriptures, 1 Theſſ. 4. 5.

2. Truly and effectually, to beleeve this God to be our God and Father, and this Jeſus to be our Saviour; whence ariſeth hope, love, obedience towards him and his Word. Joh. 17. 3. This is life eternall, to know thee to be the onely true God. 1 Joh. 2. 3. Hereby we are ſure we know him, if we keep his Commandements. Jer. 31. 34. and often elſewhere, it doth ſignifie to know with confidence and truſt. Motions, affections, endevours, and actions which follow Knowledge, are ſignified and contained in words of Knowledge. Thus godly men doe know God with this ſpeciall knowledge of faith, which is a part of the Covenant of Grace, even the condition on our behalf, Joh. 17. 25. Alſo, it ſignifies to underſtand moſt perfectly above meaſure, the the will of God. Joh. 17. 25. But I have known thee.

3. To understand the Will of God extraordinarily, by visions and dreames. 1 Sam. 3. 7. This did Samuel before he knew the Lord.

4. Perfectly and fully to see God unto eternall happinesse. 1 Cor. 13. 12. Then shall I know even as I am known: to perceive and see the Doctrine of Christ with full assurance of understanding, Joh. 4. 42.

To know good and evill] To have experience (after sin) of that great good which man had lost, and that extreme evill of death which he was faln into. This Knowledge man had speculatively in his innocency, but upon his transgression he had it experimentally, Gen. 2. 17. Gen. 3. 5. Satan meant they should know it in wofull experience, but he understood it of bare and naked science, of a greater knowledge in speculation.

To know man] To pierce into his heart, even into his very thoughts and purposes. Joh. 2. 24. Because he knew them all. v. 24. For he knew what was in man.

2. To put confidence in man. 2 Cor. 5. 16. Henceforth we know no man after the flesh; that is, I do not admire them, or their friendship, riches, &c. so as to relie upon them.

3. To live in marriage, and take the use of it. Luk. 1. 34. Seeing I know not a man. See Know.

4. To commit that sin that is against nature. Gen. 19. 5. That we may know them.

5. To know one with approbation. Mat. 26. 75. I know not the man; that is, I doe not approve him as the Messiah, nor follow him as his Disciple.

6. To respect or regard with partiality of judgement, against justice and equity, the person of any man. So some interpret the place, Deut. 33. 8, 9. and compare it with Exod. 32. 27, 28, 29. & Numb. 25. 4, 5.

To know sin] To know what is sin, and to have an experimentall feeling of the force and danger of it. Rom. 3. 20. By the Law cometh the knowledge of sin. Rom. 7. 7. I knew not sin but by the Law.

2. To consider it and with godly sorrow to acknowledge it. Psal. 51. 3. For I know mine iniquity.

3. To be privy to a mans owne sins, what and how many, and how great they be. Psal. 19. 12. Who can know or understand his faults?

4. To be guilty of sin, by committing or doing of it, in thought, word or deed. 2 Cor. 5. 21. Who knew no sin; that is, never did any sinfull thing, but is clean voyd of all sin, as well in nature as action.

5. To take notice of our sins, to punish them. Rev. 3. 15. I know thy works, that thou art neither hot nor cold.

Not to know] signifies, Not to allow or approve, not to will, or love, but to hate, Rom. 7. 15, 19. The Jesuites in their Rhemish Testament doe ill translate it understand not.

To know the words and wayes of God] Diversly, either to understand them onely, or to beleeve them, to regard and approve them, to obey and practise them; according to the circumstance of the place. Psal. 95. 10. Psal. 147. 10. Matt. 13. 23. But he that received seed into the good ground, is he that heareth the Word, and understands it, &c.

Knowledge of God is used sometimes actively for that Knowledge whereby God seeth and knoweth himselfe, and all things created and done by him or others, most wisely and perfectly, as Gal. 2. 3. Rom. 11. 33. Sometime it is used passively, for that knowledge whereby God and his will be known of his children unperfectly, yet distinctly and sufficiently unto salvation in heaven, Phil. 3. 8. Also knowledge is sometime considered as an attribute in God, and sometime as an effect of his Spirit in us men, 1 Cor. 12.

Of Knowledge, as it is a gift in the elect called to Christ, so there be sundry degrees of it: for one measure thereof is required in strong Christians, another in weak ones; Also that knowledge which will suffice a Christian man unto his salvation, will not suffice a Minister unto the discharge of his vocation. And as the goodnesse or multitude of means, or length of time do differ, so different profiting in knowledge, is to be expected and looked for.

Not to know God] Not to see and understand him to be such as he hath revealed himselfe in his word to be; for they had some knowledge of him by his works of creation and government, Gal. 4. 8. Rom. 9. 20.

Not to know the works of God] That the administration of the world is very admirable above our knowledge, and reach of our reason, as is by two examples here declared, one of the wind in the air, another of the childe in the wombe: two ordinary things in daily use among men, yet the manner of them hid from us, Eccl. 11. 5.

To be known of God] To be loved and approved of God, as his owne Sons and daughters. 1 Cor. 8. 3. If any man love God, the ſame is known of him.

2. To be taught a more perfect knowledge of God. Gal. 4. 9. Ye rather are known of God; that is, as Auguſtine expoundeth it, Ye are known of God, becauſe God hath made you to know him, better then ye did.

3. To be perfectly united and joyned unto God, in ful fruition of him & his felicity. 1 Cor. 13. 12. Even as I am known.

Knowledge] That infinite divine eſſence, ſeeing, beholding, and underſtanding himſelfe, and all other things moſt perfectly. 1 Sam. 2. 3. For the Lord is a God of knowledge.

2. The clear and diſtinct underſtanding of heavenly truth, revealed in the Word, when we are enlightened by the Spirit, to perceive the Scriptures, both for the meaning of the words, and matter to be known. Prov. 15. 14. The heart of him that hath underſtanding, ſeeketh knowledge. Prov. 3. 10. 2 Pet. 1. 7. Joyn with your virtue knowledge.

3. The ſpecial light of faith, which is a knowledge with application, when the elect ſoule is enabled to ſee the doctrine of Chriſt, and receive it. Iſa. 53. 11. My righteous ſervant by his knowledge ſhall juſtifie many. This is a particular knowledge, whereby we beleeve that Doctrine which we know to belong unto us.

4. An idle, naked, and bare underſtanding of Divine truth, ſevered from faith, to God, and love of our neighbour. 1 Cor. 8. 1. Knowledge puffeth up.

5. Prudence, Wiſdome. Prov. 1. 2. To underſtand the words of knowledge.

6. Uſe, experience. 2 Cor. 8. 7. Ye abound in faith, in word, and knowledge.

7. The gift of teaching, ſet up of God, for the gathering and confirming of his Church, through the Word preached. 1 Cor. 13. 8. Knowledge ſhall ceaſe; that is, the Miniſtery of the Word, whereof cometh knowledge. Alſo, the gift of interpreting dreams, Dan. 5. 11.

8. The skill how to doe things well and rightly. 2 Cor. 6. 6. By knowledge. Knowledge of truth, Knowledge of Chriſt, Knowledge of Salvation, Knowledge of God, ſignifies, the ſound underſtanding of that truth concerning God and Chriſt, which brings ſalvation of it.

It's 1. Naturall, Iſa. 28. 26. Rom. 1. 21, 28. & 2. 14, 15.

2. Artificiall, Exod. 35. 31.

3. Legall, Rom. 3. 20. & 7. 7.

4. Evangelicall, 2 Cor. 2. 14. as of Chriſt Jeſus, Salvation, God in the face of Jeſus Chriſt, the myſterie of Chriſt, the Kingdome of heaven, &c.

All knowledge] Both the underſtanding of all ſuch neceſſary things and truths, as a Chriſtian ought to know, for duties and unto ſalvation, with a good meaſure therefore, Rom. 15. 14. Alſo knowledge of all kinds and ſorts, 1 Cor. 13. 2. Alſo, moſt perfect Knowledge, ſuch as Saints ſhall have in heaven, where they ſhall know as they are known, 1 Cor. 13. 12.

Knowledge in this life cannot be had of all things, neither is neceſſary.

Neither yet perfection of knowledge in any one thing, but that which may be had is made up of theſe parts, and by theſe degrees ariſeth to his perfection.

I. The knowledge of the Word.

1. What it ſignifieth, and how diverſly.

2. How to expreſſe it.

3. How to diſtinguiſh it from other words.

4. Why it is ſo called.

1. In the ſubſtance and circumſtances of it, by definition and deſcription.

2. In the ſorts and parts of it, by diviſion.

III. The agreement of it with, and difference of it from other.

IV. The proof and illuſtration of it, and every part of circumſtances of it.

V. The arguments or objections againſt it.

VI. The anſwer to thoſe objections.

VII. The confutation of the contrary part.

VIII. The reconciliation of the different opinions, ſo far as it may be.

9. The application of the thing to ſome or many good uſes, and diverſion of it from abuſe.

To have no knowledge] To be merely ignorant and voyd of the underſtanding of the things of ſalvation and Gods worſhip. Hoſ. 4. 1. 1 Cor. 15. 34. Some have not the knowledge of God.

2. To be inconſiderate, not to regard and heed things, the works of Gods Juſtice in leading his people into Aſſyria, for ſins. Iſa. 5. 13. Becauſe they have no knowledge.

To lay up knowledge]. To have it laid up, that it may be drawn out in time of need. Prov. 13. 14. A wiſe man layeth up knowledge.

9. Outward proſperity, Prov. 13. 9. & 20. 20.

Lamp burning, or burning light] Firſt, the light of divine truth ſhining in the conſciences of the Saints, to direct their duties in the darkneſſe of this world. Luk. 12. 35. And your lamps burning.

Secondly, the Miniſter or Inſtrument to bring and ſet this light before men, to wit, John the Baptiſt, who in reſpect of his ſound and clear doctrine, alſo of his rare godlyneſſe, was like a great light or torch. Joh. 5. 35. He was a burning and a ſhining light or lamp.

Lance] Jerem. 50. 42. The originall כידון is tranſlated in Joſh. 8. 18. a ſpear, in 1 Sam. 17. 6. A target, or gorget, marg.

Lancet] 1 King. 18. 28. The originall רמח is rendred in Numb. 25. 7. a javelin, Judg. 5. 8. ſpear, as in many other places.

Land] The whole Continent of the earth, as it is diſtinguiſhed from Sea. Matt. 23. 15. Ye compaſſe Sea and Land.

2. One particular Region or Countrey. Matt. 9. 26. The bruit went through all the Land; as the Land of Judah, of Moab, of Ægypt, of Philiſtims, &c. It ſignifies Babylon, in Iſa. 13. 5.

3. The people and inhabitants of any Land or Countrey. Iſa. 37. 18. The Kings of Aſſyria have deſtroyed all Lands. Gen. 41. 57. The famine was ſore in all lands. In Dan. 8. 9. pleaſant Land put for Judah.

4. Some certain poſſeſſion, 2 Sam. 19. 29. Act. 4. 37.

5. Arable ground, Exod. 23. 10.

Of Land or Lands, ſome are pleaſant, inhabited, exceeding good, quiet, fruitfull, glorious, delightſome, fat, large; others, dry, deſert, unclean, barren, thirſty, ſalt, deſolate, deſolate, lean; but of all others, the Land of Canaan was the moſt excellent, the deſire and glory of all Lands, Ezek. 20. 6. flowing with milk and honey, Exod. 13. 5. The good land, Deut. 4. 21, 22. Gods holy habitation, Exod. 15. 13. The reſt and inheritance of the people, Deut. 12. 9. tearmed, The Land of the living, as being a type of heaven, Pſal. 27. 13. & 52. 5.

Land of deſire] The pleaſant Land of Canaan, which was to be deſired for the pleaſures and profits of it above all other Countreys, but eſpecially for the knowledge and worſhip of God, exerciſed there: for which cauſe it is in Pſal. 48. 2. called the joy of the whole earth, Ezek. 20. 6. Deut. 11. 11, 12. Pſal. 106. 24. They contemned that Land of deſire.

Land of thy Fathers] The Land of Canaan, given by promiſe to Abraham and Iſaac, Gen. 12. 7. Gen. 13. 15. & 26. 3.

Land of Immanuel] Judea, which none had ſo much right unto as Chriſt, the Son of David, the King of the Jews, who gave it his people for a poſſeſſion, and there ſet up his worſhip, and by his arm defended it againſt enemies. Iſa. 8. 8. Of thy Land, O Immanuel. And the glorious Land, Dan. 11. 16. & 8. 9. A Land of ornament, being adorned (as it were with robes) with the goodly bleſſings of God, and with his holy worſhip and Temple, which was the chief glory, becauſe God hath put his Name there.

Land of the Living] The earth, or the world, which is the place of this life. Pſal. 116. 9. In the land of the living.

Land of righteouſneſſe] Pſal. 143. 10.

I. Exegetically, righteouſneſſe, which is like a good Land, in which men ought to labor diligently, and may live richly and pleaſantly. So it is Deut. 4. 1, 2. 1 Tim. 4. 8. Pſa. 118. 19.

II. Properly, a place, 1. on earth, but ſuch as is, or ought to be, full of good people, and they of good works or righteouſneſſe, Pſal. 37. 3. & 105. 44, 45. Iſa. 26. 3, 7, 10. This place or land David deſired, Pſal. 143. 10.

2. In heaven (of which this world is but an image) 2 Pet. 3. 13.

3. Or the Church of God. So Tremelius on Iſa. 26. 2, 3, 7, 9, 10.

To look to the Land] To obſerve very carefully where ſome ſuccour may be had againſt enemies and dangers. Iſa. 5. 30. If one look unto the Land. It is a ſpeech which ſeemeth to be borrowed from ſuch, as being in perill of ſuffering ſhip-wrack, look toward the Land for ſome creek or place to drive their ſhip in, that they may eſcape drowning, as in Act. 27.

Land-mark] A bound, limit, meere, ſigne, declaring one mans land from another, not to be removed, Deut. 19. 14. Prov. 22. 28. & 23. 10. A curſe denounced againſt the removers, Deut. 27. 17. being the wicked, Job 24. 2.

Language of Canaan] The Hebrew tongue, wherein God was ſerved by his people while they dwelt in Canaan.

2. Fellowſhip with Gods people in doctrine and worſhip. Iſa. 19. 18. Five Cities ſhall ſpeak the language of Canaan. Hence ſo called, becauſe the Doctrine was written in that language the Hebrew tongue, which the Jews ſpake in that Land of Canaan.

Pure language] Sound and true Doctrine. Zeph. 3. 9. Then will I turn to the people a pure language.

Languiſh] is all one with Fade, Waſte, Dry up, Wither, Give up the ghoſt, &c. and is ſpoken of a Bed, Pſal. 41. 3. Fields, Iſa. 16. 8. Fiſhers, Iſa. 19. 8. The earth, with the haughty people therein, Iſa. 24. 4. The vine, Ibid. 7. The fruitfull Mother, Jer. 15. 9. The oyle, Joel 1. 10. The fig-tree, Ibid. 12. Baſhan, and the flower of Lebanon, Nah. 1. 4.

Lanthorn] Joh. 18. 3. φανὸς of φαίνομαι, to appear, be ſeen. That through which a candle giveth light, and wherein it's kept from being blown out by the wind.

Laodicea] The name of a City in the leſſer Aſia, ſituate neer Coloſſe and Hierapolis, compounded of λαὸς the people, and δίκη juſtice, a juſt people, or the juſtice of the people, Col. 4. 13. Rev. 1: 11.

Lap] The Originall חֵיק is tranſlated boſome, Gen. 16. 5. Exod. 4. 6, 7. Midſt, 1 King. 22. 35. Within me, Job 19. 27. Lap, Prov. 16. 33. Bottome, Ezek. 43. 13. Now becauſe the boſome is the midſt of the body, by a Metaphor it ſignifieth the middle; and becauſe it is inward, it is taken for the hollowneſſe of any thing, and ſo by lap in Prov. 16. 33. may be underſtood, an hollow coffer, pot, ſhell, basket, or that which contained the peble ſtones, papers, or what elſe were put therein for lots. Lavater on Prov. 16. 33.

Lapidoth] Lightnings, or lamps. The husband of Deborah, Judg. 4. 4.

Lapwing] Lev. 11. 19. Deut. 14. 18. reckoned there among the unclean fowles, rendred by the Chaldee, The cock of the mountain. It hath a creſt from his bill to the uttermoſt part of the head, which he ſtrouteth out out or holdeth down according to his affection. It eateth mans dung, of which alſo it often maketh its neſt. It feedeth on berries til it be drunk, then on Maidens hair, whereby it becometh ſober. It defileth its owne neſt with its dung. It often changeth both its voyce and colour. They provide for their Parents when old, and unable to ſhift for themſelves.

Large] Spacious, copious, ſufficient, broad, wide, great. Spoken of Land, Gen. 34. 21. Place, 2 Sam. 22. 20. Work, Neh. 4. 19. City, Neh. 7. 4. Room, Pſal. 31. 8. Countrey, Iſa. 22. 18. Paſtures, Iſa. 30. 23. Tophet, Ibid. 33. Chambers, Jer. 22. 14. Cup, Ezek. 23. 32. Money, Mat. 28. 12. Upper room, Mar. 14. 15. Letter, Gal. 6. 11. The heavenly Jeruſalem, Rev. 21. 16.

Laſciviouſneſſe] Ἀσελγεια, Wantonneſſe, Rom. 13. 13. Filthyneſſe, 2 Pet. 2. 7. It comprehends all kindes of luſt, as unchaſte and filthy ſpeeches, ſhameleſſe and unſeemly geſture, gay and wanton apparell, adultery, fornication, inceſt, &c. with the inſtruments and incentives thereunto. The ſtink or ill ſavour, which cometh of effeminate luſt: A certain unbridled luſt in ſinning. Such a vice as is contrary to naturall honeſty. It ſignifieth a monſtrous profuſion, and pouring out, and ſpending ones ſelf without meaſure in and unto all laſciviouſneſſe. The word is thought to be compounded of α & σίλγη. Selge they ſay was a City between Galatia and Cappadocia, the inhabitants whereof were moſt modeſt and temperate; and then α is privat. as noting one in whom there is no modeſty at all. Others affirm that people to have been moſt diſſolute and lewd, and then α to be intenſive, dilating and increaſing the ſenſe.

It's a work of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 19. proceeding from the heart, and defiling a man, Mar. 7. 21, 23. which is to be bewailed and repented of, 2 Cor. 12. 21.

Laſea] Thick or wiſe. A City on the bank of Creta, Act. 27. 8.

Laſha] To call, or to anoint. A City, Gen. 10. 19.

Laſt] The Gentiles, which being laſt, yet become firſt. Mat. 19. 30. The laſt ſhall be firſt. The Jews who were firſt, being rejected for their unbelief, became laſt; and the Gentiles believing in Chriſt by the calling of God, were accepted before the diſobedient Jews; and ſo became firſt though they were laſt.

1. Hindermoſt, in order or time of calling; or,

2. Such as are furtheſt off from the means of well-doing, as caſt back behinde all others.

3. Such as are behinde all others in the eſtate of ſpirituall or eternall happineſſe.

4. Such as are laſt or worſt in their owne opinion, though indeed not ſo.

Laſt day] 1. The great feaſt day, Joh. 7. 37.

2. The day of Judgement, after which there ſhall be no more day nor time. Joh. 6. 39. And ſhould raiſe it up again at the laſt day. The ſame ſignified by laſt time, even the end, when there ſhall be a perfect reſtauration.

Laſt dayes, or laſt times] The times ſince the revelation of Chriſt, by the preaching of himſelf, and of his Apoſtles. 2 Pet. 3. 3. In the laſt dayes ſhall come mockers. Jude v. 18. 1 Tim. 4. 1. Theſe dayes ſince Chriſt are called laſt, becauſe all was conſummated and ended, which was before propheſied touching mans redemption, and there remaineth nothing elſe but the coming of the great Judge, to finiſh this pilgrimage and warfare of the Church: Alſo, becauſe the Goſpel is the perfection and renewing of all things.

Note. Latter times ſignifieth either the end of the world, or the coming of Chriſt: or the laſt age of the world from the coming of Chriſt unto the end of all things: or the time following that which is ſpoken of, as Gen. 49. 1. Dan. 1. 28.

Referred to Times, it ſignifieth,

1. That time or matter therein that is paſt next before, or the laſt of the time paſt, or heretofore.

2. That time or thing that is to come, &c. the laſt, or uttermoſt part thereof, after which there ſhall be no more of that ſort hereafter.

To laſt] is all one with Abide, Continue, Judg. 14. 17.

Late] Implyeth, as time a little before paſt, Mic. 2. 8. Joh. 11. 8. ſo the prolonging of time, Pſal. 127. 2.

Latine] The Romane language, Luk. 23. 38.

Latter] 1. That which followeth the one of two commonly, Deut. 24. 3. Jer. 5. 24. Dan. 11. 29.

2. The time or times drawing towards an end, Dan. 8. 23.

3. The very laſt of all, Job 19. 25.

4. Some continued ſpace of time, and not the very end of time, 1 Tim. 4. 1. See a lerned Treatiſe of Mr. Joſeph Mede, entituled, The Apoſtaſie

Apoſtaſie of the latter times, and thereof, p. 64, 65, 66, &c.

Latter dayes] ſignifies the times following: in the Hebrew, poſterity of dayes, often uſed for time to come, Gen. 49. 1. Num. 23. 14. Deut. 2. 28. & 10. 14. Prov. 31. 15. So that which is ſaid in Act. 2. 16. It ſhall be in the laſt dayes, it is in Joel 3. 1. It ſhall be hereafter.

Latteſſe] A grate with croſſe bars, or any like thing for the fence of windows, Judg. 5. 28. 2 King. 1. 2.

Laud] that is, Prayſe, Rom. 15. 11. comp. with Pſal. 117. 1.

A laber of braſſe to waſh in] The waſhing of Chriſt by faith through the Spirit, to which Paul alludes, Tit. 3. 5. See Heb. 10. 22. Exod. 30. 18. The Prieſts waſhing in this laver, that when they miniſtred in the Tabernacle, they might not dye for want of waſhing, Exod. 30. 21. figured, that if wee will live, and not dye eternally, we muſt be waſhed by his Spirit wholly from the guilt of our ſins, and in ſome part from the corruption. The greatneſſe of this laver (in regard whereof it is called a Sea) ſignifieth, that we had need of great and much forgiveneſſe; and that in God there is a Sea of mercy, as Iſa. 55. 6. & Pſal. 51. 3. alluding hereto, ſaith, Waſh me much: as alſo Tit. 3. 16. Which he poured richly (or abundantly) on us.

To laugh] To ſmile, out of doubting. Thus Sarah laughed. Gen. 18. 12. Then Sarah laughed.

2. To ſmile, in token of joy out of a true belief. Thus Abraham laughed. Gen. 17. 17. Abraham laughed.

3. So to be drowned in preſent pleaſures, as to ſhun all pain and trouble for godlineſſe or Gods glory, Luk 6. 25. Thus worldlings laugh.

Note that laughing ſignifieth both rejoycing and mocking, or ſcorning, as Gen. 21. 6, 9. Ezek. 23. 32.

4. To rejoyce greatly, Gen. 21. 6.

5. To be without any fear, Job 5. 22.

6. To be filled with joy, Luk. 6. 21.

7. To ſhew a cheerfull countenance, Job 29. 24.

When it's applyed to God, it's put for, To make no account, not to reckon of, to ſet light by, without pity, Pſal. 2. 4. & 37. 13. & 59. 8. Prov. 1. 26.

When to Man, it's either unlawfull, Gen. 18. 12. Pſal. 80. 6. or lawfull, Pſal. 52. 6. Gen. 17. 17. for which there is a time allotted, Eccl. 3. 4.

To laugh at deſtruction] To be ſo at reſt and gladneſſe in the aſſurance of Gods favour, that the heart is lifted up above the fear of all dangers, and triumpheth boldly in his love to turn away all evils, or to turn them to his good. Job 5. 22. At deſtruction and famin thou ſhalt laugh.

To laugh at ones deſtruction] To conceive extreme fury againſt any perſon or people, even to the rooting of them out. Prov. 1. 26. I will laugh when their deſtruction cometh. When God is ſaid to laugh at the wicked, it is to ſhew theſe four things.

1. How little he regards them.

2. How far he is from helping them.

3. How eaſie it is for him to deſtroy them.

Laſtly, that he is exceeding hotly diſpleaſed with them.

Laughing, or deriſion] The contempt of God toward wicked men, and all their attempts againſt him, and how much it is from God, to think of relieving them in their extremities. Pſal. 2. 3. The Lord ſhall have them in deriſion, or laugh them to ſcorn.

Laughter] Is not alwayes accompanyed with inward joy, Prov. 14. 13. is not at ſome time ſo good as ſorrow, Eccl. 7. 3. nor continueth, Ib. 6. Put for matter of great comfort, Pſal. 126. 2. rejoycing the heart, and cheering up the ſpirits, Eccl. 10. 19. carnall and worldly delight, Jam. 4. 9.

Labiſh] Iſa. 46. 6. To laſh out money, conſume and ſpend waſtfully, riotouſly, in things needleſſe.

Law] That which hath the force of governing and moderating our actions. This is the generall property of a Law. Hence come theſe phraſes, the Law of the minde, the Law of the members, the Law of ſin, the Law of God, the Law of the Spirit, Rom. 7. 23, 25. This is the largeſt ſignification of Law.

2. The Decalogue, or ten Commandements. Rom. 7. 7. Except the Law had ſaid, Thou ſhalt not luſt. Alſo verſ. 14. 22. & Rom. 8. 22. & 3. 20. This is called the morall Law, becauſe it teacheth duties both to God and our Neighbour. Sometimes it ſignifies the precepts of God, both Moral, Ceremonial, and Judicial, Joh. 1. 17.

3. The whole doctrine of the Word, comprehending the full and whole promiſes of free ſalvation by Chriſt. Pſa. 19. 7. The Law of God is perfect, converting the ſoul. Jam. 1. 25.

Note. The effect of converſion proveth this ſignification.

4. Books of Moſes, Pſalms, and Prophets:

phets: even the Scriptures of the old Teſtament, which contain the Doctrine of the Law, and the promiſes of the Meſſiah. Rom. 3. 19. Whatſoever the Law ſaith. Law ſometime ſignifies the whole Old Teſtament, Joh. 10. 34. & 15. 25. Sometimes but the five Books of Moſes, Gal. 3. 21. Joh. 1. 45. Joh. 12. 34. So the Pſalms, Joh. 10. 34. & 12. 34. & 15. 25. So the Propheſie of Iſaiah, 1 Cor. 14. 21.

5. The condition of keeping or fulfilling the Law exactly, in every point: or the works of the Law being perfectly obſerved. Rom. 3. 21. The righteouſneſſe of God is manifeſt without the Law. & 4. 13. Gal. 3. 10, 11, 12.

6. Naturall inſtinct and light of reaſon, commanding honeſt things, and forbidding the contrary; or the Law of Nature written in a mans heart. Rom. 2. 14. They are a Law to themſelves.

7. Legall Ceremonies. 1 Cor. 9. 18. To them that are under the Law. Mat. 11. 13. Gal. 5. 3. that is, they which receive Circumciſion, by as good right may retain the whole Ceremonial Law.

8. The ſecond Table of the Law, and the precepts thereof. Rom. 13. 8. He that loveth another, fulfilleth the Law. Gal. 5. 14. Alſo, any one commandement or precept, 1 Cor. 14. 34.

9. Inſtitution or ordinance of Aaron. Heb. 7. 12. The Law alſo is changed.

Unto all theſe ſignifications of Law, add this ſhort obſervation, that the Hebrew Torah, which is Engliſhed Law, implyeth both Doctrine, and an orderly diſpoſition of the ſame, as ye would ſay, an orderly manner of Inſtitution. The holy Ghoſt in Greek calleth it Nomos, Heb. 8. 10. from Jer. 31. 33. This name is commonly aſcribed to the precepts given by Moſes at Mount Sinai, Deut. 33. 4. Mal. 4. 4. Joh. 1. 17. & 7. 19. It is alſo largely uſed for all his writings, for a part of the hiſtory of Geneſis is called Law, Gal. 4. 21. from Gen. 16. And though the Law be ſometime diſtinguiſhed from the Pſalms and Prophets, Luk. 16. 16. & 24. 44. yet the Prophets Books are called Law, 1 Cor. 14. 21. from Iſa. 28. 11. The Pſalms alſo be thus named, Joh. 10. 24. & 15. 25. from Pſal. 82. 6. yea, one Pſalm is called a Law, Pſal. 78. 1. And the many branches of Moſes Doctrine be ſo named, as the Law of ſin offering, Lev. 6. 25. And generally it is uſed for any doctrine, as is Law of faith, Law of works. The ſpiritual ſenſe and meaning of the Old Teſtament is called Law. Rom. 7. 6. The Law is ſpirituall. Note alſo, that all that which God doth charge his people to keep and doe, is comprehended in theſe three words: firſt, is the ten Commandements for morall duties, Exod. 20. the ſecond is Judgements or Judicial Laws for puniſhing tranſgreſſors, Exod. 21. the third is Statutes, Ordinances, or Decrees for the ſervice of God, Lev. 3. 17. & 6. 18, 22. Exod. 12. 24. & 17. 31. & 29. 9. & 34. 2. all theſe Abraham obſerved, and is commended of God therefore, Gen. 26. 6.

10. Doctrine, teaching, and inſtruction, Pſalm 78. 1. Prov. 1. 8. & 6. 20. & 13. 14.

11. A decree, Pſal. 94. 20.

12. Court-dayes, Act. 19. 38.

13. Jewiſh Ordinances, Act. 25. 8.

14. Judgement, Pſal. 81. 4.

15. The diſpoſing of any thing how it ſhould be, Lev. 6. 9. 14. & 13. 59. & 14. 2. Numb. 5. 29.

16. The works commanded in the Old Teſtament, Rom. 3. 21. Gal. 3. 30.

17. Sect or profeſſion, Phil. 3. 5.

18. Authority, power, command, Rom. 7. v. 2.

Law is either Humane, lawfull, Ezr. 6. 1. & 7. 21. Eſt. 3. 8. Unlawfull, Pſal. 94. 20. Iſa. 10. 1.

Divine, unwritten, Rom. 2. 14. 15. Written, being Morall, Rom. 7. 7. Judiciall, Joh. 7. 51. Ceremoniall, Heb. 9. 22. Evangelicall, Rom. 3. 27. Jam. 1. 25. Gal. 6. 2. The Moſaicall Law is tearmed a yoke, which none were able to bear, Act. 15. 10. That wherein we were held, Rom. 7. 6. The oldneſſe of the letter, Ibid. The ſtrength of ſin, 1 Cor. 15. 56. A killing letter, 2 Cor. 3. 6. The miniſtration of death written in ſtones, Ib. 7. The miniſtration of condemnation, Ibid. 9. That which is done away, Ibid. 11. (A garriſon) under which we were kept, Gal. 3. 23. A School-maſter to bring us to Chriſt, Ib. 24. A Tutor and Governour till Gods appointed time, Gal. 4. 2, 3. The Covenant from Mount Sinai, which gendreth to bondage, which is Agar, Ib. 24. The yoke of bondage, Gal. 5. 1. The middle wall of partition, Eph. 2. 14. The enmity, even the Law of Commandements contained in Ordinances, Ib. 15. The hand-writing of Ordinances which was againſt us, contrary unto us, Col. 2. 14.

To abrogate the Law] To repeale and diſanull it, to make it voyd, and of none effect. Eph. 2. 15. In abrogating the Law of Commandements. Heb. 8. 13. The Law is ſaid to judge, judge, when men judge according to Law, Joh. 7. 5. Here note,

1. That the Ceremonial Law is wholly abrogate and done away, as touching the uſe and practiſe, Epheſ. 2. 15, 16. Heb. 7, 8, 9, 10, ch. throughout: but is perpetuall, as touching the ſubſtance and truth, which is Chriſt.

2. The Judiciall Law, conſiſting chiefly in deſigning and commanding puniſhments for tranſgreſſors, is alſo abrogate, ſaving ſo far as it is grounded upon the Law of Nature, and agreeth with the Morall Law; and as Chriſtian Magiſtrates ſhall judge it fitting for the eſtate and welfare of their people, being a Law of moſt excellent equity.

3. The Morall Law is abrogated in reſpect of beleevers, onely as touching the curſe (Rom. 4. 5. ch. Rom. 6. 14.) and the rigorous exaction, requiring perfect obedience upon pain of eternall death; alſo as it is the vigour and ſtrength of ſin (Rom. 7. 5.) but is not abrogate as touching the Doctrine, Government, and Obedience of it: (Rom. 7. 14, 15, &c. Rom. 3. 20. & 7. 7.) for it ſtill ſerveth to ſhew ſin, and reprove ſinners; to teach all duties to God and men; to humble and fear us, by denunciation of wrath and judgements; to direct (as a rule) our whole life and actions; but not to juſtifie us before God, which the Law cannot doe through our ſinfull corruption, whereby we are made unable to keep it perfectly; therefore through our fault it cannot confer and beſtow perfect righteouſneſſe upon us, Rom. 8. 3. The Papiſts then doe erre much, in teaching to ſeek our righteouſneſſe before God, from the works of the Law, either in whole or in part, as they are done by men, either before or after grace.

To change times and Laws] To arrogate and uſurp the very authority of God, in aboliſhing the ſet times of Sabbaths, Feaſts, Circumciſion, and the Rites and Ceremonies of the Jews received from God. Dan. 7. 25. And think to change times and Laws. This to have been done by the Seleuci or Syrian Kings, See Macc. 1. 52.

Law of Chriſt] The precepts of Charity to our Neighbour. Gal. 6. 2. Fulfill the Law of Chriſt. This is called in John a new Law, Joh. 13. 34, 35. & Joh. 15. 12. It is named his commandement, becauſe Chriſt often repeats it, and by his Spirit makes the faithfull able to know and do it.

Law of Commandements] The precepts touching Ceremoniall Rites. Eph. 2. 15. The Law of Commandements which ſtandeth in Ordinances.

Law of death] Sin, by his Imperial tyrannicall luſts, deſerving and leading to death and deſtruction. Rom. 8. 2. He freed me from the Law of death.

How Chriſt is the end of the Law] By fulfilling the Law for us, he is in ſuch wiſe made our righteouſneſſe (ſo we beleeve) as if our ſelves had perfectly obſerved the Law. Rom. 10. 4. Chriſt is the end of the Law for righteouſneſſe to every beleever.

Law of faith] The Doctrine which teacheth righteouſneſſe by faith in Chriſt. Rom. 3. 27. Our rejoycing is excluded by the Law of Faith; that is, by the Doctrine which offereth and promiſeth ſalvation on this condition, if we beleeve.

Law of her Husband] ſignifies that Law of marriage which requireth and bindeth the Wife both to communicate her body to her husband, and not to communicate it to any others; from this Law and band ſhe is looſed by death and divorce, Rom. 7. v. 1.

Law not given to the juſt] That the malediction and curſe of the Law doth not appertain to men juſtified by Faith, and living righteouſly and godlily: for unto ſuch, ſin is pardoned, and the righteouſnes of Chriſt imputed, 1 Tim. 1. 9.

Law of liberty] The Word and doctrine of God, freely reproving ſin in all eſtates, without difference or reſpect of perſons, and therefore it is called the Law of Liberty. Alſo, becauſe it belongs chiefly and properly to ſuch as are freed and ſet at liberty from ſin by the grace of Chriſt. Jam. 1. 25. Who ſo looketh into the perfect Law of liberty. Iſa. 57. 1.

Law of the members] Sin ruling (like a Law) in our members; that is, in our faculties of body and ſoul, as far as they are unregenerate. It is the ſame with the Law of ſin. Rom. 7. 23. I ſee a Law in my members.

Law of the minde] A minde renewed by the Spirit, which ruleth and commandeth good things, and forbiddeth evill, as a Law. It is the ſame with the former. Rom. 7. 23.

No Law againſt ſuch] The Law not only not to forbid, but to command ſuch fruits of the Spirit, as Paul mentioneth here. Gal. 5. 23. Againſt ſuch there is no Law. If we underſtand it of perſons, which do theſe works of the Spirit, to be allowed and not be be reproved by the Law, the ſenſe will be all one.

Law and Prophets] The Doctrine, or that which is taught in the books of Moſes & the Prophets, concerning love of our neighbour. Matt. 7. 12. This is the Law and Prophets; that is, the brief and ſumme of all which Moſes and the Prophets doe teach touching our duties to men. Auguſtine in his book de Trinitate, ſaith, that ſuch a love of our neighbour is here commended, as is not for his owne ſake nor cauſe, but for Gods; and therefore this Epitome or ſhort ſentence, doth comprehend whatſoever in the Old Teſtament is taught touching the love of God and our Neighbour, who cannot be loved except God be firſt loved, whoſe love alſo breedeth charity to men, 1 Joh. 4. 20.

Law of righteouſneſſe] The righteouſneſſe which is commanded in the Law. Rom. 9. 31. But Iſrael which followed the Law of righteouſneſſe; or, the doctrine which promiſeth righteouſneſſe and life, to him who perfectly keepeth the Law.

Royal law] The Commandement of loving our Neighbour as our ſelf, without all reſpect of perſons. Jam. 2. 8. If ye fulfill the royal law, &c. This precept of mutuall love without acceptation of perſons, it is and may well be called a royal Law for theſe conſiderations.

1. God who is King of his people, was the giver of this Law.

2. Becauſe it is free for all Chriſtians to walk in it, like unto the Kings high-way, according to Num. 21. 22.

3. It was given to Kings and Princes, (for ſuch be all beleeving Chriſtians, Rev. 1. 6.) and requireth even a Kingly and royal heart full of valour and courage to perform it; for whoſoever (eſpecially in the dotage of the world) will walk in love without acceptation of perſons, and preferring one before another for outward qualities, of riches, birth, friends, power, &c. ſuch an one had need of a princely and royall minde that feareth no reſiſtance, according unto that which Solomon writeth of a King. Prov. 30. 30. And a King, againſt whom there is no riſing up.

Law of ſin] Sin or naturall corruption, which (like a Law) commandeth evill actions, inforcing us unto them, and forbidding us good things, drawing us from them. Rom. 8. 2. He hath freed me from the Law of ſin.

Law of the Spirit] The holy Spirit of ſanctification, which is like unto a Law, commanding with authority, and with power inforcing to doe good things, and to avoyd evill. Rom. 8. 2. The Law of the Spirit of life.

Law ſpirituall] A doctrine requiring obedience from the thoughts, and the moſt inward deſires of the ſoul, and not in outward works onely. Rom. 7. 7. The Law is ſpirituall.

Spirituall, becauſe 1. The cauſe of it, and the being of it in us is the holy Spirit.

2. The ſubject or matter of it is piety, which is ſpirituall.

3. The object of it is the ſpirit of man, and not onely the body. See Heb. 4. 12, 13.

Law and Teſtament] The books of Moſes, and divine Revelation given to the Prophets, Iſa. 8. 20.

Through the Law, I am dead to the Law] Through the Law of Grace, granted by Chriſt, I am free from the bondage and curſe of the Law given by Moſes, Gal. 2. 19.

Or thus: The Law of Commandements, by terrifying my Conſcience, brought me to Chriſt, who cauſed me to dye to the Law indeed, by making me righteous through faith in him, that I might not fear the curſe of the Law; and by ſanctifying me, that I might not obey the luſts which are againſt the Law. Take this for the better expoſition.

Law of works] The doctrine which teacheth to get righteouſneſſe and ſalvation, by working according to the Law. Rom. 3. 27. Not by the Law of works.

Your Law] The Scriptures or Books of Moſes, the Prophets, and Pſalms, which were given to you, whereof alſo you have the uſe, reading, and expounding them in your Synagogues. Laſtly, wherein ye glory much. Joh. 10. 34. Is it not written in your Law?

Lawfull] That which is juſt, right, equal, warrantable from and agreeable unto the Law both of God and man.

Spoken of things commanded, Ez. 18. 19. & 33. 14, 19. Of things indifferent, 1 Cor. 6. 12.

Law-giver] ſignifies, a Statute-maker, a maker of decrees, or Governour, which hath Soveraigne power to command and give Laws, Gen. 49. 10. This title is ſometime given to God himſelf, Iſa. 33. 12. and ſometime to Rulers ſet up of God, Numb. 21. 18. Pſal. 60. 9.

Lawleſſe] 1 Tim. 1. 9. The Originall ἀνόμοις, is rendred a tranſgreſſour, Mar. 15. 38. Luk. 22. 37. wicked, Act. 2. 23. without law, 1 Cor. 9. 21. Unlawfull, 2 Pet. 2. 8. Spoken of Antichriſt, ὁ ἄνομος, that wicked one, 2 Theſ. 2.8. One notoriouſly, of ſet purpoſe wicked.

Lawyer] Νομικὸς. Their office and profeſſion was to ſearch the Scriptures, read and expound them unto the people, and anſwer ſuch doubts as aroſe therefrom.

Of them mention is made, Luk.11.45. & 14.3. Of one honeſt Lawyer the Apoſtle maketh mention, Tit. 3.13.

Lay] The words down, hand, hands, hold, up, wait, with, on, apart, aſide, &c. annexed hereunto, plainly point out the meaning of the places where they are.

Lazarus] of לצר, whence מלצר a treaſurer. Others derive it of ל, which is of לא not, & עזר help, as deſtitute of help. Others make Lazarus and Eleazer the ſame, Paſor. Chytreus rendreth it, God the helper; as another, the help of God. A Begger, Luk.16.20. Alſo, the Brother of Mary and Martha, Joh. 11. 1, 2, 5, 11, 14, 43.

L E.

To lead] 1. Softly and gently to guide in a comfortable motion, with ſuſtaining of infirmities: and it is either outward, for the body, in things of this life, or inward toward the ſoul in things which be heavenly, Pſal. 23. 2. Iſa. 40. 11. Gen. 33. 14. Rom. 8. 1, 14.

2. To feed, Gen. 47. 17.

V. Of Gods long-ſuffering, Rom. 2. 4.

VI. Of Wiſdome, Prov. 8. 20.

VII. Of the Commandements, Prov. 6. 22, 23.

To be led by the Spirit] To be mightily and forcibly, yet willingly removed, and caryed by divine power from place to place. Matth. 4. 1. being compared with Luk. 4. 1, 14. Jeſus was led away of the Spirit. And Mar. 1. 12. The Spirit is ſaid to drive him out.

2. To be governed by the good motions of the Spirit of God. Rom. 8. 18. They that are Chriſts are led by the Spirit of Chriſt; that is, be obedient to the government of the Spirit, Gal. 5. 18.

To be led into Temptation] Not onely to be forſaken in the temptation, but to be given wholly over to the Tempters will, and held priſoner at his pleaſure. This is never done but to the wicked; yet it is often deſerved by the godly, who praying againſt it do eſcape it. Matt. 6. 13. Lead us not into temptation; that is, let us not fall into the Tempters hand, to be as his ſlaves.

Leaf] A certain green blade ſhot forth of a tree, to ſhew that it liveth, and is not dead and withered, Iſa. 1. 30. & 34. 4.

2. The life of grace which the godly live here; and the not fading of this leaf] doth ſignifie conſtant perſeverance in this grace. Pſal. 1. 3. Whoſe leaf ſhall not fade.

3. The life of glory, which from Chriſt is communicated to the elect, being in heaven, for their eternall happineſſe. Rev.22.2. And the leaves of the Tree ſerved to heal the Nations therewith.

4. Knowledge and profeſſion of Chriſt, without the fruit of obedience. Mat. 21.19. He found leaves, but no fruit.

5. The leaſt matter of fear, Lev. 26. 36.

4. The act of generation, Gen. 31. 10, 12.

5. An extraordinary motion, Luk. 1. 41.

It's ſpoken of creeping things, Lev. 11. 21. Deut. 33. 22. high hils, Pſa. 68. 16. charets, Joel 2. 5.

Leaped over a wall, 2 Sam. 22. 30. that is, when mine enemies have betaken themſelves to their ſtrong forts, I have ſcaled, and won them.

Leaping] Rejoycing, either for health of body reſtored to the lame, or grace reſtored to ſinners. Iſa. 35. 6. Then ſhall the lame man leap as an Hart.

To learn] 1. It is taken actively, and ſo it is all one with this, to Teach.

2. It is taken paſſively, for the receiving of knowledge or inſtruction from others: It ſignifieth the applying or exerciſe of the minde, or of the ſenſes by the minde, to know ſomthing that was before unknown, Gal. 3. 2.

It is diverſified by the means and matters thereof. The means of it are, 1 Teſtimonies, 2 Examples, 3 Similes, 4 Reaſons or arguments, 5 Practiſe.

The matters of it are all things both good to do and have them, and evil to avoyd them.

It ſignifieth alſo, 1. By hearing or ſeeing, &c. to ſtudie to know, or really to know ſuch things whereof we are ignorant, Joh. 6. 45. & 7. 15. Rom. 16. 17. 2. To hear ones opinion, or what he holdeth, Gal. 3. 2. 3. To obſerve and diligently conſider, Mat. 6. 28. comp. with Luk. 11. 27. 4. To be uſed to a thing, and therein ſtudiouſly to exerciſe ones ſelf, Iſa. 1. 17. Tit. 3. 14. Deut. 17. 19. 5. Imitate or follow, Mat. 11. 29. 1 Cor. 4. 6.

Learning] The Doctrine of Chriſt. Eph. 5. 20. But ye have not ſo learned Chriſt.

2. Falſe doctrine, ſuch as the falſe Propheteſſe Ieſabel taught, to wit, that men might eat of things ſacrificed to idols, and commit fornication without ſin. Rev. 2. 24. As many as have not this learning.

3. The inſtruction and information of our mindes in godlineſſe. Rom. 15. 4. They are written for our learning; that is, by doctrine to inſtruct our mindes in the knowledge of God his will and works, that faith may be kindled.

4. Humane knowledge or skill in the liberal Arts and Sciences. Joh. 7. 15. Seeing he never learned. Act. 7. 22. Act. 4. 13.

Leaſt] None at all, of no reckoning or place. Mat. 5. 19. He ſhall be called the leaſt in the Kingdome of heaven; that is, he ſhall have no place in the Church of God. 2. Of ſmall reckoning & regard with others. Luk. 22. 26. Let the greateſt among you be as the leaſt. 3. The ſmalleſt quantity, Numb. 11. 32. Amos 9. 9. 4. The meaneſt perſon and loweſt rank, Judg. 6. 15. 1 Sam. 9. 21. Iſa. 36 9.

Leave] 1. To depart from, or go away, Joh. 16. 28. 2. To retire from, Act. 18. 19. 3. Not to take ſuch care of as formerly, Mat. 19. 5. 4. To lay down, Mat 5. 24. 5. Not to alter ones condition, Act. 24. 27. & 25. 14. 6. To keep or preſerve, 1 King. 19. 18. comp. with Rom. 11. 4. 7. To remain, 2 King. 17. 20. By the words joyned herewith, the meaning of many places may be diſcerned.

Leaven] That which ſecretly and ſpeedily ſowreth the whole lump of Dow, altering the nature of it, Mat. 13. 32, 38. Hoſ 7. 4.

2. The Kingdome or Church of Chriſt here on earth, ſecretly waxing and increaſing by degrees, both in number of perſons, and in graces of the Spirit; as Leaven being but little, yet ſpreadeth it ſelfe through the whole lump. Matt. 13. 33. The Kingdome of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, &c.

3. The Doctrine of the Goſpel taught in the Church, which altereth the nature of a man, turning his heart firſt, and afterwards his members, that he may lead a new life; even as Leaven altereth the nature of the Dow, and maketh it through ſowre, being ſweet before. Thus far in good part.

Secondly, in evill part it is taken diverſly,
1 For evill perſons, 1 Cor. 5.6,7,8.
2 For evill properties.
1 Falſe Doctrine, Matth. 16. 6, 12. Gal. 5. 9.
2 Hypocriſie, Luk. 12.1.
3 Court policy, Mar. 8. 15.
4 Malice, 1 Cor. 5. 8.

4. The corrupt doctrine of Hereticks, corrupting the ſweetneſſe of heavenly doctrine by their falſe gloſſes; which is alſo noted by the name of Hypocriſie, becauſe corrupt doctrine is deceitfull, falſe, and ungodly, making all the lovers of it Hypocrites, Matth. 16. 6. Luk. 12.1. Beware of the leaven of the Phariſees, which is hypocriſie. Gal. 5. 9.

5. Corrupt and vicious livers, which with their company (like Leaven) infect others. 1 Cor. 5. 6. Know you not that a little leaven leaveneth the whole lump? 1 Cor. 15. 33. Thus far in ill part.

Old leaven] Malicioufneſſe and wickedneſſe, even the whole naughtyneſſe of our ſinfull nature, with the bitter fruits of it. 1 Cor. 5. 5. Purge out the old leaven.

The Ceremony among the Jews, of putting away leaven out of their houſes ſeaven dayes, during the tearm of the feaſt of the Paſſeover; it ſignified, that from the firſt day we beleeve in Chriſt, throughout the whole courſe of our life, both every ſingular perſon ſhould purge himſelf from evil doctrine and corrupt manners (noted by old leaven) and every Congregation ſhould excommunicate from among them, men of ſcandalous behaviour, as the Apoſtle doth apply it, 1 Cor. 5. 6,7, 8.

Alſo, the Ceremony of cleanſing the Leproſie, oneway if it were doubtfull, ſhutting up the party ſuſpected, till it were certain, Lev. 13. And another way if it were cleer, dwelling alone without the camp, Levit. 13. 44. Herein was a lively figure of the two cenſures of the Chriſtian Church: Suſpenſion, whereby men ſuſpected are ſeparated from ſome holy things, till their perverſeneſſe appear, whereof Paul ſeemeth to mean, 2 Theſſ. 3. 14, 15. 2 Tim. 3. 9. and Excommunication, which the Apoſtle deſcribeth, 1 Cor. 5. 11, 13. Mat. 18. 17. Moreover, if the Leproſie were in garments, they muſt be burned in the fire, Lev. 13. 51, 57. If in an houſe, no body muſt ſleep or eat in it; which ſignifies to us, that all inſtruments of Idolatry or other ſin, are to be deſtroyed, Jude v. 23. and that by all meanes we muſt avoyd the contagion of ſin; namely, of Idolatry, that our ſouls be not infected with it. The two birds uſed in the cleanſing, Lev. 14. 5, 6, 49, 50. ſignifie, that neither Chriſts manhood without his Godhead, nor his Godhead without his blood could purge ſin, Joh. 6. 53, 63.

Lebana] The moon, whiteneſſe, frankincenſe; or, brittle. A mans name, Ezr. 2. 45.

Lebanah] A City, Joſh. 15. 42.

Lebanon] The ſame. Taken 1. Properly, for that famous Mountain of Syria, having its name from its whiteneſſe, or the great ſtore of frankincenſe there, Deut. 3. 25. Jer. 22. 6, 20.

2. Figuratively, and that by a Metonymie, for the Trees thereon, Iſa. 40. 16. The Temple built thereof, Zech. 11. 1. and Houſes, Jer. 22. 23. By a Synecdoche, for Canaan, or Judea, the Countrey of Gods people, Hab. 2. 17. Zech. 10. 10. Barren ground, Iſa. 29. 17. By a Metaphor for High and lofty, Iſa. 10. 34. In Cant. 4. 8. it's taken myſtically.

Lebaoth] Of a Lioneſſe; a ſigne of the heart; or, unto the entring in. A City, Joſh. 15. 32.

Lebbeus] Praiſing, or confeſſing. An Apoſtle whoſe ſurname was Thaddeus, Matth. 10. 3.

Lechah] Walking, or going. The Son of Er, 1 Chr. 4. 21.

Ledges] The Originall שלבות is rendred by Montanus, climacteres, ſteps or rounds, as of a Ladder. By Buxtorf. gradus, ſcalæ, greeſes, ſteps.

Metaphorically, prominentiæ gradatæ, 1 King. 7. 28. Juttings out made with greeſes or ſteps, or ſet ladder-wiſe, that is, equally diſtant one from another, as the ſtaves of a ladder.

Leeks] though they engender evil humors, groſſe and evill blood, breed winde, darken the eye-ſight, and cauſe heavy and terrible dreams, yet the Iſraelites, being whileſt they were in Egypt accuſtomed to feed thereon, preferred them unto Manna, Numb. 11. 5, 6.

Lees] The dregs, grounds, ſetled in the bottome.

To drink the dregs (or lees) of the wine, Pſa. 75. 8. is to undergoe grievous calamities, Jer. 49. 12.

Moab hath ſetled on his lees, Jer. 48. 11. that is, hath had proſperity for a long time, and ſo gone on in her ſins, not fearing Gods judgements.

A feaſt of wines on the lees, Iſa. 25. 6. All ſpirituall delicates, which abide and continue, as wine on the lees, and not emptyed from veſſel to veſſel, retaineth his taſte and ſavour.

Left

Left hand] The fearfull eſtate of the ungodly, adjudged to torments; as the right hand ſignifies the happy eſtate of the godly, appointed to life, Mat. 25. 30, 31.

It's put for the North quarter, Gen. 14. 15. The leſſe eſteem, Gen. 48. 13, 14. That which is very nigh, Mat. 6. 3. Meaning not to reſpect prayſe of any. Things light, vain, trifles, ſinfull evils, Eccl. 10. 2. A by-path, Iſa. 30 21. Adverſity, as by the right, proſperity, 2 Cor. 6. 7.

Left-handed] One that performeth bodily actions as readily and ſtrongly with the left hand, as others do with the right hand. Judg. 3. 15. Ehud a man left-handed.

Leg, Legs] Taken properly for that member of man or beaſt, ſo named, Exod. 12. 9. 1 Sam. 17. 6. Joh. 19. 31.

Figuratively, by a Metonymie, for ſtrength, Pſal. 147. 10. By a Metaphor, when legs are attributed to the myſticall bridegroome, Cant. 5. 15. To ſet forth the power of Chriſt, and unto things, not being living creatures, Dan. 2. 33. Amos 3. 12.

Legion] A band of Souldiers, conſiſting commonly of 6000 ſay ſome, of 6200 footmen, and 730 horſe-men, ſay others; of 1200 & 500, ſay others. But moſt hold that the Romane Legions conſiſted not alwayes of one and the ſame number, but were upon occaſion more or leſſe.

In the New Teſtament it is put for many, a great multitude, Mat. 26. 53. Luk. 8. 30.

Lehabim] Inflamed, or flames, or ſwords. The Son of Mizraim, Gen. 10. 13.

Lehi] The jaw. A place, Judg. 15. 9, 14, 19.

Leiſure] Opportunity, Mat. 26. 16. A convenient time, 1 Cor. 16. 12.

Had no leiſure, Mar. 6. 31. that is, was ſo buſied, imployed. So many coming and going.

Lemuel] He who is the ſtrong God. The name of Solomon, given by his Mother, Prov. 31. 1, 4.

Lend] Taken properly, whether Money, Exod. 22. 25. Victuals, Lev. 25. 37. Loaves, Luk. 11. 5. Muſt be that which is ſufficient, Deut. 15. 8. Not for increaſe, Lev. 25. 37. Nor upon uſury, Deut. 23. 19. Muſt not be with reſpect of perſons, Luk. 6. 34, 35. Is the property of a mercifull man, Pſa. 37. 26. & 112. 5.

Figuratively. So 1. Neither to lend nor to borrow, is to take away all occaſion of ſtrife, Jer. 15. 10.

2. He that hath pity upon the poor, is ſaid to lend unto the Lord, Prov. 19. 17. that is, God doth accept of what is done to the poor, as done to him, and will abundantly recompenſe it.

3. As by the lender and the borrower, the rich and the poor are underſtood, Iſa. 24. 2. So to be able to lend, and have no need to borrow, importeth to abound in riches, Deut. 15. 6. & 28. 12.

To lend, looking for nothing again] Luk. 6. Seeing the purpoſe of Chriſt is to commend charity in all men, as well in the borrower toward the lender, not to defraud him of his right; as in the lender to ſeek the welfare of the borrower, not onely by lending to him, but alſo by forgiving, or giving to him the debt, or at leaſt not ſeeking it.

1. In reſpect of the borrowers now by caſualty faln into poverty, Deut. 15. 2, 3, 4. then wholly to forgive him the debt, as Mat. 18. 27, 32.

2. In reſpect or in regard of his means, wch may not be uſed to recover our goods.

3. Nor in all ill manner of cruelty, or too much haſte or importunity, Mat. 18. 29, 30. or upbraiding or threatning.

4. When we increaſe in ſtate, & can ſpare it.

5. Nor ſo, that the loſſe of the borrower be more thereby then gain.

Length] 1. A certain dimenſion or kind of quality of ſubſtances. 2. A great continuance or production of time. 3. Eternity, either before this world, or after it, or both together, Eph. 3. 18. Rev. 21. 16.

Applyed to Dayes, Job 12. 12. Pſa. 21. 4. Prov. 3. 2, 16. Time, Prov. 29. 21. A ſupernaturall thing, Eph. 3. 18. Rev. 21. 16. Things meaſurable, Gen. 6. 15. & 13. 17. Exod. 25. 10, 17, 23. Judg. 3. 16.

Lentiles] A kinde of pulſe much like to vetches or peaſe, and but coorſe food, Gen. 25. 34. ſo vile an exchange did Eſau make of his heavenly dignity, that not without cauſe did the holy Ghoſt call him a profane man, Heb. 12. 19.

Leopard] The Kingdome of Macedonians under Alexander the great, and Philip his father; which for the haſty ſuddenneſſe, and great guile, and fraudulent drifts uſed in the adminiſtration of that Grecian Monarchy, is likened to a Leopard, a beaſt famous for his ſwiftneſſe and craftineſſe. See Jer. 5. 6. Hab. 1. 8. Dan. 7. 6. Another like a Leopard. This Kingdome is ſaid to have four wings upon the back, to note the extreme and unſpeakable quickneſſe and ſpeed: and it had alſo four heads, to ſignifie the four Princes or great Preſidents, among whom that Monarchy was in proceſſe of time divided, through a conſpiracy againſt Alexander and Hercules, two Sons of Alexander the great, ſlain by Caſſander.

A beaſt not very big, but out of meaſure fierce and cruell; a great enemy to man, on whoſe eyes (when in its power) he ruſheth with great violence, plucketh them out, and teareth him in pieces. In this reſpect the Lord threatned to be unto the Jews as a Leopard, Hoſ. 13. 7. It's exceeding ſwift, and by leaping ruſheth on its prey. In this reſpect it's ſaid that the Horſes of the Chaldeans were ſwifter then the Leopards, Hab. 1. 8. It's skin is beautifull, and full of ſpots, whereby and with its ſavour, which is very ſweet and pleaſant (its deformed head being in the mean time hid) other beaſts come to view it, on whom (watching for ſuch an occaſion) it ſuddenly ſeiſeth, Jer. 13. 23. & 5. 6. Having eat poyſon, by feeding on mans dung it's reſtored. Sometime it ſleepeth three whole dayes together, then awakening, cryeth out aloud, and ſmelling moſt ſweetly, the beaſts flock to it, on whom it preyeth. Being brought up with a Kid, it would not eat of its fleſh, when by the Owner killed, ſuch was its thankfulneſſe. When it toucheth poyſoned fleſh it dyeth. Its skin being hanged up in the ſame houſe with the skin of the Hyena, loſeth its hair. The male is very libidinous. It's a great lover of wine, whereby (being put by the hunters in the fountains, wherein it drinketh in the morning) it is caught, and made a prey. Between it and the Dragon there's continued enmity. Hereunto the Grecian Empire, and therein Alexander the great is compared, Dan. 7. 6. Hereunto God, Hoſ. 13. 7. Hereunto may the Devil, Jer. 5. 6. and Hypocrites, Jer. 13. 23. and Antichriſt, Rev. 13. 4, 2.

Leper] 1. One that is infected with the ſickneſſe of leproſie.

2. One that hath been ſo, but now is cured, and yet retaineth the name, Matt. 26. 6. Mar. 14. 3.

Leproſie] Over all the body, Lev. 13. 12. 2 King. 5. 27. In a part only, Lev. 13. 20, 36. 2 Chr. 26. 20. In a garment, Lev. 13. 47, 51. In a houſe, Lev. 14. 33. It was the hand of God, Lev. 14. 34. A puniſhment, Numb. 12. 10. 2 King. 5. 27. & 15. 5. but ſometime otherwiſe, Exod. 4. 6. It was ſometime curable, 2 King. 5. 14. Mat. 8. 3. Sometime incurable, 2 King. 15. 5.

Leſhem] A name; or, putting, or they put unto; or, a precious ſtone. A City, Joſh. 19. 47.

Leſſe] put for a ſmaller quantity, Gen. 16. 17. Not anſwerable to, Ezr. 9. 13. Job 11. 6. Smaller in eſteem, 1 Cor. 12. 13. An inferiour, Heb. 7. 7.

Leſt] Uſed in doubting, Gen. 3. 3. in caſe of prevention, Exod. 33. 3. Numb. 20. 18. 2 Sam. 20. 6. Pſal. 91. 12. Matt 26. 5.

Let] 1. The reproof or rebuke of a ſin and the ſinner (under the colour or figure of an Ironicall permiſſion or inſultation) which is as much to ſay, If he dare try the dangers of this matter, let him, &c. 1 Cor. 14. 38. Rev. 22. 11. Mat. 15. 14. Imperativum negationis.

2. The counſel or command of ſome duty to be done. Rev. 22. 11. Luk. 9. 23. 1 Cor. 7. 2. Heb. 13. 1. Imperativum præceptionis, 1 Cor. 11. 28.

3. The will or appointment of work to be done. Gen. 1. 3. Imperativum volitionis.

4. The threats of ſome puniſhment for ſin, Mat. 15. 14. & 23. 32. So the admiſſion to ſome priviledge or happineſſe, 1 Cor. 11. 18.

6. A form of prayer, Pſal. 140. 8.

7. A form of propheſie, what ſhall befall the evill, rather then an imprecation or prayer that evill may befall them: compare Pſal. 107. 9. with Act. 1. 20. and ſee S. Aug. upon Pſal. 35.

It ſignifieth alſo, to forbid, withhold, withſtand, hinder or ſtop the proceeding or courſe of a thing, 2 Theſ. 2. 7.

Let not, or let no man, &c.] Mar. 10. 9. Eph. 5. 6. comprehendeth two ſorts of prohibitions to two ſorts of perſons:

1. To adulterers, of active ſinners or offering evill.

2. To the parties marryed, of paſſive ſinners, or not to ſuffer temptations offered.

He which letteth] The Romane Empire, which ſo long as it flouriſhed, it kept out the Papacy from reigning in the Weſt, and the Alcoran or Mahomet in the Eaſt: But when the Empire decayed and withered, then by and by aroſe a proud, ambitious, and tyrannicall Church-man, challenging Imperial power to himſelfe, till at length he grew to this extreme height of arrogancy unto which he is now come. 2 Theſſ. 2. 7. Onely he who now letteth will let, till he be taken out of the way. Tertullian in his Apology 32. ſaith, it was the Romane State, which being divided into ten Kings, it would bring in Antichriſt. Alſo, ad Algaſiam, he writeth, That the man of ſin ſhould not be revealed, till the Nations ſubject to the Romane Empire, did depart from it, and leave it, (which happened in the time of the Emperor called Leo Iconachus, of breaking downe Images in Churches.) Auguſtine is of the ſame minde, lib. 20.

de civitate Dei, cap. 19. And Chryſoſtome rendreth a reaſon of it. Whileſt (ſaith he) the fear and dread of the Romiſh Empire remaineth, none will be ſubject to Antichriſt; but this Empire being deſtroyed, the Antichriſt ſhall invade the Empire being vacant, and ſhall aſſay to pull violently unto him the principality and rule both of God and men. How this is fulfilled, namely by latter Popes, their uſurping and exerciſing temporall juriſdiction over Kings and Kingdomes, by depoſing and diſpoſing, under pretence of his ſpirituall Juriſdiction; it is ſo manifeſt, as he muſt be very blinde who cannot ſee, wilfull who doth not confeſſe it.

Letter] put for 1. That which is written between one and another, whether for, 2 Ki. 5.5,6. Eſt. 8.10. & 9.20. or againſt, 2 Sam. 11.14, 15. 2 King. 10.2, 6, 7. Ezr. 4.8. 1 King. 21.8. Some being for information, Act. 23.25, 34. for congratulation, 2 King. 20.12. for approbation, 1 Cor. 16.3. for recommendation, 2 Cor. 3.1. for invitation, 2 Chr. 30.1, 6. for confirmation, Eſt. 9.29. for commination, Iſa. 37.14.

2. A proclamation, Eſt. 3.13.

3. Learning, as one taught in Schooles, Joh. 7.15.

4. Outward profeſſion, and whatſoever is in Religion, beſides the Spirit and grace of Chriſt, or for the externall ceremony, without the inward grace, Rom. 2.29.

5. An idle knowledge of the Law, an externall diſcipline, without true converſion of the heart to God, Rom. 7.6.

6. The Law ſeparated from the virtue of the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 3.6.

Letuſhim] Hammer-men, or file-men. The Son of Dedan, Gen. 25.3.

Lebi] Joyned, or coupled, or added to him. The Son of Jacob by Leah, Gen. 29.34. The Father of Mahli, Ezr. 8.18. The Tribe of Levi, or his poſterity, Mal. 2.4. The Son of Alphæus, Mar. 2.14. The Son of Melchi, Luk. 3.24.

Of Levi the Son of Jacob, the Levites take their denomination, being either the Prieſts, or others, the poſterity of Levi.

Levite] A Miniſter of the Old Teſtament, whoſe office it was to inſtruct the people, and to wait upon the Altar. Num. 3.45. Take the Levites, &c. Deut. 33.10. They ſhall teach Iſrael thy Law, and ſhal put incenſe before thy face, &c. The two orders of Prieſts and Levites, ſhadowed out the office of Paſtors and Teachers under Chriſt, which muſt be firſt fitted, then admitted to miniſter, and ſuffered to retire in their old age, when ſtrength was gone, as the Levites did, Num. 8. 24, 25, 26, & 4.3, 4.

2. Every true faithfull Chriſtian (which is a ſpirituall Levite) to worſhip God in Spirit and truth. Iſa. 66.21. I will take of them for Prieſts and Levites, ſaith the Lord.

Leviathan] Properly, a Sea-fiſh, a Whirlepoole, or kinde of Whale, as in Job 41.1.

Figuratively, the King of Babel or Antichriſt, which is ſtrong in power as a Whale, ſubtil as a ſerpent, cruel as a Dragon. See Iſa. 27.1. So is Pharaoh meant in Pſa. 74.14. & 136.15.

Leviathan is the name of the great Whale-fiſh, or Sea-dragon; ſo called of the faſt joyning together of his ſcales, as he is deſcribed Job 40.20. & 41.6, &c. and is uſed to reſemble great tyrants, here, and in Iſa. 27.1. So the Chaldee expoundeth it, the heads of Pharaoh's mighty men. Aynſworth on Pſal. 74.14. See Whale.

Levitticall] That which belonged unto the Levites, Heb. 7.11.

Leummim] Countries, or without waters. The Son of Dedan, Gen. 25.3.

Lewd] Act. 17.5. The Original מרעים, is alſo rendred evill, Mat. 5.11, 37, 45. wicked, Mat. 12.45. & 13.19, 49. harm, Act. 28.21. It ſignifieth one who is purpoſely evill, daily practiſing the ſame, and therein exerciſing himſelf. One notoriouſly wicked, being laborious and cunning therein, as is Satan, who is the wicked one, Mat. 6.13. ὁ πονηρὸς of πόνος, as who troubleth and vexeth the godly by his wickedneſſe. One deſirous of trouble, of vicious life, notorious lewdneſſe, Ezek. 23.44.

Lewdneſſe] The baſe, evill, wicked, filthy, abominable practiſes of them that are lewd, both in word and deed.

Liberality] As God giveth to all men liberally, Jam. 1.5. ſo he injoyneth liberality, Deut. 15.14. and that upon good grounds, Prov. 11.25. Iſa. 32.8. for which the Churches of Macedonia, 2 Cor. 8.2. and the Corinthians, 2 Cor. 9.13. are commended.

It's in the Original χάρις, a gift, 1 Cor. 16.3. marg. 2 Cor. 8.4. grace, 2 Cor. 8.19. which in marg. is gift, as which is freely given us of God, and freely to be given by us for the relief of others.

This is to diſperſe and give to the poor, Pſal. 112.9. To let our fountains be diſperſed abroad, and rivers of waters in the ſtreets, Prov. 5.16. To ſcatter, and yet to increaſe, Prov. 11.24. To water, and to be watered, ibid. 25. To caſt our bread upon the waters, Eccl.

Eccl. 11. 1. To empty our ſelves, as clouds full of rain, Ibid. 3. To ſow our ſeed in the morning, and in the evening not to withhold our hand, Ibid. 6. To give good meaſure, preſſed down, ſhaken together, and running over, Luk. 6. 38.

Liberty] Freedome from any ſervitude or bondage, Lev. 25. 10. Act. 24. 23. Heb 13. 23.

2. Freedome from the bondage of ſin and Satan, and from the ſervitude of Moſes Law. Gal. 5. 1. Stand faſt in the liberty wherein Chriſt hath ſet you free. 1 Pet. 2. 5, 16. Gal. 5. 1.

This is Chriſtian Liberty begun and unperfect; being bought for us by the price of Chriſts blood, and revealed unto us by the Goſpel.

3. A full and perfect deliverance from the very corruption of ſin, and of the grave too, and from all miſery whatſoever. Eph 1. 14. Which is the Redemption of that liberty purchaſed, unto the prayſe of his glory. This is the accompliſhment of the former liberty. It is called [Glorious liberty] Rom. 8. 2. Becauſe the Saints being once free from all miſeries, ſhall be glorified in heaven. Of a part whereof, to wit, immortality and incorruption, the frame of heaven and earth ſhall be partaker, as Rom. 8. 21.

4. That condition of Gods Children, from whom the veil of the heart is taken away, and the yoke of darkneſſe, which (by the ſin of one man being put upon us) was made more heavy by another yoke of Moſes law, encreaſing and ſtrengthening naturall blindneſſe in us before converſion. 2 Cor. 3. 17. Where the Spirit of the Lord is, there is liberty. 1 Pet. 2. 16.

5. A freedome or power, which is given unto the Chriſtian about things indifferent, to uſe them, or not to uſe them, keeping our ſelves within the bounds of Charity and Edification. Rom. 14. 19. Hereof the Apoſtle intreateth, Rom. 14. throughout. Alſo 1 Cor. 6. & 8. & 1 Cor. 10.

6. From the miſery or puniſhment of ſin, whereof as the parts, ſo the degrees of this liberty, are divers, being but begun, and in part in this life, but totall and perfect in the next.

7. Wicked liberty or licentiouſneſſe, which ſome take to themſelves in rejecting all goodneſſe and the Laws thereof, as alſo all fear of puniſhment for ſin, Rom. 6. 20. 1 Pet. 2, 16. 2 Pet. 2. 10, 19. Gal. 5. 13.

8. Freedome from the reſtraint of things indifferent; that is, a power and ſecurity to poſſeſſe or uſe any naturall or artificial gift of God, but with this caution. 1 If it be not more, or otherwiſe then God hath commanded. 2. If the Magiſtrate have not upon ſome ſpecial occaſion forbidden the uſe thereof.

9. Liberty ſignifieth equity, or upright and indifferent dealing of God or man with man, Jam. 2. 13. & 1. 25.

10. Conjugall liberty, when the party freed may marry, 1 Cor. 7. 39. But if her husband be dead, ſhe is at liberty to be married to whom ſhe will, onely in the Lord. See Law.

Object. A Law bindeth, Liberty looſeth: If Law, how then Liberty? If Liberty, how then is it Law?

Anſw. Yes, a Law as it bindeth all men to goodneſſe, all evill men to puniſhment, and all to account; but yet of Liberty, as it permitteth the oppreſſed to ſpeak for themſelves.

Chriſtian liberty is a ſpirituall benefit, purchaſed by the death of Chriſt, to the ſetting free of the faithfull which beleeve in Chriſt, not onely from the precepts and traditions of men, (1 Cor. 7. 23.) as binding the Conſcience, and from the yoke of the whole Ceremonial Law of Moſes; (1 Cor. 9. 19. Gal. 5. 1. Rom. 8. 1.) but alſo from the curſe and rigorous exaction of the Morall Law, (Rom. 7. 4, 5. & 5. 15, 16, 17, 18.) even from the whole wrath of God, due to our ſins, by the juſtification of Faith: and finally, from the dominion and reign of ſin, by the ſanctification of the Spirit (Rom. 6. 13, 14, 15.) That ye may ſerve and obey the wil of God, without all terrour and ſlaviſh fear, (Luk. 1. 47.) in all quiet tranquillity of minde, and cheerfulneſſe of conſcience, under ſure hope of eternall glory. Therefore, they are much deceived, who think Chriſtian liberty to conſiſt in freedome from the doctrine and obedience of the Morall law, or from the yoke of any lawfull authority, Civill or Eccleſiaſticall, that men may live licentiouſly, as themſelves liſt, uſing their Liberty as a cloke of wickedneſſe.

A People ſet at liberty] Such a people, as through grace are made partakers of Chriſtian Liberty. 1 Pet. 2. 9. An holy Nation, a people ſet at liberty.

Libertines] Free-men, or men endowed with freedome, Act. 6. 9. Thoſe which ſet themſelves againſt Stephen, witneſſing the faith of Jeſus, were either the free Citizens of Rome, which had built a Synagogue for ſuch as were called Libertines, or the men themſelvs which were of that Colledge and Society.

Paſor

Pasor saith, that is the name of a Sect, and derived from the Ægyptian word Lubratenu.

Chytreus, that this Synagogue consisted of the Jews dwelling in Lybia.

There be besides the former, sundry kinds of Libertines.

1. Such as under colour of Christian liberty, set beleevers free from the civil yoke of Magistrates; against which wee read 1 Tim. 6. 1. 2 Pet. 2. 10.

2. Such as abuse Christian liberty for a cloke of maliciousnesse, and as an occasion to the flesh; such as say, The more we sin, the more God is glorified in pardoning of it, Rom. 3. 7. & 6. 1.

3. Such as pretend such a perfectnesse of life by the leading of the Spirit, as freeth them from sin, and from the letter of the Scripture, to follow revelations, secret inspirations, perpetuall allegories, as Familists doe.

Libnah] The moon, whiteneſſe, frankincenſe; or, brittle. A City, Josh. 21. 13.

Libni] The same. The Son of Gershom, Exod. 6. 17. Of whom came the family of the Libnites, Numb. 3. 21. The Son of Mahli, 1 Chr. 6. 29.

Libya] In Hebrew לוּב, in Greek φύη, in Latine Aphrica, in Syriack לוּב it sufficeth, q. d. rich, fat. It's derived of λίβυς, an Aphrican. A Countrey, Ezek. 30. 5. Act. 2. 10. Hence Libyans, Jer. 46. 9. Dan. 11. 43.

Lice] As the dust became lice throughout all the Land of Ægypt, Exod. 8. 16. And there were lice upon man, and upon beast, Ibid. 17. So herein was the wonderfull power of God seen, that the Magicians assaying to bring forth lice, could not, Ib. 18. See Psal. 105. 31.

Lick] Spoken 1. properly, of an Oxe licking up grasse, Numb. 22. 4. A dog licking up blood, 1 King. 21. 19. & 22. 38. Of a dog licking sores, Luk. 16. 21. and a serpent licking up the dust, Mic. 7. 17.

2. Figuratively, of the Israelites, Num. 22. 4. Now shall this company lick up all that are round about us; that is, waste, destroy, spoyl, make a prey of all. Of the enemies of Christ, or of Solomon, who was a type of him, Ps. 72. 9. His enemies shall lick the dust; that is, subject themselves unto him. So Isa. 49. 23. They shall lick the dust like a Serpent, Mic. 7. 17. that is, be in a poor, low, base, abject, mean condition.

Lie] signifieth, To befall, seise on, Deut. 29. 20. Be, Judg. 19. 20. Lie down to sleep, Ruth 3. 4. Live, Psal. 57. 4. Wait, attend, Gen. 4. 7. Be naught with, Gen. 26. 10. To be seated, situated, bounded, or border upon, Numb 21. 15. Josh. 15. 8. Judg. 1. 16. Stand or consist, Judg. 16. 5, 6. Be in a low condition, Psal. 41. 8. Reside, abide, retire unto, Job 40. 21. Continue, abide, goe on, 1 Joh. 5. 19.

By the words prefixed, and by the words annexed hereunto, such as down, still, upon, with, in wait, &c. the meaning of severall texts may be easily perceived.

Lieutenants] Such as were appointed Governours and Presidents of Countreys under the King, Ezr. 8. 36. Est 3. 12. & 8. 9. & 9. 3.

Life] A power to move and doe actions tending to self-preservation. Act. 20. 24. My life is not dear unto me. Joh. 1. 3, 15. This is the life of nature.

2. The free motion of the minde and will of man toward God, to doe works pleasing to him. Rom. 8. 2, 6. The wisdome of the Spirit is life. This is the life of Grace, which when it is perfect in heaven, it becomes the life of glory; and of spirituall life, is then made eternall.

3. A mans selfe. Mat. 10. 39. He that loseth his life shall finde it.

4. The valiant enduring of dangers for Christ and his Word. 2 Cor. 4. 10. That the life of Jesus might be manifest in our bodies.

5. Blood, which quickeneth the flesh, Gen. 9. 4. The flesh with the life ye shall not eat, &c.

6. Many and good years. Psal. 30. 5. In his favour is life. Life here being set against a moment or a while, signifieth a blessing of life, with the continuance of it, Prov. 3. v. 2.

The Hebrews for Life, doe use a word of the Plurall number, signifying Lives, for the many faculties and operations that be in life. Also, for the many years, degrees, and estates thereof: whereas the Apostles in Greek retain the singular number.

7. The state of happinesse begun here in the godly, but perfected hereafter in heaven, Col. 3. 3.

This is the life of glory, or life eternall, Joh. 14. 19. & 17. 3. Rom. 6. 23.

8. Christ himself is our life, Joh. 15. 6. Col. 3. 4. Joh. 11. 25.

A Metonymie of the cause for the effect, for he is the fountain and author of all sorts of good lives.

1. Of that of nature, Joh. 1. 3, 4, 9. Act. 17. 28.

2. Of the life of grace or godlinesse, Rom. 8. 10, 11.

3. Of

3. Of the life of glory, or happineſſe, Joh. 14. 19. 1 Cor. 15. 45.
9. The appetite and ſtomach, Job 33. 20.
10. A bleſſing and continuance of life, Prov. 22. 4.
11. The length of dayes, Pſal. 21. 4. or, dayes of life, Iſa. 38. 12.
12. Living or reſt, Iſa. 57. 10.
13. A quickening ſpirit enabled to a perfect performance, Gal. 3. 21.
14. Lively or quickening, Rom. 8. 2.
15. The way to life, Rom. 8. 6.
16. This world, Luk. 8. 14. with Matt. 13. 22. 1 Cor. 15. 19.
17. The ſoul, Lev. 17. 14.
18. The fountain of life, Joh. 1. 4. Procurer, preſerver, and bringer unto life, Col. 3. 4.
19. Spirituall felicity, Col. 3. 3.
20. Converſation, Act. 26. 4.
21. The nouriſhment of life, Deut. 20. 19. and things appertaining thereto, 1 Tim. 4. 8.
22. A quiet life, 1 Pet. 3. 10.
23. Chriſts reſurrection and ever-living, Rom. 5. 10.

Bread of life] Vitall, and lively bread, living and giving eternall life to others, and ſo is Chriſt onely. Joh. 6. 35. I am that bread of life.

Chriſt is our life] That is, he is the cauſe and giver of life, viz. the life,
1. Of nature to natural men, Joh. 1. 3, 4.
2. Of grace and godlineſſe, to ſinful men, to quicken them to godlineſſe, Joh. 5. 25, 26. Rom. 6. 8, 11. & 8. 10, 11. 2 Cor. 5. 15. Gal. 2. 20. Eph. 2. 1, 2. Heb. 6. 1. & 9. 14. 1 Pet. 4. 2.
3. Of comfort to ſorrowfull men, Pſal. 18. 6. & 17. 21. & 116. 8.
4. Of reſurrection to dead men, Joh. 5. 28.
5. Of glory to godly men, Joh. 10. 28. & 14. 6. & 17. 2.

Life everlaſting] Heavenly happineſſe and glory, which is a life incorruptible and immutable. This is likened to Life, becauſe of all earthly things life is moſt precious; and this life is everlaſting, becauſe it indures for ever. Rom. 6. 23. Eternall life is the gift of God. The beginning or entrance into this ſtate of happineſſe when men firſt beleeve, is called Eternall life, Joh. 17. 3.
2. Chriſt himſelfe. 1 Joh. 5. 20. This ſame is that life eternall.
3. The principles and foundation of ſuch things as doe belong to the attaining of eternall life, Joh. 5. 26. Eph. 2. 20.
4. Happineſſe onely begun, to be perfected in time, Joh. 17. 3. & 3. 36.

To give life] To miniſter and beſtow a quickning ſpirit, enabling to the perfect performance of the Law; which if it could be, then might men be juſtified and pronounced righteous in Gods ſight by the works of the Law: but ſeeing that cannot be, therefore righteouſneſſe muſt be looked for from Chriſt by faith. Gal. 3. 21. If a Law had been given, which could have given Life.

To live to God] To conſecrate and order our whole life after the will of God, and unto his glory, Rom. 14. 8. To live unto God containeth theſe four duties:
1. To acknowledge him to be our Lord, and that we are not our owne, but his ſervants.
2. To frame and order our thoughts, words and works, according to his Word in all things.
3. To referre and apply our whole life to his honor.
4. In all dangers and afflictions which happen in our life time, to depend upon him for protection.

To be alive to God] To be quickened and moved of the holy Spirit, to do what pleaſeth God. Rom. 6. 11. But ye are alive to God.

The life of God] That life whereby God liveth in his Saints, or a godly life. Eph. 2. 12. Strangers from the life of God. This is alſo called the life of the Spirit, and the life of Chriſt, that is a life which Chriſt commandeth and approveth, and whereby he liveth, ruleth, and reigneth in his members.

Life, as it is affirmed of God] That moſt ſingle and perfect divine being, who of himſelf underſtandeth, loveth, and willeth things infinitly; applying himſelf to thoſe actions of his owne free accord, and is the cauſe and fountain of all life, being, and motion, both bodily and ſpirituall, in all his creatures, which live, move, and have being. Hence he is called that life, and life eternall, and the living God, who lives for ever. 1 Joh. 1. 2. That life was made manifeſt. Joh. 1. 4. & 5. Life naturall, ſpirituall, eternall, be all within Chriſt, as water in the fountain.

Life and godlineſſe] Salvation eternall in heaven as the end, and true Religion (framed in the heart by the holy Ghoſt) as the way and mean to bring to that end. 2 Pet. 1. 3. Glory and virtue, mentioned in verſ. 3. latter end, doe anſwer unto life and godlineſſe. Called to glory, that is, ſalvation in heaven, ven, where the glory of God ſhineth in the Saints: and Virtue, that is an holy and juſt converſation, which goeth afore, as a way that leadeth unto glory.

A godly life] is that power which God by the Spirit of his Son putteth into the hearts of the elect, at their regeneration, enabling them to move themſelves towards God (who before were dead in ſins) that they might begin to think, ſpeak, and doe in ſome meaſure, the things pleaſing unto God. This life being once begun, it is ſtill preſerved and continued (without returning to the death of ſin) unto the next world; and therefore is called Life eternall. Rom. 6. 7, 8, 9, 23. The gift of God is eternall life.

New life] An unblameable and pure life, framed (not after the luſt of the old man, but) after the will of God in his Word. Rom. 6. 4. Walk in newneſſe of life.

To ſee life] To enjoy and poſſeſſe it: as not to ſee, doth ſignifie not to enjoy. Joh. 3. 36. He that obeyeth not the Son, ſhall not ſee life.

Time of life] ſignifieth, the year after, when God gave Sarah power to conceive and bring forth Iſaac, Gen. 18. 10. & 12. 2. & 17. 21. within a year all things come about to their cuſtomed ſtate and life; ſo a City is ſaid to be revived, when it is repaired or built, 1 Chron. 12. 8. and ſtones revive, when they are reſtored to the former ſtate, Ruth 4. 2. See Rom. 4. 9. where Paul expounds Moſes words in Gen. 18.

To live with Chriſt] To have communion and fellowſhip with the grace of Chriſt for newneſſe of life, or with his glory, for eternall felicity. Rom. 6. 8. We ſhall live with him. 2 Tim. 2. 11. If we dye with him, we ſhall live with him.

Living God] Either God to be as the Well of living and ever-ſpringing waters, abundantly refreſhing thoſe which come to him. Pſal. 42. 2. Jer. 17. 13.

Or Living is oppoſed unto the dead, that is, falſe gods, Pſal. 106 28. 1 Theſſ. 1. 9. Ye are turned from Idols, to ſerve the true and living God.

Or Living ſignifies powerfull, lively, effectuall. Pſal. 38. 19. Heb. 10. 31. Into the hands of the living God.

Living Soul] A ſoul endowing the body with life and animall power, that it may vegetate, move, increaſe, ingender, and do other actions of life; as eating, drinking, reſting, ſleeping, waking, &c. Gen. 1. 20. common to beaſts and men.

Note. Soul is named in Hebr. of breathing, and it is applyed to all creatures that live, and to the breath of them, Gen. 1. 20. Job 41. 21.

2. A Soul, which beſide vitall power and life ſenſitive, is endowed with reaſon, having the Image of God ingraven in it, and immortality annexed. This is the excellency of Mans ſoul above Fowls, Fiſhes, and Beaſts, Gen. 2. 7.

To be made alive in Chriſt] To have our dead bodies quickened, by that Divine power of Chriſt, whereby his members ſhall be raiſed at the laſt day. 1 Cor. 15. 22. Even ſo in Chriſt ſhall all be made alive.

Word of life] The Goſpel, which is a quickning word, Phil. 2. 16.

Lift] This word is ſtill joyned with up, as lift up the eyes, face, hands, heel, minde, &c.

To lift up an Enſigne] By a ſecret and juſt providence to bring an hoaſt of enemies to invade his people, even from ſundry Nations, Iſa. 5. 26. Theſe enemies are deſcribed in verſ. 27, 28. by their ſpeed of ſwiftneſſe, ſtrength, cheerfulneſſe, diligence, proſperity, and cruelty.

To lift up her eyes] ſignifieth, To look upon a man with impure affections and luſt, Gen. 39. 7. Mat. 5. 28. Job 31. 1.

Alſo, To lift up the eyes, ſignifieth,

1. To raiſe up the thoughts to behold and conſider, Iſa. 40. 26. Dan. 4. 34.

2. To expreſſe our thoughts taken up in prayer, Joh. 11. 41. and in thankſgiving, Joh. 17. 1.

3. To ſhew hope and expectation, Pſal. 121. 1. & 123. 1. Ezek. 18. 6.

To lift up the face, is, 1. To look up, 2 Ki. 9. 32. Ezr. 9. 6.

2. To be cheerfully affected, Job 22. 26.

To lift up the head] 1. To exalt another by liberality to dignity, 2 King. 25. 27.

2. To exalt ones ſelf by pride above deſert, Judg. 8. 28.

3. To prepare ones ſelfe to receive another coming to him, Pſal. 24. 7, 9.

4. To rejoyce exceedingly in ſome preferment, Luk. 21. 28.

5. To remember, Gen. 40. 20.

6. To exalt, Pſal. 27. 6.

To lift up the heel, is, To abuſe inſolently, and contumeliouſly, Pſal. 41. 9. Joh. 13. 18.

To lift up the horn, is, To ſhew power, glory, and ſtrength, Pſal. 75. 4. 1 Chron. 25. 5. Zech. 1. 21.

To lift up the hands, is, 1. To ſwear, Gen. 14. 22. Exod. 6. 8. Numb. 14. 30.

2. To bleſſe, Lev. 19. 22. Luk. 24. 50.

3. To

3. To riſe up in rebellion, 2 Sam. 18. 28. & 20. 21. 1 King. 11. 26.

4. To repell inhumanely, beat, threaten, abuſe ones authority, Job 31. 21.

5. To pray, Pſal. 28. 2. this being the geſture therein, Job 11. 13. Pſal. 63. 4. Lam. 2. 19.

6. To labour for courage and cheerfulneſſe, Heb. 12. 12.

The heart lifted up] Taken commonly in ill part for waxen proud, Ezek. 28. 2. & 31. 10. or, the heart hardened in pride, Dan. 5. 20. but ſometime in good part, for encouraged, 2 Chr. 17. 6.

To lift up their minde] Jer. 22. 27. marg. that is, To deſire, as it's in the text.

To lift up the ſoul] Earneſtly to deſire a thing with delight, and hope to have what he would. Pſal. 25. 1. I lift my ſoul to thee, O Lord. Alſo, Jer. 22. 27. & 44. 14. It ſignifieth, to Deſire. The like phraſe in Ezek. 24. 25. It implyeth both deſire and delight. And Deut. 24. 15. the poor man is ſaid, to liſt up his ſoul unto his hire or wages, hoping by it to have his life ſuſtained. Pſal. 46. 4. Pſal. 24. 4. To liſt up, is to affect or regard greatly.

To lift up the voyce] that is, To make the ſound thereof to be heard, cry ſhrill, Iſa. 10. 30. In lamentation, Judg. 2. 4. 1 Sam. 24. 16. 2 Sam. 3. 32. Jer. 22. 20. In preaching, Iſa. 40. 9. & 58. 1.

To be lift up] To be taken from the earth, and placed aloft, as it may be ſeen of all, and looked upon a far off. Thus was the Serpent lifted up, Joh. 3. 14.

2. To be crucified, or to die on the croſſe, as Malefactors. Thus the two theeves. Or as a Mediatour to ſatisfie for mankinde. Thus Chriſt was lifted up, Joh. 3. 14. & 8. 28. & 12. 32. Theſe two latter places being in manner of ſpeech like the firſt, are neceſſarily underſtood of the paſſion of Chriſt, and will not ſuffer the firſt to be meant of the preaching of Chriſt openly, to manifeſt him unto all men; but either of the Croſſe alone, or of the Croſſe and of the Doctrine thereof joyntly. Moſt Divines expound it of the paſſion.

3. To be publickly preached to the hearing of all, Iſa. 58. 1.

4. It may be alſo underſtood of Chriſts Aſcenſion into heaven. Piſcator in Joh: 12. 32.

Or any preferment and advancement of one to a better eſtate, or reducement to the old, as Gen. 40. 20.

5. To be made fit to receive and entertain ſome great perſonage, Pſal. 24. 7, 9.

Light] Levis, inanis. Spoken of Bread, Numb. 21. 5. Perſons, Judg. 9. 4. Thing, 1 Sam. 18. 23. 1 King. 16. 31. 2 Kin. 3. 18. & 20. 10. Iſa. 49. 6. Ezek. 8. 17. Prophets, Zeph. 3. 4. Yoke, Mat. 11. 30. Afflictions, 2 Cor. 4. 17.

Light] Velox, celer, 2 Sam. 2. 18.

Lightly] put for a ſmall meaſure, Iſa 9. 1. Without great enforcement, Jer. 4. 24.

Light] That Creature of light ſhining throughout, over the whole earth. Gen. 1. 3. God ſaid, Let there be light.

2. Sun, Moon, and Stars, which be as it were the Veſſels of this light. Gen. 1. 19. Therefore he made two great lights.

3. God, who is like Light, both for the brightneſſe of his majeſty, and his moſt pure and ſingle Nature, being of infinite knowledge and holineſſe, without any darkneſſe of ignorance or ſin. 1 Joh. 1. 4, 5. God is light. Joh. 1. 5. That light ſhineth in darkneſſe. And elſewhere Light doth ſignifie God the Creator of light.

Note. God is a light to the good, to cleer their underſtanding, and cheereth our heart with deliverances and bleſſings; but he is a flame to the wicked, to devour them, both now and in hell, Iſa. 10. 17. where he is called the Light of Iſrael, as elſewhere the Stone of Iſrael, Deut. 32. the Eternity of Iſrael, 1 Sam. 15. the Glory of Iſrael, Luk. 1. to ſhew what God is to his Church, and not what he is in himſelf.

4. The Word of God well underſtood, which ſerveth as a light to ſhew us the way we are to walk to heaven. Pſal. 119. 108. Thy Word is a lantern to my feet, and a light unto my paths. Joh. 3. 20, 21.

5. Chriſt himſelf, who is full of Light, and enlighteneth every man that cometh into the world with reaſon and natural underſtanding; and all elect men, with true faith and holineſſe. Joh. 1. 8. He was that true light that inlighteneth every man that cometh into the world. Joh. 9. 5. I am the light of the world. Joh. 3. 18.

6. The wiſe and faithfull Miniſters of the Goſpel, who in reſpect of their ſound doctrine and good life, are likened to light. Matt. 5. 14. Ye are the light of the world; that is, the enlightners, by your Doctrine eſpecially.

7. The doctrine of the Goſpel. Act. 26. 23. And ſhould ſhew light unto this people, and to the Gentiles. Some underſtand this of eternall life.

8. All beleeving Chriſtians, which are themſelves enlightened, unto the ſaving knowledge knowledge of God; giving light to others by their godly converſation. Eph. 5. 8. Ye are light in the Lord.

9. Some knowledge of God, and of his glory. 2 Cor. 4. 6. To give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God. Dan. 5. 11. Light put for underſtanding and wiſdome.

10. Holineſſe of life. Mat. 5. 16. Let your light ſo ſhine before men.

11. Joy, gladneſſe, and comfort, which commeth by Gods merciſull benefits and deliverances; as darkneſſe ſignifieth ſorrow and miſery. Eſt. 8. 16. And to the Jews came light and joy, gladneſſe and honour. Pſa. 118. 27. & 43. 3. Job 30. 16. Pſal. 107. 10. Lam. 3. 2. Pſal. 112. 4. Job 18. 6. & 38. 15. Pſ. 97. 11.

12. That force of reaſon and underſtanding, which is kindled in our mindes, to acknowledge him the Author of ſo great a benefit. Joh. 1. 4. And that life was the light of Man.

13. That glorious and bleſſed life in heaven, which is endleſſe. Col. 1. 12. The inheritance of the Saints in light. Joh. 12. 36.

14. One that delivereth out of adverſities. Pſal. 27. 1. The Lord is my light. Alſo, hope of ſuccour, Iſa. 5. 30.

15. Kingly government in David's perſon, 2 Sam. 21. 17.

16. A window, 1 King. 7. 4, 5.

17. A ſucceſſour, 2 Chr. 21. 7.

18. Appearance of the day, Job 24. 14.

19. A cheerfull look, Job 24. 24.

20. Happineſſe, Iſa. 58. 8.

21. Brightneſſe, Job 37. 15.

22. The means of ſpiritual comfort, Mat. 4. 16.

23. Sound doctrine and good life, Matt. 5. 16.

24. The minde and judgement, Mat. 6. 23.

25. Clearly, Luk. 12. 3.

26. Cleare underſtanding, Iſa. 8. 20. Joh. 1. 5.

27. The meanes of diſcovery, as light doth, Joh. 3. 20. Eph. 5. 13.

It's ſpoken 1. properly, of the Morning, 1 Sam. 23. 4. the Eyes, Pſal. 38. 10. Prov. 15. 30. Fire, Pſal. 78. 14. the Moon, Iſa. 30. 26. the Sun, Ibid. Rev. 22. 5. a Candle, Jer. 25. 10. Rev. 18. 23.

2. Figuratively, of God, Iſa. 2. 5. 1 Joh. 1. 5. his Countenance, Pſal. 4. 7. & 90. 2. his Word, Pſal. 119. 105. 2 Pet. 1. 19. Jeſus Chriſt, Luk. 2. 32. Joh. 1. 9. John the Baptiſt, Joh. 5. 35. The Apoſtles, Mat. 5. 14. Beleeving Chriſtians, Eph. 5. 8. The doctrine of Chriſt, Act. 26. 23. Teachers, Rom. 2. 19.

Candleſtick of or for light] Exod. 35. 14. as the Ark ſignified Gods preſence, and the Table with ſhew-bread ſhadowed the Church ſtanding before him: ſo this Candleſtick of Light ſignified the Law, in the light whereof his people doe walk, and ſerveth him, Pſal. 119. 101. Prov. 6. 23. 2 Pet. 1. 19. And the ſundry branches, knops, bowles, and flowers, ſhew the variety of things, and of delivering them in the Scriptures, ſome eaſie, ſome hard, ſome propheſie, ſome parables, &c.

To light ones candle, or lamp] To give comfort, joy, and proſperity after troubles. The ſelf-ſame thing is meant by (lightning of darkneſſe,) the turning of grief and affliction into joy. Pſal. 18. 28. On the contrary, the wickeds candle is ſaid to be put out, when their proſperity is changed with adverſity, Job 18. 6. & 21. 17. Prov. 13. 9. & 24. 20. & 20. 20. 2 Sam. 22. 28. Thou, &c. Sometime the eye is called candle, or light of the body, Matt. 6. 22. and Solomon ſaith of the ſoul, that it is the candle (or light) of the Lord, Prov. 20. 27. 1 King. 11. 36. & 15. 4. Numb. 21. 30. Chriſt according to the fleſh, is the candle or light of new Jeruſalem, Rev. 21. 23. and the Light that lighteneth every one which cometh into the world. Joh. 1. 9.

Light of Gods countenance] Gods favour declared by his bleſſings and graces; as mens favour is declared by their countenance. Pſal. 4. 7. Let the light of thy countenance ſhine upon us. The light of Gods face is his lightſome cheerfull looks, even his favour, grace, and the bleſſings of knowledge, comfort, and joy, which flow from thence. This is in Chriſt, who is both the light, and the face or preſence of God, Luk. 2. 32. Exod. 33. 14. And the Angel of his face, Iſa. 63. 9. According to this phraſe Solomon ſaith, In the light of the Kings face is life, and his favour is as the cloud of the latter rain, Prov. 16. 15. See alſo Pſal. 44. 4. & 31. 17, 21. & 67. 2. Job 29. 2.

2. The knowledge or preſence of God. Pſal. 90. 8. Thou ſetteſt our ſins in the light of thy countenance.

Light of Iſrael] Iſa. 10. 17. that is, the Lord, the holy one of Iſrael.

Light of the living] Job 33. 30. Pſal. 56. 13. that is, To live among thoſe that are alive.

Light of the Lord] The doctrine of the Word taught by the Prophets, which is called light, becauſe it is like light, detecting and laying open hidden things of God, and in our ſelves; ſhewing it ſelfe and other things too, being pure as light is: it is called the Light of the Lord, becauſe it is kindled of the Lord, and he onely diſpenſeth with it, and can deſcry when men walk in it, and when they depart from it. Iſa. 2. 5. Come ye, let us walk in the light of the Lord.

The ſeven lights or lamps mentioned Lev. 24. 2, 3. & Numb. 8. 2. did figure the holy Scriptures, giving a moſt clear light in the darkneſſe of this life, till full and perfect light after this life, ariſe in mens hearts, 2 Pet. 1. 19, 20.

Light ſown] Comfort and joy, reſerved after trouble. Pſal. 97. 11. Light is ſown for the juſt. As ſeed ſown in the ground is hidden for the preſent, and afterward appeareth, ſo is the comfort of Gods people oftentimes for a while hidden, but in time breaks forth. For we are dead, and our life is hid with Chriſt in God, Col. 3. 3, 4. And it doth not appear yet what we ſhall be, 1 Joh. 3. 2.

Lights of the world] ſignifieth,

1. That great light which ſhineth to this elementary world, Joh. 11. 9.

2. The Sun of righteouſneſſe, which enlighteneth the ſpirituall world, Joh. 8. 12.

My light] My joy and comfort, Pſ. 27. 1. So God and Chriſt are often elſewhere called the light and illumination of his people, Mic. 7. 8. Iſa. 16. 19, 20. & 10. 17. Luk. 1. 79. & 2. 32. Rev. 21. 23. Joh. 14. & 8. 12.

To walk in the light] To follow Gods Word as our guide in our travell to eternall bleſſedneſſe. 1 Joh. 1. 17. But if we walk in the light.

Works of light] See Armour of light.

To lighten the eyes] To make them ſee clear, being dimmed and dulled, 1 Sam. 14. 27, 29.

2. To doe away or remove want, ſorrow, diſeaſes, or other evils whereby the eyes are made heavy, that the heart may be refreſhed and made joyfull. Pſal. 13. 3. Eſt. 9. 6. That my God may lighten mine eyes.

3. To drive ignorance out of the minde by Gods Word and Spirit, Pſal. 19. 8. Eph. 1. 18. Pſal. 38. 10. Act. 26. 18.

Lightening] Taken 1. properly, for an hot and very dry exhalation, which being through the force of cold bound up in the clouds, doth from thence break out into fire, and is often accompanyed with thunder, Job 28. 26. & 38. 29. It ſpreadeth far, Mat. 24. 27. It's ſudden in coming, not diſcernible when, and ſo gone on a ſudden, Nah. 2. 4. Ezek. 1. 14. Zech. 9. 14. It's an inſtrument wherewith God uſeth to puniſh the wicked, 2 Sam. 22. 15. Pſal. 144. 6. Pſa. 18. 14. Hereof God alone is the authour, Job 38. 35. It lighteneth the world, Pſal. 77. 18. and therewith God often ſendeth rain, Jer. 10. 13.

2. Figuratively, for the heavy, grievous, and horrible judgements inflicted on the wicked, both here and hereafter, Rev. 4. 5. & 11. 19. & 16. 18.

As the lightening cometh out of the Eaſt, and ſhineth even unto the Weſt, ſo ſhall the coming of the Son of Man be, Mat. 24. 27. that is, moſt glorious and ſwift.

Hereunto alſo the ſwiftneſſe of the Angels in performance of Gods commandements, is compared, Ezek. 1. 14. Hereunto the charets that were to come againſt Niniveh, Nah. 2. 4. Hereunto Gods arrow, Zech. 9. 14. And Satan is ſaid as lightening to fall from heaven, Luk. 10. 18. in reſpect that his Kingdome and tyranny, his power and force, is by the preaching of the Goſpel, on the ſudden overthrown.

Lign-aloes] is a tree growing in Arabia, and India, which giveth a ſweet odour, and is like the Thyine wood, mentioned in Rev. 18. 12. and is uſed in Numb. 24. 6. to ſignifie the good fame of the Church, and report of her graces, which is as a ſweet ſmell. Aynſworth on Numb. 24. 6.

Like] noteth 1. A compariſon, 1 Sam. 10. 24.

2. A reſemblance, 1 Sam. 8. 5. Rev. 9. 19.

3. One and the ſame ſort, Act. 19. 25.

1. The externall and viſible form of a thing, Ezek. 1. 5, 10, 13, &c.

2. The faſhion and pattern of a thing, according to which another is made, 2 King. 16. 10.

3. The face, Numb. 12. 8.

4. An image repreſenting a thing or perſon, Deut. 4. 12, 15. Iſa. 40. 18.

5. Repreſentation, ſo Abraham is ſaid to have received Iſaac in a figure, Heb. 11. 19.

6. The agreeableneſſe of a thing or perſon with another; either in appearance onely, Rom. 8. 3. or in truth, as Jam. 3. 9.

Gen.

Gen. 1. 26, 27. Gen. 5. 1, 3. Pſal. 17. 15. Phil. 2. 7.

7. The manner according to which a thing is, Rom. 5. 14. Infants ſin not actually, as Adam did, Heb. 7. 15. After the order and manner of Melchiſedech, aroſe Chriſt. Here note, that in Scripture there are ſeverall parables, wherein there are ſeverall ſimilitudes uſed, which yet the Scriptures doe not approve, nor are to be practiſed, as, Piping and dancing, from Mat. 11. 17. Uſury, from Mat. 25. 27. An unjuſt Steward, from Luk. 16. 8. An unjuſt Judge, from Luk. 18. 2, &c. A thief, from Mat. 24. 43, 44. 1 Theſſ. 5. 2. Rev. 3. 3. Onely from ſuch things ſimilitudes are drawn.

There's a likeneſſe 1. of God in man, Gen. 1. 26.

2. Of man in Chriſt, Rom. 8. 3. Phil. 2. 7.

3. Of man in man, Gen. 5. 3.

4. Of Chriſt in man, Rom. 6. 5.

Likewiſe] noteth agreement or agreeableneſſe, Mar. 15. 31. Luk. 17. 28. Likeneſſe, Mat. 22. 26. Joh. 5. 19. After the ſame manner, Heb. 2. 14. Alſo, 1 Pet. 3. 1.

Libni] The Son of Shemida, 1 Chr. 7. 19.

Lilly] A green hearb, having a flower white as milk. The flower hath ſix leaves, white, fat, ſoft, odoriferous, medicinall. The root alſo and leaves are uſefull in phyſick. The root is like to a great onyon, or rather a garlick head, compact or made of divers cloves, or kernels. From whence being ſeverally ſet, ſeverall plants grow. The top bending towards the ground, and covered therewith (if it have not yet ſeeded) taketh root therein, each joint by it ſelf. If the ſtalk be cut off the root, then the flower (by reaſon that the moyſture draweth neer it) dilateth it ſelf, and ſpreadeth abroad. Not the ſeeds hereof, but the cloves in the roots produce young plants. It's in ſhow, pleaſant; in ſavour, ſweet; in its uſe, medicinable. Hereunto the Church is compared, Cant. 2. 2. Hereunto Chriſt her Bridegroom, Cant. 2. 1. Hereunto the ſpiritual joys and bleſſings which beleevers enjoy through Chriſt, Cant. 2. 16. & 4. 5. & 6. 3. Through whom they grow as the lilly, Hoſ. 14. 5. enjoy great glory, dignity, and proſperity.

Lime] is made of chalk, ſtones, (and in ſome places of ſhels) by degrees burnt in a kilne, made for the purpoſe, ſerving for the cloſe and firm joyning together of bricks and ſtones in building, and holding together laths, &c.

Once Moab ſo hated the Iſraelites, as that when the Edomites joyned themſelves to the aid of Iſrael, Moab for extreme deſpight thereof, burnt the bones of the King of Edom into lime; that is, burnt the very bones of the King of Edom's Son into aſhes, in way of ſacrifice to his gods, Amos 2. 4.

The people ſhall be as the burning of lime, Iſa. 33. 12. that is, broken to pieces as lime is, when burned for the uſe of the labourer or work-man in his building.

To limit] To appoint, determine of, reſtrain unto, Heb. 4. 7. Bound, or preſcribe bounds unto, Pſal. 78. 41.

Linage] Luk. 4. 2. that is, of the ſtock, houſe.

Line] A cord or inſtrument to meaſure any thing by, 2 Sam. 8. 2.

2. Any thing ſet for a partition or mark of difference, Pſal. 105. 11. & 78. 55. Amos 7. 17.

3. A ſhort ſentence or doctrine briefly delivered, and plainly, for the better capacity of the ignorant. Iſa. 28. 13. But the Word of the Lord was unto them precept upon precept, precept upon precept, line upon line, line upon line, here a little, and there a little: that they might goe and fall backward, and be broken, and ſnared, and taken.

4. Some exact judgement of God laid along upon ſome places, or perſons, or both, to mark them out for thoſe with which God is angry, Lam. 2. 8. Amos 7. 17.

5. The figure or apparition of the ſhape of a line appointed to repreſent ſome judgement of God to be at hand. Zach. 2. 1. I lift up mine eyes again, and looked and behold, a man with a meaſuring line in his hand.

6. Stretching out, or rule, or delineation, Pſal. 19. 4.

7. A rule, Iſa. 28. 17.

8. Certainly, Lam. 2. 8.

9. Building, frame, or edifice made by rule and line, Job 38. 5. Zech. 1. 16.

10. The ſpace meaſured out to another, according to which he had laboured within that compaſſe, as by a line, 2 Cor. 10. 16.

11. The portion meaſured, Pſal. 16. 6.

Linger] Delay, put off the time, Gen. 19. 16. & 43. 10.

Linnen] is cloth made of flax, wherewith of old great and honourable perſons were clothed, Gen. 41. 42. Eſt. 8. 15. Luk. 16. 19. Whereof the high Prieſts garments were made, Lev. 16. 23. Coat, breeches, girdle, Lev. 16. 4. Whereof the Ephods, 1 Sam. 2. 18. 2 Sam. 6. 14. and wherein the bodies of the dead are wrapped, Matt. 27. 59. Luk. 24. 12. This is put for ſilk, Exo. 25. 4.

and righteouſneſſe of the Saints, Rev.19.8. Whether there was ſilk in the high Prieſts ephod, as Mr. Aynſworth holdeth; or not ſilk, but fine linnen, according to Mr. Broughton; See their writing to each other concerning this queſtion, printed ann. 1605.

Lintel] The tranſom over a dore, Exo. 12. 22. The chapiter, or knop, Amos 9. 1. marg. for they were wont to ſet great knops or bals in frontiſpices, or upper lintels of the dores.

Linus] A net, as being made of linnen thread. A mans name, 2 Tim. 4. 21.

Lion] That which excelleth all other in courage and ſtrength, being the King of Beaſts, full of fierceneſſe and violence, given to deſtroy and devoure. Dan. 6. 16. They caſt him into a den of lions. verſ.24. And they brake all their bones in pieces. 1 Sam.17.34,35.

This beaſt is called by ſundry names in Scriptures, according to ſundry effects and properties: Sometime he is named Arjeh, that is, a plucker, renter, tearer, Pſal. 7. 5. 2. Alſo Labie, that is, hearty, couragious, Pſal. 57. 4, or 5. and Kephir, that is, lurking, or couchant, Pſal. 91. 13. abiding in covert places. Other names alſo be given this creature, as Shacal, of ramping; or fierce nature, Pſal.91.13. and Laiſh, of ſubduing his prey, Prov. 30.30.

See Buxtorf. Lexic.in the root אריה, whence אריה, and אריה, a Lion, where their ſeveral names are ſet down, with the differences between them.

It's of ſuch magnanimity, that though it be detained captive, yet doth it not ſerve his feeders, but is by them ſerved. It ſleepeth little, having great eyes, and ſo ſmall eye-lids, that they cannot wholly cover their eyes. Its young ones for the ſpace of three dayes, and three nights, ſleep, after they are whelped, but by the lions roaring are awaked. Such is its majeſty, that an Army of Harts is more fearfull, having a Lion for Captain, then an Army of Lions, having an Hart. At the roaring of the Lion all other beaſts quake and tremble. It's often troubled with a quartain feaver, whereby its fury is kept down. Its bones have but a little marrow, and being ſtruck, fire iſſueth therefrom, as from a flint. Being angry, it breaketh the bones of its young ones. Its chiefeſt force conſiſteth in its head, breaſt, and tail. When through the force of the feaver it rages, by feeding on an Ape it recovereth. The gnats in the Summer are very troubleſome to it, eſpecially to its eyes. When it hath eaten too much, it faſteth for divers dayes together. It's a continuall enemy to the Leopard, but is thereby circumvented; for the Leopard knowing that he is not ſo ſtrong as the Lion, maketh his den ſo large in the entry, that the Lion may eaſily come in, but in the middle ſo ſtraight, that being come in, he cannot get out, but is caught as in a net. It cannot endure fire, ſmelleth if the Lioneſſe hath committed adultery with any other; never devoureth any thing till famine conſtrain him. The male feedeth not with the female, but either of them apart; nor doe they return to eat that which they leave, as Princes will not of one diſh twice ſerved; and having breathed upon that they leave uneaten, no other beaſt will eat thereof. They are moſt cruel, and will ſet upon whole troopes of horſe-men together, depopulating whole herds and flocks. When they ſet upon Oxen, they come to an herd, and terrifying all, ſeiſe upon one. They drink but little,and that very ſeldome. They love their nouriſhers, and thoſe with whom they are acquainted. They are neither fraudulent, nor ſuſpicious; deſire never to be looked npon. Such is their clemency, that they often ſpare ſuch as are proſtrate before them, ſeldome deſtroying women and children; and if they be harmed by any man,according to the quality of the hurt, they frame their revenge. If a man and a beaſt be offered at one time, it ſpareth the man. As they are thankfull to their benefactors, ſo are they mindfull of injuries, and will revenge them. When ſeen, they are aſhamed to fly, but when out of ſight,fly apace. They live long, yet are their intrals ſubject to corruption. They are ſtronger before then in their hinder parts. The Lioneſſe is very libidinous, yet not very fruitfull. The young ones tear their Mothers belly, which being but ſmall at the firſt, quickly grow great.

Herein may be ſeen, both prudence avoyding the Hunters nets, juſtice in ſparing the humble, and bringing down the lofty, temperance in abſtaining from meat ſome dayes together, fortitude in ſtanding out againſt its adverſaries. The Lioneſſe loveth its young ones ſo deerly, that often in their defence it loſeth its life. It cannot abide the Cocks crowing, the noyſe of wheels, and is an enemy to Apes and Wolves.

2. Jeſus Chriſt, who for his invincible courage and fortitude, is likened to a Lion; as alſo for his great might and power, in defending his flock from bodily and ſpirituall enemies. Rev.5.5. The Lion of the Tribe of Iudah.

3. A King or mighty Prince, to rule over others. Gen. 49. 9. Judah as a lion, &c.

4. Every godly perſon, for boldneſſe like a Lion. Prov. 28. 1. The righteous is as bold as a lion.

5. Satan, or the Devill, who for his extreme fierceneſſe and cruelty, joyned with force to hurt and annoy mankinde, is like a lion. 1 Pet. 5. 6. As a roaring lion.

6. Tyrants, and violent oppreſſors, which for their cruelty are compared to Lions, 2 Tim. 4. 17. I was delivered from the mouth of the lion, Pſal. 10. 9. & 34. 10.

7. Extreme, fearfull, true evils and dangers. Pſal. 91. 13. Thou ſhalt tread upon the Lion and the Aſpe; that is, thou ſhalt overcome all evils whatſoever.

8. Some great danger pretended, onely to keep one from doing his duty. Prov. 22. 13. The ſluggard ſaith, there is a Lion in the way.

Lion with Eagles wings] The Babylonicall Kingdome, then of all other moſt excellent in dignity and power; thence compared in chap. 2. 32. to an Image of gold: it is ſaid to have two wings, for the two parts of this Monarchy, firſt Aſſyria, the other Babylon, as Luther: or, for the exceeding ſwift celerity, as Tremelius ſaith.

See the like metaphor and ſimilitude in Jer. 4. 13. & 48. 40. & Ezek. 17. 3. Dan. 7. 4. Firſt beaſt like a Lion.

This Kingdome is ſaid to be lifted up, becauſe it advanced it ſelf above the common condition of men, raging as a beaſt; but it was afterward by Cyrus brought and reduced into the ſame rank with other Kingdomes, w^ch^ is meant by ſtanding upon the feet, v. 4

Lips] Speech, words, or the act of ſpeaking. Rom. 3. 13. The poyſon of Aſps is under their lips; that is, they utter malicious and dangerous words. Pro. 10. 21. & 18. 6.

2. The mouth, with faculty and ability to ſpeak to Gods honor. Pſal. 51. 15. Open thou my lips.

3. All the inſtruments of ſpeech. Pſa. 34. 14. And thy lips, that they ſpeak no guile.

4. Doctrine and teaching, Mal. 2. 7.

Calves of our lips] Thankſgiving and prayſe offered unto God. Hoſ. 14. 3. So we will render the calves of our lips.

Cover their lips] Mic. 3. 7. that is, become ſilent, or be a mourner, Ezek. 24. 17, 20. as was the manner of ſuch, Lev. 19. 45.

A lying lip] Deceitfull, falſe, vain-glorious, boaſting words. Prov. 4. 22. The lying lip is abomination to the Lord.

To refrain the lips] To govern the tongue wiſely, knowing when to keep ſilence, and when to ſpeak. Prov. 10. 19. He that refraineth his lips is wiſe.

The talk of the lips] Idle, vain, and bragging words, without action, endevour, and performance. Prov. 14. 23. The talk of the lips bringeth one to want.

To touch the lips with a coal from the Altar] The burning up or purging and forgiveneſſe of ſins by the death of Chriſt on the Croſſe applyed, whereof the Altar was a ſymbole, Iſa. 6. 6, 7. As certainly as the Prophet Iſaiah felt the live coal touch his lips, ſo ſurely was he to beleeve that the ſin of his mouth, and all other ſins whatſoever, were all pardoned by Chriſt Jeſus, whoſe ſacrifice was figured by the Altar whence the coal was taken.

Lips of truth] A true and faithfull perſon, whoſe words are without deceit and lies. Pro. 12. 19. The lips of truth ſhall be for ever.

A man of unclean lips] Not that the Prophet was defective and wanting in his office, as ſome take it; but that he felt now his owne infirmities the more, the neerer he drew to Gods dreadfull Majeſty; and the more he perceived the wonderfull alacrity of the Angels in praiſing God, the more he ſaw that he had failed in the purity of worſhipping God, Iſa. 6. 5. The people are there ſaid to be of unclean lips, becauſe they onely came neer God with their lips, and praiſed the doctrine of falſe Prophets, and extolled the worſhip of falſe Gods, and did ſwear by their names, Iſa. 1. 6, 15, 22. Iſa. 29. 14. Jer. 5.

Little] put for 1. few in number, Exod. 12. 4. Luk. 12. 32.

2. Small quantity, Exod. 16. 18. 1 Sam. 14. 29. 1 King. 17. 12. Pſal. 37. 16.

3. Light, or of no eſteem, Joſ. 22. 17.

4. Mean, or baſe, 1 Sam. 15. 17.

5. Short, 2 Sam. 16. 1. Job 10. 20.

6. Young, Eſt. 3. 13.

7. Weak, Luk. 12. 28.

8. Low, Luk. 19. 3.

Little children] It's ſpoken, to note in the ſpeaker moſt loving and tender affection, 1 Joh. 1. 18. & 3. 7. & 4. 4.

Little faith] A ſmall portion and degree of faith, much troubled with ignorance and doubtings. Mat. 8. 26. Why doe ye doubt, O ye of little faith?

Little flock] The people of God, ſmall in number, and in worldly reputation. Luk. 12. 32. Fear not little flock.

Little foxes] All occaſions and appearances of evill, Cant. 2. 15.

Little ones] Such as be of poor and mean eſtate in the world. Matth. 18. 6.

Whoſoever ſhall offend one of theſe little ones.

Little ſiſter] The Church of the Gentiles. Cant. 8. 8. We have a little ſiſter.

Little ſtrength] A ſmall meaſure of ſpiritual grace, whereby the heart is but meanly ſtrengthened to God-ward. Rev. 3. 8. Thou haſt a little ſtrength.

To live] To move, and doe the actions of life, by a ſelf-moving power, engendred of God.

2. To be in health, to live, and to like well. Joh. 4. 50. Goe thy way, thy Son liveth; that is, is recovered of his deadly ſickneſſe.

3. To preſerve one alive againſt the danger of death. Gen. 17. 18. O that Iſmael might live in thy ſight. Gen. 42. 2. That we may live, and not die.

4. To recover life and ſtrength after ſome diſeaſe.

5. To live well and happily, or to flouriſh and proſper. 1 Sam. 10. 24. Let the King live. Pſal. 38. 19. Mine enemies live, and are mighty.

6. Rom. 8. 13. To live a corrupt life in ſin, which is the abuſe of naturall life, Eph. 4. 17. 1 Pet. 4. 2, 3. This is a ſpiritual death.

7. To live a godly life, 2 Cor. 4. 11. Gal. 2. 19, 20. This is the life of Chriſt in us, of God in us, a ſpirituall, a morall life, the life of Grace.

8. To dwell and abide in glory in happineſſe in heaven.

To live] is, 1. Naturally, the life of the body, Gen. 9. 3. Exod. 1. 16. 1 Sam. 20. 31. Eccl. 6. 3, 6. Joh. 4. 50. Act. 17. 26. Rom. 7. 3. It is for one to have in him the breath of life, Gen. 7. 15, 20. To have life within him, 2 Sam. 1. 9. Act. 20. 10. To have being, Pſal. 104. 33. To live and abide in the fleſh, Phil. 1. 22, 24. in this Tabernacle, 2 Pet. 1. 13.

2. Morally, as Paul before his converſion, Act. 23. 1. & 26. 5. Heb. 13. 18. This is, to do the things contained in the Law, Rom. 2. 14. To live peaceably with all men, Ro. 12. 18. To live in peace, 2 Cor. 13. 11. To do unto others as we would they ſhould doe unto us, Mat. 7. 12.

3. Spiritually, which is to live godly in Chriſt Jeſus, 2 Tim. 3. 12. This is to be undefiled in the way, and to walk in the Law of the Lord, Pſal. 119. 1. To walk uprightly, Prov. 10. 9. To walk in the light of the Lord, Iſa. 2. 5. To walk before God in truth, Iſa. 38. 3. To walk in the ſtatutes of life, Ezek. 33. 15. To walk in the fear of God, Act. 9. 3. To walk in newneſſe of life, Rom. 6. 4. To walk after the Spirit, Rom. 8. 1. To live unto God, Gal. 2. 19. To walk as children of light, Eph. 5. 8. To walk worthy of the Lord, Col. 1. 10. To live by faith, Rom. 1. 17. To live unto righteouſneſſe, 1 Pet. 2. 14. To live to the will of God, 1 Pet. 4. 2.

4. Wickedly, Dan. 12. 10. 2 Pet. 2. 6. This is to walk after the imagination of ones owne heart, Jer. 9. 14. To chooſe ones owne wayes, Iſa. 66. 3. To walk according to the courſe of this world, Eph. 2. 2. To walk after the fleſh, Rom. 8. 1. To minde the things of the fleſh, Rom. 8. 5. To goe after the fleſh, Ibid. 15. To fulfill the luſts of the fleſh, Gal. 5. 16.

5. Eternally, Joh. 6. 51, 58. Rom. 6. 8. 2 Tim. 2. 11. This is, to ſee God as he is, 1 Joh. 3. 2. To receive a full reward, 2 Joh 8. To eat of the tree of life, Rev. 2. 7. To drink at Chriſts Table in his Kingdome, Luk. 22. 30. To be with Chriſt, Phil. 1. 23.

To live after the fleſh] To live after the evill deſires of our corrupt nature. Rom. 8. 13. If ye live after the fleſh, ye ſhall die.

To live after the manner of the Gentiles] In eating of meats to live amongſt the Gentiles, not as a Jew, but as a Gentile, who eats of all meats without difference. Gal. 2. 14. Liveſt after the manner of the Gentiles.

2. To frame the courſe of ones life, as the wicked Gentiles did, in following abominable luſts, as they did before their converſion. Eph. 4. 17. That ye live not as other Gentiles walk. See 1 Pet. 4. 2, 3.

To live by that which comes out of Gods mouth] To live or maintain this bodily life, by Gods decree, appointment and bleſſing (being depended on) and not onely by naturall means, and ſecondary cauſes. Matt. 4. 4. Man lives not by bread onely, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

Live for ever] A long-laſting life, a life for many years, as Daniel in truth wiſhed unto the King, Dan. 6. 22. Or an eye-laſting life without any end, as the Sooth-ſayers in flattery did wiſh unto the King, Dan. 2. 4. & 3. 9. & 5. 10. attributing to a mortall man, that which is peculiar unto God.

To live in theſe things] In the perfect obedience of the precepts of the Law, to have right as of debt (not of favour) unto life, both temporall and eternall. But this right is no where to be found amongſt men, ſave in the man Chriſt Jeſus; which fulfilling the whole whole Law, both touching the firſt and ſecond Table, may claim eternall life, and all bleſſings of this, as a debt due to him. Lev. 18. 5. Rom. 10. 5. Whoſo doe theſe things ſhall live by them. Whereupon conclude ſtrongly againſt all Phariſees, Papiſts, Jeſuites, and others; That ſeeing no meer man doth theſe things (in that rigor as the Law exacteth) therefore none can challenge eternall life as a reward in juſtice due unto his works; Therefore let all fleſh glory in Chriſt, out of whom is nothing to be found but death and confuſion.

As the Lord lives, and thy ſoul lives] That thing which is affirmed and ſpoken to be ſo true as the Lord lives, or as that perſon liveth which is the ſpeaker of it. Ruth. 3. 13. I will do the duty of a Kinſman, as the Lord lives. 1 Sam. 1. 26. This is not an Oath, but a vehement aſſeveration.

As Pharaoh liveth] ſignifieth, ſwearing by the life of Pharaoh, which was a great Oath in Ægypt, Gen. 42. 15. It may be read, as a wiſh, or as an earneſt aſſeveration.

To live to ones ſelf] In the government of life, to follow his owne will alone, and not the will of God for the rule of it, forgetting Gods glory. Alſo, without thinking of this, that he muſt render an account of his life unto God, unto whoſe power alone all men are ſubject. Rom. 14. 7. None of us liveth to himſelf.

Lively] Spoken of the Word, Act. 7. 38. Hope, 1 Pet. 1. 3. Beleevers, 1 Pet. 2. 5. Of the enemies of Gods people, Pſa. 38. 19.

Living] put for, 1. The ſoul by which a man liveth, 1 King. 3. 22.

2. Mankinde alive on earth, Job 30. 23. Pſal. 143. 2. Eccl. 7. 2.

3. Never drie, but alwayes ſpringing and running, Cant. 4. 15.

4. God, Jer. 2. 13. who as he hath life in himſelf, Joh. 1. 4. ſo giveth he life to others, Act. 17. 28.

5. The godly departed this life, Matth. 22. 32.

6. Chriſt riſen from the dead, Luk. 24. 5.

7. The holy Ghoſt, Joh. 4. 10. & 7. 38, 39.

8. Spirituall, Rom. 12. 1.

9. Converſing, Col. 2. 20.

10. Continuing, Tit. 3. 3.

11. That which procureth life, and bringeth to it, Heb. 10. 20.

12. Subſtance, poſſeſſion, Luk. 15. 12. or livelyhood, Luk. 21. 4.

Living and true God] A God who is diſtinguiſhed from dead Idols, by power of life, and from falſe and faigned Gods, as Jupiter, &c. which ſometimes lived, but are not true, 1 Theſ. 1. 9.

Light of the living] This common light wherein we live, while we are in this world. Pſal. 56. 13. That I may walk before God in the light of the living.

Living waters] Springing waters, ſuch as ſpring and run, are for their continuall motion called living, Lev. 14. 5, 50. & 15. 3. Num. 19. 17. Cant. 4. 15. for life conſiſteth in continuall motion: in the New Teſtament living waters ſignifie heavenly graces, Joh. 4. 10, 11, 14. & 7. 38. Rev. 21. 6. & 28. 1.

Living ſtone] Chriſt, the author of true and ſpirituall life. 1 Pet. 2. 4. To whom comming as to a living ſtone.

L O.

Loammi] Hoſ. 1. 9. that is, Not my people, marg.

Loath] To abhor, deteſt, diſdain, be wearyed of. Spoken of the Ægyptians loathing to drink of the water, Exod. 7. 18. Of the Iſraelites loathing Manna, Numb. 21. 5. Of Job loathing his owne life, Job 7. 16. Of the full ſtomach loathing an honey-combe, Pro. 27. 7. Of Gods loathing Zion, Jer. 14. 19. Loathing the Kings, Prieſts and Prophets (which were the Leaders of his people) for their corruption and wickedneſſe, Zec. 11. 8. Of the penitent loathing their ſins, Eze. 6. 9. & 20. 43. & 36. 31.

Locks] As the womans long hair is noted as a ſigne of her husbands power over her, and her ſubjection unto him, 1 Cor. 11. 5---10. So the Nazarites hair might be the like ſigne of their ſubjection to the Lord, under whoſe power they had by their vow in ſpecial manner committed themſelves, for further ſanctification in his ſight. Aynſworth on Numb. 6. 5.

The Nazarites might, but the Prieſts were forbidden to ſuffer their locks to grow long, Ezek. 44. 20. And (which concerneth all) even Nature it ſelf teacheth us, that if a man have long hair it is a ſhame unto him, 1 Cor. 11. 14.

Locuſts] A certain vile creature ſo called. There were divers kindes of them; ſome hurtfull and venemous, others commodious for meat. Mat. 3. 4. His meat was locuſts.

The originall Arbeh, Exod. 10. 4. hath the denomination of a multitude, becauſe their nature is to be many together, Prov. 30. 27. and huge multitudes are therefore reſembled reſembled to locuſts, Nah. 3. 15. God hath uſed them often (though ſmall creatures) as inſtruments of his wrath, Exod. 10. 14. Deut. 28. 38, 42. 2 Chr. 7. 13. Pſal. 78. 46. Joel 1. 4. Some Countreys are ſo troubled with them, that thrice every yeer the inhabitants ſet themſelves againſt them, at the firſt deſtroying their egges, then the young ones, and thereafter by ſeverall wayes them that are grown up. As whileſt alive they have occaſioned famine in many places, by devouring the fruits of the earth, ſo when dead, the peſtilence ariſing of their putrefied bodies, hath deſtroyed many more. Though they have no King, yet being in unity they goe forth by bands, Prov. 30. 27. and when they are thus gathered together, they foreſhew (as it's ſaid) a famine. They are of divers kindes, and of divers colours; whereof ſome ſing, ſome are ſilent, ſome are harmfull, others profitable. They have no certain place of abode, but leap hither and thither, here and there, Iſa. 33. 4. Pſal. 109. 23. Of their ſeverall kindes, differences, uſe for meat and medicines, how harmfull, how they may be deſtroyed, &c. See Inſectorum, ſive minimorum Animalium Theatrum, c. 16. p. 116, 117, &c.

2. Deceivers, or authors of falſe Doctrines generally, and more ſpecially, the Popiſh Clergy, with their ſwarms of Monks, Friars, Prieſts, and Jeſuites. Rev. 9. 3. There came locuſts out of the ſmoak.

Lod] Nativity, or generation. A City, 1 Chr. 8. 12. A mans name, Ezr. 2. 33.

Lodebar] A place, 2 Sam. 9. 4.

To lodge] To abide for a night, Gen. 28. 11. Exod. 23. 18.

2. To continue, To dwell a good ſpace: as in Pſal. 49. 12. Zach. 5. 5. in which places the word Engliſhed, continue, or remain, in the Original is lodge.

3. To make a neſt, Mar. 4. 32.

4. To be practiſed and obſerved, Iſa. 1. 21.

5. To lie, Joſh. 2. 1. marg.

Loe] noteth 1. Matter of attention and conſideration, Prov. 24. 31. Iſa. 25. 9. Luk. 13. 16.

2. Readineſſe, 2 Sam. 15. 26. Pſal. 40. 7. Luk. 1. 38. Heb. 10. 7.

3. Some new thing and wonderfull, Iſa. 7. 14.

4. Certainty and affirmation, Gen. 1. 29. & 12. 11. & 17. 20. Pſa. 132. 6. Eze. 30. 9. Luk. 1. 32.

5. Demonſtration of a thing preſent, Gen. 29. 2. and ſometime unexpected, Gen. 29. 25. & 37. 29. Rev. 14. 1.

Lofty] Spoken of God, who is the high and lofty one, Iſa. 57. 15. But when of men, it's taken for proud, arrogant, and is applyed to the eyes, Pſal. 131. 1. Prov. 30. 13. Iſa. 5. 15. Looks, Iſa. 2. 11. City, Iſa. 26. 5. Mountain, Iſa. 57. 7.

Lofty looks] Eyes not ſet on high by nature, but exalted by pride and arrogancy, looking upon others from aloft, with contempt and diſdain, as the Phariſee looked upon the Publican. Iſa. 2. 11. The lofty looks of man ſhall be humbled. Thus David Pſ. 101. 5. nameth a proud perſon a man of an high look. See Pſal. 131. 1. & Prov. 21. 4. Iſa. 5. 15.

Log] An Hebrew meaſure, containing ſix Egge-ſhels. It was of the ſame quantity with the fourth part of a Kab, half a pinte. Goodwyn, p. 322.

The log of oyl, Lev. 14. 10. figured the meaſure of grace and joy of the Spirit, beſtowed upon us in our ſanctification, Pſal. 45. 8. Iſa. 61. 1. 2 Cor. 1. 21, 22.

Lois] Better. Grand-mother to Timothy, 2 Tim. 1. 5.

To long] 1. To chuſe, affect, and be much pleaſed with, Gen. 34. 8.

2. To have a will, a liking to, Deut. 12. 20.

3. To thirſt, 2 Sam. 23. 15.

4. Vehemently and earneſtly to deſire, Job 3. 21. Rom. 1. 11. Phil. 1. 8.

Long] Spoken of Dayes, Exod. 20. 12. of a Seaſon, Joſh. 24. 7. Time, 1 Sam. 7. 2. War, 2 Sam. 3. 1. Life, 1 King. 3. 11. Yeers, Pſal. 95. 10. Furrowes, Pſal. 129. 3. Death, Eccl. 12. 5. Captivity, Jer. 29. 28. Prayers, Mat. 23. 14. Cloathing, Mar. 12. 38. Preaching, Act. 20. 9. Abſtinence, Act. 27. 21. Hair, 1 Cor. 11. 14. Patience, Jam. 5. 7. Wings, Ezek. 17. 3. Journey, Prov. 7. 19. It's ſpoken alſo of the Altar, hangings, houſe, &c.

The words both prefixed, as day, how, ſo, and hereunto annexed, as time, while, point out the meaning of the places.

Look] Behold, ſee, conſider, view, minde, have regard to, take heed, provide for, perceive, mark, ſtudy, expect, wait for. We muſt look Well, Prov. 27. 23. Narrowly, Iſa. 14. 16. Earneſtly, Act. 3. 12. Stedfaſtly, Act. 7. 55. Diligently, Heb. 12. 15.

To look into] Not ſlenderly, and by the way, as minding another thing, but with bending the mind, to conſider and throughly know the thing, as men bow their bodies when they would look narrowly upon a thing, Jam. 1. 25.

To looſe] To pronounce forgiveneſſe of ſins, to truely humbled and repentant ſinners. Matth 18.18. Whatſoever you ſhall looſe on earth, &c.

2. To give the fruit of forgiveneſſe of ſins in heavenly bleſſedneſſe, Mat. 18.18.

3. To untie, Joh. 11.44.

4. To put off, Joſh. 5.15.

5. To remit, Mat. 16.19.

6. To ſet free, Luk. 13.12.

7. To be raiſed up, Act. 2.24.

8. To ſet ſail, Act. 27.21.

9. To open, Rev. 5.2.

Lord] A word of reverence given to Prophets and publick Teachers, and men of ſort. Thus is Elias called Lord, and Abraham of his Wife is called Lord, 1 Pet. 3.4.

2. A title of honour given to great men, in reſpect of their rule and command over others. Gen. 42.30, 33. The man who is Lord of the Land. Gen. 43.16. It ſignifieth tyrants, as Babylonians, in Iſa. 26.13.

3. An abſolute Ruler over the whole world, upholding all things in their beings, and diſpoſing them to juſt ends. Thus God onely is a Lord. Pſal. 110.1. The Lord ſaid to my Lord. The Hebrew word ſo often in Scripture tranſlated Lord, is Jehovah, (of which ſee before) and Adonai, both which are expreſſed in the fore-mentioned place, Pſal. 110.1. This laſt Adonai cometh of another word Adon, which ſignifieth a baſe or pillar which ſuſtaineth any thing. Our Engliſh word Lord, hath much ſuch a force; for it commeth of an old Saxon word, which importeth to ſuſtain, uphold, refreſh, or cheriſh.

Note. That the word Adonai, which ſignifieth my ſtayes, or pillars, implying in it a myſtery of the holy Trinity, in Gen. 15.2. is fitly ſpoken of God, (the Lord of heaven and earth, Mat. 11.25.) who as a baſe ſuſtained Abram in all his infirmities. There it is written with long [A] in the end, and ſo is proper to God, having the vowels of Jehovah; when it is written with a ſhort [a] it is applyed to Creatures. Aynſworth on Gen. 15.2.

4. An under Ruler, which in ſtead of God, and for him, and under him, hath rule and dominion over all things, but more eſpecially over his Church. Rom. 1.3. Concerning his Son Jeſus Chriſt our Lord. Thus Chriſt onely is a Lord. Compare Eph. 5.22. with 6. 5, 6.

5. Any and every godly perſon ſerving God, as under him, and by him, and made alſo himſelfe a Lord over Satan, the world, and the fleſh, Rom. 16.20. & 6.6, 12. 1 Cor. 9.26. Gal. 6.14. 1 Pet. 2.5. Rev. 1.6. Pſal. 45.16. Vir pius eſt, 1 Domini vir, 2 vir Dominus.

6. Every man as he is by creation, and condition of nature and gifts ſet over the inferiour creatures, Pſal. 8.5, 6, 8.

Note. In Scripture Lord is uſed Efficiently for Jehovah. Civilly, as Act. 16. in token of reverence. Poſſeſſively, as 1 Pet. 3.6. for an Owner. In all ſenſes Chriſt is our Lord.

Lord of all] Chriſt, who is Lord of all, Act. 10.2, 36. By right,

1. Of Creation, all things being made by him, Joh. 1.2.

2. Preſervation, upholding all things, Heb. 1.3.

3. Dominion, governing all things, Eph. 1.22.

4. Redemption, ranſoming all men by the price of himſelf, 1 Tim. 2.5.

God or Chriſt (which is God) is our Lord,

I. By reaſons or reſpects of him to us.

1. He made us, and is Lord of our life. 2 Of our ſafety. 3 Of our ſuſtenance. 4 Of our dwelling, on the earth and in heaven.

2. He recovered us from Satan and Hell.

3. He dwelleth in us by his holy Spirit.

4. We ſhall dwell under him in Heaven.

II. By reaſons taken from us to our Lord:

i. We owe our ſelves to him:

1. By debt, for that we have received.

2. By promiſe, and profeſſion of that he hath required.

3. By hope of that we ſhall receive.

To be the Lords] To be the peculiar people and poſſeſſion of Chriſt (who by right of redemption is our Lord) to be cared for, and ſaved by him in life and death; as in both we are to look to him, to doe his will, and commend our ſelves to his ſafe keeping, Rom. 14.8. We are the Lords. Beleeving Chriſtians are in ſuch wiſe the Lords, as themſelves be more then Servants, even Chriſts friends, Gods children, heirs of Heaven, Kings and Prieſts to God, through the death of their Lord. Rev. 1.6. Therefore as a learned man hath wittily obſerved, the faithfull are Domini, both in the Genitive and Nominative Caſe. They be ſo the Lords, as themſelves be Lords and Princes. Pſal. 45.16. Thou ſhalt have children, whom thou maiſt make Princes throughout all Lands. What falſehood then is there in Popiſh doctrine, when they doe teach us to doubt, whether in life and death we be the Lords? alſo, that after

after death, many faithfull goe unto Purgatory, to ſuffer torment there? whereas they which be the Lords, are purged by the Lords blood from their ſins, and need no Purgatory fire to cleanſe them.

Lord of glory] A glorious renowned Lord, worthy of renowne, and full of glory and majeſty. 1 Cor. 2. 8. They would not have crucified the Lord of glory. Pſal. 24. 7. Act. 7. 2. making glorious the pooreſt and meaneſt of his Saints, Jam. 1. 1.

Lord of heaven and earth] The Maker, Commander, and diſpoſer of all things in Heaven and Earth. See Poſſeſſour.

Lord of hoſts] The mighty and ſtrong God, under whoſe power and diſpoſition all Creatures be as an hoſt of Souldiers under their Emperour to execute his judgements. Pſal. 24. 10. The Lord of hoſts is the King of glory.

Lord of hoſts, with the Word and Spirit] That God the Father, moſt mighty Commander of all things, would afford his preſence and aid unto his Church, with Chriſt our Saviour (the Word) and the holy Spirit. Hag. 2. 5, 6. The Lord of hoſts will be with you, with the Word, and the Spirit, &c. This is the moſt evident place in all the old Teſtament for proofe of the holy Trinity; the Doctrine whereof being more ſparingly and obſcurely ſet down in the Old Teſtament, is in the New Teſtament more largely and cleerly taught unto the Church of Chriſt.

In the Lord] The Lord God, to be author of ſubjection and duty from inferiors toward their lawfull ſuperiours, Parents, Husbands, &c. and alſo the meaſure of this ſubjection, how far inferiours muſt obey, till they ſhall do nothing to offend God; obedience muſt be yeelded for his ſake, and according to his will. Eph. 6. 1. Obey your parents in the Lord. Col. 3. 18.

2. In that concord, whoſe bond is the Lord, Phil. 4. 1, 2.

In the name of the Lord] At the commandement of God, by his bleſſing, and unto his onely honour and glory. Col. 3. 17. Do all in the name of the Lord Jeſus.

To inquire of the Lord] ſignifies either to ſeek to ſome Prophet for knowledg of Gods minde, as to Abraham then living, or by private prayer to goe to God, Gen. 25. 22.

Lord of Lords] The higheſt Ruler, far above all other Governours and Rulers whatſoever. Rev. 19. 19. Who hath his name written on his thigh, [The Lord of Lords.]

Lord of life] One who liveth of himſelf, and is author, giver, and preſerver of life in all living creatures, having the lives of all creatures under his power; being the only procurer of eternall life unto the elect. Act. 3. 18. Ye have killed the Lord of life.

Many Lords] Many which be like unto Lords, and reputed ſo of the world, being not ſo indeed: for to us there is but one God, and one Lord. 1 Cor. 8. 5. As there be many Gods, and many Lords.

For the Lords ſake] For the love and merit of Chriſt, who is made heir and Lord of all. Dan. 9. 17. For the Lords ſake. Thus the true Catholick Church of the Old and New Teſtament, concluded all their prayers, not in the name of Chriſt and Saints.

Lords Supper] That Sacrament of the New Teſtament, which ſealeth to us our ſpirituall feeding and growing in Chriſt, 1 Cor. 11. 20. See more in the Supper of the Lord. Papiſts offend, which transform this Supper of ſpirituall refreſhing, into a Sacrifice propitiatory for ſin.

As to the Lord] In doing duties to ſuperiours, to be moved with the will of God, and with reverence of his authority, as if they were to do ſervice to God himſelf. Eph. 6. 7. Doing ſervice to the Lord.

Lordſhip] Mar. 10. 42. Luk. 22. 25. Dominion, authority.

Lo-ruhamah] Without mercy, or not having obtained mercy. Hoſ. 6. 1. marg.

To loſe] To ſuffer one to periſh, and to go on to deſtruction. Joh. 6. 39. Of all that he hath given me, I ſhall loſe nothing.

To loſe life] To lay down our life willingly for Chriſt his Goſpel. Matt. 10. 34. He that loſeth his life for my ſake.

2. To deſtroy it, and caſt it away for ever. Matt. 10. 39. He that will finde his life ſhall loſe it.

3. To be ſlain and kill'd, Judg. 18. 25.

4. To weary, afflict with ſorrow, and to make ſad to death, as ready to breath out the laſt, Job 31. 39.

5. To be damned, Mar. 8. 36.

Loſſe] Harm, hurt, dammage, hinderance, Gen. 31. 39. Hinderance from labour, Exo. 21. 19. Things caſt away out of a ſhip in the time of a tempeſt, Act. 27. 21. Leeſing, Ib. 22. Lack or want of things neceſſary, Phil. 3. 8.

Loſt] Elect, which ſee and feel themſelves loſt and quite undone, becauſe of their ſins. Such as are ſo far out of the way, that in mans judgement they are caſt away. Joh. 19. 10. The Son of man is come to ſeek and ſave that which is loſt. Matt. 18. 11.

2. A perſon caſt for ever out from heaven to periſh in hell, Joh. 17. 12.

Lot] Wrapped, joyned, covered, or bound together. The Son of Haran, Gen. 11. 27. See 2 Pet. 2. 7.

Lot] Some ſquare thing, as a Dye or other thing, caſt into a pitcher or pot, thence to be drawn out again (as a meanes to end ſtrife) in caſes of doubt, as in diviſion of Lands, choyce of officers, &c. Prov. 16. 32 The lot is caſt into the lap, but the diſpoſition is of the Lord. Prov. 18. Act. 1. 26.

Note, that the event of Lots cometh not from Stars, Fortune, Devils, nor Saints, but from God onely, whoſe priviledge it is to order the ſucceſſe of them.

2. That which falls out by Lot to be ones proper portion, or inheritance, or part. Pſal. 16. 8. The Lord is my lot. Deut. 32. 6. Iſrael is the lot of his inheritance. The Apoſtle, 1 Pet. 5. 3. calleth the Church by this name.

3. That which is ones chiefeſt good and commodity. Pſal. 125. 3. The rod of the wicked ſhall not reſt on the lot of the righteous; that is, upon themſelves and their good things.

4. The inheritance of any perſon, either earthly or heavenly. Hence come thoſe phraſes in the Book of Joſhua. The Lot of Ephraim, of Zabulon, of Juda, &c. Alſo Act. 26. 18. Col. 1. 12. That which is tranſlated The inheritance of the Saints, in the Originall is, The Lot of the Saints.

5. The reward and recompence which is rendred to any for their ſins. Iſa. 17. 14. This is the lot of them that are robbers of us.

6. Fellowſhip, or participation in any good thing. Act. 8. 21. Thou haſt neither part nor lot: for ſo the word is in the Originall, that is, no fellowſhip.

The uſe of Lots, was I. Lawfull,

1. To find out one from another, 1 Sam. 14. 41. Jonah 1. 7.

2. To divide Lands, Numb. 26. 55, 56. & 33. 54.

3. To chooſe an Officer, Act. 1. 26.

4. To order the courſes of men in office, and to divide them, 1 Chr. 24. 5. Luk. 1. 9.

5. To decide a controverſie, whoſe the thing ſhould be, Pſal. 22. 18. Joel 2. 3. Mat 27. 35. Joh. 19. 24.

II. Unlawfull, Eſt. 3. 7.

To caſt lots] To divide a thing by Lot. Mat. 27. 35. Upon my veſture did they caſt lots. Prov. 1. 14.

To caſt lots for the people, or Tribes of Iſrael] To diſtribute to every Tribe (except the Tribe of Levi) their ſeverall inheritance by lot. See Joſh. 14. 15, 16, 17, 18.

2. To obtain an inheritance in heaven, not by our owne merit, but by Gods free gift. Hence Peter calleth all Chriſtians Gods heritage, or the lot of his inheritance, 1 Pet. 5. 3. but more cleerly the beleevers are ſaid to receive an inheritance among them which are ſanctified, &c. Act. 26. 18.

To caſt lots upon a people] To challenge Lordſhip and power over a people, to diſpoſe of them at their pleaſure, as men do account that their owne which by Lot caſting falleth to be their portion. Joel 3. 3. And they caſt lots upon my people, &c. Obad. 11.

Lotan] Wrapped, joyned, covered, or bound together. The Son of Seir, Gen. 36. 20.

Love, referred to God] ſignifieth,

1. His divine eſſence, infinitly delighting himſelf in his Son Chriſt, who is his wiſdome; and in his Spirit, which is his power: alſo in his creatures and his children. 1 Joh. 16. God is love.

2. His purpoſe and decree to chooſe ſome unto ſalvation by Chriſt. Rom. 9. 13. Jacob have I loved. This love is elſewhere called the good pleaſure of his will, and foreknowledge of God, Rom. 8. 29. Rom. 11. 2. Eph. 1. 4.

3. The fruits and effects of that loving purpoſe. 1 In the regeneration of the elect. 2 Their ſanctification. 3 In the grace of perſeverance. 4 In the hope of Glorification. Rom. 5. 6. He hath ſhed abroad his love in our hearts. Alſo it ſignifieth the tokens of his love in earthly benefits, Mal. 1. 2.

4. The proceeding of theſe former fruits of grace, till they come to perfection of Glory. Joh. 13. 1. Them he loved to the end. The love of God is uſed in Scripture, either actively, for that love wherewith he embraceth his elect in Chriſt unto life eternall, as in Joh. 3. 18. Rom. 5. 8. & 8. 39. Eph. 3. 19. or paſſively, for the love wherewith God is loved, 1 Joh. 4. 20, 21.

5. Inordinate delight and contentment in ſome perſon or thing. 2 Sam. 13. 1. And Amnon loved his ſiſter Thamar: here it is taken in evill part.

6. To give one an amiable and lovely look, or to receive one courteouſly and friendly. Mar. 10. 21. Jeſus beheld him, and loved him: with a common, but not with a ſpeciall love, with the love of an Inſtructer and Doctor, and not with the love of a Saviour.

Referred to man] ſignifieth,

1. An affection of the heart, moving and ſtirring us to wiſh well, and to do good unto ſomething which we juſtly like, and finde contentment in. 2 Sam. 1. 26. Thy love to me was

was wonderfull, like to the love of women. This is Naturall love, ſuch as a woman beareth to her husband, a mother to the childe, &c.

2. An holy affection of the heart, cauſing us to delight in God for his goodneſſe ſake, and in our Neighbor for Gods ſake. 1 Joh. 4. 19. We love him, becauſe he loved us firſt, verſ. 21. He that loveth God, ſhould love his Neighbor alſo. This is Chriſtian love, which is a fruit and ſigne of a juſtified perſon, but is not our juſtice before God.

3. That affection which more neerly and ſtraightly bindeth friend unto friend. 1 Sam. 18. 1. And Jonathan loved him as his own ſoul. This is love of friends.

Love, as it's put for the affection of love, Gen. 29. 20. ſo is it alſo for, The effect of love, Ibid. 32. Joh. 15. 13. for, To bear good will towards, 1 Sam. 18. 22. So alſo, for Luſtfull act, Prov. 5. 18. The perſon beloved, Cant. 2. 2, 7. & 3. 5. Embracement, Cant. 1. 2. & 7. 12.

There's I. a Naturall love, lawfull, Prov. 19. 8. Pſal. 34. 12. Rom. 13. 9. Unlawful, Joh. 12. 25. 2 Tim. 3. 2.

II. Conjugall, Divine, Jer. 2. 2. & 3. 14. Hoſ. 2. 19, 20. Humane, Gen. 24. 67. Eph. 2. 5. Idolatrous and diabolical, Jer. 2. 25. & 8. 2. Ezek. 16. 37. Hoſ. 9. 1.

III. Parental and Filial, Gen. 22. 2. & 25. 28. & 37. 3. & 44. 20.

IV. Spirituall, 1. Of Chriſt to his Church, Eph. 3. 19. & 5. 2. Rev. 3. 19. and to ſome particular perſons, Joh. 11. 3. 5. & 13. 23. & 20. 2. Gal. 2. 20.

2. Of ours to Chriſt, Cant. 1. 4, 7. & 3. 2, 4. Joh. 21. 15. To one another, Job 13. 34, 35. 1 Joh. 4. 7, 11, 12.

3. Of Paſtors towards their people, 1 Cor. 16. 24. 2 Cor. 12. 15. 1 Theſſ. 2. 7, 8. and people toward their Paſtors, 2 Cor. 8. 7, 8, 24. Col. 2. 2. 1 Theſſ. 5. 13.

4. Of Gods love towards us, Joh. 14. 23. & 16. 27. & 17. 23. Rom. 5. 5, 8. and ours towards God, Pſal. 116. 1. 1 Joh. 4. 19.

To love in truth] Sincerely, according to that precept, Rom. 12. 9. 3 Joh. 1. Whom I love in truth.

Low] Baſe, poor, abject, nothing eſteemed, of ſmall repute or credit. Pride bringeth into this condition, Job 40. 12. Prov. 29. 23. Iniquity, Pſal. 106. 43. Oppreſſion, Pſal. 107. 39. Thus are Gods people in their owne eyes, Luk. 1. 48. and when thus, are holpen, Pſal. 116. 6. & 136. 23.

Is made low] May be made poor. For at once to be rich and poor, noble and vile, high and low, this cannot be: but of rich and noble, to become in a ſhort ſpace needy and ignoble, that is poſſible and often ſeen, Jam. 1. 10. The latter end of this verſe expounds the former. Riches are as ſubject to poverty, as graſſe to withering.

Low parts of the earth] put for,

1. A baſe condition and contemptible, Eze. 26. 20.

2. The place of the dead, Pſal. 63. 9.

3. The Mothers wombe, Pſal. 139. 15.

4. The incarnation of Chriſt, or the grave, Eph. 4. 9.

5. The valleys, Iſa. 44. 23.

Lowlineſſe] The humbleneſſe of minde, and modeſty of godly perſons. Matt. 11. 22. For I am lowly in heart. Phil. 2. 3.

2. An abject and vile eſtate, ſubject to the contempt of the world. Luk. 1. 52. And exalted them of low degree. Jam. 1. 9, 10. Alſo Luk. 1. 48.

Loynes] A part of the body, which (as a pillar) ſtrongly upholds the whole body, Exod. 28. 42.

2. The whole man, by a Synecdoche. Act. 2. 20. Out of the fruit of his loynes, &c. Deut. 33. 11.

3. A readyneſſe with all our might, to execute a charge or duty committed to us. Luk. 12. 35. And your loyns, &c. This readineſſe followeth mortification of our luſts, as an effect the cauſe.

4. Sides, Jer. 30. 6.

5. Middle, Mat. 3. 4.

Let your loynes be girt, Luk. 12. 35. that is, be readily prepared to ſet forward.

Gird up the loynes of your minde, 1 Pet. 1. 13. that is, As he that would haſten his journey, tucked up his long garments (which in thoſe Countreys they uſed) ſo remove the inward impediments of the minde in your heavenly journey.

Your loynes girt about with truth, Eph. 6. 14. that is, let the Word moderate, rule, and govern your affections.

L V.

Lubim] The heart of a man, or heart of the ſea. A Countrey, Nah. 3. 9. Whence Lubims, 2 Chr. 12. 3.

Lucas] Ariſing to him, Philem. 24. called alſo Luke. A Phyſician, Col. 4. 14. See 2 Tim. 4. 11.

Lucifer] Bringing light. Properly, the Star ariſing before the morning as meſſenger of the day, the greateſt of the ſtars, and of ſuch brightneſſe as a ſhadow is cauſed by the light of of it: but figuratively, the King of Babylon Nebuchadnezzar, ſhining above others in worldly pomp and dignity, whereunto God threatneth a dolefull end, in Iſa. 14.12. How art thou faln from heaven, O Lucifer!

Lucius] Of light. A Teacher, Act. 13.1. Rom. 16. 21.

Lucre] Lawful, Phil. 1. 21. Unlawful, 1 Sam. 8. 3. tearmed Filthy, and whereunto Gods Miniſters muſt not give themſelves, 1 Tim. 3. 3, 8. Tit. 1. 7, 11. 1 Pet. 5. 2.

Lud] Nativity, or generation. The Son of Shem, Gen. 10. 22. The Nation deſcending of him, Iſa. 66. 19.

Ludim] The ſame. The Son of Mizraim, Gen. 10. 13.

Lu'hith] A floor made of boards; or, greenneſſe. An hill, Iſa. 15. 5. & Jer. 48. 5.

Lukewarm] Rev. 3.16. that is, neither hot nor cold, indifferent. Such as they who did halt between two thoughts, or opinions, 1 King. 18 21.

Lump] A piece of clay or earth, whereof pots and veſſels be framed, after the will and pleaſure of the Potter, Rom. 9. 21.

2. Whole mankinde, or the nature of man being unformed and unperfect, as ſome think; or as it ſtood in Adam uncorrupt and pure, as others more reaſonably judge; or as it is corrupt by the fall of our firſt Parents, out of which ſet before the eye of God, he according to his good pleaſure, mercifully choſe ſome to eternall life by Chriſt, and others he juſtly left in their corruption, appointing them to wrath. Thus Auguſtine and moſt Divines both old and new expound it. Rom. 9. 9, 21. Hath not the Potter power of the ſame lump, &c. Bucer taketh this lump to be the firſt originall of mankinde, out of which man was framed and made of God.

3. The people of the Jews deſcending naturally of the holy Patriarchs, who were as the firſt fruits, which being conſecrated to God, the reſt of the crop or maſſe of fruits was holy to the Lord. Rom. 11. 16. If the firſt fruits be holy, the lump is alſo holy. See Numb. 15. 20.

4. A cluſter, Iſa. 28. 21.

5. All the fruit remaining after the firſt fruits taken out for God, Rom. 11. 16.

Spiritually, the lump is the poſterity of holy Fathers, the firſt fruits.

6. A Congregation or particular Church of Chriſt, 1 Cor. 5. 6.

Lunatique] Mat. 4. 24. & 17. 15. Troubled with the falling ſickneſſe, oftentimes falling into the fire, and oft into the water. They are thus denominated, for that (like the Moon) their diſeaſe at certain times waxeth anew; or for that being born at the new Moon, they are ſubject to this diſeaſe, or at the change of the Moon are moſt troubled herewith.

Lurk] To lie hid, not to appear, 1 Sam. 23. 13. To lie in wait, Prov. 1. 11, 18. Pſa. 17. 12.

Luſt] The deſire of ſome lawfull things, tending to preſervation of Nature: that is, naturall luſt, in it ſelfe good, Pſal. 106. 14. And Pſal. 78. 18. Requiring meat for their luſts.

2. Corruption of heart, coveting things forbid. Rom. 7. 7. Thou ſhalt not luſt; this is originall luſt, or birth-ſin.

3. All evill deſires and affections, whether without conſent, or with conſent. 1 Pet. 2. 12. Abſtain from fleſhly luſts. This is actuall luſt.

4. The deſire of good things, according to Gods will, with a loathing of the contrary. Gal. 5. 7. The ſpirit luſteth againſt the fleſh. This is ſpiritual luſt. See Concupiſcence. Here it is taken in good part.

5. Will and pleaſure. Pſal. 27. 14. Give me not to the luſt of mine adverſary.

This is taken two wayes.

1. For natural things in man, viz. deſire, affection, and ſo it is of God, and thereof good.

2. For a morall thing: Firſt, for the will or corruption of nature and goodneſſe, and therefore evill and forbidden.

1. Ours towards others.

2. Others toward us.

This is taken two wayes:

1. Generally, for all ſorts of evil deſires, or deſires of evill, Rom. 7. 7. Jam. 4. 2.

2. Specially, for concupiſcence or deſires of carnall pleaſure.

6. The pleaſure, will, or deſire, 1 Pet. 4. 2.

To luſt] Taken in a good part, Deu. 12. 20. Gal. 5. 17.

Luz] An almond, departing, or bending. A City, called alſo Bethel, Gen. 28. 19. Judg. 1. 23, 26.

L Y.

Lyar] A vain, deceitfull, diſſembling, unconſtant perſon, ſpeaking otherwiſe then he doth think, and doing otherwiſe then he ſpeaks, and is very apt to broach and receive falſe opinions. Such an one is every man naturally. Rom. 3. 4. Let God be true, and every man a lyar.

2. One who accuſtometh himſelf to lies. Rev. 21. And all Lyars.

Lydia] Groſſe, or fat. A Countrey lying from Ægypt to the Weſt Ocean, Ezek. 30. 5. Act. 2.10. Hence the inhabitants are tearmed Lybians, Jer. 46. 91.

Lycaonia] A wolfe. A Countrey of Aſia, Act. 14. 6.

Lydda] A ſtanding pond of water. A City, Act. 9. 32.

Lydia] The ſame. A Countrey, Ezek. 30. 5. Whence the inhabitants are tearmed Lydians, Jer. 46. 9. The name of a religious woman, Act. 16. 14, 40.

Lye] Any untruth or falſehood, though unwittingly ſpoken. This is the largeſt ſignification of a Lye. Rom. 9. 1.

2. An untruth, conceived and uttered with a purpoſe to deceive. Eph. 4. 25. Lye not one to another. Act. 5. 3. This is a moſt ſtrict ſignification, and containeth under it all the branches following.

3. Deceitfull words and falſehood, in bargains, contracts, and other affairs of this life. (Note. The Scripture ſetteth downe the blemiſhes of the Saints to four purpoſes:

1. For the faith of the Hiſtory, which concealeth the faults of none.

2. For inſtruction to virtue, by ſeeing others faults taxed.

3. Fear; for what ſhall ſhrubs doe when cedars fall?

4. For hope, that we may imitate their repentance, ſeeing their pardon.)

Such was Abraham's Lye, Gen. 12. 12. And the Lye of Gehezi, 2 King. 5. 25. This is a Civil lye in mens matters; and it is either ſportful and in jeſt, or hurtful and dangerous, or officious, being made in favour of others, for their help and benefit. This laſt kinde, howſoever it carry a ſhew of honeſty and charity, becauſe it is beneficial to our neighbour, yet indeed and truth, it is evil and damnable, becauſe it is againſt the commandement which forbiddeth lying, and hath appearance of evil. Alſo, charity rejoyceth in the truth, and not in iniquity. And laſtly, becauſe we may not tell a lye, no not in favour, and for the glory of God, much leſſe for the benefit of man. Job 23. 7. Will you tell a lye, or talk deceitfully for God?

4. An untruth or falſehood in matter of Doctrine, when ſome opinion is held contrary to the Word of God. 1 Joh. 2. 21. No lye is of the truth. Rev. 22. 15. Such as love and make lyes. 2 Tim. 2. 18. This is an heretical lye in matter of Chriſtian Doctrine.

5. A counterfeit profeſſion of Religion, when faith and repentance be diſſembled. 1 Joh. 1. 6. If we ſay we have fellowſhip with him, and walk in darkneſſe, we lye. Rom. 3. 4. Such a Lyar was Judas, Demas, Ananias and Saphira, and all hypocrites, who profeſſe and appear to be that they are not. This is an hypocritical lye, in matter of Chriſtian profeſſion.

6. An Image, lyingly or falſely repreſenting God. Rom. 1. 25. Which turned the truth of God into a Lye. Iſa. 44. 20.

To lye] To be ſet, given, or addicted to it, 1 Joh. 5. 19.

Men lye, 1. To God, Pſal. 78. 36. Act. 5. 2, 8.

2. Of God, Rom. 1. 25. Jer. 5. 12. 1 Joh. 5. 10. 1 Joh. 1. 10. Iſa. 9. 15. Jer. 14. 14.

3. Of men, Pſal. 52. 3. Gen. 39. 14.

4. For men, Exod. 1. 18, 19. Joſh. 2. 4. Job 13. 7.

5. For ones ſelfe, Gen. 18. 15. & 12. 13. Joſh. 9. 8.

But every lye (whether officious, or pernicious) is a ſin.

To lye unto God] In ſpeaking of a lye, to forget that he had to do with God. Act. 4. 5.

To lye to man] To deal falſely and deceitfully, contrary to the Covenant made between them, Gen. 21. 23. Pſal. 44. 18.

Lying miracles] No true or reall, but deceitfull and ſeeming miracles, 2 Theſſ. 2.

Theſe are ſo called, becauſe they are ſo,

1. Materially.

Formally, they ſeem to be, and are not.

2. Originally, they come from the Father of lies.

3. Intentionally, or finally, they are wrought to deceive men and bring them into errour.

So the Devil is a Lyer not onely becauſe he ſpeaketh that which is falſe, but becauſe he ſpeaketh the truth to a falſe, and fraudulent purpoſe, Luk. 4. 34, 35. And this properly is to lye, to ſpeak that we minde not. Mentiri eſt contra mentem ire.

Lying ſigne] Such ſigns by which men are led to beleeve lyes, 2 Theſ. 2. 9. either faigned miracles, or ſuch as be wrought indeed, but to deceive and couſen by falſehood.

Lying words] Deceitfull and falſe words which beguile our ſelves and others, Jer. 7. 8.

Lygure] The Original לשם is by Tremellius and Buxtorf. rendred Cyanus, which is the Saphire, of a blew colour; by Mr. Aynſworth, Hyacinth, or Jacinth, being of a violet or purple colour: by Montanus, Lyncurius, ſaid to be a precious ſtone, engendered of the congealed urine of the beaſt Lynx.

It's a kinde of Amber, a gum hardened into a ſtone, which ſtone in ſome places is very precious, and of excellent quality and opera-

operation. Some call it a Turkois, or Torcois, a ſtone of a pale green, inclining to skie colour, and of ſtrange effects. Large Annot. on Exod. 28. 19.

Lyſanias] Diſſolving, ſadneſſe. The Tetrarch of Abylene, Luk. 3. 1.

Lyſia] A wolfe. A Countrey, Act. 27. 5.

Lyſias] Diſſolving. The chiefe Captain under Felix the Governour, Act. 23. 26. & 24. 22.

Lyſtra] The ſame. The name of a City in Lycaonia, Act. 14. 6.

Lyzzard] Lev. 11. 30. Its teeth are ſharp, nor can be pulled forth of a wound, except by force. If its tail be broken or cut off, it groweth again. It loveth honey. Its biting is venemous. Its body is ſo brittle, that if at any time it chance to fall, its tail is broken: every yeer it caſteth its skin twice, which it greedily devoureth, envying the uſe of it to man; being a remedy againſt the Falling evil. On the back it hath ſhining ſpots as ſtars, and is found in the holes of very old or new houſes, feedeth on Spiders and the dew. It's an enemy to Scorpions, faining as it were modeſty, but meditating miſchief.

Magician] One skilfull in thoſe miſchievous and damnable arts, wherein the Caldeans and Ægyptians did excell, Dan. 2. 2.

The art in general called Magick; whoſe foundation is a Covenant with Satan, either ſecret or expreſſe; the ſeveral and particular ſignes are ſoothſaying, or divination by flying of birds, Deut. 18. 11. or by looking into beaſts entrails, Ezek. 21. 21. Or Necromancy, when the devil in form of ſome dead man is ſought unto for counſel, 1 Sam. 28. 11. Or by uſing immediately the help of an unclean ſpirit, wherewith they are poſſeſſed; Pythoniſme, Act. 16. 16. Iſa. 29. 4. Or enchantment and charming; where men, children, beaſts, are by Gods permiſſion hurt, poyſoned, &c. Eccleſ. 10. 11. Or Jugling, when by the devils conveyance divers ſtrange things in ſhew are done, Exod. 17. 10, 11, 12. The teachers and practiſers of theſe helliſh ſciences, were called Magicians; which alſo ſignifies wiſe men, great and learned Philoſophers, in the good ſenſe, Mat. 2. 1, 2. In Gen. 41. 8. ſuch as had skill in the nature of things, are called Magicians; Pharaoh, Nebuchadnezzar, and Belthazar, called for ſuch to ſhew them their dreams and viſions, Dan. 2. 2. & 5. 7, 8.

They are called alſo Wiſe men, Exod. 7. 11. Soothſayers, Dan. 5. 7. Sorcerers, Aſtrologers, Dan. 2. 2. that is, Such as profeſſed a curious art of telling of ſecrets, and of foretelling future things, which they did by obſervation of the ſtars, and other ſuperſtitious wayes, wherein concurred the ſuggeſtion of Satan, either revealing the ſecret ſought after, or craftily concealing his ignorance, by giving anſwer in ambiguous and and doubtfull tearms; yet ſo often did he diſcover ſecret matters by ſuch inſtruments, that it was beleeved by the greateſt Kings, they could tell almoſt any thing, Dan. 2. 2, 5. Large Annot. on Gen. 41. 8.

Magiſtrate] A perſon greater then others, being above others in authority and power. Rom. 13. 3. Magiſtrates are to be feared.

Of Magiſtrates, ſome be chief, as the King; others be Governors under him; all being ſent for the puniſhment of evill doers, and for the praiſe of him that doth well, 1 Pet. 2. 14. Unto the chief Magiſtrate, who is called the King, all perſons (without exception or exemption) are to ſubmit themſelves in all cauſes, Rom. 13. 1.

A Magiſtrate is a publick perſon elected, and that of God, that by his authority and power he may defend the Law and peace, alſo with the ſword and puniſhment repreſſe vices and evils in Religion, as well as in common manners, and by all manner of means advance piety and honeſty.

They are tearmed Rulers, Gen. 41. 43. Exod. 18. 21. Elders, Exod. 17. 5. Such as are in ſtead of eyes, Numb. 10. 31. Such as have the burthen of the people laid upon them, Numb. 11. 11. Princes of the people, Pſal. 47. 9. Gods, and children of the moſt High, Pſal. 82. 6. High mountains and hils, Iſa. 2. 14. Ancients of the people, Jer. 19. 1. Governors, Captains, Judges, Treaſurers, Sheriffs, Dan. 3. 2. Higher powers, Rom. 13. 1. Such as are in authority, 1 Tim. 2. 2.

To magnifie] Not to make great what before was little, but to declare and ſet forth ones greatneſſe, Luk. 1. 46.

2. To honour or make glorious. Rom. 11. 13. I magnifie mine office. The Miniſtery of the Word is honoured and glorified diverſly:

1. By faithfulneſſe, when one miniſtreth well: So Origen.

2. By diligence in preaching: So Vatab.

3. When it is adorned by a good converſation: So Haymo.

4. By the good ſucceſſe, when many are gained to Chriſt and ſaved, the number of the Scholars is the honour of the Teacher: thus Ambroſe, Lyranus, Martyr, Pareus, doe expound the former place of the Romanes; whileſt Paul by his preaching did win to God many Jews and Gentiles, by that means his Apoſtleſhip was made more honourable amongſt men.

3. To exalt, Joſh. 3. 7. Encreaſe ones eſteem, reputation, and authority, Joſh. 4. 14. 1 Chr. 29. 25. And thus, as God magnifieth himſelf, Ezek. 38. 23. that is, maketh his greatneſſe appear, and be known to men, and magnifieth ſuch whom he is pleaſed to exalt, ſo this word is ſpoken of men, magnifying

1. God, which is, to give him prayſe, and to ſet forth his greatneſſe, Pſal. 34. 3. Luk. 1. 46.

2. Men, greatly eſteeming of them, Act. 5. 13.

3. Ones ſelfe, boaſting, Pſal. 35. 26. Speaking proudly, Obad. 1. 12. Ezek. 35. 13. Vaunting or bragging, Pſal. 38. 16. Setting againſt, Jerem. 4. 26, 42. Inſulting over, Lam. 1. 9.

4. Ones office, making it ſhine forth, and getting honour to it, Rom. 11. 13.

Magor-miſſabib] Fear round about. A name which the Lord put upon Paſhur, Gen. 20. 3. marg.

Magpiaſh] A body thruſt hard together, or gathered together; or, the moth of the body, or of the garment. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 20.

Mahalah] Infirmity, or ſickneſſe; or, a company of dancers, or a harp; or, after the Syrian, pardon. The Son of Hammoleketh, 1 Chron. 7. 18.

Mahalaleel] (called Maleleel, Gen. 5. 12. marg.) Praiſing God, or Gods illumination. The Son of Cainan, Gen. 5. 12. The Father of Shephatiah, Neh. 11. 4.

Mahalath] Of the ſame ſignification with Mahalah. The Wife of Eſau, Gen. 28. 9. of Rehoboam, 2 Chr. 11. 18.

Mahanaim] Tents, or a company of ſouldiers, or two armies, or camps. The place where Gods Angels met Jacob, Gen. 32. 2. A City, Joſh. 21. 38.

Mahaneh-dan] The tents of judgement. A place, Judg. 18. 12.

Maharai] Haſting; or, a hill, or from my hill. A Captain, 2 Sam. 27. 13.

Mahath] Wiping away, breaking; or, fearing; or after the Syrian, a ſmiting. The Son of Amiſai, 1 Chr. 6. 35.

Mahaz] An end, or ending; irkſomeneſſe, watching, ſummer, or waxing hot. A place, 1 King. 4. 9.

Mahazioth] Declaring a meſſage, blotting out; ſhaving; or, the marrow in bones. Eliel thus named, 2 Chr. 11. 46.

Mahazioth] Seeing a ſigne, or ſeeing a Letter. The Son of Heman, 1 Chr. 25. 4.

Maher-ſhalal-hash-baz] In making ſpeed to the ſpoyl, he haſteneth the prey, Iſa. 8. 1. marg.

Mahlah] The ſame with Mahalah. The Daughter of Zelophehad, Numb. 26. 33.

Mahli] Infirmity, &c. as Mahalah. The Son of Merari, Exod. 6. 19. 1 Chr. 6. 29. The Son of Muſhi, Ib. 47. & 23. 13. Hence the Mahlites, Numb. 3. 33.

Mahlon] As Mahli. The Husband of Ruth, Ruth 4. 10.

Mahol] The ſame. The Father of Darda, 1 King. 4. 31.

Maids, Maiden] 1. A Maid-ſervant, Gen. 16. 2. Iſa. 24. 2.

2. A Virgin, Deut. 22. 14. Judg. 19. 24.

3. A young girle, 2 King. 5. 4.

4. A young woman, Amos 2. 7. marg.

5. Ones daughter, Mat. 19. 24.

Majeſty] The greatneſſe of earthly Princes. Eſther 1. 4. And the honour of his Majeſty.

2. The incomprehenſible greatneſſe of God. Jude 25. To God onely wiſe be glory and majeſty.

Maintain] 1. Prove or argue, Job 13. 15. marg.

2. Make, Pſal. 9. 4. marg.

3. Uphold and keep, Pſal. 16. 5. Plead, Pſal. 140. 12.

4. Care for, perform, and doe, Tit. 3. 8.

5. Profeſſe, Tit. 3. 14. marg.

Maintainance] Salt, Ezr. 4. 14. marg. Life, Prov. 27. 27. marg.

To make] in Joh. 10. 33. ſignifies to ſay or affirm.

2. The calling of one to a new vocation, or giving of new gifts and graces fit for the ſame.

3. Or the fitting of one thereto, Matth. 4. 19.

4. The repairing of a thing decayed, healing of a perſon ſick, or reforming of a thing deformed, Joh. 7. 23. & 5. 11.

5. The miraculous changing of one ſubſtance into another, with all his properties, Joh. 2. 9.

6. This word Make, whereas it ſignifieth very often working, or cauſing ſomething to exiſt and be: yet once it is uſed by way of ſuppoſition, as Mat. 12. 33. Either make the tree good, &c. Which is as much as to ſay, Ye muſt think and ſuppoſe the tree firſt to be good which ſhould bring forth good fruit, and that tree to be evill which ſhould bring forth evill fruit. This to be the ſenſe of the words, appeareth by the next verſ. 34. How can you ſpeak good things, when you your ſelves be evill? And alſo by Mat. 7. 17, 18. it is moſt manifeſt that the tree ought firſt to be good, before good fruits can follow. Wherefore Origen in vain laboured by the words of Chriſt in Matt. 12. 23. to prove Free-will, as if ſome men could make themſelves good trees by bringing forth faith, virtues, and good works, out of the power of their free will; whereas Faith is meerly the gift of God, and is not the work of our naturall ſtrength, no man being able to make himſelf a beleever, and ſo to make him a good tree.

7. To chooſe, or to bring that to be which was not ſo before, 1 Sam. 12. 22.

8. To enter into, Neh. 9. 38.

9. To turn, Pſal. 41. 3. marg.

10. To build, Ezr. 5. 4. marg.

11. To cauſe, Iſa. 45. 7.

12. To ordain or appoint, Act. 26. 16.

To make a man more precious then gold] To bring the Babylonians, by the ſword of the Medes and Perſians (not ſparing any for no price) unto a great fewneſſe. Iſa. 13. 12. I will make a man more precious, &c. See verſ. 17.

To make requeſt] To cauſe the beleevers to make requeſt, by ingendring prayers and godly deſires in them. Rom. 8. 26. The Spirit it ſelf maketh requeſt for us. Gal. 4. 6. comp. with Rom. 8. 15. doth give light to this interpretation; namely, that the Spirit his crying is to cauſe us to cry, the action of a faithfull perſon being affirmed of God himſelfe, from whom it cometh.

To make ſtreight ſteps] To hold a right courſe, being alwayes carefull to doe that which is juſt and right, in ſuch ſort as others be not onely not offended, or turned out of the way, but may ſee before them, ſteps (as it were) of a godly life to follow. Heb. 12. 13. Make ſtreight ſteps to your feet, &c.

To make the wicked] Not to create malice in his heart, but of corrupt ſeed to frame him, and to diſpoſe of him, Prov. 16. 4.

Makheloth] Churches, companies, or congregations. A manſion, Numb. 33. 25.

Makkedah] A burning, worſhipping; or crookedneſſe. A City, Joſh. 15. 41.

Maktesh] A place, Zeph. 1. 11.

Malachi] My meſſenger, or Angell. A Prophet, Mal. 1. 1.

Malcham] Their King, or their Counſellour. The Son of Shaharaim by Hodeſh his Wife, 1 Chr. 8. 8, 9. Alſo an Idol, called Milcom, or Molech, the abomination of the Ammonites, 1 King. 11. 7. 2 King. 23. 10. Jer. 49. 3. So called, likely, becauſe they reputed him as their King, Molech ſignifying a King. Large Annot. on Zeph. 1. 5.

Some think Moloch and Baal to be one and the the ſame Idol, Jer. 19. 5. & 32. 35. Some think that the planet Saturn was worſhipped under the name of Moloch, for the form of their images were agreeable, and unto both children were ſacrificed, burnt in the fire, or initiated and conſecrated to Moloch, paſſing in the midſt of two fires in ſign of their conſecration. And by that of Amos 5. 26. & Act. 7. 43. it is probably thought, that there was a certain ſtar painted in the forehead of Molech. Aynſworth on Lev. 18. 21. Goodwyn Moſes & Aaron, lib. 4. c. 2. p. 175, &c. By him his Idolatrous worſhippers ſware, Zeph. 1. 5. (though to ſwear by Idols was expreſly forbidden, Joſh. 23. 7. Jer. 5. 7.) but with joyning God and him together, light and darkneſſe, which was their further ſin.

Malchiah] The Lord my King, or the Lord my Counſellour. Of the Sons of Paroſh, Ezr. 10. 25. Of the Sons of Harim, Ibid. 31. The Son of Rechab, Neh. 3. 14. The Goldſmiths Son, Ibid. 31. One that ſtood on Ezra's left hand, Nehem. 8. 4. that ſealed the Covenant, Ibid. 10. 3. The Father of Paſhur, Ib. 11. 12. Jer. 38. 1. The Son of Hammelech, Jer. 38. 6.

Malchiel] God is my King, God is my Counſellour, or God is my Kingdome. The Son of Beriah, Gen. 46. 17. Of whom came the Malchielites, Numb. 26. 45.

Malchijah, or Malchiah] The Father of Paſhur, 1 Chr. 9. 12. To him befell the firſt Lot, 1 Chr. 24. 9. Of the Sons of Paroſh, Ezr. 10. 25. The Son of Harim, Neh. 3. 11. A Prieſt, Neh. 12. 42.

Malchiram] 1 Chr. 3. 18.

Malchiſhua] My King the Saviour, or the King of health, or the mighty King. The Son of Saul, 1 Sam. 31. 2.

Malchus] My King, Kingdome, or my Counſellour. The High-prieſts ſervant, Joh. 18. 10.

Male] Spoken of man, Gen. 1. 27. Of every living thing, of all fleſh, Gen. 6. 19. As of fowles, cattle, creeping things, Ib. 20. The Paſchal lamb was to be a male, Exod. 12. 5. And firſtlings of beaſts, being males, were to be ſet apart for the Lord, Ex. 13. 12. & 34. 19. The burnt-ſacrifice of the herd was to be a male, Lev. 1. 3. The number of the people was to be taken by the males, Numb. 1. 2. Every male that opened the wombe, was to be preſented unto the Lord, Luk. 2. 22, 23. The males were to be circumciſed, Exod. 12. 48. and three times in the yeer were to appear before the Lord God, Exod. 23. 17. And of the meat-offering, all the males among the Children of Aaron were to eat, Lev. 6. 18. So all the males among the Prieſts of the ſin-offering, Ib. 29.

There is neither male nor female, &c. Gal. 3. 28. that is, Countrey, ſex, or Nation makes no difference; but if we are true beleevers, we are in equall eſteem with God; or we are all one in Chriſt; that is, we make all one myſticall body, communicating with Chriſt as our head, and one with another, as members. God makes no difference now, all are alike, yea all are one to him in Chriſt; his acceptation doth not ſingle out a male from a female, but his mercy is indifferently extended to them all, without all reſpect of perſons.

Maliciouſneſſe] The whole pravity and naughtyneſſe of ſin. Jam. 1. 21. Lay apart all ſuperfluity of maliciouſneſſe. Rom. 1. 29. 1 Cor. 5. 8.

2. A particular vice, called Malice, or Hatred, which makes us wiſh to work evill to ones perſon. 1 Pet. 2. 1. Laying aſide envy, maliciouſneſſe.

The Originall κακία is diverſly taken. Sometime for evill of puniſhment, or grief for croſſes, Mat. 6. 34. Sometimes for wickedneſſe in generall, or the evill habit oppoſed to virtue, Act. 8. 22. and ſometimes for maliciouſneſſe, or malice, 1 Pet. 2. 1, 16. It is an inward hatred, or grudge harboured in the heart againſt others; in ſhort, anger inveterate. Byfield on 1 Pet. 2. 1, 23.

It is that kinde of ſin which is directly oppoſite to brotherly love or charity. That heart-deviſing evill, which anger produceth in ſpightfull and miſchievous ſpirits.

Malignity] κακοήθεια, Rom. 1. 29. Such perverſeneſſe of minde, as delighteth in the overthrow and deſtruction of others; depraving words and deeds, well done and ſpoken; ſowing ſeeds of diſcord, ſtirring up hatred and ſtrife; doing nothing ingenuouſly and ſincerely; interpreting all things in an evill part.

Mallothi] Fulneſſe or circumciſion. The Son of Heman, 1 Chr. 25. 4.

Mallowes] An hearb well known, and of good uſe, uſed for food in the time of famin, Job 30. 4.

Malluch] Reigning, or counſelling. The Son of Haſhabiah, 1 Chr. 6. 44, 45. Of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 29. Of the Sons of Harim, Ibid. 32. One that ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 4, 27. who went up with Zerubbabel, Ibid. 12. 2.

Mammon] Mat. 6. 24. Riches, Luk. 16. 9. marg. Some derive it of the Hebrew, מָמוֹן, which ſignifieth, the abundance of wealth. Some of the Hebrew מָם, which ſignifieth, naughtyneſſe, diſprayſe, for that immoderate moderate and unlawfull gain is worthy to be blamed and reproved. Some of אמן, he was firm, or ſtabliſhed, a contraction being made, for מאמונא, for that in riches (noted by this Syriack word) worldly men place the ſtrength of their minde: which derivation the Greek tranſlation favoureth, Pſal. 37. 3. in which the Hebrew words ורעה אמונה, to feed in truth and ſtableneſſe, are tranſlated καὶ ποιμανθήσῃ ἐπὶ τῷ πλούτῳ αὐτῆς, and ſhalt be fed in his riches. Gloſſ. Philol. ſacr. p. 300.

Ye cannot ſerve God and Mammon, Mat. 6. 24. that is, If ye be ſervants and vaſſals to your wealth, ye cannot be the ſervants of God.

Make your ſelves friends of the Mammon of unrighteouſneſſe, &c. Luk. 16. 9. that is, Learn this wit of the unjuſt ſteward, ſo to order and diſpoſe of theſe worldly riches (which are ſeldome other then unduly gotten by their Owners) as that ye may make to your ſelves many friends by them; that upon this charitable and advantagious improvement of them, ye may reap the comfort and benefit of them, at your departure hence, and may be received into everlaſting habitations. Hall Paraph.

אמרה] A rebell, bitter, or changing; or, ſet with trees. A plain, Gen. 18. 1. A City, called Hebron, Gen. 23. 19. A mans name, Gen. 14. 24.

אמן] A male-childe, grown to ripe age, and full ſtature; or a name of ſex ſet againſt woman, Act. 8. 3.

This word [Man] cometh of the Hebrew Iſh, in reſpect of heat, valour, nobleneſſe and dignity, whereby man excelleth: alſo of Adam, which ſignifieth earth. This latter is given to the baſer ſort, and the former to the nobler ſort of people, Pſal. 49. 2. & 4. 3. See Iſa. 2. 9.

Alſo note, that Man is ſometime called Enoſh, which is, a doleſull ſorrowfull man, a wretched one; to put us in minde of our miſery, as Adam noteth our mortality, that we are earth, &c. Pſal. 8. 4. & 9. 20. where the Original word is Enoſh, that is, ſilly or ſorry man.

2. Both man and woman; the better ſex uſed for both ſexes. Pſal. 1. 1. Bleſſed is the man.

3. One compleat and full of true knowledge of God, and of holineſſe, without any the leaſt want or defect. Eph. 4. 13. To meet together to a perfect man. In 1 Cor. 13. 11. it ſignifieth one of a conſtant and perfect age in Chriſt. Alſo, Epheſ. 4. 13. where the Church is likened unto one man of a ripe age, to declare the unity thereof, and that every member of the Church feeling it ſelfe unperfect, muſt ſtrive to full perfection, which doctrine every one ſhould apply to himſelf.

4. One that is manly, ſtrong, and valorous. 1 Cor. 16. 13. Quit your ſelves like men.

5. A Magiſtrate. Gen 9. 16. By man his blood be ſhed.

6. A certain man whoſoever, Jew, or Gentile, regenerate or not, Gal. 2. 16. Mat. 16. 26. What ſhall it profit a man, &c.

7. A particular perſon. Mat. 12. 45. The end of that man.

8. The corruptions and errors of humane nature. Matt. 15. 9. Mens precepts. Rom. 3. 4. And very often Men doth ſignifie perverſe and wicked men. Matt. 10. 17, 22. Hated of all men.

9. The Church, gathered as it were into one body, out of Jews and Gentiles. Eph. 2. 15. Make of twain one new man in himſelfe. Alſo, every particular Chriſtian, Rom. 10. 10.

10. The body, which is but one part of a man. 2 Cor. 4. 16. Though our outward man periſh.

Alſo, Man is put for Soule, Exod. 12. 16. marg.

11. Chriſt Jeſus, who is called Man, by an excellency. Mar. 15. 39. This man is the Son of God.

Alſo, it ſignifies an Angel, appearing in form of a man. Gen. 32. 24. A man wreſtled with him.

12. A Son. Matth. 10. 35. I came to ſet a man at variance againſt his Father.

13. An Husband. 1 Cor. 11. 3. The man is the womans head.

14. Our equals, or ſuch as be like our ſelves, Matt. 6. 14.

15. This word Man, by Synecdoche partis, or Metonymia adjuncti, ſignifieth the qualities of the man, either good or evill, ſeeing the manners make the man, and the form denominateth the matter or ſubject.

So Chryſoſtome underſtandeth the place, Eph. 4. 22, 24. making four ſorts of men; two in reſpect of ſubſtance, and two in reſpect of quality, Homil. 13. in Eph.

If the Image of a man be called a Man, though the ſubject or matter be but wood or ſtone, becauſe of the form and figure: the reaſon and holineſſe of man, in man himſelf, may well be called Man.

Vide Old man, and New, and Body.

16. The Son of God or Chriſt Jeſus before before his incarnation appearing like a man, Josh. 5. 13. Dan. 3. 25.

17. An Angel appearing in the likeneſſe of a man, Gen. 32. 24. Dan. 10. 5. Act. 1. 10.

18. God himſelfe, Luk. 15. 11. So calling himſelfe,

1. Becauſe of his mildeneſſe, courteſie, &c. for (ſaith Theophylact) when he will ſhew his mercy he likeneth himſelf to a Man; but to a Lyon, &c. when he will ſhew his juſtice.

2. Becauſe God became man for mans ſake, Phil. 2. 6, 7.

19. A frail thing, and weak creature, and not ſuch as man thinketh himſelfe to be, Pſal. 9. 20.

20. The image or likeneſſe of a man, Act. 16. 9.

21. A valiant man, or a champion, 1 Sam. 17. 8.

22. A ſucceſſour, Jer. 33. 17, 18.

23. Of perfect or ripe age, 1 Cor. 14. 10. marg.

24. Mortall man, 2 Chr. 14. 11. marg.

Man may be conſidered, 1. As common to good and bad, in reſpect of nature, mortall, naturall, vain, ſinfull, &c. in reſpect of outward condition of bodie, or ſtate, old, young, poor, rich, weak, ſtrong, &c.

2. As one to be praiſed, ſuch as are the regenerate and religious; or diſpraiſed, as the unregenerate and irreligious.

Able men] Men of a couragious heart, to deliver the oppreſſed from the oppreſſors, Exod. 18. 21.

Men of activity] Men of ability, power, proweſſe; it implyeth as well fitneſſe of minde as of body; and ſo prudence, diligence, valour, Gen. 47. 6.

After man] Such a Doctrine as man deviſeth, not God, having no grounds in Gods Word, but in mans brain. Gal. 1. 11. Not after man; that is, not by authority, and in the name of any man, from whom it firſt came: thus it is expounded v. 12.

After the manner of a man] To uſe an example or ſimilitude borrowed or taken from things common and familiar amongſt men. Gal. 3. 15. I ſpeak after the manner of men, Rom. 3. 5. that is, as men are wont to doe, and not in mine owne perſon.

2. That which is not beyond the compaſſe of a mans power to doe. Rom. 6. 19. I ſpeak after the manner of man; that is, I require you now as ſtoutly and painfully to follow righteouſneſs, as ye have followed ſin before, when ye were ſervants of ſin, which is no more then a man may doe or think reaſonable to be done, that ye ſhould ſerve a good Lord, as carefully as ye ſerved a bad. This expoſition M. Beza miſliketh, becauſe the thing required in this verſe is more then the beſt man can doe, therefore he followeth the firſt ſignification.

3. According to the counſel and wiſdome of a man. 1 Cor. 15. 32. If I after the manner of men fought with beaſts, &c. viz. If I ſought glory and prayſe of men, as vain men doe, then my ſufferings had been in vain, without profit to me: but I did caſt my eyes on God, and looked forward to the fruit of a bleſſed reſurrection, which made me ready to undergoe, and conſtant to endure grievous dangers, like to the Saints, mentioned Heb. 11. 35.

Man of Belial] A wicked man. 1 King. 21. 13. And there came to him wicked men, or men of Belial.

Man of blood] That is, a blood-thirſty man, or murtherer, 2 Sam. 16. 7. Pſal. 5.

Man Chriſt Jeſus] The man named or called Chriſt Jeſus, 1 Tim. 2. 5. Yet we may not think that Chriſt as man onely, or according to his humane nature, is a Mediator, but the humane Divinity, and divine humanity, as Auguſtine ſaith.

Man of death] One guilty or worthy of death. 1 King. 2. 26. For thou art a man of death.

A man of the earth] Not a potent man, or one which is a Countrey man, but an Huſband-man, which tilleth and manureth the ground, as Noah did. Gen. 9. 20. A man of earth.

Man of God] An Interpreter of the will of God, as the Miniſter of the Word is. 2 Tim. 3. 17. That the man of God may be abſolute. 1 Tim. 6. 11. One which ſerveth God in preaching of the Goſpel.

Good man] A man indued with ſpiritual good, ready to doe good to many. Act. 11. 24. For he was a very good man.

Inner man, and New man] The whole perſon, body and ſoul, with all faculties, ſo far as they be regenerate by the Spirit. Rom. 7. 22. I delight in the Law of God, concerning the Inner man. It is called the New man, Col. 3. 10. partly becauſe the quality of holineſſe, given by grace of regeneration, comes in after our old deformity and corruption; and partly becauſe it makes us new creatures, begetting in us as it were another new nature.

3. It is new in time, or is come but lately to every one of us from heaven, in the

3. 6, 9. or eleventh hour of our life; but is not born or brought up with any of us, 1 Pet. 2. 2.

4. It is new and ſtrange to the world, Joh. 3. 4, 9. 1 Pet. 4. 4.

5. Becauſe the neweſt or firſt eſtate of men in holineſſe (by creation) is repaired in us by grace of regeneration.

6. Becauſe we pertain to a new maſter Chriſt, to the Church a new company, and to heaven a new Kingdome, and are taught by the holy Spirit a new teacher, a new leſſon godlineſſe, in a new book Gods Word, 2 Cor. 5. 18.

Naturall man] A perſon, endued with no other light of ſoul then that which is natural. 1 Cor. 2. 14. The natural man perceives not the things of God. Jude 9.

Not of man, nor by man] St. Paul to be called to the function or office of an Apoſtle, not from any meer man, as author (thus falſe Apoſtles were called) or as inſtrument and means of his calling: (thus Evangeliſts, Doctors, and Shepheards are called to their office by the Miniſtery of men, according to Gods ordinance) but was made an Apoſtle immediately from Chriſt, God and man, the head of his Church, who infuſed into him an extraordinary gift, as he placed him in an extraordinary calling. Gal. 1. 1. Paul an Apoſtle, neither of men, nor by men, but Jeſus Chriſt.

Old man] The unregenerate part of our nature, as it is corrupt with ſin. Rom. 6. 6. Knowing that your old man is crucified with him. This is called Old, becauſe it is ancient, even from and ſince the time of Adam.

2. Becauſe it is in every elect perſon, before their new birth.

And it is called Man, to ſhew how neer ſin and corruption cleaves unto us, being even as the man himſelf. And alſo, that it is a thing ſubſiſting and forcible, even ſtrong as a man. Old and New doe imply qualities, not ſubſtance, as Illyricus thought very falſly and corruptly, though he was found in other things.

A mans pen] Such a pen or ſtyle as a man uſeth, and ſuch as every rude and vulgar man may read, Iſa. 8. 1. Hab. 2. 2, 8.

Plain man] A man of religious, honeſt, ſimple diſpoſition, without guile or wickedneſſe: Therefore the Hebrew is perfect, which the Greek tranſlateth unfaigned, Gen. 25. 27.

A man of renowne] A man that is very famous and renowned. Gen. 6. 4. They were men of renown.

Man of ſin] Antichriſt, a man wholly compounded of ſin, loving and ſtriving mightily and cunningly how to commit and maintaine ſin in himſelfe and others. 2 Theſſ. 2. 3. And that man of ſin be diſcloſed.

This is not to be underſtood of one certain man, or particular perſon, (for this man here ſpoken of, being conceived and born in the time of the Apoſtle, how could he continue ſo long till the end of the world?) but it deſigneth a company of men, even the whole body of Eccleſiaſticall tyranny, as Beza writeth; A certain Antichriſtian Kingdome in the Chriſtian Church; (thus Piſcator.) The City proſtitute unto Idolatry; (thus Tertul.) The City of the Devil; (ſo ſaith Ambroſe.) Babylon, Rome, yea, the Church of Rome; (thus Hieron.) The wicked City, the body of the wicked fighting againſt the Lamb Chriſt, after the mind of Auguſtine, who calleth this [Man of ſin] Rome, a ſecond Babylon, an heretical Church, an unbeleeving people, clothed with the name of a Chriſtian people. Gregory conſtrueth it of the multitude of them which preach and ſet forth Antichriſt; and Thomas Aquinas (their owne great Doctor) ſaith, it is a body, no one man: with whom agreeth their ordinary Gloſſe, that Antichriſt is an whole head with his body entirely. All theſe teſtimonies doe bewray the wilfull blindneſſe of the Papiſts, which teach Antichriſt to be ſome one ſpeciall and ſingular perſon that ſhould come and reign a little ſpace (ſome 3 years and a halfe) afore the latterday. They might have learned (but that their eyes are juſtly held that they cannot ſee, becauſe they deſpiſe the truth of God) that as many Kings are collectively in Daniel's Prophеſie underſtood under the particular names of one Bear, Lyon, &c. So Paul the Apoſtle agreeably with Daniel, (being both led by one Spirit) hath compriſed the whole body under the name of one Man, one Antichriſt, one Son of perdition, one Beaſt, one Woman, one great Whore, &c. See M. Philip of Mornay Lord of Dupleſſe, in his Hiſtory of the Papacy, p. 4.

In our common ſpeech we ſay, the Emperour goes afore the King, though there be many Emperors; and that the King never dyeth, meaning of a continuall deſcent of Kings: and Papiſts ſay, the Pope is the head of the Church, the Popes be many.

Son of man] One that is a very man, deſcended of mankinde, being partaker truely of mans nature. Matthew 16. 13.

Whom

Whom doe they say that I the Son of man am?
Jesus Christ thus nameth himselfe,

1. Because he assumed our nature truely, and was perfect man.

2. He had all humane infirmities common to all mankinde.

3. He was equally affected to all sorts of all mankinde, to save them.

4. Because he was not ashamed of his low state of a servant, to do his fathers pleasure, for our good.

It's also taken for one subject to change, Numb. 23. 19. For man, Jer. 49. 18, 33. & 50. 40. & 51. 43. Ezekiel is thus styled (as some reckon) 80. times, and upwards. So Daniel once, Dan. 8. 17. which might serve to put the Prophet in minde of himselfe, what he was, even man, earth, and ashes; of his originall, and end, baseneſſe, brittleneſſe, worthlesneſſe in himselfe, Gen. 3. 19. Psal. 9. 20. and so to humble him, that he should not be puft up with this heavenly glorious vision, and so his pride to blossome, 2 Cor. 12. 1, 7. but magnifie Gods mercy in thus honouring him, Job 7. 17. Psal. 8. 3, 4. & 144. 3. Large Annot. on Ezek. 2. 1.

Spiritual man] One who being born anew by the Spirit is led and governed by the same. 1 Cor. 2. 15. He which is spirituall discerneth all things.

A man of tongue] An evill speaker, Psal. 140. 11. A man of words, is one eloquent, Exod. 4. 10. A man of lips, is one talkative, Job 11. 2. A man of arms, is one mighty, Job 22. 8.

Men of truth] Just men, Exod. 18. 21. so in Zach. 7. 9. Judgement of truth, signifies Just judgement.

Two men] Two sorts of men, Luke 18. 10.

Men unreasonable] Men which do things not convenient to be done: and wicked men be such as make sorrow, and cause trouble to the good, 2 Thess. 2. 3.

Man of war] A great and valiant warrior, subduing his enemies before him. Exod. 15. 3. The Lord is a man of war.

2. Persons apt and fit for war. Deut. 2. 14. Till the men of war were wasted.

Manaen] A comforter; or after the Syriack, Manail, a vessel or instrument of God. Also, their leader; or, the preparation of heat; or, a gift not registred. One which was brought up with Herod, Act. 13. 1.

Manahath] The Son of Shobal, Gen. 36. 23. The name of a place, 1 Chr. 8. 6.

Manahthites] My Lady of rest, or my Prince of rest. A people, 1 Chron. 2. 54.

Manasseh] Forgotten, or forgetfulnesse. The Son of Joseph, Gen. 41. 15. (of whom the Manassites, Deut. 4. 43.) His posterity, Josh. 7. 8, 17. Judg. 1. 27. The Father of Gersham, Judg. 18. 30. The Son of Hezekiah King of Judah, 2 King. 20. 21. Of the Sons of Pahath Moab, Ezr. 10. 30. Of the Sons of Hashum, Ib. 33.

Mandrakes] Lovely, or amiable, so in the Hebrew: the Greek translateth them, apples of Mandragoras, or Mandrake apples; they were such things as gave a pleasant smell, Gen. 30. 14. Cant. 7. 13. In these two places the word is found.

It is a kinde of herb, whose root hath the likenesse of a man. The fruit hereof hath been anciently conceived to be of an amorous operation, causing love, conducing to coition and conception; it is said to be of pleasant smell and colour, by some Writers; others say it is of a rank and unpleasant savour: howsoever, the Mandrakes mentioned Gen. 30. 14. are not like to be Mandrake apples, because at this time of the yeer, which was Wheat-harvest, and that was about the beginning of May, (in this Countrey) the Mandrake apples are not ripe, but rather that Dudaim, here rendred Mandrakes, was some flowers of the field, (such as pleased little children chiefly with their colour, for Reuben that gathered them, was about five or six yeers old) and had withall a delightfull smell, Can. 7. 12, 13. So that Rachel was taken with a speciall delight in them, and desire of them. Large Annot. on Gen. 30. 14.

See Drusius his learned Treatise on this subject, wherein the nature of this herb is set down.

Maneh, Mina] A pound. In gold it weighed one hundred shekels, as appeareth by comparing 1 King. 10. 17. with 2 Chron. 9. 16. Goodwyn, p. 329.

The common pound weighed 15 shekels, that is, 1. l. 17. s. 6. d. The Kings 20, that is, 2. l. 10. s. The Sanctuaries 25, that is, 3. l. 2. s. 6. d. Large Annot. on Ezek. 45. 12.

Manger] A place prepared for cattle, wherein to give them meat, Luk. 2. 7, 12, 16.

Manifest] Easie to be known, being alwayes open to every mans understanding. Gal. 5. 19. The works of the flesh be manifest.

2. Declared and made known, being kept secret before in the counsel of God. 2 Tim. 1. 9. But now is made manifest.

Manifold]

Manifold] Spoken of Gods mercies, as being both many and great, Neh. 9. 19, 27. His works in mercy upon the ſame ground, Pſal. 104. 24. His wiſdome, Eph. 3. 10. and grace, 1 Pet. 4. 10. as being divers, and diverſly appearing. Mans tranſgreſſions, as being both many, great and divers, Amos 5. 12. So temptations, 1 Pet. 1. 6.

Manifold wiſdome] The ſundry forms which God uſed in the vocation of men, that whereas the thing or ſubſtance was one and the ſame, to wit, Chriſt the Lamb ſlain from the beginning of the world; yet the Jews before Chriſt were called to him by many dark ceremonies and ſhadows, without which God inſtructed the Gentiles touching his Son, by the cleer teſtimony of the Goſpel, with few and ſignificant Sacraments, Eph. 3. 10.

Mankinde] Men, Lev. 18. 22. & 20. 13. 1 Cor. 6. 9. All fleſh of man, Job 12. 10. mar. The nature of Man, Jam. 3. 7.

Manna] Bread given from heaven by the Miniſtery of Angels. Joh. 6. 32. Our Fathers eat Manna. Pſal. 78. 25. Man did eat the bread of Angels. This is corporall and typicall Manna.

2. Chriſt Jeſus. Rev. 2. 17. To him that overcometh will I give the hidden Manna. Chriſt is called Manna, becauſe he is the bread that came down from heaven, the only ſoul-food. And he is called hidden Manna, becauſe no man can have this bread by nature, and it is reveaſed to none but to Gods children.

It ſignifieth, part, portion, gift, meat prepared, or, What is this?

Manner] put for Rite, 2 King. 17. 34. Cuſtome, faſhion, laws, or judgement, 1 Sam. 8. 9, 11. Ezek. 11. 12. Conditions, qualities, and deeds from thence, Act. 13. 18. Behaviour and carriage in word and deed, 1 Cor. 15, 33. Wayes or means, Heb. 1. 1. Kinde, Ex. 12. 16. Order or way, Joſh. 6. 15. Sort, 1 Sam. 21. 5. The way of ſervice, or worſhip, 2 King. 17. 26, 27.

Manner of your King] The uſage, faſhion, and cuſtome of their King, not by right and according to Law, but out of his power and authority too much preſumed of. 1 Sam. 8. 9, 11. And he ſaid, this ſhall be the manner of your King. The ſame word is uſed to expreſſe the uſurpation and wicked preſumption of Ely's two Sons, 1 Sam. 12. 13.

Manoah] Reſt; or, a gift. The Father of Samſon, Judg. 13. 2, 8, 9.

Manſions] Joh. 14. 2. μοναὶ, ſo called ἀπὸ τῦ μένειν, ſtable manſions. The whole ſpeech being metaphorical, the meaning is, there is place in the Kingdome of heaven for all the elect, (which are many) according to their ſeverall degrees of glory aſſigned them. Large Annot. on Joh. 14. 2.

Mantle] A courſe or hairy rug, carpet, or covering, Judg. 4. 18. A robe, or cloke, 1 Sam. 15. 27. An upper garment hanging looſe, covering or enwrapping the body, Iſa. 3. 22.

Rent his mantle, Job 1. 20. that is, Tore his upper garment, which men uſed to doe in times of great heavyneſſe. This Job did, to ſhew that his heart was rent within him with grief. The like men did at funerals, 2 Sam. 3. 31. or upon any ſudden news of evill to themſelves, Gen. 37. 34. or ſight of great calamity faln on their friends, Job 2. 12. 2 Sam. 1. 11. Joſh. 7. 6. or in ſigne of ſorrow for their owne ſins, or the ſins of others, 2 Chr. 34. 19. Ezr. 9. 3, 5. Joel 2. 13. or in deteſtation of blaſphemy, as if their hearts were rent within them, by hearing God ſo diſhonored, 2 King. 18. 37. & 19. 1. Iſa. 36. 22. or in the ſight of any other great diſhonor done to God, Jer. 36. 24. Act. 14. 13, 14. Large Annot. on Job 1. 20.

Or thus: This was uſed, 1. In caſe of extreme ſorrow, whether in the ſorrows of afflictions, Gen. 37. 34. 2 Sam. 1. 11. or in the ſorrows of repentance, Joſh. 7. 6.

2. In caſe of extreme indignation, 1 Kin. 19. 1. Iſa. 37. 1. Caryll on Job 1. 20. p. 179, 180, 181.

Many] All men, and every man which comes of Adam. Rom. 5. 19. By the diſobedience of one, many are made ſinners. Dan. 12. 9. Many, put for all the Jews, both wicked and wiſe.

2. Not a few, but a great number, or all beleevers onely. Rom. 5. 19. By the obedience of one, many ſhall be made righteous. Matt. 26. 27. Which is ſhed for many. Theſe many are all beleevers, which are not a few, but many, being ſimply conſidered, and uncomparatively. See Rev. 7. 6, 7.

3. A legion, Luk. 8. 30.

4. Great, Pſal. 18. 16. marg. & 29. 3. marg.

5. A multitude, 2 Chr. 11. 23. marg.

6. A very great number, all the wicked that periſh, Mat. 7. 13.

7. Very often, Pſal. 78. 38.

8. Life time, Hoſ. 3. 3.

9. Long time, Hoſ. 3. 4.

Many dayes] Three hundred yeers and more, even from the time that the Perſians began to reign in Babylon, untill the death of Antiochus Epiphanes, the laſt of the Seleuci, who was was broken without hand, for he dyed of very grief, Dan. 8. 25, 26.

Maoch] Holden hard together. King of Gath, 1 Sam. 27. 2.

Maon] A dwelling place, or a place of offence, or of ſin. A City, Joſh. 15, 55. The Son of Shammai, 1 Chr. 2. 45. Of him or the City, the Maonites took their denomination, Judg. 10. 12.

Mara] Bitter, or bitterneſſe. The name by which Naomi would be called, Ruth 1. 20.

Marah] The ſame. The name of a place, where the Iſraelites abode for a time, Exod. 15. 23. Numb. 33. 8, 9.

Maralah] Sleep, drunkenneſſe, the bitterneſſe of aſcending, of a ſacrifice, killed, a ſacrifice of myrrhe, a leaf of myrrhe, teaching ſacrifice, or aſcenſion. A City, Joſh. 19. 11.

Maranatha] 1 Cor. 16. 22. This word is by ſome thought to be one with the Hebrew חרם, under which a generall curſe is noted. Others think it ſhould be read מחרם אתה, Maharem attha, Be thou accurſed: but מחרם doth not ſignifie curſed, but curſing. It's more fit to take it as compounded of two Syriack words, מרן אתא, Our Lord cometh; for it's ſaid that this was the form of the greater Excommunication, as is expreſſed in Jude v. 14. as if the ſenſe were, The Church deſpaireth of ſuch a one, therefore leaveth him to the judgement of the Lord Chriſt, who is quickly to come: Or, Let the Lord come, namely, as a revenger, let his divine vengeance and curſe break out upon him, Gloſſ. Phil. Jac. p. 301.

It is a Syriack word, ſignifying, Our Lord cometh; for Maran is our Lord, and atha, cometh. It is a word uſed in the greateſt excommunication among the Chriſtians, implying that they ſummoned the excommunicated before the dreadful Tribunall at the laſt coming of the Son of God, Jude v. 14, 15.

Others expound it thus: Let him be accurſed, even till the coming of the Lord, to his deaths-day, even for ever. Large Annot. on 1 Cor. 16. 22.

Marble] A kinde of ſtone, whereof David prepared in abundance for the building of the Temple, 1 Chr. 29. 2. Whereof alſo veſſels are made, Rev. 18. 12. Uſeful for pillars, and for pavements, being red, blue, white, black, Eſt. 1. 6. The ſtrength of Chriſt in his wayes and government, is reſembled by marble pillars, and the uprightneſſ[illegible] thereof, by the colour of Whi[illegible] or Alablaſter, Cant. 5. 15. Aynſworth on Cant. 5. 15.

To march] Spoken of God, Pſal. 68. 7. Hab. 3. 12. Of the enemies of Ægypt, Jer. 46. 22. Of the enemies of Zion, Joel 2. 7. Of the Caldeans, Hab. 1. 6.

Marcus] Filed, or made fine, or wiped from the ruſtineſſe; or ſo called, as being born in the moneth March. Barnabas his Siſters ſon, Col. 4. 10. One who was profitable to Paul for the Miniſtery, 2 Tim. 4. 11. His fellow-labourer, Philem. v. 24. whom Peter tearmeth his Son, 1 Pet. 5. 10. in whoſe Mothers houſe the Church was aſſembled, praying for Peter's deliverance, Act. 12. 12. about whom there was ſharp contention between Paul and Barnabas, Act. 15. 39.

Mareſhah] From the head, or beginning, an inheritance; or, the bitterneſſe of the field. A City, Joſh. 15. 44. The Father of Hebron, 1 Chron. 2. 42. The Son of Laadah, 1 Chr. 4. 21.

Mark] A viſible ſigne or character, whether the letter ת, the firſt in תשובה, Teſhubah, which ſignifieth repentance, See Mr. Gregorie's Notes on Gen. 4. 15. p. 66, 67, &c. A but, end, or bound to ſhoot at, 1 Sam. 20. 20. An object of wrath, Job 7. 20. & 16. 12. A diſcernible ſigne, whereby the Mourners of Iſrael were diſtinguiſhed from others, Ezek. 9. 4, 6. The ſcope whereat a Chriſtian aimeth, Phil. 3. 14. A viſible note of diſtinction which Antichriſt impoſeth on his, Rev. 13. 16, 17. & 14. 9, 11.

Marks] Stripes, and thereby ſcars made in his body for Chriſts ſake. Gal. 6. 17. I bear in my body the mark of Chriſt, &c.

To mark] To take notice of, Ruth 3. 4. Obſerve, take heed, 2 Sam. 13. 28. Weigh, conſider throughly, 1 King. 20. 7. Underſtand, Job 18. 2. Look, Job 21. 5. marg. Give ear, or attend, Job 33. 31. Know exactly, Job 39. 1. Set the heart, Ezek. 34. 5. marg. Look on with a diligent eye, as unto the mark whereat we ſhoot, Rom. 6. 17.

The word ſignifieth ſuch a marking as a Watch-man uſeth, that ſtandeth on a Tower to deſcry enemies; he marketh diligently all comers, and giveth notice accordingly for the ſaving of the City.

Martyr] Any witneſſe which by his teſtimony confirmeth any truth.

2. Such a witneſſe as giveth his life unto death for the name of Jeſus, to teſtifie the truth of his doctrine by his blood. Rev. 2. 13. My faithfull martyr Antipas.

There is a Martyr of 2 ſorts, one is mentall, who purpoſeth and is ready to be bound, and to dye for the Lord Jeſus: as Paul ſpeaks in Act. 21. 13. Thus ought all Chriſtians to be Martyrs, for readyneſſe of minde and affection to ſuffer for the Doctrine of Chriſt, according to that which is written, Mat. 10. 37. Luk. 14. 26. 1 Cor. 15. 31. The other Martyr is actuall, who ſuffereth both in affection and in effect. Here two degrees are to be conſidered: firſt, when impriſonment, Act. 4. 3. or ſtripes, Act. 5. 40. or loſſe of goods or Countrey, Act. 13. 50. or elſe death it ſelfe, with torments too, are ſuffered for any morall or evangelicall truth to bear witneſſe to the ſame, as Act. 7. 59.

Markets] Places wherein people meet together, and buy wares one of another. The Court, Act. 16. 19. marg. The Originall ἀγορὰ, Act. 17. 17. ſometime is taken for the place into which the people are gathered; ſometime it ſignifieth the people gathered together, and ſometime the Oration which is made unto them. Leigh Crit. Sac.

Maroth] Bitterneſſe. A City, Mic. 1. 12.

Marre] Corrupt, Lev. 19. 27. Spoyle, undoe, deſtroy, Ruth 4. 6. Plague, 1 Sam. 6. 4, 5. Grieve, 2 King. 3. 19. marg. Hinder, overthrow, Job 30. 13. Putrefie, rot, Jer. 13. 7. Spill, Ib. 9. Make good for nothing, Nah. 2. 2. Mar. 2. 22.

Marriage] A lawfull knitting or joyning together of one man and one woman, in undividable fellowſhip, for remedy of luſt, comfort of life, and bringing forth of children. Heb. 13. 4. Mariage is honorable. Matt. 19. 3, 4, 5. This is civill mariage, and worldly, which by the Word of God is allowed to all orders and ſorts of men, without exception.

2. The uniting of every elect ſoule to Chriſt, by the Spirit and faith, which is done now in part onely, but perfectly ſhall be done at the laſt Judgement. Hoſ. 2. 20. I will even marry thee to my ſelfe in faithfulneſſe. Rev. 19. 7. The mariage of the Lamb is come. This is ſpirituall mariage.

3. The conjunction of God and the viſible Church upon earth, by the band of his holy worſhip. See Ezek. ch. 16. throughout. & Jer. 3. 1, 2. Hence is God called a jealous God: and the Church obſerving his worſhip, is called his Spouſe, or Wife; but ſwerving from his worſhip to Idols, ſhe is tearmed an Harlot, an Whore, and charged with fornications and whoredomes; and finally is threatned and plagued with divorce and ſeparation from God her husband; as Iſrael was firſt, and Judah after.

The lawfull joyning of man and wife, is undividable, according to the inſtitution of God. Yet it hath two exceptions; one of adultery, by Chriſt, Matth. 19. 5. The other of wilfull deſertion, by Paul, 1 Cor. 7. 15.

Mariner] A ſea-faring man, one that goeth down to the ſea in ſhips, and doth buſineſſes in great waters, Pſal. 107. 23, 26. Iſa. 42. 10. Ezek. 26. 17. & 27. 8, 9, 27, 29. Theſe are Calkers, Pilates, Rowers, Governors of the ſhip, &c.

Marrow] That which moyſteneth the bones, Job 21. 24. or watereth them, Pro. 3. 8. marg. being the ſtrength thereof, fatneſſe, Pſal. 63. 5. marg.

Put for ſatiety of pleaſure, Iſa. 25. 6. and that which is moſt ſecret and hidden, Heb. 4. 12.

Mars-hill] Act. 17. 22. or, Court of the Areopagites, marg. which was the higheſt Court in Athens; the authority whereof was exceeding great. The Romane Deputies of Aſia committed their weightyeſt cauſes to be determined by this Court. The King himſelfe when he had any buſineſſe here, was to lay down his Crown. And as the Oracles were famous for the prediction of things to come, ſo was this Court for the execution of Juſtice.

Some think it was thus named, for that Mars was there condemned; or for that ſuch as killed any out of a cruell and bloody minde, were there called into queſtion for the murther; or for that this Martial people dedicated the ſame to Mars, their ſuppoſed God of battle.

Martem] The bitterneſſe of a bramble, myrrhe of the enemy, or ſhewing the bramble or enemy. One of the ſeven Princes of Perſia, Eſt. 1. 14.

Martha] Stirring up, bitter, provoking; or after the Syrian, a Lady. The Siſter of Mary and Lazarus, Joh. 11. 1.

Marvell] To be offended at, Eccl. 5. 8. To be aſtonyed, amazed, wonder, Gen. 43. 33. Pſal. 48. 5.

Θαυμάζω, ſignifieth, 1. Very earneſtly and intentively, both with outward and inward ſenſes, to mark and obſerve a thing, Matth. 8. 27.

2. To honour, reverence, and fear the perſon or thing wherein we diſcern any ſtrangeneſſe, and the more ſtrangeneſſe, the more reverence and fear: ſo the learned Septuagint tranſlate thoſe places of reſpecting and regarding the mighty and aged, in this word, θαυμάζειν πρόσωπα [illegible] Deut. 10. 17. 2 Chron. 19. 7, 28, 50. [illegible] See Jude v. 19.

Marvels] Exod. 34. 10. are all thoſe things which God did in the way, and in the Promiſed

Promiſed Land, in favour of his people, to bring them thither, and to ſettle them therein.

Mara] Exalted; the ſea of bitterneſſe, a drop of the ſea, ſhe that teacheth the people, the myrrhe or miſtreſſe of the ſea; or after the Syrian and Hebrew, the Lady of the ſea.

1. The Siſter of Moſes called Miriam, Exod. 15. 20.
2. Another Miriam, 1 Chr. 4. 17.
3. The Mother of Jeſus Chriſt, Mat. 1. 16.
4. The Siſter of Martha and Lazarus, Joh. 11. 1, 2.
5. Mary Magdalen, Mar. 16. 9.
6. The Mother of James the leſſe, and Joſes, Mat. 27. 56.
7. The Wife or Daughter of Cleophas, Joh. 19. 25.
8. The Mother of John ſurnamed Mark, Act. 12. 12.
9. One who beſtowed much labour on Paul, Rom. 16. 6.

Mash] called alſo Meſhech. The Son of Aram, Gen. 10. 23.

Mashal] A parable, governing, or ruling. A City, 1 Chr. 6. 74.

Mashamnah] His fatneſſe, oyl, or touching; or, taking away a gift, or number. One of Davids helpers, 1 Chr. 12. 10.

Maſon] One employed in hewing ſtones, and building therewith, 2 Sam. 5. 11. 2 Ki. 12. 12. 2 Chr. 24. 12.

Maſreka] An hiſſing, or drawing of vanity; or touching vanity, or a vine. A City, Gen. 36. 36.

Maſſa] A burthen, a taking unto, ſometimes; or propheſie. The Son of Iſhmael, Gen. 25. 14.

Maſſah] Tentations. A place, Exod. 17. 7.

Maſſe Popiſh] Neither this word, nor the ſubject matter and thing ſignified by it, is to be found in all the Old or New Teſtament; and in truth it is a maſſe of moſt horrible ſins; as invocation of Saints, interceſſion of Saints, adoration of Creatures, profanation of Scriptures, and of the Lords Supper, deluding and mocking the people with idle and ſuperſtitious ſhews, and innumerable other wickedneſſes to be abhorred.

The Maſſe is a maſſe of abuſes, or a heap of corruptions, inſerted and put into the Sacrament of the Lords Supper, but is not properly the Sacrament it ſelf. The corruptions are chiefly theſe.

1. Mingling the materials of the Sacrament with other ſtuffe.
2. The denyal of one kinde to the Laity.
3. The adding to, detracting from, and altering of the words of conſecration.
4. The conſecrating of it in a tongue unknown to the people.
5. The privateneſſe of it, without company to receive it, which is contrary to a Communion.

Maſſe (according to the doctrine of Rome) is a proper reall Sacrifice of the very natural body and blood of Chriſt, offered by a Prieſt (having intention to conſecrate) unto God the Father for the expiation of the ſin of the quick and dead.

The ſubſtance of this Sacrifice is Chriſt; the parts three:

1 Conſecration.
2 Oblation.
3 Conſumption.

The pretended antiquity is from the time of Chriſt his laſt Supper, where Chriſt ſacrificed himſelf, and inſtituted this Sacrifice with commandement to his Apoſtles and their ſucceſſors for ever to continue it, by ſaying [Do this, &c.] Whereas in truth Chriſt ordained a Sacrament, and therefore offered no Sacrifice, (for theſe are far differing) and it is an hard expoſition to interpret [Doing] to be [Sacrificing] and the Text ſpeaketh of giving bread and breaking it, of eating and drinking, not one word of offering; yea, their owne men (as Jeſuite Azorius ſaith) deny Chriſt to have offered up himſelf under the forms of Bread and Wine. Aquinas teacheth, Chriſt to be no otherwiſe ſacrificed in the Maſſe, but as it repreſenteth the paſſion of our Lord, and as thereby men are made partakers of the fruit of his paſſion. Laſtly, Cornelius Muſſo a Popiſh Biſhop, defended, that Chriſt in his Sacrament offered no Sacrifice at all, becauſe then St. Paul had not written truely, that Chriſt had ſanctified and made beleevers perfect, and that he dyed but once, &c. Heb. 9. 25, 26, 29. & 10. 10. For by the Romiſh doctrine he offered a double oblation twice made; once at his laſt Supper, & once upon the Croſſe. That ſhift of bloody and unbloody Sacrifice will not here help them, becauſe it is written, that without ſhedding of blood there is no remiſſion of ſin, Heb. 9. 22. Let them therefore either grant that Chriſt at his laſt Supper ſuffered death, and ſhed his blood the night afore he ſhed it: or elſe let them ſay that he offered up no Expiatory or Propitiatory Sacrifice.

Whereas ſome of the Fathers call the Lords Supper a Sacrifice, it is not properly and ſimply, but figuratively, and in ſome reſpects. Firſt, becauſe all ſacred rites may be called Sacrifices, (a faciendo ſacra) from doing holy and ſacred actions.

Secondly, in regard that in the Supper there is a commemoration of that onely and true Sacrifice of Christ, and a participation through faith of the benefits of that Sacrifice.

Thirdly, in respect of divers prayers and thanksgivings poured out, and gifts offered to the poor, which in Scripture be tearmed Sacrifices.

Lastly, because the spirituall Sacrifices of our souls, as faith, hope, and charity, be there exercised and stirred up by the use of the Supper.

But they will never prove that any ancient Writer for six hundred yeers after Christ, did ever think or teach it to be a Sacrifice, as our Romish adversaries take it: therefore may be reckoned among Popish novelties, which be of late invention, and were not from the beginning of the Gospel.

Master] One that hath rule over servants, Eph. 6. 5. Col. 4. 1. Ye Masters doe unto your servants that which is just. A Master after the flesh is he who ruleth but over the body, and in outward things onely.

2. Any Teacher or Minister of the Word, who for reverence sake is called Master. Mat. 8. 19. Master, I will follow thee where ever thou goest.

7. Morſell, 2 Sam. 12. 3. marg.

8. Vitaile, 1 Chr. 12. 40. marg.

9. Prey, Pſal. 111. 5. marg.

Meat is either Corporall, which relieveth mans life, Lam. 1. 11, 19. and God hath created to be received with thankſ-giving, 1 Tim. 4. 3, 4. or ſpirituall, 1 Cor. 10. 3. Which endureth to eternal life, Joh. 6. 27. Gods Word, 1 Cor. 3. 2. The will of the Father, Joh. 4. 33, 34. The fleſh of Chriſt, Ib. 6. 55.

Meats pure] Meats created of God, and granted to mans uſe, Rom. 14. 20.

Same Meat] Chriſt crucified, true ſoul-food, which was one and the ſame meat both to the Jews among themſelves, and together beleeving Chriſtians, both being one body and people, having one God, and one Faith, and the ſame Sacraments for ſignification and efficacy, though differing in outward ſignes. 1 Cor. 10. 3. They eat the ſame ſpirituall meat. Papiſts which will have this meat of Manna, as a bare figure of our Sacrament, and to be the ſame with the Jews themſelves apart from us, conſider not the driſt of the Apoſtle, nor his phraſe in verſ. 2, & 4. nor the judgement of learned Fathers.

Strong meats] The Doctrine of the Word, deeply, exactly, and largely taught and entreated of. Heb. 5. 13. Strong meat belongs to them that are of age.

Mebunnai] A Son, building, underſtood, or underſtanding. A Huſhathite, one of David's Worthies, 2 Sam. 23. 27.

Mecherathite] Selling, or knowledge. Hepher, one of David's Worthies thus named, 1 Chr. 11. 36.

Medad] Meaſuring; or, the waters of the beloved. One that propheſied in the camp, Numb. 11. 26, 27.

Medan] Strife, judging, a meaſure; or, a garment. The Son of Abraham by Keturah, Gen. 25. 2.

Meddle] To provoke, war, fight, Deut. 2. 5, 19. 2 King. 14. 10. To aſſociate, be a companion of, be familiar with, Prov. 20. 19. To intermeddle, Prov. 26. 16.

Medes] Meaſure, abounding; or, a garment. A people, 2 King. 17. 6. Ezr. 6. 2.

Media] A Countrey of Aſia, inhabited by the Medes, ſo named of Madai the Son of Japhet, Gen. 10. 2. See Eſt. 1. 3, 14, 18. Iſa. 21. 2.

Median] Darius, as in Dan. 11. 1. tearmed the Mede, ſo in Dan. 5. 31. the Median, both upon one ground, for that he was King of Media, if not there born.

Mediatour] A middle perſon that cometh between two other perſons that be at variance, to be a mean of atonement and peace. Gal. 3. 20. A Mediatour is not a Mediatour of one.

Unto a ſufficient Mediatour between God and us, 3 things are required:

1. That he be appointed to us of God, and be nominated and commended to us by the witneſſe of his Word.

2. That the ſame be perfectly righteous and holy.

3. That he know the afflictions and affections of him for whom he meaneth to mediate: All theſe agree to Chriſt, but not to the Saints.

2. One that came between the Lord and his people, to declare unto them the Word of the Lord. Thus was Moſes a Mediatour at the giving of the Law. Gal. 3. 19. And it was ordained by Angels in the hand of a Mediatour.

3. A reconciler or peace-maker between God and elect ſinners. 1 Tim. 2. 4. There is one Mediatour between God and man. Col. 1. 20. Peace being made by the blood of his Croſſe.

Thus

Thus is Christ alone our Mediatour, both of Redemption and Intercession; for he alone both made peace for us, and doth maintain it perpetually.

One Mediatour] One alone, or one only, and no more, by whose intercession our prayers please God. 1 Tim. 2.5. There is one God, and one Mediatour. What becomes of the many Mediatours set up by the Romish Synagogue, by a rotten distinction, of Mediatour, of Redemption, and Intercession?

Medicine] is of an healing nature, Jer. 30.13. Good for bruises and sores, Ezek. 47. 12. marg. Which must be taken with a merry heart, Prov. 17. 22. marg. Doth good, Ibid. Put for humane help, Jer. 46. 11.

To Meditate] To muse and think earnestly upon any matter which wee desire to know throughly, or to gather all our thoughts together.

This word importeth study and exercise of the minde, which often bursteth into voyce. In Isa. 33. 18. & 24. 2. it is used for musing in their minde or heart. But in Psal. 2. 1. & 37. 30. Prov. 8. 7. Isa. 59. 3. it is put for muttering with the mouth that which the minde thinketh on, but with a low unperfect voyce, Isa. 8. 19.

2. To ponder and seriously think upon, either the Word of God, that we may understand and practise it, or upon the just and mercifull works of God, to be humbled or comforted by them. Psal. 1. 2. And in his Law doth he meditate day and night. Psal. 77. 12. I will meditate of all thy works. Psalme 119. 96, 97.

3. It signifies to exercise ones self in meditation and prayer, Gen. 24. 63. Psal. 77. 4, 7, 13. & 119. 15. & 102. 1.

Meditation is an action or work of the soul, bending it self often, earnestly and orderly, to think upon a thing; and it is either of Gods Word or works.

Meditation of Gods Word, is a frequent, earnest, and orderly thinking upon that which we read or hear, to search it out.

1. Whether we understand the meaning of it.

2. Whether we have sound proofes of it.

3. How we may remember that we doe understand it.

4. How we may make use of it for comfort, instruction, &c.

Meditation of Gods works, is a stirring up of our souls to trust and love, to fear and obey God, at the sight or hearing of some work, either of his mercy or justice. Act. 5. 11. And great fear came on all them that heard these things.

Meditation on the duties of our calling, is a frequent, earnest, and orderly thinking upon, and preparing our selves to the performance of such duties as our callings require. Thus must Ministers in their places, 1 Tim. 4. 5. Others in theirs.

Meek] Such persons as are not easily provoked by injuries, but rather suffer wrongs peaceably, studying how to overcome evill with good. Matt. 5. 5. Blessed are the meek. Rom. 12. 19, 20, 21. Numb. 12. 3. But Moses was a meek man.

2. Godly persons, which quietly yeeld their reason and will, to be obedient to the direction and wisdome of the World. Psalme 25. 8. He will teach the humble and meek.

The Septuagint have rendred an Hebrew word, that signifieth afflicted, by this, Psal. 36. 11. and that because of the small difference that there is betwixt עני poor or afflicted, and ענו milde; or for that afflictions make a man milde, and true meekness is in the time of adversity, both discerned and tryed.

Meekness] A gift of God enabling us to suffer abuses and injuries from men, without desire of revenge. Col. 3. 12, 13. Put on meekness.

2. A quiet and willing submission of our judgement and affections to the rules of the Word. Jam. 1. 21. And receive with meekness the Word, &c.

It hath in it these things:

1. A quietness of heart in the freedome from passion, by which one is slow to anger, and not easily provoked.

2. A teachableness, or tractableness, or being easie to be perswaded.

3. A child-like confidence in Gods care and providence, becoming in that respect as a little childe.

4. It is not swelled with prosperity.

5. It thinks not much of the yoke of Christ.

6. In conversing it hath two principall properties.

The first is fear, as it is opposed unto boldness, conceitedness, rough-heartedness.

The second is an Evangelicall harmlessness, or simplicity. Byfield on Col. 3. 12. p. 81.

Meet] One that should be as his second self, like him in nature, knit unto him in love, needfull for procreation of seed, helpfull in all duties, present alwayes with him, and so very commodious for him, Gen. 2. 18.

Right,

Right, or ſo appointed of God, Ex. 8. 26. Able, valiant, valorous, powerfull, Deut. 3. 18. marg. Fitting, or fit for, Judg. 5. 30. Reaſonable, equall, Ezr. 4. 14. Fit and worthy, Eſt. 2. 9. Convenient, agreeable to reaſon, Job 34. 31. Right, Jer. 26. 14. marg. Proſper, made fit, Ezek. 15. 4, 5. marg. Anſwerable, Matt. 3. 8. marg. Good, honeſt, ſeemly, Mat. 15. 26. Due, Rom. 1. 27. Sufficient, worthy, 1 Cor. 15. 9. Juſt, Phil. 1. 7. 2 Pet. 1. 13. Made fit or worthy, Col. 1. 12. Requiſite, 2 Theſſ. 1. 3. Uſefull, 2 Tim. 2. 21.

To meet] Fall upon, Ruth 2. 22. marg. Be before, 1 Chr. 12. 17. marg. Run into, Job 5. 14. marg.

Megiddo] A declaring of a meſſage, an apple, or the choſen fruit. A City, 1 Chr. 7. 29.

Megiddon] The ſame. A valley, Zech. 12. 11.

Mehetabel] How good is God? or, God doing well. The Wife of King Hadar, Gen. 36. 39. The Father of Delaiah, Neh. 6. 10.

Mehida] A riddle, ſharpneſſe of wit, ſhaving the hand; or after the Syrian, the hand ſmitten. His children returned from the Captivity, Neh. 7. 54.

Mehir] A reward. The Son of Chelub, 1 Chr. 4. 11.

Meholathite] Adriel thus named, 2 Sam. 18. 9. & 21. 8.

Mehujael] Teaching, declaring God, God blotting out; or, after the Syrian and Hebrew, ſmitten of God. The Son of Irad, Gen. 4. 18.

Mehuman] Troubled, making an uproar, or a multitude. One of Ahaſuerus his Chamberlains, Eſt. 1. 10.

Mehunim] His children returned from the Captivity, Ezr. 2. 50.

Mehunims, or Maimonims] Ammonites, who on the Eaſt bordered on Judah, 2 Chron. 26. 7.

Mejarkon] A City, Joſh. 19. 46.

Mekonah] A City, Neh. 11. 28.

Mekatiah] Deliverance of the Lord. A Gibeonite, Neh. 3. 7.

Melchi] My King, or my counſell. The Son of Janna, Luk. 3. 24. The Son of Abdi, Ib. 28.

Melchiah] The Father of Baaſiak, 1 Chr. 6. 40. The Father of Paſhur, Jer. 21. 1.

Melchizedech] One which was a petty King of Canaan, his ſeat was Schalem, afterwards Jeruſalem, his name ſoundeth King of peace. Gen. 14. 18. Heb. 7. 2. He was both King and Prieſt; as King he brought forth bread and wine to refreſh Abraham and his Souldiers after their victory; and as Prieſt he bleſſed Abraham, bearing in him both a type of Chriſt the Soveraign King and High-prieſt of his Church: See Heb. 7. Pſa. 110. In that theſe two offices met in Melchizedech, it was extraordinary, and for ſome ſpeciall uſe, and cannot prove (now that Eccleſiaſticall and Civil order are by God himſelfe diſtinguiſhed) the conjunction of theſe two eſtates in one perſon to be lawfull: That Sem (Noah's Son) ſhould be this Melchizedech, the Hebrews think againſt reaſon. For Canaan fell to Cham. 2 The Father and Mother of Sem be known and expreſſed. 3 Very likely he would have viſited Abraham, and unlikely the Nephew ſhould give tithes to the Grandfather.

Dr. Williams in his Treatiſe of the Incarnation of the Word, layeth alſo down his reaſons to prove that Sem was not Melchizedech, and that he was no other then Jeſus Chriſt the Son of God, p. 807, 808, 809, 810, 811, 812.

Cunæus de Repub. Heb. is of the ſame opinion, as others, take him him to be the Holy Ghoſt.

Mr. Gregory in his Epiſtle to the Reader, before his Notes and Obſervations, alledgeth out of the Arabick Catena, that Melchizedech was the Son of Heraclim, the Son of Phaleg, the Son of Eber, and his Mothers name was Salathiel, the Daughter of Gomer, the Son of Japhet, the Son of Noah.

Mr. Hugh Broughton in his Treatiſe of Melchizedech endevoureth to prove that he was Sem, and that by the general conſent of his owne Sons, by the continuall judgement of Ages, and by plentifull arguments of Scripture.

Unto thoſe the Reader may have recourſe for reſolution.

Melea] A Queen, the Counſellour; or after the Heb. full, abundant, ſupplying or ſupplyed. The Son of Menan, Luk. 3. 31.

3. Every ſinfull luſt annexed to our corrupt nature, as a member to a body. Col. 3. 5. Mortifie your members on earth.

4. Every Chriſtian, faithfull man or woman, knit to Chriſt their head by a lively faith, as his members. 1 Cor. 12. 17. Now ye are the body of Jeſus Chriſt, and members for your part.

5. The unregenerate part of man, Rom. 7. 23. which is called fleſh in verſ. 18.

6. That which is joyned to another in communion.

7. Thoughts, Job 17. 7. marg.

To give our members] To preſent all our powers and faculties of minde and body (as a Servant preſents himſelf before his Lord) ready to take command and charge. Rom. 6. 10. As you have given your members ſervants to ſin, ſo give your members ſervants to righteouſneſſe.

Whereas the Members of Aaron and his Sons, at their conſecration, as the tip of their right ear, and the thumb, great toe, &c. were to be wet with the blood of a Ram ſacrificed: this ſignifieth two things.

1. That all the hands, feet, and actions of Chriſt our High-prieſt, be red with his blood and paſſion. See Pſal. 22. 17. Zech. 12. 10. Rev. 1. 7.

2. That all our parts and actions are to be purged and waſhed with the blood of Chriſt, that we may be wholly clean, as it is taught by Chriſt at the waſhing of his Apoſtles feet, Joh. 13. 5, 6, 7, 8, 9, &c.

Members on earth] Earthly, ſenſual, and corrupt affections, which are as Members of our ſinfull Nature, to ſerve it, and ſhew forth their force, in the members of our bodies, &c. Col. 3. 5.

Memoriall] Somewhat to be remembred, or ſomething whereby it may be remembred, Exod. 3. 15. & 12. 14. & 13. 9. & 17. 14. & 28. 12.

Memory] The faculty of the ſoul, whereby we remember and call to minde things paſt, or keep in minde things againſt time to come, Eccl. 9. 5. 1 Cor. 15. 2.

2. Memoriall, name, or report, which cauſeth one to be had in memory. Prov. 10. 7. The memory of the juſt ſhall be bleſſed. Pſ. 34. 16. To cut off their memory from the earth. See Matt. 26. 13. Act. 10. 4.

Menucan] Prepared, ſure, made poor, or ſmitten. One of the Princes of Perſia, Eſt.

Menahem] A comforter. The Son of Gadi, 2 King. 15. 17.

Menam] Prepared. The Son of Mattatha, Luk. 3. 31.

Mend] is all one with Repair, 2 Chr. 24. 12. & 34. 10. Mat. 4. 21. Mar. 1. 19.

Mene] God hath numbred and ſet the time, Dan. 5. 26.

Men-pleaſers] Ἀνθρωπάρεσκοι, Eph. 6. 6. Such as look after popular applauſe, as propound unto themſelves this end, that they may pleaſe men, and be praiſed of them.

Now Servants are thus:

1. When they are ſo carefull to pleaſe men, as that they take no care to pleaſe God.

2. When they ſeek by all means to pleaſe their Maſters, but not to profit them.

3. When by diſpleaſing God, they pleaſe their Maſters.

Men-ſtealers] 1 Tim. 1. 10. that is, Such as bought men for ſlaves, knowing them to be free.

Menſtruous] Iſa. 30. 22. that is, One ſick of her infirmity, Lev. 12. 2. & 15. 33. As a menſtruous woman, Lam. 1. 17. that is, As an abomination, as a perſon ſevered from the ſociety or acceſſe of any; ſuch an one as every one ſhunneth, that none can abide to come neer; or as ſome abominable thing, ſo vile and foul, that none can endure once to touch, for being polluted and defiled therewith. Large Annot. on Lam. 1. 17.

Mention] It ſignifieth both the memory or remembrance which one hath of a perſon or thing, and likewiſe the ſpeaking thereof declaring the ſame.

Make mention of me, Gen. 40. 14. that is, Intercede for me, ſpeak on my behalf.

Make mention of one in prayer, Rom. 1. 9. Eph. 1. 16. 1 Theſſ. 1. 2. Philem v. 4. that is, Pray unto God on their behalf.

Make mention of the God of Iſrael, but not in truth, Iſa. 48. 1. that is, Profeſſe to worſhip God, and be a member of his Church, and yet to be an hypocrite.

Make no mention of other gods, Exod. 23. 13. namely, by way of liking or approbation, for otherwiſe they were and might be named by way of hiſtorical report and reproof.

Make mention of thy righteouſneſſe, Pſa. 71. 16. that is, Record it, publiſh, declare, make it known.

To mention] Come, 1 Chro. 4. 38. marg. Make to aſcend, 2 Chr. 20. 34. mar. Call, Joſh. 21. 9. marg. Report or hear, Ezek. 16. 56. marg. Remember, Heb. 11. 22. marg.

Meonenem] Chambers. A place, Judg. 9. 37.

Meanothai] The Father of Ophrah, 1 Chr. 4. 14.

Mephaath] An appearance of waters, or the force of waters. A City, Joſh. 21. 37.

Mephibosheth] Shame of mouth. The Son of Jonathan, 2 Sam. 9. 6. The Son of Saul, Ibid. 21. 8.

Merab] Fighting, chiding, multiplying; or after the Syrian, the office of a Maſter. The Daughter of Saul, 1 Sam. 14. 49. & 18. 17, 19.

Meraiah] of Seraiah, Neh. 12. 12.

Meraioth] Bitterneſſe, rebellious, or changings. The Son of Zerahiah, 1 Chr. 6. 6. The Father of Zadok, 1 Chr. 9. 11. The Father of Azariah, Ezr. 7. 3.

Merari] Bitter, ſtirred up, or provoked. The Son of Levi, Gen. 46. 11. Of whom the family of the Merarites, Numb. 26. 57.

Merathaim] The land of thoſe that rule, or the land of rebellious ones. A Countrey, Jer. 50. 21.

Merchandize] Taken properly for trading in buying and ſelling, Ezek. 27. 9, 15. Mat. 22. 5. Joh. 2. 16.

Figuratively, for Wares, Rev. 18. 11. Gain and profit, Prov. 3. 14.

To make merchandize] To uſe them like Cattel brought to a Market to be ſold; or, as evill Phyſicians deal with mens bodies, which they deſtroy, 2 Pet. 2. 3.

Merchant] One that tradeth in buying and ſelling, in and about worldly things: Whether by Sea, Prov. 31. 14. or land, Gen. 37. 28. as in ſpicery, balme, myrrhe, Gen. 37. 25. Gold, 1 King. 10. 14, 15. Linnen yarn, Ibid. 28. Girdles, Prov. 31. 24. Powders, Cant. 3. 6. Silver, iron, tin, &c. Eze. 27. 12, &c. Of whom ſome have been Princes, the honourable of the earth, Iſa. 23. 8. Some deceivers, Hoſ. 12. 7.

Merchants of the earth, Rev. 18. 3. Either worldly Merchants, that ſold her delicate things for her luſt; as Spirituall ones, as Friers, Monks, Pardon-ſellers, and ſuch like, 2 Pet. 2. 3. Large Annot. on Rev. 18. 3.

Mercy, as it is referred to God] 1. The divine eſſence, inclining it ſelf to pity, and relieve the miſeries of all his creatures: but more peculiarly of his elect Children, without reſpect of merit. Pſal. 100. 5. His mercy is everlaſting. Pſal. 145. 9. His mercies are over all his works.

2. Grace. Jude v. 2. Mercy and peace be multiplyed unto you. Pſal. 4. 1. marg.

3. All the benefits of God, both bodily and ſpirituall; which be called Mercies, becauſe they come from his mercy and good will. Rom. 9. 18. He hath mercy on whom he will. 1 Tim. 1. 13. I found mercy becauſe I did it ignorantly. In both theſe places Mercy is put for a calling to Chriſt, and all Graces which follow calling, Rom. 12. 1. Alſo Pſal. 136. throughout, by Mercy is ſignified the bleſſings which proceed from his Mercies. See Rom. 11. 31. Mercy is put for Faith flowing from Gods mercy. See 1 Pet. 2. 10. Gen. 24. 12. for a benefit of a good Wife out of his mercy. In 1 King. 3. 6. marg. Bounty.

4. Eternall bliſſe in heaven, as the chiefe fruit of mercy. 2 Tim. 1. 18. That he may finde mercy at that day. Mercy, as it is referred to God, it is either eternall, to wit, the Nature of God, infinitely inclined from everlaſting, to pity and ſuccour his children: or temporal, in the acts and works of his mercy, ſhewed in time, upon and toward his children. Theſe works becauſe they be many and ſundry, concerning partly this natural worldly life; as health, life, riches, peace,

peace, good Magiſtrates and Laws, &c. and partly, that life which is ſpiritual and eternall, as faith, hope, love, &c. wrought within us; predeſtination, vocation, forgiveneſſe of ſinnes, imputation of Chriſt his perfect juſtice, ſanctification, glorification, wrought without us: Hence it is that though mercy be ſingle and one in God, yet Scripture often ſpeaks of it in the plurall number: as Gen. 32. 10. 2 Cor. 1. 3. & Rom. 12. 1. Now becauſe we do owe all we are or have, to theſe mercies; therefore in that text of Rom. 12. 1. Paul beſeecheth us by theſe mercies, to mortifie our evil affections, and to live godlily. And indeed, there is no more forcible arguments in the world, then to move Gods children to duty and obedience, by ſuch mercies as by which they are elected, called, juſtified and glorified. Hence ſpringeth a readineſſe to doe the will of their God with cheerfulneſſe, without grutching, or compulſion and ſervile fear.

In the Mercy of God, conſider,

1. The Decree.

2. The Act according to the Decree. A decreed mercy, and an executed or exerciſed mercy, Rom. 9. 15.

Abundant mercy] 1 Pet. 1, 3. Gods mercy is abundant,

1. In the fountain, in himſelf. There is an Ocean of mercy in God. It is infinite in him, as his nature is; yea, it is his nature it ſelfe ſo to be.

2. In the ſtreams; and that either generally conſidered, and ſo it flows to all the creatures, reaſonable and unreaſonable, good and bad, Pſal. 33. 5. Mat. 5. 45. Or more ſpecially, as it flows to the faithfull.

Now Gods mercy is abundant to the faithfull,

1. In the kindes of mercy, as whom it compaſſeth about, Pſal. 32. 10.

2. In the extent of mercy, as being reſerved for them all, Exod. 20. 6.

3. In the continuance thereof, Pſal. 86. 5. & 100. 4. Iſa. 55. 3. Byfield on 1 Pet. 1. 3.

It's alſo manifold, tender, great, ſure, good, &c.

Mercy, as it is referred to men] Grief and ſorrow of our hearts for other mens ſins and miſeries, whereby we are moved to help and pity them, if we may. Luk. 10. 37. He that had mercy on him. In Mercy, there is the affection of pity, and effect of help and ſuccour.

2. That clemency and favour, which Kings and other Magiſtrates ſhew unto good Subjects, for their incouragement in well-doing. Pſal. 10. 1. I will ſing of mercy and judgement. Prov. 20. 28. By mercy and truth is the Kings throne eſtabliſhed.

3. All duties of Charity toward our Neighbour, by a Synecdoche. Mat. 6. 15. I will have Mercy and not Sacrifice.

4. Kindneſſes and benefits beſtowed to the hurt of others. Prov. 12. 10. But the mercies of the wicked are cruell.

Bowels of mercy] Moſt inward and tender affections; or moſt neer touch and feeling of the miſeries of others. Luk. 1. 78. Through the bowels of the mercy of our God. Col. 3. 12. Put on the bowels of mercy.

Father of mercies] One, who is in himſelfe moſt pitifull, and authour of all mercy in all men. 2 Cor. 1. 3. Father of mercies.

To forſake their owne Mercies] To ſtop and dam up the paſſage of Gods kindneſſe, that it come not to them (but curſes rather then bleſſings) by attributing all their good things to lying Idols, not to the living God. Jonas 2. 8. They that wait upon lying vanities, forſake their own mercies.

Gentle mercy] The merciſull ſparing of God from deſerved puniſhment. Gen. 19. 6. Iſa. 63. 1.

Mercy glorieth againſt Judgement] Such perſons as out of Chriſtian mercy are favourable and helpfull to the poor Saints, ſhewing therein by theſe works their faith, which hath laid hold on the mercy of God in Chriſt, ſhall have cauſe to glory, not againſt God their Judge, unto whom they owe all thanks for their free ſalvation, Mat. 25. 27. but againſt judgement, damnation, death, ſin, hell, and the devill. Jam. 2. 13. Mercy glorieth againſt Judgement. See more of this glorying in Rom. 8. 31, 33, 34. 1 Cor. 15. 55. Mark the bleſſed condition of all ſuch whoſe faith ſhineth before God and men, by the duties of charity.

To have mercy] To execute and perform the whole counſel of election upon the veſſels of mercy, by bringing them into the world, by calling, inwardly and outwardly, by juſtifying, ſanctifying, &c. Rom. 9. 18. He hath mercy, &c.

The oppoſition and ſetting of mercy in this ſentence againſt Hardning, plainly proveth this expoſition which I have given. For, as under Hardneſſe, the whole work and proceeding of Gods counſell, is the juſt deſtruction of the reprobate, ſo by the Law of contraries, Mercy muſt ſignifie the whole execution of Gods purpoſe, for the free ſalvation of all the elect.

A covering Mercy-ſeat, Exodl 25. 17. is commonly uſed for the merciſull covering and propitiation of ſins, Pſalm 65. 4. It is a figure of Chriſt, Rom. 3. 25. 1 Joh. 2. 12.

Leſſe then thy mercies] Inferior in worth; or, I am unworthy all or any thy mercies, Gen. 32. 10.

Mercy ſeat] Chriſt, by whom alone God his Father is propitious and merciſull to beleeving ſinners: and whereas it had two Cherubims, at each end one, from between which God did talk with Moſes, and by him to the Children of Iſrael; this ſignified, that God through Chriſt did teach and governe his people by the miniſtery of his holy Angels (repreſented by thoſe Cherubims) Ex. 25. 17, 18, 19, &c. To expreſſe this ſuccour and ready help of the Angels, tendeth Ezekiel's viſion, ch. 10. And David by the meditation hereof confirmeth his truſt in God. See Pſ. 80. 12. & 99. 1. & 18. 11. 2 Sam. 22. 11.

Alſo, the covering Mercy-ſeat was a figure of Chriſt, in whoſe heart was Gods Law, by whom our tranſgreſſions of the Law are covered, and the Word of grace from God cometh unto us.

To ſhew mercy] To doe and expreſſe either the common works of mercy, of forgiving, giving, &c. which belong to all Chriſtians, Jam. 2. 13. Or elſe ſuch ſpecial works of mercy as belonged to Widows, deſcribed in 1 Tim. 5. 9. Rom. 12. 8.

Mercy and truth] Merciſull and true dealing, or kinde and faithfull, Geneſ. 24. 49. Theſe two words they are often ſpoken of God towards men, Gen. 24. 27. & 32. 10. 2 Sam. 2. 6. Pſal. 25. 10. & 57. 4. & 61. 8. & 89. 15. & 98. 3. & 138. 2. ſo it is ſpoken of men toward men, Gen. 47. 29. Joſh. 2. 14. The firſt word ſignifies, a gracious, kinde, and merciſull affection; the laſt ſignifies faithfulneſſe conſtantly to perform what is ſpoken.

Veſſels of mercy] The Elect. Rom. 9. 23. Upon the veſſels of mercy, that is, ſuch upon whom God hath decreed to ſhew mercy, unto eternal ſalvation.

Merciſull] A pitifull perſon, eaſily moved to grieve at the miſeries of others, and to ſuccour them. Luk. 6. 36. Be ye merciſull, as your heavenly Father is merciſull.

It's ſpoken both of God, Gen. 19. 16. Deut. 4. 31. and of Man, Prov. 11. 17. & Luk. 6. 36.

Mercy-ſeat] Ex. 25. 17. This was the covering of the Ark, made of pure gold, & not diſtinct from the Ark, but placed cloſe unto it; as God ſitting as it were upon the wings of the Cherubims (which made the repreſentation of a Seat) on the Ark below it.

This narrow Seat was a figure of Chriſt; the word ſignifieth a covering; the meaning is, Mans iniquity being covered by Chriſts merits, God is merciſull to him, Pſal. 32. 1. and therefore it is called the Propitiatorie, and Chriſt a propitiation for mans ſins, 1 Joh. 2. 2. becauſe of the favour and mercy communicated to men, through his merits; and this was placed between the Tables of the Law, and the Majeſty of God, appearing between the Cherubims, verſ. 22. to note, that Chriſt ſtands between God and the rigour of the Law, in our ſtead, and for our ſakes, that God might look upon the Law, through him, as fulfilled by him, for our ſakes, and on our behalfe. Large Annot. on Exodus 25. 17.

Mercurius] Of merchandize. One of the Heathen Gods, to whom Paul was likened, Act. 14. 12.

Mered] A rebell, or rebellious, going down, or bearing rule. The Son of Ezra, 1 Chr. 4. 17. The Father of Gedor, Ib. 18.

Meremoth] Bitterneſſe, or myrrhe of death. Of the Sons of Bani, Ezr. 10. 36.

Meres] A diſtilling down from the head; or after the Syrian, an impoſtume. One of the 7 Princes of Perſia and Media, Eſt. 1. 14.

Meribah] Strife, or contention. A place, Ex. 17. 7.

Meribbaal] Rebellion, or fighting againſt Baal. The Father of Micah, 1 Chr. 8. 34.

Merimoth] Bitterneſſe, or myrrhe of death. The Son of Uriah, Ezr. 8. 33. One who ſealed the Covenant, Neh. 10. 5. who went up with Zerubbabel, Neh. 12. 3.

To merit] To make ſomething due to us which was not due, or of leſſe due, to be more due.

2. To deſerve ſomething of Almighty God, by the worthyneſſe of the thing done. Thus Jeſus Chriſt alone meriteth, becauſe there is an equall proportion between his perfect righteouſneſſe, and the merit of it, which is eternall glory, Rev. 5. 12.

3. To obtain and get a thing. Thus the Fathers often uſe this word in their writings; and thus all Chriſtians in a good ſenſe, may be ſaid to merit, becauſe good works at laſt obtain heavenly bliſſe, although they cannot merit it by deſert.

This word [Merit] is not found in Scripture, but the matter ſignified by it, both for the ſecond and third ſignification, is found there.

there, Act. 20. 28. Eph. 1. 14. Matt. 25. 30, 31, 32.

Papists distinguish Merits into two kindes.

1. As merit of congruity, which they call a work preparatory unto grace in persons unregenerate.

2. Of condignity, which is in the regenerate a work of preparation to glory.

In generall, a merit is an undue work, making a reward due to us, which otherwise was not due. Such is no work of a meer man, done either before or after grace, because they be not Nostra, ours. 2 Debita, a debt. 3 Vitiosa, polluted. 4 Manca, unperfect. 5 Inæqualia mercedi, unequall to the recompence, Luk. 17. 10. 1 Cor. 4. 7. Rom. 11. 35. Rom. 8. 18. Though good men be not saved by merits, yet evill men be damned by merit. August.

Merodach] Bitter contention. A King of Babel, Isa. 39. 1.

Merom] Heights. A River, Josh. 11. 5, 7.

Meronothite] My singing, rejoycing, crying out; or in the Syrian, bearing rule. Jehdeiah thus named, 1 Chr. 27. 30. and Jadon Neh. 3. 7.

Meroz] Secret, or leanesse. A City, Judg. 5. 23.

Merry] One whose minde is right, in a right temper. For all true mirth must come from the rectitude or right frame and temper of the minde, Jam. 5. 13. One who Epicure-like placeth his happinesse in eating, drinking, &c. Luk. 12. 19. One who is frolick and cheerfull, whether lawfully, as in friendly welcome, Gen. 43. 34. Judg. 19. 6, 9, 22. Luk. 15. 22, 24. In thankfulnesse to God, Jer. 30. 19. & 31. 4. In the lawfull and plentifull enjoyment of Gods blessing, Ruth 3. 7. 1 King. 4. 20. Eccl. 8. 15. In dayes of freedome from evill, Jam. 5. 13. or unlawfully, when men are merry sinfully, Judg. 9. 27. & 16. 25. 1 Sam. 25. 36. 2 Sam. 13. 28. Rev. 11. 10.

The word is also put for Songs, Judg. 9. 27. marg. and for Glad, Eccl. 10. 19. Laughter and wine make merry, Eccl. 10. 19. but above all the heart, Pro. 15. 13, 15. & 17. 22.

Mesha] A burden, taking; or, salvation. A City, Gen. 10. 30. A King of Moab, 2 King. 3. 4. The Son of Caleb, 1 Chr. 2. 42. The Son of Shaharaim, by Hodesh his Wife, Ib. 8. 8, 9.

Meshach] Prolonging, or drawing, or hedging in waters. Mishael, thus named, Dan. 1. 7.

Meshech] The same. The Son of Japhet, Gen. 10. 2. The Son of Shem, 1 Chr. 1. 17. A Countrey, Psal. 120. 5. Ezek. 27. 13. & 32. 26.

Meshelemiah] The place, perfection, or recompensing of the Lord. The Father of Zechariah, 1 Chr. 9. 21.

Meshezabeel] God taking away, flowing; or after the Syrian and Hebrew, the salvation of God. The Father of Berachiah, Neh. 3. 4. One who sealed the Covenant, Ib. 12. 21.

Meshezabel] The same. The Father of Pethahiah, Neh. 11. 24.

Meshillemith] Peaceable, perfect, giving again; or, the parables of death. The Son of Immer, 1 Chr. 9. 12.

Meshillemoth] A making peace, perfection, a giving again; or, the parables of death. The Father of Berechiah, 2 Chr. 28. 12. The Son of Immer, Neh. 11. 13.

Meshobab] A Prince in his family, 1 Chr. 4. 34, 38.

Meshullam] A peace-maker; or peaceable, perfect, giving again, their parables, or their power. The Father of Azaliah, 2 King. 22. 3. The Son of Zerubbabel, 1 Chr. 3. 19. One of Gad, 1 Chr. 5. 13. The Son of Elpaal, 1 Chr. 8. 17. The Son of Hodaviah, 1 Chr. 9. 7. The Son of Shephatiah, Ibid. 8. The Son of Zadok, Ib. 11. The Son of Meshillemith, Ib. 12. To be like-minded] To have conſent or agreement in faith and charity, to beleeve the ſame truth of God, and to have the ſame love in reſpect of converſation without diſſenſions, Rom. 15. 5. Not every conſent is commendable, but that which is according to Chriſt; that is, which is founded upon the wholſome doctrine of Chriſt, and tendeth to the glory of Chriſt. For agreement in hereſie or in maliciouſneſſe, is not Chriſtian concord, but wicked conſpiracie, as Origen.

Minde of the Lord] The part of Gods will ſecret and not revealed, Rom. 11. 34. or his counſell in the myſterie of our Redemption, 1 Cor. 2. 16.

Will of the minde] Evill reaſonings, thoughts, and deſires, which ariſe from our mindes, being corrupted with ſin. Eph. 2. 3. In fulfilling the will of the minde.

Mingle ſtrong drink, Iſa. 5. 22. that is, fill themſelves with ſtrong drink, give themſelves over unto drunkenneſſe.

Drink mingled with gall, Mat. 27. 34. Wine mingled with myrrhe, Mar. 15. 23. Such drink was wont to be given thoſe who were to be executed, ſome ſay, to ſtupifie them; it may be, to keep thoſe from fainting whom they would longer torment. The Souldiers gave it Chriſt, in ſtead of drink, out of barbarous inhumanity and impiety mocking him.

Mingled themſelves with the people of the Lands, Ezr. 9. 2. that is, joyned themſelves in marriage with Idolaters and Heathen.

Mingled a perverſe ſpirit in the midſt of them, Iſa. 19. 14. that is, poured out, or given them to drink, a Spirit of errour, ſeducement, giddyneſſe, diſturbing all their counſels and courſes.

Mingled her wine, Prov. 9. 2. In thoſe hot Countreys, they mingled their wine with water to allay the heat of it. So doth Chriſt fit his heavenly inſtruction for our earthly capacity.

2. A perſon ordained to ſerve the Church in adminiſtring the holy things thereof. 1 Cor. 4. 1. We are the Miniſters of Chriſt.

3. A Servant which attendeth and waiteth at a Table, or which doth other duties of charity and mercy, Joh. 2. 5. Rom. 16. 1. Phœbe, a Miniſter (or ſervant) of the Church, &c. The title of Miniſter or Servant is here given unto Phœbe, becauſe ſhe being a rich Woman, did miniſter relief to ſuch poor Chriſtians as were converted to the faith; namely, to the Apoſtles and other that were Miniſters of the Church, as before her the like did Joanna the Wife of Chuza, and Suſanna, Luk. 8. 1, 2. Thus Pareus and Haimo. Vatablus alſo thus judgeth.

And ſurely it is not unlike to be thus, becauſe ſhe had taken a long journey from Cenchrea to Rome, which old widows were unfit to doe; neither could ſhe have been ſo long abſent from her charge, if ſhe had been a

a Deaconeſſe. But Theodoret, Tolet, M. Calvin, M. Beza, M. Piſcator, do think that ſhe was one of the widows deſcribed in 1 Tim. 5. 5, 6, &c. and did attend on ſtrangers, cheriſhing and lodging them, miniſtring to the ſick, impotent, and aged, as a ſervant and Deaconeſſe of the Church of Cenchrea, ſo ſtyled in the Text it ſelf.

4. The holy Angels, whom God as he will doth uſe to be miniſters and executioners of his will and judgement, as he likewiſe uſeth wind, and fire, and lightening, Pſal. 104. 4.

7. Such a one as is ſent of Chriſt, and ordained by the Church, to teach and feed Chriſts flock, Epheſ. 6. 21. Coloſſ. 1. 7. & 4. 7.

They are ſet forth in Scripture under divers titles, whereof ſome point out their dignity, as Ambaſſadors, 2 Cor. 5. 20. Angels, Rev. 1. 20. The bridegroomes friends, Joh. 3. 29. Workers together with God, 1 Cor. 3. 9. Others their duty, as Paſtors, Jerem. 3. 15. Stewards of the myſteries of God, 1 Cor. 4. 1. Souldiers, Phil. 2. 25. Workmen, 2 Tim. 2. 15. Guides, Teachers, Watchmen, &c.

Miniſter of Circumciſion] ſignifies, Chriſt who did execute his office and miniſtery only toward the people of the Circumciſion, that is, the Jews.

A Miniſter of ſin] One who teacheth perſons freely juſtified and abſolved from guilt and puniſhment of ſin, being accepted for juſt before God by faith in Chriſt, to live boldly in the ſervice of ſin, Gal. 2. 17. Is therefore Chriſt the Miniſter of ſin? that is, neither Chriſt, nor Paul the ſervant of Chriſt, taught ſuch liberty, but the flat contrary, that juſtified perſons have their hearts purified by faith, and are made able with hate of ſin, to forſake the ſervice of it by the Spirit of Sanctification.

Miniſtring Spirits] The bleſſed Angels ſent forth to miniſter for their ſakes, which ſhall be heirs of eternall ſalvation. Heb. 1. 14. Are they not all miniſtring ſpirits, &c.

To miniſter] It's put for to do ones office, Deut. 18. 5. Neh. 10. 36. To attend upon, 1 Sam. 2. 11. To doe juſtice or give judgement, Pſal. 9. 8. To ſerve, Mat. 20. 28. To adminiſter, to relieve, to beſtow, Ibid. 25. 44. 2 Cor. 6. 10. Heb. 6. 10. To perform, worſhip, ſacrifice, 1 Cor. 1. 9, 13. To afford, Eph. 4. 29. To occaſion, 1 Tim. 1. 4. To propheſie, 1 Pet. 1. 12. To help and ſupply wants, 1 Pet. 4. 10, 11.

To miniſter unto the Lord] To ſerve God in preaching the Word. Thus Chryſoſtome expounds it. Act. 13. 2. Now as they miniſtred unto the Lord. The word ſignifies nothing elſe but executing a publick office or work.

The Miniſtery is a publick and ſacred function, wherein men furniſhed with meet gifts, and duely called, doe ſerve God and his Church, by diſpenſing and giving forth faithfully and wiſely, the Word, Sacraments, and other holy things, to the gathering of the Saints, and for the edification of the body of Jeſus Chriſt, untill we meet all in heaven, Eph. 4. 11, 12, 13. This function is wickedly turned in the Romiſh Synagogue, into a ſacrificing Prieſthood of mans deviſing, being no more like the Miniſtery of the Goſpel, then darkneſſe is to light.

Miniſtration] Diſtribution of almes to the poor, Act. 6. 1, 2. Rom. 12. 8. The widows were neglected in their daily miniſtration, 2 Cor. 8. 4.

2. The function of ſuch as doe preach either the Law or the Goſpel, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8, 9.

Miniſtery] The calling of an Apoſtle; the generall being put for the ſpeciall, by a Synecdoche of the whole for a part, Rom. 11. 13.

2. Such a function in the primitive Church, as did intend not inſtruction, but the exerciſe of Diſcipline onely, as appeareth by ſetting Miniſtery in oppoſition to Propheſie, which ſignifies generally, whatſoever belongs to doctrine and exhortation: which two (as parts) are by Paul comprehended under that generall faculty of Propheſying, as under the generall word of Miniſtery, he compriſeth as three ſpecials, 1 the Deacons, whoſe office was to relieve the poor; 2 the Widow, whoſe duty was to cheriſh men in their ſickneſs; 3 Spiritual Governors, whoſe charge was to watch over mens manners, as aſſiſtants to Teachers and Paſtors.

Thus Calvin, Gualter, Beza, Faius, Gryneus, Martyr, Olevian. Alſo D. Willet and Piſcator diſtinctly and fully ſo expound the place: Rom. 12. 7, 8. Let us wait on our Miniſtery. Thus it is read in the Greek.

3. Chriſts Prieſthood, Heb. 8. 6.

4. The ſervice performed in the Tabernacle, Ib. 9. 21.

Miniſtrel] A Piper, Rev. 18. 22. or one that playeth on the Flute. The Heb. word in in 2 King. 3. 15. ſignifieth any kinde of Muſician, even one skilfull in ſinging, or playing on inſtruments.

Prophets uſed to have ſuch (1 Sam. 10. 5.) and that to quicken their ſpirits, and to rouſe them up from dulneſſe and heavyneſſe. The Minſtrell or Muſician there intended, might be ſome Levite, skilful in ſinging divine Pſalmes, and playing them on a Lute, Harp, or other like inſtrument. It may be alſo that Eliſha called for muſick to cheer up the ſpirits of thoſe that were preſent, to attend to his Propheſie the better.

Upon the death of the Rulers daughter there were Minſtrels, Mat. 9. 23. it's like to aſſwage the ſorrow and griefe conceived thereat.

Minni] Proviſion, a gift, or number. A Countrey, Jer. 51. 27.

Minnith] The ſame. A City, Ezek. 27. 17.

Mint] An hearb well known, and to be had every where, being alſo very uſefull for the recovery and preſervation of health. The Law commanded that tithes were to be paid of all the encreaſe of the earth, Lev. 27. 30. and accordingly tithe was paid of Mint, Mat. 23. 23. which our Saviour approved, Luk. 11. 42.

Miphkad] A gate, Neh. 3. 31.

Miracle] A wonderfull work of God, done by his alone power, beſides and above nature. Whether immediately, Num. 14. 22. Mar. 6. 52. Joh. 2. 11. or mediately, Mar. 9. 39. Act. 4. 16, 22. & 6. 8. & 8. 6, 13. & 15. 12. & 19. 11. 1 Cor. 12. 10. and that,

1. For the confirmation of the truth, 1 King. 17. 24. Mat. 4. 23. and 10. 8. compared with verſ. 7. & 13. 54. Mar. 16. 20. Luk. 9. 1, 2, 6, 11. Act. 4. 29, 30. compared together, & 8. 6, 13. & 14. 3. Rom. 15. 19. Heb. 2. 3, 4.

2. That men might beleeve in Chriſt, Joh. 20. 31. Act. 15. 12. Rom. 15. 18, 19.

3. That faith in the promiſes of God might be confirmed, Rom. 4. 20. In Rev. 13. 14. & 16. 14. & 19. 20. we read of miracles, but theſe be lying wonders, 2 Theſſ. 2. 8, 9.

Of the divers kindes of miracles, and the difference between true and falſe, See Dr. Willet's Hexapla on Exod. 7. queſt. 19, 20.

Miracles] Some ſtrange works, evidently and truely done by divine power, contrary to the ordinary courſe of nature. Joh. 2. 11. This is the firſt miracle that Jeſus did.

Miracles are wrought for two ends,

1. To cauſe the beholders to wonder.

2. To confirm our faith in Jeſus Chriſt, Mar. 16. v. laſt.

Mire] Taken 1. properly, for Dirt, Iſa. 57. 20. Light duſt with wet, trodden by feet on the earth, Iſa. 10. 6. Zech. 9. 3. or, Light earth and water together, Mud, Job 8. 11. Jer. 38. 6, 22.

2. Figuratively, 1. for very great adverſity and trouble, Job 30. 19. Pſal. 69. 2, 14.

2. The filth of ſin, 2 Pet. 2. 22.

Mirrour, or Looking-glaſſe] A clear and bright glaſſe, wherein we look upon our faces to behold our ſelves in them.

2. The doctrine of the Goſpel, wherein Chriſt is manifeſtly and effectually to be ſeen and looked upon. 2 Cor. 3. 18. We doe behold, as in a Mirrour, the glory of the Lord.

3. The Law, wherein both what we are, and what we ought to be, is plainly ſeen, Jam. 1. 23.

4. Chriſt himſelf, who is the Mirrour of his Fathers glory, ſhewing it to us in and by himſelf, Heb. 1. 3.

Miriam] Exalted, the ſea of bitterneſſe, the myrrh, or Miſtreſſe of the ſea; or, after the Syrian and Hebrew, the Lady of the ſea. The Daughter of Amram, Siſter to Moſes and Aaron, Exo. 15. 20. Numb. 26. 29.

Mirma] Deceit, highneſſe, or extolling himſelfe. The Son of Shaharaim, 1 Chron. 8. 8, 10.

Molid] Nativity, or generation; or, a circumcised hand. The Son of Abishur by Abihail, 1 Chr. 2. 29.

Mollifie] Isa. 1. 6. To asswage, slake, comfort, soften.

Mole] Mentioned, Lev. 11.30. Some are of opinion that Moles are created of themselve of wet earth & rain water, and that when the earth beginneth to putrifie, the Mole begin-neth to take life. They are all blinde. The young ones before their birth have eyes, but after their birth living in darknesse, they cease to grow to any perfection; nor doe they need them, for being out of the earth, they live not above an hour or two. They hear much better under the earth, then either man, or they themselves, being above the same. When she feeleth any harm upon her back, she turneth upward, and defendeth her self with her snout and feet. She diggeth with her feet, and with her nose casteth away the earth. Before a rain, or change of weather, they heave up the earth more abundantly then at other times. When the wormes move under ground, it heareth them afar off, and persueth them, to avoyd which, they fly to the top of the earth, the Mole not daring to follow them thither; nor can it indure the Sun, but shunneth it. It feedeth on wormes, the roots of hearbs, toads, serpents. It hath a snout like a Hog, and like it diggeth the earth. Its eyes are covered with a film, which it openeth when a dying, not having opened them all its life.

Moloch] An Idol of the Ammonites, shaped like to a man, being made hollow within, having seven closets. It was made of copper, and the Israelites offered their Sons and Daughters unto it. Lev. 18. 21. Offer not thy children to Moloch. See Bible Note upon this place.

2. Any kinde of Idoll whatsoever, by a Synecdoche. Lev. 20. 2.

This

This Moloch was worſhipped in remembrance of Mercury, ſaith Montanus in Ia. for Saturne (whom the Poets faigne to have devoured his owne children) ſaith Scultetus in Iſaiam.

The ſame with Molech

The Hebrews at firſt meaſured their Months according to the courſe of the Sun, and then every Moneth conſiſted of thirty dayes, Gen. 7. 11. & 8. 4. but after their departure out of Ægypt, they meaſured their Moneths by the courſe of the Moon, containing either thirty dayes, and then they were called Full moneths; or twenty nine dayes, and then they were called Deficient moneths. Before their Captivity in Babylon, they counted their Moneths without any name, according to the number, The Firſt, Second, Third moneth, &c. After their return, they called them by theſe names:

The 1. Niſan, called alſo Abib, which ſignifieth an ear of corn, for that in this Moneth Barly began to be eared. It anſwered to part of our March and Aprill.

The 2. Jiar, called alſo Zif, which ſignifieth beauty, for then the trees began to be beautifull with buds and bloſſomes. It anſwereth to part of our Aprill, May.

The 3. Sivan, anſwering to May, June.

The 4. Thamuz, to June, July.

The 5. Ab, to July, Auguſt.

The 6 Elul, to Auguſt, September.

The 7. Tiſri, otherwiſe called Ethanim, to September, October.

The 8. Marcheſvan, called alſo Bul, to October, November.

The 9. Chiſleu, to November, December.

The 10. Tebeth, to December, January.

The 11. Schebeth, to January, February.

The 12. Adar, Veadar, to February, March. After their coming out of Ægypt, they began their yeer in the Moneth Niſan, and ſo continued it for the computation of their greater feaſts. Goodwyn lib. 3. cap. 1. p. 104, 105, 106.

Monſter] One ſuperfluous or lacking in its parts, Lev. 23. 23. One of huge ſtature, and monſtrous ſhape, 2 Sam. 21. 20.

Money anſwers all things] That great rich men with their money bring to paſſe, that their Feaſts are furniſhed with variety of all delights, Eccl. 10. 19.

Moon] That great light which puts difference between nights and dayes; and bounds years and moneths by her courſe. Pſal. 121. 6. Nor the Moon by night. Gen. 1.

2. The world, and all earthly things, which for their changeableneſſe are likened to the Moon. Rev. 12. 1. The Moon was under her feet. A Metaphor.

New Moones] The firſt day of every Moneth, which was holy, onely during publick ſervice; it ſignified that all the moneths and every ſeaſon of the year is made holy, and for good unto us. Iſa. 1. 14. Your new Moones, &c. See Numb. 28. 11.

To turn the Moon into blood] To give ſome fearfull token of divine wrath, as if the courſe of Nature ſhould be altered. Act. 2. 10. The Moon ſhall be turned into blood. The ſame thing is likewiſe meant by the darkening of the Sun and Moon. A Metaphor.

Morasthite] The Prophet Micah thus called, Jer. 26. 18. Mic. 1. 1.

Mordecai] Bitter contrition, or worn myrrhe, or teaching contrition; or after the Hebrew and Syrian, moſt pure myrrhe. The Son of Jair, who brought up Eſther, Eſt. 2. 7. Who he was, in what age he lived, & about his age, See Mr. Broughton's Letter to a friend, touching Mordecai his age, printed 1612.

More] The meaning of this word, by the words prefixed, or annexed hereunto, may be plainly diſcerned.

More abundantly] More then was needfull, were it not for the wickedneſſe of men, who will not beleeve God. Heb. 6. 17. God will more abundantly, &c.

More joy in heaven, &c.] Luk. 15. 7.

1. This is true of one true penitent, in compariſon of 99. counterfeit righteous ones, ſuch as the Phariſees were, Mat. 9. 13. Luk. 16. 15.

2. This is true of one true penitent, in comparicomparison of many truely righteous; in respect of the rarity of the conversion, the thankfulnesse, diligence, humility, and love of the converted, above others.

But not in respect of any neglect they have of the godly, or love to wicked persons.

Moreh] Stretching. A place where a plain and hill were, Deut. 11. 30. Judg. 7. 1.

Moreover] It's in effect the same with Furthermore, Also, &c. and is the continuation of a speech, actions, &c.

Moresheth] A place, Mic. 1. 14.

Morsell] A small quantity of food, or meat. Spoken sometime without any addition, Job 31. 17. Prov. 17. 1. & 23. 8. Sometime with bread, Gen. 18. 5. 1 Sam. 2. 36.

Mortall] One subject to dye, Job 4. 17.

Mortality] An estate subject to death, 1 Cor. 15. 53.

Mortar] put figuratively, for very urgent and forcible means, Prov. 27. 22.

Morter] Put properly for that which is used in building, Gen. 11. 3. Exod. 1. 14.

Figuratively, for lying, flattery, Ezek. 13. 10.

To mortifie] To kill, and to break the strength and rage of sin, by the Spirit. Rom. 8. 13. If ye mortifie the deeds of the body by the Spirit, ye shall live. Col. 3. 5.

Mortification is that work or action of the Spirit of God, in the heart of a sanctified man, enabling him by little and little, to crucifie and destroy the Old man, with all his affections and lusts which be either in his Reason and Will, till they be wholly abolished and taken away at the time of our death. See Rom. 6. 5, 6, 7. It is called a godly

godly ſorrow, Cor. 7. 10. Denial of our ſelves, Luk. 9. 23. Matt. 16. 24. Alſo contrition, Act. 2. 38.

Moſerah] Learning, diſcipline, a bond; or after the Syrian, a giving, or tradition. A mountain where Aaron dyed, Deut. 10. 6. called Hor, Numb. 20. 22.

Moſeroth] The ſame. A place, Numb. 33. 30.

Moſes] Drawn up, or drawn forth, or taken out. Exod. 2. 10. A perſon ſo call'd, being a ſingular Prophet, by whom the Law was given, Exod. 3. 1.

2. The books and writings of Moſes. Luk. 16. 26. They have Moſes and the Prophets. Joh. 5. 45.

3. The form of civill government, or politick ſtate, under Moſes his conſtitution and direction, Mat. 19. 7, 8.

Moſes in three actions of his, bare a type and ſignification of Chriſt moſt cleerly, (and beſide all other wayes.)

Firſt, in delivering the Moral Law in Tables of ſtone, he ſignifies thereby, the hardneſſe and diſability of mans heart to perform the Law, 2 Cor. 3. 3.

Secondly, when he ſprinkled both the book of the Law and all the people with blood, as it is recorded in Exod. 24. 8. Heb. 9. 19, 20. which ſignifies that guilt and condemnation procured by the Covenant of works; by the free Covenant ratified in the blood of Chriſt, and apprehended by faith, was purged; reconciliation with God purchaſed, and his Spirit to enable them to doe the Law in ſome meaſure. See Jer. 31. 32, 33, 34. Heb. 8. 8, 9, 10, 11, 12. Luk. 22. 20.

Thirdly, when he put a covering on his face, &c. Exod. 34 29, 30, &c. which figured that which is written, 2 Cor. 3. 7, 8, 9, 10. that they could not behold (for the hardneſſe of their heart) Chriſt the end of the Law, till they were converted to the Lord.

Into, or unto Moſes] ſignifies, either by Moſes, or by the hand and Miniſtery of Moſes, as by the hand of Malachi, ch. 1. 1. or into the doctrine of Moſes, like that in Act. 19. 3. or Moſes being their guide and leader, going firſt in that ſea wherein the Iſraelites followed him, being confident to doe ſo by his example. So Chryſoſtome and Ambroſe expound it. 1 Cor. 10. 2. We are all baptized unto Moſes.

Moſt] is a word of compariſon in the higheſt degree, of that whereof it is ſpoken.

Mote] A thing ſo ſmall, that it cannot be divided into parts.

2. Either ſome ſmall ſin eſpyed and reſiſted, or ſome great ſin unknown and hidden from our ſight. Mat. 7. 3. Let me pull the mote out of thy eye. A leſſer ſin, willingly and wittingly continued in, is a beam, when a great ſin (as Polygamy of the Fathers) not diſcerned to be a ſin, is but a Mote.

Moth] put for a little worm, Iſa. 51. 8. which eateth and corrupteth garments, Job 13. 28. Luk. 12. 33. which ſoon conſumeth, Pſal. 39. 11.

Alſo, for ſome ſecret judgement, Iſa. 50. 9. & 51. 8. Hoſ. 5. 12.

Mother] One that beareth children naturally. Thus was Sarah Iſaac's Mother, and Mary Chriſts Mother.

2. One that bringeth forth children ſpiritually. Thus Jeruſalem which is above, is ſaid to be the Mother of us all, Gal. 4. 26.

3. One that careth for, inſtructeth, and defendeth others, as a Mother her children. Thus is Deborah called a Mother in Iſrael, Judg. 5. 7. that is, a Governour which bare a Motherly affection, Rom. 16. 13. 1 Tim. 5. 2.

4. Ancient women, which excell in yeers. 1 Tim. 5. 2. The elder women as Mothers.

5. A Step-mother, and one that is to be honoured, loved, and cheriſhed as a Mother. The fifth Commandement, Honor thy Father and thy Mother. Joh. 19. 27. Behold thy Mother.

6. One that is neer and deer unto Chriſt (as a Mother to the childe) Mat. 12. 50. They that doe the will of my Father, they are my Mother and my Brethren.

7. A Kingdome, Ezek. 19. 2, 10.

8. One tenderly affecting, Rom. 16. 13.

9. One a ſuperiour, either Mother, Mother in law, one in age, or a Teacher, Governeſſe, Exod. 20. 12. Deut. 5. 16.

10. Grand-mother, 1 King. 15. 10. marg.

11. The dam of a beaſt, Exod. 23. 19.

Mother of us all] The holy inviſible Catholick Church, which (as a common Mother) bringeth forth children into the Chriſtian world, Gal. 4. 26.

Nurſing Mothers] Queens and Princeſſes, which like nurſing Mothers, foſter and maintain the Church of God by their authority and good laws. Iſa. 49. 23.

The Mother of whoredome] The author, inventer, and cheriſher of ſuperſtitions and Idolatries (which are ſpirituall whoredomes.) domes.) Rev. 17. 8. Mother of whoredomes and abominations.

Motions] Rom. 7. 5. that is, evill affections or passions which affect the soul.

Move] put for, 1. To bark, Exod. 11. 7.

2. To provoke, Deut. 32. 21.

3. To strengthen, or goe forthwith, Judg. 13. 25.

4. To stir out of the place, 2 King. 21. 8.

5. To perswade or counsell, Josh. 15. 18.

6. To talk of, Ruth 1. 19. To set up, Job 40. 70. marg.

7. To tremble or shake, Psal. 18. 7.

8. To creep, Psal. 69. 34. marg.

9. To make, Ezr. 4. 15. marg.

10. To touch, Mat. 23. 4.

11. To fear, make reckoning of, Act. 20. 24.

12. To be troubled so, as to leave ones station, Prov. 12. 3. Col. 1. 23. 1 Thess. 3. v. 3.

Moved with fear, Heb. 11. 7. that is, being wary, marg.

Moving things] Things moving swiftly in the waters, as Fishes, Lev. 11. 10. or in the earth, as Weasels, Mice, Lev. 12. 29. and fowles flying, Gen. 1. 20.

Mouldy] Spoken by the Gibeonites in deceit, of their bread, Josh. 9. 5, 12.

Mount, Mountains] 1. The highest places of the earth. Prov. 8. 25. Ere the mountains were. Mountains have eminency and firmnesse, they be high and unmoveable, or lasting.

In Isa. 54. 10. Mountains and hills are put and used, to signifie durance of things; and by the end or utmost bound of hils in Gen. 49. 26. is meant, All the world over, and so long as it indureth: for Jacob's blessings contain beside earthly, heavenly blessings also in Christ, whom Joseph and Judah figured in the birth-right and government.

Hereof God, as of the valleys also (though the Syrians thought the contrary) is the only efficient; by whom they were formed, setled, Amos 4. 13. Prov. 8. 25. and that both for his own glory, Psal. 148. 9. and for the good of the creatures, as appeareth by these Scriptures, Deut. 8. 7, 9. Psal. 11, 1. & 50. 10. & 72. 16. & 104. 10, 18. Cant. 4. 6. Jer. 31. 5. Josh. 2. 16. Mat. 24. 16.

2. In Psal. 18. 7. Mountains are put for heaven. Also, Dan. 2. 45. For heavens are the place of the most high God, from whom that Stone Christ was sent.

3. Great men, and Rulers. Psal. 72. 3. The mountains shall bring peace. Isa. 2. 14. Upon the mountains, &c. Potentates of the earth are exalted as mountaines, and think themselves strong.

4. Arrogant and proud tyrants, swollen like mountains, with ambition. Job 9. 5. God transplanteth mountains, and overthrows them in wrath.

5. The invisible, even the holy Catholick Church, eminent and durable as a mount, Psal. 125. 1. & 15. 1. Sometime it signifies Moriah, or Sion, where was the Sanctuary of God, Psal. 121. 1.

6. The visible Church. Isa. 2. 3. Let us goe up to the mountain of the Lord. Obad. 16.

7. Mountains and Hils are put for Realms and Kingdomes civill and worldly, which being but temporary and changeable, are inferiour in glory to the Mountain of the Lord; that is, his Church collected of Jews and Gentiles, which in honour and esteem exceedeth all earthly Regiments, because it is universall, 2 consists of voluntary Citizens, 3 hath God dwelling in it to preserve and rule it, 4 because it is taught of God in the true doctrine and worship, 5 it is made to walk and live truely according to that Doctrine and Religion: See Isa. 2. 1, 2, 3.

8. Cities situated thereon. As, the mountain of the Daughter of Sion, Isa. 10. 32. The mountain of Samaria, Amos 4. 1. for Jerusalem, Samaria, and for the inhabitants of such places, Ezek. 6. 2.

9. The high places whereon Idols were worshipped, and the Idols themselves which were there worshipped, Ezek. 18. 6. Isa. 57. 7. & 65. 7.

10. Such powerfull obstacles as hinder the progresse of the Gospel, and peoples conversion, Isa. 40. 4. & 49. 11.

11. All manner of humane aid or defence, how strong soever in shew, how much soever trusted into, Ezek. 38. 20. Jer. 3. 23.

12. Such as be in place above others, Isa. 40. 4.

Mount of the Congregation] Sion, where Gods people use to gather themselves unto the publick service of God, Isa. 14. 13.

Mountain of God] Horeb where God appeared to Moses, and gave his Law unto his people, Exod. 3. 1.

It is also so called, because it was great and high. See Psal. 36. 7. and was sanctified of God by his appearing there, now; and after, when God came down upon it to give his Law, Exod. 18. 5. & 19. 3, 17, 18.

So in 1 King. 19. 8. it was called, of dryneſs, being unwatered; and Sinai, of the ſtore of brambles which grew there.

Not to hurt in the holy mountain] That in the Chriſtian Church, by operation of the Spirit in the Miniſtery, there ſhould be ſuch meekneſſe and agreement of minde, as one ſhould not ſtudy to hurt another, but to help rather: which is elſewhere Iſa. 2. 4. & Mich. 4. 2, 3. expreſſed by turning into mattocks and pruning hooks, their ſwords and ſpears. Iſa. 11. 19. They ſhall not hurt, &c. Junius expounds this by Rom. 8. 28. both ſenſes may ſtand. How is the Romiſh perſecuting Church (all bent to hurt and kill the Saints) the holy Mountain and Catholick Church? it is the malignant and Cainiticall or ſanguinary Church, Rev. 17. 6.

Mountains and valleys] Men of all ſorts, high and low, rich and poor. Iſa. 4. 4. Valleys ſhall be exalted, and all mountains and hils ſhall be brought low. Luk. 3. 5.

Mourning] A godly grief or ſorrow, for our owne, or for the ſins of others. Mat. 5. 4. Bleſſed are they that mourn.

2. A moderate ſorrow for the worldly evils that doe befall our ſelves or others. Mat. 2. 18. Mourning and weeping. Gen. 23. 2. To mourn for Sarah.

3. Unmeaſurable and grievous lamentation and heavyneſſe, expreſſed by ſmiting the body, tearing the hair, renting the garments, &c. Matth. 24. 30. Gen. 37. 35.

4. Judgements and calamities, which cauſe mourning: By a Metonymie. Ezek. 2. 10. Mourning, lamentation, and woe.

The High-prieſt under the Law in mourning muſt not uncover his head, nor go out of the Sanctuary to mourn for any, becauſe he had on his head the Crown, and the Anointing oyl, Lev. 21. 10, 11, 12. This was to ſignifie, that Chriſt after his reſurrection hath obtained all happineſſe and glory in heaven, in all excellency, without the leaſt miſery and ſorrow: See Rev. 4. 4, 5. & Heb. 2. 7. Zach. 6. 12. And that beleevers alſo through him ſhall obtain the like. See 1 Cor. 15. 47, 48, 49. Heb. 2. 9, 10.

Mouſe] Reckoned amongſt the unclean creeping things, Lev. 11. 29. and mentioned alſo, Iſa. 66. 17. The name ſome would have given them, from a word that ſignifies to diſturb, or trouble; whence Acor, Iſa. 65. 10. becauſe they are wont to diſturb, and trouble the houſe by gnawing, the fields by digging, both by devouring and deſtroying things of uſe, 1 Sam. 6. 5. No creature heareth more perfectly. They diſcern their enemies, not fearing an Oxe, but running away from a Cat. They taſte of every cheeſe, and eat moſt of the beſt. If the houſe wherein they are be to fall they forſake it. They are very fruitfull, ſo that it hath been found by experience, that a female Mouſe having free liberty to litter in a veſſel of Millet ſeed, within leſſe compaſſe then half a yeer hath brought forth 120 young ones. They love one another, and endevour for each others ſafety. At the ſiege of Caſilinum by Hannibal, the famine was ſo great, that a Mouſe was ſold for 200 peeces of coyn, whereby the buyer lived, the ſeller dyed. They corrupt and make unprofitable whatſoever they taſte. It's written, that in Heraclea not one of their Mice touched any thing conſecrated to Religion, or to the ſervice of their gods, yea, not their vines. They are uſefull in Phyſick. They truſt not to any one hole, but have divers, that being driven from one, they may be ſafe in another. They love heat, live not long. It's ſaid, that the Ægyptians being in danger of Senacherib's Army, a number of Mice eat the enemies bow-ſtrings, quivers, &c. whereupon they fled away. They are much given to ſleep, they provide for their parents, when unable to help themſelves.

The Armenian white Mouſe goeth abroad in the morning to feed, upon its return findeth the entrance to its neſt bewrayed with dung, which it ſo abhorreth, that rather then it will defile it ſelfe, it becommeth a prey to the hunters.

Mouth] That part of the body which is the inſtrument of ſpeech.

2. Speech or words uttered by the mouth, which is the inſtrument of ſpeech. Iſa. 49. 2. He hath made my mouth like a ſharp ſword; that is, my words were as ſharp and piercing as a ſword. Pſal. 73. 9. They ſet their mouth againſt heaven. See Gen. 24. 57. & 40. & 45. 21. Exod. 17. 1. Numb. 9. 20. Deut. 1. 26. Pſal. 49. 14. Compare Deut. 8. 3. with Luk. 4. 4.

3. It ſignifieth commandement, Gen. 41. Job 39. 30. Luk. 19. 7.
